All Of County Is Taking Part In Construction

To Provide Shelter For Show Animals During Exhibitions

Construction began Tuesday on a new livestock exhibition building, measuring 50 feet by 140 feet, between the horse barn and the south end of the present livestock building on the fair grounds.

The new building is the first permanent construction put down as part of extensive plans for the fairground buildings and is expected to be completed before the annual county fair September 28-30.

The principal part of the building will be 50 feet by 40 feet farm show arena.

V. J. (Pete) Peterson president of the Lamb County Fair association, said Tuesday afternoon that the new building will be a "genuine product of the entire county" and that the county and its towns are providing funds, material and labor for construction of the building, the estimated value of which is $6,000.

The walls, a prefabricated steel room and concrete foundation will be used in the new building. The move to begin construction on the livestock exhibition project came at a meeting of the board of directors of the fair association Friday night.

A committee was named to investigate the possibility of securing funds and materials for the new building. The group met Monday with the County Commissioners court and by Tuesday had obtained the cooperation of the county, of the City of Littlefield and of all other towns throughout the county.

The project "works in with earlier plans of the fair association to construct permanent buildings on the fair grounds" for the fair this year and in future years, Peterman said.

The building will be "a tremendous advantage for this and future fairs, because it will provide space for livestock exhibitions, shelter for animals being shown and will encourage more visitors to attend the fair," according to Chamber of Commerce Manager Bob Crowell, who is working with the Fair Association on plans for the project.

Peterman pointed out that animals made to stand long hours in the sun lose much of their attraction before they ever enter contests.

OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF LAMB COUNTY

LAMB COUNTY LEADER

LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 17, 1950 NUMBER 50

A Rat In The Cotton Patch

Lamb County and most other counties in West Texas stand a losing more money as a result of a bill in Congress than probably lose in the next 10 years as a result of hail, high prices and drought.

Section of the Pace Allotment bill, which has already passed the House and is now before the Senate, proposes that which planted more than 3,000,000 acres of cotton in Texas is the only one) future government allocations should be on plantings in a previous four year period with full allotment to grain sorghums, flax and other so-called "war-crops."

East Texas and East Texas have been virtually the headquarters during the last four years for grain, flax and other war crops. The number of acres on East Texas planted in cotton has changed very little in recent years.

OF ACREAGE CUT
Texas, still developing, still being converted from a vast range into a farming area has only recently begun planting on a large scale. And grain sorghums were scarcely planted before controls were put on cotton.

Other words, if the bill passes, cotton production in this state will be cut almost 400,000 acres in 1951. And the acres we have in Lamb County and the South Plains would be reallocated to other areas in East Texas and the Coastal Bend.

Lamb County man, whose business is cotton, is of the opinion that East Texas and East Texas farmers will be unable to use all the land they own through the new legislation. And those acres not planted in cotton next year would be lost from the entire state of Texas.

EFFORT
Congressmen who supported the bill were elected, of course, from East, East Central and Coastal Bend counties — areas which would benefit by the acreage we lose in Lamb County and the Plains.

That the price of cotton almost touches the clouds (a price mainly created by controls in the first place) losing the allotment could mean a serious blow to the economy of Texas.

It is clearly an attempt by one area to gouge another area out of a controlled economy approved in the first place by Texas. To damn the entire controlled economy plan now because of a few acres of cotton is like crying over spilt milk that all of us had a hand in.

to indemnify the part of controlled economy, however, which is immediate war, would be more in line with the practical policy most West Texas farmers have always maintained.

OUR PROTEST
Such condemnation may be registered now by writing letters to Senators Lyndon Johnson and Tom Connally.

hundreds of years West Texans have been scanning the distant horizon for stray cattle and good grazing land. This has served to their eyesight to a remarkable extent.

They can sniff a blue norther when it's still up in Kansas. They don't need any time at all to spot a raw deal or smell a rat no farther away than East Texas, the Coastal Bend area or Washington.

gangland bows out for Littlefield boys times when we want to rest a number of the neighborhood seriously engaged in "robbing a bank" and the other half of the area are spiritedly engaged in hot pursuit of the bad men.

persecuted duck and twist and whisper and the pursuers dash on make-believe horses, calling orders to each other and "bang, bang, bang."

from time on end has responded to the gang spirit. They seek to hide in caves, sail the choppy seas, and search out the law.

INTENSITY IMMENSE
In other days the height of devilment was the brazen display of the backyard castle with its full complement of mail catalogues.

Now we are living in another world... a period in which murder, theft and all manner of sin and corruption are much a part of the land in which we live as are the trees, and the ultra modern homes all about us.

