Term as Mayor

L. R. CROCKETT

Littlefield, was elected a mem-of the first Board of Commis-and has since served several as Mayor. is a man of extensive public ence, and has always taken an interest in all matters which for the betterment of the city county in which he lives.
Mayor Crockett's statement fol-
After several weeks of delibera-and numerous consultations a number of my friends and ighbors in the several parts of county, I have decided to offer name, as a candidate for the of-of County Judge of Lamb co-
I spent most of my boyhood days the Ozarks. I was born and raised the farm, and obtained most of my early education in an old-fashed country school house, where the hickory limb was freely applied.
"I will arrive at the age of 50 years at my next birthday, an age, when coupled with experience, should amply qualify any man for this of-ice, so highly important to the enire county and to each of its citizens.
"My parents, were not wealthy, of limited finance, but were honest, deeply religious, and taught me the fundamentals of hard work and fair dealing, which lessons have never been forgotten by me. With my brothers and sisters, I was brought to the Western front while still in my teens, and I have been constantly on the firing line since. I believe I can safely, yes proudly say that I have helped, and done my bit in pioneering the Panhandle-Plains during the past twenty-five years. I have been a constant resident and taxpayer in Lamb county, during the last twelve of those twenty-five years.
"During my residence among you,
I have never before asked for a public office, that carried a salary, or pay, but have always offered and been ready to give my services to my city and county, to civic and public enterprises, without thought of receiving remuneration or pay.

Littlefield Area Visited By Showers Sunday Afternoon

Moisture ranging from heavy rains to light showers fell over the Littlefield trade territory Sunday afternoon. Bula reported 2 inches, Pep about half an inch, Enochs, Morton, and Whitharral report heavy rains, Lum's Chapel and on Oklahoma Flats heavy downpour, Anton half an inch, Spade half an inch, and Sudan to Littlefield good showers.
The rain was accompanied at scattered places by hail. Heaviest moisture over the south Plains was reported at Abernathy, where two and a half inches fell.
At Shallowater a heavy hail storm swept to the northwest from two to four miles, leaving seven or eight inches of hail and doing considerable damage to what few crops and vegetation was growing.
The Santa Fe passenger train to Clovis was delayed two or three hours by water over the tracks at Roundup. Trainmen did not want to venture over the covered rails until they were certain there was no danger, it was said. Hail piled up on the highway two feet in some places, it was said, in the area around Shallowater.
Other towns reporting moisture were: Muleshoe, Levelland, Bledsoe, and Lehman, Ropesville to Seagraves, Plainview and Hale Center, Slaton, Post, Lamessa, Lockney, Lubbock and Hart Camp.
Air conditions at flying levels over the Croyden airport near London are tested in times of fogs by sending up recording instruments attached to balloons.
Weighing but little more than half as much as usual copper roofings, a comparatively inexpensive copper alloy roofing has been invented for small residences.

TEN THOUSAND SOUTH PLAINS CHILDREN TO PARTICIPATE IN DISTRICT CENTENNIAL CHORUS

Ten thousand school children from the fifteen counties of state supervisory district 2, will sing the songs of Texas, en mass on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Matador stadium, Lubbock. The children will be taken to that city in three hundred school buses for the event.
This musical project, sponsored by the state department of education, is the South Plains preliminary to the massed chorus of 40,000 school children who will sing at the Centennial on June 13. Musical plans for the Centennial also include a program for high school choral groups on October 30.
The second district committee in charge of the massed singing on Friday consists of Lubbock City Supt. K. E. Oberholzer, Lubbock County Supt. Joseph R. Griggs, and Deputy State Superintendent G. D. Holbrook. State Superintendent L. A. Woods and other officials of the state department are scheduled to be in Lubbock for the chorus singing. Superintendent Holbrook stated that the event will probably bring between thirty and forty thousand people to Lubbock for the day.
The program of songs which the school children will sing is a culmination of two years of intensive study of the songs of Texas and the Southwest, and are the ones which all Texas will be singing throughout the Centennial year. The program is scheduled to be over by 5 o'clock so that all children participating may reach home by dark.
The program is as follows: entire group: "Texas, Our Texas," "Beautiful Texas," "Texas, Pride of the South," junior chorus: "Sing a Little Song When You Are Happy," "Over the Heather," "The Leaf and the Bird," "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; entire group: "The Blue-

A healthy mixture of pathos and clean fun prevades the play throughout.
The bashful young farmer, (Randolph Brantley) almost lets the city fashion model, (Buck Gregory) get the girl he has already built a home for—and you are plenty worried about that. But you are not allowed to shed many tears, for the perennial courtship, (right before everybody) of Mrs. Poplin, (Eula Mae Cox) who has "symptoms" of every ailment she hears of, and Jessie Tizzard, (Freda Harold) keeps you laughing till you hurt.
Other characters in the play are: Dorothy Kelley, Anita Hanks, Mattie Henderson, Ramey Wilson.
The proceeds of the play will go into a fund to buy new equipment for the stage. Admission 10 and 20 cents.

RELIEF—BACK WHERE IT BELONGS

An apparent paradox is the great increase in the number of persons employed in industry, with no decrease in the number of families on relief. There is no reason to doubt either of these facts. According to all the rules of common sense, the increase in employment should have decreased the demand for relief. That this has not been the result indicates that there is something wrong.

The major industries of the nation are employing more people than at any time in the past four or five years, some of them more than in the prosperous days of 1928. Yet at the same time there are close to $5,000,000 heads of families on relief. And this number has not varied substantially since 1933.

At the root of this whole situation lies the fact that no figures even approximately accurate have ever been available as to the number of persons who ever had jobs and who are now unemployed.

Of course, in the broad sense everybody who does not work is unemployed. But it is common knowledge in every community of the United States that there has always been a percentage of persons who never had anything that could be called regular employment at all.

The most obvious explanation of the paradox of increasing employment and continuing relief expenditures is that states, counties, municipalities and private charities have abandoned their task of relief to the Federal Government.

A situation has been created which will not be remedied until the administration of relief and responsibility for providing the money is taken back by the states, counties, communities and by private charities.

To Permit Farmers To Apply For Loans

San Antonio, April 28.—Widening the scope of financial assistance the federal government is extending to Texas farmers, regulations of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan office have been amended to permit farmers who are not being actively assisted by the Resettlement Administration to apply for Emergency Crop loans, it has been announced by H. P. Drought, state director of the National Emergency Council for Texas.

more than $200 may be loaned to any one farmer and preference will be given to farmers whose cash requirements are small.

Effect of the change will be to extend to farmers listed as "inactive clients" of the Resettlement Administration the same opportunity to apply for Emergency Crop loans as other eligible farmers. It was pointed out, however, that standard clients of the Resettlement Administration, or farmers who are receiving grants or have received grants from that agency since December 31, 1935, and those employed on Works Progress Administration project are ineligible to receive the loans.

loans may be made to the crop loan committees already in most counties. Loans are issued through the regional office at Dallas.

Prices for Texas Centennial dollars, which commemorate years of progress in this state and federal funds in the form of the Texas Memorial Range from the regular $1.00 to more than three times the amount. The increase in the price of the coins show a growing confidence for them throughout the Nation.

Cooking School Chats By Mrs. Gertrude Burbank

There is one especially happy thing that every woman should know and consider about salads—often a salad will make a meal—and a main course it frequently solves the menu problem on some particularly difficult day.

If the weather be warm, a crisp salad stimulates the lagging appetite, especially if you accent its cool refreshment by serving one contrasting hot dish. This may be merely a cup of heated canned soup, a plate of hot bread, a toasted sandwich, a health-giving vegetable, or an egg or cheese surprise.

