TEXAS TECH

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 19, 1932

NUMBER 33

Mrs. Drane Is Named Acting Head Of Tech

All Administrative Power To Remain In Hands Of The Council Of Deans, However; Will Not Move To Lubbock

To Sign Diplomas

Mrs. Drane Has Been Member Of Tech Board Since Founding Of College; Is Active In Various Affairs In Texas

Although all administrative power of Texas Technological college will remain in the hands of the college deans, Mrs. F. N. Drane, member of the Board of Directors, has been appointed acting president, Clifford B. Jones, board chairman, has announced. Mrs. Drane will sign the 1932 diplomas. One of the most active women in Texas, Mrs. Drane has been a member of the Board of Directors since the founding of the college. Last year she was vice president of the Board. She will not move to Lubbock, Mr. Jones said, but will continue to live at Corsicana, her present home.

Is Honorary Title
Shortly after President Paul W. Horn's death on April 13, the Board gave all administrative power to the deans of the four schools, engineering, agriculture, home economics and liberal arts. Mrs. Drane's title is honorary and her appointment will in no wise affect the council of deans' power, it was said.

Mrs. Drane is the first woman in Texas to become head of an institution as large as Texas Technological college. Mr. Jones said last week that Board is still making its intentions in the attempt to find a president for Texas Tech, but he has no indication that a woman has already been or that any certain one seriously considered.

Engineering drawing students have finished work on drawing reproduction processes, numbering fifteen. Some types are: reprint, photostat, brown prints, blue line prints. Knowledge of this type of work is very helpful in determining cost of reproduction of the various processes.

"The Worm Turns" At Tech Saturday

Members Of The 1935 Class Are Masters Of The Campus And Town For Twenty-Four Hours

Tired and weary after spending part of the day dodging rotten eggs and hunting up-perclassmen, Tech freshmen turned back the ruling power of the campus to upperclassmen Saturday night at 12 o'clock. For 24 hours, however, they had been masters of the campus and the town.

Almost three hundred fish rode the special train to Crosbyton while the day was spent at Silver Falls dancing, skating, swimming, boating and eating. The train arrived at Lubbock Saturday night almost an hour late after the class sponsor and several members of the class had been left behind. Lonnie Langston, Miss Zella Riegel and Miss Johnnie Gilkerson and several students got lost from the others during a storm which struck Crosbyton shortly before the train started back to Lubbock.

Cries Go Up To Warn
At 12 o'clock Friday night cries went up from all parts of the town, warning upperclassmen that the "worm had turned." Although many upperclassmen had been suddenly called home, enough remained

Girls Glee Club Opens Program For The Professional; Pages Accompany Senior Girls Who Receive Awards

The Recognition service held Monday in the cloisters of the administration building was the beginning of a tradition in Texas Tech, that of publicly recognizing and honoring outstanding women students each year.

Musical numbers by the Girls Glee club and a solo by Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, "The Year's at the Spring," opened the program. The professional, which was led by marshals of the day, consisted of the senior girls who were special guests, and the girls receiving awards, accompanied by their pages who were selected from freshmen and sophomore girls. Deans Mary W. Doak and Margaret W. Weeks presided over the ceremony.

An address was made by Mrs. Doak who also made part of the awards. As each girl's name was called her page presented her with a bouquet. Miss Weeks completed the awards, and Hazel Gruver, in a torch ceremony, presented a torch

Fairechild And Underwood To Edit Yearbook

Everett Fairechild Leads Huff By 14 Votes For La Ventana Editor; Underwood Defeats Timmons

Run-Off Necessary

Taulman And Brown To Manage Toreador; Hill, Gilkerson, Moore, Nixon, O'Hair Are Other Student Officials

With slightly less than 700 students marching to the polls in the run-off election for publication officers Monday, Everett Fairechild of Plainview won over Robert "Red" Huff of San Antonio for La Ventana editor and W. R. Underwood, Jr., of Albany defeated J. W. Timmons of Amarillo for La Ventana business manager. Balloting was by secret ballot.

Huff, who led his two opponents in the first election last Monday and Tuesday, received 314 votes Monday, while Fairechild polled 16 more, or 330. Underwood mustered 360 ballots while Timmons was polling 282.

No Toreador Run-Off

Editor and business manager of The Toreador were selected in the first primary, a run-off being unnecessary. Parker Taulman of Fort Worth won a majority over his two opponents, while Audrey "Jelly" Brown had only one opponent.

