ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM OVER THE STATE

Longview.—J. M. Spinks, 86, Confederate veteran, is nursing severe scalp wounds after trying to ride a bull. He will recover.

Dalingerfield.—R. J. Fielder, 70, Cason, six miles west of Dalingerfield, was run down and fatally injured by an automobile on the street at Cason Tuesday. He never regained consciousness.

Austin.—Fire discovered in the cedar forests west of Barton Springs and less than five miles from the city limits of Austin Monday afternoon was reported to be rapidly spreading and to have covered a wide area.

Clasco.—Arthur Toombs, a garage man, sustained probably fatal injuries when he was attacked on the street here Monday. His skull was fractured.

Austin.—Alfred Sanders, 19, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Sanders, was drowned at Miles, late Sunday, a message received here said. Sanders was attacked by cramps while swimming.

San Antonio.—The fifth effort within the past two months to set fire to the station hospital at Fort Sam Houston was made Sunday when someone broke open ward 32 and started a blaze in mattresses stored in the building, according to information from the army post.

Temple.—M. E. Wilson, 30, brakeman for the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad, died Monday shortly after injuries received when struck by a string of boxcars in the local freight yards. He is survived by a wife and one child. He died while being carried to a hospital in an ambulance.

Lubbock.—Chas. Edward Parks, 48, former mayor of Lubbock and veteran Plains business man, was buried here Monday afternoon, following his death Sunday. Parks served as alderman of Lubbock from 1909 to 1913 and as mayor from 1917 to 1922, when in April of that year illness which had clung to him ever since caused him to retire from public life.

Austin.—Miss Jessie Eversole, 22, was injured fatally and Miss Betty Smith, R. M. Wamsley and Henry Wamsley, were slightly hurt when the auto occupied by them overturned into a ditch on the Austin-San Antonio highway. Miss Eversole died at a hospital two hours after the accident.

Sherman.—Two pretty girls, each 18, plead guilty to indictments in the 59th district court here Monday. Minnie Ratliff had passed forged checks on Sherman merchants and Katherine Robertson had taken some fine clothing from a Pottsboro store. The jury wanted to give them a suspended sentence, but could not because there was more than one charge against each.

Austin.—Henry Rybee, 12-year-old son of Dr. H. Y. Rybee of the University faculty, drowned in the swimming pool of the University Y. M. C. A. Monday afternoon. Rybee was one of a party of young boys who were using the pool and no one knew of the accident until he was missed.

Marshall.—Wm. Lane, Marshall lawyer, succeeded in rescuing four members of a swimming party from drowning Sunday at Fern Lake, north of here. Lane had come out of the water and entered the bathroom when he heard screams for help. After a struggle he finally managed to get the imperiled persons to shallow water and safety. Three of the party were women.

Mrs. S. L. Anderson is enjoying a visit from her sister, Mrs. J. G. Hooper and daughter, of San Francisco, Calif.

E. A. Whitley of Whitesboro is visiting his daughter, Mrs. S. L. Anderson.

Two inches of rain fell last week and one and one-half this week.

Few people indeed are given the power to read the signs of the times and predict the future, and when we realize in this delightful quotation, we all run the risk of the cliff that we so often leap upon the weather's arm.

Experience teaches us that something besides gas is needed to keep automobiles and men climbing.

PROPOSES BETTER FARM MARKETING

The following address was delivered by former lieutenant governor, Lynch Davidson, before the Houston Salesmanship Club at Houston recently:

Show me the man who is a good home provider and, with few exceptions, I will show you a good citizen. It was said by Napoleon, one of the greatest military geniuses of his age, that "An army travels on its stomach," meaning of course, that it must be fed and provided for or else it would not travel.

So it is in all walks of life, and that calls for individual economic independence. It calls for man to first provide for his own security, but not selfishly. Individual economic independence creates good citizens, and upon good citizenship government depends for its existence.

If typical of its title, this organization's membership relies upon salesmanship as a means of maintenance. There are many kinds of salesmen: hardware, grocery, dry goods, lumber, steel, oil stock, cigars and cigarettes, pen and paper, peanut and popcorn vendors, but how frequently do we ever see or hear of a real "farmer salesman." And so I have chosen "Farm Marketing Salesmanship" as a theme kindred to this organization and occasion.

