FILTRATION PLANT COMPLETED

PICTURED ABOVE is the new Santa Anna Filtration Plant, which was put in operation at the end of last week. The plant has been under construction since the early part of December. The plant has facilities in operation at the present time to care for filtered water for an approximate population of 8,000 to 9,000 with facilities that can be put into operation with very little cost that would care for an approximate 15,000 population.

The large new building in the foreground is where the water is actually filtered. From this building the water flows into the covered "clear well" immediately behind the filter building. The farthest building in the background is where the raw water starts the filtering process. Here the water goes through an airator, where air is mixed in the water, then through a mixing process where alum and lime are added to the water. From this building the water travels by gravity into the first settling tank, then into the middle settling tank and into a large tank where two electrical pumps pump it into the filter. From the filter the water flows by gravity into the "clear wells" and into the pumps that put the water on top of the mountain for city use. Chlorine is added to the water as it passes through the filter.

Cost of the entire plant was $42,100. Fred Rollins, who has been employed by the city for several years as pumper, will continue the operation of the filter plant. City Manager, Dick Bass, said the storage tanks on the East mountain would be cleaned in a few days and we should have good, clear water from now on. As long as the plant is operated properly there actually should be no reason for not having good water, unless something unforeseen at the present time develops and that is not likely to happen.

Mrs. Williamson urges you to get your plates as early as possible and to avoid the last minute rush.

Santa Anna Boys Make Excellent Show At Fort Worth With Their Sheep

March of Dimes Party Saturday Successful Event

Our March of Dimes Party Saturday was a successful event, notwithstanding the weather man turning tricks and giving us an unpleasant day for the work.

Thanks to Mr. Green and Mr. Perry of the Santa Anna High School for supplying us with a group of fine girls to work throughout the day. With the help of Barbara House, Betty Ann Vinson, Harriett Wigger, Liz Smith and Nancy Wylie to solicit among the business houses and others who came to town for the regular Saturday shopping, climaxing with the party in the Armory with the Santa Anna School Band, under the direction of the very efficient leader, Carl Gilkerson, we managed to bring our contributions up to a total of $216.24 and the followup Monday with $20. more, put us up to a few dollars short of the half-way mark.

We have a few collection jars and other units out yet, and we do not know when we will take them up. Any one having a coin unit in their place of business and think it has been there long enough, either bring it in to the News office or telephone us, and we will call for it p. d. q.

The members of the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire company voted in their regular meeting Monday night, to sponsor a benefit ball for the further raising of funds for the March of Dimes, sometime later in this month. The Lions Club has been requested to join in by furnishing a committee to aid with the ticket sales, and other outside help may be added. We think we can now see the successful climax to the drive, without having to report the closing of the campaign short of the goal allotment.

This is our twentieth campaign, and we have never felt short of the expected allotment yet, and we trust we will not do so this time. We were disappointed in that some of our faithful supporters in the past have not given us any support this season.

We wish to express thanks to those who joined with us in our drive last Saturday, and those who volunteered and brought their contributions in. We especially thank Mr. Gilkerson and his band for their help, and thank W. Ford Barnes and Rev. Wigger for their much needed help at the party Saturday afternoon. May God richly reward you for your services and also bless the receipts of the day to the proper use that is so badly needed in the treatment and prevention of the dreaded disease, infantile paralysis.

that I will have the home-front viewpoint. I think I know something of the feeling of the American people about the war in Korea. I am a soldier, and I shall go there as a replacement in our military program and shall do my best to maintain the great reputation of the 8th Army."

Taylor, now only 51, has behind him a brilliant record in World War II where he commanded the 101st Airborne Division. He parachuted with his Division into Normandy to become the first general American officer to land there. He was acclaimed for his generalship in the Battle of the Bulge, and in 1944 was chosen to fly behind the German lines to negotiate with the Italian government.

Following the war, General Taylor was Superintendent at West Point for three years, then in 1949 took command of both the American Military Government and Army forces in Berlin. More recently he has been Deputy Chief of Staff of Operations. He speaks four foreign languages — French, Spanish, German and Japanese.

Thus, our troops in Korea will be under command of a man who has proven his competence under the test of battle. He has demonstrated his qualities as an educator, negotiator, and administrator, as well as a strategist and military leader. There is a lot of comfort in the knowledge that General Van Fleet — one of the very greatest combat leaders in the American Army — will be succeeded by a man so capable and so highly respected as is true of General Taylor.

Footnote: Speaking of the rotation program when he appeared before our committee recently, General Bradley mentioned a road sign he read near the front in Korea: "Drive carefully! Remember the man you hit may be your replacement!"

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Our WASHINGTON Letter
By Congressman O. C. FISHER

Of interest to every American was the recent appointment of Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to replace General Van Fleet as commander of the Eighth Army in Korea. The importance of this assignment is underscored because of the likelihood of a change in tactics which would be designed to break the Korean stalemate this year. The success of such a venture will, of course, depend in no small part on the caliber of the man in command.

