Lamb County Jumps From Nothing to More Than 52,000 Bales of Cotton in Four Years Probably Leads State in Feed Production

That Lamb County led the South Plains last year in the production of cotton was revealed when the final report was released by the Department of Agriculture last week.

The report also showed that Lamb County yielded the largest cotton production of any county in the state west of Fort Worth with the exception of Hall County, which was about 1000 bales larger. Considering all the counties throughout the state, Lamb county stood eighteenth in rank, lacking 2,842 bales of standing tenth in the list. The total ginnings, according to the report, for Lamb county last year was 11,151. However, it is known that Lamb County ginned more than 2,000 bales, as there were several sales ginned after the report had been sent in to Washington, D. C.

When it is considered that this yield has been reached during the past four years, gradually coming up from nothing four years ago, the record becomes the more interesting and remarkable.

While figures are not available, it is claimed by many in position to know that Lamb County led the entire state in the production of feed during 1929.

The cotton production figures for the 18 leading states, as given out by the government, are as follows:

1st. Nueces	123708
2nd. Ellis	96712
3rd. McLellan	87329

Railroad Meet at Olton Proposes Line Muleshoe to Springlake by Earth

A meeting of considerable interest to the citizens of the northern part of Lamb county was held at Olton Thursday last week with representatives to present from Earth, Spring Lake and Muleshoe in Bailey county, the meeting being held in the interest of a railroad to run through that section of the country, out of Plainview or the Center and passing through Olton, Earth and Muleshoe, the western terminus being indeterminate so far the public is concerned.

It was first reported that the Santa Fe system was fostering the project. Later information indicates that the Fort Worth and Denver system is back of the movement.

About a year ago the Santa Fe system applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a permit to build a line out of Hale Center to Parton and was refused principally on grounds that such a proposed line would parallel the new Denver line closely.

For the past three years Olton has been striving for a railroad and have recently been joined by the Earth community in their efforts, and recently considerable data has been assembled and furnished both these systems in an effort to court their build-up in that direction.

Rotary Club Ball Game Postponed Until Friday

The Rotary club met Thursday at the Methodist church at their regular monthly luncheon.

C. C. Clements, president presided and roll call by the secretary received every member of the club present, except Arthur P. Duggan, who attended the Rotary Club meeting in Edna Falls, on that day making 100 per cent attendance.

Due to the inclement weather the ball game which was scheduled to be played that day between the Rotary and Lion clubs was postponed until Friday afternoon of this week.

Robert Toal, who is scout master of the Boy Scout troops, requested the president appoint Scout committees of three members each, for each of the two troops here, which are now being organized by the Rotary club.

The meeting was turned over to J. H. Gattis, who was in charge of the program and following a short talk by the students of the Littlefield High School, who were medal winners at the county meet at Sudan recently, and their winning declamations, appearing on the program were Louise Gattis, Louise Baird, Ben Harlan and Irby Davidson.

Ware Attends Meet of Legion at Childress

J. H. Ware, commander of the Richard New Post No. 301, of the American Legion, returned last week from a business trip to Hollis, Oklahoma. While enroute there he stopped at Childress where he was in attendance at the Spring convention of the 18th district, American Legion of Texas, including all of Northwest Texas.

A splendid meeting and a large attendance was reported by Mr. Ware, who also reports that a decision was made that the next meeting will be held at Slaton in June.

Tentative plans are also being made to get the 17th district to hold a joint session at Slaton, with that of the 18th district.

Preparation has already begun by the Luther Powers Post of the American Legion and the auxiliary unit at Slaton, to entertain around 500 visitors expected from all over the district. The convention days will be Saturday and Sunday, however, the exact date has not yet been decided.

Robert O. Whitaker, State Legion adjutant of Austin, who was in Littlefield recently assisting the officers of the newly organized post of this place in their duties, was in attendance at the meeting at Childress, also State Legion Commander, Earnest O. Cox, of Corsicana. Both of these officials are expected to be in attendance at the meeting to be held in June at Slaton.

LEGION WANTS WAR RELICS FOR DISPLAY

All members of the Richard New Post of the American Legion are requested to bring any war relics they have to the meeting Monday night, which will be held in the basement of the Presbyterian church beginning at eight o'clock.

The relics will be used to form displays for several windows of the business houses over the city, that have been offered to the Legion for the display in advertising "The World War" a nine reel feature and Charlie Chaplin in "Shoulder Arms," a comedy, to be given by the Legion, Tuesday evening, April 29th, at the Palace theatre.

BANKS CLOSE AT THREE

A decision was made by officials of the First State Bank and the First National Bank to close their doors at three o'clock, p. m. beginning last Monday and continuing through the summer, in lieu of four o'clock which has previously been the regular closing hour.

MERCHANTS BUY FLAGS

United States flags have recently been purchased by 65 business firms in Littlefield through the Richard New Post of the American Legion. The Real Discoverer Seldom Gets Credit — By Albert T. Reid

Ten Enumerators Required to Cover Same Territory in Lamb County as Was Done by One United State Census Taker Last Time

That Littlefield and Lamb county have made rapid strides in development, during the past ten years, is made evident in a fact that ten years ago Mrs. T. M. Keenan took the Fourteenth Decennial census of the United States, in Lamb County, without assistance, while 10 enumerators went forth Wednesday morning, following a school of instructions held Saturday afternoon at Plainview, to take the Fifteenth Decennial census, of the United States in the same county. Those whose territory extends into the farming districts have use of their car while Mrs. Keenan traversed the same sections with the use of a horse and buggy. Today good graded roads replace the cow trails she was obliged to follow in many cases. The length of time for the taking of the census on that occasion and today are identical.

At that time a total of 1,175 was the extent of population throughout Lamb County, which today does not come within 3000 of the population of the city of Littlefield alone.

Among those from Littlefield who received appointments were: Mesdames J. E. Brannen, B. M. Wilf, and Arbie Joplin; Messrs W. H. Rutledge, Sidney Hopping, Brewer, M. J. Watts and Ed Ray.

Unlike many other districts in the State where women were selected in majority to fill the places as enumerators, district number two, which embraces Lamb and 15 other counties is represented by 26 men and 15 women, who attended the school of instructions.

These people will, within the next few weeks, enter every home in the county and a special request is made by the Census Department, at Washington, also in a proclamation issued by President Hoover, that everyone assist the enumerator in every way possible in an effort to secure for their schedules complete and accurate reports, which will be tabulated for statistics.

A number of people from Littlefield and over the county failed to receive appointments, due to the fact that their applications were filled at a late date and the census offices were so congested that only those who made application early were appointed with the exception of some who received appointments where early applicants failed to qualify.

Women Local Churches Form Federation Mon.

The ladies of the different churches of the town met with the Presbyterian auxiliary at their church Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

A Federated auxiliary was organized among the churches, thus trying to establish a better union of fellowship and good will.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. W. H. Gardner, president; Mrs. E. A. Bills, Vice-president; Mrs. Mid Seale, secretary treasurer; and Mrs. Ray Jones, reporter.

The following interesting program was given: Scripture reading, Mrs. Charles Barber; "The Great Guest Comes," Mrs. W. M. Fulton; "O Eyes That Are Weary," sung by Mrs. G. M. Shaw; Stewardship discussion by Mrs. Hodges.

H. William Lord of Chicopee, Mass., lost his memory four years ago and now is trying to catch up with events. Lindbergh's flight, President Hoover's election, the Wall Street Panic and other great events are news to him.

RAINBOW GIRLS TO SUDAN IN INTERESTING PROGRAM

The Rainbow Girls went to Sudan Monday evening and gave a vaudeville act at the Garden theatre. The proceeds will be applied to the robes the girls are working for.

Several of the business men of Littlefield accompanied the girls and gave their very popular act, "In the Trenches" wherein R. E. McCaskill and C. C. Clements became "full fledged soldiers."

This act went over big, and the Rainbow Girls want to take this opportunity to thank these men for giving their time to this program. They are: R. E. McCaskill, C. C. Clements, Kenneth Hemphill, C. H. Grow, H. Cook, Ross Mayhew, Roy Blessing, Arthur Mueller and Jake Hopping.

Subscription Begun For Creamery When Meeting Held in Lfd. Last Monday

A meeting relative to establishing a creamery in Littlefield was held Monday afternoon at the Palace theatre with 60 farmers and business men in attendance.

Meetings are planned to be held in each community before the next meeting, where talks relative to establishing the creamery will be made.

A total of $1300 was subscribed at the meeting Monday and instructive talks were made by K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing products, at the Tech College, at Lubbock; J. W. Hale, local Chamber of Commerce secretary and D. A. Adams county agent of Lamb County.

Everyone from Littlefield who can possibly go are urged to do so and take someone with them.

The Littlefield band, under direction of Prof. Monte Bowron, will lead the caravan and give concerts during the day at Plainview.

The girls of the order will be arrayed in their recently purchased robes and will be assisted in the service by Masons of the Knight Templar order, appropriately dressed in their regalia of the Commandry.

Rev. R. B. Freeman, of the Methodist church, will deliver the sermon and other local talent will take part in the program which promises to be of exceptional interest.

The public generally is invited to attend this service.

A SING-SONG AT BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Everyone in Littlefield, and surrounding territory is cordially invited to attend.

Littlefield has only recently been listed as a member of the circuit. Those previously forming the organization are: Anton, Whitharral, and Lums' Chapel.

The purpose of these meetings is to further acquaintance and good will among the people of the county in general, and to furnish wholesome entertainment for Sunday afternoons.

EVERY BLUE RIBBON SWEEPS

Chisel-like edges that stay sharp

Made of finest, purest steel, Blue Ribbon Cultivator Sweeps scour perfectly, take on a bright polish, and their chisel-like edges stay sharp.

Besides, they are formed with special dies and machines, and tested with precision gauges, giving them uniformity of shape, and just the right "set." Hence, they move smoothly through the earth, destroy the weeds, and produce an ideal top finish.

Blue Ribbon Sweeps have a self-sharpening tendency, but if dulled by extreme conditions they are easily sharpened and hardened and their original temper restored. Or you may sharpen them with file or stone, without removing them from the cultivator.

