Cyclones To Scrimmage Hollis

Funeral Services Held Sunday For J. J. Palmer

Funeral services for Johnnie James Palmer, 71, were held at 4 p.m. Sunday, August 22, at the Travis Baptist Church with the Rev. V. L. Higgins pastor, and the Rev. Melvin Hooten officiating.

SCORES—Pictured above is Cyclone QB Don Cofer as he scores the only game touchdown against Stinnett Friday night. The score came on the final play of the scrimmage, from five yards out. The Cyclone travels to Hollis, Okla. for scrimmage Friday night.

NOT GANG TACKLING—Pictured above is not an example of gang tackling by Cyclone players, but rather a mobbing of QB Don Cofer after he scored on the last play against Stinnett. Spirits were running high in Cyclone camp at this time.

The Memphis Cyclone, and the Junior Varsity team, will be in Hollis, Okla., tomorrow evening to scrimmage at 6:30 p.m. and at 8 p.m. The varsity squads scrimmage at 8 p.m.

The Cyclone comes off a successful scrimmage against the Stinnett Rattlers last Friday night, a scrimmage which saw the local lads score on the final play of the scrimmage to capture a 1 to 0 scrimmage win.

"The coaches were very pleased with the effort of our boys against Stinnett," Coach Clyde McMurray said Wednesday, it was a good scrimmage for us.

"We were pleased and surprised by the outstanding performances of several players, namely Anthony Johnson, Don Cofer, Kenny Martin and Woodrow Richardson," Coach McMurray said.

The Cyclone Booster Club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Visual Aids Room at High School for their first meeting of the football season, Gus Orcutt announced. Scrimmage films of Stinnett and Hollis will be shown. All are invited to attend.

Coach McMurray went on to say that the team members were making a lot of mental mistakes, the game film revealed.

"With our players giving very good effort on each play," he said, "we feel that when we cut down on our mistakes we'll have a competitive ball club."

The Memphis coach, after the optimistic statements, made another observation. "We have made progress, but we definitely are lacking in certain key areas which will take time to develop, he said.

The Cyclone picked up another player this week when Steve Flemons, a senior end, returned to school Monday after being away all summer. Steve saw a lot of action last season both ways for the Cyclone and he brings the varsity number to twenty-two players.

QB Don Cofer scored against Stinnett on the last play of the night from 5 yds.

"We just had four plays to score," Coach McMurray said, "and I told our team they had to score or tie the game."

"It was a super way to end the scrimmage," Coach McMurray said, "the enthusiasm has carried over this week in workouts."

The Cyclone will be facing a tougher opponent at Hollis Friday night. Hollis, possibly is not as physically large as Stinnett, but their team possesses much more speed and talent. Hollis will also have the weight advantage over the Cyclone's line.

The Memphis Junior Varsity won a one-to-one scrimmage over Stinnett earlier Friday. Billy Slaughter scored on a 10-yd. run during the scrimmage. Coach Teat said the JV's, overall, did pretty well in the scrimmage.

LAYING TRACK—It has been since the 1880's that railroad track has been laid in this county, with the exception of repairs made after derailments, but pictured above is a scene of modern day track being laid. Section Foreman H. P. Lockeby of Clarendon is overseeing the laying of 1.3 miles of passing track in northwest Memphis. The 33-foot track and ties sections are stacked on the right of the picture. The Crane positions them and crews fasten them together. Mr. Lockeby's five-man crew is from Clarendon. Also assisting is a 5-man bridge crew which has been stationed here to rebuild a bridge just south of Memphis. Ft. Worth and Denver R. R. will be shipping coal trains soon on the track and the passing track will be put to a lot of use.

Schools Start . . . Life's Pace Quickens!

When school doors open each fall, life in rural America seems to quicken, after the lazier days of summer for many of our citizens. Increased activity is seen everywhere.

Citizens seem to realize at first that school has started so they drive a little more cautious for a time, watching for students in cars, on foot, or on bicycles at the various intersections. Unfortunately, after a few days, motorist become accustomed to these young people hurrying about and return to old driving habits, many of which are very dangerous.

Memphis motorists should remember the various speed limit sign warnings around the schools and especially remember that 12th Street and 11th Street are each one-way between the hours of 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. each school day.

The National Safety Assn. urges all motorists to be especially cautious this school year for the sake of our young people. The Association pointed out that over 500 students will be killed unless motorists change their driving habits.

With the beginning of school comes the football season. This season brings about many road trips for fans and school buses each Thursday and Friday night. It behooves all of us to be especially careful as we travel to and from football games. It also wouldn't hurt fans to be on their best behavior at football games as well.

School days are times of learning, and no greater lesson can be taught than the one of consideration for others and taking care of ourselves in a safe and sensible way. The tragedy of foolish and reckless behavior is that the innocent also must pay for loopy.

How Effective As A Leader?

President Gerald Ford and his chosen running mate, Senator Robert Dole, have but two short months to make up at least 20 points in voter polls if they are to win the race for President and Vice President on the first Tuesday in November.

That 20 points is what the experts feel Democrats Jimmy Carter and Senator Walter Mondale have over the Republicans at this point in the race.