It is not surprising that youngsters... teen agers and engage in gang activities right here in a city of less than 10,000 population, that they have headquarters at which the members gang gather, and the fact is not unbelievable that those who are the gang's bidding are intimidated in numerous ways.

Sheriff's Posse Sees Magic Tricks

Jimmy Richardson, Littlefield magician, presented an assortment of magic tricks for a large group of members and guests at the bi-monthly Family Night meeting of the Lamb County Sheriff's posse at the Legion Hut Monday evening at 8:30.

The group was served a dinner, and afterwards watched Richardson perform several of the kind of tricks which, earlier in his life, made him one of America's foremost magicians.

Hymn In Cafe Brings Thanks From Woman

"I'm glad there are still people left in the world who can enjoy something like that."

These words were spoken by the owner of a cafe in Littlefield after he had read an unsigned note written by an unidentified woman who had been eating in the cafe and who had heard the juke box play the hymn "A Closer Walk With Thee."

The note read, "Dear Sir: It sure was wonderful and refreshing to be able to sit down in a cafe and be able to hear a religious song. Thanks."

Publicity Folder Being Prepared

J. B. McShan, chairman of the publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce met with his committee Tuesday afternoon and made plans for the preparation of this year's publicity folder, advertising the vast possibilities and resources of Littlefield and Lamb County.

Ways and means for securing photographs and arranging them in attractive layouts were the principal topics of discussion at the committee meeting.

Release of news and pertinent publicity through ordinary channels such as newspapers and the radio was also discussed.

Greatest Rainfall In 37 Years Reported For Month of July

Chamber of Commerce Sends Messages Opposing Proposed Cotton Control

Telegrams protesting the new cotton control bill now before Congress were sent Tuesday by the Chamber of Commerce to Representative George H. Mahon and Senators Lyndon Johnson and Tom Connally.

The telegrams opposing House Resolution No. 9109, were signed by Dr. B. W. Armistead, C. of C. president.

The proposed legislation would tend to shift almost 400,000 allotted acres of cotton from this area to East Texas and Coastal Bend counties.

Earlier this month several Lamb county farmers and ginners were among a large group which met at Hotel Lubbock in Lubbock to protest the proposed legislation.

RUNS SPLINTER IN FINGER
Bobbe Murdock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Murdock who has been employed at a local store for the past three weeks was unfortunate enough as to run a splinter through his little finger on his right hand Tuesday. He was taken to the Littlefield Hospital where he had the splinter cut out. He also returned to the hospital Wednesday and took the lockjaw serum. He hopes to return to his work today (Thursday).

According to James G. Simmons assistant county agent, 4-H club boys with rain gauges located at following points in the county, have reported rainfall for July, 1950.

Rainfall for each community is reported as follows:

	INCHES
Earth	24.18
Springlake	10.38
Olton	8.57
Spade	7.08
Sudan	10.79
Amberst	13.07

County average for July ---- 12.35 inches

This is the largest amount of rainfall recorded for July in the last 37 years, and it probably exceeds the average rainfall for more than 37 years, but the records on file only go back 37 years.

Sgt. Paul Tumains, who has been stationed at Hill Base in Ogden, Utah, expects to be transferred to Oklahoma City.

Extensive Oil Development Is Rumored Here

If rumors may be believed, Lamb County will have eight or nine new oil wells in the near future.

Worth Ware of Hereford, who was in Littlefield last week, said Magnolia Oil corporation was moving 40 families into the Hereford area and that exploration operations would be undertaken in counties within a 200 mile radius of Hereford.

Ware said the explorations would continue for about three years.

Hobgood No. 1, located southeast of Littlefield was drilling ahead Wednesday at approximately 9,000 feet. Tests at that depth have shown good indication of oil. The contract calls for the wildcat to be drilled down to and including the Ellenberger.

J. B. McShan, chairman of the publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce met with his committee Tuesday afternoon and made plans for the preparation of this year's publicity folder, advertising the vast possibilities and resources of Littlefield and Lamb County.

Storm Causes $165,000 In Line Damage

An electrical storm caused $165,000 worth of damage to Southwestern Public service equipment in the South Plains, disrupted service for an hour here and brought 1.15 inches of rain to Littlefield Tuesday night.

The lightning-studded storm broke here shortly before 8 p. m. and within an hour had left Littlefield streets gushing with water.

Mother Nature used guerilla tactics in her sudden war with South Plains residents. She struck one crippling blow with lightning at one point and harrassed the remainder of the area with heavy rains.

Southwestern Public service officials in Littlefield gave the following report Wednesday:

At 8:18 p. m. lightning hit the main bus on the 69000 volt line at Tuco, blowing up breaker on the Littlefield line, causing two more faults on the main buses.

