

The SPEARMAN REPORTER

Successors to The Hansford Headlight

Published Thursday Morning of Each Week
PANHANDLE PUBLISHING COMPANY, INC.
BILL MILLER, Editor and Manager
Wm. A. WILBANKS, Assistant Editor

Entered as second class matter on November 21, 1919, at the post-

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC—Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation that may appear in the columns of The Spearman Reporter will be corrected when called to the attention of the management.

Subscription Rates
office at Spearman Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1879
One Year—$2.00 Six Months—$1.25 Three Months—75c
All Subscriptions Must Be Paid In Advance

THE LINDBERGH CASE

The general rejoicing that at least a partial solution has been found to the mystery of the kidnapping and murder of the little Lindbergh boy is, we believe, shared by everybody.

No crime that we can remember, short of the assassination of President McKinley, ever aroused such wide-spread horror and indignation as the stealing of the famous aviator's only child from his crib. And the horror was multiplied when, more than two months later, the poor baby's body was found in the woods near the Lindbergh's home, exposed for crows to peck at, reduced to a pitiful little skeleton by the work of insects and the elements.

The elemental sense of justice which dominates every sane human being will be satisfied with nothing less than the swift conviction and equally swift punishment of the kidnapers and murderers, whether one man or a dozen. Yet we do not believe that even such fiends should be convicted on anything but completely conclusive evidence. If there is a single reasonable doubt of their guilt, they should be given the benefit of it.

So far we have nothing but the newspaper reports on which to base a belief as to the guilt or innocence of the man who has been arrested. Undoubtedly accurate as far as they go, these reports probably do not tell the whole story of the evidence which the authorities have up their sleeve. Nor, do we understand that the case against Bruno Maupmann is yet so complete that there is no question of his guilt.

Nothing is more to be deplored than "mob law." It is a natural human impulse to desire to take a hand in administering summary justice for crimes which revolt every normal human instinct. We hope that there will be no legal technicalities permitted to interfere with bringing out the whole truth in this case, and we hope, even more devoutly, that there will be no attempt at or encouragement of lynch law.

LEST WE FORGET

Four hundred and forty-two years ago Cristobal Colon, whose name we Angelicize into Christopher Columbus, set out from Palos to find a new, short route to India. As someone wrote: "He did not know where he was going, he did not know where he had been when he got back." He believed that he had found the eastern coast of Asia. Instead, he had found a new world, undreamed of by all but a few adventurous dreamer: like himself.

To finance his voyage, Columbus appealed to the Queen of Spain in the name of her religion. Isabella was not interested in exploration, but she was interested in the salvation of human souls. To spread the Gospel of Christ among the heathen she sold her jewels and aided Columbus to venture forth from Palos on his perilous quest. And the first act of the discoverer on landing was to raise the Cross upon the island sands and kneel with his whole company in prayer.

The hordes of adventurers that followed Columbus to the New World though more of gold and silver than of religion. Yet, here and there, as centuries went on, little groups of men and women whose first care was for their souls rather than for material things, settled on the shores of the land Columbus had found. And it is from those little groups our nation derives.

That, it seems to us, is the important thing to remember on October 12, Columbus Day. It was liberty our forefathers sought, that liberty which Woodrow Wilson termed a spiritual conception. That they found also, material wealth far beyond that of the peoples of any other land, was a pleasing but accidental result of their migration.

This, it seems to us, is good time to ponder whether we have so far departed from the spirit of our forbears that we are willing to sacrifice liberty for material wealth; that we place economic security ahead of spiritual freedom.

Big Boy, Take A Bow! — by A. B. Chapin

AMAZE A MINUTE. SCIENTIFACTS BY ARNOLD

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic:—The Christian and His Bible

Scripture Lesson:—Acts 8:26-39.

26. But an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza: the same is desert.

27. And he arose and went; and behold a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, who had come to Jerusalem to worship.

28. And he returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Isaiah.

29. And the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30. And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31. And he said How can I except some one shall guide me? And he besought Philip to come up and sit with him.

32. Now the passage of the scripture which he was reading was this: He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb, So he openeth not his mouth:

33. In his humiliation his judgment as taken away: His generation who shall declare? For his life is taken from the earth.

34. And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other?

35. And Philip opened his mouth and beginning from this scripture, preached unto him Jesus.

36. And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?

38. And he commanded the chariot to stand still; and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39. And when they came up out of the water the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his way rejoicing.

Golden Text:—Oh, how love I thy law! It is my meditation all the day.—Ps. 119:97.

Time:—A. D. 36.

Introduction

We find ourselves in the early days of the Christian church. The first step in organization had been taken by the appointment of seven deacons, who were to care for the temporal interests of the church and especially its charities, leaving to the apostles their great work of preaching the gospel. All of the first deacons (Acts 6:3) were "men of good report full of the Spirit and of wisdom." They were, of course, good executives, and some of them were much more Stephen, named first in the list, was the first Christian martyr, a preacher of great power and of unbounded zeal. Philip, named next is to be distinguished from Philip the apostle. He is called "Philip the evangelist" (Acts 21:8), and with good reason. When persecution broke out after the death of Stephen, and many of the Christians were driven from Jerusalem, Philip followed his charges northward into Samaria, where he worked miracles, preached Christ, and won many converts among them being the notable Simon the sorcerer. It was after this that he was sent on the mysterious and blessed errand that we are to study

Philip and the Angel. v. 26

"But an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip." An "angel" is a "messenger," according to the significance of the Greek word. Philip had been doing angelic work, and it is not strange that an angel was sent to direct him further. "God rewards faithful work with more work. Samaria was a borderland between Jew and Gentile, but in preaching to the eunuch Philip was on entirely Gentile ground. So great a step in advance needed clear command from God to impel to it and to justify it."

"Go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza." "Down" because Jerusalem is on high ground while Gaza is on the coastal plain. Gaza was the most southerly of the five cities which werethe capitals of the Philistines. "The same is desert." This was added to the direction in order that Philip might distinguish between the two roads which joined Jerusalem and Gaza.

Philip and the Eunuch. v. 27

"And he arose and went." A long journey of sixty or seventy miles stretched out before him, but Philip undertook it without question or hesitation, a splendid example of prompt obedience. "And behold a man of Ethiopia." A great country south of Egypt, now called Nubia, and Abyssinia. "Who had come to Jerusalem to worship." There were many Jews in Egypt. Thus this royal treasurer had become a Jewish proselyte. "He had visited Jerusalem, very likely, in the same way that Luther had visited Rome, thinking that that was the great center—the joy of the whole earth, the spiritual House of God. And it is not at all improbable that, leaving Jerusalem, he was just as disillusioned and just as miserable as Luther was after being at Rome. Now he had left Jerusalem, and was driving down the way back to Ethiopia, and he had turned to the Word of God in his disappointment with the city of God. He was again at the Old Testament Scriptures. And as he was studying the Old Testament Scriptures, the New Testament met him in the person of Philip!"—Rev. Robert F. Horton D. D.