President Ford and Senator Dole have a plan of attack which they feel will be successful, including unifying the 22 percent of the Republican voters behind the Ford-Dole banner, impressing the voters with the President's accomplishments and cutting Carter down with a hard-hitting attack that the Democratic nominee and Democratic Congress are advocates of big spending and big government.

Senator Dole has already begun trying to paint the Georgian as liberal hiding behind a conservative reputation and points to his selection of Senator Mondale, who has a more liberal reputation.

The Republicans are counting heavily on Texan John Connally to carry Texas for them and to woo conservative Democrats away from the Conservation Southern Democratic block which is Jimmy Carter's stronghold.

Strangely enough, the Republican candidates are hoping to draw from a history lesson in hopes that an attack on a Democratic Congress will be successful. They point out that Harry S. Truman used the Republican Congress attack Successfully in his come from behind victory, in 1948.

This editor, however, feels that Gerald Ford just isn't the type of personality that Harry S. Truman was. During the past two-and-a-half years in office, President Ford has not put together a top staff nor has he attracted key individuals to serve under him. Actually, almost all the key executive positions are manned by left-over Nixon people or personal friends of President Ford.

News stories above many of the top executive branch employees seeking employment out of government service is unnerving. Can the Ford-Dole team put together a stream-lined campaign organization? That certainly is what they need if they are to convince enough voters by November.

President Ford makes the charge that Washington is not the problem — Congress is, during his acceptance speech. He openly brags about his 55 vetoes which he claims has saved American taxpayers billions and billions of dollars. Yet, the basic principle of rule by Congress rather than rule by the Executive is certainly being violated. Also, the executive branch has recommended numerous increases in salaries and benefits for government employees and government spending has continued to rise sharply under President Ford's economic policies.

President Ford points out that two years ago that inflation was running away, employment was down, recession held the nation in its grip. He points to how much better it is now. Is it fair to point out that the entire economic mess he points to two years ago was the direct result of a Republican administration's financial policies; which frankly, have not changed that much since he took over the office. About all President Ford did was swat a few hands out of the cookie jar and allow the economy to get rolling again.

Comparisons of past administrations, the charge that Democrats are advocates of big spending and big government and Republicans are advocates of little spending and small government is ridiculous. Government spending has never been as high as during the past Republican era, and nothing has been done by them to stop it.

We have grave doubt that President Gerald Ford is an effective leader, especially when we hear his own wife say she thought his campaign for the Republican nomination was poorly handled, even if the fault lay with her husband.

What Other Editors Say

GOVERNMENT PAY!

There is a trend in this country that ought to be disturbing to most Americans. That is the trend to pay government people higher salaries than they could earn in the private sector. Check the salary ranges and retirement benefits for federal employees and it is clear that they have, in many cases, not only equaled but surpassed those for similar jobs in private industry.

The trend is dangerous for a number of reasons. The chief reason is that it is highly unfair to private business which must show a profit to stay in business; the government obviously does not have to show a profit.

Another major concern should be that escalating salaries to government workers means that businesses and corporations must keep pace to keep qualified people, and this naturally drives up the cost of production and eventually the costs of products to consumers. Thus, the poor consumer pays at both ends; to pay the salaries of government workers and to pay for the goods and services of everyday living.

Who sets the salary ranges for government people? We have no idea. And it might be an impossible task to find out after fighting through all the red tape to find out.

While we're wondering about such things, just how did it come to pass that members of Congress have such a tremendous plan? Do you recall ever voting on such a plan? We don't, and of course we didn't because Congress would never put such an issue before the people.

It is time for the American people to remember that our representatives in government work for us, we do not work for them. But the latter is dangerously close to being true.

There was also a time when government employees were far fewer and much more attuned to public opinion. The tail is now wagging the dog and the rush is on to obtain a government job. And why not? If one can make more money and get better retirement benefits, why shouldn't he join the ranks of Uncle Sam's bureaucracy?

Ours is a big and complex country. It cannot be operated by untrained or lowly paid people. But neither should the government complete — often completely embarrass — private enterprise in what is offers its employees in pay and benefits.

The question is: who told our Congressmen to do this? We didn't, and we'll bet none of you out there did either. These things just seem to happen in our government

First Graders Will Face New Experiences

A new school year brings lots of challenges for first graders — and their parents, Mrs. Ilene Miller, a family life education specialist, says. "Perhaps for the first time in his life, the child comes in contact with many other people. He soon discovers that his classmates do not always think or act like he does," she said.

Mrs. Miller is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Each child has to find his place in this new, larger social setting which is quite different from his home. By practicing social skills developed during the pre-school years, the youngster learns to make and keep friends, to work cooperatively and to share with classmates. He also learns to follow his teacher's instructions as he discovers new subject matter."

Parents play an important role in their child's transition from the home setting to the school routine, she pointed out. "Before school begins, mothers and fathers should help their children learn what changes to expect. Talk with the child about the new routine and activities he will be participating in, such as class, lunch and restroom breaks, and recess.

