Memphis Provides Care For Group From Mississippi

County Hospital and offices of Memphis provided for the needs of a group of 36 travelers beginning last Thursday continuing through Friday morning. They could not have stopped at a better place to rest than we have got here," Larry Herndon, director of Activities, of Van Baptist Church, Jacksonville, said Friday morning as the last of his group was leaving.

Three dozen of the group presented an emergency when 30 of the group became violently ill at midnight Wednesday. The group had left Amarillo when it was just a few days ago.

MRS. RUBY GOODNIGHT

Ruby Goodnight To Retire After 24 Yrs.

Mrs. Ruby Goodnight, Hall County Clerk for the past 24 years, will be retiring from office January 1, 1977. She has served in the capacity of County and District Court Clerk since 1952 when the two offices were combined. Mrs. Goodnight had planned to retire at the end of her last elected term in 1974, but Sylvia Lemons who was elected to the office, resigned before she was sworn in and the County Commissioners Court appointed Mrs. Goodnight to serve until the next General Election, which was this year. A native of Hardeman County, Mrs. Goodnight moved to Childress County in

Amanda Martin, Longtime Res., Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Amanda W. Martin, 100-year old longtime Memphis resident, were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 28, in Travis Baptist Church with the Rev. V. L. Huggins, pastor, officiating. Interment was in Union Hill Cemetery at Lakeview under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Mrs. Martin passed away at 10 a.m. Dec. 27 in Cousins Home here. She was born October 14, 1876, in Ironton, Mo., and had lived in Memphis since 1925. Mrs. Martin was a member of Travis Baptist Church.

She was united in marriage to John W. Ketner Nov. 10, 1895, in Missouri and he preceded her in death in 1901. In April, 1906, she wed James Thomas Martin in Indian Territory, Okla., Mr. Martin preceded her in death in 1939.

Survivors include: one daughter, Mrs. Nona Edith Galloway of Amarillo; one son, Ray B. Martin of Quannah, two sisters, Mrs. Mae Wheeler of Mount Ida, Ark., and Mrs. Nona Baker of Memphis, Tenn.; one brother, Willie Wood of California; six grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren; 16 great-great-grandchildren, and one great-great-great-grandchild. Pallbearers were Raymond Martin, Danny Martin, James Bray, Billy Martin, Jimmy Dunn and Don Davis.

Honorary pallbearers were E. E. Foster, Harold Hodges, Roy Roa, Cecil Galloway, John Smith, Henry Foster, Worth Howard, Hubert Hall and Lloyd Campbell.

Dennis Selected For Panhandle Sports HOF

Hubert Dennis will become the 41st member of the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame during installation ceremonies at 2 p.m. Jan. 23 at the Amarillo College, Gym, it was announced last weekend.

Dennis' selection to the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame has come after many months of campaigning by local supporters and possibly through a good deal of support by Putt Powell of the Sports Department of the Amarillo GlobeNews.

Along with Dennis, Dory Funk, Sr. and John LaGrone will also be installed as members of the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame.

The Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame was established in 1959 and is co-sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce sports committee and Y's Men's Club of the Amarillo YMCA.

Funk was a professional wrestler and a former superintendent of Boys Ranch. He died June 3, 1972 at the age 54.

Dennis has been hailed as the greatest high school football player in the 1920's as he starred for the Memphis Cyclone. He went on to play for TCU and later coached.

Dennis played for the Cyclones in 1923 to 1926 seasons. After leading Memphis to a victory over the Amarillo Sandies in 1926, Dennis was called the greatest high school player he ever saw by the late A. B. Hays, Amarillo High School mentor.

Dennis was also outstanding in basketball and track. He was a standout at TCU in 1930-32 under the late Francis Schmidt. The Frogs were 9-2-1, 9-2-1 and 10-0-1 during Dennis' three seasons.

Dennis was an All-Southwest Conference catcher in 1932 as he led the league in hitting. He played semi-pro baseball in the summers in this area.

Dennis coached at Rockdale High School and Trinity High School. He served in the Navy during World War II. He returned to Memphis to coach in the school system many years and operated a swimming pool in the summer.

Babson's Forecast Predicts 1977 Business Outlook Promising

BABSON'S BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL FORECAST FOR 1977
Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., December 30, 1976. Although Babson's forecast predicted a year ago that the then young recovery might peter out, the staff of Babson's forecast was ahead and is a reassuring forecast for further economic growth in 1976. At the time, however, we predicted that there would not return to outright boom conditions because of the absorption of such vital ingredients as massive business outlays, positive inventory accumulation, and consumer demand. In retrospect, 1976 did chalk up additional progress, even though economic conditions indeed a mixed bag. As expected, consumer spending showed vigor during much of the past year, capital spending for new plant and equipment was hesitant, and inventory policies cautious.

have yet to develop the major economic imbalances which have signaled such reversals before. Strength In The First Half
In the 1976 Forecast, we looked for economic strength to be concentrated early in the year, and indeed the most impressive year-to-year gain was registered in the first quarter. As of now, it appears likely that in 1977 the high point will occur in the second quarter, owing principally to the probable extra thrust from strike-hedge inventory accumulation in the face of Big Steel labor talks.
Year-to-year gains are expected in the second half of 1977 over the like 1976 period, but the shape of business progress will be influenced by the steel industry's labor negotiations. Protracted work stoppages could depress production readings for a month or two, but even then business activity for the second half should be able to hold above the prior year. Admittedly, however, the advances over a year ago will likely be more moderate in the second half than for the first two quarters of the approaching annum.
Light Overcast Ahead
While overall prospects for 1977 are favorable, the economy will not be free of trouble spots. One of the most important will be the dampened but still unquenched fire of inflation, which in recent years has wrought havoc with public confidence. Part of the inflation potential is the economy's vulnerability to rising energy costs from a hike in OPEC oil prices and the possibility of even higher prices for domestic natural gas. There will also be pressure on industrial wholesale prices in the wake of climbing wages and other operating costs. In addition, the labor front will be active again. Besides the steel industry, the railroads and some construction groups face contract negotiations. On the international scene, there will be military and monetary points that must be carefully watched.

Gross National Product
U. S. gross national product (GNP) — the value of goods and services produced — in current dollars should be able to score an increase approximating 12 percent over 1976. This is not widely at variance from the rate of expansion scored by GNP in 1976 over 1975. Because of the first pattern of year-to-year growth during 1976 — sizeable margin in the first quarter, but disappointingly modest gains in the ensuing three quarterly periods — the GNP in 1977 may well score its widest improvement during the second quarter.
In terms of constant dollars (ex inflation), the nation's real GNP will move ahead at a milder pace. The head at a milder pace. The rate of inflation is expected to account for about half the GNP in current dollars, which means that the real GNP may increase by only about 6 percent over the deflated GNP of 1976. Although such an increment may seem moderate, it would actually represent a respectable annual rise in terms of the economy's historical rate of growth.