Philip and the Holy Spirit. v. 29

"And the Spirit saith unto Philip." Were not the Holy Spirit and the "angel of the Lord" who had sent Philip on this errand, one and the same Person? "Go near, and join thyself to this chariot." "The lines are closing in. The light is breaking on Philip's mind. He begins to see why God has sent him down this desert road. Thus it always is. He learns the truth who follows on to know it."—Rev. David James Burrell, D. D. "Just as in the curious blossom of a common orchid, the insect is guided by the peculiar shape and color of the blossom to the particular spot where it can carry out the higher purposes of the plant, and cannot choose any other path, so Philip was guided to the very place where he should meet the Ethiopian eunuch on his way home from Jerusalem. He was shut up in Providence to that one only course."—Rev. Hugh Macmillan, D. D. LL. D., F. R. S. E.

An Honest Inquirer. v. 31

"And he said, How can I, except some one shall guide me?" "In these days of universal Bible study a man is occasionally met with who insists on getting along without 'helps'; the Bible itself is enough for him; commentaries would only hamper and confuse him. But the part of wisdom is to take advantage of every possible assistance in getting the true meaning of the Scriptures. They are so inexhaustible that, doing our best, we can only pluck a few flowers from the vast, fragrant field, but the more the better; and if any friend can add to our store, the blessing of the Lord be upon him."—Rev. David James Burrell, D. D. "And he besought Philip to come up and sit with him." He did not hesitate to make a friend out of the travel-worn stranger, and to admit his own structure. He did not visit him, but eagerly "Where, among us, are willing to study in the spirit of the Where do we find any cannot understand a not quickly tire of again? God does not self to mere intellect to religious amateurs, he promises to satisfy who, like the Ethiopians, ger and thirsting for ness and truth?"—Bersier, D. D.

A Wise Teacher

"A phrase introducing utterance, see Acts 5:2; here defined by 'declared unto him as Jesus'; i. e., the fulfill of this and other Me (compare Acts 5:42) Vernon Bartlet. "Ar from this scripture, way to start any pe Christian life: begin where you find him, there. Any Bible make a fulcrum with can push over into mind the truth as it Jesus. "Preached unto The sorrows of Christ which had thus ended had begun again in cross had led on to t

"And as they went they came unto a ce "All the while Philip they had been drivin the desert; and at la to where a stretch of cool and pleasant, the glories of the s Macy. "And the eunuc hold, here is water; hinder me to be bapt evident from this q Philip had not only pr as the Christ but had of the individual's re kingdom, and among of baptism. It also sh eunuch had accepted Philip had been.

Prof. George H. Gilbe Philip Baptized the "And they both w the water, both Phil eunuch." The Lord and the humble messe cross become Christian that hour of their felo he baptized him." The (ism, solemnly comma Lord, is the most fit into the Christian life by the water the clea sin through the blood it is a public witness. It is the solemn begin separation from the worldly interests and to heavenly interests the true Christian "And when they c of the water, the S Lord caught away Ph eunuch saw him no m disappeared suddenly would have his own power of the Lord an own power.

★ Mavis Talcum Powder is a blessing to the vigorous, active man. Its use gives complete freedom from unpleasant body irritations, chafing, and the effects of perspiration. It guards the skin; actually keeps you cool and deodorizes as it absorbs. For a well kept body, use it every day all over. But, be sure it's Mavis, in the familiar red container—it never clogs the pores. For men, women and children of all ages, from babyhood up.

by VIVAUDOU 25¢ 50¢ $1.00

MAVIS TALCUM POWDER

MUTT AND JEFF — These Jungle Docs Operate For Their Fee If You Swallow It

By BUD FISHER

Annual Bargain Days Here

The Amarillo Daily News and Sunday News-Globe

Daily and Sunday 1 Year by Mail

$5.00

You Save $3 by Subscribing Now

This Offer Applies Only in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico

THE SPEARMAN REPORTER

1 Year $1.00

In Hansford and Adjoining Counties---Regular Price $2

Both Papers

ONE YEAR

$5.50

Subscribe Now and Save $4.50

People Items

Ralph Forester and trip to Borger... Allen Wom... C. P. Burns and... Miss Ona Stith... Lou R. Deering... Mrs. H. B. Parks... Miss Helen Slater... Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Tannahill... Mrs. R. E. Holton... W. J. Warren and H. C. Holloway...

the evening. Watermelons were served for refreshments. Everyone reported an enjoyable time. Everett Krone of Keyes, Oklahoma was visiting in the W. J. Warren home Saturday and Sunday. Cammie Tyler made a trip to Borger Saturday. Miss Mary Lou Warren of Gulf Camp, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Warren here Sunday. Mrs. H. B. Parks and children made a trip to Borger Saturday. Miss Helen Slater's mother of Clarendon, is visiting her this week. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Tannahill and son made a trip to Amarillo Thursday. Mrs. R. E. Holton, Mrs. M. W. McCloy, and Mrs. Annie Lou R. Deering met with the Stinnett women Monday night to help organize a P. T. A. W. J. Warren and H. C. Holloway took some horses down to Mr. Warren's farm near Amherst.

Classified Ads

Ads 2c per word first insertion, and 1c per word thereafter. Spearman Reporter, Phone No. 10

WOMEN WANTED
Wash quilts and double... Medium fam... 10c; each under... 15c; overalls... 20c. All nice work... $1.25 per day. Iron... 1 live 1 block... Legion hall. Mrs.

WASHING AND GREASING
We pride ourselves on the fact that we are able to offer you the very best service obtainable in washing, greasing and tire repairing, beside the recognize quality of Phillips gas and oil. Call 66.
SLIM WINDOM
PHILLIPS 66 STATION

PHONE
Expert Cleaning and Pressing.
Free Delivery Service

WARDROBE CLEANERS
RADIO SERVICE
Radio season is just opening up with the coming big-time football games and national advertising Winter programs. Let me see that your radio is in proper condition to receive these programs.
W. O. SWAIN

SELECTED FOOD PRODUCTS
We always select the best quality groceries, fruits, and vegetables. That is why we can assure you absolute satisfaction and of having what you want at all seasons.
Call 3 for Quick Delivery
F. W. Brandt and Co.

ESTABLISH AN ESTATE
The surest and easiest way to create an estate for your family is through life insurance. Let me explain the new contract to you fully.
E. K. SNIDER

GAS HEATING EQUIPMENT
See us before you buy your heating equipment for the winter. Farmers, remember that we represent the John Deere Implement Co. and are best prepared to meet your needs in farm machinery.
WOMBLE HARDWARE CO.

COAL ON TRACKS
We will have a car load of the well known nigger head labeled lump coal on the track for the next few days. Fill your bins now, direct from the car before cold weather sets in.
R. L. McClellan Grain Company

COAL AND FEEB
Calumet lump coal at live and let live prices. A full line of feed for the convenience of our customers. Give us a trial. We feel sure you will be pleased with our quality products and convenient service.
Spearman Grain Growers, Inc

SPEARMAN-AMARILLO FRED M. MIZAR Truck Line
SPEARMAN PHONE 112
AMARILLO PHONE 24277

J. E. GOWER, M. D.
Room 205
McLain Building
Phones: Residence, 98; Office 33

GLASS FOR ALL CARS
Cut to factory specifications and patterns.
Workmanship and fit guaranteed.
Where your dollar will do its duty.
DALEY GLASS SHOP.
Perryton, Texas

DR. J. P. POWELL
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat SPECIALIST
Glasses Fitted, Tonsils and Adenoids Removed.
In Spearman Wednesday, Oct. 17
Office Dr. J. E. Gower

OF THANKS

I wish to thank my... and acquaintances... support and votes... sponsored by 30... I certainly appreciate every vote and down by my many...

