Shabby Creek offers bridal registry

By LINDSEY TOMASCHIK
LKTomaschik@thepampanews.com

Shabby Creek is one place brides can go in Pampa to register for weddings. Owner Stacey Helms opened the store about two and a half years ago and started doing the registries about six months after opening the business.

The whole store is available for registries, but when couples come in together, popular items are in the front half of the store. It's here that customers can find home decor, including wall pictures and frames, signs, decorative pillows, small furniture and other decorations.

When asked what her favorite part of helping brides with these registries is, Helms says she genuinely enjoys helping couples find what they are looking for as well as get-

County accepts bid on security door/intercom upgrades at GCSO

By JOHN LEE
jlee@thepampanews.com

The Gray County Commissioners Court held their first May meeting on the second floor of the Gray County Courthouse Monday morning.

Among the items discussed was the acceptance of a bid for the improvements to be made to the security doors and intercom system at Gray County Sheriff's Office. The county was only offered one bid, which the commissioners approved. Look for the details of the bid in further editions of The Pampa News.

The improvements come after the Court approved GCSO to apply for a grant to upgrade their security at their meeting on April 1.

Also concerning GCSO, the Court approved the declaration of three vehicles as surplus property.

The Court went into executive session to consider a lease agreement on Gray County School Lands in Gaines County. After executive session, the Court decided to take no action on the item.

The Court also decided not to take action on the implementation of Happy State Bank's banking agreement with the county.

The Court tabled this item because the Court wanted their financial advisors, and the commissioners themselves, to look over the agreement.

The Court also approved the following items:

Prairie Plains Perspective Damn those dams!

DENNIS PALMIER

Thanks to over 24 hours of continuous rainfall, Pampa and the entire Panhandle experienced copious rainfall resulting in many a playa lake and cow tank refilled, suddenly verdant greenery and more than likely, a soon to be very healthy mosquito crop. Because of such, I was going to write a lampoon about our rain sated Panhandle terra firma, entitling the article, The Fourth Coast. Forget that!

Someone played a joke on me and as a direct result created a need to know, an itch so to speak, needing a scratch or four. Letting my fingers walk my keyboard to the Internet and doing a little research, I found the answer for my itch.

"I was wondering something. Did you drive down to Lake McClellan to see if it was as full as Denver said it was?" I was soon to be hugging a few trees when I answered my phone and heard Randy Stubblefield's question. "No, I had work to do in Canadian" I replied. From Randy's phone I hear a background snicker (Denver Dyer) followed by, "We thought you did (more snickers), but I'm calling to let you know it's still bone dry, that Denver was joking. He and I want you to know we thought it might be mean of us for you to drive down to the lake, get there and realize you were scammed...." Indeed.

At breakfast club earlier that morn, Denver with the straightest of face had told me that due to last week's glorious rainfall, "Water was now less than two feet from the top of the dam! Lake McClellan is full!" Yep, I bought it lock stock and rain gauge. Over Denver's news I had in fact planned to venture down to the lake the following Saturday so I could see first hand, the spectacle.

Hearing Randy's fess up of Denver's jest created a lament within me. The Lake McClellan of my youth provided many a day of fishing, water skiing, camping, partying and enjoying the flora and fauna surrounding the historic place. It's just sad when I think about Lake McClellan, especially so when I take in first; the terrible and devastating 2006 prairie fires that destroyed the 1930's *WPA-CCC built lodge; secondly, the majority of old cottonwood tree growth wiped out the same time and thirdly, the impact the result had on Mother Nature.

Lake McClellan and the surrounding McClellan Creek National Grassland were developed as a means of recreation and nature preservation by the U.S. Forest Service, yet it has been another branch of our very same government, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) in conjunction with the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), that has created the lake's bone dryness, far more than any drought could have accomplished.

The lake's primary tributary is McClellan Creek, which starts higher up atop the caprock in Carson County. Lake McClellan was built to capture gravitational runoff flow coming from McClellan Creek. That plan worked sufficiently since the lake's creation until a series of watershed dams were built by the USDA-NRCS on the creek's Carson County watershed.

Zero inflation is holding the economy together

LAWRENCE KUDLOW

Don't expect any miracles from the economy. But don't expect a collapse, either.

In political terms, it's kind of a Mexican standoff. Team Obama says they saved us from another Great Depression. And they energy-company capex. In addition, exports over the past year increased 3 percent and imports 5.5 percent. People keep telling me the strong dollar is killing our exports. But they forget two things: King Dollar has led to across-the-board price drops, boosting consumer and business real incomes. And if exports keep slowing, blame the lack of production out of Europe, China, Japan and elsewhere.

And you can't overlook the very core of the American economy: private consumption plus private investment (C + I). It's been rising at roughly 3.3 percent year over year for the past several quarters. Not bad. And profits and stock markets hover near record highs.

Then there's the most underrated factor in today's economy: zero inflation. This is totally pro-growth. It's a tax cut.

The Fed's monetary machinations haven't worked. The M2 money supply has hovered around 6 percent for years, with nominal GDP (NGDP) around 4 percent. The monetarist experiment went nowhere. And that's a good thing, as excess bank reserves never circulated through the economy and the velocity (turnover) of money continues to fall. But the strong greenback is holding prices down, including energy. Gold prices have been stable for years.