Strength From The Private Sector
A vital feature of the outlook for 1977 business is the likelihood that the bulk of the anticipated upthrust will stem from the private sector of the economy. Consumer expenditures for personal consumption should be in the forefront of the rise in the GNP. Over much of 1976, consumers have been reluctant to buy, but the staff of Babson's Reports looks for some loosening of purse strings in the year ahead. There should be good support from residential construction too, especially since multi-family units have showed signs of a rebound in the latter days of 1976, whereas most of the comeback in home building had previously been borne by single-family units. Spending on services, long in a well defined uptrend, should continue to move higher. There will be increased government spending, but this will not bolster demand for goods substantially as much of the rise in outlays must be allocated for wages, climbing prices for supplies, and debt service.
Inflation Will Remain Worrisome
In 1976 some progress was made in the task of braking the inflation rate. Much credit must be accorded the food sector, which benefited from another bumper outturn of agricultural products. In the second half of 1976, however, prices of industrial commodities took a turn upward. Though the fever of inflation has been dramatically lowered from the heights of 1973 and 1974, it has not been completely beaten into submission. The tempo of inflation during 1977 is expected to average around 6 percent, showing little change from that of 1976. While there is still considerable under-utilized productive capacity to militate against a sharp resurgence of inflation, a downward tendency in food prices will not be notable in the year ahead. Furthermore, increases in wages and operating expenses will be reflected in price mark-ups, tempered only by the limiting factor of competition. Hence, in public psychology, inflation will undoubtedly continue to be a dark threat. Such concern could become greatly aggravated if government spending and expansion of the money supply should be emphasized in an effort to solve the serious unemployment problem.

Industrial Production
During much of 1976, industrial output trended upward. But some hesitancy was seen in the late summer and early fall due in part to the auto strike and the deceleration in the economy. The pause in the recovery of industrial activity, however, should be supplanted by renewed vitality during the first six months of 1977. The outcome of labor talks in the steel industry and the magnitude of strike-hedge inventory accumulation will, of course, determine the profile of the production curve in the second half of the year. A long strike would hurt industrial output, but the absorption of steel inventories during the stoppage would result in a rebound after the strike. On the other hand, if a walkout were brief or entirely averted industrial production should be well maintained, although upward momentum would probably be checked until stockpiles were digested.

For much of 1976, year-to-year monthly comparisons of industrial production showed substantial margins of gain over 1975 simply because the early portion of 1975 saw industrial output in a sharp slump. While the remaining months enjoyed a rebound, production rates were still well below the 1973-1974 peak range. Year ago comparisons in 1977 will reveal more limited gains, but the net result for the full year should be an increase of about 4 percent over 1976. This will not match the expected climb in the real GNP because the production index does not include services — and make work programs to reduce the jobless ranks will doubtless emphasize service-type employment. Still, industrial production will move into new high ground, at least during the first half of the new year. Among the stronger lines should be autos and trucks, motor vehicle parts (both original and replacement items), aluminum, fabricated metal products, lumber and forest products, computer and peripheral equipment, home furnishings, and minerals extraction (assuming no protracted coal mine strike).

Change In Inventory Policies?
During part of 1973 and 1974, businessmen unwisely stockpiled inventories in anticipation of higher prices and possible shortages, and at a time of already brisk demand. This demand sustained business at a peak level some six months or so, but when the inevitable correction arrived, virtual panic liquidation precipitated the painful recession of late 1974 and early 1975. Since then, inventory policies have been wary. Until recently there has been little incentive to do much in the way of forward buying. After all, consumer demand has been indecisive and spotty, prices have ruled on the weak side, and there has been more than enough productive capacity for most items. But some inventory accumulation is likely, much of this in steel and ferrous-based products as a hedge against a possible steel strike. Stronger consumer demand and the upturn in industrial commodity prices will also encourage forward buying, though we doubt that inventory accumulation will be carried to excess.
More Support From Capital Spending
Economic observers who have been skeptical of the lasting power of the current business recovery point to the lack of vibrancy in business investment for new plant and equipment. This is not an abnormal development, however, during the early-to-middle phase of an economic cyclical expansion. At such a time, the fact of ample underutilized productive capacity forces management to focus on the activation of existing facilities. Not until the surplus productive capacity diminishes will budget allocations for new capital equipment become markedly more liberal.

While there are still differences of opinion as to how much surplus productive capacity actually exists in the economy, the rate of industrial output has certainly reached a level where management thinking turns increasingly to the matter of hiking capacity and making overall operations more efficient. The fact is that 1976 has experienced some pick-up in orders for capital equipment, though on a spotty basis. During 1977 we expect business capital outlays to advance approximately 10 percent over the 1976 average. Much of this will be the result of purchases of new equipment rather than large-scale construction of new plants or additions. Environmental protection requirements will continue to capture a significant share of business capital expenditures. So, there is little likelihood that 1977 will see a capital spending boom of the type that nurtured the periods of economic upsurge in the 1950s and 1960s, even though President-elect Carter's (Continued On Page 4)

EDITORIAL

A New Year Will Soon Be Here!

In another short day, 1976 will pass into the history books, and a New Year, 1977, will begin. This year will be the first of the third century of the United States, as we bid good-bye to the Bicentennial year.

As we reflect on the year past, and look forward to the year forward, we but can't help but have emotions of sadness for things that could have been, or of joy, for things that have prospered with renewed life.

Coach Greg Sherwood, Athletic Director of Spearman High School spoke recently to the 1976 Cyclone Football team, and their parents at the Father-Son Banquet. His talk was one of the most moving addresses this editor has been privileged to hear in many a day.

Coach Sherwood spoke of reputation, personal dedication, and the things that go into making a championship team. He concluded his talk by reading a death bed note left by a football player who lost a battle against a fatal disease. The player compared life with a football game, where players are knocked down but get up to go again. For if players did not get up, there would be no one to finish the game. The winning is in the getting up, not in the points on the scoreboard, and playing the game out to the end.

A local man recently asked us to print for him a sheet containing a message entitled: "A Placid Thought." This citizen died in November of this year and we feel our readers would appreciate reading this message even though the author is unknown. A fitting title would be "A Placid Thought For The New Year":

"Go placidly among the noise and haste; and remember what peace there may be in silence.

"As far as possible, without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud aggressive persons, they are vexatious to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself.

"Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time.

"Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is, many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism.

"Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection; neither be cynical about love, for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

"Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrender the things of youth.

"Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness.

"Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

"Therefore, be at peace with God, whatever you conceive him to be, and in the noisy confusion of life keep peace within your soul.

"With all its sham, drudgery, and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Strive to be happy."

A TIME TO REMEMBER

A newspaper always appreciates its advertisers. But like children and parents, we sometimes fail to express our emotions.

Christmas is a time when we are especially reminded of the service we and our advertisers provide for each other. Like children and parents, it's a two-way street.

Newspapers continue to be the No. 1 advertising medium. A newspaper is a community necessity. If you doubt this, talk to some of the stores in cities where strikes left them with no newspapers for several weeks.