"Take the child to visit the school and to meet his teacher, if possible. Help him become familiar with the school building and where his classroom, the playground and restrooms are located," she advised.

And don't forget the "emotional" side of starting school, Mrs. Miller cautioned. "Parents should talk with the child about how he may feel when he starts to school. It isn't unusual for a youngster to feel lonesome, afraid, sad or angry as he starts to school. The child may be afraid of the people he does not know well and may miss his parents.

"The child also may become angry at his parents for letting him go to school to face all of these experiences alone. But whatever the child is feeling needs to be acknowledged and discussed," she said.

And it is also important that parents acknowledge their own feelings about being separated from the child. Parents help a child when they listen attentively to what he has to say. The child feels good if he knows his mother and father are interested in his experiences, she said.

A new idea in sizing for men's shirts has hit the ready-to-wear market. Average-length (ASL) shirts are sized to fit a greater span of sleeve lengths in one size. While a traditional shirt is sized 14-32, the ASL is sized 14-32/33, explains Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

When the new stamp series was introduced in March 1975, USDA anticipated that all exchanges could be completed by June 30, 1976. However, since requests for exchanges are still being received, the June 30 deadline is being removed and exchange procedures left in effect for as long as needed.

These amended regulations are scheduled to appear as a final rulemaking in the Federal Register of August 17, 1976. The amendments are being issued in final form because of the need for speedy implementation of all provisions. However, public comments will be considered, and revisions in the amendments made where necessary and appropriate.

Written comments suggestions or objections should be submitted to Mrs. Nancy M. Snyder, Director, Food Stamp Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250, no later than September 16, 1976.

These changes bring USDA regulations into line with recent amendments extending the provisions of Public Law 93-233 through June 30, 1977. Under this legislation, which must be extended annually, SSI recipients are not eligible for food stamps if they live in a state that "cashes out" their food stamp benefits. Food stamp benefits are "cashed out" by increasing SSI payments to include the food stamp bonus the recipients would otherwise receive. All other SSI recipients are eligible without regard to income or household resources.

To assist SSI recipients in the states making the transition to the Food Stamp Program, these amendments waive certain food stamp certification procedures. State agencies will be given the option to waive the interview requirement for certain households containing SSI recipients and use an abbreviated application form.

In addition to regulation

'Reddy's helpful tips for your Home Laundry

PLAN AHEAD
Sort clothes according to type of fabric, color-fastness, degree of soil and garment construction. You'll save both hot water and electricity by doing similar items together. Accumulate a full load before running your washer.

BE SELECTIVE
Choose the cycle that is precisely appropriate for the clothes you are washing. Is a "hot" temperature setting really necessary? Except for heavily soiled items, most loads will come clean in either a cold or warm wash. Look into cold wash detergents.

Use the least amount of detergent that will get your clothes clean — most loads require only an ounce or less! Overloading causes extra strain and wear on your equipment; check the manufacturer's recommendations for load weight. Balance your load by alternating small and large items.

FOR SAFETY SAKE
Be sure control is "off" before reaching into your washer. If one is necessary, use only a heavy duty extension cord. Be sure your washer is grounded. Keep dry cleaning agents, color remover and Fibreglas out of your washer. It's a good idea not to wash clothes containing cleaning fluids in your washer.

MR. AND MRS. CHRISTOPHER E. OSGOOD

Pretty Church Wedding in Mass. Unites Miss Graziani, C. E. Osgood

Mr. and Mrs. Sante Graziani announce the marriage of their daughter, Alexandria, to Christopher Edward Osgood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Osgood, II of Westmoreland, N. H.

Mrs. Osgood is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. McMurry of Memphis and the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Albert Storange of Cleveland, Ohio.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, exchanged vows in the historic Congregational Church on the common, Barre, Mass., in August. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis R. Kelley.

The bride wore an off-white Indian cotton gauze gown, fitted princess style with bell sleeves. The neckline was encircled with pink applique flowers and she wore pink ballet slippers. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, daisies and baby's breath with long streamers tied with rosebuds, and she wore a matching halo of flowers in her hair.

Miss Gail Jameson of Boston, Mass., was maid of honor. She wore a fitted gown of pink cotton with a cartwheel hat and carried pink daisies with baby's breath.

Charles Frederick Osgood III was his brother's best man. Ushers were Geoff Hakim and William Madings, both of Boston.

Music for the ceremony was provided by the Inabbin Brass ensemble directed by John Hansen. They played: Prelude (Trumpet Voluntary) by Henry Purcell; overture to Bernice by Handel; Allegro and Air From King Arthur by Purcell; Bouree and Minuet by Handel; Sonata No. 2 by Johann Pezel and The Triumphal March from "Aida," by Giuseppe Verdi.

The reception was held in Leo Mansion, the 1836 country home of the bride's parents. The house this year has been declared a National historic landmark.

As guests arrived they were entertained by harpsichord music played by Mrs. Robert Nims and the flute played by Miss Adrienne Nims.

