Ladies Helping in Howard Payne Call

The Baptist ladies of District 16 are striving to raise $2500 in the Howard Payne Emergency Campaign. The Coleman County ladies are attempting to raise $400 of this amount. The apportionment for Santa Anna is $50.

We are asking each lady to co-operate with us in a small way in raising this amount. We have planned a hen and egg shower for Saturday, February 21. Bring them to the Bobo Produce Company. If you have neither hen nor eggs, please give us a cash offering of at least fifty cents.

This is a call from a worthy institution. Please show your love for Christian education by your loyalty at this time.

Here From Brownwood Mr. and Mrs. Coe Cross, of Brownwood, visited Mrs. Cross parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Marshall Sunday.

In Brooksmith Tuesday T. Ray Garrett was a business visitor in Brooksmith Tuesday.

Self Culture Club

The Self Culture Club will meet next Friday the 27th with Mrs. Leeper Gay as leader. The subject for discussion is Brazil Since 1870 with the following program:

Abolition of Slavery, Leader; Change from Monarchy to Republic, Mrs. Clinton Lowe; Political Strife in Brazil, Mrs. Russell Matson;

Questions for discussion are: 1. What system of government was instituted after the revolution of 1889?

a. The construction of Brazil has been very closely based on that of...

b. Give Brazil's official title. 2. "The states, one time provinces, each form an actual nation" Give some of their rights, as individual nations?

3. In regards to import and export duties, which are a Federal matter and depend on the Central government, and which duties are State property? Does each profit by these duties?

4. "In Brazilian politics, majority of questions revolve themselves into personal rivalry." Explain.

5. What step toward sanitation have been taken in Rio de Janeiro. What can be said about vaccination?

6. What year did the Imperial government abolish slavery? Have those living in agricultural districts profited by their freedom? Why? Why was it that the land owners in Minas resented the abolition of slavery? Their resentment had what effect on their states. Is negro labor satisfactory here?

7. In San Paolo they welcomed abolition. Have they profited? Name several ways they have profited?

8. What are some of the economic and moral drawbacks of the negro race in Brazil.

Poultry Show For 27th and 28th Feb

As announced last week the Vocational Agricultural Department of the high school is sponsoring a community poultry show for Santa Anna on the 27th and 28th of this month. This show is being put on in the interest of better poultry and it is hoped that those people who have good flocks will make entries in the show. Begin now and prepare a few pens and a few single entries. Premium lists are not being put out and the Department is using this means of putting you in touch with the rules and regulations of the show.

Entry fee will be: Singles.....10c Pens.....10c Single Turkeys.....15c Trios.....15c

Money refunded where space cannot be allotted. Entry fees must accompany entry blanks or entry will not be accepted.

Poultry showing any symptoms of disease will be excluded from exhibition and be removed from the show room.

Any poultry entered for competition must be entered in the

Boy Scout Banquet

Last Thursday night the Boy Scouts and their dads had a most enjoyable "get-together" in the Armory Hall.

After a delightful repast, quite a number of interesting speeches were made by some of our visitors and home folks.

The evening was climaxed with a "Court of Honor" at which time, Scout Master Kelley recommended a group of boys for different merit badges.

District Scout Master Ed Shumway, concluded the meeting by singing "Taps" as everyone bowed his head and imagined himself in God's great out of doors with with nature.

Agricultural Short Course Big Success

Santa Anna was host to one of the most successful Agricultural Short Courses ever held, the first of this week.

Everything seemed to work out to make a good meeting. The weather couldn't have been more favorable, splendid cooperation of the merchants of Santa Anna and Coleman made the extensive advertising of the event possible.

An interesting program, the result of careful planning on the part of the program committee thoroughly entertained the immense crowds.

The exhibits of the school and club projects were wonderfully entertaining and educational and represented long hours of planning and tedious work for those who made it possible.

One of the main features of the entire program and not the least pleasing was the music rendered by the Santa Anna Band.

We feel that every merchant who has been contributing to the band fund, was fully repaid by the service these boys were able to give at these meetings. They played every time, substituting for those who were on the program and were unable to be present.

This course was put over by the people of the county thru cooperation and a spirit of good fellowship and will result in a better friendly attitude and many material benefits.

Ward School P.-T. A.

The Ward School P.-T. A. met February 3rd at the Ward school building. The teachers and mothers present enjoyed a Health play, by Mrs. Harris' first grade. Mrs. Mathews, President of the P.-T. A., read a very interesting paper on Educating for Seven Point Lives. This subject struck the keynote to child welfare.

All parents, teachers and friends of the Ward school are invited to meet with us March 3.

COUNTY LEAGUE UNION WELL ATTENDED HERE

More than fifty out of town guests were entertained by the local Epworth League chapter, Tuesday evening when Coleman, Burket and Rockwood leagues met with the Santa Anna league for the monthly Union meet. A simple devotional and business meeting was followed by a social hour. Patriotic games were played and a desert course carrying out the color scheme of red white and blue was served.

Mrs. Shockley has just received a line of the very latest models in millinery. They are stunning and represent the latest dictates of Fashion. Prices to suit every purse.

Mrs. Sam Phillips, of Gonzales is visiting with friends and relatives here this week.

Mrs. J. M. Burrow, left Friday morning for Mineral Wells for an extended stay for her health.

Miss Lillian Durham spent the week-end with Miss Pearl Taylor, at Colorado.

Go to Church Sunday.

Marshall's in Business Again, Open Sat

Santa Anna citizens will be glad to know that R. J. Marshall and Sons, are back in business. They are opening up the Dry Goods department tomorrow, (Saturday) for a closing out sale in that line. They have other plans in regards to the Grocery which they will announce later.

Here From Abilene J. O. Middlebrook of Abilene, was a visitor here Monday.

In Town Monday Ed Higgins of Trickham Route was in town Monday and paid the News office a visit while here.

