The Memphis Cyclone, 1-1 for the season, takes on the Lubbock Roosevelt Eagles, 2-1, at 7:30 p.m. Friday night in Cyclone Stadium. This will be the only game of the season to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Cyclone, coming off a satisfying 13-0 win over Crowell last week, should have the momentum to be the favorites in Friday night's contest with Lubbock Roosevelt.

The Eagles, after winning their first two, 19-6 over Lorenzo and a 20-7 victory over Crosbyton, lost last week to a strong Seagraves team 51-0. The Eagles were without the services of Senior Tailback Sylvester Jackson and Junior TB Armando Trevino against Seagraves.

This being the first time in history of both schools for football teams to meet on the gridiron, Friday night's game will be one in which the teams will be total strangers as they tee the ball up for the opening kickoff.

"We know less about Roosevelt than any team we've faced. Our scouts report they are a fine looking football team despite the Seagraves score, so we're looking for another tough game Friday," Coach Clyde McMurray said.

About the Crowell game last week, Coach McMurray said, "We coaches are extremely pleased with defeating Crowell for the fifth time in the past seven years."

"Our coaching staff feels our team must establish a consistency on offense and improve on over-all defense performance if we are to remain in the winning column," Coach McMurray said.

In announcing starters for the Cyclone against Lubbock Roosevelt, Coach McMurray named Ricky Guy as starting at end as being the only change. Anthony Johnson will be the other starting end. Ricky Bloxom and Val Stone will be tackles, Randy Orcutt and Kenny Martin will be guards and Danny Murdock will be the center. QB Don Cofer, WB Rodney Hall, TB Pete Salinas and FB Kirk Fields will make up the backfield.

Defensively, Randal Shahan, Steve Browning, Eddie Braidfoot and Doug Morgan are linemen, with Randy Orcutt, Kenny Martin and Woodrow Richardson at linebacker spots and Steve Flemmons, Kirk Fields, Pedro Salinas and either Rodney Hall or Tracy Galloway as safeties.

Memphis coaches selected four Cyclones for special recognition after grading the Crowell film. One lineman, Doug Morgan, earned the defensive lineman certificate as well as the "big lick" certificate for his play. Center Danny Murdock was selected for offensive lineman, Rodney Hall for defensive safety or linebacker, and Pete Salinas for offensive back.

Coach McMurray said, "each player is graded for execution of his assignment on each play. Pete Salinas earned the offensive back for his high grades excelling blocking assignments, as well as running the football." When the decals arrive, Cyclones will be wearing the decals they have earned on their helmets.

Roosevelt Eagles
The starting lineup for the Eagles, according to program weights, is not as large as other teams Memphis has faced this year.

One advantage the Eagles will have is over-all team depth as only five players play both ways.

Ends for the Eagles are Manuel Cantu (135) and Darron Mann (181). Tackles are Eddy Cox (178) and Kent McLeod (181). Guards are (Continued On Page 10)

The all day enduro race will be on Sunday, October 24th, and headquarters will be located in the City Park at the swimming pool office.

This year's enduro is on the Texas Circuit and riders will be able to add points from this enduro for the state championship title.

We are expecting between 500 and 600 riders from the south and western parts of the United States to be in Memphis for the one day event. There will be no parade or Saturday planned activities for the visitors and their families this year.

The enduro will start Sunday at 8:00 a.m. in the City Park and will also finish at the City Park. We have concentrated all of the activities in the City Park where we can have everything in one central location with the headquarters, camping area and etc.

The 120 mile enduro track will primarily be in the Red River area of Hall County. We have and will in the next few weeks be in contact with land owners of Hall County for special permission for the one day racing event. Permission to cross private property is solely for the one day (Sunday, October 24th) enduro race and not for local motorcycle riders. The Memphis Chamber urges local riders to respect the property rights of others and boundaries of private property.

Memphis merchants of: Greene Dry Goods, Simpson's, Sylvia's Ready To Wear, and The Lady Fair will be selling the popular Memphis, Texas Cotton Boll Enduro T-Shirts. We have a wide variety of the shirts in both adult and children's sizes. The shirts are now on sale by the aboved listed merchants.