The highlight of the reception was the unveiling of a portrait of the young artist couple, painted in col-

MRS. JAMES PATTON HUGHES

Miss Gerinda Hall Becomes Bride of James Patton Hughes on Saturday

Wedding promises were exchanged by Miss Gerinda Gaye Hall and James Patton Hughes in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, August 21, at the Travis Baptist Church in Memphis. Rev. V. L. Huggins performed the 6:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Raymond E. Hall of Lakeview and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hall of Memphis. Mrs. Nathan Hughes of Newlin is the mother of the groom.

Mike Hughes of Newlin, brother of the groom, was the organist.

The church altar was centered by a brass 15 point candelabra holding white tapers entwined with boxwood greenery decorated with purple satin ribbon. Flanking the altar were large baskets of white gladiolas and orchid mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white silk organza over peau-de-soie, styled with sheer bishop sleeves, a duchess neckline and softly gathered skirt. The skirt and sleeves of the gown were ribbed with Venice rose lace. The back and cuffs were fastened with tiny buttons and hooks. Re-embroidered Alencon lace enhanced the fitted bodice.

Her chapel veil of bridal illusion was edged in Venice rose lace matching her dress and secured on a band of Alencon lace and seal pearls. The bride carried cascade bouquet centered with a white orchid surrounded by white roses, smilax and white satin streamers.

Miss Lora Logan of Lubbock was the maid of honor. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Gailya Hall of Lakeview, sister of the bride. They wore floor length gowns of deep purple, lilac and orchid crepe with a wrap-around fitted bodice styled having short bell sleeves, a butterfly collar and flowing skirt. They had orchid garden hats trimmed with deep purple ribbons and carried baskets filled with various shades purple flowers. Jeff Morris of Estelline was the best man. Donald May of Estelline was the groomsmen. Ushers were Joel Hall of Lakeview, brother of the bride and Mark Morris of Estelline.

The reception following the ceremony was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. Reception assistants were Mrs. Ray Thompson of Memphis and Miss Janet Byars of Lakeview.

The bride's table was covered with a white floor length cloth accented with purple bows at each end. Centering the table elevated on a silver tray was the bridal bouquet complemented by baskets of purple feathered carnations.

The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with garlands, scallops and shells of icing and accented by clusters of purple roses. Two sugary satin bells topped the cake. A silver punch bowl completed the table appointments.

Rosebuds rice bags of deep purple and orchid peau-de-soie were distributed by the bridesmaids.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple will make their home in Newlin.

MRS. VIRGIL BARTLETT

Gardenhire-Bartlett Nuptials Read in Garden Ceremony

The Hilton Inn, Amarillo, was the scene of a pretty garden ceremony solemnized at 11 a.m. August 21, uniting in marriage Miss Dena Suzanne Gardenhire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gardenhire, and Virgil Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bartlett of Lamesa.

Rev. Alton West of Meador performed the double ceremony under a brass canopy entwined with smilax and springer greenery. On each side were floor length bouquets of gardenias, candlelight gamelias and emerald jewelry. The bridal aisle was carpeted with smilax and candlelight satin pew bows and white aisle cloth. White wicker plants in white wicker tubs completed the garden setting.

David Cameron of Canyon was pianist, playing the traditional wedding march and variety of popular songs during the ceremony and during the reception. Special music was "Sunrise Sunset" as background for the reading, "A Spectrum of Love" as "I Love You" was read by Miss Jan McGill of Wellington.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal gown of candlelight organza over bridal taffeta neckline of scalloped lace. A sheer yoke of Belgian princess lace, enhanced by two ruffles of lace forming a deep V and a satin band draped with lace, formed the bodice. The A-line skirt fell to a headline of scalloped lace which swept to back fullness and cascaded to a full chapel train. The bride chose a candlelight hat of graduated layers trimmed with Belgian princess lace with satin ribbon sweeping the back.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of bridal pink sweetheart roses, stephanotis, gypsophylla, and camelia leaves with lace streamers tied in two knots, centered with a pink rose corsage and carried atop her candlelight satin-covered Bible.

For something old, she carried her great-grandmother's wedding band. Something new was a pair of pearl earrings. Something blue was her garter, made especially for her by Louise Bates. To complete the bridal tradition, she wore in her shoe a sixpence which was borrowed from her sister.

Mrs. Sheila Howard of Canyon was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Sandra McGill of Wellington.

They wore floor length gowns of soft pink floral chiffon designated with a V neck back flowing into an elbow-length capelet. A self-fabric sash accented the midriff insert. A soft, flowing A-line skirt completed the dress. They wore matching wide brimmed pink hats with graduated layers banded by self-fabric at the crown.

They carried pin whisker colonial bouquets of sweetheart roses, pink pixie carnations, gypsophylla, and satin streamers.

The groom wore a candlelight tuxedo and accessories. Mike Swatzell of Muskogee, Okla., was best man and Terry Vaughn of Canyon was Swatzell of Muskogee, Okla. Hale of Quanah and Raymond Ham of Friona. They wore mauve tuxedos with pink ruffled shirts.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gardenhire chose a floor length dress of apricot jersey, designed with apricot chiffon angel sleeves and a V-neckline bodice.

Mrs. Bartlett, mother of the groom, wore a three piece floor length ensemble in mint green knit which was completed by a long coat of muted stripes.