Ask Macy's or Gimbles in New York. In this day of competitive merchandizing, stores need newspapers. And the newspaper needs the stores. No newspaper could survive in our society without the advertisers.

On the other hand, few merchants can survive without an effective advertising medium. Someone once made the observation "Every merchant must advertise sooner or later—either to sell his merchandise or to announce, his going out of business sale."

Once when a major advertiser threatened to cancel his space in the New York Times because he disagreed with the paper's editorial policy, the publisher of the Times snapped back, "Cancel your ad and you will never again be allowed to advertise in The Times!"

There once was an era when merchants patronized local papers not to sell merchandise but because they were public spirited and were willing to subsidize a paper by buying space.

But this era is gone. No longer do merchants buy ads in papers "so the town can have a paper." Our advertisers are much more sophisticated than those of the past. They buy ads for one reason . . . to assist in marketing their products, to keep their name before the public.

No merchant, no product ever becomes so well known that he or it can afford to cease advertising. History records numerous products which were once household words but are unknown today, replaced by new brands, all because they thought they no longer needed to keep their name before the public. In case you think it can no longer happen today, consider the which do no more than keep a product name in the public's mind!

Smart merchants view advertising quite impersonally. They do not advertise because they like the editor but because his paper is read. They are not like the old time merchant who charged advertising "donations." We appreciate all our advertisers, particularly those who are in week after week and on whom we can count to pay the rent.

Without these regulars, no newspaper could survive here or anywhere else.

It makes us quite happy when almost every week some of these regulars report what we have been able to do for them in selling a particular item or service.

We also appreciate those who buy space on occasion such as Christmas just to say "thanks" to those who have helped keep them in business.

Most people understand why merchants buy space to announce specials but they don't understand why one would buy space just to wish "Merry Christmas" or a "Happy New Year." Why would Hemphill - Wells in Lubbock or Sakowitz in Amarillo pay thousands of dollars just to extend their good wishes to the readers of the newspaper on Christmas or New Year's?

They do it because they experience the same emotions that all of us experience on special occasions. They do it for the same reason we send cards by mail at our friends or wish them a vocal "Merry Christmas."

It's a sort of status symbol.

It subtly tells the public that even a big store has a heart.

Business institutions, just like individuals, have an image. Both may see nothing but the almighty dollar. If they want, both can thumb their noses at a request for a donation for Yule lights or United Fund. Both can never seem to find the check when having coffee with a friend.

Both can refuse to assist a school or church activity unless they can see a return of $2 for each $1 spent.

Meanwhile, both are creating an image for themselves in the community.

The public usually discovers who's who in a community. That's why we seldom seek the company of tight-wads or selfish persons. That's why we may walk past a store that has created for itself a reputation of taking but never giving, riding but never pushing.

If ever you happen to find something you like in this paper, perhaps your daughter's wedding story, an accomplishment of your child, a personal item about yourself . . . don't thank us, thank the advertisers.

Turn through today's paper and think a kind thought of those who helped make possible a newspaper for Tulsa during the past year. Read each greeting. Accept it as something not only personal but very material!

MISERY LOVES COMPANY

In a couple of months it will be income tax time again and we will all grumble about inefficiencies in government and bureaucratic waste. And most of us will get mad and stay that way for anywhere from a week to the rest of our life.

Inefficiency and waste are major governmental problems about which the Carter administration will hopefully show some concern. A third problem which demands attention is what to do about "bigness" and the inequities and unfairness that are created when some businesses and labor unions get so big and powerful that they stand above the law.

A case in point is the revelation by a former Internal Revenue Service official that American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the parent company of Southwestern Bell Telephone, avoided paying at least $2.94 billion in taxes

Stacy Farnsworth - Max McQueen Wed Here Saturday, December 18

Wedding vows were read at 4:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Memphis for Stacy Farnsworth and Max McQueen.

The bride's parents are Charles R. Brown of Memphis and Johnny Farnsworth of Memphis. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McQueen Jr., of Memphis.

The bride wore a formal gown of silver lame with matching accessories. Her corsage was of coral carnations. The groom's mother was attired in a gown of pink chiffon featuring a lace bodice and long fitted sleeves.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in Fellowship Hall. The serving table was covered with a coral cloth and was centered with a coral and mint green floral arrangement flanked by candles.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McQueen, Sr., of Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graham of Canadian.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McQueen, Jr., hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening, Dec. 17, at 8 p.m. at the Big O Restaurant.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Vick, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Tex Stone and Chris. Mr. and Mrs. Norman P. Archer announce the arrival of a daughter on Dec. 26. Weighing 7 pounds, she has been named Jana Kay.

Head usher was Miles Farnsworth of Wheeler, brother of the bride. He was assisted by Tex Stone and Dickie Braddock of Memphis and Ronnie Browning of Amarillo. Candelighters were Lisa Farnsworth and Greg McQueen. Flower girl was Chandra Staples and Chris Stone was ring bearer. The girls wore chiffon and satin dresses designed to match the bridesmaid's dresses. Their headpieces were fashioned of flowers and ribbons.

Mrs. George Ferris, organist, played a medley of selections and also played the traditional wedding march for the processional and recessional.

The bride's mother wore a formal gown of silver lame with matching accessories. Her corsage was of coral carnations. The groom's mother was attired in a gown of pink chiffon featuring a lace bodice and long fitted sleeves.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in Fellowship Hall. The serving table was covered with a coral cloth and was centered with a coral and mint green floral arrangement flanked by candles.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McQueen, Sr., of Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graham of Canadian.

Members of the Parnell Club enjoyed the Christmas festivities during their meeting Dec. 22. The meeting was called to order by Darlene Morris. Roll call was "An unusual gift that you have received or that you have given" or "Revealing your Pollyanna for the last year". Billie Potts dismissed the meeting.

Christmas readings were given by Cordye Hood, Nelda Errei and Leona Burk. The members of the winning side sang "Silent Night." Everyone was presented a nice gift from under the Christmas tree.

Members present were Billie Potts, Georgia Bowman, Irene Hood, Roxie Orcutt, Ramona, Tyra and Brandon Burk, Lucille Robinson, Clesie Jouett, Earlene Trapp, Dessie Osborn, Lucille Cope, Darlene Morris, Lena Hill, Anna Belle Doney, Leona Burk, Cordye Hood, Bessie Latham, Nell Burk and Cathy, Trey and Melanie Fuller. Guests were Kristi Huddleston, Beulah Travis, Leora Hood and Marietta Martin. Refreshments were served by the losing side.

PVT. KEVIN D. VACCA

Kevin D. Vacca Finishes Marine Recruit Training

Marine Private Kevin D. Vacca, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vacca of Memphis, Texas, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines. He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1976 graduate of Memphis High School, he joined the Marine Corps in November 1975.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to extend our thanks to the many friends who shared our sorrow during the passing away of our father.

We are so grateful for all expressions of sympathy: the visits, cards, prayers, memorials, flowers and food. We especially thank the ladies of the First Baptist Church for the lovely meal served, Brother Hooten and Dan Shaefler.

May God bless you all.