MARETA MARTIN.

TIRE SERVICE
I am equipped to give... service. Call us and... and deliver your... to keep our service... high standard of... Comoco Products... Station
MC MURRY, Props.

MAN DRUG CO.

We Deliver... him no... suddenly... his work... Lord and

HEATING APPLIANCES

Agree with you on the... appliance that... the most efficient... the greatest saving

WOMBLE GAS & ELEC. COMPANY

COAL AND COAL
We are better prepared... needs in all kinds... and we also have... of the well known... Coal.

MAN EQUITY EXCHANGE

BATTERY SERVICE
Weather calls for more... of the life of your car's... condition to meet this... instant starting... batteries and radio

WOMBLE BATTERY SHOP

PHONE-113
For your work and... of the most... and pressing... All wool suits... $20 and up.

WELL TAILOR SHOP

PHONE 113
ATTENTION!
Fully equipped to service... and trucks for the... See us for an estimate... your fuel needs.

SALES COMPANY

TIRE TIRE TIRE
I am proud of the fact that... you the best deals... and tire repairing. We... famous guaranteed... Let us figure with...

TIRE SHOP

SHOOTING SUPPLIES
The hunting season is just... corner. Our stock is... to meet your needs in... lines of firearms... and hunting equip-

MAN HARDWARE

Highest quality staple... groceries. Our stock is... in every way, to... having just what... matter how season-

RYAN & SONS

INFORMATION
The only store in town... our own meat supply... absolutely sanitary... fruit and vegetables... and the best of... Grocery and Market

ARTHUR HAINES, Boys Sports
HELEN BROWDER, Girls Sports
LADY ARCHER, Senior Reporter
HELEN JENKINS, Junior Rept.
JIM ED WALLACE, Soph. Pept.

THE LYNX NEWS

Published Weekly News Of The Students By The Students.
ELNIE REED, Editor in Chief.
DORIS KIRK, Assistant Editor.

MARTHA DELON KIRK
Freshman Reporter
WOODROW GIBNER, Typist
GERTRUDE BARKLEY, Typist
ETHEL DEAKIN, Sponsor

Spearman Lynx Clash With Borger For Tie

The Spearman Lynx met the Borger Bulldogs Friday night at 8 o'clock under the lights of the Alamo Stadium at Borger in one of the toughest football battles they have ever fought.
The line-up for the Lynx was as follows: Deering, Haines, Kelly, Ig, Buchanan, c., Harmond, Easley, r., Holton, re., Robertson qb., Ooley rh., Patterson lb., Curtis fb.
Substitutes were H. L. Wilbanks and Paul Robertson.
The Lynx chose to kick and the Bulldogs brought the ball back to our thirty yard line. The teams fought furiously. Curtis received the ball on our forty-five yard line and on a spinner play ran fifty-five yards for a touchdown. Holton kicked the extra point and the score stood 7-0 at the end of the first quarter.

PEP SQUAD TO HAVE SWEATERS SOON

Friday morning the pep squad met in the gym and decided to send a wire for some purple and white sweaters to be worn when they attended the football games. To finance this proposition they decided to give a box supper with free entertainment, Thursday night at 8:15, October 11.
Plans are being made, and the girls are working hard to have a real pep squad this year. The Lynx pep squad has not had a distinctive uniform for a number of years, but these sweaters will be the property of the school and can be used for the years following.

ART MASTER PIECES TO BE ON EXHIBITION HERE

Reproduction of Work of Artists of many generations will be on display at the High School building in Spearman during the week of October 22-26.
This collection consists of 150 masterpieces representing French, Italian, Flemish, English, Dutch, Spanish, German and American schools of Art. Most of these are masterpieces studied by the schools. Famous portraits, landscapes, marines and pastoral scenes in the colors of the original canvas are on display.
These pictures come from the Colonial Art Company of Oklahoma City. A small fee will be charged and the funds used to buy pictures for our schools. We hope everyone in Spearman will take advantage of this opportunity to see a good art exhibit.

P. T. A. TO SPONSOR HOT SCHOOL LUNCHEES

Spearman School children will enjoy hot lunches again this year according to an announcement made by Mrs. Sid Clark at P. T. A. Tuesday. Of the many projects sponsored by the P. T. A., the hot lunch project is one which is appreciated more than any other. 150 to 200 children enjoy hot lunches every day. Mrs. Clark stated that plans were under way and that she hoped the lunch room would be open every soon.

therefore eat good fresh food when possible; keep it cold if it must be preserved; do not keep it any longer than necessary, and be particularly careful to consume quickly any material taken from cold storage.
DOROTHY JO BENTON, Home Economics 11 A.

GRUVER NEWS

By Joseph P. Rios

The Home Economics 3rd. class of Gruver High School sponsored a box supper Friday evening the fifth of the month. Thru the efforts of Dr Jones of Gruver, the auctioneer and the cooperation of the people of Gruver, $80.00 was raised for the Home Ec. department.

GIRLS BASKETBALL PRACTICE WILL START SOON

Mr. Morris has informed us that we will begin basketball practice in about two weeks. Since we are anxious to start this is welcome news to us. Although we have lost a good many of our last year's players, we intend to do our best.

BACTERIA—OUR ENEMIES AND OUR FRIENDS

GENERAL NATURE:—To the housewife bacteria are of little value and are foes, like the molds, rather than allies like the yeasts. This does not mean that they are not useful. On the contrary, they are of the most fundamental importance in nature, and it is no exaggeration to say that the very continuation of life depends upon their activity. By their action are produced some of the articles for our tables. Vinegar and also the flavor of butter and cheese.

GROWTH:—Certain kinds of common bacteria can reproduce themselves once every half hour, the result of which is that a single bacterium will have become two in a half hour, four in an hour, eight in an hour and a half and so on. If food is to be protected from them every single bacterium must be destroyed, for if one is left alive, it will require only a few hours for its descendants to become so numerous as to be able to accomplish almost anything in the way of chemical destruction.

RELATION OF GROWTH TO TEMPERATURE: This great power of growth is dependent upon many factors, most prominent of which is temperature. Like all living things, bacteria will not grow at the temperature of freezing or below, but will develop at nearly all temperatures above some species even grow at 140 degrees Fahrenheit. Excessive heat will kill all bacteria, while the low temperatures only retard or check their growth.

RELATION TO AIR:—Most living things require oxygen and therefore demand air for growth. Most bacteria like to feed where they can have plenty of air.

ACIDITY: Most bacteria cannot endure acids, preferring a slightly alkaline food. Hence fruits, which are acid decay by bacterial action. The presence of acid or sourness in food will check its decay. Some foods (cranberries) may be actually too sour for bacterial growth.