The Taylor appointment was announced by General Collins at a luncheon at the Pentagon, where our committee on Armed Services had gone for a briefing on the Army's Research and Development program. Taylor, a calm, calculating sort, made a little talk in which he commended General Van Fleet and said those shoes would be hard to fill.

"However," he continued, "in taking over the command I feel

Five cents worth of electric service . . . it's the biggest nickel in town . . . and it buys lots of service . . . comfort and entertainment. For example, here's what 5¢ worth of electric service can do for your family:

- A penny's worth makes toast for all your family for three meals . . .
- Another penny swishes clean three tubs of laundry
- A cent's worth of electric service vacuums six large rugs . . .
- Then there is enough left out of the nickel to furnish refrigeration for the family's food for hours

- AND
- Bring you and your family an evening's radio or recorded entertainment!

Where else could the average family get so much value for one small nickel . . . a nickel that's now worth only 52% of its 1939 value, but a nickel that buys 17% more electric service than it did 14 years ago?

Let your local electrical appliance dealer show you how easy it is to put electric servants to work for you.

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized on January 31st, at 6 o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church, when Miss Coyita Fay Griffin of Santa Anna, became the bride of Kenneth Mills Bowker of Abilene.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Jack Payne, the pastor, as the couple stood before an arch covered with white satin and decorated with Easter lillies, and white wedding bells.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a crystal white satin gown with an imported lace front center panel in skirt. The gown had a tulle yoke, covered satin buttons down the back and a chapel train. The long sleeves came to a point over the hands. She carried a white satin prayer book, topped with a white orchid with streamers of Stephanotis.

High Standard Of Sanitation Is Best Disease Preventative

Austin — Reports of a vaccine capable of preventing polio and the use of gamma globulin for minimizing the effects of the disease are heralded as major achievements in the research against this great crippling and killer of children. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns that both are still in the experimental stage. While they hold great promise much study will yet have to be done before being available to the general public.

In the meantime, Dr. Cox advises that everyone observe the known rules of sanitation. These practices have proven their value not alone in the prevention of polio, but of other diseases such as typhoid fever, dysentery and malaria. Even when a definite preventive of polio is available to the public they should not discontinue their efforts toward maintaining sanitary surroundings.

Sanitation efforts should be carried out every month and every day in the year. Householders, business houses and industry are responsible for keeping their property in a sanitary condition. Cities must furnish an uncontaminated water supply, maintain an efficient sewage disposal system and proper garbage collection and disposal.

Dr. Cox placed the responsibility on the individual when he said, "Insanitary places do not make the person but the person makes the places." If you have been lax in maintaining cleanliness of your surroundings during the past few months, now is a good time to start an intensive clean up. Texans can help prevent disease and assure themselves of better health by maintaining a high standard of sanitation.

Livestock News

H. Gordainer of Whon was on the Fort Worth market Tuesday with 138 lambs. One hundred twenty six clip lambs averaged 79 pounds bring $19., with twelve lambs at $15., according to the Texas Livestock Marketing Association who handled the shipment.

QUAIL WING AID TIMELY

Austin — The Director of Wildlife Restoration said quail wings sent in by hunters during the recent quail season may be of unusual aid to wildlife biologists.

He explained the wings will show the percentage of young birds as compared with old birds. Furthermore, the proportion of hens and cocks was recorded by those who collected the wings.

The data, according to the Director, will be particularly timely since the fall shoot was generally poor in Texas. This apparently was because the quail were at the bottom of the cycle.

The Director estimated that 5,000 quail wings have been received. Last year the receipts were 11,553 wings. Then the quail shoot was good in several regions, particularly in the Panhandle where the quail reached the peak of the cycle. From the harvest, 4,336 wings were sent in by sportsmen in the Panhandle region.

"We will not analyze the field reports for some time," said the Director, "but we expect to find a high percentage of old bird wings from last season."

"Ordinarily, in a normal season, we would find a higher percentage of wings from birds hatched the same season in which they were harvested."

"With this data, and showing the area where the quail were shot, we hope to be able to piece together the story of what happened. Then in areas governed by regulatory authority under the Commission, efforts can be made to adjust 1953 season dates and bag limits."

Quail wings are collected by hunters, game wardens, sporting goods stores, game technicians and other persons and agencies.

MARINE LAB LURES CROWD

Rockport — The Chief Marine Biologist of the Texas Game and Fish Commission said more than 20,000 persons registered at the Commission's Marine Laboratory here last year.

The Laboratory comprises a collection of marine life specimens and facilities for research, as well as warehouse space for marine equipment and scientific supplies and repair facilities.

The actual registration for 1952 was 20,819, compared with 13,900 for 1951. Since roughly one-third of the visitors failed to register, it was estimated that a total of 30,000 persons actually visited the place in 1952.

Most of the visitors were from Texas. The total was 16,747, including 671 members of

AAA Has Almost 4 Million Members

Washington, D. C. — Already the world's largest motoring federation, with some 750 affiliated clubs and branches, the American Automobile Association is now reaching toward an all-time high membership of 4,000,000 motorists, and expects to attain that goal on or near the end of its nationwide Golden Jubilee celebration on March 4.