So NGDP at 4 percent with zero inflation leaves room for 4 percent real growth. It's a good spot for the economy. But if the Fed had its way and raised inflation to 2 percent, RGDP might be crowded out to 2 percent or less. Why do we want that?

Paul Volcker used to argue that low inflation increases real growth. He was right. But Ben Bernanke and Janet Yellen argue that higher inflation increases real growth. They are wrong.

American economic growth has fallen way behind its long-term performance trend. Instead of 2 percent growth, we need 4 or 5 percent.

This leads me to a final thought: It was Arthur Laffer and Robert Mundell who created the ultimate pro-growth mix of monetary and fiscal policy. Keep the dollar sound for price stability, and reduce marginal tax rates to rejuvenate supply-side incentives. That mix worked in the JFK 1960s and in the Reagan-Clinton 1980s and 1990s. Add in a strong dose of free trade and deregulation, and the Laffer-Mundell hypothesis will return us to our long-term economic path and renew American leadership worldwide.

Question is, will the GOP take that growth model and run with it?

point out that 3.1 million jobs have been created in the last 12 months. Republicans counter that this is the slowest post-WWII recovery on record and that real GDP is roughly $2 trillion below potential. They add that the labor-force participation rate is 62.7 percent, a 39-year low, and that there are at least 15 million people who work but can't get jobs.

Yet both sides may actually come together for a major pro-growth initiative: an Asia-Pacific free-trade deal that will lower tariffs and other barriers. Lower tariffs are lower taxes.

Democratic labor unions don't like this. Neither do isolationist Republicans. They both think American wages and jobs will be damaged. But as House Ways and Means chair Paul Ryan argues, free trade is a positive sum — both sides benefit — not a zero sum.

Export-related jobs typically create higher wages. And 1 in 5 American jobs depend on trade. Moreover, the spread of market capitalism and free trade in China, India, Vietnam, South America and parts of Africa has lowered dollar-a-day abject poverty by 80 percent over the past three decades. (Pope Francis, take note.) And with hundreds of millions of people entering the global middle class, America's low-cost producers are seeing their markets expand.

Of course, a strong corporate tax cut, on a territorial basis, with easy repatriation of overseas profits, would give U.S. businesses large and small even lower costs and greater competitiveness. But the corporate tax cut is not going to happen — at least until after the 2016 election.

So we're left with a trade deal that may well happen. President Obama is working with Republicans to persuade Democrats to come on board with trade. Obama deserves credit.

Meanwhile, back to the economy, real-GDP (RGDP) growth was barely above water at 0.2 percent in the first quarter. Bad winter weather undoubtedly played a roll. But consider this: A year ago we had a decline in economic growth of 2 percent — again, largely due to the weather — but the next two quarters rebounded by nearly 5 percent.

So if you look at four-quarter trends for perspective, RGDP actually rose 3 percent over the past year. And business investment increased nearly 5 percent, despite a big cutback in

Just a Thought Advancing together through unity

RICK KRAFT

The power of five individual fingers working independently is no match for a fist of five fingers working together in harmony. Unity of effort provides results. Unity increases exponentially. In other words, one plus one plus one does not equal three, it equals nine or twelve or fifteen. Unity multiplies a team's efforts.

Most organizations fall far short of their potential because of a lack of unity. Efforts that could be used to advance an organization are instead used to "in fight" or to advance personal agendas that slow down or put a brake on the collective cause.

A visual that helps me explain the power of unity is rowers competing in boat racing, an event that has been a part of the Olympics since 1900. Most all of us have seen the racing shell boats on television. The boats have rowers sitting single file from the front of the boat to the back.

The speed with which the boat moves through the water is directly tied to the unity of the team. One rower who decides he wants to pull his oar out of the water will slow the boat down. His weight now becomes "dead weight" as he is failing to contribute to the team. One rower who decides to keep his oar in the water and row against the others will drastically slow down the movement of the boat and may even stop it.

How much faster can a boat glide through the water with unity in the team than without? Brains or brawn doesn't win the race. If you take the smartest or the strongest men in the country and line them up in a boat and say "Row!", they will advance the boat, but it will take time to get them out of the blocks and even then they will not advance quickly. It is the unity of rowing together as a team stroke after stroke that brings success.

Leadership and unity are necessary to advance any organization or community. Effective leadership focuses the organization. A unified team advances the organization. There are very few limits on what an organization can accomplish if its members work together in unison.

America is a land of free thinkers. This is one of the great attributes of our country. First, we have the power to think whatever we want. Second, as long as it doesn't cause harm to another, we can pretty much say or do whatever we want (there are exceptions to this concept). But to get results in a wartime battle, free thinking by the troops would bring disastrous results. In a military setting, the chain of command is clear and those down the chain must follow the instructions of those above them without any questions asked. Free thinking by the front line is handed over to the leadership for the good of the team. A lack of unity in a military maneuver would bring disastrous results.

Trying to obtain unity in the typical organizations is often like trying to herd stray cats. Everyone has their own ideas about what needs to happen and with our right to freedom of speech, we are free to share with others what we feel and influence them for or against the leader or leadership.

Unity must be modeled by the leadership of any organization. It begins at the top. If there is infighting in the leadership of an organization, unity is not possible. But unity can be prevented by action at any level.

