THE AMERICAN WAY

HOW TO SPLIT RED CHINA AND THE U.S.S.R. FOR GOOD

By Harry Browne
Editor, Freedom Magazine
(formerly American Progress)

The "seasoned observers" and "informed sources" are at it again!

According to them, the Russians and Red Chinese have had a falling out — so soon there'll be no more threat from the Communists.

The political pundits haven't had this much fun since their "informed sources" told them back in 1948 that Mao Tse Tung was really an agrarian reformer. Since that time, these "seasoned observers" enjoyed another big scoop in 1958 — when they discovered that Fidel Castro was the George Washington of Cuba.

Now the same old hacks are back at the same old stand — selling the same old phony elixir.

Gigantic Hoax

The bold facts of Communist life clearly reveal that if the Reds really were having troubles, we'd be the last ones to hear about it. It's only when there's a gigantic hoax under way that they let us in on their "problems." Yet the "pundits" and the "observers" are pouring it on — trying to make us believe the Chinese and Russians are at each other's throats.

One can only guess what transpired behind closed doors during the recent Russian-Chinese meetings. We can hope that at least a few legs might have been broken as they slapped their knees in amusement over our desire to believe anything they dream up.

If It Were True...

But let's assume that this great show really is on the level. Is there anything we can do to take advantage of Communist dissension?

Yet! We can do the one thing we ought to do anyway — whether or not there really are "rifts" in the Communist camp. That solution is to break off all relations with all Communist countries — and force them to live off their own bankrupt system.

It's inconceivable that the Communists could ever feed an enormous population like the Chinese with communism. And yet this so-called "ideological" dispute is being utilized to build up the Chinese as a dangerous power that must be "reckoned with." What this means is that we shall shortly be asked to recognize the Red Chinese, give them lucrative terms and possibly send them subsidized wheat (all of which we do now with the Soviets). This is how we would "face up to the danger."

The Truth Is...

No Communist society has ever existed without feeding off the labors of a capitalist society. The Red Chinese have lasted this long only because we have subsidized the Soviets, who in turn subsidize the Chinese. And because we have prevented the Nationalist Chinese from recapturing their rightful homeland.

Let's put a stop to all this foolishness! Let's face up to reality and quit grasping at propaganda straws thrown out by the Communists.

Let's break off all relations with all Communist countries and then prepare for the peaceful era that will inevitably follow.

45.9% of Quota In Bonds Sold During First Half of 1963

During the first half of 1963, the citizens of Coleman County purchased $183,613 in Series E and H Savings Bonds according to a report received from Robert I. Bowen Jr., Chairman of the Coleman County Savings Bonds Committee. 45.9 percent of the county's 1963 goal has been achieved.

Savings Bond Sales in Texas during the first half of 1963 were $76,246,599 or 50.6 percent of the 1963 goal of $150,600,000.

"It is encouraging to note that Savings Bond sales nationally are setting a new peace-time high. Bond sales during the first 6 months of 1963 were $2,517 million as compared to $2,277 million a year ago, reflecting a 10.5 percent gain. As of June 30, 1963, the total amount of outstanding E Bonds stood at an all-time peak of $46,359 million, a gain of $860 million since January 1," Chairman Bowen said.

Participating In Politics Stressed By Farm Bureau

Dallas — (Sp) — The importance of individuals participating in politics will be emphasized at the 15th annual Texas Farm Bureau Institute to be held here July 30-Aug. 2 at the Adolphus Hotel, according to C. H. Devahey, president of the state's largest general farm organization.

Theme of the training school for county Farm Bureau leaders is "Power in the People." This year's Institute program is designed to develop more individual participation by farmers and ranchers in the 1964 general election, the TFB president said. He explained that the Farm Bureau, as an organization, does not participate in partisan politics. Individual members are encouraged to be active in the party of their choice, he said.

Two general sessions will deal with political action on the state and local level. Other features of the Institute in addition to the general sessions and regular classes will be a vesper service a safety program, informal sessions with TFB department heads, a recreation party, and a banquet.

Registration will get underway at 7:00 p. m. All members of the Co-op have received registration cards in the mail. They should be signed and presented at the registration counter as you arrive. Visitors are invited to attend the meeting, but will not register. Members are those who use REA electric power and each will receive a gift when you register.

A 30-minute program of music will be presented from 7:30 to 8:00 p. m. The annual business meeting begins at 8:00 and is expected to be completed by 8:30 p. m. At 8:30 Cayce Moore, the well-known humorist-barber from Hearne, Texas, will entertain the crowd with his witty remarks. A barber shop quartet, The Larks of Abilene, will also entertain the group. A large number of electrical appliances will be given away beginning at about 9:45. All who register are eligible to participate in the drawing.