Luscious salads are legion—and to tempting the average appetite no matter what the weather or the season. Before suggesting some of my pet versions, I am listing some rules of general and great importance.

The first and most essential one is the chemistry dictum that oil and water do not mix. Dry your lettuce. Drain your vegetables and fruits.

Emphasis contrasts—in flavor, texture and color. A brand base, like tuna fish, or cream cheese, requires a bit of pickle, a nut, some celery, an apple, or the like. A golden peach stuffed with cream cheese is improved by surrounding it with bright red cherries. A crisp-cross of inchovies on potato-salad hills achieves three contrasts, and thereby delights the epicure. Even the salad greens are more alluring if you use a little of several varieties as a base for full-meal salads.

Marinate vegetables, meat and most fish, and set in your refrigerator for an hour before mixing other ingredients. But lightly, please. By marinating, we mean to let these salad bases stand in a rather tart French dressing.

Avoid lavish quantities of dressing. Use just enough to moisten and coat each component part. Be sparingly with sugar in any dressing.

Use two implements in combining ingredients. Two forks are excellent. Remember to toss your salads, never to mix with pressure.

Don't cut meat too fine unless it is used in a gelatine mold. Finely minced meat tends to become mushy when mixed with dressings.

Augment salads by adding canned accessories from your emergency shelf if last minute motoring guests arrive or remain until the dinner hour. Slices of canned corned beef are delicious additions to your mixed salad. A can of boned chicken can be used with your chicken salad. Canned peach halves are elegant, stuffed with mashed banana, mixed with chopped pecans.

Garnish every salad. Your guests' delight will reward you richly for such efforts. Sliced, hard-cooked eggs, radish roses, capers, sliced stuffed olives and cucumber rings add color as well as flavor.

the pasture land is held by the contour furrow long enough to be absorbed by the soil thus increasing the amount of available soil moisture for plant growth. As the amount of available soil moisture is the determining factor in growth of plants in the southwest it should be easy to see that by retaining such rainfall as is received on the ground for absorption and thus for plant use, said pastures will be readily improved.

The Soil Conservation Service of the Wind eroded area is doing pasture contour furrowing in nine projects and in five CCC camps. The method in use vary with the condition of the sod, slope and kind of soil, rainfall and equipment available.

Cash Income Promised Farmers

expenses will be less than in the city. The family will have water in its bathroom, and electric lights, the same as in the city. But it will also have a city family does not—green beans in its pantry, long ears of home-grown corn and fresh eggs from its own raising. Meantime it will be acquiring ownership of its own home, at cost no more than renting a worn-out cabin.

A typical plan as worked out in the Harris County project is for a 71-acre farm. The value of the land is estimated at $70. The farm will produce 20 bushels of cotton seed, 25 bushels of home-grown corn and 25 bushels of home-grown soybeans. It will also produce 25 bushels of home-grown cotton seed, 25 bushels of home-grown corn and 25 bushels of home-grown soybeans. ### Invitation To The Texas Centennial

The President and vice president of the United States, governors of the 48 states, all members of the Congress and the cabinet, and a large number of prominent business men of the nation have received invitations to attend the Texas Centennial year observance and the Centennial Central Exposition at Dallas, which opens June 6. The invitation was in the form of a large leather-bound book which is a pictorial presentation of the Lone Star state, including hundreds of photographs. It offers a faithful picture of the state's material development and the interesting range of contemporary life within its boundaries. The picture above shows the book, "This Is Texas" and an inside double page which presents Governor James V. Allred of Texas.

taxes $60, insurance $15, ginning $35. It will be noted that the item for automobile is charged by the Resettlement Administration to necessary operating expenses, the administration not voting with those who advise the farmer to "take the tires off his car and put them under the bed."

Adding the $225 a year for cash living, and $416 for cash operating expense, cash outlay of the family buying this 71-acre Resettlement farm is estimated at a total of $641. This is more cash than the average farm family in Texas takes in during the year, but Resettlement families are being placed only on the best land, and the farm management program is based on practices which return more income per acre than most farmers have been able to earn in the past.

Stamford Prepares For Cowboy Reunion

Stamford, Texas, April 29.—Sponsors and contestants are already making inquiries about the seventh Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held in Stamford, July 2nd, 3rd and 4th. H. G. Andrews, chairman of the sponsors' committee, has announced that four towns have selected sponsors to attend this year's reunion, which is to be known as the Texas Cowboy Reunion Celebration of the Texas Centennial.

Attractive prizes are to be awarded the winners in the sponsors' contest, which is to be based on appearance, horsemanship and riding apparel of the girl—and appearance, performance and equipment of the horse. This contest is to be held the first and second mornings of the rodeo. First prize will be a fine saddle, second prize a pair of boots, third prize a bridle and fourth prize a pair of spurs. A handmade miniature quilt, the workmanship of John Selman of Stamford, will be presented each sponsor.

Tickets of admission to all performances of the rodeo will be given each sponsor and they will be honored with numerous social events. Mrs. H. G. Andrews has been named as hostess for the Reunion this year.

ed as hostess for the Reunion this year.

COWBOY CONTESTS—

Contests preserving the customs of ranch and range will be held for the cowboys, and performers actually employed on ranches rather than professional rodeo performers will be featured in calf roping, steer riding, bronc riding, wild cow milking, cutting horse contest and old timers' calf roping contest. In addition to the cash prizes to be awarded by the Reunion in these events, cowboy equipment will be given by various firms as special awards.

The Texas Cowboy Reunion is considered as being one of the most authentic representations of the institutions and customs of the Old West; and recently accepted an invitation to join with the Central Exposition of the Texas Centennial in Dallas, August 1st through the 9th, at which time a program of cowboy contests—similar to the program at Stamford in July—will be given twice daily, afternoon and night.

"THE MAGIC OF WELL PREPARED FOOD"

There is a magic something about food—a quality that, conceived in the imagination of the cook, is in subtle and devious ways expressed until food itself catches the power to awaken delight in those who look and partake.

in mediocre fashion. A crackling brown is the fundamental decoration for roasts, steaks and chops. This crispy brown may be enhanced, but not made up for, by parsley. For the sake of variety on different occasions, use water cress, mushrooms, triangles of toast or strips of pepper.

As important as making the most of the meat dishes are the touches the clever chef has for the fish. Wedged-shaped pieces of lemon and parsley are the necessities if you wish to astonish and please your guests with a bit of broiled fish. Hard-boiled eggs and parika give zest to a cream sauce served with the kinds of fish that are broiled, such as cod, salmon, haddock and red snapper.

A creamed fish becomes more unusual when served in French scallop shells topped with buttered bread crumbs.

ored by being elected a member of its first Board of Commissioners, and later, twice elected as Mayor in the early 20's. After serving those two terms, I decided to retire from local politics, to be able to devote my full time to personal business. However upon the insistence of friends and supporters, I was again asked to become a candidate for mayor, and am proud to say that I am now serving in the closing year of my fourth term as mayor of the city of Littlefield. I believe that such a record entitles me to submit my name and my qualifications for your consideration as County Judge, and if elected I will try to merit the confidence of the county, just as I have tried to merit that of the city. The people of the town in which I live have reposed a confidence in me and my ability to serve them to that extent that I believe I should offer no apology in asking my county to consider and elect me for the higher county office.

"My platform: "1. Honesty and fair-dealing, and the giving of time and consideration to each individual problem that may come before me or the Commissioners Court.

"2. To fully co-operate with the commissioners of the four precincts, and as chairman of the court, to see that each precinct and each town in the county gets a fair and equal consideration for the welfare of the county as a whole, and try never to show partiality toward any individual town or district, or allow such to be shown, so far as it would be in my power to prevent, and at the same time to cooperate to the fullest extent with all other offices of the county.

