Driver License Exams in Coleman on November 18

Public Safety Official To Conduct Tests At Court House Next Thursday

Austin, Nov. 12.—Two driver's license examiners of the Department of Public Safety will be in Coleman on Thursday, November 18th, to conduct tests for drivers applying for their license, according to Col. H. Carmichael, director of the public safety department.

Establishing headquarters at the County Court House the uniformed officers will give the examinations every Thursday of each week from 10:00 A. M. to 1:00 p. m. In applying for the driving tests the applicant must furnish his own vehicle or one he proposes to operate after he secures a license, the safety director pointed out.

Examinations will be held for Brown County residents in Brownwood at the County Court House every Thursday from 2:30 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. (effective after Nov. 15th).

After oral quizzes are completed each applicant will be required to drive his car or truck over a designated route under the supervision of one of the trained examiners. During the drive the operator must demonstrate the use of his foot and hand brakes, stop for signals and perform other acts necessitated in ordinary traffic situations. Before the actual driving test is made the examiners will quiz the license applicants on safety regulations and signals, highway laws and make tests of their eyesight and hearing. Any physical deformities will be recorded on a grade card.

Not only will driver's license applicants be examined as to their ability to handle a vehicle with safety, but the vehicle itself will be tested for defects in brakes, horn, lights, rear-view mirror, and windshield wiper.

If a driver proves his ability to operate his vehicle with care and safety he will immediately receive his license at the examination headquarters. If a passing grade is not made after the test is completed, an instruction permit card will be issued which requires the applicant to return at a later date for another examination. Examiners of the Safety Department estimate that a complete test can be given in 12 minutes.

Truck, bus, and other commercial vehicle drivers will be issued licenses divided into three classes, A, B, and C, according to the type of vehicle to be operated. Passenger and school bus drivers are issued a permit bearing a special endorsement of the Department.

Col. Carmichael urged that drivers seeking their licenses verse themselves in safety regulations, rules of the highway and the mechanical operations of their vehicles in preparation for the tests.

Mountaineers To Challenge Bangs Friday, Nov. 12

By News Sports Writer

Tonight out under the lights at Mountaineer Stadium the Fighting Bunch of Mountaineers take on their old rivals, the terrible dragons from Bangs. This is one game that the local club should take, but they should not be misled from the poor showing that the Bangs Club has made so far this season, once in every season a poor team is due to click and they always rise up and smite some stronger foe. The Bangs club is noted for such doings, and it would not be a miracle if they should do such a thing tonight. They will be playing inspired football, for the season is drawing to a close, and as yet they have not won a game, and they will be fighting with all their might to break into the win column before the final curtain falls on this 1937 season.

The local club should be in fair playing condition for tonight's contest. Arnold (Dog) Richards has not fully recovered from knee injuries that he received in the Brady game, and it is a certainty that he will not start, but should the going get too rough he will be rushed in at any time. At his old guard post will be L. M. Guthrie, sophomore who played so brilliantly against Rising Star last week. At the other guard will be his brother, M. L. Guthrie, who also turned in a neat ball game last Friday. At the tackles will be Damon Jackson and Joe Ray Stapleton or Burton Gregg who has been running at the tackle position all week instead of his regular half back post. The wingmen will be Charlie Wristen and Oscar Hill.

In the Mountaineer secondary will be H. L. Lackey at quarter, at the halves will be Reid and Nichols or Oakes, who has performed beautifully since getting started for training. Fullback will be Captain Bo Brewer who seems to be rounding into shape again after his recent illness, and who is due to turn in a great game.

From all accounts this should develop into the best game played on the local gridiron this season, and should be a treat to all the fans.

Turkey Price Drops Slightly

IN THE DISTRICT COURT, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, 119th JUDICIAL DISTRICT