Try Blue Ribbon Sweeps this year and learn why so many farmers wouldn't use any other kind. Come in. Let us show you.

J. T. HARRIS
Littlefield

The show will be open from 6 until 10 the evening of the 10th and on the 12th it will be open from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m. Haynie Spencer, senior student from Cross Plains, has charge of arrangements and Cary Lodal is assistant manager. Students will act as ushers during the meet. Officials of the college are expecting approximate 5000 visitors.

Lfd Ball Team To Have Workout Game Sunday

The baseball trossers from Amherst engaged themselves with the local club last Sunday on the home lot, to assist the locals for further conditioning preparatory to the opening of the coming season.

The weather was somewhat contrary for a fast exhibition of baseball, and consequently, the locals did not display their best form. It is very evident that the weather must be warm before much progress can be made toward getting into shape and players can expect to perform in mid-season style.

The boys are getting their eye on the ole apple and have been hitting in timely fashion. Dick Ratliff, Hanks and Shorty Ballard led with the stick work last Sunday. The home club rapped out thirteen base hits for a like number of runs while the Amherst aggregation connected with only four safeties from the slants of Moore, Mueller and Ratliff, who each took their turn in the box.

It is hoped that more practice games can be held until such time when everything will be in line for the opening game.

Correspondence has been sent out to a number of towns who are going to put out fast amateur clubs and play only the best.

Amarillo is going to have a team, and with the American Legion backing said club should be one of the best.

Roswell hopes to have a team that will bid fair to cop money in the Denver tournament that is held in Denver each year.

It would be well that local fans give this some very serious consideration since there is adequate talent in this section to give Littlefield one of the best clubs in this Plains section. It is a question of either getting behind the team and having a club second to none or having just a common amateur baseball nine.

Vocational Agriculture By R. A. BOX, Instructor

At the last meeting of the Evening School in Dairying which is being taught by R. A. Box, vocational Agricultural instructor, a cow testing association was organized. The agricultural class is to have charge of the work, and systematic testing will be done for anyone who wishes to test cows on test. Each cow will be tested once a month, and records of production and feed costs will be kept, so that the actual profit of each cow above feed cost may be easily estimated.

The first test will be made on Apr. 15, and anyone wishing tests run should see the agriculture teacher about it.

The Future Farmers club have just finished getting an order together for 2,200 pounds of pure grain sorghum seed. This seed was bought from W. M. Pool and Son, at Sudan. Mr. Pool made the boys a reduced price on all seed they ordered, and also on all orders they secured. Four varieties of seeds were bought, Milo, hegar, kafir, and red top cane. This seed will be used by the boys in planting their projects.

The Vocational Agricultural department will be represented by a dairy judging team at the Dairy Show Plainview, April 7. This team also competed at Lubbock, and won third place in judging Holstein cows. With the added experience and extra workouts, it is hoped that they will make a better showing at Plainview.

LFD. SCHOOL NEWS

TRYOUT AT TECH

The Littlefield High School track team went to Lubbock Tuesday afternoon for a practice meet with the Texas Tech Dash men and the Crosbyton High School distance men.

Percy Carter and Fulton Smith were outdistanced in the 100 and 220 yard events by the Tech speedsters, but easily led the Crosbyton men who ran the 220 yard dash. The time in the 100 yard dash was 15.1 seconds and in the 220 yard dash, 23 seconds flat.

Carter easily won the 440 yard dash in 53.8 seconds while the best time made in the Lubbock-Tahoka dual meet which was taking place at the same time was 54.6 seconds.

In the 880 yard run, Herring of Littlefield and the Crosbyton half miler fought a nip-and-tuck battle which went to the Crosbyton man by a narrow margin in 2 minutes 8.2 seconds. The time for the Lubbock, Tahoka half was 2 minutes 14 second.

Littlefield's relay team consisting of E. Carter, F. Smith, Herring and P. Carter took that event from Crosbyton easily in 3 min. 50 seconds.

BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT

Some time ago the girls of the different classes played a tournament in basket ball. The boys decided they would follow the same plan.

The schedule was planned as follows: Freshmen vs. Juniors on Monday; Sophs vs. Seniors on Tuesday, and the two winning teams on Friday.

The Freshmen and Juniors met on the court, Monday at 3:30 o'clock and the fight began. The Freshmen team was composed of the following: Travis Houk, Red Norman, A. C. Tremain, Marahali McCurry, Connie Powell and Robert Stone.

The Junior Team was composed of the following: Glen Woody, Joe W. Hale, Max Stansel, Russel Wimberly, and Baker Johnson.

The Freshmen fought hard until the end of the game, but it was all in vain, and the Juniors came out with the victory. The score being 10-16 in the Juniors favor.

Sophs vs. Seniors

Tuesday, April 1, at 1:00 o'clock the Sophs and Seniors met to play their game. The sophs team was composed of the following: Gordon Roberts, Harry Teeters, Royce Beebe, Lavern Stevens and Earl Baker.

The Senior team was composed of the following: Doc Phipps, Erwin Nixon, Charles Evans, J. W. Keithley, and Charles Burt. They put up a hard fight but the final score was 12-8 in favor of the Sophs.

"Finals" Sophs vs Juniors

The winning teams will meet Wednesday, April 2, for the final combat.

Of course all are betting on their own team, and we will assure everybody who comes out to see the game that they will get their "money's worth". Because both teams wish the championship, and we know they will put up a good fight that will be worth the dime charged for the game.

All games were refereed by Coach Tucker.

MRS. PEPPER HONORED AT BIBLE CLASS MEET

EASTERN STAR STUDY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. E. S. ROWE

The Eastern Star Study club held its regular meeting last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. S. Rowe, Mrs. S. J. Farquar and Mrs. Rowe, joint hostesses.

There were 13 members to answer the roll call, and an interesting hour of profitable study and discussion of the ritual and constitution was enjoyed.

Mrs. J. M. Stokes gave a very interesting and appropriate reading, and the meeting closed with a pleasant social hour.

The name of Mrs. L. C. Grissom was added to the roll as associate member. That a growing interest is being manifest is shown in the fact that the club has met but twice and there are already 20 members.

Those present were: Mesdames Polly Potter, Pearl E. Stokes, Flora B. Boone, Dimple McGavock, of Oltor, Lula I. Gardner, E. M. Davis, Faye Cogdill, F. O. Boles, Mayda C. Grissom, Blanche Dodgen, S. J. Farquar, Susie C. Rowe and Anne Louise Wiseman.

Herbine, the good old vegetable cathartic, will prevent constipation in a natural, easy and pleasant way. Get a bottle today from Stokes-Alexander Drug Company

Nature Thought of Everything

Nature thought of everything when the human body was made. When the body is about to become ill, nature planned danger signals to warn us. Thus, if our children grind their teeth when they sleep, or lack appetite, or suffer from abdominal pains, or itch about the nose and fingers, we should know that they may have contracted worms. Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and safely and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious trouble. White's Cream Vermifuge costs only 35c a bottle, and can be bought from Stokes-Alexander Drug Company

CITIES AND TOWNS

¶ We want every father and mother around Littlefield to listen to these words uttered a short time ago in an address by Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur:

"All of a sudden we have gathered great numbers of our children into concrete and brick cities, where they have to fight to live, where there is no room for pets and no pleasant things for children to do. For millions of them, the streets are their playgrounds. It is difficult to rear them with a sense of responsibility. With the electric or gas stove, chemical refrigeration, steam heat, milk coming in a sterilized bottle laid at the door, the newspaper delivered, there is not a great deal you can provide in the way of errands and regular work for boys and girls in the city. Mass living gives the nation the poorest children it gets. The ones who come from the smaller communities seem to do the best."

These are the words of an authority. It is proof that you are wrong when you argue that children in our small towns and rural communities do not have the opportunity of those in the cities. There is itself in all the reason you need for being satisfied to live outside a big city. Secretary Wilbur says it is better for the boy and the girl. It is a tribute to rural and small-town life that should be kept in mind when the desire to "move to the city" seizes you.

It is a powerful argument to use on those who try to tell you that your boy and girl would have greater opportunities in the city. We believe the Littlefield boy or girl is much better off than the ones in our great cities.

HOW TIMES CHANGE

¶ In bygone days when visitors came we sat in the front parlor or if the friends were very intimate we allowed them the privilege of the front sitting room, and talked and talked. We discussed everything from the tariff to the baby's latest illness. We rambled on for hours, always having to say and saying it loudly, for it wasn't often friends came to call, since people lived apart in those days.

But we seem to have lost the art of conversation, since it usually requires thinking. Draw your own conclusions. In this day of moving pictures and radio we are a mechanical people. We can't think for ourselves; it takes too much effort. Instead we go see the latest movie and just sit there, sleeping if we wish, it is rather dark and no one else is wide awake enough to be interested. We don't even have to exert ourselves to laugh—someone else will laugh loud enough for us too maybe.

We can sit, or even lie down, and listen to the radio a whole evening, without one thought passing through our head and without one word being uttered.

The result is, when we go to see our friends or even relations for half an hour, who do not live near us or see the same shows, or do not happen to like the same radio programs, we have nothing whatever to talk about. Then some bright one of us suggests that we take a ride or go to a movie. No thought required.

Talk to an older citizen of Littlefield and he will tell you that "people are not as neighborly as they used to be." But what he really means is that this generation has lost the power of conversation.

A GOOD EXAMPLE

¶ New York has set every state in the Union a good example in passing a law whereby any motorist who is twice convicted of driving while intoxicated forfeits his driving privilege forever. But we suppose there will be states always slow to recognize that booze and gasoline will not mix, and that will go right on tolerating the greatest menace to human life that this modern age knows—the drunken driver.

Every state has laws against driving while intoxicated. But we do not believe that the penalties provided are as strict in at least one-half of them as they should be.

Littlefield drivers who know the dangers they face when there is a drunken driver on the same road they are traveling will back us up in that assertion. The last place on earth for an intoxicated man is at the steering wheel of an automobile. And the quicker every state fixes it so he cannot get there the quicker will our annual death toll be reduced.