This created high voltage of approximately 300000 kilo volts. This high voltage followed the 115000 volt line to Denver City where station power transformer knocked off line losing number 2 generator.

Denver City plant and was stopped by 22000 KV Transformer at Carlsbad, destroying Carlsbad transformer which knocked out 115,000 volt line from Denver City to Carlsbad.

At 8:26 p. m. Tuco came back on the line and could only handle 55 cycles and held for 18 minutes.

At 8:40 p. m. Amarillo and Riverview plant had to disconnect from 115,000 volt line because of overload.

At 9 p. m. found the trouble at Denver City and isolated it.

At 9:15 p. m. found trouble at Carlsbad and isolated it.

At 9:30 p. m. Tuco started back on system.

At 9:50 p. m. job completed. Cost of damage: 69000 volt breaker — Tuco, $10,000.00. Power transformer — Carlsbad, 120,000.00.

Classifications For Registrants

By T-Sgt. Gerald F. Cutshall
With the demand for more information in relation to the Selective Service Act, the following main points are explained:
1. WHO MUST REGISTER? A. All men who have reached their 18th birthday but have not reached their 26th. 18 year olds must register within 5 days of their birthday.
EXCEPTIONS — Men on active duty with the Armed Forces, foreign diplomats, and a few others under conditions rigidly specified.
2. WHERE TO REGISTER? A.

At the Selective Service local board most convenient to them. For Lamb, Cochran and Bailey counties — Selective Service board Number 4, 908 Ave. C, Muleshoe. Registration forms can be obtained at the County Clerk's office here in Lamb County Court House for Lamb county residents.

3. IF AWAY FROM HOME, WHAT PROCEDURE? A. He must be very careful to give his home address on the registration card. This card is then sent to the local board in the place where he lives, and that is the local board which will classify him and order him for induction — or defer him.

4. VETS, N. G. AND RESERVES REGISTER? A. Yes — If he is within the age bracket 18 through 25 years of age.

5. WHAT AGE GROUP ARE NOW BEING CALLED UP? A. 19 year olds up to those who have not reached their 26th birthday. The order of the call up—25, 24, 23, 22, 21, 20, and 19 year olds.

6. WHAT IS THE TERM OF SERVICE? A. 21 months, with a maximum of 5 years of Reserve service after discharge.

7. WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN AN "EXEMPTION" AND A "DEFERMENT"? A. The terms are sometimes loosely used, causing confusion. The word "exemption", properly used, applies to relief from mobilization for service as specifically provided for in the act, although not from registration. The word "deferment" indicates that the individual has an obligation to serve, but performance of the obligation is to be postponed or delayed so long as certain conditions continue to exist. It is the local board which decides whether the registrant is eligible for exemption or deferment. In other words, it fits the facts, the law, and the regulations to each individual's case.

8. WHO ARE EXEMPT FROM MILITARY SERVICE? — A. Generally, Vets, ministers, and conscientious objectors are exempt under the law. But they must meet the requirements as outlined below. Also exempt is the sole surviving son of a family in which other sons or daughters were killed in action or died in line of duty while serving in the Armed Forces of the United States, or subsequently died of service-connected wounds, injuries, or disease.

9. ARE VETS OF WW II LIABLE FOR SERVICE? A. Not if they have served honorably on active duty for 12 months during period between September 16, 1940 to June 24, 1945; or for at least 91 days between December 7, 1941 to September 2, 1945. If in doubt as to liability for military service, see your local SS board.

10. ARE FORMER MEMBERS OF THE MERCHANT MARINES EXEMPT? A. No.

11. WHAT ABOUT MEN STUDYING MINISTRY? A. Regular or duly ordained ministers of religion and students preparing for the ministry shall be exempt from service. However, the students must be under the direction of recognized theological or divinity schools which they have pre-rolled. No exemption from registering if in the SS age bracket.

12. WILL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS BE SELECTED FOR SERVICE? A. A high school student who is ordered for induction may continue his course until his graduation or until he reaches the age of 20, which ever is first. His school work must be satisfactory, of course.

13. WHAT ABOUT COLLEGE STUDENTS? A. If a student receives notice of induction while he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course in a college or university or similar institution of learning, his local board is authorized to postpone his induction until the end of the academic year, until he leaves college or school, or until his work becomes unsatisfactory, which ever is earlier.

14. WHAT ABOUT MEN WITH DEPENDENTS? A. Husbands, fathers and men with dependents are not being taken in at the present time. However, husbands and fathers must convince their local boards that they are maintaining an actual relationship in their home. The men with dependents has to show that his induction would mean a hardship and privation to his dependents were he to be inducted. (There may be a change in the near future in regards to this class. A Bill for re-establishing the family allowances is now being considered in Congress).

