Several architects were present at the meeting and discussed the court house matter with the commissioners. The successful bidder for the work, Townes, Lightfoot & Funk will refer to the commissioners on Saturday, November 29.

Kittens Will Tangle With Morse Mustangs

The Lynx Kittens, second football team of Spearman schools, are set to tangle with the Morse Mustangs in a game this Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. at the Morse high school. These teams have played a rip-roaring game this season, the Kittens winning. Now, the Mustangs propose to even up the score in this, the last game of the season. The Mustangs recently tied it on to Dumas to the tune of 26 to 12.

Turkeys More Profitable Than Wheat

Tom Simonds, farmer living on the Tom Coble farm on the Palo Verde road 12 miles west of Spearman, believes that the raising of turkeys is a safer and more profitable industry than raising wheat. His experience with the famous product of the barnyard this year has led him to the conclusion that turkeys are more profitable than wheat. Last week Mr. Simonds sold to the E. K. Snider Lumber Company of Spearman 20 big turkeys, receiving in payment therefor a check for $2,300.

Mr. Simonds has 300 more turkeys left which he is keeping for the Christmas trade, evidently believing that the price will be a little better at that time. He raised these turkeys, which were incubated, on a balanced feed produced by the Snider Produce company here in Spearman and which was very inexpensive. The turkeys did fine during the summer and fall months. They were profitable. At one time Mr. Simonds moved a head of 1,000 lb. on his place down the river to the J. J. Steele ranch, where the turkeys were destroying fine alfalfa. They cleaned out the alfalfa in great shape and the alfalfa saved.

E. K. Snider of the Snider Produce company says that there are many turkeys in the Spearman country this year and that farmers are raising more of them every year. He dressed and shipped out about 100 for the Thanksgiving trade and expects to handle that many more for the Christmas trade. Mr. Snider reports that he would rather raise turkeys than wheat, and believes the profits are surer according to the labor expended are greater.

Spearman Schools Will Close for Thanksgiving

The Spearman schools will observe Thanksgiving Day today, Thursday, and will not be in session Friday. The schools will open again on Monday morning, December 1.

Evans' Beauty Shop Opens in Spearman

Mrs. H. L. White, formerly owner of the Evans Beauty Shop in Oklahoma City is opening up a beauty parlor in her home in South Spearman. Mrs. White comes to Spearman with years of experience as beauty operator. Mr. White is employed as shop foreman at the McClellan Chevrolet Co.

Singers Will Meet at Borger

The Fifth Sunday Singing Convention will meet in Borger on Sunday, November 30. Singers and visitors will be present from all counties, and an attendance of 100 people is expected. Among the special entertainers for the day will be the Stamps Quartette, from Dallas, and the Wheeler Brothers Quartette, the Victor Quartette. Borger invites everyone to her guests on Sunday, November 30, says Frank Bennett, secretary-manager of the Borger Board City Development.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bell, at the Newman hospital in Sattuck on Wednesday morning, November 20, a fine son.

Archer Elected Captain Lynx '31 Gridsters

At a meeting of this year's lettermen of the Lynx football squad Spearman school, held the latter part of last week, R. B. Archer was elected captain of the Lynx football team for the season of 1931.

Archer, powerful guard, was in a large measure responsible for the splendid record handed down by this year's team. He is a steady, consistent player and has a knowledge of real football as a high school student should play the game. He will be in the senior class next year, and has been on the squad since he entered high school. He lettered in his sophomore and junior years. R. B. will make a real captain, say the lettermen, and the entire Lynx organization, rooters and fans, are well pleased with the selection.

Ikey Vernon Assistant

Ikey Vernon, fast half-back of the 1930 team, was elected to serve as co-captain. Vernon has had three years' experience in the backfield, and by reason of this experience will be able to "captain" that department next season in an able manner. Besides being a regular on the football team, he plays basketball and takes a whirl at "track." He is the fastest little player ever seen in action on the Lynx gridiron.

Memphis Cyclones Will Clash With The Dalhart Wolves

Dalhart, Texas, Nov. 25.—Color and sensations almost beyond realization are promised when the Memphis Cyclone meets the Dalhart Wolves on the Dalhart field Thanksgiving Day at 2:30 p. m. for the crown of District One, Class B football.

Sweeping to a 19 to 14 victory over the powerful White Deer aggregation Friday gave Memphis the right to meet Dalhart for the championship.

The Wolves humbled the mighty Claude team 14 to 0 on the Dalhart field Friday.

An interesting angle to the forthcoming battle is that Blake Bolton, Wolf mentor, coached at Memphis seven years before coming to Dalhart last year.

An unusual record is held by Dalhart in that it has marched to a bi-sectional championship with an uncrossed goal line, holding 284 points to its opponents' 0.

Memphis is a powerful team with more tricks up its sleeve than a magician. Easily the season's most spectacular battle is assured.

FOUND GUILTY IN THE DISTRICT COURT

C. E. Brisco, a one time resident of Texhoma, was found guilty in the district court at Guymon this week and sentenced to one year and a day in the state penitentiary. Brisco was in Texhoma in June of this year and was employed by Wm. Solomon on his farm when he entered the negotiations that finally led to him receiving the above sentence.

After working for about a month for Solomon, he got one of his legs injured, and asked for a few days layoff and spent the time, four days, in making a trip to a point south of Sayre, Oklahoma. He left the Solomon ranch in an old Model T Ford which played out when he reached Gruber and there he made arrangements at the McFee garage for another car. When he made the return trip he came around Gruber to Texhoma and while in town deposited a check in the Farmers National Bank in the sum of $800.50. He then drove to Gruber and entered negotiations for buying a new car, giving the old car and a check for $307.50.

The check deposited in the bank here was on the First State Bank of Sayre, it being a check made over from a Goodwell bank check. He exhibited the Texhoma deposit slip at Gruber, and stated when buying the new car that the check he gave them would not be good until the money arrived on the $800.50 check that he had deposited in Texhoma. It all proved false, and he was arrested and placed in the Spearman jail and later his case was transferred to Perryton, where he stood trial, pleading his own case and beat the Gruber deal by proving that he had informed the Gruber dealer that the check would not be good until the money arrived in Texhoma on the other check.

After getting out of the clutches of the Texas law at Perryton he was arrested by Oklahoma officials and taken to Guymon where he was tried for "Having Attempted Fraud," and this week drew a year and a day. While in Texhoma last summer he gave a number of hot checks to local merchants.—Texhoma Times.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Collins, accompanied by Miss Mildred Crawford attended the monthly meeting of the Employees Co-operative Club of the Texas Lumbering Power Company at Perryton Friday evening.

Bob White, who is with the Moxedon Lumber Company of Perryton, was here Sunday, visiting.