"Folks, I am doing my very best to rear a family in this good land of ours, one that will be a credit to me and to our state and country. I am equally interested in you, and the welfare of you and your children.

"I am deeply interested in economy, and think that taxes should be reduced, if, and whenever and wherever they can be, keeping in mind that the functions of government must be carried on. I believe that they should, however, be carried on in the most economical manner, and pledge myself, to work for that kind of economy. The thing you and I are most interested in, is when a dollar is to be spent that it should be made to go as far as possible—as far as anybody else's dollar. In plain words to get full value in return for that dollar.

"I believe that I am qualified for the office, and can and will use my best efforts to serve you in an efficient and satisfactory manner, and in a manner which will never cause you to regret having given me your support and your vote.

"On that platform and this basis I earnestly solicit your vote and influence.

"Yours for a Business County Administration and NOT for a Political County Administration.

VERY LATEST By Patricia Dow

Designed in sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 38 requires 5 1-4 yards of 35-inch material, with 1 1-2 yard of ribbon 3 inches wide for bow.

FOR STREET WEAR
 Pattern 8725: The shirtwaist style of frock has captured the devotion of women near and far, with good reason for it is the most becoming and satisfactory design for almost any occasion—depending on the material in which it is made.

The style pictured has the small rolling collar and bow tie so much in demand, together with the saddle shoulder and flaring sleeves which are most desirable in warm weather. Inverted pleats at the end of the front panel and side seams give plenty of fullness in the skirt.

This design would be effective in either silk or cotton. A checked design in rayon, crinkled crepe in tones of brown and yellow, would be striking with brown accessories.

For PATTERN, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to Patricia Dow, Lamb County Leader Pattern Dept., 115 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Farmers Organize To Administer New Farm Plan

That the Soil Conservation Allotment program is progressing is evidenced by the many hundreds of meetings being held throughout the State by county agricultural agents, and the organization of county boards to administer the new farm program.

Farm demonstration councils and key farmers have divided the counties into "communities" of about 500 farmers. Each of these "communities" has elected three committees who altogether will constitute a County Soil Conservation Board. Officials point out, in reviewing some of the highpoints of the program, that all crops will be classified into two classes—soil depleting and soil conserving; and that a neutral classification has been set up to include idle land, fallow land, woodland, pastures, vineyards, tree fruits, small fruits and so forth.

Payments will be made to farmers upon proof of having cooperated in the program. This money, which will be paid in one check, will include payments for replacing certain percentages of soil depleting crops with soil conserving crops and for using soil building practices.

Bases established on the old reduction contracts will be taken as a guide for establishing the base for 1936 on the soil conservation program, with due allowance for crops not included in former contracts.

About 20 percent of the base acreage in soil depleting crops in 1936, must be replaced by soil conserving crops in order to qualify for participation in the program.

The soil conserving payments will be based on the productivity of the land; for cotton it will be five cents per pound; for peanuts 1 1/4 cents a pound based on the average yield per acre of the farm; for rice it will be 20 cents for each 100 pounds of the producer's domestic consumption quota, subject to certain specified agreements.

MARGARET MELTON GARDEN DEMONSTRATOR FOR 4-H CLUB

"I have my onions planted and they are pretty," says Margaret Melton, garden demonstrator for the Littlefield, Junior 4-H club.

Margaret plans to grow a sufficient quantity of vegetables to supply the family with vegetables to use fresh and to can for non-productive months. A normal yield from 175 feet potatoes, 150 feet leafy green and yellow vegetables, 125 feet miscellaneous vegetables and 150 feet tomatoes for each member of the family should supply this amount of vegetables.

A sufficient quantity of vegetables for any family means enough to serve one leafy green or yellow and one miscellaneous besides potatoes or corn each day.

LITTLE KATIE JANICE SMITH DIES SUDDENLY

Funeral Services Are Conducted Tuesday Afternoon

Katie Janice Smith, 20 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith, passed away suddenly Monday about 12:30 noon at the Littlefield hospital, where she was rushed when it was discovered that she had swallowed a number of Cascara Compound tablets, which the child had found and mistaken for candy.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church, Littlefield, Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, by Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, former pastor, but now of Portales, and interment in charge of Burleson Funeral Home, took place in the local cemetery.

The child is survived by her parents, and two brothers, B. W. and James, ages 10 and 12, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith have lived here many years, being members of Littlefield's oldest pioneer families.

To make it, the time-honored ingredients of true mayonnaise and true old-fashioned boiled dressing are combined in a wonderful new way, and whipped to new creaminess and fluffiness in the exclusive Kraft's Miracle Whip.

EUGENE HOWARD

PHONY-FACE, newest horror disease to attack city dwellers, struck down three well-known stage and radio performers within an hour. Victims, reading from left to right, were: Eugene Howard, Ray Knight, and Willie Howard. Always quick to take advantage of a new twist, even if it be a twist of the face, the three stars rushed to record the result of their attack of cityitis before the camera. A sympathetic photographer, struggling to transfer facial symptoms to film, discovered that watching the birdie wouldn't do the trick, but Laughing Glass would!

The Howards and Knight were so elated with the photographic records of their attack reproduced above, that they sent out prints as warnings to friends of the new epidemic.

Now "Phony-face" photos are a fad, and dozens of fans are collecting pictures of their favorite actors and authors made by photographer John Joyce with Pittsburgh Crazy Glass. © 1936 Pittsburgh Mirror-Observer.

Aims To Prevent Erosion And Rebuild Soil Fertility

"Every cultivated crop takes a definite amount of original plant food out of the soil, and the necessary cultivation of such crops exposes the land to erosion. This results not only in additional fertility losses, but also in losses of soil," says Jack Shelton, vice director and state agent of the Extension Service.

"Some crops deplete the fertility of the soil more than others and expose the land to a greater amount of erosion. It is the purpose of the new Soil Conservation Act to put part of the land formerly devoted to such soil depleting crops into crops which will prevent erosion and will rebuild the fertility of the land to insure a stable supply of foods and fibres in the future.

"A brief review of figures determined by the Agricultural Experiment Station over a period of nine years shows clearly the extent of soil erosion.

"Land with a two percent slope when planted in cotton showed an average soil loss of 7.96 tons per acre per year. Land in milo lost 3.93 tons of soil. Land in buffalo grass lost 1.56 tons.

"These figures show that aside from the plant food used by the crop, farmers of the state pay more than two times as much washed away soil for a crop of cotton as they do for a crop of milo. Similarly, they pay more than five times as much for a crop of cotton as for a crop of buffalo grass.

"The importance of crops in the conservation of moisture was also demonstrated at Spur, where it was found that the cotton plot lost 2.83 inches of water in run-off; milo lost 1.76 inches; and the buffalo grass lost 1.03 inches.

"These results were obtained at the Substation near Spur in Dickens county, located in the Rolling Plains region of Northwest Texas. The soil on which this work was done is Miles clay loam and the results are considered as directly applicable to parts of 44 counties and approximately 14,000,000 acres of land of the Miles and Abilene and related series, and indirectly applicable to all of the sub-humid portion of Texas.

"Crops and practices which are best for preventing erosion in Texas and for rebuilding the fertility of the soil have been recommended to the regional director of the Soil Conservation Service by the State Conservation and Domestic Allotment Board which has been meeting recently at College Station. These crops and practices will be announced as soon as they have received the approval of the regional director.

"To qualify for payments under the new program, the farmer must take land from soil depleting crops and plant it in soil building and soil conserving crops or must use certain soil building practices on the land.