15. ARE MEN WHO HAVE APPLIED FOR AVIATION CADET TRAINING DEFERRED FROM INDUCTION? A. Yes, for a period of four months. However, the maximum number that can be deferred at one time is 2500 for Air Force and 2000 for the Navy.

16. HOW MUCH TIME WILL A MAN HAVE TO REPORT FOR INDUCTION? A. Not less than 21 days after he has been notified by his board that he is acceptable to the Armed Forces. (This is after the man has passed his physical and mental tests at the Examination Station, which is Amarillo, Texas, for men of this area. It usually takes at least one day for these examinations. The Examination Station will notify the man's SS board whether he passed or not. If the man is acceptable the board will notify the man to report for induction not sooner than 21 days after he receives this notification.)

17. CAN A MAN VOLUNTEER FOR ENLISTMENT AFTER HE RECEIVES NOTICE FROM THE BOARD TO APPEAR FOR HIS PHYSICAL? NO.

18. CAN A MAN SELECT HIS CHOICE OF SERVICE IF HE IS INDUCED? It is expected that for the time being, practically all selectees will be assigned to the ARMY.

19. CAN A MAN SELECT HIS CHOICE OF SERVICE BY VOLUNTEERING? A. Yes, providing he can pass the required physical and mental standards, and other requirements such as — single, no dependents, of good character, and can produce a birth certificate (if under 21).

20. HOW CAN I BEAT THE BEAT THE DRAFT? A. By enlisting in the U. S. Army or U. S. Air Force or any other of the Armed Forces. (If qualified).

21. WHERE IS THE NEAREST RECRUITING STATION LOCATED? A. The U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station at 110 W. 5th street here in Littlefield.

Farm Animals Need Vitamin A

During the hot summer months or when long dry periods stop the growth of range and pasture grasses and legumes, farm animals may be affected by vitamin A deficiency. The lack of green feeds, over a long period of time, may result in a condition that is characterized in the early stages by night blindness and later by a loss of energy and appetite, swelling at the joints, rapid breathing, staggering gait, convulsions, nasal discharge, watering at the eyes and complete blindness. This condition, says U. D. Thompson, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, is caused by a lack of vitamin A.

He says that research work done by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that cattle placed in the feed lot and limited to such rations as cottonseed meal, cottonseed hulls, white corn and other white grains are often affected by the condition. Following drought periods, cattle placed in dry lots and on vitamin A deficient rations may show symptoms of vitamin A deficiency in a relatively short time. Younger animals become affected sooner than the older ones.

Thompson says that calves born to cows which have been subjected to a shortage of vitamin A usually are in very poor condition at birth and unless placed on cows receiving adequate vitamin A, may die within two or three weeks.

Farm animals, he says, get most of their vitamin A requirements from carotene which is found in green range or pasture grasses and hays or other roughage. The carotene is changed to vitamin A by a process that takes place in the liver of the animal which is also the chief storehouse of both carotene and vitamin A in the body.

Both carotene and vitamin A are destroyed when exposed to air and light. The process is hastened by high temperatures, but heat in the absence of oxygen has only a minor effect, says Thompson. Large losses in carotene occur during the curing of roughages, especially when they are cured in direct sunlight. The lack of green color in hays or fodder means that a large percentage of the vitamin A potency is lost. This fact emphasizes the need for preserving the color in forages at harvest time.

The lack of vitamin A potency in the ration apparently has little or no effect upon the rate of gain as long as the cattle have reserves of the vitamin in the body. When symptoms of deficiency show up, the loss of appetite immediately causes gains to cease. Thompson says research has shown that the addition of a pound of good green alfalfa hay to the daily ration will protect the animals from a deficiency of the vitamin when they are receiving a deficient ration. The giving of codliver oil to affected animals will also correct the situation.

To guard against any occurrence of the deficiency condition, he advises watching for night blindness. If symptoms of night blindness are noted, start feeding immediately from one to two pounds of good quality leafy green alfalfa hay per head per day in addition to the regular ration. He suggests that you ask your local county agent for a copy of C-171, "Control of Vitamin A Deficiency in Feeding Beef Cattle". The bulletin contains information that can help you avoid trouble not only in the feed lot but on the range as well.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From J. D. Richardson of Denver, Colo.: "I remember when tallow candles were used in most homes before the days of the oil lamp. Wicks were hung in molds from crosspieces and tallow poured into the molds. When the tallow got solid, the molds would be heated slightly so the candle would slip out. When the charred wick got too long, it would be clipped off and dropped in a little box to be emptied later. I also remember the first oil lamp. It was used only by my father to read by. Never was it taken into the kitchen."

