

Most Typical War Veteran Family"

YORK CITY . . . From thousands of entries and after months of eliminations, the "Typical American War Veteran and his Family" (shown above), were selected at the annual meeting of the Seventy-ninth Division Association at their clubhouse in New York. The group went to Fred J. Wallin, 46-year-old building superintendent, his wife and two children.

SCOUTS TO RULE OUR CITY TODAY

Events of Boy Scout week in Littlefield will be marked with keener interest among the boys themselves than those of any other day, Thursday, which has been designated "Government Day." The boys will have charge of the city's Rotary program, when "Red News" will be given by four scouts. Safety with the axe will be given by a group, and twenty questions will be asked Rotarians by Truett Boles.

Littlefield will have four mayors this afternoon, when boys from each troop will assist Mayor Pat Boone with the affairs of the city. Likewise, city secretaries, constables, and commissioners from each troop will serve.

Three more indictments were returned, but announcement was not made as to the nature of the charges in view of the fact that those charged had not been arrested.

Sheriff Sam Hutson announced that arrests had been made in all of the jury indictments pending for this term of court, with

POPE PIUS XI LAID TO REST AT ST. PETERS

Body in Triple Caskets; Viewed by Million Pilgrims

Pope Pius XI, who passed away last Friday, at the age of 81, was laid to rest on Tuesday with the customary pomp that marks the funerals of the rulers of the Roman Catholic church. From the time of his death last Friday until the hour of the funeral solemnities, the body lay in state at St. Peter's in the Vatican City. It is conservatively estimated that nearly a million pilgrims passed by the bier of the beloved Pope. Pope Pius XI had suffered a stroke about two years ago and been in failing health ever since.

Immediately after the Pope's demise the summons for a conclave of cardinals was issued. It is a rule of the church that a successor must be elected within 18 days after the death of the pope. The Cardinals are now in confinement at the Va-

H. DIRICKSON TO BOX IN STATE GOLDEN GLOVES

Eight District Champs to Compete With 115 State Mitt Tossers

Among the eight member team who left Lubbock Wednesday morning for Fort Worth, to enter the State Golden Gloves tournament this week-end, is Herman Dirickson of Littlefield, winner of the light heavyweight division in the District tourney. Others include three boxers from Lubbock, two from Slaton, and two from Abernathy. All have been training diligently and are in top condition for the biggest test of their young fistic careers. Should any of them capture a state championship he would represent Texas in the national Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago.

Dirickson proved his metal and ability by thrashing his way to victory in the tough Littlefield tournament before entering the district. In his final fight he ran up against Oscar "Red" Robinson of Amherst, whose record as a slugger and kno-

He also read a letter from Dr. C. G. Rook, chemist, who visited Littlefield last week, expressing his delight in the possibilities of Lamb county, and the chance of building an insulation plant here.

100,000 Acres Have Been Leased by Major Companies

Five blocks of land in Lamb county, ranging from 7,000 to 15,000 acres each, have been assembled by major oil companies, according to reliable information obtained this week.

Oil leasing took on new activity recently, and leasing has been under way in real earnest.

Prospects Good "Prospects look good for oil development in this section," stated C. J. Duggan, one of those responsible for the leasing of the above blocks, and who is in close contact with the major companies.

Seismograph crews have been busy in this section for some time.

New Block Started A block of land northeast of town, which is being assembled by the Griffin-Chester Land company, is practically completed, and work got underway Monday in the assembling of a block south and west of town.

These blocks are being assembled for major oil companies, and leases are being taken on a 10-year basis. Clint Griffin announced Wednesday that $1.50 per acre was being paid all those who leased their land, and that 5,000 acres had been leased by his company, and those associated with him, the first three days of this week.

Assisting Mr. Griffin and Mr. Chester in this work are Jake Hopping, Bob Badger, A. R. Hendricks and J. C. Elms.

Never Too Old

Last week a seventy year old man, received his diploma at one of the evening high schools in Chicago. For more than forty years this man has occupied a responsible position in the U. S. postal service and did not find time or opportunity, to catch up with education until after he had rendered much more than the average man's lifetime service. The thought that comes to us is—how much of living this man had missed. There are—of course, millions of humans who go through life in blissful ignorance, but our sympathy is with those men and women who are ever conscious of their lack of education. Does your imagination carry you into this man's inner life, and up to the supreme moment when he triumphed over a life full of handicaps, barriers and deprivation? We believe this incident should be related to every school child in America. Perhaps they would realize the full blessings of a modern education, and more fully appreciate the opportunities which are theirs.

What little "Larnin" we may have, was assembled the tough way; short spells of school and college work, supplemented by scraps of information and a patchwork pattern of reading, have left us in that condition where we know a very little about a great many things, and—not much about any one thing in particular. The abiding regret of our life has been and is—our inability to complete our education in any specific direction. Right now we are devoting what little spare time we can find—to the study of just two books, a condensed encyclopedia and an unabridged dictionary. Trying desperately to crowd facts into our consciousness; doing-hurriedly, with a thread-bare mind, the things that school children may do leisurely and thoroughly—with fresh, whole thinking equipment. When these ambitious high school and college youngsters, come to us, and ask for formulas that may help them in creating a journalistic career for themselves; we are forced to tell them that they are already further along than we shall ever be. They have a real foundation whereas our house was built upon the shifting sands of circumstances.

Some Cheering Statistics

We're getting richer. That is the gist of the report just issued by the Department of Commerce on the incomes of the American people. We haven't got back to where we were in 1929, when the average income of every American man, woman and child, was $668, but for the year 1937 the average income was $540, which is a good deal better than the $494 of 1936. The figures for 1938, of course, have not as yet been compiled.

Statistics are boring, and often misleading, but it is interesting to learn that the total national income for 1937 was more than 63 billion dollars, ten per cent higher than in 1936, but still a long way below the 1929 record of over 81 billions.

A billion is such a big figure that it doesn't mean much to most folks. It is easier to understand if you think of a thousand towns with a thousand people in each town and every one of them having a thousand chickens. That would make a billion chickens.