MAY WE SUGGEST? Since all the persuasion this side of the Great Beyond fails to induce college officials to let 1932 seniors get their degrees while the 1931-32 session is going on, and not three days after the spring term is over, it might be well to suggest that something be started now for the 1933 seniors.

College officials fail to explain just why they insist that graduating exercises be held after all underclassmen have finished their exams and gone home. While it is true, underclassmen like to see the seniors of each year get their degrees, few will bear the extra expense of staying in town three or four extra days to do so.

It would be a very simple matter to give seniors their examinations a week early and hold the commencement exercises on the Monday that regular finals begin. It would involve little extra trouble, would give every student in the college an opportunity of seeing the senior class finish, would make the graduating members feel better when they saw the gym full of their fellow students of other classes, and certainly it would make the senior feel that the college appreciated his four year fight by letting him finish a week early.

Arguments for having commencement exercises a week before final exams for underclassmen start are numerous; arguments against it are few.

If college officials would do the wise thing, they would begin now planning the 1933 commencement exercises a week before the term ends. The student who stays in college four years deserves a little recognition.

UNFOUNDED RUMORS Rumors being circulated that the Board of Directors about to select a permanent president are unfounded and can do more harm than good.

In a statement made exclusively for The Toreador, Mr. Clifford B. Jones, chairman of the Board, says that "the Board is still making its investigations and is giving very earnest thought to the matter of successor to the late Dr. Paul W. Horn."

The task of choosing a successor to Tech's first and only president, Dr. Horn, is perhaps the most difficult job ever faced by the Board. Naturally, it will take time. For although a good president might be easily found, it will take a lot of time and work to select one that will be outstanding as was the late Dr. Horn.

Tech students should be patient, mindful of the fact that the Board must not act in haste and that much of the school's future is involved in the selection. All rumors should be quelled at once.

The Board must be given time if it selects an able president for Texas Technological college.

THANKS, DOCTORS To the various physicians in Lubbock who have, from time to time, donated their time and money to help Tech students this year who were unable financially to undergo treatment, The Toreador offers thanks in behalf of the student body. Such services are appreciated more than words can express.

Several times this year Dr. C. C. Mansell, Dr. Fred W. Standefer and other doctors of the city have donated money for medicine for students unable to buy it. Especially has Dr. D. D. Cross done a great deed in giving his services for treatment of a certain Tech student who is due to bring glory to this institution in the next few years.

Thanks, Doctors! PRICELESS CONTACTS The value of four years at Texas Tech in terms of opportunities for contacts is beyond price.

Certainly it will be impossible for us to know personally the nine thousand students who will be here, but many of them we can know.

No matter what the direction of our individual pursuits, no factor in our success will be greater than that of the personal equation. Here, therefore, is an incomparable opportunity for personality study.

Someone has said, it is better to know thirty men well than three thousand fairly well. There is nothing to preclude our doing both.

There are benefits from all sides to be gained from individual as well as mass contacts.

WELL, JOE—HERE GOES FOR A REAL SHAVE. I'VE EXPERIMENTED WITH SHAVING CREAMS FOR YEARS, AND I'VE NEVER FOUND A LATHER THAT STANDS UP ON THE FACE LIKE PALMOLIVE'S.

YEAH? SHOW ME A BETTER SHAVING CREAM THAN COLGATE'S. IT GETS RIGHT DOWN WHERE THE RAZOR WHACKS 'EM OFF—RIGHT AT THE SKIN LINE.

AND ANOTHER THING—I'M TELLING YOU THERE'S SOMETHING TO THIS OLIVE OIL BUSINESS. NOTHING LIKE PALMOLIVE FOR KEEPING THE OLD FACE FEELING FINE.

MAYBE SO, AL BUT TAKE A LOOK! THERE'S WHAT Y'CALL CLOSE, SMOOTH SHAVE, GOOD FOR ALL DAY. NOTHIN LIKE COLGATE'S—NOTHIN!!

LISTEN to Joe and Al! Nothing will ever convince Al there's a better shaving cream than Palmolive. Nothing will ever sell Joe off Colgate's!

Millions of men are like Joe and Al. That's the kind of loyalty that has put Colgate's and Palmolive miles ahead in a field of 176 competing brands—made them the world's biggest sellers by far.

Where do you stand in this big Colgate's vs. Palmolive argument? That's what we want to know.

