What a difference

Grandma may talk about the good old days, but a whole team of horses couldn't drag her back to an old fashioned kitchen. When you compare the two pictures, you observe an important fact. All the marvelously improved conveniences you see are made possible by electricity — every single one. Yes, electricity makes the difference, and what a difference it makes! It eliminates drudgery and creates more leisure time by performing countless tasks in the home at the flip of a switch. It turns factory wheels, lights the darkness, and does all these things effortlessly and economically. That is one of two reasons why the use of electricity is increasing here in the Center of the Southwest. The other is that more people, more businesses, more industries are coming our way. Our expansion program is keyed to this increase, for we are convinced our service area faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

SPACE AGE QUESTION

Astronaut Gordon Cooper having completed his adventure of 22 times around the earth, the U.S. is once again enjoying what is considered part of the pay-off from its commitment to a space program. The glory of it all, the prestige among nations, the unity of extreme venture may not be worth the billions it is costing, but military and technologically the value may prove to surpass any conceivable dollar measurement. These matters are difficult to estimate.

So the Congress, which was almost unanimous in committing our billions last year, is once again wrestling with the priorities as well as the tremendous responsibility of trying to decide whether the $5.7 billion next requested should be granted. There are some particularly difficult problems involved here, especially those calling for enough foresight to pierce the veil of the future. Thoughtful leaders in Congress and out are asking whether these vast government expenditures are useful or even desirable.

VARYING VIEWPOINTS

There was Senator Fulbright's implication that the unemployed should be given higher priority than the unexplored. One might consider whether this, as a national policy, would lead more to socialism than to full employment. Then former ASC Chairman Lewis Strauss attacked the space program as "colossally wasteful." Mr. Strauss questions the value of the moon as a missile site or observation post, and he predicts that the cost of the present program will run nearer to $40 billion than to the estimated $20 billion. The temporary propaganda value of a few weeks of headlines, he maintains, is hardly worth that amount of money.

Mr. Strauss has seen one of the government's research programs at close range, that of exploration into the mysteries of energy and the structure of matter. He is acquainted with the glamour angle of the atomic age, and he knows something of how far a billion dollars of research will take us. He is possibly familiar with the frustration that results from the necessity of making something practical out of a technological break-through.

PRICE OF KNOWLEDGE

As of now, the big attraction that government space research has for this free people is simply that we do not know what we would like to know. The most practical uses of space (except for the military) are of less concern right now, although in time we may be able to claim more direct benefits. But the question remains whether we can be assured of more overall national gain than loss after pouring many billions into the moon-shoot program. If such adventures prove worthless, this as well as other expensive research may tend to make us a high-cost nation trying to compete in a cut-price world.

Perhaps the biggest problem we face is that of keeping big-ness under control. We must not come to believe, whether we have success with space probes or not, that any kind of a problem can be solved by pouring big money onto it through the government.

Our general experience so far, upon analysis, may provide evidence that we often have failed to achieve net gains by this method. The Soviet economy is out of joint at least partly because of its space program, although the system apparently does not count costs or concern itself about lost values.

KEEP CONTROL OF SPENDING

We must not allow our government do-it-all programs to break us down (a thing the Russians themselves, incidentally, have sworn to accomplish). It takes no great imagination of citizens weary of giving away tax dollars to wonder what this nation could accomplish with $20 to $40 billion worth of federal aid to education or to medical research. No doubt tax cuts or payments on the national mortgage to that extent would strengthen the economy. Anyone can pick out a favorite terrestrial need that might seem worthy of national commitment. By which token some minds can easily jump the gap that ought to exist between private and public activity. Spending $20 billions plus is not likely to be undertaken by any private corporation nor by any of the states. If the federal government must spend in this manner, let us do it only after much public soul searching, counting the possible consequences. If we take such steps without being aware of the dangers, we may one day be spending billions without having any choice at all, as the Russian people do. Billions spent in government research will indeed be profitless if the "spillover" brings loss of freedom.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
DO YOU SEE WITH YOUR EYES?

