Cost Of College On Radio Series

How much does it cost to go to college and how do most students finance their education? Those questions, which are troubling many young people approaching college age and their parents, will be discussed this week on "Introspect," a radio series broadcast by almost 40 stations throughout Texas.

The program is produced by University of Texas Radio/Television. Radio Station KZZN will carry the broadcast from 6:30 to 7 p.m. Saturday evening.

Panel members for this week's discussion are John H. Dodson, director of student financial aids at the University; Dr. Leo Hughes, associate dean of the Graduate School, and Dr. Stephen E. Clabaugh, Geology Department chairman. Dr. Wayne H. Holtzman, College of Education dean, is moderator for the entire series.

Topics considered this week are the availability of loans and scholarships, part-time and summer work; relative costs for graduate students and undergraduates, resident and out-of-state students; jobs available for student wives; dependency allowances for married students with families, and other dollar-mark aspects of higher education.

The panelists also address themselves to the questions of whether a student can work and still earn good grades, whether he can find work that is somewhat related to his college courses and whether higher academic standards affect the student's ability to earn part or all of his way through college. They also discuss the effect of loans and scholarships in speeding a student's progress toward a degree and the effect of a part-time or full-time job in slowing his academic progress.

a record $10 million economic loss, according to C.C. Benson, manager, Texas Division, National Automobile Theft Bureau.

Speaking at the 16th Annual Meeting of the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association in Austin this week, Mr. Benson also forecast that the continued theft of late model cars, which would later be sold with false serial numbers and titles, would continue to be a major law enforcement problem. Of equal importance, he said, would be the theft of high performance motors, transmissions and other expensive parts from sports type automobiles.

TEENS ARE TOP CRIMINALS "If some way could be devised to keep youngsters out of stolen vehicles, the car theft problem could be cut by two-thirds in Texas. Statistics show that 60 to 65 per cent of all persons arrested in stolen vehicles are under 18 years of age," Mr. Benson said.

Questioning the effectiveness of present methods of handling auto thefts involving teenagers, Mr. Benson suggested that persons who have been convicted of auto theft be required to make full financial restitution for all damages resulting from the theft.

Congratulations go to all the FFA youngsters, and to their sponsors, who will be exhibiting their animals in the Junior Livestock Show this weekend. The projects serve as the training ground for the youngsters and, in turn, the community prospers from their efforts.

We also tip our hats to the show officials, agricultural agents and the county agent's office for their hard work in helping this show together. The cooperation that is brought to this one event, should be as mindful of the way we could gain this type cooperation on all projects undertaken by our area citizens.

In case it has slipped your mind, our city will reach a milestone this afternoon, when it opens bids on the downtown improvement project. This will be another illustration of the fine things that can come from a unified effort. It is amazing when you stop and think about it, but the project began only last year, and by this June we will well on our way to becoming the first Texas city to undertake this type of improvement. Another facet of the project in the manner in which it has been carried out, all by the people directly concerned, working with the various city company factors to insure the finest possible outcome.

We don't mean to keep crowing, and promise this will be the last time (this season) that we will mention the outcome of a Tuesday night encounter in Waco. I realize we are the minority and without much support, but feel the question of who has the best team, at least this year, has been solved. For Bears 88 - Texas Tech Raiders 86, from here on in we will be pulling for the locals. I hope they go a long way in the NCAA tourney.

Miss Penn was chosen as representative of Littlefield High School by the high school faculty because she possessed, to an outstanding degree, the following qualities: dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

The contest is open to girls in the senior classes of accredited public high schools. The winners will be presented a certificate of award and a pin when they are honored by the chapter in March.

Steamed pudding, served after a soup and salad supper, make a hearty contribution. To top the pudding, you might like to add minced preserved ginger to a regular hard sauce.

Local YWA's Elected Council Officers At Dimmitt Meeting

The Young Women's Auxiliary Council of the Llanos Altos Association Baptist Convention of Texas, met Saturday at noon in the Colonial Inn in Dimmitt for the final meeting of the year. In a business session, presided over by Miss Jan Holland of Amherst, president, two local young women were elected to serve as officers during the 1965-66 term -- Misses Pearl Durham and Ann Farmer. Miss Durham from Parkview Baptist Church, was elected to serve as president for the ensuing term. Miss Farmer from First Baptist will serve as stewardship chairman.

Other officers elected were Misses Lana Adudell, Bula, secretary; Deanna Morgan, Dimmitt, prayer chairman; Betty Salyer, Enochs, mission study chairman; Molly Bradley, Sunnyside, pianist; and Susan Blair, Farwell, chorister. Mrs. Ralph Nelson, Littlefield, is director. The theme for the luncheon was "My Land for Christ". The speaker's table featured a patriotic arrangement. Mrs. Rex Wooten of Dimmitt brought the invocation.

Each portion of the program was based upon some song about America. "God Bless America" sung by Miss Farmer, served to introduce the prayer emphasis by Miss Linda Grusendorf, Enochs. She was accompanied at the piano by Beryle Lovelace, Littlefield. A quartette composed of Misses Frances Hampton, Jackie Manner, Carol Tubbs and Nelda Walker, all of Littlefield, sang "Standin' in the Need of Prayer", as Miss Grusendorf brought out the thought that America and her people are in need of prayer. As she read the names of missionaries having birthdays on that day, the quartette sang "For You I Am Praying". Mrs. Jim Nelson of Littlefield, past prayer chairman of the council, led in a prayer for these missionaries.

The song "America", by the quartette, introduced Miss Patsy Loyd of Bovina, stewardship chairman, who spoke on "America's Heritage of Freedom." At the climax of her talk, a slide of the Statue of Liberty was flashed upon the wall while Miss Durham read the inscription at the base of the statue, promising freedom to all who come to her shores.

"America, the Beautiful" sung by the quartette, was the introduction to thoughts brought by Miss Jean Killingsworth, Longview, mission study chairman. Concluding the mission study emphasis, Miss Farmer sang "So Send I You".

