County Bank Figures Are At All Time High Marks

Hall County bank depositors have almost five million dollars more in the bank this April than they did last April according to the statements of condition of Hall County's banks. But last April, deposits were three million dollars less than were deposits in April 1974. Total deposits in the three Hall County banking institutions reached $32,878,000.00 as of call date March 31, 1976, which is an increase of $5,009,881.42 above total deposits figures of April, 1975. Total assets of the three county banks as of March 31, are $35,793,000.00, or $4.78 million over total assets of April 1975. Showing a $1.98 million increase in the total loans figure, standing at $17,065,000.00 as compared to $15,080,425.47 on April 16, 1975. Statements of condition of the First National Bank of Memphis, Peoples State Bank of Turkey and First State Bank of Memphis are published in this week's issue of The Democrat. The statements reflect a new policy of rounding off figures to the nearest one thousand dollars. Comparing the March 31 bank figures with Dec. 31, 1975 figures, total deposits reflect approximately a $1.5 million increase, as do total assets figures. Considering that Dec. 31, 1975 figures were the highest the three county banks have ever reported, on total deposits and total assets, the March 31, 1976 figures have broken this record.

Johnny Cash Film To Be Shown Sun. At First Methodist

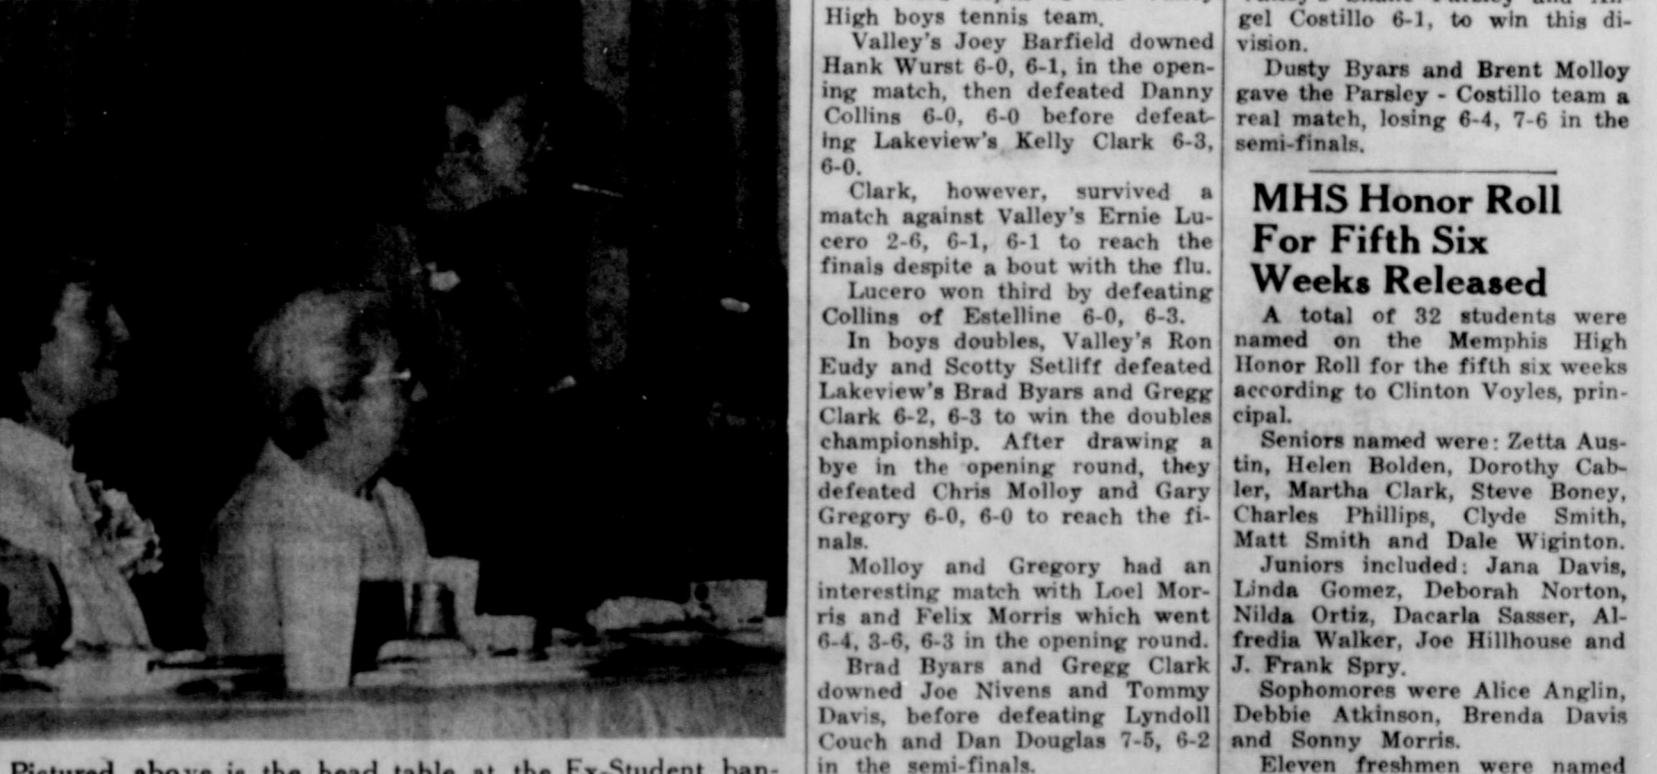

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film "The Gospel Road" to be shown on Sunday, April 25, at First United Methodist Church. The showing will begin at 7:30 p.m. "The Gospel Road", distributed by World Wide Pictures, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way. The film is a unique blend of scripture - based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals, with Israel itself as the mixing bowl. You are there, walking beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee; you are there, seeing Him in many human situations that establish a practical and personal rapport with every viewer, according to the Rev. Ken Metzger, pastor. You are there, being introduced to the disciples, and gaining insights into their varied personalities. You are there, experiencing the highly charged emotional impact of the trial before Pilate, and becoming so personally involved that you feel sympathetic pain when Robert Elfstrom, in an outstanding portrayal of Christ, suffers the physical attack that precedes the Crucifixion, Rev. Metzger said. Adding to the effectiveness of "The Gospel Road" in its endeavor to convey reality for this day are: the fascinating treatment of (Continued on Page 12)

Tuesday Last Day To Vote Absentee Ballot

