Long Looked For Opening Of The Connellee Hotel

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

It's a far cry in less than ten years from a hamlet for which water supplies were bought from a peddler, who hauled water from the creek south of town, and sold at twenty-five cents a barrel, sufficient supplies each day to run the house and kitchen (for there were no bathrooms here then) to the Eastland of today, with the largest electric light plant in Texas, providing cities with electric power, to fully equipped utilities in water and gas, a fine sewer system, and the magnificent new hotel, known as the "Connellee," named in honor of the pioneer builder of Eastland, and which, after long anticipation, will be opened to the public this week.

Thursday night, a formal opening will be held that is restricted to a telephone guest list, which includes all those who have stock in the "Connellee," or have donated toward the building of the hotel in any way.

Dan Garrett, manager of the hotel, stated the hotel, dining room will seat two hundred and fifty persons, and it was necessary to restrict the dinner list on the opening night for this reason.

During the dinner hour a delightful musical program of classical vein in the lighter mood, will be given by Miss Wilda Drago, violinist, with Miss Mary Gresham at the piano.

Friday evening will be "Eastland" night and tickets will be purchased at the entrance, which include a buffet supper, from seven to nine thirty or ten, when the roof dining room will be cleared for dancing until twelve.

Saturday night, is West Texas night, when the regular dinner from seven to nine will be $3.50 per plate, and dancing from nine to midnight. The dance orchestra will come from the Worth Hotel, and perform both Friday and Saturday evenings.

Several parties are in the making for Friday night, and of course the patrons of the hotel, those who have subscribed or helped in the building, have formed their family parties or little crowds of friends for their dinner hour.

Hon. C. U. Connellee and wife, special guests, will be members of their house party, Senator and Mrs. Joseph Weldon Bailey; Mr. and Mrs. George McQueen of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. John Graves and daughter, Miss Graves, of Dallas; Mrs. Aut Connellee of Oklahoma City, who will also be the guest of her niece, Mrs. Edward E. Freyschlag, who is the grand-daughter of Mr. Connellee, and who will have as her house guests, Mrs. C. C. Webb the grandmother of Mr. Freyschlag, and Miss Elizabeth Paterbaugh, both of Hollywood, California.

Mr. Garrett expressed himself as being very much in love with Eastland, intriguingly engaging in that it presents such a diversity of interests and personality, with residents who come from all over the United States, with an equal appreciation expressed for the pioneer citizens, and their wide visioning for Eastland's future.

SALES OF WHIPPET CARS REPORTED VERY GOOD

Sales of Whippet cars are reported good in Eastland. One man bought two, a coupe and a roadster.

Two Producers In Hickman Pool Near To Rising Star

Two producers in the Hickman pool over the line in Brown county during the past few days are the latest completions in the vicinity of Rising Star.

One hundred and fifty barrels is the flush production of the Midland Oil company's No. 5 Butler and the Anna Belle Oil company's No. 4 Hickman is making 75 barrels. These wells hit the pay around 1275 feet.

Eastland county, as usual, leads in the number of activities in the deep-producing counties, with 38. Brown shows a slight decline from the preceding week, with 85. Coleman registered a gain, with 71 operations. Both Brown and Coleman are shallow counties. Other totals are: Shackelford 32, Stephens 18, Callahan 13, Palo Pinto 9, McCullough 4, Trath 3, Comanche 2, Parker 1, Hood 1, San Saba 1, Burnett 1.

RHODES GETS PRODUCER IN SIBLEY POOL

Estimated Flow of 600 Barrels Daily Comes From 3,175-Foot Depth.

A well estimated at 600 barrels a day—and significant because it opens up new possibilities in the Sibley pool—has been completed by A. H. Rhodes, Eastland operator.

The new producer is about 1200 feet southeast of the Williamson No. 1 of the Operators Oil & Gas company which came in some weeks ago for 900 barrels a day. The Williamson well—in which the drillers and tool dressers owned a quarter interest—obtained its production from the regular pay found in the Sibley pool, around 2900 feet.

Rhodes' well failed to hit this pay and went on to 3175 where a sand believed to be the Ranger sand has been struck. The well is believed to be only one foot in the pay and, when drilled deeper, may increase materially.

The well is the Louis Henning No. 1. The lease consists of 30 acres bordering the Leon river in the William Van Norman survey.

Nearby, another well recently was dry in the Sibley pay and it was plugged. The fact that the Rhodes well went 200 feet deeper and picked up good production means that activities will be stimulated in that area, which is north of the town of Staff.

"Barbecue Well," Near Desdemona Looks Promising

The "barbecue well" looks promising, according to information from the field. This is the Riddle No. 1 of Haynes & McClun of Eastland. It is drilling around 2,800 feet. The well derived its name from the fact that a barbecue was held when the well spudded in. It is northeast of Desdemona and is in Eastland county.