"O Zion Haste, the YWA hymn, sung by the entire group, served to introduce Miss Holland, president, who spoke upon the thought that now is the time for American Christians to come to the aid of their land. Following a brief business session, a novelty act by the "Solk Fingers", was presented. The group, composed of Jim Nelson, Joyce Thompson, Mike Stafford, Beryle Lovelace, and Bill Nelson, all of Littlefield, toured America in song, using the song "This Land is Mine", as their theme.

The song, "Go Tell it on the Mountain", by the Solk Fingers, introduced Mrs. John B. Abbott of Espanola, N.M., featured speaker of the day. Miss Holland concluded the program with a few words on the theme for the day emphasized by a life-size picture of the Statue of Liberty. Miss Durham re-reading the inscription at her base, and the entire group singing "God Bless America", led by Beryle Lovelace.

Mrs. Blanton Martin of Hart Camp, president of the Llanos Altos WMU, gave the meditation. All musical numbers were accompanied by Miss Marsella Mayfield of Lazbuddie, pianist.

WELCOME NEWCOMERS -- The smiling couple pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Cate, who were reared in this area -- Rodney in Sudan and Pat in Littlefield. They moved here the first of the month from Austin. Rodney received a BS degree in Pharmacy from the University of Texas in January and is employed as a pharmacist at Brittain Pharmacy. They are glad to be back in Littlefield and we are happy to welcome them back.

Rodney Cates Recently Move to Littlefield From Austin

It is good to be back in this area, say Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Cate, a young couple who moved to Littlefield February 1st from Austin where they lived for three years. Mr. Cate is employed as a pharmacist at Brittain Pharmacy. They live at East 13th Street.

Pat is a graduate of Littlefield High School and attended Draughon's and Merriam's Business Colleges while living in Austin. Her husband was reared in Sudan and graduated from school there. He attended Texas Tech and received a BS degree in Pharmacy from the University of Texas in January. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Cate of Sudan.

Pat and Rodney enjoy sports of all types, especially swimming and skiing, while Rodney enjoys football and basketball. When not enjoying sports and other activities outside the home, Pat likes to sew, and makes much of her wardrobe.

The Cates feel they have returned home and are very pleased to be living in Littlefield until one of the famous West Texas sandstorms comes along. We know the other good things about living here will more than compensate for the few (we hope) sandstorms.

Both Pat and Rodney are Baptists, but as yet haven't joined a church here.

To the Cates we say, "Welcome to Littlefield."

ASTHMA IS A CHRONIC ILLNESS

Its victims have breathing difficulties. Attacks are usually mild. Fortunately it is not contagious. But, if neglected, asthma increases in severity and endangers health. It may be caused by an allergy, infection or even nervous tension.

If you think you have asthma, don't attempt self treatment. It is almost impossible for anyone but a physician to diagnose the cause. With proper medical treatment asthma can be kept under control and often cured.

Future Farmers of America organization is in its 36th year in Texas. There are 40,000 members studying vocational agriculture in 875 high schools in Texas. In these vocational agriculture classes are provided an opportunity to secure technical and practical training in agriculture as well as to receive training in leadership, citizenship and cooperation.

Membership has grown from 28,643 in 1950 to 40,482 in 1964. The largest growth was in the last three years with an increase of over 8,500. A recent study conducted by George Hurt, State Director of Vocational Agriculture, found that 86 per cent of the vocational agriculture students graduated from high school last year and were available for employment or in agricultural occupations. Approximately one half of these are in full-time farming.

Agriculture is more than a job. It involves those who produce and distribute many agricultural goods. Many people employed in agricultural occupations such as engineers, agronomists, management personnel, sales and service personnel, and educators. Also there are over 60,000 desirable openings each year for farm operators, farm engineers and full-time farm labor.

These people need a sound education and a continuing education to help keep them abreast of the rapidly changing technical and management aspects of farming.

Scouts Have Den Meet

The Spade Cub Scouts met Friday afternoon for a den meeting in the home of their den leader, Mrs. Duane Gray. The meeting opened with the "Pine-Deerby Song". Roll call was followed with "who was born February 22."

After activity the cubs finished with the pinewood derby planing and decorated the tables for the banquet that was held Friday night. The meeting closed with singing "The More We Get Together."

Refreshments of doughnuts, chocolate, tootsie pops and gum were served by Mrs. Ralph Matthews and Mrs. Stanley.

CONGRATS—and the best of luck to all the area basketball teams that have qualified for the basketball playoffs, more than we have had in years -- Anton's boys team with their exciting victory Monday night go to the Regionals at Canyon Friday -- The Pep girls, receiving a bye in bi-district play and also going to the Regionals in a week -- Springlake girls going to the bi-district game against undefeated Roosevelt at Abernathy -- Cotton Center who plays the Bovina girls at the Littlefield gym Monday night in bi-district play.

SPRING IS HERE -- The Littlefield Wildcats are leaving Friday for their first track meet of the season at Fort Stockton while other high schools throughout the county are working out daily. Golf and tennis teams have their schedules drawn up and the baseball season is just around the corner for Colt, Pony and Little League players.

PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT -- When is the Texas Tech coach going to decide that his basketball team can't play control basketball. After a first half when they rang up 53 points Tech tried to slow it down and ended up losing another to the Baylor Bears, scoring only 31 points in the last 20 minutes -- The fine coverage KZZN is giving to area basketball games -- The pros and cons of Littlefield High School having a baseball team -- The sloppy play of the pro basketballers on the TV game of the week -- Tech finally signing some of the better prep football players in the state.

Midgets To Be Featured On Saturday Nite Card

The hilariously funny Midget wrestlers will be featured in the main event of this week's wrestling card at the Littlefield Sports Arena.