Babson Foresees More Inflation With Possible '77 Tax Rebate

Corporate Profits
Business profits in 1976 scored a sizable increase over the year before. This reflected generally favorable raw materials costs, selected price increases, and high levels of operations. We anticipate another good increase in 1977, but the tempo of advance will doubtless be considerably slower than that of 1976. On the strength of the projected further climb in business, a 10 percent gain in business profits for 1977 over those for 1976 should be attained. This will appear pale compared with the estimated 25 percent rise for 1976, but there will be plenty of room for more liberal dividend disbursements in the coming year now that corporate liquidity has been materially improved. It is more than likely, however, that the biggest year-ago gains in corporate profits will occur in the first two quarters of 1977.

Another Busy Labor Year
With the spotlight on the steel industry's negotiations over new union contracts, 1977 promises to be another year of brisk activity on the labor front. Though not quite as numerous as in 1976, major labor pacts expiring in 1977 will still involve close to 3 million workers. In addition to steel, other sectors facing contract talks include, communications, aluminum, clothing, and facets of the construction field. There could be trouble in the coal fields again, with a repeat of the wildcat walkouts of 1976. And infighting for the top spots of several unions could produce some unwanted work stoppages.

Despite labor's support for President-elect Carter in the 1976 presidential race, there will probably be a strong appeal from the White House for moderate, non-inflationary demands in contract talks. But union negotiators will almost certainly press for all the traffic will bear in direct wage increases and a wide variety of fringe benefits, spurred by the inflation-eroded purchasing power of take-home pay over much of the past three years and goaded anew by fears of additional inflationary spasms in the years just ahead. At this time, however, reimposition of wage-price controls does not seem likely, though the threat of such action might be subtly used to fashion peaceful and moderate union settlements.

Building And Construction
From a low point in early 1975 of a seasonally adjusted annual rate of well below a million units, new private housing starts commenced a recovery which continued during 1976. The climb was erratic and fell far short of the feverish peak range in excess of two million units marking parts of 1971-1973, but the late summer and fall weeks of the past year experienced notable strength. With mortgage money adequate-to-ample and with mortgage interest rates far less prohibitive than they were in the credit crunch not too long ago, Babson's Reports forecasts another rise in new housing starts for 1977, aided by the perkier pace of multi-family housing construction late in 1976. However, with high building costs, burdensome property taxes, and restrictive conservation, environmental, and zoning acting as strong deterrents to large-scale speculative building, it is unlikely that 1977 can reach the 2-million-unit mark for the year as a whole. A goal of 1.8 million starts seems more realistic at this juncture, compared with about 1.5 million for 1976. Industrial and commercial construction will make only modest gains in the coming year.

Employment - Personal Income - Wages
1977 prospects for employment and personal income favor new record levels for both of these vital economic sectors. Employment in manufacturing and services should be augmented by a quickening in the building field which has been lackluster over the past two years. The average factory work week should lengthen somewhat. Thus, with improvement in wage rates and salaries, the outlook for personal income in 1977 is for a climb of some 12 percent. Transfer payments and investment income should also provide some uplift. But net after taxes will not rise commensurately with gross personal income. Also, unemployment will remain a sticky problem, around 7 percent.

Consumer And Government Spending
Total consumer spending is expected to rise stronger in 1977 than was the case in 1976. While this will be due in part to higher prices, the unit volume of purchasing should also be up by a comfortable margin. Increased employment and rising income levels will make public confidence more positive. Consumers, however, are extremely sensitive to the threat of inflation, and rising prices could bring about spells of resistance.

Public expenditures at all levels of government will increase in 1977, a result of both inflation and a plethora of assistance and social programs. State and local governments will be forced to make some trade-offs because of budget and debt squeezes, plus mounting demand by irate taxpayers for spending curbs. As for the federal government, higher spending is already assured by the present budget which will cover the first nine months of calendar 1977 and by still heavier defense allocations for fiscal 1978 which will be in effect over the final three months of 1977. Federal outlays may be lifted further if efforts to stimulate business and reduce unemployment should take a more ambitious tack than now seems likely.

Farm Outlook
American agricultural progress was again displayed in 1976 by the third-best crop year on record. This was surpassed only by 1975's peak and the second-best effort racked up in 1973. Going in 1977, there will be good carryovers of most farm commodities. This would seem to imply planting curtailments and/or changes in the crop mix of plantings in the coming year, but the steadily worsening world food gap suggests government pressure and incentives to sustain all-out effort in food production. This may well take the shape of some plan for a food bank.

Washington - Foreign Affairs
The new Administration will have a favorable initial rapport with Congress, but how long the honeymoon lasts remains to be seen. Differences in the degrees of liberalism between President-elect Carter and Members of Congress as well as divergences among Congressmen themselves indicate that the platform of the Democratic Party cannot be taken as fait accompli. Initially, efforts will be made to spur consumer spending probably through a $50 tax rebate and to create jobs. Since most other objectives will take time, national health insurance, reorganization of the government, and a national energy policy may not materialize in 1977. One good thing, however, is that there should be less political rhetoric poor-mouthing the economy in such a way as to upset consumers and investors.

Unless something unexpected forces international affairs into top spot, domestic matters will hold the spotlight at the White House for a while. Regardless of pre-election comments, foreign policy under Carter may differ little from Ford's approach, except for the Middle East situation and the "fly at any time" tactic of recent years. Though Carter is ostensibly more jealous of U.S. interests in Sino-Soviet-American relations, the spirit of détente will not be written off. Granted, with the ongoing ferment in the world's trouble spots 1977 will undoubtedly have its share of near-conflagrations, but Babson's predicts there will be no World War III outbreak in the year ahead.

Money Supplies - Interest Rates
Easy money forces on Capitol Hill and in the Carter camp seek even more liberal expansion of money supplies. While the Fed is leery of the inflation danger, we feel that there will be enough money and credit for legitimate business needs. Yet, unlike 1976, stronger demand for funds will mean at least some stiffening in money rates. Look for the prime rate to reach 8 percent by the end of 1977. Long-term rates will tend to firm also, but not to any great degree.

Stock And Bond Outlook
Babson's Reports looks with optimism on stock and bond prospects for 1977. Good stocks are available well below historical peaks, and the odds favor a spate of dividend increases. The basic uptrend of the Dow Jones Industrial Average should resume, and new high ground be reached. A reasonable range for the DJIA appears to be 1200 on the high side and 850 on the low side for the year. While bond prices have rallied in 1976 and interest rates may rule moderately higher in 1977's latter half, the income-oriented investor can tie down some good yields in quality bonds, especially at this time. For growth and appreciation portfolios, Babson's currently favors better quality commons and convertibles in such fields as computers, electronics, insurance, drug and

Hall County Economy Has Made Surprising Five-Year Progress

NEW YORK, Dec. 25 — A look at the record books shows that the Hall County economy made surprising gains in the last few years. Despite inflation, unemployment, high taxes and the various other problems that arose, common to all sections of the country, there was progress locally.