Postscript On Hall County Picnic, 1976!

People were in a celebrating mood last weekend if our observations of activities of the Hall County Picnic celebration are accurate. This year's celebration, although paralleling the Bi-Centennial celebrations throughout the nation, was more in line with a celebration along our own historical and cultural lines.

The Picnic Parade was the best parade, and best attended parade, staged in several years. The fact that entries came from all over the county, with a big representation from Estelline citizens, gave the celebration that county-wide atmosphere that is so important.

Yes, and the major emphasis was Hall County as it was then, and is today. Where else will you see the County's oldest fire truck, belching smoke, followed a short time later by farm equipment costing thousands and thousands of dollars. Children on bicycles, youngsters on motorbikes, old cars, clowns on donkeys, old carts, horseback riders in abundance, and really beautiful floats.

The thing about the floats which make them so good is the home touch. Our neighbors and our own citizens made it what it was and it was good to see.

Everyone who worked on the Picnic celebration in any capacity can feel proud of a job well done. A special thanks is in order to President Tom Seay who lent a helping hand to many of the various committees through the weekend. There are so many people who did marvelous work it would be impossible to name them all without leaving out many.

The serving of the noon luncheon in the City Park Sunday turned out to be under friendly skies, despite an earlier shower that morning; by serving time the weather was cool and cloudy. The 10 or more serving lines were adequate to feed all who came through by shortly after 1 p.m. and the Park was full of people eating and visiting. Many did not take time to register, but we all hope most of the out-of-town visitors did stop by to register.

The Hall County Picnic is always a busy weekend, one in which many are involved, putting in long, hard hours at their appointed tasks. It wouldn't be truthful of a host, after a big to-do, after the "good-byes" were said and everything was cleaned up, to not have a feeling of relief that it was all over.

Personally, this editor has just completed his 16th straight Hall County Picnic (actually 15 and a half as six years ago Sunday, the morning of the Picnic was spent at Hall County Hospital when the daughter was born). It was primarily begun to plan for the 75th Anniversary of Hall County, observed in 1965, and it looks like it'll be around for the 100th Anniversary of Hall County in 1990. You know, that's just 14 years away.

DECLINING SKILLS
It was a classic human interest story. The valedictorian of a large city high school was denied admission to George Washington University, the college of his choice, because his Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores were only about half as good as they should have been.

In addition to describing the young man's heartbreak and humiliation, the newspaper story spoke volumes about the state of public education in the city where the boy lived — and much about education in the rest of the country as well.

"My feeling about a kid like this," said Joseph Rith, dean of admissions at George Washington, "is that he's been conned. He thinks he's a real scholar. His parents think he's a real scholar. He's been deluded into thinking he's gotten an education."

There are many more like him. The average grades received by high school and college students all across the country are higher than they have ever been. But students' reading, writing and mathematical skills, as measured by standard aptitude tests, have been declining for more than a decade.

The real reason for slumping achievement scores, a recent study concluded, was that such basic courses as English, history and mathematics no longer are required subjects in many high schools.

Instead, students may choose among a wide variety of elective courses, many of which do nothing to enhance reading, writing and mathematical skills, which are necessary.

A number of magazines devoted part of their back-to-school issues to the problem of semi-literacy among college students. Composition and remedial English courses, where they exist, commonly are taught by the most junior members of the faculty. This neglect extends even to graduate schools, where papers often are written in turgid, barely decipherable bureaucratese.

It is no accident, perhaps, that the twin problems of inflated grades and deteriorating achievement arose at a time when an undergraduate degree is losing its aura as a sure passport to success. In many fields, a postgraduate degree is now considered essential. Thus, some feel high school teachers are under pressure to hand out high grades so their students will be admitted to college. And college instructors feel constrained to do the same so that students will have a chance to enter graduate school.

