

TOWN'S RESERVOIR DRY SAND—City officials of Texas, including Texas Rep. Fenoglio of Nocona (center) inspect the dry reservoir of Texas. A frantic appeal by J. Milton Dunn, after the conditions for the last three years reservoir had run dry, brought help from a nearby farmer who owned a spring and an oil company which owned pipe. Volunteer workers laid the pipe and this arid reservoir now is being filled again. Drought have brought many other Texas communities to a similar precarious plight. There will be prayers for rain this Easter. Byers, population 587, is in northwest Texas.

Brother of Local Woman Drowns In Buffalo Lake; Funeral Friday

Funeral services for Robert P. "Bob" Wilson, 34 of Amarillo, brother of Mrs. Clay Anders of this city, were conducted at 2 p. m. Friday in N. S. Griggs and Sons Pioneer Chapel, Amarillo, with Hoyt Houchon, minister of the Central Church of Christ, officiating.

Pallbearers were R. L. Gill, Herman Guy, E. E. Luke, J. T. Luke, J. J. Rowe, and Marion Reeves.

Burial took place in Llano Cemetery.

Mr. Wilson was drowned Wednesday afternoon of last week in Buffalo Lake at Amarillo when the boat in which he and J. T. Luke of 1420 West 12th St., Amarillo, were fishing overturned south of the bath house in about 15 feet of water. Wilson is said to have started to the front of the boat, when the boat lunged and he lost his balance capsizing the craft. His companion swam back to the boat, but Wilson quickly disappeared. He failed to revive with artificial respiration, and the doctor pronounced him dead on arrival. The body was carried to Canyon by the Griggs Warren Funeral Home.

Mr. Wilson was born October 28, 1918, and had been a resident of Amarillo since 1945. He was a

Muleshoe Youth Jailed Following Stabbing; Jack Parks in Hospital

A 17-year-old Muleshoe youth, charged with aggravated assault with intent to murder, is being held in the Bailey County Jail. The youth, Homer E. Grogden, was charged in connection with the near fatal stabbing of Jack Parks, 18, also of Muleshoe. The stabbing occurred about 10 o'clock Wednesday night of last week in the park at Muleshoe.

According to officers, a group of teen-agers were driving around Muleshoe tossing buckets of water in each other's car. They stopped at the park and started fighting. The fight ended with the stabbing. Jack Parks was rushed to the hospital quickly, and his condition was reported as fair. He suffered three severe wounds and a punctured lung.

switchmen for the Rock Island railroad at Amarillo.

He is survived by his wife, a son, his mother, two brothers and two sisters, besides Mrs. Anders.

Joe Abston, Houston, who is accompanist for the Wayland College musicians was presented by the District P. T. A. Meeting in Littlefield Tuesday. He is also accompanist for the Wayland College International A Cappella Choir.

Five speakers have been secured for the second annual Farmer-Businessman Forum which will start at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday April 15 in the Lamb County Youth Center.

Speakers will be Robert H. Gibson, manager of Paymaster Farms, Lockney, A. Owen, Dallas, president of the Texas Cotton Association, Marshall Formby, Hereford, recently appointed to the Texas Highway Commission, Jack Ashworth, professor of Marketing and Finance at Texas Tech, and Archie Leonard, professor of Agricultural economy at Tech.

Open Discussion

The forum will be built, at it was last year, around the idea that a free and open discussion of important questions is one of the strongest allies of a democracy. F. L. Shelby, president of the Lamb County Farm Bureau said.

No definite settlement of any particular problem is expected, and no resolution or other group opinions are to be sought.

The forum is being sponsored by the Lamb County Farm Bureau, Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

"It is hoped that the end of the discussion period each person attending will feel that he is in a better position to make up his own mind about the issue," Shelby said.

Two questions will form the basic discussion at the forum. The first is, "What would be a good farm program on cotton that would be satisfactory to both farmer and cotton merchant at all levels?"

Gibson will discuss the question. (Continued on Back Page).

'The Harvest Is No Better Than The Seed You Sow'

There is an old farm maxim which states, "The harvest is no better than the seed you sow."

You don't have to be a Biblical scholar to recognize the origin and wisdom of that saying. And right now is the time to prepare for sowing good seed in order to reap a high production harvest this fall.

When you buy your seed from a dealer, the Tested Seed Tag required by law on all bags, tells you what to expect in germination quality and seed purity. Yet, what about that last year's crop of seed stored in the bin on your farm? Wouldn't it be a good idea to know as much about the qualities of your farm-grown seed as that which you buy at the store?

If you plan to sell some of that stored seed, the Texas Seed Act says it must be state inspected and tested. But whether you intend to sell it or plant it, a comprehensive test of the seed will pay dividends at harvest time.

Two laboratories are operated by the Texas Department of Agriculture for purity and germination tests. No charge is made for testing field seed of Texas residents but a fee of 25 cents per sample is levied for all vegetable and flower seed.

To expedite testing operations, a few suggestions are offered to the sender:

1. HOW TO MAKE SAMPLES. Only samples of cleaned seeds can be accepted. When you have five bags or less of seed, take a sample from each bag. If there are more than five bags, send samples from at least every fifth bag, but never less than five bags should be sampled. In sampling bulk seed, thrust your hand or a bag probe into the bin in at least seven uniformly distributed spots.

2. SIZES OF SAMPLES. Send 2 ounces of small seed like white or alsike clover and most grasses; 5 ounces of red or crimson clover, alfalfa, lespedeza, ryegrass, broom, millet, flax, rape or seeds of similar size; 1 pound of sudan grass sorghum seeds, proso and like sizes; 2 pounds of corn, cotton, cereals, vetches, cowpeas or larger.

3. INFORMATION NEEDED. Print your name and address, including the kind and variety of seed (the lab does not make varietal identification); the lot number or stock identification; the month and year of harvest and where grown; the test desired (whether purity, germination or both). If the seed has been treated, give name of material and rate of application.

