Cyclone-Wildcats To Meet At Crowell Fri.

The Memphis Cyclone will be looking for its first win of the season Friday night when the team takes to the field and visits the Crowell field at 8 p.m. football game in Crowell.

The Wildcats are a big team with two fast backs in Halfback C. B. Barkman and QB Tommy Splen, but does not have a lot of depth on its bench.

"We know we'll have to play better football to beat Crowell than we did last week against Childress," Coach Clyde McMurray said Wednesday, "but we are more confident this week. Against Childress we had three plays hampered with injuries to all three are back players this week.

Our workouts have been good this week, considering the loss to Childress, but that is in the past now. We did well for our first game but we were disappointed in our loss," Coach McMurray said.

Linemen on offense are Anthony Johnson, Steve Flemmons or Tracy Gallo-way at ends, Ricky Bixom and Val Stone at tackles, Randy Orcutt and Kenny Martin at guards and Danny Murdock at center.

Defensively the four linemen are Randal Shahan, Steve Browning, Eddie Braidfoot and Doug Morgan, Linebackers Randy Orcutt, Kenny Martin, and Woodrow Richardson, and Safeties Steve Flemmons, Kirk Fields, Pedro (Pete) Salinas and either Rodney Hall or Tracy Gallo-way.

Crowell Starters

Crowell offensive line starters are: Center Rocky Marlow (160), Guard Gilbert Torres (210), Guard Ramiro Quintero (185), Tackle Steve Criss (170), Tackle Norman Hopper (175), End Randall Russell (165) and End Marvin Coleman (165).

The Wildcat backfield has: Quarterback Tommy Tamplen (160), HB Jay Wall (150), FB William Backman (200), and HB Oran Carroll (165).

The Wildcats have a strong defense and have a 1-0-1 record, after soundly thrashing Quannah in the season opener and failing to mount a scoring punch against Seymour last week, in a 0-0 effort.

The Wildcats went to the Class A State quarterfinals last season and have many of those boys back, however, graduation cost them in overall team depth. Crowell carries from 15 to 17 players on their varsity this year.

The Cyclone Boosters and Cyclone Mothers clubs will be meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Fans are invited to attend and watch the game film.

The Memphis JVs, 8th grade teams are playing in Shamrock this afternoon and tonight. All Memphis teams lost last week to Childress teams.

Hall County Picnic 1976

The County Picnic weekend is upon us again. Everyone is gearing up for an exciting weekend and looking forward to visiting with former friends and acquaintances due to attend the celebration this year.

The 1976 barbecued beef and beans dinner in the Memphis City Park Sunday, will be free this year, after the Association tried charging a $1.00 per ticket fee last year. Leaders for the celebration decided to put up donation boxes at the head of serving lines to those who want to contribute to the celebration.

It costs several thousands of dollars to stage the Hall County Picnic, with the largest expense being the Sunday meal at the City Park. This year, as in past years, all funds have been donated by businessmen and certain individuals who are generous enough to contribute. Several volunteers work to make the celebration a success each year.

It is little wonder that former citizens make the effort to come for the celebration. The desire to return home to the place where you lived when you were young is strong in each of us. Also, there are always so many memories to be re-lived when old friends get together.

One unfortunate thing about the celebration, however, is the absence of many local citizens, especially those who have many former friends who come back for the celebration. Attending the celebration, year after year, can become a strain on each of us, but we should all remember how we would feel if we traveled hundreds of miles to attend a function and our former friends would not even drive a few blocks and take a couple of hours to visit with us.

The Annual Hall County Picnic celebration each year has done much in bringing citizens of Hall County closer together. Citizens from Turkey, Estelline and Lakeview come, enter floats in the parade, participate in the activities, and many work side-by-side with local citizens on the many committees. This makes the celebration a truly county-wide function, and does much toward unifying our citizens in a common heritage.

Hall County Heritage Hall is undergoing a face lifting. This institution is certainly an asset to our county.

Activities will get underway Saturday afternoon, with the 2:30 p.m. parade, sponsored by the American Legion, followed by a program on the square afterwards. Then, about 5:00 p.m., the First Baptist Church Youth Choir will present a concert at the Memphis Community Center.

Saturday evening at the Community Center, the Little Master, Little Miss Hall County contest sponsored by the Memphis Business Women's Club will be held.

Saturday night at the City Park Amphitheatre, Virginia Browder will be directing "La Fiesta Mexicana", a show with music and activities of a Spanish theme.

Sunday's barbecue lunch in the City Park at noon will highlight the weekend activities with Pete and Bill Land of Clarendon doing the cooking. Memphis Volunteer Firemen will be providing manpower for cooking chores Saturday and Lions Club members from the county will be serving in lines opening at 12:30 p.m.

The Citizens of Hall County who are working on the celebration, headed by President Tom Seay of Estelline, extend a cordial invitation to all to come and enjoy Hall County Picnic, 1976 style, commemorating the 86th year of the establishment of Hall County, and hope everyone has an enjoyable time.

BELL GETS A WRONG NUMBER

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has had the brakes put on the latest rate increase by the brand new Texas Public Utilities Commission. The commission was created by the legislature to regulate utility companies. Texas was the last state to turn over the task to a statewide commission.

Bell tried to make a quick grab for more revenue by filing a statewide $298 million rate hike request effective Oct. 7. In Wichita Falls, the company wants to raise one-party residence service from $7.45 to $8.15 a month. In many cities, a much larger increase is requested.

THE UTILITIES commission has filed a formal protest against the proposed rates as "excessive". The commission is expected to vote Sept. 20 to force the phone company to go through the procedure of defending the new rate structure in hearings across the state.

The Company, of course, blames inflation. The state utilities commission is well aware that the Bell System is not a candidate for the poorhouse.

INCOME AND EARNINGS for the past two years have shown healthy gains. The parent company, American Telephone & Telegraph, has seen earnings per share go from $3.92 in 1971 to $5.28. Divdends went from $2.60 to $3.40.

It is the responsibility of the new utilities commission to find out whether Bell is trying to justify a rate increase by upping the book value of its pre-inflation investment, by paying executives and lobbyists exorbitant salaries, and refusing to count long-distance revenue in considering rates.

The burden is on Bell to prove its case. Texas citizens will be watching to see how the new utilities commission performs in its first real test.

—Wichita Falls Times

At long, long last two Federal agencies have begun to recognize that there really is an energy crisis.

The Energy Research and Development Administration and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are about to join forces in some serious efforts to harness the winds to generate electricity.

ERDA is to build a 1,500-kilowatt wind turbine that will cost seven million dollars, and at average winds of 18 miles per hour produce enough energy each year to supply more than 500 homes. NASA will direct the experiment.

The site for the experimental windmill has not yet been determined. The device will be 100 feet high. It will have two fiberglass blades that will span 200 feet and rotate at 30 to 40 revolutions per minute at winds faster than 11 miles per hour.

It should have been obvious long ago that windmills would not consume any of earth's resources, and that they would not pour any poisons into the atmosphere.

It has been obvious to many who have drawn smiles of derision, the same kind of smiles that must have creased faces when mention was made of the likes of Columbus, Galileo, da Vinci or the Wright brothers.

It will probably be said even today that even if these windmills do produce power it will cost too much and at best could provide only five or 10 percent of the nation's energy needs.

If, so, those who have wind-generated electricity available may wear smiles of contentment on the day the last oil wells runs dry, perhaps a quarter century from now.

Bentsen Says Bill Will Hold Down Prices, Urges Quick Action

Washington, D. C. — Senator Lloyd Bentsen Thursday said legislation approved by the Senate will make it possible for the Attorney General of Texas to roll back prices that have been forced up by anti-trust conspiracies.

"I was pleased to vote for this bill, which is supported by Attorney General John Hill of Texas. It puts some teeth in our nation's anti-trust laws and I am hopeful that the House of Representatives will give it swift approval," Bentsen said.

As an example of how anti-trust actions can force prices down, the Senator cited the case of the antibiotic Tetracycline. Over a year period, as the result of lawsuits filed by the Justice Department and by the attorneys general of individual states, the price of Tetracycline was reduced from $50 for 100 tablets to $3 for 100 tablets.

In addition, Bentsen said, individual consumers recovered 28 million in damages with an average of $200 going to each consumer and as much as $12,000 to one family.

"But this was a fluke, an accident. The damages were recovered because the four drug companies involved in the Tetracycline case settled with most of the states. And in fact, the one state that insisted on going to trial lost its case in court," the Senator said.

"Present anti-trust laws are difficult, if not impossible, to enforce. And this new bill is needed to clear away the cobwebs and put the laws in order."

