Elections Set For February 20

Plans for a special election to fill two vacant Student council posts were introduced at the council's regular meeting last night in Aggie auditorium.

Feb. 20 was the date set for the election of successors to Rhea Myers McKee, former arts and sciences representative, and Harold Brockett, former business administration representative. Both were mid-term graduates.

Candidates, who must have a one-point grade average, may be nominated through petitions signed with 100 names. Petitions may be obtained in the Student council office at 2 p.m. Wednesday and will be due back in the office at 5 p.m. Friday. Run-off voting will be held Feb. 27.

Tech's refusal to allow a negro basketball player from Arizona university to play in the Tech gym was discussed by the council, which decided to consult with President Wiggins before making an official stand on the matter.

APO Petition Approved

Alpha Phi Omega's petition to sponsor an "Ugly Man" contest was approved. Campus clubs or groups may nominate entries for the week-long contest which will

Dick Brooks Yells For Help Again!

Dick Brooks, editor of La Ventana, student yearbook, urges all seniors wishing to add to their list of activities that will appear in the annual, to come to the office in J205 and fill out a card by the end of the week.

All organizations are asked to have representatives come by this week to check their club pages.

Student help in layout work also is desired. The office will be open afternoon and night every day, including week-ends, so that the sections may be finished. No experience is needed.

Entering freshmen are advised that their pictures cannot be placed in this year's La Ventana because that section has already been closed, Brooks pointed out.

A La Ventana may still be reserved for $5.00 by coming to the office within the next 10 days.

Tech Graduates To Get Interviews

Two companies and the Board of U. S. Civil Service examiners have notified the Placement Service that representatives will be on the campus late this week to interview prospective employees, according to Mrs. Jean Jenkins.

A representative from Boeing Airplane company will be here Thursday and Friday to interview 1952 graduates with majors in architecture, civil, electrical industrial and mechanical engineering.

May and August graduates majoring in civil, chemical, mathematics and physics will be interviewed Thursday and Friday by representatives of civil service board.

end March 15. Proceeds from the penny votes will be turned over to CARE.

Meetings were announced by the Varsity show and publications committee Wednesday. Students interested in the directorship of the Varsity show are requested to attend the committee's meeting. The publications committee will further consider the problem of La Ventana.

Traffic Court Sessions

The Traffic court will hold sessions at 6.30 and 7 p.m. Wednesday Ad 267. The court has summoned four second offenders and 16 students who failed to answer earlier summons to appear. Repeated disregard of orders to appear will probably force the court to "make an example" of some cases in order to gain respect and prestige, according to Bob Schmidt, student body president.

The committee appointed to investigate putting better telephone facilities in dormitories will meet at 2 p.m. Thursday with representatives of the telephone company. The committee will further investigate reports that telephone sets have been stolen from some of the dorms.

Committee Appointed

The council appointed a committee to arrange lodging for delegates who attend the convention of Texas Intercollegiate Student association, district 1, which will be held at Tech Feb. 22 and 23. Plans for the convention's banquet and panel discussions were also introduced.

Reported damage to classroom floors from cigarettes prompted the council to agree to publicize the problem, along with the possibilities of no-smoking rules, to the student body.

Wanna Boss Show? Drop by Ad 161

Persons interested in directing the 1952 Varsity show are urged to attend a meeting of the Varsity show committee at 5 p.m. Wednesday in the Student council office, Ad. 161.

Five scripts for the show have been submitted, but no choice has been made. The director will help the committee in selecting a script.

Names Adopted for Campus Buildings; Official New School Song Is Accepted

Tech's board of directors considered a proposal to expand the seating capacity of Jones stadium to 30,000 in regular meeting Saturday, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, college president, said.

The group also adopted official names for campus buildings, an official school song, a greenbug research program and acted on routine matters, he added.

Suggested plans for enlarging of the stadium would call for the construction of seats on each end of the present concrete stands and the moving of stands from the old stadium site to the south end of the present field. The discussion, however, is still in a formative stage, Wiggins stated.

Enrollment Drops For Spring Term

Registration for the spring semester shows a slight decrease from the fall enrollment, according to figures released yesterday by the Registrar's office.