EDITORS ARE HUMAN

¶ When a doubtful situation arises in a town it is quite the fashion to remark that "the paper ought to say something about it."

The average citizen feels quite certain that he could run a newspaper better than the editor does, and if he were publisher of that sheet, he would show them, you bet.

As a matter of fact, if he has horse sense, he would do just as the editor does — put the soft pedal on family rows, church squabbles, scandals not involving major principles, as such matters of minor importance as to adjust themselves with the passing of time.

The newspaper critic ought not to expect the newspaper man to advocate or attack any proposition which he himself has the courage to support or assail over his own signature.

The editor is willing, even eager, to push any project in the public interest. But he is not willing to pull chestnuts out of the fire for individuals or minorities.

HOME BEAUTY

¶ Every year, about this time, there is a resurgence of the idea that Littlefield ought to be more beautiful. There is discussion, elaboration and committees, with an occasional splurge of accomplishment.

The Leader is heartily in favor of the movement now in action toward a more beautiful city and more inviting country homes. It would do nothing to interfere with other plans, except to call every reader's attention to the obvious fact that, after all, the beautifying of a town is a question of beautifying individual plots.

Every freholder can do much to make his or her premises more attractive, and, without waiting upon committees, let's get busy, as individuals, and proceed to do so.

LITTLE LEADERS

¶ Many old time Littlefield marriages were permanent simply because the frying pan isn't quite as hot as the fire.

¶ A Littlefield husband is a man who works himself nearly to death to meet the payments on the labor-saving devices his wife buys.

¶ Most any Littlefield father can make a crime wave of his own by telling a kid he is going to lick him and then not do it.

¶ If your conscience makes you feel that everybody you meet in Littlefield is suspicious of you, it's time to move out of town.

¶ There would be a lot more happiness in the average Littlefield home if a man's faults didn't worry his wife any more than they do him.

¶ Now that the motoring season is about to open we want to warn all Littlefield drivers that a locomotive doesn't whistle just to keep up its courage.

After passing through the winter months we're ready to admit that Littlefield women are more efficient than men. No man could battle a bad cold with a four inch lace handkerchief.

THE EGOTISM OF MEN

¶ That men are egotistical is an ascertained fact. Women throughout the world have always maintained this statement. In many instances too numerous to mention has the egotism of a man been the downfall of a country, project, etc.

Take for example the case of Nero in early Roman days. He was so proud so egotistical, so luxury mad that he sacrificed his own mother and father to further his ambitions. Because he wanted to see a great conflagration, and because Rome burned, he was egotistical enough to believe it was for his benefit.

There are many types of egotism among men. Perhaps the most common among young men is their belief in a girls blindness concerning them.

Suppose a young man has been courting a girl for some time, he gets to the place where he thinks he can fool her completely. He is egotistical enough to suppose he can leave her and then return when he wishes. Usually the girl surprises him, and he receives a blow to his egotism. Then he promptly tries the same on another. It seems they cannot understand, they are so very, very egotistical.

The other forms of egotism are not so common as the above mentioned, but are as bad in their place. Sometimes in a ball game boys are so egotistical that they think they cannot be beaten. Is it not so?

If any one doubts the truth of the foregoing statements let her or she observe the world about him for a while.—Louise Campbell.

LONGER LIVES

Life expectancy in the United States is now fifty-eight years. Fifty years ago forty three was the figure. So it will be seen that if children mind their ma, and husbands hold tight to the apron strings of their wives, that longevity may increase. In the middle ages the average duration of human life was only 25 years. But America is a wonderful country and after awhile most everybody may live a century or two—if they don't go too fast!

LAMB COUNTY FARMERS INTERESTED IN NEW COTTON CONCENTRATION POINT

Several Lamb County farmers attended the meetings at Lubbock Monday in the interest of having the American Cotton Co-operative Association designate headquarters at Lubbock, for division Number 2, planned in the new set up under the supervision of the Federal Farm Board. It is planned to have at least six points near Lubbock, where there is sufficient cotton for them to qualify as a 10,000 bale unit, while Lubbock would be the headquarters and qualify for the 100,000 bale division point. Where a territory reaches a delivery of 100,000 bales they may be allowed to have their own management and overhead expense account. They may then deal with the American Cotton Co-operative Association direct, and have all the privileges of a State organization at home. There should be a 10,000 bale point located in Lamb county, and will be according to state directors, if the business interests will show the proper interest and underwrite their part in the movement. It will be arranged for the nonmembers to have their cotton classed and given the information as to what that class of cotton sells for in the markets of the world, on the day they make application for this service by paying fee. It will not be known whether Lubbock will qualify for headquarters until after the meeting of their Chamber of Commerce, and Board of City Development meets to decide whether they will underwrite their part of the guarantee of the movement. However, that will not effect the chances of Lamb County going after the 10,000 bale point, and securing the services of a Government grader for this section, who will serve every cotton grower who may want his service. The Agricultural Marketing Act has made possible all the things mentioned in the new set-ups sponsored by the Federal Farm Board, through the officers of A. C. C. A. at this time.

Doss Wins From Spann
In Third, Monday Nite

Jack Doss of Littlefield, knocked out J. D. Spann, of Plainview, last Monday night in the third round of what was to have been an eight round pugilistic bout staged in the Skating Rink under auspices of the local American Legion, Wm. J. Chesher, referee. Both men came to Littlefield backed up with considerable experience with the mits and each carrying on his belt a string of scalps from previous contests in the squared arena. It was evident from the mix-up in the first round that the fans were due to get their money's worth. While Spann was the more aggressive, Doss appeared more artful, and in the third round succeeded in dropping his opponent for the count with a right to the solar plexus, crossing with a left to the chin. In the preliminaries Jack Wheat of Amarillo, won over Arnie Christian, local man in fouls delivered in the second and fifth rounds. Both men appeared evenly matched. Battling Roberts won over Jim Bailey when the fight was stopped in the third round, Bailey being practically knocked out on his feet, but fighting grimly.

There was a large crowd of fans present to witness the combats.

Next Monday night Ray Willis of Plainview is scheduled to meet a fighter dubbed "Moco" from Lubbock, and there will be the usual preliminaries. Lee Fraley, well known Littlefield boxer, is scheduled for a bout with Harley Owens, at Anton, Monday night, April 14.

WORRYING DOESN'T PAY
By Bruce Barton

On his way back to a college reunion, one of my friends stopped off in the little town where he had spent his boyhood. "How is business?" he asked a local merchant. "Awful bad," was the reply. "And what's more, I don't like the outlook." "Why not?" "Well, there's elements in the situation that might develop a lot of trouble. At least that's the way it looks to me." My friend lighted a cigar and leaned over the counter. "George," said he familiarly, "those are the same words I used to hear from the storekeepers when I was a kid here 25 years ago. I've been a subscriber to the local paper ever since I left, and most of those old storekeepers have died. I have taken special notice of the size of their estates. How much money do you think they left? between a hundred thousand and two hundred thousand dollars each. And here's the funny thing—every penny was made out of businesses which are always bad and always on the verge of getting ever so much worse."

I suppose that if gravestones told the real truth, nine out of ten of them would bear a line to this effect: "This man's life was shortened several years by the fear of bad developments most of which never occurred."

Even very wise men, as their years have increased, have suffered from the evil habit of fearing the worst. The Rev. Dr. Cotton Mather, who died two hundred years ago in Boston, was the most eminent graduate of Yale and virtually the founder of Harvard. He had courage and a wonderful mind. Yet in his old age he viewed the future disconsolately. He concluded that God had brought the Pilgrims across the ocean to "A New England desert" for a very special purpose, but that that this purpose had obviously been accomplished and that the whole colony "would soon come to naught."

The colony shows no sign of coming to naught, but there are doubtless a million men in it today who are losing the fun of their current success because of the dread that something unfortunate may be about to happen.

"One-fourth of life is intelligible," said Mark Rutherford, "the other three-fourths unintelligible darkness; and our earnest duty is to cultivate the habit of not looking around the corner."

Chicago Auctioneer Hold Two Auto Sales for Bell-Gillette Chev. Co. Sat'y

M. Burns, of Chicago, who has been conducting auctions for some of the large organizations throughout the South, has been retained by the Bell-Gillette Chevrolet Co., to hold an auto mobile auction in Littlefield, Saturday afternoon and night, April 5. Mr. Burns states that every car sold on that date will carry the famous "O. K." guarantee of the Chevrolet company, and the firm is behind every sale with its guarantee. One feature of the sale will be the giving away absolutely free of two cars. It is stated that to be eligible cars to the persons holding lucky numbers to receive these cars ticket holders do not necessarily have to participate in the sale, only attendants, as the cars are being given away by the company in appreciation of attendance and as a token of the company's good will. W. W. Gillette, in commenting upon the forth coming sale, said, "In deciding to hold this automobile auction sale, we feel we have secured the services of one of the best auctioneers on the block today. Mr. Burns comes to us with a splendid recommendation for holding strictly high type business like auction sales, and we feel quite sure that every visitor and prospective customer attending this sale will be well paid for their time and interest in the event."

arranged by the teacher and students in place provided. At 2:30 in the afternoon the prizes were awarded by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to the winners. At this time Dr. Horn, president of Texas Tech college and two members of the Lubbock chamber of Commerce made brief addresses. Littlefield was winner of four first places and four third places. The names of the entries and winners for Littlefield Home Economics Department were as follows:

Second Year Home Economics: Judging the fit of a set-in sleeve, Avis Dow, first place, pottery vase, Judging textiles, Wilma Wilkerson, first place, tapestry, Home Economics club contest, Avis Dow, third place, white ribbon. Third Year Home Economics: Judging the grade of linen offered for selection, Anna Mae Stewart, third place, white ribbon. General Home Economics Exhibit: Canned prunes, first place, blue ribbon, Childs play dress, Jewell Hargrove, third place, white ribbon. Canned Beans, third place, white ribbon. Relish, third place, white ribbon.