Pointing to the complex traffic problems created by the phenomenal increase of motor car ownership and operation in this country, Ralph Thomas, AAA president, said today that American motorists are looking more and more to their motor clubs to provide not only such familiar and essential services as towing, routing and the like, but also to lead them out of the world's worst traffic jam.

The interest of motorists in the basic policies of the American Automobile Association — working toward better roads, for equitable taxes, for fair laws and for other matters aimed at improving motoring and motorists' conditions — has kept pace with the growth of the automobile, Thomas said.

"It took us 35 years to reach our first million members," he pointed out. "Seven and one-half years to reach our second million, three years to build to three million members, and it seems certain that if present trends continue we will reach our four millionth member in one and one-half years — or by spring or early summer of 1953."

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mulroy and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Horton from San Saba were week end visitors in Dallas, also in Paris with Mr. Mulroy's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Campbell. The Hortons are moving to Slaton this week, where he has been transferred.

Mrs. Alma McNutt, who teaches at Stamford came home Friday night and found her mother, Mrs. S. C. McNutt, quite sick. She remained over Monday to help care for her mother, who is 97-years-old. Her daughters, Mrs. J. J. Horner and Mrs. Arthur Casey are alternating in caring for her.

While Dr. Garrett was a patient in the hospital, Mrs. Garrett took the flu and was quite ill at the week end. Their daughter, Mrs. Tommie Starnes and children of Odessa came Sunday. The children returned home and Mrs. Starnes remained until Thursday.

Our Community

By Rev. Harry C. Wigger, Pastor, First Baptist Church (The Editor of the Santa Anna News, John Gregg, following the Lion's Club meeting Tuesday, January 27, 1953, asked me to prepare the talk for publication that I had given at that meeting. The talk was given from a few notes and thus the following was prepared from these notes and from what was said as well as could be remembered.)

My thinking for this talk was started by an article that Lion Woodward gave me to read. I had gone to him to inquire if he had any suggestions for a program, as we were the Program Committee for the Lion's Club meeting today (January 27, 1953). He handed me the magazine "Friends", distributed by Chevrolet dealers, asking me to read the article, "Junk Playground", and then bring the program.

I would like to discuss with you the subject, "Our Community", yours and mine.

As we analyze the word "Community", we can see two words in it, "come" and "unity". We must come together before we can make up a community. There must be "unity" in it before it will be a desirable place in which to live.

A further analysis of the word "unity" shows that it has "u" (you) in it. For it to retain its rightful meaning "u" (you) must stay in it. Right in the middle of the word "unity" is the word "nit". We had better not analyze that word too far, because "I" is in the middle of it and that may mean me. It does take you (u) and me (I) to make up Community.

Are we just playing at this job or are we truly playing the game of Community Life? A golfer had been dubbing his shots. At first, he blamed the clubs and then it was the course. Finally, he said, "This course is no good, that is why I can't play golf." His caddy replied, "Oh, have you been playing golf?" We need to quit playing around and get down to business about this job of living in our community.

May I ask a couple of questions for us to think about? What are we doing for Our Community? What are some of the more recent improvements or developments that have made Our Community a better place in which to live? I would like for you to help in the answer to these questions.

However, before we would discuss these questions let me say a word about flattery. You know it is a good thing for a person to speak flattering words before they point out faults. A young man seemed to be successful in having a number of girl friends. He was asked by his friend how he managed to do so. "I use flattery," he said. "For instance, the other day a fly got into my companion's eye. I said to her, 'I am sorry, but I don't see how a fly could keep from getting into such beautiful eyes.'" His friend tried it out, but it had the wrong results. He was asked what he had said to bring about such results. "Well," he said, "she got a fly in her mouth, and I just said, 'I am sorry, but I don't see how it could miss such a big mouth as yours.'" We need to use caution with our flattery.

Now then, let us name some of the achievements for Our Community. What are they? That's right, the Hospital. A marvelous job is being done and we are grateful for its re-establishment. It is an asset to Our Community, not only as a place we can go to at times of sickness, but it brings others into Our Community. There are people in it right now (January 27, 1953) from Coleman, Burkett, Bangs, Ballinger, Rockwood and Santa Anna.

Our churches could be mentioned. In looking at them from the standpoint of new developments and recent improvements, the building of the Northside Baptist Church and the improvements to the First Methodist Church should be remembered.

Certainly, we would want to mention our schools. We are completing one of the most modern ward school buildings to be found in this part of the country. According to the contractors it is to be completed in about three or four weeks. If you haven't seen it recently, you ought to go by. It's a dandy! The school board should be commended for this marvelous improvement to your Community and mine.

We understand that the new water filtration plant for our city water system should be finished in a day or two. This is another great improvement to Our Community.

The Griffin Turkey Hatchery is called to our attention as one of the most up-to-date hatcheries in the country. People from all around are interested in the development of this hatchery. Even though this is a private business it is an asset to Our Community.