No class of people throughout this broad land enjoy less economic independence than the farmer—the biggest business of all businesses—producing annually more new wealth than any other single business. It provides, generally speaking, poorer standards of living, less opportunity to enjoy the luxuries of life than any other single industry, and yet is the very heart, soul and backbone of the nation's prosperity.

The farmer's method of production may be unscientific and wasteful, but cost is variable—up or down, by efficient methods on the one hand, or inefficient on the other—no only a small degree. One single item of Texas farm products—cotton—within a period of less than five years has ranged up and down in price more than 300 per cent. I distinctly recall in one swift fluctuation it dropped from 36 cents per pound at high point down to 11 cents per pound at low point. Make the cost of production what you will, no business on earth can withstand such violent fluctuations and downward depressions on its income. The law of supply and demand is ever present and active. Its influence may be minimized by coordinated efficient salesmanship. By the same token, speculative raids upon the farmers' income can be averted.

So long as the individual farmer, with sledge in his hands, peddles his crops from door to door, his individual economic independence will be destructively violated and valuation wrought to his business—the greatest business of all—the business of farming.

Salesmanship has become a science. In its most modern and advanced form it is a science of cooperation through corporations. The stockholder

HARVEST ON WITH LABOR SHORTAGE

Late last week the first new wheat of the season began coming in. Several fields were ripe enough to begin on first of this week, but the rains have delayed harvesting.

A scarcity of harvest hands exists, and many inquiries are made daily for help which is not being supplied in a satisfactory manner.

The Great West Mill & Elevator Co. shipped a car of wheat from here Wednesday. Other elevators are receiving their share of wheat, and some has been dumped here which tested 64 pounds to the bushel.

GAS LINE ALMOST ASSURED FOR TOWN

Three meetings of the City Council have been held this week relative to the proposals for piping gas to town. Wednesday night the council met representatives of the Danziger Oil & Refining Co., and discussed a supply of gas from their well six miles south of town.

It is now almost a settled fact that gas will be available for domestic use here by Oct. 1.

The various phases of a gas franchise are being investigated by the council before any definite agreements or franchises are signed up.

ATTRACTIVE SALE OF KITCHEN CABINETS

The G. C. Malone Furniture Co. has been featuring a sale of the Sellers Kitchen Cabinet the past several days, during which time a number of these fine cabinets have been sold in this community.

The cabinets are being sold with a payment of only $1 down, and besides a set of dishes, a set of cutlery and an assortment of groceries are being given with each cabinet as an advertising feature to better acquaint the people with Sellers cabinets.

Mr. Malone received a carload of new furniture this week and is now offering a number of special bargains in that line. See his half page ad elsewhere in this issue.

MAN FINED FOR PURLOINING GAS

Local officers arrested J. W. Ward and two sons of Amarillo, last Monday, and held them under charges of stealing gasoline at the Parvis Bros. farm, southwest of town.

A plea of guilty was finally entered by the elder man and he was assessed a fine of $50, which was paid, after which the trio was released.

Ward and his sons had been working out at the Parvis farm in the harvest field, it was said.

Fred Young of Amarillo was here Tuesday between trains.

Monday and Tuesday were the longest days.

CLUB ENCAMPMENT SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Gray County club boys and girls met at Lefors Thursday morning of last week for their annual encampment.

At the noon hour County Agent McMeans and Home Demonstration Agent Miss Seelbach instructed the boys and girls to line up and pass by the table and be served, and then to wash their plates, thus eliminating the unpleasant task of wholesale dishwashing.

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude addressed the gathering on the need of education, pleading with parents to invest in their children.

Mrs. Berta L. Vaden, home demonstration agent of Armstrong county, spoke, and asked each one to plan what avocation they would have in life.

Attorney Newton P. Willis was also among the speakers and told many interesting things of pioneer days in the Panhandle, as well as many enjoyable jokes. He advised the boys and girls to grasp the opportunities they now have.

John L. Edmonds, district agent, made an interesting talk on the advantages of today.