One of the heartening things about the Department of Commerce report on incomes is that in 1937 the people of this country earned more than they spent. Not the government, but the people themselves.

We accumulated a surplus in the shape of savings bank deposits and business reserves. Another interesting fact hidden in the long string of figures is that more than two-thirds of all the money spent by everybody in the whole nation in 1937 went for salaries and wages, which is an increase over previous years.

There is so much talk on all sides about the trouble so many folks have in making both ends meet that many of us seem to have been bitten by the "poverty bug." Such figures as those cited should make us all feel more cheerful. America is far from broke.—Kerrville Times.

Hockley County Health Unit Organized Jan. 26

LEVELLAND. — Mrs. Stephenson of Floydada, district health nurse at Levelland, recently organized a unit of the State Health Association. A county-wide group of interested citizens attended, and lected the following officers: County Superintendent T. O. Petty, president; Mrs. J. F. Tomlinson, of Center, vice-president; Mrs. J. T. Gwin, of Smyer, secretary. The association's first activity will be to make a health survey of the county with emphasis being placed on the physical condition of school children and their needs. This work has been under the supervision of the County Health Nurse for the past several months. It is also proposed to create a greater interest in public health throughout the county.

The resignation of Miss Anna Ericson, County Health Nurse, becomes effective on February 1. Because of county finances, no immediate successor will be employed.

THE MAN HUNT

PRAIRIE WEEDS

Gathered by OLE DRIFTER

Howdy Folks:

Several big-hearted clothiers, have offered to take my measure for Easter duds, and let me pay for them on the conscription plan—a dollar down and a dollar everytime they see me. I'm just a little bit afraid that they'll be seeing too much of me. Can't help but feel that everytime I meet them I'll be wondering whether my clothes ain't draped around the wrong man. Much as I should like to blossom out in real wicked Spring togs and startle the native sports—I don't like to be butting into guys with that dollar look in their eyes. So—I'll have one of the model clean-shaven bring back the youth of my ageing wardrobe, and—I'll fool the public. Even—if I don't, at least I'll be able to look them in the eye.

Many years ago, I took Andrew Carnegie's advice—and went into debt—plenty. You see—I only took half of his advice; the other half was—to also get out of debt. I overlooked the most important part of Andy's sermon until I had overwhelmingly complied with the advice that is usually recorded with red ink and—blood. So—now, when even the best looking collector calls on me—they appear to me like Frankenstein—if you get what I mean. Economists will tell you that credit is the mainstay of the world's commerce, industry and social relations. No doubt—that's true; it just so happens that credit bore me down instead of holding me up.

Sports writers created the term "Man Mountain" when they were referring to that colossal wrestler Dean. As I was reading an account of the recent ceremony at Princeton, when Dr. Albert Einstein presented the trophy to Dr. Thomas Mann (Both Hitler Exiles,) that perhaps, the term "Mind-Mountain" might be applicable to each of them. This particular trophy is known as the Einstein Award, and is presented each year for the outstanding achievement in the cause of civilization. The presentation and acceptance speeches, are gems of thought which will shed their light over my feeble intelligence, for many years to come. By the way—I am saving the news article which contains both speeches. It is most interesting and if you'd like to read it I'll be glad to let you have it.

This is a real big week in my calendar. Littlefield Fathers and Sons, will climax the Boy Scouts celebration with a Father and Son banquet. Will I be there? Just try and keep me away. It so happens that both of my sons turned out daughters but I know a couple of mighty fine freckle faced kids, and they've agreed to tag along with me and let me play "Boys' Dad" for one great and glorious evening. If so—that you too—have no sons of your own, take my advice, and gather as many youngsters as you can afford to buy meal tickets for and get all set for one of the biggest and best evenings you ever had in all your life. The banquet will be staged at the American Legion hut and will be served by the Legion Auxiliary. There is usually a capacity crowd. So—take a tip, and get in touch with Von Lankin, Doc Orr, Gene Latimer, Bill Street, Frank Bartley, Marvin Norwood or any of the other Boy Scout sponsors, so that you won't miss out on this big event.

Had a letter from Mr. Rook, the chemist who visited Littlefield a few days ago. Since returning to his laboratory in Gladewater, he has gone further into the investigation of the possibilities for establishing a plant in this area. He advises me that he has received from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, a special folder which they had prepared, containing all the special information as to the availability of raw materials in the six nearby counties. The Lubbock organization offers Mr. Rook every aid and facility for locating this industry in the South Plains. They also assured Mr. Rook that in the event that Littlefield proved to be the logical location for this industry—Lubbock would help in every way possible towards getting this plant for us. Mr. Rook also discovered that there is an ample gypsum supply within the 100 mile radius of Littlefield.

Sponsored by the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce—a Chemurgic meeting was held there—this week. Mr. Rook was on the program and has promised to advise me as to the interesting developments at that important conference. I say "important" because the eyes of the nation are very much turned towards "Chemurgy" as the result factor that will lift agriculture this country out of the throes of federal charity, and on to a dignified status of self-support. I hope to have some real good news for you very shortly. You may be assured that I am following up every possible angle, in my determination to land one or more new industries for Littlefield and Lamb county.

So long, DAVE SCHEIN.

FIRST INSTALLMENT

Marjorie Wetherill had always been told when she was so young that it meant nothing at all. And as the years went by she was surrounded by love and she thought little of it.

When she was in high school she had asked about her own personality, more out of curiosity because of any felt need for and she had been told that she was a respectable person who was unfortunate and couldn't bring her up as they would like to have her brought up. All had been very vague. But Marjorie was happy, and her foster mother greatly stressed the fact that Marjorie had not been born when she had been chosen because they loved her at first sight, that meant more even than if she had been born theirs.

Marjorie Wetherill was a devoted paragon and she and Marjorie were companions.

When Mr. Wetherill died Marjorie was still in her school life, and she and the mother were brought even closer together, so that Mrs. Wetherill was suddenly taken with an illness that they knew would be swift and fatal. The girl spent the last months of her foster mother's life in utter devotion to her. When it was over and she was alone, she felt very desolate and life seemed empty indeed.