Woodward Against Horse Race Gambling

The churches of Santa Anna assembled in union services Sunday night, February 15, passed a resolution asking our Representative and Senator at Austin to use their influence to defeat the bill pending in the legislature to legalize open betting on horse races. This message was borne to our officials by telegram. We are happy to publish Walter Woodward's reply.

Austin, Texas February 16, 1931

Rev. Jos. I. Patterson, Santa Anna, Texas. Dear Bro. Patterson:

Replying to your telegram of 15th, beg to advise that I most assuredly will oppose the horse racing bill. Will you please convey to the other pastors who signed the telegram with you this information.

Yours very truly, Walter C. Woodward.

Miss Mable Belvin and brother Roy visited friends in Midland, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker visited relatives in Crossplains Sunday.

Representatives From Santa Anna Attend Area Gas Meeting in Abilene

Mayor W. E. Baxter, J. B. Lowe and J. Ed Bartlett, attended an area meeting at Abilene, Wednesday, which was attended by eighty delegates from thirty two towns.

A lower gas rate campaign was started. Mr. Baxter, was named on the committee of Procedure, with O. H. Bothwell of Sweetwater, John Turner, Hamlin, Forest Wright, Cisco, and Earl Earp, Sweetwater. Mr. Baxter is also on the committee to handle city and state gas reports.

A luncheon served by the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, was served for the guests at the Hilton hotel.

School Notes

SEVENTH GRADE PARTY Friday, February, 13th, the seventh grade of the Ward school had a very enjoyable time at a valentine party. Friday the thirteenth has been considered an unlucky day but we had a very nice time.

Some of the girls had planned some interesting games. Mrs. Baxter and Mrs. McCreary were kind enough to bake some lovely cookies. Soda water, the cookies and candy were served.

Miss McCreary appointed two hosts and hostesses. From A section she appointed as host, Billy Baxter as hostess, Francine Merritt, from Section B, Howard Pittard, host and Mineola Price, hostess.

Everyone had a good time and we wish we had a valentine day more often.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS We have all been studying hard for exams, which we will have next week.

We have been studying cones and pyramids in arithmetic, our Government in Civics, which is very interesting to know about, Saint Francis of Assisi in Reading, diagraming in English, the Civil War in History and we have been drawing silhouettes for the drawing, this six weeks. In Civics we are going to organize a Civics Club where we will have debates and discuss current events.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiddie Stewards and baby of Shield were the guests of Mrs. Mattie Harper on Monday evening.

Friends of Grandma Poe will be sorry to learn that she is quite sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Childres had as their guest over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Reddings of Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Seabolt Rowe are entertaining a new daughter.

Friends of I Williamson will be glad to learn that he is doing nicely at this time.

Birthday Party

Celebrating their son Scott's 15th birthday, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wallace assisted by Mary Alice Mitchell and Clifford Wheeler, gave a surprise Valentine party at the Wallace home last Friday night. Although the weather was bad the house was filled with young folks. Numerous Valentine games, hearts and pool were played. Each guest received a comic valentine from the post office, which when read proved to be a lot of fun.

After Scott had cut the beautiful birthday cake each guest cut a slice in which was concealed their fortunes. Hot chocolate and candy was also served.

Those enjoying this delightful occasion were:

Cora Harper, Mildred Boardman, Mary Alice Mitchell, Margaret Harvey, Bessie Evans, Neva Ray Chambers, Marion Eads, Scott Wallace, Edwin Neill, Clifford Wheeler, Richard White, Cleto Pope, Leon Ward, Clovis, Fletcher, Woodrow Neill, Curran Pieratt and Audis Smith.

Nearly Fifty Unemployed Registered

Plans for the Employment Bureau were somewhat changed this week, when at a meeting of the committee, the City promised to contribute as much to the fund as the citizens will donate. A very nice sum has been collected and several men are already at work on the streets.

Every one is asked to clean his own premises and have the trash piled for hauling. Trucks will call and take it away.

If anyone wishes to employ help, he can easily and quickly obtain aid by calling Miss Grace Mitchell at the City Hall and she will be glad to recommend some one.

It is hoped to give every unemployed man in town several days work and also to have the cleanest city in Texas when the campaign is over.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION REDUCES DUES

At a Library Association board meeting last Friday it was agreed to reduce the annual membership fee from one dollar to fifty cents per year for the next six months.

It was also decided to buy some new books for the Library. There with the large number on hand and those being donated from time to time make a fine collection of reading matter. The Library is open each Wednesday, with Mrs. Johnnie Oakes in charge.

Friends of Mrs. Lee Woodward will be glad to learn that she is doing nicely following a major operation at Scott and White Hospital at Temple last week.

Miss Gay Turner is in Arlington, this week visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert Griffin.

at the movies QUEEN THEATRE

"WAY OUT WEST" FULL OF LAUGHS

William Haines, as a big heman of the wide open spaces, furnishes giggles and guffaws, a few thrills, and incidentally figures in a romantic love story in his latest picture, "Way out West" now playing at the Queen Theatre.

The story is a comedy of the modern West, with Haines as a circus barker who gets into trouble and is forced to go to work on a western ranch. His love affair with the feminine "boss" is enlivened by his education as a cowboy, a thrilling rescue race, an attempted lynching, and some riding feats that amaze.

Unique settings were used. The ancient pueblos in New Mexico, and a famous western ranch were "locations" and real cowboys stage many thrills. Haines, incidentally, is an expert rider himself, as becomes apparent in the new picture.

"Tolable David," the immortal classic by Joseph Herge-shelmier, is now an all-talking picture. The Queen Theatre will show it for three days beginning the first of the week.

An all-star cast was assembled to interpret the familiar characters in this universal favorite. Richard Cromwell, an unknown boy, plays the title role. All who have seen the performance of this youngster in preview showings have declared it sensational. He is heralded as a "find" and a brilliant future is predicted for him.