From Mrs. G. H. Whitson of Somerset, Ky.: "Remember when Dad would butcher a beef and hang a hind quarter up to dry. Mother would go to it any time during the winter and slice off a mess to fry. Delicious! I should say!"

From Mrs. Carrie M. Crandall of Westery, E. I.: "I remember the steamboats on the Pawtuck river in Westery. The first I remember seeing was the Westery tugboat that went to Stonington, Conn., that towed two- and three-masted schooners to Westery in the days when coal was shipped east by boat; later freight trains took over. The first passenger steamer I remember was the Sodie, which sailed between Watch Hill and Westery, E. I. Then there was the Julia, then the Golden Star, a big double ender too wide to turn. I also remember the Marthas, not much bigger than the tug. This was around 1890."

Ann. This is the first child born to Mr. and Mrs. Ward. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.

FIRST OF THE FINE CARS IN VALUE

BIG MOMENT - with a Double Impact

It's a big moment when any new car rolls up to your door and you start out fresh and spanking bright.

Think, then, what it's going to mean when that new car is a ROADMASTER like this one pictured here.

You'll swing wide the door and slide into a car that's truly fine - and looks it.

You'll put foot to treadle and touch off the might of a great, 152-horsepower Fireball straight-eight that's ready to master any road - or anything it meets there.

You'll have the silken magic of Dynaflo Drive to simplify your driving, ease your way. A handsome flexible steering wheel, automatic windshield washers, soft Foamtex cushions, and many other items that are "extras" elsewhere are standard equipment here.

But even while you enjoy all that, you've a still deeper satisfaction enriching your pleasure.

For here you have not only a fine car, but a sound and frugal investment as well.

You have paid less per pound than any comparable car costs - and automotive men will tell you price per pound is the soundest measure there is of solid, thoroughgoing merit.

You've bought quality - top quality - all the fine things a fine car should provide. But you haven't spent a penny more than a fine car need cost.

And that can mean a lot. For instance -

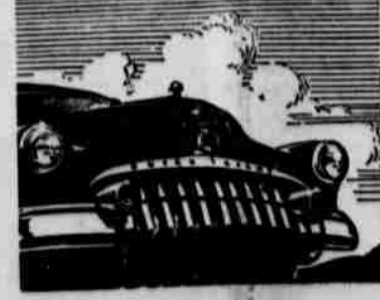

Drop in on your Buick dealer. Try out a ROADMASTER. Match it, feature by feature and point by point, with any other fine car on the road.

Then get the price.

Lamb County Fall Fair Dates Set for Sept. 28-30

The annual Lamb County fair, slated to be the biggest county event of the year, will be held at the fair grounds in Littlefield, September 28, 29 and 30.

Ten members of the Lamb County fair association met Friday night at the court house and made further preparations for the event, which is expected to attract a large crowd from all parts of the county and much of the Plains area.

The board of directors decided to carry out a plan made earlier and no admission fee will be charged at the gate. The move to drop the gate charge was made at a meeting earlier this year and is expected to attract both a large number of visitors to the fair and a greater number of entrants in various fair contests.

V. J. (Pete) Peterson, president of the association, said "We want to make the fair this year an event that will be a credit to the county."

The fair, which will begin Thursday morning will be highlighted by a gala parade Friday, square dances at night a negro free-for-all stunting contest and exhibitions of livestock, farm produce, machinery and merchandise shows.

Buck Ross, who was put in charge of square dancing, said he wanted to make his part of the affair the "highest type entertainment possible for everybody that sees it or takes part in it." Visitors may take their choice "just standing on the sidelines watching or they may dance to their hearts' content," Ross said. Arrangements are being made for square dance music and for special exhibition dances.

It was decided that arrangements for the parade would be turned over to the Lamb County Sheriff's posse. A total of $100 in crisp U. S. Treasury bills will be presented to the four organizations which sponsor the four best floats in the parade, which will begin at 2 p. m. Friday and march through Littlefield.

A move was suggested that schools be asked to dismiss for one day during the fair — possibly on the day of the parade — so that Lamb County youngsters could join in the fun. The day of dismissal would depend on the decisions of superintendents and their schedules over the county.

Manell Hall was named to arrange for the sale of concessions at the fair.

A free-for-all slugging match between several negroes is slated to be one of the most entertaining events during the entire three days. Buck Ross, who suggested the contest, said the fighters would be provided with boxing gloves and released simultaneously in the ring, and that the last man standing would win a cash prize.

A committee was named to investigate the need of additional buildings on the Fair Grounds and scheduled a meeting Monday to arrange for work on the project.

Guests who attended the meeting Friday night included Peterson, Ross, A. C. Chesher, David Eaton, Judge Otha F. Dent, J. T. Elms, Chamber of Commerce man-

New DE Teacher To Aid Students In Selling Field

More students of Littlefield High school next year will graduate with head starts in on-the-job training according to Jesse G. Foster, new teacher of Distributive Education courses at the High school.