After the prizes were awarded all visitors and contestants were invited over to the Home Management Cottage for tea. It is the hope of the Littlefield Home Economic Department that such a contest will be held each year hence and that contestants of such a contest will receive one-half extra-curricula credit. Could this be done it will stimulate more interest in girls to take home economics.

Littlefield should be proud of the fact that it has a Home Economics Department and this Department should be commended for the work it is doing.

Would You Know One If You Saw It?
If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that those tiny germs can get into your blood streams through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers — washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone at Stokes-Alexander Drug Company

War Fund Solicitors Are O. K.'d in Collection Here
 R. E. Riley, vice-commander of the Richard New Post, No. 301, of the American Legion was called upon Wednesday of last week, by a party of four requesting him to sign a letter of authority from Harry Jordan, head of the American Disabled Veterans organization of Fort Worth, who is well known to Riley, permitting them to sell lapel flaps to anyone in Littlefield to be sold at what ever price the buyer desired to pay.
 The party was composed of a man by the name of Holden, another by the name of Stone, both disabled veterans of the World War together with two women, one of whom is a niece of Holden. Both are widows of men who were killed in service of the War.
 Previous to coming to Littlefield the party were the victims of an embarrassing situation at Lubbock, being arrested and having to wait two hours before proper information was gained from the Fort Worth office, substantiating their identity, after which they continued their work there, according to reports.

 Soon after beginning their work here they encountered some difficulty and Jordan was again called upon for legitimate proof.
 J. H. Ware was sent to Sudan by the local American Legion post, to get in touch with the people of that place and a letter was signed by merchants there, acknowledged by a notary public, in an effort to relieve the party of further embarrassment.
 Those who apply to the department for aid due to partial or total disability are supported by the Fort Worth office, until their records go through the proper channels, determining their rights to compensation, and while awaiting help, Mr. Jordan finds employment for those who are able to work, and those who are not able to hold positions are sent out into the territory on flag selling campaigns. All surplus above their living and traveling expenses is sent in to the Ft. Worth office to aid those who are not able to work in the territory or any other work that could be secured for them.

TEXAS TO GET $22,500,000
 Austin, April 3.—Approximately $22,500,000 in Federal funds will be available for road projects during the next three years in Texas, Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, announced following receipt of a report from Washington that Congress had passed the Federal aid road bills.

THESE FACTS MEAN MORE PROFIT ON FARMALL FARMS
 UNDER average soil conditions the Farmall will plow from 7 to 10 acres a day, which is as much as three men can do with nine mules or horses.
 Twenty acres a day can be bedded up with two middle breakers and a Farmall, which is the work ordinarily of two or three men and six to eight horses.
 The Farmall with a two row lister can cover 20 acres a day, doing the work of two to three men and six to eight horses.
 In planting corn or cotton, the Farmall can easily cover 20 to 30 acres a day—two or three times as much as can be done with a team. If four rows are planted at a time, this acreage is practically doubled.
 One man with a Farmall can cultivate 15 to 25 acres a day, doing the work of two or three men and six to eight horses.
 The Farmall when equipped with mower attachment will cut 20 to 25 acres a day.
 The Farmall and tractor binder can cut 30 to 35 acres of grain a day.
 For pulling the corn binder or corn picker, the Farmall saves both time and labor.
 Ask us to show you this tractor and the modern tools that work with it. Demonstrations can be arranged on your own farm if desired. No. obligation.

54 Counties Will Have Showings at Plainview Dairy Show, Apr. 7-10

PLAINVIEW, April 2.—When the Third Annual Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show opens in Plainview on April 7 it will be the culmination of the combined efforts of breeders, farmers, dairymen, and business men of 54 Texas Panhandle counties, the greatest co-operative movement ever inaugurated in the Panhandle. In making a success of the show the people of Plainview, interested individuals, and organizations will spend approximately $6,500.00; it is estimated that the attendance will total 50,000. The show opens on Monday and continues through Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Jersey breeders of the Panhandle will receive $1,080.00 in cash premiums, Holstein-Friesians $1,060.00 and the Gurnsey department $1,060. Counties winning places in the County herd department will receive $300.00, and winners in the dairy products department will receive $162.50. In the 4-H Club Boys dairy judging department the winners of first place will receive $25.00 and the second place $15.00. A total of $115.00 is offered in this department. In the vocational agricultural students judging contest the winner will receive $25.00 first, and $15.00 second. Premiums are offered in each class.

In addition to an exhibition of the best dairy herds in the Panhandle the visitor to the dairy show will have an opportunity to see the first farm machinery show ever staged in Plainview. This exhibit will be housed in a new building near the dairy barn.

Ladies who visit the dairy show will be interested in knowing that this year the Plainview Federation is staging a pure food show on the same dates as the dairy show. This will be found at the city auditorium.

A feature of the show each year is the annual sale. This year this department will be managed by Joe Jennings manager of a large farm near Plainview. Thirty-six animals will be sold by Colonel E. E. Herriff, well known auctioneer. The sale will be held on Thursday, April 10.

The official program of the show calls for the production contest on the first day, Jersey day on Tuesday and the annual exhibitors banquet Tuesday night. Wednesday has been designated as Guernsey and Holstein-Friesian day and Thursday is sales day. A number of Panhandle towns have selected special days at the show and those days will be dedicated to them.

J. B. Fitch, Head of the Dairy Husbandry Department of the Kansas Agricultural College at Manhattan, Kansas, has been selected as the judge for the show and will judge all classes. For two years Mr. Fitch has judged the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo and one year judged the Texas State Fair at Dallas.

COLLEGE NEWS

Dean J. M. Gordon of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, who representing the Association of Texas Colleges, visited the College Friday and made the annual examination of our work. Prof. Box Favor Annual Meet of Aggie Teachers To be Held at the Tech

Texas Technological college, at Lubbock will be host to a conference of vocational agriculture teachers operating in this section of the state, some time during the month of June, according to Prof. R. A. Box, Littlefield vocational agricultural teacher.

The conference will probably last through an entire week, and will be featured by discussion of such problems as arise in the teaching of this particular department, methods of securing more efficient results and the encouragement of more vocational agricultural courses. It is probable that a course looking forward to the training of more teachers for this work will be established at the Tech.

Littlefield vocational agriculture teams won several honors at the judging contest held in Lubbock last week and Prof. Box states he was highly pleased with the work of the local lads many of them showing high proficiency in their work.

Whitharral Bap't Church Given Dedication Sunday

The new Baptist church at Whitharral, 12 miles south of Littlefield was dedicated last Sunday, a very large crowd attending the services.

Rev. Roy A. Kemp, pastor of the Littlefield Tabernacle Baptist church delivered the dedicatory sermon, his subject being, "The Old Testament Bride—Rebecca; The New Testament Bride—The Church." He was accompanied by the orchestra and several singers from his church.

The house was filled for the service, many standing in the rear and down the aisles, and there was a wholesome religious spirit prevalent among the crowd.

At the noon hour there was a big basket dinner enjoyed by all present, and enough of the excellent food remaining to comfortably take care of another such crowd.

In the afternoon the service was of an informal nature, consisting of five minute talks from 15 different people, readings, quartets, duets, etc.

The new building is 40x42 feet, equipped with electric lights and soon will be served with gas. At the close of the afternoon Rev. Kemp remarked "This new church stands like a lighthouse in this community. We are glad to have been of assistance to the people of this community." He suggested the church now call a regular pastor so morning services could be held and the suggestion was adopted.

FOOTBALL!! OH BOY!!

Last week, Coach Tucker called a meeting of all the boys that will be eligible for football next year. There were several present at the meeting, the excellent material Littlefield High no has, with probably one or two new ones at the start of next year, Littlefield is looking forward to a winning team next year.

"Doc" Phipps, flashy quarterback of the Wildcat team for the past two seasons, was elected to lead his battling Navy team against the Army on Friday, April 4th. Fulton Smith, hard tackling end of last years eleven was elected to lead the Army team. The Navy won out from the Army two years ago, but the Army will be in the game fighting this year and there is promise of a closer and more exciting game than ever this year.

Of course Coach started them practicing Monday, and when this game is called there will be two fast and smooth working machines in action.

Everyone is urged to come out and see the game, and there will be a thrill for everyone and lots of action.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Tariff Bill Passed by Senate After Months of Heated Controversy.

AFTER months of heated and acrimonious controversy the senate passed the tariff bill by a vote of 53 to 31. It goes back to the house which passed it last May and will be thrashed over in conference committees of the two houses. The result will be a compromise bill which may be expected in about six weeks.

The bill as passed by the senate represents a higher degree of protection than that afforded under the present law, but provides duties on a somewhat lower level than the bill passed by the house.

Senator Reed Smoot (Rep., Utah) told the senate that the dutiable items in the bill as passed represent the equivalent of an average ad valorem rate of 38.99 per cent, as compared with 40.54 per cent as reported from the finance committee, 43.13 per cent as passed by the house, 34.61 per cent in the present law and 21.08 per cent in the Underwood act of 1913. The senate made 1,253 amendments to the house bill, according to Senator Smoot.

Among the features of the senate bill included many increases in rates on agricultural products over those granted in the house bill, a somewhat smaller increase in the duty on sugar than in the house bill, imposition of duties on cement and brick as in the house bill, a new duty on soft wood lumber, elimination of duties on shingles and hardwood lumber as proposed in the house bill, lower duties than in the house on aluminum, pig iron, watches and clocks, and on many chemicals and other manufactured articles.

Bitter contests in the deliberations of the conference committees of the two houses are expected over the export debenture farm relief provision and repeal of the flexible tariff which are in the senate bill. Senator Borah, who voted for the bill, indicated that he did so chiefly because of his support of these two provisions, and intimated that he would vote against any conference report that eliminated them.

On the final vote on the bill 46 Republicans and 7 Democrats voted for the bill, while 26 Democrats and 5 Republicans voted against it. The radicals split, seven of them voting for the bill and one being paired for the bill while five voted in the negative.

