Borden County among 68 Texas disaster areas

Governor Bill Clements announced that the Small Business Administration has declared 68 West Texas and Panhandle counties disaster areas and eligible for emergency economic injury loans. The SBA loans will aid cotton gins, warehouses, implement dealers and other agribusinesses affected because of heavy rain and hail damaged area crops last June.

These loans would have been automatic at the end of this crop year, when exact amount of crop losses are determined and Farmers Home Administration loans are made available. Governor Clements requested the SBA loans be made available now, because these small non farm businesses need the financial aid immediately. The loans will carry an eight percent rate of interest.

$24,000 scholarship program announced by Pioneer Hi-Bred

Beginning in the fall of 1983, the Southwestern Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., will initiate a new scholarship program to benefit farm youth in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Through the scholarship program, Pioneer will award six four year scholarships annually to FFA and 4-H members in the three states.

High school seniors who receive the $4,000 scholarships will be awarded $1,000 each year for the four years they attend college. By the fall of 1986, when the scholarship program is fully implemented, the Southwestern Division of Pioneer will be awarding $24,000 annually toward college educations for outstanding FFA and 4-H members.

The announcement of the new scholarship program was made by Jim Lindsey, President of the Southwestern Division of Pioneer.

"We hope the announcement of these scholarships emphasizes how strongly Pioneer believes in the job being done by the FFA and 4-H organizations of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico," Lindsey said. "We regard the FFA and 4-H as two of the finest youth organizations in the world. When Pioneer was established 56 years ago,

Kids bring The Old West alive

The days of the Old West fade in and out of most of our minds occasionally from books read or tales told to us when we were young. The Old West was more than a day dream at Gail last Monday night.

The era of Black Bart, Jesse James, saloon girls and month long-dusty trail drives were revived as kindergarten through fourth grade performed a Country and Western Concert for parents and friends.

The leading lady was Miss May (Tammy Voss), who owned the local saloon. Her boyfriend and trailboss (Rowdy Fulfer) and mean, bad ugly, Black Bart Jarrett (Jason Sharp) were among the outstanding citizens of Gailsville-the setting for the concert. For those of you who would like to know for the purpose of avoiding him, the unsavory character who almost shot Mr. McGuire's head off while requesting a love song on the piano was Michael Maxwell.

Local cowpokes, kindergarten and first grade portrayed a real asset to the community, keeping the sheriff in business. The local ranch hands, second grade were always getting thrown out of the saloon, but worked cattle real well. The boys at the McLeroy Ranch kept the May Saloon in business when they got a night off.

The humor and wit with which this play was put together was more than a little refreshing. The program even carried out the humorous theme beginning, "Welcome to Gailsville, Population????????? Whatever the Flint wind blows in or the ISD Trail leads in. It is a not so typical small town. It has a store, post office, school, sheriff, and yes, even a resident preacher. He is a Baptist and sure has a hard time finding a pond deep enough to dunk in."

The children sang songs such as "Ki Yi Yippie, Yippie Ya", "Oh, Suzanna", "Git Along Little Dogie" and "I'm An Old Cowhand. Assisting them were Mr. McGuire on the piano and Stephanie Herring on the flute. Also helping with the corraling of 90 children were Mrs. Sallie Wilson and Mrs. Dayla McGuire.

TIE NOT LIKE KISSING SISTER

If a tie is like kissing your sister, then four losses is like kissing your grandmother who dips snuff. "Noone enjoys a tie game, but both teams played hard and it probably is better that neither one has to take a loss. The first downs were tied, but we had two more penetrations than Ira." states Coach Frisbie. The Coyotes fell behind early (on the opening kick-off) when Ira tailback Jeff Kellner raced seventy-one yards to place the first points on the board with only thirteen ticks off the clock. The Coyotes scored three times in the second quarter on passes to

HIGH SCHOOL PEP RALLY

The Coyote football team is a better team than their record shows, according to senior, Keith Williams during last Friday's pep rally. "Ira wants to beat us pretty bad, but we are not going to let them." Ira and Borden County tied 20-20 in last week's ballgame.

