WEATHER SUMMARY

The weather picture this week has been more summer-like, with hotter afternoon temperatures. One mild storm system Sunday afternoon left light showers and some pea-sized hail in the Estelline area and showers locally.

RETURN FROM BOYS STATE—The three Memphis delegates to Boys State returned from Austin this week wearing Boys State T-shirts. The boys were in Boys State, an American Legion sponsored activity, by the local Legion. Pictured, left to right, are Val J. Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Charles Gregory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gregory and Paul Ables, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Ables.

Funeral Services Held Monday For Clyde J. Reed

Funeral services for Clyde Reed were held at 3:00 p.m. Monday in the First Baptist Church in Lakeview with the Rev. Bill Curry officiating. Interment was in IOOF Cemetery in Lakeview with services under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Mr. Reed, 72, died Saturday, June 12, in High Plains Baptist Hospital. He was born April 1, 1904 (on Good Friday) in Paradise Wise County. He moved to Hall County in a covered wagon with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Reed, in October, 1911. The family located on a farm southeast of Lakeview where Mr. Reed has lived in the same house since that time.

He was married to Vera Davis, also of Lakeview, on November 18, 1934.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Lakeview.

One son, Benton Davis Reed, preceded his father in death on May 27, 1938. Surviving are his wife of the home; two daughters Fatsy Anne Reed of the home and Mrs. Eddie (Martha Joy) Piland of Colorado City; two grandsons, Mark and Jay Lynn Piland of Colorado City, one sister, Mrs. W. Douglas (Vera) Dickey of Memphis and three nephews.

Pall bearers were Aubrey Robertson, Lee M. Robertson, Henry Moore, Conde Newman, Raymond E. Hall, and Aubrey Martin.

Honorary pall bearers were Irvin Payne, Clyde Davidson, Jess Watson, W. C. Hight, John Capp, Ross Springer, Glenn Verden and Dalton Floyd.

Hall County To Send 21 4-Hers To Compete In Dist. Horse Show

The third of the series of three Hall County 4-H Horse Shows was held last Friday, to establish those qualifying for the District Show to be held June 25 and 26 at Santa Ross Roundup in Vernon.

Sixteen 4-H horsemen qualified for the show, plus five alternates, and County Extension Agent Warren Mitchell heard Wednesday morning that all five alternates were also accepted to compete in the district show in Vernon, so Hall County will be represented by 21 horsemen next weekend.

The three qualification shows held the past few weeks determined winners of three trophies. High Point senior is Chris Molloy. High Point junior is Dusty Byars, and High Point PeeWee is Greg Parr. These received trophies after scores were figured.

The 21 4-H members qualifying for the District Horse Show include:

County Agent Mitchell explained that individual points were figured for each of the three shows, with the best two scores figuring into selection of district qualifiers.

"This is a much better system of selection than having only one show. A participant could miss a show due to illness or whatever and still qualify using the three-show method," Mitchell said.

The three different judges for the shows included Jerry Hawkins of Clarendon, Roland Moore of Tulsa and Billy Wilson of Wellington. Ring Stewards were Tanja Widener and Mary Lou Bradley. "We certainly want to thank our judges and ring stewards for the fine job they have done," the County Agent said.

Monday Night Practice
County Agent Mitchell announced that Monday night, June 21, beginning at 7:30 p.m. all District qualifiers will be practicing for the district meet. "We would like to have all of them there so we can take pictures as well as practice," Agent Mitchell said.

The District Show actually begins Friday, June 25, with all riding events, and the finals in riding events beginning at 6 p.m. in Vernon. Saturday morning will be the halter classes with the finals that afternoon.

"Competition at District will be stiff, as only 20 horses out of 200 competing will qualify for the State meet, which will be held in Amarillo this year.

"This is our third year to compete at District, and we're all hoping that our county will be represented at state," Mr. Mitchell said.

Tina Foxhall Is Winner At Two Tourneys

Memorial Blood Donors were in action Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Community Center and collected 32 pints of blood. Most of the donors credited to either Nelly or Clyde Reed, and a few donors taking their own credit.

Donating blood included: Floyd, Walter Beck, Mary Miller, Emmett Tom Lockhart, G. W. Clark, Robert Clark, Pauline Kilpatrick, Jack Davis, W. L. Dugger, Leona Burk, Jerry Byars, Charles Morris, Michael Vacca, Aubrey Robertson, Braulio Ruiz, Lee Robertson, John Kehr, Roy Adams, Rayford Hutcherson, and Marie Norton.

Tina Foxhall has been successful twice on golf courses, by winning her age division in the Second Annual Farwell Junior tournament and qualifying for the Texas Elimination tournament of the PGA National Jr. Championship to be played at Forrest Oaks Course in Dallas.

Tina shot a 36-hole total of 173 at Farwell to win the 14-15 age bracket at that tournament, for which she received a trophy. Sixteen girls competed in this age bracket. But probably more thrilling (Continued on Page 12)

Turtles Create Problems For Country Club's Irr. System

BILL COMBS
The Memphis Country Club has had an unusual problem in the past week and a half. The problem has been caused by turtles. Turtles themselves are no problem, but in an irrigation system they create real problems.

The Country Club's high water well which pumps water from City of Memphis system hold ponds, pump water last Saturday, June 5.

KVII-TV Hot Line recently had a complaint about the "smell" from the system. Club officials explained that the only time there is a slight odor is when the water has set in the lines over several days, and when the system first comes on, an odor is detected.

One of the things tried was pulling off of a screen in the No. 1 pond. The pond had become completely clogged with turtle eggs and turtles which were being pulled out inside the pipe.

The Kress resident will install W. R. (Dub) Parker as President of the club, along with a host of other officers. Boss Lion Bill Ballow will be yielding the gavel after his year of service as president of the club.

"We must keep chlorine in the water for the fungus and algae would clog the system if we didn't," Manager Ward said.

The No. 2 pond had been cleaned by the City of Memphis, and the club had lines to the pump. Neither supply water to the pump and motor pulled, large hands full of turtle shells were being pulled out. The large turtle was the problem. The motor was off the decision was made to pull the pump and motor out and service them.

But the turtle problem is not yet over. A screen was installed Tuesday on the pipe to the No. 1 pond, which had been drained. But so many bits of turtle shells are in the line, that the last sprinkler lines in the system have become clogged and will have to be cleaned.

Memphis citizens can rest assured that the water used for irrigation at the Memphis Country Club creates no health problem. Chlorine is put into the water at the pump. Logs are kept on the system, and the system is inspected by State Health officials who regularly inspect the City's Sewage Plant.

Memphis Lions To Have Install. Banquet Friday

Milton Laurie, former Governor of District 271, Lions International, will be the installing officer at the Memphis Lions Club's Ladies Night and Installation Banquet Friday evening.

The Kress resident will install W. R. (Dub) Parker as President of the club, along with a host of other officers. Boss Lion Bill Ballow will be yielding the gavel after his year of service as president of the club.

The banquet will begin at 7:30 p.m. with Lester Campbell serving as Master of Ceremonies.

All members of the Memphis Lions Club and their ladies are invited to attend the banquet.

Funeral Services Held Friday For Longbine Infant

Funeral services for Christopher Glenn Longbine, seven-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Longbine of Estelline, were held Friday evening, June 11, at 5:30 p.m. in the Estelline Church of Christ with Min. J. D. Rothwell officiating.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Memphis by Spicer Funeral Home.

