Formal Opening of Findley's Jewelry Outstanding Success; Prizes Awarded

The formal opening of the new Findley Jewelry one door south of the Palace Theatre in Littlefield Thursday from 4 to 9 p.m. was an outstanding success.

Large numbers attended from far and near, viewed the beautiful jewelry, crystal, silver, etc. and enjoyed the soft organ dinner music.

find many local business houses closed, as in the past, employees have felt that employees are entitled to the holiday.

Temperature dropped to 18 degrees registered on the mechanical recording device at West Texas Gas Company Friday morning at 7 a.m. Street thermometers registered several degrees lower.

The sudden dip in temperature, was accompanied by about two inches of snow, which measured .20 inches of moisture, which fell between the hours of 6:30 p.m. and midnight, accompanied by a weak north wind.

Both the temperature reading, and the snow, are a record in this section, at this early date in the winter—never before equalled, according to all available statistics.

The unseasonal weather of the past few days has halted harvest—both of grain sorghums and of cotton, and Thursday night's storm will lengthen the shutdown, by whatever additional time is necessary for grain, cotton and ground to dry out.

Damage to crops by both the freeze and the snow, is believed to have been negligible, aside from discoloration of cotton still in the field.

Most dry land cotton will be practically unharmed, as plants were dried out. Some irrigated cotton still green will be affected—will suffer the greater damage. 85 per cent of Lamb county's cotton is believed to be in the field, ungathered, and as the cold will drive many transient cotton pickers southward, even more intensive use of mechanical pullers will result.

Some grain men stated that the freeze and the snow were "a good thing." None, with whom we talked, thought there had been any serious damage, and the same, largely holds true for cotton, except as to lowering of grade, and delay in harvest.

MAIL DELIVERY EXPANDED

Prior to November 1, no mail delivery went beyond Fifteenth street. The newly approved and mapped-out route includes dozens of new homes on Sixteenth street and beyond, and also embraces some additional territory not previously served.

Some of these have been served by rural route, but generally they have received mail by calling at the post office.

Local Postoffice Delivery Man Sporting New Panel Truck

A shiny new parcel post delivery truck is now doing daily service for the Littlefield post office, replacing any and every kind of vehicle, used in the past for the delivery of parcel post, and transport of some specific types of mail.

The new panel job is a Dodge job, painted in regulation greenish (New Deal) brown, with official U.S. insignia plainly emblazoned thereon.

E. A. Russell is major domo over the new truck, and politely told Postmaster Storey that if he wanted to ride the truck he'd have to display at least a three-cent postage stamp on his—er—wrapper.

Herschel Potts Attends AG Group Meeting Plainview

Herschel Potts, junior vocational agricultural teacher in Littlefield schools was among the twenty vocational agriculture teachers in the area who attended an all day session in Plainview Saturday. The group were all area teachers in their first year of the profession, observing various demonstrations and study of every day problems confronting them in their work.

The meeting was held in the vocational agriculture rooms at Plainview high school, starting at 9:30 o'clock.

First on the program was soil testing demonstrations by Jason Gordon, Plainview.

J. D. Strickland, Plainview, was in charge of that part of the program dealing with controlling and testing a poultry flock for pullorum.

Others on the program included J. T. Gee, Friona; Gene Barnett, Plainview and B. J. Seale, Hale Center.

The afternoon session was devoted to discussion of problems affecting development and improvement of a vocational agriculture program.

Other teachers from this part of the area who attended were Cecil Dykes, Spade and Raymond Lewis, Anton.

It will take 2,000 pictures to give an overall picture of the heavens in great depth, the California Institute of Technology estimates.

DR. D. M. WIGGINS WILL MAKE THE CHIEF ADDRESS Building To Be Presented By Mancil Hall

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech College, Lubbock, has accepted the invitation to make the principal address at the formal opening and dedication of Littlefield's half million dollar senior high school, on Tuesday, November 20th, which fittingly happens to fall during National Education Week.

His address will highlight the dedicatory program, which will include a "presentation" of the fine new high school building to the student body, by School Board President Mancil Hall, and its acceptance by Joe Walden, President of the Student body on behalf of the students, and faculty.

Others who have been announced to appear on the program, which is still incomplete, include invocation by Rev. Lee Hemphill; address of Welcome by Supt. Joe Hutchinson; music by both the high school choral club and the high school band, and other numbers will probably be added to round out a full program.

The program will be preceded with a full opportunity for inspection of the entire new building, an

Dispute Between Crafts Cause Work Shutdown At Power Plant Near Earth

Construction operations have been virtually at a standstill since Monday at the new power plant under construction south of Earth by the Southwestern Public Service Company.

Operations are expected to be resumed in full swing Monday.

By that time it is anticipated that the jurisdiction dispute between the steamfitters and the structural steel workers will have been ironed out. Some difference of opinion as to who should do certain work on the job developed Monday between the steamfitters and the structural workers, it is reported. A matter of wages or of company policy in any way did not enter into the shutdown.

According to reports all workers left the job when the dispute between the steamfitters and the structural workers developed, because other crafts did not wish to cross picket lines until they had full knowledge of what the differences of opinion were all about.

Between 25 and 30 steamfitters are reported to have left the job.

Missionary To Speak At Assembly Of God Church

A Liberian Missionary, E. L. Mason, field representative of Liberia will speak at the Assembly of God church, 209 N. Morse, today (Sunday), November 4th, at the regular evening services, at 7:30 o'clock, according to Rev. H. M. Reeves, pastor.

Mr. Mason, under appointment of the Foreign Missions Department of the Assemblies of God with headquarters in Springfield, Mo., has recently returned from Liberia where he has ministered since 1945.

The guest speaker has been in Liberia at two different times. During his first term a new building for the First Assembly of God in Monrovia was constructed. Also an educational program for Liberia's children was begun. This phase of the work is continuing today. On the eve of his recent departure to the states, President Tubman of Liberia decorated Mr. Mason the second time making him a Knight Commander of the Liberian Humane Order of Redemption. This recognition was given for meritorious service rendered the people of the Republic of Liberia.