The mothers and grandmothers, Mrs. Phaeton Alexander of Memphis and Mrs. M. E. Welch of San Angelo, wore white rose corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held beside the pool which was illuminated by pink floating candles made by Tammy Bates.

The bride's table was laid with a white chiffon cover draped with smilax greenery and accented with nosegays and satin streamers. The table was centered by the bridal cake, decorated with roses, carnations, and gypsophylla. On each side of the cake stood an arrangement of sweetheart roses, carnations and gypsophylla. Two round tables holding the silver punch bowl and the champagne fountain, decorated in the same manner, stood at each side of the bridal table.

On the register table was the bride's book held open by a nosegay of pink roses. Miss Jan McGill registered guests with a white plum pen.

The bride is a graduate of Memphis High School and is currently a student at West Texas State where she is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha. The groom is a graduate of Lamesa High, is also a WTSU student, and a member of Kappa Alpha.

After a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, Nev., the couple will be at home in Canyon where they plan to continue their education.

Immediately following the rehearsal August 20, the groom's parents hosted a dinner at Sutherland's of Amarillo.

The couple was honored with bridal courtesies in the home of Mrs. Leon Helm in Memphis July 17 and in the Lamesa home of Mrs. Jolene Cline on July 31.

Oliver Fellowship Meets Aug. 18 In B. Martin Home

The Oliver Fellowship of the First United Methodist Church met in the home of Beulah Martin at 8 p.m. Wednesday, August 18.

Peggy Becker, leader, reminded the group that pledges for the current year were due, and she agreed to act as treasurer for the rest of the year to complete the term of Emma Lou Spruill, who resigned because she cannot presently attend the meetings. The leader also reminded the group that the Oliver and Fidelis Fellowships will be in charge of the program and refreshments for the general meeting of United Methodist Women at the church on Sept. 12.

The program for the evening was presented by a guest, Mildred Hutcherson, who gave an informative talk on the Old Testament prophets, Amos and Hosea. She stated that her material was taken from "Decision for Destiny" by Everett Tison, the Abingdon Commentary and Response magazine. Within the program, the fifth chapter of Amos and Hosea 10:13 were read by Johnnie Hutcherson.

Following the program, the hostess and her daughter Melissa served delicious refreshments to Dorothy Morris, Sue Fowler, Mildred Hutcherson, Peggy Becker, Johnnie Hutcherson, Cherry Orcutt and Sue Metzger.

 Rev. E. G. Johnson, pastor

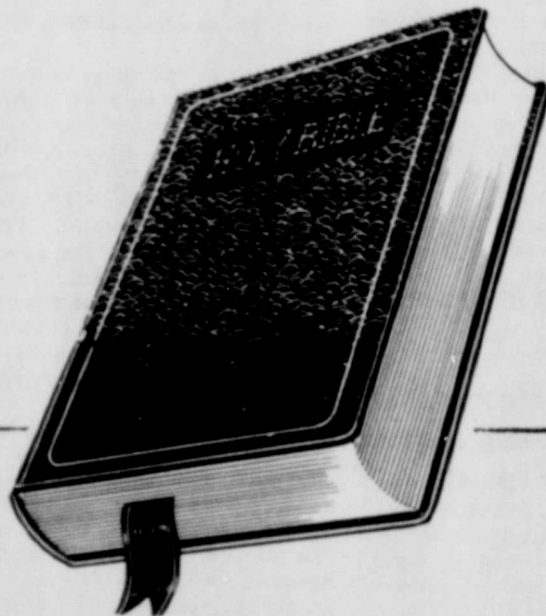

As the approaching school season appears on the horizon, it's time to realize that the school, for all its importance in teaching your children the basic skills of life, is actually the second stage of their education. The first is in the home, where they should learn manners, unselfishness, the difference between right and wrong, and respect for authority and the rights of others, before they take even the first step out of the house; because the outside world begins right on your doorstep. Moreover, the character they develop during these years will remain with them all through life, so this early training should also include an education in faith, in the Sunday school at the Church of your choice.

"And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord; and great shall be the peace of thy children."
 — Isaiah 54:13

The Duchess & The Dirtwater Fox" Plays at Tower Drive In on Friday

One of the most fascinating plays in United States history, "The Duchess and the Dirtwater Fox" is the backdrop for 20th Century-Fox new comedy-western. The play is the story of "The Duchess and the Dirtwater Fox" starring George Segal and Goldie Hawn and opening Friday at Tower Drive In.

Surprisingly, the once-fabled gold camp, now exquisitely restored to its former glory, was never used as a location on site until producer-director Melvin Frank decided to utilize it late in 1965.

Located less than a one-hour drive from Denver, Central City's origins go back to the late 1850's. The restoration, still excited by the 1849 gold rush, was suffering a major depression in 1977. Rumors of gold in what was once Colorado gave weight to Horace Greeley's "Go West, Young Man" advice.

In May 6, 1859, a penniless Georgian named John H. Gregory discovered gold in a remote mountain wilderness to become Central City. No one knows what happened to Gregory, but his find is marked on the map and the birth of the exhilarating "Peak or Bust" rush.