Bentsen explained that under existing law companies accused of price-fixing can successfully insist on calling every individual consumer who may have been damaged as a witness.

Under the bill approved by the Senate the attorney general of a state can prove his case by using the books of the companies involved to show how much of the product in question was sold in his state.

"Inflation has driven prices high enough, without permitting price fixing schemes to drive them higher and I am hopeful that this new legislation will be signed into law this year," Senator Bentsen said.

4-H's Breeze Through Summer In Cool, Casual Cottons

CHICAGO—Cotton is big news on the summer fashion scene—and the styling is easy! Casual looks abound in the sundresses, wrap skirts, tie-belted jackets, midriff tops and patchwork denim outfits so popular with young people in the national 4-H dress revue program. 4-H dress revues are an educational feature of the overall 4-H clothing program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. 4-H'ers 9-19 learn-by-doing to select, construct, accessorize and model garments that reflect fashion trends as well as their own skills and life-styles. FOR 30 YEARS Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc. has encouraged 4-H dress revuers through its "traveling wardrobes" available on loan, presentations by fashion stylists, and educational leaflets filled with modeling tips and hints on staging dress revues. SIMPLICITY ALSO OFFERS incentives to fashion-conscious 4-H'ers through the National 4-H Service Committee. 4-H members who place in the top 10 percent in county dress revues receive medals of honor. One girl or boy in each state wins an expense-paid trip to the 55th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 28-Dec. 2 in Chicago, to model in the national 4-H dress revue staged by Simplicity. DURING CONGRESS six national winners of $800 college scholarships are announced. All winners are selected by the Extension Service on the basis of their achievement in 4-H clothing projects and their placement in state or county dress revues. More information on the national 4-H dress revue program is available from county extension agents.

School Bus Loading Laws Are Explained

"This school year, as in the past, the School Bus Loading Laws confuse many drivers", states Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety. The Uniform Vehicle Code in Texas states that the driver of a vehicle, meeting or overtaking a school bus displaying red flashing warning lights that is in the process of loading or unloading passengers, shall stop until the school bus starts moving, the red lights are no longer flashing, or the bus driver directs motorists to proceed. "Freeways and divided highways add to the drivers' confusion," Major Bell added. "If a bus is on an access road, only the traffic on the access road must stop. However, if the bus is on a divided highway and pedestrian traffic does not normally cross the median or barrier then only the traffic on the access road must stop. However, if the bus is on a divided highway and pedestrian traffic does not normally cross the median or barrier then only the traffic on the portion of the roadway occupied by the bus must stop. It is most important that drivers observe the School Bus Loading Laws for the protection of our school children. Men, more than women, are afflicted with color blindness.

R. C. Lemons Attend Church Dedication
R. C. Lemons, who was reared near Garner and came to Hall County in 1913, enjoyed returning to the place of his birth over the past weekend to attend the 100th anniversary of the Bethesda Methodist Church, which is located four miles north of Garner. Mr. Lemons said his family were former members of the church and he still has relatives in that area. He received a gift, a bound book of religious verse, for being the person present who traveled the longest distance.

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting

"When the 1976-77 seasons open in the Atlantic Flyway, it will be illegal to use lead shot for duck hunting in some areas along the Eastern Seaboard.

"Mandatory steel shot, to the point, is now a fact!"

With those statements, Grits Gresham, Shooting Editor of Sports Afield, leads off his August report on steel vs lead shot.

In selected hot-spot areas throughout the Atlantic Flyway, a nontoxic substitute for lead shot will be required for all waterfowl gunning. That means steel shot, since that's the only nontoxic substitute now available. Plans call for the mandatory steel-shot requirement to be extended to the Mississippi Flyway for the 1977-78 season and to the remainder of the nation the following year.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service estimates that 1½ to 2-million shotshells will be required in this first year of mandatory steel shot. Federal, Remington and Winchester anticipate no difficulty in providing their share of this total. It should be pointed out that steel shot will probably be required for waterfowl hunting on all federal refuges where hunting is permitted, no matter in which flyway they're located.

If you were hoping for steel-shot loads in gauges other than the 12 gauge, forget it for the 1976-77 season. Here's what you can buy this fall: Remington steel shot in 12 gauge—shot sizes No. 1 and No. 4; Federal steel shot in 12 gauge—shot sizes No. 1, No. 2 and No. 4; Winchester steel shot in 12 gauge—shot sizes No. 2 and No. 4. All of these are in the standard length (2¾ inches) shell, containing 1½ ounces of steel shot.

As Gresham's report went to press, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service was negotiating with nine Atlantic Flyway states concerning the boundaries of areas within those states where steel shot will be mandatory for waterfowl hunting this fall.

Steel shot will be mandatory for the 1976-1977 season in Currituck County, North Carolina, and in Brevard, east of Highway I 95, in Florida. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife has proposed that the following areas also be restricted to steel shot for waterfowl hunting: Maryland — Dorchester County; New Jersey — Atlantic County; New York—a portion of Nassau County and perhaps the Great South Bay area of Suffolk County; Maine—

Merrymeeting Bay; Virginia — the city of Virginia Beach (a county); Massachusetts—a portion of Essex County; Delaware—a number of state game-management areas.

Steel shot may or may not be required in all of these areas, depending upon the outcome of discussions under way at the present time between the Service and the respective states.

"Selection of the areas is complicated," according to the Service, "by the fact that the supply of steel shot will be limited this year."

Cong. Jack Hightower Urges Assistance For Wheat Farmers

(Washington, D. C.) — Congressman Jack Hightower today sent a letter to President Ford urging him to provide immediate assistance for the nation's wheat farmers.

Seventeen Congressmen from wheat-producing areas including House Agriculture Committee Chairman Tom Foley (D-Washington) and Appropriations Committee Chairman George Mahon of Lubbock, joined Hightower in this appeal.

Hightower urged the President to direct Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz to adjust the wheat loan level to at least $2.50 a bushel, which was the level recommended in the Emergency Farm Act of 1975. President Ford vetoed the bill.

"Considering the effect of inflation since the Congress passed the bill on March 21 last year, the $2.50 figure is conservative," Hightower said, "but it will give the President an opportunity to compromise and provide immediate relief to farmers and provide some insurance to the

The Scientists Tell Me... Feedlot Wastes Are Now An Economic Asset

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Maybe the big energy crunch a few years ago did the environment and feedlot cattlemen a good turn. It brought in the ol' pocket-book influence and accomplished what no amount of recommendations and demonstrations could ever do: The application of large volumes of livestock manure to fields and pastures.

Manure piles at large scale feedlots during the 1960's and early 70's reached outlandish dimensions. The disposal problem was so acute in some areas, such as the Panhandle, that someone once wisecracked that the highest point between Fort Worth and Denver was a mesa of manure near Amarillo.

Not so anymore. Those huge mounds stay whittled down to respectable size because the feedlot waste is being hauled and spread on farm land. Before the energy shortage hit in 1973, commercial fertilizer was relatively cheap and easy to handle. Manure was a lot of work and costly to haul and spread.

Manure is still a lot of work, but its cost today is far enough below that of commercial fertilizer to cause farmers to buy and apply nature's own product.

Economics, then, has helped alleviate at least one facet of the growing problem of disposal and possible use of agricultural wastes, particularly in high population areas. Livestock and poultry manure is only part of the predicament. Also to be considered are wastes from meat packing plants and other agriculture-related industries.

The problem has become so serious that the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has devoted special emphasis to research along this line for about 7 years. No doubt Dr. Donald L. Reddell, an agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University, would like to see the whole thing work itself out, as did the feedlot manure fertilizer deal.

But Reddell, an animal waste management specialist, knows that isn't likely to happen. Solutions, he says, lie in Experiment Station research and plenty of cooperation with other investigators and the agricultural industry.

A good example of that cooperation started in 1971 when a group of engineers, economists and scientists from the Southern Region of Agricultural Experiment Stations met to develop plans for a regional project on "Animal Waste Treatment Systems."

The project has four major research directions dealing with everything from odor control to feeding wastes to livestock. Reddell and his fellow Experiment Station workers focus their attention on methods and amounts of animal waste applied to land because this is the situation that applies mostly to Texas.

Waste control research emphasis can be traced to the environmental awareness movement of the 1960's. Nature lovers and other citizens complained long and loud about stream contamination, odors and ugliness of some farming and livestock operations. This brought about new federal legislation and the creation of the powerful Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

"What this means," Reddell said, "is that farmers can't just let manure accumulate in big piles. Now it must be managed — and that's the key word — managed. The same applies to other agricultural industries."