4. FORWARDING SAMPLES. Samples should be mailed in cloth bags or strong cardboard containers. Paper bags and ice cream cartons are unsatisfactory since they usually burst in transit. Depending on your location, samples may be sent to either of the following addresses: Seed Laboratory, Texas Dept. of Agriculture, Austin, or Seed Laboratory, 116 Agriculture Bldg., Texas Tech College, Lubbock.

5. TESTED SEED LABELS. Labels are 1 cent each and one tag must be attached to each bag of seed offered for sale, showing the complete analysis and other information. Tags cannot be issued for seed tested for germination only. Include your order for tags along with the samples.

Remember...

The following items were news in the Lamb County Leader of April 5, 1934, nearly 20 years ago:

The regular annual meeting of the Lamb County Interscholastic League was held in Littlefield Friday and Saturday of last week. Every school in the county participated in this meet. There were three championships awarded at the close of the meet.

The Class A high school division was won by the Littlefield High School with a total of 237 points. Olton was second with 207 points, Amberst High third with 127 points, Springlake fourth and Sudan fifth with 75 and 59 points respectively.

Copies of last week's issue of the Lamb County Leader will be presented to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Vice-President John Garner, Congressman Marvin Jones, and to several of the prominent executives at Washington.

The newspaper will be presented by J. C. Whicker, owner of the Littlefield Hotel, who is enroute to Washington with a delegation to present the need and justice of higher appraisals on land in this section in the granting of federal farm loans. Jess Mitchell, former publisher of the Leader, is a member of the delegation.

A double wedding took place at 12:00 noon Sunday at Clovis, N. M., in which two Littlefield couples were united in marriage.

Miss Maggie Lou Teeters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Teeters and Johnnie Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orr of Hereford were married.

The other couple participating were Miss Wilma Watts, sister of Mrs. Max Touchon, and Harry Teeters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Teeters of this city.

An attractive five room house is being erected by J. H. Burns on his farm five miles southwest of Littlefield. Local rock is being used. J. H. Wells is doing the work, and F. N. Fawett is carrying out the carpenter work.

Candidates for the high school football team began work Monday of this week. Sixty-six boys reported for uniforms Monday afternoon, and a few more are expected as soon as a few scholastic difficulties are removed.

Prospects for a team are somewhat brighter than last year as they have ten lettermen returning. However a majority of the other boys are young, light and inexperienced. The lettermen are, McKnight, Captain-elect for next year's team, Hall, Irvin, Beckner, Kendrick, Martiney, Yantis and Smith.

Miss Myrtle Thomas and Mr. Ernest Goertz were united in marriage Sunday morning, April 1, at 9 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the home of Rev. Walter Luecke of the Lutheran Church. The bride was very charmingly attired in blue with white accessories and flowers. The bridesmaid, Miss Alverda Ruker, carried out the effect in a white suit and accessories. Alex Kraushar was best man.

According to Mrs. W. H. Rutledge, cotton agent, Lamb and Castro Counties, a tabulation of the reports show there were 52, 884 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Lamb County from the crop of 1953, as compared with 61, 762 bales from the crop of 1952.

These three-month periods, or quarters, end March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st. Reports and payments are due by the last day of the month following the close of each quarter. During any quarterly period that a household worker does not work 24 days or earn $50, the employer need not be concerned. You need not consider the work your employee performs for any other employer.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has a special household report form, printed on the back of a return, which can be obtained from your Collector upon request. Just ask for Form 942.

Farm Storage of Some Crops Suggested

Increased supplies of most farm products are largely responsible for the lower prices. Demand, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is now fully as strong as in 1952, except for some farm products which have been materially affected by dropping exports.

It is significant, points out Bates, that large supplies of farm products accumulate despite last year's drought. With favorable weather during the 1953 crop season, he adds, stocks of food, feed and fiber may climb even higher. Storage and orderly marketing thus become more important than reserve supplies become surpluses.

Bates uses an example to show the value of on-the-farm storage. Last year, oat producers in North Central Texas sold oats during late May and early June, harvest time, for 75 to 80 cents a bushel. Four months later, the same quality and type were selling for $1.30 to $1.40 a bushel with much of the demand coming from growers for planting seed. Some oats moved at $1.15 a bushel when bulk-hauled from farm bins. This margin, says the specialist, was greater than the usual average but over a period of years, the margin will more than pay for storage and the small shrinkage loss.

A glutted market, he says, always means depressed prices and often times markets can be stabilized by storage during peak harvesting periods. Also, farm storage will insure ample supplies of feed and seed without adding needless freight and handling charges.

On-the-farm storage permits livestock producers to take advantage of lower prices at harvest time especially if crops are short on their own farm.

Prospects for feed grain crops have been improved by recent rains and Bates encourages farmers to take a look at their storage facilities. If plans for storage bins are needed, he suggests a visit with the local county agent. Blueprints and plans are available without cost from this source.

Financial assistance on storage facilities, he says, may be obtained through local lending agencies or the local offices of the Production and Marketing Administration. The assistance from PMA is assured through June 30, but don't put off planning the needed storage facilities. Make the plans now and have the facilities ready well in advance of the harvest season, says Bates.

HOUSEHOLD WORKERS SOCIAL SECURITY TAX EXPLAINED

April 30th is the deadline on which social security payments for household workers for the first quarter of 1953 are due at the office of your Collector of Internal Revenue.

The federal law bringing household workers under the old-age and survivors insurance system went into effect January 1, 1951. However, lawyers say that many persons who employ help in their homes are still in the dark about requirements of the law.

Here are some provisions everyone should know. Household workers covered by the law include maids, laundresses, housekeepers, cooks, nursemaids, gardeners, handymen, valets, footmen, grooms, chauffeurs of privately owned cars, practical nurses, and others.

