TWISTED MENTALITY BLAMED FOR CRIME

AIRMEN HOP OVER ICELAND TO REYKJAVIC

Weather Conditions Unfavorable for Next Lap to Shore of Greenland.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 5.—Lieutenants Smith and Nelson flew their American round-the-world flight planes from Horna Fjord to Reykjavik today, landing safely at 3:15 p. m. The planes settled in the bay here after a 310-mile flight along the coast of Iceland, with men and planes in good condition and ready to go on to Greenland. They will make the next hop as soon as destroyer and cruiser convoys signal that all is ready and the weather is favorable.

ON BOARD UNITED STATES CRUISER RICHMOND, Horna Fjord, Iceland, Aug. 5.—The American round-the-world flight was resumed today by Lieutenants Smith and Nelson, who hopped off at 9:15 a. m. Today's lap will be from Horna Fjord, skirting the coast of Iceland to Reykjavik, the capital.

The little naval flotilla guarding the route swung into position, the cruiser Raleigh acting as station agent, the Billingsley going to Portland and the Reid to a point 20 miles off Reykjavik, while the Richmond, the flagship, is due at the flyers' destination at 2 p. m.

Conditions appeared good for flying over the 210 miles to Reykjavik, but the weather conditions between Iceland and Greenland, to which the flyers will hop on the next lap, today appeared most unfavorable.

BARON PLANS HIS WEDDING BY RADIO.

When the liner George Washington was nearing New York Captain Harold Cunningham received a wireless message, asking if he would officiate at a wedding at Quarantine. The message was from Baron Adelbert von Gontard, grandson of Adolphus Busch, millionaire St. Louis brewer, who boarded the liner from a customs boat to greet his fiancée, Baroness Susanne von Schilling. As the liner was in territorial waters a license was necessary, so the wedding was delayed. Then the Baron telegraphed the New York City Marriage License Bureau to keep open until the ship docked. This was done, the license issued, and the wedding solemnized. The Baron intends to become an American citizen.

ASSASSINATION OF RANCHWOMAN DUE TO JUNTA

Mexico City Newspaper Says It Part of Plot Embarrass Obregon Government.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 5.—Four of the agrarist bandits who shot and killed Mrs. Rosalie Evans, woman ranch owner and a British subject, were captured by federal scouts yesterday and summarily executed, according to advices received here. Mrs. Evans was murdered while returning to her ranch in Puebla and the payroll for the ranch hands was stolen.

The government is showing activity in investigating the tragedy, believing it to have been inspired by political plotters. The assassination of Mrs. Evans was planned in San Antonio, Texas, the newspaper El Sol, says, intimating the crime was part of a plan of one of the revolutionary juntas to embarrass the Obregon government.

American Consular Agent Jenkins has arrived in Mexico City from Puebla to make his report.

GREAT BRITAIN KEEPING RIGHT ON MEXICO'S TRAIL

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Patrick Cannon in the house of commons this afternoon asked Prime Minister Macdonald if the charge de affairs of the United States in Mexico had reported on the assassination of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, and if he had made a demand for reparations. ### PROPERTY DAMAGE IN STORM STRIKING OHIO APPEARS VERY HEAVY

FIRPO SHOULD WIN IF RULES ARE OBSERVED

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Fistic treats, such as the Firpo-Wills match would seem to promise, so often disintegrate into thin air for one reason or another, that it is a relief to see everything indicate that the proposed bout will come off on schedule.

The big black already is in training, and Firpo, although he brought considerable avoidpous, together with his other troubles, along with him from South America, lost little time in making tracks for a gymnasium and showing his wares.

Particularly proud is Senor Firpo of his new left hand. Although he complains occasionally of rheumatism in his port elbow, he never loses an opportunity to point with pride to his new-found weapon of offense.

If the South American really can work up a snappy left-hand punch, even if it is only good for jabbing and leading, and if the referee is as good at making his left arm down as on the occasion of the negro's bout with Bartley Madden, Firpo should take the dusky heavyweight's measure.

Wills, it will be recalled, showed against Madden a woeful lack of ability to fight without holding. He is quick, agile and powerful, and if permitted to clamp his left arm down upon his opponent's wrist and flail away with his own right, he is a dangerous man for anyone to meet, even Dempsey. But forced to stand off and fight in the open, Wills looked bad against the game little Irishman who won so much glory that night over in Long Island City by standing up to the negro for 15 rounds.