Here's what you do. In ONE of the empty "blurb" spaces (not both) at the right, or on a sheet of paper, help Joe out—or help Al out. If you're a Palmolive shaver, write a boost for Palmolive. If you use Colgate's, write a "blurb" in favor of Colgate's. Just "horn in" on the argument—and may the best "blurbs" win.

Write your "blurb" here, men! Get some of that $25,000! What can you Palmolive users say to help Al out? Or what can you Colgate shavers add to Joe's side of the argument? If you don't use either, start now and take a shot at this real money!

Some hints to help you win Here are some facts about the world's two largest selling shaving creams—Colgate's and Palmolive. Here are some of the reasons why men prefer these famous shaving creams.

PALMOLIVE 1. Moisturize itself in lather 250 times. 2. Softens the beard in one minute. 3. Maintains its creamy fullness for 10 minutes. 4. Fine after-effects due to olive oil content. COLGATE'S 1. Breaks up all film that covers each hair. 2. Small bubbles get down to the base of the beard. Hold water against each hair at skin-line and soak it soft where the razor works. 3. Gives a close, skin-line shave due to small bubble action. 4. Gives a lathering, 24-hour shave.

FREE SAMPLES Men! A beautiful gift box containing generous trial tubes of both Colgate's and Palmolive Shaving Creams, as well as other useful toilet products, is being distributed. If you fail to get yours, ask the business manager of this paper why.

Final Fun Night Of Year To Be Held This Evening

Under The Double "T"

Sale of the athletic tickets for next fall are reported to be exceedingly good, according to student leaders who are heading the sales movement. With six home football games, about a dozen basketball games and good chances that a few track meets will be staged here, we see no reason why every student in Tech next shouldn't fork over five bucks for a bid.

And in case you haven't had a chance to buy one, just let Don Maddox, Basil Hill or Bo Williams in on it and they'll see that you get a chance. New students entering next fall will be given a chance and so will old students, but it is necessary that Tech students show that they want athletics in Tech next fall for unless they do, you can take it from the Board of Directors that major athletics will not always be at Tech unless students support them.

Again the Texas conference baseball crown goes back to Uncle Billy Ditch's Longhorns. Last year they dropped it or rather loaned it to A. and M., only to regain it easily this season.

Six records fell in the track meet in the Southwest Conference when Rice again won it, which makes it appear the boys down in the big conference are getting faster and better.

The old TIAA is fading out with the admission of McMurry and A. C. C. to the Texas conference. Perhaps the Texas loop will always be a good one, but those half dozen people who said it is better than the Border league will soon see how badly they are mistaken.

The Border conference is the fastest growing league in the United States and has promises of becoming as good if not even better than the Southwest loop. Such schools as New Mexico University, New Mexico A. and University of Arizona schools that are growing as fast as Texas Tech. The country where they are is fast settling up to tier and more athletes colleges. Tech's decision of the conference appears to be a wiser one every year.

It is nice if Tech had a team and enough interest in the student body to support it, as it appears new baseball has gone from the American League and unless things change, be gone in a very few years. For instance, two years ago S. M. U. was playing another member of the SW conference in baseball in Dallas with about 300 spectators watching. Across the campus was a game of handball with more than three thousand viewing the game.

In Tech's earlier days when there was more interest in baseball and when nearby schools like McMurry, A. C. C., Simmons, Daniel Baker and West Texas Teachers had teams, Tech boasted a good team. In fact a Tech baseball team was the first athletic team of Tech to beat a Southwest conference aggregation. Tech's 1928 baseball squad beat Baylor at Waco in the last of a two-game series.

"The home town boy makes good." So we read in the Stanton Reporter about Milton Moffett. In fact two of the biggest articles in the paper last week was about Moffett's stirring when Tech played the Buffaloes and about H. Hilton Kaderli designing the senior gift for Tech. Both boys are the pride of Stanton. But wait until next fall when Moffett really gets going with the 32 Matadors and then they will have something to put in the paper.

Several members of the Cheri Casa household made week end trips to nearby towns, canyons and ranches, so we've been told.

Harlan Howell, football letterman, has triumphed politically by being elected president of the Tech Aggie club. Howell takes his work seriously and will make a good president, and we'll lay our bottom dollar on that.

Miss Jennings (Kathleen is her first name) did a very nice job of writing this column for the co-ed Toreador. She not only wrote of women's sports, but also of various sports on the campus.

OH YEAH!