A Texan by birth, E. L. Mason has been a real son of the Lone Star State wherever he has been. He began his ministry in Houston by pastoring two churches while finishing Southern Bible Institute. The local pastor, extends an invitation to the public to attend the missionary service at which E. L. Mason will speak.

Charles Duvall, local manager of West Texas Gas Company, attended a meeting of Lubbock Rotary Club held at Hilton Hotel, Wednesday noon, and had the pleasure to hear a stirring talk made by Congressman George Mahon. Dr. C. E. Payne, also of Lubbock, formerly of Littlefield and a member of the local Rotary club was also in attendance.

The guest speaker stressed the need for a "re-birth of patriotism in all places—from the White House to the smallest house in the country." Congressman George Mahon gave members of the Rotary club a brief glimpse of activities in Washington and the problems facing the government.

Billy F. Crow Enlists in U. S. Air Force

Billy F. Crow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Crow of Muleshoe, was accepted for enlistment in the U.S. Air Force at the Amarillo main recruiting and induction station Wednesday, according to M/Sgt. Gerald F. Cutshall local recruiter for the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force recruiting station here in Littlefield.

Billy Crow's enlistment at the local recruiting station makes the 150th voluntary enlistment at this station since the start of the Korean conflict, June 1950, according to Cutshall's records.

Airman Crow will arrive at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio Thursday to start his eight weeks basic training. After completing basic, he will be sent to a technical school for which qualified.

Legislative Bulletin

On Tuesday, November 13, 1951, you and all other voting Texans will decide whether state aid to the needy aged persons, needy blind persons and needy children will remain the same, or whether Texas will throw open her doors and embrace all who fall within those three categories. If you vote against the amendment, everything remains as it now stands. If you vote for the amendment, a number of things will happen.

The amount of available funds for assistance will increase from $35,000,000 to $42,000,000, a gain of $7,000,000 per year. Although the governor has indicated the money is currently available, there is some question as to whether or not these available funds can be allocated on the basis of an emergency. The governor has also indicated if this amendment passes, he will call a special session of the Legislature, and although the funds may be currently available, the governor has not indicated that funds will be permanently available in the absence of additional taxes. It is natural to assume that a special session of the Legislature will have to be called, and taxes will have to be raised to meet the needs of this program as outlined above.

Probably the most objectionable thing about HJR 6 is that the amendment itself contains no restrictions. Under the present constitution a person must be a bona fide citizen and must have resided in the state five out of the last nine years including the one year immediately preceding application. Under the present constitution a person must be a bona fide citizen and must have resided in the state five out of the last nine years including the one year immediately preceding application. Under the amendment, if adopted, these requirements would be erased. The amendment specifically states: "... and provided that any resident of the state, if otherwise eligible, MAY NOT BE EXCLUDED who has resided in the state for five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the filing of the application for such assistance including the one year continuously immediately preceding the filing of such application." You will notice the amendment states that those persons who have lived here 5 out of the last 9, etc., MAY NOT BE EXCLUDED but it does not say a person is ineligible if he has not lived in Texas 5 out of the last 9, etc., or it makes no mention of citizenship. That being the case, a needy person 65 years of age, or over, could come in to Texas from another state or from another country and be eligible for assistance under HJR 6. The same thing is true of the needy blind and needy children.

The authors probably intended for this amendment to provide an increase in payment to those persons presently on the rolls. Unfortunately that probably won't happen. The removal of the citizenship clause gives the green light to all aliens over 65 in this state. There are about 1,300,000 persons of Mexican descent living in Texas. Whether they are citizens or not, if over 65 and otherwise eligible, they can apply for old age assistance. The same thing applies to any other nationality. In addition there would be an increase in the number of blind and dependent children.

Texas is already second in number of old age benefit recipients in the nation. Only California, 273,206, exceeds the 221,664 old people receiving aid in Texas. Texas ranks seventh in the nation in percentage—that is, the ratio of those on the rolls to those eligible to be on the rolls. The national average of those receiving benefits who are eligible is approximately 24%. In Texas 42% out of every 1000 eligible are receiving money. This puts the average at 42.8%.

No one can deny that in these times of ever increasing cost of living a person needs more money to live on, and the people of Texas should and could provide an increase for its needy aged—but only for Texans actually in need. Possibly there should be a new definition of the word "need." Georgia has defined a needy person as one who has no visible means of support and whose children and nearest of kin can not provide adequate support. Other states have put into effect laws which place a lien on the property of the recipient. All of these things act as a deterrent to people getting on the rolls improperly. Under the present amendment a ceiling of $42 million dollars is established, but the proper restrictions are not present. Consequently, the rolls could continue to swell until those now on the rolls would see their checks issued in smaller amounts so the aliens and possibly the non-residents could get their share of the BIG Texas handout.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

BY TEX EASLEY

AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Recently a troubled constituent wrote Rep. Wright Patman of Texas: "We discussed in our Sunday School class today about the 'prayer room' being done away with in Congress or House of Representatives. We think of all things to be done away with this should have never happened."

Patman, a member of the First Baptist church of Texarkana, hastened to reply that there has been a misunderstanding. The Prayer Room evidently in mind was one planned for the United Nations headquarters building in New York.

Checking with the State Department, Patman learned definitely that contrary to published reports, there has been no change in plans for a room in the UN building where members may withdraw for devotion and meditation.

There is no prayer room in the Capitol, but since the convening of the first Congress in 1789—with the exception of a year or two just before the Civil War—there have always been chaplains of both the House and Senate. Each day's session is opened with a brief prayer.

That short interlude when legislators were without official chaplains resulted from an economy drive. It was decided that the taxpayers could be saved that expense—various ones among the local clergy would be invited in to have a turn at offering the commencement prayer. After a while, the honor and glory apparently was more than offset by the inconvenience, so the lawmakers found themselves frequently without benefit of spiritual leadership. They voted again to provide a salary, and at an increase.

The pay of the chaplain even now is not large—it is $2,610 annually for each, in the House and Senate. Both of the present chaplains, like most of their predecessors, simultaneously hold dual pastorates in local churches.

The Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, Senate chaplain, is a Methodist. The Rev. Bernard Braskamp, House chaplain is a Presbyterian. Chaplains are elected by the members of the House and Senate for the two-year duration of each Congress. They are almost always re-elected to serve as long as they are able.

Although the official record would indicate that the chaplain's responsibilities have been discharged as soon as he has delivered his opening prayers, they remain usually for quite a while on the floor with the lawmakers or chat with them in the cloak rooms.

"Most of the Congressmen are without church affiliation here," commented Reverend Braskamp. "They keep memberships in their church back home."

"So, a chaplain has a very real ministry to perform here."

That the brief opening prayer of each day's meeting is inspirational is attested to by House Sergeant-at-Arms Joseph H. Callahan.

"It is a solemn moment as the speaker convenes the House," noted Callahan. "For a few fleeting seconds, a reverent silence prevails in a chamber which often resounds with harsh and bitter words."

"There can be no doubt as to the spiritual guidance, the comfort and the understanding that is given to those who are on hand to

Texas To Pay Tribute To Will Rogers On His Birthday November 4

Just in case students at Texas Tech have forgotten Will Rogers, Tech will pay tribute to the late cowboy-philosopher on his birthday November 4.

The celebration will include a parade from downtown Lubbock to the Tech campus by the County Sheriff's Posse, a wreath placing ceremony on a statue of Rogers on the campus, the singing of several of Rogers' favorite cowboy ballads by Brownie McNeill of Trinity University's English Department, and the showing of one of Rogers' latest films, "David Harum".

Dr. W. C. Holden, director of the Tech Museum, stated Saturday:

"It occurred to us that a whole generation has grown up since Will's death. Our Texas Tech student body knows very little of him. Inasmuch as he symbolized all the qualities which we in West Texas admire and appreciate, we thought that it would be a good thing to do something which would keep memory alive."

Rogers and Wiley Post, famed pilot, were killed in a crash Aug. 19, 1935, near Point Barrow, Alaska.

Wiley Post's widow, who now is a resident of Crosbyton, near Lubbock, has been invited to the celebration.

An exhibit in the museum will be a bust of Rogers, recently presented the college by Amon Carter, Fort Worth publisher and friend of the late comedian, and several mementos on loan to the museum by Mrs. Maxine Dickinson of Lubbock, a niece of Rogers.

The program will start at 2 p. m. and last until 6 p. m.

Here is the prayer that follows:

Here is an excerpt from the prayer delivered by Chaplain Braskamp opening the final session of the House before it adjourned for the year:

"May we understand that the peace and freedom which we prize so highly and for which we are contending cannot be secured and maintained by our own human wisdom and might, but by Thy spirit pervading and sustaining our individual and national life.

"We pray that Thou wilt bestow upon our Speaker, the members of Congress and all who have served in various capacities, the seal of Thy approval and Thy fatherly benediction.

"May we have within our minds and hearts testimony that we have sought to fulfill the duties of our high vocation with a pure and steadfast devotion to Thee and our fellowmen."

All But Impossible to Believe!

It is very difficult to believe—but, each month, there are literally thousands of people who pay as much for their motor cars as it would cost them to buy Cadillacs... and, yet, they don't get Cadillacs.

As we said, this is very hard to believe—but the reasons for it make it more or less understandable.

In the first place, a great many people simply don't know what a Cadillac costs. They don't understand that the lowest-priced Cadillac actually costs less than certain models produced by numerous other manufacturers.

They only know that Cadillac is the world's most renowned motor car—and they assume, from this, that it must also be exclusively priced.

Too, some people get discouraged because they can't walk in and order a Cadillac and get immediate delivery—as they can with so many other makes of cars.

This, too, is largely due to a failure to get all the facts and think them through to the inevitable conclusion.

You have to wait a while for a Cadillac because so many people want one—and want it so badly that they are willing to wait for it. And that, in turn, is because Cadillac is recognized everywhere as the Standard of the World.

So if you want a Cadillac—and research indicates that a vast percentage of motorists do—come in and talk with us about it.

We'll give you the facts concerning comparative costs. And we will also talk frankly with you about delivery dates, so you may know about what to anticipate.

You really owe it to yourself to do this. For, surely, you don't want to pay the price of a Cadillac—and still not get one!

If we already have your order for a Cadillac—stand firm in your conviction—for each day brings you closer to your heart's desire.

It is true, of course, that you can get quicker delivery on other makes of cars. But, in all the world, there is no other car like Cadillac.

So be patient—and you will have your reward!

"Talks Turkey"
—Long Distance

Some people chuckled when Sonny Fisher rented a home recording machine to record the noise his flock of turkeys make.

"I sent the recording to a buyer for a super-market chain," Sonny said. "I told them 'My turkeys speak for themselves—listen to this record!' They not only took my birds, but bought the record!"

"Why did they want the record?" I asked him. "Very simple," he says. "They're going to play it over the loud speakers in their stores—and then an announcer on another record reminds the customers that turkeys are plentiful and a good buy."

From where I sit, it's not always smart to make fun of someone just because he does things a little differently. I think a glass of beer is the most refreshing beverage there is. You—or Sonny—may prefer something else. But who's to decide one's right and the other's wrong? Let's stay "on record" that everyone's entitled to his own tastes and opinion.

Must Have Soviet Help

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Communist Party in France could not gain control of the country without the help of the Soviet Army.

So says Dr. Robert G. Neumann, assistant professor of political science at UCLA. Recently returned from France where he made an extensive study of political parties there, he believes the four million Frenchmen who voted Communist did so in protest to the present regime. Most of them are actually wary of political action, he says.

Exes Will Hold Homecoming

When the McMurry College exes begin assembling on the Reservation Nov. 10 for annual Homecoming festivities, there will be one group who will be celebrating its Silver Anniversary.

Wah Wahaysee, now a women's service organization, was started in Oct., 1926. Miss Willie Mae Christopher who has served for that time as sponsor was asked by Arlie Garner, now an Abilene businessman, and then head cheerleader, to organize a pep squad.

At first Wah Wahaysee was that—a pep unit. Then it became a Drum and Bugle Corps and for many years traveled all over the Southwest performing. In 1946 with the reorganization of the Indian Band, the Wah Wah's became a service group.