Garland Campbell, aged between one and two years, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Mexican Starts Good-Will Flight

Capt. Emilio Carranza, the "Mexican Lindbergh," and his route for his non-stop flight from Mexico City to Washington.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 12.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover is destined to be made the Republican presidential nominee at the national convention which opened here today.

The break in the fight against him came last night after word in some mysterious manner reached party leaders here that President Coolidge would not accept the nomination if offered to him.

Immediately a series of conferences began which lasted until the early hours this morning. The result was a decision to put Hoover over as early as possible when the convention balloting starts, probably Thursday.

Pennsylvania, the keystone state, gave the final push that put Hoover in line for the party's highest honor.

Secretary Mellon arrived yesterday afternoon uncertain, apparently, what to do. While he deliberated William Vare, another Pennsylvania leader, issued a statement that he would use his influence to swing Pennsylvania's 79 votes for Hoover.

Milburn McCarty Jr. Making Splendid Record On Tennis Courts of the East

(Reprinted from Dallas News)
WASHINGTON, June 12.—Milburn McCarty, 15-year-old Senate page of Eastland, Texas, home of the famed horned toad, will represent the District of Columbia in the Middle Atlantic boys' tennis tournament at Norfolk, Va., June 15 and 16.

The youthful Texan won his way to the finals through a smashing victory in the semifinals on the courts of the Chevy Chase Club Friday. McCarty came within close reach of the District of Columbia championship in the early part of the final match when the score stood one all in sets and two to one in games in the final test. At that point, however, John A. Linham, McCarty's opponent, braced himself and won the last two sets by a score of 6-4, 6-4. McCarty won the first set by 6-2. The final game was bitterly contested and the large gallery witnessing the match heartily applauded the long rallies and splendid services of both netmen. Both players demonstrated that they will rank among the favorites in the Middle Atlantic championship matches.

Fine Jade Found In Mexican Tomb

MEXICO CITY.—(By Trens Agency)—Fifteen fine samples of jade were brought to light in a tomb in the ruins of Monte Alban, State of Oaxaca, which was opened by recent earthquakes. The pieces have already been classified and added to the fine collection already in the National Museum and consisting of nearly six hundred pieces.

Decisions are that some of the pieces of jade were subjected to fire, probably being left in the tomb when this was incinerated. Some of the pieces are elaborately carved and one, a small head, is considered very valuable as an archaeological find as giving exact indications as to the period of the ruins and the race of the inhabitants.

The jade is classified as neozoic.

WHAT THEY SAY

John Cowley: "There are many firms in England producing some of the best goods in the world, but owing to some old-fashioned notion or aversion to publicity, they deliberately hinder the progress of their business by failing to devote attention to this method of making known the merits of their products."

Joseph Flavellist: "We need in all the affairs that are of first-class importance, to the careful time the letter does not kill the spirit, for it is the spirit that is life, whether it is in farming on the prairies or carrying on in the city and towns."

Edward Parry: "In woman's sphere, domestic service, which is a skilled profession, women have an industry where high wages can be obtained and a training which fits them to reign with intelligence and success in a household of their own."

David Lloyd George: "I am not one of those who say Britain is doing for... She has still got the greatest international trade in the world;... we have recovered 76 percent of the international trade which we had before the war."

William Johnson-Hicks: "What faults the youth of today have are due to the chaotic times and to errors in upbringing. Perhaps the value of work is not insisted on today as it should be."

NETHERLANDS
General business in the Netherlands remains fairly active and employment has shown a seasonable improvement. Minor industrial disturbances are having but little influence on conditions, it is reported. Retail sales in most lines are highly satisfactory and wholesale turnover is good. Industries have shown a moderate improvement due largely to a better foreign demand. Competition in all lines is increasingly keen and there are many complaints of close margins of profit. Rubber substitutes are reported cutting in on sales of leather. Shoe factories are operating at capacity, but a narrow margin of profit. Surplus stocks of lumber have been largely cleared and the situation is relatively healthy. Capital issues in April declined heavily. Annual reports of large banks and industrial concerns reflect sound conditions. The tendency of the stock exchange has been generally upwards. The decline in rubber shares has been halted, there is renewed interest in Royal Dutch petroleum and prices of certain domestic industrial markets in general show a firm tendency.

