Whenever tourists go to Florida there are four or five major cities that stand out in the advertising of the state. You are usually urged to see the botanical gardens at Silver Springs, the Ringling Brothers circus winter headquarters and art museum at Sarasota, Miami and St. Augustine course there are other cities to see such as St. Petersburg, Daytona Beach, Jacksonville and Palm Beach. As we had the fishes in the clear water of Santa Catalina Island near Los Angeles, we did not go out of our way to visit Silver Springs. However, some tourists said that going down 200 feet in the water to see fishes and vegetation one of the highlights of their

we also missed the Ringling winter circus headquarters, the art museum. To some the art museum is the best place in Florida and a day of study. But I remember talking to a rich man from Sarasota, who said that it took just ten minutes to see all he had. This museum and its exhibits cost more than $12,000.

before passing up St. Petersburg we will state that the Boston and New York Yankees have been training camps in St. Petersburg. While we were there we saw the St. Louis Cardinals, Bees, Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds in practice games. Hundreds of old folk are genuine baseball fans and they know the players and their records.

the training camp of the Detroit Tigers, and Winter Garden was passed through en route to Lake Wales. Lake Wales is the city nearest the Singing Tower and bird sanctuary. It is probably four or five miles from the tower. So the tower that special are run there during the winter season from Miami, St. Petersburg and other cities.

over was the gift of Ed. Bok spent $10,000 on the tower and surrounding grounds. The inaccessibility of the tower was caused by Bok's desire to erect it on the highest spot in Florida, only 1200 feet above sea level. Hundreds of birds were moved there with the hope they would make their homes there. Apparently the effort to make the place a sanctuary was a success.

The Singing Tower was dedicated in 1929, by Calvin Coolidge just before he retired from the presidency. The beautiful tower is surrounded by a small lake to keep out the curious. In front of the tower Bok was buried three or four years ago.

The greatest chimes in the world are in this tower and about four months from Dec. to April concerts are given daily at 3 p. m. and the Sunday concert at 3 p. m. We visited the tower on Sunday morning and did not feel able to remain for the concert as we wished to reach Miami before night.

The bells or carillon weigh 60 tons and it is said one tenor bell weighs 11 tons. A noted musician comes to Florida every winter to give the concerts.

Orange groves are at the entrance to the tower. A Detroit corporation owns the groves and has a sign telling its stockholders that only the tower is higher in Florida. There is something peculiar about a visit to the tower. It is probably the most restful place in Florida.

Two or three routes may be taken from Lake Wales to Miami and we happened to pick the worst to the east coast. We went to Vero Beach and from there through Fort Pierce, West Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale and into Miami reaching the city after dark.

The Speedway of Florida apparently is from West Palm Beach to Miami. Although the state has a speed law of 45 miles per hour you have to drive faster than that for every car will pass you were in the midst of the heavy Sunday evening traffic.

Over much of Florida you will see wrecks of the boom from 1924 to 1926. Tampa and St. Petersburg have paving and sidewalks that will be junked before building improvements are made. We were told that many northern people bought lots under water at Miami and St. Petersburg.

One of Florida's big selling arguments is that there are three or four million families in the United States that are able to own two homes. As most of them are northern people their argument is that many of these should live in Florida several months during the winter and summer. It is also surprising how well their sales argument is going over. When a northerner gets a little money ahead, you will find many that feel they should get away for the most severe winter months.

former because he received the five dollar prize for being the biggest liar in this county in 1933—this explanation is made so that Tom Johnson will not become offended—thinking we do not have confidence in his ability to exaggerate the truth—anyway Mr. Johnson is now manager of a large lumber yard in New Mexico. According to Van Earl Steed Tom has a dandy job—and the thing that brought him in to our conversation was the fact he buys dynamite by the car load.

SUBSCRIBERS

It really is unfortunate that as many as two hundred of our readers have received and will receive a subscription 'dun' from us this month. I know that everyone has the bl-g-u-e-s since the hail of last week—I know that you are going to try to economize. YOU must continue to receive the Reporter. It is only a small amount—$1.50, and we will work out arrangements to take a note if you are short on cash—come around and talk it over—we must take you off the list of subscribers if you do not pay or make arrangements.