The worst enemy of unity is individual egos. As humans we often have a hard time submitting to leadership. Submission is often considered to be a sign of weakness. Instead, submission of the individuals can allow an organization to reach new heights if the submission is to good leadership. Checking egos at the door allow an organization to advance in unity.

Unity doesn't necessarily arise from agreement. It comes from commitment. The commitment to the cause is greater than the self interests of the individuals who make up the team. Unity doesn't mean that when the leaders or the members meet, they agree on every (or even any) issue. But unity means that after discussion is had and the decision is made, those involved who didn't get their way agree their commitment to the organization outweighs their individual beliefs. Unity arises when the makeup of an organization is committed to the vision of the organization.

It is all right to have disagreements. Again, we are back to the "American way." Organizations have boards or committees to tap the wisdom of a group. I firmly believe that the collective wisdom of a group will result in better decisions than one person running a dictatorship. Collective leadership also provides checks and balances on the ultimate leader.

So members of the leadership team need to speak up and speak out. But after a healthy discussion and a collective decision, the participants must leave the room and be committed to the decision. If everyone can be less concerned with who gets the credit and more concerned about advancing the organization, success will follow.

The power of unity has been recognized countless times through the history of our country. Before we became a country, in 1768, John Dickerson said, "Then join hand in hand, brave Americans all! By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall." Abraham Lincoln in a speech in Springfield, Illinois on June 16, 1858 shared "A house divided against itself cannot stand." Pearl Harbor and 9/11 brought immediate unity as our country was attacked.

My challenge to you today is to accomplish unity in organizations that you are involved in. Focus on the vision of the organization. Understand that there are many ways to accomplish the vision. Understand that clinging to your roadmap will do more harm than implementing the collective path of the team.

Ask yourself if your motive is to do what's best for the organization. If so, speak your heart when given the opportunity. If the end result is a path other than the one you were advocating, it is alright. Provide unity by submitting to the plan of the organization's leadership. Your support of the collective vision is more important to advance the organization than to let your ego cause disunity.

Just a thought...

Prior to those damned watershed dams, 13 courtesy the NRCS, rainwater and melting snow runoff always meant there would be water in Lake McClellan.

Per this 2011 NRCS report (last complete recording) these watershed dams were first constructed in the 1950's up to the middle 1960's. The impetus for the dams was to catch debris and silt created by flooding, what I would call sort of extra large mud gaps. What this rocket science tells me is, since the first dam was constructed till dam number thirteen was completed, Lake McClellan for the past 50 years has been steadily and progressively choked off from it's water supply.

The annual operation and maintenance of watershed dams and their components is the responsibility of project sponsors; local units of government, usually soil and water conservation districts, city and county governments and special purpose districts. Well, there you go. Local taxpayer dollars with federal government financial (more taxpayer money) aid has helped in Lake McClellan's demise, however, it was also tax dollars that created the lake and preserved the grasslands...

The NRCS report went on to say the majority of the 13th Congressional District (U.S. Congressman Mack Thornberry) was in a rural setting when the watershed projects were planned. Um, that would be true. Conversion from agriculture to urban land use has taken place and is intensifying. Many dams originally constructed as low hazard are now classified as high hazard, or will soon be high hazard as a result of downstream urbanization. If there's one thing I hate, it's all that time consuming urban sprawl between Pampa and Clarendon.

Continuing, these watershed dams are needed to protect lives and downstream property. Aside from the requisite farmer and rancher living in rural Carson and Gray Counties where McClellan Creek runs and Lake McClellan was, these are folks who I believe are smart enough not to build their homes on low ground next to a creek bank that could flood every now and then, what in the name of urbanization have these 13 dams protected?

Well, here's one accomplishment, or some accomplishments the 2011 NRCS report called, 'Monetary Benefits'. They include reduction in flood damages to agriculture lands and rural and urban infrastructure including roads and bridges(8). I'll buy the rural part... Other benefits include soil erosion control(520,300 tons), recreational areas (there is only one...), irrigation water, municipal and industrial water supply and wildlife habitat(412 acres), to the tune of $818,000.

That's all well and good, but I still must ask, why were these damned dams built? Because of future urban sprawl? With government, local to federal, you sometimes (getting to be ALL the time) have to sit back, think about decisions made and just shake your head in amazement. To understand my words, go to Google Maps App on your smart phone or computer. Key in McClellan Creek National Grassland, notice the lake and trace back the creek's origin and make particular note of the urban sprawl it runs through.

There are two other dams damming in the Texas Panhandle that are currently experiencing behind them low water issues. The lake's are Greenbelt and Meredith. Both the lake's water sources were dammed so folks could drink water, wash their dishes, flush their toilets and do their laundry while still being able to recreate in and on them. Had Lake McClellan been created for public water usage, I'm willing to bet the ranch that it's water today would indeed be two feet from the top of the dam!