There were many friends of Mrs. Wetherill, and she had a pleasant social circle, and there were instant invitations for visits here and there, but Marjorie had no heart to go. She seemed empty and uninterested.

One morning about ten days before Christmas, because she could settle to anything else, and because she had been almost dreading to see her beloved foster mother's intimate papers, she went to Mrs. Wetherill's desk in her living room, unlocked it, and to look over the papers in the pigeon holes.

As she went from drawer to drawer, emptying every pigeon hole, burning in the fireplace such papers as had to be destroyed, she finally to the little secret drawer, and there she found among other important papers, a letter for herself.

"Dearest Marjorie," it read, "I have never told you much about your own people. I did not realize how much myself to tell, until two years ago. My husband never told you that you were twins. You were a very beautiful baby, and so was your twin sister, yet you had a frailer look than you, and we found upon questioning she had little chance to live and she could have an operation and special treatment, which your parents were unable to give her.

But though neither of you were candidates for adoption, yet I had set my heart upon you. After seeing you, all the other babies looked common to me. So, my husband set about it to see what he could do. He discovered that your father was not strong and needed to get away to the country where he could have light work and be out of doors. My husband finally put it up to your mother while she was still in the hospital, that she should give her consent to our adopting you. Mr. Wetherill agreeing to finance the treatment of both your father and little sister.

Once, when you were about three months old, your mother wrote me, begging that she might come and see you, but I persuaded her that it would be better for us all if she did not.

But then, about a year ago, just as you were graduating from Miss Evans' School, your mother came to see me.

He snatched at her hands again.

I really felt very sorry for her. She looked so much like you that I began to feel like a criminal. She wanted to see you. But I would not let her. I felt it would be a catastrophe for you at your time of life. Your big photograph taken in your graduating dress was on the desk and I showed it to her, and finally gave it to her.

She went away sobbing and I have never forgotten it.

And now that I am about to die I feel that I should leave behind me this information so that you may do what you wish in the matter. Perhaps you will want to do something for your own mother. You will have quite a fortune, my dear, and you are free to do what you wish with it, of course.

So I am giving you your mother's name and address. Do whatever your heart dictates.

Your loving Mother,
May D. Wetherill.

Below was an address in an en-

tern city:
Mrs. John Gay, 1465 Aster Street.

And below that, in pencil, had been written uncertainly as if with an idea of erasing it:
"The name by which they called you was Dorothy."

She bowed her head on the letter and wept. First for the only mother she had known, and then for the mother she had not known. How pitiful it all seemed! So many little babies in the world without homes, and yet she should have been loved so intensely by two mothers!

Then suddenly a thrill came to her heart. But they were her very own, whatever they were! How wonderful that would be! And her mother had wanted her, enough to come a long distance to see her!

That night she could not sleep and lay staring about in the darkness of her room—the room that Mrs. Wetherill had made so beautiful for her—realizing how safe and has that got to do with it?"

They were sitting on the deep couch, Marjorie at one end, Evan near the other, but now he leaned across with a comforting manner and looked into her eyes.

"It's my family. My own family, I mean. They are my own people, Evan!"

"Nonsense! Nothing of the kind!" said Evan lifting his well-modeled chin haughtily. "You are no more connected with them than I am. They gave you up! I should think you would never want to see or hear of them!"

Something in the harshness of his tone made Marjorie give a little shiver and draw her hand quietly away from under his.

"I don't feel that way, Evan!" she said gently, marveling that after her hours of doubt she suddenly felt clear in her mind about the matter.

"You don't know all about it, or you wouldn't say that either, I'm quite sure. Mother left a letter telling me about my people and suggesting that I might want to hunt them up and see if there was anything I could do for them."

"And I still say, 'Let sleeping dogs lie,' Evan said coldly. And then he laid his hand once more on hers in a possessive way as if he owned her.

"They never cared anything for you or they wouldn't have sold you in the first place. And now you are a being of another world than theirs and they have no right to intrude into your life and try to get your property away from you! I insist—"

Marjorie drew her hand decidedly away from under his again and stood up, her own chin lifted defiantly, her eyes bright and indignant.

"Evan! You must not talk that way! You simply don't understand at all."

"But, darling, be reasonable!" said Evan softening his voice. Marjorie didn't even notice he had called her darling. It was such a common phrase of the day, and Evan was a very close friend. But his voice was less aggressive now, more gentle. He got up and stood beside her, taking her hands in his and drawing her nearer to him. "Listen, little girl! If you are really serious about this thing, of course it will have to be investigated. I still think it would be better not, but if you have set your conscience to it, I beg you will let me do the investigating for you. I am a lawyer—I know how to protect your interests, and I will do whatever you want done conscientiously. I am sure you can trust me, Marjorie. I love you, don't you know it, little girl?"

She looked up at him startled. It was the first time he had ever spoken of love. He had just been a good friend, somewhat as she supposed a brother might be, only more polite than some brothers.

She drew back and tried gently to take her hands away from his clasp, but he held them firmly and drew her closer.

"Dear little girl!" he said suddenly, putting his face down and laying his cheek against hers, seeking her lips with his own and pressing a kiss upon them.

For an instant she yielded herself to that embrace, her lips to that kiss; but only an instant so brief it might scarcely have been recognized by the man as yielding. For suddenly she sprang away, and put out her hands in protest.

"No, please, not now! I can't think of such things now!"

He snatched at her hands again, trying to draw her back quietly to his embrace.

"Poor child!" he said stooping and kissing her fingers gently. "Don't you realize that this is where you belong, in my arms? Don't you love me?"

"I don't know!" said Marjorie turning unhappy eyes away from him. "I haven't even thought of you in this way. And my heart is full of so many other things now."

And he suddenly drew her close again and pressed hot kisses on her lips.

But now she sprang away again, covering her face with her hands.

"No! No!" she cried out. "I will not let you kiss me until I am sure, and I am not now! Please, won't you go away and let me think? My mind is so tired and all mixed up!"

"Poor child!" he said gently. "I am sorry if I have seemed to hurry you, I only wanted to show you that I am your natural protector. But I am willing to wait, to go slow, till your sorrow is not so sharp. I only ask one thing of you, and that is that you will not make any move in this matter of your family till you have talked with me again. That you will think it over, and if anything has to be done you will let me handle it for you. Will you promise?"

