City Park Gives Roaring Springs Picture Postcard Look

THE ROARING SPRINGS City Park in downtown Roaring Springs has given the town almost a 'picture postcard' look, with the improvements, additions and upkeep done at the park by City Water Manager, Billy Green.

by Carla M. Jones

Have you been to Roaring Springs lately? Downtown Roaring Springs is taking on the look of a picturesque scene on a greeting card. The City Council is on the move and City Water Manager, Billy Green, is as busy as a bee working to beautify the City Park and downtown.

The park took on a new look when the monument was erected last August in memory of the late Frank N. Mitchell, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Mitchell, longtime Roaring Springs residents. The monument seemed to set things off.

The Park is beautiful, surrounded by old trees, green grass, playground equipment in great shape, the beautiful marble monument, donated by Frank's classmates and friends, a new picnic table donated by Lou Bennett, owner of the Kountry Kitchen Cafe and her brother, J.C. Vaughn, a new park bench, donated by Glennard and Edith Daniell of City Grocery, a new drinking fountain, designed and built by Billy Green, flowers planted around the Frank N. Mitchell Monument, make a setting of a really pretty sight.

Everyday, it seems that something new has been added. Lights have been installed in the park, and railroad ties have been set around one of the light poles, which will be a flower bed. Parks Welding donated their time to do the welding on the new bench and table, which are permanently set in the ground.

Plans also include installing Barbecue grills, which Billy Green and Warner Salsbury of Confection Technology plan to make.

I suggested to the City that a Gazebo would look beautiful on the west end of the park, near the big cedar tree, which is beautifully decorated at Christmas. Wouldn't a Gazebo be beautiful at Christmas! It would also be great for bands to perform in for old time get-togethers and just to relax in on a long summer day. I am willing to head a fundraiser project, such as bake sales, car washes, etc. If anyone is interested in this project, (kids and adults), as a fund raiser, you may call me at 348-7940 or call the City Hall at 348-7231.

Frances Walters, City Secretary and her aide, Mary Webb stated that when the water project is completed, a party will be held at the City Park. An anonymous donor will furnish a marble monument, matching the Mitchell monument, which will be unveiled at the party, engraved with the name of the Park, "Frank N. Mitchell Memorial Park" and include the names of the people instrumental in obtaining the new water system.

Many other plans are being made to beautify the City. Mrs. Walters stated that plans to restore the old tennis courts, a Volleyball Court and a Baseball Diamond, walking trails and bird watching trails with benches along the way, are in the works. She stated that the City Council feels that Roaring Springs has so much potential and new recreation facilities will give the young people of the area something to do and to work for.

Applications have been made to the Historical Society for recognition as a Historical town, and to the State to have the Roaring Springs Museum incorporated. It is hoped that people will contribute to the museum with memorabilia, etc.

Plans are also being made to plant flowers and erect a welcome sign at the highway 70 intersection, (the Y, as commonly referred to). The city is hoping to obtain the deed to the Mt. Zion Cemetery, which will enable them to erect a fence, a monument in memory of the black veterans and an entrance sign reading, "Mt. Zion Cemetery".

The City has recently purchased two new trucks to be used by the Volunteer Fire Department, new hoses, new nozzles and plans are to purchase bunker gear for the men and to provide a training program. Women are being urged to join the fire department, also.

The curbs and strips, downtown, have recently been painted.

As you see, Roaring Springs is on the move. If you haven't been to downtown Roaring Springs lately, drive down and take a look. I think you will be delighted with the new park and all the changes that are taking place, with many more in the works.

Take the time to tell one of the City Council members, Billy Green and the other people that have contributed to this worthwhile project, how much it is appreciated.

If you would like to contribute to the park fund or other projects, donations may be sent to the City Hall in Roaring Springs, TX 79256.

District Attorney Granted Recuse For Contempt Hearing

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was taken from the FLOYD COUNTY HESPERIAN.