Sally Beauty probes reports of unusual payment card activity

DENTON (AP) — Sally Beauty said Monday that it is investigating reports of unusual activity on payment cards used at some of its U.S. stores. The beauty products seller said that it is working with law enforcement and its credit card processor. It's also using a third-party forensics expert to help with the investigation. Sally Beauty Holdings Inc. said that the investigation is aimed at determining the scope and nature of any potential incident. The company said that it will work to address any potential issues that may impact its customers. In the meantime, it said that any customers concerned about the security of their cards can call its customer service hotline at 1-866-234-9442. Information will also be available on the Denton, Texas-based company's website at www.sally-beautyholdings.com. Sally Beauty had a security breach in March 2014 that it said affected thousands of customers' credit and debit card accounts. The company offered one free year of credit monitoring and identity-theft protection to customers who may have been affected by that incident. Sally Beauty sells and distributes products through 4,900 stores, including about 200 franchised units, in the U.S., the U.K., Belgium, Chile, Colombia, Peru, France, the Netherlands, Canada, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Ireland, Spain and Germany. The stock fell 20 cents to $31.08 in morning trading Monday.

Make a plan before celebrating Cinco De Mayo

SUBMITTED BY AAA TEXAS
 COPPELL — As many Texans prepare to celebrate Cinco De Mayo, AAA Texas reminds drivers to take the following safety precautions in advance: drive only while drug and alcohol-free, select a designated driver for the day, plan to take a cab or use a ride-sharing service, or stay overnight where you celebrate the holiday.

Nationwide, alcohol-impaired drivers contribute to about one out of every three traffic deaths and kill an average of about one person every 45 minutes in the United States.

“The decision you make to never drink and drive and never get into a car or truck with someone who has been drinking will be one the most crucial decisions you make in your lifetime,” said AAA Texas/New Mexico Representative Doug Shupe. “DWI fatalities and injuries are entirely preventable if you make a plan to get home safely before you ever start drinking alcohol.”

AAA works year round to educate motorists about driving practices that will help keep them safe and reduce traffic-related crashes and the injuries that can result. PreventDUI.AAA.com is an online resource offering impaired driving facts, transportation alternatives and expert advice. Once there, AAA encourages visitors to Take the Pledge to drive drug and alcohol-free.

As North America’s largest motoring and leisure travel organization, AAA provides more than 55 million members with travel, insurance, financial and automotive-related services. Since its founding in 1902, the not-for-profit, fully tax-paying AAA has been a leader and advocate for the safety and security of all travelers. AAA Texas can be visited on the internet at www.AAA.com.

■ Brendon Ponce missed qualifying for the finals by 0.03.

STAFF REPORT

The Pampa track teams competed at regionals in Lubbock this weekend.

The girls 4x200 relay team of Megan Brock, Kirstin Hood, Ayriel Coleman and Rayna Wall came in sixth in their heat of the preliminaries with a time of 1:48.85. They didn't make the finals in that event.

Rayna Wall tied for 15th in the high jump with a jump of 4 feet, eight inches.

Ayriel Coleman came in second in the triple jump with a jump of 36'1.75." That time was good for a state appearance.

Cheyenne Williams came in third in the discus with a throw of 115.' She just missed state in the discus. She did make state in the shot put with a throw of 42'7." She also finished first with that throw.

Lauren Pingel came in first in the seated shot put with a throw of 7'6."

Justice Murray, Jordan Baker, Bryce Parker and Brendon Ponce came in fourth in the prelims for the 4x100 meter relay. Their time was 44.12 but they didn't make the finals.

Bryson Burrell came in fifth in the long jump with a jump of 20'2.25."

Brendan Ponce came in sixth in the prelims with a time of 52.28. He missed qualifying for the finals by 0.03.

Brody Gilbert came in third in the wheelchair 100 meter dash with a time of 33.85. He came in third in the 400 meter wheelchair run with a time of 2:39.65. He came in second in the seated shot put with a throw of 13'4."

The wheelchair events take the top nine in the entire state and once all of the regional results come in, then we will know if Pingel or Gilbert made it.

Congratulations to those that didn't make state on a great season. Best of luck to Cheyenne Williams and Ayriel Coleman at state.

Sweetwater too much for Pampa as Lady Harvesters' season comes to an end

By JOHN LEE
jlee@thepampanews.com

LUBBOCK — The Pampa Lady Harvesters (10-10-1, 5-3) traveled to Coronado High School to take on the Lady Mustangs of Sweetwater in the bi-district round of the softball playoffs.

The Lady Harvesters fell to Sweetwater 6-4 on Friday and 14-4 on Saturday to bring their season to an end.

"I felt like at no time were ever out of it, even in today's (14-4 loss Saturday). We had several opportunities and one key hit could have just opened the whole thing up," head coach Bobbi Gill said.

"Even down like we were I never felt like we weren't in it. We kept battling back and even defensively we were making plays and coming up with big plays. We were in the game it's just we couldn't ever seem to string anything together or get the train rolling offensively. They hit the ball well and we just couldn't seem to get it rolling offensively this weekend. Gotta give Sweetwater credit."

Homerun lifts Lady Mustangs to victory

The first game was held on Friday evening with freshmen Gracee Gill getting the nod at pitcher.

Sweetwater got a runner on, the next two hitters sacrificed and the final out came on a groundout fielded by junior Shiann Regalado over to junior Kassie Jerome at first base.

Junior Cameron Schaub was the lead-off hitter in the bottom of the first and hit a fly ball to center field. The speedy Schaub was left at second base as the next three hitters went down in order.

