ESTIMATED 8,000 TURKEYS RAISED IN VICINITY OF LITTLEFIELD WILL YIELD $25,000 TO OWNERS MARKETING THEM

The Texas turkey crop, the largest in any single section in the world and amounting to an annual profit of seven million dollars to the producers throughout the state, will be on the market.

It is estimated that there will be in the neighborhood of 650,000 turkeys raised in many tables throughout the United States on Thanksgiving of which the largest number will be raised in Texas.

There will be about 1,350 cars of turkeys go out of Texas this year, according to J. T. Bellomy, local producer, of which number 360 will be sent to the Thanksgiving crop. These cars will contain from 2,000 to 2,500 birds. This means that there will be marketed this year somewhere around 2,700,000 turkeys from the many thousands which will be consumed within the state on Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners.

The market proper will be opened on Tuesday, November 1st, and it is expected that the bulk of the Thanksgiving crop will be sold by the 10th. Harry O'Harren, manager of the Littlefield Produce Co., estimates that there are at least 8,000 turkeys in the vicinity of Littlefield that are now on the market.

At what price the market will be at is still an unknown factor to the local poultry dealers, but it is expected that the price will be much above the general fall price run, and the grading this year will be better than heretofore.

It is estimated that the crop of turkeys raised in this vicinity will yield $20,000 and $25,000.

TON COMPRESS BEGAN WORK FOR SEASON LAST FRI.

Littlefield cotton compress began work last Friday with 72 bales on the dock, 40 of which belong to members of the Farm Bureau. The Bureau scored the lead in the squeezing embrace of the Webb high density press. The bales belonging to Bureau members will be shipped direct to the warehouse at Houston, where they will be held ready for export.

There were a large number of Littlefield citizens and farmers from surrounding country present to witness the beginning of the compress operation. Littlefield's newest industry, the cotton compress, should certainly be proud of its big new industry," said J. W. Mack, field man for the Farm Bureau. "It is going to be a wonderful convenience to the cotton growers of this section, most all of whom are shipping their cotton here directly to the warehouse."

Farm Bureau members are glad of the location of this $80,000 concern in this near section," continued Mack, "and any town that enjoys a business of such proportion is certainly well on the way to becoming a city."

If He Chooses

Gen. Frank Ross McCoy, Pennsylvania, is the unanimous choice of all factions and can have the honor of choosing the post as Governor of the Philippines. He was recently elected by the late Gen. Leonard Wood.

THIS MIGHT BE A WARNING TO CITIZENS THIS DISTRICT

Lewiston, Pa., Oct. 22.—Because she repeatedly refused to pay her 1926 school tax, amounting to $5.25, Mrs. Lillian Reed must remain in the county jail until the tax and costs of $4.40 are paid, Judge Bailey, of the Mifflin county court ruled today.

LFD. TAKES OVER 40 MEMBERSHIPS IN THE W. T. C. OF C.

L. B. Campbell field representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was in Littlefield last week, and, accompanied by a committee of prominent local business men secured more than 40 memberships to that regional organization.

Littlefield has always been strong for West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Campbell stated the ready response accorded him in his membership campaign was all that could be asked. Those taking memberships were as follows:

VOC. AGGIS WILL HAVE DISPLAY IN JONES BLDG., SAT.

Following a meeting of Littlefield business men urging a community fair at Littlefield this fall, another meeting held last week decided that on account of the busyness of the season, and many farmers not having made any special preparations for exhibits, that the announcement given to the Leader and published in last week's issue, would be recalled.

In its stead it was decided to hold an exhibit in the Jones building next Saturday. The students of the Vocational Agricultural Department will have charge of the program, boys of the Pig Club co-operating. A pure bred Poland China gilt will be awarded the boy showing the best pig. The Chamber of Commerce and Rotary club are also raising fund for additional prizes for cotton, corn, grain sorghums and poultry.

The exhibits will be displayed in the Jones building on Main Street, across from the Palace theatre. Everyone is invited to attend the show, to see the exhibits and know something of the ability of the Aggi boys in material judging.

QUITE NATURALLY

If any Littlefield citizen thinks Bob McCaskill isn't on the job 24 hours of the day for the Texas Utilities Co., they have another guess coming, as was proven by an incident said to have transpired last week.

A certain woman in town, whose name has been withheld, is said to have called one of the local coal dealers, but whether through a mistake on her part or of the hello girl, she was connected with the Utilities office. "Hello," said Mac.

"I want you to send me up a ton of coal that hasn't any ash or any clinkers in it, and that don't have that awful sulphurous smell," requested the customer.

Mac.—"Lady, you don't want a ton of coal. What you want is to get connected with an electric meter."

FLUCTUATING BUSINESS CYCLES BECOME LESS IN WEST TEXAS AS THE COUNTRY DEVELOPES, SAYS LITTLEFIELD BANKER

"Business cycles will always be with us," according to K. F. Allbright cashier of the First National Bank, Littlefield, "and from all personal observations and general information available, we are now in a cycle of favorable and advancing conditions," continued Mr. Allbright.

"There is probably never any year that the Plains country can fail to equal any other section of Texas, and most of the time it is in the lead of the state in general. During the past three years that I have been making careful business observations of this section, I have noticed that it has never been one whit behind any other portion of the state and most of the time has been far ahead."

"On the whole, as our nation gradually gets located on a firmer economic basis, conditions throughout the country will become better, and periods of depression in certain specific areas and throughout the United States will doubtless become of lesser extent and of lesser importance. The increasing expertness of business men generally, the universal increasing co-operation among all lines of business, the increasing efficiency of mechanics and labor, the more equitable adjustment of prices and wages, the more effective operation of federal reserve banks, and the ability of local bankers to handle individual community financial conditions in a gradually increasing effective and satisfactory manner—all these and a number of other potent agencies which I might name, will have their favorable effect and influence upon the gradually stabilizing of business conditions."

In this particular section of country a happy mean is gradually being attained. Every new country must necessarily fluctuate more or less. It takes time to settle a new country and get it settled. People new to each other and new to existing conditions must first get acquainted before they can strike their best stride. That, however, is being rapidly accomplished in this section. Every year witnesses a considerable advance, socially and economically, on the South Plains.

This year conditions bid fair to be better than any previous year. Farmers have worked hard, they have diversified, they have used their brains a long with their brawn, they have coupled science with sweat—they are going to reap rich rewards. Crop conditions could scarcely be better; weather conditions for harvesting have been nearly ideal up to the present time. It is practically impossible to estimate the amount of wealth that will be put into the laps of our farmers during the fall and winter months. As a result, many who have been behind financially, or who have assumed financial installment obligations on purchases will be able to pay up in full, make further investments and improvements, while some will have money to place on interest or investment after wiping clean their indebtedness slates.