Absentee voting in the Democratic and Republican Primary Elections will continue until Tuesday, April 27, four days prior to the May 1 Primary Elections, in Hall County Clerks Office. However, the law says, "Any qualified voter of this state who expects to be absent from the county of his residence on the day of the election, or who will be 65 years of age or older on the day of the election, or who because of sickness, physical disability, confinement in jail, or religious belief cannot appear at the polling place in the election precinct of his residence on the day of the election, may nevertheless cause his vote to be cast at any election held in this state by compliance with the applicable method herein provided for absentee voting." Mrs. Goodnight said that for voters to vote by mail they must be over 65 years of age or have a medical certificate (if under 65). Absentee voting is done only during regular office hours at the County Clerk's office.

Primary Election Time Nears!

Voters in Texas will be facing a new type Primary Election in 1976, as absentee balloting for the Democratic and Republican Party Primaries has already begun in the County Clerk's office in Hall County Courthouse.

The Republican Party primary will be held in the office of Fisher-Red River Ins. Agency, on Main Street, and the Democratic Party Primary will be held in five Precinct polling places across the county.

Voters could be confused about voting on the Presidential candidates in Texas Primary Elections this year. This is the first time Texas has used a Presidential Primary system. Voters will, first off, select which Primary they desire to vote in. Texas law clearly states that it is illegal to vote in more than one Party Primary election. Art. 13.03 states: "No person who participates in the primary or convention of any political party during a voting year shall participate in any subsequent primary or convention of any other party during that same voting year. Any vote cast in a primary election in violation of this prohibition shall be void and shall not be counted for any purpose, and the violator shall be punishable as provided in Article 240 of the Texas Penal Code."

When a voter votes in a Party Primary election, he may have his registration certificate stamped with the party designation, or a certificate of party affiliation issued, to make him therefore eligible to participate in that party's conventions.

The Democratic Party Ballot, contains the names of nine delegate candidates, three for Lloyd Bentsen, three for Jimmy Carter and three from George C. Wallace. These delegate candidates all reside in Ray Farabee's Senatorial 30th District. Voters will vote on which of these they desire to be delegate to National Presidential Nominating Convention.

Republican Party Ballot has eight delegate candidates, four for Gerald R. Ford and four for Ronald Reagan. Among the four for Gerald R. Ford is Memphis' Zack Fisher. Also on the Republican Party ballot, are five propositions voters are asked to express opinion upon. Four of the propositions are about changes in the constitution concerning legal treatment of felons and the fifth concerns forced busing of school children for the purpose of achieving racial balance.