The whole process breeds frustration and anger among students and teachers alike. The Universal Education has given rise to a "credentials society," with no guarantee that the credentials will deliver full value. To receive full value these students must first receive and master the basics: reading, writing, mathematics. —The Amarillo Globe-News

NO GROWTH?
We have read from time to time about areas where residents want to put a lid on growth, feeling that expanding population creates a lot more problems than benefits. The governor of Oregon, for example, has publicly proclaimed more than once that Oregon likes for people to visit the state but don't stay and take up permanent residence there. At least three cities in California are in court now over their "no growth" city ordinances which seek to limit the size of their city to where it is right now.

Another form of "no growth" policy is closer to home. A hassle is under way in the Guymon community over refusal of Northern Natural Gas Co., by order of the Federal Power Commission, to hook up some 52 proposed customers to their natural gas lines. Included in the list of customers denied gas service are 33 applications for irrigation gas, six for crop drying, three for feedlot use and one for commercial heat. It is feared that this "no growth" policy will have to extend to residential areas of new construction and to prospective industrial users. After all, out here in this country, if you can't get gas to heat a building, you have a problem.

In our own community, the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce has had to turn down requests from at least two industrial firms because they needed

It takes as much hot water and energy to wash one dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on. Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware. Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher. Water Heater Tips. To assure long life and efficiency, the water heater tank should have a small amount of water drained periodically. Once a month should be adequate. The purpose of draining water from the tank is to prevent sediment build-up in the tank bottom. A water heater that's old or too small for your family needs, can be wasteful because it's working too hard and using too much energy to keep up with your hot water demands. Cyclones Victory Over Wildcats Is Impressive

Memphis Cyclone, backed crowd on the side of the Crowell stadium, took advantage of good field position in the first and fourth quarters to defeat the Wildcats 13-0, revenge for a 47-0 loss last season in the series.

Wildcats, after one of their best seasons in their history last year, supporting a 1-0-1 record, held a 20-lb. per man advantage and also edge playing on their wet-but-firm field.

Cyclone, hungry for a 20-12 loss after the week before, addressed the line in a test of strength and courage against the big, hard-hitting Cyclone.

SALINAS CARRIES—No. 22 Pete Salinas is shown as he stumbles towards the Crowell goal line in the fourth quarter. He finally reached the one-yard line before his knee touched down. He gained 8 yards on the play and set up the Cyclone's second TD. He scored the Cyclone's first TD on a two-yr. dive.

line. Offense puts points on the board, but defense wins football games, coaches often say, and the Cyclone defense, with its back to the goal line, proved this statement in the next four plays.

HB Sparkman, who figured heavily in the drive, carried on the sweep only to be met soundly at the line of scrimmage and he fell forward for two yards. The Wildcats were guilty of a minor infraction on the next play, and five yards were assessed against them.

Facing second and 13, Sparkman carried again and was dropped for a two-yard gain. QB Tamplin tried a roll-out run on the next play and lost a yard. The Wildcats attempted a 30-yard field goal, which was tipped away and went incomplete.

Taking over the football, the Cyclone was held on three running attempts and Ricky Guy got off a 34-yard punt to the Crowell 49.

With only seconds left before the half, the Wildcats ran three plays, made a first down to Cyclone 35 as half ended. At this stage in the contest, Crowell had 9 first downs compared to 4 for the Cyclone, but trailed 7-0 in the contest.

Second Half
Memphis fans, at halftime, enjoying performances by the two bands, were thrilled with the first half lead but deeply concerned for the well-being of the Cyclone team.

Could the Cyclone, decidedly outweighed, keep up the tremendous pressure on defense they were able to maintain in the first half? Fans could remember how the Wildcats took command of the contest last year in the final stages and march for two touchdowns.

The Cyclone received the opening kickoff and Salinas returned the ball to the Memphis 22.

The Cyclone opened up with a passing attack, striking with a 12-yard pass to end Anthony Johnson for a first to the 34.

Then Johnson caught a 9-yard Cofer pass, and after a pass went incomplete, Cofer sneaked for a two-yard gain and a first down to the Memphis 45.