"Generally speaking, it will be necessary to have at least one acre of soil conserving or soil building crops to every five acres of soil depleting crops in his base must have planted on his farm in 1936 at least 20 acres of conserving and building crops to participate in the program," Shelton said.

ADMIRATION COFFEE TO BE USED AT LEADER COOKING SCHOOL MAY 4, 5, 6

Admiration coffee, made by the Coffee Company, will be featured at the Lamb County Cooking School, which will meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 4, 5 and 6.

Some of the officials of the Dunlap Coffee Company, makers of Admiration Coffee, said recently — "We consistently good coffee is a matter of luck. The blend of coffee, accuracy of measurement but not least, care of the coffee pot all are points that determine the quality of the cup your guests will drink."

When buying coffee, the blend — in these days is determined by the brand name — is of importance. Our mothers work blends to please the family. Today experts originate blends to suit individual tastes.

"Proportion Depends on Taste. While the exact proportion of coffee to use in the making depends upon the brand and individual taste, one rounded tablespoon of ground coffee to one cup of water makes a beverage agreeable to the average person."

"After-dinner coffee served in small cups is stronger than the brew served for breakfast."

Proportion develops if a coffee pot is kept closed. The pot which is used only occasionally should be washed and rinsed early in the day and allowed to air thoroughly. Scald it again just before making the coffee.

"No matter how you make your coffee, by boiling, steeping, percolating or drip method — both coffee and water must be measured and the boiling, steeping or percolating stopped at the proper time. The drip method requires only the precaution of keeping the beverage hot until ready to serve."

"Another important point in coffee making is the necessity of serving the infusion as soon as possible after it is made."

"The kind of coffee pot you use — whether you want your coffee ground fine, medium or coarse — always empty the coffee pot as soon as possible after using to prevent discoloration. Wash every part thoroughly in clean hot soapy water and rinse in clear boiling water dry with a clean towel and stand open to air. A stale odor affects the flavor of the beverage."

Ford's Lake Fleet Opens Inter-Lake Navigation Season

Sailing of the ore carrier, Henry Ford II, for Escanaba, Mich., marked the opening of the inter-lake navigation season for the Ford Motor company's lake fleet which is scheduled this year to carry the heaviest tonnage of iron ore in the fleet's history.

The Henry Ford II and the Benson Ford, the two ore carriers, are scheduled to transport 965,000 tons of iron ore to the Rouge plant this season. This tonnage compares with 560,000 tons last year, and 655,000 tons in 1930, the peak year up to the present.

Increased blast furnace and steel finishing mill capacity as a result of the company's $37,000,000 expansion and modernization program account for the increase in scheduled tonnage.

To Try Salt Speedway

SALT LAKE CITY . . . Capt. George Eyston (above), of England, is here with his specially built giant racing automobile in which he hopes to beat the world speed mark set by Malcolm Campbell last year over the salt-bed flats near here.

The two largest motor vessels on the Great Lakes, the ore carriers will also transport 200,000 tons of limestone to the Rouge during the season. This tonnage combined with the iron ore will require about 97 trips by the two boats during the season.

Besides the ore carriers, the Ford fleet in service this year will include 11 barges, three tugs, two canal boats and six ocean going vessels. Many of these are already in service.

Schedule for the tugs and barges for the season call for the transportation of one and one half million tons of coal from Lake Erie ports; 300,000 tons of sand from Saginaw Bay, and 25,000,000 feet of lumber from L'Anse and Pequaning to the Rouge. The barges also will transport automobile parts to Buffalo and Chicago for branch assembly plants.

Work got underway on the new school building for Morton this week. Sikes and Ingie have the contract for the building, which they believe will take five months to complete.

Governor J. V. Allred Invites Notables To Texas Centennial

Several hundred persons, prominently identified with official or business life of the nation, have received from Governor James V. Allred of Texas, a handsomely bound volume "This Is Texas," inviting them to the Lone Star State's Centennial celebrations, now underway, and to the Centennial exposition which opens in Dallas on June 6.

The number one copy of the book, bound in cow hide, was sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the second volume was sent to Vice-President John Nance Garner. Other copies went to governors of the 48 states, all members of the Congress and the cabinet, and to men who are prominently identified with the business and industrial life of the nation.

The book is an invitation which tells the story of Texas in more than 300 pictures. All are scenes of Texas — cities, industries, plains, ranches, farms, seashore, wild life, or people. It is a photographic tour of the Lone Star State.

A full page invitation, signed by Governor Allred, is found in the front of the book. The presentation message on another page is signed by members of the commission of control for Texas Centennial celebrations, members of advisory boards and of the state board of control.

Governor Allred, in his invitation, says:

"It is my privilege as Governor of Texas, to convey the earnest wish of all Texans that you may find an opportunity to visit us during this, our Centennial year. It is my belief that you will experience a warmth of hospitality unsurpassed in any region of the land, and that you will take away in memory even more pictures of Texas — its vitality, its diversity, and its potentialities — than this volume, with its necessarily limited compass, can present."

"To its great exposition and to the state-wide celebrations which will commemorate the stirring events of its birth year, Texas welcomes you in 1936."

Insures Success In Cake Baking By Using KC Powder

Knowing that baking powder leavens cake it is natural to assume that adding an extra half teaspoon to the amount specified in a recipe will give a cake greater lightness. However, that is not true, and the best plan to follow is to use the amount recommended on your baking powder can.

Because of the increased efficiency of KC and some other baking powders in use today, representing about 90 per cent of the baking powder consumed, they should be used properly to insure successful bakings.

The following rules will be helpful in bringing about desired results: First, always use the amount specified on your baking powder can. This proportion has been worked out as best for that particular type. With KC, one level teaspoonful to a cup of sifted flour is sufficient for most recipes.

Second, measure carefully — remember that an excess amount of any baking powder does not produce best results. A level teaspoonful means that you must level off with a knife.

KC Baking Powder, the brand used in the cooking school, is one of the most economical and efficient products entering the kitchen. Properly used it will produce for you, the finest of baked goods. You will be convinced of this by giving it a fair trial and observing results obtained.

You can get additional helpful information and a number of practical, tested recipes by sending for the KC Cook's Book. A copy will be mailed, postage paid, if you will send your request together with the slip taken from a can of KC Baking Powder, to Jacques Manufacturing Company, Chicago, Ill.

"Magnificent Obsession" To Be Featured At Palace

"F Man" and "Silly Billies" Are Booked Next Week

The fluid camera in Hollywood that of Director John M. Stahl's latest Universal production, "Magnificent Obsession," will be shown at the Palace Theatre at midnight, Sunday and Monday. Irene Dunne and Robert Taylor are the starring roles.

For many years Stahl has specialized in the filming of domestic dramas and has achieved a reputation in that field.

"Dialogue" pictures," says Stahl, "is carried forward by the speech of the characters, rather than by swift exciting action. The basic structure of the screenplay is changed and the characters must be treated differently by the camera. A constant, abrupt flash-back and forth from one part of the story to another, for example, interrupts the smooth flow of dialogue between the various characters, and the story becomes jumpy.

To maintain smoothness of action, and to give the dialogue time to carry the story forward, I strive to keep the camera flowing motion, following various characters adroitly from one to another without, in effect, interrupting their conversation. A character stops to speak with another at a certain point in a room, and then the floor to speak to still another man, beginning his conversation as the first man approaches. The camera follows all these movements, instead of cutting the action into short, jerky bits.

In a motion picture of this nature, the emotion takes the place of the story. Such a screenplay requires more attention to the creation of the story and to the convincing humanness of its characters. The dramatic story of "Magnificent Obsession" is said to be the outstanding example of dramatic emotion, with the mysterious "obsession" exerting a powerful influence on the characters.