The feminine lead is handled by Miss Joan Peers. Little Miss Peers is a recent recruit from the New York stage. She has firmly entrenched herself in pictures by her splendid performances in "Applause" and "Anybody's War" and in "Ram or Shine" which was featured here last week.

Before any club can succeed the component parts must work with the leader and feel that his obligation to aid comes before his "dates" and other gossamer things.

When news is scarce, use your head for some thinking. Pass in an article for our paper of course some will criticize, but that type never aids anything anyway so why listen.

Come on class, let's have a bigger and better "Mountaineer".

"It takes a deal of striving, No matter what the battle, If you really want to win.

"It takes a little courage and a little self control, And some grim determination, If you want to reach the goal."

The Senior Spelling elimination will be held Wednesday afternoon, after school. Five students have been working faithfully in this work and we are sure the two that win will capably defend S. A. H. S. in the Inter-scholastic League.

S-A-H-S

We wish to thank the Santa Anna High School P. T. A. for the lovely new books (fiction) which they presented to us. If anyone had seen the eagerness and joy on the faces of the boys and girls, as the books were unpacked, he would know that children love to read for many begged to take books that had not yet been registered.

Parents, our children are going to read, it's up to us to supply wholesome material and many friends have donated books to our library and we sincerely wish to thank them. Any standard literature will gladly be accepted at any time.

THE STUDY HALL

Santa Anna High School's study hall is used for several different things. Some attempts to use it for a "sleeping place"; others attempt to use it for a "primping room" and part of the student body use it as a place to idle away their time, only pretending to study. Yet there are a few who regard it as a place to study and work.

If everyone of the students would take at least one text book in the study hall with him every time that he goes in there and would put in the forty-five minutes actually studying, there would be a much smaller percent of failures. The study hall would then be used for what it was intended. It is not a play hall but a study hall.

S-A-H-S

Junior and Senior spelling eliminations will be made this week. Senior spelling is under the supervision of Mrs. J. C. Scarborough, head of the English department. Mrs. D. L. Pieratt, mathematics instructor, has charge of the junior spelling. Both are expecting good teams to represent Santa Anna High School at Coleman on the twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh of March.

S-A-H-S

Dependability and service has been the motto of the present senior class during their high school years. That has been their motto not only in more trivial matters but also in the more important. Conferment with the needs for additional furnishings for the faculty ladies' room in the high school, last week the class made the gift of a rug. This gift is appreciated not only by the present faculty but all those that are interested in the school. More than the mere appreciation of the gift is the appreciation of the spirit that prompted the seniors.

Fred Faulkner, gave a well organized talk on "My Plans for Choosing a Vacation" before the High School P. T. A. last Tuesday.

DEBATE

Progress is being made by the debating teams on the subject "Resolved, That a substitute for trial by jury should be adopted."

Last Thursday morning the boys' and girls' teams had a practice debate on the subject, the girls taking the affirmative side and the boys the negative. In the absence of a regularly appointed judge both sides claimed the victory.

At present Irene McCreary and Rebecca Turner comprise the girl's team. Irene is a senior and a member of last year's successful debating team, which was under the capable direction of Mrs. A. B. Oliver. Rebecca is a sophomore who is very promising in the line of forensic oratory.

The boy's team that is hard at work now is the same that won the county championship last year. With sincere effort they should be able to well represent their school this year.

In addition to these two teams there are other teams that are planning to give the first named teams some good practice. The greater number of persons participating in the activity, the greater is the benefit received therefrom. Incidentally Santa Anna will be well represented in Interscholastic League debating in years to come.

PARTY

Young people began gathering at the home of Scott Wallace Friday evening at an early hour, when his mother entertained with a surprise party in honor of his birthday. Many interesting games, including forty two and hearts, were played until late, when refreshments of hot chocolate, angel cake and chocolate candy were served to the following: Leon Ward, Clifford Ford Wheel, Audas Smith, Clovis Fletcher, Edwin Neill, Curran Pieratte, Marion Eads, Neva Rae Chambers, Margaret Harvey, Aline Harper, Mildred Boardman, Mary Alice Mitchell, Bessie Evans, Cleto Pope, Scott Wallace, Richard White and Woodrow Niell.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH TEXAS

Nothing is the matter with Texas, except that too many of us get up in the morning at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, button a pair of Ohio suspenders to a pair of Chicago pants. Put on a pair of Massachusetts shoes, wash in a Pittsburg tin basin, using Cincinnati soap, and a cotton towel made in New Hampshire, sit down to a Grand Rapids table, eat pancakes made from Minneapolis flour spread with Vermont maple syrup, and Kansas bacon fried on a St. Louis stove. Buy fruit put up in California, seasoned with Rhode Island spices, and sweetened with Colorado sugar. Put on a hat made in Philadelphia, hitch a Detroit mule fed on Oklahoma gasoline, to an Ohio plow and work all day on a Texas farm covered with a New England Mortgage, send our money to Ohio, for tires, wondering why Texas taxes are $2.75 per acre while Ohio farmers pay $1.00 tax and drive on paved roads, and at night we crawl under a New Jersey blanket to be kept awake by a bull dog, the only home product on the place wondering all the time, where all the money went in this wonderful state of ours. If we all would buy more Home manufactured products, we could keep our money at home and be prosperous.