They now serve as hostess of the campus during special events, usher for programs, sell and distribute TB bangles, and Christmas seals.

Homecoming at McMurry this year will be highlighted by the construction of an Indian Village. The student association will build a large wigwam for exes to register, and centered around this will be smaller teepees build by individual organizations for their respective exes.

Stephen Brock, Former Littlefield Star Leads In Pass Receiving At McMurry

4,906 Students Register At Tech

Final figures on enrollment at Texas Tech show the college has 4,906 students registered for the fall semester.

The figure is an increase from the spring semester's 4,660, but a decrease from the 5,400 registered at Tech a year ago.

A breakdown of the enrollment by divisions shows that the Arts and Sciences Division leads with 1,770 students; Business Administration is second with 1,018; Engineering is close behind with 1,010; Agriculture is fourth with 751; Home Economics has 357; and the Graduate Division has 571.

The total includes 3,446 men and 1,460 women students.

The Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) program enrolled 1,060 men, including over 600 freshmen.

In the "sky survey" at the California Institute of Technology, adjoining sections of sky are captured on 11x14-inch photographic plates.

Stephen Brock, former Littlefield athlete, was just one reason the McMurry Indians defeated Austin College 19-7 last week in Sherman.

Although the contest was played on an exceptionally muddy field, wingback Brock racked up 80 yards in 15 carries and turned out to be the evening's leading ground-gainer.

Brock, 180 pound sophomore, is McMurry's leading pass receiver and also ranks first in the Texas Conference as of last week. He has caught 12 passes for a total of 263 yards, including two scoring catches in seven games.

Rating second in McMurry scoring behind halfback Sabin Hendrickson, also of Littlefield, Brock has collected 80 points. The Austin College game was only the second in which he has failed to tally.

Coach Wilford Moore's Tribe took their initial conference win against the Kangaroos and also broke a five-game losing streak. The Abileneans now hold a 2-5 season record and a 1-2 Texas Conference win-loss mark.

Brock is due to be among starters as the Redmen tangle with the undefeated, highly favored Carswell Bombers in Fort Worth Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thaxton Return From Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thaxton returned home last Saturday night from a most delightful three weeks trip to Washington, D.C. and New York City. They accompanied her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Van Bailey of Abilene. In Washington they were the guests in the home of the Bailey's daughter and son-in-law for four days, and while there they visited many points of interest. In New York City, they saw the play, "Seventeen," and took a guide tour of the city, visiting many places of interest, including a trip to Radio City, Empire State Building, etc. From New York the couple went to Niagara Falls where they spent two days, and then on home, through Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Arkansas. In the latter state, at Newport they visited Mr. Thaxton's brother, Mon D. Thaxton and wife and family. They are formerly of Littlefield. In Dallas they stopped for a day for a visit with Miss Mary Louise Thaxton, a sister of Mr. Thaxton's who also is a former Littlefield resident.

Cooking's Fun

Recipe of the Week
By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Southern Tomato Soup, Toasted Cheese Sandwiches, Fruit Salad, and Beverage.

Southern Tomato Soup
Ingredients: One 1/2-ounce can condensed tomato soup, one 10 1/2-ounce can chicken rumpo soup, water, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1/16 teaspoon dried crushed basil, freshly ground pepper (to taste).

Method: Empty tomato and chicken rumpo soups into large saucepan. Using soup can as measure, add 2 cans water. Stir in sugar and basil. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally. Add freshly ground pepper to taste before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Family Dinner
Scalloped Corned Beef with Celery, Potato Puff, Salad Bowl, Peanut-butter Applesauce Cake, Bread and Butter and Beverage.

Peanut-Butter Applesauce Cake
Ingredients: 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 1/4 teaspoons baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1/4 cup chunk-style peanut butter, 1/3 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 cup chopped walnut meats, 1 1/2 cups applesauce.

Method: Sift together flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, and allspice. Cream peanut butter and shortening together; cream in sugar. Add a third of flour mixture to raisins and chopped walnuts. Add half of remaining flour and half of applesauce. Stir in floured raisins and nuts. Spoon into greased 8 or 9-inch tube pan. Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven 1 hour, or until a cake tester or toothpick inserted comes out clean. If desired, sprinkle top with 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar or frost with favorite butter icing.

Weekday Supper
Sautéed Fish Fillets, Paprika Potatoes, Lettuce Salad, Palm Springs Dressing, Pear-Grape Cup, Bread and Butter and Beverage.

Palm Springs Dressing
Ingredients: 2 green onions, 1 cup commercially-prepared sour cream, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/3 cup crumbled Roquefort or Blue cheese, salt, freshly-ground pepper.

Method: Finely mince the onions, tops and all, and stir into sour cream. Add remaining ingredients, seasoning to taste with salt and pepper. Allow to stand several hours before serving. Toss with lettuce torn into bite-sized pieces. Makes 4 generous servings.

Keep Cold Frame Busy as Fall and Winter Shelter

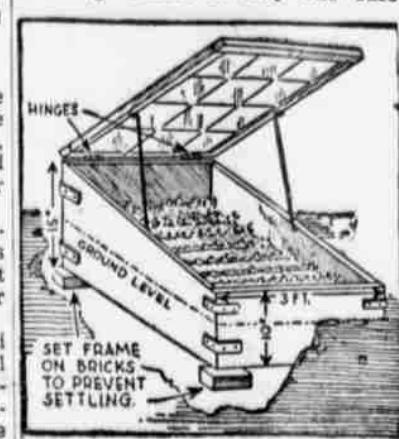

SECTION OF COLD FRAME SHOWING PLANTS GROWING DURING WINTER MONTHS.

View of Cold Frame in Winter. A cold frame can be used in the fall quite as profitably as in the spring. If your garden lacks one, this is a good time to build it and keep it busy during the winter months.

around method is to pot the plants and set them into the frame. Such treatment assures them a few more weeks of growth, and will enable them to benefit from extra warmth in the spring and get an early start. They will also be easily transplanted.