A familiar name among the "Little People" is Lord Littlebrook, the dire little Englishman who has made appearances here in the past, but has not been in this area for about four years. Littlebrook is a veteran who enters the ring equipped with minkie, cane and high hat in the true Welchman fashion. Furnishing the opposition is another continental traveler "Frenchy" Lamont from Paris France. Frenchy is a comparative newcomer to the ring racket, having been wrestling only about three years. This match is scheduled for the best two out of three falls with a one hour time limit and promises to keep everyone on the edge of their chairs in laughter.

Sharing equal billing with the little men is a match between two fellows of almost exactly opposite proportions. Dory Funk, Jr. returns to the Littlefield arena in the semi-final event to match holds with the giant German, Duke Hoffman. Funk at 230 and Hoffman at 245 will fairly dwarf the midgets featured in the finale. This match is also for the best two of three falls with a 60 minute limit.

Probably the top preliminary event in months has been scheduled to open the card. It pits popular Jose Lothario against Sputnik Monroe. This match is slated for one fall with a 20 minute limit.

In last week's matches Monroe proved he hasn't lost any of his charm during his absence from the local ring as he battled tooth and toenail with Funk, Jr. and Lothario both inside the ring and out. The match finally culminated with an uproar that carried clear into the dressing room following the match before peace was finally restored. Funk and Lothario won the tag-team match in the ring over Monroe and Ken Lucas, but it's anybody's guess who won the aftermath.

In the semi-final Sato of Japan bested the Lawman in their Karate match, winning the first fall with a stomach clutch and ending it with a Karate chop.

Anton Wins 54-53 Go To Regional

The Anton Bulldogs advanced to the district playoffs at Canyon starting tomorrow by downing Nazareth 54-53 at Olton Monday night.

Anton will play their first game in the regionals at 4:30 p.m. Friday against Adrian, winners of the northwest district.

Larry Crews led the Bulldogs to their victory, scoring 31 points including the winning basket with only thirteen seconds left. Mike Crouch stole the ball to set up the winning score.

The Bulldogs came from five points down with only two minutes left to score the victory as the losers had overcome a four point deficit.

All five starters played the entire game for the winners who raised their season record to 23 wins against only four losses and ran their winning streak to eleven straight.

Bovina-Cotton Center Playoff Set For Littlefield

Littlefield High School gym will be the scene Monday night for the bi-district playoffs of the Bovina and Cotton Center girls basketball teams.

Cotton Center, winners of District 6-B went through their district scheduled undefeated winning ten straight and ending with a season record of 28 wins against only five defeats, for the Curt Chatham coached six.

Debbie Moring led the scorers as she racked up over 700 points in averaging better than 23 points a game. Cherry Burnett totaled 583 points during the season and the other starting forward Shirley Turner averaged nine points a game for the season.

The girls beat Tulia, a AAA school, and Floydada, a AA team, while suffering three of the ir defeats at the hands of the unbeaten Roosevelt team.

Area Teams Enter State Bowling Meet

Five women's teams from Littlefield and four from Olton are entered in the Women's State bowling tournament starting Friday in Dallas.

The Littlefield teams are Anthony's, Allen Purdy Motor Machine Shop, Citadel Finance Co., Lamb Bowl and Tide Products. The Olton entries include teams sponsored by the Olton State Bank, Olton Bowling Center entering two teams and A.C. Light.

In addition to the team events members of the teams will also enter singles and doubles competition in the state tourney.

Wildcat Track Team Goes To Ft. Stockton

Coach Ernie Davis will take 13 Wildcat trackmen to Fort Stockton for the first track meet of the season.

The Wildcats are entered in the large school class which includes the defending champion Kermit and teams from Andrews, Big Springs, Hereford, Lamesa, Lubbock High, Midland High, Muleshoe, Odessa, Pampa, San Angelo, Seminole and Snyder among others.

Kermit has been tabbed as the team to beat in the large school class but Coach Davis believed that they had lost too many sprint men to repeat.

"We will be the strongest in the sprints and in the both the sprint and mile relays. I have back three of the four boys that took third in the state last year in the relays and we hope to do at least as well this year," said Davis.

"We hope to score well but we could use more big boys to help George Willard in the weight events and a few of the boys will not be going this week due to a conflicting schedule."

Larry Coffman, Ronald Sitton, Larry Schovajsa will run both the sprint and mile relay with Steve Lewis as the fourth man in the sprints and Manuel Davila the other member of the mile team.

Lewis will also run the 100 yard dash along with Richard Wright, and Schovajsa will join Lewis in both the 220 dash and the broad jump.

Mike Sanders and Allan Veach will compete in the mile run with Steve Brandt and Davila the half-mile.

Harlem Stars Here Tonight

Jerry Williams, Roy Smith and Don Stiles will lead the local basketball team against the world famous Harlem Stars tonight in the Littlefield Junior High School gym.

Led by the one handed antics of Boie Baie the visitors are well known for their comedy routines before and during the contest.

The game sponsored by the Littlefield Jaycees is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. with tickets available at the door.

This is Davis's third year as coach of the thin clads and last year led the Wildcats to a third place finish at the state meet.

The Wildcats have six meets scheduled prior to the District meet at Snyder on April 10 and at least one more before the regionals and state.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Public school teachers facing more teaching pressure today than ever before. One of the reasons for this situation are the difficulties involved in presenting portions of subjects which are not properly taught using traditional classroom methods.

Many teachers in the State—particularly in the State—have found a solution to this problem through the film. The Texas State Department of Health in Austin, Texas, library offers the largest collection of films in the South and makes the films available in an easy, effective manner. Any teacher, or any interested person, for that matter, may request and use a film on any subject related to health by contacting the Health Department, Littlefield, Texas, catalogue listing 611 titles, recently published and available on request from the Health Department, 410 East 5th Street, Austin, Texas.

As part of the Health Department's Division of Public Health Education, the library shelves 615 films for 611 titles. It contains films with viewing times ranging from four to 57 minutes, covering practically all phases of personal and community health. Most of the films were produced commercially, but many were written and produced for specific Texas application. All films are aimed at a single purpose: teaching good health practices.