Sweetwater got on the board first in the second inning to take the 2-0 lead after a pair of line drive hits and a hard ground ball. The first out came from a groundout to sophomore Kaylee Arnzen who tossed it over to Jerome at first. Gill and senior Cheyenne Lockhart each caught a pop up to retire the side.

The Lady Harvesters went down in order to end the second inning.

In the third inning,

Softball

Sweetwater went 1-2-3 as a result of a ground out to Regalado, a fly ball fielded by senior Tori Robles and a fly ball caught by junior Brittney Gonzalez.

In the bottom of the third, Lockhart got things going for the Lady Harvesters with a line drive out to center field. Although Lockhart was picked off at first, Gill was able to reach second base a couple pitches later thanks to an error by the first basemen.

Schaub sacrificed, which allowed Gill to reach third base.

A hard ground ball from Gonzalez brought home Gill and got the Lady Harvesters on the board.

Jerome struck out swinging, which ended the frame.

After three: Sweetwater 2, Pampa 1.

Sweetwater went down in order again in the top of the fourth.

Arnzen flew out to start the frame, but junior Jacie Studebaker reached on an error by the third basemen, breathing life into the Lady Harvesters.

Regalado hit a single to left field and during Robles at bat, the runners each advanced on a wild pitch. Robles grounded out to second base, but it was enough for Studebaker to score, tying the game at 2-2.

Lockhart hit a base hit, which was enough to score Regalado, giving the Lady Harvesters their first lead of the game at 3-2.

Gill was able to reach base on an error, but a Schaub ground out ended the frame.

A flyout fielded by

Ally Roberson got the first out of the fifth inning. Sweetwater was able to get runners on in the next three at bats which led to the tying run on a base hit. The Lady Mustangs advanced to home on the first pitch of the ensuing at bat giving them the 4-3 lead at the top of the fifth inning.

The next two batters grounded out to Arnzen and flew out to Gill.

In the Lady Harvesters' half of the inning, Gonzalez got the ball rolling for Pampa with a lead-off single. Jerome bunted and reached thanks to an error by the pitcher, which also brought former track runner Gonzalez home to tie the game.

That was all the Lady Harvesters could string together in the inning as it was a tied ball game heading into the sixth inning.

After five: Sweetwater 4, Pampa 4.

"They don't ever feel defeated, they don't have that mentality of not being able to come back on anybody," Gill said.

"That's a credit to them, they feel like they are capable of beating anybody and that's a dangerous thing in a team. They feel like they are a good group and they know that they are. Once you put it all together, it can be a great thing. This just wasn't our series."

Sweetwater had their lead-off hitter walked, but the next three went down in order with a line drive fielded by Lockhart, a foul ball fielded by Arnzen and a ground out fielded by Arnzen and tossed over to Jerome at first.

Pampa also went 1-2-3 in the bottom of the sixth and the game went to the final inning tied.

Sweetwater's lead-off hitter went out on the first pitch as the pop up was fielded by Arnzen. The next hitter reached base because of an error. Gonzalez fielded the third hitter's fly ball to secure the second out. Sweetwater was able to grab the lead, however, thanks to a home run which gave the Lady Mustangs the 6-4 lead. The Lady Harvesters closed the inning on a ground ball fielded by Gill, who tossed it to Jerome.

Down to their last three outs, the Lady Harvesters weren't able to muster any offense and the Lady Mustangs took the 1-0 series lead.

Cameron Schaub went 1-3, Brittney Gonzalez went 2-4 with a run scored and an RBI, Jacie Studebaker went 1-3 with a run scored, Shiann Regalado went 1-3 with a run scored and Cheyene Lockhart went 2-3 with an RBI.

Tori Robles had an RBI and Gracee Gill had a run scored.

Gracee Gill pitched all seven innings, threw 110 pitches with 77 strikes, had nine hits, six runs, three earned runs a walk and a strikeout.

Sweetwater's second, third innings too much for Lady Harvesters

Game two was held Saturday afternoon at the same location, but this time Pampa was up to bat first. Studebaker was in the circle to pitch at the bottom of the first.

With two outs already on the board, Regalado got things going for Pampa after Sweetwater failed to field her line drive to left field. Arnzen was hit by a pitch, loading the first two bases. A Studebaker single to center field loaded the bases.

During Schaub's at bat, Regalado was able to advance home thanks to an errant throw, giving the Lady Harvesters the early 1-0 lead. Unfortunately, the final out came on a ground out, leaving two runners on.

Sweetwater scored a run in the second, tying the game. Regalado fielded a pop up and a line drive and Studebaker struck one out.

Pampa went down in order in the top of the second inning.

Sweetwater's bats came alive in the bottom frame, driving in five runs. Studebaker picked up a bunt and tossed it over to Schaub at first for the first out. Regalado fielded a ground ball which got the second out and the final out came when Sweetwater was trying to advance to home.

Pampa went down in order in the top of the third and Sweetwater scored four more runs in their frame.

During the frame, there was a pitching chance and Gill took the circle and Studebaker took first base.

Studebaker got a strikeout for the first out (early in the frame), Arnzen fielded a pair of ground out and tossed it to Studebaker at first to earn the last two outs.

Arnzen started the fourth inning with a lead-off single, followed by Schaub reaching on error. Jerome hit a line drive to right field to load the bases. Gill hit a single to center field which scored Schaub after Arnzen was out on a fielder's choice during Robles's at bat.