Whether or not a household worker is included in the law depends on how many days she works and how much money she is paid. If the person works 24 days and earns $50 during any one of the three month periods into which the calendar year has been divided, a tax report must be filed and payment made.

Only cash wages are considered, which includes bus fare if paid in cash, but does not include bus to-be sold by voluntary, non-profit groups, private accident and health insurance companies, labor unions, fraternal organizations, or other agencies. Groups, families, or individuals may subscribe. Group insurance allows risks to be spread over a greater number of people, making premium rates more attractive. olicies it will cover and which ones they must pay for, if any. They should make claims early and report fully and accurately on illness.

Benefits may be in the form of service, in which the company pays the hospital; in cash paid to the patient, who in turn pays the hospital; or in service and cash. In some policies, medical services performed outside the hospital may be included, or a separate policy may be required. An allowance to pay special nurses is included by some private companies.

The most popular types of coverage are (1) hospital, (2) surgical, and (3) medical (other than surgery). In many plans, medical services outside the hospital are not provided because the insurance concern tries to keep premiums within the means of the average user.

Insurance companies are working in several areas to improve benefits and coverage. Most important is the field of catastrophic illness, that is, severe illness, perhaps unforeseen, which drains the family's finances to the point that debts must be paid over a long period or drastic measures like selling the automobile or mortgaging the home must be taken. Insurance concerns also hope eventually to accumulate enough statistics to make possible the enrollment of more individual subscribers, especially those in rural regions.

Insurance policy holders can get the most from their investment in several ways. First, they shouldn't use them needlessly. Except for emergencies, they should rely on their doctor to tell them when to go to the hospital and when to leave. Before entering the institution they should know exactly what to expect their policy; what ser-

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

It takes foresight to plan a budget adequately covering medical expenses. First, you need to take stock of medical protections afforded by such things as payments on life insurance policies in case of total and permanent disability, provisions of Workmen's Compensation laws, or laws regarding liability for automobile accidents or accidents occurring in public places. Members of the Armed Forces, war veterans, university students, or those in public institutions may have part or all their medical care furnished; thus, the problem of medical costs is automatically solved for them.

Suppose, though, after considering all these factors you decide you need further help. Hospital or health insurance might provide the answer and fit well into your budget. These two kinds of insurance work on the principal of other types: The policyholder chooses the certainty of a periodic, small loss (the premium) in preference to the uncertainty of abig loss which he might have without insurance protection.

To choose a policy wisely, you can follow the recommendations of your doctor, your insurance agent, and perhaps your employer. There are many kinds of good policies with many reliable companies. Approval is granted a large number of plans by qualified groups such as the American Medical Association on the basis of financial soundness of the company, freedom of the patient to choose his doctor, preservation of the confidential doctor-patient relationship, and other protections for the patient. Hospital or health insurance may

NO MONTHLY CRAMPS... not even on the VERY FIRST DAY!

Doctors' tests show amazing preventive relief of pain, backaches, nervous feelings
Women and girls who suffer from the functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches due to menstruation—who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" every month—may be suffering quite needlessly!
Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stopped or gave amazing relief of such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases... even on the very first and worst day of the period!
Yes! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's modern in action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus—without the use of pain-killing drugs!
The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you?
Take Lydia Pinkham's! See if you don't get the same relief from cramps and weakness... feel better both before and during your period!
Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added iron!
Lydia Pinkham's is wonderful for "hot flashes" and other functional distress of the "change of life," too!

Native Dancer Readies for Big Summer Run

By PETE ARTHUR
AP Newsfeatures

ARCADIA, Calif.—Native Dancer's training is coming right along, and the horse many think may prove one of America's all-time bests will be ready for the summer campaigns.

That's the word from Bill Winfrey, trainer for the star of the Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt stable. Native Dancer has been training slowly, gingerly testing the ankles which developed trouble and kept him out of winter racing.

Exercises Regularly
But he's been exercising regularly, and Winfrey thinks his condition is just about right.

Winfrey aged a lot in a few brief minutes recently when Native Dancer stumbled, tossed his exercise boy, then took off for the lush gardens surrounding Santa Anita's paddock. There the 3-year-old romped for five minutes, tearing up flower beds, jumping benches and generally having a fine time. Finally, his reins tangled around one leg and Winfrey caught him.

Apparently there were no injuries, which was a big load off Winfrey's mind.

Native Dancer, a grey son of Polynesian, won all nine starts as a 2-year-old and earned a record for his age of $230,495. That's pretty valuable property to have frolicking in a flower bed.

Winfrey made no effort to have

Native Dancer may not get a chance to race at Santa Anita this season so Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt did the next best thing. He and Trainer Bill Winfrey permitted California fans to see the champion parade on the track under silks. Only things missing are the lead weights the Dancer will carry in most of his races this year as he seeks the 3-year-old crown. Handling the reins is exercise boy Bernie Everson.

Native Dancer ready for the Santa Anita Derby, but hope to have him in shape for a tuneup before the $100,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica, then a shot at the Kentucky Derby.

Likes California
Winfrey likes California for both winter racing and training, and proved it in 1950 by taking honors as the leading trainer at Hollywood Park's split meeting.

He prefers Santa Anita to campaigning in Florida, he says, because the races here seem better suited to the Vanderbilt Stable. Plus that is the fact that Santa Anita now offers four $100,000 handicaps. Florida this year is offering three for the first time.

"Operation Rendezvous" was a NATO maneuver designed to maintain a standard of readiness and battle efficiency of General Ridgway's European Defence Forces. Naval forces of France, Greece, Italy, Turkey, the United Kingdom and the United States participated in the operation.