It is doubtful if Wills could stand up under the punishment conveyed by the "Wild Bull's" right. Harry has an excellent defense, and might well weather the storm for a good many rounds, but Firpo has shown an indomitable toughness and ability to keep hammering away, and sooner or later it seems certain he would wear Wills down.

Just now, the Argentine champion is fat, but he will have no difficulty in getting into condition. He talked of fighting a couple of "set-ups" before meeting the ex-stevadore, but Tex Rickard had the final say as to that.

Firpo is nothing if not confident. He feels that he should have beaten Dempsey when they met, and has one or two alibis. He professes to hold Wills rather lightly, and to regard the match as a stepping-stone to a return bout with Jack Dempsey.

The latter's injuries may have further postponed the date of his return to the ring; certainly it is not likely he will be seen in action before the outdoor season of 1925.

It was the prospect of a bout with Dempsey this year, however, which lured Firpo from South America, the Argentine said.

FLAMING CIRCLE KNIGHTS CLASH WITH KLANSMEN

Upwards of 1,000 persons are said to have participated in the melee.

The fight resulted when hundreds of the opposing organizations met in the streets. Sticks were used at first and then bricks and clubs were resorted to by some. Deputies from Warren, near here, were called in and assisted the Niles police in breaking up the riot.

Klansmen who were instrumental in electing Mayor Kistler and Police Chief Pound in the last election, said that members of the Flaming Circle have sought to oust the mayor and police chief through appeals to Governor Donahay.

GERMANS ENTER CONFERENCE IN HOPEFUL MOOD

Replying in these words to the speech of welcome by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Chancellor Marx of Germany, urged optimism and good feeling at the inter-allied reparations conference. The replies were spontaneous and enthusiastic and the conference adjourned with the delegates in high spirits.

UNDESIRABLE BACHELORS FOUND AMONG BIRDS

NEW YORK.—Just why there should be so many unattached adults available among birds has always been a mystery. Some have lost their mates through one of the many calamities that constantly threaten the lives of birds, but the majority can be accounted for only by the failure of a certain number of males to secure suitable breeding territory, thus leaving a wandering retinue of unmated birds of each sex.—The Mentor for August.

LOEB HAS VERY DISEASED MIND SAYS ALIENIST

Defense Witness Presents Twisted Emotions and Mental Life of Defendant.

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, Chicago, Aug. 5.—"Richard Loeb has a thoroughly diseased mind," testified Dr. William Healy of Boston, psychiatrist, today at the judicial hearing of Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr. for the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks. "That is the conclusion I have reached after a close, careful and thorough examination of Loeb," said Dr. Healy. "I base my opinion on the following reasons:

Alienist Observes:
"The abnormal inner mental life of Loeb."
"His twisted emotions."
"His lack of sympathy for others."
"His lack of feeling for his own misconduct."
"His severed sentences."
"His pathologically twisted personality."

"The fact that he carried his fantasies into his every-day life's activities and because I am convinced a mentally normal person would not commit such a heinous crime, I am more than ever convinced that my conclusions are correct."

Dr. Healy testified that the crime was the direct result of diseased motivation of Loeb's life, together with his twisted emotional life and his meeting with another twisted personality in the person of Leopold.

"This most remarkable affair was caused by the coming together of these two boys, each with abnormal characters," said Dr. Healy.

Chief Defense Attorney Clarence Darrow brought out the fact that Dr. Healy was receiving $250 a day, and then turned him over to State's Attorney Crowe for cross examination.

Leopold Asserts Dignity.
Testifying late yesterday relative to the condition of Nathan Leopold, Jr., Dr. Healy noted the defendant had said he would rather sacrifice his life than his dignity.

"What's a measly thing like hanging?" Leopold had asked. "What's death, for that matter? Don't you like to go to sleep? That's all death is."

At another time, Leopold told Dr. Healy: "I'd rather have been hanged than to hear those undignified things told about me. When I told the alienists all about my thoughts I supposed it was in confidence."

OCEAN'S RAREST SEA SHELL FITTED WITH BORING DRILL

NEW YORK.—A cone of the mollusk family, called "Glory of the Sea," is the rarest and most sought specimen of sea shell; only a dozen are known to exist. They are of exceptional beauty. BIBLE THOUGHT.

The Infinite Protector:—If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me.—Psalm 139: 9, 10.

CHARACTER IS SUPREME.

In the present whirlpool of the world, character is the highest-paid thing.

It's not easy to find; it's not so easy to buy, and that's why it commands so high a price.