Last year library personnel booked 35,429 showings for a total of 1,534,942 viewings, representing more than one-tenth of the entire Texas population. In addition to providing Texas school teachers with films for classroom aids, the library makes films available to religious and fraternal organizations and to civic groups. Practically any club or organization may book films for a general interest or educational viewing, but they are limited to use within the State.

If you happen to be this month's program chairman for a neighborhood ladies' club, perhaps you'd like to show clubmembers an approved, step-by-step method of making a baby's formula. There is a sequence in a film titled "Linda" to do exactly that.

Or perhaps your civic club is studying use of narcotics. "Monkey on the Back" may be of help to you. All films are shipped parcel post, with the borrower paying return postage.

The hand used in measuring height of horses is four inches.

Seniors to Present Three-Act Drama Thursday and Friday Night

"One Foot in Heaven", a three-act drama will be presented by the senior class of Littlefield High School Thursday (today) and Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The play features the experience of a minister and his family at the turn of the century. All costumes and scenes will be cast in the mood of the times. Mrs. S. E. Ayres and Mrs. A. D. Ward are the sponsors and directors of the presentation. The cast includes Rev. William H. Spence, Bob Ross; Hope Spence, Judy Penn; Hartzell,

Buddy Duggan; Eileen, Betty Taylor; Dr. Romer, David Tullis; Louis, Pat Steed; Maria, Roxie Armstrong; Molly, Fay Ivie; Ronnie, Ricky Miller and David Dusek; Letty, Judy Foley; Mrs. Sandow, Billie Cook; Mrs. Digley, Patricia Dilworth; George, John D. $10,000 Reward for A White Marigold

PHILADELPHIA, PA. -- There's a man anxious to give you $10,000 -- in exchange for pure white marigold seeds! So far, over the past 10 years, nearly 4,000 gardeners from all 50 states and 19 foreign nations thought they had one. But the search continues.

David Burpee, shown above in a field of a brand new nearest-white marigold introduction for 1965 called "Hopeful", has repeated the standing cash offer to gardeners anywhere in the world every year since 1955. "Hopeful", a creamy white, fully double carnation type flower that measures up to 3 inches across, is the closest thing yet to a pure white marigold. It is new for 1965!

As head of the W. Atlee Burpee Company, Philadelphia, Pa., one of the nation's largest and oldest growers of seeds, Mr. Burpee is convinced that the long, almost legendary trail to a pure white marigold is getting very warm.

"Some gardener, somewhere", he claims, "is soon going to find a pure white marigold".

The winning white marigold, Mr. Burpee notes, would have to have flowers that measured at least 2 1/2 inches wide.

Call 385-4481

THE FAMILY LAWYER

seems reasonable enough. Congress, debating a proposed new amendment, has doubts about its constitutionality. Why not simply ask the Supreme Court for an advisory opinion? Sooner or later, the Court (being only a block away) will have to decide the question anyway. Why wait for a long, drawn-out case? Why put a law on the books, and enforce it, only to find out years later that it was unconstitutional all the time? But the Court would refuse to give Congress an advisory opinion.

would also refuse to advise the President, if he wanted to know—by instance—whether he had the power to issue a sweeping new executive order. Both Congress and the President would have to take their chances, without any guidance from the Supreme Court. The Court's hands-off policy goes back to a famous exchange of letters in the summer of 1793, between the nation's first President and the nation's first Chief Justice. George Washington, trying to stay neutral between warring France and England, wanted an advisory opinion on 29 points of international law. But John Jay, speaking for the Court, sent a polite reply that amounted to "No, Mr. President." And ever since, the Court has insisted that its job is to decide cases, not to give advice. This reluctance has been criticized. No doubt it would be useful to know, right away, if a proposed law would be unconstitutional. Delay in finding out can cause major complications. Thus, by the time the Court threw out the National Industrial Recovery Act in 1935, more than 1,000 government agencies were already set up and hard at work.

But the advisory opinion has its perils. It could put the Court too close to the legislative or executive process, too close to politics. It could blur the lines of separation between the three branches of government.

Perhaps more important, an advisory opinion is only a theoretical answer to a theoretical question. It is formed without the sharpening, clarifying effect of an actual conflict. It is formed without the clash of argument between parties having a personal stake in the outcome. It is not the law's way of reaching a decision.

In a few states, the courts do give advisory opinions to the local legislature or governor. But even here they do it sparingly, in only a few special situations. Most legal authorities feel that, as a matter of general policy, John Jay's "No, Mr. President" was the wisest answer.

Health And Safety Tips

With winter's bitter cold and biting wind back again, it's time to beware of frostbite.

Ordinarily a health problem only in the northern states, frostbite can also hit well down into the south when blizzards sweep in, and those less accustomed to severe cold may be less aware of its dangers.

True frostbite means that the tissues are frozen, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association. Crystals of ice form between the cells. Nerves, muscles and blood vessel tissues are most susceptible.

The wind plays an important part in frostbite. The chilling effect of air at 20 degrees moving at 45 miles an hour is the same as 40-below-zero air on a still.

One of the dangers of frostbite is that you often don't feel it. First thing you know is that someone else notices that your nose or ear is turning white. The frozen parts become hard of touch and loses feeling. Many sports leaders advocate a buddy system for outdoor winter sports: two persons are paired off, each watching the other for signs of frostbite.

To prevent frostbite, first be certain that you are properly dressed for the temperature. Avoid overexertion and excessive perspiration. Avoid contact of bare flesh with cold metal. Don't smoke or drink alcohol.

In first aid for frostbite, forget the old saw about rubbing the affected part with snow, and also forget the completely invalid caution against rapid thawing. Also, don't massage or rub the frozen part. Don't touch it at all. Begin rapid rewarming as soon as possible. A hot bath is excellent, but avoid scalding. Hot wet towels will help, changed frequently and applied gently. If no fire or hot water is at hand, place the patient in a sleeping bag or cover with coats and blankets. Hot liquids will help raise body temperature.