Voters in the Democratic Party Primary will name 98 of Texas' 130 delegates (and 70 alternates) to the Democratic National Convention to be held in New York City, July 12-15. The other 25 percent of the delegates (32) and all of the 70 alternates—will be elected at a two-day State Convention to be held in Houston, June 18 and 19.

Each voter, for the Presidential Delegate candidates, has three votes in the Democratic Party ballot, or four votes on the Republican ballot, and he does not have to cast all of them for the same Presidential candidate's delegates if he so chooses.

Voters should remember to bring their voter registration certificates to the polls with them and remember to vote by placing an X in the little boxes beside the candidate's name they desire to vote for.

THE RIGHT TO FOOD

Twenty-seven national religious leaders recently drafted a thoughtful appeal to Congress that is bound to stimulate widespread public discussion.

These religious leaders said that until recently hunger was unavoidable for much of the human family, but now that we have the means to overcome hunger it is no longer acceptable.

Every man, woman and child on earth has the right to a nutritionally adequate diet, they said, since the food to sustain life is a fundamental right that derives from the right to life itself.

This is hard to argue with, and nobody in public life would dare go on record against the premise that everybody has the right to food. To say otherwise would be declaring in favor of starvation and nobody is in favor of that.

Yet such a lofty statement of principle leaves a lot unsaid.

If every man, woman and child in the world is entitled to an adequate diet of food, whose responsibility is it to feed them?

It appears to us that these religious leaders, like political leaders everywhere, overlook the one basic premise in food production and that is the fellow out in the field, sweating and working to grow food.

Food does not appear automatically and is doesn't come into being by the signing of a paper. It takes a lot of work, a lot of expense, and a lot of plain old good luck to make food production a reality.

The other nations of the world point to the United States as a rich nation with an abundance of food and state rather plainly that it is the duty of America to share its food supplies with hungry people around the world.

Yet they overlook one of the primary reasons why the United States has plenty of food while other nations with just as much land and just as many natural resources fail to feed their own people. The big reason is the free enterprise system, where the producer of food gets to make a profit. This is a powerful incentive and one that has made this country what it is today.

Yet the free enterprise system is under attack and the food producers are the victims of punitive laws and regulations which will in time dry up the food production of this country if not changed.

Our own government has an odd way of encouraging its farmers to produce more when they slap embargoes on export grain and lift the gates for meat and dairy product imports, both measures designed to drive down the price of what the farmers produce.

Farmers in this country are the victims of many things, but the general result is to drive down the prices of raw farm products. The cost-price squeeze is getting steadily worse until it actually calls for running up the panic flag, a situation that most urban dwellers choose to ignore completely.

Some influential Americans describe U. S. agricultural methods as unscientific and wasteful and their solution is impose ever wider controls.

Under the guise of environmental protection farmers have seen many of their agricultural chemicals taken off the market, and the methods to stimulate meat production have been outlawed.

The cost of their fertilizers and fuel have climbed astronomically yet they are supposed to be content with the price of farm products in this country at a level of some 25 years ago.

Food production can be increased around the world if American scientific methods are adopted. India, for example, could feed its starving masses if the country could somehow adopt the idea that modern farming is done with modern machinery rather than oxen and wooden plows.

But while waiting for other countries to adopt our methods of increasing production, we can ease some of their plight by exporting their grain, not free, but at a price.

After all, these countries spend money to import almost everything else under the sun, why not spend some to buy American food products and thus help strengthen the American food market for the people producing the food?

We have some serious reservations about the religious leaders and their demand that everybody in the world get adequate food. We do not see in this statement anything that couples the need for food with the requirement that persons work for it.

It may be great to contemplate the day when everybody will have a full stomach. But the problems standing in the way of that utopian dream are too plentiful to contemplate.

Hightower Says Congressional Action is Good

(Washington, D. C.) — Congressman Jack Hightower said today he was delighted with favorable action this week on two bills that are extremely important to the 13th District.

The House of Representatives today passed the Grain Standards Act of 1976 by the overwhelming margin of 246-33, and on Wednesday the House Agriculture Committee, of which Hightower is a member, favorably reported the Amendments to the Packers and Stockyards Act by a vote of 35-2. "When we began consideration of both of these measures last year some members of the House Agriculture Committee favored provisions that would have been severely detrimental to agricultural interests in our area," Hightower said, "I am happy to report that we achieved compromises on both measures."

Changes in the Grain Standards Act were prompted by revelations in 1974 of a developing scandal in the grain inspection system. Since August of 1974 there have been 78 separate indictments, including seven grain companies, and 59 convictions on various violations.