The cast supporting Miss Dunne and Robert Taylor includes Charles Butterworth, Betty Furness, Sara Haden, Ralph Morgan, Henry Armetta and Gilbert Emery. The story was adapted from the popular novel by Lloyd C. Douglas.

Fun Film Of West "Silly Billies" Here Tuesday Next

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey have put fun at about everything and the latest to get its share of kidding is the Western Thriller.

"Silly Billies," their current bit of satire, to be featured at Palace Tuesday includes all the thrills that commonly provide the smash climaxes of sage-brush sagas, but, as Woolsey said while the picture was filming, "No western was ever like this."

There are vicious desperadoes and a stage coach hold-up. Peril rides the plains in the persons of a hundred bloodthirsty Indians. Renegade whites do their dirty work. The U. S. Cavalry rides to the rescue—and arrives late. The boys are destined to dance on the lynching rope, to be scalped, to be burned at the stake, to perish in quicksand—in short to endure all the Westerns shrunk into one madcap comedy.

Comedians Play Cops In "F" Man Friday

"F Man," an amusing new comedy relating the adventures of a boy who wanted to be a "G Man" but couldn't quite make the grade, opens at the Palace Theatre, Friday with Jack Haley in the title role and a cast headed by Adrienne Marden and Onslow Stevens supporting him.

"F Man" deals with the fate of a country boy who goes to the city to make good as a Department of Justice operative. Thrown out of that organization's office every time he appears, he finally gets himself a job as a soda-fountain clerk but meanwhile continues to make regular visits of the office of the Department. He makes such a pest of himself that a minor official finally decides to do something about it.

The "something" consists of first subjecting the victim to a series of "phony" physical tests, which he passes with flying colors, and then the announcement that as a novice, he has to become an "F Man" for a probationary period before graduating to become a "G Man."

But ultimately—and in spite of himself—he does assist in the capture of Public Enemy No. 1 and wins the girl he loves.

Jack Haley, in the title role, and William Frawley, as the real "G Man", brings to the screen again the comedy talent which has won them fame. Grace Bradley and Adrienne Marden furnish the romantic interest.

But that's a matter of the future, and meanwhile, Cline and his two principle comedians, Jack Haley and William Frawley, secure highly comic results in "F Man". Haley is cast as an innocent country boy who pesters the Department of Justice for a job as a "G Man." and Frawley as an official he drives to desperation.

One-Fifth Of All Crops Grown Must Be Soil Conserving

Farmers who qualify for Government Grants of money in the new AAA soil conservation program must have at least one acre of soil conserving or soil building crops for every five acres of soil depleting crops in the base acreage, says Donald Turner, County Agricultural Agent.

A farmer who had 100 acres of corn and cotton (soil depleting crops) in the base period must have planted on his farm in 1936 at least 20 acres of conserving an building crops to participate in the program.

Up to 35 per cent of the base acreage of cotton he may shift from cotton to soil improving or protecting crops and be eligible for payments.

He may shift as much as 15 per cent of the wheat, corn, grain sorghums, potato or fruit and vegetable base acreage to legumes, clover crops or approved soil building practices and receive payments.

In the case of peanuts the greatest shift of acreage for which payments may be made is 20 per cent.

No payments will be made in Texas for food and feed crops like corn or grain sorghums shifted to soil improvement uses unless it can be shown that these crops have been produced in excess of home needs. In that case the only diversions for which payment will be made are on the portion of the acreages which are in excess of home needs.

Soil conserving payments may be granted to help recompense farmers for the sacrifice involved in giving up a part of their soil depleting cash crops in order to give a chance to improve the land.

She Tosses Discus

LOS ANGELES... Marguerite "Mike" Coswell, 19 (above), can run 100 yards in 12 seconds. She can also toss the discus right around the world mark for women of 143 1/2 feet. She is a Junior College entrant for the 1936 Olympic games.

talk in every farm home in Texas," is the suggestion to rural home makers made by Miss Mildred Horton, vice director and state home demonstration agent of the Extension Service. Miss Horton pointed out that the program being established under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act is one in which every home maker is interested, and that developing details of the plan would be of interest to the whole family as they meet around the dining table three times a day.

The better cropping plans and land use systems to be instituted under the Act include consideration of the farm family's needs of food for themselves and feed for the farm work week, Miss Horton stated.

"It is probably the first national agricultural plan offered in any county which makes such definite provisions for the welfare of the family."

"No payments will be made for soil building crops planted on any land retired from soil depleting crops where the soil depleting crops were food and feed crops unless applicants for the grants show that the crops done away with were in excess of the needs of the family."

"The provision that corn or grain sorghums evenly interplanted with peas may be counted as 50 per cent soil building and 50 per cent soil depleting is also favorable to the plans of home makers to provide ample supplies of food for the poultry and livestock which are a part of the food budget for the family," Miss Horton said.

Horse Racing In Panhandle May 8-16

Amarillo, April 29.—Horse racing in the Panhandle is expected to reach a new high in all respects here May 8-16.

Ever since the Tri-State Fair commenced staging of horse racing in Amarillo each succeeding meeting has surpassed the previous ones both in the matter of attendance and the quality of thoroughbreds entered.

That this spring's meeting next month will surpass even last fall's sensationally successful one is seen in the early swamping of the stable office for stall space and the fact that for three days during the races the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will convene in its annual meeting. Mason King, the Tri-State's director of racing, announced last Saturday that over 300 stalls already had been reserved by horse owners. Ninety percent of these reservations are for thoroughbred registered running horses.

This number of entries completely over-flows the available stall space in the regular barns. However, King said that he would continue to accept reservations because during the spring meeting he has access to the stock barn at the Fair Grounds. Delegates of the West Chamber of Commerce will convention schedule so as to will permit them to attend in the afternoons. Post day will be at 2 o'clock program will be speeded final race will end promptly at 6 o'clock.

their hour of reckoning, the hour when she would compel him to take up and share the burden that had bowed her shoulders. Those alcoholic demons in the back of her head were dancing dizzily and it gave her a prodigious, wicked satisfaction to realize that she had the power now to humble his spirit as he had humbled hers.

"Forget it, Jerry," she repeated. "You can't get a girl like that to marry you."

"I can if we stop right here, mother, and if you'll let me help you—er, get back on your feet."

"She wouldn't have you—not the kind of a girl you've been talking about." Mrs. Holmes giggled malevolently. "You see, my boy, you haven't any name to give her."

"Not much of a name, of course, but I'll make one. I'll make it something to be proud of."

Mrs. Holmes rose, walked to the cupboard, opened its door, and took out a thick drinking glass and a square-faced bottle. Slowly she poured the tumbler half full of gin, then drank it; her eyes as they met those of her son were hostile, there was malignity in her gaze. It was an act of deliberate, calculated defiance, for never before had she taken liquor in his presence. Gerald looked on incredulously.

"You don't understand English," she said, harshly. "If you're old enough to run around with women and think about getting married, I guess you're old enough to stand some plain talk. You give me enough, God knows. A little of your own medicine won't hurt you. What I mean to say is this—your father and I were never married."

Gerald gasped; his face whitened; a look of fright, of abject misery, crept over it. "I—should have known better than to talk to you when you've—when you're like this," he groaned. "You're not serious mother!"

what I say. You're forever telling me unpleasant things about myself; now I'll tell you some. I'll have to go back and explain, so you'll understand—Opera singers, in my time, were about what they are now, and the profession was about the same. A girl had to exercise every means at her disposal to get to the top. It was the price. Success in any art must be paid for; every great artist has to make some sort of sacrifice. I made mine, but the reward was worth it. It was worth any price. Art is so much bigger, so much more important than other things—everything else is so small, so trivial, so false and so fleeting. I was young, I had sex appeal, and I had a voice. I used them all to get ahead. I had temperament, too. I lived every role I played; I put vitality and fire into them. When I was on the stage they used to say I was a flaming genius. Flaming!"