Precisely this seems to be a year of prosperity for the Littlefield community, and there is every reason to believe that the town will also take on a spirit of improvement and advancement along with the country that surrounds it."

LITTLEFIELD WINS FROM LEVELLAND IN GAME LAST FRI.

The Littlefield High school football team won a hot game from the Leveland club here last Friday with a score of 19 to 6. The game was hard fought from beginning to end and the quarters were fairly even until the fourth, when Littlefield hit her stride with a smart passing game which bewildered the Leveland lads and resulted in two touchdowns for the home team.

The entire Littlefield team is to be commended for the splendid showing it made in this last game, but it would be unfair to fail to mention the work of "Fly" Thornton in snatching seemingly impossible passes from the air to count directly or indirectly for all the touchdowns made by the Littlefield squad.

After Littlefield's good showing, Friday, fans are debating the question as to whether Littlefield has a fair chance of holding or beating Slaton here next Saturday when the two teams play in the ball park—the game to begin at 3:00 o'clock.

The Slaton game will be the hardest game of the season and for that reason the sidelines should be packed Saturday afternoon.

NEW STORE HERE

M. Kowak, former manager of the S. Ropin store, located in Littlefield about a year ago, is this week opening a general merchandise store in the same building.

ANOTHER RAILROAD CROSSING

Relative to another street opening across the Santa Fe railroad tracks an official communication from the City Commissioners has been forwarded to the Superintendent of the Slaton division Santa Fe system, asking that a crossing be cut beginning at the southeast corner of the cotton compress and passing near the P. W. Walker elevator.

The divisional engineer of the railroad, who was here last week, stated he was quite sure his company would look with favor upon granting the request for another crossing over the track.

TECH. HAS Y. M. C. A.

Lubbock, Texas, Oct. 26.—A young Men's Christian Association has been organized in Texas Technological college, with $5,000 pledged for its support the first year by students, faculty members and citizens of Lubbock.

Roy McCullough, an experienced Y. M. C. A. secretary has been employed and is now at work. McCullough is a graduate of Cornell college of Iowa, served overseas, took three years graduate work in Yale, and was for several years traveling representative for college Y. M. C. A. work in Michigan. He resigned as "Y" secretary of the Colorado State Agricultural college at Fort Collins to come to Tech.

HAS GOOD SUDAN YIELD

John Kling, one of the older farmers of this section, residing about four miles south of Littlefield, has just finished the threshing of 88,000 pounds of Sudan seed that was grown on 100 acres.

This amount represents an average yield of 880 pounds per acre which, selling at 2½ cents a pound, brought a yield of $22.00 per acre to the owner.

Mr. Kling also has large crops of cotton and feed stuff, all of which he says could not be better if he had ordered it over the telephone.

TO ENFORCE TRAFFIC LAWS

That the state traffic laws will be enforced in Littlefield, was the statement made by City Secretary E. C. Cundiff, the first of the week.

Hereafter there will be no more center parking on Main Street, cutting of corners will not be permitted, and traffic exceeding 15 miles per hour will be unlawful, if additional help has to be added to the police department to see that the laws are complied with, said Cundiff.

"All violators will be arrested and fined."

EDITORS RAP THE TELEPHONE CORP'S ADVERTISING PLAN

Editor Jess Mitchell, of the Lamb County Leader, Littlefield, attended the annual meeting of the West Texas Press Association held at Lamesa Friday and Saturday of last week. There was a good attendance of newspaper editors throughout the regional territory, and many matters of importance to the profession were up for discussion.

One of the most important subjects discussed was the attitude of certain telephone corporations operating in this territory, wherein it was claimed by visiting editors that their business ethics were not in keeping with the service rendered, and the association unanimously went on record as opposing the manner in which some of these corporations handled their advertising business in putting out their directories. It was pointed out by some of the editors attending the convention, that most of the telephone companies operating in this section did not give the public commensurate service with the rates charged and that all the advertising and printing done was always given to outside printers, also in many of the towns these phone companies refused to carry any advertising at all in the local newspapers.

The resolutions were directed in particular to the State Telephone company, the Southwestern Telephone company and their subsidiaries.

Col. J. J. Taylor, better known as State Press for the Dallas News, spoke at the banquet Friday evening, delivering a timely and interesting address scintillating with the wit peculiar to his talented journalistic mind.

Officers elected for the next Press year were: L. M. Watson, of Sweetwater, president; Jess Mitchell, Littlefield, vice-president and Bowen Pope, Hamlin, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at Big Springs.

COMPLIMENTS LOCAL DEALER

W. F. Doyle, sales manager for the Chevrolet Motor Co., Oklahoma City, accompanied by E. L. Lane, field representative, called upon W. W. Gillette, of the local agency, and complimented him very highly regarding the fine sales record he is making on Chevrolet cars.

The Bell-Gillette Co., had the honor last month of heading the list of agencies in class B territory, scoring 190 per cent of a possible 200.

Mr. Gillette accompanied Messrs. Doyle and Lane to Lubbock Friday where a salesmanship meeting and banquet was held that night.

GAS REPRESENTATIVE HERE

Barney Hughes, of Lubbock, representative of the West Texas Gas Co., was in Littlefield last week, talking with local citizens regarding the franchise recently granted his company by the City, and making a preliminary survey of possible conveying lines.

He spoke very favorably of Littlefield and surrounding vicinity, especially of the spirit of progress and prosperity everywhere manifest.

Sec. 6. All investigations held by or under the direction of the Fire Marshal may, in his discretion, be private, and persons other than those required to be present may be excluded from the place where such investigation is held, and witnesses may be kept separate and apart from each other and not allowed to communicate with each other until they have been examined.
Sec. 7. The Fire Marshal shall have the authority at all times of day or night, when necessary, in the performance of his duties imposed upon him by the provisions of this ordinance, to enter upon and examine any building or premises where any fire has occurred, and other buildings and premises adjoining or near the same, which authority shall be exercised only with reason and good discretion.
Sec. 8. The Fire Marshal, upon complaint of any person having an interest in any building or property adjacent, and without complaint, shall have a right at all reasonable hours, for the purpose of examination, to enter into and upon all buildings, and premises within the city, and it shall be his duty, quarterly or more often, to enter upon and make a thorough examination of all mercantile, manufacturing and public buildings, together with the premises belonging thereto. Whenever he shall find any building or other structure which, for want of repair, or by reason of age or dilapidated condition, or for any cause, is especially liable to fire, and which is so situated as to endanger or persons or property thereof, and whenever he shall find an improper or dangerous arrangement of stoves, ranges, furnaces or other heating appliances of any kind whatsoever, including chimneys, flues and pipes with which the same may be connected, or a dangerous arrangement of lighting devices or system, or a dangerous or unlawful storage of explosives, compounds, petroleum, gasolene, kerosene, dangerous chemicals, vegetable products, ashes, combustible, inflammable and refuse materials, or other conditions which may be dangerous in character or liable to cause or promote fire or create conditions dangerous to the firemen or occupants, he shall order the same to be removed or remedied, and such order shall be forthwith complied with by the owner or occupant of said building or premises. Provided, however, that if the said owner or occupant deems himself aggrieved by such order, he may, within five (5) days appeal to the Mayor, who shall investigate the cause of the complaint and unless by his authority the order is revoked, such order shall remain in force and be forthwith complied with by said owner or occupant.
Sec. 9. Any owner or occupant of a building or other structure or premises, who shall keep or maintain the same when, for want of repair, or by reason of age or dilapidated condition, or for any cause, it is especially liable to fire, and which is so situated as to endanger buildings or property of others, or is especially liable to fire and which is so occupied that fire would endanger other persons or property therein, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00).