Rev. J. T. Griswold of Clarendon was present, and spoke to the boys and girls briefly, in which he asked them not to leave God out of their lives in this fast age.

County agents from Carson, Hemphill and Wheeler counties were present, as was Mrs. F. C. Quarles, former demonstration agent in this county, who assisted in the judging.

Geo. W. Sitter and Sam Morse each donated a beef and Mr. McMeans harbored the meat to a nicety. The Lane Ice Cream Co., of Amarillo donated five gallons of cream to the encampment, and in all it was a most successful affair from every standpoint.

Following are the winners in the various contests held during the three days' sessions:

Appropriate dress—Class A, first year—Elizabeth Wilkerson won a trip to College Station.

Class B, 2nd year—Joeliene Vannoy, trip to College Station; second prize, Corie Lee Newman, voile dress; third prize, Dorothy Mullin, gingham dress.

Buttonhole contest—First prize, Rachel Stratton, trip to College Station and a silver thimble; second prize, Corie Lee Newman, box of handkerchiefs; third prize, Dorothy Mullin, jar of preserves.

Lightbread contest—First prize, Leslie Cobb of Kingsmill, trip to College Station; 2nd prize, Clara May George of Eldridge, sack of flour; 3rd prize, Ruth Palmer of Eldridge, bottle of toilet water.

Games, swimming, singing and various other amusements were enjoyed by all who attended, and the boys and girls were very grateful to Mr. McMeans, Miss Seelbach and all others who in any way assisted in making the encampment so pleasant and successful.

MAGNOLIA COMPANY BUILDING STATION

Work is now under way on the new drive-in filling station being built by the Magnolia Petroleum Co. of Dallas, on their property recently purchased on Cuyler street.

The awning has been removed from the present building, which formerly was used as the White Deer Land office, and a regular drive-in front will be erected across the corner. This new section of the building will be of a permanent nature, and will later on be added onto with a brick building, it is stated.

The property was purchased several weeks ago from C. P. Buckler by the Magnolia Co.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ALMOST OVER TOP

During the past three weeks additional donations have been received by the Pampa Fire Department from the following firms and individuals:

Texoma Oil Co., Fatherson Drug Co., Horn & Coffee, Texas Garage, Crawford Hardware Co., J. E. Murfee & Co., Panhandle Lumber Co., L. N. McCullough, Pampa Drug Co., Fuller Burnett, Henry's Market, E. L. Eldridge & Son, J. M. Fitzgerald, Gerlach Hopkins Merc. Co., C. P. Buckler, White House Lumber Co., Pampa Barber Shop, W. P. Davis & Co., Lee Banks, Joe Hensard, T. B. Cobb, Malone Furniture Co., C. B. Barnard, Liberty Hotel, White Deer Land Co.

The department still lacks about $60 of having enough funds to paint the trucks and put everything up in first class condition.

The firemen wish to again thank those who have helped them out with donations and made it possible to add the new truck to their fire fighting equipment.

NEW ENGINE NOW IN USE AT PLANT

Power was cut off at the local electric plant Thursday morning while lines were being connected to the new engine and generator unit, which was recently installed.

The new engine is a 100 horsepower twin-cylinder diesel type oil engine, and a direct-connected generator.

The final work in tying up was accomplished and the new machinery is ready to do its part toward furnishing current for local needs.

The 75 horsepower engine will now be used to supply day current and the bigger engine confined to carrying the night load.

FAIR ASSOCIATION MEETING

A meeting of the Pampa Fair Association has been called for Tuesday night, June 29, at the Craven & Cox office in the Gray County Bank Building.

All officers and directors of the association are urgently requested to be present as the matter of a fair this year will be up for discussion, and a number of other matters will be taken up, pertinent to the affairs of the association.

Miss Jewel Latta of DeQueen, Ark., is spending the summer at the Tom Latta home in this city.

We lost half a day Thursday on account of the power being shut off before the News is late this week.

Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Gilchrist and F. R. Gilchrist and family spent the day Saturday in Amarillo.

OIL FIELD ACTIVITY IN THIS LOCALITY

Drilling has been resumed at the Danziger Bros. No. 1 J. B. Bowers six miles south of town, with standard tools. The well is now about 2740 feet deep, and is producing several million feet of gas.