Character, for some, is not hard to get, not hard to keep, and not easy to lose.

In the acquisition of character, wealth often acts as a hindrance, and culture may tend to dull the sense of character; it grows more easily in a small town than in the big city; it is nurtured more easily among humble folk, than among the gay lights.

In all generations it is success; in all generations, real bliss and happiness follow it; in all generations, it finds great praise, and honor, and glory.

Character can make out of a shiftless criminal a most useful and self-sacrificing citizen. Character can make out of a dying hamlet, a live-wire community. Character can make out of an irresponsible do-nothing, an up-and-doing, and progressive man of affairs.

The language of character is a language that we all understand. The admiration for character is an admiration that is universal. The rewards of character are rewards that are as sure as the sunshine.

In America let us have more permanence, and more desire for stability. In America let there be more Lincolns, and Roosevelts, and Stonewall Jacksons.

PRISONERS AND DEPENDENTS.

The State of Ohio feeds, clothes and shelters all occupants of its 23 prison institutions and supplies practically all the needs of the political divisions of the state through the operation of 22 industries that are a part of the state's penal system.

Under the law abolishing the convict system in the state in 1911, the control and management of the state institutions were transferred to the Ohio board of administration. Subsequently there was established the manufacturing and sales department, the purpose of which is to furnish employment to prisoners. In order to finance this system the state legislature appropriated $305,000 from 1910 to 1914. The appropriation was made as a rotary fund.

Mr. Harper, director of public welfare, contends that sufficient attention has not been directed to the payment of a wage for labor performed commensurate with the needs of the prisoners' dependent families. It is his contention that compensation should be fixed at a rate that will allow worthy families to be cared for. The legislature appropriated $110,000 for the year ending June 30, 1923, for the payment of compensation to prisoners. From this appropriation $107,613.95 was expended on a wage basis from one to five cents per hour. It is Director Harper's recommendation that an additional appropriation be made to provide for a maximum of 10 cents per hour for prisoners having dependents, or a compensation from 5 to 10 cents per hour, the amount paid to be determined by the number of dependents and their economic condition.

When the state confiscates the time and labor of the breadwinner of a family for a term of months or years and neglects the dependent children, the state is creating more criminals than it corrects. California has solved this problem to a very great extent.

PIMPLES AND BUMPS TAKE THE JOY OUT OF LIFE

Girls, and boys, too, whose faces are "broken out," rough, pimply and blotched, imagine all sorts of weird things. The worst fault it leads to is using just anything which promises them relief from their condition, which often makes their trouble worse. Never put anything on your skin which has not been proven by the test of time and public opinion to be right. In this connection the phenomenal success, which is called Black and White Ointment, and the soap, too, offers sufferers from such skin diseases the one reliable and dependable means of relief and restoration of their skin to that clear, smooth and lovely condition it was in their youth.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are economically priced, in liberal size packages. The 50c size of the ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—Advertisement.

Barbara LaMarr, one of the most beautiful screen stars was at her best in this luxurious picture which is full of sparkling scenes in Paris and New York. PATIENTS ARE SAVED BY SINGING WHILE FIRE RAGES

A practical use of music in avoiding fatal confusion during a fire was recently made at the state hospital in Allentown, Pa. At that institution Willem van de Wall has been doing some laboratory work in musical therapy among the insane under the auspices of the bureau of mental health in the state's department of public welfare. Mr. Van de Wall had an opportunity to compare music in allaying the excitement of the female population when fire threatened to destroy the women's wards and all the patients were transferred to one wing for safety.

To divert the attention of the most excited ones from the flames and the efforts of the firemen, Mr. Van de Wall started a concert. He suggested calmness and composure by introducing singing by the group of such songs as "Juanita," "My Old Kentucky Home," "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean," and others. The appeal of the rhythms and the pleasant associations of the melodies led the patients to singing and dancing whereupon they overlooked the seriousness of the situation and again became calm.

VILLAGE CURATE'S LETTERS HAVE BECOME IMMORTAL

NEW YORK.—"The Natural History of Selborne," of which John Burroughs has remarked, "it has lived a hundred years and promises to live many hundreds of years more," was written by a bachelor curate of a small English village. The origin of the now celebrated work on natural history lay in a series of personal letters written with no thought of publication.—The Mentor for August.

