Cotton Harvest Is Getting Started

The 1976 cotton harvest in this area has gotten underway at most ginning points, some are running two shifts now as farmers are harvesting in earnest.

Actually, the gins have weighed in approximately 7,500 bales, a check with nine of the twelve gins revealed Wednesday evening.

The U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Office in Memphis opened its doors Monday under Ted Proske as officer in charge. This office will be making its first report after the end of the first week of classing.

According to C. E. Cox, officer in charge of the Altus, Okla., Cotton Classing Office, the cotton harvest is just beginning to get underway. Grower prices were steady, with the average bids on the predominant qualities ranging from 68.50 to 70.50 cents per pound.

The markets were active, but offerings were light, due primarily to the slow build-up of the harvest.

Grade 41 was the predominant quality of the cotton classed from the Memphis, Texas, area counties, and accounted for 36 per cent of the classing. Grade 31 accounted for 21 per cent, and grade 32 for 18 per cent.

Staples were predominately, 30 and 31, with Staple 30 accounting for 47 per cent and Staple 31 for 30 per cent.

Mike readings were in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9 on 80 per cent of the samples.

About 1,500 samples were classed by the Altus Classing Office from the counties served by the Memphis, Texas, classing office.

First Baptist To Honor Teachers At Appreciation Coffee Nov. 16

The first annual Teacher Appreciation Coffee in honor of all public school faculty, school board members and staff of Memphis Public Schools will be held at the First Baptist Church, Tuesday, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

The church seeks through this event to express appreciation and give honor to the staff and faculty as they serve the community, it was stated.

Dr. James P. Cornette, President Emeritus of West Texas State University, Canyon, will be the featured speaker for the event.

Dr. Cornette, who served as president of West Texas State University from 1948 to 1973, is well known as an educator in this area. Before going to WTSU, he served as dean of the University, Baylor University, Waco.

He received his B. A. degree from Wesleyan College in Kentucky and his M.A. Degree from the University of Virginia and his Ph. D. from George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tenn. in 1938.

He is author of "A Biography of John Henry Claggett," "A History of the Western Kentucky University," "Modern Language Handbooks" and articles in national educational journals.

For his noteworthy contributions to the Fanhandle of Texas, Dr. Cornette was named "Man of the Year" for 1962 by the Amarillo News and Globe-Times. At its August 11, 1973 meeting, the Board of Regents of West Texas State University officially named the new W. T. S. U. library the "James and Mary Elizabeth Cornette Library," in honor of the Cornettes' 25 years service to the institution, and also took official action designating Dr. Cornette as "President Emeritus" of WTSU at the conclusion of his service as Chancellor of the institution on August 31, 1974.

Dr. Cornette was married to Mary Elizabeth Lawson February 26, 1930 and the couple has three sons, Marvin Brister, James Lawson and William Richard.

Dr. Cornette says, "The 'good life' is to be found simply and solely in the living of life itself and in experiencing as fully as possible all of its qualities, both sweet and bitter, rather than in escaping from life through one's own efforts or in being delivered from it through the efforts of someone else."

The group was told that the City, County and Water District would be asked to provide a liaison representative to work with SCS officials.

Maps of the area covered by the two creeks were shown and discussions were made as to what areas are causing problems now.

Since the study is the first part of the project, it will be several months before the study could be completed, but area property owners may be approached to give permission for crews to do survey on their property when the study actually begins.

EDITORIAL

Congratulations Are In Order!

The 21 young men who make up the 1976 Cyclone team are to be congratulated for a super job in earning the right to represent District 2-A in post-season play-offs. Looking at the 1976 season last August, the odds were definitely against this possibility but the confidence and spirit of the MHS players never faltered.

At the heart of the success must lie dedication to hard work, for the 1976 team began after concluding the 1975 season working and planning for this year. Although little publicity was given the off-season program last spring, due possibly to successful basketball and track, tennis and gold programs, the young men performing on the field this fall have been reaping the rewards of long hours for preparation.

The job of building a championship team for 1976, to face one of the toughest schedules in many years, appeared to be a major fete, considering heavy senior graduation and absence of size from returning linemen. Obviously, the 1976 team could not use power football tactics for most of the teams on the schedule had bigger linemen.

Much of the credit of success rests in the reaction of the players themselves as they have overcome obvious short comings with courage and teamwork. Sure the talent is there, but each player, up and down the roster, has made his contribution.

Surprisingly enough, the 1976 Cyclone team has earned a unique place in school history as being possibly the best defensive team yet. The team Friday night, against Claude, has a shot at shutting out all district teams. Claude, however, has an explosive, wide open passing offense so if the Cyclone defense escapes without giving up points to Claude it will really take a super effort. But Memphis defense has shut out Crowell, River Road, Shamrock, Wellington and Clarendon.

Offensively, lead by QB Don Cofer, passing to several team members, and the rushing of Kirk Fields, Pete Salinas and Rodney Hall, the team has scored two or more TDs in every game, and the offense is liable to score any way, from any point on the field.

As the Cyclone takes the field Friday against Claude, there will be no injuries, because the players have prepared themselves well, and spirits will be running high for a victory and a clear district championship. Let's be at the game and give these players and their coaches the support they deserve.

Last year, Captain Pete Salinas was the only returning all district player, and someone said at the coffee shop, "if we just had an entire team that played with the courage of Salinas we'd really have a ball club." We'd say Pete has a lot of company and we have a ball club.

Livestock Menace Back

Screwworms that scourge of the rancher that has cost millions of dollars, which cost inevitably is passed on to the consumer, are back in force, despite near victory that was celebrated too soon.

North Texas and to a somewhat lesser extent Southwestern Oklahoma, are sharing in this problem. During October, for example, in 13 counties in North Texas 40 cases of screwworm infestation were reported. So far this year in the same area, 67 cases have been reported.

The result is a redoubling of efforts at controlling the spread of the maggots from northern Mexico. In Texas so far this year, a total of 27,082 cases of screwworm infestation have been confirmed, and the growth of the problem from small beginnings is demonstrated by the statewide figures for October: 7,104 cases, almost a fourth of the year's total.

The story of screwworm control is well known. Scientists discovered that the fly that lays the eggs that hatch into screwworms, the flesh-eating larvae that annually can destroy millions of dollars in meat on ranches and farms, mates only once in its lifetime. The solution was to sterilize vast numbers of male screwworm flies to breed with female flies and render them barren.

By interrupting the life cycle, damage from the larvae could be drastically reduced, perhaps even eliminated. But screwworm flies are no respecters of political boundaries and Mexico continued to produce the pests, which moved inexorably northward and reinfested clear areas of Texas, Oklahoma and adjacent states.

Because of the recurrence of screwworms as an economic pest, sterile fly releases are being stepped up and concentrated in the overwintering areas of South Texas. A joint Mexico-U.S. program also will be boosted, with the flies to be released in Mexico just south of the Rio Grande River.