Becky McPherson, District Attorney for the 110th Judicial District was granted recuse for a contempt of court hearing last Thursday following more than two hours of testimony before 121st District Judge Ray Anderson of Brownfield. Anderson heard arguments by Austin attorney Bob Bass, representing McPherson, asserting that 110th District Judge David Cave should not be the presiding judge for a hearing concerning a contempt charge he has leveled at District Attorney McPherson for failure to produce financial records for a special audit ordered by Cave on June 28, 1990.

Cross examination of three witnesses called to testify came from George Thompson, a Lubbock attorney Cave appointed to represent the interests of the special auditor, Love, Hays & Musick, appointed to perform the audit.

In granting the recuse, Judge Anderson stated, "By granting the request for recuse, I am not saying that Judge Cave has done anything improper. I am granting the recuse the contempt process because our system of justice is based on processes which must be fair and impartial. Circumstances in this case would seem to prevent Judge Cave from hearing the contempt charge with no appearance of partiality."

Under the recuse order, another judge will be appointed to hear the contempt charge. Cave has brought against McPherson for failure to produce financial records of her office for a special audit and a new date for the hearing will be set.

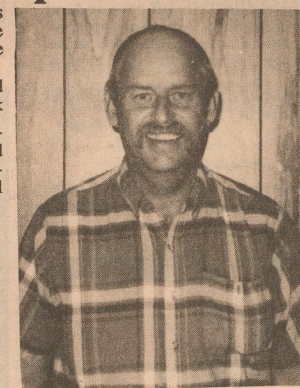

In addition to the recuse order for the contempt hearing granted by Judge Anderson, both sides were given one week (until July 27) in which to prepare and submit written briefs concerning the additional administrative procedures for which recuse was sought. The additional matters in question include whether or not Judge Cave was acting within the jurisdiction of his office in ordering an audit of financial records related to alleged compensation for misdemeanor prosecutions by McPherson in Floyd County since October 1989 as well as his issuance of an additional order requesting all financial records of the district attorney's office for the audit.

District Attorney McPherson has stated that she is unopposed to an impartial audit of any or all of her records, but "questions the impartiality of the audits as Cave has ordered them."

Judge Cave did not appear in court during the recuse hearing and was unavailable for comment following the decision of Judge Anderson.

Appointment of a new judge to hear the contempt charge is not expected until the additional briefs have been filed on July 27.

Summer Spotlight On Students Summer Tennis League

by Syd Pipkin and Dell Bearden

Almost a decade ago, the Parent-Teacher Organization joined forces with the Board of Education and community volunteers to build the School's double tennis courts. The quartz lighting system made available by a local donor completed the plans into a reality. This facility has become an important gathering place for our young people and student interest in tennis has escalated. This summer a Tennis League was made available to our student athletes, the focus of this week's spotlight on students.

June and July have been very busy months at the courts as nine high school and seven junior high school students have braved sweltering heat to work-out together one day weekly.

High school athletes commended for working hard to improve their skills through the league action are Aimee Pipkin, Heather Hobbs, Renee Davis, Amy Stephens, Brandee Spray, Noel Guerrero, David Alexander, Clay Ewing and Roy Estrada.

Joining the junior high ranks of competitive workouts with eager enthusiasm are Laurie Hoyle, Leigh Ann Pipkin, Karie Rowland, Heather Turner, Bradley Thacker, Lee Jones and Kevin Keltz.

A series of drills were executed with the use of the ball machine which had recently been donated to the school by Matador Lions Club. The students worked very hard and much improvement in net shots, ground shots and serving, were evident as time progressed.

The never ending Motley County Pride which is so very catching in our community seemed to quickly engulf our new superintendent, Tom Rowland. Mr. Rowland frequently stopped by with his support, encouragement, and very welcomed pointers. We appreciate his interest in our league and our young people.

With the recent installation of addition lighting fixtures and electrical work, our courts are opened for nightly use until 11:00 p.m. Joining the upkeep of our facilities and doing a tremendous job are Kay Davis, Tony Gonzales, Roy Moreno, and Emilio Sanchez. A very special thanks is extended to these people for painting the lines and taking so much pride in our school.

Members of the tennis doubles are planning nightly workouts and invite you to come out and join the fun.