Official tabulations total 4,125 students enrolled in the six divisions of the college. Total for the previous term was 4,865; the spring semester of 1951 showed 4,579 students enrolled.

The division of Arts and Science leads in enrollment with 1,161, as compared to 1,330 last semester. Other divisional figures are Agriculture, 647; Business Administration, 813; Engineering, 866; Home Economics, 270, and Graduate, 368.

Of the 28 classes now planned for the Evening Program, some may be dropped if enrollment is not sufficient, but probably none will be added, said Warren G. Harding, assistant registrar.

New Air ROTC Freshman

Twenty-six freshmen have become new cadets in the air force ROTC, according to M/Sgt. Lewis C. Jones, instructor in air science.

Arizona University Protests Negro Ban; No Official Statement Received at Tech

Announcement was made last week by the University of Arizona that it will refuse to send athletic teams to play Tech after existing contracts expire, if the existing rule barring negro players on the campus is not changed.

An Associated press story Wednesday quoted the university's graduate manager Charles Tribolet as saying, "This policy has been adopted by the University of Arizona athletic committee. Texas Tech has known of our intentions for some time."

President Makes Statement

In a formal statement to the local newspaper and The Treador, however, President D. M. Wiggins said that neither the Tech board of directors or administrative officials have received any official notice from the university regarding any change in contract policies. "Texas Technological college has not attempted in the past, nor does it attempt now, to set policies for the University of Arizona," he said.

"The board of directors of Texas Technological college," the president continued, "continues to be the sole policy-making body of the institution."

Board Discusses Policy

Possibility of changing the ruling was discussed in a meeting of the Tech board of directors here Saturday, but no action was taken.

Tech has followed a policy set up by various state supported schools in Texas, including the University of Texas and A&M. There is no state law governing the question, however.

In 1950 Texas Western, a branch of the University of Texas, was allowed to change its ruling banning negro players. The decision did not effect other branches of the university.

Tech athletic teams have played against negro players in several instances during the past few seasons, but never in home games. In the January Snowball game at El Paso Eddie Macon, College of Pacific halfback, played against the Raiders, and Arizona's Hadie Redd opposed Tech in a basketball game Jan. 26 at Tucson. Redd has since become scholastically ineligible.

Laboratories represented by the board have a cooperating plan for advanced study with professors on the staff at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Electrical, industrial and mechanical engineering majors will be interviewed by a Houston light and power company representative Friday.

Persons interested in any of the interviews should report to the placement office immediately to schedule appointments.

Student Supreme Court To Hold Special Session

Erin Nevitt, chief justice of Tech's student supreme court, announces a special session of court either late this week or early next week.

The purpose of the meeting will be to determine if the business manager of La Ventana can run for a position on the Student council without resigning his present position.

Museum Opens New Exhibit; Primitive Carvings Featured

A new exhibit, Primitive Arts of the Southwest, was opened Sunday at The Museum, according to Dr. W. C. Holden, director.

Featured in the exhibit are replicas of primitive rock carvings and many objects of modern wood carving done by natives of the Southwest. The exhibit is located in the Natural History gallery.

First Hobby Display Now Being Shown in Museum

A display of antique English and American glass is currently being featured at The Museum as the first in a series of hobby exhibits scheduled for the coming months.

The collection, which consists of 63 patterns of early American glass, was assembled by Mrs. J. C. Allensworth of Lubbock. Fourteen pieces of English glass are included.

Included in the assortment are goblets, wine glasses, sugar bowls, ale glasses, mugs, pitchers, egg cups, butter dishes and various other types of antique glassware.

The hobby shows at the Museum are arranged for the enjoyment of anyone interested in collecting as a hobby.

The exhibit, prepared by Miss Agnes C. Sims, authority on rock carvings, who is now associated with the Museum of New Mexico in Santa Fe, will be sent to the Brooklyn Museum after its showing here.

Rock carvings, or petroglyphs, being shown in the exhibit, are those found at the site of the San Cristobal Pueblo in the Gallisteco Basin eight miles south of Lamy, N. M. They are the finest petroglyphs of a large number which have been taken from the 28 ruins in that area.