Bo Williams made a big speech at the Senior banquet Friday night. Captain Jack Duriam was toastmaster. Jack Flowers was once a Matador—and a good one, too. Johnny Beaman is the official timekeeper for J. W. Jackson's government class. Doc Patton was a great fencer in his younger days—in fact, he's still pretty good. Les Tribble should make a good wrestler and boxing coach some day. Eugene Collins is the new Wrestling and Inter-city council president, is showing up well in football and is going to make somebody hustle next fall. Murray Nichols is a great courier, so is Whacker Barton. George Langford is going to finish college at Tech—we heard. Eric Castling was a great athlete in his day. We've heard he was also a great fencer.

Program Said To Be Best One For This Year

Various Wrestling And Boxing Matches Are To Be Main Features Of Entertainment; For Men Only

With one of the best programs of the year prepared, Tech's Athletic department will hold the last all college men's fun night this evening at the college gymnasium at 7:45 o'clock.

A new, modern steel-posted ring has been placed in the gym and will be formally dedicated tonight. Various matches of boxing and wrestling for the championships of the campus have been planned.

Have Been Successful
Fun nights in Tech were inaugurated in Lubbock more than a year ago and have been very successful if the interest in them can be taken as a criterion. Tonight's frolic is deemed to be the best since the programs were started here.

A charge of 25 cents will be made tonight, the proceeds to go to the finance committee of the Tenth Olympiad, to be held in Los Angeles in August of this year. Other schools in the United States are staging various kinds of programs to raise money for this fund.

Men only will be admitted to the show at 7:45 o'clock.

Larson Is Border Conference Chief

Dr. E. L. Larson, head of the department of education at the University of Arizona, was elected commissioner of the Border States Athletic conference at a meeting of conference executives Saturday at Tucson.

Texas Tech was represented at the meeting by Dr. W. A. Jackson, member of the Tech athletic council, and H. C. Pender, Tech professor. In electing a commissioner, the Border conference officials followed the example set by several bigger conferences and the national association of organized baseball. Dr. Larson, as commissioner, will have final authority over matters pertaining to conference activities and in the setting of controversies.

JACK MADDOX VISITS HERE

Jack Maddox, Hobbs, New Mexico, was a visitor in Lubbock over the week-end. Maddox was president of the Student Council in 1928-29.

Red Carpenter, a former Tech football captain, is running for a county office in Lubbock county. Harvey Dunn once worked for Hickman Price on his big wheat farm. Dead Eye Darr is also a grain man—he ran an elevator in Melrose last summer. Tech athletes have little trouble getting coaching jobs upon graduation. All graduates got coaching jobs last year.

TIME AND TIDE

BY WILL BRISBARTON

TO THE lost souls already at large in the world is being added the annual multitude of fresh recruits—those eager faced boys and girls now in the throes of graduation from dear old Alma Mater throughout the land.

The college mill is grinding them out. Presumably they have been "educated," prepared to fill places of usefulness, and honor in the affairs of men. The percentage that will find such places awaiting them will be extremely small. Many will join the ranks of the unemployed. Many more will find makeshift jobs. A lucky few will find footholds in their chosen profession with promise of advancement that may or may not ever materialize.

This writer considers himself among the fortunate and he is now holding down a job, after having spent four years in college that pays one-third the salary he was receiving when he resigned a place with a large corporation, as a matured young gentleman of 19, to come to college. Very obviously college has had disastrous results on my earning power. It is a fair sample of what the college man may expect.

I would not maintain for a minute that the purpose of a liberal education is to increase one's ability to make money, but making money seems to be a necessary prerequisite to accomplishment in the present order of things. Admittedly, these are extraordinary times. Yet this does not alter the fact that the college man is going to find it hard sledding and that precious years will not be made to count for their full value.

THE ADMONITION so often handed us young men firmly encoined elders in the business world that we must not expect to go immediately into executive positions or jobs of any material responsibility is readily accepted by us all. We do not expect positions that experience and training do not entitle us to. Even so, the opportunity to secure necessary experience is not open to many of us.

But some of us have had pretty thorough experience in some lines that now counts for naught. This writer left a semi-executive position after what may have been a too rapid advancement for so young a man, turned his back on very inviting prospects of further advancement, because he seriously felt the need of a liberal education to make possible the expression of a spark the business world offers a poor outlet. He feels now that he chose between that illusion called "success" and an attempt at a career that bids fair to end in dismal failure. One year from today most of this year's seniors will probably understand more fully what I mean.