For any frostbite, even a mild case, prompt medical attention is important. The depth and degree of the frozen tissue cannot be readily ascertained, and the treatment will vary with the severity of the injury.

Dress properly and use common sense about exposure in severe cold, and most cases of frostbite can be avoided.

The ski season is here again. Hundreds of thousands of Americans, young and old, from the warm south as well as the frigid north, are heading for the ski slopes for winter vacations centered around sliding down mountain and hillsides on skis.

The medical men who attend to the health needs of the skiers know that this season also will bring a bumper crop of broken ankles, twisted knees and the various other injuries, not to mention sore muscles, bruises and skinned flesh, that seem to be a part of skiing.

Most of these injuries need not happen if skiers will observe a few common sense safety precautions.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, offers ten safety tips for skiers.

1. Check your equipment before starting.
2. Take the run that really suits your skiing ability.
3. Look both ways before starting, entering a new run, or turning.
4. Take a course as far as possible from other skiers.
5. Do not walk on the runs in ski boots or without skis.
6. Anticipate the others' skiers actions.
7. Never stop in mid-slope or trail.
8. Always fill in the snow dug out by a fall.
9. Quit a half-hour earlier than you planned.
10. Read the snow report, pay attention to signs and the suggestions of the Ski Patrol.

Most of these ten tips can be summed up in one short phrase — Ski under control. Even experienced skiers sometimes have accident, but the beginner who zips down a slope at speeds far beyond his ability to stop or turn is much more likely to get hurt.

Injuries are less frequent in skiers who are in good physical condition, are skilled and have good equipment. As in any strenuous sport, it also is important to have a physical check-up before participating. Any ski manual can suggest some exercises that can be performed in the home for a few weeks prior to the ski vacation that will strengthen the important muscles and make skiing more fun as well as safer.

The athlete—including the weekend golfer or skier—who experiments with pep pills, whiffs of oxygen, odd dietary supplements and other such fads in the hope of improving performance is doomed to disappointment and may even be courting bodily harm.

Sports, with their premium on endurance and top performance, are fertile soil for experimentation with a wide variety of what physicians call "ergogenic aids." Ergogenic being defined as increasing the capacity of bodily and mental effort, especially by eliminating fatigue symptoms.

The mystique of the readiness of the athlete for competition intrigues the sports enthusiast, says a joint comment of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations and the Committee of Medical Aspects of Sports of the American Medical Association. None of the fads, fallacies and quackery associated with ergogenic aids is of any more assistance to athletic success than the superstition of never changing underwear during a winning streak, the joint statement says. And some of the practices may even be hazardous if carried to extremes.

For safe and effective performance, there still is no alternative to the fullest utilization of one's natural resources through good personal health practices, top physical conditioning and confidence in one's ability based on careful coaching and good medical supervision.

The four-minute mile barrier was broken ten years ago and running the mile in the 3:50's is now commonplace although it was long considered impossible. Athletes set new records not through gimmicks but through spartan self-discipline and effort focused on peak condition and extreme refinement of skill.

The two sports groups label over reliance on isometric exercises as a fad for which claims have been exaggerated. Isometrics can increase muscular strength but they do not assist range of motion or heart-lung endurance. The notion that extra vitamins are needed by athletes is labeled as a fallacy. The essentials of a normal good diet with sufficient quantity to satisfy increased caloric expenditure are all that's required.

Pep pills that lessen the feeling of fatigue obviously can be dangerous, in that they lead to exertion far beyond the body's capacity, and also impair judgment.

For top performance in sports, there's no artificial substitute for good coaching, thorough conditioning, many hours of practice and general good health. These cannot be obtained from a bottle or box.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The nation's trucking industry now buys more than one million new trucks and trailers per year, according to American Trucking Associations, which reports that registrations of new units in 1963 totaled 1,244,224 trucks and 82,925 trailers.

Sports' Most Unusual Hall Of Fame

The most remarkable of all sports' halls of fame is the Gulf Marine Racing Hall of Fame, power boat racing's most select honor organization.

Don Christy, an asbestos worker from Baltimore, Maryland, for example, won the Gulf Gold Cup as boat racing's driver of the year at the 28th annual award breakfast in New York.

Awards are granted in various classes, based on high class performance and other standards. As a result, this particular hall of fame does not concentrate merely on top professionals — such as Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb and Joe Di Maggio in baseball, a Jim Thorpe, Otto Graham, etc. in football.

In the recent Gulf Marine Racing Hall of Fame list were a model maker, an engineer, a log sealer, pipe coverer, a crane operator, naval officer, salesman, etc. along with such a racing standout in the unlimited class as Ron Musson.

More than 240 power boat racers have gained a place in this unique sports hall of fame in the nearly 30 years of its existence.

Army Combats Vietnam Diseases

SAIGON, Republic of Vietnam (ANF)—To the people of this republic who must daily face the Viet Cong's threat to their freedom and lives, many varieties of disease common in the area are an equally infectious and enervating evil. And like the Viet Cong, disease strikes without warning — soldier, mother, and child.

To aid in the fight against this second deadly enemy, the U.S. Army has dispatched to Saigon a special ten-man team of highly-trained doctors and medical specialists. Officially known as the U.S. Army Medical Research Team—a field unit of the Walter Reed Institute of Research—the men have now moved into a converted section of a modern hospital in the capital city where they will conduct laboratory research directed towards eradicating the numerous indigenous infections.

Lt. Col. Paul E. Teschan, a specialist with over 12 years experience in military medical research, is chief of the team. "In essence," the doctor noted, "the main researchable health problems as we see them are certain types of malaria, dysentery of various kinds, dengue viruses, hemorrhagic fever, and viral hepatitis." He also stressed the team's intended psychiatric research in studying problems of cross-cultural communications in the U.S. advisory effort.

Welcoming the men to Saigon, General William C. Westmoreland, Commander of the U.S. Military Assistance Command in Vietnam, compared the efforts of this group of medical researchers to those of Army doctors Walter Reed and Gorgas in Cuba and in Panama over 50 years ago. "Then and now, ease," he said.