Although rock carvings have been found in many parts of this country and round the world, those found in New Mexico are especially well-preserved because of arid climatic conditions.

Ancient Pueblo Studied

The San Cristobal Pueblo, the Indian dwelling from which the carvings were extracted, was inhabited by one tribe of people for more than 400 years. It is believed that the pueblo was occupied as early as 1250 A.D. The site was later abandoned because of raids by other Indians.

The petroglyphs were made by artists who pecked out the crude designs with a small stone, which they held in their hands. The complex pictures thus created are almost as bright now as when they were carved.

Pictures Tell Legends

Some of the pictures tell legends of the Hopi. Some are merely records of the plants grown by the people, the animals and birds they hunted and their clan signs. Other

Interviews Slated By Marine Corps

Announcement has been made by the marine corps of openings in its officer candidate program.

First Lt. James E. Harrell will be on the campus Thursday and Friday, to interview applicants for the platoon leaders' class in the Administration building.

The platoon leaders class is for freshmen, sophomores and juniors and the officers candidate course is open to seniors and graduates.

To enroll in the platoon leaders' class, a student must be at least 17 and less than 25 on July 1 of the year in which he expects to receive his degree. He must be a citizen of the U.S., in good physical condition, and in good standing with the college.

Enrollment in the class gives the student a 1-D draft status. Members of the class attend two summer training periods of six weeks each and receive commissions upon graduation from college.

To enroll in the officers' candidate course, a college graduate must have a degree in a field other than medicine, dentistry or theology. A senior desiring to enroll must be working toward such a degree.

For the officer candidate course, a student or graduate must be at least 20 and less than 27 on July 1 of the year he is commissioned. Basically, the other pictures, however, are complex symbols used by the Indians in their rituals.

Harris Named New Prexy Of Future Farmers Club

Billy Harris, senior from Breckenridge, was elected second semester president of the Tech chapter of FFA in a regular meeting Jan. 17. President Darwyn Metcalf presided.

Other officers elected for the second semester were Pete Carminati, vice-president; Gene Mc-Masters, secretary; Mitford Meadows, treasurer; Abie Willfams, parliamentarian; Bruce Cox, historian; Buddy Barnes, reporter; Ben High, sentinel; Lawrence Patton, second vice-president; Gilbert Srygley, third vice-president, and Jim Klem, Aggie club representative.

Persons qualified for membership in the organization are juniors and seniors in the agriculture division majoring in agriculture education, or anyone who has been awarded the Lone Star farmer of American farmer degree.

er requirements are the same as for the platoon leaders' class.

'Miss Phi U' Introduction To Highlight HE Club Meet

Home Economics club members will "Meet Miss Phi U" at the regular club meeting at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday in HE105.

The skit will explain the organization of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national professional organization for home economics, Wanda Rhine, chairman of the program committee for the meeting, said.

Jane Foster, president of Tech's Omega chapter of Phi U; Marie Lewis, president of Home Economics club, and Marvel Gibber and Juanita Davis, other members of Phi U, will enact the skit.

A short business session will be held after the program and beginning plans for the Aggie-HE party will be made, Miss Rhine added.

Women's Social Clubs Announce New Pledges And Initiation Dates

The largest spring pledge list in several years for Tech's women's social clubs has been announced by Mrs. Marjorie Neely, dean of women.

Pledge initiations will begin Wednesday night with Sans Souci and Las Vivarachas clubs. Sans Souci will initiate new pledges at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Tom Toombs, 3111-25th. Las Vivarachas will hold their club rites in the home of Gwen Wiley, 2814-36th. Ko Shari initiation will be held Sunday at 6 p.m. at an unannounced place. DFD and Las Chapparritas plans were not available at press time.

New pledges of Sans Souci include Mary Batchler, Bonnie Fields, Lou Dean Perkins, Jerry Reeves, Shirley Smith, Betta Thomas and Becky Willis.