A principal indicator of this progress is the volume of business that was done by local retail establishments. The reports show that it increased considerably during the five years ending January 1, 1976.

It reflects the fact that area families, most of whom had their pay envelopes fattened each year, remained active in the marketplace, spending as much as was necessary to maintain the standard of living to which they had become accustomed.

The growth in the period is brought out in data compiled by the Standard Rate and Data Service.

It shows that retail sales in Hall County stores, as of the beginning of this year, reached an annual rate of more than $14,040,000.

It was a bigger increase than was recorded in many parts of the country. Much of it was due, of course, to inflation.

It was equivalent to consumer spending last year at the rate of $6,268 per household.

Fundamental to the growth in retail activity in the local area during the five-year span was the marked increase in income accounted for by hospital supplies, savings and loans, fuel and energy, trucks and building supplies.

the average family. During most of the period more than kept pace with the rising curve of inflation compensating for the mounting taxes, the bigger ceremony and housing bills the zooming medical costs.

The figures for Hall County show that personal income, after deduction of taxes, climbed to $27,300.

Currently, with inflation under somewhat better control than a year ago and measures being planned to stimulate the faltering economy, the expectation is an upturn in the month ahead.

In this age of instant foods and virtually everything else, we often clamor for the immediate fulfillment of all our wishes as a matter of course. Patience has nearly become a lost art because we seem to have so little need of it in this push-button era. However, faith in God will not only help you regain your patience, but will let you know if the rapid results you have come to expect are really worthwhile attaining. There may be no such thing as instant success, but there is an instant faith which will direct you toward it in the proper manner. It's as near as your Church.

"But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing."
 — James 1:4

He that has patience may compass anything.

Good health isn't something to envy in other people. You can do many things to maintain your own health—or better it. And now is the time to come to grips with yourself by making some good-health resolutions, says the Texas Department of Health Resources.

Texas would be a much healthier state if everyone worked toward these goals, and you and your family can contribute to your own well being and that of your community.

Promise during 1977 to give your body at least as good care as you give your car. Periodic examinations are the best way yet devised to detect bodily disorders while they can still be treated successfully. It might be considered preventive maintenance. So let your doctor look you over thoroughly once a year whether you're ailing or not. Make it twice yearly if you're middle-aged. Your physician can give you the proper schedule.

Dental troubles may not kill you, but sometimes they can make you wish you were dead. Check in once yearly with your dentist to make certain your teeth and gums are in good shape, said let him teach you the proper way to maintain your dental health every day.

Do your clothes seem to fit a little more snugly these days? If so, it could mean you're putting on weight, which is a lot harder to take off than it is to put on. It's difficult during the holiday season to pass up the goodies which come your way. But if you've overdone it, resolve to start passing up the candied yams, gravies and cream-filled tidbits which almost invariably spell extra pounds and perhaps an early grave.

Too much weight contributes to high blood pressure, and may be associated with hardening of the arteries and various forms of heart disease. Also, it means impaired vigor, greater surgical risk and greater danger from otherwise minor illnesses.

On the other hand, if you've noticed an unusual loss of weight, you should consult your physician.

A good physician—prescribed exercise regimen will keep your body in shape, tone up your heart muscles and put the spring back into your step.

There are many pursuits which people of all ages may undertake in order to get the needed exercise. While jogging might be all right for some people, brisk walking or other forms of exercise may be recommended for others.

Statistics linking smoking to cancer and heart disease continue to pile up, and it is tougher and tougher to rationalize the smoking habit. If you still smoke, now's the time to quit. Tomorrow could be too late.

Safe driving is a habit everyone should get into. Drive and walk defensively, and you'll be less apt to wind up as one of the state's traffic statistics. And don't forget that the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit saves gas, saves lives, and applies to everyone.

While disease in Texas continues to be relatively low, the threat of epidemics hasn't subsided. Check the immunization records of your entire family—not just the children—as a safeguard against diseases and their complications.

Getting plenty of sleep is another resolution which will be of benefit—especially during the cold winter months when the body's defenses should be at their peak.

Nutrition goes hand in hand with proper rest. To provide your body with the essential nutrients to make it function properly, proper diet is necessary. Resolve to put tasty and nutritious foods to work for your body. Don't overlook fresh fruits and vegetables.

Oklahoma Rites Held Tues. For Resident's Mother

Mrs. Edith West of Paula Valley, Okla., mother of Mrs. Elmer Murdock of Memphis, passed away at 1:38 Sunday morning, Dec. 19, in the Paula Valley General Hospital.

After receiving an emergency message, Mrs. Murdock accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Edith Rodgers of Amarillo, arrived at the hospital about 8:30 Saturday night.

Services and burial for Mrs. West were held at Davis, Okla., Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cross had visiting during the week end his mother, Mrs. C. R. Cross of Hereford. On Christmas Day, others visiting were their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Osburn of Claremore; also, Mrs. Cross's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Lemons of Granbury, and their grandson, Stephen Maddox of Comanche.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Fincher of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Kilpatrick of O'Donnell visited during Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kilpatrick, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kilpatrick.

People living in towns and cities owe it to themselves and their neighbors to obey local and state laws pertaining to health protection. For example, if your town has a dog leash law, adhere to it. Keep your animals in good health and protected from rabies, which is still a threat especially in rural areas.

There's another good resolution you can make. Resolve to give an occasional thought to such awesome problems as water conservation, pollution abatement, juvenile delinquency, drug abuse and the growing number of elderly people in our society. Lend your support as a responsible citizen to community efforts to solve them. After all, they affect you, too.

Your health should be of great concern to you. So get the good health habit by putting some healthful resolutions to work.

You'll live longer and enjoy life more, believes the Department of Health Resources, which wishes you a happy ending to 1976 and a healthy year ahead.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC TIPS

The 55 mph speed limit may have decreased deaths due to auto accidents but fatality rates are climbing again. Many factors are involved but carelessness, especially on country roads, unsafe cars, bad weather and motorists who don't wear seat belts all contribute to accidents that could be prevented, the Texas Medical Association (TMA) says.

In 1975 there were 4.1 people killed for every 100 million miles traveled—compared to 3.9 in 1974. The trend seems to be increasing, the Governor's Office for Traffic Safety says.

A National Safety Council shows country roads produce nine times as many deaths and 14 times as many property damage accidents as do controlled-access superhighways. Blind intersections and reduced vision on curves and hills contribute to many crashes. Being alert and prepared to stop in these situations can save many lives.

A quick check of the car also can help avoid trouble. Check tire tread and pressure, windshield wipers, accessibility of seat belts, defogger or rags to wipe off fogged windows, and hoses, belts and fluids under the hood. Problems with many of these could mean being stranded on the highway in winter weather—which can be very dangerous. Even for a short trip, it's wise to toss in a coat and adequate shoes in case there is car trouble.

CB radios not only help spot smokies but they also are useful for passing on weather and road condition information. Even AM or FM radio weather forecasts can give valuable information about what's coming. Sometimes postponing a trip for a few hours or a day will avoid bad weather that can threaten even experienced drivers. Arriving late is better than not arriving at all, TMA says.