WCMAN CONTENDS FOR RIGHT TO HARVEST HAND'S WAGES

SALINA, Kan., Aug. 5.—Working over a hot stove, preparing dinner for hungry harvest hands, is worth $4 a day, contends Mrs. Earl Calabressi, who walked out of her husband's kitchen when he refused to pay her harvest hand's wages. Calabressi has filed suit for divorce, setting up the charges that his wife struck fair pay from her hands.

Above: EX KING GEORGE & MRS LAURA FLEISCHMANN Below CHARLES SCHWAB & DONALD MACMILLAN

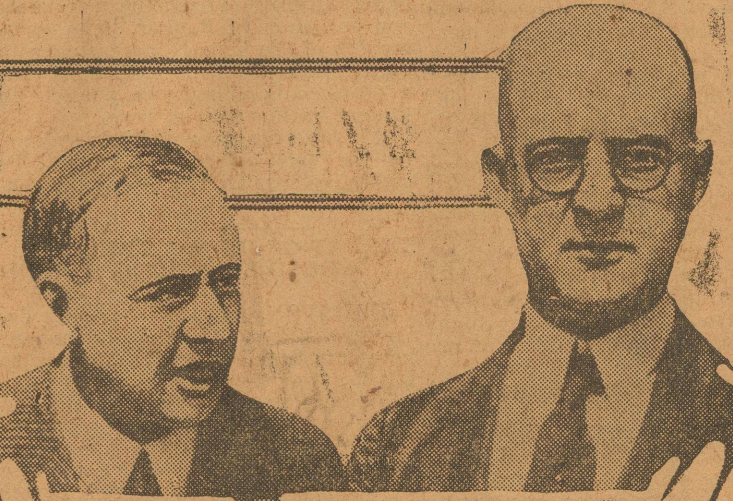

Donald MacMillan, Arctic explorer on the schooner Bowdoin, has left his Winter quarters and reached a point 137 miles south of Ellsmere land on his return to the United States. According to London papers, developments in Greece point to the restoration of a monarchy, and the exiled King George, now in England, is quoted as saying it will only be a matter of a short time before he is recalled to Athens. It is reported in Ottawa, Canada, that a syndicate headed by Charles M. Schwab will buy the $31,000,000 properties of the British-American Nickel Company, which recently went into liquidation. Mrs. Laura H. Fleischmann, wife of the multi-millionaire "yeast king," of Cincinnati, O., and New York, has secured a Paris divorce. It is reported she will wed Jay O'Brien, divorced husband of Mae Murray, film star, and of Irene Fenwick, actress.

Old Milling Methods Give Way To Modern Efficiency

HARDLY changed from Biblical days is this primitive method of grinding wheat into flour still in use in the Holy Land. These two women of Jerusalem who are pounding wheat into flour could hardly meet the rigid standards of requirement for the flour which is used in the production of American fine breads. "The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding fine." The modern ideal of efficiency, however, is to grind quickly and well, too. The quality of the flour used in our bread today is insured by the watch that is kept on it by the argus eyed chemist in the laboratories of the modern bakery. Among the factors for which flour is tested, according to Charles Hoffman, chief chemist of the Ward Baking Company, the largest bread company in the world, are moisture content, percentage of the wheat berry that enters the flour, the amount and quality of the gluten (the product in the flour which gives plasticity to the dough and forms the framework of the baked loaf), and the fineness of milling. Exhaustive tests are made also, to ascertain whether the flour has been artificially treated or bleached. Through such tests a standard of quality is determined, and the mills must guarantee to produce such a flour, or they will not get the order from the bakery.

ALLEGES BROTHERS SLEW THEIR PARENTS

Arthur and Benjamin Dorschelmer, wealthy business men, are held without bail in Gap, Pa., charged by another brother, Frank E. Dorschelmer, with the murder of their parents ten years ago. The elder Dorschelmers were found dead in their gas-filled home in Lancaster, Pa., and the deaths were ascribed to accident. Frank E. Dorschelmer now alleges his brothers confessed they turned on the gas. They indignantly deny the charges, declaring their brother was inspired by "spirits." Their sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Pennybacker, of Philadelphia, is to be a witness.

HOW MAY DIVERGENT FARM AND LABOR WANTS BE MADE HARMONIOUS

Railroad employees want more pay and farmers want lower freight rates.

The railroad employees propose to accomplish this for both by having the farmers join with them in support of radical candidates for office.

But how may this be done? Wages paid railroad employees are obtained by the railroads by hauling freight, passengers, mail and express and charging for such service.

Railroad earnings are such that any substantial increase in wages of railroad employees would necessitate an increase in rates.