In the bottom of the fourth, Sweetwater put another run on the board. Robles fielded a fly ball, Gill had a strikeout and Regalado fielded a line drive.

After four: Pampa 2, Sweetwater 11.

Pampa strung together two runs during the top of the fifth. Roberson was walked to start the inning. Arnzen hit a double to left field which put Roberson at third. Studebaker hit a ground ball, which scored Roberson and advanced Arnzen to third.

Schaub grounded out to shortstop, but not without plating Arnzen. That was all Pampa was able to put together as they trailed 11-4 heading into the bottom of the fifth.

Sweetwater scored three runs en route to a run-rule victory, bringing Pampa's season to a close.

Kaylee Arnzen went 2-2 with a run scored, Jacie Studebaker went 1-3 with an RBI, Kassie Jerome went 1-3 and Gracee Gill went 1-3 with an RBI.

Ally Roberson, who did some courtesy running, had a run scored. Shiann Regalado had a run scored and Cameron Schaub had a run scored and an RBI.

Jacie Studebaker pitched 2.1 innings with 69 pitches and 45 strikes, nine hits, 10 runs, five earned runs a walk and two strikeouts.

Gracee Gill pitched 2.1 innings with 58 pitches with 39 strikes, eight hits, four runs, four earned runs, a walk and a strikeout.

This was the final game for seniors Kylie Kreider, Cheyene Lockhart and Tori Robles.

"Cheyene, Tori and Kylie are all primarily outfielders that we are losing. None of the three are primary hitters out of our lineup, but they are good all-around utility offensive players," Gill said.

"They were good sacrifice bunters and good, solid people in the lineup. Kylie has a good amount of speed, we lost that this year (due to injury), so we're already accustomed to not having her in the lineup. Tori can play the outfield, Kylie can play the infield and Cheyene plays the infield.

"They are great utility players that we will miss because they can do a multitude of things. Great attitudes and leadership in their work ethic. We will miss them and having them around and having that drive and that balance that they brought to the program.

"We wish them the best and hope that we can bring somebody else up who can bring those same qualities and balance to the team."

The Pampa News wants to wish Kylie, Cheyene and Tori, as well as the rest of the Pampa Lady Harvesters, the best in their future endeavors and congratulations on a great season.

Harvester pitching throws combined shutout in 6-0 win over Friona

■ Pampa played Friona Friday at Potter County Stadium in a playoff warmup.

The Pampa Harvesters baseball team (3-5, 10-10-1) traveled to Amarillo on Friday afternoon for a game against the Friona Cheiftans. The game was played at Potter County Memorial Stadium, home of the Amarillo Thunderheads. The game was played due to Pampa having a bye in their final district weekend.

"It was a total team win. Our pitchers came out and did a good job pounding the zone. Our defense did a great job behind them. We left a couple of guys on bases, I'd like to get in. But anytime you come out and play in a playoff type atmosphere and get a 6-0 win, that's a big deal for our program. It's a big step for us momentum wise, going in to the playoffs," said head coach Kaleb Snelgrooves.

Senior Brody Gaines started the game on the mound for Pampa and pitched three innings. He allowed four hits, no runs, walked two and struck out four. He was the winning pitcher as well. Junior Zach Hill pitched the next three innings and allowed no hits, no runs, one walk and four strikeouts. Sophomore Brendon Woelfle pitched in the seventh inning and allowed no hits, no walks, one run and struck out two.

Friona had the bases loaded in the top of the first with just one out before Gaines struck out a batter and the next batter grounded out to end the inning.

Senior Ty Hooper was hit by a pitch and junior Cade Engle walked in the bottom of the first. They were the only base runners for Pampa and they didn't come in to score as the inning ended on a double play.

After one, Pampa and Friona were tied 0-0.

Friona had a single and a walk in the second but were unable to get any runs across yet again.

with two outs in the bottom of the second but that was all she wrote for Pampa in the inning.

After two, the game stay tied 0-0.

Gaines allowed a lead off single in the top of the third but then struck out two batters and Hooper threw out another stealing to end the inning.

Senior Braden Keown singled to center to start off the bottom of the third. He came home to score when Engle smashed a triple to left on a line drive that went to the wall.

After three, Pampa led 1-0.

Friona got one runner on but that was all they could muster in the fourth.

Junior Adam Zuniga doubled to left to begin the bottom half of the fourth. Junior Jordan Green was hit by a pitch. Junior Colton Thompson reached on an error by the shortstop to score Zuniga.

After four, Pampa led 2-0.

Hill made quick work of Friona in the fifth with a 1-2-3 inning.

Hooper doubled to left to lead off the bottom half of the fifth. Woelfle grounded out to short to score Hooper. Zuniga walked and the inning ended with just one more run added by Pampa.

After four, Pampa led 3-0.

Friona just got one runner on in the top of the sixth with a walk after Hill struck out the first two batters. The inning ended with a nice fly ball caught by Zuniga in foul territory.

Junior Ryan Lee led off the sixth by getting a double to center. Keown reached on an error to score Lee after two outs were recorded.

Hooper singled to left. Sophomore Derek Norris came in to run for Hooper. Woelfle doubled to right to score Keown and Norris.

After six, Pampa led 6-0.