In studying land application of wastes, the Experiment Station is looking closely at nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium values of animal manure and how it can be best applied to suit soil needs. So far, there have been no bad side effects, such as contamination of runoff and ground water.

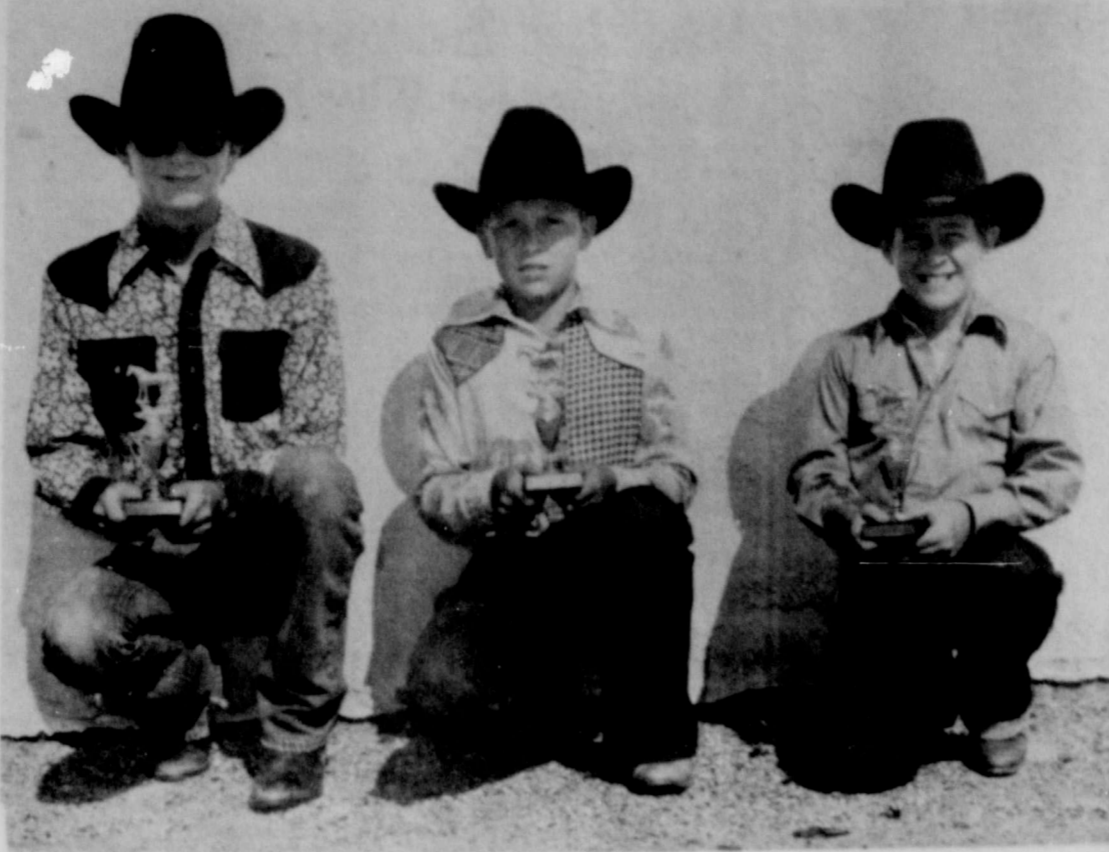

Reddell says a good, all-around application to crop and pasture land is 5 to 10 tons per acre. That sounds like a lot, but this amount doesn't even cover all the soil surface.

To see how much cattle feedlot manure can be spread on land "without causing a disaster," Reddell has applied as high as 900 tons to the acre. That's a manure carpet 10 to 12 inches thick. A super-sized plow turned it all under.

As would be expected, a crop planted on this ground couldn't take all that fertility, and production was off by a third at the end of the year. By the fourth year, however, production was back to normal.

In other words, the land will recover and be in very good physical condition. Surprisingly, the land may need a shot of commercial nitrogen fertilizer 4 or 5 years after such a heavy manure application. The reason is that nitrogen volatilizes out so easily," Reddell said.

The researcher has been applying 50 to 150 tons of feedlot manure per acre for the past five years and has noted no crop-retarding effects. There could be a problem of runoff water reaching streams and ponds if the land is rolling or hilly. Flat or contoured land should keep the runoff water contained most of the time.

The Southern Regional Research Committee is pooling its data, and a report is being written. Reddell said that when all results are collected and analyzed, gaps in research knowledge will be a high priority target for the states represented by the committee.

He said much more information is needed on the ability of specific soils to handle manures because disposal of animal wastes on land is a necessity.

Also needed is work on re-use or re-cycling of wastes. In fact, waste management should consider all aspects of agricultural production and not just treatment and disposal. Technical and scientific ability, Reddell pointed out, is far from complete in managing these problems.

"However, we have come a long way during the past six years, and sufficient knowledge now exists to minimize the gross adverse environmental effects which occurred in the past," he said.

Rep. Heatly Is Given Research AG Medallion

MUNDAY — State Representative W. S. "Bill" Heatly of Paducah was presented a special medallion commemorating the first 100 years of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station during a noon luncheon here today. (Sept. 8).

The luncheon sponsored by the Munday Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture followed a field day at the Texas A&M University Vegetable Research Station here that highlighted research dealing with vegetable crops, insect suppression and control, and water use efficiency.

Presenting the medallion to Heatly, who has served in the Texas Legislature since 1954, was Dr. Dudley T. Smith, assistant director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

"Mr. Heatly has provided outstanding leadership for Texas agriculture and has been instrumental in its growth," Smith pointed out. "He is a man who is keenly interested in this giant industry of agriculture as he is a farmer and rancher himself. He has actively supported agricultural research in Texas, particularly in the Rolling Plains, and sees agricultural research as an investment in the future."

Heatly operates a 1,000-acre farm in Cottle County in addition to practicing law. He is the only person to serve as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee for six consecutive terms. Heatly currently serves on the House Livestock Export Committee.

Wilson-Hammer Vows Read Pretty Home Ceremony

Susan Renee Wilson, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Ron Wilson of Memphis and Leroy Hamner, son of Mrs. Charles H. Hamner of Turkey, were united in marriage in a pretty home ceremony on August 27 at the home of the bride's parents, North Tenth street.

Rev. V. L. Huggins, pastor of the Travis Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 8:00 o'clock before a candelabra holding red tapers and decorated with greenery and white gladioli. Baskets of white gladioli flanked the arrangement and baskets of fern from the ceiling. White flowers in lead crystal candle holders with blue candle rings noted on the piano and satin bows marked seats for the parents.

Charles O. Hamner, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, played wedding music and accompanied the bride, vocalist, as she sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Wedding March." Mrs. Hamner also sang the traditional wedding march for the procession and recessional.

Jo Ann Allard served as maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of over blue satin with a picture hat trimmed with blue band. She carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Myer of Turkey served as best man. Ushers were Leroy Wilson, brother of the bride, and Kelly Wood, cousin of the bride. The ushers served as candlelighters.

The bride met her father at the foot of the stairway and was escorted to the altar and presented to the groom. She was wearing a floor length gown of bridal blue designed with princess tulle featuring a yolk and ruffles with ruffles applique of Venetian lace and flowing long full sleeves with lace and ruffles and a skirt swept into a chapel train. Her veil on imbedded illusion was secured by a band of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations and her hair was showered with blue and white ribbons.

She carried out the traditional custom of wearing something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue. "Something old was a gold band inherited from her grandfather, Wilson, something new and her garter made especially for her by Tanya Johnson.

his High School where she was a member of the Cyclone band and served as twirler. She was reported for the sophomore class.

The bridegroom attended Turkey high school and is presently employed with General Telephone Company in Wellington. The newly weds are at home at 1401 El Paso Street in Wellington.

wore corsages of white carnations. The bride presented her mother with a long stemmed red rose on her way to the altar and the bride and groom presented his mother with a long stemmed red rose as they left the altar.

Reception
Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was laid with an antique white cloth trimmed in lace, and centered with an arrangement of blue and white daisies interspersed with baby's breath. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with blue and white roses, miniature fountain and white doves and bells, was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Sherita McKay, Ronelle Thompson, sister of the bride, and Carol Wood, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake and punch.

Janice Benton, aunt of the bride, presided at the register table to secure signatures of the more than 80 wedding guests who attended. The table was covered with a blue floor-length cloth decorated with silver and white wedding bows and bells.

Little Miss Leslie Pepper passed out rice bags of blue net and ribbon.

For a wedding trip to Raton, N. M., the bride chose for travel a beige pant suit with rust and brown knit top accented with the bouquet from her bridal bouquet.