People increase their chances of arriving alive if they wear seat belts. Even if people refuse to use seat belts on short errands, buckling up on a trip is not too much trouble. Hospital beds or caskets are much more confining than seat belts.

SOME PEOPLE THINK "XMAS" IS A MODERN ABBREVIATION WHEN, IN FACT, THE EARLY CHRISTIANS COMBINED THE GREEK LETTERS "CHI" (X) AND "KHO" (P) TO FORM A SIGN MEANING "CHRIST" OR "CHRISTIAN," A SYMBOL MUCH OLDER THAN THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE ITSELF!

ON THE ROMAN CATACOMBS AND OTHER HIDING PLACES CHRISTIANS FLEEING PERSECUTION USED A SIMPLE FISH SYMBOL TO IDENTIFY AND GUIDE OTHER CHRISTIANS TO SAFE REFUGE. EVENTUALLY, EACH LETTER IN THE GREEK WORD FOR FISH CAME TO MEAN "JESUS CHRIST, SON OF GOD, THE SAVIOR."

BEAUTIFUL—AND MEANINGFUL—"XMAS" TREE ORNAMENTS CAN BE MADE BY BENDING WIRE INTO THE ANCIENT FISH SYMBOL. USE COLORED PIPE CLEANERS DIPPED IN GLITTER OR FLOCKING—OR THIN WIRE DIPPED IN SPECIAL COLORED ACRYLIC DIPS WHICH DRY TO A GLOWING TRANSPARENT FILM.

AN ANCIENT CHRISTIAN SYMBOL, THE FISH HAS ALSO BEEN HELD SACRED BY MANY OTHER RELIGIONS DUE TO ITS ECONOMIC AND NUTRITIONAL IMPORTANCE TO HUMANITY THROUGH THE AGES. AN OUTSTANDING MODERN EXAMPLE IS THE SARDINE FROM MAINE WHICH PROVIDES TOP NUTRITION AT BARGAIN PRICES.

Good Will toward our fellow man."

I read about the high priced Coca-Cola bottle a few days ago which would have made a nice Christmas gift. Chapman Root, chairman of the associated Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Datona, Florida, paid eleven thousand, five hundred dollars for the solid gold replica of the original ribbed, wasp-waisted Coca-Cola bottle his grandfather designed in 1915.

I noticed that they are not only bronze baby shoes, but have bronzed gaitstons, bras, false teeth, even Big Mac hamburgers. Also, I noticed that one lady had the cupcake ribbon she had on her 18th birthday, after keeping this cupcake for 12 years.

The Germans like their sauerkraut as an Ohio company recently reported receiving an order for 50,000 cases of sauerkraut. They seem to be short on cabbage in Germany.

Our cotton crop seems like a wave of prosperity compared to some of the other countries. It is estimated the farmer's losses of France will be at a minimum 2 billion dollars. British experts have guessed at farmers' losses in England at $25 million dollars. Most of the European countries are making up the farmers' losses by charging the consumer and taxpayers for a period of 5 years. Even with our ups and downs the past few years, we can say America is still the greatest!

Some people do not give up regardless of age, handicaps, as quoted in the daily news, Sidney Lowman, almost 97 years, was awarded a plaque honoring him in San Diego, Calif. After more than 60 years, Lowman is regarded as the oldest Scoutmaster in the United States. He still leads his Boy Scout Troop despite his age and the amputation of both legs from gangrene.

I would call this keeping the old motto, "Let Nothing discourage you, never give up." With the love of God, friends and relatives, we wish each of you a Happy Year in 1977, with more to come.

Spending Christmas here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Jones, were their son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Gardner and Russell of Duncanville, and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Moore, Vicki Lynn and Jeffrey of Mansfield. od ones in their family and friends. They were a Christmas gift from this world to our Creator who loaned them to the world for a short while.

Well, Memphis and Hall County showed their warmth of love for their fellowman a few days ago when a bus from Jackson, Miss., and a bus from Dallas were loaded with about 100 young people who had been on a ski trip to Colorado. They were stranded in Memphis with a number of them quite sick. In fact, there were 32 in the hospital and a number of outpatients. We heard nothing but praise for our doctors and nurses and other members of the hospital staff in the attention and kindness shown them while stranded here. I checked with the Hall County Hospital on Christmas Eve and found they had all checked out and were on their way home. This will be a Happy Christmas for the parents to see their youngsters safe and sound at home. They will make a good Christmas decoration in the home without a tree or ornaments. These young people praised our town for the hospitality shown them by each and everyone who gave them a helping hand.

Our congratulations to Hubert Dennis being the one of the three who are being honored in January into the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame. He will be the 41st one in the Panhandle and the third in Hall County.

Below I give you a copy which was taken from one of our Christmas cards. It is called the "Holiday Fare" served with "good wishes, appetizers of joy, Tossed Merriment with Generous Portions of Happiness, Thick Slices of Good Fortune, Garnished with Excellent Health, Peace of Mind and Prosperity. With a Casserole of Sweet Thoughts, Souffle of Contentment, Spirits of the Season, From the Holiday Kitchen of Relatives and Friends with a Big Dish of Love from each of them, with a prayer for Peace and and we received from Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shankle of Spring, Texas, asked me to remember them to all their friends and his Virginia had in Hall County. Most of you will remember when Virginia Estes was manager for West Texas in Memphis for a number of years. Homer and Virginia have a red haired son who is now 16 years old and named for his uncle, Shankle, who was rearer of the first airplane that came to Hall County.

I did wish everyone a Happy Christmas at this time, as usual, we had deaths and sorrows in many homes that caused sadness heavy hearts. This brings me to each of the survivors memories of the many Christmas holidays were spent in a family the passing away of Mr. and Mrs. Crabb, brought back memories of that I had known for a half century. I can remember both of these people when they were much younger, shopping for gifts each member of their lov-

WE APPRECIATE YOUR PATRONAGE AND WISH EACH OF YOU A
HAPPY NEW YEAR

Thank You

To the citizens and voters of Hall County Precinct No. 1, I want to take this means of thanking you for the 24 years I have been privileged to serve as your County Commissioner.

Your help, concern, advice, and support has meant so much throughout the years and it has been through this spirit of cooperation that so much progress has been made.

It is my sincere hope, upon retiring, that my successor will have the same cooperation as I have enjoyed and that one and all will have a happy and prosperous New Year.

Ed Hutcherson Retires As Co. Commissioner

They lived in a two-story house south of Memphis which has since been torn down and was once called the "haunted house." The story is told that Mrs. Hollifield, Missouri Sloan, was a fearless type of woman. She rode a horse, carried a Winchester and killed rattlesnakes. She raised turkeys and helped pay for the land they had filed on and today it still belongs to the family of Hollifield descendants for they were the grand-children of the retiring Commissioner.