Mrs. Holmes tramped about the room as she talked; beneath her feet the bare floor boards creaked.

"I've told you how my big success came abroad. You know all that and how I was anticipating the day when I could come home and achieve my supreme triumph, here in America. How I met your father—in Paris. It wasn't his first affair, nor mine, but it was the first time I had ever been genuinely, madly in love. I didn't know I had it in me. I was a perfect fool. Most women are, by the way, at one time or another. He hadn't a thing—money, I mean—so I gave him what I had earned and what had been given to me. I showed him with gifts, spoiled him, turned his head. He took it all and we lived wildly, extravagantly, drunk with each other's love. That temperament again!

"I suppose it had begun to pall on him even before we learned that you were coming, but he didn't show it. When we discovered that I was going to have a baby, I supposed we talked about marriage—people usually do. Probably that helped to spoil things. Perfect love, perfect romance, was one thing; marriage, squalling children, milk bottles, dirty dishes—that was another. He was an artist. You came between us even before you were born.

"He couldn't bear to see the change in me. My appearance got more and more on his nerves. He quit finally—went away. That was a terrible shock to me; it was enough to kill most of the affection I might have felt for you. Oh, I know it sounds unnatural, incredible! That's because you can't understand how some people are constituted. You're full of story-book sentiment; this was real life. Neither of us was domestic. You won't understand, either, when I tell you that his desertion wouldn't have left any serious results on me; they said, as a matter of fact, that it would make me even a great artist—having suffered. But at least you can understand how it turned me back to my work with a more passionate devotion than ever, since it was all I had left, all that was real and substantial and satisfying. My voice had never been so splendid as it was during that period. My friends told me that a miracle had occurred and that I possessed the most beautiful voice in the world. They worshipped it. They, and I, blessed you as the cause of it.

"Then you were born—Again Mrs. Holmes turned her eyes upon her son, and now they were brilliant, feverish; her face was working. "You know what happened! For a while, the doctor encouraged me to believe that my voice would come back. That was to keep me from killing myself. But it didn't come back. It was gone, lost to the world! There were artists in the company, who would have strangled you, gladly, and hung for it, if it would have brought back Mary Holmes's voice. That's how much they thought of it. That's what a truly great voice means.

"You wonder why I've never been a real mother to you, God! You've been a living reproach to me; every day of your life you have tortured me, stuck knives in me. As if that weren't enough, you've grown into the very image of your father—you're like him, inside and out. I

F. F. A. CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM IN ASSEMBLY

The F. F. A. club presented the program for assembly last Thursday with Doyle Glander acting as master of ceremonies.

A short dialogue was given by Messrs R. Lee Gibson and Ramey Wilson. Messrs R. Lee Gibson, Mitchell Sisson, Jack James and Harrell Wiseman played "Strawberry Roan," "Red Wings," and "Red River Valley," on harps and guitars.

Mr. Leach, sponsor of F. F. A. club proved to be a competent juggler and entertained in that role some time. The next exciting number seemed to be the boxing match, refereed by R. Lee Gibson. Mr. Leach and Ramey Wilson were chief participants. After the boxing match the band played, "Home Sweet Home," and "Casey Jones."

MRS. PAT BOONE SPEAKS ON "HOME" AT P. T. A. MEETING

Sharing, not simply providing a home, was the topic of interest discussed by Mrs. Pat H. Boone at the last P. T. A. meeting.

In the home, the oldest human institution, there has always been affection and protection, but not until later times have we come to realize that the home is not a despotism and that the happiness of the family depends upon the comradeship of each individual, especially the man and his wife who established the home. The parents who share as well as provide a home for their children enjoy a fellowship with them which makes duties a privilege. The children should be allowed to share the duties and responsibilities of the home if we expect them to cooperate with us. Parents who share as well as provide a home for their children are interested in the working and playing hours of their children, whether it be school, church, or friends that their time is occupied. Home is a place of rest and spiritual refreshment.

The homes of the future depend on the homes of today. The major problem then is the rearing of our children so that life may be made beautiful for them, rich in culture, and that they may be successful and useful citizens.

JNIOR PLAY DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

Gay Marshall, an attractive young girl who determined to change her dull life to fit her name, "Gay", was played very effectively by Louise Thornton.

Miss Betty Marshall, Gay's aunt, who never married because no nice young man liked Bobby Ellis asked her, was played by Bess Lair who made a big success in the role.

Lineal Floyd played the part of James Warren, Gay's bachelor uncle and local banker.

Bobby Ellis, a boy whom most girls shunned but that mothers adore was played slowly but surely by Wayne Madden.

Annette Buns, a girl whom most girls envy and mothers discuss, was played by Earnestine Cundiff.

Dick Royster, owner of a smooth line and a roadster, not to mention nimble fingers was played quite efficiently by Hall Rowe.

Elisie, Millie and Jenn, three flappers who borrowed clothes from Gay to attend a dance to which Gay is not even invited, was played by Pauline Wallace, Betty Ann Hilliard and Eudonia Hawthorne.

Looks as though this column is started off each time with an account of some inspection or other. Captain Spurlock, Sub-District Commander, was over from Lubbock again this last week. The Captain was on a tour of the camps of this district. When he left he was accompanied by Lt. Cook who made the tour with him. On his return to this camp Lt. Cook brought Mr. B. F. ### Total Of $28,458.57 In Resettlement Loans Have Been Approved

A total of $28,458.57 in resettlement farm loans handled by the local office, located in the City Hall, have been approved as of April 12. It is believed that resettlement administration farm plan loans will bring approximately two and one-half million acres of Plains farm land into diversified operation this year. There are to be about 8,000 of these loans completed before May, according to Benjamin E. Mallary, head of the rehabilitation program of the Resettlement Administration in the five-state Plains region. Nearly $4,000,000 will be released to rehabilitation clients through these loans.

"The most significant part of the rehabilitation program is that it is to reduce farming risks by bringing the vast acreage under diversified operation," Mr. Mallary said.

"This is particularly important to citizens and businessmen of the Plains as it is to be one of the greatest steps toward ending wind erosion damage and curbing the dust storms.

"It means that these farmers will be taken from a one-crop system of agriculture and placed in position where they are more certain to make a livelihood every year and will have a greater opportunity to get fair return for their labors under normal conditions.

"The government isn't going into partnership with farmers on a high risk basis.

"In cases where farmers are in situations where they can't make a go of things they are placed under some program than rehabilitation," he said.

Every farmer who receives a loan from the Resettlement Administration is required to put into practice the accepted soil and water conservation methods. These have been developed on the Plains by the Texas Extension Service, the extension services in the adjoining states and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Farmers operating under the rehabilitation farm plan are required to have a windmill garden. If they don't have a cow and chickens, they are given opportunity to obtain them through the loan.

Diversified farming, crop management, and soil conservation are the principal factors taken into consideration in drawing up a farm plan. Only when these things can be applied with reasonable assurance of success are the loans made.

Balanced farm plans recommended by Resettlement are practically the same as those endorsed by the Texas Extension Service and are being used on a great percentage of the better farms of the state.

CENTENNIAL COINS IN GREAT DEMAND

Increased demand for the Texas Centennial half-dollars which are being sold by The University of Texas to augment State and Federal funds of $525,000, with which the first unit of the Texas Memorial Museum will be erected, is reflected in the increase in price of the coins as asked throughout the nation, it has been announced here by Beauford H. Jester, general chairman of the coin campaign.