DFD pledges are Nova Barnes, Betty Jane Bennett, Mary Jane Coen, Helen Collins, Toni Hale, Carla Herrington, Annie Hayes, Shirley Keim, Joyce Powell, Perencia Lou Sharp, Minnie Lee Thompson and Henri Vaughn.

Pledging Las Chapparritas will be Jo Benesch, Glenda Bevers, Barbara Brewer, Shirley Burden, Gladys Edwards, Joan Garrison, Jean Gesin, Betty Hudson, Lynna Jenkins, Donnie Lawson, Mattie Mae Rudy, Dorothy Salters, Adelin Stokes and Lucille White.

Ko Shari pledges include Pat Abernethy, Ann Anderson, Rosemary Bloodworth, Ann Bryan, Shirley Cartwright, Nancy Hall, Shirley Massey, Nancy Naugle and Alta Verheul.

New Las Vivarachas pledges are Dolores Sommevells, Jennie Scott and Jennie Lynn Rucker.

Will Negroes Play? . . .

Tech's policy of not permitting negro students of other colleges to participate in athletic contests staged in Lubbock is one which has been traditional among state supported schools in Texas.

However, there is no state law requiring that such a policy be maintained. The board of directors or other governing body of state schools is empowered to make any decisions concerning the stand taken by the school.

An informal agreement among state supported schools in Texas supporting the policy has been followed in the past, though Texas Western, a state supported college, was permitted to change its policy. The school reportedly made the change under pressure of the University of Arizona.

Arizona is now apparently trying to force Texas Tech to make the same move. Though Tech has received no official word from the university regarding the matter, Arizona has announced through various area newspapers that it will not play basketball here unless the ruling is changed.

Tech's board of directors discussed the possibility of changing the policy in a regular meeting Saturday, but no action was taken.

Though Arizona university acted unwisely in publicizing its intentions before conferring with Tech, we believe that it will be for the best interests of the college to change the ruling.

Tech will certainly be handicapped in the future as it enlarges the scope of its athletic program, possibly to include contracts with large eastern schools having negro players, should the policy not be changed.

Under the Breezeway

By SHIRLEY JOHNSON
Toreador Associate Editor

Tech has been condemned by objective action of several Texas newspapers in regard to the college's stand on colored persons playing on campus basketball courts.

Arizona has made a definite declaration to newspapers; they will not play at Tech unless the negro team-members are allowed to compete. Tech has never been officially notified of this action.

We believe Arizona did wrong in publicizing their actions before they notified Tech of their decision.

The only definite action of which Tech knew was in regard to football. Under a one-year contract Tech would play on the Arizona home field next fall to sidestep the question. No decision has been reached in basketball—the situation had merely been discussed. There had been no action as far as the head of Tech's athletic council, Dr. J. William Davis, knew.

Rumors say that Tech has an agreement with the University of Texas and A&M under which negroes would not play on the three home campuses. If there is such a formal agreement, few people at Tech know about it. Perhaps it is merely a gentleman's agreement—yet, Tech is the only school in the Border conference with such an agreement.

The basketball rules of the Border conference provide for a round-robin tournament—that is, each team must play every other team on the home court of both schools. If Tech retains this policy, a stalemate would probably result, since Arizona declares no contracts will be renewed if the clause preventing negroes from playing at Tech is not dropped.

Under such a stalemate, the game would probably be forfeited. Unless a new conference rule is passed, however, Tech cannot be forced out of the conference, since they are breaking no present rule.

Except for Tech's statement that the policy formulated by the board of directors has not been changed, there has been no word from either side.

Texas Tech Talk

Questions Answered At Council Luncheon

By John Norcross
Toreador Editor

Several questions which we believe will be of interest to the student body were discussed in a recent Student council luncheon which we attended.

Present at the luncheon was Stewart Phillips, January engineering graduate, who asked questions which were answered by President Wiggins.

Relating to the matter of the "Science Bldg." label on the new Science building, Dr. Wiggins reported that the stone is to be replaced at the cost of the contractor with a stone engraved simply, "Science."

The president told the group that he had received a letter from the Southern Association of Colleges and Universities stating that the action taken by the association concerning Tech's meeting certain standards has been retracted. The association did not have the correct figures of Tech's fulltime, student enrollment therefore an erroneous expenditures of the college per student. This will make it unnecessary for a committee to visit Tech, he said.