The infant was killed Wednesday in a one car accident near Maywood, Neb.

The other occupants of the car were all hospitalized in Nebraska and later transferred to Hall County Hospital. They have all been dismissed this week. (Continued on Page 12)

Indians Hold on to Little League Lead

The Little League Indians continued to increase their lead in League play this week, with a pair of victories, while the other three teams continue to battle it out for second place.

The Indians won a 12 to 1 game over the Yankees Tuesday night, and last Thursday night the leaders won a 11 to 1 game from the Tigers.

The Giants and the Yankees lost Thursday, after playing to a 9-9 deadlock the game earlier in the week, playing another close contest with the Giants coming out on top 10 to 7.

Tuesday night, the Tigers, in the first game, against the Giants, got off to a good start at the plate, as hitter after hitter rapped the ball out of the infield for base hits. The Tigers won the game 11 to 5.

Tonight, the Giants play the Tigers in the first game, while the Indians and the Yankees play in the second game.

Next Tuesday night, the Indians and Giants play in the earlier game and the Tigers play the Yankees.

Red Hill Motorcross Motorcycle Race To Be Held Near Hedley

Red Hill Motorcross motorcycle races will be held Sunday, June 20, on a new track South of Hedley.

Riders interested in entering should contact Hill Service Station in Hedley or Blackie Johnson.

There will be signs erected to direct those interested in attending the race.

Entry fee for riders is $4.00 and spectators will be charged $1.50, with all under 12 admitted free.

Races start at 2 p.m. Sunday, with practice laps beginning at 11 a.m.

Classes start at 2 p.m. Mini class, three trophies; 100cc class, three trophies; 125cc class, four trophies; 250cc class four trophies and Open class, four trophies.

IRRIGATION SPRINKLERS — Memphis Country Club greens (No. 3 and No. 6) are pictured above as they got a good wetting down Tuesday evening late as turtle problems in the irrigation system were finally overcome after 10 days of work and concern. Turtles clogged the irrigation pump several times, causing considerable problems to efforts to keep greens alive. Two light showers helped.

New GTC Pres. Visits Here Wed.

Robert W. Shaffer, newly elected president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, met with a group of Memphis employees Wednesday, June 16 and reviewed operations of the company's Western Area and Memphis Division.

Shaffer assumed his post as head of the four state operations of General of the Southwest June 1. He and past president and new chairman of the board L. Gray Beck are touring the company's operations. (Continued on Page 12)

Praising Good Works!

Three sisters were in Memphis this past week and pointed out a very good service that area citizens are receiving and many may be taking for granted, and that is the excellent care being taken of Fairview Cemetery in Memphis.

As is the case many times in smaller communities like ours, the care of the cemetery is a cooperative effort between private enterprise and government, with the primary responsibility resting with the aldermen of the Memphis City Council.

The City Council has a two-man committee of aldermen who have the duty of seeing after the cemetery. These two men are Bill Leslie and Leo Fields this year. However, Robert Spicer and Martin Johnson of Spicer Funeral Home do a great deal of the "overseeing" of actual work at the cemetery by employees of the city.

The City of Memphis hires one full-time employee to work at the cemetery, and add other "hoe hands" as needed. Work schedules must be worked out not to interfere with scheduled graveside services, etc.

The three sisters, Geneva Gilreath of Gila Bend, Ariz., and Mary Lou Mitchell and Jewell Henson of Amarillo, who have relatives buried at Fairview Cemetery, were high in their praise of the way the cemetery grounds are being kept.

Cemeteries in the area generally have difficulty being "garden" spots due to the adverse weather, too little rainfall for grass to grow without irrigation. Several of the ones in this area are maintained by volunteers who contribute either time or money, or both, to maintaining the grounds. In the absence of public funds to finance this work, volunteer labor and funds make up the difference. Unfortunately, during busy work periods in the fields, few volunteers are available to do the work.

On a few occasions, this editor has talked with out-of-town citizens who have come back to visit burial sites of relatives, and these sites, due to being in "rural" cemeteries, were not as attractively kept as these visitors would like to have found them. These visitors have different attitudes, some offer different solutions, but few, we've found, leave us a check to pass on to the secretaries of the various cemetery associations, a service we would be most happy to perform.

To those many fine citizens in the area who do participate in the cooperative effort to maintain the various cemeteries, you do a fine service, one for which you deserve an extra "pat on the back."

For all of us, locally, we can take pride that Fairview Cemetery is a beautifully kept facility. Those who see after this work deserve to be recognized for the fine job they are doing. It sometimes takes "out-of-towners" to bring good things to our attention.

Newspapers, sometimes, are blamed for painting such a bad picture to their readers. Conversely, readers sometimes will only read the bad side of the news, and completely ignore stories written about the good works of their fellow man.

What Other Editors Say

TO GRADUATES
High school and college graduates all over the country are now thinking of employment, either this summer or fall. Some are handicapped by the trend of the times, by the misleading spirit of other youngsters in the sixties and by politicians and loafers.

No one, including the government, owes graduates or other citizens a living. That's to be earned with work, intelligence, application and dependability. The most important of these qualifications for success is not necessarily intelligence.

Dependability and application are probably more important in the long run. The free-enterprise world into which graduates are embarking in 1976 is full of faults and imperfections. But it offers those in a free society who are ambitious and industrious sure success—if the necessary effort is made. It also offers more individual liberty than any other major western democracy.

This year's graduate is fortunate. The nation is not at war. Economic conditions, while not at a peak, are improving. Inflation has been slowed. Jobs and opportunities can be found if one looks hard enough—and far enough.

LAST PRIMARIES
The last of the presidential preferential primaries held Tuesday in California, Ohio and New Jersey. Everybody except the power brokers prefer that the party candidates be selected through the elective process, but there just must be an easier and quicker way of getting the job done. The primaries have just about worn the people out who are interested in the eventual outcome and who have been trying to keep score. The drain on the candidates physical and mental capacities must have been all but intolerable. I have sympathized with Mo Udall, for some reason, more than any of the other candidates. I had hoped that he would win at least one primary as a consolation prize.

Jimmie Carter will be the democratic nominee for president and it is a tossup between Ford and Reagan for the privilege of being the Republican standard bearer. Carter will be elected.

JUNE DATES
The last half of June contains notable American dates. The 20th is West Virginia Day—dating from 1863, when that state entered the Union as an independent state, having seceded from Virginia.

The Constitution was ratified on the 21st in 1788, when New Hampshire became the ninth state to ratify it. On the 22nd in 1874, Dr. Andrew Taylor Still, a Kansas physician, began the medical system of osteopathy. The 24th is St. John's Day, the 29th St. Peter's Day and the 30th St. Paul's Day. On the 25th, in 1876, General George Custer and two hundred and eight U. S. soldiers were wiped out on the Little Big Horn in Montana. On the 26th, in 1917, the first U. S. troops landed in France in the first of two American rescues of that country in this century. The 27th is the birthday anniversary of Helen Keller, born in Tuscumbia, Alabama, in 1880.

On the 28th, in 1914, the dreadful carnage, World War I, which would end a way of life and produce Communism, was sparked by an assassination at Sarajevo—a war which also produced World War II twenty one years after it ended.