The spirit stick was presented to Jennifer Wilson, who is this year's Coyote mascot. Jennifer is adding lots of fun and energy to our pep rallies and football games in her big Coyote suit.

Coach May gave the pep talk saying our team "Deserves more credit than the record of 0-4 (now n0-4-1) shows. Accompanied by Mr. McGuire on the piano, Coach May did a humorous take-off from "A Boy Named Sue" by Johnny Cash.

Absent-John Martin Carrol and Fred Wilson.

JUNIOR HIGH COYOTES 2-0

Again it was the running of Tommy Soto and the pass catching of Brice Key that enabled the Borden County Junior High to continue their winning ways. The young Coyote squad shut out the Hermleigh team 22-0 last Thursday. "It seems as if these two boys get all the credit, but think what would happen if Massingill, Burkett, Stephens, and Murphy did nothing! This is a team game and if any boy feels he is better than the team, we pitch him the ball and without any blocking, say Go!" states Coach Frisbie. "This puts the Junior High team at 2-0 with four games to play. The squad returns the game with Hermleigh at Hermleigh next Thursday at 6:00.

JK HIGH PEP RALLY

Supporting a 2-0 record, the Coyotes felt very proud during their last pep rally. In the team talk, Will Phinzy said, "We beat Ira pretty bad, and were not suppose to. I think we will do the same to Hermleigh." Coach Frisbie gave the pep talk saying proudly, "We have lost of quickness, size, spirit and talent in our Junior High Coyotes. We have a good chance to win and I think we will."

Texas Farm Groups Unite To Support Proposition Three Passage

Austin-State Sen. John Wilson (D-La Grange) Tuesday announced the formation of an unprecedented, united statewide movement comprised of 21 separate agricultural groups to push for passage of Proposition Three in the November 2 election.

The "Vote for 3 Committee" will be urging support for a measure which seeks to correct the property tax exemption for agricultural machinery and equipment. Limitations were imposed by Attorney General Mark White in a 1982 opinion which were not included in the original legislation. Wilson, author of the proposed constitutional amendment, was elected chairman of the committee. "This will be an organized effort to inform the public and build grass-roots support for passage of this important amendment," Wilson said. "We want to make sure the general public understands that this amendment may well affect the price which people will pay for groceries in the future, and that it is to every consumer's benefit for Texas voters to pass this amendment."

Wilson pointed out that while the tax represents a minute portion of revenues to local taxing authorities (about one eighth of one percent of revenues, statewide), inconsistent administration represents an inequity for Texas food and fiber producers. He said the correcting amendment is necessary because of a 1982 Attorney General's opinion which held that certain limitations apply to the agricultural equipment exemption. The committee is comprised of representatives from the Texas Farm Bureau, Texas

Farmers Union, Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Independent Cattlemen's Association, Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association, Texas Poultry Federation, Texas Pork Producers Association and Associated Milk Producers Inc.

Also, Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organization, Texas Corn Growers Association, Texas Wheat Producers Association, American Red Brangus Association, Texas Cooperative Ginners Association, Texas Federation of Cooperatives, Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers, Texas Grain and Feed Association, Texas Seed Trade Association, Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, and the Texas Soybean Association.

It is the first time in history that these diverse organizations have undertaken such a joint effort.

Help Yourself To Good Mental Health

A few simple steps can help one achieve and maintain good mental health. A cooperative and outgoing attitude will stimulate the same reaction in others. Here are some general guidelines for consideration.

New 4-H Beef Program

The Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas has established a new 4-H beef production and recognition program with the Texas 4-H Foundation in behalf of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. The new 4-H Beef Producer Awards Program will emphasize production. To qualify, a 4-H member must keep records on 10 or more head of beef cattle. The 1982-83 winner will receive a special plaque and $6,000 scholarship, said a 4-H and youth specialist with the Extension Service.