Friona needed six runs to keep the game going. Woelfle got the first batter to fly out. He struck out the next batter, walked one and then struck out the final batter to end the game.

Final: Pampa 6, Friona 0.

Jordan Green was 0-1 with a stolen base. Colton Thompson was 0-3 with a stolen base. Cade Engle was 1-3 with a triple, a walk and an RBI. Ty Hooper was 2-3 with a run scored and a double. Ryan Lee was 1-1 with a double and a run scored. Brendon Woelfle was 1-3 with two RBIs and a double. Adam Zuniga was 1-2 with a run scored, a walk and a double. Nathan Furgason was 1-2. Braden Keown was 1-3 with two runs scored. Derek Norris had a run scored as a courtesy runner.

Pampa will now travel to Lubbock Christian High School for a playoff series against Big Spring. Game one is at 8 p.m. Friday night. Game two is at 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon. Game three, if necessary, will follow game two.

"We're gonna (as a coaching staff) meet this weekend and talk about Big Spring and come out Monday ready to go to work," Snelgrooves said. "We're going to be aggressive. We're gonna play small ball with them (Big Spring). Big Spring is a talented team. They are very deserving and they are a district champion. They have a pitcher (Godwin) who is probably going to be their No. 1 and he's going to go out there and compete. But I like our chances with these guys that I got."

Clarendon Broncos beat Duncan, Fraser and Bridges 16-5

The Pampa Optimist Baseball/Softball Opening Day saw the floodgates open up in the Cal Ripken 11-12 League.

The Clarendon Broncos bombarded the Duncan, Fraser & Bridges Insurance Agency Cardinals 16-5 in a game shortened by the mercy rule.

Joe Howard got things started for Clarendon in the top of the first inning with a single to left field. After a wild pitch and a stolen base, he scored on a single to right field by Brock Hatley.

A wild pitch, a stolen base and an aborted pick off plated Hatley. Koyt Tucek doubled to right center, stole third and scored on a single by Antwan Bassett. Bassett took second on a wild pitch and scored on a triple by Sylvester Ballard, who scored when a throw to the plate was off target. Collin Butler walked. Eathan Babcock was hit by a pitch to put Butler in scoring position at second. Butler came home with the sixth run of the inning on a single by Jmaury Davis.

DFB was handed a run on two hit batters and two walks with Darryl Horton trotting home in the bottom of the first. Clarendon led 6-1.

The roof caved in on DFB in the second inning. Jodee Pigg started the onslaught with a walk. Howard followed with his second hit.

Hatley drove in Pigg with a single. After a walk to Jordan Herndon, Howard came home on a wild pitch, and Hatley tallied when Harm Drenth singled.

A triple by Tucek scored both runners. Bassett walked and was allowed to take second. Ballard smacked a double scoring both runners. Ballard took third on a fielder's choice and scored on a wild pitch. Clarendon led 14-1.

DFB fought back with three runs in the bottom of the third inning on hits by Brekyn Gaines, Gavin Hudson, Pacey Plaster and Noah Johnston.

Hatley and Herndon scored a couple of insurance runs for Clarendon in the top of the fourth and Justin Burk scored for DFB in the bottom of the fourth on a balk for the final margin.

Ballard was the winning pitcher allowing one run. Pigg and Herndon finished up for Clarendon. Hudson and Pacey Plaster pitched for DFB.

The outstanding defensive play of the game came when Clarendon catcher, Hatley, picked a runner off second base.

DAILY Horoscope

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Wednesday, May 6, 2015:

This year you have the ability to understand some far-out ideas. You might not always agree with them, nor do you need to. The fact that you can discuss these concepts with the people who espouse them is significant. You often will want to entertain at your home and invite close friends over. If you are single, you grow past a problem and are able to develop a strong relationship this year, if you so choose. If you are attached, the two of you enjoy each other more than in the past. You seem to value each other more and more as you start planning more weekends away as a couple. SAGITTARIUS is very different from most of your friends.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★★ You welcome change without resistance and are able to see that what's happening around you is for the best. Your imagination flourishes and inspires you to pursue unique ideas. Romance seems to be in the air. Embrace it!

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

★★★★ You integrate knowledge with quickness and ease. Your perspective allows more give-and-take. Unexpected revelations will take you down a new path. Some of you might be reticent, but you can't stay in the same spot forever. Tonight: Bring new information into a discussion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

★★★★ Others have a way of dominating when they want to, while your light style gets smothered. By now, you know how to handle these situations, and you are able to flourish without an audience, should you so choose. Tonight: A long-overdue chat with a partner.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★★ You know what you want. Though you can be charming and easy-going, your determination marks your plans and discussions. You are willing to put in extra time and effort to manifest a goal. The unexpected occurs with an older person. Tonight: A must show.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★★ You have an unusually grounded perspective of what is needed to make a situation work. Your unhelped imagination makes the path you're on an exciting one. You'll want to see past the obvious in order to understand what needs to happen. Tonight: Midweek break.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

★★★★ You remain cool, calm and collected even in the face of a surprise or a demand from a higher-up. You have managed to detach and gain a perspective that is unique and grounded. Pressure could be coming in from others who are making their own demands. Tonight: Head home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