In 1873 and 1874, disastrous fires destroyed most of the original frame buildings. The crest of Fabulous '80s, citizens constructed to-date brick structures today make Central City a perfect period piece of the 19th century.

Among the remaining landmarks is the Belvidere Theatre, said to be in the oldest theatre still in use in the Rocky Mountain region. In "The Duchess and the Dirtwater Fox" the Belvidere is seen as the dancehall where George Segal first noticed Goldie Hawn as she performs a slightly raunchy song titled "Please Don't Touch Me Plums," the lyrics of which were written by Sammy Cahn and Melvin Frank.

Hawn plays a 19th Century entertainer and shady lady, with Segal starring as a Grade B Con Artist in the screenplay written by Frank, Barry Sandler and Jack Rose and based on Sandler's original story. Another architectural jewel utilized in the new comedy is the Teller House, in its heyday the last word in luxury hotel accommodations.

The four-story structure, home of the Face on the Barroom floor, is the setting for scenes in which Hawn attempts to climb the social ladder by going to work as governess for a Mormon patriarch's children.

Donley County Lists First Screwworm Case

MISSION—Lab identification of Donley County's first 1976 screwworm case this week helped seal the year's Texas count to 10,601, says a U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) spokesman.

Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., veterinarian in charge of the Screwworm Eradication Program, says 149 Texas counties are now listed as infested with this parasite of warm blooded animals. The program is operated by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS).

Skeet Brown collected the Donley County sample from wounds in cattle owned by T. L. Roach and Son of Clarendon. The infestations were on a ranch 16 miles north of Clarendon in Donley County. Screwworms are larvae (maggots) of the screwworm fly. Adult females of this species deposit eggs on wounds in warm blooded animals.

"As eggs hatch the tiny worms enter the wound to feed on live flesh, growing to about half an inch long within a week. They then drop to the ground where they pupate for another week before emerging as adults.

The APHIS program uses sterile males in fighting this pest. Female screwworm flies mate only once in their lifetime. Wild screwworm populations are first located by lab study of samples collected by livestock owners. Sterile flies, produced in the APHIS insectary, are released to mate with the wild flies. Avocado Gazpacho blends sophisticated flavors

Sometime during the salad season, treat your guests to a fresh stuffed avocado salad.

Beginning with the lovely pale green avocado, Avocado Gazpacho is a gourmet's delight. Each avocado half is filled with the classic gazpacho combination—chopped tomatoes, chopped cucumber, green onion slices and chopped green pepper—blended together with a subtly spiced French dressing.

For best flavor and appearance, the vegetable combination should be mixed lightly with the French dressing and chilled. Shortly before serving, halve the avocado, sprinkling with lemon juice to avoid discoloration, and fill with vegetable mixture. Serve the salad on lettuce-lined plates, passing additional dressing.

To complement this main dish avocado salad, start the meal with a cold soup or jellied consommé served with lemon wedges. Accompany the salad with French or Italian bread and for dessert, serve a fresh fruit platter with an assortment of your favorite complementary cheeses.

AVOCADO GAZPACHO

1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped cucumber
1/2 cup chopped tomato
2 tablespoons green onion slices
1/4 cup Kraft French dressing
4 avocado halves, peeled
Lettuce

Combine green pepper, cucumber, tomato, onion and dressing; mix lightly. Chill. Fill avocado halves with vegetable mixture.
4 servings.

duced as a result of a sterile to fertile mating will not hatch—ending the life cycle.

Pre-addressed, postage paid, free sample mailing kits are available from County Agents, veterinarians, livestock inspectors, or Program headquarters at Mission.

Mrs. Thompson Returns Home From Hospital

Mrs. E. P. Thompson, who fell in July and received a fractured pelvis and elbow, returned to her home Tuesday after being hospitalized at the Hall County Hospital and in Amarillo.

Mrs. Thompson is reported to be doing much better at this time. She celebrated her 90th birthday while in the hospital and received cards and gifts from many friends.

Sgt. J. Murdock Returns To States From German Tour

Sgt. Jessie W. Murdock who has been stationed in Germany has just returned to the states. He spent the weekend here in Memphis visiting his mother, Mrs. Elmer J. Murdock, and others.

Sgt. Murdock will be stationed at Fort Hood, Texas, until his next tour of duty.

Mrs. W. R. Scott and son Donny Scott returned to Memphis on Wednesday of last week. Mrs. Scott went to San Francisco, Calif., to visit her son and vacation. Donny, who is a student at the University of Texas, has been employed during the summer with Standard Oil Company in San Francisco.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

AUSTIN—No one should go into business in Texas without first checking with the Comptroller's Department. Visiting one of our local Field Offices or calling our toll-free tax information number (1-800-252-5555) may save you time, money, and trouble.

If you are thinking of starting a new business, the Comptroller's Department can advise you as to your state tax responsibilities. Every business engaged in retail or wholesale sales must hold a Texas Sales Tax Permit in order to operate. We can tell you how to go about getting a permit and explain how to collect, report, and pay sales taxes.

