Mountaineers To Play Last Home Game Friday Night With Llano Yellow Jackets

The last home game of the season for the Santa Anna Mountaineers will be played at Mountaineer Stadium Friday night, November 12, with game time being set for 7:30. The Llano Yellow Jackets, second rated team in the district, will be the opposition.

Llano pounded the Burnet Bulldogs by a 39-7 count last week to retain second place in the district standing and third place in season standing. Llano will complete their season schedule this week and have lost only to first place Mason in district competition. Naturally, they will be the favorites in the Friday night game, but the Mountaineers are expected to let them know they have been in a good game of ball before the night is over.

This will be the last opportunity for most of the local fans to see the Mountaineers play this year. Next week the Mountaineers journey to Mason, which is a little too far for most of the citizens of this area to travel.

A good crowd is expected out for the final home game.

LAST WEEKS RESULTS

Santa Anna rested last week. Other results in the district were: Mason rolled to an easy 62-0 win over Early; Goldthwaite took the Bangs Dragons by a 39-20 count; and Llano pounded the Burnet Bulldogs to the tune of 39-7.

BROWNWOOD DISTRICT CONFERENCE MEET WELL ATTENDED

The Brownwood District Conference which met with the First Methodist Church here Tuesday, November 9, drew a large attendance.

Sessions opened at 9:30 in the morning. R. G. Green of Santa Anna, spoke the words of welcome. Rev. Nolan Fisher, pastor, spoke on "Our Missionary Outreach, World Service."

Former pastors present were Rev. Hubert Crain, who spoke on "Providing For Our Retired Ministers, the Superannuate Home." Rev. Crain is superintendent of the home at Stephenville.

Rev. Carroll Thompson of Mart was also here, and is remembered as a former pastor. He brought the sermon at 11:30 a. m.

A number of other addresses were given on the work of the district. At noon the ladies of the church served a bounteous meal to the 175 or more persons attending.

In the afternoon Mrs. Jack Bostick of Rockwood, gave a summary of the work of the W. S. C. S.

Ray Taylor and children, Faye and James, of Lincoln, New Mexico, visited from Thursday until Saturday last, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Taylor and brother, Alton Taylor and family. Ray brought the home folks a pickup load of apples, as a gift, which they greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Everett and daughter, Jayne, returned to their home at Corpus Christi Tuesday, after a visit since Friday with his mother, Mrs. Frances Everett.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Etheredge and her mother, Mrs. C. C. Myers went to Cleburne Saturday, where they visited with an aunt of Mrs. Etheredge's in a hospital there. They also visited with other relatives.

Jr. Mountaineers To Complete Season Thursday Night

The Junior Mountaineers, under the direction of Coach A. D. Donham, will complete their season schedule Thursday night, when they journey to Cross Plains to engage the Junior Buffalos for the second time this year. Game time is 7:00 p. m. on the Buffalo Field.

The last encounter between the two teams, the Cross Plains boys took the Junior Mountaineers by a 20-0 score, with all their points coming in the second half and on a very muddy field. Cross Plains is a much heavier team than the Junior Mountaineers, but as Mr. Donham said, "the heavy teams are the only teams we can get to play us and in order to have a football team, we must have games." The Juniors showed up well against the heavier team and possibly on a dry field, might make a much better showing. However, they are still without the services of Jackie Dillingham, stellar ball-carrying and blocking asset to the Junior team.

Last week the Junior Mountaineers were hosts to the Junior eleven from Mason and the Mason boys outweighed the Santa Anna boys an average of 15 lbs. per boy. Mason won the game 20-0, scoring one time in the first half and two times in the second. As the first half ended the Santa Anna Juniors were on the Mason 1-yard line with three downs left to go. During the second half the Junior Mountaineers did not really threaten, but played a good game.

The Mountaineer "B" team and the Cross Plains "B" team played the second game last Thursday night. The game ended in a 0-0 tie with both teams exerting every effort to score. This is the last game of the season for the "B" team.

Potential Waiting Line For Car Inspections In April

Texas, individualists that they are, have already started a potential waiting line at the State's automobile inspection stations.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that the waiting line was shaping up now to precede the inspection deadline next April 15th.

The Public Safety Director based his conclusion on the fact that auto inspections at mid-October were running more than 100,000 behind the figure for the first month of the 1953 inspection period. He said that undue waiting to secure a check of their vehicles may be averted by motorists if they will visit one of the 4,000 inspection stations at an early date.

"None of the 4,000 stations are too rushed to give you prompt attention at this time," Garrison stated, "but if the figures for the first month's operation under the new inspection period are any indication, we can expect long lines at most of the stations in April. This situation can easily be averted if motorists will visit a station in the near future and secure the annual inspection."