AS QUOTED by Rev. Walter Jennings in an address the other evening there seems to be a multitude of men who are doomed "to die with their music in them." There is no greater tragedy than this. Such a death annihilates us. To die without setting in motion the rhythmic strains that well up in our souls is to truly die. Future generations tread the earth that we have trod unafraid, unaware of the subtle music of immortal truths initiated or given impetus by us who have gone before. It is as though we had never breathed.

Our only reply to such a threat of eternal catastrophe is that we will strive with earnestness, with idealism, with true aim for the goals we may never attain. Though we fail the spirit of that struggle is worth while. In it we will find life in frustration.

AM I pessimistic I think not. I am willing to face realities. To the Senior class, congratulations. I wish you all the luck in the world. You will need it.

Physics Show Closes Friday

More Than 425 Visitors Attend Physics Show; Spectrums Of Various Elements Displayed To Visitors

More than 425 visitors attend the Physics show last Thursday and Friday evenings which was held in the chemistry building.

The main feature of the show was the burning of cotton by holding it close to a bucket of water. A spark would jump from the water to the cotton and ignite it.

Other features of the show were the spectrums of various elements displayed. Many of the laws of physics were illustrated by the exhibits. More than half of the visitors were people from Lubbock and from out of Lubbock, according to Charles E. Houston, president of the Physics club.

Stangel To Attend Big Spring Meet

Professor W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department, plans to be in Big Spring to attend a meeting on cattle feeding directed by the United States Dry Land Experiment station there.

Bill Chittler, '31 graduate of Tech aggie school, field assistant at the experiment station, has conducted the feeding of cattle during the past six months.

F. E. Keating, superintendent of the station, will have charge of an informal program following a lunch given by the Big Spring business men.

Dean Mary W. Doak Attends Annual A.A.U.W. Luncheon

Mrs. Mary W. Doak attended the annual luncheon of the Amarillo branch, American association of University women, Saturday afternoon at the El Taos club house. Guests were present at this meet from the Pampa and Lubbock chapters.

Mrs. Harold Griffith, former Tech student, was a guest of the tea given by the Las Chaparritas Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Firtle, head of the speech department, gave a number of readings before the Women's Study club in Lamesa last Friday.

Danger Of Increasing Taxation Is Pointed Out In Speech By Duggan

"We can't get along without taxes. And the tax problem has always been a problem and especially is it an acute one now."

So stated Mr. Arthur P. Duggan at a meeting in room 302 of the administration building Monday night before a joint meeting of the Pi Gamma Mu and a group of the college YMCA. Mr. Duggan is now a candidate for state senator from this district. He has made a wide study of the tax situation and was a member of the commission appointed by Governor Dan Moody to investigate the tax rate in Texas.

Pointing out that expenses for the federal government every working day exceeded 13 million dollars and that total tax expenses in the United States amounted to a total of 46 million each working day, Mr. Duggan said that one-fifth of all the income in the United States went for taxes. "One person out of every eleven in the United States is on the government pay roll," Duggan said.

"Texans paid more than 107 million dollars in taxes in 1930," the Littlefield man continued. "Our highway department got the biggest single share of this while state education got the next biggest slice of the money. The present constitution of Texas was adopted in 1876 and the taxation problem is considerable different now. Texas tax laws have not kept up with the times. Probably the best remedy for curing these taxation ills is to make taxes more uniform, eliminate unnecessary departments and cease to create new ones and have one central court of appeals. We must have more economy in our government."

Annual Picnic Is Slated Saturday

The annual Wesley Foundation picnic for young people of the Methodist church and their friends will be held Saturday afternoon and evening at Two-Draw lake near Post.

The Tech band, directed by Harry LeMaire, will play. Moving pictures will be taken of all feature events, and these will be shown at open house Sunday evening, May 29.

Committees of young people from both First Methodist and Asbury churches are sponsoring the picnic. Assembly will be held at 1:30 Saturday afternoon at the First Methodist church. Plans are being made to take at least 200 young people.

OGDEN SPEAKS

"Oliver Wendell Holmes, the Great Dissenter" was Professor M. E. Ogden's subject for discussion as principal speaker before the Pre-Law club last night. New officers for the year 1932-1933 were elected, but will not be announced until a later date.

A faculty of 55 professors and instructors, most of whom will be on sabbatical leave from American colleges, is now being assembled by Dr. Lough, under the direction of the board. Classes corresponding to those in the usual college curriculum will be held regularly at sea, supplemented by field trips in the various countries visited.