MOTLEY ENTERS PADUCAH TOURNAMENT

Eight young adults participated in a 2-day tennis tournament July 22 and 23 at Paducah Country Club. The Motley contingent played in all 5 categories and brought home first place trophies and many ribbons. All age groups played against each other in the 2-day tourney. The Saturday competition was fierce with long matches and few breaks.

Supported by a loyal gallery of Brandi Barton and Janeile Long, the Motley crew did GREAT. First place Men's Doubles went to Roy Estrada and Noel Guerrero; 3rd place to James Adams and Blane Eddleman and in men's singles James Adams placed second. Mixed Doubles found two teams, placing: James Adams and Aimee Pipkin, 2nd and Blane Eddleman, 3rd.

In Women's Singles Aimee Pipkin captured 3rd and in Women's Doubles, Aimee Pipkin and Renee Davis brought home a 2nd place ribbon. Congratulations to all involved in the Tournament. Your accomplishments were earned. Good job!

Barbara's Bylines

As you read this paper, Carla and I will be on our much needed vacation. We both enjoy our work each week and each other, but everyone needs a 'break.'

Probably today, (Thursday), we will be in Austin taking in the sights. We plan to go to Barton Springs and go see the Capital. Jason has never been to Austin. This will be the 'new place' we will add to our favorite spots to see and enjoy the cool, clear running water that South Texas has to offer.

I want to say "Thank You" to everyone who helped out put out an early paper. We appreciate the cooperation of all of you! I hope each of you get a vacation sometime during this year, it is really worth it to go some place new or old and come home with a fresh new outlook and new ideas.

Have a Happy Summer, it is nearing an end for people with school children.

Rays of Hope

by Lola Eason

A little girl wrote a letter to God:
 Dear God,

Are you real? Some people don't believe it. If you are, you better do something quick.

I think that is the way I feel about America, "We the people." We better do something quick. As we have just celebrated another Declaration of Independence Day, July 4th. It makes us wonder, if this privilege will be taken away. What does the Declaration of Independence really stand for?

We're hearing so much today about something I'm afraid we Americans have taken for granted. "The flag that still waves." Whether it be at the post office, nursing home, on street corners, courthouse or at our schools.

There is something about that flag that tells us we're still free. How many have given their lives since the signing of the Declaration of Independence? We do not know. Through all the wars that have been fought that we may still obtain our freedom. But one thing we do know, a price has been paid for that flag with blood and life.

My Dad was a Veteran of World War I. Right up until his death, at the age of 90 years. Even though he was crippled and in a wheel chair, he always came to attention, removed his hat, placed his right hand across his chest, while tears glistened in his eyes. When he heard someone sing, "Oh, say can you see, by the dawns early light." (The National Anthem) He never tired of relating what a beautiful sight, when the ship coming home, pulled into the harbor of New York and he caught a glimpse of the Statue of Liberty.

I am happy to call America my home. I am happy for our armed forces. Our freedom is priceless, however it was paid for by the lives that were taken and the maimed bodies that are still suffering from war inflicted wounds. May their suffering not be in vain.

"It's just a piece of cloth". Harvester, that's is all it is, just a piece of cloth. But when a little breeze comes along, it stirs and comes to life and flatters and snaps in the wind, all red, white and blue and then you realize that no other piece of cloth could be like it.

It has your whole life wrapped up in it. The meals we eat, the time we spend with our family; the kind of things our young boys and girls learn at school; the strange and wonderful thoughts we get in church and Sunday school.

The stars in it make us feel just as free as the stars in the wide deep night, and those stripes and bars of blood to any dictator who would try to change this way of life.

Just a piece of cloth, that is all, until you put your soul into it, and give it meaning. Then it is a symbol of liberty, decency, and fair dealing for everyone.

It is just a piece of cloth until we breath life into it, until we make it stand for everything we believe in, and refuse to live without.

Not only is our flag priceless, our soul is priceless.

John 3: 16, 17: "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

The visits to the hospital and since I have been home, all the many telephone calls, beautiful cards, good food and special prayers offered in my behalf were also deeply appreciated. I love you all and may God bless each of you.