Sec. 10. Any owner or occupant of any building or other structure, or premises, who shall keep or maintain the same with an improper arrangement of a stove, range, furnace, or other heating appliance of any kind whatever, including chimneys, flues and pipes with which the same may be connected, so as to be dangerous in the matter of fire, or health, or safety of persons or property of others; or who shall keep or maintain any building, other structure or premises with an improper arrangement of a lighting device or system, or with a storage of explosives, petroleum, gasolene, kerosene, chemicals, vegetable products, ashes, combustibles, inflammable materials, refuse, or with any other condition which shall be dangerous in character to the persons, health or property of others; or which shall be dangerous in the matter of promoting, augmenting or causing fire; or which shall create conditions dangerous to firemen, or occupants of such buildings, structure or premises other than the maintenance thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) or more than fifty dollars ($50.00).
Sec. 11. No prosecutions shall be brought under Sections 9 and 10 of this ordinance until the order provided for in Section 8 is given, and the party notified shall fail or refuse to comply with the same.
Sec. 12. The penalties provided for herein shall be recovered by the city in the same manner as provided by law for the enforcement of fines, forfeitures, and punishments for offenses against the city.

This Week's Poem

"JAZZ"

The metallic screech of the graphophone,
And the banjo's tin-pan rattle
Do not nerve men's souls for a gallant fight
Or account for much in a battle.

But a song that's sung, that is born
of truth,
Brings a hope to souls despairing,
Or inspires a life in a noble cause
And a faith in Right declaring.

The religious state and the moral worth
Of a people's life are measured
By the songs they sing and the hymns
they chant
And their precious legends treasured.

What I fear, my friends, is we've ceased to sing,
And to "Jazz" our lives are giving,
And we find no place for the grand old hymns
That will help us while we're living.

'Tis the songs of faith and our country's hymns,
With their sweet and stately measures,
That will nerve our souls for the bitter fights
For our homes and their heavenly treasures.

COW UNDER TEST CONDITION

Animal Produces Sixty Per Cent More Milk and Butterfat Than When With Herd.

Why cows under test conditions produce on the average 60 per cent more milk and butterfat than those kept under ordinary herd conditions is a problem the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture, is still unable to solve. In the recent annual report of the bureau of animal industry, it is stated that only 20 per cent of the increase has been satisfactorily accounted for. Five per cent was due to keeping cows in box stalls compared with stanchions.

Other experiments conducted on the government farm at Beltsville, Md., show that with cows of average production irregular milking was not detrimental to milk and butterfat production and that the cost of production is increased when cows are exercised to the extent of being driven three miles a day. However, exercise was found to increase slightly the fat content.

A considerable number of calves were fed with a nipple as compared with drinking from a pail. Results showed no advantage in using nipples.

Pectin pulp, a by-product in the manufacture of pectin from apple pomace, was found to be less palatable, and less valuable as a dairy feed than beet pulp.

The use of molasses in the dairy ration is not justifiable, the government report shows, for a group of cows that were given molasses in addition to the regular ration produced slightly less than the group that received the regular ration only.

A 20-year experiment, now in progress at Manhattan, Kan., will determine to what extent milk production can be developed without sacrificing desirable beef type. The work was started in 1915 and Shorthorn cattle are being used.

PASTURED ON SWEET CLOVER

Good Results Obtained in Test Made
at Michigan Station—No Trouble From Bloating.

Four cows, receiving approximately one pound of grain for four pounds of milk, produced and pastured on 1.46 acres of sweet clover for 177 cow days, maintained their weight and produced 6088.6 pounds of milk and 201 pounds of fat, according to O. E. Reed and J.
E. Burnett of the Michigan experiment station. At the start of the test the clover was 37 to 42 inches high, and another portion yielded 2.75 tons of hay to the acre. Over 40 per cent of the plants were in bud and nearly 15 per cent were in bloom at that time.
When first turned on the pasture three of the cows did not eat the clover readily, but they soon relished it. No signs of bloating were noted throughout the experiment.

SKIM MILK RATION FOR CALF

Substitution Can Be Made in Week or Ten Days After Animal is
Two Weeks Old.

When the calf is two weeks old, it can be gradually changed from a ration of whole milk to one of skim milk by substituting an equal amount of skim milk for each portion of whole milk removed. The plan of substitution is based on the supposition that the farmer can secure a limited amount of skim milk. A complete substitution can be secured in a week or ten days. When this substitution has been completed, a medium-sized calf ought to be receiving about twelve pounds of milk daily.

DAIRY HINTS

Everything about the calf should be scrupulously clean.

Quarters must be clean and dry,
with plenty of bedding.

A scrub bull is worth something to the butcher, nothing to you.

Good cows may be obtained by purchase and by breeding and testing.

Marks for identification should be plain, without disfiguring the animal.

Stanchions save milk and prevent the calves from sucking one another.

Good ventilation is absolutely necessary to the health and comfort of the cows.

Are you feeding your dairy cows for production or for just keeping them alive?

A man should not be satisfied with cows that produce only 200 pounds of butterfat.

Calf diseases are largely the result of filth and carelessness. Prevention is cheapest and best.

Cows are greatly creatures of habit,
and regularity of feeding at all times is essential for best results.

It costs about as much to raise a calf of inferior breeding, as one with genuine dairy characteristics.

Tell me not in apologetical phrases
Boys are not always mean,
For the boy is dead that is truthful,
And he is wicked even in his dream

Boys are mean! Boys are awful!
To do nothing is their aim.
Study to them is unlawful,
And good deportment is just the same.

Yes, enjoyment comes to sorrow;
Their ever ending way
Is to act that each to-morrow
Finds them meaner than to-day.

Wear no image in your heart,
He's your pal while he is with you,
But quite different when your part.

Lives of poor men all remind him
Honest toil don't stand a chance,
The more he works he leaves behind him,
Bigger patches on his pants.

Patches honored by another,

So that into men they may be mould-

Instead of silly, useless cranks.