"Happiest Girl in Texas"

So many mothers nowadays talk about giving their children fruit juices, as if this were a new discovery. As a matter of fact, for over fifty years, mothers have been accomplishing results far surpassing anything you can secure from home prepared fruit juices, by using pure, wholesome California Fig Syrup, which is prepared under the most exacting laboratory supervision from ripe California Figs, richest of all fruits in laxative and nourishing properties.
It's marvelous to see how bilious, weak, feverish, sallow, constipated, under-nourished children respond to its gentle influence; how their breath clears up, color flames in their cheeks, and they become sturdy, playful, energetic again. A Texas mother, Mrs. E. C. Toepperwein, 2416 Wyoming St., San Antonio, says: "When my little daughter, Mildred, was just two, she became so constipated that I was badly worried. Then a friend got me to give her some California Fig Syrup. It stopped her constipation quick; and the way it improved her color and made her pick up made me realize how run-down she had been. She is so sturdy and well now, and always in such good humor that neighbors say she's the happiest girl in Texas."

Like all good things, California Fig Syrup is imitated, but you can always get the genuine by looking for the name "California" on the carton:

When A Girl Loves

© 1928 by NEA Service

BY DUTH DEWY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Nathaniel Damm, struggling artist, is engaged to Virginia Brewster, whose father is a prominent Wall street financier. After losing his fortune in speculation Brewster dies of heart failure and leaves his daughter penniless.

Niel urges Virginia to marry him at once, but an old family friend, Frederick Dean, and his daughter, Clarissa persuade her to make her temporary home with them.

Niel is angry when Virginia tells him her decision, for he suspects Dean's motives and does not like the shallow Clarissa, who has just announced her engagement to Russell Waingould. He takes Virginia to her new home and returns unhappily to his neglected studio, where he finds his model, Chiri, waiting with hot coffee for him. He knows that Chiri is jealous of Virginia, and fearing that she will become a nuisance he repulses her and she leaves in a temper.

Meanwhile Virginia is puzzled by a talk with Clarissa in which the latter intimates that she will tolerate no trespassing where Russell's money and affection are concerned, and says: "Your grief has not clouded your good judgment as a modern."

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER VII
"Come in," Virginia called. She expected to see one of the servants enter. Instead, it was her host who opened the door and stepped inside.

"Aren't you coming down to lunch?" he asked pleasantly.

"Not if you don't mind," Virginia answered wearily.

"Poor child; you're exhausted. Well, do as you like, of course, but I hope you will be able to join us at dinner. Perhaps it would benefit you to go for a drive this afternoon. Shall I order a car?"

Virginia glanced out the window at the clear blue sky with lazy, white clouds drifting over it like sheep in a meadow. She had a sudden feeling of oppression, as though the charmingly furnished room in which she stood were about to contract upon her, to smother her.

"Yes, please do," she cried with unexpected fervor; "it will be glorious to get outdoors."

"At three, then?" Mr. Dean asked. He appeared surprised at

There was nothing for Virginia to do but accept his company unless she chose to be ungracious. She felt a sickening disappointment, however, for she had looked forward to being alone on the drive. For some reason it had seemed to her that she could not get away from Dean's influence and the reaction to Clarissa's veiled remarks while she remained in their house.

Dean joined her a moment later and took her arm to assist her down the outer stairs. To Virginia the assistance was unnecessary but she made no audible protest, knowing that the action was perfectly natural. Only—well, she couldn't help recalling what Nathaniel had said about Dean's touching her. She felt that she was being slightly disloyal to her absent sweetheart when her companion led her hand remain at her elbow while they cross the sidewalk.

And once seated in the car, the feeling grew as Dean sat close beside her, even edging over as she moved nearer her corner. Virginia took herself to task as being foolish to mind it but the impression of undue warmth in "Uncle Frederick's" manner became deeper as they roared smoothly along Riverside Drive and up towards Yankee. Virginia tried to assure herself that it was merely evidence of his sympathy for her, but Nathaniel's words had awakened a new consciousness of the man beside her. He had become suddenly a person who was entirely dissociated from her past ideas of him as the father of her dearest girl friend.

But when he reached for her hand she drew it away as casually as she could but nonetheless effectively. He frowned quickly. Had Virginia been observing his face she might have wondered that he showed so much displeasure over so small a matter.

"You know, Virginia," he said, and somehow managed to speak agreeably, "I'm sure I could help you solve your problems, if only you would trust me."

"Why, it isn't a matter of not trusting you, Uncle Frederick. I know what you think about Nathaniel and myself and, well, I'm wondering if you aren't wrong—if I shouldn't let him take care of me as he wants to do."

MUSIC WILL CHARM RANCOR OUT OF HEART

Bands Will Feature Idle Moments At Democratic National Convention.

Special to the Telegram.
HOUSTON, June 11.—Delegates, alternates and visitors attending the Democratic National Convention in Houston June 26, will be regaled with a wide variety of melodies by the bands which will appear on the streets, hotels and other points of vantage, including the Hospitality House and Coliseum, during the life of the national meet.