THE question of paying the price which France demands for joining a five-power navy reduction treaty has been passed up to Great Britain by the United States delegation. If the British government offers a security guarantee acceptable to France, the American delegation may favorably consider America's commitment to a consultative pact.

Under this plan Great Britain would be pledged to protect France against aggression. America would be pledged to consult with European powers in the event of a European war, but would not be bound to employ armed force against the aggressor. It is not clear whether the United States would be committed by implication to take sides in a European quarrel, and join any boycott proclaimed by the League of Nations. Whether the British government will make a concession in line with a security guarantee acceptable to France is the big question of the moment, and one MacDonald's cabinet must soon decide.

Since the beginning of the conference France has been trying to induce Great Britain to underwrite French security. Hitherto the British have refused to give France security guarantees, declaring against entangling military alliances. But both France and Great Britain would like to commit the United States to an understanding by which this country would not be neutral in case of a European war, but would respect any blockade declared by the League of Nations. Now the American delegation holds out promise of such an approach to commitment of a character represented by a consultative pact on the condition Great Britain will give France an acceptable guarantee.

Foreign Minister Briand of France has returned to the conference and is happy in seeing what he believes is a surrender by Great Britain and the United States to the French demand for a security pact.

THAT France has reduced her army by 44 per cent since 1913 was claimed by Senator Albert Mahieu as the senate approved the 1930 army budget. Expenditure, however, increased, owing to a boost in war material. This year France will begin the application of the one-year service act, practically all conditions now being fulfilled. One of these conditions is that a force of 193,000 permanently enlisted men should be maintained.

R. T. REV. James De Wolf Perry, bishop of Rhode Island, was elected primate of the Episcopal church at a session of the house of bishops in Chicago. He succeeds the late Bishop Charles P. Anderson of Chicago. Bishop Perry as primate or presiding bishop occupies a position in the United States comparable to that of the archbishop of Canterbury in England. Bishop Perry is a great-nephew of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, hero of the battle of Lake Erie in 1812.

PROPOSALS to pay World war veterans a portion of the face value of their adjusted compensation certificates in cash received a death blow in a letter from Secretary Mellon to Representative Hawley, chairman of the house ways and means committee. Under a bill fathered by Representative Cochran the $635,000,000 now held to the credit of the adjusted compensation fund would be made available for the payment to certificate holders of 25 per cent of the face value of the certificates.

In his letter Secretary Mellon pointed out that the Cochran proposal is based on the false assumption that all of the $635,000,000 reserve is immediately available.

The fact is that in order to finance the scheme it would be necessary to increase taxes or authorize a bond issue for the purpose, he wrote, thereby increasing the public debt with "a consequent disruption of the orderly program upon which the government is proceeding."

HIGH treasury officials express confidence that the 1 per cent income tax reduction granted by congress this calendar year. Income tax collections for March have exceeded expectations thus far, and the financial outlook for the government for the remainder of the fiscal year 1930 is at least bright.

Revenues from income taxes for the fiscal year that ends June 30 now total $1,785,282,837, or $134,000,000 more than was collected for the corresponding period last year. This collection has given the treasury books a paper surplus of $101,957,270, despite a falling off of customs receipts for the year of $28,000,000

Treasury experts hold that with settlement of the pending tariff bill the custom duty collections will expand.

Federal actuaries believe the heaviest drain on the treasury will come from the federal farm board. Congress has just appropriated an additional $100,000,000 for the board. How much the board will be forced to draw from the fund is dependent upon the agriculture situation.

THE Department of Agriculture announces that a 2.8 per cent increase in the acreage of corn this year, a 15 per cent decrease in that of durum wheat, and a .1 per cent increase in the acreage of all other spring wheat, as compared with last year's harvest acreages, were indicated by farmers' intentions on March 1 to plant this spring.

The report was based on returns from about 50,000 farmers and was intended to furnish information which would enable farmers to make such adjustments in their plans for this year's plantings as may seem desirable.

THE Canadian house of commons, by a vote of 173 to 11, passed Prime Minister King's bill to ban liquor exports to the United States.

The galleries were crowded for the final commons scene in connection with the bill. Senators, who will now have the bill in hand in the upper chamber, crowded their railed sanctum overlooking the commons floor, following the vote with keen interest. The 173 to 11 majority recorded for the bill is one of the largest on commons records, and the total vote of 184 out of a possible 244 votes indicates a remarkably large attendance of members.

THE great North German Lloyd liner Europa broke the world's record on her maiden trip to the United States. She smashed the record held by her sister ship, the Bremen, by 18 minutes, and could easily have bettered the mark by several hours. The official time from Cherbourg breakwater to Ambrose lightship was 4 days, 17 hours and 6 minutes. It took the Bremen 18 minutes longer. So the crown of the fastest liner in the world goes to the Europa.

THE national business survey conference has received reports from 27 lines of business for the four months following the stock market crash which indicate that American business, in general, is firm and showing steady improvement.

Although the reports "indicate both strong and weak spots" some of the early retarding factors, partly psychological, "appear to have been gradually overcome," according to Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the conference, who made public a summary of the reports. This view was borne out by the reports themselves, three-fourths of which were optimistic.

"The reports indicate that the importance laid upon construction as an influence in restoring industrial balance has not been over emphasized," Mr. Barnes asserted. "They show that for a revival of construction in its manifold forms a first requirement is adequate and reasonably priced credit."

There is no cause whatever for alarm over the country's construction program, according to Mr. Barnes, as utilities of all kinds contemplate such expenditures this year as to aggregate $3,250,000,000, as against $2,893,000,000 last year.

REPORTS made to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, show that unemployment decreased slightly in the first two weeks of March for the first time since August.

What the Presidency Did to Lincoln

"The Congressman from Illinois" 1846

"The Lincoln-Douglas Debater" 1858

"The President-Elect" 1860

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

PHIL. 14 is the anniversary of one of the great tragedies in American history. For it was on that date just 65 years ago that the bullet of John Wilkes Booth struck down Abraham Lincoln and plunged a whole nation, rejoicing that four years of war was at last ended, into the deepest sorrow. Ever since that day there has been endless speculation as to "what might have been" if he had been spared. Would the North have been a more generous victor and the South have been spared the ruin and despair of the Reconstruction era? Would the wounds of the most terrible civil war in history have been more quickly healed during those next four momentous years if there had been at the head of the nation the man who had said "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in." No one can answer those questions positively, but there can be but little doubt in anyone's mind that the answer in each case is "Yes."

Useless though such speculation may be, it suggests another interesting possibility. Suppose John Wilkes Booth had been balked in trying to carry out his mad scheme and the tragedy of that terrible night in Ford's theater had been averted. Might not death in some other guise than the assassin's bullet have prevented Abraham Lincoln from realizing his ambition "to finish the work we are in"? For such a possibility is not so improbable as it may seem at first thought.

It has become almost axiomatic that the Presidency of the United States is a "man-killing job." For ex-Presidents the average length of life after turning over the reins to their successors has been a little over 11 years. But when there is added to the heavy duties of the Presidency, the crushing burden of leading the nation in a great war even that span of years is greatly reduced. Woodrow Wilson, the World War President, left the White House in 1921, a broken, prematurely-aged man who was in his grave three years later. So with this recent tragic example before us, it is not beyond the realm of belief that a similar fate might have awaited Abraham Lincoln, who was called upon to bear the most crushing load of responsibility and sorrow ever placed upon the shoulders of any American, not even excepting those of George Washington in the darkest days of the American Revolution.

Some interesting evidence of the heartbreaking task which was Lincoln's and of the fact that not even his great strength could have much longer endured it is presented in the reproduction of photographs which illustrate Emil Ludwig's "Lincoln," published recently by Little, Brown and company. Five of these are shown above and they, more vividly than words, tell that story.

Although it is a familiar story which the distinguished German writer tells in his biography of Lincoln, it has a particular interest at this time when the anniversary of the Great Emancipator's death recalls to Americans the tragedy of his whole life. "Lincoln's career, more than that of any other man in history, is so grandly illuminated by Fate that the first act is conceived by the last, and every scene is bound together by dramatic intensity," writes Ludwig.

In one of the word pictures of Lincoln which Ludwig presents, he is a "comedy figure," albeit a tragic-comic one. The scene is the inauguration on March 4, 1860, on a platform in front of the east portico of the Capitol. "What do the audience see? They look up at the speaker, but his friends are little pleased by his aspect," writes Ludwig, who then quotes the words of one who witnessed that scene and wrote as follows:

"The Speaker at Gettysburg" 1863

"The Man of Sorrows" 1865

"His newly grown beard was short and stubby like a shoe brush; grizzled, stiff, and hideous; disfiguring a face that without it expressed power and deep feeling. He wore a brand-new suit, with a swallow-tail instead of the customary frock coat; he had a very shiny stovepipe hat, evidently just taken out of the bandbox, and a huge ebony stick, with a gold head as large as an egg. In this unusual rig-out, he looked so uncomfortable that it was quite pathetic. Matters were even worse when he reached the platform for he did not know what on earth to do with his hat and his stick. There he stood, a target for thousands of eyes, holding these two encumbrances, the image of hopeless perplexity."

To that Ludwig adds this comment: "There he stands burdened with things which his fashionable wife must have forced upon him, too elegantly attired, lest he should look like a backwoodsman—a man used to wearing his clothes just anyhow, decked out with a useless walking stick, transformed into a comedy figure and all the more a mark of silent sarcasm. There he stands for the first time he is to speak to the nation as a whole, for he is embarrassed by this fine new stick with a gold knob, and the terribly shiny top hat. What is he to do? Dreadful moments, but fate has sent him his longtime enemy, who, as if in irony, is watching his plight at close hand. Douglas it is who comes to his rescue; Douglas as a valet, Douglas who stretches out his short arm to take the hat and hold it for half an hour, like a footman, till all is over."

The story of what Lincoln endured during the first two years of the war—his struggle to secure the co-operation of a wrangling, discordant cabinet, his repeated disappointments in his generals who either wouldn't fight or who fought only to be defeated disastrously and all the other factors which thwarted him at every turn—is matched as a record of despair only by what followed.