W. P. KNOX IS TO TRAIN BOY SCOUTS OF THIS DISTRICT

The Executive Board of the South Plains Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America announces the selection of Mr. W. P. Knox, of Beaumont, Texas, as Scout Executive for the area.

Mr. Knox comes to the South Plains Council well qualified to put over the work of scouting in this area where most of the work will have to be done with the small town and the rural boy. He was reared on a farm in New England and was graduated from the New Hampshire A. & M. College. He served in the infantry, cavalry and artillery during the World War. He has had practical experience on both farm and ranch; has served as county agent for Kleberg county in South Texas; and has been superintendent of a large farm connected with vocational work of the U. S. government. He has also served as dairy specialist for the Chamber of Commerce of San Antonio, Texas. As county agent he put over an outstanding piece of work in connection with community and county and county fairs. His boys agricultural clubs won both district and state honors in livestock and grain judging.

For three years Mr. Knox served on the regional staff doing organization work for the Boy Scouts of America in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. For the last two years he has been at Beaumont, Texas, where he has developed an outstanding Boy Scout camp. The Boy Scout exhibit at the South Texas State Fair at Beaumont was considered the largest of its kind in the south west.

Mr. Knox's special ability is developing community projects and all kinds of handicraft work. He is skilled in the use of many kinds of tools and in the handling of rope and the use of the bow and arrow.

Mr. Knox is married and has two children. He is a Rotarian, a Legionnaire and a member of the American Archery Association.

The South Plains Area Council of which Mr. Knox will be executive consists of the following counties: Lamb, Floyd, Dickens, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Gaines, Dawson, and Borden. With Mr. L. G. H. Williams the Area Commissioner, Mr. Knox is making a survey of the area, meeting the various business and professional men as well as the organization and institutions interested in boys.

He was in Littlefield last week looking over the local situation and getting acquainted with Scout officials here.

EDUCATION WEEK

Education is the foundation upon which this country has been built, the factor through which it has attained prosperity and good government. It is through the public schools that the ideals of America, the principles of government, the ability to make good, industrious and patriotic citizens are instilled into the character of the child. In recognition of this and to acquaint the public with the actual work of the schools, with their ideals, and achievements, and their needs, the week of November 7-14 has been set aside as Education Week. It is sponsored by the National Education Association and the American Legion, and by action of the World Federation of Education Associations at its Toronto meeting was recommended for observance throughout the nations of the world. Monday is to be known as Health Day; Tuesday, as Home and School Day; Wednesday, Know your Schol Day; Thursday, School Opportunity Day; Friday, Armistice and Citizenship Day, and Saturday, Community Day.

It is indeed appropriate that Armistice Day should be incorporated into this week. It marks the end of a struggle during which many thousands of lives were sacrificed "to make the world safe for democracy. The struggle must be carried on that they will not have suffered hardships, endured pain and death in vain, not, it is true, with guns and implements of warfare but through the public schools.

The perfection of the public school system, giving an equal opportunity to every child, will be the greatest and most lasting monument that can be erected to those whose graves give mute testimony of the great sacrifice they made.

Keeping this in mind and that the future welfare of the country is dependent upon education, every citizen should take upon himself the responsibility of seeing that Education Week is observed and attains its purpose—that the public be informed of the achievements and needs of the schools.

The objectives of the schools that the National Education Association and the Legion suggest be emphasized during this week are:

Sound health; worthy home membership; mastery of the tools, techniques and spirit of learning; faithful citizenship; vocational effectiveness; wise use of leisure; ethical character.

When a village youth makes a flying trip to the city he usually has a bird of a time.

MORE SUCKER BAIT

You don't have to be a profit forecast that there is a great new industry about to spring up in this country, and one that may eventually become as great as that built up by the auto in 25 years. Flights across the Atlantic, and more recent hops from California to the Hawaiian Islands, have sent the country wild over aviation. With the government spending millions on the advancement of flying, we may expect the airplane to grow in popularity even more rapidly than did the auto, for the latter had to make its own way so far as federal aid is concerned.

Like most everything else, the airplane offers money-making advantages, and wherever there is money to be had there you will find a cress of men not particular how they get it. Today questionable "companies" are springing up with airplane stock for sale. They bear high sounding names and have attractive and alluring literature. These promoters, backing concerns organized to prove, in a way, that "the fool and his money are soon parted," may visit Littlefield at any time. They are working some sections of the country hard and apparently trying to gather as many suckers as possible before the heavy hand of the law descends upon them.

Investigate before you invest. Don't take too much for granted. A lot of men are going to make money in promoting aviation—but a lot more are going to lose it. It costs but a stamp to write your secretary of state about any concern offering you stock, and that little postage stamp may save our hard earned dollars.

Keeping a mind on your own business is a good idea, if you don't happen to have a worrying mind.

A REASONABLE REQUEST

At the request of one of our rural readers we call the attention of motorists, and especially those who may have occasion to build a fire in the open, to the necessity for using extreme care from now on through the fall and winter season.

The hot sun has dried out grass pretty thoroughly. The result is a lot of grass under foot that needs but a tiny spark to start a costly and a dangerous conflagration. Even the weeds which still retain their greenish tint are now almost devoid of sap, and that means that, given a fair start, they will burn quickly. If they are in the vicinity of wooden buildings or fencing they are rendered far more dangerous.

Littlefield smokers who have occasion to toss a match anywhere along the roadside should be careful to first see that it is extinguished. And campers or picnickers who may be building fires in the open owe it to the welfare of the community at large to be absolutely sure that no live coals are left when they take their departure. High winds can come up quickly and live coals blow into dry weeds and grass can easily start a blaze that will prove destructive. There is no occasion for taking a chance in this matter. Be absolutely sure that there is no danger before you throw away a match or drive away and leave a camp fire.

It has also been our observation that telling people how hard you work doesn't make the work any lighter.

A PIE-CRUST PROMISE

It isn't often a newspaper editor is caught in a trap of his own baiting, but that seems to have happened to Ed Howe, of the Atchinson, Kansas, Globe, and known from one end of the country to the other.

Several years ago Ed ran an editorial in his paper in which he said that whenever anyone made an airplane flight across the Atlantic ocean he could come to the Globe office and collect $1,000,000. And now he finds himself indebted to Lindbergh in that sum, while if he meant that everyone who flew across could have a million he owes the same amount to Chamberlain and Byrd.

Of course there isn't much danger of editor Howe being forced to quit work long enough to go around to the bank and draw out a million dollars to make his promise good. That is one nice thing about being a newspaper editor. You can make all the financial promises you want to—nobody takes them seriously because everybody seems to know that an ed-

Dr. Frank Crane Says

The Echo of Applause Short Lived

Riches may be fickle, people say they are, but most of us would like to have them awhile and watch them flick.

But whatever may be true of riches fame is surely fickle.

We all struggle for the spotlight and front page publicity but when we get it it doesn't last very long.