Garrison pointed out that members of the Texas Highway Patrol "handled some 12,000 violations of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law" during the period from April 15 to September 1, 1954.

H. D. Speck brought Mrs. Speck home early last week from a two weeks stay at Marlin, where she had been taking the baths. She seems somewhat improved.

Rites At Comanche For George Sliger

Mr. and Mrs. Bunk Wagner, Jim Harris, Clint Lowe, Tom Mills, Joe Morris and daughters, attended funeral services for George Sliger, 93, in Comanche on Wednesday of last week. His son, Jeff, of Santa Anna, with whom he lived until recent months, was with him several days before his death.

A nephew, Jesse Sliger, of Comanche, was caring for him. Mr. Sliger is also survived by a brother and sister in Comanche and other relatives there.

He was a member of the Baptist Church and the minister preaching the funeral had known him since 1900. Services were well attended.

Mr. Sliger will always be remembered here as a very industrious and self reliant, working as he did until last July when he went to live in Comanche.

Many Denied Past Social Security Money Now Eligible

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of informational articles prepared by Raleigh R. Tulley, Jr., Manager of the Abilene District Office.)

One of the many important changes made in the Social Security Act by the 1954 Amendments recently signed into law by the President has to do with claims by survivors of a deceased wage earner which were denied previously because he or she did not have enough quarters of coverage to be fully or currently insured under the law prior to September 1, 1950, and after 1939.

Widows and children who could not be found entitled to benefits may now be paid provided the wage earner had at least 6 quarters of coverage to his credit at the time of his death before September 1, 1950. A quarter of coverage means being paid wages of at least $50 from employment covered by the Social Security Act in a calendar quarter, a 3-month period beginning with January, April, July, or October, after 1936.

Any family or individuals who were denied monthly benefits because the deceased wage earner did not have enough quarters of coverage to be insured under the law as it stood before September 1, 1950 (the requirement then ranged from 6 to 27, depending on the age and date of death of the wage earner), should immediately get in touch with the nearest office of the Social Security Administration.

If it is found that the deceased had at least 6 quarters of coverage to his credit, monthly benefits may become payable with the month of September 1954, provided the children have not married, reached age 18, and the widow still has one or more children entitled to benefits in her care or has herself reached the age of 65 and has not remarried.

This does not mean that every case previously denied can now be paid. If the worker did not have at least 6 quarters of coverage to his credit, then even the '54 amendments do not make him insured. Also, no benefits will be

Salvation Army Drive Nearing Completion

The annual drive for funds for the Salvation Army is nearing completion this week, with the quota already being exceeded. Shields, Rockwood, Trickham, Buffalo and Zones 6 and 7 in Santa Anna are all that have not reported.

Total of the zones reporting amounts to $301.76.

Zone 2 of Santa Anna reported the largest amount of funds raised. Workers in the zone were Mrs. Bill Pritchard, Mrs. W. E. Hartman and Mrs. Tommy White. They reported a total of $107.57.

Zone 1 reported the next largest amount, $84.00 Mrs. Al Davis, Mrs. Dorothy Jeffcoat and Mrs. Max Eubank were the workers in Zone 1.

Mrs. Luther Talley, the only worker in Zone 3 reported a total of $8.50. Mrs. J. F. Goen, Mrs. W. E. Vanderford and Mrs. Sam Rutherford, workers in Zone 4, reported $19.25. Mrs. Walker Tatum and Mrs. Ione Caton, workers in Zone 5 reported $38.19; Mrs. J. W. McClellan and Mrs. Luther McCrary, Mayo Community workers, reported $24.35. Mrs. Eaf Day, the only worker in the Liberty Community, reported $12.00; and Mrs. J. L. P. Baker of the Plainview Community reported $8.00.

Reports from other zones and communities should be in within the next few days.

The Salvation Army Committee of Santa Anna wishes to express their sincere appreciation to all the workers for their fine cooperation and help in putting the drive over. They also want to express thanks to all those who contributed funds to the drive.

The quota set for Santa Anna was $300 and when the final reports are in, there is not much doubt but what it will go considerably more over the top, as has been the case for the past several years.

found payable for any months before the month of September. Persons who are in doubt as to whether or not this change in the Social Security Act affects their situation should write or otherwise get in touch with their nearest Social Security office so that a recheck may be made of the facts.

It is estimated that some 300,000 persons were given new entitlement to old-age and survivors insurance benefits by this change, and it is felt that many of them are in the area serviced by the Abilene office. Look for another article on the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act in this newspaper soon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

The spiritual basis for healthful, happy, abundant living will be dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals" is the Golden Text from

John (3:6): "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit."