Two lovely perennials which are difficult to grow without protection are the foxgloves with their stately spires, and the canterbury bells. Although they are perfectly hardy so far as cold weather is concerned, they are very susceptible to wet weather, and thawing and freezing. There is only one safe way to grow them in cold climates and that is by wintering them in a cold frame, where they will be safe from wet and the changes in temperature will be tempered by the glass of the frame. Transplant them to the frame in the fall about 2 inches apart each way.

Flowers for the house this winter as well as for next spring's garden can be given an early start in a cold frame. It serves well for rooting winter flowering bulbs. Hyacinths, early tulips, narcissi and daffodils are the principal ones which need a dark, cool situation to encourage early root formation. Bury them in the frame bed in the pots you expect to grow them in, and when roots have developed sufficiently bring them indoors for the quick growth of the tops and blossoms. The frosts of late fall bring to mind problems of harboring perennial seedlings. If you planted them late they will no doubt need some additional protection, and the cold frame will provide it. To Stage Annual Homecoming At Commerce Nov. 10

East Texas State Teachers college will hold its annual Homecoming at Commerce, Nov. 10 with the classes of 1911, 1921, 1931, 1941 and 1951 as honored guests. Registration will be held in the Student Union building at 9:30 a. m. and will be followed by a parade to downtown Commerce. Approximately 40 bands of the East Texas area and 50 floats are expected to take part in the parade. Former students of the college will have a luncheon followed by a business meeting in East dormitory on the campus. The Homecoming game pits the

Bloody Scours Said To Kill Great Many Pigs; First Sign Loss of Weight

Bloody scours, said to kill more Corn Belt pigs than any disease other than cholera and gastroenteritis, can now be stopped by the use of either of two arsenic acid treatments. Tests by Dr. Lawrence E. Carpenter, University of Minnesota scientist, indicate that 3-nitro-4-hydroxy phenyl arsenic acid and 4-nitro phenyl arsenic acid are equally effective in controlling this malady.

Symptoms of the disease are rapid loss of weight, and whitish droppings which become brownish red or blackish after 2 days, and may contain flecks of fresh blood and tiny particles of intestinal tissue.

Carpenter's recommendations if bloody scours hit your herd are given in the nationally-circulated farm magazine. They are: (1) Remove all pigs from the herd the minute they show symptoms of the disease. Force down each pig's throat a dose of one of the arsenics. Proper amount is 10 milligrams for each pound of the animal's weight.

(2) Medicate water with an arsenic at rate of 400 to 600 milligrams to each gallon. Give no other drink for 7 days.

(3) Put pigs on a ration that contains 6 grams of terramycin or aureomycin for each 100 pounds of feed for 10 days. If there are no symptoms by the end of that period, the antibiotic may be reduced gradually to 1 gram for each 100 pounds of feed. Terramycin-fed pigs thus far have shown no break.

(4) After 7 days on arsenic acid, move pigs to clean new premises and maintain rigid sanitary conditions.

(5) Thoroughly disinfect with strong lye water all manure in pens, all floors occupied by infected pigs and all tools and utensils used in cleaning pens. Bury manure; let pens stand idle 30 days.

(6) If an outbreak occurs in East Texas Lions against Stephen F. Austin State Teachers college on Memorial Field. Campus organizations and social clubs are scheduled to hold their reunions at 5 p.m., and a Homecoming dance in the Student Union building 8 p.m. will climax the day's activities.

Reservations for the luncheon and for the football game are being accepted by Mrs. Cecil Ross, secretary of the Ex-Students association.

should be continued only 3 days. Sows should be force-fed (syringe) a solution containing 1 1/2 grams of arsenic acid for each 100 pounds of weight. Such a treatment on 2 consecutive days should be sufficient. In Great Britain the autumn foliage seems dull when compared to North America's.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Scheduled To Be In Lubbock Wednesday, November 21

A Bloodmobile of the American Red Cross North Texas National Defense Blood center at Fort Worth will visit Lubbock Wednesday, November 21st, during which time donations from Lamb county will be made.

Mrs. Lyle Brandon, Lamb County Red Cross Executive secretary has announced persons wishing to donate blood must first contact her, so that she can in turn notify the Lubbock office, as to the number to expect. So far only one person from here has agreed to donate blood.

The donations will be made by appointment, ten at a time in separate compartments, at the Naval Reserve Training center on Texas Tech campus from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Officials estimate they will need 300 donor pledges to meet the 200 pint quota. This will allow a margin for "no-shows" and rejections, they pointed out.

To Go To Korea
Bill Reeves, field representative for the Fort Worth center, at a luncheon meeting in Lubbock Wednesday told the group all blood collected here will be flown immediately to Fort Worth and processed into plasma for overseas shipment. Two pints of blood makes one pint of plasma.

The blood plasma, he explained, is given by corpsmen to wounded at the spot where they have fallen. It serves as a treatment for shock, keeping the wounded alive until they are evacuated for whole blood.

A year ago, 88 of every 100 wounded were saved, Reeves said. During the summer months—when donors considered it "too hot" to give blood—the survival rate dropped to 97. Today, Reeves said, only 96 of every 100 wounded are saved, and the higher mortality rate he blamed on a crucial shortage of plasma.

The American Red Cross was selected to conduct the Defense Department's blood campaign because of its 13 million pint record during World War II and its national potential as an organization, Reeves said.

Denies Profit Made
He emphasized that the organization is sharing costs with the Defense Department, "50-50 as nearly as possible." Rather than making a profit as some people believe, the Red Cross' share of the expense will be $10 to $12 million.

Officials expressed confidence they will have no trouble exceeding the quota here but Reeves

Roy Tidwell New Minister LFD Drive Church Of Christ

Roy Tidwell, minister of the Littlefield Drive Church of Christ, has just returned to Littlefield after three weeks of conducting Gospel Meetings in California.

Mr. Tidwell succeeded Harrell Colliard as pastor of the church about six weeks ago, and will now actively assume the duties of the pastorate.

warned them public apathy has been surprising to date. He cited one community in which 92 of 192 pledged donors failed to show up and another city of 185,000 people where a radio appeal by General Ridgway drew but one volunteer.