The work of the Army team will benefit both Vietnamese nationals and U.S. servicemen stationed in the country.

Early Bird Gardeners Apply Dormant Sprays

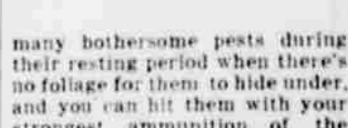

Now's the time to catch many garden pests and diseases napping. By applying a timely dormant spray, you'll get a head start in the annual race with your pesky garden enemies.

What is dormant spraying? It's applying a preventive spray to your favorite plants while they are leafless and still in a dormant stage, ideally in late winter or early spring just before the buds open.

The aim: to rout the more persistent and hardy insect life and diseases which over-winter on the bark of trees and plants. By hitting them before they have a chance to start munching on your plants, you'll be one step ahead and have things well under control before the growing season begins.

Scale insects and red spider mites, probably the two most important types of insects which dormant sprays control, usually span the fall-to-spring season as adults or in the form of eggs. Destroying the full egg sacs will eliminate millions of future offspring.

Using a dormant spray can be one of the season's most effective weapons. It eliminates many bothersome pests during their resting period when there's no foliage for them to hide under, and you can hit them with your strongest ammunition of the year — before they start their reproduction race. You'll have clobered a lot of potential parents and assured your plants a healthier spring start.

Plants that will benefit most by dormant spraying are fruit trees, berry bushes, and ornamentals.

Chemicals commonly used in dormant spray formulations, usually under trade names, include: oil emulsions, miscible oil, lime sulphur, dinitros (DNC), and malathion. The oils not only control insects but help spread fungicide material included in all-purpose sprays.

A combination insecticide-fungicide dormant spray will control many insects and disease that infest gardens. But you should take time to read the label before applying. It's essential that such strong materials be used according to directions.

What sort of equipment should you use for dormant spraying? To invade quarters of those hibernating forms of insect and fungus life, your spray should develop pressure enough to shoot a wetting film some distance through crevices and other protected areas.

Compressed-air sprayers, pressures of 30-50 p.s.i., will do a satisfactory job of applying dormant materials at close range. But, in comparison, a backpack sprayer, which develops 20 p.s.i., will reach 20 feet or into the tops of trees and give the penetration needed through coverage. Some sprayers use separate nozzles from which to draw others. Most of them have adjustable nozzles to control the angle and direction of the spray.

A small power sprayer ideal for reaching more remote areas is plenty of pressure to reach pests, plus advantages of portability, big capacity, and speed of operation.

For spraying it's best to pick a calm sunny day when the temperature is at least 40 degrees above and the little danger of dropping below freezing will keep the plants can dry off. In using a strong dormant spray droplets should be large enough to drench the surfaces thoroughly. Spraying can only be as effective as it is thorough.

land duckling to be of excellent quality.

After thawing, place on rack in roasting pan, but don't cover. Do not add water. Roast in preheated oven at 325° for 3 hours for a 4 to 5 lb. duckling. The bird is done when the leg moves easily. The most important thing to remember is to remove the drippings from the pan every 15-20 minutes during cooking.

For a different stuffing, use peeled, quartered apples, celery onion cut in good sized pieces, and an added treat, pour over the bird half a can of undiluted orange juice concentrate (frozen orange juice) 15 minutes before done. You'll have the most delicious, crisp skin you've ever tasted.

Truck Scholarships Offered

When prepared correctly (and it's really quite simple), duckling is a delicate, flavorful food, which I'm sure your family will savor as much as mine did. I found "South Shore" brand Long Is-

How Crazy Can A Faucet Get?

NIAGARA FALLS, ONTARIO — Where's all the water coming from? What's holding up the faucet? The two youngsters puzzle over these questions, which are most commonly asked by visitors at Ripley's Believe It or Not! Museum, as they view the tremendous stream of soft water dripping continuously from the unattached, 10-foot high mystery faucet. The rainbarrel, in grandmother's day, held a limited amount of soft water which she collected for shampooing and washing. Today, modern homemakers have automatic water softeners which provide soft water from every faucet.

Tourist Boosters Organize

of our favorite forms of hospitality is to offer something "new and different" in the way of refreshment. This year General Foods has us a helping hand with an unsweetened chocolate product, Baker's Redi-Blend. This very convenient comes in eight one-ounce (eight to a carton) and makes all measuring and pouring just tear off the market of a packet and roll up the end as you would roll up a piece of paper. Every drop of unsweetened chocolate will melt in the palm of your hand. Special to keep this product at temperature. If it seems simply hold the unopened under hot water for a moments until the contents are very soft.

ing this season when the pet is likely to be a bit spoiled, everyone seems to be especially conscious of good nutrition. And except for one who feeds her pet the carrot tops for her pet, the neighbors pretty much agree with the USDA that produce that's bagged or wrapped is usually the best to buy. The reason seems to be that it has more protection from bruising and from being kept over at the market, which keeps it in top shape.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Widower: A Stale Will

Like wine, wills seldom improve with age. Events that occur after your will is made may turn wisdom into folly, its plans into futility, its kindness into cruelty. When you die, the law will follow your instructions to the letter, regardless of what has happened in the meantime.

A few special situations—suppose you got married, or got divorced, or had a child, or lost a local statutes may make automatic changes in your will. Such changes are cut to a standard pattern, perhaps bringing in provisions you may not have wanted. Worse, there are all sorts of anomalies that statutes simply don't deal with in any orderly way.

Consider this case:

The father of two daughters, disintegrated in the men they married, made a will cutting them off with just nothing. But he lived on for seven years, during which time he had a complete change of heart. Happily, he neglected to bring his will up to date. The court had no choice but to enforce the will as written, with the old rancor left and the new affection left out. There are some other circumstances that may justify a change in your will.