WHERE FOUND: We may say that bacteria are found everywhere upon the surface of the earth. This is not strictly true, since a few places seem to be free from them. But wherever on the surface of the earth animals or plants are found, there in the earth, the air and all the bodies of water, we also find bacteria. There are more bacteria in the air of a poorly ventilated school room than in the air of a sewer.

FOODS UPON WHICH BACTERIA FEED: Bacteria are found in all moist foods, especially in those undergoing the process called spoiling. Any meat which develops the "gamey" flavor is filled with them. Sour milk contains them in immense numbers, moldy bread and bad eggs hold millions of them, and decaying fruit may show bacterial as well as molds.

EFFECT OF BACTERIAL GROWTH: Bacteria do not consume the whole food, but use only a part of it. Just as a house whose framework is destroyed by fire will fall to pieces so food that has been thus attacked by bacteria will decay and become unfit for use.

BACTERIAL POISON IN FOOD:—When certain kinds of microorganisms grow in food material they give rise to a class of decomposition products known as ptomaines. These ptomaines are usually the result of growing on animal products. Not all bacteria produce them and it is only rarely that food is thus rendered unwholesome. We know that strictly fresh foods never contain these poisons;

SIXTH GRADE GETTING READY FOR EXAMS

We are glad to have Delmar Field back again. Due to illness he has been away several days. We are ready for the six weeks examinations that are coming next week.

ATHLETIC CODE

Can't study in the fall Gotta play football, Can't study in the winter Gotta play basketball, Can't study in the spring Gotta run track, Can't study in the summer Gotta girl!

FRESHMAN NEWS

The girls are all enthused over the box supper and the prospects of new sweaters. We are sure that we will have the best pep squad ever this year.

SENIOR DOINGS

The football team proved just how good they are last Friday night when they held the powerful class A Borger team to a 7-7 tie.

INTELLIGENCE

(Seniors and Faculty should be able to answer any six.)
1. How many cylinders in a Ford V-8?
2. In what year was the war of 1812 fought?
3. What animal is used in making ex-tail soap?
4. Give briefly the economic history of lock-jaw.

SEVENTH GRADE ARE MAKING FIRE POSTERS

We are making some very pretty posters on fire prevention. We think that the seventh grade has some very good artists.

The baseball girls have divided their team under the two captains Dorelle Clark and Ida Mae McLeod.

We have heard some very interesting reports in Geography and History.

On to Perryton October 12!

INTRODUCING ALL-AMERICAN LYNX TEAM

Here's the opinion of the Borger Bulldog Coach, Moulton, speaking from the Borger Daily Herald:
"Wouldn't Says Spearman Much Stronger than Perryton."
"The Spearman team looks like All-Americans beside of Perryton."

Mr. Moulton, here's hoping the team shows up the same in the game with Perryton Friday.

The second quarter ended with the score still 7-0 in favor of the Lynx, but Borger held the ball on our ten yard line.

In the third quarter Borger took the ball on our forty-five yard line and by successive line plays made a touchdown. They made their extra point and the score was 7-7 at the end of the third quarter.

Both teams knew that the outcome of the game depended on the last quarter, and they fought harder than ever, but neither team was able to score again. As the game ended, Borger had the ball within three yards of our goal posts, but the ball had just come into possession of the Lynx. The game ended at a 7-7 tie.

Lynx to Meet Perryton Rangers Oct. 12

Spearman fans, be at Perryton October 12 at 3 o'clock to support the Lynx.

The Rangers have a mighty fast team and a strong line, but the Lynx are working hard and will be in fine shape to win a victory from their ancient rivals Friday.

The Lynx proved their ability to the football fans at Borger Friday night and they are going to expect some strong support when they meet the Perryton Rangers at Perryton Friday.

Ralph Bort, P. H. Westerfield, Floyd Boyd, Ed Rafts, Tony Jones attended two games of the world series at St. Louis.
Mrs. Paul Reynolds and Mrs. Joffie Bell visited in Spearman Friday afternoon.
A group of Gruver folk attended the show in Spearman Saturday night.
Miss W. G. Spivey and son were dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reynolds.
Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McClellan and Miss Odom went to Amarillo on business Friday.
George Paul Odom spent the week end with his cousin James Allen Ayres.
Irene Odom spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Henderson.
Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gruver were surprised by a group of neighbors and friends by surprise party.
A group of students of the high school have organized a pep squad. They elected Goldie Moore and Joseph P. Rios as their leaders.

Old Corner Drug Store
J. D. Tumlinson—Phone 46
Teeth with a pearly whiteness, a wonderfully alluring smile that makes a man say "Will You?" comes from a proper tooth paste and the right care in using DISCRIMINATING WOMEN have learned that all the virtues are combined in LISTERINE Tooth Paste in Hilatosis, sweetens the breath and gives a high polish enamel. Come to our store and let us tell you the Merits.

AMAZE A MINUTE
SCIENTIFACTS BY ARNOLD

RACING AGAINST AIR
A RACING CAR SPEEDING 200 MILES PER HOUR THROUGH CAREFULLY STREAMLINED MEETS A WIND RESISTANCE OF HALF-A-TON, WHICH ALONE REQUIRES 500 HORSEPOWER TO OVERCOME.
Giant crabs - in the deep ocean are crabs measuring 11 feet from tip to tip of their great pinchers.

BUILDERS OF TEXAS
EDWIN J. KIEST
BORN IN CHICAGO, 1861. AS A BOY SOLD PAPERS ON STREETS OF THAT CITY. OBTAINED A COMMON SCHOOL EDUCATION.
WAS PRESIDENT OF STATE FAIR 1908-1920-21. DIRECTED HELPED FINANCE CONSTRUCTION OF ITS BUILDING.
CAME TO TEXAS IN 1891. TRAVELED OVER THE STATE FOR WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION. BOUGHT THE DALLAS TIMES-HERALD IN 1896. WAS REPORTER, BOOKKEEPER, TYPESETTER, ETC. IN THE STRUGGLE TO SUCCEED.
MR. KIEST IS PUBLISHER OF THE DAILY TIMES-HERALD IN DALLAS. PRESIDENT DALLAS PARK BOARD. DONOR KIEST MEMORIAL PARK, A 176 ACRE PARK GIVEN TO THE CITY IN MEMORY OF HIS DECEASED WIFE. MEMBER OF REGENTS A. & M. COLLEGE. LARGE CONTRIBUTOR TO DALLAS ART ASSN. GREAT BENEFACTOR AND CIVIC LEADER.

ATTEND CHURCH

THIS MONTH

IN SPEARMAN

Oct. is REVIVAL MONTH in Spearman

Revival Services Now Going on at Union Church

Conducted by Evangelist Irene Dilworth

Revival Services Now Going on at First Christian Church

Conducted by Rev. J. N. Jackson, of Perryton

Revival Services Now Going on at Presbyterian Church

Conducted by Rev. B. W. Baker, Pastor

Revival Services Begin October 14 at Church of Christ

Conducted by Jesse F. Wiseman of Borger

Revival Services Begin October 21 at Baptist Church

Conducted by Rev. S. R. McClung of Floydada

This Advertisement Made Possible by Following Business and Professional Men:

SPEARMAN HARDWARE

L. L. McCLELLAN GRAIN COMPANY

CONSUMERS SALES CO.