On page 342, he is modeling a gold and black sport shirt and on page 353 he is modeling a maroon robe. Scott is also in the fall, Land 'nd Catalog. Scott will be modeling the Nike line at the McCormick Place Convention Center in Chicago, the final week of July. Grandma is doing fine but Grandpa said things sure are mixed up when the Grandchildren earn more than the Grandparents. Scott did tell Grandpa that the next treat is on him. God's Harvest

by Hazel Soltwisch

The church in which I worship
 Is big and growing everyday;
 Is not bound by walls and ceilings;
 Is not restricted in any way.

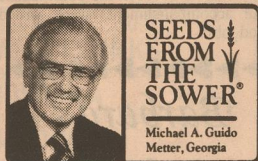

It's music reaches heaven;
 God's glory it imparts;
 It's prayers are a sweet savor
 To God from human hearts.

The church in which I worship
 Has no name upon the door;
 Everyone is welcome
 For it is God that we adore.

The Church in which I worship
 Has compassion and brotherly love,
 Is filled with the Holy Spirit;
 Has power from above.

The Church in which I worship
 Is open all the time,
 Because this church is best of all;
 It's in my heart and mind.

The list of believers is growing
 In this church that our Lord keeps,
 And the church in which I worship
 Is the harvest that He reaps.

Early one morning I received a long distance call. "Guido," cried a friend, "are you there?"
 "Yes, sir," I answered.
 "Thank God," he exclaimed.
 "A station just announced that you just died and went to heaven."

O, think with me on heaven. It's the perfection we've always longed for. All the things that make earth unlovely and unhappy won't be in heaven.

There'll be no tears or trials, no sickness or suffering, no disappointment or death, nor war or wickedness.

Heaven will be filled with peace, pleasure and perfection.

Yes, when I die I'm going to heaven because I'm trusting in the Lord.

Friends

Friendliness and friendship are some of the things we want to specialize in at the Matador Church of Christ. We find that friendship and friendliness were characteristic of the church found in the New Testament. One member would write to another saying, "The friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name."
 When you accept our standing invitation and come to the services, you will find that, in spite of our imperfections, we want to be warm and friendly.

You will see that lasting friendships are being formed among ones who come. If you need this (and who doesn't?), you will know where to find it. We would like to be friends with you. We promise not to annoy or embarrass you, but we offer you our friendship.
 Friendship is lovely and friends are precious. "A friend loveth at all times." "There is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother." The Bible speaks of "the sweetness of a man's friends." Like oil and perfume, it rejoices the heart (Proverbs 17:17, 18:24; 27:29).
 Jesus Christ is man's truest and best friend. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends" (John 15:13). That's what Jesus did for you and me. "What a friend we have in Jesus; all our sins and griefs to bear." He addressed his disciples as "my friends" (Luke 12:14). Our Lord was criticized by some because he was a friend of sinners. See Matthew 11:19.
 We all need friends; and the friend we need most is the Lord Jesus. Let us tell you more about Jesus. Let us point the way to Him. Allow us to teach you His divine will, as found in the Bible.
 The truth of the Lord may sometimes hurt, but "faithful are the wounds of a friend" (Proverbs 27:6). Why not be with us in our services at 10:00 a.m. for Bible Study, 11:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. for worship?

Weather Forecasters Offer Ways To Beat the Summer Heat

Did you ever wonder what meteorologists — experts at understanding and predicting weather patterns — do to beat the heat? The makers of Gatorade® Thirst Quencher surveyed meteorologists from select areas throughout the country to find out how they keep their cool.

All stressed the importance of drinking fluids before, during and after physical activity in hot weather to prevent dehydration. However, each had their own secret method to beat the summer heat:

Cool Advice

When it gets really hot, Roger Evans, meteorologist at KGAN-TV in Cedar Rapids, IA, coasts down a hill on his bike to create a cool breeze. "It's almost like creating your own wind chill factor," he said.

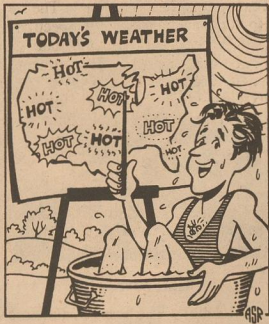

Evans also works longer hours at the air conditioned television station to keep cool.