Thanksgiving 1930

Spearman and the Spearman country, in fact, all the north plains country in particular and the great southwest in general, have caused a real genuine reason—for giving thanks on this day, Thanksgiving, 1930.

Thanksgiving Day was originated with the idea in view of the people gathering together and individually and collectively, giving thanks to Almighty God for the blessings of the year passed. The country mentioned above has great cause for thanksgiving in this respect.

This country, in the first place, is one of the most prosperous sections of the North American continent at the present time, and has been for the past several years. Month after month and year after year, this section is shown in the "white spot" of the nation's business map, indicating that "business is good" in this particular section.

This country should be thankful for the great crops just harvested; for the fine condition of the range, and for the great prospects for the future, both as to agricultural possibilities and general development of natural resources.

In the development line may be mentioned the three great 24-inch natural gas lines now completed, or nearing completion, which run from the great gas fields of Hutchinson county to the big industrial centers of the north. Two more of these big lines will be put in soon, probably early in the spring, and a 6-inch gasoline line is completed.

The Spearman branch of the Santa Fe will be extended from Spearman to a connection with the Amarillo-Las Animas Santa Fe line, giving this great wheat belt a direct rail line to the markets of the south and southwest and to the great terminal elevators and Gulf ports.

The big job of paving highway No. 117 is now under way. This highway penetrates the very heart of the north plains wheat belt, running from the present pavement in Stinson, Hutchinson county, through Spearman and on east through Perryton, Ochiltree county, and steps are now being taken to extend it on to a connection with the great Southwest Trails. When this project is completed, highway No. 117 will be the most popular route from Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Kansas City and Wichita, to El Paso and on to California. The possibilities of this great highway are absolutely unlimited.

Spearman and the immediate territory are rejoicing and are giving thanks every day for the blessings of a school system and school plant in Spearman second to none in the southwest. The new high school building, recently completed, at a cost of over $100,000, is the pride and joy of the entire country. New homes, new business houses, new businesses and new people are scattered over all of this great territory, and the signs and indications of permanent, substantial growth and development are apparent on every side.

Spearman will build two or more fine church edifices in the immediate future. The "depression" bugaboo will not halt the gigantic task of developing an empire of this section, and the church will stay abreast of the times. Our ministers are bright, alert and anxious to go forward, and they are backed by a working membership that will not fail them.

Surely, Spearman and the Spearman country have great cause for giving thanks on this day, Thursday, November 27, 1930.

Spearman and Perryton Discuss Agricultural Experiment Station

C. A. Gibner, Homer Allen, R. V. Converse, Wm. E. McClellan, R. H. Prewitt and J. W. Rakekin were guests of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce at a noonday luncheon held at Perryton on Monday of this week.

The purpose of this meeting, primarily, was to discuss the probability of the establishment of an agricultural experiment station on the north plains. The meeting was featured by a display of a fine spirit of cooperation, and those present were unanimous in the opinion that the present development of the north plains country was of a substantial importance and of more substantial nature than at any time in the history of the country. Many inspiring and enthusiastic talks were made, among them being one by R. V. Converse, successful farmer of near Spearman. Mr. Converse called attention to the importance of an agricultural experiment station being located on the north plains. He stated that this country was already recognized as the greatest wheat-producing section of the United States and in a few years would take its place among the leading hog, poultry and dairying countries of the nation. Mr. Converse stressed the importance of cooperation of neighboring towns and organizations, that their work may not overlap.

Another Meeting December 10

At the Perryton meeting it was decided to hold another get-together meeting on December 10. This meeting will be held in Spearman. All towns north of the Canadian river in Texas will be invited to send delegations to this meeting, and an attendance of over 100 is expected.

Ex-Student W. T. S. T. C. Organize At Spearman

Ex-students of the West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon met in the Spearman high school building on Thursday night of last week and perfected an organization, composed of "exes" who now reside in Hansford county. Regular meetings will be held in the future, the next one to be held at Gruber after the Christmas holidays. The date of the next meeting has not been announced. A very enjoyable banquet was spread at the meeting held here last week.

Super-Heterodyne Aids Byrd's South Pole Radio Studies

A super-heterodyne receiver played an important part in bringing cheer and news of the outside world to the men of the Byrd Expedition while they were snowed-in on the frozen wastes of the Antarctic, according to Mr. Jimmy Davis, of Spearman.

One of the major scientific studies conducted by Admiral Richard E. Byrd's South Pole expedition was the use of radio in close proximity to the southern end of the world, and among the apparatus tested under these trying conditions was a radio set such as is found in many American homes.

Despite the absence of skyscrapers and man-made static such as that which the elaborate electrical apparatus of civilized centers generate, Byrd's radio experts reported that they had to contend with peculiar buzzing sounds and "dead spots" in the barren wastes of the Ice Barrier. In place of interference from electrical apparatus they encountered the Aurora Australis which, as its colorful display flashed across the sky, interposed an impenetrable stone-wall "dead spot" between the Little American radio station and the broadcasts from the United States.

As a counterpoint of skyscrapers, the whirling snow storms, which blotted out one's vision like a huge blanket, created a "snow static" which filled the loudspeakers with buzzing sounds.

But in spite of these conditions Byrd's radio men declared that the radio equipment including the "home" set performed like magic, bringing in broadcasts to the polar wastes from the United States, Europe, Australia and New Zealand. The "home" set, a Radiola Super-heterodyne, was acquired by the Byrd Expedition at the last moment to fill a gap in the radio equipment which it had brought from the United States, when it left Dunedin, New Zealand, for the Antarctic. This same Radiola Super-heterodyne because of its extraordinary sensitivity was also put to continual use as radio compass and direction finder during airplane flights of the expedition.

"Thus, once more the all round efficiency of the super-heterodyne circuit overcame what appeared to be insuperable barriers of nature," said Mr. Davis. "Through seven years of intensive development the Radiola Super-heterodyne has earned a unique position for itself in the field of radio reception. Now with the application of screen grid tubes this receiver has attained its highest development."

Mission Dry Company To Open Headquarters in The Southwest

Mr. Hugh Kitchem, General Sales Manager of the Mission Dry Company was recently in our territory to select logical location in the Southwest for headquarters for his company. Mr. Kitchem explains that this is necessary due to the large increase in the sale of Mission Dry and Mission Juices recently. The first bottle of Mission Dry in the black bottle rolled East just two years ago, according to Mr. Kitchem, and in this short time this organization has achieved what is considered an almost phenomenal sales and merchandising record. They have obtained distribution in practically every town and hamlet in the United States and the product instantaneously was accorded high public favor and today is one of the leading beverages manufactured in this country, being pure fruit juice with no chemicals, coloring, flavoring or extracts, nothing added, nothing taken away—nature's very own with a slight addition of cane sugar and a properly carbonated beverage, bottled under a secret formula. Mr. Kitchem explains that his company has appropriated a large sum of money to conduct an extensive advertising campaign which will cover the entire United States to better acquaint the public with what Mission is and its merits.