Amendments to the Packers and Stockyards Act were prompted in part by bankruptcy proceedings involving American Beef Packers, Inc., in which some 900 producers claimed losses of approximately $20 million and which resulted in closing the company's then uncompleted plant at Cactus, near Dumas.

Hightower said many members of Congress over-reacted to the grain inspection scandals by pushing strongly for a fully federalized grain inspection system. He said such proposals were narrowly defeated in the House Agriculture Committee. When an amendment was offered today on the House floor that would have federated only the export points, it was soundly defeated.

In a statement delivered on the floor of the House, Hightower said the point congressmen must keep in mind is not who does it, but how it is done. "It is our responsibility to enact the laws that provide the guidelines for those who perform the functions and prescribe penalties for violation of those laws," he said.

Hightower said congressmen who advocated a fully federalized system apparently assumed that federal employees were blessed with a higher degree of integrity than the people the government serves. "That is an assumption I cannot accept," he said.

As passed the bill would require U. S. Department of Agriculture or state agencies authorized by the U.S.D.A. to inspect and weigh grain at export port locations. At inland locations, inspections would be conducted by states, local governments or private agencies if they meet a number of requirements, including a conflict-of-interest provision. However, the bill would permit the Secretary of Agriculture to waive the conflict-of-interest requirements if such a conflict would not jeopardize the integrity of the program.

Hightower said that although the Amendments to the Packers and Stockyards Act has not been scheduled for full House consideration, he is confident it will be enacted because of the broad support demonstrated by the House Agriculture Committee.

At Hightower's invitation, the Livestock and Grains Subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee conducted field hearings on the bill July 12 in Amarillo in addition to hearings in Omaha and Washington.

During final consideration of the Bill Tuesday and Wednesday the Congressman sponsored an amendment that would require packers, market agencies and dealers purchasing livestock to deliver to the seller or his agent at the point of transfer of possession of the animals by check or wire transfer of funds the full amount of the purchase price. His amendment brings the law into compliance with the basic provisions of a prompt payment law enacted last year by the Texas Legislature, with the exception that it gives packers one additional day to tender payment. Hightower said various states have enacted similar prompt payment laws, "but my amendment, which was adopted unanimously, would make the provisions uniform throughout the nation."

Another key provision of the bill would require any packer with average annual purchases of over $500,000 to be bonded and to hold in trust, in event of bankruptcy, until all producers who had sold livestock to the producer on a cash basis had received payment.

"Livestock producers strongly supported the trust provisions," Hightower said, "and the bonding provision is of benefit to the packers because it will provide some uniformity instead of requiring them to comply with differing formulas required in various state laws."

FIRST STATE BANK

Protecting the currency of the United States from counterfeiting is the responsibility of the U. S. Treasury Department. Its agents must be constantly vigilant, because any successful counterfeiting operation could seriously hinder commerce of the country.

Often the trial to a counterfeiter begins with an alert bank teller, or others in the bank who daily handle currency. Some experienced bank personnel can immediately tell by the "feel" of a bank note that it is counterfeit, no matter how good the engraving or printing job.

Once alerted by the bank that counterfeit bills are being circulated, trained Treasury agents have been amazingly successful tracking down counterfeiters. As a result, the country's currency has never been placed in serious jeopardy by bogus bills.

The U. S. has never taken kindly to those who would counterfeit its money. At one time, counterfeiting, or passing counterfeit bills, was declared "a felony punishable without benefit of clergy" . . . a legal malediction reserved for only the more heinous crimes.

The Kitchen Almanac

Staggering Statistics — Do Americans really love hot dogs? So much so that about 14 billion are eaten every year — that's an average of nearly 80 per person. At this rate, 500 hot dogs are being consumed every second of every day. The hot dog and its history is certainly an important part of our American folklore!

Just in case you've ever wondered — muffins as well as fruit and nut breads can be frozen. Cool, wrap and freeze for 2-3 months. When ready to use, thaw loaves, wrapped — at room temperature, or heat foil wrapped muffins at 350 degrees for 10-15 minutes until piping hot.

Energy-saving info: Perhaps you've never thought of it this way, but every time you save energy, you also save money! For example, when cooking, use flat bottom pans that cover the burner heating element. More heat enters the pot and less is lost to the surrounding air. Also, clean the heat reflectors below the stove heating elements. Doing so will reflect the heat more efficiently.