W. C. BRYAN AND SONS GROCERY

DR. J. E. GOWER

McCLELLAN CHEVROLET CO.

COMPLIMENTS W. M. GLOVER

REX SANDERS, Texaco Agent

CONOCO WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Alvino Richardson, McMurry & Lynch

W. B. JOHNSTON GRAIN CO.

SPEARMAN EQUITY EXCHANGE

ALLEN TIRE SHOP

CITY OF SPEARMAN

FIRST STATE BANK

MERRITT'S DRY GOODS

J. H. BROADHURST

MRS. S. E. HARBISON, County Treasurer

J. E. WOMBLE, County Clerk

TEXAS-LOUISIANA POWER COMPANY
O. G. Collins, Manager

FOXWORTH-GALBRAITH LUMBER CO.

A Letter From a Civil War Soldier To His Home Folks

The following is a copy of a letter written by the father of Judge E. C. Hays to his home folk while in the army at Richmond, Virginia, during the civil war. Judge Hays is the one referred to as Bud in the letter.

Richmond, Virginia, September 22, 1861.

Dear Sons:

I seat myself to let you know that I am well this morning, this being the Lord's day. I hope these few lines may find you all well, my dear sons and daughter. I am now going to send you my best wishes. I want you to be good children, mind your mother, go to school and learn as fast as you can so you can write to me. If I live I expect I will stay here somewhere in this country for several years and you must write ever chance you have. Bud, you and Liddy can soon learn to write. Martha, you must keep them plenty of paper and pens and ink all the time, if you can get it. I will send you pens, staffs and paper if I can get to send it. Bud, you and Liddy and Gus can read this after you learn to read and after a while you will understand it better. I want you all to always be kind and good to one another and to your mother and sister and never be particular with each other about little matters. Always look to each other's interests. Bud, I want you to keep this and you can have it to read when you are away. Although I am five or six hundred miles away in my tent writing you this, you can not help knowing that my best wishes are with you and that I want you to enjoy the best health and comfort, my dear little sons and daughter, at all times and all places. If you are ever in your lonely hours pass away. It is my greatest desire for you to always conduct yourself right, Liddy. Don't forget what I say to you, dear children, for some letter may be the last, and if this should be the one, don't forget what I say to you. Be sure and keep good care of this letter. It may not be any advantage to you, but it will not do you any harm, and you will have it to read when I am in some distant land far away from you. Martha, write back to me. Whether Gus has forgotten me or not, ask him if he remembers me and write me whatever he says. I must close by saying that I still remain your loving father until death. George S. Hays, to his children at home.

W. T. TO CELEBRATE 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Canyon, Oct. 10.—Preparations here are in full swing for the celebration of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the West Texas State Teachers College on October 19 and 20.

The 2 days celebration will include four programs, a football game between McMurry College, Abilene and West Texas Buffaloes, and many small gatherings for special organizations.

President J. A. Hill urgently invited every person who has been a student in the college since its founding in 1910, and all friends of the college to join in the celebration.

Ruth Bryan Owen United States Ambassador to Denmark, will be the headline speaker for the October 20, program at 10 a. m. "Ten Nights in the Bar Room" old-time melodrama will be presented Friday night, and a program representing the State will be given Friday afternoon with prominent state officials as speakers.

The opening program of the celebration will be Friday, October 19 at 10 a. m. with J. B.

BLODGETT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Uptergrove and family attended a birthday dinner of his father, J. W. Uptergrove of Willow, Okla., recently.

Mrs. A. D. Reed and little daughter and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hooper visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sims Friday afternoon.

Mrs. J. E. Kenny and Mrs. Clyde Harbour visited in the Spearman school Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haun Clayton and Oliver Oxford were business visitors in Amarillo Thurs.

The singing school conducted by Jimmie Evans of Granite, Oklahoma, is progressing nicely. Everyone is invited to attend. We urge everyone, especially in our community to come out and be one of us, and help us make a success of this worth while school.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Drake and sons, Shannon and Richard, sister of E. S. Uptergrove, and Carl and Lorene Lockwood of Sayre, Oklahoma, were week-end guests in the Uptergrove home.

Mrs. Gertie Thomas Mrs. Zela Matheson and Miss Ruth Patrick of Amarillo were week-end guests in the Blodgett home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kenney were Saturday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Archer in Spearman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Reed of Canadian were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sims Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Austin and Jimmie Evans were business visitors in Perryton Friday.

Mrs. J. M. Blodgett, Mrs. Deta Blodgett and Mrs. L. W. Austin visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Knox Pipkin, Sam and Dan Nitschke Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. W. Y. Williams and Mrs. Verna Kenney and children visited in the Will Deck home Tuesday.

Messrs. Lloyd and Earl Prutsman and Marvin Haun have recently returned from the West Coast.

Those attending the banquet dinner in the Blodgett home Sunday, put on by Dr. Criswell and Johnnie Lackey, were: Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Uptergrove and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Harbour, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haun, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Church, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Reed of Canadian, Mesdames Will Deck, Verna Kenney, Olen Williams, L. W. Austin, J. M. Blodgett, Deta Blodgett, Merle Beck, Gertie Thomas, Zela Matheson, Miss Ruth Patrick and a host of children.

M. B. Welsh of Panhandle was a business visitor in Spearman Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Nettie Lee Williams and daughter Nancy Lou are visiting this week in the home of Mrs. D. W. Hazelwood.

Speer, president of the Ex-Students' Association presiding, Guy Rogers of Wichita Falls will be the principal speaker. A representative from the family of Dr. R. B. Cousins, first president of the college will also be on the program.

There are 18,000 individuals who have attended the college since its founding. It is expected that at least 5000 of them will attend the celebration. Professor L. F. Sheffy is chairman of the faculty committee in charge of arrangements. A special committee has charge of the barbecue on Saturday at which all ex-students and parents of present students will be honor guests.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Washington, October 10.—As this is written General Hugh Johnson's resignation as Administrator of the NRA has just been accepted by the President. This was one of the things that all competent observers here had been expecting but nobody knew when it was coming. The General had been getting himself in bad with the business interests concerned under the NRA codes for a long time. Everybody agrees that he did a splendid job of promotion and organization, but there is equally unanimous agreement that as an administrator now that the codes are in operation, he ruffled too many feathers that ought to be smoothed, and aroused too much resentment by his dictatorial manner.

It has been understood for some time that the President was looking for a way to ease the General out gracefully. The occasion seems to have come because of the General's speech a couple of weeks ago in which he not only accused the textile workers' union of bad faith and breach of agreement, but took occasion to drag the name of a Justice of the Supreme Court into a controversial matter which may, and probably will, come before that tribunal for examination.

The Big Error
Johnson said publicly that he had been in constant touch with Justice Louis Brandeis, and that Brandeis was opposed to the NRA because it was too big. That indiscretion the latest of many from the General's mouth was too serious to be overlooked. Justices of the Supreme Court are "untouchables." They must not, by implication or directly, be dragged into discussions of controversial points.