OLD TACK THE FAN DANCER

Most of you readers read in the paper last week that OLD HONEST TACK could not be here to play a feature role on Mason King's show. Mason made up a big story about Mr. Howe attending the democratic convention—the truth of the matter is that our genial newspaper friend has not perfected his fan dance, and he is really going over to New York and get a bit of needed instruction—not to the Democratic convention.

FARMERS ATTENTION

Cliff Day of Plainville has given permission to the farmers to elect him as agricultural commissioner of the state—that's what I mean. Mr. Day was not seeking a public office—farmers over the state DRAFTED him. If you are halfway smart you place a few dollars smart you place a few dollars here. Your conversation has been. Do not think for a minute that Mr. Day can walk into this office without you vote for him and aid him financially in the campaign. You FARMERS have been asleep in the past, but it looks like you at least had your eyes open now. BUT don't for a minute think that you can endorse a candidate and forget him—then expect him to walk into the office. The politicians that have been cracking the whip over your backs for the past 10 years are too smart for that. THEY all spend real MONEY. I have in my files about two pounds of propaganda about a certain candidate that has his headquarters in Amarillo. This candidate even sent me a file folder, a picture and this dope sure makes interesting reading matter. I have been as big a knump in the past as you have. I knew we always sent to Amarillo for our talent when we wanted any sort of a program—and I thought that if we played ball with the political powers over at the Plains capital we would at least get some of the political crumbs after the BIG boys had feasted—but there ain't no leavings. Hansford county has not received a single consideration in any program to date.

LAUGH AT THIS

Quoting from T. E. Johnson's "Plains Speaking" column in the Amarillo Daily News. "Editor Dave Warren of The Panhandle Herald joins in the pastime of picking on Amarillo, accusing Potter County of attempting to 'hog' the politics of the district. The selection from Amarillo of Two of the four delegates to the national Democratic convention prompted his remarks. Without knowing what method was used at the state convention in selecting the delegates it is probably a safe guess that almost everyone who stated his desire to go to Philadelphia was placed on the list and without any distinction being made between Amarillo, Panhandle and other cities in the district."

T. E.—you shore layed yo'self open in that comment. I can give you a bed-time story here and now that will open your eyes. We of the North Plains had a candidate who was nominated. He was none other than that GREAT old war horse of the Democratic party HE HOOVER of Canadian. We went to considerable trouble to honor this great man of the Panhandle—and while I did not have much to do with the program I talked with one man here in our county who was sure that Amarillo would help us out to elect our friend HE. This morning I had another conversation with this man and he said in substance—"Yes Mr. Hoover was nominated and Major Simpson and the Amarillo bunch fought him at the convention. T. E.—you check up on the records and if this statement is not correct I will surely apologize to Major Simpson and to Amarillo.

Read Dave Warren's editorial "BEWARE AMARILLO", it appears in this issue of the Reporter.

Just to come out in plain old language, the writer for one is getting a bellie full of Amarillo

SOIL EROSION—

About three hundred years ago the American Colonists began to exploit our resources. The rapid westward march of agricultural occupation exploited the best of a farm and then abandoned it to a race between the healing agencies of nature and the destructive forces of erosion and moved on west to clear new lands.

In our brief destructive period of occupancy of the American continent by the some suicidal methods of land use which destroyed and caused the abandonment through loss of vegetative cover and soil erosion, we have put most of the good lands into cultivation. The dust storms of the Old World long occupied by man, have appeared in the New World. The reasons are the same. Our grazing lands were attached with tractor drawn plows. The rich humus soils first yielded abundant crops. Rain was plentiful. The same crops were planted year after year. Then came the drought. The organic matter of the soil was de-dominance in the Panhandle. Just take for example the recent C. of C. convention held at Amarillo. One of the headlines of the program was an address of an Amarillo candidate. Did this candidate select some subject that would tend to build up the organization. NO. He talked on one of his pet schemes—"Sales Tax." And did Amarillo work it out plenty smooth—THE C. OF C. went on record as favoring the "Sales Tax"—purely a political issue in the campaign being waged. I'm telling my readers that this vote on such a matter was a rank imposition on the visiting delegates to the C. of C. convention. I know I am safe in saying that the convention was dominated by Amarillo influence. I know that the bulk of West Texas voters would not favor a sales tax, which places the burden of taxes on consumers. West Texas voters are not that dumb. They surely know that sales taxes are passed on to the purchaser.