The State of Texas to the Sheriff or any Constable of Coleman County—GREETING: YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Coleman once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon Cecil May Burke whose residence is Texas, but who is now absent from the State of Texas, and her present whereabouts are unknown, to be and appear at the next regular term of the 119th District Court of Coleman County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in the City of Coleman, on the first Monday in January A. D. 1938, the same being the 3d day of January A. D. 1938, then and there to answer Plaintiff's First Amended Original petition filed in said Court on the 4th day of November A. D. 1937, Plaintiff's Original Petition filed herein on the 7th day of September, A. D. 1937, in a suit numbered on the Docket of said Court, No. 5721-B wherein F. M. Burke is plaintiff, and Cecil May Burke, Dr. I. W. Jenkins and Mrs. I. W. Jenkins, are Defendants; the nature of plaintiff's demand being substantially as follows, to-wit: Plaintiff's suit and the nature of his cause of action is for divorce against the defendant, Cecil May Burke, and for the care, custody and control of their minor daughter, Barbara Dell Burke; plaintiff alleging in substance that he is a bona fide inhabitant of Texas and has been for more than one year next preceding the filing of his petition and a resident citizen of Coleman County, Texas, and has been for more than six months next preceding the filing of his petition; plaintiff also alleging in substance that the defendants, Dr. I. W. Jenkins and Mrs. I. W. during the remainder of the day. A short business session will be held following the breakfast for the election of officers for the coming year and for discussion of plans for the coming year. Reservations are now being made for the breakfast, and Mrs. Mattie G. Roberts Ward, faculty member in charge of this phase of the reunion, says that she is more than pleased with the response from the exes.

A special chapel service will be held at the school beginning at eleven fifteen. Rev. Ben H. Moore, vice-president of the ex-students, will have charge of the program. Another member of the group of alumni, James C. White, editor of the Brownwood Bulletin, will be the principal speaker on the morning program.

Mrs. Fielding Early and Mrs. J. W. Taber, ex-students and ardent supporters of Daniel Baker, will honor ex-students with a rainbow tea from three to five o'clock Saturday afternoon. All students, their parents, and ex-students have been requested to be in attendance during the afternoon. The tea is to be held at the home of Mrs. Taber.

The outstanding feature of the day will be the presentation at eight o'clock in the evening of the Daniel Baker Billies in their annual homecoming conflict with the Abilene Christian College Wildcats. Added interest will be manifest, since it was the Wildcats who defeated the Billies last November 13 and kept them from a championship in football. In a special mid-game attraction, Miss Mary Elizabeth Wilson of Temple, 1937-38 campus sweetheart of the college will be presented to the public for the first time.

All students and faculty members are busily engaged in making preparations for the entertainment of the visitors, who are coming from all parts of the state to attend the gathering at Daniel Baker.

Barbecue Held at Park for Dads of Local F. F. A. Boys

Over 100 F. F. A. boys and their guests enjoyed a Father and Son entertainment at the Texas Ranger Park Monday evening when the F. F. A. boys named their fathers honor guests at a barbecue. A. D. Pettit, sponsor, assisted the boys in entertaining.

Other guests besides the fathers were also invited. Rep. Ross Prescott of Brownwood, former teacher in the high school here, was one of the chief speakers for the occasion. He spoke on "Soil Conservation." Introduction was made by Buddy Lovelady.

Supper of barbecue, bread and pickles was served at this annual entertainment, which heretofore has been in the form of a formal banquet.

Billie Mulroy Is Party Host For Bill Childers

Honoring Bill Childers, who left last week to make his home in Shreveport, Billy Mulroy was host to a group of young friends Saturday, October 30 for a Halloween party.

The home was "spooky" in Halloween decorations with black cats and witches placed over the living room. Jack O'-Lanterns were placed over the lights and balloons floated on the ceiling lending a festive air to the home.

All guests arrived in costumes appropriate for the occasion and then all started out with lighted Jack O'Lanterns for a "spooking" trip over town. Upon their return they ducked for apples and gave Halloween tricks and played games.

Refreshments of popcorn, Halloween punch, Halloween cookies decorated to resemble spooky faces, were served. Plate favors were black cats and orange witches.

Those present to enjoy this courtesy were Hal Sauder, Hal Hill, Webb Golston, John Hardy Blue, Bill Jack Teague, Roy Lee Teague, the honoree, Bill Childers, and the host, Billy Mulroy.

BOOST THE BAND Editorial

Here comes the band! This is a slogan that we have heard a great deal of lately. Almost every school of any size at the present day has a band. A school band helps to bring out the spirit of the school as well as the city. Everyone enjoys the music and drills. Whenever the band of our home town is passing, we are always ready to give it a hearty applause. We are proud to see our friends and students do well.

Everyone should show his appreciation for the band and support it in every manner possible. Our greatest desire is for our band to be better than any other and its success depends on the cooperation of the student body and city.