We would mention the improvement made recently to our cemetery by the Santa Anna Garden Club in the erection of the beautiful entrance. There are the improvements to our streets, such as, the grading and fixing them up. We would not want to leave out our Live Stock Show, nor the honors that the F.F.A. Chapter of the Santa Anna High School brought to Our Community in taking so many first awards at the Coleman County Live Stock Show. Perhaps there are other things that we have missed that you could think about, if so, tell about them. We are Texans; we are proud of it; let us brag about what we have. These things are improvements in Our Community.

I want to go on to another question and that is, What can we do to bring more improvements to Our Community? What are some of the things that we need to do?

I may not answer this question just the way you would or that you would want it answered, because it is up to each of us to answer it individually and as a unit for the building up of Our Community. I will say, we can use what we have, things about us. I would like to give this story that Emzy Brown told me following a meeting of the Farm Bureau at Brownwood. A community in one of the states east of us had been flooded. The crops and grain had been washed away and the people were in hard circumstances. They had gathered together to discuss their situation. One of the more fortunate men, who lived up out of the valley, whose barns were full and had not been hurt by the flood, suggested they pray and talk to the Lord about the situation. When he had finished praying, his grandson went to him and said, "Grandpa, if you will give me the keys to your barn, I can help you and God answer that prayer." We need to use what we have at hand to meet the many needs of Our Community.

Here is where I can bring in the article that Jack Woodward handed me. In Copenhagen, Denmark, ten years ago, there was no equipment to set up a playground for the children. The boys and girls played with what they had around. The adults soon realized what the children knew all along, that it is more fun to make it yourself. Copenhagen's 'junk-playground' became a reality. The playground is filled with boards, brinks, boxes, discarded and broken things, wheels, etc. There is nothing like it for building things — houses, cars, caves, tunnels, and whatever else may come to the imagination of a child.

That is exactly what Jim Harris and John Hardy Blue did last summer. They went over to the playgrounds (not a lighted baseball field), got a few balls and bats and some boys together and they had a ball team.

We don't need the finest things in the world but we do need to use the things we have at hand to help our boys and girls and adults.

So let us put you (u) and me (I) in Our Community.

New Texas Road Maps Are Ready

Austin — Texas chalked up another "first" today when the 1953 Texas Official Highway Map was released. D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced.

The new map, featuring "A Look At Texas" theme, is a 100 per cent Texas product. Wood pulp for the paper was grown in East Texas. The paper was made near Houston and the plates and printing were done in Austin.

An encyclopedia of Texas information in itself, the map side provides current and accurate highway information, while the back side has pictures and information on points of interest.

Locations of roadside parks, national and state parks, national forests, mountainous area, lakes and streams, along with other information that will add to the safety, comfort, and pleasure of the traveling public are shown. There are 1,304 cities and towns listed with a cross section of altitudes given. Thirteen enlarged city insets are provided for the convenience of motorists traveling through these major metropolitan areas. Distances are indicated between all points and a special mileage index chart reflects the accumulated official mileage between principal points.

For "A Look at Texas," the back side offers in color some of the outstanding vacation spots. Fishing, horseback riding, picnicking, sailing, and cattle branding scenes suggest places to "go".

Greer announced that the new map is available to the general public for the asking. For the convenience of the public, a special addressed card is available in the County Tax Collector's office upon the registration of your automobile. These map cards will expedite the handling and mailing of the maps, Greer added. The maps are also available free of charge at any Texas Highway Department District office, Travel Information Bureau, or by writing to the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas, Greer concluded.

NEW PROSPECT FOR FARMERS

Many farmers may soon find the grass growing green on their own special asphalt pavements. Not only that, they also may find that they no longer have to battle with the problem of washed-out seedbeds along waterways, banks and terrace outlets.

These prospects are due to three years of successful testing of special asphalt as a protective cover for seedbeds by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The treatment was tried on blue grass, alta fescue, rye grass, redtop, Korean lespedeza and ladino clover, in addition to small grains. All stands came through in fine shape, according to Soils Man H. M. Smith.

Instead of stifling legume-grass seedlings as you might think, the heat-absorbing black film speeds germination. It holds lime, fertilizer, seed and soil firmly in place in the face of drenching rains.

The asphalt, of course, is not a pavement you could drive a car over. It is a thin dry covering, less than one-sixteenth of an inch thick that can be applied with ordinary sprayers. An ordinary garden hose on a farm sprayer works well enough, although needing an occasional cleaning to prevent clogging.

Costs were found to run 5 to 8 cents per square yard, cheaper than straw mulch in many cases. Tester Smith advised two precautions. Asphalt is not a fertilizer or a soil conditioner, so fertilizer must be used with it on poor soils. Asphalt will not hold big clods together, so make sure the seedbed is fine and firm.

This new use for asphalt is one of many for petroleum products that are constantly strengthening the bonds between the oil industry and agriculture.

First Baptist Church News

Before the pastor brought the message last Sunday morning on the subject of "It Is Great To Be A Christian", a special number was brought by Mrs. Walker Tatum, Mrs. Granville England and Mrs. Al Davis. There were three forward at this service, two by letter and one by baptism.