COTTON LOAN ADVISORY GROUP MAKES RECOMMENDATION

The eleven-man cotton loan advisory committee which met in Washington, March 5 and 6 on invitation of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson that simpler ways for lending agencies to qualify for participation in program, to handle actual processing of loan papers be adopted. The committee recommended, in general, the use of cotton price support procedures similar in principle to those used in connection with the 1951 crop, rather than the modified procedures which were in effect for the 1952 crop.

After full discussion of the sale of farmers equities in price-support loan cotton, the committee recommended that more time be allowed for repayment of the producers loan after a purchaser buys the producer's equity. The holding of loan papers by the Federal Reserve Banks, so that both purchaser and seller will know their location, was recommended as a step in facilitating repayment of loans. A general recommendation was that a policy be followed of having loan programs follow the usual trade practices and of encouraging local lending agencies to handle loans, rather than making the loans directly from the Commodity Credit Corporation or through Production and Marketing Administration county committees.

Serving on the eleven-man committee were J. Walter Hammond, president, Texas Farm Bureau Federation; Stanton Brown, Exporters and Traders Compressing and Warehousing Company, Waco, Texas—and Albert Long vice-president, Republic National Bank, Dallas, Texas.

FARM PRICES

Prices received by farmers dropped another 1.5 per cent between January 15 and February 15 according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Farm Prices are now 16% below those of February, 1951.

Only four field crops were bringing parity or above prices on February 15. They were sweet Native of Scotland where in Glasgow, she studied drawing, painting and sculpture, she turned to the theater and toured with Sir Frank and Lady Benson for several years. She traveled in Europe, and is particularly fond of France. Her first novel, "A Man Named Luke," was a success both in England and the United States in the early 1930s.

"There are those who believe we should build in the idiom of our age and those who feel that the church should be eclectic.

New York sight-seers have seen its work in the gleaming gold and silver ceilings in the main corridors of the Eppire State Building and the giant mural that fronted the Medicine and Public Health Building at the New York World's Fair. Mid-westerners know its slab glass windows in the Indiana World War Memorial at Indianapolis.

Rambusch's activities grew out of a small decorating business founded by Frode Rambusch, son of a Lutheran minister, who came from Denmark to New York in the late 19th century. Today the firm is run by his sons; Harold, president and interior decorator extraordinary, and Viggo, vice president and architect. The business, which grossed two million dollars last year, grew steadily from the start.

"But it soon became evident that decoration is only the female side of it; the rest is lightly," says Harold Rambusch. "Churches often asked for counsel in lighting, so we extended our operations into lighting. Now we have a corps of illuminating engineers, working with our designers. Together they marry art and engineering. Thirty years ago we added stained glass, which is both part of the decoration and part of the light.

"Up to that time one man would do the windows for a church, one would do the altar and one the metal work. It was a hodge-podge. We brought the different types of work together in one firm. But we do the entire job under the direction of the building's architect."

Nearly three decades of experience in the decoration of churches has given Harold Rambusch some definite opinions on church decoration trends.

"There is the same struggle in the church as in the secular world—a battle between the contemporary and the traditional," he says.

Texas Faces Critical Shortage of Teachers

By W. D. Kay

"An educated mind is the guardian genius of democracy" so said Mirabeau B. Lamar, president of the Republic of Texas more than a century ago. Yet, in this age of super-enlightenment—this age of atomic and hydrogen missiles we are threatened with a break-down in our prized education system because of the present teacher situation. Let us look at the facts as presented by the Texas Teachers Association. Approximately 8,000 teachers will be needed to care for the enrollment expected in our Texas schools alone for the 1953-54 season. Over 2,500 teachers will be needed to teach the 30,000 new children entering our schools for the first time next year. Five thousand and five hundred teachers will be needed to care for those now teaching who expect to retire or to replace those who leave the profession for any reason. The current output of teachers in all the teachers colleges of Texas is but 4,000 of which more than 50% will for various reasons never enter the classroom. Now do we really have a shortage of teachers in Texas?

The above figures tell the story. Why such a critical situation? One of the basic causes is lack of adequate salaries. Taken over a statewide basis salaries paid for all teachers over the state of Texas last year (1951-52) was 6% less than the national average paid to more than sixty million workers. Yet we all agree that the professional training required of the teacher is far above the national average. Consequently, there is little incentive from the monetary standpoint for people to enter the teaching profession.

Before the House of Representatives in Austin is a bill of major importance to the welfare of our teachers the state over. It is H. B. 216 proposing a $3,000 base salary for teachers with a degree and no experience. This bill further provides that the money to meet this increase shall be provided at the state level where there are many sources from which to draw. Most teachers are against any form of a raise that will tack all the cost of any increase on the local community. Basically, local communities have only one source of revenue which is a tax on real estate which we feel is at a high level already.

The lack of an adequate salary is a basic cause for new as well as old teachers turning to other work. Many teachers have gone to work for such businesses as banks, dairies, bakeries, industries, because the basic salary paid by these as well as other occupations is well above that of the teacher. Our State Teachers Association can verify these statements over and over again. In fact, the take home pay of a college degree teacher with no dependents and no experience is approximately $1,900 per year.

Who is suffering? Who will suffer? Our own boys and girls. Certainly we all agree that better incomes would induce more capable people into the business of teaching as well as the return of those who have had to leave the profession because of low salary incomes. Our most prized natural resource is not our land, our oil, or minerals, valuable as they may be but our most important resources is our children. They deserve our best efforts. Surely we can do no less. Let's give them the best teachers that can be had. What can we do? Write or wire today to our local representative or senator, Jesse M. Osborne or Andy Robers or any other person that you know in any branch of offices in Austin related to this work and ask them to support the $3,000 minimum base pay for the teachers of Texas. Do it today! Tomorrow may adversely affect the future of your children.

Now is the time to get your hunting shoes heavily soled. Any day now you might be seeking a job.

It doesn't need to be a dreary time of life. It can be a great personal challenge. It all depends on you.