"There is no stockpile of plasma," he said flatly. "A major outbreak of fighting would be disastrous."

In answer to questions, Reeves said a 4.5 million pint stockpile of plasma on hand at the end of World War II was distributed free to public hospitals through state health offices.

Despite rumors to the contrary, no substitute for plasma has been developed, Reeves said.

To Receive Exam

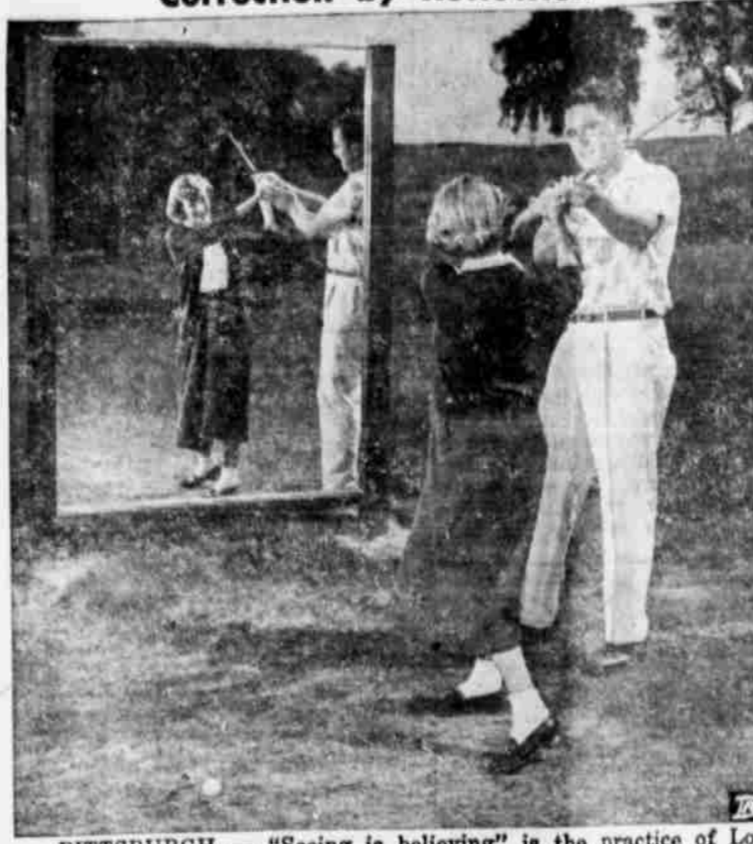

Malaria victims will be allowed to donate blood for the plasma program although they are rejected as donors for the civilian whole-blood program. Each volunteer will receive a physical examination before blood is drawn, Reeves added.

Those ineligible as donors include jaundice victims, Korean veterans, persons who have donated blood two months or less before Nov. 21, persons taking tetanus or typhoid shots, those who have undergone major surgery within the past year and those who have had a transfusion of blood or plasma within the past six months.

Age limits are 18 to 60 and those persons 18-21 must have parental consent unless married. If married consent of the spouse is required.

Reeves will return in two weeks to set up a training course for 70 Red Cross volunteers who will help in the program.

Correction by Reflection

PITTSBURGH — "Seeing is believing" is the practice of Lou Worsham, golf pro at the Oakmont Country club here, in instructing his pupils. Golfers are better able to improve their games because they can view themselves in a variety of positions. The mirror Worsham uses in conjunction with his regular courses of instruction is made of impact-resistant glass, specially developed by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company to resist outside exposure. Pro Worsham finds the mirror a big help for, as shown above, it aids the golfer in both recognizing and correcting defects that may be preventing a lower scoring total.

Lutherans Protest President Appointing Ambassador To Vatican

Dr. John W. Behnken, president of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, of which Emmanuel Lutheran on West Third is a part, has made a statement in the name of these Lutheran churches, protesting President Truman's appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican. The Dr. Behnken, president of one of the largest bodies of Lutherans in the United States, among other things said:

"The decision of President Truman to appoint an ambassador to the Vatican is against the best interests of the United States and ought to be opposed by every American citizen interested in preserving our traditional freedom.

"The Vatican claims to possess and unquestionably exerts religious control over the Roman Catholic Church in the United States. Diplomatic recognition extended by our government to the Vatican, therefore, is a direct violation of the principles laid down in the First Amendment of the Constitution. This first article in our American Bill of Rights forbids favorable treatment to one church in preference to others by expressly denying to Congress the right to set up by law, either directly or indirectly, an establishment of religion.

"Diplomatic recognition of the Vatican constitutes such preferential treatment since similar diplomatic status is considered neither desirable nor acceptable by other American church bodies and religious groups. There is no real precedent in American history for the President's action. The abortive attempt to establish diplomatic relations with the Vatican during the last century occurred at a time when the Vatican maintained political control over territories of considerable size. Now, however, the Vatican has received preferential treatment, not because of the tidbit of territory which it controls politically, but because of the numbers of people over whose lives it claims spiritual control.

"Assertion that recognition of the Vatican will coordinate our opposition to Communism appears somewhat specious in the face of the fact that Communism has scored some of its greatest gains in certain European countries where the Vatican has achieved the greatest ecclesiastical domination.

"Lutherans in America are opposed, as a matter of principle, to political employment of religion in any kind of arrangement like the one into which the President now proposes to thrust the country. The mission of the Christian church is to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The obligation of government must be restricted to the protection of the welfare of society and individuals through the honest administration of just laws. The purpose and mission of the church are separate and distinct from the purpose and mission of the government. Where this distinction is recognized, Church and State work well alongside each other.

"Lutherans value the right to proclaim the redemption of Christ in this free country without governmental interference or special governmental recognition. We rejoice that all religious denominations are given the same rights. We greatly distrust and vigorously op-

Americans Show Hoard Dollars And Not Goods

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — American consumer is taking up the hoarding of dollars instead of consumer goods to ward off inflation in the coming year.

This was the recommendation of Walter J. L. Ray, president of the United States Savings and Loan League, in a speech before the Pennsylvania Savings and Loan League.