Those who are along in years can recall the many instances. We remember that "Doc" Cook was honored by the Danes and welcomed by the Americans and afterwards that Peary took his place for a few brief minutes.

Then there was Dewey. Nothing was too good for him for awhile but when he gave his wife his Washington house that people had presented him sentiment turned right away and Dewey was cast into the discard.

Then there was Jack Binns, the famous wireless operator on the steamer Republic which was rammed off Nantucket Island who stuck to his post until the Baltic responded and the passengers were all rescued.

How many people of today know who Jack Binns was?

A man by the name of Kissinger probably did more for his country than most any man. In 1900 he was a private in the army but allowed himself to be inoculated with yellow fever to prove that that disease came from mosquito bites. He is now living in poverty and gets a pension of itor would be about the last man on earth to have a speaking acquaintance with a million dollars.

Weigh some people and they will be found wanting in everything except weight.

HOW TIMES CHANGE

Come to think of it what offers better evidence of how rapidly times have changed than our grocery stores.

Most Littlefield citizens can remember when canned goods were far from plentiful, groceries being sold in bulk. Most of the sugar was a somewhat soft, white brand, called "coffe crush" The codfish bucket, the kerosene barrel and the molasses barrel lay down together, so to speak, and their combined odors proclaimed the place as a grocery store. The only herring was smoked and strung on sticks running through the fishes' gills. And a slogan along about that time was "Drain your measure," especially referring to the cold season when molasses ran slowly from the measure into the customer's jug.

Now look at the grocery store, with its mechanical contrivances, and almost everything—sugar, molasses and all—either in pasteboard cartons or cans and glasses. Anyone who seeks to find how rapidly times have changed need go no farther than a grocery store.

The modern butcher gives you dog meat, just as the old one did, but now he calls it pot roast and charges for it.

LITTLE LEADERS

Nowadays in Littlefield it is easier to miss a train than to train a miss.

Any Littlefield motorist can hear knocks in his car when his relatives are riding with him.

Some Littlefield folks practices economy so that they can save up enough money to buy something they don't need.

After a Littlefield man has been married long enough he will tell you that when his wife's feet are not hurting she is having a headache.

Some Littlefield mothers are surprised that Dad isn't worth more considering the enormous value of every little paper of his that she misplaces.

Littlefield people were more hospitable in the old days because they grew most of the hospitality at home. Now they order it from the grocery.

It's our observation there is very little sympathy in this world for the Littlefield man who is either land or lodge poor.

As the average Littlefield man grows old he often reflects that his greatest happiness came to him through sensible women instead of a meager $100 a year from the government.

Once we sat up and took notice of Louis Bleriot who flew across the English channel, the first man to perform that exploit. Where is Bleriot now? Where are the snows of yesterday?

Then there was Captain Richmond P. Hobson, the hero of Santiago Harbor. Once we were all applauding him and the girls anxious to kiss him. He now lives in Pasadena and few know that he is alive.

Gen. William Mitchell probably did as much toward winning the war in France as any American. He consecrated his efforts towards making the United States foremost in aviation. For his reward he has been ousted from the army because he disagreed with his superiors.

One time there was an ace by the name of Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker who shot down more German flyers than any American pilot. For awhile he was a hero then he too flickered out.

And so we say of Amundsen, the first man to reach the South pole and to fly a dirigible over the North pole, and of Commander John Rodgers who was wrecked on his flying trip to Honolulu. George Young, who swam the Catalina channel and Gertrude Ederle who swam the English channel, that they might give a few pointers to Commander Byrd and Col. Lindbergh as to the fickleness of fame.

pretty ones. But there is no telling it to his son.

It was easy to love your neighbor as you love yourself in Bible times, for in those days your neighbor wasn't up before breakfast trying to start a balky Ford.

The old-fashioned Littlefield tomboy who used to do everything the boys did, now has a daughter who does things no boy would ever think of doing.

This time of year is known as the

"wondering season" around Littlefield, because so many men are wondering if they can make last year's overcoat do them another winter.

If one could look 30 years ahead they would probably see some of the kids they now call "gifted" sitting on a store box whittling on a pine stick.

We'll know winter is close at hand just as soon as somebody around Littlefield writes in and asks us if we won't print "When the Frost is On the Pumpkin and the Fodder's in the Shock."

Approximately 50 per cent of the Angora goat growing and mohair industry of the United States is located on the Edwards Plateau of Texas.

The turkey output of Texas is valued at $10,000,000 annually.

ON KEEPING AT IT—

It is generally conceded that the most successful merchant in any given town is the one who continually keeps his name before the people through advertising in the newspaper. Sporadic advertising may bring in the business for the day, but it will not hold it for long. There is not a single big successful merchant in the world who does not advertise, and advertise regularly. It is the little merchant, who continues to stay small that does not advertise. It's a very true saying: "Keep advertising, and advertising will keep you."

Public school expenditures of Texas are now about $55,000,000 annually or five times what they were in 1910 and within $25,000,000 of what the 16 Southern States spent last year for this purpose.

ANOTHER GIN HERE

The ground on which was located the Littlefield Gin, burned about a year ago, is this week being cleared preparatory to the building of another cotton gin by G. M. Mason, owner of the burned plant.

It is understood that the gin machinery, of Continental type, has already been shipped, and the plant expects to be in operation within the next month.

The first railroads were built into Texas from the east and north in the early and middle seventies.

REV. AHLBRAND TO GO TO LOUISVILLE AS CITY MISSION'Y

Rev. C. A. Ahlbrand and family left last Sunday night for Louisville, Ky., where he has been appointed city missionary of the Lutheran church.

Rev. Ahlbrand was pastor of the Lutheran church in Littlefield during the past 18 months, in which time the local organization made great progress in all departments, more than doubling its membership. His farewell sermon delivered Sunday night was listened to by an audience that taxed the capacity of the church building.

During the 18 months Rev. Ahlbrand has been in Littlefield he and his estimable wife have won to themselves many warm friends who much regret their departure, but extend to them their best wishes of greater success in their new field of labor.

ANOTHER RURAL ROUTE IS PROPOSED FROM HERE

Last week a survey of the territory lying southwest of Littlefield was made by Postmaster J. E. Brannen, Alex Reeves, M. L. Garrett and G. H. Gilly, looking toward the establishing of another rural mail route out of Littlefield.

As a result of this trip the names of 122 heads of families, signing a petition for such a route, were sent to the Department, at Washington, D. C.

It is stated that many of these families come from 12 to 15 miles into Littlefield for their mail, and the proposed route would indeed be a great convenience for them.

Mr. Brannen stated he thought there would be no difficulty in establishing this route, which would be about 45 miles in length, the same road work would have to be done before it was started.

A HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Halloween motif was carried out in the beautifully decorated rooms. Entertaining games were played until a late hour when delicious refreshments were served.