When Greg Soulje, meteorologist at the Central Weather Service in Wheeling, IL, must relay unbearably hot weather reports to broadcast weather forecasters, he is often told to go "jump in a lake" . . . which he actually does to beat the heat.

Other weathermen take a more down-home approach:

"My air conditioner frequently breaks down during the summer, and I don't like sitting in my hot house waiting for the repairman to fix it," said Gifford Ely, meteorologist at the National Weather Service office in Fort Worth, TX.

"So I wet an old T-shirt in ice water, put it on and sit on the back porch. It's like taking a dip in the lake," Ely explained.

Ed Phillips, meteorologist at KPNX-TV in Phoenix, AZ, finds relief in wearing a minimal amount of light weight clothing and sitting by the pool.

Jumping in a pool or sitting by an air conditioner are effective ways to beat the heat, but they can't beat dehydration — a danger associated with excessive sweat loss. Medical experts stress the importance of replacing body fluids lost through sweat, the body's main cooling mechanism.

"You can never drink too many fluids in hot weather," says Robert Anzinger, M.D., president of the American College of Emergency Physicians. "Thirst isn't a reliable indicator of dehydration, so it's best to drink before, during and after any physical activity."

Optimally-formulated sports drinks, such as Gatorade® Thirst Quencher, speed fluid absorption in the body, provide energy for use by working muscles, help maintain proper fluid electrolyte balance and encourage voluntary consumption through lightly-flavored taste.

Meteorologists, the first to know of dangerous weather temperatures, are aware of the importance of keeping cool during the hot summer months. Heat illness, including heat cramps, heat exhaustion and heat stroke, can occur as a result of dehydration and elevated body temperature from increased physical activity during hot, humid days. It is important for everyone to take extra steps to avoid being beaten by the heat.

Social Security Tips

by Mary Jane Shanes

If you plan to apply for monthly social security retirement, survivor, or disability benefits, you can help speed up the process if you are well prepared at the time you apply.

Applications are designed to obtain information about you, your spouse, children, and your work history. If you are disabled, the application also records information about your disabling condition.

You will need certain documents to support your claim. Only original copies of documents or copies certified by the issuing agency can be used. Uncertified photocopies are not acceptable.

You may need some or all of the following documents: birth certificate, proof of military service, W-2 form or self-employment tax return for the most recent year, proof of marriage proof of divorce, children's birth certificates, and death certificate if applying for survivor benefits. If you are applying for disability benefits, you should have information about your work history for the past 15 years and records referencing any treatment for your medical condition.

You should not delay in applying for benefits because you may not have all the required evidence. People at Social Security can help you determine the documents you need.

When possible, you should apply 2 or 3 months before you want retirement benefits to begin. This will allow plenty of time to process your claim so that benefits will start on time.

You do not have to visit a social security office to start your application. You can call one convenient toll-free telephone number to start the process or to set up an appointment with your local social security office. The number is 1-800-234-5511 (1-800-234-5772). The people there will be glad to help you.

TIPS ON SAFEGUARDING PICNIC FOODS

Don't hold the mayo! Many people are uneasy about eating chicken salad, potato salad and similar dishes at summer picnics because they have heard that foods made with mayonnaise are the most likely to cause food poisoning.

Scientists have shown that adding mayonnaise to food does not make it more dangerous. Food containing mayonnaise may actually be slightly safer than similar foods without mayonnaise because the acid in the mayonnaise slows the growth of the bacteria that cause food poisoning. However, studies have shown that the acid content of "homemade" mayonnaise may be too low to create comparable protection.

Mixed foods like chicken salad and potato salad probably got their bad reputation simply because they undergo a lot of handling during preparation, and this can contaminate them with bacteria.

When the pleasures of a leisurely picnic are spoiled by a bout of food poisoning, sick picnickers are often quick to blame the food. Seldom do they realize that the cause of sickness is more often the handling of the food rather than the food itself.

To play it safe follow these tips:

* Scrub hands before starting food preparation and between steps.

* After using knives and other utensils on raw meats, eggs, fish and poultry, clean thoroughly, especially before using on other foods. Failure to clean is one way to spread harmful bacteria.