But... there's one tune, which will be absolutely TABOO. And this information comes directly from the committee in charge of band activities, Marchin' Through Georgia, a melody which was composed soon after General Sherman's march through the Cracker State during the war between the States, will be eliminated from the programs. This ultimatum, principally in deference to the Georgia delegation, but also a gracious gesture toward the entire South, was among the first issued by the committee.

General Jacob F. Wolters, chairman, announces that all the bands promised will be on hand, and that it is intended to arrange the band schedule so that two bands will be on duty in the Coliseum at all working sessions—other units will be paraded to the railroad depots to greet incoming visitors.

As a pleasant surprise, it was planned to have the welcoming bands greet the respective delegations by playing the airs familiar in their home states. Copies of these selections are already in the hands of band leaders, and rehearsals are now under way.

Among the bands scheduled for the convention, in addition to the Houston Municipal Band, will be Brownwood's famous "Old Gray Mare Band"; Gold Medal Band, Memphis; Dallas Municipal Band, donated by the citizens of that city in honor of Jesse H. Jones, and which will be his personal band throughout the life of the convention; Edinburg Band, crack of Rio Grande Valley organization; The Magnolia Petroleum Band, Beaumont, a prime favorite with radio patrons throughout the nation by virtue of appearing over the ether from time to time, Missouri Pacific Booster Band, headquarters at Palestine, and one of the finest bands in the state; Houston's own 143rd Infantry Band, and the novel, Houston Ladies' Band, consisting solely of Houston housewives, and which is said to offer a rare treat not only to the ear, but to the eye, since all the musicians are unsexually pretty.

Arrangements for quartering the visiting bands are complete. Some will be stationed at various fire depots throughout the city. A room in the Democratic Building has been set aside for the use of the bands.

LEGAL NOTICE AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance providing traffic rules and regulations for the operation of vehicles within the corporate limits: Requiring the police force to be uniformed and to enforce such rules; requiring the public to comply with the directions given by the members of the police force; prescribing what vehicles have the right of way; prohibiting the use of sirens; prescribing a speed limit; forbidding the reckless operation of motor vehicles; forbidding the operation of motor vehicles with defective brakes and steering gear; providing for the erection of stop signals; prohibiting the malicious driving over of said signals; requiring all traffic to come to a full stop at said signals; fixing an age limit for drivers of vehicles prohibiting double parking; prohibiting parking in reserved and restricted space; prohibiting the driving over fire hose; prohibiting the driving through blocked or closed street; prohibiting parking near fire plugs; prohibiting the parking of a car with motor left running; prohibiting the obstruction of side walks; defining the manner of parking; prohibiting the holding on to moving vehicles; providing that this ordinance shall be cumulative with all other traffic ordinances except where in direct conflict with the provisions hereof, and providing that in the event of such conflict, that all prior conflicting sections or portions of ordinances shall be and are hereby repealed in so far as such conflict exists; and providing a penalty for violation hereof; and providing that the holding of any portion hereof to be invalid shall not affect the validity of any other portion or provisions; and creating an emergency.

WHEREAS, the constant increase of vehicular and pedestrian traffic in the City of Eastland has made traffic conditions so congested that it has become imperative as a police regulation to protect the life, safety and convenience of its citizens to enact rules and regulations for the operation of vehicles within the corporate limits, according to the terms and provisions of the following ordinances:

Now, therefore, be it ordained by the City Commission of Eastland, Texas:

Section I. Definitions—Unless it appears from the context that a different meaning is intended, the following words shall have the meaning attached and applied to them by this section:

- (a) The term "curb" shall mean the edge of a roadway or street, marked, designated or otherwise commonly understood to be such.
- (b) The term "vehicle" shall mean and include any automobile, truck, wagon, cart, buggy or conveyance of any kind or character, motorcycle or motor vehicle, and shall also include a horse.
- (c) The term "to park" as herein used, means to stop, stand, remain or occupy a certain position on any portion of the street designated.

Section II. Each member of the City police force shall be furnished with a distinctive uniform and a traffic whistle, said uniform to be worn while on duty, and each member of said police force shall at all times be charged with the duty of enforcing these regulations while on duty.

Section III. Drivers of all vehicles at all times must comply with any directions by voice or hand of any member of the police force as to stopping, starting, approaching or departing from any place, the manner of taking up or setting down passengers, the loading or unloading of goods in any place, and the failure to comply with any of such directions upon the part of any driver of any vehicle shall be a violation of this ordinance.

Section IV. Police, fire department, emergency repair vehicles of the public service companies, United States mail vehicles and ambulances shall have the right-of-way on any street and through any procession when in the regular course of their proper duty. All vehicles going in an easterly or westerly direction shall have the right of way over all vehicles going in a northerly or southerly direction.