Dr. Spencer Installing Modern X-Ray Equipment

Workmen are this week remodeling the offices of Dr. R. T. Spencer, located in the Reporter building, preparatory to the installation of X-Ray equipment of the very latest and most modern kind, now in use in this branch of medical science. This X-Ray machine is one of the very largest and most powerful in this section of the country. It is of the same pattern used in some of the finest hospitals in the larger cities. Dr. Spencer intends to equip a really modern X-Ray laboratory, and is prepared to treat all cases in which the use of an X-Ray is necessary. The work of installing the X-Ray machine and other equipment will be finished this week.

Lions Discuss Christmas Tree, Club Play, Red Cross Drive

Though the attendance was not up to standard, the meeting of the Spearman Lions Club held Tuesday at noon at the Legion Hall was a very important one. The club has made arrangements with the management of the hall to meet at that place regularly hereafter.

Among the matters discussed at Tuesday's meeting was that of having a community Christmas tree in Spearman, to which every child in the entire country round about will be invited, and will receive a present. The Lions appointed a committee of five to confer with committees from the chamber of commerce and American Legion in regard to the community tree.

The Lions will stage a play some time before Christmas, the exact date to be announced later. The play books have been ordered and when they arrive the cast will be selected and rehearsals begun. "Doc" Word will assist with the "coaching" and it is planned to make this one of the best plays ever staged in Spearman.

A committee of two was appointed to assist with the work of completing the Red Cross roll call in Spearman.

Dixie Blackbird Minstrels A Most Enjoyable Affair

The Dixie Blackbird Minstrels, presented by the Spearman Parent-Teachers Association on Tuesday night of this week, was one voking affair ever staged in this town. Also, it was a fine financial success and the ladies of the P. T. A. who worked faithfully on the play for several days, are mighty well pleased with the result of their efforts.

The play was directed by Miss Adeline Edwards of the Wayne P. Sewell Producing Company of Atlanta. Over 100 Spearman men, women, boys and girls, took a part in the presentation, and the work of a great majority of them was simply fine.

The people of Spearman appreciated this evening's entertainment and are ready and anxious to congratulate the P. T. A. ladies who brought it here. The P. T. A. is doing a great work for Spearman and vicinity. It is one of the most active and useful organizations in this section.

Revival at Baptist Church Continues; Interest Growing

The revival meetings begun on Friday night, October 14, at the Spearman Baptist church, continue to attract large and attentive audiences. Rev. Crimm, who is doing the preaching, with the assistance of his splendid singer and collaborator, Robt. J. Kennedy, and a large congregation of willing church workers, have aroused a deep interest in spiritual affairs in Spearman and vicinity. The crowds attending these meetings are perhaps the largest that ever attended a revival meeting in Spearman. The meetings will continue over Sunday and perhaps longer. Pastor Rigards has not made any announcement so far as to when the meetings will close.

The subjects for the sermons during the remainder of the week are: Thursday night—Four modern evils. Friday night—Sin against the Holy Ghost. Saturday night—God loves a sinner. Sunday, 11 a. m.—Putting God first. Sunday, 2 p. m.—Sermon to women and girls only, subject not announced. Sunday, 4 p. m.—Sermon to men and boys only, subject not announced. Mrs. Roderick, home economist for the Westinghouse Electric and manufacturing company, conducted a cooking school Friday and Saturday, November 21 and 22. The ladies of Spearman were fortunate in having Mrs. Roderick to conduct this school as she is very efficient in this particular type of work. The school was well attended by the local ladies and many helpful ideas were taken from her lectures. The care and use of the electric range was thoroughly explained. Many new recipes were given and the modern methods of their preparation was discussed.

Two lovely attendance prizes were given, the Westinghouse Percolator going to Mrs. P. A. Lyon and the beautiful bridge lamp to Mrs. D. M. Jones.

Parent's Home Destroyed By Cyclone at Bethany

W. M. Glover, Phillip Petroleum Company agent at Spearman, received a telegram from his parents who live at Bethany, Oklahoma, telling of the cyclone which struck that little town, seven miles this side of Oklahoma City, and left immediately for that place. He returned Monday and stated that the newspaper reports of the catastrophe were not exaggerated in the least. His parents' home was destroyed but they were away from home at the time and were not injured. Mrs. Glover went to Bethany after the return of Mr. Glover, to assist the family in the work of straightening out the home. Dennis Jones, who also has relatives living there, is also in Bethany.

Pass Your Dollars Along

THIS matter of spending is a "round robin" in which the dollar or its equivalent in wages, profit, value or gratified desire returns to the original spender. But when one of us breaks the chain by keeping the dollar in his pocket and refuses to pass it along it only influences others to do the same thing and it leaves the next in line totally without means to continue the chain.

"Keeping money in circulation" implies just what it says...the circulating of money. When you buy, the merchant requires more goods to replace what you have taken away. He draws on the manufacturer; the manufacturer increases production and employs more labor; as the laborer earns more, he buys more of clothes, food furniture, amusement...the commodities which you sell or produce and hence the dollar you spend comes back to you.

We've started on the up-grade to a resumption of Prosperity now. A noted economist said in convention in Chicago the other day, "Americans today are consuming more goods than are being made up for replacement at present." This is the fore-runner of increased production and increased employment.

Continue spending and the wheels of commerce and industry will soon be humming in the key of prosperity but its the degree in which you circulate your dollars that will determine the tempo of our return to normalcy.

THANKSGIVING DAY in the United States is a day set apart annually for the giving of thanks to God for the blessings of the year. Originally it was a harvest thanksgiving, and while the purpose has become less specific, the festival still takes place late in the autumn after the crops have been gathered. Indeed it is probably an outgrowth of the harvest celebrations of England.

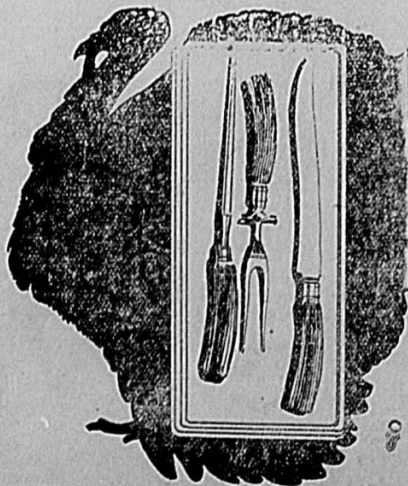

The earliest harvest thanksgiving in the New World was kept by the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth in 1621, and was repeated often during that and the ensuing century. This first thanksgiving came after the dreadful winter had passed, during which almost half of the Pilgrim company died. Renewed hope had grown up with the summer. In the fall the corn crop was gathered, and Governor Bradford decreed a day of thanksgiving. Great were the preparations; the few women in the colony spent days before boiling, baking and roasting; and even the children were busy, turning the roasts on the spits before the open fires. As guests there were more than four score friendly Indians, who brought as their share of the feast wild turkeys and venison from the woods. The tables were set out of doors, and the company sat about them as one big family. This first thanksgiving however, was not merely a feast, there were prayers and sermons and songs of praise; and three days had gone by before the Indian returned to their forest and the colonists to their tasks.