How to go about it is the big question mark. Where to start? What to say? How to act?

Many of these questions are answered in a timely new book called "Decisions," (published by Oliver Borde)—a graduate's guide to business. It is being distributed to high school students in the Cincinnati, Ohio and Kentucky areas to help them formulate plans and ideas in respect to future jobs.

Information in the book is provided by some 66 important U. S. industries. They offer helpful information and brief editorials on what training is needed for different jobs, how to continue education after graduation and while working, and what to expect from that first job.

"How to Begin Your Business Career," an article in the book by William L. Franz, supervisor of employment for the Proctor and Gamble Company, gives helpful hints to job-seeking neophytes. Franz has this to say:

"Keep your thoughts to the fact that you are selling personal service, not just trying to find a job. The 'You' approach is important. 'What I can do for you' is a lot more convincing (to the prospective employer) than 'What can you do for me?'"

That's a good first point to keep in mind. Too many young people look for cushy jobs, instead of trying to offer their services, banking on future advancements.

He suggests planning a job-getting campaign—organizing your time and efforts so that you do not rush into the job "merely to attach yourself to a payroll."

Shun the "I can do anything" eager-beaver attitude in favor of determining the job at which you can be of the greatest value, he advises. Compile a personal experience record for your own information. Simply list every type of summer job, school activity, hobby and course of study you have taken. Include all minor details. Then determine your job niche by noting your successes and failures.

Here are more tips on how to land a job, suggested by Franz:

Schedule organizations to be called upon. Follow the plan

Learn as much as possible about the organization before the interview

If you know someone well in the organization, arrange to have him introduce you to the employment manager

Dress neatly, appropriately, conservatively

A smile helps your approach. It makes you more attractive, makes you feel more at ease

Ask intelligent questions, and hold your share of the interview.

Show a co-operative attitude. Comply with requests for an aptitude test

Watch your grammar.

Tell about special abilities, hobbies and outside interests.

Leave promptly when the interview is terminated.

Thank the interviewer for the opportunity of presenting your qualifications. Keep your self-assurance in the face of discouragement.

Those tips are good. But just as important are the "what not to do" suggestions offered by Franz. He advises that you DO NOT:

. . . Write a letter of application

viewer may feel there is something undesirable in your qualifications.

. . . Rely heavily on those letters of introduction. They are just the opening wedge to a job. . . .

. . . Try to arrange your interview at a time inconvenient to the interviewer. Do not appear during the lunch hour.

Franz further advises that each interview should be followed up by a thank-you letter. You may be job-hunting again some day.

Chip Hanson is a clever commercial artist. Beside doing cartoons on our paper, he picks up "free lance" drawing jobs.

Right now he's whipping up posters for the Safety Campaign. They all have headlines like "PLAY IT SAFE!" . . . or, "A LIVE WIRE CAN START A FIRE!"

Chip looked a bit sheepish yesterday. Didn't want to tell me why. Finally he blurted out, "I feel like a dope. Here I am on this safety program and the fire inspectors tell me my own studio's a fire trap. I've been storing paint there for years . . ."

From where I sit, what happened to Chip could happen to anyone. He was just too busy informing everyone else about safety — not realizing his safety was threatened. Like those who fret about their neighbors — whether they can afford a new house, whether they should have coffee or a glass of beer with lunch — Chip simply forgot to "draw" some obvious conclusions about himself!

Small Town Ways

Where can you find friends who stick so closely in time of trouble as in a small town? Where can you find business people as considerate and interested in you personally or neighbors ready to do the little helpful things? Just yesterday I had an example of this.

I was about to have my meager little meal of corn bread and sweet milk but was greatly disappointed after I pulled out my nice loaf of corn bread to find that my milk was sour! I just wanted that sweet milk bad enough to get in the car and go after it. So I phoned Mr. Coffman and asked if he would send me a quart of sweet milk out to the car in front. . . he certainly would. Then to save another trip to town I just phoned Joe and Jane and asked if they would also bring me a bottle of murine (you don't drink that) to the car and they would be happy to but just as I rushed out the garage door like the house was afire, here came Aubrey Vandever bringing my milk so I went right back and finished my meal and like a bee full of honey promptly forgot about the Murine.

In about thirty minutes Joe called to see if I had had car trouble and if so that they would be glad to bring it to me!

Would large town merchants care whether I had my corn bread and sweet milk or not? I doubt it!

1950 Study Club Enjoy April Fool Party Last Week

April fool jokes ran wild at the 1950 Study Club meeting on April 1st, in the home of Mrs. Neil Herin with Mrs. Marion Mays as co-hostess. Each member was unexpectedly visited during the week and had to attend the club as they were dressed when the hostesses visited them.

April Fool games were played. The biggest joke was when it was discovered that no refreshments were to be served. Water and cookies were passed around as prizes for one game. Finally newspaper wrapped packages were distributed along with cokes, as everyone got to eat after all.

The attendance was one hundred per cent, and pictures were made of the group.

Criticism

I have had criticism about two things in my paper lately . . . In the story about the Tuckers a lady just wondered why I could not have used some other expression than that they "Blazed the Trail", in speaking of a country where trees were no thicker than one to a square mile. I could not! I have had only a few months experience in writing and I have only one expression around, and if that one doesn't exactly fit then I can't help it. "Blazed the trail", belong there . . . It had to be there! There just should have been trees here . . . everybody knows that!

Another was that in listing our ambitions in life that I said I had wanted to be a doctor. This gentleman (?) knew that I had never learned to put worms on hooks nor to kill a chicken and he wanted to know how I ever hoped to be a doctor. Well, I only said I wanted to be one and I meant family style and NO WHITTILING!

Mrs. Aubrey Woodfin and I agreed that we would have enjoyed being psychiatrists . . . that's the second time I have looked up how to spell that word . . .