Dr. Wiggins said that the metal guard had been placed around the railing at the front of the Science building to prevent anyone's falling from it. The guard is to be filed smooth so that it will not be dangerous.

At the suggestion of council members, Dr. Wiggins said he would have existing telephone systems in the dormitories checked to see if an inter-dorm channel could be opened to relieve the load on dorm switchboards and provide better telephone communications.

The president stated that he is always glad to see students personally to answer any questions they may have regarding the college. He pointed out that Tech is similar to a large corporation, in which the students are stockholders. Though it is physically

BACKTALK

Dear Editor:

Since when has Tech become so high and mighty that they don't think they can play against the negro boy from Arizona university?

It has been announced that the board of directors has voted not to let him play on the Tech campus. I think that this was very poor judgment on their part, especially after the student council has been trying to help Negro schools in the TISA.

I think that the student body, or at least the Raiders, should be the ones to say whether a negro should be able to play ball on the Tech campus.

As things stand it surely puts Tech in a bad light.

Yours for a square deal,
Charles Maple

The policy of not allowing negro students to participate in athletics on the home campus is one that has been traditional in state supported schools in Texas. However, the board of directors of a school may change that policy should they see fit. The ruling has been changed in one state supported institution, Texas Western.

The Editor

Dear Editor: As I was walking past one of the dormitories recently, a dorm resident tossed a pop bottle out of a window and the bottle landed on the sidewalk a few feet in front of me.

Evidently the student didn't know or didn't care that that broken bottle caused a four cent debit to go down on the books of the Student Union building account.

The pop machines are provided as a service to those who wish to use them, but it is surely a dis-service to abuse that privilege. A case of soda pop normally costs 80 cents and, when sold at five cents a bottle, one can make a profit of one and two-thirds cents per bottle.

I, for one, am looking forward very enthusiastically to the completion of the Student Union building because I think it will make a very worthwhile addition to campus and college life.

I have written to you because

I believe it should be the responsibility of The Toreador to make the students conscious of their responsibilities in regard to campus life. Then, if they are not willing to assume them, other measures should be taken to see that they do.

Sincerely yours, E. A. (Tony) De Shazo

Dear Fellow Students:

My secretary has reported to me about Stewart Phillips' open letter, the address of which is mine, and my lawyers and several others have assured me that I need have no fear of an un-American or un-Techsan investigating committee even if I reply honestly.

Never having been to a Student council meeting (in fact I've never even seen a Student council) since on its meeting nites I am always busily making profits for some obscure military shoe string manufacturer in New Jersey, I have been ignorant of the number of chairs at the meetings and therefore in the dark when the subject of student "apathy" raises its ugly head.

As for the specific controversy that we seem to need, I propose that all Tech students urge their state legislators, by carrier pigeon and through a special delegation, to introduce a bill to allow American Negro citizens to attend Tech. At the same time it would be nice if we could send a delegation to Washington, D.C. in protest against the huge number of military shoe strings and other unnecessary war materials that are being manufactured.

In closing I say with all my heart, "Vive Phillips! Phillips for president in 1976."

Realizing that this material may be somewhat scatterbrained and hoping that you are the same, I am Thomas W. Sanders

P.S. Any resemblance of the above to a letter is purely intentional.

THEY'RE both good basketball players. But if we were to judge them the way we judge telephone equipment, we'd take the small one.

You see, telephone equipment occupies valuable space, uses costly materials. Paring down its size helps keep down the cost of telephone service.

Take voice amplifiers, for example. Telephone engineers put the squeeze on size, came up with a new small type. When 600 of these new amplifiers are mounted on a frame two feet wide and eleven feet high, they do a job which once required a roomful of equipment. Size was cut—but not performance!

This is one of many cases where the Bell System has made big things small to help keep the cost of telephone service low.

Raiders' Largest Track Team Preps for Approaching Season

Tech's largest track team is now preparing for its busiest season and what Coach George Scott hopes to be the most successful in many years.