SEMINAR ON PROCESSING PLANT WASTES

A seminar on the management of wastes from slaughterhouses and processing plants will be held at the Ramada Inn in Waco July 29. Beginning at 8:30 a.m., the seminar will deal with such concerns as water and air quality problems and requirements, reducing waste loads, energy use, wastewater treatment for small plants as well as treatment for larger plants by sand filtration and land application, and land disposal of blood and paunch manure. An agricultural engineer in animal waste management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service invites all slaughterhouse and meat and poultry processing plant managers as well as consulting engineers to attend.

MEAT CONSUMPTION

Consumption of red meat in the U. S. is maintaining a relatively high level and is increasing even more in the present rate. The average American consumed 133 pounds of red meat last year but this was 39 pounds less than the per capita meat consumption in Australia. However, a livestock market specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service contends that livestock production need not be based on consumption levels. Americans will consume all the meat produced in the U. S. The question is, at what price will they consume it?

Nearly everyone who that progress involves change, however, may involve progress. One of that paradox is being demonstrated now in the banking industry. Big city banks recently have used innovations in customer service to such an extent some very advanced machinery has almost totally replaced the people who provided direct service. The innovations are an automated system whereby a customer slips in a plastic punches up a series of numbers and the machine spits out the money (or accepts deposit). Of course, the customer hits a number the machine may one of three things; return the card, swallow card whole or chew it up spit it out. This is where lemons have developed... the machine has totally replaced the people in the personal service. All of who have had a serious morning know that eating problems to a machine is a losing proposition. actions from customers helping bankers to change does not mean equal progress. People are important and independent part of banking service a part we'll never do without.

Last card we received from Elsie Hoover was mailed from London where she spent several days. She had a lot of sight-seeing and did two theatre plays. She is going back to Belgium on to Germany and soon, so if you meet a woman with a foreign accent and you know you will know she is back to stay with us. Time and hope will determine where she will locate here.

In the past month I had read Nena Foxhall's writing in the "Trend" section of the Dallas News. She is now the Houston Chronicle City desk after three years with the Dallas News. Chronicle was the first newspaper for me to read when I was about 8 years old. I had the pleasure of meeting and talking to 5 ladies who were school teachers in our Memphis schools in our first time all together since we had graduated from the 1942 Class and were having a great reunion.

Other visitors we had the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Caryl Baldwin of LaMesa and Dr. Jim N. Bourland of Mexico. Jim is in a field in Mexico where he is the only English speaking person. Jim and Neva Bourland Baldwin are children of the late Mack Bourland who moved to Donley Co., in the 1890's. Caryl Baldwin of LaMesa is the son of Mrs. Chas. Baldwin who is approaching her 102 birthday.

While interviewing the five 1942 graduates of M. H. S., I overheard one of them tell of the most embarrassing thing that happened to her in school and that was when she was 8 or 10 years old and she was jumping the rope while wearing a loose pair of pants. I don't know which one of them told this story, but anyway, after visiting with them for sometime I told them that I believed that they had the "old time religion," that makes you love everybody... as they showed so much love in their hearts for each other and their fellowman. Our best wishes to this group and I think they will make this an annual affair in their home town.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fultz moved to Wichita Falls in 1944. Roy passed away in June of 1975. Mrs. Roy Fultz is now in Northwest Nursing Center, Room 58, 2801 NW 6th St., Oklahoma City 73112. Other members of the Fultz family are Mary Ruth, who married Scotty Sigler and they now live in Fort Worth; Dorothy Estes lives in Houston and one son, James Fultz, who lives in Oklahoma.

the only one of them that has lived her full life in Memphis and is Billie Jo Barbee, who will be remembered by her school mates as Billie Jo Prater, the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Prater. After graduation, she married J. H. Barbee, Jr., of Lakeview. They have one daughter, Melissa, who graduated from MHS and married Kirby Hatley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hatley of Lesley. They have two sons that make Billie Jo and Herb, grandma and grandpa. Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Hatley are now living at Flomot where Kirby is coach in their schools.

Many of you will remember Mrs. Dick Watson, who was a pioneer here, Dick (now deceased) worked many years with the Foxhall's in Foxhall motor Company. Mrs. Watson's address now is "Sucky" Watson in Dumas Convalescent Home. Write in care of W. D. McCool, 812 Shamrock Drive, Dumas, Texas 79029.

Another one of the lucky five was Ann Compton Morton of Childress. She will be remembered as the daughter of C. H. (deceased 1949) and Ruby Compton of Memphis. There were two more pretty blondes in the Compton family Doris and Edith. I remember when Ruby would walk down the street with the three little blondes that would make you stop and look and listen, as they were so cute. It kept Ruby washing and ironing to always keep them so neat and fresh looking. The other sisters are now Mrs. (Doris) Richard Ayers of Borger and Mrs. Wayland (Edith) Marcum of Amarillo. Ann is now Mrs. John Douglas Martin. She has three children. After leaving Memphis Ann has lived in Colorado, Ohio and back to Childress. Of the group 5 that graduated in 1942, I have known 3 to 5 generations of their families.

The five girls all started to school the same day in 1931 and graduated the same day in 1942. One girl was with them through this period of time was Frances Simmons Potty whom they have not been able to locate, this group of girls were in Memphis High School band. They gave me a list of their teachers, first grade, Clara Belle Lee and Grace Ezell; second grade, Thelma Shankle; third grade, Mrs. Henry Gore; 4th grade, Mrs. Forrest Hall; 5th grade, Mrs. C. S. Compton; 7th grade, Mrs. R. C. Lemons. Their high school teachers were Mary Sexauer, Norman Heath, Mrs. A. L. Burks, Joyce (Sheets) Davis, Clinton Voyles, Zadie Belle Walker, Noah Cunningham, high school principal and W. C. Davis, Supt.

Mrs. Harvey D. McGraw, nee Janice Clonts of Pineville, La., and her sister, Mrs. Wm. Newman Wolfe (nee Phyllis Claire Clonts) daughters of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Clonts who were pioneer residents visited Memphis the past week. Hubert Dennis gave them a tour of Hall County Heritage Hall, and they expressed gratitude to the Hall County pioneers and the citizens who are seeking to perpetuate our heritage. The three Clont children were all born here. Janice Dec. 25, 1910; Benjamin Mack, Jr., in March, 1913 and Phyllis, the youngest was born Feb. 1, 1920. After the death of Mr. Clonts, the family moved to Fort Worth in May of 1924. Accompanied by their grandmother, Maryann Chancy Crump. Mrs. Crump was born in Macon, Ga., in 1851 and came to Texas in 1865. She

She says she is busier now after retirement than before. Teaching SS class, club work, china painting, traveling and grand-mothering!

Mrs. Wolfe likewise received her education in Fort Worth public schools and attended TCU. She was for several years secretary to the Federal Attorney of the Northern District of Texas. She married the late William Newman Wolfe who was in law-enforcement and constable of precinct I in Tarrant county at the time of his death in 1975. Mrs. Wolfe is presently with the U. S. courts in the probates division. The Wolfe's had no children; however Mr. Wolfe was a mason, shriner and member of the Moslah Temples, drum and bugle corps in Ft. Worth, and they were active in the Masonic home and school for children in Fort Worth. Mr. Wolfe was director of the Texas Girls Choir in Fort Worth which has toured world-wide. Mrs. Wolfe has continued in the activities of the Texas Girls Choir. Mr. Wolfe was a member of the board of the Tarrant County Chapter for the Prevention of Blindness. Mrs. McGraw commented that the "trip here was more like a pilgrimage with much nostalgia involved."

