TELEGRAM AND ARGUS-TRIBUNE CONSOLIDATE, EFFECTIVE TODAY

The Eastland Argus-Tribune, published by the Eastland Publishing Company, and all assets of the Eastland Publishing Company, have been purchased by the Times Publishing Company, owners and publishers of the Eastland Telegram. The two papers, beginning with today's issue, will be consolidated and published as the Eastland Telegram.

There will be no changes in the policies of the Tel-egram. The paper will be completely divorced from its sister publication, the Ranger Times, and will be published and printed in Eastland in the plant and building formerly known as the Argus-Tribune building

A large block of the Times Publishing Company stock has been acquired by Eastland business men, who will take part in the management of the business-The personnel of the Telegram organization in Eastland will include none except local people, many of whom have lived here for years and own their homes in the city. This arrangement has been brought about to meet the wishes of Eastland people for the town to have only one daily newspaper and one that will thoroughly cover the trade territory.

By agreement Mr. Walker will collect all accounts due the Argus-Tribune, and pay all bills owed by same up to June 1st, 1928.

Dear Friends:

On May 31st I sold the Argus-Tribune to Mr. Wal-

In doing this I took into consideration not merely the profit which resulted from the sale, but also the opinion expressed by several merchants, who seemed to feel that their interests would be better protected if the paper were owned by someone who had no in-terests outside of Eastland County.

My organization has operated the newspaper only for about three months. During that time many improvements have taken place. We have received much encouragement from the merchants in the City and this we all appreciate highly. We have every reason to believe that from now on you will get a better paper than before, as with the consolidation of the Argus-Tribune and the Telegram, expense will naturally be saved.

I would like to personally thank those who have supported us while in Eastland, and to express my regrets at leaving this City.

Yours sincerely, EDMUND WALKER.