It is hoped this two-pronged attack, coupled with strong preventative efforts by livestock owners to inspect and treat their animals as soon as possible, will reverse this disturbing trend. Perhaps eradication is an unrealistic expectation however, efforts aimed at control unrealistic expectation however, efforts aimed at control

MACHINES!
Machines are replacing people more and more because employers are finding it is easier to get a chivalric device to do a day's work than it is to get people to do so.

Sometimes it is a machine that is given to a worker to step up the output and perhaps take the place of another human worker.

Whatever the reason, it is obvious that machine energy has been replacing people energy for a long time.

If fact, looking back, you have to wonder how things get done in the days when most jobs depended upon a lot of muscle power and downright hard work.

A lot of young farmers would recoil at the idea of scooping wheat from a truck into a granary all day long while their fathers thought this was the only way to do it in the days before machine loaders.

Carpenters used to saw by hand instead of by electric saw. Lumberjacks used to chop a notch and saw trees by hand instead of with a chain saw.

The list is endless of how machines have replaced human labor.

But we are apparently just beginning. A business report we saw the other day offers the disturbing news that secretaries, long regarded as an essential business occupation, now may become "Technologically obsolete." A supplier claims that a company can invest $150,000 in "word processing machines" and eliminate six or more secretaries.

Even bosses might learn to operate machines built to compose error-free letters from previously dictated and coded sentences, stored on magnetic tape.

Already, in the newspaper profession, there are electronic marvels that allow a reporter to write his story, stick it into a slot on a machine and out comes the story set in type, ready to be placed in a page.

Computers already do a lot of work for bookkeepers and banks now provide around-the-clock teller services for most transactions without having a human teller on duty. Around-the-clock devices will issue cash, take deposits and do other services in the middle of the night.

Supermarkets are using magnetic markings on packaged products to activate cash registers and deliver printouts of purchases.

The electronic calculator has revolutionized things, too. These devices are now being used by children of lower grades as well as college students. A major oil company has developed self service fuel pumps that can be activated by a valid credit card.

We are moving into a cashless and maybe workless society.

If we use machines to do our work, our reading, our writing, our talking and thinking, we may become so inert that we will need other machines to do our playing for us.

What will we do with our human energy then?

TOO MUCH VIEWING?

A Researcher at Michigan State University has proved something I have known for many years, to wit: that children memorize television commercials.

I have a little 8-year-old friend whose pretty eyes are glued to the boob screen whenever she is near it, and that is frequently, she chants the words of it right along with the announcer.

The researcher, one of several witnesses before a hearing of Federal Trade Commission, said studies of several hundred preschool and grade school children reveal the children ask their parents to buy the most heavily advertised cereals and candies.

Meanwhile, Redbook magazine reported that a 4-year-old girl in Connecticut was a "loner" until her television viewing was cut to one hour a week for one month in an experiment.

When Suzie's television time was cut down she started asking her kindergarten classmates to come to her home and play, something she had never done before,

No doubt our kids are smarter for having watched television. But it seems to me the wise parent would exercise a bit more control and not use the tube as an indiscriminate babysitter.

For no doubt, too, there can be bad effects.

COTTONSEED AS A FEED

Cow-calf producers consider feeding cottonseed as a winter supplement. Two specialists with the Agricultural Extension Service, Cottonseed has a feeding value — 23 percent protein and 90 percent digestible nutrients. Cows require less of the material than they do of cubes. Cottonseed is about 100 percent compared to $150 per ton for range cubes. Advantages of feeding cottonseed to cows include the ability to handle the material in bulk.

Cattlemen and Cotton Farmers Benefit By Doing Business

ARGE STATION — Cattlemen and cotton farmers could benefit from doing business with each other this year. If cattlemen boost their winter supply by purchasing cottonseed from farmers, they would save on feed costs the same time helping farmers sell their seed.

It was once a common feed, but its use in recent years has declined, pointed out Dr. Herd and Don Parks, Extension specialist and economist, respectively, at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Cattlemen commonly feed cotton oil seeds such as cottonseed, cubes and hulls.

Mr. and Mrs. Gable, who arrived in Memphis last week, said they and Mrs. Parks attend the school to learn more about the feeding value of whole cottonseed.

Mr. Gable's feed value—whole cottonseed, with 23 per cent protein and 90 per cent total digestible nutrients (TDN), is 10-15 per cent more than 50 to 60 per cent digestible energy typical of a cube which may range from 10 to 20 per cent.

The extra energy is helpful in successfully breeding and weaning calves, said Extension specialist Parks. He estimates that feeding 10 pounds of cottonseed may be fed cheaper than 23 pounds of cottonseed.

— 23 per cent protein — 90 per cent TDN — less of the extra energy — they do not use is about $100 to $150 per ton. Range cubes of feeding value include the facilities and handle the material.

10-pound cow nursing should perform about the same when receiving 2 pounds of whole cottonseed or 3.75 pounds of average hay or 3.75 pounds of 20 per cent protein cube, or 10 per cent or less, 25 pounds of hay. Because of the extra energy in cottonseed, fewer are needed, thus allowing greater use of normal hay (22 versus 25 pounds). Greater and nearly equal amounts of supplements would be needed (5 to 6 pounds) if adequate protein is not available. Other protein feeds may be used where forage protein is low.

Costs — Many producers receiving less than $100 per ton for their cottonseed range cubes are costed at $165 per ton (based on quality) and can be purchased for $100 per ton, a cattleman supplement feed a cow at about one-third the cost with whole cottonseed as compared to range cubes. While cottonseed is also an expensive winter feed for pregnant dry cows.

Disadvantages associated with supplementing with whole cottonseed, Parks list these: — The rancher must have storage facilities for cottonseed because it is harvested before winter feeding begins. — Producers commonly store cottonseed to their own harvest to recoup costs. A rancher making competitive bids to farmers prior to or after cotton harvest would purchase direct from the farmer. The cottonseed received from the gin would not be fed until fed.

Handling — Cottonseed stored in bulk will handle as easily as supplemental feed purchased in sacks. Feed troughs may be required for cottonseed where cattlemen have fed cubes on the ground.

November, December Is A Good Time To Collect Soil Samples

Profitable fertilization depends on utilizing soil nutrients. Although most soils contain some of all the essential nutrients needed for plant growth, the amounts vary greatly between soils due to past fertilization and cropping as well as native fertility. Thus a soil test is a good method for measuring soil nutrient levels, contends Darrell Renfroe, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The first step in soil testing is to use a map or sketch and divide the farm and fields into sampling units or areas. If the area represented by each sample is too large, the information obtained may not be much better than a general fertilizer recommendation.

Under today's conditions, a major objective in soil testing is to determine the level of available nutrients in a soil so that fertilizers can be selected that will supplement the soil supply and provide enough for top yields, points out Renfroe.

Soil test results for phosphorus are especially valuable for fields that have received regular applications of phosphorus for several years. The residual from row applications of phosphorus may be difficult to measure until it is thoroughly mixed with the soil. In addition, many soils are high in potassium but most are low in nitrogen. The rate of nitrogen and time of application depends on the crop, soil and other conditions. All this points to the importance of considering the level of each nutrient in a soil in selecting the most profitable fertilization practice, notes Dr. Renfroe.