1. The "easy does it" approach may be best. This approach get the job done without overreacting to a challenge or problem. A level headed approach to problems will encourage cooperation from others.
2. Learn to recognize and express your feelings. Pent-up feelings often result in depression and anger. Talking to a sensible friend may help you think more clearly and avoid irrational bursts of anger.
3. Don't brood. A simple change of pace may help solve problems which seem to have no solutions. Changing your approach is a positive way to deal with problems.
4. Proceed one step at a time. Large problems become smaller ones if they are dealt with one step at a time. Setting a reachable goal develops self confidence and relieves frustration and tension.

Basic Welding Taught

Basic Welding techniques will be taught in a 30 hour Continuing Education at Western Texas College in evening classes scheduled to begin Oct. 12. Instructor for the course will be Sam Walker welding instructor at WTC. Students will pay fees of $40 each and will need to provide their own gloves, goggles and tips. Classes will meet in the WTC welding shop from 6:30-9:30 p.m. on Tuesdays through Dec. 14. Students are to preregister by calling the Continuing Education office at 573-8511, extension 240.

Parents Club meeting

There will be a Borden County Parents Club meeting Thursday, October 7, at 2:30 p.m. in the School conference room.

Dorothy Browne, executive committee secretary, reported for this committee and for community development. A county park progress report was also made.

Mr. Billy Gunter, district extension director, was called on to give an impromptu talk on extension committee work. It was an excellent talk.

Officer elections were held as the current officers for the overall committee had ended a 2 year term.

Jim Burkett was elected chairman & replaces Pat Murphy in the position. vice chairman will be Brent Murp, who replaces Jim Burkett. Dorothy Browne is currently secretary and was re-elected to this position.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:30 p.m. and was declared a success.

SOUTH PLAINS FAIR RESULTS

Four Borden 4-H members attended the 1982 Panhandle South Plains Fair September 29-Oct. 1. This fair was held at the fairgrounds in Lubbock. Michael Murphy showed two lightweight medium wool lambs and placed 5th and 7th out of 59 in the class. Delane Eppers and LaDon Eppers each showed a medium wool lamb but due to stiff competition did not place. Dana Dourlass took a crossbred steer to the show for competition. Steers were measured for hip height and were not weighed. This resulted in her steer being in the very tall class from which the champion steer came. These youth should be congratulated on a fine showing and for representing Borden County 4-H in such an excellent manner.

4-H ACHIEVEMENT BANQUET SCHEDULED

The Borden County 4-H Achievement Banquet will be held October 9th in the Borden School Cafeteria beginning at 7:00 p.m. All 4-H members, old and new, are invited and urged to attend. All family members are also invited. This activity is the highlight of the 4-H year.

Those families planning to attend should bring a eat dish, salad or vegetable and a dessert for the covered dish meal.

STRETCH CLOTHING DOLLARS MAKE YOUR OWN COAT

Want to stretch your clothing dollars?

A good way to do so is by making your own coat, since it is one of the most expensive clothing items for winter wear.

Among the easiest types of coats to make are those with the following characteristics:

A simple design with few tailoring techniques.

Very loose and requires minimum fitting.

Simple yet smart kimono, raglan or dropped sleeves.

May be collarless.

Have in seam pockets.

Are unlined (but you may want to line the sleeves for easy on, easy-off).

Fasten with ties, goggles or wrap with a belt.

CHOOSE COAT FOR INTENDED USE

Whether you decide to make or buy the outerwear garment, your choice of coat should depend on its intended use.

A coat is satisfactory when it contributes to the conservation of human energy and keeps its wearer warm. Many types of fabrics and insulations are on the market. Design features, construction techniques and styles also vary.

Before making a choice for a coat, ask yourself these questions:

To what types of activities will I wear it?

In what temperature range will I most often wear this garment?

Will I give the garment rugged, active use?

Will I be exposed to frequent wet and windy conditions?

How will I care for the garment?

THE KEY TO KEEPING WARM

While no one fabric, finish, insulation or construction alone will give you complete warmth, the key to keeping warm is how the fabric, insulation, finish, construction, garment design and fit all combine to trap "still air" next to the body. This trapped or "dead air" space provides the necessary thermal insulation to keep you warm.

Many new fabrics along with the more traditional ones are used to make outerwear garments. Fabric finishes also affect a garment's performance and your personal comfort.