Amarillo papers came out with the comments that the registration at the convention was far below their expectations—perhaps they might find an explanation of the situation in the fact that they are trying to convert a non political organization into a convenient vehicle to forward the campaign of Amarillo candidates.

pleted. The stubble of poor unharvested crops were over grazed by livestock causing desiccation of the unprotected soil. Erosion of soil can be checked and it can be controlled. It is not necessary for mankind to destroy the good earth upon which he is dependent for subsistence.

It seems reasonable that man and his animals may extend desert conditions by processes of man induced desiccation, into regions which were capable of supporting large populations.

With an understanding of the geologic process which have given rise to the acceleration of erosion measures can be employed to adequately conserve the soil resources of any area. With this, moisture is to be conserved and therewith a restoration of vegetation suitable crops grass and a happy and prosperous civilization maintaining the productivity of lands now occupied. Can we afford to make a desert out of the Panhandle.

PRINGLE COMMUNITY HAS MEETING

The Pringle Agricultural Association met Friday night June 6. Raymond Jarvis was in charge of the meeting. A financial report of the club was given and a talk on the County agricultural association was heard.

William Parks, Mr. Dublin and Ernest Lieb were elected to be the County Delegates. Because of bad roads only 22 of the members could be present. The next meeting will be held July 3rd.

All farmers that are interested are urged to attend.

Miss Mary Reimer, Margaret Kease and Marylene Gay all of Spearman graduated from St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo.

James Carole Stevens spent last week with Jackie and Warren Oaks.

Dave Warren, Editor of the Panhandle Herald was a visitor in Spearman Saturday. Bill Brown, Opal Sparks, Woody Davis and Grace Mitts attended the show in Perryton.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Lamb were shopping in Spearman Saturday. Miss Violet Hanners and Mrs. Adrain Moore were visiting in Amarillo Monday. Mrs. Moore took the Train from there for Colegee Arizona where she expects to spend the summer.

Roberta Towse, and Violet Hanners were in Perryton Wednesday shopping.

J. E. Gager Jr. has gone to Clifton, Arizona to visit his father.

Miss Margie Gerber has gone to Pampa this week to visit with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Bergance and daughter spent the weekend in Hereford visiting her parents.

Mrs. Jimmy Davis and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hull.

WHY NOT GREENBACKS?

Judging by the letters we are receiving a good many people have reached the point of desparation where they are anxious to try the greenback cure for our troubles. This is a feeling which seems to recur at fairly regular intervals in the political life of all nations it might be classed as an intermittent fever, for it always dies down as quickly and mysteriously as it develops. It has attacked some of the sanest and soundest people. We have a letter from Dr. B. Lake Noyes, of Stirling, Maine which is typical of many others. Dr. Noyes has been a devoted reader of the Pathfinder ever since it was started 42 years ago—but he is about ready to part company unless we are willing to come out and work for greenbacks. He says "I don't suppose you will dare print this letter."

We never print a letter on a dare but we always want to be fair and we can say that Dr. Noyes presents the case for cheap money in a very convincing way. So we will summarize his views. He says that we are wrong to quote history to prove that inflation has harmed nations. He denounces the citation of Germany as a horrible example of what inflation can do and he claims that in this country there can be no recovery without monetary reform. He says that inflation is a misnomer and he adds the U. S. has used printing press money about 18 times in our history—to our everlasting benefit each time—so why be so afraid to do so again? Why don't you show up the financial crooks who are preventing this? How shall we get our bread and butter pay our sick bills and taxes, clothe our naked bodies, protect us from cold and rain and escape the terrible Morganitic -Wall Street debt borrowing of which by Roosevelt now means that every man and woman in the U. S. is owing $1,850 of debt and nobody able to tell us how it is going to be paid? The fraudulent federal reserve notes are not constitutional issued money like the Lincoln greenbacks the total of which was nearly two billions of dollars.