Those enjoying the hospitality of this occasion were: Misses Azalea Berryman, Belva Thompson, Dorothy and Joy Alford, Louise and Eva Gertrude Chisholm, Lucille Lucas, Mary Lee Carpenter, Bessie Green, Parelee Porter, Pauline Hardesty, Myrtle Wills, Bessie Bellomy, Fern Hoover, Janie Dick, Emma Lou Jones; Messrs Len Dobbs, Claude Snowden, Grady Wimberly, Jack Hagen, Qua Bruce, Arthur and Travis Jones, Herbert and Embert Mueller.

TWO FIRES MONDAY

Monday morning there was a small fire at the home of Mrs. J. A. McCormick, caused by an over-heated oil stove. The damage was slight.

Monday afternoon a small oil heater in the home of Jim Harless became over-heated, producing considerable smoke and small damage to the walls. The fire department responded to both calls in a very efficient manner.

WOOL FROM PINE NEEDLES

A useful substitute for wool is being made from chemically treated pine needles, according to a new process recently developed in Germany. The resin is chemically removed from the needles, leaving the "pine wool," a strong fibre resembling hemp. The wool is also used in the manufacture of heavy fabrics.—Pennsylvania Service Letter.

OLTON MAIL HEAVY

Nine sacks of mail went out of Littlefield to Olton last Monday over the new route, according to Postmaster J. E. Brannen, who declared it is a matter of only a short time until this route will have to be made a daily to accommodate the patrons.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Fire Prevention Week was observed in high school last week. Each student had to write a fire theme.

High school had fire drill twice. First fire drill all students were out of the building in forty-five seconds, second fire drill all students were out side in a minute and a half.

A number of good fire themes were written. The following is a fair estimate by Joy Alford:

Fire.

A cow in Mrs. O'Leary's barn kicked the lantern that started the great Chicago fire of October 9, 1927. The fifty-sixth anniversary of this fire is this week in 1927. Mrs. O'Leary's cow is used as a symbol of fire prevention week.

Eighty-five per cent of the fires in the United States can be prevented. The greater part of these eighty-five per cent is due to carelessness. In the United States each year there are ten times as many fires as there are in all Europe. In Europe a law is passed with a provision that if any man's home burns, due to carelessness and causes his neighbor's to burn, he is responsible for the loss. In this way a great many fires are prevented.

We could do most in preventing fires by the following precautions: be careful about letting trash collect around your homes that will ignite easily. See that the chimneys, flues, furnaces or boilers are in good condition, for they cause a loss of more than $40,000,000 annually. There should be no home built but fire-proof shingles were not put on it. Do not let oil mops, cloths or rags be left in a place that might be shut off from air. Don't throw down matches, cigars or cigarette stubs. The loss of fire due to cigars, cigarettes and other smokes last year was over $37,000,000. See that there is no chance for ignition around electric appliances. Clean up the hazards in your community, develop careful habits, enact ordinances for better building construction, improvements in city water and fire departments.

There should be a fire extinguisher in every home so that fires could be quickly put out. If there is no fire extinguisher throw flour on the blaze this will extinguish a small blaze. In case of a large fire, telephone the fire department immediately.

An increase of sixty-three per cent in fire loss in the last ten years causes our father to pay $5.00 each for each member in the family. The greatest loss is that of homes which is sixty three per cent. There is an average of five school houses, five churches, five hotels that burn every day. A loss of $1,066 a minute caused by fire maybe part of our carelessness.

DAIRY TRADE DAIRY

BUSINESS METHODS NEEDFUL

Dairy Industry Is All Right for Making Money if Some Good System is Followed.

The trouble with the dairy business lies mostly with the methods of the men in the business. Some dairymen prosper while their neighbors fail by the wayside. The dairy business is at right, but it takes good business methods to make profits, says M. H. Keeney, dairy specialist of the New Jersey College of Agriculture.

The coming year will not be particularly different from any other year in the dairy business. The specialist suggests the good dairymen's methods should be analyzed and applied to the average dairy business.

Know your cows, he says. Good dairymen know what their cows are doing. They keep milk records, wean out the unprofitable cows, raise heifer calves from the best cows and thereby improve their herds. You can't guess at these things and get ahead. It takes records to get the facts.

Good dairymen are good feeders. They feed balanced rations and according to production. They have silos alfalfa or clover hay and feed liberally of grain. Circular 127, of the New Jersey state agricultural experiment station, is used as a feeding guide by thousands of good dairymen. It is free upon request to the station at New Brunswick.

All of our best dairymen use purebred bulls because they know it pays. A good bull will remake a poor herd into a good one, but a poor bull will ruin any herd and may put his owner in the poorhouse. A good bull is the best investment any dairyman can make. You never have and never will see a man succeed with scrubs. It takes good cows to make money and the bull is the main factor in getting better cows. Good dairymen observe all of these things and apply them to their business. They will make money in 1928.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

There's no "time out" for Buick

The referee's whistle shrills . . . "time out!" . . . The game halts, pending a player's return to the "line-up".

When you attend the big football games this year, notice the predominance of Buicks—for men and women who like action, like Buick. And hundreds of thousands of Buick owners can testify that there is no "time out" for Buick.

LITTLEFIELD YOUNGSTERS STAGE A WEDDING HERE THAT ECLIPSED REAL AFFAIR OF MANY GROWN-UP FOLKS

The Tom Thumb wedding given last Thursday, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Junior Christian Endeavor, was one of the most beautiful pageants ever staged in Littlefield.

The invited guests to the wedding were easily recognized—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Street, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCaskill, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bills, Prof. and Mrs. B. M. Harrison, Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Dugger, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Duggan—the absolute replica of garments and manners was most amusing. Miss Nellie Dugger, in diminutive size, gave most soulfully, "Oh, Promise Me," and a squeezed-up Mrs. Frances Lee Tolbert, in pink evening dress, black rimmed glasses and all, gave a reading, "I love you truly" as a toast to the bride.

The wedding was most stately, with gorgeous gowned brides-maids, flower girls and guests. The ushers, best man and bride-groom were attired in conventional black. The bridal procession was very impressive, with the strains of J. Lohengrin for the march.

The bride was a vision of blond beauty and the parents of both the bride and groom were pictures of dignified elegance—even if one little mother-in-law did exhibit a tiny bit of womanly stubbornness at being coerced.

The stage was a bower of roses and made a beautiful setting for the lovely double ring service performed by the Right Reverend Mr. Willis, Miss Carra Lou Stone was a vision of beauty as a ring bearer. The wedding was the most elaborate and successful affair of its kind that has ever been given in Littlefield.

Miss Lulu Hubbard was sponsor, assisted by Mrs. Ray Jones and others.