A number of the teachers and officers of the Sunday School are busy at the present time studying books to better prepare themselves for their tasks. The Junior and Intermediate Departments are conducting their studies on Wednesday evenings; the two Adult and Primary Departments have given the first part of this week to their studies.

The pastor is using the "Book of Philliplans" for the basis of his Wednesday evening messages.

The pastor is to speak Sunday, February 8, at the morning service on the subject "A Weak Faith". At the evening service the subject will be "The Big Gamble."

Those visiting with Mrs. R. S. Stearns and Mrs. Gifford over the week end were: Mrs. Marvin Whitley; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Stearns of Ft. Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffin of Brownwood; and Mrs. Clyde Haynes and Kenneth of Santa Anna.

Mr. and Mrs. Neely Evans had lunch Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. M. E. Waller. Mrs. Waller is still confined to her wheel chair but seems to be improving.

Mrs. Ella Stiles went to Fort Worth Tuesday morning for a few days visit with her sister, Mrs. Will Hall and her brothers, the Collier's.

He was married to Pearl Hellman at Standley, Indiana, August 15, 1902. They came to Rockwood in 1903, and lived there, most of the time since coming to Texas.

He became a member of the Church of Christ in about 1906. By trade Mr. Grimm was an expert carpenter.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Pearl Grimm of Rockwood, and 4 sisters: Mrs. Ella McSwane of Rockwood, Miss Minnie Grimm, Wayne, Michigan, Mrs. Pearl Ringham, Standley, Ind., and Mrs. Florence Christmas, Standley, Ind.

Many nephews and nieces also survive.

Rites In Amarillo For Mrs. M. F. Mauldin

Funeral services were held in Amarillo on Thursday of last week at 2:30 p. m. for Mrs. Myrtle Farris Mauldin, well known here. She had met death in a car collision on Monday at 10 a. m. and services had been delayed awaiting relatives from California.

Burial was in the Rockwood cemetery, with Hosch Funeral Home directing.

and Mrs. Jack Bostick.

Those attending from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams and family of McCamey; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Trotter and family of Pecos; Mrs. Bill McSwain and Douglas of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McNeil of Hartford; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mills and family of Coleman; and Mrs. Blanche Harris and family of Santa Anna.

The impact threw her out of the car, she was then run over and died about 10 minutes later of chest injuries.

Members of the family attending were a sister, Mrs. Otis Bivins and Mr. Bivins of Santa Anna; another sister, Mrs. George Dunn, Mr. Dunn and Cleo, her mother, Mrs. J. A. Shamblin, a brother, Dave Shamblin and two nieces, Mrs. Kilmon and Mrs. Bailey Hilton, all of Coleman.

There is one woman in this world who is always glad to see her husband down and out. She's the flier's wife.

They proved she shot her husband at close range, because there were powder marks on him. She contended there were powder marks on him beforehand, and that's why she shot delayed awaiting relatives from him.

Not for Sale
Lesson for February 8, 1953

IF THE modern reader of the parable of the laborers in the vineyard is puzzled, he at least has the comfort of knowing that great Bible scholars have been puzzled too. He also has the discomfort of knowing that no interpretation he can put upon it will have unanimous agreement. To be sure, there are some things it does not mean. This parable does not give a model for labor and management. Jesus was not talking about wages literally. He was saying something about God, and his dealings with man. Furthermore, this parable does not mean that God's only reason for doing things is "because" that he is one whose acts have neither rhyme nor reason. But what does this parable mean? Among the various plausible interpretations that have been given it by Christian thinkers, let us pick out one of the most important truths that this peculiar story suggests.

Nothing to Sell
That truth is: The grace of God cannot be earned. To desire the loving favor, the "grace," of God, is to desire the greatest gift God can bestow. But it cannot be bought. It cannot be earned. We can see that this is true by thinking a moment. Think whose it is: We can pay for business favors, we can tip a waiter or a porter for doing something special for us; but we can't tip God. We can employ the services of all sorts of people; but God's services are not for hire. We can earn anything on earth, or many things; but the grace of God is from heaven. What he does for man is a gift, not a payment. And then think who we are. Suppose we really thought we could do a bookkeeping business with God: If we get it into our foolish heads that he owes us something, what about our debt to him? If we must have it on a bookkeeping basis, we shall always be in the red.

Earning God's Grace

Still, the race of man includes many fools. And some of these have tried to do the impossible, to earn the infinite grace of God. One way they have tried is to buy it. A lifelong rascal's conscience will finally begin to hurt him, and so to get God on his side he will build a cathedral or endow an orphanage or pour money into some church treasury, hoping that God will overlook the villainous ways in which he earned the money because of the pious way in which he spends it. Other men (a little more on the "religious" side) seem to think they can sweet-talk God into being their friend. They would not put it that way; they would say that God will listen to their many prayers. Do they not regularly attend prayer meetings, or early communions, and should not God be expected to do something for them in return?