If you have not included soil tests in your farm planning program, start now to prepare for next year, advises the County agent. Information on collecting and mailing soil samples is available from the county Extension office or local fertilizer dealers.

"I WAS A TEEN-AGE IDEALIST."

It was easier to be an idealist in 1946, there's no doubt about it. But despite all we've been through in the last 30 years, we Americans still have reason to believe in ourselves and our country. Despite the kinks and flaws, our economic and governmental systems are still going strong. Maybe they don't work the way we'd like them to all the time, but we've still got the freedom to improve them.

American business clearly has a job to do if we're going to achieve the kind of society we all want. And so do you. If America isn't working to your satisfaction, do something about it. Write. Vote. Stand up and be heard. Together, let's get America back on the track and moving again.

Today, America needs all the idealism she can get.

Shrinkage In Today's Fabric Is Explained

COLLEGE STATION — Some garments made of natural fibers and woven fabrics may shrink more in washing than the consumer had planned. Such shrinkage can affect the utility of a garment, Marlene Odle, a clothing specialist, says.

"Although today most fabrics are pre-shrunk to eliminate such a size problem, most garments or fabrics over-the-counter that has two to three per cent residual shrinkage can change the size of a garment noticeably. Garments marked as such usually have special care instructions to prevent shrinkage, which can be controlled with special treatment. A good example of this is cotton gauze shirts or tops", she said.

Miss Odle is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"If uncertain about the shrinking qualities of a garment, flatwork ironing tends to stretch fabrics. Dry the garment on a flat surface. Arrange the garment for pressing by applying some tension to the fabric to straighten the yarns. Press the garment lying in this position. Mechanical tumble drying can cause more shrinkage," the specialist said.

If, however, the consumer finds that the shrinkage is excessive, ever hand ironing, the garment should be returned to the stores where it was purchased, she advised.

"Fabrics-by-the-yard used in homesewing should be washed and machine dried before the garment is cut out. This will eliminate any surprises after the garment is washed."

AG Opinions

Texas law does not prohibit municipalities from being local prime sponsors under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act if permitted by local charter to provide the types of services contemplated by CETA, Atty. Gen. John Hill said.

Counties also may serve as sponsors under statutory duties to provide for poor persons. The State Board for Vocational Education may impose reasonable limitations in providing vocational education services to prime sponsors with Briscoe, acting under responsibilities as chief executive officer of the coastal state adjacent to the project, notified U. S. Secretary of Transportation William T. Coleman Jr. of his decision.

He said the application has had attention of 21 state and local agencies and has been found to provide sufficient environmental protection and modern design technology.

The project would be located 26 miles southeast of Freeport and would have initial capacity to offload 2.5 million barrels of oil daily from very large crude carriers (VLCC's) and other oil freighters.

Courts Speak

When a person is committed to a mental institution indefinitely, there should be no "reasonable doubt" of insanity, the Third Court of Civil Appeals held.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the death penalty of a man for killing a store manager he had robbed two weeks earlier.

Texas Supreme Court held a High Plains water district has authority to order a landowner to re-quip his underground well more than six years after the drilling permit was issued.

The Supreme Court again turned down a state effort to try as an adult a youth charged with killing an airman in 1974. The crime took place nine days before the slayer's 17th birthday.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — Gov. Dolph Briscoe is backing an $850 million boost in state spending for schools.

He unveiled his plan to a meeting of school officials here last week.

Addressing 3,000 school superintendents and board members, he also specified this condition: his legislation is conditioned on establishment by lawmakers of a ceiling on local school taxes.

A key provision in the Briscoe program would hike the state's share of support for the Foundation School Program from 75 per cent to 90 per cent of the total, at a cost of $640 million. The state now spends about $2 billion a year on the program.

Indications are the resulting decrease in "local fund assignment" would bring a saving to taxpayers of about 26 cents on the $100 property valuation.

Briscoe also presented proposed new market value statistics for school districts, estimating the state's taxable property for school purposes is $238 billion, an increase of $78 million over the values used by legislators in writing the 1975 school finance act.

The governor's program did not provide money for an increase in teacher salaries, although he may make a separate recommendation later.

Briscoe also suggested a $50 million increase in school operating and maintenance spending, a $25 million increase in transportation allocations, $15 million for staffing in small rural schools, a $100 million increase in equalization aid for districts with low tax bases and $10 million to upgrade school district tax offices.

Revenues Increase

Texas state government collected a record $8 billion in revenue during fiscal 1976 and spent $6.4 billion, leaving a cash balance of $1.6 billion. The balance increased by $200 million since the beginning of the fiscal year, according to Comptroller Bob Bullock's annual report.

Bullock said total state revenues climbed 16 per cent over fiscal 1975 levels, while expenditures rose 15.3 per cent.

"Texans regained confidence in the economy quicker than the average national consumer, and their spending — combined with inflation — pushed all consumer tax revenues to new highs," Bullock said. "And oil and gas production tax income has never faltered."

Bullock calculated tax revenues of 3.9 billion, $1.8 billion in federal funds, $340 million in licenses and fees, $234 million in investment income and $246 million in income from state-owned lands.

State government finances and the Texas economy "have grown as strong as a Brahma bull," according to the comptroller.

Seadock Approved

Gov. Briscoe announced approval of the application of Seadock Inc. to construct and operate a deepwater port off the Texas coast.

Appointments

Richard D. Latham will succeed Roy W. Mauer as State Securities Commissioner January 1. Latham is enforcement division director for the commission.

Gov. Briscoe appointed Lynn Ingalsbe of Abilene criminal district attorney for the 42nd and 104th judicial districts (Callahan, Jones and Taylor counties), succeeding Ed Paynter of Abilene who resigned.

Election Over

The Texas legislature, in the wake of the November 2 election, remains in control of conservative Democrats.

However, representatives will include three more women (10), two more Republicans (18), four more blacks (12) and four more Mexican-Americans (17). Labor claimed a gain of friendly House members from 59 to 66. Mexican-Americans gained a third senate seat.

Jimmy Carter carried the state by nearly 53 per cent of the vote in the presidential race. U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen won re-election by a majority of more than 57 per cent. Jon Newton was elected easily to the Railroad Commission, and Don Yarbrough coasted to victory over two write-in opponents in the Supreme Court race.

People Use The Phrase "I'm Sorry" Many Times, What Does It Mean?

COLLEGE STATION — People use the phrase "I'm sorry" countless times daily. It is a magic combination, a cure-all for the guilty, which serves primarily to gloss over what has happened. Deuby Johnson, a family life education specialist, says.

"It doesn't really matter that one isn't truly sorry — what matters is that one has apologized for the accident, mistake, misunderstanding or whatever."

Miss Johnson is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Unfortunately, saying 'I'm sorry' won't make a broken heart heal, a missed opportunity recur, a lie become a truth, or a loved one come back to life. Many of us would like to believe things could happen, based on the frequency — and often insincerity and thoughtlessness — with which we spout off the words.