Section V. It shall be unlawful for any person to use a siren on any vehicle except those used by the fire or police department or ambulances on emergency calls. The driver of any vehicle upon hearing the siren of any approaching fire or police, apparatus or ambulance shall immediately drive said vehicle as near as possible to the right hand curb and bring it to a standstill, and remain stopped until such apparatus or ambulance shall have passed.

Section VI. All vehicles must keep as near to the right hand curb as possible at all times. Any vehicle overtaking another and seeking to pass same shall first signal and then pass to the left, and shall not pull over again to the right until entirely clear of the vehicle passed.

Section VII. There shall immediately be installed, at the following street intersections, a rubber "Stop" sign, placed in the center of the street on the line of intersection, to-wit:

- (a) The West line of South Lamar at Commerce.
- (b) The South line of West Commerce at Lamar.
- (c) The South line of West Commerce at Seaman.
- (d) The East line of South Seaman at Commerce.
- (e) The East line of North Seaman at Main.
- (f) The North line of East Main at Seaman.
- (g) The North line of West Main at Lamar.
- (h) The West line of North Lamar at Main.
- (i) The South line of West Commerce at Daugherty.
- (j) The North line of West Commerce at Daugherty.
- (k) The West line of South Seaman at Plummer.
- (l) The South line of East Main at Roswood.

Section VIII. All vehicles approaching a "Stop" sign shall come to a full and complete stop before passing such sign. This stop must be within ten feet of the white line marker placed at such intersection. It is not enough to slow down an automobile and change gears. Every vehicle must come to a complete stop.

Section IX. It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle or any other person to deface, molest, damage or maliciously drive over the "Stop" signs herein provided for when installed.

Section X. Any person in charge of an automobile or motor vehicle on any street shall drive the same at no speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the public street or drive way by others, or so as to endanger the life or limb of any person thereon, and in no event shall any motor vehicle within the city limits be driven at a rate of speed in excess of twenty-five miles per hour.

Section XI. Any person in charge of a motor vehicle shall drive the same on no public streets, the brakes and steering mechanism of which vehicle are not in good repair and capable of keeping said vehicle under the absolute control of the driver at all times and at all speeds.

Section XII. No person under the age of sixteen years shall operate a motor vehicle within the city limits of Eastland, and it shall be unlawful for the owner of any motor vehicle to permit the same to be driven or operated by any one under the age of sixteen years. The fact that an older person is with the driver does not prevent a violation of this section.

Section XIII. No vehicle shall be driven over any street where there is a sign that said street or a part thereof has been closed by the police or the street departments.

Section XIV. It shall be unlawful for any vehicle to drive over a fire hose.

Section XV. No vehicle shall be parked where there is a police department sign prohibiting parking. All reserved spaces shall be plainly marked with white paint on the curb, and a plain stenciled sign with letters at least four inches tall shall be painted over the white paint, as follows, "No Parking Here," "One Hour Parking Limit," or words of similar import.

Section XVI. No vehicle shall be parked abreast of another vehicle.

Section XVII. No vehicle shall be parked within ten feet of a fire plug.

Section XVIII. No vehicle shall be left parked on the streets of Eastland with its motor running, unless some person capable of driving the same be left in charge thereof.

Section XIX. It shall be unlawful to leave any vehicle parked in such a manner as to block or obstruct any public alley, street or sidewalk within the city limits of Eastland.

Section XX. All vehicles shall be parked with the right front wheel and the rear right wheel not more than twelve inches from the curb except where there is a sign allowing head-in parking, in which case the front of the vehicle shall be against the curb and the body of the vehicle shall extend at an angle of forty-five degrees from the curb.

Section XXI. It shall be unlawful for the rider of any bicycle, tricycle or motorcycle, or any person on skates, to hold or hang on to any moving vehicle.

Section XXII. It shall be unlawful to throw tracks, nails, broken glass or trash in and upon any street, side walk or alley of the City of Eastland.

Section XXIII. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars.

Section XXIV. This ordinance shall be cumulative with all previous ordinances, except in so far as such previous ordinances or sections thereof shall be in direct conflict with this ordinance, and as to such portions, sections or ordinances which are in direct conflict the same are hereby repealed in so far as such conflict exists.

Section XXV. Should any section or part of a section of this ordinance be declared to be invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such decision or judgment shall not affect the remaining sections or parts of sections, but the remaining portions, parts or sections shall continue to be in full force and effect.

Section XXVI. Whereas, the facts set forth in the preamble to this ordinance are such as to create an emergency to the extent that the rule requiring ordinances to be read at three separate and several meetings of the City Commission should be suspended; said rule is hereby suspended, and this ordinance is placed on its third and final reading and finally passed, and the same shall be in full force and effect from its passage and publication as required by the City Charter, and it is so ordained.