Actually, the eye is only a receiver of light impulses. These light impulses are changed into nerve energy and carried to the brain from the eyes via the optic nerve. You see with your brain, not the eyes.

There is a certain area in the brain which is called the "occipital lobe" which interprets the nerve impulses coming from the two eyes. It is interesting to note that the impulses from the eyes, coordinated with many other impulses from the other senses, and parts of the body, are received and interpreted in terms of vision. Past experience also affects the way one sees. Seeing is a very complex process and is not really done with the eyes alone. You actually see with the whole body and the brain sorts out all these sensations and interprets them as vision.

Included in the mechanism of the eye are the optic nerves. There is a crossing of these nerve fibers—half crossed to one side and the other half to the other side of the brain. There are 1 million nerve fibers in the optic nerve. When you realize there are over 9 billion nerve cells in the brain you can readily compute the possible combinations in reactions and interpretation that constantly compete.

Marvelous piece of machinery, the eye. Why not take the advice of the National Eye Research Foundation and have them examined?

Seasonal Lawn Care Hints

A beautiful, well-kept lawn adds to the material value of a home and is a basic requirement of an attractive yard. The beauty of a lawn depends largely on the care it receives during the growing season, points out A. C. Novosad, extension pasture specialist.

He lists fertilization, watering, mowing and weed control as important considerations in a good lawn care program. Fertilization, he says, is one of the most neglected. The best indicator for fertilizer use is a soil test. However, if soil test information is not available and the lawn has not already received a spring application of plant food, Novosad recommends an immediate treatment with a complete fertilizer, a 1-1-1 or 2-1-1 ratio. Enough should be applied to supply two pounds of nitrogen per each 1,000 square feet of lawn area.

In addition, nitrogen should be applied every 30 to 40 days during the summer at a rate of one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn. Such applications will keep the lawn grasses green and vigorous during the growing season. In the fall, 30 days before the first expected killing frost, the lawn should get an application of a complete fertilizer such as was applied in the spring.

The lawn should be watered only when the grass needs it. A slight wilting is an indication the grass needs water. Frequent light waterings are not recommended. Wet the soil to a depth of six inches or deeper. This will encourage deep root systems and enables the plants to utilize the plant food applied. It is best to water in the mornings.

Proper mowing gives a healthier and thicker turf. Mow regularly and don't clip more than one inch at a time. Keep the mower sharp and in proper adjustment and mow Bermuda grass at a height of one to one and a half inches; St. Augustine and bluegrass at one and a half to two inches for an attractive lawn, says the specialist.

A thick, vigorous turf is the best defense against weeds but if they are a problem chemicals can be used for control. Ask the local county agent for details.

Read II Timothy 3:10-17 All scripture is inspired by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for amendment, and for moral discipline. (II Timothy 3:16. Moffatt.)

When our saintly mother lay dying, she was too frail to keep up her regular reading of the Bible. Speaking in a whisper, she told us to read our Bibles every day and added: "If you do that, you will find the Scripture promises are a comfort when nearing life's end."

At no time can the Christian do without the Bible. It is God's Word to His People, and the place where they meet Him. It tells about the character of God and how He calls forth our faith.

The Bible is not light reading. It cannot be read as you would read a newspaper or a magazine. It contains God's promises, warnings, words of love, comfort, and counsel. The Bible is our guidebook, the heavenly Father's gift to His children.

Meekly and prayerfully, we absorb its message into our hearts and find ourselves gradually transformed into the likeness of Christ. Old habits go, new ones are formed, and a deep love for persons fills our hearts through the power of God's Word.

PRAYER: We thank Thee, O God, for the Bible. Through its use, men in despair have found

Hints On Maintaining Egg Quality

Eggs have their highest quality when first laid and from this point on, explains F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, every quality factor begins to decline.