If your business is a corporation, it must be chartered by the Texas Secretary of State and will have to pay the corporate franchise tax. We can explain how to file and pay that tax too.

Failure to comply with state tax laws can result in stiff fines, and late payment of taxes can cause you to have to pay more because the law requires that penalties and interest be added.

It is equally important that you contact the Comptroller's Department if you are thinking about an existing business. This is for your protection. Under the law, the purchaser of a business can be held responsible for taxes which have not been paid by the previous owner.

So, if you want to buy a business, you should also want to make sure you are not buying someone else's tax bill. You can be buying a big headache.

What we advise is that you check with us before finalizing the purchase of any business. We will let you know if that business has an outstanding tax bill. If it does and you still want to buy the business, you should withhold from the purchase price an amount sufficient to pay any back taxes.

The Comptroller's Department wants to help you avoid problems like that. Most people starting out in business have enough problems. We want to make sure that someone else's tax debt is not one of them and that knowing how to comply with state tax law isn't either. We want to help.

IF YOU HAVE ANY STATE TAX PROBLEMS OR QUESTIONS, CONTACT YOUR LOCAL COMPTROLLER'S FIELD OFFICE OR CALL TOLL-FREE: 1-800-252-5555

Brothy Robbins, Former Democrat Columnist, Dies

Graveside services for Mrs. Brothy Butler Robbins of 33 W. 15th, Amarillo, 103, former columnist for The Memphis Democrat, were held 2 p.m. Wednesday in the South Cemetery. The Rev. J. H. Field, pastor of the Quantico Baptist Church, officiated.

Mrs. Robbins died Sunday morning at Northwest Texas Hospital.

A native Texan, Mrs. Robbins had been an Amarillo resident for about six months, moving there from Dallas. She had published several books of poetry. In addition to working for the Memphis Democrat, Mrs. Robbins also had been a columnist for the Dallas Morning News and the Waco newspaper.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. L. H. (Ruth) Bradford of Amarillo, with whom Mrs. Robbins made her home, Cacy Ann Cole of Dallas and Mrs. Lettie R. Mcmmas of Fort Worth; a son, Lyman E. Robbins of Little; 15 grandchildren; 43 great-grandchildren and 16 great-great-grandchildren.

Union Hill-Oddfellow Association To Have Clean-up September 2

The Union Hill and Oddfellow Cemetery Association will meet Thursday, Sept. 2, according to Mrs. Bryan Adams, secretary.

There will be lots in the cemetery to come prepared to hoe. "We appreciate those who are giving memorials in the form of flowers for funerals," said. "It will help with mowing costs, but we will need money for September cleaning." Mrs. Adams concluded.

Those coming to work are asked to bring a basket lunch. Checks for $2.50 per grave will be sent to Mrs. Adams at 114 Dover, Memphis.

By BYRON BALDWIN

Well, we had another convention — the Republicans in Memphis City where they did keep the curfew hours long enough. It caused most of us to lose a few hours of sleep. We found out from the outbursts that the Republicans did not care for peanuts. In place of peanut butter sandwiches they had large ears like elephant ears. At the convention, I learned that Dan Cupid was not when there were some who had lost their love for another. When things got a little heated one or two of the speakers warned us to place faith in God, politicians.

With school days starting next week, it brought back memories of the early days of the school bells were ringing to let you know it was time to get in the school get under the control of teachers who would have such influence on the futures of each pupil. We remember what happened to all the school bells that were in the early days. We had one of the old bells in Heritage Hall. The following story I copied from the retired teacher book, "As We Remember" — "In 1911, when people were still depending on lead transportation to carry them to their various destinations, I had the novel experience of traveling from south Texas to the plains states in the Panhandle. I was to teach in the town of Matador. This journey involved most of the days of travel then in use. I had taught my first job in my home town about 10 miles south of San Antonio, Texas, a friend, who thought there were advantages for the young teacher west encouraged me to accept my election to a position in Matador where she was teaching. My salary, as a member, was 50 dollars a month. When I received notice of my election to a position in the Matador school at a salary of 25 dollars more than I was getting at once, I began to plan for the future and to get away from home. Texas then considered a far place. The summer months passed quickly. In early September, my chums and I saw me off on the train of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass bound for the Katy in San Antonio. I took the Missouri, Kansas and Texas line to Fort Worth. There I transferred to the Fort Worth and Denver line. This was a happy event. There I met friends from the college in San Antonio. It was really a reunion. Even the superintendent from Matador and some of the teachers from that town were there. The Matador teachers seemed to be going forward to initiating a new chapter in the joys of the trip ahead. When we reached Quanah, Texas, we transferred to the Quanah and Pacific train which took us to Paducah. I had heard that at Paducah, we would change to the 2nd H. Was this another reunion? We were all excited. I saw a long "hack" car. There were three horizontal seats behind the driver's seat. Hitched to the car were two husky mules. I knew that the 2 M and H rolled into Matador coming to a stop at the usual place, the post office. Most of the townspeople seemed to be there to greet the passengers and especially the new teachers. Two of us were assigned to stay with the Methodist preacher and his wife, Brother and Mrs. Dook. Our year was a round of continual surprises, for example, there was a snow storm that closed the school for two days and an epidemic of meningitis scare when the school was closed several days. In the early spring we heard the rumor that the school finances were getting low and in April the school had to close, one month short of the 9 month session planned. My dreams of a bright future in the West Texas Plains closed. The year had bountiful rewards. I had met, known and worked with some of the most wonderful people I have ever known. I have the joy of holding in my memory this most wonderful joy." I thought this a very interesting story from a retired teacher who started teaching 65 years ago before the age of running water and bath tubs. We will look forward to another retired teacher story.