For example, your son, who at the age of 14 was the quiet and sensible type, now shows alarming signs of being a spendthrift... an ugly-looking daughter, thought to be a spinsterhood, lands a rich husband... you move to another state... you become much richer (or much poorer)... a change in the tax laws gives you an opportunity to save on inheritance taxes... you gain new assets (or lose old ones).

Of course, you shouldn't redraft your will every time you have a change with Aunt Kate. But reviewing it at regular intervals—perhaps every year or two—is plain common sense.

If your lawyer sees the need for review, he may send you a reminder to that effect. Still, even though such a reminder is perfectly ethical, many lawyers are wary of anything that might be interpreted as soliciting legal business.

The best way is for you to authorize him in advance, preferably when you first make your will, to send you a regular reminder as your dentist does. Very often, no change will be necessary. If a change is necessary, delay is dangerous. The change that is delayed may never be made at all.

Irrigation Key To Profit

Your income and your future depends considerably on your irrigation system, especially in a dry year such as 1964. In many cases your irrigation system alone could mean profit, loss, or bankruptcy! This becomes more critical each year with consumer prices rising and margin of profit decreasing.

Your irrigation system should be installed according to a basic, efficient long range plan—not a haphazard year to year basis with no thought to the future. With a long range irrigation plan, farmers can install portions of underground pipe line or buy new irrigation equipment each year as income permits and in time, the farmer will have a complete and efficient system. This is much better than an unsystematic year by year installation where,

Are you one of those many, many individuals whose appearance is marred somewhat by the pits and scars resulting from acne?

Possibly something can be done to improve your appearance.

A technique known as "dermabrasion," or skin planing is currently recommended for many of those left scarred by acne, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

Dermabrasion will not completely remove scars and pits. But it tends to reduce their size and depth, making them less noticeable. Not all types of scars are helped, or helped equally. Consultation with a physician experienced in this work is necessary to determine whether dermabrasion is likely to be helpful in a given case. Your family doctor can help you locate such a specialist.

In dermabrasion the skin is in many cases, a pipeline can serve a purpose only a few years before relocation is desired of farming operations change to the extent of making the irrigation system obsolete.

A complete farm planning service, including irrigation system design, is available free of cost to Lamb County farmers by the local Soil Conservation Service. Before you buy a new pipeline, feel free to contact the SCS for this free planning service. In most cases all your present system can be used and future extensions to pipelines may be planned to save you money in initial cost and make you money on production.

"frozen" and a rapid brush is stroked across to remove the upper layer of skin. This procedure is done in a doctor's office and does not require hospitalization.

The process requires techniques and extensive training to minimize the unsightly scarring. Dermabrasion has been used for more than 10 years and is regarded as safe by medical authorities.

Swelling and extensive bruising develop in the first 48 hours. The crusts fall in 10 to 14 days, leaving pink skin gradually returning to a normal state within weeks to six months.

Some doctors feel that minimum cosmetic benefit is obtained in many cases of dermabrasion but that two or three to six months be necessary. However, subsequent attempt may yield less improvement.

Whitharral Farmers Sponsor Stock Show

WHITHARRAL--The busiest beauty salon in town is not Daisy's, but is located in the old agriculture building. There are more than twenty operators and forty-seven customers with white marcel waves that are being shampooed, clipped, carded, and covered with canvas coats (hair nets) to keep the wool in place and clean.

The customers are, of course, lambs, and the operators are members of the 4-H, FFA, and FHA, and these youngsters are preparing their stock for the spring fat stock show March 4, 5, and 6.

After the lambs have been properly beautified the pigs and calves will take their turns at the shampoo vats and clipping stalls.

Moroccan Student Training At Reese

Among the students undergoing undergraduate pilot training at Reese Air Force Base, Texas, is Abdellah Sedredine, Aspirant, the corresponding rank to 2nd Lt. in the USAF, in the Royal Moroccan Air Force and a native of Meknes, Morocco. He is at Reese under the Military Assistance Program between Morocco and the United States.

"I like the United States and Texas very much," says the young Moroccan officer. "Of course, I am anxious to go back to Morocco, but only because I miss my home, family and friends there."

Sedredine arrived in the US July 21, 1964, and reported directly to Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas, where he was instructed in the English language and in customs and courtesies of the US Air Force. He trained at Lackland AFB until October 1 when he reported to Reese AFB to undergo pilot training.

"I have wanted to fly for as long as I can remember," states Sedredine. "Even as a small child, I was thrilled with the prospects of flying."

His home, Meknes, is located in Central Morocco near the Small Atlas mountain chain.

A member of Class 66-C in the undergraduate pilot training program at Reese, Sedredine will graduate and be awarded his wings October 22, 1965. He will then report to Nellis Air Force Base, Nevada, for further training before returning to Morocco.

On March 3, at 1 p.m., the Young Farmers are sponsoring a preliminary show for the Whitharral entrants. A judging team from Texas Tech will judge the animals and the Young Farmers will award ribbons. The club is doing this to encourage and help the young people gain experience in showing. The animals will be taken to Levelland for the spring show after the preliminary show here.

Every day after school has turned out all of the lambs are walked from the agriculture building to the cemetery and back. The washing, walking, and clipping goes on; the show is coming.

FFA entries include 19 sheep and lambs, 7 barrows and 1 calf. There are 28 lambs and 9 barrows entered by 4-H members.

CITY BITS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Borger of Lubbock spent Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Mabel Alexander and also visited Tack Purdy, a patient in Littlefield Hospital. Purdy's condition is listed as serious, but a little improved. He has undergone brain surgery twice at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock since Christmas.

Rhea Bradley, Lloyd Lust and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Smith attended a dinner meeting of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers Monday night in Lubbock.

Mrs. J.R. Fain and Mrs. T. L. Dunlap attended a luncheon meeting of the American Cancer Society last week in Lubbock at the Elks Lodge.

With aluminized exhausts that discourage corrosion... Delcotron generators that encourage longer battery life... brakes that adjust themselves... rocker panels that flush themselves free of dirt and salt. Tight? They're downright miserly!