NO CASH FOR VETERANS

Indications the other day that veterans might receive additional cash payments on their bonus certificates seem to have been wrong. Veterans Administrator Hines has renewed his opposition to any such plan, and even the strongest proponents of the cash bonus now admit there is little or no likelihood of any cash being paid the veterans on their certificates.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon thrust against the plan the entire strength of the administration, and that strength is sufficient in the lower house of

National All-Year Route No. 80 Awaits Mid-Winter, Spring Motor Vacationists

AMERICA'S mid-winter and spring "call of the open road" refers to national highway No. 80—the All-Year route between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts. Mid-winter and spring motor vacationists will find highway No. 80 the right boulevard if Southern California is their destination. This route is the low altitude way to the Pacific Coast, is never closed and official reports are that highway No. 80 is in good condition for immediate touring with no detours in evidence. Half of it is paved with concrete and oil, while the balance is gravel and hard dirt. All national highways running north and south connect with this Southern route running east and west as illustrated in the accompanying map presented as a touring service to the readers of this newspaper. Written requests for detailed auto information and maps desired by prospective mid-winter and spring motor vacationists planning a Southern California tour will be answered immediately free of charge by writing the All-Year Club, 1151 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

A free illustrated itinerary covering all points of interest in Southern California will also be sent in answer to the written requests for touring information. On the Pacific coast there is one highway, No. 101, from Mexico to Canada and for about half the distance there is highway No. 99. They are paved excepting a few miles. These highways lead to, through and by a wonderful series of National parks, mountain lakes, streams, redwood groves, orange groves, golf courses and Pacific ocean beaches.

JESUS BEARS GOOD TIDINGS

Luke 8:1-15

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Once more read the entire chapter to observe the context and get the related teachings. Now is the time when Jesus is in popular favor and crowds throng about Him as he comes into any community. At that time it is said there were over 200 villages and cities in Galilee and the population numbered two or three millions. The condition is decidedly different today, though the number will be largely increased soon if the Hebrews continue to return and establish themselves in their Promised Land.

At times the Twelve went with Jesus and on other occasions, they and even the Seventy, were sent forth in independent itineraries. The plan from the coming of Jesus has been to send out individuals as personal messengers of the Gospel. Note that certain women are named. A group of women is mentioned which seems to have been a committee on Ways and Means as they helped provide the cost involved as Jesus and His workers went about. Even the simplest ways of living costs something daily and these women made it possible for the men to render their extensive services.

Many parables are given at this time which tell about the Kingdom of Heaven that Jesus came to establish. A definition that is still good calls a parable a heavenly story with an earthly meaning. The Master Teacher took many of His illustrations from things in every day life. This time He calls attention to the seed that is scattered by the farmer. It is the same kind of seed that falls on the four kinds of soil. The application indicates our reception of that always good seed, which is the Word of God.

Unintentional Suicide

Many people are slowly poisoning themselves just as surely as if they drank iodine every morning for breakfast. They are daily absorbing the acids or poisons, created by accumulated waste matter in their constipated digestive systems. Sooner or later these will conquer their weaker bodies.

If you have headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite, bilious attacks, you are probably suffering from self poisoning caused by constipation. A relief for this condition is Herbine, the vegetable cathartic which acts in the natural way. Get a bottle today from

THE FEMINE FORUM

Mrs. J. M. Gaddy
In the passing of this well known pioneer preacher's wife recently, there was sorrow and regret, not only in thousands of Texas Baptists' hearts and homes, but other people as well. She like many others of her day stayed at home and worked on the farm and cared for the children and "kept the home fires burning," while her husband went forth to proclaim the "unsearchable riches."

I believe both of her daughters married preachers. It is pleasant to remember that after the hardships of early life that in her last days it was her privilege to enjoy every comfort and convenience in the home of her son-in-law, the Rev. J. Frank Norris.

Pioneer Preachers' Wives
In writing the above article of the faithful wife of a preacher others worthy of honor came into my mind. This class of women have usually gone unhonored and unsung and thousands of them, perhaps, lie in the unmarked graves. No Marland has erected to their memory a statue such as was erected last year on Oklahoma's win swept prairies, to the "Pioneer Woman." A suggestion has been made recently that some recognition should be made of the wife of the pioneer preacher, saying, that she was as devoted as Hannah, as brave as Esther, as faithful as Magdallene, as thrifty as the virtuous woman of Proverbs whose price is above rubies.

Nancy Smith
One of these great souls was Nancy Smith, wife of "Raccoon John" Smith, pioneer preacher of the Christian church. She can be visioned in her homespun garments, with a hoe in her hand, caring for her children and running the farm while her husband preached far and near. Upon one occasion when her husband was away from home, and with no near neighbors, the house burned and two of the children perished in the flames.

Her husband, on his return, found her sitting by the ashes, weeping for her loved ones.

Susanna Wesley

When it comes to outstanding women it seems that Susanna Wesley was just a woman apart. Probably because she was better educated and had had better opportunities. She was the daughter of a preacher, the wife of a preacher, and the mother of nineteen children, several of whom were preachers. She had few equals as housekeeper, and it is said that as each child grew old enough to be taught, she arranged to have a whole day with that child and in that time taught it to read. She took a great interest in all their education and in the absence of her husband conducted prayer services and otherwise helped in religious work.

It is well to ponder on these worthy women, the fruits of whose labors we all enjoy.

Go to Church Sunday.

N. Y. WOMAN LOST 14 POUNDS OF FAT

ONE 85 CENT BOTTLE OF KRUSCHEN SALTS DID IT

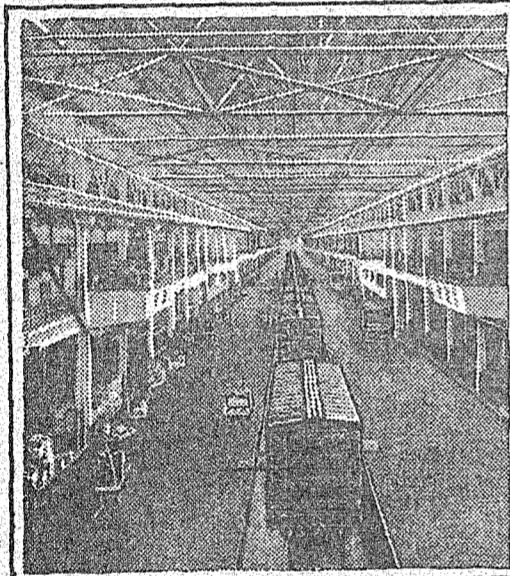

"I am starting on my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and am real pleased with results. I take it for reducing and so far have lost 14 pounds and I think it is doing wonders for me. I do not feel so tired-evenings when I get home from work."