Now my idea of a psychiatrist is to "Get 'em before they get crazy!" and if one should have come in looking glassy-eyed, have him thrown out—because after all a doctor should be a little smarter than his patients and in a case like that I could just truthfully say that

Thirty-five Young Folks Enjoy Games At Legion Hut Friday

The attendance at the Youth's Center at the Legion Hut Friday night was very gratifying. Thirty five young folks enjoyed themselves with a variety of games. Come out once and we believe that you will be glad that you did.

Interesting plans are being made for ping pong tournaments, weiner roasts and such that you shouldn't miss.

Refreshments are served and it is nice clean fun.

I did not feel competent to treat him!

Now I insist that Mrs. Woodfin and I would have made a good team in psychiatry. Being the strong armed type of lady that she is and with all of her one hundred pounds, Mrs. Woodlin could have thrown out the dangerous one while I listened to the tales of woe of those who were curable and split the fee! I knew where plenty of prospective patients were!

Well, in spite of such harsh criticism as the above, I believe that I have already one hundred percent co-operated in my writing both in the Anton News and the Lamb County Leader and it has been a lot of fun with never an unkind word. I appreciate my good natured friends who have let me pour it on their sore backs playfully. Those are the ones I love.

THE OIL DERRICK OR THE OILY NEWS

By C. J. Duggan

The Easter Parade and the Election has slowed down leasing this week and we must make up for lost time during the few days remaining before the dead line. So many Littlefield citizens went away over the week-end or had company, that they could or did not give attention to leasing their property to us, and, of course, the election kept many waiting and busy. Now that both of these important and necessary events are in the background, we MUST get more leases or we will not be able to acquire the necessary 700 acres for Mr. Murchison who is to drill the first deep test well in the city limits of Littlefield.

Most important item on the agenda this week is for those who have had us prepare their leases to come in and sign them. We just can't count them until they are in the bank, so PLEASE everybody who has leases prepared, come to our office and execute them, or phone and let us send a notary to your home. WE MUST have them executed before we can count on the acreage desired and needed, and, folks, every inch counts at this time. We need about 200 more acres and it takes a lot of lots to make that many acres. Those who have acreage tracts make the count go faster, but we take any size lot along with the acreage tracts.

We haven't heard of any more divorces in prospect, but there would never be a divorce even contemplated if all of the ladies would use the same philosophy and tactics as one prominent Littlefield matron who told us that she signed anything her husband wanted her to sign, for he was the one who made the money and she depend upon him for his better judgement in anything pertaining to business. Her husband has made a grand success in business, and many more would do the same if they had the full co-operation of the life mate. Now, I grant that there are some cases of where the wife has better judgement in some things than the husband, but the two should discuss any major project and move and agree upon it between themselves, and then cooperate, don't you think? Come on folks, let's get together on this important question of whether or not you want a deep test well drilling in Littlefield. If you do, come in to our office and let us have the necessary information to prepare your oil lease, and then execute it on the spot. It requires only a few minutes to draw it up when we have all information as to legal description of your property, bank for rentals to be paid in, and just how the wife signs her maiden name to the instrument.

One fine business woman who was all mixed up on what she did and did not own, and whether or not she had purchased property with the oil or mineral reserved, said after we had straightened her out in it, and she owns a lot of property. "Well, if we don't get oil, at least I have my property straightened out." So, we can help you in many ways, and believe me, if and when we do ask for your abstract, we will bring it to date and straighten the title, at our expense, then give it back to you to keep. This will have to be done for many widows and those who have lost wife or husband who left no will to direct the affairs of the family. We will take your lease now, but will have to straighten out the situation and take new leases later when this is done. Let us help you with your title mix-ups, and you will be happy that you have done so.

If we had a few more citizens like the one and only W. P. (Pink) Johnson, we would have had all the leases required by this time. This good man who is confined to his home and wheel chair, uses the phone and gets us many leases, or he asks his guests to come in, and as a result, many have been influenced to sign-up their property. Many others who could use their legs and brains, don't use either, for they are not only NOT helping us, but they are knocking the proposition. Littlefield should have a sign on the highways entering town, giving the population a ding. We have 10,000 upright, speculative citizens, BUT we also have a few sore-heads and mossheads. Such a sign is displayed at a greasy town on the T&P by way of Sweetwater. If you can't why don't you keep quiet and those who will make Littlefield bigger and better town in wild live. You get the advantage of greas, yet you hinder its development with your misrepresentation and false statements.

There are just too many people on the Lessor Honor Roll this week but we assure each and every one who has executed their lease let us place it in the Bank, we appreciate your progressive spirit and co-operation. Many going to cry too late: "O, I wish I had let you have my lease I had to have it." If and when morning comes the last day of limited time in which to acquire the 700 acres, Mr. Murchison will come by long distance and say "Dug, go get my money (111) out of the bank and come home, don't have to drill a well in Littlefield". You, who have not prepared your lease, may well weep, for you will go down in Littlefield's history as the one who did not cooperate with your neighbors to a deep test oil well drilled. Can you blame them? Just pack and come on in and let us prepare your lease, please, and you will have to weep later.

We hope that by the next issue of this paper and column, we announce that we have the required 700 acres, and a well is to be drilled in at once. We can do this if you who have not let us have leases come in and let us prepare them for execution. Will those who have already executed their leases come in to get your receipts from the bank. We just can't take them to you. They are not for your possession. It will cost you a lot if you will get them to pass by the office—Hamp Cary's Real Estate office and desk is in the rear office. The bank and look for this column week.

Burglars broke into the office of the Western Union in Littlefield Saturday night, and carried off the safe. According to Sheriff Dick Dyer, the safe was recovered Sunday morning 5 miles south, 1 mile west, and a half mile south from Littlefield in the bar ditch of a country road. The safe had been badly battered and the door torn off. Most of the papers in the safe were recovered, but an undetermined amount of cash is still missing. Sheriff Dyer stated that entrance had probably been gained through a back window, and the front door opened from the inside. The safe was then carted away. Officers are continuing their investigation. It is believed to be the work of professionals.