The Cyclone, with the Wildcat defenders spread out covering passing zones, ran a sweep with FB Fields carrying and the Cyclone junior picked up 35 yards to the Crowell 20.

TB Salinas carried for five more to the Wildcat 15 and it looked like TD time, but on the next play, fate turned again for the Cyclone as a pitchout got loose, and the ball bounced twice on the helmet of TB Salinas before Crowell's Jay Wall fell on it back on the 20-yard line.

The Wildcats offense couldn't get untracked and Carroll punted to the Memphis 25.

Again the Cyclone marched down the field, with a 20-yard pass to WB Hall and a 17-yard pass to Anthony Johnson the Cyclone had a first down on the Crowell 33. But here, the drive fizzled as QB Cofer tried to pick up a first down on a 4th and four but fell two-yards shy.

HALL SCORES—WB Rodney Hall is shown as he catches a one-yr. pass from QB Don Cofer in the endzone for the Cyclone's second TD. Hall was named by Memphis coaches for outstanding play on defense as linebacker and the junior figured heavily in the team's victory over the Wildcats.

The Wildcats got their running attack untracked, and with a big 39-yard gainer by the QB Tamplin on a 3rd and 5, the Wildcats moved to the Memphis 31. Then a big gainer by FB Bockman, a 200-lb. senior, moved the ball to the Cyclone 16.

But again, it was the Cyclone defense which came through when the chips were down. The Wildcats, lost a yard on three running plays, but gained seven on the only pass they completed all night, and Memphis took over on the Cyclone 10.

The 4th quarter was five plays old at this point. Needing a drive badly, the Cyclone made nine yards on two carries by FB Fields, then QB Cofer carried for 20 yards up the sideline for a first.

First down yardage was nullified by a penalty against the Cyclone in the next series, and Guy punted the ball high and long into the waiting arms of Crowell's speedster Sparkman.

But Sparkman was a little anxious and dropped the football and alertly, Randal Shanahan claimed it for the Cyclone on the Crowell 20.

The Cyclone's second TD was not to come easy, by any means.

FB Fields was met soundly at the first play. Then, TB Salinas was dropped for a two-yard loss on a sweep. Memphis tried a long pass play from FB Fields to End Johnson but the football was caught out-of-bounds.

It was fourth and 12. QB Cofer took the ball, started to his left, pulled up and drilled the football into the arms of End Johnson about the 10-yard line. Johnson slipped by one tackler but another caught his foot and tripped him on the seven.

It was first and goal. On the next play, TB Salinas had good blocking up front and knifed to the one-yard line. QB Cofer rolled to his right, passed into the arms of WB Hall in the end zone for the score on the next play.

The point after, conversion kick went wide off the toe of Cofer and the score was 13-0.

The remainder of the game saw the Cyclone defense keeping the Wildcats away from scoring position.

The victory over Crowell brings the Cyclone's season record to 1-1, and gives the team momentum and confidence. Coach McMurray announced that the team's injury situation was good, even

Bob Wills Is Still The King

Ensemble Films Acquire Rights To Produce Bob Wills Story

Fail and Martin Stayden, under their banner, Ensemble Films, have acquired the rights to produce the Bob Wills story from the book San Antonio Rose by Dr. Charles Townsend.

Wills, colorful band leader, composer, and fiddler, rose from the cotton fields of Hall County, Texas to become an internationally recognized folk hero. He was a performer whose sheer magnetism packed the smallest rural dance halls and the largest city ballrooms with crowds numbering into the thousands. His cigar, fiddle, and big white hat were his trademark, but it was his famous holler, "aa haa", that endeared him to his fans.

In 1968, the Country Music Association in Nashville placed Wills in their Hall of Fame. Numerous country music artists, each year, pay tribute by featuring the Wills fiddle sound on their recordings. The continuing strong attraction of the Wills image was demonstrated by a recent Hollywood Bowl country music concert at which the crowd was brought to its feet when superstar, Waylon Jennings, sang his composition—"Bob Wills Is Still King."