Passed by unanimous vote on the 6th day of June, A. D. 1928. I, E. W. Craig, Clerk of the City of Eastland, Texas, hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of an ordinance passed by the Commissioners of the City of Eastland on the 6th day of June, A. D. 1928.

"At three then?" Mr. Dean asked. "Oh, sooner," Virginia urged.

her eagerness.

"Oh, sooner," Virginia urged; then conscious that her manner was strange, added in explanation, "I'm sure I'll be able to think better outdoors."

Dean frowned. "You aren't worrying about your future, I hope. That isn't necessary, my dear."

"I don't know exactly what I'm worrying about," Virginia exclaimed, her voice resting on a note of hysteria.

"You mustn't let yourself go to pieces," he warned her. "You know you can count on me to help you in any way I can."

"It isn't anything I can talk about," Virginia told him.

He came over and took her hands in his. "The car will be ready whenever you want it," he said gently. "And now may I send up some lunch to you?"

Virginia nodded.

But when the lunch arrived she left it untouched. Her windows gave on Fifth Avenue, and she sat, hatted, watching for the car to arrive.

After what seemed to Virginia a long time Mr. Dean's dark blue limousine drew smartly up to the curb. She ran from the room and down the stairs, pulling on her gloves at the same time.

She was crossing the hall when Dean appeared in the door of the dining room and spoke to her.

"Would you wait just a moment?" he said. "I'd like to go with you."

"I was afraid you might lose your courage, my dear. Naturally you would want to let him do that but... you're very much in love with him, aren't you?"

Virginia smiled. "He has taught me the meaning of the word," she said simply.

"Then you must know better than to let him wreck his life. Mr. Dean replied with a seriousness of expression that carried a touch of conviction to Virginia.

"But would it I could help him, I'm sure of that."

"Virginia, please let me save you from the greatest irony of life. I mean the failure to profit by the experience of others who have lived before you, meeting the same problems, facing the same obstacles. It is a great pity, but wisdom seems always to come when it is too late to be of service to us in making our decisions. You are standing on the threshold of a new life. You will make or mar it by whichever voice you heed now—that of sound advice offered you or the impulse of your own heart."

"You—frighten me," Virginia shivered slightly. "You make happiness seem so remote."

"No. If you will but see it, happiness is yours for the asking. Be true to what you know is for your own and young Dean's best good and you can't fail to be happy. Don't be weak, Virginia. Don't let yourself be swept off your feet just because you are in love."

WASHINGTON.—Year by year women are learning more about practical politics and slowly increasing their influence in that sphere.

They will be more important in 1928 than ever before and the republican national convention at Kansas City will demonstrate that a small number of them have developed as real political leaders. They know better how to get what they want.

Men, of course, continue to dominate the conventions. It will be many years before women will achieve an equality of control in the nominating machinery. Most of the women delegates this year will sit tight and say nothing but what they are told.

But both parties are going to be just as nice as they can, for the republican party looks to millions of women voters to save the party from possible defeat in the very serious battle they expect from Al Smith.

There will be fewer women delegates at Kansas City than at Cleveland in 1924. The count on a list of delegates selected in 40 states, just compiled by the republican national committee, gives about 65 feminine delegates—of whom nearly 40 are delegates-at-large—and 240 alternates. The other eight states probably won't raise the total women delegates above 75 or 80 at the most, or the alternates to 250, so that women will have less than the 10 percent voting voice they had in 1924. The only possible catch in these figures lies in the possibility that some women delegates were reported chosen without designation of sex—hardly likely.

In 1924 there were 120 republican women delegates and 273 alternates. A dozen or two women had fractional votes, however, and the same will be true this year.

On the republican national committee, of course, there are one man and one woman from each state, with equal voting powers. Of the officers, only one of the three vice-chairmanships is held by a woman, Mrs. Alvin T. Hert of Kentucky. But six of the twelve other members of the executive committee are Miss Bina M. West of Michigan, Mrs. Chas. H. Sabin of New York, Mrs. Barclay Warburton of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Jeannette A. Hyde of Utah, Mrs. George Orvis of Vermont and Mrs. Bryant B. Brooks of Wyoming.

The acknowledged queen of the women politicians will be a Lowden leader. This is Mrs. Medill McCormick, a delegate-at-large from Illinois and recently nominated for congresswoman-at-large. She is a better politician than many of the male brand and a distinct asset to Lowden.