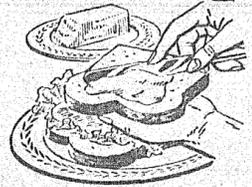

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (76:22-26): "The sinless joy, — the perfect harmony and immortality of Life, possessing unlimited divine beauty and goodness without a single bodily pleasure or pain, — constitutes the only veritable, indestructible man, whose being is spiritual."

From the Bible the following passage will be among those read (Romans 8:6): "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

St. Nicholas was a living saint and not a mythical character.

Mrs. Ed Jones brought another interesting program on Coleman County, with most of those present adding humorous and other items of interest concerning early days in Santa Anna.

At the close of the program it was voted to have the next meeting at Camp Colorado, a very historic spot that should be of interest to all Coleman Countians.

Study in Values

Lesson for November 14, 1954

IS IT a sin to be rich? The Bible does not say so. A poor man may be better or worse than a rich man. It is not the property of a man that is most important, it is his personality. The Bible does warn us about the dangers of wealth; and since in our time (as back yonder too) nearly everybody thinks it would be wonderful to be rich and that money is the answer to most problems, the Bible's warnings are almost the only ones we can ever hear.

Dr. Foreman

When Money Comes First

There is one special danger that runs through all the others: the danger of putting money first. We say "What is So-and-so worth?" when we ought to say "How much money does he have?" A worthless rascal may be very rich. The United States has found it necessary to deport men who could buy you out, dear reader, and me too. If we put money first, we measure men by a crooked yardstick. Then if we think of money as the most desirable thing in life—or property of any sort, not money alone—we shall cut corners to get it. If it were true that money is the principal thing, then we would lie and steal to get it—just as many persons do. Think of the lies told every day in the business world, recall the wealthy men who have been convicted of evading their taxes. Once think of money as Value Number One, and you will begin excusing all the sins, provided a man has a big enough pile.

Fancy Front

You could have an interesting time collecting the lies that are connected in one way or another with money. Proverbs points out that some rich men pretend to be poor and some poor men pretend to be rich. That sounds funny but it's a fact. On every street in the more exclusive residential sections of cities there live families who are trying to give the impression of being better off than they are. The house is bigger than they can afford, they really keep themselves in debt pretending not to be in debt! And then there are the rich who pretend to be poor. These are not all Texas millionaires trying to look like cow-hands. When the church (for instance) takes its every-member canvass and approaches some one who is known to be wealthy though not generous and who may have just bought an expensive car, how familiar is the response: "I'd be glad to increase my pledge but I can't afford it!"

Treasure and Trouble

Pastors of wealthy congregations, lawyers and doctors too, can tell you they know people who would be able to shed their troubles, or most of them, if they just could lose their money. The reader can verify this by reading any newspaper for a few weeks and checking up on head-lined tales of people in trouble. Not always, but often, the trouble started either because the person involved had too much money, or because he wanted money too much. Alcoholism, for instance; who are the alcoholics you know? Are most of them busy people in moderate circumstances, or are they people with more time and money on their hands than they know quite what to do with? Or take the divorce stories. At the time this column is being written the story is being headlined of a nationally notorious divorce. Readers are led to believe that neither the marriage nor the divorce would have taken place if the young man had been, say, a school teacher or a plasterer. His millions were bait—as any one could have guessed.

A Good Name Is Better

When some smart Alec (or Alice) asks you, "If money isn't the best thing there is, name me something better," you can quote Proverbs right away: "A good name is better than riches." (This isn't the only better thing, but it is one.) It is not always necessary to choose between the good name and the money; but ask the man who has both, which he would rather have. He will tell you, his good name, of course. When a business is sold, the "good will" sometimes comes at a higher figure than the place and all its fixtures and inventory. For what people think of you is far more important to you.

PATENTS AND COPYRIGHTS EXPLAINED

Alert observers frequently notice that some goods or articles are patented, whereas other seemingly similar items are copyrighted. The question accordingly arises as to what constitutes the differences between a patent and a copyright.

Patents are granted to inventors on new and useful articles of manufacture, compositions of matter, methods and processes, ornamental designs or articles of manufacture and certain types of plants.

Copyrights are granted to authors, composers or artists on works such as books (which includes not only bound volumes, but also pamphlets, leaflets and even single sheets), periodicals, speeches, plays, musical compositions, phonograph records, works of art, including sculptured works, maps, phonographs and motion pictures.

The function of a patent or copyright is to give its owner the right to exclude all others from infringing the patent or copyright—that is, from practicing the invention or copying the copyrighted material. Patents give protection against any infringer who makes, uses or sells the invention, regardless of whether he is a copyist and regardless of whether he actually knew of the patent. Copyrights, on the other hand, give protection only against a copyist and not against one who independently does the same thing.

A patent runs for seventeen years and cannot be renewed. A copyright runs twenty-eight years and may be renewed once for an additional period of twenty-eight years.