You're looking at the lowest priced sedan and station wagon that Chevrolet makes. We make a point of this since they neither look nor act their price. They're roomy. The sedan seats six. The wagon gives you a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate. They're rugged. The unitized body is by Fisher. Up front, there's an independent suspension system and in the rear, Mono-Plate (you'll never hear a squeak) springs. They're good looking. Clean. Functional. Foam-cushioned front seats, padded front armrests and color-keyed front seat belts are among many unexpected standard equipment features. You can get an economical 4-cylinder engine in the sedan or in both cars, a 120-hp Hi-Thrift Six. It's fast to warm up, idles almost silently and is very, very easy on gas. For even more power, there's a special Six you can order: the 230-cubic-inch Turbo-Thrift job. As we said earlier, these are our lowest priced cars. TATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford of Representatives Connally approved the name an 18-member commission to decide which state and universities shall that, to assign fields of study, and to take over state of academic work in junior colleges.

were many amendments to the bill by Reps. Dick Victoria and Charles of Lufkin. But none divide the bill from its original as laid out by the Governor's Committee on Education of the High School. He lie ahead, because strong senators are such a delegation of or oppose some phases bill as passed by the Sen. W. T. Moore of Brown. He expects to move within the next week or so.

Sen. Dorsey Hardeman is opposed to some of Connally's programs. This has led to talk of pressure tactics. Forces of Speaker Ben Barnes, who support Connally, may hold up action on Hardeman's bill to transfer San Angelo College to state-supported status on September 1.

Hardeman, long a power in the Senate, heads the Senate Finance Committee which will make the fiscal decisions on many programs. This key position makes it vital to Connally that he have acquiescence, if not support, from Hardeman.

The San Angelo senator, who represents a West Texas region as big as some states, demonstrated his power twice recently. He blocked, at least temporarily, a rule change designed to delay or defeat the $45 a month teacher pay raise proposed by the Texas State Teachers Association. He also amended the "equal rights for women" bill to make the measure inapplicable to present statutes. Amended bill passed with Lieut. Gov. Preston Smith breaking the 15-15 tie. Sponsor Senator Moore said this amendment ruined the legislation.

REDISTRICTING -- All bills to reapportion congressional, state senatorial or legislative districts will go to standing subcommittee in both the House and the Senate.

Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham decided to try for objectivity. He picked chairmen from opposite sections of the State from the section subcommittees will be studying.

He named Rep. Gen Hendryx of Alpine to the Area I subcommittee handling redistricting of East Texas; Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen to the Area II subcommittee on North Texas; Rep. Red Simpson of Amarillo to the Area III subcommittee on South Texas; and Rep. James Sluder of Naples to the Area IV subcommittee on West Texas.

Senate subcommittee on State Senate redistricting measures is heavy with representation from the western part of the State and the lower Gulf Coast. At the insistence of the committee at large, Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba, chairman of the Senate Redistricting Committee, appointed himself chairman of the study subcommittee.

Then he picked Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo; Sen. Criss Cole of Houston; Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi; and Sen. William T. Moore of Bryan to serve with him. Senator Crump also will head the congressional redistricting subcommittee composed of Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall; Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo; Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin; and Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

HOG CHOLERA ERADICATION -- Representatives of several farm organizations joined members of the Texas Animal Health Commission and the U.S. Department of Agriculture in supporting legislation to regulate hog cholera eradication measures before the Senate Agricultural Committee.

Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress is author of the bill and also chairman of the committee.

Those appearing before the committee were Charles Huff, Farm Bureau Federation; W. W. Burnett, Farmers Union; E.M. Regenbrecht of Bryan, representing swine breeders of the Animal Health Commission; and Dr. S.B. Walker, executive director of the commission.

REGULATORY AUTHORITY BILL RUNS INTO TROUBLE -- A bill by Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells to give the State Parks & Wildlife Commission complete regulatory authority over hunting and fishing in all 254 counties ran into temporary trouble in the Senate when a vote to suspend rules for its consideration failed. Vote was 18-13 for suspension, but a four-fifths majority is required.

About 150 of the State's counties now are under the Commission's jurisdiction, Governor Connally asks that all 254 be included.

ECONOMY COMMISSION -- A commission study which experts testified could result in savings up to $8,000,000 a year in state government operations has House approval and now is in the Senate.

Called the "Little Hoover Commission", the survey is aimed at achieving "economy and efficiency" in the executive branch of the government.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria is the author.

TB PROGRAM URGED -- House and Senate committees heard convincing arguments that tuberculosis can be eradicated in Texas within a decade through new drugs and treatment methods and an intensive program of care, case-finding and follow-up.

Senate Public Health Committee immediately approved setting the program in motion in a group of south-central Texas counties around San Antonio and Mexican border counties from El Paso to Brownsville. House committee placed the bill in a friendly subcommittee for a week's study.

Plan would call for State Department of Health to take over all hospitals and consolidate the entire program in a special division. Contract care of patients near their homes where possible is an important part of the program.

OIL -- Oil production will be down a bit in March. Railroad Commission cut allowances 11,000 barrels a day after hearing discouraging forecasts of need for Texas oil during the month.

Oilmen got House committee approval of the oil and gas pooling bill backed by several oil associations. Strong opposition had been voiced by the Texas Farm Bureau, but the committee approved it with only Rep. Amando Canales of San Diego opposing the vote.

Rep. Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge hopes to get it through the House this week. It was passed by the Senate two weeks ago.

In simple terms, the bill would allow landowners or leaseowners who do not have enough land to obtain a drilling permit from the Railroad Commission to get the Commission to order adjoining operators to bring the small tract into a pool. Likewise, owners of large tracts can force the pooling of small tracts for oil and gas development.

Remember this fact when you're shopping big-car names. If you don't get the room to begin with, you don't get the luxury. That's why Chryslers come in only one size. Large.

Here's another point to consider. Almost half of the '65 Chryslers are priced only a few dollars a