Justice Brandeis is a philosopher as well as a jurist. As a jurist he is presumed, like all the other justices of the Supreme Court, not to be influenced in passing on purely legal questions—and no other sort of questions—come before the Court. As a Supreme Court member he is not concerned with whether a given policy is right or wrong whether it will work or won't work. They are only concerned with the constitutionality of laws enacted by Congress and the legality of acts performed under those laws. Whether they are good laws or not is not for them to say.

The non-legal mind often finds it difficult to understand how a man can personally believe that something is wrong, yet as a judge decide that it was right, or at least not illegal. The ability to take a completely impartial attitude on legal questions is what makes a great jurist; and nobody denies that Justice Brandeis is a great jurist.

Embarrassing Insinuation
It was, naturally, quite embarrassing for Justice Brandeis and even more embarrassing for the President, to have General Johnson blurt out a statement which could be used to back up an insinuation that the Administration was playing politics with the Supreme Court. It is a common slur upon the integrity of that body that "the Supreme Court always follows the election returns," although nothing could be farther from the truth. The last thing President Roosevelt desires is to try to influence the Supreme Court, or to have the idea prevail that he is trying to influence it, either directly or indirectly.

Hence the belief that the latest indiscretion of General Johnson's was likely to prove the last straw, so the General's graceful exit had been anticipated days ahead.

The men who will guide the destinies of NRA now the General is out are expected to be Bernard M. Baruch, Raymond Moley and Donald Richberg. Richberg probably will be the active head of the reorganized NRA. Once regarded by business men as an extreme radical he has grown in favor and would be quite acceptable to most of the important business and industrial interests; much more so than Johnson Mr. Baruch, who has not figured much publicly in Administration affairs is not out of favor as has been rumored. He is still relied upon by the President for counsel on matters affecting business. Professor Moley has been closer to the President's ear than anyone else (without interruption, for more than two years; and Moley has learned a lot of practical things he did not know, and has modified some of his theories in the light of his newly-acquired understanding.

These three men and others close to the President have been urging him to make a public statement which would sharply and clearly define the Administration's attitude toward the capitalist system, private initiative, private ownership of property and private profits. The President listens to them but doesn't quite believe that the fear of Government interference with business is as widespread as is reported to him. His best friends admit that his thinking on the general subject of Government relations to business is still confused, that he has not yet evolved a clear-cut program for the future. Political considerations set up cross-currents of influence in his mind, tending to prevent too complete agreement with non-political economic principles.

Meantime one of the strongest radical influences, favoring drastic Governmental control and regulation of everything, is passing out of the picture. Whether Professor Tugwell retains his post in the Administration or not, it is the fixed belief here that his influence on the President's mind is decidedly on the wane.

DUCK SEASON TO START OCT. 26—3 DAYS A WEEK

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—The Texas game, fish and oyster commission today fixed a shooting season of three days a week from October 26 to December 30 for ducks and other migratory water fowl. Shooting days will be Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

The season conformed with federal regulations. Authority for the commission to prescribe the season was granted by an act passed at the recent special session of the legislature.

Bag limits set were Ducks, 12 of all kinds, but not more than an aggregate of five of either, elder, canvasback, red head, greater scaup lesser scaup, ringneck blue wingtail, green wing teal, cinnamon teal, shoveller and gadwall; geese and brant, four; coot 25. Wilson and Jack snipe 20. Possession was limited to two days quota of any variety. Hunting hours will be from sunrise to sunset.

Trade in Spearman

Mr. and Mrs. daughter, Mr. and Mrs. guests of Mr. Sunday for d

ARE YOU CLOTHED BECOMING Or Should The Coming to Us? Campbell Tailor We Deliver

Unique Vicks Form Now Aiding Millions Preventing Ma

Vicks Va-tro-nol, the unique aid in preventing colds, is now helping millions of adults and children to enjoy greater freedom from colds. Va-tro-nol is especially designed for nose and throat, where most colds start. Va-tro-nol should be used at that first sneeze or nasal irritation—just a few drops up each nostril. Its timely use helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off colds in the early stages. Where irritation has led to a clogged-up nose (a stuffy head cold or nasal catarrh)—Va-tro-nol penetrates deep into the nasal passages—reduces swollen membranes—clears away clogging mucus—brings comforting relief.

"No More Dynamite for Me!"

And that's What YOU would Say, After Making the "Liquid Test" Described Here

DAVID H. WADSWORTH

If, by making one little change, you could relieve a condition of sluggishness within 24 hours, and feel about 100% better—would you do it?

David Wadsworth did. You can do the same. All that is necessary is to get your bowels in the right condition. But you can't do that by doing them violence.

Doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives. They've seen the damage sometimes done by highly concentrated drugs in the form of pills or tablets! They know that a properly made liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative) does not do this harm. And they use a liquid laxative to relieve the bowels, because the dose can be easily regulated.

To Relieve Bowels

Constipated or sluggish bowels can never be corrected with violent purges. They can be safely relieved with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin without forming the laxative habit.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative made from fine herbs, pure pepsin, senna and cascara. It is most agreeable to take. The comfortable bowel movement from Syrup Pepsin is a joyful relief from the violent action of strong mineral drugs!

If you are a victim of "sluggish bowels"; an occasional sufferer from constipation, here's the secret of prompt and safe relief until nature restores your regularity. Use a liquid laxative.

Start tonight with Syrup Pepsin. If necessary to repeat the dose use less each day, until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

If there is an occasional return of the trouble, Syrup Pepsin will comfort and relieve you again, as easily as it did the first time you ever took it.

Ask any druggist for a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and make the "liquid test."

AMAZE A MINUTE SCIENTIFACTS BY ARNOLD

FASTEST RUNNERS!
SPEEDIEST RUNNER IS THE ANTELOPE, WHICH HAS RUN 62 MILES AN HOUR FOR SEVERAL MILES. ELKS HAVE RUN 52, DEER 47 MILES PER HOUR.

TRAVEL BY AIR—
SPORES OF PLANT DISEASES MAY EASILY RISE 10,000 FEET, THEN FALL INTO A DISTANT UNTOUCHED FIELD.

COLORADO PEAKS—
MOUNTAIN PEAKS WHICH RISE MORE THAN 14,000 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL.

MUTT AND JEFF—Bill Fields Has Nothing On Jeff As A Juggler

JEFF, GET PACKED WE'RE FLYING BACK TO THE GOOD OLD U.S.A. JUST AS FAST AS WE CAN!

WHY, WHAT'S UP, MUTT?

HERE, DID YOU SEE THIS? KING PIN III OF SOULANIA, ARRIVES IN CALIFORNIA - IS OFFERING PRIZE OF $10,000 FOR THE BEST STATUE OF H.R.H. - YOU WATCH ME WIN THOSE 10,000 BUCKS!!

GOSH, HE'S A DUMB LOOKING KING, HEY, MUTT!

YEP! THAT'S OUR GOOD LUCK! YOU RESEMBLE HIM TO A "T"

I DON'T LIKE TO DO THIS IN YOUR ROOM, BUT IT'S IMPORTANT! HOLD STILL NOW!

PERFECT! NOW YOU'RE REHEARSING YOUR STATUE! I'LL BE BACK IN AN HOUR!