★★★★ Where your friends are is where you'll want to be. Nevertheless, handling some details and managing the fine print could be a problem. Understand where others are coming from. A meeting promises to be more supportive than you thought possible. Tonight: Hang out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ Too many commitments can wear anyone down -- even you! Slow down the pace by taking a hard look at what can be discarded. You can't keep adding things without eliminating some. Remember, you are human and have only so much energy. Tonight: Go shopping.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

★★★★ You have an advantage, as you come off sounding secure, knowledgeable and ready to take action. No one can deny what is going on with you. You might be making a financial adjustment, but don't worry so much. Trust that it all will work out. Tonight: All smiles.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

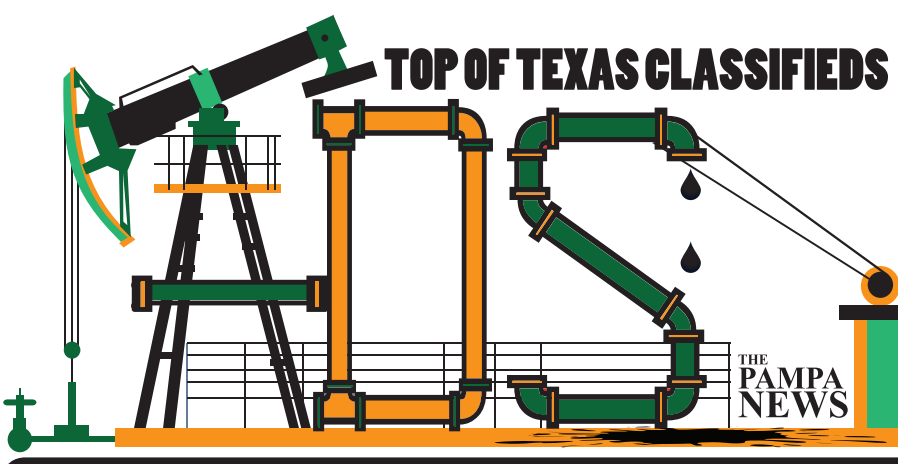

★★★ Listen to news within your immediate circle. You have demonstrated a special ability to absorb information and make needed adjustments. Pace yourself, and understand that you might need to schedule a break in the near future. Take some time off. Tonight: Not to be found.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

★★★★ You might be more driven than you realize. With a group of friends, you will see how driven you all are to arrive at a common goal. In fact, others might be taken aback by your insistence. You know what is happening, and you have an agenda. Tonight: Hang with friends.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★ Tension builds as you try to field some curve balls. You also could decide to eliminate a responsibility that seems overwhelming. Others might have a similar response, therefore delegating it could be most difficult. Curb spending if possible. Tonight: In the limelight.

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: Our amazing daughters are in their late 20s. Both of them are independent, intelligent and loving. The four of us have a special bond. My wife and I have always been supportive in all aspects of our daughters' lives, and that will never change.

They have been dating great guys over the past five years whom we believe they will ultimately marry. The problem? My wife and I were raised with certain values, and our daughters have recently moved in with their boyfriends. We do not approve, but respect their decisions as adults.

One daughter plans to have an open-house party celebrating their new place. She's upset that my wife and I have indicated we won't be attending, because doing so would be difficult and against our beliefs. We have understood her decision, but she does not appear to respect ours. Are we wrong to take this stance? — AGAINST THE TIDE IN NEW JERSEY

DEAR AGAINST: I think so. Your daughter is an adult. Do you plan to continue "punishing" her and the man you say you approve of until they tie the knot? She and her boyfriend have been a couple for five years now, and their relationship appears to be progressing nicely. It's not unusual for couples today to live together. I see nothing to be gained by skipping their open house — but I do see something to lose.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's grandmother keeps purchasing season tickets to the theater for me. I have told my mother-in-law (who is in charge of buying the tickets) as politely as possible that summer is a very busy time for me. My kids, husband and I are all involved in activities, and the theater conflicts with these activities.

As well, I don't particularly enjoy the group of people that we go there with. (I haven't shared this with my mother-in-law.) While I like my mother-in-law and husband's grandmother, the others are rude. They exclude me from conversations and hardly acknowledge my existence. I try to make conversation but unsuccessfully. It makes for a dreadfully awkward evening.

How do I get out of going to the theater without hurting anyone's feelings? — NO THANKS IN CANADA

DEAR NO THANKS: The most effective way to accomplish that would be to stop beating around the bush and tell your husband's mother and grandmother you would prefer not to be included, and the reason why.

DEAR ABBY: I like a girl but don't know if she likes me. I went to a school dance with her, but that's about it. I'm a choosy person, but everything seems right about her.

I never had a girlfriend before. Am I doing something wrong? I really want to be in a relationship with her, but I don't want to get rejected. I hate that feeling. Can you give me advice on what to do? — IN LIKE IN WISCONSIN

DEAR IN LIKE: There is a saying, "Nothing ventured, nothing gained." It means that in order to succeed, you have to TRY. In dating relationships, there is always some risk of rejection, and it applies to girls as well as boys. If you want a relationship with her, stop being afraid and start acting like it. Because she went to a dance with you, she probably already likes you, too.

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Contact Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

Good advice for everyone — teens to seniors — is in "The Anger in All of Us and How to Deal With It." To order, send your name and mailing address, plus check or money order for $7 (U.S. funds) to: Dear Abby, Anger Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Shipping and handling are included in the price.)