Ben Clonts was killed in an accident in 1934 at the age of 21. Their grandmother Chancey Crump died in 1953 at the age of 102. Mrs. Clonts died in 1970. All of the family are entered in Fairview Cemetery at Memphis.

Both of these ladies were very appreciative of the hospitality shown them while here. They toured the whole town and cemetery. Their first teachers in school they remembered were Rosa Lee Moore and Alice Dycus. Some of the school-mates they remembered were Marine Thompson, Russell E. Baldwin, Maidee Thompson, Edward Foxhall and Clara Lemons.

In the article given us they mentioned Walter and Ed Crump, who were relatives of theirs. I can remember at the time Walter and Ed were here with no air conditioning. They closed up by putting padlocks on the screen door at back and front so the air would blow through the meat market to cool it off at night. Also at that time they used saw dust on the floors. I had a short visit with Laura Mae Hightower Lilly of Houston the past week. She and her husband Hugh Lilly had attended a convention in San Francisco. She was on her way home and stopped here at her mothers, Mrs. Walter Hightower, to get her two daughters Janice and Kate, who had been visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Roberts of Bloomington, Ill., visited from Saturday until Monday with her grandmother, Mrs. Zack Salmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Battle left Thursday for Colorado and other points in New Mexico after spending the past two months here with her mother, Mrs. Henry Scott.

Dear Harry,

Enclosed you will find your July 1st double coverage Crop-Fail policy. Sure do appreciate your business and although I hope you do not have a loss I hope you will rest a little easier, knowing that if you do, the crop is insured and I will do my best to net you a quick and fair settlement.

As you know insurance is full time with me. You know, some people write crop insurance as a side line. It is convient to the other business they are in. I am not sure that they always have at heart, your best interest, because it is important that they stay in good with the insurance company. If you are not satisfied with the way a claim is settled they don't have a lot to lose, however I do. I do because if you are dissatisfied you are likely to find another agent and my business depends on your continued patronage.

If you should have a claim give me a call anytime day or night. Again let me say I appreciate your business and I hope you are satisfied with the service from FISHER-RED RIVER AGENCY.

Best regards,

Baptist Classes Enjoy Luncheon and Program Thursday, June 10

Members of the Reapers, Lydia and Bethel Classes of the First Baptist Church enjoyed the annual luncheon June 10 in the Fellowship hall.

The Bethel class served as hostesses including Inez Luter, Lois Srygley, Edith E. Linder and Ruth Gardener. Mrs. Henry Hays welcomed guests and members and Ken Hooten led in prayer. A delicious buffet luncheon was served.

Lucille Wright presided during the program when Mrs. Melvin Hooten gave an inspiring devotional entitled "Sin Costs In Punishment." Virginia Browder gave humorous skit entitled "Count Your Blessings." Forty-two members and guests were present for the meeting.

Mrs. Ben Parks Undergoes Surgery for Fractured Ankle

Mrs. Ben Parks is a patient in High Plains Hospital in Amarillo this week after undergoing surgery Monday for a broken bone above her ankle. According to her son, Larry Parks, she is recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks were in Amarillo on Sunday and were dining at the Big Texan when Mrs. Parks accidentally fell and sustained the fracture to her leg. Mrs. Parks is in Room 594 at High Plains Hospital.

Parnell Club Meets Wed., At Club House

The Parnell Club met Wednesday, June 2, in regular session with 13 members present.

Billie Potts called the meeting to order and The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison by those in attendance. Lena Hill gave the devotional. Roll call was answered with a way to make your Housework easier.

After the business discussion, there were 7 sick visits counted and Lucille Cope dismissed the meeting.

Bessie Latham and Roxie Orcutt served refreshments to the following members: Billie Potts, Darlene Morris, Lena Hill, Ramona Burk and Tyra, Cathy Fuller and Tray and Melaine, Erlene Trapp, Ruth Ann Mote and Lisa, Corde Hood, Nelda Ferrell, Desdie Osburn, Anne Belle Bonney and Lucille Cope and one guest a niece of Billie Potts.

V. L. Bevers Observes 90th Birthday Sat.

V. L. (Virge) Bevers was honored with a birthday dinner on his 90th anniversary Saturday, June 12, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Bob Leggett.

Here to enjoy the day with him were his two sisters and a brother and all of his children with the exception of one son, Ken Bevers of Lubbock, who was unable to be present.

Enjoying the dinner and birthday cake were his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Alexander and Richard of Denton, two sons, Dean and Leroy Bevers of Memphis and one brother, Eck Bevers of Memphis and two sisters, Mrs. Ruth L. Latham of Mt. Park, Okla. and Mrs. Ruby Leggett.

Mrs. Carl Harrison and Laura Ann and Andy Wadley returned home Monday after spending the weekend visiting in Dallas with Mr. and Mrs. John Alderman and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Harrison and family. Mr. M. Harrison accompanied them to Dallas and remained for a longer visit with his son, Tom Harrison, and granddaughter Jami Harrison.

Cantrell-Wiginton Vows Read In Shamrock Rites

Miss Dianna Mae Cantrell and Larry Michael Wiginton were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony Tuesday, May 18, in the Eleventh Street Baptist Church in Shamrock.

Rev. O. E. Wright of Wichita Falls, pastor of the Church of God and uncle of the bride, read the double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cantrell of Route 3, Shamrock. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wiginton of Lakeview are the parents of the bridegroom.

Vows were exchanged at an altar flanked with candelabras holding votive candles and baskets of pastel spring flowers. The altar table held the anniversary candle and the couple's family Bible opened. The prayer bench completed the decor.

Family pews were marked with blue satin bows.

Mrs. Martha Ramsey, pianist, played a prelude of nuptial music as the guests arrived and the traditional professional and recessional. She accompanied Joe Bob Judge of Muleshoe as he sang "Twelfth of Never" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Kayla Wade of Groom was maid of honor. She was attired in a floor-length pastel blue gown of polyester crepe styled with an A-line skirt and empire waist line. The dress bodice featured a low round neckline with short puff sleeves. She wore a matching blue bow in the back of her hair and carried a nosegay of pastel spring flowers.

Dennis Holt of Memphis served as best man. Ushers were Jerry Cantrell, brother of the bride, and Dale Wiginton of Lakeview, brother of the bridegroom.

Jerry Cantrell lit the tapers used by the couple to light the wedding candle.

The Bride
The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father with the "Her Mother and I" avowal. She wore a floor-length gown of white bridal satin fashioned with scooped neckline and fitted empire waist. The bodice was overlaid with Venice lace. The long full Venice lace sleeves were gathered to a wide wrist band. The A-line skirt featured appliqued lace flowers accented with seed pearls.

Her finger-tip veil of imported illusion was edged with Venice lace accented with seed pearls and was attached to a head piece of Venice lace outlined with seed pearls and tear drops. She carried a nosegay of daisies surrounded by blue rose buds accented the knots atop a white Bible. The Bible was covered in lace from the Bridal gown.