ROBBERS' ROOST

By ZANE GREY

COPYRIGHT W.N.U. SERVICE

"Wait—please wait!" she called after him, as he made with giant strides for the gate. But he did not go back.

In a moonlit hour that night, late, when the good Tasker had gone to well-earned rest, Jim heard his name called. He ran with swift, noiseless feet to Helen's bedside.

"You did not come back," she whispered. "I cannot sleep. . . . There is something I—want to say." He sat down upon the bedside and clasped her hand in his.

"Is your real name Jim Wall?" she asked, with more composure.

"No. I will tell it if you wish."

"Are you a free man?"

"Free. What do you mean? Yes, free—of course!"

"You called me your—your wife to these kind people."

"I thought that best. They would be less curious."

"I was not offended—and I understood. . . . I want you to go back to Star ranch with me."

"You ask me—that!" he exclaimed incredulously.

"Yes, I do."

"But you will be perfectly safe. Some one will drive you from Grand Junction."

"Perhaps. Only I'll never feel safe again—unless you are near. I've had too great a shock, Jim."

"I can never go back to Star ranch," he replied, gravely.

"Why not? Because you are— you were a member of a robber gang? I had an ancestor who was a robber baron."

"That's not the reason," he said.

"What is it—then?"

"If I leave you now—soon as I've placed you in good hands—I can ride off in peace—go to Arizona, or somewhere and be a cowboy—and be happy in the memory of having served you, and loved you—and through that having turned my back on the old life. . . . But if I went back to Star ranch—to see you every day—to—"

"To ride with me," she interferred, softly.

"Yes—to ride with you," he went on hoarsely. "That'd be like what you called your rough experience—a little too much. It would be terribly too much. I'm only human."

"Faint heart never won fair lady," she whispered, averting her face and withdrawing her hand. "Jim, I believe if I were you, I'd risk it."

Jim gazed down at the clear-cut profile, at the shadowed eyes, hair silvered in the moonlight; then, stricken and mute, he rushed away.

Before dawn Jim had beaten his vain and exalted consciousness into a conviction that the heaven Helen hinted at for him was the generosity of a woman's heart. She could not yet be wholly herself. He must not take advantage of that. But to reassure her he decided he would conduct her to Star ranch, careful never to reopen that delicate and impossible subject, and after she was safely there and all was well he would ride away in the night, letting his silence speak his farewell.

At sunrise Jim acquainted Tasker with his desire to leave for Torrey. Soon they were on the way, Helen comfortably settled in the back of the two-seated wagon and Jim riding beside Tasker in front.

A rancher, at whose place Tasker stopped, invited them to pass the night at his house, and next morning take the road from there to Grand Junction, which could be reached in a long day's drive. Jim accepted both invitation and advice. In the morning Tasker bade them good-bye and God-speed.

"Thank you, Mr. Tasker," replied Helen. "I shall remember your kindness. And I'd like to buy back the two horses Jim traded you."

"I'll fetch them, if you'll tell me where," replied the rancher. "Star ranch, north of Grand Junction."

"I've heard of that. Wal, you may expect me some day, though I had taken a likin' to your boss."

Jim drove off in the clear cold air of a mountain autumn morning before the sun had come up.

"Helen, you shouldn't have asked him to fetch the horses," said Jim reprovingly. "He'll find out I lied."

"Lied! What about?"

"I told Tasker you were my wife."

"Oh, that!" laughed Helen, and turned away a scarlet face. "It can be explained easily—if necessary."

Look! This glorious country! . . . No, I don't ever want to leave it."

Somewhat Jim got through that long ride of suspense, fear and thrills, and when they reached Grand Junction just after dark it was none too soon for him. Fortunately he got Helen into the little inn before she was recognized, and then returned to the Blue House in the care of a stable boy. He was late for supper, having taken time to shave and change his shirt.

To his surprise he found Helen radiant.

"What do you think Bernie has done?"

"Bernie!" ejaculated Jim.

"Yes. My brother. This good woman told me. . . . Jim, you are the richer by ten thousand dollars."

"Richer? . . . Me?"

"Indeed, Bernie offered ten thousand dollars for my safe return."

"You know I wouldn't take a dollar!" flashed Jim.

"Well! What do you want, Jim?" she inquired, with a woman's sweet tantalizing mystery. "However, never mind that now. Listen, Bernie hired all the riders available to hunt for me. Also he found where Hays sold our cattle, and he forced the buyers to sell back every head, at the price they paid. He threatened to take the case to Salt Lake City."

"That's sure good news. It might have a tendency to end rustling, at least in wholesale bunches. Did you hear how badly your brother was hurt?"

"She did not mention that. Anyway it couldn't have been much, for Bernie has been here. . . . Aren't you going to eat any supper? Oh, I shall not sleep much tonight. . . . And what shall I tell Bernie?"

The query was arresting to Jim and he hastened to direct her mind into other channels, trying to make her feel concerned that they had still fifty miles to cover.

Every movement of that ride next day was a joy and a pang. It seemed as short as the preceding one had been long. Helen was gay, sad, thoughtful, and talkative by turns, but she did not infringe on the one subject that crucified Jim.

It chanced that as they surmounted the pass that led down into Star Ranch valley the sun was setting out of a glorious cloud pagant over Wild Horse Mesa and the canyon brakes of the Dirty Devil. Jim judged of its beauty and profundity by the sudden silence it enjoined upon his companion. She never spoke another word until Jim halted the team in front of the ranch-house porch. "Home!" she whispered as if she had never expected to see it again.

At Jim's halloo Herrick came out on the porch. "By Jove—here you are!" was his greeting, as cool and unemotional as if they were returning from a day's visit to the village.

"Yes, Bernie, here I am—thanks to my escort," replied Helen.

Jim helped her out, while some cowboys came running.

"I'll take the team down," Jim said, hurriedly.

"You come in," returned Herrick, as he gripped Jim's hand and gave him a searching glance. He kissed Helen and led her in, with his arm around her. Jim purposely lingered at the task of collecting Helen's worn and maddly luggage, and carried it in. Brother and sister stood with arms locked, and their gaze was hard to meet.

"Jim, you will have supper with us," she said, "I'll leave you and Bernie. . . . Oh, what will a tub and a change feel like!"

She gathered up her things and ran out of the living room.

"Helen hadn't time to tell me much," Herrick said. "Hays kidnaped her for ransom. Took her to a hellhole down in the brakes, Robbers' Roost, she called it. Held her there captive. They fought among themselves—gambling with my money. Heeseman's crew found them. There was a battle. In the end you killed Hays and brought Helen back. . . . That's the gist of her story. But I want it in detail."

"I have all the money, almost to a dollar, Herrick," replied Jim.

The Englishman regarded that as of little consequence and urged Jim to a recital of the whole affair.

Presently Herrick spoke with something of gravity: "Helen told me that I was to keep you at Star ranch. I hope you won't let this Hays debacle drive you away."

"It'll be impossible for me to stay," rejoined Jim briefly. "But thanks for your kindness."

"I'll have you manage the ranch—give you an interest. Anything?"

"Please don't embarrass me further. I can't stay. . . . It's hard, I confess—but I have had the gall, to confess, to fall in love with your sister. I couldn't help it. . . . I want you to know, however, that it has turned me away from the old outlaw life. I'll go away and begin life again."