Others, again, hope that God can be made to feel so sorry for them that he will pour out on them his special grace. If they do not have natural troubles they will make artificial troubles for themselves. They will go without proper food and clothing, they will wear hair shirts or iron chains around their waists, they will roll on beds of spikes or go without baths for years and years. But God's grace does not go to the highest bidders; it does not go to the most long-winded prayers; it is not offered as a reward for self-inflicted wounds. God's grace must be taken as a gift or not at all.

Grace and Gratitude

Then does it make no difference what we do? Will God be just as good to us, no matter what? Shall we even "do evil that grace may abound," that is, shall we make God's grace even more gracious by being as bad as we can be? Not by any means. The truly good life is not a way of earning the grace of God; it is a way of responding to the grace of God.

Some one has said that religion is gratitude. Religion is our response to God, not his to us. Religion is our reply to the infinite goodness of the Almighty, not his reply to our part-way, badly mixed and human goodness. Indeed, the good life is more than a lifelong act of gratitude; the good life itself is the effect of God's grace.

WILL MAY CUT COSTS, RED TAPE IN SETTLING ESTATE
A property drawn will can be the means of short-cutting many legal formalities, and save a great deal of time in distributing the estate of a decedent among his rightful heirs. It may also serve to save many dollars in legal fees and court costs. As an example, whenever a person dies without a will and it is necessary for the probate court to appoint an administrator of his estate, the person so appointed is required to post a bond. This bond is for the purpose of insuring the faithful performance of his duties. When signed by individuals, the amount thereof must be double the estimated value of the personal property of the estate plus a reasonable amount to cover prospective rents and other income from real estate involved.

When issued by a bonding company, the estimated value of the personal property need not be doubled. The administrator's bond must be kept in force until the estate is finally closed and he is discharged from his obligation by the court.

The same rule applies to an executor under a will, unless the testator has specified that no bond shall be required. This provision may be inserted or left out of the will at the option of the maker. Needless to say, there are situations in

NOTE: The following story on a subject which directly affects the whole picture of Texas agricultural economy is by Glenn Shelton, farm editor of the Wichita Falls Record News. His observations are especially appropriate at this time when Texas farmers are preparing for another crop year — John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture.

FUTURE OF TEXAS COTTON

The new red scourge of Texas cotton lands is the pink bollworm. But there seems to be a dangerous tendency on the part of farmers to treat it casually. Farmers have been confronted with so many crises — droughts, other insects, floods, low market, that they fail to see the forest for the trees. They quite understandably don't get excited every time some new "threat" is announced.

But, in my opinion this pink bollworm threat is something to get excited about. It is a real danger to the South's basic industry, and poses perhaps a bigger threat right here in Texas than anywhere else. It could quite conceivably put an end to our rich cotton industry. It is that bad. Entomologists readily agree the worms have multiplied many times over in the past two or three years.

What is the history of this dangerous cotton insect? Well, in 1916, a Mexican cotton grower found an odd kind of worm in his fields. He thought at first it might be the small "grub" of the boll weevil. But he wasn't sure. This particular worm had a pinkish tinge; the well-known weevil grub was distinctly white in color. So the Mexican grower gathered a handful of infested bolls and sent them to insect experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. There the worm made startling news.

Far from being a weevil grub, it was, without doubt, the dreaded pink bollworm — the same worm that had long been ravaging cotton in other parts of the world. This was its first recorded appearance on the North American continent. How did the pink bollworm get into Mexico? No one is sure. But the best guess is that it came from Egypt, where the pest had abounded for years. Egyptian planting seed had been imported into Mexico in 1911, and there's little doubt the pink bollworm moved with it.

The pest kept moving — right up through Mexico and across the Rio Grande River. In 1917, one year after it was spotted in the Laguna district of Mexico, it was found in fields near Hearne, Texas. Here, again, the worm apparently was brought into a non-infested area in seed shipments. That was about 35 years ago.

Since then — despite intensive quarantine and control measures — the pest has fanned out westward into New Mexico, and Arizona, northward into Louisiana. In all, it now occupies at least 261 counties in which farmers plant a total of about 12 million acres of cotton.

J. W. Callaway, of Corpus Christi, in 1950 had a field of late-planted cotton. Before the crop would reach maturity, the pink bollworm infestation reached 90 per cent. He had to destroy the entire crop. This story clearly points up the potential destructiveness of the insect. In 1952 the pink bollworm cost us $34.6 million. In 1942 only about 75 counties were infested. By 1952, the number had jumped to 261. Is that a threat to the cotton industry, or isn't it?

Last year, entomologists found the pink bollworm had doubled and tripled in the Vernon, Wichita Falls, Knox and Haskell County areas. The same occurred in many other areas of the state. If I were a cotton farmer, a ginmer or a cotton oil mill man, I would be concerned.

The cotton business has lost enough of its value the past 10 to 15 years. If the bollworm joins the boll weevil as a force of cotton destructiveness, then we might as well forget the rich crop that made the South the great empire that it is.

James Neal Williams, since completing his basic training at Camp Roberts, California, is still stationed there. He is working in the Supply Office of the Headquarters Division.

which the bond serves a real purpose. But when not needed, the statutory requirement may prove a distinct annoyance to the executor and a burden upon the estate in the form of annual premium payments.