Discussions have taken place with Merle Hagyard, regarding the possibility of his playing the role of Bob Wills. Copies of the Bob Wills biography by Dr. Charles Townsend are available and on sale by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce c/o Jim Edd Wines. The book sells for $12.50 each.

Prices of New Homes Are Now Rising Sharply

Prices of new homes have been rising sharply for several years. Nationwide, new-home prices last year averaged 68 percent higher than in 1970.

But the average prices in Texas was up 89 percent. With prices of new houses rising faster in Texas — and incomes advancing about the same as in the rest of the country — the industry between prices of new houses and the ability to pay them is increasing faster here.

The rise in home prices is from a lower base, however, leaving the disparity still less in Texas than in most of the country. Last year, home buyers in Tex. could build for less in Texas than in most of the country. Last year, home buyers in Texas could still pay for new houses easier than most Americans could five years before.

In 1970, new houses in Texas were priced roughly a third less than the national average. And even with the far faster rise in prices here, new houses could still be bought last year for a fourth less than the average price for the nation.

This difference accounts for much of the strength of the housing recovery in Texas, particularly in large metropolitan areas.

Population of the state has increased over a million since 1970. And most of the new arrivals have come to the large cities, helping to create a boom in housing there.

Mortgage lenders in Dallas and Houston estimate that maybe as many as a third of their new loans go to buyers moving in from other states. All see these arrivals as exerting highly effective demand for housing.

For one thing, they usually come with well above average incomes for Texas.

Most are transferred. And although often coming from higher paying areas, just being transferred usually means a salary increase to make the move.

Many come with companies expanding their operations in Texas, which usually means they rank among the most capable and, therefore, best paid employees.

Many come with corporate headquarters being moved to Texas, which often means they are among the top echelons of their companies.

Even among those coming as new hires, many have special skills that give them higher incomes here.

For another, many of the new arrivals come with strong home - buying power, regardless of their regular incomes.

Having ordinarily realized gains from the sale of houses that had appreciated in other states and finding houses cheaper in Texas, they can buy newer, bigger, more expensive houses than back home.

And they are willing to do so. Other housing costs, such as taxes, maintenance, and utilities, also tend to be lower in Texas. And because there is no state income tax, take-home pay tends to be higher.

Almost all companies moving employees pick up part of the costs of selling houses in one location and buying again in another. Some offer provisions covering most of the closing costs.

Turkey FU To Meet on September 27

Hightower Says Passage of Estate Tax Reform Is Major Achievement

(Washington, D. C.)—Congressman Jack Hightower said today that passage of estate tax reforms would rank as one of the major achievements of the 94th Congress.

The House and Senate yesterday passed the Tax Reform Act of 1976, which included the estate tax revisions, by virtually unanimous votes of 405 to 2 and 84 to 2, respectively.

"Since I came to Congress last January more constituents have communicated with me about the need to reform our antiquated estate tax laws than about any other single issue," Hightower said. "It was with a deep sense of satisfaction that I voted for the first positive reforms to be adopted in more than 34 years."

Hightower said that both the general tax reform bill and its estate tax revisions contained imperfections, but that the positive aspects far outweighed the negative points.

Because of the importance of the measure, separate votes were taken on the bill's general tax reform provisions and the estate tax provisions prior to a final vote on the complete package.

Hightower was one of only 26 congressmen, including 12 members of the Texas delegation, who voted against the bill's general provisions on the first vote. The vote was on the House - Senate Conference Report, excluding the estate tax portion. "The Conference bill contained provisions which could adversely affect energy producers, particularly the independent producers who supply the majority of our petroleum," Hightower said, "and I voted against to protect that portion of the bill."

"In a separate vote on the estate tax section we were to knock out the provisions that will require heirs to pay more capital gains taxes when they sell inherited property," Hightower said, "but that effort failed 181 to 229."

The Congressmen failed because too many members were more concerned about raising revenue than providing the full relief sought by owners of family farms and small businesses.

The final vote was on the complete package, including the estate tax reforms. "Having recognized that this would be the last opportunity this year to enact any meaningful tax reforms, the Congress passed the bill overwhelmingly," Hightower said.