"Teaching young children, I noticed early that many, deliberately or not, hurt another person, and when I discussed the incident with them, they simply said they 'were sorry'."

"In most cases, children are 'forced' by their parents and teachers to apologize constantly, saying 'Tell Jimmy you're sorry you tripped him,' or 'Tell your sister you're sorry you broke her toy.'"

"What if the child isn't sorry? True, children need to be taught right from wrong at an early age, but parents are really teaching two other concepts: first, the child is lying to himself and to the other child, and second, he learns that 'I'm sorry' will correct all wrong and smooth over the misdeed," the specialist said.

But what should parents do when their child hurts another child or destroys someone else's property?

"It's okay for one mother to apologize to another for what her child did with something like 'I'm sorry David broke Tim's truck.' Then privately discuss the situation with the destructive child, find out why he did it and suggest ways of dealing with anger and frustration.

"You might try, 'When you are mad at Tim, tell him you are with words', or 'I understand that Tim made you mad, but if you only hit him, then he doesn't understand.'"

"If after that, the child is truly sorry for what he did and understands his own feelings, he may take it upon himself to say he is sorry. The point is that as a parent, you have not forced 'I'm sorry' on your child as the solution to all problems. Instead, you have taught him to respect the meaning of the words and to internalize his values so that he himself knows when they are appropriate," she pointed out.

This phenomenon doesn't end in childhood — it follows right by "I'm sorry," with no explanation or discussion. Most adults simply are not satisfied with such superficial means of dealing with a problem, she noted.

"Just imagine the reaction if someone made a grown adult say 'I'm sorry' when he fair mean it. So is it really fair to perpetuate internal dishonesty by emphasizing an apology in every situation?"

"What this says, in effect, is that feelings are not innermost thoughts and should always be dealt with honestly. It is only when we have a clear understanding of our own feelings that we can ever hope to have a mature relationship with anyone. The groundwork is laid early in life, for healthy emotional development — the meaningless use of apologies seems to each mistruth, not truth," she pointed out.

Luscious North Carolina yams are available in your market in peak supply from October through April. Take advantage of the plentiful supply and bring them to your table in a variety of ways. They're delicious baked, mashed or candied, and make many wonderful desserts. The versatile yam is also a very nutritious vegetable with a high amount of vitamins A and C.

Farmers Urged Check Labels Feed Bags

COLLEGE STATION — Farmers buying certified seed should pay particular attention to the labels on the seed bags. There's been a change, says Robert B. Metzger, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

As of next year, certified seed must bear a label — one certifying variety and the other indicating a number of seed purity factors," points out Metzger.

Metzger explains the new certification labeling this way. "Take cottonseed, for example. TAMCOT sold as certified seed must bear a label (blue in color) that indicates that the seed is indeed the SP37 variety. The certification label will show net weight, kind and variety and who produced the seed, but nothing on quality factors. A second label on the seed bag will list the various quality factors mentioned above and will tell the farmer the percentage that the seed contains, such as the per cent of weed seed.

"The main thing for farmers to remember when buying certified seed for the 1977 crop is to look at both labels on the seed bag," emphasizes Metzger. "Both labels must be checked to get the complete story on the seed."

The change in seed certification standards in Texas came about recently in an effort to assure a more dependable supply of certified seed and to give seedmen more flexibility in producing seed for different markets, explains the specialist. The change also establishes uniformity with the Federal Seed

Act and encourages international seed trade.

Seed that is certified for genetic identity has been produced and processed under standards and procedures established by the Texas Seed and Plant Board and enforced by the Texas Department of Agriculture to assure that the variety is as represented by the certification label accompanying the seed. That's the blue label.

The other label on the seed bag gives specific information on various quality factors that farmers need to know in selecting their seed.

With our connections, we can supply all the gas you'll need.

Lone Star's existing gas reserves will meet the requirements of all of our customers for the next 12½ years, based on 1975 consumption rates.

What about the thirteenth year — and beyond — when these reserves are depleted?

Fortunately, Lone Star is in a position to buy new gas reserves that could last our customers far into the 21st century.

We're in the right place at the right time. And we have all of the right connections.

Lone Star's pipeline system enters eight of the nine major gas producing areas in Texas and Oklahoma.

Our transmission lines cross areas which contain over 50% of the remaining on-shore gas reserves in the continental U.S.

This strong network puts Lone Star in one of the most favorable buying positions of any natural gas company.

All we need is the money to buy ahead. The price of gas will keep increasing, because producers will have to drill much deeper and more costly wells to develop new reserves.

It's going to take a lot of money to secure this area's share of these reserves. Unfortunately, Lone Star's ability to bid successfully for new reserves hinges greatly on the existence of adequate rates for the gas we sell.

The time to begin an aggressive resupply program is now, while we have a competitive buying edge and while economical gas is available.

With a fair return on our necessary investment, we can make the long-term financial commitments that will assure our customers all the natural gas they'll need for decades to come. And we will.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

AUSTIN—One of the least understood of the taxes I administer is the use tax.

Few people realize that when the Texas Legislature enacted the state sales tax, it also enacted the use tax. Actually, the tax is called the "Sales AND Use Tax."

Essentially, the use tax affects purchases that wouldn't be covered by the sales tax: if one doesn't get you, the other one will. Both are four percent.

We've made some effort to inform the public about the use tax, but it hasn't done the job yet. Out auditors still find that most merchants don't understand the use tax.

As a matter of fact, many of the questions raised about the use tax have come from the news media themselves—many of whom have been audited and required to pay the use tax they didn't know they owed.

Technically, the use tax is a tax on the storage, use, or consumption, within the State of Texas, of taxable items purchased, leased or rented on which the Texas sales tax has not been paid.

The use tax applies to taxable items purchased out of state and later used in Texas. The most frequent examples are boats, aircraft, machinery and equipment.

Many newspapers, radio and television stations have learned belatedly that their printing or broadcasting equipment—purchased from out-of-state firms—is subject to the use tax.

Other businesses, such as banks—who wouldn't think of themselves as subject to the sales tax—have learned that they owe the use tax on sophisticated equipment they bought out of state and put to work for them.

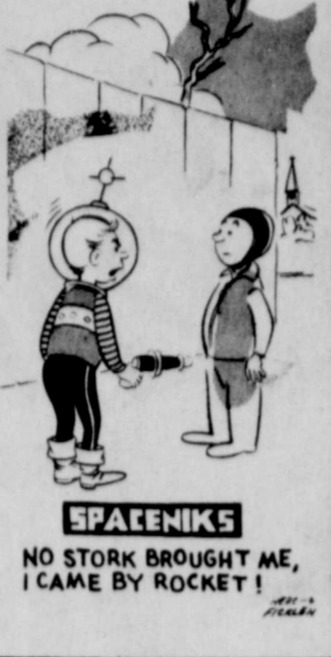

The use tax also applies to taxable items bought tax-free because they were intended for resale, but later converted to personal use or consumed in the regular course of business.

An example: if a grocery store buys brooms for resale—then uses some of them to sweep out the store, the use tax is due on those used in the store.