Marjorie was still for several seconds, looking down at her hands clasped tightly before her, then she said slowly, seriously:

"I will promise to think over what you said. Everything that you have said."

LOCAL TROOPS OBSERVE WEEK

The outstanding event of Boy Scout week in Littlefield and perhaps the highlight of the week's activities, will be the Father-Son banquet tonight (Thursday) at the First Methodist church.

The following program has been announced with the theme, Development of Comradship; toastmaster will be J. G. West, Jr., and the invocation by Rev. M. B. Norwood. A song, "The More We Get Together," will be sung by the group before dinner is served.

"Real Scouting" will be discussed by Joe Hutchinson of Sudan; solo by Charles Heathman; "A Father's Expectations" will be given by Pryor Harmon, and "A Son's Expectations," by Pat Boone, Jr. A game will be played, and the sounding of the Taps will be played before the Scout Benediction.

Easily the most popular summer spot among Boy Scouts of South Plains council is Camp Post, a 400-acre tract two and one-half miles southwest of the town of Post.

During each of the past several summers, it has provided the opportunity for outings of from one day to a week for several hundred scouts and leaders of the council. The number enrolled in regular encampments there has increased with each year, with expectation that the increase will continue year to year for a long time to come.

It came to South Plains scouts from the C. W. Post estate in March, 1925, largely through the instrumentality of Sam Bardwell, manager of the Double U ranch, Marshall Mason of Post, present chairman of the camp committee, and K. N. Clapp of Lubbock selected the site with Bardwell's cooperation.

For the most part the area is rugged, many of its bluffs and canyons being covered with mesquite and cedar, providing a terrain which is ideally suited for the numerous hikes and rides which are an important part of the nature study activities included in the program of nearly all of the camps. Water is secured from a spring near the center of the site.

Present improvements on the camp include a mess hall measuring 35 by 75 feet, a modern caretaker's home which serves also as a handicraft lodge, a cabin 20 by 20 feet in size, a 30,000-gallon water tank for storage, a pumping and distribution system which provides running water for various portions of the ground. It also has shower baths, sanitary latrines, a handy shelter and a barn. Oscar Hyles is the caretaker.

Kept constantly available at the camp are large numbers of tents, tarpaulins, tables and cooking equipment.

One of the improvements planned for the near future is a swimming pool, though uncertainty exists as to just how soon it can be provided. At the present time, boys find their swimming in Two-draw lake, two and one-half miles distant, to which they are conveyed in trucks. This arrangement, however, is not entirely satisfactory, because in dry seasons there is no swimming.

A considerable historical background associated with the old west and wild Indians clings about the tract. For many years, one of the central structures was the "old ranch house," said to have been one of the first residences built on the South Plains and when it burned it still carried the marks of Indian arrows and bullets. Hundreds of arrowheads have been found about the place. The house was destroyed by fire in the summer of 1937.

Million Boy Scouts Celebrate Week; Nation's Ideals, Theme

More than 1,000,000 Boy Scouts in the United States join this week in the annual observance for which those of the South Plains council have made such extensive plans.

Among its many objectives will be to remind anew those actively affiliated with the movement of their responsibilities and obligations and to further acquaint those not affiliated with aims and accomplishments of Boy Scouting.

Organization of Boy Scouts of America, leaders here recalled, was started on Feb. 8, 1910, with the late William D. Boyce, Chicago publisher, the founder. The year before Boyce had become lost in a London fog. A British Boy Scout of identity unknown came to his assistance and performed the good deed which resulted in the spread of Boy Scouting to two continents—the two Americas.

In the United States alone, according to latest figures to South Plains officials, are more than 1,233,000 scouts, cubs and leaders. Among those are 271,672 men and women leaders who serve entirely without remuneration.

Since scouting was brought to America 23 years ago, it has had a part in moulding the lives of more than 8,400,000 boys who have been enrolled as members.

The amazing spread of the movement in the United States is reflected in the fact that not far short of half of the scouts in the world are in this country. In the world are somewhat fewer than 3,000,000 in 47 different nations.

The fact that it is continuing its spread is evidenced by the fact that during the past year, membership increased 13 per cent. Despite depression and other unfavorable circumstances from time to time, according to national records, there never has been a year which has failed to show an increase over the previous one.

In the United States, according to the latest figures, there are approximately 40,000 units of scouting—including scout troops, cub packs and Sea Scout "ships." The term "ship" corresponding to a Boy Scout troop.

One of the pledges of each individual boy and leader is to do at least one good deed each day, and that perhaps is the greatest service rendered. It is less spectacular and less dramatic, however, than the work of the scouts during floods, tornadoes and other catastrophes. In the New England floods of September, 1938, 80,000 Boy Scouts were mobilized.

It is the most dramatic of all boys' organizations. Neither race, color, creed, language nor wealth is a consideration for membership.

The fact that it is a force for democracy is reflected in the fact that in the dictator nations—Italy, Germany and Russia, Boy Scouting has been abolished and has been subject to constant attack. In those nations it has been supplanted by youth movements of various kinds which are designed to prepare the boys for war.

Scouts Mobilize In Eighteen Minutes Monday Night

One of the most stirring of the activities marking observance of National Boy Scout week in Littlefield was the annual mobilization Monday night.

Almost a record was made when 51 scouts mobilized in 18 minutes, here, scout officials announced.

There are about 60 scouts at the present time, and for 51 to assemble in such short notice, means that the local boys are "on their toes."

The winning troop, 68, reported 100 per cent present in six minutes, Frank Bartley, scoutmaster, stated. Troop 25 had 100 per cent present in 10 minutes, and troop 26, with a total of 25 boys, reported about 80 per cent present in 18 minutes.

The practical value of the event is that it provides the system for the speedy mobilization of scouts should emergency create need for services.

Exact time of the mobilization was not announced to the various scoutmasters through their commissioners until late Monday. The scoutmasters notified patrol leaders and they in turn the individual scouts where the place of assembly is to be.