SPORTS CORNER

By BILL COMBS
Football spirits in Memphis soared this week following the Cyclone's 20 to 12 loss to Childress in a remarkably unique way. It isn't often that a team loses a game and comes out of it with renewed momentum, but that's what has happened.

I haven't talked with a Memphis fan that showed the slightest bit of discouragement or disappointment about the game. That's unusual. The reason lies in the spirit and play of the scrappy Cyclone squad in their game. Most of Memphis' fans felt the smaller, unproven Cyclone team would do well against Childress, but Childress being a strong Class AA team the game appeared hopeless. No one predicted that the Cyclone would be in the contest to the last play, with a shot at a possible tie.

This week, spirits are strong for the next game, against Crowell Wildcats. Crowell has a big team in size this year, but like many Class A squads, are hurting in team depth. The Cyclone will have to pull out all the stops on defense to stop their hard charging offense, but Memphis may use its quickness to good advantage if the game is played on a dry field.

If the Cyclone can get through these first two games without being bitten by the injury bug, the 1976 season could prove to be real exciting for the team plays a wide open brand of football that is entertaining to watch. Coaches have nightmares about teams that can score on any play from anywhere on the field and the Cyclone's passing and running attack, directed by QB Don Cofer appears to be just that type of team.

Secondly, with a small (in size) defensive and offensive line like the Cyclone has this season, it takes real determination for the young men to play 48 minutes of spirited football. It takes that magic quality that some teams have, and do not. We all hope the Cyclone will keep up the good work through the schedule and get some breaks on the bounce of the ball.

I was invited Saturday evening to have dinner with the Cyclone seniors of the 1971 football team. The group honored Coach George Berry at the dinner and enjoyed watching their best game of the year on film. Two of these young men, Glen Miller and Larry Jeffers are now Jr. High coaches at Crowell. There was a lot of good natured ribbing. I must congratulate this group for they were the beginning of the exciting football seasons Memphis has had since 1971. They were the group that went from an 0-10 season as sophomores, 3-7 as juniors, to capturing a Co-Championship and representing the district their senior year. Naturally, they had help from the juniors and a few talented sophomores, but they provided the leadership and determination which is so necessary for a winning season.

This year, the 7th grade, 8th grade and Junior Varsity games are all played on the same field against opponents of the same town. Today, the teams are going to Shamrock. If you want a full evening of football, go out and see the future Cyclone learn the game. This is the first year I've become a football parents instead of just a news reporter. I've always wondered how it would be, to just watch a son and not know where the play went. But that's what the vast majority of parents do when they have a son on the field.

All Memphis teams lost to Childress teams, but the red roses must go to the courageous 8th graders who survived a 60-0 game against Childress. Don't let anyone be deceived, the Childress 8th grade team is the biggest, fastest, best 8th grade bunch of kids ever. We heard they averaged 185 per man with their starting 11. I believe it. And I would add, their kids don't lack in any department. The Memphis JVs played a super game in a 7-0 loss to Childress. It was a fine game all the way.

Let's all make plans now to travel to Crowell tomorrow and give the Cyclone as much spirit in the stands as the team displays on the playing field. We'll predict you'll see a real exciting game, win, lose or draw.

Mr. and Mrs. David Peters and Deena of Fort Worth visited here last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Thompson. Also visiting with them over the Labor Day weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ed Thompson and daughter of Pauls Valley, Okla., and Matt Thompson who is a student at West Texas State University.

Dr. and Mrs. Mike Badgwell visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Foxhall and other relatives and friends.

The Scientists Tell Me...

Texas Sunflower Production Depends on Competitive Prices

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Commercial sunflower production in Texas is in a sort of limbo these days. Farmers are interested in the oil source crop as an alternative for cotton, sorghum, and soybeans, and they feel it has good potential.

But right now, producers are a little shy of jumpy market conditions. Prices are sensitive and are easily influenced by other oil bearing crops such as soybeans and cotton.

In 1975, Texas sunflower acreage peaked at over 300,000 acres compared to about 5,000 acres in 1974. The sudden surge was a reaction to the favorable 15-cents per pound contracts being offered, plus the fact that the cotton market was badly depressed and sorghum and soybean prices were down from the previous year.

The 1975 crop was valued at close to $55 million, most of it grown on the High Plains. Then suddenly, there was over-production. Mills were over-supplied. And just as suddenly, the price to farmers is now about 8 cents a pound. Understandably, farmers are looking to other crops, the result being a big drop in sunflower acreage.

What's ahead for 1977? There is still that big influence from other crops, says Dr. D.F. Owen, a plant genetics research scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. His work with sunflowers is at Halfway, Tex., north of the A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

How well farmers take to sunflowers next year will depend on what other oil-seed crops do and the prices expected for cotton, corn, sorghum and soybeans. Prices for soybeans and sunflowers are largely determined by the oil market, nationally and internationally. Also to be considered, Owen said, is the Russian sunflower output this year. A big production there would likely depress world prices for oil seeds.

The Experiment Station researcher said he has heard of a few 10-cent contracts being offered in the Plains area this year. Farmers can "make a profit" at that level. This is assuming a yield in the 1000-2000 lbs. per acre range.

But despite the delicate condition of the sunflower business now, Owen and other observers—and many farmers too—believe the crop has its advantages. Sunflowers are well adapted to many areas in Texas, they are drought-tolerant, oil content is generous and of high quality, and new commercial hybrids are being developed.

Sunflowers look especially promising for the Plains. "Not only is this region suited to this crop, but as the water table continues to decline and irrigation becomes more expensive, farmers will be looking for something with lower water requirements," Owen said.

What would encourage growers as much as anything is a more stable price from year to year. Owen says that other problems are insects, disease and a few harvesting difficulties, but these troubles can be smoothed out through Experiment Station research. There is still no chemical control for the carrot beetle, and the potential damage by this pest is always a threat.

After all, the crop is fairly new compared to cotton and sorghum. We need more data on when and how much to irrigate, when to plant and harvest, and the proper kind and amount of fertilizer to use. All of these factors affect oil content and quality—and high content of good quality oil is what this game is mostly about.

"Another research goal is to develop higher yielding hybrids which are resistant to diseases and insects," he said.

That's no small order for sunflower farming, or any crop. But Owen emphasizes that there is confidence in the future of sunflowers on a commercial basis. Farmers remain hopeful, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station is devoting considerable effort to the crop, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the National Cottonseed Products Association and the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association are promoting and supporting the research.

"We are working hard on this project, and we hope to make some real breakthroughs. But there is a lot of work to do," Owen said.

4-Hers Report Bread Making On Uptrend

CHICAGO—Home bread making is on the uptrend. It is renewed interest in nutritive values of breads, more and more people are turning out in their own kitchens. Homemade breads, like a nutty fruited orange rye (see recipe below), are many of the body's requirements for vitamins and minerals.

With renewed consumer interest in nutrition, home bread making is on the uptrend. Young people 9-19 acquire bread-making skills—and bake their way to college scholarships and other recognition—in the national 4-H bread program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service and sponsored by Standard Brands Incorporated.

ORANGERYE BREAD
(Makes 2 loaves)
2 3/4 cups warm water (105°F-115°F)
2 packages active dry yeast
1/2 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
4 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons softened margarine
3 tablespoons grated orange peel
1/3 cup dark molasses
3 3/4 cups unsifted rye flour
5 1/2 to 6 1/2 cups unsifted white flour

Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in sugar, salt, margarine, orange peel, molasses and rye flour. Beat until thoroughly blended. Stir in enough white flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 to 12 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; divide in half. Roll each half to a 14 x 9-inch rectangle. Shape into loaves. Place in 2 greased 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Mrs. Herschel Combs spent the weekend in Wellington visiting with her mother, Mrs. L. A. Dickey. Also visiting there were her two sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Norman of Hooker, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Driakill of Seminole and Mrs. John Norman of Lubbock. Mrs. Dickey and her twin-sister, Mrs. L. W. McClure, also of Wellington, celebrated their 85th birthday on Sunday.

In Remembrance

. . . of all those hardy and religious men and women who pioneered this area. This thought is occurring as we hold our annual Hall County Picnic. They were the settlers . . . came with faith, that with the help of providence, they could establish a new life. These are the ones who made their homes upon the fertile land and in the towns of our county. They built the churches, the schools, and laid the foundations which we are enjoying today. It is our prayer that time and circumstances may never erase the memory of the challenge of their faith.

M. C. Allen, Jr., Attends Meeting In Washington

Washington — M. C. Allen Jr. of Memphis, was among a group of cotton industry leaders meeting President Ford this morning.