IF YOU HAVE ANY STATE TAX PROBLEMS OR QUESTIONS, CONTACT YOUR LOCAL COMPTROLLER'S FIELD OFFICE OR CALL TOLL-FREE: 1-800-252-5555.

New Tax Legislation Affects Estate Planning For Farm, Ranch Families

COLLEGE STATION — The new tax legislation that has just become law will have a big effect on farm and ranch families, contends Tom Prater, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Most of the legislation is effective after Dec. 31, 1976, although gifts are effective as of Sept. 8, and trusts as of April 30.

"One item in the legislation that will affect the estate planning and management of Texas farm and ranch lands," says Prater. "This will reduce the valuation below the fair market value approach which is now used."

However, there are qualification considerations for using the "current use" value: 50 per cent or more of the adjusted value of the gross estate consists of real personal farm and ranch property and passes to a qualified heir (member of family).

25 per cent or more of the adjusted value of the gross estate consists of such real property.

Such properties use for which five of the past eight years before the descendant's death was qualified and was used in business in which the descendant or a member of the descendant's family materially participated.

"The new tax law will also increase the exemption level as far as estate taxes are concerned," points out Prater. "A unified tax table would include estate taxes and gifts."

The economist cites these examples of estate taxes. Starting in 1977, there will be a tax credit of $30,000 for any estate having a death; $34,000 in 1978; $38,000 in 1979; $42,500 in 1980; and $47,000 in 1981 and thereafter. Comparing this to the exemption equivalent would mean $120,667 in 1977; $134,000 in 1978; $147,333 in 1979; $161,563 in 1980; and $175,625 in 1981 per individual.

The new tax bill also provides a change in marital deductions, enabling one spouse to leave $250,000 or one-half of the estate, whichever is greater, to the surviving spouse. In addition to this deduction, there is an additional $100,000 lifetime marital deduction gift exemption that one spouse can give to the other spouse with no tax, notes Prater. This has to come from separate property.

"Another important feature of paying estate taxes over 15 years at 4 per cent interest if 65 per cent of the adjusted tax estate qualifies as a farm, ranch or closely held business. The federal government will have a first lien on property during this period of tax payout," explains Prater.

The recapture of estate taxes is also affected by the new legislation. If a farm or ranch is sold out of a family within 10 years, estate taxes on the total fair market value can be recaptured. If the property is held 10 to 15 years, the taxes can be partially recaptured.

State of Texas inheritance laws remain the same.

"All of these plus other changes brought on by the new tax legislation make it important for managers and owners of farms and ranches to review and revise estate plans so that all management opportunities are realized," emphasizes Prater.

Ardella Lorene Benson: Administrator.

Guest rooms in Leisure Lodge Nursing Centers are large, comfortable, well-furnished, light and cheerful.

We have everything you'll find at any nursing home, plus a whole lot more. First of all, we have Licensed Nurses on duty around the clock. But what we have the most of, is FUN, and that's why our guests like it so well here.

At Leisure Lodge, spacious and well-appointed living rooms are a center of activity, where guests gather to visit, read, watch television.

It doesn't cost any more to live at Leisure Lodge than any other home. Don't let our nice building and grounds and our pretty decor fool you. It may look like an expensive place to live, but it isn't. In fact, it doesn't cost a bit more to live here than at any other nursing home. We'd love to have you visit our home anytime, at your convenience. We're proud of Leisure Lodge Nursing Center, and we'd like for you to see it anytime. And especially, if you are in need of professional care; if you are living by yourself or with some family member who is unable for any reason to give you the attention and help you need; if you're just lonely for companionship; or if you know anyone in one of these categories — call or come by Leisure Lodge Nursing Center. Find out how much FUN living can be. You'll be glad you did!

Handcrafts and other activities are a large part of the program of rehabilitative care which is typical of every Leisure Lodge home.