From Plymouth the custom spread to the other colonies, until in time the governor of each issued such a proclamation annually. During the Revolutionary War eight special thanksgiving days were observed—after signal victories or wonderful deliverances from danger. President Washington issued a general thanksgiving-day proclamation in 1789. In the same year the Protestant Episcopal Church of America announced the first Thursday in November as a regular annual day for giving thanks, "unless another day be appointed by the civil authorities."

There was no uniformity. Some states had an annual thanksgiving, others did not, and on proclamation was issued by the presidents. One woman, Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, the editor of Godey's Lady Book, took an intense interest in the subject, and for twenty years sent our pleas through the columns of her journal for a nation-wide thanksgiving. She did not stop at this. She wrote letters to each of the presidents, and finally, in 1863, her efforts were rewarded, for President Lincoln appointed the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving.

From 1863 the same day has been regularly set apart. The presidents annually make a formal announcement, and the governors of the various states issue proclamations calling on the people to give thanks. The day is not a national legal holiday. The United States has no legal holidays, not even the fourth of July; but almost every state has legalized it, by legislative act. Throughout the country, but especially in New England, where the custom originated, the day is looked upon with great reverence. It is peculiarly a family day, and the very sound of the name brings back inevitable memories of "back home;" of the old farmhouse kitchen and the pantry crowded with good things.

"HICK" TOWNS The so-called hick town has lately become a source of great inspiration to our professional humorists.

A hick town, say the various users of this convenient formula, is a place where a backfire is never mistaken for a pistol shot; where bedtime is orthodox; where foodpeckers eat up the depot; where central can tell you whether it was a boy or a girl; where the neighbors will supply you with conscience if you lack one; where there is no parking problem; where a curfew disturbs the residents' rest; where fine-cut tobacco is no handicap socially, and so on and so on.

With no intention of becoming terribly heavy over the matter, we want to add that a hick town is the place where 20 of our 29 presidents were born and where seven out of ten of the immortals in New York's national hall of fame originated. A hick town that didn't have a name produced Lincoln. Hick towns gave us most of our great literary figures of the past and practically all of those now living. Hick towns produce our Edisons.

If we may, then we would like to suggest that a hick town is a place where a boy has an excellent opportunity to lay the foundation of future greatness.—Wisconsin State Journal.

67 DOGS ARE DEAD; AND NO BAG LIMIT

Street Commissioner Turpin Tuesday morning bagged seven more town dogs, making 67 for him during the past several months, according to the notches on his gun. Judging from the nightly howls, however, the supply is recruited and as fast as his trusty gun brings down a dog another one takes its place. No one cares anything about a worthless dog, and if a dog isn't worth paying taxes on and being looked after, the quicker he is killed the better off the town will be.—Texoma Times.

Children are wise these days at such tender ages that those parents who wish to have an old-fashioned heart-to-heart talk should schedule it before the sixth birthday.

A Different Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving 1930 is a different kind of Thanksgiving. No Thanksgiving anniversary in recent years has been at all like the one we now face, and there are many folks who are not in the attitude to observe the 1930 Day as it should be observed. Some are frankly pessimistic and grouchy over the situation that has prevailed for the past year in our nation, and their hearts are far from my humble thoughts of real Thanksgiving.

Let us consider such an attitude for a moment. Is it possible for one to be thankful, all things must have worked out to his liking and to his advantage? Is it possible that a thankful heart comes to us only when we have experienced another year of abundance in a material way? Is it possible that we have grown so selfish that we must act as a reticent child about any shortage of our luxuries? Is it possible that we, any of us, can flout the annual Thanksgiving anniversary?

God forbid that such a spirit should possess our hearts, and shut out the glad sunshine that flows into a thankful soul. Very true it is that many of us are not as well financially as we have been, and as has been the rule in America for many, many years. It is certain that few of us are able to enjoy the luxuries that we have wallowed in since the world war, but it is equally certain that very few of us are in actual distress. Very few in this nation—not many more than in normal years—are in actual poverty and hunger. Only in America has there ever been such continued prosperity and indulgence as for the past ten or twelve years. Think these things over.

Under all conscience we owe a debt of Thanksgiving to the Giver of all Good. He has brought us to the most favorable conditions the human family has ever witnessed. He has preserved our nation and our institutions when other nations and institutions have crumbled and disappeared. He has given to the American people luxuries that kings never enjoyed two decades ago. He has perpetuated life and liberty and happiness, circumscribed about with friends, loved ones and the priceless heritage of Home. Freedom, like freedom never was, is ours.

Yes, we grant that this is a "different" Thanksgiving. But even so, no mortal man has the right to bring a frown to his countenance nor a cloud across his soul, as the result of his unthankful spirit. It is a "different" Thanksgiving, all right, and under the law of averages is just the sort of Thanksgiving that we have the right to expect occasionally. But it is our Day set aside for Thanksgiving, nevertheless, therefore it is up to each and every one of us to make his own decision and to render the measure of thanks which is in his heart of hearts he deems is just and due.

Let's make it a "different" Thanksgiving then. Let's give the Day a little more serious consideration.

eration. Let's recite in our minds those hundreds of blessings for which we owe our humble thanks. Let's render to the Almighty God, that which we can render—our homage, our thanks and our service.

Let's make it a "different" Thanksgiving—different in that we are more serious in its proper observation.

NEARLY ALL RADIOS CAN BRING IN THREE PROGRAMS AT ONCE

An O'Brien, Ill., man bought a radio. It was no different from any other radio much. But he had difficulty in separating the stations. Sunday he tried to tune in and got three stations coming on the same wave length. One was a minister up in Iowa, preaching a sermon, the second was a St. Louis station telling of road conditions and the third was a Chicago station broadcasting a talk to farmers on raising chickens. Here is what he heard:

"The Old Testament tells us that baby chicks should detour one mile south to Saline and listen to the words of the prophet Syssus. Use great care in the selection of your eggs and you will find a hard road all the way to Tulsa. We find in Genesis that the roads are muddy just west of the henhouse and you should use clean straw in the nests if you expect to save your soul. After you pass through Leavenworth turn north to Jericho. There were three wise men who bought an incubator on account of the bad detour. The baby chicks were troubled with the pip and a bond issue is being talked of these roads. Keep the feet clean and dry, live a life of righteousness and turn south at the school house.