For when he issued the Emancipation Proclamation "the effect was catastrophic. Confusion was widespread throughout the North, there was a slump on the stock exchange; the elections were adverse; the Democrats declared that thousands of whites were being forced to give their blood in order that their fellow countrymen might be illegally deprived of property. . . . When congress was sitting in December, the President's unceasing personal struggle on two fronts, the near approach of the momentous date fixed for the enforcement of the proclamation, the varying and for the most part unfavorable fortunes of war, the skepticism of friends regarding the new measure and the scorn in which it was held by enemies, made him weary and dispirited as well."

An unforgettable picture of the Lincoln of this period is given by an old friend who had not seen him for six years and whose description of him is cited by Ludwig as follows: "The change . . . was simply appalling. His whiskers had grown and had given additional cadaverousness to his face. . . . The light seemed to have gone out of his eyes, which were sunken far under his enormous brows. . . . There was over his whole face an expression of sadness, and a far-away look in his eyes, which were utterly unlike the Lincoln of former days."

The wonder is that the war President did not break under the strain. For, says Ludwig, "For him, private life had ceased to exist. Work, agitation, enemies at home, reverses abroad, danger threatening to undo the work done by the fathers of the country and to frustrate the activities of his own career such had been his lot for three or four years, almost without cessation. The tree-feller's tall body had been attacked from within, mined as it were and weakened here and there; he was laid up for awhile by a modified smallpox, caught in a visit to the front; he complained that his legs were always cold, but he would not give way; very rarely indeed, after a sleepless night, would he lie down on Welles' sofa, or say that he was too tired to receive visitors. 'I hardly know how to rest. It may be good for the body. But what is tired in me lies within, and can't be got at.'"

Nor did the gloom lift when the end of the war finally came and Appomattox silenced the four-year clamor of the guns. For, as Lincoln looked back upon those four years, he could see naught but tragedy—personal as well as national. "Where, now, is Douglas, who had been so full of life and activity? Where is old friend Baker? Where are his little boys, willed and perished like half-open buds nipped by the frost? Death was grinning at him from every corner! Would history speak of him only as the Lord of Death; would history be justly entitled to give him such a name?"

Such are the thoughts which Ludwig puts in his mind as he enters Ford's theater that night of April 14. Then—the shot, the cry of "Sic semper tyrannis!" the scream of Mary Lincoln and in a little house across the street the next morning "he dies at seven o'clock; in a strange bed like a pilgrim, slain on Good Friday like a prophet." And the tragedy of Abraham Lincoln's whole life was summed up by his little son, Tad, who "when he stood beside the coffin in the White House, said 'Is father in heaven now? Yes? Then I am glad, for he was not really happy here.'"

PARROT ALMOST RUNS QUARANTINE

Poses as Cat, but Makes Unfortunate Slip.

New York.—A hundred and sixty parrots from Nicaragua expended all the riches of their limited vocabularies here when they were ordered by the public health officials to spend thirty days at Hoffman's island under observation for signs of parrot fever.

One bird, more talented than the others, almost got ashore by posing as a kitten, but at the last moment betrayed himself by directing an uncomplimentary epithet at one of the ship's officers.

All the birds came in on the Colombia of the Panama Mail line, which arrived from San Francisco after stopping at Central American ports to collect the parrots, seven macaws, two toucans and fifty ring-tailed monkeys.

Mrs. Margaret Daly, a stewardess, also had a parrot and she wanted badly to get in the city. She knew that it would be suspected of carrying psittacosis, but she was morally certain the bird was well. So she taught it to meow like a cat and then put it in a wicker cage covered with cloth.

"What's in the cage?" asked a customs agent.

"A kitten," she said.

"Meow" said the parrot in confirmation. "Meoweeeeeow!"

Then through a chink it caught sight of a ship's officer.

"Hello, you—"

It joyfully remarked.

"What kind of a kitten is that, anyway?" said the inspector.

He tore off the cloth around the cage.

"Hoffman's island for you, fellow," he said.

"Meow," said the parrot.

There was considerable debate between Inspector James Duffy and Deputy Surveyor of Customs John Taylor as to the status of the seven macaws and the two toucans.

They were finally admitted when Dr. Lee Craswell, representing the Department of Agriculture, said they were not psittacosis carriers.

Walls of Water Will Protect Gotham Vault

New York.—Walls of water through which cracksmen in time of peace or enemies in time of war could only penetrate by the use of submarine apparatus will surround the great vault of the Irving Trust company at its new headquarters at 1 Wall street.

This remarkable protective feature will be supplemented to an elaborate system of mechanical, chemical, and electrical safeguards in the second largest vault in the city and the third largest in the world. Only the vaults of the New York Federal Reserve bank and the Bank of England are larger than the treasure house in the new Irving Trust house.

Preparations are now well advanced for the installation of the three-story vault. It will rest on foundations cut into solid rock and will occupy almost the entire block front along Wall street, between Broadway and New street, with a depth from front to rear of 40 feet.

The bottom of the vault will be 60 feet below Broadway, well below sea level. It is this feature that made possible the water wall, regarded as the last word in vault protection. The only way by which the outside of the vault may be reached when the building is finished and the vault sides flooded, is by an elaborate system of air locks and pumps such as tunnel workers under the river use.

Census Shows Portuguese Women Are in Majority

Lisbon.—The latest census of the Portuguese population shows that there are 521,355 more women than men in Portugal. The excess of females over male population has been a feature of Portuguese vital statistics with the preponderance increasing only as the normal population increases. The difference in absolute numbers, but also increasing in proportion to the relative numbers of the two sexes.

French Woman Has Slept 100 Years in Same House

Saint Omer.—Mrs. Constantine Becu, widow for 60 years, celebrated her centenary several days ago with a wine party to which she invited her neighbors. Madame Becu has an unusual record, having been born in the house in which she now lives. In 100 years she has never slept outside of that house one time.

Hears It's Triplets; Pa Takes a Holiday

Knoxville, Tenn.—"It's a girl!" Manning M. Stinnett, blacksmith, heard the words at his shop near Townsend, Tenn., and started for home.

On the way another runner met him and announced: "It's two girls!"

Stinnett quickened his steps. Half way home a third messenger greeted him with: "It's two girls and a boy!"

Stinnett then broke into a run and verified the report of triplets, four pounds each. Stinnett knocked off work for the rest of the day.

TRUE LOVER LEAVES DOWRIES TO BRIDES

Thirteen Girls Get $200 Under Old Bequest.

Baton Rouge, La.—Back in the Eighteenth century when Louisiana was a mysterious region of swamps and bayous and forests, a young man made love to a girl who lived along the Mississippi.

She would not marry because she was too poor to bring him a dowry. But to his death at the age of eighty-four he remained faithful to her memory. And his will provided that the interest from $25,000 should be divided annually among the worthy brides of his loved one's home town as dowry money.

Recently the police jury, which corresponds to the county supervisors or commissioners in other states, of West Baton Rouge parish allotted close to $200 each to 13 girls who married within the last year.

Came From Brittany.

It was their dowry, a gift from Julien Poydras, a boy from Nantes, Brittany, who came to this country in 1768 after colorful years before the mast.

He peddled odds and ends up and down the Mississippi. He lived a simple life, and he worked hard. Not strange, then, that by 1800 he owned a hundred slaves and five plantations in the parishes of West Baton Rouge and Pointe Coupee.

Honors, too, came to this adventurous Breton. He was the president of the first legislative council of Louisiana territory. From 1800 to 1812 he was a delegate to congress. He was president of the constitutional convention that opened in New Orleans on November 4, 1811. When Louisiana was admitted to the Union, he served as president of the state senate.

Will Free Slaves.

The will of Julien Poydras ordered that all of his slaves be freed within 25 years, and it gave money to schools, hospitals and charitable organizations.

But the bequest best remembered is the dowry money. For 100 years it has meant added happiness for the girls in the parish across the Mississippi from the capital city.

To them Julien Poydras was more than a great Louisianian—he was a man who appreciated the pangs of a girl who must come dowryless to her husband.

Hawaiian Coffee Crop Doubled in Six Years

Honolulu.—The coffee industry of Hawaii, centering in the Kona district of the big island, has approximately doubled during the last six years, heartening advocates of extending coffee raising under the American flag in insular territories and possessions.

The crop for the past season amounted to 8,067,400 hacs, which is hardly a factor in the world coffee market, but which was made the basis of the contention for a duty on coffee sought during the last year in Washington.

Because of the comparative smallness of the crop, Hawaiian coffee marketing is still mostly local and to markets bordering the Pacific coast.

Growers are ambitious for expansion, however, confident in the quality of their product. There are now approximately 1,200 planters in Kona, almost all on small holdings of a few acres.

French Peasants Like Dish of Boiled Snakes

Paris.—French peasants eat many curious things but snakes are about the most unusual item on their menu. Hen C. Lee, an American tourist in France, in a letter to the editor of the Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune, tells of attending a snake feast near Nice.

Lee was in the Alpes Maritimes and during a walk killed two small constrictors. He asked a peasant if he wanted the snakes, and the peasant readily took them, skinned them, cut them up into small pieces and put them in a pot to boil. Lee declares he refused to join in the meal.

According to good authority the peasants near Rennes, in Brittany, consider boiled constrictors, which are very much like American garter snakes, as a tit-bit just as grasshoppers are in Algeria.

'05 Model Horse Brings $50 as Trade-In on Car

Seattle, Wash.—Old Dobbin enjoyed a horse laugh at the used automobile here. A horse and buggy, both of 1905 vintage, traded in on a new automobile, brought an allowance of $50. "And where," inquired the salesman who closed the deal, "could you find a 1905 automobile that would bring $50?"

The old horse was permitted to roam the vacant lot among delapidated trade-in cars.

Twenty-Year-Old Goose Protects Doctor's Auto

Martinsburg, Mo.—A giant gander, given to Dr. U. S. G. Arnold of this city 20 years ago as a part payment for his services, is his household pet and guardian of his automobile. The humble gray goose is rated with an unusual intelligence and protects the doctor's car from its perch next to the doctor on the front seat while he is busy making a round of calls.