Historic Town

Harper's Ferry is a town in West Virginia at the confluence of the Shenandoah and Potomac and is about 60 miles from Washington. It received its name from Robert Harper, an English millwright, who obtained the grant of this site in 1748 from Lord Fairfax, the friend and patron of George Washington. The original survey was made by Washington himself and it is said that he personally selected the ferry as the site of a national armory. Harper's Ferry is famous in American history as the scene of John Brown's raid.

Personal Experience?

A few weeks ago in one of the state high schools, in an English class, this little episode occurred: The teacher had asked the pupils, for the following day, to write an editorial, and in giving suggestions had said that "puppy love" would be an interesting topic to work up. A member of the class, who was busy copying the assignment when the above statement was made, looked up and innocently inquired: "Does it have to be a personal experience?"—Indianapolis News.

Hobby Is Training Worms

Training worms is the hobby of David Masters, London journalist and scientist. Leading his visitors to his garden, Masters would take a blade of grass and stroke the back of as much of a worm's body as chanced to be out of its hole in the ground. Immediately the worm would emerge from its hiding place and he would stroke its back, which the worm would arch after a few strokes. "You see, even a worm likes a good turn," Masters tells his friends.

WOMEN'S STUDY CLUB

The Women's study club met Wednesday, Oct. 19, at the home of Mrs. C. L. Harless.

Mrs. G. B. Ritcheson, who was leader of the lesson on New England poets, gave an interesting sketch of Hawthorne's life, with a sympathetic interpretation of his character.

Mrs. Francis Tolbert read a part of "The Vision of Sir Launfall, which was followed by a discussion of Lowell by Mrs. Harry Wiseman. She read selections from Lowell, including "The Courtin'."

Miss Vivian Courtney completed the study of the New England poets with the story of Longfellow's life and writings. The story of John Alden and Priscilla was thoroughly enjoyed by the club.

Mrs. Ritcheson presided at this meeting; she will fill the office of president for the coming year, due to the resignation of Mrs. T. Y. Casey.

There seems to be a growing interest in the library in the old National bank building. At the recent "42" tournament funds were raised for the purchase of new books. A number of books, many of these late fiction, have been contributed by members of the club.—Reporter.

GOVERNMENT WARNS FARMERS WHO RAISE CORN OF BIG COMING SHORTAGE OF SEED

Suggests Immediate Effort of Raisers of Present Crop to Gather Seed Thus Insuring the 1928 Planting

By Robert Fuller
Washington, D. C., Oct.—Uncle Sam sounds on agricultural warning to corn planters which can save them a great deal of grief next year, if heeded and acted upon immediately. It is in regard to the possibility of a severe shortage of seed corn for 1928 that the government is warning farmers to take steps now to avoid the situation. First of all the hold-over seed corn from the 1925 and 1926 seasons is small. The probability of a large supply from the present crop is slight due to the late season. This is particularly true in the Corn Belt—and all points northward. Only by saving what hold-over seed there is from the 1925 and 1926—and by selecting the best immature corn from the 1927 crop and drying for use—providing weather conditions will not permit the corn to mature on the stalks—will prevent the shortage. The Department of Agriculture is making the attempt to give the warning wide circulation. The full text of its warning follows: Farmers who have not already done so should begin at once to plan for obtaining seed corn for planting in 1928. Much of the corn in the Corn Belt and northward is so far behind that it has little chance to mature sufficiently for seed before frost. This condition together with the small hold-over due to pure maturity of the 1925 and 1926 crops, brings about a situation which may well result in a serious seed-corn shortage in 1928 in some sections if steps are not taken this fall to prevent it. No Time to Lose No time should be lost in arranging to select an abundance of seed corn from the present crop. There are a few areas in which some fields will not mature sufficiently to permit selection of good seed. Farmers whose crops for one reason or another are so late that they will not mature sufficiently to make good seed should arrange to select seed from the field of a more fortunate neighbor. All hold-over corn of the 1925 and 1926 crops which is suitable for seed should be retained for planting in 1928. Old corn is likely to be infested with insects or to have been damaged by rodents. When such corn is to be held for seed, it should be examined, sorted, disinfected if necessary, and protected from further damage. Matured Seed Best The best seed corn is that which has matured thoroughly upon the plants in the field. The loss in vigor however, which comes from slight immaturity at the time the seed is picked is unimportant compared with the loss that may result from using seed of an unadapted variety obtained in the spring from some distant source. Seed corn picked about three weeks after pollination and dried carefully will germinate. The plants grown from such immature corn will be weak and unproductive and the selection of seed sown after silking and tasseling is not recommended. The vigor of germination increases rapidly with advancing maturity and a good quality of seed may be obtained from ears with kernels that are well denting.

the class of Voc. Agriculture. Prizes will be given to the students who bring in the best exhibits on cotton, grain sorghums, poultry and hogs. The Pig club boy who shows the best gilt, of those purchased from Mr. Cox at Rising Star, will be given a pure-bred gilt as a prize by Mr. Cox. The members of the class are very happy to have this opportunity of showing their projects and to enter with each other in the field selection of various grains and cotton for exhibition and in the selection of poultry in a friendly spirit of co-operation that is true to type.

The car will be equipped with pneumatic tires which will be placed over the wheels, tending to give the car a soft, airy, easy-riding feeling. Rapid Drying Urged Seed corn containing excess moisture must be dried rapidly and handled carefully until thoroughly dry. Sappy seed ears left in a sack or even in a pile over night are likely to heat or mold. Ample ventilation is the most important consideration in drying seed corn. If the ears are stored so that the air can move freely about them they will dry rapidly even without artificial heat. The use of a little artificial heat will promote rapid drying. The seed also is more likely to mold or sprout under higher temperatures so that a good air movement and rapid drying are even more important when artificial heat is used. A small heater located below the seed corn will cause a rapid upward current of air which will promote rapid drying if ventilation permits this air to pass out of the building at the top. "Play Safe" Policy Suggested The possibility of obtaining better seed later on should not prevent playing safe by selecting an ample supply of seed of an adapted variety just as soon as it matures enough so that it can be relied upon to germinate well. If frost holds off longer and weather conditions are favorable for development a new supply of seed can be selected after the corn is more mature. The earlier selected seed then may be fed, the only loss being the small amount of time required to select and dry the first lot.