How fast or slow egg quality declines depends to a large extent on handling and storage practices, says the specialist. The most important is to provide a holding temperature of not more than 55 degrees with a relative humidity of about 80 per cent.

If such conditions are maintained, they will materially aid in keeping the original egg quality high for two to two and a half weeks, points out Beanblossom.

Egg quality can be easily and accurately checked by breaking out a sample, one or two per cent from each group, and measuring their Haugh Unit score. This, explains the specialist, is the ration of the albumen height and the egg weight. A score of 72 or better equals grade AA, 55 to 72 is grade A and 31 to 55 is grade B.

Several firms in Texas are now breaking out eggs on a routine basis for quality determinations as a part of their grading programs. Beanblossom says he will be glad to supply information on the break-out programs now in operation. Requests should be addressed to F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Aldridge and Brenda returned to their home in Jal, N.M. Tuesday, after visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Aldridge and her mother and other relatives in Brownwood. The group enjoyed supper, boating and skiing at Lake Brownwood Saturday evening. Diane and Debra remained for a longer visit with their grandparents. The W. D. Aldridges attended the Dillard reunion in Coleman Sunday.

Susan and Celia King of Brownwood visited last week with their grandmother, Mrs. Kate Holmes, and attended the Vacation Bible School at the Assembly of God Church.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin — Texas Research League, a nonprofit government study organization that does many administration studies at the request of the state, has issued a report on its year-long probe of the Railroad Commission. Many of its recommendations on agency management and oil and gas conservation already are being programmed.

One scheduled change involves the staffing and management of Railroad Commission district offices. Commission now has 12 such offices. Responsibilities with respect to wells and staff members are so varied that the League believes the system unfairly imbalanced.

District 8 in Midland, for example, has approximately four times as many wells as District 4 in Corpus Christi, but each office is staffed with only four engineers. Wichita Falls has more than twice as many wells as Houston, but two less field men.

Four field men watch over 62,148 operating wells in the Midland district, yet 21 men oversee 26,036 wells in the Kilgore area.

League's answer to the problem is to redistrict and cut the districts from 12 to 10.

The huge Midland district would be divided into three areas with new offices at Lubbock and Fort Stockton.

San Angelo, Refugio, Mount Pleasant and Palestine offices would be absorbed by other districts under the new operation plan.

PADRE ISLAND PARK PLANS UNDERWAY

If and when Congress approves a $1,500,000 appropriation to meet the land-buying needs of Padre Island National Seashore park, newly-named park superintendent William L. Bowen will begin to acquire land for the proposed 80.5-mile coastal playground.

U. S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall said Bowen will open an office in Corpus Christi some time after July 1 with a small staff. Bowen, Kansas-born veteran of the national park service, took part in preliminary studies leading to the establishment of the new national seashore area on Padre Island.

COMMITTEE OF 25 AT WORK

Gov. John B. Connally entertained his "Committee of 25" with a coffee, then set them to work. Committee has the year-long task of studying education beyond the high school.

Connally told them Texas needs a "total policy to guide all institutions, all segments of our higher education enterprise." He said this included state, church and private schools, junior and senior colleges and academic and technical institutions.

Committee met and decided to send their chairman, H. B. Zachry of San Antonio, suggestions on how to approach the challenge. They meet again in August.

SPECIAL SESSION TALK DWINDLES

Rumors of a special session to get an appropriations bill more to Governor Connally's liking still are going around. But now predictions are being made about a January session, rather than one in the summer or fall. Connally said he didn't like the one passed by the Legislature in the regular session because it "short-changed" higher education.

HOME-BUILDING ABUSES
Reported abuses of home building practices and loans were the subject of a recent conversation between Governor Connally and Lubbock District Attorney Alton Griffin, president of the state district and county attorneys association.

Connally said, "It may be that additional legislation will be necessary to get at the heart of the matter."