"By Jove! So that's your trouble. Does Helen know?"

"Yes, I told her. It was after she asked me to come and stay at Star ranch. She said she would never feel safe again unless I came. So I had to tell her."

"Declare I don't blame her. I'd feel a little safer myself. That devil Hays left his trade-mark on me. Look here. . . . By thunder, Wall, it's a blooming mix. I understand you, and think you're a man to respect and like. Can't we get around the trouble somehow?"

"There is no way, Herrick."

"Helen has her own sweet will about everything. If she can stay to stay, you'll stay, that I can assure you. Is there any honorable reason why you ought not stay—outside of this unfortunate attachment to Helen?"

"I leave you to be judge of that," replied Jim, and briefly related the down in Robbers' roost. That changed me—blew the cobwebs out of my brain. This wonderful West and you are alike. I want both."

"But I am nobody. . . . I have nothing," he cried haltingly.

"You have everything a woman needs to make her happy and keep her safe. The fact that I did not know what these things really were until lately should not be held against me."

"But it might be generosity— pity—the necessity of a woman of your kind—to pay."

"True. It might be. Only it isn't. . . . I brought you here!"

Jim wrapped his arms around her and for the reason that he was ashamed to betray the tears which blinded his eyes, he buried his face in her lap and mumbled that he would worship her in his dying breath and in the life beyond.

She ran soft ungloved hands through his hair and over his temples. "People, cities, my humdrum existence had palled me. I wanted romance, adventure, love. . . . Jim, I regard myself just as fortunate as you think you are. Lift me off. We'll sit a while under our pine trees. . . . Jim, hold me as you did that other time—here!"

(THE END.)

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Hansford County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published in the County of Hansford, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to return day hereof, you summon C. W. Carson Jr., C. E. Deaner, H. C. Hull and C. R. Oldham, each of whom are non residents of the County of Hansford, Texas, William Woods, Clemmie Woods, H. C. Trammell, Hubert G. Starkey, J. R. Berringer, H. H. Tomlinson and C. H. Pramell, whose respective places of residence, if they be living, are unknown, and if they or any of them be deceased, the unknown heirs, their heirs and legal representatives of each of such persons who may be deceased, the names thereof being unknown, to be and appear before the District Court in and for Hansford County, Texas, to be holden in and for the County of Hansford, at the courthouse thereof, in the city of Spearman, on the fifth Monday in October, 1934, being the 29th day of said month, file No. 214, then and there to answer the cross action of the defendant Walter W. Wilmeth, filed in said court on the 4th day of September, 1934, against the said C. W. Carson, Jr., C. E. Deaner, H. C. Hull, C. R. Oldham, William Woods, Clemmie Woods, H. C. Trammell, Hubert G. Starkey, J. R. Berringer, H. H. Tomlinson, C. H. Pramell, and the unknown heirs, their heirs and legal representatives of all of said persons save and except C. W. Carson, Jr., C. E. Deaner, H. C. Hull and C. R. Oldham, and also White House Lumber Company, a corporation, J. R. Collard, individually and as executor of the estate Helen Q. Collard, deceased, P. B. Higgs, D. C. Boland, N. F. Hull, R. C. Birdwell, L. G. Andrews, Virgil Floyd, Bert E. Briley, John Longley, defendants.

Which suit The Real Estate and Trust Co., Eagle Scout at plaintiff, filed in said County Court of the 4th day of September at said cross action Monday night. Paul tance, as follows: Boy Scout in the county.

A suit or action advanced to the court of honor included: additional a an Oscar Archer advanced vendor's lien suits, Perrin Lyon dated Dec. 14, 1933. First class scout. Several before 1 year in and Morse scouts by defendant W. Herit badges at the court payable to the night. Executive C. A. muth, bearing 10 in charge of the proper annum from the assistance by Charles foreclose lien set. Outmaster of Spear- of said note retain Clellan, T. E. John- even date with note. Word, Lion Club Walter W. Wilmeth at men.

Wilmeth conveying to said lots 11 and 12, in Block 4, Scouter's County, Texas, said foreclose. to be against all defendants, who are alleged to assert some character of interest in said property, but which is inferior and subject to the interest of Walter W. Wilmeth, for costs of suit, order of sale, general and special relief.

Herein, fail not, and have you before said court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal Texas, at office in Spearman, Texas, this 19th day of September, 1934.

(Seal) J. E. WOMBLE,
Clerk District Court,
Hansford County, Texas.

C. H. Dunlap

Registered Optometrist

Taking an average of the entire county, more than a half inch of rainfall was reported Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Spearman reported approximately .40 of an inch, while both Morse and Gruver, Hitchland and Holt communities reported rainfall in excess of a half inch.

Those in a position to know state that the moisture will bring up the wheat planted recently and will revive wheat that was sprouted and beginning to die out.

P. M. Maize, official weather prophet for the Spearman Reporter stated Wednesday that "It'll be plenty boggy in the flats before November 10th." In view of the fact that Mr. Maize has never yet made an error in his official report, wheat growers can feel elated, as we will need more moisture insurance Company

Fort Worth, Texas
Spearman Texas

Old Corner Drug Store

J. D. Tumlinson—Phone 46

Teeth with a pearly whiteness, a wonderfully alluring whiteness that makes a man say "Will You?" comes with the use of a proper tooth paste and the right care in using it.

DISCRIMINATING WOMEN have learned that all these qualities are combined in LISTERINE Tooth Paste in dispelling Halitosis, sweetens the breath and gives a high polish to the enamel. Come to our store and let us tell you about its Merits.

We have the completest line of drugs, sundries, Rubber Goods and Cosmetics.

OUR PRESCRIPTION DEPARTMENT IS UNEXCELLED.

Let Us Be Your Druggist—"We Know How"

(We Are Always on The Job)

If AILING EYES were CRIPPLED LEGS

ONE child in every FIVE would need crutches

IT is an appalling fact that 20% of the children of school age—one child in five—suffer from defective vision. And this total mounts so rapidly that 40% of our young people are wearing glasses, or should be, at college age.

The new Science of Seeing shows that much of this eye trouble comes from one preventable cause—inadequate light. Here is a typical case—a child spends several hours a day studying or reading in poor light. Instinctively she forms the bad habit of holding the book too close to her eyes. Her eyes adjust themselves to this wrong reading distance—and she eventually becomes near-sighted.

If your child holds a book less than 14 inches from her eyes, there are two things you should do. First, have her eyes examined by a competent eye specialist. Second, check your reading lamps and see that lamp bulb sizes meet these scientifically correct standards: one 100-watt, two 60's or three 40's, according to the number of sockets.

We will gladly help you solve your lighting problems. There is no charge for this service.

The New Study Lamp

Designed by the Illuminating Engineering Society, this scientifically correct study lamp provides 5 to 10 times as much light as ordinary lamps. It is 28 inches tall—the height prescribed by science—and is equipped with a white glass diffuser which distributes the light evenly without glare or harsh contrast. The shade is lined with pure white pigment.

$6⁹⁵

95c Down . . . $1.00 Monthly