Drilling has also been resumed on the Wilcox Company's No. 2 well in section. Cement was set several days ago to shut off caves and this is now being drilled out, preparatory to going on down to production.

The Clark & Harbin well is still on the pump but it is not known how much oil it is making as yet.

Work is going steadily forward on the 80,000 barrel storage tank on the Wilcox lease.

KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET

CHAS. M. PIPKIN,
Market Correspondent

Kansas City Stock Yards.—Hog prices were higher again Monday, making a 10-day period in which there has been no set back in the market. Demand has broadened considerably and supplies are moving readily with the average price level close to the $13 basis. Though cattle receipts were larger than a week ago, they were no more than normal for this season of the year. The market held steady to higher. Lambs were 25 cents lower and sheep steady.

Monday's Receipts

Receipts Monday were 15,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs, and 7,000 sheep, compared with 12,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs, and 5,000 sheep a week ago and 14,500 cattle, 16,000 hogs and 9,225 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

Good to choice fed steers ruled strong to 15 cents higher than last week and others were steady. Grass fat classes, though in moderate supply showed some weakness, but this was due to sappy condition they carried. Demand was fairly active throughout. The supply of cattle that has had any material amount of feed is diminishing and those that show grass are increasing. The best yearlings, light and medium weight steers offered brought $11 to $11.50. Heavy weight steers sold up to $10.75 and short feds in practically all weights sold at $8.50 to $10.75. Texas fed steers brought $7.50 to $9.50 and grass fat steers sold at $5 to $7.85. Grass fat cows and heifers, except "canners" and cutters which were steady, were quoted 15 to 25 cents lower. Fed cows and heifers were steady. Veal calves were strong to 50 cents higher.

Stockers and Feeders

Demand for stockers and feeders was active at strong prices. Receipts remained moderate. Because of the favorable condition of the corn crop inquiry for thin cattle will increase.

Hogs

Hog prices were up 10 to 15 cents Monday, and in a new high position for the past two months. In the past ten days prices have advanced close to $16 and are $1.50 above the low point in May. The market is more settled at the higher price level than when quotations were under $12. The top price Monday was $13.20 and bulk of sales $12.90 to $13.15. The 170 pounds up sold within the bulk, and the 120 to 160 pound classes brought $12.25 to $12.75. Packing sows sold at $11.75 to $12.25 and stock hogs and pigs $11.75 to $12.35.

Sheep and Lambs

Lambs were 25 cents lower than late last week and sheep were steady. A fairly good advance still holds. Most of the offerings were native lambs that sold at $14.50 to $15 and Texas wethers $7 to $9.25. Receipts remained moderate.

Horses and Mules

Trade in the horses and mules continued quiet. Too few are offered to test values.

Rodolfo Goana, Mexico's champion torador, retires after slaying 1,807 bulls. If we only had a bull slayer like that in this country!

The Republican administration is again being lambasted by patriotic citizens for its frozen patriotism. They have had a number of new stamps designed lately and not one of them has the fact of our great president, Woodrow Wilson, on them. They fear the power of his name even though his soul has ascended.

A group of farmers at Owatonna, Minn., operating under a cost-keeping system put out five years ago by the University of Minnesota experts, have disproved the traditions that farming never pays. They have found where the farm loses are—in labor, in buying, in selling; and they have tried to plug every leak. They have paid themselves $60 a month wages, and 5 per cent on their investment. They have increased butter production 20 per cent per cow, and reduced production costs; they have found shorter cuts to profits in almost every branch of farming. Their farm income last year averaged $2,471, or better than $200 a month, which is far above the average tradesman or mechanic income. Last year brought exceptional prices for wheat, corn and a few other products; but much of this Minnesota income was from miscellaneous farming—alfalfa, poultry, dairy products. They had no magic sesame to success; they merely cut out the waste and stuck to the things that paid.