Well, if the people want irredemable paper money the are welcome to it. But we would be failing our duty if we did not cite the history of the subject and the Encyclopaedia Britannica is an impartial and reliable authority speaks of the Lincoln greenbacks and says, "The notes soon depreciated in value and at the lowest they were worth only 35 cents on the dollar. We would be doing a great injustice to the people if we urged them to cast their lot with paper money which is received as 100 cents and then may fall in value to 35 cents or to zero. It was only by the greatest wisdom that the Lincoln greenbacks did not become absolutely worthless. Fiat money is all right as long as it can be kept in control and the issuance of it can be kept down to just enough so as to absorb the increase production of industry. But history still shows that this is impossible to achieve. It's too much to expect of human nature and practical politics. A nation jumps on the money toboggan it might as well resign itself to ruin, for there is no way known to stop it.

The sentiment for greenbacks has sprung up in great force from time to time as we have already said. But it is not strong enough to interest politicians who after all have to depend on getting the votes of the people if they hope to be elected to office and draw those fine salaries. And here again history is not flattering to the greenbacks theory. Horace Greeley—one of the most noble men this country ever produced ran for President in 1872 on a fusion ticket representing the Liberal Republican and the Democrats as well as the Greenbacks. The vote was just about two to one against him. And the strange thing about it is that this is the exact ratio between the same elements on the same basis issue today 64 years later, as revealed by the publishers straw vote. It is only when outside influences such as a war upset the natural balance of the society that we get isms of every sort which the promoters say will provide quick recovery for our bills and ills—but which never work.

Grant, a sound money Republican, was elected President instead of Greeley. But the Greenback party was formed at that time, and it proved a thorn in the side of both the old parties for some years. The platform demanded exactly what the inflationists of today demand namely the withdrawal of federal and bank currency based on gold and the issuance of unlimited paper currency. Peter Cooper another splendid man, ran for President on the greenback ticket in 1876 and received less than 82,000 votes. The Greenbacks fused with the labor elements for the next election. Again in 1880 they had an unusually fine man as their champion James Weaver. But they polled only about 300,000 votes. In 1884 the same elements ran another good man. Then the movement died out of its own accord. There is therefore nothing in the history of this movement to warrant anybody in waiting for it as a cure.

Our readers must not lay this on the Pathfinder. It is not our business to run the country. If ants of any sort. They are outside our line of duty.

We already have a 60 c dollar and apparently this cheap dollar has not satisfied anybody—not even its strongest promoters. It has not accomplished any of the blessings which the cute Cornell professors who gave birth to this baby claimed it would. Congress has power to cheapen the dollar to any extent it cares to—and Congress is so strongly Democratic that the opposition doesn't have to be considered. If the Democratic party wants cheap money this is the time to provide it. It may be coming—but no government would ever deliberately adopt such a fallacy. If inflation and cheap money come, it will be because it is inevitable—with all the debts that have to be paid. Suppose the other nations could square up their billions of debts to us by paying us off in our own 10c dollar or possibly one-cent dollars! Wouldn't that be sum'pin'! Wouldn't that be the irony of injustice? Wouldn't that tickle the internationalists?

Suppose the insurance companies could pay off their insurance policies on a basis of one cent on the dollar! Wouldn't that be sum'pin'? The present writer has been paying $50. a year life insurance for 42 years—and those were hard earned dollars containing 100 cents—dollars saved by cent at a time. What if it should be paid in 10-cent dollars, or one cent dollars? Would such a swindle as that restore justice and prosperity in this country and relieve us from the domination of the Capones of Wall Street?

Would it feed or clothe anybody? Certainly not! It is a mistake to think that the wall Street robbers are for sound money, or cheap money. They make their profits no matter which way the cat jumps. Very often it is the bears who are smart than the bulls and who clean out the market when its going down. What a spectacle of ruin and desolation the United States would be if we should ever get started things are so and so it is not our

HONOR IN PUBLIC OFFICE

The most sensation political event in many years has just occurred in England. A member of the British Cabinet has resigned because his personal honor had been besmirched by the actions of his son.