Persons Who Move Should Notify SS Office

By JIM TALBOT
District Manager
Amarillo So. Security Office

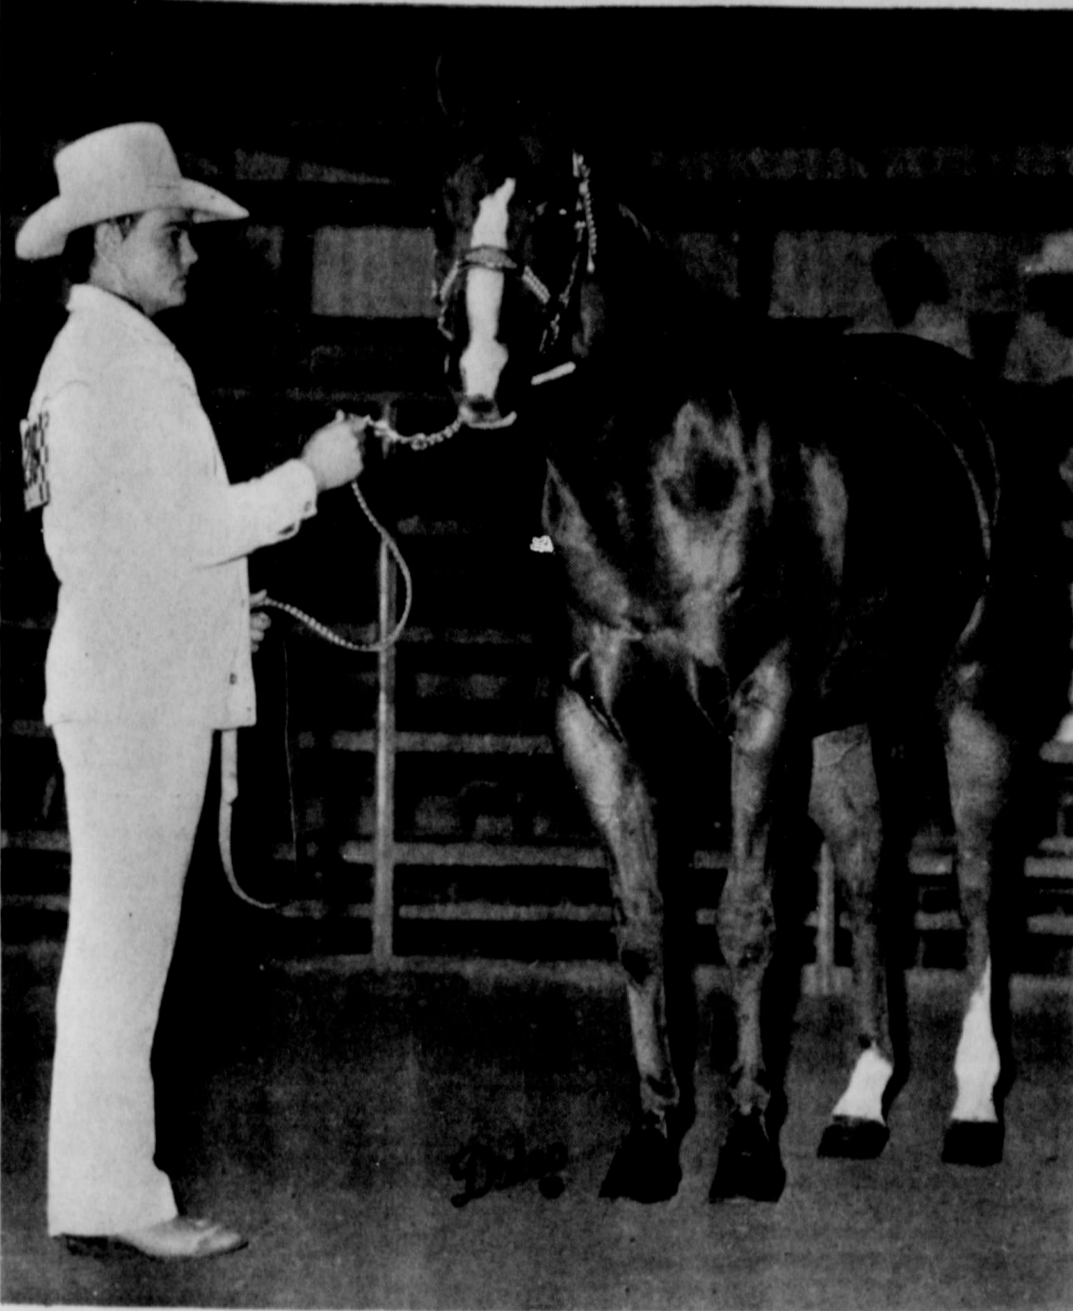

If you receive a monthly social security check and plan to move across the street, across town or across the country, the Social Security Administration should be notified promptly of your change of address. You can do this by calling or visiting your local security office at 317 East Third Street in Amarillo, phone 376-2241.

About one out of every eight social security beneficiaries has elected to have his social security check sent directly to his bank account. This process has worked very smoothly with no delays in the issuance of social security checks.

Many social security beneficiaries have expressed appreciation for the direct deposit procedure, because it saves them from making a special trip to the bank. For others it eliminates any worry that the social security check might be lost or stolen. Some beneficiaries like the direct deposit procedure because they know the money will be available to them even if they are away from home on a vacation trip when the check arrives.

The Government will also save money by sending social security checks directly to banks. There is a savings in postage and check handling costs as well as fewer lost or stolen checks.

If you wish to arrange for the direct deposit of your social security check, you should contact your bank or savings and loan association to complete form SF-1199.

TO ENTER QUARTER HORSE SWOW—Chris Molloy of Lakeview is pictured above with his American Quarter Horse, Dandy Bar Ricker, that he will enter in the 1976 World Championship Quarter Horse Show in Oklahoma City Nov. 18-22. To qualify for this invitational show, horses must earn a pre-determined number of points by competing at AQHA shows held in 1976.

AM University Hold Estate Planning Seminar

COLLEGE STATION — Tax legislation affecting estate planning is of interest to farmers and others. And the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is trying to do as much as possible to enlighten agricultural producers on this issue.

A major effort in Extension's educational program regarding estate planning will be a seminar Dec. 9-10 at the Center on the Texas A&M University campus.

The two-day event will be held with many of the key speakers in estate planning, with a special emphasis on the planning section of the new tax reform bill. Also featured will be the preparation of estate tax returns, community property as it relates to estate tax, various forms of farm ownership, and problems of estate administration, points out E. Prater, Extension specialist in management & organization of the upcoming year.

The major areas of estate planning will be discussed in a series of special work sessions on such matters as trusts, wills, considerations, Internal Revenue Service procedures, insurance.

According to Prater, the seminar will feature an outstanding slate of speakers who are attorneys, IRS officials, bank trust officers, insurance representatives, and professors at Texas A&M University.

The opening address will be given by Dr. Daniel C. Pfannkuch, Extension Service director.

Prater emphasizes that the seminar is for professionals as well as anyone else interested in obtaining a deeper understanding of estate planning, especially those working with agricultural producers.

He encourages anyone interested in attending the seminar to register in advance. For registration information, write E. Prater, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University Station, Texas 77843, or contact county Extension office.

Invitation Is Extended To Attend Jamboree

According to Joe Chambers, Scout Executive of the Adobe Walls, applications for the 1977 National Scout Jamboree are available at the council office for those Scouts who wish to attend.

The jamboree, to be held August 3-9, 1977, at Moraine State Park near Butler, Pa., just 70 miles north of Pittsburgh, will be attended by slightly more than 21,000 boys from across the country.

Chambers said, "We have set our qualifications rather high so that boys with outstanding records and leadership potential will attend." Afterward those who attended will share their experience with various troops in the Adobe Walls Council.

Thousands of Scouts will be involved in a week of working, learning and living with Scouts from all 50 states and over 300 brother Scouts from most of the 109 member nations of the world Scouting movement. Thirty-six Scouts and four leaders will represent our council.

The Council Executive said, "This is going to be the 'summit conference' of Scouting, one where all of the 'south-craft' skills and techniques will be blended with other program events to be shared with the various troops we work with."

First National Bank Announces Unique Service For Customers

The First National Bank today announced a unique service which enables its customers to cash checks for up to $200 at more than 3,000 banking locations in 44 states.

Larry Parks, vice president, said the new program is part of the first coast-to-coast check cashing service in the U. S.

Called BANCLUB CHE-CASH, the service provides check cashing for customers at more than 3,000 bank locations across the country which are member banks of Banclub Association. Banclub is administered nationally by Financial Institution Services, Inc., of Nashville, Tenn.

The new service was made possible through an agreement signed in October by Financial Institution Services and Telecredit, Inc., the 15-year old Los Angeles - headquartered check and credit card authorization company.

To cash a personal check, the customer - member presents his Banclub membership card and driver's license at any Banclub Association member bank location. The bank contacts Telecredit, which within seconds approves the check or declines it, based upon current negative information.

For each check cashed, the customer - member pays

$2.50, which is deducted at the time he receives his cash.

The First National offers to all checking account customers the Banclub program for a monthly fee of only $3.00. Services include unlimited check writing with a minimum balance, personalized checks, $10,000 accidental death insurance, travelers checks without issue charge, national discounts and other banking services.

Highway Theft Costs State Over $750,000

CHILDRESS—It costs the people of Texas some $750 thousand dollars each year because a few people steal or damage traffic signs, lights, barricades and other traffic control devices. In fact, it seems to be the fashionable thing to do among certain groups of people.

It's very simple to go out at night and steal one of the bright red stop signs that adorn countless bedrooms and dens throughout the state. And it doesn't take much skill to destroy a yield sign or flashing light when a shotgun or rifle is used at close range. And it only takes a few seconds to ruin a sign when a can of spray paint is used. Of course, anyone with a vehicle that has enough clearance and a strong bumper can just drive right over sign posts and the delineators at the side of the road.

The sad thing is, these things happen frequently throughout the state. In the thirteen - county area of District 25, with headquarters in Childress, some $36,000 was spent between September 1, 1975 and August 1, 1976, just to replace signs stolen or damaged.

That beautiful 48" stop sign in the bedroom, the one that adds so much to the decor, cost the state a minimum of $70 to replace when labor and equipment costs are included.