Eighty New Books

The high school library received eighty new books during the past week, among which are "Great Expectations" by Dickens; "The Glorious Adventure" by Halliburton; "Last Days of Pompeii" by Lytton; "To Have and To Hold" by Johnston; "The Broad Highway" by Farnol; "White Fang" by London; "Les Miserables" by Hugo; "Last of the Pagans" by Melville and many other very interesting books.

The Santa Anna High School appreciates them very much. Let's show our appreciation by keeping the rules of the library.

Mr. Scroggins Speaks in Chapel

The student body had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Scroggins lecture Friday. His subject was "Crime Does Not Pay." He was in a position to know since he had lived as a criminal for 22 years in order to gain information. He has been tried seven times, twice for bank robbery, once for murder and for several other things.

He presented his lecture very forcibly. He told of the methods of punishment in the State Penitentiary. He also mentioned several cases. The students are not likely to forget this for some time to come.

Mr. Pettit presented fifty-six letters in chapel. The students are very proud of their letters and SAHS is proud of the students. We congratulate them.

Mr. Little: M. L., how did you come to mark Mace's paper 101 per cent? Don't you know that nothing can be more perfect than 100 per cent?

M. L. Guthrie: Yes, but Mace answered one question you didn't ask.

Mr. Wallis Attends Band Convention

Mr. Wallis, our local band director, attended the Band and Orchestra Convention at Austin in the University Junior High School Auditorium.

Mr. Wallis attended the Convention three days. Some very famous musicians were there. A one hundred and twenty five piece band was used for demonstration. It was a pick band with musicians from all over the state.

Band Not to Take Plan of Physical Training Period

According to information received in a letter from the State Department of Education, Band Drill does not take the place of regular physical training period as soon as students have heretofore believed. The reason for this is that a credit is given in band and physical education is required, eradicating substitution of band drill for regular physical training. All students should comply with this announcement and report to assigned physical training period unless they have a doctor's certificate stating that they are unable physically to take exercise.

Mountaineer Staff Invited to Join TSPA

The Mountaineer staff received a letter October 20 from the Texas State College for Women, Denton, asking the staff to join the Texas School Press Association. Each year there is a convention. Members of this association send delegates and various phases of high school journalism are discussed. The cost to join this club is three dollars the first year and two dollars following years. This is a worth while organization. Come on and let's back our school and make "The Mountaineer" a good paper.

Pep Squads Give Drills Friday Night

What a coincidence! Santa Anna and Rising Star pep squads gave the same drill last Friday night, only they were formed a little differently. The Rising Star girls carried footballs on the field. The Santa Anna girls formed a football, the lights were turned out and flashlights carried by the girls, were turned on.

Mr. Scarborough Buys New Music For The Band

The band sincerely appreciates the kindness of Mr. Scarborough in buying new music for the band. The new numbers are: a new arrangement of "Invercargie"; "On Wisconsin"; "The Eyes of Texas" and "March-De Molay Commandery."

covered with dust. They go about the country, and people are compelled by their religious law to give to them) also lepers and babies too young to have the sacred thread tied on are all thrown into the Ganges. And people drink the water as a religious rite! But they have no conception of sanitation and cleanliness.

Some weeks ago I went to a village with two of the missionaries. We stopped near a Hindu temple which had several big trees around it. The trees were full of monkeys which are not really wild because people feed them as a sacred animal. Near the temple was the Hindu village tank. At one side are steps leading down to the water. On these steps were two women getting water in brass pots, probably for kitchen use, one man washing his clothes, two men taking a bath and one man washing his teeth. At the other side of the tank was a cowherd with his herd of cows and water buffalo. They were standing in the water drinking, and he stood in the water and was washing one cow by pouring water over her. And it is quite the thing to drink water from this tank.

Hindus and Mohomedans do not drink from the same tank or well.

One day in early spring (spring lasts about two weeks between winter and hot weather) a few of us with several of the men and women Indian Christians, went to a village to give a "jalsa" to the Christians there to encourage and cheer them up. At these julas hymns are sung and a few of the men talk. The whole village, Mohomedans and Hindus, come and crowd around and listen.