Another example: A court appointed administrator may not sell any property of an estate without an order of the court authorizing him to do so. He must make application to the court for approval of each sale. The court must be advised of and approve the sales price and the manner in which the same is to be collected. Similar provisions apply to the making of mineral leases and other transactions.

These provisions apply equally to the executor of a will, unless the testator has freed him from such requirements. A single short paragraph inserted in a will designating him as an independent executor in appropriate phraseology may serve this purpose. Then he will have a free hand to dispose of property upon short notice whenever a favorable opportunity arises, with a minimum of legal formality.

Since every application or other paper filed with the probate court and every order obtained from the court involves the expenditure of attorney fees for its preparation and court costs for its handling by the clerk, in proper cases many dollars may be saved for the heirs by adequate provisions of a will.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on wills and related matters is under preparation. To reserve your copy, merely print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Austin 15, Texas.

Highlights and Sidelights State CAPITOL

Austin — No husband is legally permitted to be present when his wife is signing a legal document. The theory is that he might unduly influence her.

Some theory! Anyhow it's the law. But women who take an interest in legislative matters are trying to bring about its repeal.

This is one of the dozen projects that attract the interest of women, who have come a long way in establishing themselves around the capital in the last 30 years.

Take it from Mrs. Jane Y. McCulloch, who was secretary of state from 1927 to 1933 — things were a lot different 30 years ago.

Then the women were trying to get the right to vote, but the "suffragettes" were subject to more ridicule than serious consideration from the male lawmakers.

The women were determined, however, and in 1918 Texas became the first Southern state to grant primary suffrage to women.

The difference today is like that between the daguerreotype and television.

Today there are more women than men around the legislative halls.

There are some 200 of them who attend to the members' typing, filing, and other secretarial chores. Not only that, but there also are four feminine lawmakers.

Senator Nevelle H. Colson of Navasota is the first Texas woman to have served in both House and Senate. She was first elected to the House in 1930, served five terms, and was promoted in 1949 to the Senate, where she still serves.

Two women are serving their second terms in the House. They are Mrs. Dorothy Gillis Gurley of Del Rio and Miss Virginia Duff of Ferris.

Miss Duff is thought to be the smallest person ever to serve in the legislature. She is just under five feet tall and weighs 91 pounds. During last summer's campaign her weight went down to 86. Miss Duff says she is "Little but loud."

A freshman member of the House is Miss Anita Blair of El Paso, who lost her sight in an automobile accident in 1934.

Miss Blair has been informed by the American Foundation for the Blind that she is the first blind woman ever to be elected to public office.

Pawn, a 14-year-old seeing-eye dog, accompanies Miss Blair around the capital.

The legislature's present four women members were antedated by Miss Margie E. Neal of Carthage, who was Texas' first woman senator. She was elected in 1927 and served until 1935.

Also by Miss Edith Wilman of Dallas, first Texas woman legislator. She was elected to the House and served in the 38th Legislature.

Some of the measures in which women are interested at this session are those that would:

1. Permit women to serve on juries. A resolution for this purpose has the support of Representatives Horace B. Houston Jr. of Dallas and Lamar Zively of Temple. The resolution, if passed, would result in a vote of the people on a constitutional amendment.

2. Permit women to sell separate property without the consent of their husbands, if the property belonged to the woman before her marriage or was acquired by her through inheritance. Women have long sought this privilege.

3. Abolish the separate acknowledgment requirement for wives. This is the one that chases the husband out of the room while the wife is signing a legal document. Representative D. H. Buchanan of Longview is a supporter of this one.

4. Extend homestead tax exemptions to single persons. Many single women, as well as men, support relatives and should have the exemption the same as married couples, say adherents of this proposal.

5. Keep the motor vehicle inspection law. Officials of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers are behind this proposition. Some changes might be required, the board of managers agreed, to make the law workable. But the P-TA group thought the law ought to be retained.

6. Increase the basic teaching salary to $3,000 per year and give raises to principals and supervisors. This is another goal of the P-TA.

Approved by a house committee was a proposed constitutional amendment that would increase the salaries of legislators from $10 to $25 per day during the first 120 days of the session.

Members would get $5 per day after the first 120 days, the same as at present.

Proposed constitutional changes were introduced in both houses that would lift the present $35 million ceiling on welfare spending.

If passed by both houses and approved by the voters, this measure would permit greater payments to the aged, needy blind, and dependent children.

Two bills were aimed at reducing traffic accidents. Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano introduced one that would impose a minimum five-day jail sentence on drunken drivers.

Representative Thomas R. Joseph Jr. of Waco advocates increasing drivers' license fees and spending the money to hire more highway patrolmen.

Governor Allan Shivers, who owns two newspapers, became a reporter to advocate raising salaries for teachers. Last week many Texas newspapers printed the first of a series of articles, under the Governor's by-line, advocating the increase.

The Texas Prison Board assures the legislature that disaster may result unless $3.5 million are spent for a new prison building at Eastham Farm.