Lost — Borrowed

Is he absent-minded or painfully polite? That question arose in the reporter's mind when Earl Hobbs, principal of the high school, notified her that he had forgotten whom he loaned his portable typewriter to last spring. Perhaps his query as to the whereabouts of the much needed instrument is a bit of Socratic irony. At any rate—Mr. Hobbs is really in need of said typewriter and will the borrower be good enough to leave it on Mr. Hobbs' desk? No questions will be asked.

HOMEMAKING CLASSES

The first year Homemaking girls have just finished an interesting unit on "Being a Friend to Children." We have made several toys for children including a cradle, a wagon and stuffed toys.

Last Thursday afternoon we entertained six little guests at a party in the Homemaking department. After the reading of stories, refreshments of chopped egg sandwiches, stewed peaches, gingerbread men cookies and cocoa were served. The main attraction of the party seemed to be the gingerhouse which formed the centerpiece for the table. Snowy frosting hung in glittering icicles from the edge of the roof and chimney. Surrounding the house were gum drop trees which added color to the scene. "Snowmen" made of marshmallows were plate favors.

The children were also highly interested in a toy zebra which had been made of stripped material.

The second year Homemaking girls visited the Payne-Shotwell and Littlefield hospitals Wednesday afternoon as a completion of a study of home nursing. The girls were greatly interested in seeing an X-ray picture taken, blood count, an oxygen tent, basal metabolism apparatus and other objects of unusual interest. This trip was well worth our time.

Texas Farm Income To Be Increased by Fourteen Million

Prospects for Texas farm income in 1939 are at least fourteen million dollars brighter now than on January 1, when the AAA estimated $42,000,000 would be issued in "conservation payments" to farmers of this state who took part in the national acreage curtailment program of 1938.

The AAA now estimates such payments will exceed $56,000,000, which is about $22,000,000 more than the total of such grants in connection with the 1937 program.

George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee of the AAA, said 1938 conservation payments will be divided about as follows:

For Compliance with acreage allotments for cotton $33,000,000; general crops, $11,000,000; peanuts, $100,000; wheat, $3,600,000; and rice, $400,000.

For additional soil-building practices—$4,000,000; range program, $3,750,000; to increase small payments, $3,000,000; total, $56,850,000.

Additional grants called "price adjustment payments" are slated for growers of cotton, wheat and rice, as soon as possible after plantings for the current season have been checked.

Preliminary estimates indicate that rates of "price adjustment" or "parity" payments for 1939 will be 1.6 to 1.8 cents a pound for cotton; 10 to 12 cents a bushel for wheat; and 12 to 13 cents a hundred weight for rice—payment in each case to be made on the normal yield of the acreage allotment as established under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation program.

Thirteen and Half Million Acres Crop Land Is Terraced

The present status of the soil and water conservation movement in Texas shows thirteen and a half million acres of crop land terraced or farmed on the contour while over 17 million acres of crop land are still in need of conservation measures.

Altogether 811,261 acres of cultivated land were terraced in 1938 as the state's campaign to hold soil and catch rainfall widened to include pastures and range land to a record degree.

Farmers and ranchmen terraced, ridged, con tour furrowed, and contour chiseled 385,011 acres of range land in 1938 while the 1927 total was 232,632, and in 1936, less than 100,000 acres, M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, said in announcing conservation totals of county agricultural agent's annual reports.

ON 'ROAD OF TOMORROW'

DWARFED by the lofty Trylon and Perisphere, this Lincoln Zephyr sedan glides smoothly along "The Road of Tomorrow" high on the walls of the Ford Exposition at the New York World's Fair. Built as an integral part of the huge Ford building, the road is prophetic of elevated safety highways to be built by future generations.

Visitors who take the country ride in Ford V-8, Mercury 8 and Lincoln Zephyr cars will obtain an unexcelled panoramic view of the Fair grounds, particularly at night.

Bentley estimated that well in excess of 2 million acres of crop land has been farmed on the contour for the first time in 1938.

Use of county owned equipment, rented to farmers and ranchmen at a nominal charge, continued to spread in Texas as a new record for land so terraced—410,609 acres—was set. The 1937 figure was 373,000 acres.

Spreader dams constructed during the year will divert run-off water from creeks and draws to 139,626 acres of range land. The AAA range conservation program is credited with much of the increase in conservation measures on grass land.

Furrow damming was used on 249,035 acres of crop land and 216,634 acres were pit cultivated, Bentley said. Most of this work was confined to the Panhandle and Northwest Texas.

BISHOP HOLT IS SPEAKER AT LOCAL CHURCH SUNDAY MORNING

A large crowd attended the service Sunday morning at the Littlefield Methodist church, when Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas was a guest of the church. Bishop Holt gave an inspiring talk on "Cooperation," and the organization and set-up of the Methodist church. His short visit in Littlefield was enjoyed by the members.

Fourteen talks and sermons in 13 towns during a 300-mile journey was the record of Bishop Holt, as he toured portions of the Lubbock and Plainview districts of the Methodist church. He spoke to more than 4,000 persons, it was reported.

Sunday schedule included Sudan, Littlefield, Anton, Shallowater, Lubbock, Post, Lorenza, Ralls, Crosbyton and Floyd.

Everywhere he went, Bishop Holt met with tremendous reception. Churches were crowded to hear him.

Saturday night at Muleshoe Bishop Holt dedicated free of debt the Muleshoe Methodist church. The church was built a number of years ago, and a few days ago an addition started. Debt on this had been paid off, but the congregation for some reason had never had a dedicatory service.

Before Bishop Holt was elected to the office of bishop at Birmingham last spring, he held a pastorate of one of the great St. Louis churches for 20 years, and has been in the forefront of every progressive religious and educational movement in the nation for the past three decades. He is in large demand as a preacher and a speaker on world problems.

Only last week Bishop Holt was awarded a Pennsylvania meritorious service medal by Governor George H. Earle who said in part:

"Bishop Holt has through his life of leadership in the pursuit of spiritual development of his people, contributed greatly to the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania and by his interest in his fellow men and his country has played an outstanding role in the betterment of Pennsylvania."