In the passing away a few days ago of Mrs. J. J. Walker, it brought many memories back to me when she was working in the millinery where she and two more ladies were kept busy in our store, making original dress hats for the ladies as about 1910 and 1912, it was almost a crime for a lady not to wear a dressy hat with long gloves when attending church and other social affairs. "Miss Myrtle", as we called her, quit the hat making business and married a pharmacist. At that time, he was a partner of W. J. Fickles in the drug business in the building east of the Hall County Bank Building. Later J. J. and Myrtle operated a drug store in Canyon for a number of years. Myrtle was a sister to Mona Lock Estes, the mother of Jo Ann and Bengy Estes.

I had a short visit the past week with Noel Clifton, Jr. of Houston. Noel graduated from Texas Tech, taught in the schools at Levelland, ed urging to quicken their pace and get us to Matador on time, the old gentleman driver reached out and twirled a long quirt, hitting each mule on top of the back with a thundering noise! This was part of the fun the 'old timers' had looked forward to for each of the newcomers almost jumped out of their seats as we were unfamiliar with this driving technique. The old driver seemed to think that he was "star of the show." As we drove on west at sunset, I saw the most gorgeous spectacle I had ever seen — a sunset to remember. At twilight, the 2 M and H rolled into Matador coming to a stop at the usual place, the post office. Most of the townspeople seemed to be there to greet the passengers and especially the new teachers. Two of us were assigned to stay with the Methodist preacher and his wife, Brother and Mrs. Dook. I had a short visit the past week with Noel Clifton, Jr. of Houston. Noel graduated from Texas Tech, taught in the schools at Levelland, in Iowa, Texas Tech and has taught in the University of Houston the past two years. Noel and his wife, Pamela, were married in 1968 after Pam Lindsey (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lindsey) graduated from Baylor University at Waco. Pam is now working as secretary in the architectural department of the University of Houston. They have one son, Paul, now four years old, and with grandparents and great-grandparents (Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lindsey) I imagine he is a little spoiled (is the word we used to use).

Noel reported that his dad, Noel, Sr., is now living in Houston and in good health, but still in his wheelchair. O. V. Alexander had given his World War I uniform to Noel, Sr. and he sent this uniform by his son to be placed in Hall County Heritage Hall last week.

Word came to us the past week of the serious illness of Matt Ward who is in St. Frances Hospital in Tyler. Matt was one of our fast race car drivers. He reached the speed of 40 miles per hour and old timers said he would not live long at that speed. I imagine he has made over 90 miles per hour and I never heard of him having a wreck. Best wishes for his recovery soon.

I had a short visit a few days ago with Cecil McCollum of Manitou, Colo. He reports that his wife, Shirley and other members of the historical committee are really working on the raising money and restoring the old castle into a museum. Best wishes to them.

In the passing away of John Molloy a few days ago, whom I had known the past 64 years—in his younger days he was always in a forward walk in a hurry to catch up on his work. He was another man that thought if you eat, you must work.

I checked with Gene Lindsey a few days ago to find out where his and Owen's younger daughter was located now. Mitzie graduated from MHS in 1971 and she is now working in Houston for a British Steel Mill whose home office is in London, England. She is still Mitzie Lindsey, but she talks to London on company business, but I imagine she has found some nice acquaintances over the tele-

Cotton Prices Took Sharp Plunge During Last Three Weeks in July

COLLEGE STATION — Cotton prices took a sharp plunge during the last three weeks of July, dropping about 20 cents per pound after reaching high levels earlier. With this, an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service believes the cotton market has experienced both the high and the low for the season.

"Two steps forward and one back can be expected until price recovery is complete," says Charles Baker. "Supply, demand and crop prospects should take hold soon to steady market conditions."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's August 12 cotton crop estimate of 10.7 million bales points to the fact that we can't produce enough cotton in 1976 to meet demand, notes Baker. Domestic consumption is estimated at 6.8 million bales while 4.5 million will be shipped abroad. That's 600,000 bales more than the expected crop.

"U. S. cotton growers have contracted 47 per cent of

Memphis Band Booster Meet Monday Night

The Memphis Band Boosters called a special meeting on Monday evening, Aug. 23, to start the annual band calendar sale and membership drive. Presiding at the meeting was the president, Mrs. Morris Davis. The Band Booster will hold a bake sale on Saturday, September 18, preceding the Hall County Picnic on Sunday. The next meeting will be September 23. All parents of band students are urged to attend the meeting, Mrs. John Kehr, secretary and reporter stated.