Body warmth is best maintained by a protective fabric layer, a layer of insulative fabric, and a "breathing" fabric layer. Regular daytime garments worn under coats serve as the breathing layer and provide comfort to the wearer.

With coats, the main concern is the protective and insulative layers. In the past, these two layers were provided by three separate fabrics: an outer fabric, an interlining of loosely woven wool, and a smooth lining fabric. Most coats have these layers combined in some way.

The size and fit of outerwear garments also help determine how warm one will be. The garments should be large enough to wear several layers of clothing underneath.

SPECIAL FEATURES OF WARM COATS

You can find fashionable coat styles or patterns that are attractive as well as being designed to help maintain body warmth. Some coat designs such as those with elbow length sleeves or a clutch close front that can't be fastened do not rate very high in maintaining warmth.

If you want a warm coat, look for these special features:

An attached hood that fits closely around the head.

Long, narrow sleeves that cover the wrist and have inside cuffs.

A neckline that fastens securely under the chin perhaps with a turn up collar that closes.

Secure front closures, such as buttons or zippers with protective flaps, that extend all the way down the front.

Full length or at least enough length to cover the torso.

Extra capes, scarves or shawls that provide insulation around the head and shoulders.

Deep pockets large enough to hold the entire hand.

Belts at the waist to keep out the wind.

A wide overlap, or double breasted styling, to make the coat less likely to flip open.

An easy fit so the coat can go over sweaters or suits.

While you may not be able to find all these features in a coat, a warm coat should include many of them.

NEW THINGS AT THE RANCHING HERITAGE CENTER

NEW ELECTRIC CART

George Burns, whose father helped found Lubbock, got the first ride in an electric cart which was recently purchased by the Ranching Heritage Association. Alvin Davis, Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Association, was at the wheel and Mrs. Myron Vann, Burns' niece, rode the rumble seat. Burns was visiting from his home in California and took the opportunity to tour the Ranching Heritage Center.

The new cart along with a four seat trailer to be pulled behind it will be available for senior citizens and disabled persons to tour the Ranching Heritage Center. A golf cart which was already owned by the Association, has been repainted to match the new cart and trailer. They are a rich tan in color with the Ranching Heritage brand painted on them in dark brown.

Scholarships

one of the founding principles was to provide a better life for farmers and their families. Through the years, better hybrids and varieties, combined with sound improvements in crop management, have kept this principle intact.

"Today, these scholarships allow us to go one step further. Not only will they help relieve some of the financial burden from farm families who have a son or daughter attending college, they will also help insure a better life for future farm generations," Lindsey concluded.

Each year, one FFA and one 4-H member in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will be awarded a scholarship from Pioneer. To qualify for the Pioneer scholarship, the applicant must be a graduating senior in the upper 25 percent of his or her class. They must also be planning to pursue a degree in agriculture, home economics, or a related field at an accredited college or university in the state where the scholarship is awarded.

Selection of the scholarship winners will be made by the respective FFA or 4-H scholarship committees in each state. The criteria they will use to select the scholarship recipient will include accomplishments while in FFA or 4-H, scholastic ability, financial need, leadership ability and citizenship.

The winners of the scholarships will be awarded $1,000 annually for four years provided they remain enrolled in an approved college and maintain a 2.0 or higher grade point average on a 4.0 grade scale. Students may apply for the scholarship through their local FFA chapter or 4-H club.

Livestock Virus Disease

A non fatal virus disease affecting cattle, horses and swine has been reported in several states and Texas Livestock producers should be on the alert for possible outbreaks. The disease, Vesicular Stomatitis, causes rising temperatures and blisters in the mouth and on soles of feet. Animals become dehydrated and lose weight. The symptoms are similar to food and moth disease. Human infection can occur in areas where the disease is prevalent.

W.T.C. Planetarium Scheduling Programs

The Western Texas College planetarium is now scheduling programs for school classes and other groups. Dr. Shel Hillis has announced.