Of the three republican congresswomen, only Mrs. Katherine Langley of Kentucky is a delegate. Mrs. Florence Kahn of California and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts have been active in the Hoover prevention fight.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth will be at the convention, but only as a spectator. Mrs. Longworth dotes on national conventions and probably will get as much of a kick out of this one as anyone else except the nominee. New York will send two of her best women politicians. Mrs. Sabine is a delegate-at-large and Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, daughter of Nicholas Murray Butler, is an alternate. An interesting angle developed lately when Miss Florence Wardwell, the other

Mystery Prisoner Is Lodged in Jail By Ranger Police

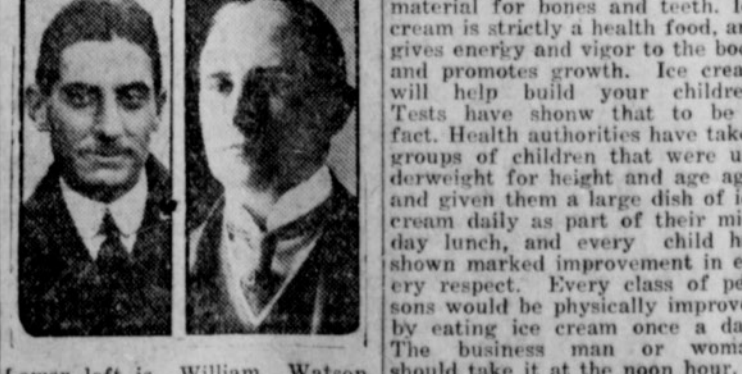

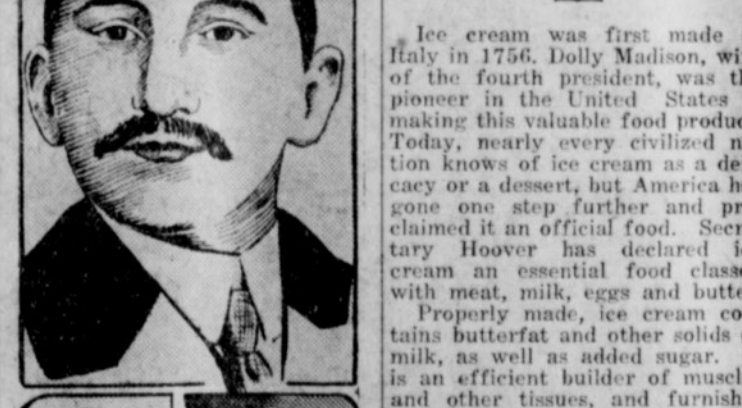

A man giving his name to police as Joe Conerith, 50 years old, was taken off an eastbound freight train and placed in the Ranger jail early this morning and booked for investigation. A 19-year-old negro boy, giving the name of John Ellis, was riding with the elderly man in an empty freight car.

The white man had $500 in currency on his person. In his suitcase was found a ticket to Bremen, Germany, which he had not used. The ticket called for third class passage on the ship Mauchen, in February. The ticket, as well as an affidavit of identity and nationality, was made out to Josef Stetteldorf, Austria, and now "an Arkansas lawyer."

Chief of Police Jim Ingram was questioning the man this morning. A picture on the man's passport corresponded with the man lodged in jail.

When questioned by Ingram and Mayor John Thurman, the man refused to talk. He also refused to give the two men a sample of his handwriting. The negro said he had just been released from the Cleburne jail where he spent 16 days for fighting. He said he did not know the man but that both of them were using the car for sleeping purposes.

The writer of detective tales, whose knowledge of criminal methods tells him that Slater is not guilty, finally has secured Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, as a governmental review of the case. When a Girl Loves

"Perhaps you are right," she admitted hopelessly; "but I wish I felt as sure of it as you do."

"You will soon, I know. Now, won't you tell me—is there any way in which I can help you materially? You will be doing me a great unkindness if you allow yourself to go in need of anything I can provide for you, my dear."

"Thank you," Virginia said; "there's nothing—" She was genuinely sorry that her voice carried so little warmth of gratitude but she could not help it. There was about his generous-sounding offer some tone of patronage—perhaps she only imagined it—that left her cold.

"There is something you can tell me, though," she added a moment later. "And please don't think that I have anything to complain about, but I just would like to know if Clarissa was perfectly willing to have me come and live with you."

"I rather thought she wounded you in some way, Virginia, but you know Clarissa is an out-spoken person. Of course, I don't know what she had to be out-spoken about to you, but at least I can lay any doubts you may have concerning your welcome with us. We both are overjoyed to have you. Clarissa was the first to urge the arrangement, although I had it in mind before she mentioned it to me."

"I may have imagined something she didn't mean," Virginia confessed generously; "yes, I'm certain I must have."

"I'm glad to hear you say that."

I shouldn't like your stay with us to be clouded in any way."

"Then I'm sure you mean to extend your welcome to Nathaniel," Virginia responded, brightening.