Foster explained that the aim of DE is to train High school students in the field of distribution, selling. The students are given full High school credit, two credits a year, for a training program in one of the local business houses, and in addition are paid a salary for working.

Students learn merchandising and distribution methods and problems equipping them for business after they get out of High school, or preparing them for earning part of their way through college, if they go on.

Merchants cooperating with the program are expected to include variety stores, motor companies, dry goods stores, hardware stores, and all forms of retail sales in addition to some wholesale firms.

Letters will be sent to High school students who have reached the junior level this year, giving more information about the courses and the opportunities offered.

Foster is at the High school now for consultations with students interested in finding out more about Distributive Education for this fall, August 28 and 29 student applications for this subject will be taken.

He is recognized all over the State as a very fine preacher, and is expected to draw large attendances at the Muleshoe meetings.

Gangland Bows

declared to have had a hand in other irregular activities.

SMALL BOY THREATENED
The most deplorable condition surrounding the gang is the fact that they resorted to threats to achieve their goals. For example, it is reported that a large boy threatened a small boy that failure to carry out orders would result in having his throat slashed.

Other boys were ordered by the gang to steal. One boy is reported to have stolen a considerable sum of money from his home and to have delivered the money to the gang.

Crime will out. The tripp came with the theft of a knife from a local store. That was Saturday. The history of the gang has gradually unfolded since that time.

And the deeper the inquiry the more deplorable are the facts concerning youthful gang activities hereabouts.

But right will prevail. The curtain is coming down slowly, removing gangland's dazzling allure from the mind and eyes of Littlefield youth.

'The Army's New 'Eager Beaver'

Reo has been awarded contracts for approximately 8,500 of them at a cost of about $55,000,000. In the top panel, the "Eager Beaver" is shown "cruising" in Chesapeake Bay, Maryland.

Mr. Holt, Sr., who lived at Hobart, Okla., had been suffering from a heart ailment.

Mrs. Roy Holt was in Beaumont vacationing when her husband received the message. He immediately phoned her, and she joined Mr. Holt at Hobart, Okla.

Anton was also reported to have received more than an inch of rain. Levelland had .50 inches and rain was still falling there early Wednesday.

Farmers in Lamb County were generally believed to have benefited from the rains. The deluge which fell in July and part of August had been consumed over all of the county, and farmers in many areas were already irrigating again.

The soil had been sufficiently dry to permit all fields to be cultivated at least one time. The rain Tuesday was expected to provide even better prospects for cotton and grain crops which were already more promising than in ordinary years.

LAVERN NICHOLSON MARRIED IN CLOVIS, N. M.

Her daughter of Amherst became Lavern Nicholson 12, at 5 p. m. in the first church at Clovis, N. M. in the personage of Rev. Pastor, officiating ceremony. Her father, Maxfield of Amherst, was the groom.

She wore a street length dress with a pink and white crepe with her corsage and bouquets with various flowers.

She was born and grew up in Amherst. She attended high school in Amherst.

She is a native of Amherst and graduated from high school in 1947 and is now in Amherst community college.

The wedding party included Mrs. Joe Porter, Mrs. Stern and James Stern.

Her father purchased a new tractor with her for the last week for the planting of tall weeds and corn in the yard.

Her father is now taking a language course at Norman, Oklahoma.

The Kayapa Indians live on the banks of the Kayapa River in the mountains of Ecuador, Mrs. Glenn said. This part of the country receives rain almost every day—usually in the afternoon or night—during the rainy season. Mrs. Glenn told how she and her husband made their own slickers after unsatisfactory trials of others. They smear rubber from the rubber tree on material similar to unbleached domestic and when it is dry, fashion it into a coat.

Travel, said Mrs. Glenn, is done in dugout canoes, since there are no roads or trails.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn are the first missionaries ever to go to the Kayapa region.

The Kayapas have no word in their dialect for 'love', 'peace' or 'hope'. This makes it difficult to present the Gospel, they reported.

The Indians are very reserved and suspicious of strangers. It is slow work winning their confidence so they may be told of Jesus.

Mrs. Glenn said their first services were full of confusion, since the Indians didn't understand the singing or praying. They talked among themselves, sat where they pleased, but always on the ground and giggled.

Thompson Reunion Held At Amherst

The Annual Thompson Reunion began Thursday, August 10, at the Pet Thompson farm home near Amherst.

Approximately 42 members of the family were present from Snyder, Oklahoma, Guthrie, Oklahoma, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Lubbock, Texas, and Amherst.

The reunion will be held here again next year.