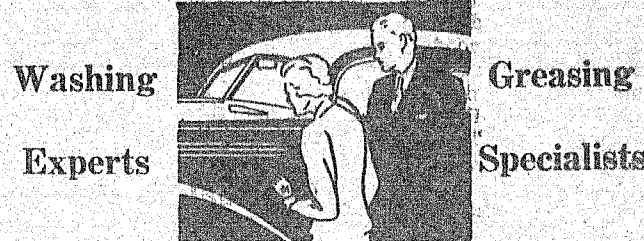

The children who were squatting on the ground around us, (cots were brought out for us to sit on) had their hands full of a vine weed with fat round heads on them, and they pulled them off and ate them. Mrs. Ahrens reached over for a bean and tasted it and at once the little girl who held the vines dashed them to the ground at her feet. If she had kept them and eaten them her caste would have been taken away. And these were very low caste Hindus, too.

This has been a good crop year and in this part of the country, everyone is prosperous. The wheat and barley has just been cut. It is cut by the little round cycle, laid on the ground and bound by hand, as it thousands of years ago, the sweeper women of the lages "follow the reapers" (Continued on page five)

HAVE YOU ever thought how little the Pilgrims actually had for which to give thanks? How infinitely more blessed are we of today! But it was those brave souls who, through love for home and family, made Thanksgiving Day a national institution—a day for reflection on our domestic bliss. And our blessings have increased year after year until 1937 finds many thousands of West Texans possessed of all-electric homes... enjoying the Electrical Standard of Living. It is a mode of life—comfort and ease—undreamed by the Pilgrims. Its adoption has been swift in West Texas, so swift that this Thanksgiving finds a larger percentage of West Texans living in electrical security than do average Americans. We live better because every man who ever loved his family has sought to provide the advantages of Electric Service.

Letter Written by Miss Boyd From India 25 Years Ago Tells of Missionary Experiences

War in the Far East has aroused interest in all of the countries west of the United States. Among these countries is India, where Miss Lena Boyd, Presbyterian missionary, now at Santa Anna on furlough, lives and teaches the way to Christian living. Miss Boyd has spoken before many church groups and club organizations since her visit here, the third in twenty five years of service in India. She was recently presented with an award for her twenty-five years of service.

Below we are reprinting a letter published in the Santa Anna News shortly after it was written in May 14, 1913. It was one of the first letters to the home folks written by Miss Boyd when she first went to India. Many of the same conditions still exist today as they did at that time, which shows the great patience which the missionaries must exercise to trying to teach people who do not readily change new ideas for old.

Kasauli, India, May 14, 1913.

Kasauli is a hill town in the foothills of the Himalayas, where the mission has two houses for missionaries during the hot weather. There are two or three other places where it also has houses. The rainy season is from July to September, tho it varies in different parts of the country. That is the hottest time. The schools have their vacation in August and September, and during this time the missionaries take their vacation and go to the hill. They get from four to six weeks vacation, the unmarried women from six to eight weeks. Married women with children go to the hills for three or four months on account of the children.

The first year in the country when new workers are learning the language they can go also, for the whole summer, as one can study in one place as well another, for this reason, we who came out last fall are indulging in hill cohnness for all summer. Next year we shall have work and responsibility and can not have a long vacation. The other new ones have all gone to Landour.

I am in a house on a mountain side with two families. It was getting very hot in the plains before the first of May, and we were compelled to keep the houses well closed during the day to keep out the hot air "Punkahs" are kept going all day. And during the hottest season when the nights are hot also, they are kept going all night so people can sleep. These punkahs are strips of matting nearly as long as the room, swung on poles, and then swung to hooks in the ceiling, a rope is attached and passes thru a hole in the wall and an Indian man or woman, sits on the porch and pulls it back and forth, thus creating a breeze.

The schools begin at six o'clock during summer and out at 12:30. This gives the men and women who work in schools a chance to stay indoors during the evening while it is so hot.

The schools for the Indian workers. These last about a month. All the men and women who work in the villages during the winter are gathered into one station in the district and taught Bible and methods of work. This insures better work by these workers among their own people. But there are too few workers for the great number of people, and one worker usually has several small villages to look after and can not give them the service they need. And when there are a few Christians in a small village, it is hard for them, because of the heathen people around them, and no one to keep teaching them.

Do you remember the leper boy I wrote about, who had such a bad cough, the leprosy having gone into his lungs, that he could not speak above a whisper? You may be glad (I was) to hear of his death about a month ago. A man has some kind of service every day for the lepers, and they often become Christians. Of course they are cut off from their families, so it is not so hard for them to break off. Two months before this boy died he was baptized, having been there about three years and wishing to be a Christian.