TO HAVE AGGI. SHOW
At a meeting Wednesday night of farmers and business men of Littlefield, in the Vocational Agriculture room of the High School, the question of a Community Agricultural fair was discussed and it was decided that it would be impractical to have one at this time. The Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary clubs, however, will sponsor a fair to be held by the students in

ALL ABOUT THE NEW FORD
The new Ford product will be known as the Linford, taking its name from Abraham Lincoln, its founder, and Henry Ford, its manufacturer. Some other name may be substituted. The car will be equipped with a running gear, engine, body, gasoline tank, radiator and other accessories, usual to automobiles. The wheels, of which there will be four, will be set on axles, and will turn around and around, forward or backward, depending on the choice of the driver. On the extreme front end, the car will be equipped with a radiator, which will serve as a reservoir for water with which to water the road. The front of the radiator will be meshed so as to be an excellent smasher of bugs, insects, other people chickens and the like. Situated somewhere on the car will be a gasoline tank which will contain a number of gallons of gasoline, or any liquid sold as gasoline by filling stations. A lesser number of gallons can be used if desired. No wobble pump will be used. All seats will be equipped with cushions of more or less softness. On touring and sedan models the front seat will be placed directly in front of the back seat. Both seats will be protected from sun, rain, etc., by a top. In front of the front seat, and behind the radiator will be placed a windshield which will serve as a barometer. When it is raining the windshield will become smeared with mud, water, etc., from passing vehicles. The car will be guided by a steering wheel, which will turn the car to the right or left, but never both ways at the same time. Entrance to the car may be gained through doors cut somewhere in body, or, if desired, by climbing over. The sedan and coupe models will

SOPHOMORE CLASS PARTY
The Sophomore class is going to have a Hallowe'en party in the High school gymnasium, Friday night, October 28. JUNIOR CLASS MEETING
The Junior class meeting was held at the school building on Friday, October 27. The meeting was held in the gymnasium and was attended by the following: ...

THE GIRL A FLIRT
A parody on the "Rainy Day."
The girls are wise, and sly, and cunning.
They flirt, and flit, and are never weary.
They cling to the arms of the classy lads,
And everywhere are dodging dads;
And man is sad and dreary.
Their lives are shallow, vain and silly,
They laugh and talk, and are never weary;
Their thoughts all cling to the very best way,
To catch a new fellow every blessed day,
And their lives are rough and hilly.
Set still, little girls, set still in the boat;
The women now can cast their vote,
And perhaps some one will invent a plan,
Whereby each girl can get her man,
"Then all will be sad and dreary."

BEWARE OF THE SEA OF UNKNOWN BRANDS

The need for greater buying power in this community is not so great as the need for greater concentration of the buying power which we have. The people of Littlefield, every day, send enough money away from this city to mail-order concerns to support 75 families comfortably.

$500.00 is the amount of money that leaves Littlefield every day for so-called mail-order bargains, and the great pity of it is that (when everything is considered) nobody saves anything.

If you are earning your living in Littlefield, every dollar that you spend here must eventually come back to you in order that you may break even. That's a primary law of economics and we will have to observe it here if Littlefield is to grow.

Furthermore, if you will read the advertisements of the national advertisers, who are the manufacturers of practically all standard merchandise, you will find that their articles are sold in Littlefield by our merchants, and at standard advertised prices.

Buying standard merchandise from your local merchant is true economy; fishing for bargains (?) in a "Sea of Unknown Brands" is false economy.

ROTARY TO AID AGGIES

At a meeting of the Littlefield Rotary club, held last Thursday, it was decided that this organization would assist in a Vocational Agricultural exhibit, to be held in the Jones building, on Main street, rather than try to hold a regular fair in Littlefield this fall.

Van Clark had charge of the program for the day, giving a classification talk on "The Vocation of the Tonsorial Artist." Enjoyable readings were given by Misses Virginia Phillips and Ella Vause.

On account of an Armistice program to be given in Lubbock this year, it was decided to have no celebration this time in Littlefield.

Bank resources in Texas have increased $903,000,000 since 1910 and bank deposits in the same period have increased $668,000,000. Last year the total bank resources were $1,276,763,000.

FRUITS, TOO, MUST HAVE THEIR IRON

ALL human beings should have a proportion of iron in their diets, and the pineapple is one of the few fruits which requires this element in order to come successfully to maturity. The soil of Hawaii is a rich volcanic dust, but pineapples grow better in it with the addition of fertilizer in order to give them a balanced ration.

It was found long ago, however, that, though the soil contains much iron, this iron was combined with manganese, and prevented the plants from getting enough. In order to provide them with iron in the form in which they needed it, an "iron ration" was invented, and now they get it in the form of a spray while they are growing, and they keep green under this treatment, and bear delicious fruit.

Boys and girls in their teens are in special need of iron in their diet, and most of them will welcome it when it comes in the form of pineapple, whether in the fruit salad, the pie or cake, or what may be liked best of all, the fruit cup. Mothers may be interested in trying some of these recipes.

Pineapple Salad: Make individual jellies with lemon jelly powder and the juice from canned sliced pineapple which is substituted for the water. When the jellies are beginning to set, drop into them small sections of sliced pineapple and blanched almonds. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. This is equally nice as a dessert in which case the jellies should be surrounded with rounds of whipped cream and served with lady-fingers.

Pineapple Pie: Drain the juice from a can of sliced Hawaiian pineapple. Heat one and a half cups milk. Mix one-half cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, and two tablespoons cornstarch and slowly add hot milk. Cook in double boiler until the cornstarch is thoroughly cooked. Pour on two beaten egg yolks and let cook in double boiler about two minutes, stirring all the time. Cool and add one cup of crushed Hawaiian pineapple, well drained, and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Pour into a baked crust and cover with a meringue made of two stiffly-beaten egg whites and two tablespoons sugar. Brown in a moderate oven.

Pineapple Cake: Cream one-half cup shortening and one cup sugar together until light and add two well-beaten egg yolks. Mix and sift two cups flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, and four teaspoons baking powder. Add alternately with three-quarters cup syrup drained from crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Fold in two stiffly beaten whites of egg. Bake in layer cake pans in a moderate oven. Put pineapple icing between the layers and on top. The icing is made by adding drained crushed pineapple to a boiled icing.

Pineapple Punch: Mix together the juice drained from canned pineapple, the juice of lemons, simple syrup, and ginger ale. Dilute with water to suit the taste.

RAISES FINE TURNIPS

A. W. Wright brought into the Leader office last Saturday samples of as fine turnips as has ever been seen raised in this section.

Several of them weighed from two to three pounds each, measuring four and five inches in diameter. Cutting them open they were found to be perfectly firm—not pithy at all. They were raised in a small lake bed on Mr. Wright's farm, and where some folks say the soil is not productive at all.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kirk and baby, returned Friday from an extended visit with relatives in McKinney and Princeton. Mrs. Kirk, who was operated on for goiter, is rapidly regaining her health. They were accompanied home by Liston Anderson, of Princeton.

PLAN FOR IMPROVING HERDS

Heads Federal Register

Fundamental Rules of Fitting Must Be Understood to Have Cows in Good Condition.

If the dairy breeds are to be improved and brought up to maximum milk and butterfat production so that the science of breeding may be brought down to more nearly a problem of mathematics, then the good cows of the leading breeds must be given credible official records. Fundamental rules of fitting must be understood and observed to have the cows in condition to make good records, and then fundamental rules of feeding must be fully understood and appreciated in feeding them when they are undergoing the test.