The President dropped by during a briefing at the White House on agricultural and economic policies and occurred during the Fall meeting of the Board of Directors of the Cotton Warehouse Association of America. Allen is a member of the CWA board.

Taking part in the White House briefing were John Vickersman, White House Director for Business and Trade Associations; Under Secretary of Agriculture John A. Knebel; and Roger B. Porter, Special Assistant to the President and Executive Secretary of the Economic Policy Board.

The over-all agricultural program under the present administration "speaks for itself," Knebel declared and said he favored retention of the program. He added that major changes appear unlikely.

Porter emphasized that the country's economic strength lies in the private rather than public sector and that this administration has aimed at consistency in economic policy and opposes radical shifts.

"The great problem with economic regulations is that it become static although the economy is changing constantly," he observed and said that regulation has become excessive.

In "social value" regulations, he contended, the cost should be carefully weighed with the potential benefit.

He said a continuing effort is being made to increase the level of capital formation in the United States because increased investment provides payrolls and jobs. "I'm convinced," he concluded, "that the recovery we have can be sustained."

Allen and other members of the Cotton Warehouse Association of America are hosts at a reception tonight for a number of Members of Congress, their staffs, and other Washington officials.

The board meeting will conclude Tuesday with committee and other reports.

VACATION TIPS FOR THE COOK

SETTING COURSE FOR THE NEXT MOORING? PITCHING A TENT IN THE WILDERNESS? ACTIVE DAYS ON LAND OR SEA DEMAND BALANCED MEALS. IF YOUR ASSIGNMENT IS "COOK," HEED THESE HINTS:

PACK BREAKFAST WITH PROTEIN AND HIGH-ENERGY FOODS. SIMPLE, LIGHT-WEIGHT BUT NOURISHING LUNCHES AND NUTRITIOUS BETWEEN-MEAL SNACKS ALSO LEAVE YOU FREE TO ENJOY THE DAY. ONE-POT DINNERS CAN SIMMER WHILE YOU RELAX -- AND CUT CLEAN-UP TIME IN HALF.

ONE PRODUCT THAT FITS THIS PROFILE IS SARDINES FROM MAINE -- A CONVENIENCE FOOD THAT NEVER NEEDS COOKING OR REFRIGERATION. ONE TIN PROVIDES A THIRD OF YOUR DAILY PROTEIN AND CALCIUM REQUIREMENTS FOR ABOUT 20¢ A SERVING.

SARDINES FROM MAINE ARE LIGHT AND, PACKED IN HANDY "RING-PULL" TINS, DON'T EVEN REQUIRE A CAN OPENER. LONG POPULAR WITH HUNTERS, SARDINES FROM MAINE ARE FAST BECOMING A FAVORITE WITH BACKPACKERS AND SAILORS, TOO.

'71 Cyclone Srs. Honor Geo. Berry At Dinner Sat.

Senior members of the 1971 Cyclone team, held a dinner Saturday night at Big O Restaurant, and honored Coach George Berry with a wall plaque.

John Carmen presented Coach Berry with the plaque and said that he had been the coach of the class all the way through their football experience. Coach Berry was surprised by the honor as players and fellow coaches had kept it a secret from him.

Coach Berry was Junior High coach from the time the class was sixth graders through the eighth grade, then came to high school and worked with them all four years. He was line coach when the 1971 team defeated Clarendon for the right to represent District 2-A against White Deer in Bi-District.

Attending the dinner as guests were Coaches Clyde McMurray, Jimmy Pope of Friona, Joe Bain of Amarillo High, and Phillip Lillard, bus driver A. L. Carroll and Editor Bill Combs, and guest of Honor George Berry.

Class members attending were: Barry Simmons, Wiley Davis, James Hanzard, John Carmen, Coaches Glen Miller and Larry Jeffers of Crowell, Chris Linder, Terry Wynn Donnie Carroll and Junior Kennon.

Following the steak dinner, all enjoyed watching the Memphis - Clarendon football film of the 1971 game which Memphis won 27 to 13.

Who's the head of the horse is often a matter of argument.

There's an old saying that money isn't everything, but there are few troubles that a little money can't lighten.

No community will grow and develop when its people are envious of each other.

Cyclones Lose 20-12 to Bobcats In Thriller

By BILL COMBS
 Memphis Cyclone, played spirited and aggressive football, gave the Childress a real ballgame here tonight, but the much out Bobcats were able to with a 20 to 12 vic-

At least a three down favorite going into contest, were expected to win the football at will against the much smaller Cyclone. The Bobcats were able to put together the first of 49 yards when Kenny Deane intercepted a throw by FB Kirk on the first official of the game. The second drive was 48 yards. Then, the first play was sweep ran by the Cyclone. Memphis was called for a penalty and five yards.

The Cyclone took over on the 49, and on two carries Jeff Smith had a 3 and 3 on the 43-yard line. Then, Ricky Smith carried a play designed for the Cyclone, but he cut to the right and went thirty yards to Memphis 12.

The Cyclone defense was led by Jeff Smith made and then was stopped by a yellow flag was thrown and Memphis was given five yards. This was a second down on the home four line. It took three plays to get the ball back to Ricky Smith finally his way over for the Cyclone. Ricky kicked the point and it was 7-0 with 9:16 in the first quarter of line. Then Ricky Smith made four. On third down, Ricky carried, but was bottled up and downed for a three yard loss. Facing fourth and 9, Bobcat Quarterback Ricky Collinsworth went back to pass, but was swarmed under by a hard charge of Cyclone defenders. Another yellow flag was floating and a 15 yard defensive penalty was stepped off against the Cyclone from the point of the fowl, and the ball was placed down on the Memphis 20, one yard shy of a first down. The Bobcats lined up, and Jeff Smith got the handoff, but he was met squarely at the line. Chain was brought in and Memphis took over the football.

The Cyclone offense began sputtering to life at this point in the game. Pedro Salinas made seven yards, the FB Kirk Fields added 14 more and a first to the Memphis 40. Salinas made three yards on the next play, then FB Fields powered his way for seven more. Fields picked up a first on the Childress 49 with a two-yard gain on the next play.

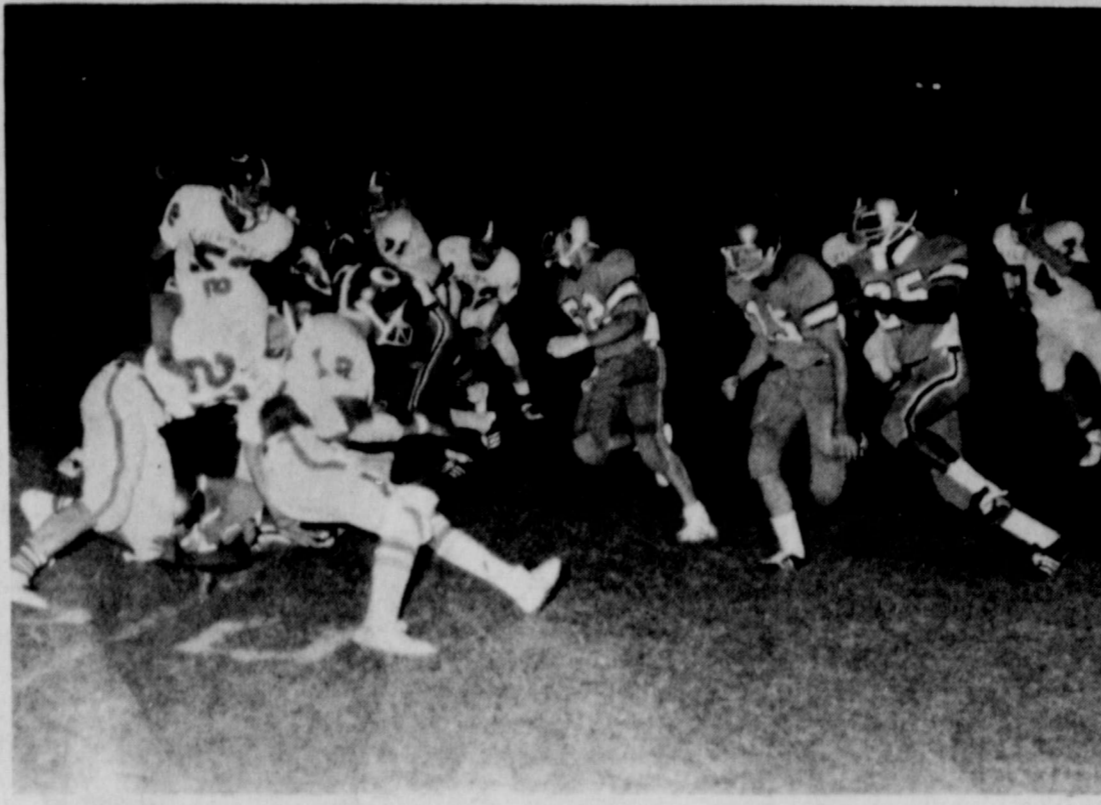

Here it looked like the drive was over, as Salinas lost two yards, a Cofer pass to WB Hall went incomplete, and a third down pass from Cofer was picked off by Jim Eason of Childress, but the Bobcats were called for a major defensive penalty and Memphis had a first down on the Bobcat 36.