Hightower said that despite its imperfections the bill sought in co-sponsoring the bill introduced last January by Congressman Omar B. Brown.

"I believed this Congress had to enact legislation which would prevent the loss of family farms and small businesses from having to sell or part of the estate to pay the prohibitive taxes," Hightower said, "and this bill will ease that unnecessary burden."

While hearing loss problems occur most frequently among the elderly, over 20 percent of those afflicted with a hearing handicap experienced the onset of their hearing loss began prior to their 17th birthday, officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation point out.

For this reason, they urge that all ages take safeguard hearing ability.

"La Fiesta Mexicana" Declared Enjoyable and Able Success

by VIRGINIA BROWDER

Judging from the attendance, the gate receipts, the compliments thereafter, and the regrets of those who missed it, the trial run of "La Fiesta Mexicana" in Memphis was a real success. John Binkley, as master of ceremonies, kept the show going.

The players were introduced by way of a Grand Entry before they moved on stage. The "production staff" was ably assisted by Laura Halperin from Dallas and Mrs. George (Dixie) Howard from Clarendon, both in the preparations and backstage.

The Johnny Mullins from Turkey rode horseback and led the Grand Entry with the Mexican and Texas flags. The two youngsters who simulated a bull fight on stage (complete with red cap and horns) came next in line followed by "Los Ninos" (8 little Mexican girls) who later danced the "raspa". The gospel choir headed by Senor Revira, Miss Debbie White on her beautiful black horse carrying the American flag, Jessie Hernandez and Zip Durrett with guitars, and Mike Branigan elegantly attired as a Mexican Matador completed the introduction except for the Mexican dancers, Elva and Manuel.

The audience was generous with applause and seemed to enjoy each number. Of course, the Fiesta Queen, Linda Gomez and her maids, Sylvia Serna and Nilda Ortiz were the first to be introduced on stage and from then on were the honored spectators.

The gate receipts collected and counted by Wendell Harrison and Martin Johnson amounted to $354.80. After expenses, $100 was given to The Picnic Fund, $100 to the Library Fund, $20 to Heritage Hall, and $25 to The Mission Baptist Church. The willingness and co-operation of everyone was greatly appreciated. Especially did the crowd enjoy the hot tamales, tacos, and Mexican stew sold by our Mexican friends. Too bad they were so soon sold out. And the only "goof" in the entire production seems to have been the fact that the youngsters were disappointed that the "pinatas" were empty. The producers did not know they were supposed to fill them with trinkets, believing they were already filled.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Walker of Cleburne arrived here Tuesday to visit with her mother, Mrs. R. S. Greene.

and another couple of visitors a few days ago. Mrs. Carl Nuhn and Mrs. C. and Arlington, D. C. and Arva. Mrs. Nuhn will be remembered as Charlotte Prener, the late daughter of the late Mrs. Ben Prewitt of Estelline High School. Ben Prewitt trailed cattle from the Peony in 1888 where he on the Mill Iron and was a trusted Beverly Blair. He next moved to Washington, D. C., where he worked for the Public Health Dept. of the U. S. He made the next move to Tulane University in New Orleans where he received his PhD in 1969; and he is now Dr. Morton Hawkins. At present, he is working with the University of Texas graduate school of medicine. He recently spent three weeks in Denmark in his work, also, was in Monte Carlo and back to the states working at Lake Tahoe. He also worked in 15 different states. The other two children of Candler and Ruth are Sam and Kathleen who with their families are living in Houston. I can see why Candler and Ruth live in Houston as their 3 million dollars worth of assets are there. The Hawkins children are the descendants of the date Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Harrison who operated hardware stores in this area for many years. They are also descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hawkins, who lived in this area in the early days for many years. He served as pastor of the First Methodist Church of Memphis and others and was very active in his farm interests in Hall and Collingsworth Counties. Though the Hawkins live in Houston, they still retain their interests here and are Hall County tax payers. Morton has only worked in 15 states, but I think with his knowledge and personality, he would be a good Ambassador from the U. S. to the rest of the world. A few days ago we were watching television and tuned to the station that brought in the "Billy Graham Crusade" in Seattle, Wash. where he was holding his services in the great dome coliseum where 74,000 were seated. They had to turn part of the crowd away that night, as all seats were taken. My observation was that there were all different ages and nationalities represented in this group. They had the look on their faces of hunger (not for bread and fish), but the look of hunger for spirituality in this day of so many problems facing them each day with their families and other loved ones. The Gideons have put out several million road maps of life (the Bible), but too many of us with the ups and downs of life neglect this road map of life and take a detour; but as long as there is hope, there is hope that we can get back on the right road and get off the detour. The "Miss America" selection the boardwalks of Atlantic City, New York, was very interesting with all of the attractive models from the 50 states. Either I have been wrong or the judges were wrong, as I selected the good