On the other hand, any substantial reduction in rates would necessitate a reduction in the wages of railroad employees.

How, then, is it possible for both to accomplish the desired end? Is it not self-evident that one faction or the other must lose out? Is it not also self-evident that with railroad labor organized and the farmers unorganized, the big organized vote would take the turkey and the farmer the crow?

But the radical politician and the labor leaders want more—they want government ownership of the railroads.

They want this in face of the fact that during federal control, with freight and passenger rates the highest ever known, the railroads were operated at a loss running high in the millions.

But the organized railroad vote is about 2,300,000. That is a lot of votes, and votes are what the politician is looking for. What politician would run the risk of losing them by opposing wage increases that might even necessitate an increase in rates with knowledge that those who pay the rates are unorganized and therefore helpless?

Manifestly there is no bond of mutual interest between the farmer and the railroader, for as to rates and wages what would be good for one would be bad for the other.

The farmer has had some experience with increased cost of farm labor. He knows what high wages mean. He knows what high wages mean in short work-days mean and they mean no less on the railroad than on the farm, for compared with the farmer, and wages five times higher.—The Manufacturer.

PROPOSED COMMERCIAL TREATY BETWEEN RUSSIA AND ENGLAND FAILS

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The British foreign office today issued a communique stating that negotiations between his majesty's government and representatives of the Russian government had broken down, and the proposed commercial treaty will not be signed.

The anglo-Russian trade conference was in session all night, delegates on both sides striving for an agreement. It is stated that the anglo-soviet conference, after sitting all day Saturday and Sunday, met in plenary session at midnight Monday and sat until 7:15 Tuesday morning. As the soviet was unable to accept the amendments proposed by Great Britain and make concessions to Article 14 of the proposed treaty, no agreement was reached.

EXCURSION TICKET OF 1900 SOLD AT VERY LOW RATE

DALLAS, Aug. 5.—Proof that things have already happened which may never take place again, was established here by Dr. E. C. Routh, who sent J. H. Bledsoe, division passenger agent of the Santa Fe railroad, an excursion ticket dated during the summer of 1900.

The ticket routed the tourists via Galveston and Houston with the total round trip fare quoted at $5. Fare to Galveston one way now is approximately $12 and more than $23 from here to El Paso.

CHURCH HAS RIGHT-OF-WAY OVER SUNDAY BALL GAME

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 5.—Peace was restored at Roseville, near here, where baseball fans clashed with churchgoers Sunday afternoon.

Noise from the game on an adjoining lot drowned out the revival minister's sermon. Members of the congregation called upon county authorities when players and fans refused to stop the game or the attendant cheering.

The authorities ruled in favor of the revival and the ball players and spectators adjourned to another diamond, further removed from the church.

FORT WORTH PITCHER SCORES OFF BALL FIELD

HOUSTON.—Joe Pate, Fort Worth pitcher, who is rated as first-class of the Texas league this year, took part in a no-run, no-hit affair after the regular game was over here. One error marred the score sheet—but it wasn't a costly error at that.

Joe, with several Cat friends, was parked on a trunk in front of the Rice hotel, discussing how he let the Buffs down the day before. The law strolled by, majestic and solemn and ordered the boys to take their rest somewhere out of the traffic.

Joe objected, claiming he wasn't in the bunch ordered to move. Sharp replies, emphatic at least, were exchanged. A few minutes later the "city taxicab" clanged upon the scene and Joe left for the station. At the station, the official scorekeeper could not decide whether the error was Joe's or the cop's—so the Cat hurler went free with two victories to his credit and left town smiling.

TWO AMERICANS WIN HONORS IN OLYMPIC GAMES

Miss Helen Wills and "Vinnie" Richards Achieve Noteworthy Victories.

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Youth was served at the eighth Olympiad. Particularly pleasing to Americans should be the victories of Helen Wills son-kissed California maid of 18, in the women's singles, and of "Vinnie" Richards, just turned 21, in the men's singles.

For their success foreshadows stout defense of the Davis Cup and the winning and holding of the Wightman cup for many years to come.

Under proper coaching, Miss Wills and young Richards are not likely to "burn themselves out." The even temperament of the western girl, remarkable as her ability on the courts, is a source of wonder to those who watch her play. Cool, collected, game, she can rise to any heights. The only regrettable feature of her first European tour—in which she won the Olympic singles championship and practically single-handed added the women's doubles title—was that the Wimbledon matches in which Miss Wills failed to win the world's title fell at a time when she happened not to be in the best of health.