But just about when Memphis fans were thinking touchdown, the Cyclone offense drew a minor penalty on the next play, and a major penalty on the next. This set up a first down and 30 way back up the field. QB Cofer hit WB Hall for a 15-yard pass to gain some of it back. But the next two plays netted little so Guy punted the football into the endzone. The second quarter was a few minutes old at this point.

The Bobcats managed to drive the football from their own 20 down the field to the Memphis 23, before they ran out of downs as the Cyclone defense stiffened.

Memphis took over, and on the first play, TB Salinas made two yards to the home 25 yard-line. No one in the 2,000-plus fans packing Cyclone stadium were prepared for the next play, but it was to prove to be that kind of ballgame. Like a bolt of lightning on a summer evening, FB Kirk Fields carried the football the distance, 75 yards for a touchdown. The play was no fluke for blocking was well executed, Fields did a super job of using his blockers and then outrunning the Childress secondary. The point after, however, was unsuccessful as the ball skidded out of the holders grasp as Don Cofer awaited the kick. The clock read 5:33 in the second quarter.

LEADING RUSHER—No. 25 Kirk Fields with carries like the one above, was the game's leading rusher with 147 carries on 15 totes against Childress. One carry was 75 yards for the Cyclone's first TD. The two Cyclones in front of Fields are No. 15 Don Cofer and No. 62 Randy Orcutt.

This seemed to be a turning point in the game. Up to them, the Bobcats were dominating the ballgame, but after this, the outcome was in doubt all the way.

The Bobcats were held after the kickoff and punted to the Memphis 33 yard line.

The Cyclone offense went to work in earnest, as Salinas made six yards, then, Kirk Fields picked up 14 more on two carries and a first to the Childress 47. TB Salinas made three and WB Hall added nine more for a first down on the Childress 35.

Time was growing short so QB Cofer went to the air and hit end Anthony Johnson for nine yards. On the next play, Cofer hit end Steven Flemmons in the arms with a pass, but the ball bounced out and Ricky Anderson of Childress alertly grab it and Childress took over on their own 17 yard line. The half ended two plays later.

Second Half

The Bobcats kicked off to Memphis starting the second half as they did at the start of the first half. This strategy paid off a second time, as the ball was booted into the end zone and Memphis took over on the 20.

Memphis was called for clipping on the first play and 10 yards were stepped off. The Cyclones couldn't get going and Guy punted 28 yards into the wind to the Memphis 48.

It took the Bobcats only five plays to score, as QB Collinsworth made 27 yards on one play and Kicky Smith made seven and nine yards on carries before his one yard plunge for the TD. He also booted the point after and the score was 14 to 6.

Memphis received the kickoff in the endzone and took over on the 20. Three plays netted six yards and Guy punted to the Memphis 43.

Childress, however, fumbled the football and Tracy Galloway recovered for Memphis on the Memphis 39.

Here again, three plays netted seven yards, so the Cyclone punted the football 35 yards and Childress was back on their own 19.

The Bobcats made one first down to the 30, but here

Memphis defense held soundly and Collinsworth punted the football high and long into the waiting arms of Memphis' Anthony Johnson.

Johnson took the football about the Memphis 30, saw blockers forming in front of him and raced the distance right down in front of the Memphis sideline. Cyclone blocking was picture perfect on the punt return and it paid off with six big points.

Memphis tried a two-point conversion, but QB Cofer was stopped shy and the score was 14-12.

Memphis kicked off, Childress was held and Collinsworth punted to the Memphis 16.

FB Kirk Fields broke for a 20-yard gain to the Memphis 36 as the third period ended.

Two plays netted only three yards, and QB Cofer tried to throw the look-in pass, a play which was successful earlier in the game, but Childress cornerback Rusty Riddell stepped in front of it, grabbed the ball and raced untouched for the Bobcats winning touchdown margin. Smith missed the point after, and all the scoring was over for the evening.

The fourth quarter was a see-saw battle, with Memphis trying to put points on the board.

A Cyclone bobble, almost caused another TD for Childress, as a snap from center on a punt attempt was a little high even for 6-foot, 5-inch Ricky Guy and Childress got the football on the Memphis 22 yard line.

But after the Bobcats made a first down to the Memphis 8, and end sweep by Jeff Smith saw the Childress back fumble the football and Randall Shahan recovered for the home 5.

Memphis moved on a pass to Ricky Guy for a first down aided by a Childress penalty for late hitting to the 25-yard line.

Then carries by Salinas, Fields, Cofer and Fields a gain made a first to the Memphis 37.

The Cyclone went to the air, and one of the three passes deep down the field hit End Anthony Johnson just as Johnson got behind the Childress defenders, but the ball was dropped and the Cyclone's last scoring opportunity was lost.

Brush Control Field Day Set At Tex. Ranches

GUTHRIE — Two famous Texas ranches and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station will show the public next month some results of eight years in extensive brush control studies.

The annual Statewide Brush Control and Range Improvement Field Day is Oct. 7 this year at the Four Sixes Ranch near Guthrie in King County and at the Pitchfork Ranch 13 miles to the west in Dickens County.

The morning part of the Oct. 7 program is one of tours in air-conditioned buses that will depart the Pitchfork headquarters from 8:30 until 11:30. A Dutch-treat lunch at the Pitchfork Hay Barn will precede the afternoon program that ends at 3 o'clock.

"Those persons touring the ranches," said Harold T. Wiedemann, "can see and hear about the latest developments in the Experiment Station's eight-year program of research into chemical and mechanical means of brush control. They can also inspect what the Four Sixes and the Pitchfork have done in 25 years of extensive brush control."

Wiedemann, of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center between Chillicothe and Vernon, is coordinating the field day for the numerous sponsors, among them the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Rolling (R-PEPU) Plains Economic Program (R-PEPU).

Speakers after lunch will discuss, among other topics, the Experiment Station's brush research plan for the future, the effects of broomweed on livestock, and some current accomplishments in brush control research. Other sponsors are the Texas Section of the Society for Range Management, the Texas A&M University Association, private industry and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sturdevant and Chris of Amarillo visited here last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clemons.

TD BOUND — Pictured above, Cyclone End Anthony Johnson is shown as he races for the goalline as the Cyclone scored its second TD against Childress Friday night. The score came on a 70-yd. punt return.

This ad is for people who didn't read the last ad about holding down their gas bills, and wish they had.

(Please, read it this time.)

We all have to face facts: the days of cheap energy are over. Gas bills have been going up. That's why we've been telling our customers how to hold their bills to a minimum.

A lot of people are already using gas more wisely. If you are one of them, read on just in case you've missed a tip or two.

If you are not one of them, this is the time to start. Here's how:

Get out of hot water. Hot water is one of the biggest and most expensive energy users in the home. A shorter, not-quite-so-hot shower helps save money. A dripping hot-water faucet is a bandit.

The same is true in the kitchen and laundry room. Wash only full loads in the dishwasher. Wash and dry only full loads of clothes. Don't overdry. It makes clothes harsh and stiff and wastes fuel.

Speaking of the kitchen, you can save gas by planning oven meals around dishes that can be cooked at the same temperature. When using top burners, tailor the flame to fit the pan.

Get your house in order. Make sure you have six inches of insulation in the attic. And check regularly to make sure it hasn't settled. Make sure your exterior walls are insulated. Check the weather stripping around doors and windows, and make sure they stay closed when the heating or air conditioning is on.

No single one of these tips will save you an immense amount of money, but each one helps a little. Add all those little savings up, and it could make a big difference.

B. B. Shots

By

old saying from the days, "The show must go on." In conversation with Broderick who has all vim, vigor and vitality must go on with "La Fiesta Mexicana" the show is supervising in Park Sept. 18, the day of the picnic.