Prices for the coins are quoted at increases of from forty to more than 200 per cent.

Chairman Jester is quite pleased over this fact, as he said this reflected the fact that there was a growing demand for the coins throughout the nation.

Do you soak your dried fruits over night before cooking them? Don't do this, only soak them about two hours before cooking if you want them to retain their best flavor and cook over a slow fire. Mrs. Harris Brantley proved this to members in a demonstration brought from the training school.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN ON G. P. HOWELL FARM

G. P. Howell of Enochs was unfortunate enough to lose his large barn, including the contents, by fire about three o'clock Saturday morning.

Contained in the barn were headed feed, threshed grain, cotton seed, wheat, etc., which were all a complete loss.

The total loss was estimated at about $10,000, which was only partially covered by insurance.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Howell stated he was awakened by a noise, and looking out of his bedroom window he saw the large barn ablaze, and the roof falling in. This barn was erected about three or four years ago.

SPADE NEWS

SPADE VOLLEYBALL TEAM ATTENDS REGIONAL MEET

Spade High school was represented at the Regional Meet at Canyon, Texas, Saturday, April 25 by their volleyball team. These girls had won the championship of District 3 at Lubbock on the Saturday before.

ing and general excitement of sight-seeing, the girls met the Estelline club, which proved to be their Waterloo so far as volleyball goes. The Spade girls could not get going in normal order, so they lost the first two games in rapid succession.

SPADE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB ENTERTAINS

The Spade Home Demonstration club entertained with a forty-two party in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, April 23. The games began at eight-thirty o'clock and continued until refreshments were served at eleven.

True to the Spade way of putting things over in grand style the ladies of the club saw to it that their party was no mere domino shuffle. There was a grand tournament, with visitors from everywhere. The marathon contest kept 24 tables going, and left some 20 or 30 people sitting on the bleachers, ready to substitute for anyone who showed the slightest sign of divided interest.

High score prize for the ladies went to Mrs. E. E. Turner, while like honor for men was won by H. C. Miller. Low score prize for men was captured by Curtis Campbell, even as its sister trophy was taken by Miss Ozella Tucker.

Among the "visitors from afar" who mingled with the gala crowd were: Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Vaughter, Donald Turner, Davis Pounds, Miss Marguerite Hiner, Miss Bernice Westbrook, all of Amherst; Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Doss of Olton; Miss Floy Wells of Idalou; Mrs. Lurlan Crain of Erick, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Goodhart and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Erwin of Anton; Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Wells,

Mr. and Mrs. Green Now Have a Horse

NEW ORLEANS... Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Green, two daughters and a son of Jena, La., were too proud to go on relief. They had a patch of ground but no horse. During 1934 and 1935 they tilled the soil by "human horse" power, taking turns in twos of pulling the plow in the cotton patch. This year the Rural Settlement Administration heard... and supplied a horse. Photo shows Mr. Green, wife and one of the daughters with the horse... which neighbors say "is treated just like one of the family."

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Touchon, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wallin, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Knowles, Miss Eunice Stanfield, and Messrs. J. H. Ware, R. V. Renfro, Morris Morgan, Robert Armstrong, Arthur Mueller, Cloyce Knowles, and Claud Marshall, all of Littlefield.

The money raised by this entertainment will be used to send representatives to the short course of study offered this summer as usual at A. and M. College.

INCREASE IN SCHOLASTICS

According to R. L. Stubblefield, census trustee for the Spade District, there has been an increase of some seven scholastics over the number enumerated last year. The total for the year 1936-37 is 294.

Spade people have a new look on their face and a gay song in the heart since a light rain of about a quarter of an inch fell there Sunday afternoon. Now there is hope for more moisture soon, and less sand in the air.

FRESHMEN GIVE ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Wednesday, April 22, was Freshman Day in so far as assembly was concerned. The class entertained the student body and visitors for about thirty of the forty-five minutes. The remaining time was given to group singing of Texas songs.

SPADE GRAMMAR SCHOOL SINGS AT SUDAN

Twenty-four girls and twenty-one boys, besides six or seven teachers, went to Sudan Saturday morning, April 25, to be part of Lamb County's Centennial song program.

In all there were five junior choruses and one senior chorus present. Littlefield, Sudan, Amherst, Hart Camp, and Spade groups sang. Some of the numbers given were: "Texas, Beautiful Texas," "Sing a Little Song," "The Eyes of Texas," "Texas, Our Texas," "Old Black Joe," "Home on the Range," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Oh, Susanna," "Springtime in Texas," and "The Texas Bluebonnet."

CALL FOR BASKETBALL PLAYERS

Coaches Jackson and Montgomery made a call Monday morning for 1936-37 basketball players and began their spring training. There are some twenty boys and about thirty girls coming out. The boys will lose one man from their line-up; the girls do not lose any.

TWO PENNANTS PRESENTED SCHOOL

The Spade Parent-Teacher association presented the school with two beautiful pennants last Wednesday, April 22. One is a large Texas pennant; the other is a Spade pennant, done in black and white, the school colors, and bearing the Longhorn emblem. The volleyball girls also presented the pennant won at the district meet for the first place in volleyball. This makes a total of seven pennants now displayed in the study hall and hallway by the Spade pupils.

Bacon Fry Enjoyed At Blackwater Draw

Last Friday evening quite a large delegation of Littlefield folks drove out to the newly constructed dam on Blackwater Draw, and enjoyed a regular "old-time supper on the range" around the camp fire. The event was sponsored by O. K. Yantis, a rancher of many years' experience, and M. L. Garrett, genial carrier on R. F. D. No. 1.

A huge camp fire was built on a nice, clean place on the upper side of the dam, and coffee pots and frying pans were brought into play, with the result that soon large platters of fried bacon, eggs and potatoes, with all the customary condiments—including plenty of smoke and ashes—were ready for consumption, and the balmy evening air heavy with the savory aroma from the frying pans, and the pots and kettles of boiling coffee.

This delicious repast, augmented by pickles, onions, lettuce, bread, pies, cakes, etc., was partaken of by the following:

Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Yantis and son Darwood, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Garrett and daughter Miss Orea, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Gregg and two children, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bell and daughter Wilma Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gattis, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brawley, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brawley and two children, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Chandler (of Anton), Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lichte and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Jones and daughter Miss Edith, Mrs. Jim Carroll and daughter, Mrs. Carol Blackwell and two children, Gordon Self, Mesdames Kelley, Harper and Modell Jeffries, Misses Catherine McCormick, Fay Allen, Omega Allen, Willie Fay Bird, Euna Fay Carey and Juavan Hones.

A few games of mumblepeg were engaged in, one of marked interest being that in which O. K. Yantis won over Luther Brawley, causing Luther to have to "root the peg," however O. K., was so anxious to drive the peg out of sight with "one lick with his eyes open," he missed it entirely.

After much pleasant conversation and songs and readings by the younger set, about ten o'clock the camp fire was allowed to die down, and the party left for their homes and happy dreams, but possibly most of the dreams terminated in nightmares caused by an over indulgence in the savory repast.

TUCKER'S SHORTENING USED EXCLUSIVELY AT COOKING SCHOOL

Gertrude Burbank has chosen Tucker's Shortening exclusively for the Cooking School chiefly because Mrs. Tucker is one shortening manufacturer who has remained on Cottonseed Oil standard and because of the continued use of Cottonseed Oil in the Southwest, which is the largest cotton crops world.

Burbank, knows there has been a tendency for manufacturers to turn from Cottonseed Oil because it costs more than many substitutes, but as Cottonseed Oil has been approved by government and other agencies to be the finest Shortening material and as the use of this oil makes the cooking better in the South, she appreciates Mrs. Tucker's decision to use Cottonseed Oil exclusively.