"Intolerable and indecent," the board's report said, and 1,200 prisoners could easily break out of the Brazoria County enclosure and cover the state in 24 hours.

Eventually, the state prison system is expected to become self-supporting.

The governing board reported that the average daily cost of keeping prisoners has decreased from 99 cents to 49 cents in the past five years.

Bronson Morgan of Jasper, a member of the board, said the system will maintain itself as soon as the farm and industrial programs reach maturity.

The state pays out a lot of money every month to rent office space in private buildings around the capital.

Representative Bill Daniel of Liberty wants the state to put up its own office buildings on land, near the capitol, now owned by the state.

If authorized by the legislature, the state would issue $6 million in bonds to construct the buildings.

Daniel says the state's rent bill in Austin now amounts to $250,000 per year.

Plans to rent the land have been temporarily sidetracked.

Representative Thomas R. Joseph of Waco and Curtis Ford Jr. of Corpus Christi offered a resolution to give Missouri to the national military establishment, "for such use as they see fit, if any use can be found."

The idea was to get back at Former-President Truman for giving away Texas' tidelands.

The whole thing was a joke, but speaker Reuben Senterfitt solemnly declared that the resolution concerned broad legislative policy.

He referred it to the Committee on Federal Relations.

A large part of the Buffalo news is collected by Mr. Schulze and his school children. I believe Mr. Schulze makes it a part of their English work. If you have a news item please send it to Mr. Schulze by Monday as Jean Bouchillon brings it to me on Monday evening. There are four "W's" to remember when sending in an item. They are: Who (correct name), Where (they are from), When (date of visit or event), and Why (reason for visit). I would very much like for this to be as near as possible a complete news coverage of the entire community and if I don't see you please hand your news noted to Mr. Schulze or give it to one of the school children and I'll do my best to send it in.

Here are some notes that I failed to get in time to send in last week:

Mrs. Frances Baker and Eugene Casey are visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Casey.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Mitchell has been moved to Brownwood. This move was made in order that Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell might be near their children. The Mitchell's health is reported improved.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Schulze and Wilfred Ray attended the funeral of Pete Cooper Saturday, January 24th, at Rockwood.

Mrs. S. D. Wilson cooked for the school children Friday, January 23rd, due to the illness of Mrs. E. Z. Casey. We are glad to report Mrs. Casey is better and able to be back this week.

The Santa Anna H. D. Club will meet Friday, February 6th with Mrs. D. H. Moore, when a program on Nutrition will be given. Members expected and visitors welcome.

Mrs. R. L. Brooks of Lubbock visited last week with her mother, Mrs. Pearl Lovelace and Ilean. Mrs. Lovelace has not been well of late, but gets about some.

Miss Christel Vanderford and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Peavy of Corpus Christi came by Tuesday morning and visited briefly with Mr. and Mrs. Vanderford. They were reuniting home, after attending their father, J. A. Vanderford's funeral in Coleman Monday.

They call 'em jitterbugs, but they're not. They're just human beings acting like insects.

Eventually, the state prison system is expected to become self-supporting.

The governing board reported that the average daily cost of keeping prisoners has decreased from 99 cents to 49 cents in the past five years.

Bronson Morgan of Jasper, a member of the board, said the system will maintain itself as soon as the farm and industrial programs reach maturity.

The state pays out a lot of money every month to rent office space in private buildings around the capital.

Representative Bill Daniel of Liberty wants the state to put up its own office buildings on land, near the capitol, now owned by the state.

If authorized by the legislature, the state would issue $6 million in bonds to construct the buildings.

Daniel says the state's rent bill in Austin now amounts to $250,000 per year.

Plans to rent the land have been temporarily sidetracked.

Southwest School Of Printing Winter Class To Enroll Monday, February 9th

A new class will begin February 9 at the Southwest School of Printing in Dallas for young people of Texas and other states in the Southwest interested in learning a profitable trade. It has been announced by Robert Gleason, School Registrar.

Courses offered by the non-profit institution, which is owned and operated by the publishers and printers of the Southwest, include a 16-month course in general printing. In this course, the youth interested in making printing his career is taught hand composition, presswork, bindery principles, and machine composition.

More and more young men of the Southwest are learning trades today than ever before," Gleason pointed out. "This is true because there is an increasing demand in this area for skilled labor and also because such skilled craftsmen in many instances receive higher pay than so-called white collar workers."

The registrar of the Southwest School of Printing said that more than 260 young men have graduated from the School's General Printing course in the past six years, and now are occupying well-paid jobs in newspapers and commercial printing plants throughout the Southwest.

The School annually receives many more requests for graduates to fill jobs in the area's printing shops than it has graduates.

It also was pointed out that the average weekly income of production workers in printing plants in Texas is higher than that of all other manufacturing industries except one and is considerably higher than the general average income of workers in all manufacturing industries in the state.

The School will accept registrations from men with a minimum of one year's printing experience, or its educational equivalent, who want to enter a specialized course in machine composition.

Those interested in receiving more information about the school's training program are urged to write the registrar of the Southwest School of Printing, 3800 Clarendon Dr., Dallas, Texas.