E. E. Evans, president, said members of the Co-op are using electrical energy at a much greater rate than was expected when the original lines were built. He said the use of electricity had more than doubled in the past ten years and it was expected this amount would more than double in the next ten years. There are more than 400 uses of electricity on farms alone and some 250 of these are used to increase production or make farming more profitable. As a result of this increase, the Cooperative is continually faced with having to increase their capacity in order to care for the increased usage.

Other officers are: Kirby Robinson, vice president; and Garland Abbey, secretary and treasurer. C. L. Newton is the general manager.

Directors are: R. S. Davis, Tom Kingsbery, Johnnie Henderson, Arnold Fuchs, Joe Hudson and J. L. Roach.

Elder and Mrs. Osborne went to Brazil as an evangelist, where he spent three years and helped to launch the Luzero (meaning Light Bearer) on the Amazon River. This medical launch offers the people of that area spiritual and medical help.

A year ago Mrs. Osborne became very ill and her condition was diagnosed as cancer. The doctors gave her only 2 to 3 months to live. Special prayer was offered and she was miraculously healed. She will present this experience at the Council meeting. She is also an accomplished pianist and organist.

hold strip wasn't tacked down tight... because the rung of a ladder was loose... because an insecticide was carelessly stored... because someone was smoking in bed... because of an endless variety of human failings.

The National Safety Council defines accident statistics as "a single human tragedy multiplied to the point of indifference." The definition is an apt one, since accidents have become commonplace in the pattern of modern life.

Children and older people are most susceptible. Current national statistics show that 15,000 children are killed and 16,500,000 are injured each year. Persons 65 years old and over compose nine percent of the population; yet this age group experiences 74 percent of all fatal falls and 28 percent of all deaths from fire and explosion.

There is no reason to believe the pattern of fatal home accidents this year will vary greatly from the 1962 pattern when 1384 Texans met untimely death thusly:

Fires and explosions killed 423; falls from different levels killed 310; 180 died of falls from the same level; 83 were accidentally shot; 79 suffocated; 54 were poisoned by solids or liquids; 43 were poisoned by gases or vapors; 18 were burned to death by hot substances; and 194 died from accidents of an unspecified nature.

These figures can only be altered by massive demonstrations of public caution, stimulated by carefully organized, continuous programs of home safety in which the whole community is involved.

Austin — The old man had been high on a ladder, pruning a pecan tree. Suddenly he was lying helpless on the ground, vulnerable to the ladder as it crashed down on his head.

He's still hospitalized. The price he paid for his back yard tree-pruning venture: both heels crushed, a broken vertebra, and a deep gash in his head. What prompted him to undertake so difficult a task when he was so obviously ill-equipped to handle it?

There is no firm answer to the question. The incident is just one of thousands which kill and maim and cripple people throughout Texas and the rest of the nation each year. Accidents, as of this moment, stand as the fourth leading cause of death among all age groups in Texas and the United States as a whole.

Even more grim is the fact that of the 5655 accidental deaths of all types registered in Texas last year, one-fourth occurred in the most cherished of all places — the victim's home.

Thorough studies into the nature of accidents show that very few happen by pure chance. They occur because a stairway was improperly lighted... because an electrical circuit was overloaded... because a threshhas been spent recently for industrial construction in our service area.

Even today, $28,000,000 is a lot of money. But a survey shows that this vast amount has been spent recently for construction of new industrial plants in our service area, and for expansion of existing ones.

The figure is evidence of two things. One is that our service area is becoming more and more industrialized. The other is that when we say "The Center of the Southwest" is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions, we have the facts to back it up.

The industrial figure is one fact. The commercial and civic improvement figures are others. Day by day we become more than ever convinced that this region faces growth unlimited.

... more proof that the Center of the Southwest is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions.

Austin — Gov. John Connally says Texas is making a lot of progress on civil rights without demonstrations and disturbances. He urged Texans to avoid the trouble which is plaguing other states.

Roy Evans, secretary of Texas State AFL-CIO, indicated mass demonstrations are needed in Lower Rio Grande Valley to improve working conditions of Mexican workers. Connally commented such statements are irresponsible and inflammatory.

Governor also rejected labor's appeal for a special session of the legislature to abolish right-to-work law and enact state minimum wage, saying he saw "no need, emergency or desirability" for such session.