The gown and veil were designed and fashioned by Mrs. Cantrell, mother of the bride.

The bride carried out the traditional wedding custom of wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue." She carried a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother Williams. The something borrowed was the White Bible belonging to her mother, which was a gift to her mother from her father. The something blue, was her garter and she wore a coin in her shoe. Completing her costume was an opal and diamond necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Cantrell chose for her daughter's wedding a princess-style floor-length gown of light orchid polyester knit, with contrasting floral long full sleeves. Mrs. Wiginton, the mother of the bridegroom, wore a floor-length gown of apricot poly-ter knit with matching jacket. Both wore corsages of white carnations with gold bases tied with gold ribbon.

Grandparents of the couple attending were Mrs. Dickey Ackley and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Williams, all of Shamrock and Mrs. Myrtle Hammons of Memphis.

Timmy Wiginton of Lakeview, brother of the bridegroom, registered the guests as they arrived. The register table was laid with a white-lace cloth centered with crystal bowl filled with colored rice on a silver tray. Surrounding the bowl were white net rice bags tied with blue ribbons.

Reception
Following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the Fellowship Hall.

The bride's table was laid with a white embossed linen cloth falling in a flounce to the floor and edged with ruffles. The table edge was accented with garlands of greenery and centering the table was a double candelabra of silver with touches of gold holding blue tapers.

The white-tiered wedding cake was designed with white pillars separating the tiers and was decorated with white wedding bells, ropes and blue rosettes. The top layer featured a miniature bride and bridegroom on a pedestal with a background of tulle and seed pearls. Placed on the front of the layers was a rope of pearls holding two gold wedding bands.

A crystal punch bowl with silver and crystal appointments completed the table decor.

Miss Lena King and Miss Janette Sanderson served the guests.

The bride is a graduate of Shamrock High School and of West Texas State University at Canyon with a B. S. degree in elementary education. The bridegroom is a graduate of Memphis High School and is attending West Texas State University in Canyon.

For a wedding trip to Galveston, the bride chose an apricot dress of polyester knit styled with a plain pleated skirt and a white jacket with swirls of apricot. She wore white accessories and a corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

After June 1, the couple will be at home in Canyon where Mr. Wiginton is employed at West Texas Dairy.

Among out-of-town wedding guests were Erbie Brown, Mrs. Wanda Stringer, both of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blandford of Ketchum, Idaho, Rev. and Mrs. O. E. Wright of Wichita Falls, Miss Maudie Coffee of Wellington, Wilma and Irene Anthony of Holdenville, Okla., Mary Lee Padgett of San Jose, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Omer Johnsey and Mr. and Mrs. John Hammons and family, all of Childress.

Also Douglas McDonough of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ranson of Hedley, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Snider, Mrs. Bill Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hughs, Estelle Barber, Mrs. Myrtle Hammons, all of Memphis and Clifford Woods of Houston.

Rehearsal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wiginton were hosts at a rehearsal dinner on Monday evening, May 17 in the Wrangler Restaurant dining room honoring Miss Cantrell, Larry Wiginton and their wedding party.

The tables were laid with white cloths. The head table was decorated with a large white wedding bell on a pink base surrounded with pastel spring flowers. Gifts from the bride and bridegroom to their attendants were placed on the table along with the place cards.

Rev. O. E. Wright gave the invocation.

A Treat For Every Meal

Lemon Nut Bread just sounds like something good and it's even better. This delightful bread fits into every meal and is one everyone will love. If you or your family skip breakfast or eat on the run, try making this the night before and toasting slices for breakfast. Let buttery Parkay margarine melt into this new kind of toast for a treat that will make breakfast a popular meal. Try spreading it with jelly or Philadelphia brand cream cheese for another treat.

This sweet, lemony bread fits perfectly for luncheon with a variety of salads — just the perfect touch. For a special treat, make an extra loaf to take to work for coffee break. Anyone's co-workers would delight in a special surprise with morning coffee. Wherever you serve it, Lemon Nut Bread will become a favorite.

Lemon Nut Bread
1/4 cup Parkay margarine
1/4 cups sugar
3 eggs
2 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1/4 cup chopped pecans
Cream margarine and sugar until light and fluffy; blend in eggs. Add combined dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with milk and juice, mixing well after each addition. Stir in rind and nuts. Pour into greased and floured 9 x 5-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350°, 1 hour and 20 minutes. Cool 5 minutes; remove from pan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn B. Jones visited the past five days in Lubbock with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Teel, Miss Karen Crisman, Jr. and Mrs. Don Stewart, Jr., and sons, Paul and David and Mr. and Mrs. Winston Jones and son, Sean.

Margaret Snowden returned Sunday from a week's vacation in New Mexico. She was a guest in the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell and son James Grant, on the La Jara Ranch which is located 21 miles northeast of Las Vegas.

Ag. Leader Sees Opportunities Increasing For Extension Service

COLLEGE STATION — The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has met many challenges during its rich heritage, but many opportunities lie ahead, a widely known agricultural leader told the more than 1,000 professional members of the Extension Service at its biennial state conference here June 8.

William A. Porter of Terrell, son of the late Walter C. Porter on whose farm the original farm demonstration concept of Extension teaching came into being in 1903, said that as far as the Extension Service is concerned, "We have just started; we have just scratched the surface; we must build bridges for those following us."

Porter challenged the Extension Service staff to continue to work closely with people to help them improve their level of living. "This was the goal of Dr. Seaman A Knapp who first established a farm demonstration on the Porter farm in 1903 to control boll weevils in cotton. Dr. Knapp's philosophy, in setting up the demonstration, was that: what a man hears, he may doubt; what a man sees, he may possibly doubt; but what a man does himself, he cannot doubt."

The agricultural leader, who served as the first chairman of the Kaufman County Program Building Committee and who has been active in the Blackland Income Growth (BIG) program, reviewed some of the early educational work of the Extension Service and pointed to some of the challenges that lie ahead.

"Extension is education," Porter emphasized, "and the Extension Service is designed to help people help themselves. Some of the early work of Extension centered on improved crop varieties, insect control, food preservation and soil conservation."

"The program building concept has been a key in involving people at the local level in Extension programs, and it is still as vital today," he noted. "Local involvement is essential if Extension programs are to be effective."

In his challenge to the statewide gathering of Extension workers, Porter said, "You have to be on your toes today to educate agricultural producers and homemakers. You have to be leaders—each and every one of you. Furthermore, you need to stay close to agriculture—to farming and ranching, 4-H and youth activities, and family living."

Porter also called for a strong county Extension staff and the need to establish guidelines for a more permanent type of agriculture in Texas. He also voiced concern for greater attention to conservation of land, water and other natural resources.

"Don't take the easy road in your educational programs," he advised. "The road ahead is long and challenging. The past will never be finished, and many new bridges are needed. There is unlimited opportunity for those who are willing to work."

At the opening assembly of the state Extension conference staff members also heard from Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University; Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, Extension Service director; and Dr. Haskell Monroe, dean of faculties at Texas A&M.

The conference continues through Friday, with staff members participating in some 38 refresher courses plus various tours on the Texas A&M campus. The Texas Superior Service Award will be presented to a number of outstanding Extension members Friday morning. In addition, the Knapp-Porter Award will be presented to two outstanding agricultural leaders.