Missionary Honored By Methodist Women

Mrs. Charles Glenn of Ecuador, on the South American continent, was guest speaker Wednesday evening at the Methodist church in Amherst.

Mrs. Glenn and her husband have been missionaries in Ecuador, administering to the Kayapa Indians for about three years.

They finished a five year period of service in May and returned to the United States for a year's rest.

Mrs. Glenn is now taking a language course at Norman, Oklahoma.

The Kayapa Indians live on the banks of the Kayapa River in the mountains of Ecuador, Mrs. Glenn said. This part of the country receives rain almost every day—usually in the afternoon or night—during the rainy season. Mrs. Glenn told how she and her husband made their own slickers after unsatisfactory trials of others. They smear rubber from the rubber tree on material similar to unbleached domestic and when it is dry, fashion it into a coat.

Travel, said Mrs. Glenn, is done in dugout canoes, since there are no roads or trails.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn are the first missionaries ever to go to the Kayapa region.

The Kayapas have no word in their dialect for 'love', 'peace' or 'hope'. This makes it difficult to present the Gospel, they reported.

The Indians are very reserved and suspicious of strangers. It is slow work winning their confidence so they may be told of Jesus.

Mrs. Glenn said their first services were full of confusion, since the Indians didn't understand the singing or praying. They talked among themselves, sat where they pleased, but always on the ground and giggled.

Song is not a natural talent among these Indians but now they sing with the Glenns and sit quietly while they speak or pray, Mrs. Glenn reported.

The Glenns are not medical missionaries, although Mrs. Glenn said she wished they were. They find it of great importance to be able to minister to their physical needs in order to win their confidence. The missionaries have been able to give injections for malaria, etc.

Mrs. Glenn was hailed by all who heard her as an interesting speaker, "one who impresses her listeners with her love of her fellow man, because God loves them, and her faithfulness in carrying out the command of Jesus, 'Go ye unto all the world.'"

A small gift was presented to Mrs. Glenn at the close of the service, although it could do little to express the feeling in the heart of her listeners.

Amherst W. S. C. S. Meets August 14

Bull Lake Philosopher Tries To Stampede His Neighbor Into Buying Up His Surplus Towsacks

Editor's note: The Bull Lake Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm won't get anywhere with his plan this week, and we hope he doesn't.

Dear Editor:

I don't listen to the radio very much as it's too long between news casts and besides when I'm learning the news I like to pick out the parts I'm interested in, while with a newspaper you can skip over the news you ain't interested in or dodge the editorials on matters you already got your mind made up about, but I was listenin to the radio the other night and heard a program about more of this scare buyin.

As I understand it, the buyers is not the only ones guilty, some stores is sort of promotin the idea to urge their customers to buy this or that, especially the things they ain't havin much success in movin or things they can get plenty of, and I decided to try it out on one of my neighbors.

I run into him in his field yesterday and we got to talking about the war and shortages and I casually mentioned that I understood there was gonna be a shortage of towsacks, looked like towsacks was gonna be on the critical list, might be years before we had enough to go around, but it just happened that I had a whole stack of em in my barn and while I probably could get twenty-five cents apiece for em if I tried, I'd let him have em for twenty cents on account of him bein my neighbor, provided he wouldn't mention it to anybody.

But he apparently hadn't been keepin up with the news, said he didn't have no use for any towsacks and if he did and they wasn't available when he needed em he'd do without and figured he'd keep on livin about as well. You could see he wasn't keepin up with the news and was out of touch with the times. That's the trouble with some people, they don't keep up with things.

If you know of anybody short on towsacks, let me know. There ought to be somebody around here I can unload on. Look what they've been doin with pillow slips and sheets.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Rhea Pannell have returned to their home in Littlefield after visiting Hot Springs, Silver City, Las Cruces and going through Carlsbad cavern in New Mexico.

Today and we got to talking about the war and shortages and I casually mentioned that I understood there was gonna be a shortage of towsacks, looked like towsacks was gonna be on the critical list, might be years before we had enough to go around, but it just happened that I had a whole stack of em in my barn and while I probably could get twenty-five cents apiece for em if I tried, I'd let him have em for twenty cents on account of him bein my neighbor, provided he wouldn't mention it to anybody.

But he apparently hadn't been keepin up with the news, said he didn't have no use for any towsacks and if he did and they wasn't available when he needed em he'd do without and figured he'd keep on livin about as well. You could see he wasn't keepin up with the news and was out of touch with the times. That's the trouble with some people, they don't keep up with things.

If you know of anybody short on towsacks, let me know. There ought to be somebody around here I can unload on. Look what they've been doin with pillow slips and sheets.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Whats In A Name?

Fly. Not the insect. Not what a bird does, with his wings.