Mrs. Tucker was the first shortening manufacturer to place on containers the following statement—

 "Made EXCLUSIVELY from CHOICE Cottonseed Oil"—and she has pledged that, regardless of the cheapness of inferior oils and fats, to stay with Cottonseed Oil, which is known to be a better shortening agent and more digestible.

A recent visit to Mrs. Tucker's plant in Sherman, Texas, developed that the Interstate Cotton Oil Refining Company, which manufactures Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, has made many improvements in method and equipment during the last few months which have tended to make this Shortening better than ever before. New refining processes plus Mrs. Tucker's cellophane inner-seal for cartons have made Mrs. Tucker's Shortening always available in factory-fresh, sweet and odorless cartons. By triple-creaming the shortening, Mrs. Tucker has made it possible for cooks to mix her Shortening with other ingredients without tire-some creaming. And as there is no moisture in Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, it will not pop nor spatter when used for frying. Speaking of frying, the cooking expert uses Mrs. Tucker's Shortening for deep fat frying because it heats without burning, smoking or popping; makes foods more digestible and as it does not absorb the odors of foods fried in it, Mrs. Tucker's may be used over and over again for economy.

The word economy reminds the cooking expert that Mrs. Tucker's is a superior Shortening and that the housewife does not have to use as much of it as she does ordinary cooking fats. Mrs. Tucker, who is affectionately called "The Mother of the Southwest," is urging all her friends to visit her during the Texas Centennial. Her plant is always open to visitors, and Southwestern people will be interested in seeing how their shortening is made.

Lamb County Ranks Sixth In State For Number Mule Colts

Donald Turner, county agent, of Lamb county reports that Texas ranked first in the number of mule colts under two years of age on January 1, 1935, as shown by census figures.

It will be of especial interest to the horse and mule men in this county to know that Lamb county had 141 mules under two years of age, making the county rank 6th in the state.

Despite this, neither the county, nor the state, are raising enough young mules to supply replacements needed. Wayne Dinsmore, Secretary of the Horse and Mule association of America, who has just sent County Agent Turner a very valuable report on the successful management of jacks for mule production, advises that there is a great shortage of young mules in the United States, as there are only 11 mule colts coming three years of age this spring where there should be 52 for replacement purposes alone. This indicates what a tremendous shortage exists.

The limiting factor in mule production for the next few years will be the number of jacks available. There are not nearly enough jacks; hence, it is highly desirable for men having jacks, to get them in the most vigorous possible condition for breeding, in order that they may be both prompt and fertile in breeding mares. The report Mr. Dinsmore has just sent to Mr. Turner contains comprehensive information on how this can be accomplished and jack owners are invited to visit the County Agent's office for the purpose of reading the report in question. Men who have mares to breed to jacks are also welcome to examine the report, which will be of distinct practical assistance to them.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains so monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Halleville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

National Tomato Show Is Planned At Jacksonville

Jacksonville, Texas, April 20.—Jacksonville is completing preparations for the National Tomato show which will be given here May 31 through June 6 in celebration of national tomato week.

The celebration will open Centennial Exposition week in Texas, preceding by six days the launching of the $25,000,000 Centennial exposition in Dallas. Events of a Centennial nature will be featured on the program.

Show officials, encouraged last year by entries made from as far away as Florida, are arranging to accommodate even more extensive exhibits this year. The event will have even a greater recognition in the Court of the National Tomato Queen with princesses present from all states which grow tomatoes in commercial quantities. Governors of 25 states have been invited to name princesses to the pageant.

RECEIVED $70,913 FOR REFINANCING THE HOME OWNERS

Home owners in Lamb county have received loans, for refinancing purposes, from the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, amounting to $70,913, as of January 2, 1936, according to an announcement made by H. P. Drought, State Director of the National Emergency Council for Texas. This total represents 35 individual loans to home owners.

The total amount of loans closed in Texas by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation as of January 2, 1936, was $101,823,418, representing 43,741 individual loans. Six hundred and fifty-nine applications were pending on the above date.

As of March 26, 1936, 1,000,749 loans, amounting to $3,031,168,924 had been closed by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation throughout the United States. The average loan amounted to $3,030. On March 26, 1936, 17,963 loan requests remained on file with the Corporation.

your grave. I dare say you expect sympathy, but what about me, the fellow who has always cherished an old-fashioned reverence for motherhood and who believes in pure women and such things? You mentioned the hand of God, a while ago. The hand of God is on you, mother; it's on both of us. I-I'm afraid it will destroy us both." Without another word Gerald walked to the door, opened it, and stumbled out into the night.

The time was when Westland had been a first-class theatrical town and most of the good road shows had played it. But conditions had changed. Chicago was only a few hours away, picture palaces had been built, and now the old West Theatre, the city's leading playhouse, ran a stock company. It was a good stock company, however; Amos Ethridge, the owner of the property, had prided himself upon being a patron of the drama and he had seen to that; in consequence a number of well-known artists were usually featured upon the West's billing. This season the most popular, if not actually the most prominent, member of the Ethridge players was Hazel Woods, the youthful leading woman. Mr. Ethridge had hired her out of a New York dramatic success and Westland considered itself fortunate in having a real Broadway favorite to worship.

Stock engagements in small cities like Westland are often both profitable and pleasant, for salaries are good, the players from new friendships, they enjoy an agreeable social life, and receive numerous courtesies and advantages not infrequently denied them in larger cities. In Miss Wood's case, for instance, Ethridge had put a charming little house at her disposal, rent free, there being no really first-class residential hotel in Westland; and there she revealed in the unfamiliar joys of housekeeping and entertained as much as her arduous duties permitted. Being a very pretty, very sprightly young woman, she had quickly made herself popular.

Through Amos Ethridge she had met Gerald Holmes. She and Gerald were about the same age, but in experience he was much younger than she, and this fact, perhaps, as much as her shyness, his modesty, and his undeniable genius had engendered in her a desire to "mother" him and to help him along. Some men awaken in women an impulse to hover them, and Jerry was one. But not many emotional young women with abundant personal charm can successfully maintain a maternal attitude towards an attractive and magnetic young fellow, no matter how humble and how reverent may be his regard at the beginning.

—There was only one possible outcome to this affair. Gerald fell head over heels in love and, having nothing to share it all with her, Hazel had astonished him by accepting. Eagerly, and yet with caution, she became engaged to him; she promised to marry him—some time.

near the stage entrance of the theatre a few minutes after eleven he experienced his first genuine regret at having permitted himself to fall in love. What his mother had so brutally told him an hour before left him dismayed, sick. All the way in from her farm he had asked himself whether he should tell Hazel and risk—may invite her to break the engagement, or whether he should deceive her. His duty seemed plain, but the mere possibility of losing her was unbearable. He was in turmoil.

Members of the cast and some of the stage hands were leaving as he entered the stage door and spoke to Jacob Riggs, the doorman. He and Jacob were great friends and the old fellow welcomed him with a smile.

"She's dressing, but she'll be out in a few minutes," the latter announced. "Have a good time in Chicago?"

"Not exactly a good time," Gerald said, with an effort to speak naturally. "I was too much upset by the news of Mr. Ethridge's death. It must have been a terrible shock to Miss Woods and to all of you."

"Yeah!" Jacob nodded. "It caused quite a stir all over town. 'All Judah did Hezekiah honor at his death.' D' you think they'll ever find out who done it?"

"I hope so. I can't bear to think—you see, he did a great deal for me. He was a real friend."
"He treated me all right, too, but—" Jacob shook his white head. "A lot of things about him we didn't know, Jerry. A lot nobody knows. The Lord works in a mysterious way and the wicked is doomed to destruction."