One reported abuse that concerns them is the alleged practice of "double contracting" wherein 100 per cent home financing is achieved by cushioning appraisals and other real estate sales documents.

APPOINTMENTS

Connally appointed three new members to the State Finance Commission, including S. R. Jones Jr., president of the First Pasadena State Bank in Pasadena, and Rex Baker Jr., president of Southwestern Savings Association of Houston. He also reappointed Taylor attorney Roman J. Bartosh.

Bert Fields, Dallas oil operator, was reappointed and named chairman of the Texas Turnpike Authority, on which he has served since 1953. A new appointee is J. M. Haggard Jr. of Dallas, vice-president of the company that manufactures Haggard slacks for men.

Haggard replaced Armistead Rust of San Angelo.

CARR'S CHORES LIGHTENED

After August 23, the governor will have to make 15 more state board appointments. These 15 citizens named will take the place of just one man — Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

Switch was made possible by a bill, supported by the attorney general, which passed during the recent legislative session. End result will be to peel down the pile of "ex officio" jobs, which have burdened attorneys general in the past, and give Carr more time for his main job as the state's head lawyer.

POST MORTEM

About 300 state labor leaders came to Austin to reflect on the accomplishments — or lack of accomplishments — of the 58th Legislature.

Speakers at the seminar included Rep. Dick Cherry, Waco Democrat, and Rep. Ike Harris, Dallas Republican, and Sen. A. R. (Babe) Schwartz of Galveston.

"The 58th could turn out better than the 59th," Cherry said. "Next time, you'll have the problems of a big tax session and a second-term speaker (Speaker Byron Tunnell, supposedly) running for Attorney General."

As session achievements, Cherry listed the Padre Island bill, Municipal Annexation bill, Tourist Development program, Water Storage expansion and provisions for teacher retirement.

Measures for rural development, which did not pass, were among what he considered failures of the Legislature.

GOOD NEWS

Although state and federal animal health officials reported that 72 Texas counties are now tagged "screwworm infested" the report was good news, said Dr. R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Garrett said that 333 samples confirmed as screwworms in the March 31-April 27 period represented a decrease of 95 to 98 per cent in the number of cases in years before the screwworm eradication project went into effect.

"We're real happy with the success of the program," Dr. Garrett said. "We hope to be completely successful in wiping out the screwworm by the end of the three-year program." He said livestock producers were responsible for the stamping out of the costly pest in at least two ways: Through their $3,000,000 contributions and through "excellent" cooperation in reporting cases and sending samples.

"It's strictly a producers' program...initiated by livestock producers and wholeheartedly supported by producers."

The three-year, $12,000,000 producer-federal-state program almost has reached the mid-way point in its progress.

BUS DRIVER OF THE YEAR

Records of more than 8,000 school bus drivers were screened before Elmer J. Ashby of the Carlisle Independent School District, Rusk County, was selected "Texas Public School Bus Driver of the Year" by the Texas Education Agency.

In 25 years of service, Ashby transported school children 300,000 accident-free miles, without missing a day for personal or superficial reasons.

'STATES' RIGHTS' BILLS IN AIR

The 58th Legislature passed two proposed 'states' rights' amendments to the U. S. Constitution. But both are a long way from changing the law of the land.

One would make it simple for the states to initiate other amendments to the constitution; the other would prevent federal courts from ruling on states redistricting as population shifts occur.

To make the grade, both would have to be adopted by 34 states. So far, only 11 have approved the first proposal, and 12 have affirmed the second.

It's the Law in TEXAS

FOLLOW SIMPLE RULES IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Vacation time is here. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.

2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlight beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information. Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess—be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver—and he must do the same.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

THE BRACERO PROGRAM, which has allowed 1.7 million Mexican farm hands to enter the U.S. under contract during the last five years, is due to end this year. The proposed extension of the 12-year-old program was defeated in the House last week by a 174-to-158 roll call vote.