"Much care should be used in commanding the sun to stand still as there is a washout on the road just south of Paola, and the road to salvation is undergoing repair, making it necessary to keep the temperature in the brooder at least 70 degrees. After you leave Joplin unless you do these things the wrath of God will cause the pinfeather to fall out and detour one mile south of the cemetery. "Many are called but few have any luck unless the traveled road between Lawrence and Topeka is mixed with the feed. Out of 500 eggs one should get good roads to Hutchinson, and He commanded Noah to build an ark just one mile west of Wichita. It rained forty days and nights and caused an eight mile detour just west of the brood house. Many tourists from Jerusalem are trying Plymouth Rocks this year, mixed with concrete and water to the right proportions."

Every little uplift movement has a payroll all its own.

How cordially we dislike those people who criticize us "for our own good!"

"KONJOLA TRULY WONDERFUL," SAYS THIS HAPPY MAN

Dallas Man Suffering With Kidney Ailment Finds First Relief In New Medicine

"For over a year and a half I suffered with rheumatism and kidney trouble," Mr. W. E. Rowley, 216 Bryan street, Dallas. "I had dull aching pains across my back and was forced to rise frequently at night. The pain caused me much misery and I limped in getting around. Pains in my back and sides did not permit a good night's rest. I felt tired and listless and my vitality became lower and lower. A friend, who knew my condition, told me about Konjola. Konjola did so much for me that I am at a loss to express my appreciation. The rheumatic pains in my leg have left me for the first time in a year. My kidneys are once again functioning properly. My sleep is no longer broken by pains in my side and back. I have only taken two bottles but I certainly shall continue treatment." It is recommended that Konjola be taken over a six to eight week period. Best results are usually obtained in such cases. Konjola is sold in Spearman, at Hastings Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Conference On Childrendren Is Third Called by Nation

Body Now Working at President Hoover's Behest Is Largest in History

Washington, D. C.—The White House Conference on Child Health and Protection which has been called by President Hoover to meet here November 19-22, is the third gathering of the kind to be summoned by presidents of the United States in the interest of children.

President Roosevelt assembled the first in 1909. Two hundred of the leading child welfare workers from all parts of the country then met in Washington, to offer recommendations regarding dependent children.

In 1919, at the request of President Wilson and with funds supplied from the President's war emergency fund, the Children's Bureau called a second meeting. This conference studied child labor, the health of mothers and children, and handicapped children in addition to the problems arising from child dependency. A gift from private sources of a half million dollars has made possible the present conference.

The preliminary survey, which is regarded as the most comprehensive ever instituted and upon which 1,100 experts have been working as volunteers for the last year, is divided into four sections. Medical Service is headed by Dr. Samuel McC. Hamill, nationally known pediatrician. Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, Surgeon General of the United States, is chairman of the Public Health Service and of the Administration section. The Education and Training section is working under the chairmanship of F. J. Kelly, Ph.D., former president of the University of Idaho, now of the University of Chicago.

Handicapped children are being surveyed by a section under the chairmanship of C. C. Carstens, Ph.D., executive director of the Child Welfare League of America. President Hoover is president of the Conference and will make the opening address. Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur is chairman and Dr. H. E. Barnard is director.

A CASE OF DYPHTHERIA

A little girl just starting to school had attended her classes only a few days when she became feverish and hoarse.

Her parents thought, quite naturally, that it was only a cold in the throat—simple croup. They got some medicine from three doctors, but the little one did not improve. Two days later she was breathing so hard that, frightened they called the doctor to the home. The doctor saw at once that it was the most dreaded form of diphtheria—laryngeal. He gave a big dose of antitoxin, but the disease had three days' start. The membrane was forming rapidly. The breathing became more difficult. The disease had too much headway to be quickly conquered by the serum. The little face became blue; she could breathe only with the greatest effort. There was every appearance that death was near.

The wise doctor had to cut into her wind pipe through her throat and insert a tube. The air came and went through the tube and, finally, the frequently given doses of antitoxin won out and the little girl lived.

When the little girl was in kindergarten it was requested that she might be given toxin-antitoxin, but no consent was ever received. Had the parents heeded the advice of the school nurse their little girl would not have been sick with diphtheria. She would have been saved many days pain and distress. She would not have had a scar on her pretty throat all her life. And the parents? Of course they suffered, suffered mental torture till they were suffering regret. And they are right now because they did not take the suggestion given to have the toxin-antitoxin given. Would you like to be sure that diphtheria does come it will not attack your child? Your doctor or the county health officer can prevent diphtheria from entering your home.—Dr. Emory, Seward County Health Officer.

Prevention of Accidents

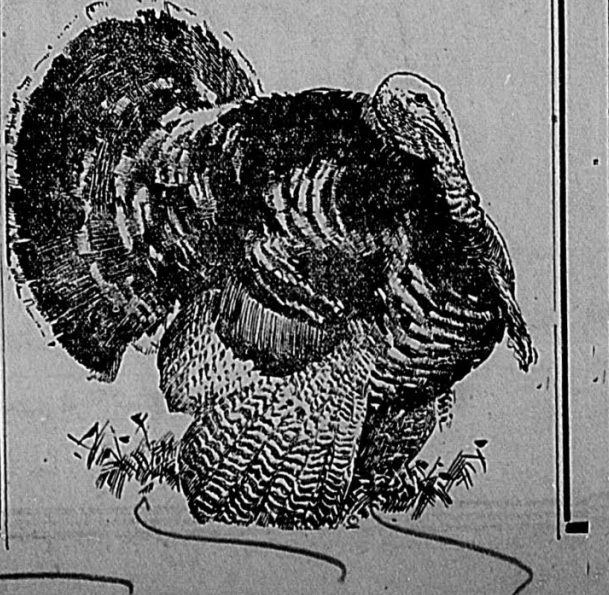

This vitally important item is everybody's problem. There are certain obligations going with your job. One of these is your obligation to your fellow worker. Perhaps you are not your brother's keeper away from working hours, but you are sure charged many many times with well being while working with him.

Accidents can be prevented and will be when we carry within ourselves the thought that we will keep our minds on the matter doing our work safely. Too many of us use the old shopworn phrase "Accidents will happen." Let us substitute something more modern in the phrase "Accidents are preventable."

This responsibility can not be passive one—it must be an active one—and if we only give ourselves half a chance along the lines we will accomplish something worthwhile. Do we give much personal thought to safe procedure prior to an accident? Do we do after it occurs? Think after an accident will not prevent accident from happening. This responsibility is ours to THREATEN at the proper time.—Safety Bulletin.