"Whether we will have less inflation in the year 1952 than 1951 is a matter of speculation since Korea has caused chiefly by panicky buying 'spurred on by reports of shortages and higher prices."

"All attempts by either government or churches to destroy the foundation of constitutional and good government upon our religious freedom is built."

"With one ill-adviced President Truman has struck principles underlying the American policy of separation of Church and State guaranteeing every American citizen the free exercise and protection of his faith. Such leaves no room at all for diplomatic or semi-diplomatic relations with the churches or the agencies representing the whole or in part.

"All American citizens our Roman Catholic fellow must recognize the damage freedom inherent in the President's action and help to bring consideration by the President or proper action by the States Senate when the damage comes up for consideration and to cement a strong union against our mortal enemy, international Communism."

New 1952 Dodge To Be On Display At Garland Motor Co. November 10

New 1952 Dodge cars will be displayed in dealer showrooms throughout the nation Saturday, November 10. W. C. Newberg, president of Dodge, announced today.

Garland Motor Company are local dealers for the Dodge cars and trucks, and invite the motoring public to come by and let them point out to them the many new features of the 1952 Dodge.

The new models have styling refinements inside and out and, as an optional feature, Dodge Tint Safety Glass windows and windshields. Newberg predicted that this feature, which gives a slight greenish tint to the glass, will be in strong demand from motorists because it makes daylight driving easier on the driver's eyes, reduces interior heat on warm days and enhances the appearance of the car.

SUGAR BEET PRODUCTION

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—The possibility of increasing sugar beet acreage in Iowa is being explored by U.S. agricultural leaders.

T. N. Barlow, of the U.S. Production and Marketing Administration, said in Des Moines recently that experimental work to eliminate beet root rot is underway. He said it should be possible to boost Iowa's beet acreage to 10,000 acres.

The eight models which will make up the 1952 Dodge line are the Coronet four-door sedan, Diplomat, Sierra, convertible coupe and club coupe, the Meadowbrook four-door sedan and the Wayfarer two-door sedan and business coupe. The Diplomat is a convertible-styled, six-passenger car with a permanent steel top. The Sierra is similar in appearance and all-around usefulness to a station wagon, but it has an all-steel body for maximum durability and low maintenance cost.

To the owners of 1952 Dodge cars, dealers will continue to provide a new, more liberal service policy which was adopted recently. It enables owners traveling away from home in new cars to obtain free 1,000-mile and 3,000-mile inspections from any Dodge dealer. Previously, the owner was entitled to the free inspections only from the selling dealer.

Grow Christmas Flowers From Bulbs in Water

Growing flowers for Christmas in the modern home is not easy, but it can be done if Paper White Narcissus bulbs are started Nov. 1, and grown in carefully regulated temperatures. Without such care the flowers are likely to be inferior, and the stems weak, because the bulbs have not matured to the degree most favorable for "forcing."

"Forcing" is the florist's word for making a plant flower out of season; and the formula for accomplishing this is much the same with all bulbs. Bulbs develop, even in storage; and take time to reach the stage where they are ready to grow. If planted then, they first must produce roots, since top growth without good roots is weak, and seldom flowers.

Jumbo Hyacinth Bulbs Will Flower in Hyacinth Glasses, Filled with Water.

Paper White narcissi, planted in bowls filled with gravel or pearl chips, should be kept in a temperature below 60 degrees for four weeks; preferably in dim light. When root growth is sufficient, top growth will begin, and then they should have all the light possible. Best flowers will result when the temperature never exceeds 70 degrees; keep them away from radiators and steam pipes, and out of overheated living rooms.

Instead of gravel, bowls may be filled with bulb fibre, or potting soil. Containers should be deep enough to allow two inches of gravel, fibre or soil below them. Set the bulbs close together but do not let them touch; and only the necks should emerge from the soil.

Yellow Paper Whites (soliel d'or) and Narcissus Early Perfection can also be grown by these methods; but they take longer to make flowers. The best time to start all these is Dec. 1, for mid-January flowers.

Large bulbs of hyacinths can be grown in water in special glasses; and both bulbs and glasses are available this year for the first time since the war began. The glasses support the bulbs just above the water, into which their roots drop. It takes 10 to 12 weeks for the roots to develop, in a dark place, in cool temperature. When roots fill the glass and top growth begins, accustom the plant gradually to light, and grow slowly in a temperature below 65 degrees. The water should not be changed, but merely replenished.

When top growth begins, these bulbs must have all the light you can give them. They should be kept near windows, in a sunparlor or room where ventilation can be given and temperatures kept down. By arranging shelves in front of a window on which the plants can stand, an attractive display is made.

College Football Coaches Blame Fans For Overemphasis on Grid Victories

By BO BYERS
AP Newsfeatures
AUSTIN, Tex. — "The scoreboard is the reason for overemphasis on football," Texas Coach Ed Price asserted emphatically.

"I agree. I think it's pretty hard to say just coaches and colleges overemphasize football when thousands of people come out for games every Saturday all over the country," chimed in North Carolina Coach Carl Snavely.

The two stragglers, heads of the football fortunes of two "big name" schools, voiced their views at an informal get-together the night before the North Carolina-Texas game.

"Overemphasis is not on football but on the victory," expounded Price. "Sure, I want to win, but we don't teach our boys that winning is the most important thing. I firmly believe the effort in striving to win is the thing that counts."

"If victory is all that counts, it boils down to who's got the best job of recruiting."

"As long as everyone is conditioned to a 'victory is the thing' attitude, there's no solution," Price believed.

Snavely thought that was probably true, but he felt some emphasis could be taken off football by abolishing the two-plateau system. Incidentally, he was one of the first exponents of that system.

Use of two plateaus puts more pressure on the coach to develop winners because the system requires bigger squads, and bigger squads require more money for football scholarships, Snavely explained.

Snavely and Price agree that 100 scholarships per year (including freshmen) should be the maximum issued by a school. The cost of a greater number is prohibitive, they said.

But Snavely was sure a number of schools had granted more than 100 this year.

Some persons have advocated elimination of Spring football practice as one step toward de-emphasizing the sport.

Snavely doubted the merit of that idea.