Consider purchasing an "energy-saver" automatic dishwasher. According to researchers, KitchenAid energy-saver units can conserve as much as 50% of the electricity normally used in a wash/dry cycle. In addition, you'll be taking a giant step toward liberty and away from "dishpan hands".

If you already have a conventional dishwasher, one lacking the energy-saver features, let the dishes "air dry". After the final rinse, open the door.

Incidentally, be sure the dishwasher is full (but, not overloaded), before washing the dishes. That would possibly eliminate at least one use of the dishwasher each week. If every dishwasher user in the country could do that, enough oil could be saved to heat more than 100,000 homes in winter. And, your dishwasher could last longer.

Lastly, use proper defrosting methods for manual refrigerator/freezers. This will also save energy and cut operating costs.

Looks can be deceiving. Before it's cooked, a pound of good old-fashioned spinach looks as if it may be enough to feed a crowd. Don't let it fool you — it isn't. When cooked it will yield approximately enough for four.

Send your kitchen hints to: Harry G. Clark, (512), 173 W. Madison St., Chicago, IL 60602.

Careful Planning Makes Home Improvement Pay

COLLEGE STATION — Before planning home remodeling, homeowners should consider an objective evaluation of their neighborhood, design of the house whether the project will be improvement or only maintenance and whether the scale of the project fits in with the rest of the house, Denise Beigbeder, a housing and home furnishings specialist, said.

"Families usually consider home remodeling & improvement to make their present home more livable — but they also need to consider the return on their investment. Not all improvements add to the resale value of the house," she added.

Miss Beigbeder is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"If the neighborhood is starting to 'go downhill,' the homeowner would probably lose on any improvements he made. It does not pay to over-improve regardless of the neighborhood. A sensible addition to the smallest house in the neighborhood will enhance its resale value as will any improvements made by neighbors," she said.

And she pointed out that homeowners will want to be careful that the changes don't violate local regulations, or the existing architectural or functional integrity of the house. Any addition should harmonize with the original plan and avoid blunder such as a new bedroom that can be entered only through another room, she said.

"Regular maintenance items shouldn't be confused with remodeling improvements. Replacing the furnace, rewiring, changing the plumbing system, re-roofing, waterproofing or planting shrubbery are not considered home improvements. These things only bring the house up to the level that most buyers would expect," she explained.

And the scale of the remodeling in relation to the rest of the house is an important consideration, too. A kitchen appropriate for a $70,000 house does not belong in a less expensive dwelling. Much of the investment will be lost at resale, she noted.

"The prospective buyer generally will not pay as much for a fifth or sixth bedroom as he would a third or fourth one. But if the house does not have something that its price might indicate, such as a garage on a $50,000 house, this would probably depress the resale value," she said.

HOG OUTLOOK BRIGHT BUT CAUTION NEEDED

Hog producers can look for a profitable year in 1976 if they don't get over anxious and expand operations too quickly, says a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Hog prices should continue strong due mainly to a continued shortage of pork supplies. However, increased farrowings during the first half of the year could boost pork supplies for the second half of 1976 as 16 per cent above those of the second half of 1975. Prices for market barrows and gilts should range from 46 to 48 per hundredweight through mid-year and then drop off to around $40 to $42 during the latter part of 1976.

Memphis Fire Alarm System Undergoes Change

The fire alarm system of the Memphis Fire Department has been changed, according to Charles Waller, Memphis fireman.

Two short blasts of the whistle will now indicate a city fire and one short blast will mean a fire in the country. Each blast will be of about a 10-second duration.

In the past, the city has been divided into five wards and the number of times the whistle blew indicated the part of town where the fire was to local firemen. This system was put into effect at a time when it was the only way local firemen had of knowing which direction to go. Fireman Waller said. Now the old system is worn out, and since each fireman is equipped with a radio, it was decided to change rather than spend a great deal of money repairing the old system.

The storm warning will remain the same, one continuous blast of the siren lasting for two to three minutes, Waller said.

Keep Good Family Records

COLLEGE STATION — Keeping good family records is essential for realistic planning for the future, Mrs. Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist, says.

She also mentioned income tax returns as another reason for keeping good records. It's easier to prepare the income tax return if the family business affairs are in order first.

Mrs. McCormack is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Although each family must work out its own home file system, some general guidelines may be helpful. Ask yourself a few questions for a starter," she said.

How easy or difficult would it be for other family members to figure out your record system — or do you have a system?

Who in the family besides you knows where to turn for necessary information about the family assets and obligations?