D. 1931, the same being the 2nd day of February A. D. 1931, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 30th day of June A. D. 1930 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 80, wherein H. C. Coffee is plaintiff and G. C. Bryan, N. H. Read and John P. Holman are defendants, and said petition alleging being a suit brought by H. C. Coffee, alleging that on or about the 16th day of July 1929, the defendant N. H. Read, as party of the first part entered into a contract in writing with G. C. Bryan, party of the second part, whereby the said Read for and in consideration of the sum of $19,200.00 to be paid to said Read by the said Bryan agreed to convey to the said Bryan the following described real estate situated in Moore County, Texas, to-wit: All of section No. 141, Block 3-T, T. & N. O. R. R. Co., containing 640 acres according to the records of Moore County, more or less, said contract together with the sum of $1000.00 of earnest money paid by the said Bryan, being put in escrow in the Fidelity Bank of Commerce of Spearman, Texas, until the deal as provided by said contract was closed, the said Bank to deliver to said Bryan a warranty deed to the above described property executed by Read upon Bryan's paying the sum of $4800 and five certain Vendor's Lien notes, and deed of trust as provided in said contract, that Bryan fully performed all of the terms and conditions of that certain contract as to him, and was entitled to receive the said warranty deed from the said Read, but that Read was in default and failed to perform the terms of the contract as to him, and failed to deposit the stipulated warranty deed to the above described lands, and an abstract of title hereto in said escrow bank, in compliance with the obligations of said contract, that the said Bryan having in all things fully performed the terms and conditions of said contract as to him, and being entitled to said warranty deed, from the said Read covering the above described land, did about the 13th day of March 1930 assign all of the right, title and interest of him the said Bryan, by contract in writing to the plaintiff H. C. Coffee, for a valuable consideration, whereby the plaintiff Coffee is entitled to the said warranty deed from the defendant Read, that with full knowledge of the Plaintiff's right to receive from said Read the said warranty deed, the said Read did fraudulently conspire with the defendant

Holman, if the defendant Holman is not a fictitious person, for the purpose of avoiding specific performance of the said warranty deed to plaintiff, and did fraudulently convey for such purposes the said property to the said Holman, and praying for specific performance from Read under the terms and conditions of the Bryan-Read Contract, by conveyance from Read covering said section 141, Block 3-T, in Moore County, Texas, and that the defendant, Bryan be decreed to have no right, title or interest therein, and that the purported deed from Read to Holman be cancelled and held for naught, and that title of plaintiff as to said land be quieted in him as to all of the defendants and in the event that specific performance could not be decreed that plaintiff recover his damages from said Read in the sum of $50,000.00, for costs of suit and general relief. Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. the boy from Saxon. Back home there is much they have in common; a mother, perhaps a sweetheart, friends, work, play and the right to live. Yet here they are face to face with fixed bayonets, boys between whom there could be no natural quarrel or enmity, and yet one will presently kill the other in "defense of the fatherland" or to "make the world safe for democracy" as the case may be. Monstrous scheme at best! The last war was said to be a war to end war and the claim may not prove empty when one considers the progressive movements of the last decade such as the world court, the Kellogg pact and repeated attempts at naval limitation. But Wars having reigned long and supreme will be hard and his destruction remains a big job. In Germany a large society hinges its activities around the slogan, "nie wieder krieg" which translated literally is "never again war." lungs will result in the hemoglobin being locked up in combination with monoxide and in preventing its usual work of carrying oxygen to the tissues. Illness, permanent injury and death result, dependent upon the amount inhaled and the quickness with which treatment is applied. Where the motor is started in the open, or there is sufficient ventilation of the garage itself, there is little or no danger. The carbon monoxide either is dispersed through the atmosphere or is reduced to some extent with the oxygen in the air to form the harmless gas, carbon dioxide. In any event the concentration of the poison is reduced below the minimum required for toxic effects. CARBON MONOXIDE DANGER

The steady increase in the number of deaths due to carbon monoxide poisoning is pointed out in the warning of the United States Public Health Service, directed to motorists annually at this time. The number of deaths has increased from 109 in 1924 to 352 in 1929 and one of the contributing factors has been the practice of starting automobile motors in closed or partly closed garages, despite the many warnings that have been issued.

Carbon monoxide, the statement says, is a product of incomplete combustion, with the result that the average automobile motor exhaust contains from 4 to 12 per cent of it. It is insidious in nature, the gas being odorless, colorless and tasteless, which probably accounts for its heavy affinity for hemoglobin (the coloring matter of the blood, which absorbs oxygen. Only a small amount of it present in the air breathed into

GOOD ENOUGH TO BUY IN

It is a good general proposition that a town that is good enough for people to live in, is good enough for them to spend their money in. If a town has enough advantages and business enterprise so that it makes people contented and gives them a living, there must be local business so that it is good judgment for people to buy their supplies of the community that supports them.

There seems something wrong in the policy to make one's living out of a community and then declining to make a return to that community, by patronizing its home business places. The people who scamper off somewhere else to spend their money and then return to tell the loyal stay-at-homes might at least refrain from giving the free publicity that they do, though unconsciously, when they talk of "the greener pasture just over the other hill."—Ashland Clipper.

A FARMER'S VIEW ON WAR AND PEACE

(A worthwhile editorial selected by the National Editorial Association)

It is carnival night in the home town, and chief of attractions is the big parade of 20 Legion posts. All honor to the legionnaires! Smartly tailored uniforms in bright and varied colors, shining helmets, music, rhythm, action—all these fascinate young and old and the small boy on the sidewalk links up the idea with war and decides he will be in on the next one.

Twenty miles south of the home town is a huge government hospital where are quartered veterans to whom the gods of war have been less kind; veterans, some of whom may never again walk, others who may never again see, and still others who may never again think with clear minds. This is the other side of the picture, sight of which unfortunately escapes the small boy on the sidewalk.

This war business is getting a lot of attention nowadays, and rightly so. Since the dawn of history war has been regarded as inevitable, but the last conflict was so much more of a war than anything in the past that men and nations have been jolted out of their complacency and are now looking for a better way to compose international differences in the future.

Judged by any standard, war is a failure. When a dispute arises between two countries, it is futile to take up arms if right be the objective sought. War will establish the fact that one nation has a bigger and better army or more food or money, but the one sure thing will not be established right. There are several aspects of war which have our downright disapproval. One of these is the system whereby one set of men create the war and another lot is sent out to fight the war. International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

FOR NOVEMBER 30

Introduction

Topic:—Zacchaeus the Publican, A Business Man Considered.

Scripture Lesson:—Luke 18:1-10.

And he entered and was staying through Jericho.

And behold, a man called Zacchaeus, and he was a publican, and he was rich.

And he sought to see Jesus he was; and could not for crowd, because he was little of stature.

And he ran on before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him for he was to pass that way.

And when Jesus came to the place he looked up, and said unto Zacchaeus, make haste, and come down; for today I must abide with thee.