Last year Dr. Holt attended the Oxford and Edinburgh conferences in Europe and, in 1935, delivered the Bevan series of lectures at Parkin College in Adelaide, South Australia.

In the summer of 1937 Dr. Holt delivered the Fonden lectures at Southern Methodist university, Dallas. He was instructor in the School of Theology at S. M. U. several years ago.

Ladies' Bible study, 8 p. m. each Monday; mid-week gathering for study and edification, 7:45 p. m. each Wednesday.

Scripture selection: "And he said to them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be condemned." (Mark 16:15, 16).

We invite you to worship with us, and to study the word of God together. The world needs more knowledge of and reverence for the Bible. The sermons that you hear at our congregation will broaden your knowledge of the Bible, because we are Scriptural studies, not philosophical treatises, political commentaries, current events, or book reviews.

METHODIST CHURCH

Next Sunday will be Young People's day at the Methodist church. The young people throughout the whole of Methodism are inaugurating the largest movement of youth in the world, known as the "Youth Crusade," in which the young people are attempting to meet the challenge of world conditions, and help prevent the impending disaster and make the world truly Christian.

A district-wide Youth Crusade rally will be held at Plainview on Feb. 27, at which a thousand young people are expected to attend. Similar rallies will be held in every district throughout the church.

The services of the Methodist church Sunday will be given over to the observance of this crusade, with the pastor bringing a message particularly to the young people at the morning hour, in which he will report some of the discussions at the recent seminary of young ministers at Shamrock, which was led by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, of Dallas. At the evening service the young people will have charge, and present the program. Miss Johnny Pace is the counselor for the young people's department, with Walsell Givena, president, and Johnny Lippard as the chairman of the program committee.

The other services of the Methodist church include church school at 9:45, young people's, intermediate, and children's Epworth League meetings at 6:30 p. m., Bible study at 7:30 on Wednesday nights, recreation and fellowship meetings at various times. A cordial invitation is given to all at all times.

Wednesday, Feb. 22, is known according to the church year as Ash Wednesday. It marks the opening of the Lenten season, during which we, in the Lutheran church, are accustomed to study, with particular care the sufferings and death of Jesus Christ. He is the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world. The study of this portion of Scriptures shows especially our need of a Savior, and the great love of God in redeeming us. Do you know with certainty the way to eternal life? We have that message for you.

Blouse-with-Skirt

This casual version of the popular blouse-with-skirt fashion is new, and one of the most practical things you can possibly make for yourself. This design (8399) is grand to wear with your winter coat or short fur jacket.

This design works out beautifully in so many different materials. To name but a few—velveteen, tweed and flannel for the skirt. Linen, flat crepe, challis and satin for the blouse.

Pattern No. 8399 is designed for sizes: 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 2 1-4 yards of 39 inch material, for long-sleeved blouse; 2 yards for short-sleeved. 3 1-8 yards for the skirt.

Pattern 8227 — Sleeves up, waist in, chest out—those are fashion's orders for this season—and here's a clever little design (8227) simple as A B C but much more sophisticated, that gives you just the right effect.

This will be pretty in flat crepe, but better in wool—sheer tweed, challis, flannel or jersey. And you should have a winter version, too, in velveteen.

Pattern No. 8227 is designed for sizes: 14, 16, 18, 20; 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 3 5-8 yards of 39 inch material. 2 yards of grosgrain ribbon to edge collar and cuffs.

PRIZE OF $5 IS OFFERED FOR NAME FOR NEW BOWLING ALLEY HERE

Local Oddfellows Host to Circle Tuesday Night

The Littlefield Oddfellows Lodge was host to the members of the Circle Lodge Tuesday night, when teams were chosen and the second and third degree was conferred upon candidates.

The number thirteen seemed lucky, for thirteen members arrived from the lodge in Levelland, and thirteen from Sudan. About twenty-five attended from the local lodge. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Plans were made to attend the meeting at Morton, February 24, when a lodge will be organized there.

The Circle will meet in Levelland on the second Thursday night in March.

Coming here from Floydada, where for the past several years he has operated a variety store, Nat Henderson has rented the store building adjoining Brannen's hardware store on Phelps avenue, and installed a bowling alley.

This game has been adopted everywhere as ideal pastime and recreational exercise. The new recreation center has just been completed and is open for business. In a few days announcements will be made of men's and women's clubs that will be organized.

Mr. Henderson wishes to secure an appropriate name for his place, and announces (elsewhere in this paper) a prize contest for the most suitable name. After the name has been adopted, and the public becomes familiar with this new sport, an opening tournament will be staged in which the various clubs will compete for attractive trophies.

Work of finishing the alleys was carried out by Lee and Marvin Chandler. This work included sanding and varnishing.

LIVESTOCK COMMISSIONER STOCKMEN TO PROTECT FROM POSSIBLE EPIDEMIC

Wardlaw, chairman of the livestock sanitary commission, warned stockmen to take every precaution to protect their herds from the possibility of an epidemic of erysipelas, bacterial in nature, which is now being reported from the state. He said that the epidemic is being reported from the state of Texas and that there exists a possibility of human infection. A report from the livestock sanitary commission, dated Wednesday, Wardlaw sent a letter to the state veterinarian, J. W. Buck of Travis County, and the chief veterinarian, H. Schmidt, chief veterinarian at the Texas experiment station, College Station, will join him on the ranch had in the cattle there had shown signs of the disease, previously reported. The virulence of the disease will be tested. It is expected the results of the information obtained will be used to take steps to prevent the spreading of the disease, goats and sheep. The disease was first noted in 1935 and the first circling was noted in the vicinity of Christl. Now it appears in many sections of the state. The infection had been reported to many sections when infected animals and carcasses of hogs in the disease along the Texas coast.

G. Steinman, assistant veterinarian in charge of the state laboratory, said the disease is being transmitted to cattle, horses, dogs, turkeys, birds and swine. For the cure for the disease, it is necessary to use a specific serum through inoculation. Successive doses, he said, are used as a preventative. Dr. Steinman said, can be handled by handling diseased animals if they have a skin break on their heads. He pointed out that Texas has about 1,500,000 hogs while the stock population totals 1,000,000. This demonstrates the seriousness of the disease and the danger of its spreading to other animals.