U. S. MAKES DRIVE ON COUNTERFEITERS

Secret Service Men Round Up 138 Suspects.

Washington.—Secret service, aided by local police, made 138 arrests in the country last month for counterfeiting.

This is a record for one month and evidence of the vigor with which the campaign against counterfeiting is being conducted. Most of the counterfeiting is in $5 and $10 bills, all of which are declared, by experts to be only fair work.

The bills are passed in small communities and in the suburbs or congested districts of large cities and reach the banks and big business houses, which promptly bundle them up for deposit or to be sent to Washington for redemption with the result that the counterfeiters are not detected before reaching Washington. In the opinion of the experts they should be.

"Congestion of the court calendars and leniency in court sentences is partly responsible for the present situation in counterfeiting," said W. H. Moran, chief of the secret revenue service.

"We need quicker action in bringing counterfeiter to trial and longer jail sentences. Counterfeiting is the most despicable business in the world, for, if successful, it is always an innocent person who suffers and it may be his last cent in the world."

Moran emphatically denied the smaller paper money now in use in this country has anything to do with the increase in counterfeiting. "A counterfeit is a counterfeit," he said. "It is no easier to counterfeit a small bill than a large one. The faces of the Presidents are the same size on both the old and new bills and that part of the bill is the most difficult for any counterfeiter to imitate."

The rapidity with which the counterfeiters are being arrested encourages Moran in the belief that no counterfeiter can hope to escape the law long.

Native Peasant to Guard Tomb of Clemenceau

Mouchamps, France.—The tomb of Georges Clemenceau will be constantly guarded by a Vendee peasant, to prevent its desecration by souvenir hunters.

The Vendeeans selected one of their own farmers, M. Joseph Jangouin, for the honor and he took oath before a village justice of the peace, swearing to protect the tiny woodpile in which are the graves of Clemenceau and his father.

Although the woods, lying along the Petit Lay creek, are far off the automobile roads and can be reached only by passing through muddy turnip fields, the grave of the Tiger is visited by hundreds of pilgrims weekly, and, despite the expressed wish of Clemenceau, it is almost constantly covered with flowers.

Chinese Bandits Steal Telephone Wires

Nanking, China.—Minnesota folk thought they had found an enterprising thief when it was discovered that several hundred feet of wire had been stolen recently from power company poles near Stillwater, but China can duplicate the tale on an even larger scale. Telephone users in the western district of nationalist China's new capital awake after a recent heavy snowfall to find their phones out of order. Workmen who investigated found that all the wire in the whole district had been stripped from the poles by bandits, with the slithering aid of the snow.

Boston, Mass.—A cheese hound is abroad in Pittsfield and Police Officer William Dunn has been searching for the animal which has a great fondness for cheese and endeavors to satisfy its appetite whenever possible. He jumped on the rear of the truck and after a hurried search among a number of grocery parcels, he nosed out a large package of Sweitzer cheese and ran.

Moneys of Many Lands

Woman of Palestine Wearing Her Money Wealth as Ornaments.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

The United States has settled down to the use of the small size paper money so completely that the occasional large bill that is encountered seems awkward. One more chapter has been written in the long story of money.

Man has used money in some form since the dawn of civilization. Fishhooks and slave girls, beads, hawks and hounds, all have served as a medium of exchange. Early Virginians bought wives with tobacco. Once, it is said, Mexican Indians used canoe-banks, until aboriginal crooks began making clay counterfeits, baked and varnished to look like the real.

The study of money, as an instrument of trade through the ages, involves art, heraldry, and mythology; it leads to economics and politics—and far into history. When kingdoms rose, often new moneys rose with them, and when they fell, their moneys passed away. Nothing shakes a government like the depreciation of its money. The very progress of civilization itself may be largely measured by the pace at which the various moneys of the world have been standardized and accepted by international commerce. It was, to a large degree, the quest for gold and silver, and their use in coined money, which led to the exploration and settlement of America, Australia, and South Africa.

The metal-disk money of the West was born in Lydia, at the eastern end of the Mediterranean, about 2,000 years ago. Cowrie, the lovely shell money of the antipodes, has through the ages been the most widely circulated rival of the metal disk; but its day of dominance has departed. Only isolated communities still cling to it as money. Yet cowrie can boast that more people have used it than have clinked the metal disks in all their varieties. It has served a greater number of human beings as a medium of exchange than any other money devised by man.

China's Metal Coins.

The cash of China, coins with holes in them, still dominate the marts of many men in a considerable corner of the Asiatic world. There exist inscribed cash pieces attributed to 1115-1070 B. C. and similar pieces, uninscribed, believed to be earlier.

The tin, also of China, was one of the first metal coins in the world. The word means "tin" or "sharp-edged instrument," hence the name was applied to the razor-shaped coins of old China.

The earliest Chinese metal coins are believed to have been miniature spades, inscribed and without perforation and with open slank for inserting a handle. Some authorities place their origin earlier than 2000 B. C.

Convenience for carrying is accepted as accounting for the introduction and long use of perforated coins by China and its neighbors. From earliest times a string has been the poor man's pocketbook.

There have been many unique moneys in different countries. Nails were once so precious that they were used as money in Scotland and in New England in pre-revolution days. And while the mark was skidding to zero after the World War, postmasters in remote parts of Germany used shoe nails for small-change purposes—they had a fixed utility value.

Bars of crystal salt are money in many parts of Ethiopia. This medium of exchange, however, suffers deterioration in a strange way. It has become a nice courtesy, when meeting a friend, to proffer a coin to be licked! So does the money lose weight through friendly hospitality, and it is to be hoped that the salt acts as a germicide!

The island of Yap, of the Caroline group, neighbors in the remote way of the South seas with the Philippines and New Guinea, undoubtedly boasts the strangest of money. It is of stone and the coins are sometimes 12 feet in

Dorothy's Mother Proves Claim

Children don't ordinarily take medicine, but here's one that all of them love. Perhaps it shouldn't be called a medicine at all. It's more like a rich, concentrated food.

It's pure, wholesome, sweet to the taste and sweet in your child's little stomach. It builds up and strengthens weak, puny, underweight children, makes them eat heartily, brings the roses back to their cheeks, makes them playful, energetic, full of life. And no bilious, headachy, constipated, feverish, fretful baby or child ever failed to respond to the gentle influence of California Fig Syrup on their little bowels. It starts lazy bowels quick, cleans them out thoroughly, tones and strengthens them so they continue to act normally of their own accord.

Millions of mothers know about California Fig Syrup from experience. A Western mother, Mrs. J. G. Moore, 119 Cliff Ave., San Antonio, Texas, says: "California Fig Syrup is certainly all that's claimed for it. I have proved that with my little Dorothy. She was a bottle baby and very delicate. Her bowels were weak. I started her on Fig Syrup when she was a few months old and it regulated her, quick. I have used it with her ever since for colds and every little set-back and her wonderful condition tells better than words how it helps."

Don't be imposed on. See that the Fig Syrup you buy bears the name, "California" so you'll get the genuine, famous for 50 years.

Bride Tells Her Secret

"FOR a young bride of twenty-one to lose her vitality and pep is disastrous, almost a sacrifice," says Mrs. George E. Pillow, of Franklin, Va. "That, however," she continues, "is just what I did."

"I had only been married a few months to an athletic husband, who went everywhere and did everything. I tried to keep up with his pace, and simply collapsed under the strain. I never was really ill; just mallow-skinned, depressed, and lifeless. Swimming, dancing, golf, I just couldn't face them. When I began to lose my clear complexion, I was desperate.

"Then one day a girl friend came to pay me a visit. In the bottom of her little bag of clothes lay a crystal-clear bottle—Nujol! A short woman-to-woman talk—a telephone call to a neighboring drug store—and my future happiness was settled.

"That was a year ago. Now I too am never without Nujol, which has brightened and cleansed my body like a cake of pure soap. I eat, sleep, swim, and hike with the enthusiasm of a child. My complexion is all it used to be—and best of all—I am my husband's little pal again."

The wonderful thing about crystal-clear Nujol is that it is not a medicine; it contains no drugs—it cannot hurt even a baby. It is simply the normal internal lubrication which

Three Mothers Agree

When mother is tired, nervous or ill the whole home is upset. For her family's sake, every mother wants to be well and strong. These three women tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps them to care for their families.

Mrs. H. Dolhonde, 6318 York St., New Orleans, Louisiana

"Before my last baby was born, I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such good results that I named her Catherine Lydia. I have six older children and five grandchildren, too. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again because of my age. I eat and sleep better and I do all my housework, and my washing. I will do my best to answer letters."

Mrs. Harold Goodnow, 36 Cane St., Fitchburg, Massachusetts

"I cannot praise your medicine enough. After my baby came I was rundown. I had to go to bed often through the day. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I felt like a different woman. If any mother has those tired feelings I advise her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Lloyd R. Blasing, 115 So. Ohio St., Anaheim, California

"After my baby came I was so nervous and tired that I felt miserable. One day a booklet was left at our door and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now on my fourth bottle and I feel much stronger. It has helped me in every way and I feel sure that other women in rundown condition will pick up if they will only take a few bottles."

POULTRY

ESTIMATED COST OF RAISING PULLETS

Seven Months' Time and 30 Pounds of Feed.

Poultrymen should have available from $1 to $1.50 to spend for every pullet they plan to raise, declares Charles N. Keen, assistant professor of poultry at the Colorado Agricultural college.

"To bring into production a dual purpose pullet—one which may be utilized for meat or egg production—about seven months' time and 30 pounds of feed are required," Mr. Keen says. "To bring into production a pullet of the Leghorn type, about five and one-half months' time and 24 pounds of feed are necessary."

Other interesting figures which have been compiled from authoritative sources, but which are of course average figures, are given by Mr. Keen, who believes they will be of special interest now that the new chick season is beginning. It is emphasized that good management in most cases should produce better than average results.