That's not the entire story . . . there's another side that needs to be told. Not too long ago, in East Texas, a multiple fatality occurred when two cars met in a highway intersection. One of the cars didn't stop for a stop sign . . . the reason was that the stop sign had been stolen only a short time before. The sign, which probably was used for a wall decoration, cost several human lives.

Persons apprehended in relation to stolen or damaged signs or signals can be fined as much as $200 for each offense, plus court costs and the cost of replacing the property they took or destroyed. It just doesn't seem fair, somehow, that the decorating whims of a few should cost the state so much money . . . and cost fellow Texans so much grief and suffering.

And there's yet another side of the story. Everytime a sign or light is stolen or damaged, it means the cost of replacement will have to be taken from the money used for highway repair. The rough section of roadway you dislike so much might have been repaired months ago if all the signs and other traffic devices had been left unharmed.

To put it simply, it's serious business when someone steals or destroys a sign or other signal device. If you happen to be one of the guilty parties, you may have already been the cause of an accident . . . and it's for sure you cost the people of Texas some of the money needed for other things.

Maybe, after reading this, you will confine your decorating tastes to other areas if you are of the people who has taken a sign from the highway system. Or, maybe you'll confine your shooting and spray painting to the proper places.

Maybe, after reading this, you may want to take the sign off your wall because it could be that your friends find it so pretty anymore.

And it might be that you aren't one of the few who take signs and damage other devices, but you know where some signs are that can be used again. If so, notify the nearest office of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation. Questions will be asked.

In the future, let's work together and preserve signs and signals on our highways. They are there to preserve all of us.

FEED ADDITIVE TEST IN BREEDING HERDS
Research conducted by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists shows that monensin, a new feed additive cleared only for feedlot rations, may be profitable to the beef breeder with no ill effects. The search conducted at Oren by D. R. D. Rangel tests the effect of monensin on growth and reproductive performance of heifers as well as its effect upon lactation and calf and cow performance.

Food poisoning danger increases during Thanksgiving because even usually careful cooks have to deal with unique problems of amounts and timing. Even the traditional turkey poses a problem, the Texas Medical Association says.
A stuffed turkey is a tempting treat for both people and farms. Germs thrive on the ingredients in stuffing and the warm, moist inside of a turkey is a perfect breeding ground. The thick turkey meat protects germs from heat or cold that usually would kill them.
The best way to avoid potential problems is to cook turkey and stuffing separatly. If you do decide to stuff the turkey, store stuffing in the refrigerator separate from the bird. Stuff the turkey just before cooking. Use a meat thermometer to make sure the interior of the stuffing reaches 165 degrees fahrenheit. Take out all leftover stuffing and refrigerate bird and stuffing separately.
Even food kept at proper temperatures can pick up dangerous germs if it comes in contact with dirty hands, contaminated raw food or dirty utensils.
Thawing the turkey also can be tricky. Doing it wrong not, they should be refrigerated and used within three to five days after purchase.

Another major food poisoning danger comes from food which sits out too long.
Germs can grow to a dangerous level on food left out two or more hours. Many dangerous germs do not change the taste, color or odor of food.
To be sure food is safe, keep everything either below 40 degrees fahrenheit or above 140 degrees fahrenheit until it is served.

$12,000 Grant Approved For Planning Four-Co. Detention Center

AUSTIN—Governor Dolph Briscoe signed a multi-county jail and detention pilot project in the amount of $12,000.

Collingsworth, Hall, Donley and Wheeler Counties will participate in this project. The grant is for the planning of a four-county detention center. These funds are for preliminary plans for remodeling and possible expansions of the existing jail facility into a multi-county jail and juvenile detention facility.

Also approved by the Governor was a criminal justice planning grant of $44,311 to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

The local grants were among 101 approved by Governor Briscoe from Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) funds under the Crime Control Act of 1973.

Memphis Cyclones

The Memphis coaches announced outstanding players at Tuesday night's Cyclone Boosters Club after the team's performance against Clarendon was graded.

Quarterback Don Cofer was given the offensive back certificate, and Cofer was one of the candidates for Amarillo Globe-News Class A player of the week. Tracy Galloway was cited as the defensive safety, and Doug Morgan was named defensive lineman. Tackle Val Stone was selected offensive lineman and Pete Salinas received the "big lick" certificate.

Coach McMurray took opportunity to present certificates to the three Memphis receivers who caught touchdowns against Clarendon. Certificates were given Anthony Johnson, Kirk Fields and Ricky Guy.

"It's certainly unique to have three different receivers catching TD passes in one game," Coach McMurray said.

Coach McMurray was asked about the Cyclones' defense which had not allowed a score in conference play. "Our defense already has the best record of any of my teams, allowing fewer points than even the 1974 squad which shut out five opponents and allowed 58 points in 10 regular season games. In nine games, this year our defense has shut out five opponents and allowed 45 points," he said.

The game Friday night against Claude should prove interesting because many of the Mustangs will be playing their final game of their high school career as Claude carries 16 seniors on their ball club.

ARMANDE DELLA-MARIA, director of beauty for Chanel in Paris, wonders what skin care and beauty products Coco Chanel would have introduced if she had been alive today.

And she won't let go, even in death.

"In France, when we introduced the cosmetics, we were right in the middle of the oil crisis and we were a little worried about the reaction. But we have done very well," Ms. Della-Maria said.

Yes, she agreed, perhaps there is a certain stability in the name Chanel that people wish to grasp.

"But I would even go further. I would say there's a kind of magic in the name."

Don Curl To Head Scout Fund Drive

Don Curl, hospital administrator, was named today to head the Annual Scout Fund Drive for the Memphis area, according to Adobe Walls Council vice president Frank Phelan.

He also stated that Eagle Scout Dan Curl represented the Adobe Walls Council in The Bi-Centennial Celebration in Washington D. C. during the Summer, a gathering of two thousand Eagle Scouts from across the U.S.

Memphis Cyclone Shuts Out Arch-Rival Clarendon 26-0

Memphis Cyclone took a victory over arch-rival Clarendon Friday night at Clarendon Stadium, while Clarendon was defeating the Mustangs, and Memphis won the right to host District 2-A in Blount County.

Clarendon was the winner of this game in the regular season and as both teams have won offenses this game was exciting.

Memphis was a decided favorite going into the game against Clarendon. The only concern was the fact that Clarendon was homecoming at the Cyclone was off the big game against Clarendon. Several local players, though not injured, were still feeling the knocks from the game a week before.

Clarendon, on the other hand, had rested a week and the Cyclone was expected to play their best game of the season. Going all out, Coach Jerry Wilson decided a special offense was his quarterback, Steve Flemmons, and using Dan Galloway at quarterback.

Clarendon's defense was to the task of stopping the Cyclone rushing attack, while QB Don Cofer carried four scoring drives and guaranteed the victory for the Cyclone's third ranked Cy-Fair team in the Harris Rating system.