With 20 to 25 characters in the show, it should be an outstanding performance and not from anything we had as entertainment in the picnic days. Also, the show is sponsored by the "Little Master" and "Mr. American" which promises to be a show of the little ones which will soon be the "Miss America" and "Mr. American" in a few short years.

was sad news last week on the news flashed on television about the young man Ringling Bros. Circus her act on the wire net high (without a net), some way lost her balance and plunged to the ground down. Doctors and nurses were called and she taken to the hospital where she was pronounced dead. The show kept going after she was removed from the wire net. An article I read a few days ago of the death of the 1962 circus ring when the high wire split and 7 people fell from the circus ring in Detroit, Michigan. Karl Wallenda, the actor of the act, was put in the hospital with broken ribs and torn muscles, but Wallenda family has continued with the "show must go on" spirit. The grandnephew, Dellah, was only 10 years old when the accident occurred and had been working in the circus since she was 6 years old. Her grandnephew discouraged her on the wire act, but on her 18th birthday, she informed her father that she had decided to become a wire performer, as she had to carry on the name of the great team of the Wallenda family on the high wire act. She gave this performance who flirts with death each time they go on the spotlight do not on tragedies. "If you are unable to control your body movements, you are not ready." This grandnephew is a die-hard trooper and advocate of the "Show must go on" axiom.

Another actress in the show made the impression she would say the show go on was none other Totie Fields, who had her leg amputated above the knee and spent three months in the hospital for therapy and now continues medical treatment of her leg in her apartment. Her legs are good and at the age of 46, she is planning to go back in show business next year. It takes determination with help of God to keep on keeping on under the conditions.

She received a letter from aunt in Lamesa a few days ago who will be 102 years old in December. In her letter she stated that one of her sons had brought her a lot of peas and a lot of peas as he thought was running short on work to do, so she shelled the peas and put them in the freezer for a "rainy day". I also read the article a few days ago about Tom Meers of Vega who is now 90 years old but is still carrying on his leather repair business, and I guess he has the slogan that the "show must go on."

If my memory serves me right, Hall County Heritage Hall was opened to the public on June 5, 1968. The first group to view Heritage Hall was a group of pupils from the Lakeview Schools in the month of May. They put on a good program for us, with them singing and Maud Milam playing the organ. Wendell Harrison will be looking for some of you who can act as host and hostess in Heritage Hall. I hope I will be able to make it on Saturday afternoon for a short time. This is a good place to meet old and new friends with a lot of fellowship and love shown.

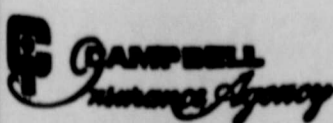

We have two mannequins that we had delivered to us the past week by son, Dr. James Baldwin from Dallas, who found them at a bargain price for us delivered. These two I think are twin blondes. We will call them Betsy and Patsy until they are dressed and will give them another name later. When James first drove in the driveway, I thought I had two blondes for the weekend, but they turned out to be Dummies!

Hall County Heritage Hall will be open Friday from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday (Picnic Day) 2 to 5 p.m. Hall County postcards are available at the three banks of the county.

We received a letter from James E. Hodges the past week. In his reading in the Memphis Democrat about the Hall County Picnic coming up, he gave an account of his early days in Hall County. He could remember in the dust bowl days when he was living at Plaska. One of the high spots he could remember was when the Hall County Picnic was on. The family would get up early, get the chores done and ride to Memphis in the Model T for a full day. Dressed up in his clean overalls with a few extra coins in his pocket, he would buy some of the Hays' 5c hamburgers, Charlie Meacham's 5c ice cream cones and Hollis Boren's 5c popcorn and 10c picture show.

After the picnic day was over and all of the family was loaded in the Model T, they all told what they did during the day at the picnic which gave them a lot of fun and laughter. Even without much money in the 30's, you could have love and happiness in a family. Some of the kids in going to the picture show were broke. James says they would slip in, but somehow, Hollis ignored them and did not throw them out and they would sit in the front row at the "Texas", "Palace" or Ritz" watching the pictures of Gene Autrey, Hopalong Cassidy, Tom Mix, Buck Jones and others. Most of the times they made the movie, they would sit through 3 shows. He says, "We could have more fun in that day and time with 25c than we can now with 25 dollars. One of the delicacies he could remember was when Grandpa Campbell took the cream and eggs to town and sold them and came back home with a large chunk ofologna. They raised their vegetables at home, milked the cows, butchered their own beef and pork. About the only things they had to buy at the grocery store were sugar, flour, potatoes and red beans. Another outstanding event in his life was in the fall, he made some extra money pulling cotton, coming to Memphis and buying a new pair of overalls, shirts and tennis shoes with a little money left to buy a toy and sit in the parked car on the square visiting neighbors and friends. All of the family on both sides are deceased or moved from Hall County except his uncle, Harold Hodges and his family. His Grandad and Grandmother Montgomery moved to Hall County in the early 1900's from the Indian territory. His Grandad Campbell was a Baptist missionary preacher, who preached at Plaska, Liberty, Newlin and Buffalo Flat. James especially liked to go with his granddad to the 5th Sunday meetings where they had singing and preaching all day and dinner on the ground. He could also remember when his dad and uncle helped build the paved highway from Memphis to Lakeview.

James is now married to a grandma and will not be able to make the picnic this year. He says he will be remembering all, wishing everyone a happy and glorious time of renewing old friendships and acquaintances, and also enjoying the good food that is always served at the Hall County Picnic, along with their visiting. He sends his best regards to all the people in Memphis and Hall County and also congratulates Hall County on putting on a fine program each year. His great-uncles who lived here (now deceased) were John, Sam and Scruggs Forkner. His address is J. E. Hodges, 3600 East 88 Ave., Apt. 20, Denver, Colo. 80229.

If I were a minister, I think there would be two sermons I would want to preach this week—one on "Love" and the other on the Uncertainty of Life", as observed in the death of a neighbor, Jack Nelson, who drove his truck in from the farm, parked at his regular place near the back door and in 30 min-

AUSTIN —There will be two constitutional amendments concerning water on the Texas general election ballot in November. I fear there are many citizens who are not aware why we need many millions of dollars for water bonds.

The Texas Water Development Fund is asking for authorization for $400 million for bonds. Already the fund has used $235 million in bonds to fund 88 separate projects in this state.

These expenditures to date have helped many cities in our state fund water projects. Without help these towns would have gone without or would have had to raise taxes or hike water bills, including those of persons on meager and fixed incomes.

Approximately 30 percent of all the people in the state have been directly helped by these loans. In some instances it has meant several communities working together to build common reservoirs for the good of all.

If it is voted to authorize expansion of the fund, we will see the same type projects as in the past receive help. We will see additional reservoirs built, water treatment plants constructed and transmission lines laid. We will also see the fund continue to purchase storage water for future use.

We will be upgrading the living conditions of the people of this state and meanwhile securing water supplies for the future development and growth of Texas.

It should be noted that while these water bonds have helped areas that were without water, those areas with abundant supplies also benefited. All the regions of the state are interdepenutes was pronounced dead in his home. We never know when it is the last telephone call, visit or pat on the back which will be the last contact with loved ones and friends. I had an hour's visit with Jack a week before he passed away, reminiscing of his family from his grandfather, Uncle Bob of Newlin, on down through the years. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson had only been our neighbors 5 weeks when Jack died. The love of God spared him off the highway to let him arrive safely home. The love of neighbors and friends of Estelline had about 15 cars and trucks moving them into their new home recently and the love of neighbors and friends was shown so many coming by extending sympathy to Jack's loved ones. As the scripture gives us: "Faith, Hope and Love and the greatest of these is Love." The greatest inspiration I had while putting in some time at Heritage Hall was the love of friends, who met there from far and near, and their love shown for each other. I am glad that I had the pleasure of meeting 5 generations of the Nelsons, Morrisons, Greshams and Tuckers, who had a part in helping to build Hall County for a better place to live. They were taught the scripture that Paul gave us, that is you eat you must work. Meet your friends and loved ones at the picnic and Heritage Hall. Tell them how much you love them. We Join in Welcoming All of You to the Annual Hall County Picnic

AND 86th BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Next Saturday and Sunday, September 18 and 19, are the two big days set aside for old timers and new ones too, for this annual celebration. Plans are complete, and local residents are looking forward to welcoming all former residents. It is our hope that you will be here and will have a good time.

We are old timers, too, and are proud of our country. It has been a privilege to have worked for this area's progress through the years. As we complete 31 years as your supplier of thousands of items, we take this opportunity to express our appreciation to each of you.

dent on each other. Products produced in North Texas are processed in East Texas or shipped from the Gulf Coast. Products manufactured in South Texas are sold to West Texas. No region of the state can realize its highest economic potential if other regions cannot provide the necessary support.