Selected Carefully

The students will be selected for women; Alyce Claire Teague, Francis Moore music scholarship; Ruth Thompson, Las Leatas, Virginia Wester, rodeo queen; Mrs. Lloyd White, Alpha Psi Omega; Genevieve Wilhite, Capa y Espada.

Graduation women who were honored were Mrs. J. M. Marshall, excellence in chemistry; Miss Margaret Williams, excellence in mathematics; and graduates who are doing outstanding work this year: Velma Anderson, winner of Double Key loving cup in '30-'31; Sarah Michie, recently awarded the Philip Francis fellowship in English at the University of Virginia; Mrs. Leola Cox Sides, who is completing work on her master's degree in Columbia University in June and will teach on the summer school staff in Tech; and Velma Brock, winner of the Pan-Hellenic award in '31.

News Briefs From Other Colleges

University of Kansas—An annual music week will be held in May, under the direction of the school of fine arts.

One-fourth of Princeton seniors are undecided as to what vocations they will enter.

Rutger University has recently dedicated a new $700,000 gymnasium, erected on the spot where Rutgers and Princeton played their first game of intercollegiate football in 1869.

Yale Law School has acquired an original edition of Statham's Abridgement, believed to be the first printed English law book. An alumnus donated the priceless book.

At Monticello, Ark., at the A. and M. College, the chemistry professor gives out free movie tickets to inspire the students to higher efforts. Results have been satisfactory so far.

Students of cinematography class at the University of South Dakota wrote and directed a motion picture named "Date Night."

University of Minnesota—A drive has been started on the campus for old clothes which are to be given to dependent Minneapolis families.

University of Maryland—Students are fined $3 for every class they cut.

All Wellesley College students must buy their cigarettes from the Kemas, an Indian word meaning "friends".

The personnel of the club is: Craig McNeese, president; Nance Vannoy, vice-president; Walter Hicks, secretary-treasurer; Gail Eubanks, Carl Harris, Gordon Brown, Hamp Anderson, Arthur W. Norton, Joe D. Wells, James Huffman, Morrison Liston, Anton Ulrich, and Fred Fairly, C. C. Perryman, of the engineering drawing department, is sponsor.

The club's purpose is "to promote fellowship between the members and the student body, and to encourage scholastic attainment."

This dance will be the second social function of the club, a banquet having been given during the winter term for members and guests.

The club was recognized by the Inter-Club council at its last meeting.

"Huddle" To Open For Two-Day Run

Collegians will be interested in "Huddle", a smashing football drama, which is to be shown at the Lindsey theater Friday and Saturday of this week.

Ramon Novarro is starred in the production in the role of Tony Amatto, mull hand who enters Yale university and stars as a quarterback.

The manner in which Tony adapts himself to exciting experiences forms a gripping theme for the picture. The strong supporting cast includes such well-known players as Madge Evans, Una Merkel, Ralph Graves, John Arlege and Perle Boros.

This is the first showing of this picture in the state of Texas. It is scheduled to begin a run in Fort Worth next week.

Yale has a sophomore who is paying his way through college by washing dogs.

Do you inhale? Seven out of ten smokers know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities!

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this much-avoided subject... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

In the best families (or any others for the matter) that doesn't happen nowadays. Hence the United States Air Corps offers some attractive inducements to you college students for whom it has built a $10,000,000 institution at San Antonio, Texas, where they teach you to fly and while you are learning:

- Pay you a salary of $75.00 per month. Pay your living expenses.
- Supply you (free of course) with snappy, tailor-made, sky blue uniforms.
- Grant you the social and military privileges of potential officers.
- Pay your traveling expenses from your home to the new field at San Antonio.

700 men are taken in each year. The course requires a year to complete and includes over 200 hours of solo flying. Those who stay the full year are commissioned as Lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve.

If you don't like the training you may resign at any time. For example:

- Should you stay three months and then resign you will receive $225.00 cash, your round trip expenses from your home to San Antonio, and about 50 hours of solo flying.

The service and associations of the Air Corps gives its members a very real distinction and a very noticeable breadth and poise.

If you have applied and are ready to go, we have compiled information and tips giving you inside angles and dope that will be invaluable when you arrive at the field. If you haven't applied yet then by all means get our information. We tell you the entrance procedure and certain twists that make your getting in easier and quicker. The information written by men who have been thru the school covers all points from beginning to end that you are interested in knowing. This information cannot be obtained elsewhere; it is complete. Nothing else to buy. The price is $1.00 or sent C. O. D. if you desire.