Helen Wills is probably the most gracious winner of all our tennis stars, and in this respect endeared herself to friends and friendly foe alike on the courts of England and France. If anyone can warm the cockles of a defeated opponent's heart, with a smile and a handshake across the net, it is our national and Olympic champion.

When Miss Wills came out of the west some seasons ago, she had her hair in pigtails down her back. Her smashing service, patterned after that of the great Maurice McLaughlin, her eye-shade, and her personal charm are three things we recall. Ed Sullivan tells how, as a reward for her services in "covering" the Seabright tournament, she demanded "lemon lime lollipops"—and got them.

Quiet-mannered, retiring, one of the kind of girls who is accompanied by her mother, the serious miss from the Golden Gate certainly made a hit in England, where Queen Mary was pleased to receive her.

Miss Wills' playing in the women's doubles at Paris will not be forgotten for many a day. Mrs. Wightman, her partner, was off form that day, and the British pair who met the Americans in the Olympic finals were Miss Kitty McKane and Miss Covell. In each set, the British women ran the score up to 5-2 in their favor, and each time it was sensational play by the Californian which saved the day and won the victory, 7-5, 8-6.

Speaking of youth, in the finals of the women's singles, in which she achieved her second championship, Helen Wills was opposed by Mlle. "Didi" Viesti, a half-pint size French girl of Greek extraction, who was herself but 18 years old.

"Vinnie" Richards played brilliantly in the Olympic tennis matches; he played in the men's doubles with Francis P. Hunter, and won the championship for America. The following day he took the court against Henri Cochet, about his own age, and added the man's singles title, after five gruelling sets, in which he showed himself badly "over-tennised."

It took "guts"—a great word, by the way, to describe the sine qua non of a champion—for Richards to win that match; he was tired out, whereas Cochet appeared fairly fresh. The American boy's tennis was the better, but after two sets he was about played out. Cochet won two sets, then, and things looked black, but Richards, calling upon the last ounce of courage and stamina, beat his way to victory.

Asked how he did it when so over-

viously "all in," Richards grinner and replied:
"Well, you see, I'd serve, then grab the baseline with my hand and rush to the net so Cochet couldn't drive me into the back court."

"Vinnie" also was a finalist in the mixed doubles, but he gave too much in the men's doubles to do more than offer a perfunctory resistance, paired with Mrs. Jessup, against "Dick" Williams and Mrs. George Wightman.

EXIDE BATTERY TO BE USED ON STEEP GRADES

Electric Locomotives Running Over Mountain Railways to Have Storage Batteries.

Every motorist is familiar with the braking effect of his engine while descending a hill. Virtually this same principle, according to Mr. J. S. Reynolds of the local Exide Service Station, is used when the "king of the rails," the world's mightiest electric locomotive, now touring the country, descends the steep grades of the mountain regions of the west. While the train drawn by one of these giant electric locomotives is descending a long, heavy grade, the action of the electric motors is reversed.

This action not only conserves power, which would otherwise be wasted, but the drag on the motors, similar to that on the automobile engine turning against compression, operates as a brake and saves considerable wear on the brake shoes. Then instead of taking power from the line these motors actually generate power and restore it to the line from which it may be taken by another train ascending the grade.

This electric locomotive which was built for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will haul "The Olympian," the famous transcontinental train of this railway over the beautiful mountain ranges between Chicago, Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma. It weighs 265 tons and develops the equivalent of 3200 horsepower and its speed is 65 miles per hour.

As in an automobile, the storage battery plays an important part in the operation of these gigantic electric locomotives. An Exide Battery is used to control this regenerative action of the motors and to regulate the speed of the train. In the event of interruption on the supply line when the power developed by the train descending the grade cannot be absorbed, the air brakes must be used. It is then that the Exide Battery supplies power to operate the compressor motors which maintain a supply of compressed air for the brakes.

Compressed air is also used to raise the pantograph, which makes contact with the overhead wire or conductor. The pantograph locomotive has been out of service for sometime with the pantograph down and there is no compressed air available, this Exide operates the compressor motor sufficient air compression is developed to raise the pantograph into contact with the overhead wire, thus restoring the normal current supply.

It was further stipulated in said lease that each and all of its provisions shall extend to and be binding upon the respective heirs and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns, and that the provisions of said lease were enforceable at Ranger, in Eastland County, Texas; that said Hamon complied with his part of said contract, and in accordance with its terms advanced certain money for the operation of said lease, and after his death, Frank L.