Visiting with Mrs. B. M. Jarrell the past week were her daughter, Mrs. June Atkins and Nancy of Shalimar, Fla., and granddaughter Mrs. Bercier and two great granddaughters of Rayne, La. They visited in Borger and Pampa with Mrs. Jarrell's daughters.

Presbyterian Council Meets Here Sunday

The Area Council of the Presbyterian Church met in regular session Sunday, June 13th at 2:30 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church of Memphis.

Present were Jean Chamberlain, Fred Chamberlain, Edna Smith and Rev. Owen McGarity, Jr. of Clarendon; Paul Montgomery, Gladys Montgomery and Mary Helen Sexauer of Memphis.

The meeting was called to order and opened with prayer by Rev. McGarity. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Jean Chamberlain and approved by the Council. After the report of the Treasurer plans for the 1977 Church year were discussed and an ice-cream social was planned for July 2nd to be held at Clarendon at 7:30 p.m.

The Pulpit Supply Committee reported that the following people would fill the pulpit while Rev. McGarity is on vacation.

Sunday, June 29, Senator Max Sherman.

Sunday, June 27, Chaplain Carl H. Patton of High Plains Baptist Hospital.

Sunday, July 4, John Sarich, Elder at Clarendon.

Sunday, July 11, Virginia Browder, Elder at Memphis.

The meeting was adjourned and closed with prayer. The next meeting will be held the second Sunday in September at Clarendon.

M. L. Weatherly Awarded Degree From Baylor

Mickey Lynn Weatherly, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Weatherly of Memphis, was among 186 students who were conferred degrees at graduation exercises at Baylor College of Dentistry held at the Gaston Avenue Baptist Church in Dallas on Saturday, June 12 at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Frank P. Bowyer of Knoxville, Tenn., speaker of the House of Delegates of the American Dental Association, presented the commencement address.

During graduation ceremonies awards and honors were announced and presented to the graduates.

Commencement activities included a baccalaureate service and reception Friday evening and an open house at the College Saturday morning prior to commencement.

Dr. Weatherly received a Doctor of Dental Surgery degree. He was a member of Delta Sigma Delta Dental Fraternity and Preventive Dentistry Society.

CARD OF THANKS
I want to take this means of thanking friends for their cards, visits, prayers, flowers and other kindnesses shown us during our stay in the hospital. Each act of kindness was deeply appreciated.

Rev. Jim Smith Is New Pastor At Floydada First United Methodist

The new pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Floydada is the Rev. Jim Smith, son of Guy W. Smith of Memphis and the granddaughter of Mrs. D.A. Neely and C. G. Smith, also of Memphis.

Rev. Smith was born in Memphis and graduated from the High School and attended McMurry College where he received a B. A. degree. He received a Masters of Divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky., and was ordained in the Methodist Church in 1969. He has served pastorates in Spade, Lamona Northridge and Hamlin.

He is married to the former Lu Ann Cator of Gruver. They have three children, Scott, 9, Jill, 6 and Juli Ann, 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell of Watrous, N. M. announce the arrival of a son, James Grand, who was born on June 5. He weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces and was 21 inches long. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Anita Snowdon, daughter of Mrs. C. T. Snowdon of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Boney of Memphis are the parents of a son, born on June 12. He has been named Mark David and weighed 6 pounds, 5 1/2 ounces.

Janet Sonya Watson was born on June 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Larry E. Watson of Clarendon. She weighed 7 pounds, 2 1/2 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Elisio C. Muniz of Memphis are the parents of a son, Wally Cavasoa, born on June 16. He weighed 6 pounds, 13 ounces.

Visiting with Mrs. Henry Scott over the weekend were her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tension of Arlington and her sister, Mrs. Bill Hadley of Everman, who remained for a longer visit.

CARD OF THANKS
We extend our heartfelt gratitude to our many friends for their many expressions of kindness and sympathy during the loss of our precious loved one, Tomie Michael.

The beautiful array of flowers, the many memorials, sympathy, together with strength of The Lord, were a comforting solace to each member of the family.

In our bereavement, we are reminded that which we hold in our hand, we hold but such a short time, but that which we hold in our Heart, "We hold forever."

We shall ever treasure the friendship of our many friends in our hearts forever. "How Great Thou Art."

What you don't know about the cost of natural gas can hurt us all.

You know you're paying a lot more for natural gas, but you may not know why. The reason is basically simple:

The average price Lone Star has had to pay its 500 independent suppliers for gas we supply you has risen (about $166,000,000 more in 1975 than in 1974*). So we have to charge more.

If Lone Star were not able to recover these increased costs, we could run into some major problems.

First, we wouldn't be able to buy the gas this area needs. Short supplies of natural gas could handcuff industry.

When industry runs short, jobs begin to disappear. Production falls off. The tax base our cities, counties and school districts depend on begins to shrink.

That's why you need to understand how our industry works, why gas bills have to go up, and what Lone Star is doing to keep the increases as small as humanly possible.

Some important questions.

Here are some important questions and answers about our service.

1. How do our gas bills compare to other cities? Our customers pay less for natural gas than most cities, including other cities in Texas. We feel we're doing a pretty good job of selling natural gas at the most reasonable price possible.

2. Does gas cost adjustment guarantee profits for Lone Star? Not at all. In fact, the company has been forced to initially absorb 15 per cent of higher adjustments. This is a serious loss that must eventually be recovered if our cities are to have adequate gas supplies in the future, and if Lone Star is to have a fair return, to which it is entitled by law.

3. Who checks on Lone Star Gas? The Texas Railroad Commission, after a thorough investigation, sets our base (or wholesale) cost of gas. They set the rate of return on the pipeline system that brings the gas from the well to your city. They also monitor changes in the monthly gas costs of Lone Star, and this monthly gas cost information is filed with each city we serve in Texas.

4. How high will gas bills go? Today, your bill is based on the average cost of gas to Lone Star of a little over one dollar per thousand cubic feet. Gas bills will continue to rise in the years ahead, but probably at a much slower rate than recently. It appears that the field price of gas is leveling out so that increases will be much more gradual.

It's not all bad news.

Basically, all of those answers say that gas costs more than it used to, and it will continue to cost more.

But there is good news: As long as Lone Star is able to recover its costs, and as long as there is sufficient incentive for producers to drill for new gas supplies, we'll have the gas we need to keep this area moving.

All we ask is your understanding, and your cooperation, to make sure that happens.

If you have a question you'd like answered in an advertisement, write Consumer Information, Lone Star Gas, 301 S. Harwood, Dallas, Texas 75201.

Seminar To Deal With Processing Plant Wastes

WACO — Management of wastes from slaughterhouse and processing plants will be dealt with in detail at a seminar at the Ramada here on July 29.

The seminar will deal with such concerns as water and air quality problems and requirements, reducing waste loads, energy use, wastewater treatment for small plants as well as treatment for larger plants by sand filtration and land application, and land disposal of blood and paunch manure.

Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and a number of other agencies, the seminar will begin at 8:30 a.m., announces Dr. John Sweeten, Extension agricultural engineer in animal waste management.

Speakers will include Tommy Slaughter, Texas Water Quality Board; Gary Wallin, Texas Air Control Board;

Clayton Brasington, Agricultural Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; Dr. Dave Mellor, Extension poultry marketing specialist; Jack Witherow, U. S. Environmental Protection Agency; Dr. M. L. Rowe, East Central Oklahoma State University; Anthony Tarquin, University of Texas at El Paso; Fred Pauley, Blue Ribbon Packing Co., Houston; and Sweeten.