Somebody tipped off a speculator that the New British budget would provide for an increase in taxes. The speculator took out insurance to protect himself in case that were true. The news of his action leaked out, and it developed that the insurance broker had played golf with the son of a Cabinet Minister the day before the speculator had applied for insurance.

Nobody made any charges against J. H. Thomas, the Colonial Secretary, whose son had happened to be a friend of an insurance man. Nobody furnished any proof that the son had even said fault, and we refuse to accept any responsibility. We aim to give the people the facts—in same and fair way—but we must refuse to lend our influence and power of any sort in campaigns for movement on the mad scramble to get hold of cheap dollars—and get rid of them before they could become still cheaper! We sympathize with those who are wellintentioned. It is said that 'hell is paved with good intentions' Hell would need no more paving for generations to come if Uncle Sam once steered this nation into the tempting maelstrom of 'cheap money'. —Pathfinder—

a word about the budget to his friend Nobody charged that Mr. Thomas had ever even discussed the budget with his son. But so high is the standard of political honor in England that the incident stirred the nation as nothing else in recent political history has stirred it.

There was no alternative for the Colonial Secretary under the British code of honor, but to resign his office. Wherever Britons gathered, wrote one newspaper correspondent, there was much sadness and some bitterness at the spectacle of a Cabinet Minister becoming involved in a scandal. According to one dispatch, Mr. Thomas is crushed by the humiliating end that has come to his official career.

We are so used to public officials using the power of their office to enrich themselves and their friends and families that it is difficult for the American mind to appreciate the enormity of this situation in England. True we have on occasions dismissed from office and even sent to prison high officials even of Cabinet rank, but it takes very flagrant malfeasance in office to stir up any deep resentment in this country. The prevailing attitude is that a man is a sucker if he does not take honest graft when he has a chance.

In the matter of standards of honor for public officials we can learn a lot from England.

BEWARE AMARILLO

Although Amarillo has become the financial metropolis of the Panhandle, it is difficult for the legal profession and politicians to realize that that city should not be necessarily the political center of this area.

In fact Potter county has such a small percentage of the votes in the 31st senatorial and the 18 congressional districts that it is laughable for Amarillo to attempt to 'hog' all the political honors. If the people were to cooperate just to any extent they could humiliate Amarillo in a political way, but we believe in giving justice where it belongs even including the 'tulip' city.

At the state Democratic convention at San Antonio, Amarillo obtained two of the four delegates from the 18th district. As Amarillo was honored with one half the delegates while the city probably does not have one-tenth the votes, it is an indication of the gratuity of delegates from other counties.

It is understood that the state convention passed up stalwart political leaders from other counties, men and women willing to pay their own expenses to the Democratic National convention at Philly—to honor Potter county with one half the delegates. The efforts of Amarillo to cop all political honors is apparently going to hurt candidates who otherwise possibly would be deserving of support. It may work against Col. Earnest O. Thompson in his race for state railroad commissioner and Marvin Jones also for re-election.

As for the campaign of state Senator Clint Small for re-election it is evident that he is on the downward grade. Men who have fought for Clint Small in two political campaigns each for state senator and governor are deserting him and coming out for Curtis Douglass.

The more that the Amarillo News Globe pours it on in regard to Small the more the people of the Panhandle will realize that the battle is on to perpetuate the Amarillo political dynasty. Recently the Amarillo paper carried a political biography of Small show-ink him up in the most light, but we know the effort of the Panhandle for a third term as state Amarilloans should take 100 per cent of cal plums is dangerous pray the turn may come prejudice will be so just to be from Amarillo justly turn the voters candidates from that city.

HOW TO CUT RELIEF

The State of New Jersey has just passed a law which will cut down the burden of relief on the municipalities a few go. One of the first steps to be taken is to cut down the burden on the taxpayers, in some cases to a degree that is amazing.

In the city of Hoboken, where there were 2,145 relief rolls representing 344 persons, before the relief job from the state there are fewer than nine hundred. There has been 350 public disturbances of any

Harry L. Berek, Hoboken erseer of the Poor reports he did was to cut out the off the relief rolls, by returning old and tried principles in the poor show con proof of their inability to work and their need of aid.