Shakespeare has written of the seven ages of man. But for practical purposes we believe that this can be reduced to three. First is the age of youth, with its dreams of future greatness. Young men and boys see themselves leading a great army into war, directing the policies of a vast industrial organization, or developing a world revolutionizing invention. Next comes middle age and the shattering of illusions of youth. The task of making a decent living for the wife and "kiddies" who are now coming on leaves little time for dreams. Then in the following age these youthful dreams reappear in a different form. Both father and mother begin to hope that son and daughter may some day occupy the lofty positions in the world that they themselves hoped to reach. So the matter of proper environment for the young folks becomes all important—or at least it should become the most important consideration in life. Good wholesome surroundings, proper school associations, and plenty of open air for the children become of greater importance to father than a mere salary. So what can be better at such a time in life than a good home in a good morally clean town.

During the hysteria produced by a bitter political campaign, the people of Oregon two years ago voted in favor of a law prohibiting parents from sending their children to any but public schools. Private schools were entirely eliminated by the measure. The United States Supreme Court has annulled that law as contrary to every principle of constitutional liberty. There are many reasons why parents may not want to send their children to public schools. The decision does not affect the power of the state to enforce compulsory schooling. The state may insist that the academic standards of private schools be the same as those for public schools. It may license teachers and supervise all schools to assure the maintenance of standards. But it can not interfere with special instruction of the normal or cultural nature. This decision illustrates how the United States Constitution and the United States Supreme Court guarantee and protect the rights of the American citizen. Many legislative and judicial decisions of general application can be cited which afford the ultimate protection afforded every citizen by these great institutions of liberty.

Among Our Exchanges

McLean News: Cut weeds or pay a fine, is the way Amarillo talks to property owners. And the fine is $10 per day as long as the weeds remain uncut. The same system would work nicely in McLean. The man who cares nothing of his neighbors and has no civic pride should be forced to do the right thing.

Wellington Leader: Doctors plan to bar the unfit from their profession. To some sentimental people that will sound like a move to eliminate some of the competition from the medical profession, but it is undoubtedly a good move. People should not be allowed to risk their lives or health by receiving treatment from incompetent physicians. In many cases people do not have time to investigate or make a choice before calling a doctor. It is well to protect them so that they will receive competent attention whenever they call.

Claude News: Not long ago the U. S. Government junked and sunk one of our ships which cost many millions of dollars that was drawn from the pockets of taxpayers. Henry Ford is proposing to pay cash for all such ships and turn them into useful machinery. If Congress refuses to sell these ships and then junks them, every Congressman voting for such a measure should be fired out of office and thrown into prison for incompetency and malfeasance in office. By eliminating the unnecessary office holders and waste now going on our taxes could be reduced 50 per cent.

Higgins News: Pity that somebody doesn't invent something to take the work out of work. No matter how many modern improvements one has or how much up-to-date machinery one has, the human race has to work keeping the machinery at work. Now a combine is almost perfect and does away with a lot of work, but still somebody has to make the combine work. If the machine could be wound up and set going in a field of wheat all by itself, the hands could have a vacation while the combine did the work of cutting, threshing, storing, and keeping its own engine in fuel. Yet, for all that, there is a vast distance between the old cradle our grandfather used in the wheat field and a combine. And a combine comes as near doing all the work as can be, considering that it is not human.

Wellington Leader: Business is getting a little dull for some merchants. It is just naturally that time of year, and because it is that time of year, it is time for more advertising. Business firms who advertise now will not only stimulate their business sufficiently to carry on their overhead and still make a little, but the main consideration is that they will be building for a greater business this fall. The merchant who advertises consistently during the summer will have such a lead over his competitor next fall that he will profit greatly in excess of his investment. Only the man who wants no more business than he has can afford to do without advertising, and even those who expect to hold their business that is already developed use advertising space consistently. If your business is getting dull it is the time for more advertising.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

That some cities wait for prosperity, while others go ahead and make it? That every citizen should get on the band wagon and boost for the home city and future prosperity?

That it is your parade or it is your funeral; make it a parade! That a lot of fellows who should be boosters seem to be suffering with brain fatigue; somebody should wake them up.

That work alone will never hurt anybody, but work and worry will break down the best of them.

That if these people would stop drifting along and take an interest in city affairs, they would become boosters and would be in no danger of being hurt by worry.