Tuna Spaghetti For Budget Meals

Packaged dinners can provide you with an economical and easy way to feed your family without skimping on quality or appetite appeal.

Italian style spaghetti dinner, the base for Tangy Tuna Spaghetti is only about 18¢ per serving "as is." Home economists in The Kraft Kitchens have used their imaginations to create an interesting yet economical variation on this basic dinner by adding canned tuna, milk, green pepper strips and shredded natural cheddar cheese. Served with a green salad and fruit and cookies for dessert, Tangy Tuna Spaghetti makes a special occasion of an everyday meal.

You can use your own ingenuity to vary basic spaghetti dinners. Here are some more ideas. Prepare tangy Italian style spaghetti dinner and sauce as directed on package. Add browned pork sausage, zucchini and mushroom slices to sauce; heat thoroughly and serve over spaghetti. Or make a spaghetti-cheese casserole. Just layer hot prepared dinner with mozzarella and cottage cheese in a shallow baking dish. Bake in moderate oven until bubbly.

When you're looking for economy and fine flavor, don't overlook packaged dinners as a way to stretch your food budget . . . tastefully.

Tangy Tuna Spaghetti
1 cup green pepper strips
¼ cup Parkay margarine, melted
1 pkg. Kraft tangy Italian

style spaghetti dinner
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 6-1/2-oz. can tuna, drained, flaked
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Kraft sharp natural cheddar cheese
Sauté green pepper in margarine; blend in The Herb Spice Mix and flour. Gradually add milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add tuna. Cover; simmer 10 minutes. Add cheese, stirring until melted. Prepare spaghetti as directed on package, toss with The Grated Parmesan Cheese. Four sauce over spaghetti mixture.

4 to 6 servings
Variation: Substitute 1 cup chopped cooked chicken or turkey for tuna.

Careful Planning Makes Home Improvement Pay

COLLEGE STATION — Before planning home remodeling, homeowners should consider an objective evaluation of their neighborhood, design of the house whether the project will be improvement or only maintenance and whether the scale of the project fits in with the rest of the house, Denise Beigbender, a housing and home furnishings specialist, said.

"Families usually consider home remodeling & improvement to make their present home more liveable — but they also need to consider the return on their investment. Not all improvements add to the resale value of the house," she added.

Miss Beigbender is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"If the neighborhood is starting to 'go downhill,' the homeowner would probably lose on any improvements he made. It does not pay to over-improve regardless of the neighborhood. A sensible addition to the smallest house in the neighborhood will enhance its resale value as will any improvements made by neighbors," she said.

And she pointed out that homeowners will want to be careful that the changes don't violate local regulations, or the existing architectural or functional integrity of the house. Any addition should harmonize with the original plan and avoid blunder such as a new bedroom that can be entered only through another room, she said.

"Regular maintenance items shouldn't be confused with remodeling improvements. Replacing the furnace, rewiring, changing the plumbing system, re-roofing, waterproofing or planting shrubbery are not considered home improvements. These things only bring the house up to the level that most buyers would expect," she explained.

And the scale of the remodeling in relation to the rest of the house is an important consideration, too. A kitchen appropriate for a $70,000 house does not belong in a less expensive dwelling. Much of the investment will be lost at resale, she noted.

"The prospective buyer generally will not pay as much for a fifth or sixth bedroom as he would a third or fourth one. But if the house does not have something that its price might indicate, such as a garage on a $50,000 house, this would probably depress the resale value," she said.

HOG OUTLOOK BRIGHT BUT CAUTION NEEDED

Hog producers can look for a profitable year in 1976 if they don't get over anxious and expand operations too quickly, says a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Hog prices should continue strong due mainly to a continued shortage of pork supplies. However, increased farrowings during the first half of the year could boost pork supplies for the second half of 1976 as 16 per cent above those of the second half of 1975. Prices for market barrows and gilts should range from 46 to 48 per hundredweight through mid-year and then drop off to around $40 to $42 during the latter part of 1976.

Mrs. Quinton Brown, Katie and Jason of Wichita Falls were here from Thursday until Sunday visiting her mother, Mrs. D. H. Moore. Mrs. Brown, the former Betty Jean Moore, who graduated from MHS with the class of 1956, enjoyed the various festivities and get-togethers activities with her classmates and teachers. Mrs. Dorothy Stewart and son, Mark, of Amarillo were here on Saturday to visit with her mother and sister. Also Quinton Brown and son, Luke were here on Sunday before the family returned home late in the afternoon.