A generous bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at Turner's Drug Store—or any drugstore in America—take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—that will help Kruschen take off your fat.

Before the bottle is empty surplus fat is leaving you—indolence changes to activity—you'll feel younger—eyes will brighten—step grows spry. Millions know this—you ought to know it. Kruschen Salts is the ideal treatment for constipation, indigestion, headaches, nervousness and acidity.

Take Kruschen every morning—it's the little daily dose that does it—if not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

Conveyors Carry Ford Car Parts

Trains unload in the plant.

Bodies starting through the shop.

Conveyors carry wheels with mounted tires over a line on which cars pass to completion.

The highly important part played by conveyor systems in all Ford Motor Company manufacturing and assembly plants is graphically shown in the above three pictures taken in the recently opened Edgewater, N. J., plant. One of the pictures shows how parts may be unloaded from freight cars within the plant only a few feet from the various assembly lines. Another picture shows automobile bodies starting their trip on a conveyor while the third view is of the conveyor system used to bring wheels to the chassis which are also moving on a conveyor. As indicated in the picture, a constant flow of wheels on which the tires have already been mounted moves around and over the chassis assembly line. As a chassis enters the section, workers, in groups of four, each take a wheel from the hooks and fasten it to the chassis.

NO DOLE

The efforts in Congress to pauperize vast numbers of Americans by voting money from the public funds as a free gift seems to have failed. The time-tried American method of relieving economic distress by private charity is working out. The Red Cross has the drouth relief situation well in hand and the people of the United States have responded in full to its appeal for funds.

Such money as has been appropriated from the public treasury for the relief of the farmer who are compelled to make a fresh start in life because of the drouth will not sacrifice their self-respect nor render them objects of Government charity. There are a few in every community who would rather get something without working for it than to do an honest day's work, and they are usually the ones who are most vociferous in their demands for help. But the time has not yet come when any considerable portion of Americans are ready to confess that they cannot support themselves, and are willing to live in idleness at the expense of their fellow-citizens.

FARM RELIEF

There is talk in Congress of an increase of 50 percent in the tariff on all agricultural product. That would go a long way towards helping the farmers who have something to sell this year. The whole world is in the same state of agricultural overproduction as we are, and everybody is trying to dump surplus grain, cotton, potatoes, fruits, wool sugar other agricultural commodities on us.

If we are to have a tariff wall, by all means make one as high for the farmer as for the manufacturer. Industry has had more than its share of protection in the past; it is the farmer's turn now.

Another encouraging sign of better times ahead for the farmer is the agreement which wheat growers in the Texas-wheat belt, another group in South Dakota, still another group in the Pacific Northwest, are making themselves, to reduce their wheat acreage by 40 percent. It is encouraging because it is the first, so

His Policies Are Still Sound—

By Albert T. Reid

Ninth Installment

Maggie Johnson, whose father is a letter carrier, her mother a lazy woman who has seen better days, and her sister a bootlegger's sweetheart who works in a beauty parlor, is stock girl in the "Mack" stores, the Five and Ten of San Francisco. A boy whom she knows only as "Joe Grant," but who is really Joseph Grant MacKenzie Merrill, son of the owner of the "Mack," is learning the business by starting at the bottom. He doesn't like the job until he meets Maggie. And neither of them realize that they are falling in love with each other, at first Joe is impressed, however by Maggie's intelligence and goodheartedness, and gives her advice on the subject nearest her heart, how to live the ideal life. She makes a suggestion for a better way of selling certain lines. He tells his father, as if it were his own idea, greatly pleasing the old man. He finds that the girls he used to know don't interest him as much as Maggie does, and when Maggie discloses her love in a burst of jealousy, he realizes that he loves her, too.

Joe is afraid that if Maggie finds out who he really is she will not have anything more to do with him. So he pre-empted that that it is some other fellow's car who she takes her home in his big yellow roadster. And on the way they talk, at last, about marriage.

The BEST Gray Hair Remedy is Home Made

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It will gradually darken streaked, faded or gray hair and make it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

MY BEST GIRL

She's only seventeen. She'll be eighteen to-morrow. "How do you happen to know that?" "She told me. I took her home tonight and she happened to mention it."

A silence. Then George Merrill said slowly: "I see."

"What's been making the change in you Joe. It was a girl was it?"

"I'm not in love with her, if that's what you mean. She's only a kid."

"She likes you eh?" the older man asked.

"Well, she's only a kid."

"How far've you gone, Joe?"

"Oh nothing he said vexedly. "I've talked to her—she's a kid who's determined to make the best of herself."

"She awfully pretty."

"Your mother—and I myself, too, George Merrill said, after a moment, have always rather hoped that you and Millicent Russell would give us a wedding, one of these days. She's a fine girl—seems to be different from the rest."

"The trouble is," Joe began slowly.

"That she's in love with you," his father finished mildly.

Joe gave an abashed, youthful laugh.

"She thinks you are merely another clerk among all the clerks does she?"

"She never dreams anything else!"

"Engaged, Joe?"

"Well, no. And yet, yes, in a way we are. You know how girls are, Dad."

"She's a pretty common little thing, eh?"

"Well— No, he couldn't say Maggie was common. Joe groped for words. "Not exactly that, Dad. But—but you see she thinks I'm like all the others—just one of the boys down there, the sort of men she would naturally marry."

Perhaps the shrewd eyes watching him saw more than he dreamed.

But if he saw this, George Merrill made no sign.

"If she knew who I was—who I am," Joe floundered on, "it might break her all up. She's no gold-digger—she wouldn't know how to marry a rich man—it'd scare her."

"I want to get out of this without hurting Maggie!"

"You're quite sure that you don't want to marry this girl, Joe? Oh I don't mean immediately—I don't mean now. But she could be sent to a fine school for a year or two, travel, maybe. Of course, Millicent Russell is a straight little girl."