"Oh," flatly, "yes, of course. But don't you think it will only make it harder for you to keep your purpose if you listen too often to his pleadings?"

"I'll have to take that risk," Virginia said firmly. "I couldn't stand not seeing him every day. I hope it will be agreeable to you and Clarissa to have him call, but I must tell you that I could not stay where it wasn't possible to be with Nathaniel."

"He's quite welcome," Dean returned stiffly.

A little later, after an awkward silence, Virginia suggested that they return home, and he acquiesced without protest.

There was no more talk of Nathaniel then. More of silence than talk of any kind, and when they reached the Deans' house Virginia did not linger downstairs but ran swiftly to her room and lifted the telephone to put in a call for Nathaniel's number. She felt a great need to hear his voice, to assure herself that he actually was near, ready to come if she wanted him. And without knowing precisely why, she felt that there had been an attempt to draw them apart, to interfere with their seeing each other.

She became really agitated, waiting for the beloved, growling voice to answer.

And then there came a lazy, "hello," that struck on Virginia's heart like a cat's paw on a butter-knife.

Brady Enjoying Prosperous Era, Shows Enterprise

Special to the Telegram

BRADY, June 12.—The largest bank deposits in the history of Brady and an elaborate paving and building program now in progress manifest the firm prosperity and splendid advancement characterizing this flourishing capital city of McCulloch county.

Long recognized as one of the most enterprising cities of its size in the state, Brady is experiencing greater development than it has ever before known.

Thirty-five blocks are being paved, which will give the city five miles of pavement. Three automobile agencies are constructing buildings—one at a cost of $25,000 and two at an expenditure of $18,000 each. The Heart o' Texas hotel is nearing completion. A concern is spending $25,000 for a business structure and another handsome store building is being constructed.

Brady is the home of two new theatres, as fine as can be found anywhere in this part of the state. The Brady Hotel ranks among the most modern and attractive in West Texas.

The city has natural gas from the Lohn field where a new gasser has just been drilled. The water and light plants are municipally owned.

Cattle, cotton, turkeys, sheep and goats contribute to the prosperity of Brady. Just now, the Brady section is looking forward to the big annual celebration on July 4, 5 and 6 when horse races and many other enterprising features will be held and thousands of people will attend.

Epworth League Summer Assembly Will Open July 2

FORT WORTH, June 12.—Although registrations will be received on the opening day of the seventh annual Summer Assembly of the Central Texas Conference Epworth League, which will convene at Texas Woman's College here, July 2-7, Epworth leaguers in the ten districts of the conference are urged to mail their registrations in advance, as reservations for dormitory rooms are going fast.

Rev. J. D. F. Williams, executive secretary, who is receiving the registrations at the conference office, First Methodist Church, Fort Worth, is making the reservations in the order that registrations are received. A large increase in registrations is very evident and the fact that only about 400 delegates can be accommodated at the college may cause some disappointment for the late delegates, Rev. Mr. Williams said.

The registration fee for this year's Assembly is $2.75, which includes privileges of the campus and dormitories, the official notebook and program, the Assembly paper and the conference journal which appears after the Assembly. Delegates must furnish their own sheets, blankets, pillows, etc., the executive secretary announced.

All delegates who attend are expected to take the courses of study for credit work. Interesting courses in Bible, missions, League methods and administration will be taught by a competent faculty. Dr. L. L. Evans, Waco, will be the principal speaker, delivering three inspirational addresses during the week.

One of the features of the Assembly will be a banquet and fun program to be held on the night of July 4 in the Crystal Banquet Hall of the Texas Hotel. Plans are practically completed by committees for the greatest evening of fun and surprises ever staged at the Summer Assembly.

Another attractive feature will be the daily recreational program which will be under the direction of R. W. H. McCulloch, Wichita Falls, recreational leader for the North Texas Conference Epworth League. McCulloch is widely known for his ability as a leader and fun-maker.

The inspirational and spiritual features of the Assembly will be amply cared for this year in the addresses of Dr. Evans, the morning watch service by Dr. H. E. Stout, president of T. W. C., and the vesper services which will be in charge of a different person each evening.

Fort Worth District Leaguers have numerous committees at work planning a royal welcome for the delegation. Rev. J. M. Bond and C. L. Richhart, both of Fort Worth, are dean and president, respectively, of the Assembly.

Olney Man Killed By Electric Shock

OLNEY, June 12.—C. H. Holland, 46, was found dead in his blacksmith shop here Monday noon, a victim of an electrical shock.

Holland, who just recently moved here from Wichita Falls, had moved his shop to a new location and was installing his electrical equipment.

The machinery was running when a patron entered and found his body crumpled up on the ground under the switch. The ground was wet and it is presumed that Holland came in contact with a live wire while installing switches to control the current from various parts of the building.