Evans said labor's traditional role is to try to inflame people against injustice, and he intends to keep on trying to do that.

QUICK CHANGE

From one of the unpaid boss jobs to a $16,500-a-year assistantship is the story of Dr. J. B. Copeland of San Antonio.

When the Legislature created the new job of deputy commissioner of the Health Department, Dr. Copeland resigned as chairman of the State Board of Health to accept the job as deputy commissioner. He had been Board Chairman for the past ten years.

Governor Connally named Dr. N. L. Barker of Paris to replace Dr. Copeland. He reappointed Dr. Elmer Baum of Austin and named Dr. John M. Smith of San Antonio and I. D. Flores of Floresville, a pharmacist, to the Board of Health.

APPOINTMENTS

Connally made other appointments. Among them:

S. A. Kerr of Huntsville and Dr. Joe A. Nelson of Weatherford, reappointments, and David A. Kimbell, Wichita Falls, to the board of regents of North Texas State University.

Ed Minor of Austin and W. R. Whitten, Fort Worth, to State Board of Pharmacy.

Sister Mary Brian Sherry of San Antonio and Mrs. Martha McClellan Davis, Beaumont, to Board of Nurse Examiners.

Dr. Richard T. Weber of Austin and Dr. James E. Makins, Lubbock, to Board of Dental Examiners.

Judge Otis Dunagan of Tyler, former Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs and Judge James H. Moore, Nacogdoches, to the new 12th Court of Civil Appeals at Tyler.

Judge Stephen F. Presler, McCamey, to the 8th Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso, replacing Justice Jim Langdon, whom he had named to the Railroad Commission.

Charles Sherrill, Fort Stockton, to replace Presler as district judge.

Judge Howard P. Green of Cuero, Paul Nye of Corpus Christi and T. Gilbert Sharpe, Brownsville, to the new 13th Court of Civil Appeals in Corpus Christi.

Major Joe E. Kelly, Victoria, to replace Green as district judge.

Eugene R. Hoyt of Orange, Jack Pierce of Nacogdoches, Warren P. Cunningham Jr., of Houston, Arthur C. Lesh Jr., Houston, as district judges.

Ward R. Burke of Lufkin, Dr. George Andrew Constant of Victoria and C. E. (Sonny) Bentley, Abilene, to Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

George Christian of Austin, who was administrative assistant to former Gov. Price Daniel, as Governor's press secretary, replacing Wilbur Evans, who went back to sports press relations.

Clay Cotton, longtime attorney for State Insurance Department, as State Liquidator to succeed C. H. Langdeau, who is retiring due to ill health.

LOANS

Frank Miskell of Austin, who headed up the Texas Legislature's studies on the loan shark problem, will be the administrator of the new law which regulates licensed lenders.

Miskell was chosen by the State Finance Commission to be the first Regulatory Loan Commissioner. He will assume his new duties on August 23.

DRY AND WET

Texas is spotted with drought and flood points.

Texas Water Commission found that reservoirs declined a little in June. They wound up the month 76 percent full, so there's room to store more floods when and if they come.

In general, Northeast Texas reservoirs are full, while those in South Texas are shrinking.

ROADS

Highway construction is one thing dry weather helps.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer reported that contractors on state-federal projects completed $24,073,319 worth of work during June.

But there's plenty yet to do. They hold contracts which total $382,872,803 and another $25,000,000 worth of contracts will be issued this week.

DO FENCE THEM IN

Texas Highway Department has endorsed the idea of building "median rails" on busy urban expressways.

Rails — heavy-duty fences which keep traffic from careening into opposite lanes — have been or will be installed on expressways around Houston, Fort Worth and Austin.

Also under development by highway engineers is a woven-wire mesh fence— similar to backyard chain-link jobs — to reduce headlight glare and to prevent pedestrians from crossing the freeways.

OIL HOLDS UP

Despite recommendations by several major oil buying firms that Texas production be cut in August, the Railroad Commission held the line.

Production will continue at the July rate of 28.5% of capacity of the wells. Independents praised the action.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Texas Committee on Education Beyond the High School has selected one of its members as paid executive director.

He is Dr. A. B. Martin, president of Amarillo Junior College. He will coordinate all staff work for the big study.

Committee has one year to finish its study and report to the Governor and Legislature.

SADLER ACTIVE

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler continues to be much in the news.

Sadler disagreed with Governor Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr on seriousness of a state-federal dispute on reclaimed lands in the tidelands; swapped hot wires with ex-Sen. Bob Baker after Baker accused him of impeding Padre Island Seashore project; and insisted that Carr get Supreme Court concurrence on Carr's ruling that a new law reorganizing the School Land Board is valid.