Since it generally takes about two eggs to get one tucky chick, and since nearly three chicks must be hatched to get one good pullet, it has been estimated that it really requires about six eggs to obtain one good pullet.

Several good authorities declare that it costs about ten cents to produce a chick. A six-year-old Rhode Island Red should weigh about three-fourths of a pound. A six-week-old Single Comb White Leghorn should weigh about seven-tenths of a pound.

A Rhode Island Red should weigh two pounds at about eleven weeks of age and should have consumed about 7.2 pounds of feed. A Single Comb White Leghorn should weigh one and one-half pounds at about ten weeks of age and should have consumed 6.3 pounds of feed.

Sanitary Management Is Baby Chick Need

If the baby chicks are to keep their health and grow vigorously, we must practice proper sanitary management. We must keep the house clean, the ground clean, and the feed that is given them must be clean and wholesome. The feeding utensils and drinking fountains must be kept as clean as possible. It is a good idea to always keep a good disinfectant on hand, and every time the house is cleaned to use a solution of the disinfectant. The house should be cleaned out at least once each week and disinfected whenever necessary. It should be disinfected thoroughly after each brood is placed on range, to guard against any contagious diseases.

Hard-Boiled Eggs Safe Food for Baby Chicks

It is common practice to feed the infertile eggs tested out from the incubator to baby chicks. In so doing it incurs the danger of infecting the chicks with pullorum disease (formerly called bacillary white diarrhea). Where eggs form a part of the chick's diet they should be boiled for at least five minutes and preferably longer. This boiling will destroy the germ of the dreaded chick disease, and then it is a perfectly safe and good practice to feed the boiled eggs to baby chicks. One should not run the risk of infecting the brood by feeding the raw eggs.

Feed for Poults

Little turkeys should not be fed for the first day or two, as they are absorbing the yolk of the egg from which they came and this is what nature intended that they should get. After two days they may be fed chopped hard-boiled egg and corn bread crumbs for the first week, or soaked stale bread in milk and squeezed dry. When they begin to get out on the range, they may be fed morning and night only, as they get much from the range.

Young Duck Ration

A widely recommended ration that has been extensively used by duck raisers, is as follows: As a starting ration a mash made up of equal parts of rolled oats and dried bread is fed. It is found desirable to add a small quantity of sand, one part to twenty parts of the mash, and moistened. As much as the ducks will clean up readily is fed five or six times daily. After the ducks are six days old equal parts of bran, yellow corn meal, rolled oats and dry bread can be fed.

Geese Mate in Pairs

Geese generally mate in pairs, though a young gander will sometimes mate with more than one goose. Later he will usually pick a favorite. When mature the easiest way to tell a gander is to listen to the voice. A gander has a voice which is a cross between a whistle and whisper. A young male hatched in June has an excellent chance, but if he is kept in a pen with a lot of other birds of different ages he probably will not be ready by February.

LACE ADORNS BOUDOIR MODES; NEW COATS FOR LITTLE GIRLS

LACE, lace, lace and then some—speaking in regard to those exquisite intimate garments of the boudoir, the lure of which no normal-minded woman can or even cares to resist. With all the lavishness of lace which goes to enhance lingerie and negligee types of the present mode, the fact is outstanding that quality is not sacrificed to quantity. For ordinary laces there seems no place in the scheme of boudoir fashions. Even the laces on the less expensive garments are amazingly fine and lovely, while the higher priced garments are garnished with laces the beauty and fineness of which cannot be told in words.

Handsome Boudoir Ensemble.

Not only does the loveliness of the laces employed call for admiration, but one is impressed with the artistry displayed in lace work as it enters into the creation of boudoir ensembles of nightrobes and daytime negligees, of the new costume slips which after so long a time without lace are again lavishly lace-trimmed, and especially the cunning little lingerie dance sets which youth so adores.

A fascinating story of lace is told in the picture herewith of a boudoir ensemble made of shell pink satin. The mellow-toned antique alencon lace which so generously borders its hemlines, is adroitly worked in, until it becomes a very part of its background. This method of cutting around the lace design, then inserting it into the silk or satin of the garment is a favorite treatment this season, and as the picture shows it is wonderfully effective.

The long-coat pajama ensemble as here shown bespeaks that which is most chic and charming in lingerie modes. In fact the coat or jacket set is highly important in its varying moods and combinations such as the costume slip with its matching jacket or the sleeveless nightgown complemented with a bed jacket of self materials. The vogue for deeply toned faces in the lingerie realm is of the wane, according to latest word from Parisian style headquarters. Not that white faces have returned, but fancy is turning to faces of creamy and light beige tints. Pale rose beige and very light caster shades continue in vogue. There is also a growing tendency to tint the lace to match the fabric it trims.

Coats for Juveniles. "Little folks" coats "say it" with color this season. Whether the juvenile coat be of lace tweed, of basket cloth or of flannel or a similarly smooth surfaced weave, color is the first consideration. Emphasis is placed first of all on lovely springlike green tones. Smart indeed is the coat of soft green cloth which is neatly tailored in the regulation style, with double-breast fastening, notched collar and self-fabric belt. Pastel tweed mixtures also are favored media for these simply tailored coat models. These include yellow, rose, and blue effects, some of the weaves being lacy and light in weight. The coat in the picture departs

Lesson for April 6

THE LAW OF THE CROSS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 16:13-26
GOLDEN TEXT—If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Proving our Love for Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Proving Our Love for Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Denying Self for Christ.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Cross-bearing in the Christian Life.

The lesson topic is narrower than the Scripture text. It includes Christ's taking account of His ministry, Peter's confession, Christ's prediction concerning His death and His teaching concerning the cost of discipleship.

1. Christ, the King, Taking Account of His Ministry (vv. 13-17).

1. The place (v. 13). It was at Caesarea Philippi, the northern limit of Jewish territory, practically in Gentile territory.

2. The time in Christ's ministry. The cross was only a few months away. The King had already been rejected. They had charged Him with being in league with the devil and sought to kill Him. It was highly important that the disciples have clear views as to Christ's person in order to stand the test of His trial and crucifixion.

3. Peter's confession (vv. 13-16).

(1) The occasion (vv. 13-15). Two questions asked by Jesus Christ provoked this confession. a. As to the opinion of the people concerning Him (vv. 13, 14). They recognized Him as a teacher and prophet of more than human authority and power. Had He been content with this, He would not have been rejected in Jerusalem. It was His persistent claim of being the God-man, the very Son of God, that sent Him to the cross. b. As to the personal opinion of the disciples (v. 15). It was not enough for them to be able to tell what opinion the people held concerning Jesus. It was necessary that they have definite, correct and personal knowledge of and belief in Him. (2) The content (v. 16). It consisted of two parts. a. "Thou art the Christ." This avowed Jesus to be the Messiah—the fulfiller of the Jewish hopes and expectations. b. "The Son of the living God." This acknowledged Him to be divine. It was the recognition of His glorious person in keeping with the Jewish hope (Isa. 9:6, 7).

4. Christ's confession of Peter (v. 17).

Those who confess Christ shall be confessed by Him (Matt. 10:32, 33). Christ pronounced a blessing upon Peter—not in the nature of reward, but a declaration of the spiritual condition of Peter because of his clear apprehension of his Lord.

5. Christ's charge to the disciples (v. 20).

He asked them not to tell any man that He was the Messiah. The time was not ripe for such testimony.

6. The New Body, the Church, Announced (vv. 18, 19).

Following the confession of Peter, Jesus declared His intention of bringing into existence a new body, to the members of which He would give eternal life, and into whose hands He would entrust the keys of the Kingdom. Peter was to have a distinguished place in this body. Association in this new body cannot be broken by death, for the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it.

7. The King Predicts His Death (vv. 21, 22).

This prediction was no doubt startling to the disciples. They did not yet realize that redemption was to be accomplished through the passion of the cross. So unwelcome was this announcement that Peter cried, "This shall not be unto Thee." Later Peter saw through the darkness to the sunlight on the hilltops beyond. A new hope filled his breast (1 Pet. 1:3, 4). Victory through death is yet the stumbling block of many.

IV. The Cost of Discipleship (vv. 23-26).

Life can be saved only by losing it. If we are going to be Christians, we must share Christ's suffering.

1. There must be denial of self (v. 23). There is a wide difference between self-denial and denial of self. All people practice self-denial, but only real disciples of Christ deny self.

2. "Take up His cross" (v. 24).

This cross is the shame and suffering which lie in the path of loyalty to Christ.

3. Follow Christ (v. 24).

This means to have the mind of Christ—to be like Christ.

Flowers That Are Not Seen.

Golfer Had Had Other Shots Before That One

Four golfers, relates London Tit-Bits, were resting at the ninth green, which was behind a mound, when a battered ball came over the rise and rolled into a sandy trap. The player was not in view.

"Let's make him think he did it in one," said one of the golfers. So they picked up his ball and put it in the hole.

Presently a weary player walked over the mound and looked about for his ball. The men rose at him, shouting, "Did you hit that ball? Bravo! You've done it in one, old man. Look! It's in the hole!"

The player looked bewildered. "Here's how it rolled," they said, tracing a course across the green. "A perfect shot! The right angle and the right strength! Bravo!"

The weary player pulled out a tattered score card. "Good," said he; "that makes it 20 for this hole!"

Upset Not Serious if Bowels Get This Help

When you're out-of-sorts, headachy, dizzy, bilious, with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy—don't worry. It's probably constipation. Take a candy Cascaret tonight and see how quickly your trouble clears up. No more headache; no gas on stomach or bowels. Appetite improves; digestion is encouraged. Take another tomorrow night and the next night. Get every bit of the souring waste out of your system. Then see how bowel action is regular and complete.

Cascarets are made from cascara, which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles. Ten cents at all drug stores.

Bird Made Much Trouble

After a night's rest under the eaves of a house in Keene, N. H., last winter, a sparrow became so strongly attached to the residence that it was necessary to call the fire department to evict it. Violent flutterings of his wings and a barrage of bird language attracted neighbors, for its tail was frozen to the woodwork. The fire department sent a ladder to the scene and trod the bird with the loss of a few tail feathers.