Sweeten invites all managers of slaughterhouses and meat and poultry processing plants as well as consulting engineers and other professionals to attend the seminar. County Extension agents across the state have details on the program.

Bacteriostatic and fungistatic 50 per cent polyester, 50 per cent cotton sheets which prohibit growth of microorganisms are now available. These are particularly appropriate for hospitals, nursing homes, hotels and motels, Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, notes.

WATER POLO — Pictured above are Memphis firemen Monte Paul Rogers (at nozzle) and Jerry Smith at back up, as they battle two other local firemen in water polo Monday night during fire practice. The helmets they are wearing are two of four donated to the department by A&M Seed and Delinting, Alvin Phillips and Monte Paul Rogers. The department has also received new slickers and boots.

Lockney To Feature Rodeo, Western Days

LOCKNEY — Bicentennial Western Days in Lockney will be Friday, Saturday and Sunday with a rodeo as the major event. Rodeo performances will be at 3 p.m. Friday and Saturday, with the Sunday show set at 2 p.m.

Rodeo headquarters will be Boot Hill Western Store on Main Street where rodeo contestants may register and pay entry fees from 10 a.m. Thursday until noon Friday.

Rodeo admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for children. Rodeo stock will be furnished by Ray Davis of Lubbock.

First local rodeo in several years will be on the fairgrounds in east Lockney. The event is sponsored by the Floyd County Fair Board. The group also will have a rodeo dance Saturday night in the fair entertainment building. The "Nashville Sound" will play from 9 p.m. to 1 p.m. Admission will be ladies free and men $4.

"If we ever get this new barn paid for, there's a few things I want to do to the house."

The rodeo parade will begin at 5:30 p.m. Friday, and will follow a route through the downtown area. Besides floats, decorated bicycles and riding clubs, the parade will feature surprise appearances by "personalities." Honorary grand marshal will be 3-year-old Aimee Green of Lockney who is the current Miss Floyd County Bicentennial. Sam Fortenberry will be parade marshal, with John Fortenberry and Kevin Turner as assistants.

Prize money will be awarded in the club float division and in the antique car division. Handmade old-time cowboy trophies will go to riding clubs, pioneer division entries and the youngest and oldest cowboys and cowgirls. Ribbons will be awarded for the decorated bicycle winners. There also is a division for commercial floats.

As another part of Bicentennial Western Days, various civic groups will have fund-raising booths in downtown Lockney on Friday and Saturday. Also, at least twelve area artists and craftsmen have indicated they will be present those days to sell their wares. Others may still come to Lockney but will register at Baker Store, June 19, to receive a sales location.

Approximately 15 per cent of the West Texas State University student body has been named to honor rolls for the spring semester.

Two hundred and one students whose grade point averages were 3.85 or better on a 4.0 scale were placed on both the President's Honor roll and the Dean's Honor roll.

The Dean's Honor Roll also lists 787 students whose grade point averages were 3.25 to 3.84.

Among those from Hall County who were listed on the Dean's Honor Roll were Lisa A. Abram of Estelline, daughter of Alben Abram; Brenda J. Durrett of Lakeview, daughter of V. C. Durrett; Roger K. Sen. Bentsen Pleased With Senate Comm. Bill Barring P. T. Closing

Washington, D. C. — Senator Lloyd Bentsen Monday said he is pleased that a Senate Committee bill providing aid to the U. S. Postal Service bars post office closings, said he is pleased that a Senate action on the measure.

Earlier this year Bentsen contacted Senator Gale McGee, Chairman of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, urging that any legislation providing Federal aid to the Postal Service prohibit further closing of post offices.

"I do not think Congress should approve additional aid without requiring postal officials to drop their plans to close rural post offices," Bentsen said in a letter to McGee in March.

A bill approved by the Senate Committee forbids the closing of post offices serving 35 or more families. In areas of less than 35 families the Postal Service would have to get the approval of 60 percent of the citizens over 18 years of age who are served by the affected facility before closing it.

The Committee bill also freezes postal rates at their current levels and defers cutbacks in delivery services.

And it creates a commission ordered to make recommendations to solve Postal Service problems by February 15, 1977. The rate freeze and the ban on closings and cutbacks would expire when the Commission makes its report.

"I am pleased that the Senate Post Office Committee has taken steps to block harmful reductions in mail service. And I am hopeful that the Senate will take quick, decisive action on the measure," Bentsen said.

"Proposals to shut down 3rd and 4th class post offices threaten more than 600 post offices in rural areas and small towns in Texas. And plans for further reductions in postal services threaten everyone in our State," Senator Bentsen said.

Bentsen Cites Over-Regulation In Health Bill

Washington, D. C. — Senator Lloyd Bentsen Tuesday said one section of the Health Manpower Bill—which speaks to a problem that is already resolving itself — is a classic example of government over-regulation.

The problem has been a tendency by medical school graduates, in past years, to take residency training in exotic, highly specialized medical fields.

As a result, shortages of family doctors, internists, pediatricians and other general practitioners intensified while the number of psychiatrists, gastro-enterologists, nturosurgeons and other specialized practitioners increased.

"This was a growing, serious problem in the 1960's," Bentsen said.

"But it is apparently resolving itself. The number of U. S. medical school graduates starting residency training in primary care fields has been increasing steadily, from 38 percent in 1968 to 66 percent this year."

"Provisions in the new Health Manpower bill, establishing an elaborate bureaucracy that would tell hospitals which medical fields they could offer residency training in and which they could not is a classic case of over-regulation by government," the Senator said.

Bentsen said he is cosponsoring an amendment to delete that provision from the legislation.

"It would be ridiculous to create another government bureaucracy with full regulatory powers to solve a problem that is solving itself," Senator Bentsen said.

Cleatus Eason and sons, Brian and David, of Coolidge, Arizona, visited this week with his aunt, Mrs. A. J. Fowler. They also visited with Leon Fowler and family of Lakeview.

manufacturers for the replacement parts are driving up insurance rates for Texas drivers, according to S.I.I.S.

In a single year, repair costs have increased 20 per cent due largely to parts prices. Grilles, radiators, water pumps, trunk lids, bumpers and other frequently-damaged parts rose more than 47 per cent in three years.

S.I.I.S. said car manufacturers aren't enthusiastic about building more-crash-resistant vehicles.

Jobs Ending

Six hundred more jobs in the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation probably will be eliminated by September 1.

Since last September, 2,250 jobs have been eliminated. Actually, the number of employees has been declining since the 1972 Interstate Highway construction project peak.

Statewide, the department's work force will have dropped from 20,000 in 1972 to 14,850 by September 1, according to Engineer-Director Luther DeBerry.

DeBerry said inflation has hit the highway construction and maintenance field, and growth in taxes on motor vehicles has not kept pace.

Other states are experiencing similar problems.

Courts Speak

The Third Court of Civil Appeals here upheld constitutionality of the state's 10 per cent tax on mixed alcoholic beverages.

Jobs Steady

Agriculture wields an increasingly powerful influence over the state's job market, according to Texas Employment Commission Chairman Harold K. Dudley.