What is the cost of this to our citizens? During the 10 years of its existence, the fund has cost each Texan about 25 cents a year. A total of $29.3 million has been transferred from the General Revenue Fund. Over the course of the life of the bonds this money will all be returned with interest to the treasury.

A new vitality has followed this water lifeline. New industry, population increases and better crops are the result. It is conservatively estimated that our $235 million repayable investment has generated more than $1 billion in assets to the affected communities alone.

The second amendment would increase the Texas Water Quality Enhancement Fund from 100 to 200 million dollars. This money is used to provide grants, loans or a combination for water quality enhancement.

I believe we should help our communities, towns and cities help themselves. When we invest in them we are investing in ourselves and the future of Texas.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank relatives and friends for the cards, letters, visits, prayers, flowers and gifts during my recent stay in the hospital, also for the food sent to my home.

AUSTIN — That proposed $298.3 million Southwestern Bell Telephone Company rate increase isn't likely to go into effect until next year, if at all.

The company, under Texas Public Utility Commission rules, had to publish notice in newspapers for four weeks that it plans the raise October 7. That's 35 days from the day it filed recommended new rates with PUC.

The commission is expected to vote September 20 to require Bell to defend its request in public hearings. Hearings will be held during the next three months, and the regulatory agency has 125 days after October 7 to act on the rate case.

PUC attorney John Bell already has filed a protest that the rates are "excessive," and has requested that action be suspended during the 125 day period. His motions will be considered by the three commission members at the Monday (Sept. 20) hearing.

Also to be considered at the pre-hearing conference next week is a request by Texas Municipal League to permit city governments to intervene in statewide rate cases over which PUC has original jurisdiction.

Richard J. Hoyer, mayor of Monahan and chairman of TML's Public Utility Council, argues that all essential evidence pertinent to the rate case cannot be developed without interventions by city governments and other interested parties.

Aid Up

Texas state and local governments are becoming increasingly reliant on federal aid, Comptroller Bob Bullock reported in a recent study.

Federal aid is now running about a fourth of all total revenue received by state government. The study showed more than $2.2 billion was received by Texas units of government in 1975.

The figure has been increasing about 15 per cent a year, but the increase slowed to 3.5 per cent and 3.4 per cent in 1974 and 1975.

Texas, which ranked fifth in total federal aid among the states, ranks 47th in per capita receipts.

For every dollar Texas contributes in individual federal income taxes to finance federal aid programs, it gets back 82 cents in federal aid, according to Bullock's findings.

Connally On Job

Former Texas Gov. John Connally stepped in as head of the President Ford campaign in Texas after turning down national campaign assignments.

Connally said he expects an aggressive effort in the state, and thinks Ford can win by pinning down Democrat nominee Jimmy Carter on the issues.

A Texans for Ford organization also is forming to wage a particular appeal to independent and conservative Democratic voters.

State Rep. Ray Hutchison of Dallas is expected to be Connally's right-hand man in the state campaign organization.

AG Opinions

Governor's Office Education Resources data on school district taxable property values is open to public disclosure, though unedited and not checked for accuracy, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill decided:

Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation does not have power to adopt a policy giving its state-paid physicians authority to carry on private medical practice at MHMR facilities.

Authority given Harris County commissioners to regulate private water company rates was replaced by the Texas Public Utilities Commission.

Travel records of certain state auditors relating to an investigation are excepted from public disclosure.

RESUMEN DE LAS ENMIENDAS PROPUESTAS A LA CONSTITUCION ELECCION GENERAL DEL 2 DE NOVIEMBRE DE 1976

NUMERO UNO EN LA BOLETA (S.J.R. 49)

Revocando Secciones 49-d and 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Tejas, S.J.R. 49 enmienda Sección 49-c del Artículo III de la Constitución de Tejas para disponer y autorizar $400 millones adicionales de bonos para el desarrollo de agua en Tejas que se puede emitir a la aprobación de dos terceras partes de los miembros de cada cámara de la Legislatura para tales fines de desarrollo del agua que la Legislatura pueda prescribir.

La enmienda contiene prohibición específica contra el uso de fondos del estado para el desarrollo de recursos acuáticos del Río Mississippi y también requiere que antes de que pueda encargarse de cualquier proyecto particular para el desarrollo de agua que requiere un gasto de mas de $35 millones de producto de los bonos, debe de ser aprobado por resolución de la Legislatura.

La enmienda remueve el requerimiento constitucional que ciertas rentas deben de ser usadas para retirar bonos para el desarrollo de agua y el encarecimiento de la calidad de agua y remueve el limite constitucional de la tasa de interés en tales bonos.

La fraseología de la enmienda propuesta tal como aparecerá en la boleta es lo siguiente: "La enmienda constitucional autorizando un incremento de $400 millones de la cantidad de Bonos del Desarrollo de Agua en Tejas que podrán emitirse al ser aprobada por dos terceras partes de la legislatura; enmendando y consolidando disposiciones de Secciones 49-c, 49-d, y 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Tejas; y revocando Secciones 49-d y 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Tejas."

NUMERO DOS EN LA BOLETA (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 propone una enmienda a la Constitución de Tejas para aumentar de $100 millones hasta $200 millones la cantidad principal agregada de bonos para el desarrollo de agua en Tejas que se puede emitir y que están en circulación por el Texas Water Development Board para proveer donaciones y préstamos para la mejoría de la calidad de agua como establecido por la Legislatura.

La fraseología de la enmienda propuesta como aparecerá en la boleta es lo siguiente: "Una enmienda constitucional para incrementar desde $100 millones hasta $200 millones la cantidad de Bonos de Desarrollo de Agua en Tejas que podrán ser emitidos con el propósito de mejorar la calidad del agua."

Carter Leading

A new poll by an Austin-based market research firm found Jimmy Carter-Walter Mondale leading Gerald Ford-Robert Dole substantially in Texas.

The Henson-Hopkins survey of 400 voters in 126 counties showed 51 per cent favored or leaned toward Carter-Mondale to 38 per cent for Ford-Dole. Seven per cent recorded undecided, three per cent declined to answer, and one percent said they would not vote for either.

Voters under 35 showed stronger support than older ones polled.

In spite of the indicated preference for Carter-Mondale, 48 per cent of Texas voters rate themselves conservative, 38 per cent say they are moderates, and only 11 per cent give themselves the liberal label.

Among voters under 35, just 35 per cent say they are Democrats, and 44 per cent identify themselves as independents without party identification. Eighteen per cent state they are Republicans.

Austin—We have started a new program that will make it much easier for my auditors to keep track of the 16,000 new and used car dealers in Texas to make certain the state is getting all of the motor vehicle sales tax that is due.

Commerce were honored as recipients of the Governor's Industrial Expansion Awards here last week.

Recognized for contributions to civic and community development and industrial expansion were Aberdeen Manufacturing Inc. of Kaufmann, Carlingswitch Inc. of Brownsville, Union Carbide Corporation of Seadrift and Ludlum Measurements Inc. of Sweetwater.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Texas Industrial Commission, Texas Association of Business and four regional chambers of commerce sponsored the awards contest.

Short Snorts

State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie has called on Secretary of Transportation William T. Coleman to adopt pending air bag standards for new car safety.

Texas is No. 1 in traffic deaths over holiday periods, and a two-day traffic law/safety conference is slated here September 30 at The University of Texas School of Law.

Texas Water Development Board held a public forum in Houston Friday on revision of the plan for developing Texas water resources. Twenty others will follow around the state through next month.

Henry Sanchez of Brownsville has been removed as executive director of Texas Good Neighbor Commission, and a replacement is being sought.

I will explain how the new program works by first telling you how incredibly difficult it has been in the past to conduct an audit of a dealer.

Whenever you buy a car, you and the seller make a joint affidavit which is filed at the county courthouse. These affidavits are lumped together in the courthouse records by month.

If one of my auditors wanted to check a particular dealer, he would have to go to the courthouse and sift through all the affidavits on file to find the ones relating to that dealership.

You can better imagine the scope of the problem when you realize that about 300,000 affidavits are filed each month. Looking for affidavits from Joe's Used Cars was something like looking for a needle in a haystack.

So we signed an interagency contract with the Texas Department of Corrections to help solve our problem.

Now every county sends their affidavits to the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville on a monthly basis. There they are separated and filed by dealership, by county and by month in a new training program at the Department of Corrections.

When one of my auditors wants to check a specific dealer now all he has to do is call Huntsville and have all that dealer's affidavits sent to him.

The cost of this arrangement is minimal—our contract calls for us to pay the Department of Corrections $9.56 per day per person employed in the project. The cost will be far

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d, and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $200 million the aggregate principle amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes."