"Listen, Dad, I don't want to say anything against Millicent, but besides Maggie—Millicent is a drunken little moron—"

"Steady, my boy! Steady!" George Merrill interrupted. "Oh why, Joe you must be halfway in love with this Maggie."

"Well, I'm not," Joe responded shortly. "But she is a fine little girl, and she—she seems to be reaching out for everything that is fine, just as these other girls reach out for everything that is rotten! She doesn't know what they know—she wouldn't understand their jokes—"

"H'm!" ejaculated Merrill sr. in a somewhat perplexed, dissatisfied tone. And at the time nothing more was said.

On Sunday morning, however, just a few minutes before twelve George Merrill met his son in the upper hallway of the family mansion and noted that he was dressed for golf.

"Got out of your engagement, eh?"

"Yep. Sweeney was going in to town for Mother and I asked him to send a note to—Miss Johnson, with flowers."

"Well—I guess you're wise!"

"I hope so!" Joe said unconvincedly.

He played four holes, played the fifth—a short one, and suddenly turned back to the club house. It took him fifteen minutes at the telephone to locate his mother's chauffeur.

"Sweeney. This is Joe Merrill speaking. Sweeney, did you get those flowers to that young lady?"

"They went right out."

"I see. Thanks."

And he hung up the receiver, feeling flat. She probably had them by now. Poor little disappointed kid!

Damn it, it made him feel hot and uncomfortable, and like a skunk.

Maggie, doing the Johnson dinner dishes, and perhaps shedding surreptitious tears into the sink.

Joe had an inspiration. The intelligent thing to do, the honest thing to do, was to go to her and say, "Now, look here, Mag-

"Why Joe you must be halfway in love with this Maggie."

gie—"

Rushing cityward in his car a few minutes later, he soon reached the Johnsons' dilapidated cottage.

Maggie came to the door herself—everyone else was out.

"Pop volunteered for special delivery to-day— it's Valentine's Day," Maggie said. "Liz was off with her beau, and Ma had to go to a funeral at one. So I had a real good chance to make the kitchen ideal."

"You certainly did that little thing," Joe said admiringly.

"And what did you get for your birthday Maggie?"

"Nobody remembered it but Pop," Maggie said lifelessly.

"But you got my flower's. You aren't mad at me, are you Maggie?" he asked suddenly.

"Oh, no Joe. Why should I be? I wouldn't have any right to be mad at you," Maggie said, adding the last phrase as if to herself.

"You seem sort of—stiff," Joe said.

"Here's what it is, Joe," Maggie said. "I just happened—when I got your note—to see your side of it, Joe I know you like me—but I know you don't love me. I hope we'll always be friends. But— she stopped short,—but—this part of it— isn't easy for me, Joe," she finished.

"What made you change this way—from last night, when we sat in the car and talked?" he temporized gruffly.

"I think kinder realizing that you were—saying more than you meant, Joe!" she answered simply.

She was delicious, small, confidential, brave in her first battle with hurt and humiliation. Joe felt shamed and bewildered.

"Did you know they were thinking of trying out your automat idea for the buttons and pins and tacks and so on Maggie?" Joe asked.

"I don't believe it! she said scoffingly.

"It's true. What would you do, Maggie, with—say, twenty thousand dollars?"

"With—with what?"

"With twenty thousand dollars for all your rights in that idea?"

"Joe, I'd sell my rights in that idea for twenty-five cents, if you ask me!"

"Yes, but you couldn't do that. They seem to feel it's a new idea and a darned good idea, and my father—" he floundered grew red, and saved himself by a hair—"my father thought it was a pretty good idea, too; I was talking to him about it," he said.

She had noticed nothing amiss. Her eyes were dreamy, happy.

The Beatitudes: Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for My sake.

Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.—Matthew 5:3-13.

The Lord's Prayer: Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.—Luke 11:1-4. (Compiled by the Bible Guild.)

This Week IN WASHINGTON BY RADFORD MOBLEY

Washington, D. C. Feb 13—Conflicting views of the government policy have brought about the deadlock which with the present session of Congress nearing an end has blocked every relief measure except the $45,000,000. The difference between the President and the House on the one hand, and the Senate, on the other are based on the former's view that the distressed should be aided by private contributions and the latter's stand that the emergency requires funds from the federal treasury.

This conflict became evident almost as soon as Congress met in December. It first became clear when the administration bill authorizing $30,000,000 for seed and feed loans in the drought areas was introduced in the House after the Senate had decided on $60,000,000.

The next step toward the present impasse was taken when the Senate attempted to attach a rider to this bill, providing for loans for road from this money. The Senate finally accented defeat on this issue but secured a compromise on the amount of money carried.

This was done only after the Red Cross had been drawn into the conflict, however. Officers of the Red Cross told senators in a committee hearing on the food provision that their organization was fully equipped to handle the emergency. Chiefly on this testimony the Senate gave in. Two days later the Red Cross issued its appeal for $10,000,000 of contributions to meet the crisis. The so-called food riots at England, Ark., had occurred in the meantime and many senators became convinced the situation was far more serious than had been thought.

This led inevitably to the action of the democrats in the Senate in attaching the $25,000,000 fund for Red Cross distribution to the interior department supply bill, the Red Cross announcement it would refuse the money if tendered, and the ultimatum of the Senate democrats setting this and other measures as the price of avoiding an extra session.

Meanwhile people are going hungry in parts of 15 states affected by the drought. In many of the large cities unemployment has caused equal suffering. Not a single state in the drought regions has acted to help matters by special appropriation although some are considering such measures.

Aside from the seed and feed loan funds, distribution of which is now well under way, the one constructive measure, federal or state has been the emergency public works bill. This measure carrying $80,000,000 for public road work and about $35,000,000 for waterways and other work, did not involve fundamental differences of policy which are interwoven with the food fight. Much of it will be useless until warm weather sets in or until legislatures of the states move to accept the cooperative funds available if matched by state money.