Mr. Dick Hutcherson, the father of Ed Hutcherson, came to Hall County in 1886 from the State of Tennessee, filed on land, and married Lera Hollifield in 1896. They lived in a "dug-out" east of Memphis when they came here and later bought a section of land, east of Salisbury. It is told that when he was a teen-ager Mr. Hutcherson entered his home one day and lo, and behold, a panther was under the bed! He grabbed an axe and killed the cat! Mr. Hutcherson worked for several years as a cowboy for the Shoe Bar Ranch. He related some of his experiences as a cowboy on the Shoe Bar and one of those stories related to the cowboys riding across the ranch land and oft times would come upon a band of Wild Indians who had killed a cow and was eating it. It was from this stock of hard working, brave, and fearless people that our Commissioner, Ed Hutcherson, inherited his strength of character, honesty and fair dealing with the people of the county.

Ed Hutcherson attended school at Salisbury and at Memphis High school. He also attended Wichita Falls Junior College and Texas Tech, Lubbock. While attending college Ed played football in each of these schools.

In 1932 Ed Hutcherson married Mildred Beckum and they have two children—Bobby Dick, Memphis, and Kate Powell of Houston and five grandchildren. There are now five generations of Hutchersons living in Hall County. This family has given much to Hall County.

On January 1, 1953, a calm non-talkative, firm man took the oath of office as County Commissioner of Precinct 1. In Court sessions he never talked much but he soon became known for his honesty, integrity and judgment. He has served Hall County well during his tenure. There is an old saying that could be well applied to this faithful servant of the people "You have never had so much for so little."

Ed is a member of the Methodist Church and has been a Steward. People do not live long in a place before they feel need of fraternal fellowship and so Ed is a Mason. He served on the R.E. A. Board until 1952 at which time he was elected County Commissioner. For several years Ed served on the school board of Salisbury and Memphis, and is currently serving as President of the Memphis Fire Department.

He has served as President of Hall County Society of Crippled Children and Adults since 1959 and has rendered many services to the children of Hall County. Crippled Children and Adults in Hall County have been given hospital care and treatment during his tenure with the Hall County Society and with the Easter Seal Foundation when the Society was affiliated with Easter Seal Inc.

Ed was a "Champion" for establishment of the Hall County Hospital which serves so well Hall County people, and some of the people in several surrounding counties. Ed and the late Pat Brittain worked many long hours for the hospital when it was in the "making."

One of the most recent projects which the outgoing commissioner has rendered invaluable service is the "housing" for the "Senior Citizens". Thanks to this help in cash, donations and time, the Senior Citizens have a "Security" and "County House" with proper repairs, carpeting, paneling, paper & painting. They have been furnished with desk, two divans, two easy chairs, three tables, sixteen office chairs, drinking fountain, two lamps, two wall heaters, a fan, and light fixtures and colored TV. Ed has given his time to this project and has had interest and compassion for the Senior Citizens of Hall County. They now have the Houses rent free and all Utilities paid.

It is noteworthy to mention in this modern day that Ed Hutcherson, has been a faithful elected official for he has only missed one meeting of the Hall County Commissioners Court in 24 years and that time he was in the hospital suffering of heart attack. We believe that is a record.

A stranger in seeing or talking with "Ed" might think he is taciturn, not interested, non-talkative, etc., but those of us who know him respect his quiet, calm, and courteous manners and have learned through the years his judgment and management of County affairs has stood the test. He leaves the financial affairs of Precinct One in good condition.

Ed did terracing for many in this county which aided many of the farmers financially and then in preserving land. Ed is now engaged in farming with his son, Bobby Dick.

The officials of the Court-house are going to miss Ed

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—At the top of everyone's list of New Year's resolutions should be the determination to become a more knowledgeable consumer in 1977.

And the lawyers in our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division have put together a list of things you can do to get a better return on each dollar you spend, in the way of products, service, and satisfaction.

Keep a record for one week of every expenditure, so you know where your money really goes. Then set up a budget for household expenses and don't exceed it.

Buy first for "needs," then if there's cash left over, for "wants."

Organize your shopping and shop only from a prepared list, to avoid impulse buying.

On food purchases, avoid "filler" foods with little nutritive value. And be sure you realize how much extra most convenience foods cost. Is the time you save worth the cost?

Plan ahead for your large purchases and save up for them when possible, so you can pay cash and avoid interest or carrying charges.

Comparison shop—comparing not only price, but quality, warranty, service, and finance plans. When comparing financing, look at the annual percentage rate of interest you will pay. The lower the APR, the lower your finance charges. And remember, you don't have to finance your purchase where you buy it.

Check banks, credit unions, savings and loan institutions, and finance companies to get the best APR and pay-out schedule.

Study all advertising carefully before responding to it.

Say "no" to all high-pressure or deceptive sales tactics, including "last chance" offers and "bait and switch" selling.

Look for the "catch" if an offer appears too good to be true.

Examine merchandise thoroughly before buying, to be sure it's what you need and want, and that it's in good condition.

Be aware of the dangers of dealing with itinerant sales persons or contractors who may not be around to make good on their promises.

Deal instead, with established, reputable firms that stand behind their products or services.

No matter who you deal with, always "get it in writing" instead of relying on oral promises.

Follow manufacturer's instructions and care labels, so you get the best possible service from each product you buy.

Stop and think before responding to a charity solicitation—is it really for a worthy cause?

Be cautious when signing a contract. Read and understand every word and fill in any blanks. Never allow anyone to rush you.

Investigate before investing in speculative deals to "get rich quick." Get the advice first of reliable, knowledgeable persons. If someone tells you he can't wait for you to check, tell him "good bye" right then.

Look for practical ways to save energy (and money)—insulate your home properly, buy energy efficient appliances, set thermostats higher in summer and lower in winter, and use your car efficiently by running all errands in one trip.

Try to settle any consumer complaints first with the individual or store involved. If that doesn't work, contact our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—Sunset Laws are one of the most widely discussed governmental issues in state legislatures today. The Texas Legislature is no exception. In fact, many give credit to the members of the Texas Legislature for originating the initial concept.

Basically, Sunset Laws mandate that the legislature periodically examine the performance of agencies it has created. If such a review indicates that the agency no longer operated in the public interest or if its activities are essentially being duplicated by other governmental units, then the legislature will cause the sun to "set" and the agency will be legislated out of existence.

The idea for Sunset Laws first came to Texas lawmakers' attention during the 1974 Texas Constitutional Convention. At that time we referred to it as the "self-destruct" clause of the proposed new constitution. The idea was simpler: statutory state agency jurisdiction, appointed officers, institutions related to education, would go into existence after 10 years unless the legislature acted to renew their existence.

However, the voters of Texas chose not to accept the new constitution and subsequent attempts to the present constitution. Ironically, the State of Texas has been the least active in this very important initiative, but has adopted for its own concept of Sunset Laws.

In the last several years other states have enacted Sunset Laws and legislative bodies are in process of considering best to employ the concept. Even the Congress is holding hearings to mine if there are possible applications of Sunset made within the federal bureaucracy.

New Long Distance Toll Rates Are Now In Effect By G.T.C.