Of course there are many who think that to limit the actual necessities of life hard-hearted and inhuman cess. But Mr. Berek, who has forty years on his job in Hoboken takes a different view.

"I'm in favor of giving the American pioneer spirit a chance to assert itself, and it looks as if it were working enough to keep themselves from starving or they'd be back asking for relief.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

In general the following are a few notes which will help farmers to work out their plans for the new Soil Conservation program.

- 1. Establish a base acreage for the farm by signing up a work sheet.
2. Divert 15 per cent from base acreage established.
3. Adopt an approved soil conserving crop or practice on the 15 per cent, which will qualify the farmer to receive payment Number 1, for the 15 per cent diverted.
4. Some approved soil conserving practices are listed below:
(a) Planting sudan grass, which may be harvested
(b) Planting sorghum in strips, wide rows, or every row, none of which may be harvested from the 15 per cent.
(c) Summer fallow if in combination with contour furrows, or strip cropping;
(d) Contour list and turn back to grass and withhold all grazing during 1936.
5. The amount of money a farmer will receive on the 15 payment, cannot be figured at this time.

In addition to the above, a farmer may earn additional money as a soil building payment by the use of one or more of the following practices at the rates specified.

A good way to tell how much money a farmer may earn from soil building practices is to multiply the number of acres diverted from the base (or taken out of production) by one dollar per acre.

The following are some soil building practices and the rate of pay for each:
1. Contour listing or furrowing if in combination with strip cropping or planting of Sudan on the contour, and furrows maintained 50 cents per acre.
2. Any farmer who has received 20c already under the emergency program may receive only 30c more under No. 1 above.
3. Contour listing and furrows not maintained, 25c per acre, provided if this land is planted to wheat in the fall it must be planted on the contour.

If a farmer collects the soil building payment on 1, 2 or 3, above, he must plant on the contour.
The following are additional soil building practices and rates of payments.
1. Any sorghum, Sudan or Millet, $1.00 per acre seeded on crop land between 1st, 1936 and July 31st 1936, all the crop is left on the land plowed under.

Hansford To Be—

out at the Amarillo meeting, which is subject to the approval of Federal officials is a supplementary program of soil conservation, looking towards the more efficient handling of the Panhandle wide improvement in the fight for soil control. Largely speaking this new program is for the purpose of handling acres and special conditions that would not normally be treated in the national soil conservation program.

In a requisition request filled out by the Hansford county officials it was set forth that ten thousand acres of the county land was in such condition that wheat producers could not efficiently work these acres with their limited equipment. This land is listed as temporary abandoned. The officials also estimated that 600 miles of fence rows should be cleared and seeded in native grass. The request stated that 100 miles of county road that has become clogged up with blow dirt should be cleared and conditioned.

Hansford county asked for the following machinery, in addition to that already owned, to carry on this program: Three 60 horse power tractors, four fresnos, 4 bulldozers. The county has available four tractors 4 fresnos and four bulldozers.

Hansford asks for $18,000 to pay for labor in carrying out the program and $750.00 to purchase sudan grass for seeding down abandoned acreage and fence rows. The estimate for the working days required to carry out the program was 1800.

Should this program be approved as outlined it would give many people of this county work at prevailing wage scale.

The schedule of costs for the entire fourteen counties involved in this special program together with resolutions and work sheets showing the imperative need and the good that could be accomplished, was turned over to R. H. Musher and T. P. Gaston of the Federal Soil conservation committee who left Thursday for Washington to present the matter to superior officers for immediate approval.

Two local citizens went out to inspect their wheat and planted their cars, following the rainfall of Thursday.

Bill Burran visited his wheat field just before the rain and had to make a run for shelter to keep out of the hail after his car stuck Friday Bill and Ed Burran carried out the Burran grocery truck to rescue the stranded car. They planted the grocery truck. Monday of this week the Burran brothers harvested their car and truck with a large Case tractor.

Burl Brockus visited his Field Monday and left his car planted. Bill Russell was with him on the inspection tour and after the two gentlemen walked back to town they attempted a rescue with the Russell car. This only planted another car in the field. However they finally released the Brockus car and by driving around a section were able to get in a position to remove the car.