Part of it, however has already been put in service and is giving work to many, especially on public roads. This was possible because of a provision which permitted part of the money to be loaned to some of the states for use in matching the regular federal allotment.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Glimin of Shield, were here Tuesday to attend the Short Course.

Hints for the Home by Nancy Hart

FIGS

Fig and Bread Pudding—One cup of salt pork, chopped very fine, one cup of bread crumbs, one cup of raisins, one cup of chopped dates, a few currants and bit of citron lemon peel, salt cinnamon, cloves and allspice, one cup of sugar, two cups of milk, teaspoon of baking powder and flour to make stiff. Boil in pudding dish for three hours. eat with hard sauce.

Fig Cake—Two cups of sugar (dark brown), one cup of butter, one of water, one teaspoon each of cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg four eggs, two cups of chopped raisins, one pound of figs chopped, two cups of currants, washed and dried, three cups of flour, and two teaspoons of baking powder. Bake in layers, which in putting together alternate with layers made from the following: Two cups of sugar, three fourths of a cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, one of cornstarch, two of flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, and the whites of six eggs beaten to a stiff froth.

Chicken Pie

Have the chicken prepared as for fricassee. Put in kettle without liver, heart, etc.—and cover with boiling water and cook gently for about two hours. (The liver, and etc., should be cooked separately and used for sandwich filling or some other dish. Have ready five or six potatoes, calling for chicken giblets.) pared and diced or cut into cubes with french potato cutter. Add to the chicken and cook for twenty minutes more, or until the potatoes are tender. Now add salt, pepper, a little chopped parsley and two tablespoons of flour mixed smooth with a little cold water, and boil three minutes more, stirring to keep smooth. Have ready a large baking dish lined with good pie dough. Pour chicken and potato mixture into it, cover with crust brushing with a little milk to minutes, making sure that the lower crust is done. If you like the lower crust may be lightly cooked before the chicken is put in the dish. The dish is greatly improved if after the chicken has been cooked the bones and most of the skin are removed. The meat should be left in as large pieces as possible.

Tapioca Pudding

Soak a half pound of tapioca overnight in a pint of milk and cook slowly in a double boiler until soft and thick, adding sugar and flavoring to taste, and a pinch of salt. Mold, chill and spread with jam, and cover with whipped cream.

A CHERRY PUDDING FOR FEBRUARY 22

"I cannot tell a lie—I did it with my little hatchet!" Those immortal words inspire thought of that cherry tree young George Washington cut down in its pride, and likewise inspires delicious Cherry Pudding. George may not have relished this reminder of his early folly, but the guests will find it good.

Cherry Pudding

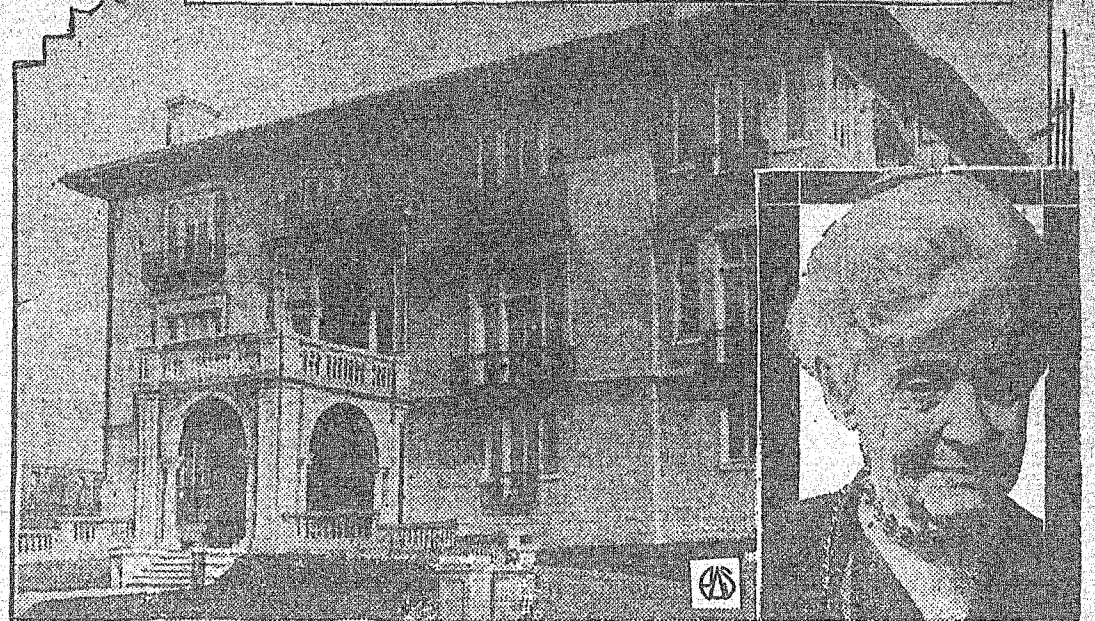

2 tbsps. cooking oil, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-2 cup dark corn syrup, 2 egg yolks, 1 cup canned cherries, 1-2 tsp. salt, 1 1-2 cups flour, 1 1-2 tps baking powder, 1-2 tsp. lemon extract, 2 egg whites, 3-8 cup cherry juice.

Beat egg yolks well with one half the sugar. Blend oil with the remainder of sugar and combine. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with the cherry juice. Boil the syrup until it spins a thread and pour over the stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Fold this into the cake mixture. Put oiled paper into the bottom of the pan, pour in the cake batter and scatter cup of cherries over the top. Bake at oven moderate over for one half hour. (350 degrees F.)

The old song about the delicacies the sweetheart of "Billy Boy" could make "while the cat winks her eye" might well be changed to "she can mix and bake a cake in a jiffy or a shake if the lady in question had used as modern wives do, the "speed method" for makin cakes. With this new quick method, you can mix a cake—a tender, delicious and wholly pleasing cake—and have it nicely baking in the oven all in ten minutes!