Under Scott's tutelage 44 men are now working out each afternoon in preparation for at least six meets, and possibly eight.

The Raiders first match will be the Southwestern Recreation meet in Fort Worth on March 14 and 15. Other meets include the West Texas Relays in Odessa, March 28 and 29; the Texas Relays in Austin, April 4 and 5; and the Border Conference meet in Tempe, Ariz. May 10. The Raiders will hold a dual match with North Texas in Denton on March 22 and a triangular match with McMurry and Abilene Christian in Abilene, April 10.

Tentatively scheduled are the Kansas Relays in Lawrence April 18 and 19, and the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Ia., April 25 and 26.

Five lettermen are on the Raider roster. They are Bobby Hawkins, Ben Wilson, Earl Hutcherson, Bill Killough and Sonny Stanford.

On the roster are many members of the Red Raider football squad.

Coach Scott emphasizes that the team is open to any man in the student body who is eligible. Time trials are held each Saturday, he said.

Workouts are held each afternoon from 3 to 6:30 p.m. Anyone interested should report to Scott at workouts.

New members of the squad are Kenneth Young, Ronnie Corde, James Odum, Spencer Norwood, Jim Farrell, Sandy Welton, J. Gaede, Jimmie Brock, R. B. Hodges, Bryan Close, Ken Elmore, R. Green, Tom Neff, Jerry Fairley.

Raiders Battle HSU Tonight On Cowboys Home Court

Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons—a combination good for hot competition in anything from tidily-winks to football—match their basketball teams in the Cowboys' Rose Field House in Abilene tonight (Tuesday).

Although now considered out of the Border conference title chase, both teams are capable of having a say-so in determining the final rankings.

Vast improvement by Bill Scott's quintet and a Rose Field House jinx cause Tech Coach Polk Robinson to discount the Red Raiders' early season victory over the Cowboys. Tech's second game was a 61-42 triumph over Hardin-Simmons in the finals of the Wayland college tournament at Tulsa Nov. 30.

Not since the 1947-48 season have the Raiders beaten Hardin-Simmons in Abilene. Hardin-Simmons dropped that year's contest 53-32, but since has triumphed at home 65-60, 49-44, and, last season, 51-49.

Tech Fencers Foil YMCA Teams

Tech's fencing team swept a pair of matches with the Dallas and Fort Worth YMCA's Saturday in Fort Worth.

The Raiders allowed the Fort Worth club only six wins in 27 matches. The Dallas club fared even poorer, winning five of 27 matches.

Roddy Hobson of Mineral Wells led the squad in the victory. Other members of the team competing at Fort Worth were Don Olson, Bryan Close and Johnny Sims. The next scheduled match is with Tartleton State college at Stephenville on March 8.

Tech Golf Team To Meet 10 Foes

Golf Coach Wade Walker has announced a schedule of 10 matches for the Raider team. The first match is March 13 against Texas Wesleyan college of Fort Worth.

The following day the Raiders meet Southern Methodist university. They compete in the Southwestern Recreation golf tourney March 15.

They take a swing through Arizona March 28 and 29, meeting Tempe and Arizona university. An Oklahoma road trip takes the Raiders to Oklahoma City, Tulsa and Oklahoma universities on March 19, 20 and 21.

Tech plays Hardin-Simmons in Abilene April 17 and the Cowboys return the match on April 29. Lubbock matches are planned against West Texas State, Texas Western college and New Mexico.

Tech to Play IC Wolfpack

North Carolina State's football team will play Texas Tech, Dec. 19, in Jones Stadium, DeWitt Weaver, Tech coach and athletic director, has announced. Tech and North Carolina State's Wolfpack began athletic relations with a basketball game in Raleigh two months ago. Wake Forest was the first southern conference school to play Lubbock. Tech defeated the Wolfpack 12 to 7 in a homecoming game here in 1940. Tech's complete 1952 schedule of 10 or 11 games is expected to be announced soon. In addition to most or all of the order conference foes met last season, it includes games with two Southwest conference members and probably one or two inter-sectional contests. Rice Institute will be played in Houston Oct. 27 and Baylor University Lubbock Oct. 18.