First Half Action

The Cyclone kicked off to Clarendon's Kirk Fields who carried the ball 15 yards before being dropped on the 28. Memphis came driving, as a Cofer pass went incomplete, and a pass to End Anthony Johnson was picked off by Clarendon's Howard Weatherton and the Cyclone had the field position on the 41.

Clarendon had not been upon in district play, the Cyclone came as anyone had, as Barry Schaffer and John Hall and Weatherton alternated and marched down the field.

Clarendon was fourth down and one yard to go. QB Weatherton tried on the sneak and a first to the Memphis three more running plays to the 35 but it meant short again. Weatherton tried the first on a sneak, Barry Schaffer found day outside and raced for yards, the longest gainer in the drive giving Clarendon a first on the Memphis 20.

Schafer carried for three consecutive plays and moved to the Memphis 7-yd. line. But here the Cyclone defense rose to the occasion, dropping Weatherton for no gain, then holding Keith Topper for one yard and dropping Schafer for only three yards. Facing fourth and three, the Cyclone elected to go for the field goal with the kicking tee. The kick was a spiral and missed the left-hand goal post by several feet so Memphis took over on the 20.

The Cyclone put together an 80-yd. touchdown drive, mixing running and passing plays. FB Kirk Fields got the drive going with two carries totaling 11 yards and a first down.

Then TB Steve Flemmons was held for no gain, and Fields managed only four. Going to the air, QB Cofer appeared unshaken by the prior interception as he fired a strike to End Johnson for a 13-yd. gain to the Memphis 47.

On the next play, Cofer found End Tracy Galloway open and laid the football into his arms on the sideline for 17 yards and another first.

Clarendon was called for late hitting on the next play as Flemmons carried and Memphis had a first down on the Clarendon 21.

The Cyclone was penalized five yards on the second down, nullifying a big 15-yd. carry by FB Fields, after WB Terry Allard had picked up two yards on the first. Memphis tried a pass to FB Fields which was just out of reach, and then Cofer fired the football to End Johnson at the goal line marker on the northwest end of the field and Johnson made the catch but officials ruled he was out-of-bounds.

Facing 4th and 13, QB Cofer came back to End Johnson who had slipped behind Clarendon's No. 5, Weatherton, and Johnson made a catch of the football in the endzone for the score. The play went for 24 yards. Cofer kicked the point after off the finger of holder Tracy Galloway who took a perfect snap from Center Danny Murdock and the score was 7-0. There was 1:30 left in the first quarter.

The Cyclone was held, and punted the football to Memphis on the Cyclone 39. FB Fields on carries of nine and seven yards moved for a first to the Clarendon 45. The Broncho defense got tough stopping Flemmons for no gain, then dropping Fields for a five-yd. loss back to midfield.

Then, QB Cofer laid a swing pass into the arms of FB Fields who was wide open and Fields open - field running ability was too much for Broncho defenders as he dodged his way to paydirt. Cofer's kick after was good. The play covered 50 yards.

Throughout the rest of the second quarter, Clarendon couldn't manage a first down, while Memphis managed only one drive which ended on the Clarendon 37. Half ended 14-0.

Second Half Action

The crowning of Miss Kim Wynn, head cheerleader, as MHS Homecoming Queen highlighted halftime activities.

Don Cofer kicked off for Memphis opening second half play, and Clarendon's Tony Wallace returned the football to the Broncho 31.

Three running plays netted four yards, so the Bronchos punter kicked a long high punt, fielded by Anthony Johnson about the Memphis 30. Johnson looked like he would be bottled up but he broke loose from two defenders and found a wall of blockers down the east sideline and raced 70 yards for the touchdown.

On the extra point attempt, the snap got loose and QB Cofer picked it up and passed to End Johnson in the end zone but the pass was tipped away so the score was 20-0.

Memphis got another drive going after Clarendon punted to the Memphis 29.

A pass to End Ricky Guy picked up nine and a half yards on third down, after two other passes went incomplete. Memphis picked up first down yardage to the Memphis 41. Cofer then passed for 8 yards to WB Allard. Then, FB Fields made six yards and a first to the Clarendon 44.

Sophomore Woodrow Richardson came in to the Cyclone backfield for Steve Flemmons, and Richardson broke loose for 24 yards to the Clarendon 20.

Memphis stayed on the ground for the next four plays, making eight on three plays. QB Cofer carried on the option but Clarendon had the play well covered and the Bronchos took over on their own 14.

Clarendon's Schaffer broke loose on the next play and gained 21 yards before being downed. But, on the next play a fumble was recovered by lineman Steve Browning for Memphis on the Bronchos 33.

FIELDS CARRIES—Cyclone Fullback Kirk Fields, pictured above carrying for an eight-yard gain against Clarendon in the first half, was the Cyclone's leading rusher with 89 yards on 17 carries. Other Cyclones pictured are No. 7 Steve Flemmons and No. 35 Rodney Hall (right).

This began a five-play scoring drive, the Cyclone's last of the evening.

QB Cofer carried for four yards and for three yards, then gave to FB Woodrow Richardson who made a first to the 19-yd. line.

TB Fields carried for six yards to the 13. Then QB Cofer passed to End Ricky Guy in the endzone for the score. Cofer's PAT kick was no good and the score was 26 to 0 at the end of the third period.

The Cyclone's defensive lineman Doug Morgan recovered a Clarendon fumble on the Broncho 36 giving Memphis another scoring opportunity, early in the fourth period.

QB Cofer found End Johnson with a 13-yd. pass beginning this drive. Then Fields made four and Cofer added eight more moving to the Clarendon 11.

Woodrow Richardson scored on the next play but Memphis drew a 15-yd. penalty. WB Rodney Hall carried for eight yards, picking up some of the yardage. Then Hall made three more. QB Cofer carried for nine yards and Memphis had fourth and five for a first or six for the TD. QB Cofer passed into the endzone for Tracy Galloway but Clarendon's Tony Wallace slapped the pass down just inches away from Galloway's hands.

The Bronchos got a long drive going as the final minutes of the game ran out. Aided by a 15-yd. penalty against Memphis defense and a 15-yd. penalty for rough ing the punter, the Bronchos had first down on their own 27. Weatherton got loose for a 22-yd. gain on a fourth and two play. Weatherton picked up another first on the Memphis 15 with .07 seconds left. Weatherton took the hand-off on the last play of the game but he was swarmed under as Memphis shut out the Bronchos for the first time in many years.

Memphis extended its winning record to eight games in a row, after losing the opener to unbeaten Childress. Clarendon is a five and four on the season, and plays Shamrock Friday.

THANKS FROM THE HIGHTOWERS

Colleen and I are deeply grateful for the confidence you demonstrated in the Hightowers at the polls on Nov. 2. We are told that the 95,364 votes are more than any candidate for Congress ever has received in the history of the 13th Congressional District. It is truly a wonderful feeling to have the support of nearly 60 per cent of the voters, and you can be sure that I will spend 100 per cent of my time during the next session of Congress working for all of the residents of the District. It has been an honor to serve as your Congressman during the last two years, and I am looking forward to continuing to represent you. My staff and I always will be at your disposal, and I hope you will not hesitate to let us know when we can be helpful.