But "Fly," the word used to describe the arc a baseball makes when it leaves the bat and sails through the air, gave Lawrence Lindsay Thornton the nickname — Fly — by which he is known all over Littlefield.

With a degree of reluctance Fly admitted this week just how he happened to be tagged with the handle, so familiar to him that his given name is not even listed in the Littlefield telephone directory.

Imagine a Littlefield High school baseball team lining up out on the diamond back about 1926 and the youthful manager selecting his players.

"What do you play, Shorty?" he asked a nervous freshman.

"Outfield," the freshman replies.

"Why?" comes the second question.

"Well," answers the freshman, "I don't bat very good, but I can catch anything that can FLY."

"Okay, Fly," grins the manager. "Take center field."

And on that day Lawrence Lindsay was forgotten and Fly was born.

Fly reports that he hasn't been unhappy with the change.

"Anybody that would name a kid Lawrence Lindsay wanted to make a fighter out of him." He meant that a boy with such an unusual name would be ribbed by all the other children in the neighborhood.

Whether or not this had anything to do with Fly's becoming a fighter is not known. But that's what happened. He fought as an amateur in the light and welter weight classes all over much of Texas and New Mexico.

Although he doesn't recall his days as a ring artist with anything like pride his record speaks for itself — up to a certain point. Fly climbed steadily as an amateur kayoing other amateurs all the way up to and including the amateur lightweight championship.

He says he learned his lesson, however, when he met Ralph Galgas to try for the championship of the West Texas-New Mexico tournament. Galgas said, "If you'll take it easy I'll make you look like a fighter." Fly says he replied that Galgas wasn't in a position to make such a statement and that he might end up with his ears knocked down.

Instead, Fly recalls that a few seconds later he was taking it easy whether he liked it or not lying prone on the canvas seeing those famous stars and hearing those notorious bird tweets. After that, Fly says, he retired from the ring.

Watch for next week's "What's In A Name?" selection.

Cart Wheel Salad

Vegetable salad molded to cart wheel shape in your round layer cake pan, and "spoked" with carrot strips, makes an easy-to-prepare and dramatic dish to serve the family, to take as your contribution to picnics, pot luck or covered dish affairs, to make in honor of this year's fine crop of beautiful vegetables.

Be sure to let everyone see it whole. Serve it in pie-shape wedges with plenty of smooth mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Cart Wheel Salad
1 pkg. lemon gelatin dessert
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 1/2 cups shredded raw cabbage
1 1/2 cups chopped green pepper
4 small carrots
Watercress
Mayonnaise or salad dressing

Dissolve the gelatin in the boiling water. When cold and thickened fold in the shredded cabbage and chopped green pepper; season to taste with salt. Pour into an 8-inch round layer cake pan and chill until firm. Peel and cook the carrots, and when cold, cut them into thin lengthwise strips. Unmold the gelatin on a round chop plate and arrange the carrot strips on it to resemble the spokes of a wheel, with a round slice of carrot in the center to simulate the hub. Garnish the plate with watercress and serve each portion with mayonnaise or salad dressing.

C. H. Messer Awarded Contract For Construction Earth Water System

C. H. Messer of Littlefield, low bidder in competition with five other construction companies, was awarded the contract to construct subject to the approval of the Re-Construction Finance Corporation the city water system in Earth, of Washington, D. C.

Critical material shortages resulting from the war may delay completion of the system until near the end of 1950. However, work will start, according to Mr. Messer, as soon as RFC approves his contract.

Increase in material costs and other factors involved will necessarily raise the connectational charge to users to around $60, according to Mayor Borum. However, water users may sign up at $45 between now and August 21. After that date, the $45 charge cannot be guaranteed.

Those who took advantage of the $50 charge by signing up in January will not be affected by this increase.

It is generally conceded that Earth is extremely fortunate to have an approved system. It is an obvious fact that a similar deal could not be negotiated under present world conditions.

Funds To Go Into Methodist University Fund

Southern Methodist university said Tuesday that income from $1,500,000 worth of West Texas oil royalties it has purchased will go toward the school's endowment fund.

Eugene McElvaney, Dallas, chairman of SMU's executive committee, confirmed that the school had bought the South Plains royalties in the first major purchase of this type ever undertaken by the school.

SMU has purchased 13 percent of the mineral rights on 30,625 acres of the Mallet ranch, which extends over Hockley, Cochran, Terry and Yoakum counties. The price, McElvaney said, was about $1,500,000 and a deed of trust has been filed to the Republic National bank of Dallas.

The purchase was made from Mrs. Helen Devitt Jones and Tom Jones of Lubbock. A mineral deed has been filed in the office of county clerk H. E. Clingan of Levelland.