Guests to Visit South Texas
Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech vice-president, will leave Lubbock Thursday for San Antonio and Austin. He will return Sunday.

New BSU Council Members Installed

Baptist Student Union executive council members for 1952 were installed in a service at Ford Memorial chapel Sunday at 5 p.m. Howard Bramlett, Baptist student secretary and Bible teacher at West Texas State, Canyon, gave the charge to the new council. The installation service was conducted by Mrs. Lattimore Ewing.

Council members taking office were Dale Booher, president; Richard Allen, enlistment vice-president; Ann Edwards, devotional vice-president; Novella Crump, social vice-president; Norman Key and Forrestine Crowley, co-Sunday school representatives; Patsy Hay and Kenneth Taylor, co-training union representatives.

Also Lera Dell Cherry, secretary; Tow Brown, publicity chairman; Willie Turner, editor of the Mortar Bored; Jan Doggett, editor of the BSU Duster; Gene Emory, music chairman; Bob Weathers, missions chairman; Shirley Waterstreet, Baptist student representative; James Dent, Christian citizenship representative; Powell Hinson, brotherhood president and Mary Lou Crump, YWA president.

College Holstein Achieves Unusual Dairy Distinction

Tech Premier Colantha, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Texas Tech, has achieved distinction in the dairy world by producing in excess of 1,000 pounds of butterfat in one year's time.

This animal produced 1,042 pounds of butterfat and 25,330 pounds of milk testing 4.1% in 365 days on three milkings daily at the age of six years and eight months.

This achievement represents more than five times the production of the average milking cow in this nation, which is outstanding even in the ranks of the high-producing Holstein breed. Kay L. Neeley, associate professor of animal husbandry said.

The cow is the third Holstein in Texas to produce 1,000 pounds of butterfat in one milking season.

This is enough to make 1,250 pounds of table butter and enough to supply 24 families with a pound a week each for an entire year.

At breakfast the man of the house was on the defensive. "Well," he said to his wife, "you can't say I made any noise coming home last night." "No," she agreed, "but the three men who were carrying you sure did."

Techsan (coming out of anesthesia): "Doctor, why are all the curtains pulled down?" Doctor: "Well, there's a big fire across the alley, and I didn't want you to think the operation was a failure."

Brown and Jones were returning rather late from the club in a car. Gradually the speedometer crept up—30, 40, 50 miles an hour—until Jones began to feel nervous. "You're driving rather fast, aren't you?" he asked Brown. Brown looked surprised. "Me? Driving fast? I thought you were driving," was the unexpected reply.

The end of a maiden's prayer is "Ah, men!"

Students Attend Saturday Invitational Speech Meet

An invitational speech meet, attended by representatives from 14 high schools in the South Plains area, was held on the Tech campus Saturday.

The students participated in events featuring debate, junior declamation, extemporaneous speaking and one-act plays. No winners were chosen at the meet, but advanced speech students and faculty members of the English, economics, government and speech departments supervised and offered criticisms, according to Dr. P. Merville Larson, speech department head.

Speech Contestants Leave For Rocky Mountain Meet

Four Tech contestants in the Rocky Mountain Speech conference will leave Wednesday for Denver. They will enter events in debate, discussion, oratory, after-dinner speaking, newscasting and oral interpretation.

Contestants are Gail Littleton, freshman speech major from Perleton; Mary Newman, freshman speech major from Shallowater; June Ann Morton, junior speech major from Ranger; Thelmaeane Hutchins, junior journalism major from Pecos, and Glen Rainer, freshman business administration major from Lubbock.

RAIDERS—

Forward Verdell Turner, who suffered a broken cheekbone against Arizona University Jan. 17, played the last 12 minutes of the Raiders' 55-45 win over Texas Western Monday night and about three quarters of their 47-41 loss to New Mexico A&M Tuesday night.

Paul Nolan missed most of the second half of the Western game when a contact lens got dislodged and Turner's outstanding rebounding pulled the win out of the fire. Turner's rebounding—and 11 points—against New Mexico A&M kept the Raiders ahead while he was in.