New long distance rates for calls from one Texas city to another were placed in effect at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday (Dec. 21), including those made by General Telephone customers.

Rex Bailey, vice president - revenue requirements for General, said interstate long distance calling rates in Texas are set by Southwestern Bell with public utility commission approval.

The commission has approved the new rates and Bell has placed the rates in effect while seeking a rehearing of the commission's ruling.

"Long distance services are operated jointly by the Bell System companies and the independent telephone companies under a common rate structure," Bailey explained. "Interstate long distance rates in Texas are administered under tariffs filed by Southwestern Bell and approved by the Texas PUC. Independent telephone companies including General Telephone, concur with Bell tariffs to maintain uniform long distance rates throughout the state."

Bailey said with few exceptions the initial minute for most station-to-station customer dialed calls has been reduced with rates each additional minute increased. All operator assisted calls have been increased. The discount rate for major calls was the only one to be reduced from 30 cent to 25 percent. The long rate is in effect at 5 p.m. until 11 p.m. Sunday through Friday.

Other rate changes will affect General's customers include rates for interstate wide area telephone service (WATS) and for exchange service from a served city.

Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) are still new enough that there are several unanswered questions. First, the accounts are designed for the individual planning for or her own retirement who is not already under a retirement plan (not counting social security). Secondly, there are some ground rules which should be understood about withdrawals from the IRA.

For example, if withdrawals are made by the depositor before the age of 59 1/2 there is a penalty on the amount withdrawn... and income taxes will have to be paid.

After age 59 1/2 withdrawals may be made in a lump sum, or in monthly, quarterly or yearly installments with taxes paid on the basis of taxable income at the time of withdrawal.

It's a good idea to review the withdrawal system at age 70 1/2, because at that time a lump sum withdrawal may be beneficial for tax reasons (taxes will probably be negligible).

Those qualifying for an IRA can deposit up to 1,500 dollars or 15% of gross pay (whichever is less) each year... deduct the amount from gross income and defer the taxes until retirement.

April 15th can be a lot less painful from now on.

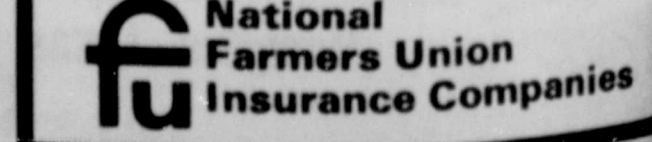

You need every tax deduction you can get. The Keogh Plan, an important service offered by your Farmers Union Insurance Agent, allows you to make tax-free contributions toward your own retirement plan—up to 15% of your net business income to a maximum of $7,500 per year.

As early as age 59 1/2, you can begin to draw guaranteed monthly payments for life. In case of disability or death, retirement funds can be withdrawn immediately.

If you're incorporated, your Farmers Union agent can help too, with a tax-deductible pension plan for retirement years.

Start soon to give yourself and your family the benefits of the tax-free retirement plan.

REST INSURED—Coverage for your business, your vehicles, your family, your life.

Amarillo Rites Held Friday For John O. McQueen

Funeral services for John Oliver (Ollie) McQueen of 211 N. Carolina, Amarillo, were held at 2 p.m. Friday, Dec. 24, in N. S. Griggs Pioneer Chapel in Amarillo with the Rev. Stan Coffey, pastor of San Jacinto Baptist Church, officiating.

Mr. McQueen died Thursday, December 23, in N. W. Texas Hospital in Amarillo. He was born Sept. 2, 1911, in Hall County and had spent most of his life in this area. He married Miss Lois Parnell in 1935; they had made their home in Amarillo and Shamrock the last 10 years. Mr. McQueen was a Baptist.

Survivors include: his wife Lois of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Arley (Nedra) Pinner and Mrs. Kenneth (Kay) Shelton, and one son, Jerry O., all of Amarillo; his mother, Mrs. John McQueen of Memphis; three sisters, Mrs. T. R. (Ruthie Lee) Selle of Tecumseh, Okla., Mrs. E. L. (Sarah) Kilgore of Memphis and Mrs. Van (Imogene) McGuire of Dallas; two brothers, W. S. of Memphis and J. W. (Bill) of Oklahoma City; also five grandchildren and three grandsons.

Pallbearers were nephews of the deceased: Byron Selle, David Kilgore, Winfred McQueen, Hershel Williams, Dale Ward and Gary Gill. Interment was in Llano Cemetery in Amarillo.

(Continued From Page 1) then more and more became ill," Mr. Herndon said. "We stopped here at Hall County Hospital and Dr. Clark started examining our youngsters about 3 a.m."

"Some had to be hospitalized, and others went to the Best Western Motel. One of our group was walking from the hospital to the motel and became ill and hung on to a light pole, until someone came along to assist him."

The group either had food poisoning or some type of virus, Mr. Herndon said. In all, 32 of the group of 36 became ill, while the adults missed the illness for some reason.

"Dr. Clark told me it was unfortunate that we didn't stop in Amarillo for they had better facilities to handle us but I want to say what the people of Memphis provided us was just what our group needed, care plus love and kindness and all the help we needed," Mr. Herndon said.

He cited the Hospital for letting him have an office and a telephone to make the many calls necessary, the chamber of commerce, fire department the Baptist Churches for bringing food and making visits, Mr. Foxhall and Mr. Ferris for supplying plane services and Mr. Leslie for transportation.

"I couldn't leave here without telling everyone what a wonderful place this is," Mr. Herndon said. "I believe this trip has been wonderful for our group, it has helped us all to grow closer together."

One Man Killed

Both men had been thrown from the pickup truck when the driver lost control on a curve and the truck left the roadway and rolled over seven or eight times before landing in a small canyon.

Department of Public Safety troopers from Collingsworth County investigated the accident and Collingsworth County Justice of Peace Beatrice McKinney pronounced Cordova dead at the scene.

The men were residents of Mexico and worked on a farm near the site of the accident.

mers and taught many area youngsters to swim.

He retired from school teaching in 1972 and has been active in many local projects, working with the Chamber of Commerce, helping Memphis Schools by selling reserve seat tickets and running the football game clock, secretary of the Cyclone Booster Club, and helping with Hall County Heritage Hall.

Dennis has been one of athletics strongest supporters throughout his life and is a outstanding selection as a member of Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame.

tested races, especially when the offices of County Clerk and District Clerk were merged into one office.

Mrs. Goodnight said she is ready to retire, enjoying visits from her children and six grandchildren, and Hall's children and their families. "We had a big Christmas at our house," she said.

Mrs. Goodnight has seen many changes over the years, but the greatest change has been in holding elections she has often said. "The state has raised the cost of the marriage license from $2 to $5," she said.

Mrs. Goodnight said she has enjoyed working with the fine people in the courthouse and serving the citizens of Hall County. "I guess Jo Carmen is the only person left in the courthouse who has been here longer than I have been," she said. Mrs. Carmen went to work in the Tax Office on February 6, 1950 when J. W. Coppedge was Tax Assessor-Collector.