Teachers or others who would like to schedule visits to the planetarium are asked to call Hillis's office at 573-8511, extension 237, to make arrangements. Visits should be scheduled at least a week in advance. "We will be happy to provide programs of special interest upon request," Hillis said. "If no special program is requested, the planetarium will present a program of general interest."

PROPOSITION 3—AN OVERVIEW

We can take one action to help hold the line on our grocery costs!

Implements of husbandry—agricultural machinery and equipment—were exempted by the Legislature in 1981. Attorney General Mark White ruled, in 1982, that this exemption was limited to $15,000 worth of equipment for an individual and $30,000 for a family. Today, a single tractor may cost $40,000. Additionally, he ruled that the exemption doesn't apply to combined agricultural operations, not even to family groups. Proposition 3 will eliminate the limitations caused by that decision.

Some taxing entities in Texas have levied property taxes against implements of husbandry, while others have not. Many school districts have determined that it would cost them more to administer such a program than they could recover in additional taxes. This is even more true with the limited exemptions. Currently, the levying of property taxes on food and fiber is highly inequitable and inconsistent and amounts to an insignificant one-eighth of one percent of property tax revenues.

Where such taxes are levied, the cost of production is of course increased. If this situation is not remedied, some producers may find themselves at such a competitive disadvantage that they may feel they must move into production of other more profitable food items, thus decreasing production statewide. Generally, decreased production has resulted in increased consumer prices.

Proposition 3 on the November 2 ballot, one of six proposed Constitutional Amendments being offered Texas voters, will correct the inequity of this situation by eliminating the limitations caused by the Attorney General's opinion. This will mean that grocery store prices for these items will no longer reflect additional production costs caused by such taxation. Therefore, approval of Proposition 3 at the polls is one step we can take to help hold down rising food costs.

Proposition 3 will do this:

- correct the exemption for implements of husbandry by removing limitations.
- assure fair, uniform tax treatment for all Texas food and fiber producers.
- encourage a healthy food and fiber industry in Texas, which will contribute to increasing the vitality of the state's overall economy, thus increasing overall tax revenues from many other sources.
- be a positive step in helping hold down rising grocery costs.

USDA ANNOUNCES 1983 UPLAND COTTON PROGRAM

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block has announced a 20 percent acreage reduction program and a voluntary 5 percent paid land diversion program for the 1983 upland cotton crop.

Program sign up will be Oct. 1 thru March 31. Producers may request 50 percent of the projected 1983 deficiency and diversion payments at the time they sign up.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates the 1983 deficiency payment rate will be 12.8 cents per pound. When farmers sign up, they can request to receive an advance payment of 6.4 cents per pound. The advance diversion payment rate will be 12.5 cents per pound.

To be eligible for program benefits, producers must limit 1983 cotton planted acreage to no more than 80 percent of the farm's upland cotton base and devote to conservation use an acreage of eligible cropland equal to 25 percent of the 1983 planted acreage.

For farmers who participated in the 1982 cotton program, the 1983 acreage base will be the same as the 1982 base. If a farmer did not participate in the 1982 program, the 1983 acreage base will be the average acreage planted to upland cotton in 1981 and 1982.

Farmers participating in the 20 percent acreage reduction program may also voluntarily divert up to another 5 percent and receive a diversion payment of 25 cents per pound times the farm payment yield times the acres diverted.

The number of acres eligible for payment will depend on the level of diversion selected by the producer up to the maximum of 5 percent of the base and on the number of acres planted within the permitted acres. The diverted acreage also must be devoted to conservation use.

The 1983 target price is 76 cents per pound and the loan rate is 55 cents per pound. The loan rate applies to Strict Low Middling 1-1/16 inch cotton, micronaire 3.5 thru 4.9 at average U.S. location.

Land designated for conservation use must have been devoted to row crops or small grains in two of the last three years except for a summer fallow farm, for which the cropping requirement is for only one of the previous two years. It may not be mechanically harvested but may be grazed except during the six principal growing months.

Neither cross compliance nor offsetting compliance will apply to the 1983 cotton program.

A recourse seed cotton loan program again will be offered in 1983, Block said. Recourse means the borrower is obligated to pay back the full dollar amount of the loan.