And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

And when they saw it, they murmured, saying, He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner.

And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have wrongfully exacted of any man, I return it fourfold.

And Jesus said unto him, Today salvation is come to this house; forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham.

For the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

Text:—The Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.—Luke 19:10.

—March, A. D. 30, a little more than a week before Christ's crucifixion.

—Jericho.

Jesus, as in our last lesson, was on his way to Bethany, and to Jerusalem where he was to be crucified. He had come from Peraea, the land east of the Jordan, where he had gone to preach and heal, that he might be out of reach of his enemies in Judaea, who were plotting to kill him. But now his time had come. On this last sad journey he had reached Jericho, an important city in the Jordan valley, about six miles from that river and fifteen miles from Jerusalem. This was the city so wonderfully captured by Joshua. Elisha sweetened the waters of the great spring, which still bursts forth at Jericho, and in those days there was a school of the prophets at the city. Near Jericho Zedekiah, the last king of Judah was captured by the Chaldeans. In Christ's time Jericho was a large city, though now it is only a wretched collection of mud huts. Situated more than thousand feet below the level of the Mediterranean, it had a tropical climate, was known as the city of the palm-trees, and was famous for its balsam and henna and "the rose of Jericho."

Zacchaeus—A Lost Man

The story of Zacchaeus is a parable of salvation. "The tenth verse seems the summing up of the whole transaction. It contains its moral. Sometimes the Lord left the meaning of his works and parables to be guessed; but here the meaning is so blessed, and embodied in such a degree the very essence of his whole appearance and work, that he seems fearful we might not draw out of it its real contents; and so he himself adds the principle which is illustrated, saying: 'The Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.' Now, every sinner Jesus saved afforded an illustration of this principle; there must therefore be some reason why the Lord so emphatically affirms that the principle is illustrated here. We have here, surely, a more vivid and more wonderful instance of the salvation of a lost man, by the Son of man, than we have anywhere else. And it is a great sight to see, more wonderful far than that bush burning and not consumed. Let us turn aside a little to behold it: it may be that, while we are looking, that Seeker and Saviour may find some of us. And that it may be so, let each of us, while looking, think of himself, and cry: I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek thy servant. Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee."—Prof. A. B. Davidson.

A Seeking Sinner. v. 3

"And he sought to see Jesus who he was." Zacchaeus the publican was not so hardened in his sinful life that he did not shrink from the bitter contempt of all his fellow Jews, and long to see the celebrated rabbi who preached and practised love to all men, even the most degraded. "It had doubtless been a disadvantage to Zacchaeus to be small, and on this occasion he may have been inclined to reproach himself upon his size. But his weakness became an element of strength; his misfortune was converted into an advantage of great value. Necessity is often our best friend. We do things because we have to do them and, in the doing of them from necessity, we often secure that which we would not have had but for the seemingly unfavorable conditions that coerced us."—William Jennings Bryan.

The Seeking Saviour. vs. 5-7

The sinner was seeking the Saviour, all unconsciously, and at the same time the Saviour was seeking the sinner. It is always that way. No one ever tried to find Christ but Christ came more than half way to meet him. "Zacchaeus, make haste and come down." v. 5. Those gracious words may well have been the first kindly greeting which the publican had received for many years; we may have no doubt that Zacchaeus made haste to obey.

"For today I must abide at thy house." This was certainly an unbelievable honor. That the great rabbi should condescend to speak to him was marvel enough, but that he should actually seek the hospitality of a despised tax-gatherer—that must have amazed Zacchaeus and the crowd beyond measure.

"And he made haste and came down, and received him joyfully." He could not believe his own eyes and ears. This great prophet, whose face he had been so breathless to see, should actually stop and call his name, and invite himself to his house, and that he should actually be walking with him back to his house! Zacchaeus was well-nigh beside himself with amazement and delight.

Zacchaeus, A Changed Man. v. 8

"And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord." We should be glad to know what went before, by just what process Christ led Zacchaeus up to his splendid statement; but, though it would be instructive to know, if we have Christ's spirit in our hearts we shall be told what to say as we try to lead souls to him. In any case, different souls must be won in different ways. "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor." Zacchaeus did not speak to the company at the table and crowding curiously at the door, but he made his enormous sacrifice to Jesus himself, as if it was a gift he was making to his new-found friend. "I give" does not announce a habit, but a purpose and promise: "I will give." "And if I have wrongfully exacted ought of any man, I return it fourfold." Zacchaeus does not admit his iniquity in so many words, but it was hardly necessary, his business being what it was, together with his reputation as a sinner and the hatred in which he was held. "I restore fourfold." That is, he would restore four fold, "for more than was required by the Mosaic law, which only demanded the restitution of a fifth part beyond the principal (Num. 5:7)."

"Today Is Salvation Come." v. 9

"And Jesus said unto him, Today is salvation come to this house." "Can you not see Jesus, with a beautiful, tender look on his face, rise from the table and lovingly put one hand on Zacchaeus's shoulder and take his right hand in his, while all those present are trying to swallow big lumps in their throat?" "The change in the man is radical, absolute. He is thrown off his center. An hour ago his work centered in graft, now it is centered in giving; his heart centered in hate, now it is centered in charity; his life centered in self, now it is centered in others. This is what salvation meant to Zacchaeus." Note that Zacchaeus did not say that he would give up his business, but implied that he would redeem it. Tax-collecting is necessary, only let it be made honorable. Notice also that Christ saw that the salvation of Zacchaeus would involve his entire household; he knew that Zacchaeus would not let it abide with himself.

Genuine Repentance

"We find in the action of Zacchaeus a full-page, life-size picture of old-fashioned, thorough-going repentance. Where repentance is genuine, it costs. Tears are cheap—there are those who shed bucketsful of them and they have no more worn or significance than so much rain water. Remorse is cheap—it may be merely the pain of being found out, not involving any serious change of purpose. Repentance, where it is real, is more precious than diamonds and rubies. It foretells the upward movement of a soul which will outlast and outshine them all. Repentance means an about face, the putting away of dishonest purpose, the actual movement of the life toward the light where there is no darkness at all."

"The Son of Man." v. 10.

"For the Son of man." The title which was evidently Christ's favorite name for himself, asserting his complete union with man, that loving connection between deity and humanity which the Saviour came to establish. It was a well-known Old Testament title of the prophesied Messiah. "Come to seek and to save that which was lost." In this great sentence, one of the greatest ever spoken or written, we have the essence of Christ's mission, the summing up of Christianity. It means four things: (1) that mankind lost without Christ; (2) that Christ came from heaven to earth; (3) that he is constantly seeking men, ready to respond to any seeking soul; (4) and that when a human soul meets the divine soul in Christ, the human soul is saved. All theology is wrapped up in those fourteen words. They form the perfect conclusion of this beautiful story of Zacchaeus.