Dr. Marston told me of a Hindu woman's death which she witnessed, as she was attending the case. When they saw she was nearly dead they took her off the bed and laid her on the ground floor, as they do not believe in having anything between the ground and a dying person.

They called the oldest boy, a child of seven years, and had him hold her head in his lap. Then poured some dirty water from the Ganges into a brass cup and gave her to drink. Mohomedans bury their dead, but Hindus always burn. When they are not near a creek or river, they burn just outside the town. The finger nails and toe nails are saved and sent to be thrown into the Ganges. Holy beggars (half naked with body and long matted hair

Home Demonstration Notes

Our Farm Homes Being Improved Inside and Outside

Reports from county home demonstration agents indicate that West Texas farm home makers are improving their homes both inside and outside. The home demonstration club women of Pecos county are working on bedspreads, linen pillow cases, light-weight warm covers, pillow tops, sheets long enough for comfort and convenience, and dresser scarfs. Wool filled quilts and comforts are being studied and made in many of the clubs, using both home-washed wool and ready carded batts, and using soft cotton materials for the covering.

valve of entertaining in my yard rather than in the house," said Miss Myrtle Younglove, co-operator in the Rae-Echo home demonstration club in Coleman county. Miss Younglove and Mrs. Minnie Porter, her sister, have completed an outdoor living room as one of their goals for the year. They have arranged an inviting living room in their back yard where they have a brightly painted table and some chairs which they painted and repaired themselves. Their only cost was for the paint.

MISS INEZ McIVER IS INTERESTED SECOND YEAR YARD DEMONSTRATOR

"Work in the yard is something which can be carried out over a number of years and grows more interesting each year," said Miss Inez McIver, second year yard demonstrator in the Trickham Home Demonstration Club. "And one cannot imagine what has been done unless you saw our yard before we began work. When we started about two years ago, the cellar was in the front yard almost directly in the front of the front door, so one of the first things we did was to move the cellar to the back yard."

Also, during the first year as yard demonstrator, Miss McIver planted the foundation plantings around the house, and the screen plantings at the sides to hide the view of the garage and fields. The rose garden was set out, and an outdoor living room arranged under the grape arbor. This year Miss McIver has worked on the lawn. The yard was slightly sloping and therefore the top soil was thin and of poor quality. A low retaining wall about six inches high was built around the yard and the yard was filled with rich new soil. The wall which was made of native rock will serve to hold the new soil. The yard was then sodded and planted with grass which now makes a smooth grassy lawn. The walks were made of large native rocks.

Mrs. Barnes expressed herself as being very much satisfied at the quality of work that the girls have done and the improvement in their posture and grooming.

District winners who also entered the State contest were: Mildred Scott, Rt. 1, Amarillo, Potter county; Jewel Gibson, Box 293, Littlefield, Lamb county; Dorothy Laughon, Jay, Clay county; Jessie Helen Stone, Ivanhoe, Fannin county; Opal Stone, Hawley, Jones county; Lottie Helen Sealey, Salado, Williamson county; Helen Holcomb, Rt. 4, Jacksonville, Cherokee county; Katherine Stein, Seguin, Guadalupe county.

Announcement of winners in the State 4-H club girls' canned products and judging contest was made at College Station by Miss Grace I. Neely, food preservation specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. First place went to Anna Lee Foster of Johnson county who scored 290 points out of a possible 300. Under the five classes in which more than one-half of the 30,000 4-H club girls in Texas were entered, the following girls scored high: Poultry, Katherine Shaw, Parker county; Leafy, Green, and Yellow Vegetables, Eunice Bell, Potter county; Vegetables Other than Leafy, Green, and Yellow, and Tomatoes, Maurie Phaup, Smith county.

Points in the contest were based on the girl's ability to judge a good can of food which rated 200, and the quality of the products she herself had canned, which rated 100, Miss Neely said. The highest rating was given to ability to judge quality, because the authorities believe that if people can judge quality they can bring the quality of their own products up to good standards.