Memphis Fire Alarm System Undergoes Change

The fire alarm system of the Memphis Fire Department has been changed, according to Charles Waller, Memphis fireman.

Two short blasts of the whistle will now indicate a city fire and one short blast will mean a fire in the country. Each blast will be of about a 10-second duration.

In the past, the city has been divided into five wards and the number of times the whistle blew indicated the part of town where the fire was to local firemen. This system was put into effect at a time when it was the only way local firemen had of knowing which direction to go, Fireman Waller said. Now the old system is worn out, and since each fireman is equipped with a radio, it was decided to change rather than spend a great deal of money repairing the old system.

The storm warning will remain the same, one continuous blast of the siren lasting for two to three minutes, Waller said.

Keep Good Family Records

COLLEGE STATION — Keeping good family records is essential for realistic planning for the future, Mrs. Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist, says.

She also mentioned income tax returns as another reason for keeping good records. It's easier to prepare the income tax return if the family business affairs are in order first.

Mrs. McCormack is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Although each family must work out its own home file system, some general guidelines may be helpful. Ask yourself a few questions for a starter," she said.

How easy or difficult would it be for other family members to figure out your record system—or do you have a system?

Who in the family besides you knows where to turn for necessary information about the family assets and obligations?

Do you have a list of people who are important financial advisors?

The list might include tax consultant, attorney, banker, insurance representatives, employer, all creditors and debtors," she suggested.

What happens if your home is burglarized or if there is a fire and all records are destroyed? Which ones can be replaced, and how do you do so?

Where is a copy of each individual will located?

What documents are in the safe deposit box?

Also, keeping records should be a family affair, rather than the responsibility of just one member of the household," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Caldwell of Dallas were here to spend the Easter weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Greene and grandmother, Mrs. R. S. Greene.

Tuna Spaghetti For Budget Meals

Packaged dinners can provide you with an economical and easy way to feed your family without skimping on quality or appetite appeal.

Italian style spaghetti dinner, the base for Tangy Tuna Spaghetti is only about 18¢ per serving "as is." Home economists in The Kraft Kitchens have used their imaginations to create an interesting yet economical variation on this basic dinner by adding canned tuna, milk, green pepper strips and shredded natural cheddar cheese. Served with a green salad and fruit and cookies for dessert, Tangy Tuna Spaghetti makes a special occasion of an everyday meal.

You can use your own ingenuity to vary basic spaghetti dinners. Here are some more ideas. Prepare tangy Italian style spaghetti dinner and sauce as directed on package. Add browned pork sausage, zucchini and mushroom slices to sauce; heat thoroughly and serve over spaghetti. Or make a spaghetti-cheese casserole. Just layer hot prepared dinner with mozzarella and cottage cheese in a shallow baking dish. Bake in moderate oven until bubbly.

When you're looking for economy and fine flavor, don't overlook packaged dinners as a way to stretch your food budget . . . tastefully.

Tangy Tuna Spaghetti
 1 cup green pepper strips
 ¼ cup Parkay margarine, melted
 1 pkg. Kraft tangy Italian

style spaghetti dinner
 2 tablespoons flour
 2 cups milk
 1 6-1/2-oz. can tuna, drained, flaked
 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Kraft sharp natural cheddar cheese
 Sauté green pepper in margarine; blend in The Herb Spice Mix and flour. Gradually add milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add tuna. Cover; simmer 10 minutes. Add cheese, stirring until melted. Prepare spaghetti as directed on package; toss with The Grated Parmesan Cheese. Pour sauce over spaghetti mixture.

 4 to 6 servings
 Variation: Substitute 1 cup chopped cooked chicken or turkey for tuna.

Tips Given On How To Grow Tomato Crop

COLLEGE STATION — Just about every home gardener has a few tomato plants that are his pride and joy. But there's more to a good crop of tomatoes than just setting out the plants.

"Tomatoes can be some of the most rewarding garden plants, but they can also bring frustration," points out Sam Cotner, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

For success at growing tomatoes, Cotner offers a few pointers.

"First of all, select varieties is composed of Lasater Hensley, Chairman, Guthrie; Mack T. Claiburn, Vice-Chairman, Anson; W. C. Mann, Clarendon; J. P. Perrin, Haskell; and W. J. Boykin, Northfield.

that are adapted to the area and that resist many of the common diseases. Such varieties as Spring Giant, Homestead, Porter, Terrific or Small Fry are excellent for most areas of Texas.

"When buying tomato plants, select those that are short, stocky and dark green — ones that are about as tall as they are wide.