The livestock commission chairman said every effort to lessen the spread of diseased animals, it has funds with which to quarantine which might be necessary. He said that the greatest difficulty experienced in fighting the disease is its similarity to other diseases. He said also that the disease which causes the disease is a parasite that lives in the ground and can live for a year after it has been killed by the fatally infected animal.

Littlefield Kitties County Champs

LOCAL GIRLS WIN COUNTY TITLE OVER FIELDTON

Same Girls Named Champs To Keep Record of 1933

Behind the sterling goal-tossing of the Littlefield Kitties, the locals drank again from the sweet cup of victory, as they battled a determined Spring Lake sextette to the tune of 41 to 26, for the county championship, in the tournament at Olton last week-end.

The Kitties, who had only two defeats in their score this year, were scheduled to be named county champs again this year, to keep up the good record made last year.

Coach Lillian Baker's girls took the win over Fieldton, 69 to 6, and Spade, 39 to 15, in the county tournament. These girls, as usual, played heads-up games to win the county title.

Miss Baker reported that the district tournament would probably be held in the near future; also she is planning to take the Kitties to the state tourney at Greenville in March.

Sudan Boys Win County Title; To Enter District

The Sudan boys carried away the pennant, and were named champions in the county basketball tourney at Olton last week-end, after they nosed out close leads with Spade, 14-13, and the Littlefield boys, 26 to 24.

Holding the top spot in the county, the Sudan quintet are determined to stay on the winning side of the ledger, and take a few flying colors in the district tournament at Lubbock Friday and Saturday.

New Airplane Is Purchased by Howell Brothers

Douglas Howell returned Tuesday morning from Kansas City, flying home a new Rearwin sparger two-place cabin airplane.

This ship is owned jointly by Mr. Howell and his brother, Durwood Howell, both residents of Littlefield.

Mr. Howell flew from Lubbock to Kansas City as a passenger in a Lubbock owned ship.

The new airplane replaces a ship of the same manufacture and type which burned on June 19, 1933, between Enochs and Morton.

New Agent—

Lynn County News reporting his departure to this section. This article in part, is as follows:

"When it became known early in the week that this change had been decided upon, farmers in this county got busy and started a movement to prevail upon the powers-that-be to retain Mr. Jones as agent here. A meeting was held in the court house Wednesday, following which subscription lists were circulated for the purpose of supplementing Mr. Jones' salary sufficient to make it equal the salary he would be paid in Lamb county. The necessary funds were quickly subscribed and the district agent was immediately notified of the action. Doubtless a much larger sum could have been raised, for the farmers say that Mr. Jones has held administrative expenses down to a minimum in this county.

"Some little friction had arisen with the commissioners court, however, and at its meeting Thursday morning it declined to approve the arrangement.

"Mr. Jones has been agent here for the past five years. No other agent in this district, we are told, has remained in one county for so long a time. He has been accommodating and industrious and has worked faithfully and unceasingly in the interest of the farmers of the county.

"He has also made warm friends of the business men of the county, and both he and Mrs. Jones have been active in the civic, social, and religious life of our little city. Many people here will deeply regret their removal from Tahoka."

Replaced by Post Man
W. T. McKinney, Lamb county assistant agent for some time, resigned recently to accept a position with the Farm Security, with headquarters at Floydada. He has been replaced by L. H. McElroy, vocational agriculturist at Post for the past three years. Mr. and Mrs. McElroy and two daughters moved to Amherst last week.

According to the attorneys in the case—approximately 20 witnesses will be placed on the stand, and it is expected that the trial will take at least through the balance of this week.

Out of venire of 80, the following were placed on the jury which will try the case—John W. Adams, G. S. Kemp, Dewey Hulse, J. M. Srygley, G. H. Bley, O. B. LaFrance, C. B. Hinds, J. C. Muller, F. J. Kirk, H. T. Jones, Roy Spann and B. A. Ball.

There must be at least two customers to one mile, and both houses in the mile must be wired, inspected and approved, before the current can be turned on. Mr. Woodall stated that the directors earnestly solicited the customers cooperation, in wiring their houses, so the project can be completed.

The record attendance at the meeting proved that local business men are becoming more and more interested in the welfare of Littlefield and Lamb county, and have pledged their cooperation in the progress of the best county in West Texas.

Curtis Lebow of Abernathy, Tommy Coats of Seagraves and Texas Tech, James Stotts and Harry Bell of Slaton, Kermit D. Woldridge of Abernathy, and Alex Parrish and Pete Nachlinger of Lubbock are those contenders for the top berth from this district in the state tourney.

WOMEN CELEBRATE FIRST ANNIVERSARY IN ALL DAY SERVICE

The Nazarene church pastor, had charge of the devotional in the morning, and the singing throughout the day. The pianist was Allison, the former Mrs. Paul Brock of Olton.

Rev. F. E. Graham of Earth brought the morning message, after which the Christians partook of the Sacrament.

Everyone had an enjoyable lunch, and at 2 o'clock, Rev. Paul Brock brought the devotional. Afterward a special song was sung by Bill Luman and daughter, Ila Vern. At 2:30, Rev. J. C. George spoke on the growth of Christianity, after which Rev. Allison and three came to the altar for prayer.

Musical numbers and special songs were rendered during the day by Rev. J. C. George, Christene and Martha George, and Rev. and Mrs. Paul Brock, all of Olton.

Last year at this time, there were four members besides the pastor. During the year, a gain of 16 members was made. We are still planning to enlarge the building, but we haven't received sufficient funds. The help of all those who gave in the fall is greatly appreciated and is being kept for that purpose.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be sagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, swelling up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

ANNOUNCE REFINERY TO BE LOCATED AT LEVELLAND WITH DAILY CAPACITY OF 4,000 BARRELS

As announced Thursday last, by T. M. Lumly, president of the Motor Fuels corporation, Fort Worth, a refinery of 4,000 barrels daily capacity will be located in Level-land, which will create an outlet for the production of the Slaughter and the Duggan oil fields, and assure more intense drilling activity in proven areas.