Letter Written (continued from page four) gather up the bits of loose wheat, just as Ruth did in the field of Boaz, and at evening I often met them on the road returning home with the bundles of wheat on their heads, the fruit of the day's labor. The wheat fields are small but not as small as the cotton fields. When I first came the cotton was still in the fields. Each patch was an acre or perhaps a little more or less. The stalks grow very thin and tall and do not look much like cotton, and have very few boles, small knotty things. Down country I have heard it is grown on a larger scale.

The person who was picking the cotton put it in the end of his head scarf (a long cloth wound round) or in the skirt of his loose shirt.

Oxen are used for plowing, and they pull the wooden plow, one beam going from the yoke between the oxen, another going into the ground as you see pictures of plows in oriental countries. There are no fences. The little fields are separated by footpaths or perhaps a ridge or earth.

Farmers do not live on their farms. They live in the villages and go from there to their fields. There are villages every few miles, very small. Usually in these villages the people are of same trade e. g. all are weavers or tanners, or sweepers etc. Tanners are considered very low because they deal with hides. Leather is very corrupting, that is why sightseers are made to pull off their shoes before going into a temple.

Hindus do not eat meat, and Mohammedans do not eat hog meat.

The greatest insult to a Mohammedan is to call him a pig. Indians will not take a life. The Jains will not kill insects. That may account for the great number of creeping things.

Animals past their usefulness, and sick or crippled ones are turned out without food or treatment. Dogs are not cared for, but not killed. Tiny puppies are thin and starved, and everywhere are thin, mangy dogs that are allowed to die in the streets by the dozens. Good looking dogs are very rare.

Ever since I have been here we have had an abundance of nice fresh vegetables and usually some kind of fruit, but now vegetables are getting scarce and during hot weather there will be very little.

Indians use everything. Nothing is wasted. They stew and eat all kinds of weeds. They even eat alfalfa, wild mint and parsley. The only thing I've heard of them not eating is a small bitter wild cherry that covers the hill sides. Vegetables are cheap, but canned goods are high. We can get almost any kind of canned American fruits and vegetables but pay high for them.

I am afraid I have repeated some things. I do not know just what I wrote before, and hope I'll be forgiven if I've repeated.

SANTA ANNA DEFEATED BY RISING STAR 32-12

By News Sports Writer

Last week end the fighting Santa Anna Mountaineers went down in defeat before the rugged Rising Star Wildcats by a score of 32-12. The Mountaineers offense seemed to work better in this fracas than in the past, and they scored twelve points on a team that has been an outstanding defensive team all season. It seems that the local eleven cannot seem to get both defense and offense working at the same time, for while their offense was working their defense was blown sky high.

This game produced many thrills and the Mountaineers opened up their offensive tactics with a fifty yard sprint around end by Captain Bo Brewer on the first play of the game. The ball rested on the enemy 25 when Brewer was finally caught from behind, but here the Mountaineers bogged down, and were unable to go any farther. The Wildcats scored twice in the first half, once on a very smoothly executed play where the tailback faded back to pass, and the line let all the defensive linemen through to chase the man with the ball, and he dropped a neat pass over their heads to a man in front of them. This play was good for about thirty yards and a touchdown. After this the Mountaineers came to life, and started an aerial game that carried them to pay dirt in about six plays. The home club took the ball off their own fifteen and in six complete passes had their first score just as the half ended.

In the second half the Mountaineers defense seemed to fold up and the Wildcats amassed three more touchdowns while they were scoring only one, again on a dazzling bit of aerial display. For the Wildcats Smith, the great line backer for the Rising Star team was the defensive standout. This boy is the best line backer seen in this district, and all of the hot shots of the leading clubs have been viewed in action. Smith is a 175 pound lad that is a vicious tackler, and is very adept at diagnosing enemy plays. He was in on about ninety percent of all the Wildcats defensive plays.

The land sold and houses were soon built. Soon all the land was made up of farms. A few years later Major gave a picnic on his birthday and everybody from far and near were invited. In the house and on the porches he had barrels of ice water and lemonade. He had to order the ice from Brownwood. He called me and told me to get some of my best friends and go through the door. That he had something there for us. Vertie Weaver and I went in there. There was a table with a small stone jar and a tall one. Mrs. L. L. Shield and her brother Homer Hubert were there. Major told Homer to give the ladies the little Sanguaree and save the big one for the men. Vertie nor I had ever tasted a sangaaree. We drank it and went out and cooled our heads. The Mahoney family moved to the state of Washington where he died and the last we heard the family is still there. They were fine people.