"Be sure to locate tomatoes in an area that receives at least six hours of sunlight a day.

"Plant tomatoes in a soil rich in organic matter and containing adequate fertilization. Allow about four square feet of space for each plant.

"Set the plants somewhat deeper than they were originally growing. Apply a starter solution; one can be made by mixing one or two tablespoons of a complete fertilizer in a gallon of water.

"To reduce wilting, set out plants on a cloudy day or late in the afternoon. Protect them from adverse conditions such as high winds or excessive heat by providing some cover, such as milk cartons with the ends cut out.

"As the plants begin to grow, provide some form of support to keep fruit off the ground, such as stakes, trellises or wire cages.

"At first bloom, dust or spray tomatoes for both insects and diseases. Once plants start setting fruit, apply small amounts of fertilizer every week or so.

"For tops in quality and flavor, harvest the fruits at peak maturity," suggests Cotner.

WIRETAPS URGED ... Briscoe will ask legislators authorize court-ordered and wiretapping to help organized crime.

... said the war on crime should be No. 1 priority item in legislative program in 1977.

... governor said there is no argument as to whether organized crime has penetrated in-state. The question, he said, is on the extent of the in-state and how it can be controlled.

THESE FASCINATING ANIMALS LIVE IN TREES AND ARE NOT AT HOME ON THE GROUND. MAKING A TREE SWAY TO REACH THE NEXT ONE IS STANDARD PROCEDURE FOR THESE PRIMATES. THEY HAVE EXTRAORDINARILY LONG ARMS -- A 4 1/2 FOOT TALL MALE WILL HAVE AN ARMSPREAD OF 7 1/2 FEET!

TO HELP SAVE THE SPECIES, REHABILITATION CENTERS HAVE BEEN SET UP IN SUMATRA FOR TAMED ORANGUTANS WHO CAN'T SURVIVE IN THE WILD. THE YOUNG APES UNDERGO "SURVIVAL" TRAINING, INCLUDING HOW TO CLIMB AND LIVE IN TREES, FIND FOOD, ETC., BEFORE BEING RETURNED TO THE WILD.

CAN THE ORANGUTAN SURVIVE? THIS QUESTION WILL BE CLOSELY EXAMINED ON A TELEVISION SPECIAL, "ORANGUTANS: ORPHANS OF THE WILD," TO BE Aired NATIONWIDE ON APRIL 28.

Fish - - One-Stop Nutrition Center

COLLEGE STATION — A little fish goes a long way to provide many nutrients for every age, Mrs. Mary Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"Most fish and shellfish contain low amounts of fat and high amounts of protein. And most fish except shrimp and crayfish—contain small amounts of cholesterol in comparison with other foods. Certain organ meats and egg products contain 10 times as much cholesterol as fish and shellfish," she added.

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Fish provides complete protein essential for good nutrition — protein builds and repairs. This nutrient is needed by every cell in the body. Children need it for building strong muscles, and adults need it to repair muscles and other cells.

"Fish products are easily digested because they contain little connective tissue. They are good for diets of young children and elderly people, where ease of digestibility is important," the specialist added.

She noted that calcium, iron, iodine, potassium, phosphorus, copper and manganese are minerals found in fish, and all are essential for good health.

"Calcium and phosphorus help maintain strong bones. Calcium also helps clotting of blood and regulating of the heartbeat. Fish containing small bones, such as a salmon, are good sources of these minerals.

"Iron is another mineral present in fish and is needed by all cells — the red blood cells in particular. These cells carry oxygen in the air through the blood vessels to all cells in the body. Lack of iron in the diet makes a person feel tired and run down and can lead to anemia," she explained.

"These vitamins help use energy from food and keep the nerves and skin in good condition," she said.

"We deeply appreciated so many people coming to help us celebrate our 70 years in business in Memphis," The Thompsons said. "Without the friendship and patronage of so many of you customers throughout the years, this anniversary celebration would have been impossible.

"We are delighted to be a part of such a fine community as Memphis and Hall County. We know we have some of the finest people in the world here. We are proud of our progressive merchants, who do a fine job in serving the area.

"We feel that Memphis, for a town of its size, offers its citizens more than many other towns of similar size. Everyone can be proud of our fine community facilities including our high school building, community building, beautiful park and swimming pool, new churches, etc. All this has been made possible through community co-operation.

"All and all, Memphis is a fine place to live and we thank you for making our 70th Anniversary Party such a grand success," the Thompsons concluded.