Dudley said agricultural jobs, which declined for 30 years, are stabilizing and may even increase intermittently. He noted the cash value of crops and livestock increased 85 per cent between 1970 and 1975, and that Texas produced $5.8 billion in agricultural products last year which generated $22 billion in the state economy.

The Scientists Tell Me...

Rangeland Improvement Need Not Damage Quail Coveys

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Bobwhite quail are valuable in Texas for the beauty they add to the landscape, for the recreation they provide through sport hunting, and for the income they bring to landowners. Many kinds of gamebirds are found in Texas, but hunters pursue bobwhites and mourning doves more than any other species. Some landowners in south Texas receive $2 per acre for quail hunting rights.

Like all wildlife, bobwhites require a place to live—habitat—that provides food and cover. Foods are principally seeds, insects, and parts of small forbs (non-grass plants). Cover can be of many forms, but good escape cover is usually a clump of low brush.

Most parts of Texas have areas that are suitable for bobwhite quail, but research has shown that landowners often could improve habitat for quail and increase quail numbers simply by following range management practices that provide food and cover.

Scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station studied bobwhite populations in the semiarid region of south Texas where land management is directed toward increasing the carrying capacity for livestock. Brush control and the planting of imported grasses are common practices on several million acres in the region.

TAES scientist W. H. Kiel, Jr. found that some of the imported grasses are poor quail habitat and contribute to declines in bobwhite numbers. Imported buffelgrass, bermudagrass, and bluestem have seeds that are not readily eaten by bobwhites, and their dense growth is not favorable for quail.

Kleingrass, on the other hand, appears to be a valuable seed producer for bobwhites and is also excellent forage for livestock. So a rancher could help both his livestock and quail by planting kleingrass, a hardy grass with good drought resistance.

Kiel reported that bobwhite numbers did not decline on a 16,000-acre study area where brush was controlled by rootplowing, but 15 percent of the land was retained in clumps of woody cover and most of the grasses were native. Fall densities of bobwhites ranged from 1 to 2 birds per acre over 5 years.

In planning range management, landowners who retain a portion of their land in woody cover and food-producing plants will be rewarded by increased quail populations and diversity of wildlife and vegetation. A small reduction in range carrying capacity for livestock can be more than offset by the income from hunting leases.

Quail fanciers will be glad to know that still other aspects of quail management are being researched by TAES scientists Dr. Sam Beason and Dr. Nova Silky of the Wildlife and Fisheries Sciences Department and Dr. Richard Cain of the

A note of thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the illness and death of our beloved Tommie.

To Dr. Clark for all he did, thank you. To all the nurses at the hospital who made him more comfortable and for each and every thing that was done to make it easier.

The beautiful words spoken by our ministers, the songs, the prayers, visits while he was ill were appreciated so much.

The flowers, memorials, the food that was served at the church and at our home, all other considerations were greatly appreciated.

May God bless each of you in our prayer.

Methodist Church Vacation Bible School Closes With Program Sunday

One of the most successful and rewarding experiences of the youth of the First Methodist Church during the fiscal year was the Vacation Bible School, which was concluded on last Sunday night with a Commencement program.

Co-ordinated by Mesdames Roddy Bice and Bobby Carroll, the faculty and departments were: Nursery; Mrs. Phil Howard; Kindergarten; Mesdames Danny Scarborough and Zack Fisher; First and Second Grades; Mesdames "Dink" Miller, Don Cockrell; Third and Fourth Grades; Mesdames Clyde McMurray and Philip Lillard; Fifth and Sixth Grades; Mesdames Lee Brown and Johnny Harrell; Crafts; Mesdames Bob Hutcherson and Harold Smith; Kitchen Services; Mesdames Gus Orcutt and Richard Ellis; Music; Mesdames Bob Fowler and Larry Parks, assisted by Misses Kim Wynn and Decarla Sasser.

cluded Anthems by the Kindergarten Class; "A Little Talk with Jesus"; "Wonder Song"; and "I Love You, Jesus, Yes, I Do," the anthem "When All Men Shall Walk Together" by the Elementary Classes; and two puppet plays. The participants had created their own characters and had constructed the theatre. The first play narrated the story of Moses' being hidden in the bulrushes and his miraculous delivery; the second was the story of Jonah, his lack of faith, and his re-dedication.

After the program a great number of parents and friends visited the exhibition of the pupils' work in the Fellowship Hall and enjoyed a social hour.

Memphis is General's division headquarters which oversees operations covering 29 exchanges serving over 25,000 telephones. The Memphis Division has 101 employees.

Shaffer, a native of Iowa, and president of General Telephone of Illinois prior to being named General of the Southwest division, started his career with Western Electric in Chicago as equipment engineer in 1946. He later held various positions with Southwestern Bell in Arkansas and Missouri prior to joining General Telephone of California in 1957.

While with the California company, Shaffer was commercial studies analyst, revenue requirements administrator, assistant vice president - service and area general manager. He was named president of the Illinois company in April 1972.

Beck, who was named chairman of the board June 1, will serve in this capacity until his retirement August 1, 1976. He has visited Memphis on a number of occasions.

Serious Crime Continues To Rise Over Nation

Serious crime in the United States rose four percent during the first three months of 1976 over the same period of 1975. Attorney General Edward H. Levi announced today. This compares with an 18 percent increase during the first three months of 1975 over the comparable quarter of 1974.

Sixty-nine law enforcement agencies reported decreases in serious crime during the 1976 period, Mr. Levi said.

The first quarter figures were contained in the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, released today by FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley.

Director Kelley said the Crime Index compared seven offenses that are considered serious because of their nature, frequency, and likelihood of becoming known to law enforcement agencies. Today's figures are based on information from city, county, and state law enforcement agencies throughout the nation.

"The continued rise in reported crime remains a serious problem for the criminal justice system and the nation," Mr. Levi said.

"It should be noted that the increase in reported crime has been progressively slowing in recent months. But the challenge to reduce these levels remains with us all."

Director Kelley said that the violent crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, and aggravated assault, as a group, decreased seven percent during the year's first quarter. Reported offenses of murder decreased eleven percent, robberies were down ten percent, and aggravated assaults decreased three percent. Forcible rape offenses were up one percent.

Property crimes of burglary, larceny - theft, and motor vehicle theft, as a group, increased five percent. Burglary and motor vehicle theft offenses were down seven percent and three percent, respectively.

Director Kelley said the overall increase of four percent for the quarter was most influenced by the many offenses of larceny - theft reported to law enforcement - up 14 percent nationwide.

Suburban area law enforcement agencies reported an overall increase in serious crime of three percent, while agencies in rural areas experienced a one percent rise. Cities with 100,000 or more inhabitants had a four percent increase in reported Crime Index offenses, the same as the national average.

Geographically, the Northeastern States reported a seven percent increase in crime. The North Central States were up five percent, the Southern States two percent, and the Western States one percent.

Serious crime in the United States during 1975 was nine percent higher than 1974 the FBI reported earlier.

Miss Deedy Johnson of Canyon visited here with Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Johnson and Brooke this past week.

Mrs. Estelle Barber spent the weekend in Wichita Falls visiting with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Barber.

Mrs. Garland Coldiron visited last week in Amarillo with her sister, Bonnie Tugles, and in Canyon with her daughter, Dana Coldiron.

No community will grow and develop when its people are envious of each other.