"Lost" is the best word in the history of languages. It means separation from God. It means no peace. It means no happiness, no joy. It means all that there is in the punishment of sin."

Now is the time to change to Germ-Processed oil . . . It's DE-WAXED. That means easy starting . . . and its Penetrative Lubricity means safer Lubrication during the trying months ahead

Is your car hard to start these cold mornings? Let that be a reminder that these are danger months for your motor!

It takes more turning-over to start, and more running to warm-up your motor during the cold months. So now, more than ever, you need the extra protection of this oil with two big cold-weather advantages!

Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil is de-waxed to prevent congealing at low temperatures. That's the first reason. Second, its penetrative lubricity insures instant lubrication at the first touch of the starter. By decreasing friction, Germ-Processed oil adds to the ease of starting.

You may be able to buy some other oils which are de-waxed, but there is only one oil with penetrative lubricity, only one that penetrates metal-surfaces and never drains away from working parts.

It's Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil. Ask for it whenever you see the Conoco Red Triangle.

Twentieth Century Club In Meeting at Broadview

The Spearman Twentieth Century Club met with Mrs. R. V. Converse out at Broadview farm on Tuesday of this week. Mrs. P. A. Lyon, as leader, read a wonderfully interesting paper on "American Growth Westward." Mrs. Paul Roach gave sketches of the pioneer explorer and home-maker, the first log cabin and the modern town. The general discussion centered around historic spots near home and why they should be marked and improved. The Doby Walls and the Palo Duro were the most interesting spots to those present.

We were glad to have as visitors at the meeting Mrs. Perry, her daughter, Mrs. Thornton and granddaughter, Miss Percy, all of Perryton.

Parent-Teachers Association

Parents visiting day was well observed in the Spearman schools last Friday and we are sure proud of the fact that we have so many fathers and mothers who are showing an interest in the schools this year. We had several visitors who are not parents but are interested patrons, and we were so proud of their visit. The home Ec. girls deserve much credit for being on duty all day, serving the visitors. They every one are true blue.

We are more than proud of our finance committee. Mrs. Homer Allen, Mrs. Frank Lyon and Mrs. R. L. Snider.

The "Dixie Minstrels" went off with a boom, a real success in every way, and the banquet Thursday was also a real success. My, but we are proud.

We wish to thank everyone who helped in making our undertaking a success. We wish especially to thank the business men of Spearman. Everyone has co-operated wonderfully this year.

Our next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, December 2, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. This will be a "Father's Night and we want every mother to bring every father.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hays Entertain Friends

One of the most pleasant social events of the Thanksgiving season was a bridge dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hays on Monday evening of this week. The house decorations carried out the Thanksgiving spirit by grinning pumpkins peering around corners and from shocks of fodder; lights were dimmed to cast a soft glow about the room, and the turkeys strutting on tallies and score cards. As the guests arrived they drew tallies to determine their seating at the tables. Eight tables were required to seat the guests. At eight o'clock a three course dinner was served, preceding the first course, which was a fruit cocktail, Mrs. Delon Kirk gave a Thanksgiving toast to the host and the hostess. The second course was baked turkey and dressing, pea salad in pastry shells, creamed potatoes, fruit salad, rolls, pickles and olives; the third course, was pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee. Following the dinner eight games of bridge were played, with honor going to Mrs. R. H. Prewitt and W. L. Russell and consolation going to Warren G. McNabb. Guests for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Westfield and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bort, of Gruver; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Prewitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Max Lackey, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Clogston, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Delon Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dumas, Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. McNabb, Mr. and Mrs. Allen King, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Pack, Miss Gladia Twiliver, Robert L. Thom, Clayton Peffer and the host and hostess.

Le Jeudi Club Entertained by Mrs. Holland and Mrs. Thompson

Mrs. D. W. Holland and Mrs. Jim Thompson were the genial hostesses for Le Jeudi Club last Thursday afternoon, November 20, at the home of Mrs. Holland.

Miniature turkeys formed the tallies, reflecting the Thanksgiving season. At the close of the games of bridge a plate luncheon was served by the hostesses to members and Mrs. O. G. Collins, guest.

Club members who played were: Mesdames, R. W. Huffstutter, J. D. Hester, S. B. Hale, R. W. Morton, Delon Kirk, M. D. Jackson, Johnnie Lackey, Vester Hill, E. C. Womble, John J. Hays, H. L. Dumas, Wm. Mrs. Wm. J. Whitson Entertained With Bridge Luncheon Tuesday

Mrs. Wm. J. Whitson was the charming hostess at a delightful bridge luncheon given at her home one mile southwest of town on Tuesday of this week. The tables were cleverly decorated with tiny shocks of feed, pumpkins and Thanksgiving luncheon sets. As the guests arrived at one o'clock a three course luncheon was served which carried out the color scheme of green and yellow with little turkey stickers accompanying the main course. After the luncheon several games of bridge were enjoyed. Mrs. J. D. Hester was awarded the prize for high score and Mrs. Harry Dumas consolation. Those to enjoy this pleasant affair were: Mesdames, J. D. Hester, R. W. Huffstutter, John L. Hays, John D. Duncan, Vester Hill, J. F. Sunday School Lesson

Special Lesson

Jesus wanted the world to know inclusive his gospel was. He spread out his arms very wide. He says, here in the Zealot incident, "See, even hated, despised publican take in." The Jews were offered but we give glory to God for wideness of his mercy in this. This has always been one of Christianity's strong points, blessed characteristics that does not exclude the excluded. When we find him receiving his fellowship a man like chaeus, we dare say—any of us—to ourselves, "Surely, he take me!"

Methodist Church

The conference has assigned us to this church for another year. We come back with confidence that another great year lies ahead of us. This year was marked with much progress on all lines. We can hope for nothing less this year. The best report this church ever made was the past year. Let's not be satisfied with past achievements, but put our goal much higher and we are sure to attain it. The one thing we want to never lose sight of and let our ardor wane, is for better physical facilities for housing our Sunday school and all departments of the church. In other words a new church building must be had as soon as it is possible to build. The whole church is aware of the great need and all are anxious to build. The past year our Sunday school doubled in enrollment. It would do the same thing this year if we had the room we so much need. We believe in you, our members and friends of this church and are depending on you to help us put over the year's program.

Sunday school convenes at 10 o'clock every Sunday morning. Preaching at the eleven o'clock hour. Last Sunday we had a big congregation. We are expecting the same this Sunday. The league meets at 6:15 in the evening. The league is growing in interest and numbers. If you are not a member of any of the young people's organizations we invite you to come to the league. It is very much alive. All strangers and visitors are invited to worship with us Sunday.

H. A. NICHOLS, Pastor.