While this action will not affect southwest Texas because the Secretary of Labor decided three years ago to discontinue the program in our area, it will create serious labor problems for many farmers, particularly in California, New Mexico and Arizona, where extreme labor shortages exist in the vegetable and fruit fields. All told, about a quarter of a million braceros are now being used in the lower Rio Grande valley, the Pecos-El Paso area, and in the other states.

Opposition to continuing the bracero program was spearheaded by CIO-AFL, whose farm union has big plans for unionizing all agricultural labor, and contends contracting of Mexican workers tends to interfere with the organizing drive. This group was aided by many uninformed and misinformed do-gooders, all of whom joined in a massive parade of ignorance about labor shortage problems in the affected areas.

Hank Brown, President of the Texas AFL-CIO, wrote each member of the Texas Delegation, urging us to vote against extending the law. He contended that if the law is continued it would deprive "thousands of unemployed American citizens" along the border of job opportunities.

I answered Mr. Brown by inviting him to send me a list of the names and addresses of the unemployed people in my district who are able and willing gators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or total damages exceed $25.00.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety. (This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

to work on ranches and farms at prevailing wages. I told him that if he would do that, I could then send that list to the many people who write me about local labor shortages. Needless to say, Mr. Brown did not bother to answer my request.

THE SIMPLE FACT IS, that there is now and has been for years an extreme shortage of farm workers in the southwest. A sensible workable bracero program is badly needed, if it could be administered by an agency that would in good faith recognize the problem and try to do something about it on a practical basis. No-one wants labor imported into areas where there is an adequate number of domestic workers to meet the demands. In fact, the law prohibits that being done.

The impact this action may have in Mexico remains to be seen. On the one hand, the Administration is plugging for an Alliance for Progress, costing hundreds of millions of dollars, but seems to take a dim view of providing this means of helping our neighbor to the south, without any cost to the American taxpayers.

Since the Labor Department has built up a bureaucracy for the enforcement of the bracero law, it will be interesting to see how many of the some 1,000 who have been hired to run the program will now be fired. I am requesting the Secretary of Labor to inform me what he plans to do about this surplus of manpower in his Department when the bracero program ends this year.

"Fly Factory" Expands

Mission — The fight to eradicate the bothersome screwworm from the Southwest is receiving increased momentum as the plant in which sexually-sterile screwworm flies are reared is being modified to facilitate production of more than 130 million flies per week.

Officials of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program announced that the increase in sterile flies should be available by mid-July. The additional flies will be used to combat isolated screwworm outbreaks outside of the area where the insect can normally survive winter temperatures, as well as to eliminate native flies in the southern parts of Texas and New Mexico which comprise the overwintering area.

No increase in building space is required in order to expand production, officials stated. Some modifications of existing equipment are necessary and an increase in personnel and cost of production and distribution is expected.

The plant near Mission was completed in June 1962 and was designed to produce an average of 50 million flies per week with a top production of 75 million. As a result of experimentation that developed many improvements in fly-rearing techniques, more than 100 million flies have been produced each week for several months with little change in original plant and equipment.

The announcement that the "fly factory" is to be modified comes at a time when Southwestern farmers and ranchers are experiencing less than 10 percent as many screwworm infestations as last year. Since January 1, 1963, about 1,200 screwworm cases have been reported in the eradication area composed of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, in contrast with more than 9,500 cases reported for the same period in 1962.

Despite the marked decrease in infestations, officials have warned that livestock producers cannot afford to relax their vigilance. Stockmen should continue to look for wounds infested with larvae and immediately report infestations by collecting larvae samples from wounds and sending them to the Mission laboratory or taking them to the local county agent.

Mrs. Warren Aldridge and Mrs. W. E. Vanderford attended a gift tea in Coleman Saturday, honoring Miss Bobbie Thwing, bride-elect of Charles Mayo, grandson of Mrs. Vanderford.