That if they would dig around a little, they would soon find out that much good could be done and they would be surprised to see what good has already been accomplished by the live ones.—Exchange.

Napoleon was once mingling among his men and officers according to custom, when he overheard a young officer complaining: "Here I've been a lieutenant for four years, and I don't see any chance for advancement yet." Calmly he answered the great Corsican, "I was a lieutenant for seven years and yet I finally made use of my experience to get a slight advancement." A similar statement might be attributed to many captains of industry, finance, or leaders in any worthwhile profession. Conrad spent over half of his life accumulating experience that made his novels among the greatest works of art of this age. Edison spent his early years in the obscurity of his little shop, and Henry Ford was a poor mechanic until long after he had ceased to be a young man. Creating a career in any business or profession is like building a skyscraper. The work on the foundation goes on for months. No progress is being made, seemingly. Then suddenly steel girders begin to loom above the high board fence that surrounds the excavation, rapidly the steel frame work rears itself against the background of the sky, and almost before we realize it a new building is towering above its neighbors. Success in any worth while business requires a long period of training, plenty of hard won experience, years in building a durable foundation. Then on this foundation, the superstructure that so attracts the attention of passing crowds grows rapidly to splendid proportions.

SAYING GOOD-BYE

The Turk will solemnly cross his hands upon his breast and make a profound obeisance when he bids you farewell.

The genial Jap will take his slipper off as you depart, and say with a smile: "You are going to leave my despicable house in your honorable journeying—I regard thee!"

In the Philippines the departing benediction is bestowed in the form of rubbing one's friend's face with one's hand.

The German "Lebe wohl!" is not particularly sympathetic in its sound but it is less embarrassing to those that speed than the Hindoo's performance, who, when you go from him, falls in the dust at your feet.

The Fiji Islanders cross two red feathers. The natives of New Guinea exchange chocolates. The Chinese bend low and say, "Hib, Hib!"

The "Auf wiedersehen" of the Austrians is the most feeling expression of farewell.

The Cuban would consider his good-bye anything but a cordial one unless he was given a good cigar. The South Sea Islander rattle each other's whale teeth necklace.

The Sioux and the Blackfoot will at parting dig their spears in the earth as a sign of mutual esteem. This is the origin of the term "burying the tomahawk."

In the island of the Straits of the Sound the natives at your going will stoop down and clap your feet.

The Russian form of parting salutation is brief, consisting of the single word "Praschal" said to sound like a sneeze. The Oathelie Islander will twist the end of the departing guest's robe and then solemnly shake his own hands three times.—Victorian Railway Magazine.

The cover page of Holland's magazine for the current month is very unusual, in that it shows a lady swimmer and she is actually in the water.

One of the things the Democratic party needs is the conversion of a lot of its leaders into followers.

It is hard to tell whether Vice President Dawes' real desire is to fight the Senate or to fight off obscurity.

 er buys stock in a corporation—banking, manufacturing or otherwise—and immediately becomes a co-operative unit dealing in some particular product and represented by scientific salesmanship. The agricultural producer is the fundamental basis upon which success likewise depends. We are so much concerned with establishing our own economic independence that we are apt at some point to exchange success for selfishness and forget the very basis of our prosperity—the farmer.

But economic laws work unerringly, and will destroy the basis of all prosperity—the farmer—if we continue to forget. In his own mad fight for a footing in life, the business man neglects to shower the farmer's thirsty field with drops of his business experience. Farm marketing salesmanship is the silver lining to the cloud. Farm co-operative marketing organizations are fighting their feeble way to the front. They are a nucleus around which efficient scientific salesmanship may be established for the farmer. He is fundamental to our success and we should contribute to his.

He can succeed by controlling 50 per cent of the flow of his production, and by the same means control the sale of his output. Financing is the first essential to such control. Create control through co-operation in financing and production. Control farm production and sales control of output will follow. Legislation can aid, but not cure the farmers' ills.

Co-operation of the farmer and the business man, whose interests are one and indivisible, will make the farmer salesman a familiar figure in the marts and markets of the world, and bring to the farmer much needed economic independence. The world's welfare lies in being your brother's keeper in this being evolution in the marketing of the nation's agricultural products.