The key to this speed method of mixing cake is adding a cool oil to cold eggs to make a foundation, then adding the other ingredients. A pure cooking oil

Palatial Home for Vice-Presidents Offered to Uncle Sam

Mrs. Mary E. Henderson, widow of the late Senator John B. Henderson of Missouri, has offered her magnificent mansion on Meridian Hill, Washington, to the Government as a permanent "Junior White House" for the Vice-President to live in. The house has thirty rooms and cost $300,000. It will take a special Act of Congress to accept the gift.

made from corn is employed, and the method may be used also in cake making by the "standard" process. To follow the "speed" way I neither receipts pour the oil onto the sugar, add the ygg yolks (if used) then one fourth of the liquid before beating one minute. This way "creams" the oil and sugar without any of the weary work of rubbing in of fat and sugar until the sugar is dissolved. In using the oil in other receipts, reduce each cup full to two table-spoons.

Cake batters made with this cool oil are thinner than batters made with hardened fat, which must melt after the cake goes into the oven—but do not add extra flour; too much flour makes a cake dry. The flavor of the cake will be better, because the liquids blend more easily.

To The Business Men of Santa Anna

A number of times I have been called upon to make checks good for members of the National Guard. In the future, please don't ask me to make these checks good, but if you will report such practise to me, I will get rid of these boys, for a man can't be a credit to his Company and continue this practise. They know it is against the rules of this organization, and unless they can prove it was an error on their part, out they go!

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

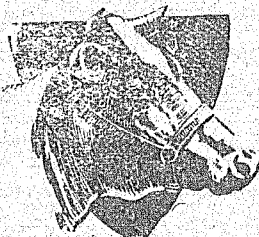

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children, will do the same for adults—White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at

Electric Power Encourages Industry

2,500 miles of trunk transmission network, interlacing this vast empire and distributing economical energy from three strategically located major generating plants, insure West Texas a power supply on a par with that of the largest cities and industrial centers.

This territory, dependably served by the West Texas Utilities Company, now offers to industry all the advantages of flexible, ever-ready electric power—of such refined quality as to meet the stringent requirements of the modern electric clock, radio and talking picture equipment, which were not in use in the days of the small isolated plant.

One hundred and twenty prosperous cities and towns throughout forty-eight West Texas counties are benefiting by the obvious advantages of transmission line service. They look into the future, secure in the knowledge that they will be able to compete with the larger cities on an equal basis.

CHEVROLET

January production of Chevrolet Motor Company was 70,766 cars and trucks according to W. S. Knudson, president. Schedules for February, with three fewer days, call for 67,429 cars and trucks, exclusive of schedules in the company's plants.

January's production compares with an output of 69,019 in December, the largest December in the company's history.

The month just ended is the third in succession to establish new high production marks over previous months since Chevrolet brought out its new line of cars in November, when 45,000 cars were made, setting a new output record for that month in any year.

According to Knudson, output in February likely will exceed tentative schedules now set and each month during the remainder of the year is expected to show an increase over the preceding one.

Chevrolet factory employment as of Saturday, January 24, totaled 34,447 an increase of more than 2000 over the corresponding date in December and 8000 more than when the company commenced production of its new cars in early November. During the current month employment is expected to reach 40,000, Chevrolet's normal operating force.

Mrs. M. M. Whitsitt of San Angelo, was a guest in the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Powell, Tuesday.

Trickham, One of The Oldest Towns In The County

Once while I was canoeing down the little stream of Muke Water Creek, viewing the beauty of its many trees and moss covered banks, I came upon a quiet little village, standing on the West bank of this stream. Later as I found out this place was Trickham, where it got the name I have not found out but likely will soon. I oared up to a small tree and tied my little boat and proceeded to investigate this village. As I neared the town I began to note the few houses and their type. Some were of the old pioneer build, while others were of the present type. As I stood and gazed upon some of these old buildings, I formed a mental picture of the old frontier days.

After walking around for a while, I wandered on up into the business part of the place. There were two stores, a garage, filling station and a barber shop. I had not been here long before I met one of its residents, I being a stranger made some of these good people curious as to who I was and where I was going so meeting with this man and talking awhile, he invited me to spend the night with him, being tired from oaring, I gladly accepted.

After eating a wonderful supper, I noticed the fire on which it had been cooked, was not the wood type but was natural gas. Being a Spring night we proceeded to the front porch. After talking to him for awhile, I ask him to tell me some of the past history and of the present progress of Trickham.

He said: "Trickham was one of the oldest places in Coleman County, being a Post Office for over sixty years. This place at one time was a 'get to gether' place for cowboys, in its early days. There are some graves of early settlers in the heart of the village, who probably went down in defense of their property and love one's."

This place still has a touch of the Western spirit, in some respects, but is mostly adapted to farming, turkey and poultry raising.

Trickham, as I learned has a very fine set of young people, who are all for good entertainment and clean sport. They have organized a little theatre club, have put on one successful play, and are at work on another which will be presented soon. I also find fine schools and churches here, and a real "get-together" bunch of people. I find a good set of business men also, who are interested in the up-building of their community, as well as business.

Trickham, is connected with surrounding towns by good highways which make it an ideal place to live.

After spending the night with the good fellow, I decided to resume my journey. So going down to where I left my canoe, I lifted anchor and started drifting along. Soon I had entered some of the ranching country which lies south of Trickham. On entering this ranch, I slowed my speed so as to get the beauty of this country. I wonder why people go to California and Arizona, to sight see, while they could get their eyes full from Trickham south to the Colorado river, a distance of about ten miles. On this travel one will see a very beautiful country, such as brooks trickling with clear cold water, hills and canyons covered with cedar and other timber, now and then a beautiful green meadow dotted with cattle and sheep. On down where the silvery Colorado winds its way is a picturesque spot to the human eyes, as well as the wild life which includes the fox, wolf, bob cat and numbers of smaller ones, also a few deer. One would enjoy a camp here hunting and fishing and wandering around looking at what Mother Nature has given us to see.—Contributed.