Robert E. Clark Enters UT Medical Branch

Robert E. Clark, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of Memphis, is among the two hundred and six prospective physicians that comprise the freshman medical school class this fall at the University of Texas Medical Branch. A graduate of Memphis High School, Robert attended Clarendon Junior College and is a graduate of Baylor University with a B. S. degree in 1976.

These future doctors will work through four information-packed years and rotate through every medical department before selecting their specialty and receiving M.D. degrees. Depending upon the students' wishes and medical faculty evaluation, a choice of graduating in three years or of entering a fourth year track program is now available at the Medical Branch. The new freshmen know from the first day of class that they are studying to become competent physicians. They pursue four 15-week periods of basic science material and 48 weeks of clinical science material. During the clinical science training, they learn the various skills of dealing with patients. Also, they learn about the operation of hospitals by rotating through such service areas as internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, pediatrics and psychiatry.

Due to the high competitiveness for medical school, UTMB students are selected according to their qualifications, motivations, scholarship abilities and probability of professional success. The primary purpose of the Medical Branch is to train health care professionals. Since 1892, with its first class of 23 students and 13 faculty members, UTMB has graduated over 6,700 physicians. The Medical Branch is the oldest and largest medical school in the State. It is also the only multicategorical health referral center in Texas.

Bob Price Accused Congress Of Abdicating Food Stamp Reform

MEMPHIS—Citing continued expansion and administrative abuse of existing Food Stamp provisions, Panhandle rancher and former Congressman Bob Price, today accused Jack Hightower and the Liberal majority of abdicating their opportunity to offer meaningful Food Stamp reform.

In remarks delivered to a gathering of local supporters at the home of Zack Fisher, Price contended that efforts to stem Congressional food stamp allocations have been thwarted by Jack Hightower and a majority of liberals on the House Agriculture Committee. "On March 11, 1976, the Committee on Agriculture voted not to make a specific budget recommendation for the Food Stamp program during fiscal 1977. Instead, the committee by a recorded vote of 22-10 established a range of $4.8 billion - $6.3 billion for Food Stamp expenditures. Mr. Hightower, who voted with the majority, apparently feels it unnecessary to pinpoint a figure which would represent budget appropriations for the Food Stamp program this year. I can only assume that he believes this kind of irresponsible action, will permit him to feign fiscal accountability, while in reality such a vote represents an additional $1.5 billion expenditure of public money."

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Carr of Childress are the parents of a son, Robert Leslie, born Sept. 18. He weighed 3 pounds, 1 ounce.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Widener announce the arrival of a son on Sept. 20. He weighed 8 pounds, 1 ounce and has been named Daron James.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Lewis of Childress are the parents of twins born Sept. 21. Shelly Kay weighed 5 pounds, 4 1/2 ounces and Richard Dale weighed 4 pounds, 12 ounces.

Visiting in the W. M. Kilpatrick, Jr. home last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Terry Fincher and Dale Green of Wellington.

D. R. Kelly and Mrs. Velma Cooper, former residents of Memphis now living in Littlefield, were here for the weekend's celebration. They attended the First Baptist Church morning service.