"If you eliminate spring training, you put more emphasis on recruiting, less on road coaching"

Castor Beans Have Proved To Be Profitable New Oil Crop For Midwest

The well is a quarter of a mile from the nearest production and Forsman estimates that it extends the Luling field by about 1,000 acres.

The last of the eight-dry holes on the same 50-acre lease was drilled around 1938, but the first seven holes were before 1923, Forsman reports.

M. T. Blackwell of McAllen, one of the investors, says the name of the well is the No. 1 Acido. "It doesn't mean a thing," he says of the name. "But I dreamed it up."

The dream came after the well had a couple of oil shows in the Georgetown sand, which was promising because it wasn't expected in the field. In Blackwell's dream the well hit unusual sand and an old man showed up to advise him that they had hit a pocket of acid in the well.

The biggest gold nugget ever found, weighing 195 pounds, was dug out of the Morgan claim at Carson Hill, Calaveras County, Castor beans have proved to be a profitable new oil crop for the Midwest. They are a welcome addition to the small list of cash crops western farmers have to choose from.

Castor bean oil goes into paints, enamels and many other products in the protective coating field. The oil is used for making jet-engine lubricating oil, hydraulic fluids, plastic-coated combat wire, military fabrics and explosives. The government contracted for the beans at a support price of 10 cents a pound and hoped for a 1951 planting of 100,000 acres, says the nationally-circulated farm magazine.

"The beans do well in Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas, northern Texas and southeastern Kansas. They are adapted to light, well drained soils. Yields in the Midwest average 500 pounds. Under irrigation, harvest ranges from 2,500 to 3,000 pounds an acre."

"Castor beans work into rotations and require growing conditions similar to cotton, only there is less trouble from insects or disease. They are normally spring-planted and fall-harvested. However, they are being "double cropped" in some irrigated valleys with long growing seasons. The beans are planted after spring-harvested grain and vegetables.

"Plant breeders and engineers have greatly reduced the labor and cost of castor bean production. Dwarf varieties for irrigated areas, which are easy to harvest, have been developed. A bean combine is available which can also be converted to harvest peanuts or grain. It is used for dwarf varieties and harvests one acre an hour."

"Most dry land producers in Texas and Oklahoma grow Conner, a tall bean not suited to combine harvesting. Extension and industrial engineers have developed a new 2-row tractor-mounted stripper that promises to ease the bean harvesting chore for dry land farmers."

"Plant breeders hope to develop a dwarf castor bean for the dry land area that will yield better and be easier to harvest."

Present and past members of the School Board, P.T.A. officials, school officials, representatives of both the contractor and architect, visiting school officials from neighboring schools and colleges, county and city officials, and others, will be seated on the spacious stage of the auditorium.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend, and school students and faculty, will act as special hosts and guides, throughout the evening.

I can't see that any evils would be cured by cutting out Spring training," he declared, adding that North Carolina times its post-season winter and spring training sessions to conflict as little as possible with other sports.

Snavely and Price disagreed on who should provide financial aid for footballers.

"I think it would be a good thing if no institutional help of any kind could be provided for athletic scholarships," said Snavely. "Any help should have to come from alumni or other interested people, but methods under control of the university."

That's the way it works at North Carolina, he explained.

Texas Farmers Income For 1950 Totals Nearly Two Billion Dollars

Texas was among six Mid-American states to make the "billion dollar farm income" club in 1950, according to a survey made public by Capper's Farmer.

Texas farmers received $1,993,263,000 in cash farm income last year, including $806,100,000 from livestock and livestock products and $1,187,163,000 from crops, says the survey, based on U.S. Department of Agriculture statistics.

The nationally-circulated farm magazine reports that the five other states in the billion farm cash income club are Iowa, with $2,058,100,000; Kansas, $1,980,000,000; Missouri, $1,955,000,000; Minnesota, $1,950,000,000; and Wisconsin, $1,940,000,000.

Total 1950 U.S. cash farm income was $27,920,746,000, or $15,598,222,000 from crops and $12,322,524,000 from livestock and livestock products.

Farm income for 1950 set an all-time high of $7 billion above the level, the magazine says.

Eight Dry Holes Drilled On 50 Acre Lease; Ninth Is Producer

McAllen, Tex., Nov. 1. (AP) — There were eight dry holes around a well which could be drilled on a 50-acre lease.

They drilled it, and now it's flowing at the rate of 50 to 100 barrels a day, proving that the oil business is open to the small investor and the part time geologist.

C. Forsman of McAllen, who was in the citrus business until early this year, did the geology work for the well and got 14 other men to back his judgement with cash enough to drill the well.

The well is an eastward extension of the old Luling Field near Luling, 70 miles east of San Antonio.

"I think the reason they didn't get oil from those other holes is because they didn't have acid," Forsman said. The Forsman et al No. 1 MacIntyre used 4,000 gallons of acid and 222 perforating shots to complete in 60 feet of Buda lime and 220 feet of Austin

Would You Be Satisfied?

If you were a cattleman . . . do you think you would be satisfied with a calf crop of 50 percent when you could easily increase it to a 70 percent, 80 percent or even a 90 percent crop and make more money?

If you were a dairyman . . . could you be content with a daily average milk production of one and a half to two gallons per cow when you could increase your production to a three gallon average and enjoy a corresponding increase in profits?

If you were a poultryman . . . would a daily egg production of 40 percent to 50 percent be satisfactory to you or would you want to do as other good poultrymen are doing and get your production up to 60 percent or 70 percent? . . .

If you were a hog producer . . . would you be satisfied with only three little pigs to a litter when you could just as easily produce litters of eight, ten or even more pigs . . . and of course make more money?

Now — you don't have to be satisfied with a short crop of pigs or calves . . . you don't have to accept poor production from your dairy cows or laying hens as something inevitable.

No matter in what phase of poultry or livestock operations you are engaged, there is a RED CHAIN Feeding and Management Program that will help you get top production . . . a program that will help you get top returns and top profits.

These programs are not based on theory . . . they are based on facts. They are programs that have been tested and proved . . . proved both workable and profitable.

See your Red Chain Dealer now . . . get details of the program to fit your operation.