Hewitt, Boone, Nelson Are New Littlefield City Commission

Littlefield Tuesday awaited the results of the city election with interest, in fact, many people came and gone since there was so much interest. There were 625 votes cast. This total was the most votes in any city election in the history of Littlefield. In the memory of Arthur Jones, who has been participating in the counting of ballots in Littlefield for many years, Mr. Hewitt, who has been a city commissioner for many years, defeated C. Chasher, mayor, who had been in office for 16 years. Mr. Hewitt received 366 votes and Mr. Boone, 259 votes. Mr. Nelson, Jr., young Littlefield lawyer, polled the greatest number of votes of any candidate, receiving 447 votes to be named commissioner. Nelson is a hardware merchant, a resident of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and an outstanding civic worker, was given 405 votes. He polled 405 votes. Lon Campbell, candidate for reelection as a commissioner, was unsuccessful. He received 238 votes. Hamp McCary, real estate broker, received 101 votes. All Candidates Popular All candidates were long time residents of Littlefield and had contributed liberally of their time in the interests of this city. They all are popular men with a host of friends. All these facts made selection difficult for the voters. They didn't like to vote against good friends, but it was necessary in the performance of their duties as citizens. Mr. Chasher and Mr. Campbell will leave the commission with a good record of achievements and long hours spent in working out countless problems in order that Littlefield might climb to the enviable position the city occupies throughout the state and particularly on the South Plains and the great empire of West Texas. Mr. Hewitt has been a resident of Littlefield for almost 25 years, and has a long record of service in behalf of this city, his county, and the South Plains. He was actively in the automobile business until a short time ago. The new mayor-elect has devoted considerable time to farming and to real estate operations, including business building construction. There were 625 ballots cast in Tuesday's election. Raymond Rhoten was assistant judge, and the clerks were Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. J. H. Barnett, and Mrs. W. D. Chapman.

COUNTY AGENT'S WEEKLY LETTER

FARM NEWS

April 9th is a big day for 30 4-H and F. F. A. boys in Lamb county. They will leave the Youth Center at 6:00 a. m. bound for Corpus Christi, Texas, as guests of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce. They will see a lot of things and have a lot of new experiences on the four day trip.

We wish to offer our congratulations to each of these boys for the good job done on feeding out their animals for the Lamb County Junior Livestock Show.

The pocket gopher is one of the important pests of agriculture in cultivated fields on our irrigated farms. Damage by gophers is not confined to the roots of cultivated crops, fruit trees and forest growth. They also smother grass and other vegetation with their mounds of earth. In irrigation systems they burrow into the embankments of water reservoirs and irrigation canals and cause costly breaks and loss of much water. Their burrows interfere with the proper distribution of water and irrigation and contribute to soil erosion.

To control this little rodent it is necessary to place poisoned bait directly in the runway which is two to six inches underground. Locate the runway by means of a probe, drop some poisoned carrot, potato or poisoned grain into the runway and seal this opening. To use traps you open the runway and set a trap facing each direction in the runway. It is a good idea to stake or tie the trap so the gopher cannot pull it further into the runway.

We have available poisoned grain prepared by the Fish and Wildlife Service, in our office.

This year it looks like our fruit is going to get a freeze as April 14 is the last average frost date. So let's not have wormy fruit.

It's time to apply the second spray to your fruit trees. This is the so-called "shuck fall spray." Apparently the plum curculio, the insect that causes wormy fruit, is still feeding in the wild plum blickets, but may move into the peach orchards at any time.

It's important that the young fruit be thoroughly covered with an insecticide to protect the fruit when the curculio moves in. For the home orchard or the few fruit trees in the back yard, commercially prepared spray mixed may be bought from your seed or insecticide dealer. These are commonly prepared in small quantities.

For the best coverage in the home orchard, using a knapsack spray that will give continuous pressure and provides agitation in the spray tank. If you use an air sprayer that doesn't have an agitator, it's well to shake the tank well every 4 or 5 minutes to keep spray material from settling out.

You can use lead arsenate, DDT, or Wettable parathion mixed with wettable sulphur. Write for a copy of C-321—Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruit and Nuts in Texas.

April 14th is the last average frost date for this area. Has your thumb turned green—are you one of those persons that enjoys staying out in the garden during the spring? When you start enjoying those fresh radishes, mustard greens, spinach and other early vegetables—it is time to plant warm season vegetable crops.

We suggest that you plan your planting so you will have a continuous supply of fresh vegetables throughout the summer. It is time to plant okra, cucumbers, squash, eggplants and pepper plants. It is also time to plant those southern peas, such as blackeye, purple hulls and cream peas. Here is another suggestion, replant quick growing crops like radishes, sweet corn, and beans two or three times during the season so that the vegetable supply will be spread out over a longer growing season.

The use of a starter solution will give tomato plants, pepper plants and other plants a good start. A starter solution may be made by mixing about two table-spoons of 5-10-5 or 8-8-8 commercial fertilizer in a gallon of water. Make up the starter solution the day before you plan to transplant so the fertilizer will have time to dissolve and go into solution. Apply about a pint of solution per tomato plant, or other plant being transplanted.

Remember that tender, healthy, fast growing vegetables are the most nutritious and desirable for the family diet. Pay close attention to fertilizing, cultivating and disease and insect control on vegetable plants in your garden this year.

C-323 Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Vegetable Crops is now available through our office. Drop us a card and we will mail you a copy.

It is time to start your fly control program before warm weather brings on conditions favorable for a large fly build-up. Sanitation is still the most important factor in fly control.