A further statement was to the effect that a pipe line would be built by the Plains Pipe Line company, another corporation, from the plant to the Slaughter field in southwest Hockley, and also a line to the Duggan field in southwest Cochran, giving both the opportunity of marketing the production without the expense of trucking a dis-

Houston hospital. A second telephone call stated the child was improving, but expressed the desire that Mrs. Badger make the trip to Houston to be with her daughter, Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. L. C. Cawthorn, who has been in poor health for some time, was taken to the Littlefield hospital Monday of last week for the purpose of going through the clinic. She is suffering from high blood pressure and stomach trouble. She has returned to her home, and her condition is improving.

Little Miss Donna White, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. White, is ill with pneumonia in the Payne-Shotwell hospital. Her condition is reported to be satisfactory.

Miss Louise Stephens visited her brother, Gene, at Plainview Sunday. Mr. Stephens is a student at Wayland college.

Miss Sallie Bean, Miss Schulenberg, Leo Duffey, and Misses Eloise Lindley and Theresa Oldham attended a revival meeting at the First Baptist church in Lubbock Friday evening, when Rev. Bill Marshall occupied the pulpit.

Arthur Ray is reported to be ill and suffering from pneumonia at a Lubbock hospital.

tance of from 35 to 85 miles to the terminus of the lines in Yoakum and Gaines counties which to some extent is being practiced.

Perhaps the first notable results will be a quickening of drilling operations in these two fields. There are now 16 producing wells in Hockley county, and about as many in Cochran. Under the present production regulations, the allowable production is about 85 barrels per day. To furnish the necessary crude under the present proration will require at least 47 wells. Several of the companies owning acreage in this section have contracted to do further drilling. It has been stated unofficially that the Monolulu Oil Company had agreed to drill five wells immediately, and that the Richardson interests had also promised additional drilling in time to provide for the plant starting on full capacity.

The plant will have a capacity of 4,000 barrels per day. A Dubbs cracking unit with a daily capacity of 1,000 barrels daily will be part of the equipment and assures the production of the highest grade of gasoline. In addition, there will be two other grades of gasoline manufactured, kerosene, tractor fuel, Diesel fuel and fuel oils. Also, there will be facilities for the making of asphalt and asphalt products.

To bring in the equipment for the plant will require a train of approximately forty-five railway cars.

On the grounds there will be storage for 100,000 barrels of crude—one 80,000 and two 10,000 barrel tanks. For finished products the storage capacity will be about 40,000 barrels and will consist of several tanks for the various manufactured items. These figures were taken from former plans when the proposed plant was of somewhat smaller capacity and may to some extent be incorrect, but if so, the error is on the conservative side.

It is stated that the total expenditure for construction will be between $350,000 and $400,000.

"HUCKLEBERRY FINN" FEATURE FOR WEEK END AT PALACE THEATRE

The river Mark Twain traveled years ago when he wrote "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County," which first started him toward fame as a writer, served as the locale of another story, rich in Twain's own experiences as a boy on the Mississippi. For along the Sacramento river steamboats played, and the dash for freedom of Huck and his negro friend, Jim, was enacted for "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," filmed as Mickey Rooney's first solo starring picture, and coming to the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday.

As the redoubtable Huckleberry, Mickey was in some measure playing Mark Twain as a boy. Twain (then known as Samuel Langhorne Clemens) was the indolent, dreaming boy who fished along the Mississippi and gathered river and negro lore in the days before the civil war. The character played by Mickey is from the author's own description.

Twain, the pen name for Clemens, was born at Florida, Mo., in 1835, and passed his boyhood at Hannibal. His father, known as "The Judge," was a small storekeeper and lawyer. It was during this period, when the boy knew and loved the river, that the character of Huckleberry Finn existed before the boy grew up to be a brilliant journalist, then novelist.

SECRETARY WALLACE WARNS SENATORS AGAINST BILL TO FIX MINIMUM PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Secretary Wallace, Friday warned senators against a bill to fix minimum prices for farm products, saying that if the government attempted this there would be widespread bootlegging of farm crops and a billion-dollar increase in consumers' food costs.

Furthermore, he said it would not help the farmer.

The administration farm head testified before the senate agriculture committee which is considering a "cost-of-production" farm bill sponsored by 17 senators.

Instead of trying a new farm program, Wallace suggested, congress should find funds to increase benefit payments to farmers under the present farm act.

"There's no doubt that the farmer is entitled to the cost of production," he said. It's another question as to whether you can give it to him under this bill."

Under the measure, the government would fix the domestic price for some 50 major crops, but any surplus could be sold in the world market for whatever it would bring.

Wallace said the proposal was based on these assumptions:

That the American public would maintain consumption at the higher prices resulting from the bill.

That farmers would not greatly increase production as a result of the guaranteed prices.

That surpluses could easily be disposed of in world trade channels.

The secretary said all of these assumptions were false.

Criticizing the proposal to permit exports at world prices, Wallace said this amounted to "a subsidy for the foreign consumer."

"I doubt if we could give our surplus away after two years under this program," he added. "The plan would cause a terrific increase in production."

Because of the different prices for domestic and export goods, Wallace said, there probably would be "bootlegging of many farm products that would be difficult to police."

"It would involve a consumers' tax several times as great as any processing tax that could pass congress," he said.

Government To Go as High as $85,000,000 In Farm Payments

Texas farmers will receive by the end of the month what adds up to a request by the AAA for soil-depleting, cash crops on less than three-fourths of the state's total cropland—and on the other fourth, crops which will either nourish or conserve the soil.

That, briefly, is the AAA's conservation goal this year as reflected in state soil-depleting acreage allotments, announced here recently as follows: For general soil-depleting crops, such as corn and grain sorghums, 14,300,000 acres; cotton, 9,250,000 acres; wheat, 3,333,333 acres; rice (12 counties), 189,000 acres; and commercial peanuts (eight counties), 119,350 acres.

That amounts to about 27 million acres, leaving approximately 11 million for crops which don't wear out the soil.

George Slaughter, farmer-chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation committee of the AAA, said that all farmers will know be-