An inventor or author may himself apply for a patent or copyright. However, only persons trained in such work should prepare and prosecute the necessary applications, since it often happens that an unskilled person, because of his lack of knowledge of the law and the procedure, will do irreparable damage to the rights to which the inventor or author was originally entitled. Sometimes rights are forfeited completely through the mistakes of such unskilled persons.

(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Central Colorado Soil Conservation District News

A round-up of season-end reports on Blue Panic grass planted this year by district cooperators, indicate profitable returns were obtained despite most adverse growing conditions.

In the Novice area, Harold Pittard reported selling, in early September, 500-pound March calves from his 16 acre planting of blue panic. The average range calf of similar age, weighed 350-400 pounds. A. H. Armor reported 16 acres of blue panic maintained his cows in better flesh than any he has ever owned. Armor obtained one grazing period of 30 days with 40 cows and grazed the panic grass intermittently through the entire season.

Cotton DePrang and Mrs. Mike Parker, also in the Novice area, reported good stands of grass were obtained and satisfactory grazing was afforded considering the adverse weather conditions.

Tom West of Talpa reported his 50 acres of blue panic furnished grazing for 400 ewes, 175 lambs, 20 cows and 20 calves for

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Blue are among Santa Anna persons attending the Le Tournedu lecture in Brownwood Wednesday night. From there they will go by train to Houston to spend Veteran's Day with their son, John Hardy Blue. Their granddaughter, Ora Beth Henderson of Snyder, Tex., is making the trip with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hunter are staying Monday through Friday each week now, in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hunter in Coleman. They take care of Edd Lee, while his mother is attending classes at the University of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Featherston and children, James and Brenda, of Snyder, Texas, were week end visitors with her mother, Mrs. Byrd Arnold. Keith has a good job with a gas company and they were driving a new car.

a total of 70 days during the season. Based on commercial rates for grazing, the income from West's grass amounted to $14.50 an acre. Herman Mercer, also at Talpa, reported satisfactory growth on his 20 acres of blue panic which he plans to graze late in the fall. Mercer expects to plant an additional 60 acres next year.

Experience gained this year by blue panic growers indicate some of the essentials for success are:

1. A clean, firm seedbed, such as would be obtained by breaking and double harrowing with a section harrow.
2. Timely plowing to control foulness.
3. Cultivating to stimulate growth.
4. Delay use until plants are about 20 inches high.

J. B. McCord reported satisfactory results from his 170 acres of blue panic planted on Pecan Springs ranch west of Coleman. He grazed 4 sheep to the acre for a 75 day period from June 15 on part of his planting. Also, two-year old steers were grazed and made good gains. McCord expects to plant 260 acres additional next year. T. J. Allen has 87 acres north of Coleman which he expects to graze with his sheep during late fall for a 60-day period.

Billie McIntire of Rockwood, obtained good results from grazing a 4-acre planting of blue panic which had extra water. He grazed the equivalent of 30 cows on the 4 acres for 60 days. The land was watered once before planting and once after the grass was up and growing. McIntire believes he waited until the grass was too near maturity to start grazing which greatly reduced the yield.

Ralph Edens of Talpa reported getting 400 bales of blue panic hay from an 18 acre field and later grazed it with 1100 sheep for 11 days. A 12 inch growth still remains. The grass is in its second year. Edens has about 75 acres of second year blue panic, all of which made good production this year.

Cotton on terraced land yielded a bale to 3.7 acres while un-terraced land adjoining, produced a bale to 7.5 acres, reported Byron McAnally who farms in the Echo community northeast of Coleman. McAnally said the higher yield was due to additional water held on the land by terraces during the spring rains. He completed 2 miles of terraces on his land last week.

J. C. Boyle of Burkett reported a yield of one bale of cotton to two acres on his neighbors terraced land while his own un-terraced land yielded only a bale to ten acres. Boyle believes the additional water held by the terraces and stored in the soil for use of the cotton later in the season was the reason for the profitable yield on the terraced land. He has prepared a conservation plan for his farm in cooperation with the Soil Conservation District and has arranged to start building terraces this week.

Gross income from cotton on terraced land ranged from $20 to $60 an acre more than un-terraced land, in the Burkett and Echo areas. The cost of terraces amounts to approximately $3.00 an acre. The additional annual income from terraced land is usually several times greater than the cost of building ter-aces. A. C. Sparks, who farms south of Coleman, reported that terraces more than paid the cost of construction from the first crop grown on the land after terracing it. Sparks has five additional miles of terraces under construction this week.

John Curry, local Farmers Home Administration supervisor, reports conservation loans are available on a long-term repayment plan at 4.5 percent interest rate. These loans can be handled through local banks.