* Thoroughly scrub work surfaces after raw meats are cut or where raw meat juices have dripped.

* Use clean sponges, dish clothes and rubber gloves; overused ones can spread germs.

* Refrigerate cooked foods such as chicken, potatoes and ham as soon as they stop steaming. Cooling foods to room temperature before refrigerating encourages bacterial growth. Perishable foods may not be safe to eat if they have been held at room temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit or higher for more than three or four hours.

* Refrigerator chill all perishable food before packing. Keep them in a cooler with ice or commercial reusable cold packs until you are ready to eat. If you use ice, pack the food in tight containers or plastic bags so that it doesn't get wet when the ice starts to melt. Transport to picnic in insulated containers.

* Hamburgers or other raw meat should go into the cooler, but keep them separate from other foods. Uncooked meats contain relatively large numbers of bacteria, some of which could be harmful. The common food poisoning types of bacteria are sensitive to heat, so cooking will kill them, making the meat safe to eat. These bacteria can cause problems, however, if they contaminate other foods such as salads which don't receive further cooking before they are eaten.

* And don't hold the mayo. Add it to salad and sandwich mixtures during initial preparation.

* At picnics, keep food out of direct sun. To reduce traffic in and out of picnic hamper, pack food to be eaten first at the top of container.

* Don't be tempted to carry leftovers home. It is safer to discard perishables.

A boy begged in a pet shop, "Daddy, buy me a dog."
"All right," he said. "Which one do you want?"

Pointing to the puppy whose tail was wagging, he said, "The one with a happy ending."

And that's what the Lord gives - a happy ending.

Reject Him from your life, and you start on a road that leads to ever-increasing dissatisfaction and despair.

The more you sin, the less you get out of it, until you receive nothing.

What of a life with the Lord? "In His presence," said the Psalmist, "is fullness of joy, at His right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

I'm going to have a happy ending because I believe in the Lord. How about you?

West Texas Utilities Names New Directors

Mike Moran

(Abilene) -- The board of directors of West Texas Utilities Co. today approved several personnel and organizational changes. Similar realignments at the three other utilities which are part of Central and South West Corp. will produce consistent organization structure for the corporation and will lead to more standardized business practices.

"The personnel changes will provide a broader range of experience for senior managers in the four utilities," according to Glen Churchill, WTU president and chief executive officer.

In the moves which become effective September 1, Mike Moran, WTU director of system production, was elected to vice president of engineering and production and a member of the board of directors. He succeeds Terry Dennis who will move to Central and South West Services in Dallas as vice president of engineering.

Dennis M. Sharkey, vice president of finance and corporate secretary, will assume the position of vice president of finance for Southwestern Electric Power Co. in Shreveport, La. Paul Duty with CSWS was elected vice president of finance to replace Sharkey. Duty also was elected to the board of directors. Sharon King, assistant treasurer, was elected corporate secretary and assistant treasurer.

Mike Madison from Public Service Company of Oklahoma was elected vice president of corporate services and a member of WTU's board of directors.

Jerry Johnson retires September 1 as vice president of administrative services. Moran joined WTU in 1971 as a field engineer in the substation department following graduation from Georgia Institute of Technology with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering. He held various positions in the company before being promoted to manager of the system construction and maintenance department in 1977. He was promoted to his present position on January 1, 1989.

Since transferring to WTU last year from PSO where he was controller for 11 years, he has been active with the Salvation Army. He is married to Janelle Lashaw and has three children, two of whom are in college. Dennis and his wife are members of the First Central Presbyterian Church.

Duty is assistant treasurer of CSW and assistant treasurer and director of finance of CSWS. From 1978 to 1989 he served as assistant treasurer of CSW and CSWS and from 1971 to 1978 he served as assistant to the secretary and treasurer of CSW.

Previous experience includes a tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force, and work with the State of Delaware and Hercules, Inc. He has a bachelor of arts degree in management from Wilmington College. Paul and his wife, Noreen, have two children and are Catholics.

King holds a bachelor of science degree in accounting from Arizona State University at Tempe and is certified public accountant.