We suggest you clean up breeding places and before warm weather begins. Be sure to remove manure from pens and sheds as often as possible. Keep garbage in tightly closed containers and fly proof your septic tank.

With a good sanitation program in operation you can expect effective results from your spraying program.

We recommend these spray materials: A 5 per cent DDT solution is effective in most cases. If flies begin to develop a resistance to DDT, we suggest a spray containing a 2 per cent chlordane and 2 1-2 per cent DDT. These sprays should be prepared from the emulsion concentrates.

For effective control, start early with proper sanitation and spray control practices.

Spell petrochemical the easy way...

P-R-O-G-R-E-S-S

Progress in finding and producing oil is an old story to the oil country. Nearly everybody has heard about the oil industry's day-to-day miracles in exploration and production.

Now we all have a new series of miracles to wonder at—the transformation of petroleum hydrocarbons into chemical products of astonishing variety. These chemicals from petroleum have even added a new word to the American vocabulary—petrochemical.

Progress in the field has been amazing. The capital investment in new industries based on the petrochemicals has mounted to hundreds of millions. The new plants have created thousands of new jobs. And petrochemicals, as an industry, have provided a wider, a more complete, use of the country's oil resources.

Butadiene and butyl for synthetic rubber, toluene for TNT, solvents, aldehydes, and many other petrochemicals—even alcohols—are now produced in oil refineries. For example, the Humble Company, at its Baytown, Texas, refinery, is building facilities to manufacture paraxylene, the raw material for the new fabric called dacron.

The day may come, and very quickly, when you can be clothed from tip to toe in synthetic fabrics derived from petroleum; when petrochemicals provide the rubber for your tires, the plastics for your car's interior fittings, the fabric for the seat covers, the vehicle for body paint and polish.

The petrochemicals spell progress... progress to which the oil industry contributes research, capital, manufacturing facilities and, most importantly, an enterprising spirit.

P-TA Workers

has always been through the education of adults rather than through children," Robert J. Blakely, Chicago director of the Ford Foundation Fund for Adult Education, told the 260 delegates attending. He spoke at the Tuesday night session.

"Because we Americans have done more than any other people for the education of our children, we have come to identify education with youth," Blakely told the group.

"The wisdom of the past is conveyed by means of schools for the young people, but new advances have always been brought about through the education of adults."

Important in Atomic Age
"This has been so when new discoveries were such things as the wheel and the plough, and is even more true now when new inventions are things like the hydrogen bomb and the jet propelled rocket."

Blakely commended the members of the P-TA for work done in study discussion and for relating the problems of the home and school to the problems of society.

But he urged them to make common cause with the general adult education movement, and particularly with the experiments going on in West Texas and at Texas Tech.

West Texas is the first, and so far the only test region chosen by the Ford Foundation for the adult education experiments, because the area is one of the fastest expanding regions in the country, and because the people of West Texas have a strong sense of community ties, Blakely explained.

Another reason West Texas was picked for the rural and semi-rural test area is because of the "very vigorous institution of Texas Tech," and its connections with these rural communities, he said.

Annual Report Made
Progress of the district during the past year was noted by Mrs. Cross in her annual report to the delegates at the morning session Tuesday.

The objectives and guiding principles of the Parent-Teacher program were stressed by Mrs. Edwin Jackson of Eldorado, newly elected vice-president for Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, in her first official appearance as a state representative.

She discussed the educational non-partisan, non-commercial and non-sectarian policies of the organization. "Our children are our dearest possessions," she said, in urging co-operation in promoting child welfare in community life.

Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, Snyder, emphasized the need to utilize the active guidance of fathers in our program. "The Parent-Teacher Association is no longer a tea-sipping organization, if it ever was," he said. "It is no longer organized primarily for fellowship or to buy necessary school equipment. Our main concern is with problems of the community to help children grow up to be productive, worthy citizens. We have a great job to do."

Membership Awards Made
General announcements were made by Mrs. Frank Rogers, Littlefield, general conference chairman.

Mrs. Paul Tolver of Plainview, district life membership chairman, issued the call for Texas life membership awards, and 19 members were honored. They were Miss Ruth Bartley, Cone, Tim D. Lytle, Ralls, Mrs. F. O. Schacht, Lockney,

Board To Meet
The first meeting of the newly elected officers and board members will be held in Post May 2.

The next spring meeting conference city will be selected at the May 2 board meeting.

MOVEMENT STARTS TO ORGANIZE SYMPHONIC GROUP IN THIS AREA

A movement to organize a small symphonic group for a tri-county area, including Lamb, Hockley and Cochran Counties, met enthusiastic support at a meeting held in the high school auditorium in Levelland. Howard Vaughn, president of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce and an officer of the Levelland Concert Association, was elected president of the group to be known as the South Plains Musical Association.

Weekly practice sessions began last Tuesday night with a turnout of some thirty people from surrounding towns, including Littlefield, Earth, Morton and Whiteface as well as Levelland.

Plains Symphonette Proposed
This association will form the nucleus of people of the area expected to support the proposed South Plains Symphonette, a choral group and a little theater later to be organized. The purpose of the organization is to help develop and direct policies for the orchestra's public appearances and help increase the public following the groups.

The organization was formed after assurance was given by Victor King, manager of radio station KLVY, Levelland, that musicians to make up the symphonette were already available in the area. Mr. King, the originator of the idea, said that he had a list of 38 musicians who had already expressed a willingness to participate.

Texas is the only state in the union, other than New York, with three major symphony orchestras. The proposed orchestral group of approximately 40 members will offer another proof of the connection between industrial development and the resident fine arts.

Other officers named for the association besides Vaughn were W. R. Simon, vice president, Jack Clapp, Treasurer, and Orlin Brewer, secretary.

King Is Pro-Tem Conductor
Mr. King was named pro-tem conductor of the orchestra, and