POLLUTION QUESTION

Texas Water Pollution Control Board granted a permit to discharge thousands of gallons of "treated effluent" into the waters of Copano and Aransas Bays in connection with plans for a big new resort motel and marina at Lamar Townsite, Aransas County.

Objections voiced at public hearings led to the Commission's action in instructing backers of the project — American Liberty Oil Company — to extend the point of discharge 500 feet farther out into the bay area.

STATE SCHOOL

Dr. James Turman, Director of the Texas Youth Council, defended his council's action in either firing — or retiring — Superintendent O. F. Perry of Gatesville State School.

Perry and his supporters claim too much interference from Austin, too little discipline of boys. Youth Council denies this, contends policy differences caused the dismissal.

M. B. Kendrick was named to replace Perry.

SHORT SNORTS

It's Time For... EYE CARE
Dr. Newton K. Wesley
PROTECTIVE REFLEXES OF THE EYE
There are many examples of eye protection reflexes. Blinking, for instance, is a protective reflex. In a wink the eyelids can be closed to shut out excessive light, or a foreign object.
Many contact lens wearers become more conscious of dust in the air. Sometimes they will close their eyes so rapidly they will catch a dust particle before it strikes the eye and they can feel it between the lid margins. The contact lens wearer's lid reaction is more sensitive because dust underneath the lens can result in great discomfort.
We have all seen photographs taken with a flash bulb that reveals someone with their eyes closed. It is incredible how fast the eye can react.
Tearing is another good example of protective reflex. If a foreign object finds its way into the eye, the tears will well up immediately to wash out the particle. Tears are antiseptic and tend to negate the action of the foreign object. In warmer or dryer weather the tears increase automatically. This action is also protective. The pupil of the eye will react to different degrees of light. If there is very little light, the pupil will enlarge and if there is too much, it will dilate, or grow smaller. The reflex to dilate the pupil takes a little longer than the contracting action.

Patent Helps Inventors Profit From Their Ideas

Necessity may be the mother of invention, but its Big Daddy is the patent.

July 31 is the anniversary of the day when the first patent was issued in the United States. That was in 1790 — little more than a year after the new government began operating. It was only a process for "making pot and pearl ashes," otherwise known as potash, reports World Book Encyclopaedia, but so important was the event that President Washington himself signed the patent awarded to Samuel Hopkins, of Vermont. Endorsing the document was the then Secretary of State Jefferson, no mean gadgeteer himself, whose inventions include the swivel chair and the dumb-waiter.

Why all the fuss about the patent?

Statesmen before and after Washington have praised it as a spur to invention and hence, technological advance. And some observers have even credited it with the Western world's high standard of living.

A patent is simply a limited monopoly which secures to an inventor the fruits of his labor. For 17 years he has exclusive right to make, sell, or use his invention. Of course, it may be a profitless 17 year... if some part of his invention has been patented by an earlier inventor who refuses to let him use it. But at the end of that period, the invention becomes accessible to the public at large and scientific knowledge is increased.

Women began making their contributions to scientific knowledge as early as 1809, when Mary Kies was granted a patent for a method of weaving straw with silk or thread.

A few thousand patents later, a former Congressman from Illinois named Abraham Lincoln received one for "A Device for Buoying Vessels over Shoals." The device must have been a success, because Lincoln later declared appreciatively, "The Patent System added the fuel of interest to the fire of genius."

About this time, unfortunately, the fire of genius was just what the examiners were demanding proof of, before they would grant a patent. Inventors who labored long and hard over their creations but were unable to show that spark of "divine madness" were turned away, while less-than-brilliant tinkers who might have stumbled onto an idea or a device by accident were rewarded. In 1952 Congress decided there weren't enough geniuses to go around and changed the patent laws.

The requirement, however, proved no obstacle to Mark Twain, who received three patents. In 1873 he was awarded one for "Mark Twain's Self-Pasting Scrapbook," a book of blank pages coated with gum or veneer. He sold 25,000 copies during the first royalty period, leading one writer to comment that this "was well enough for a book that did not contain a single word that critics could praise or condemn."

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Luke 15:1-10. I say unto you, there is a joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth. (Luke 15:10)

We sing when we are happy. Where there is joy, there is bound to be a song. God's Word abounds with joyous songs.

We recall the song of Moses after the Red Sea deliverance, and the song of Deborah at the overthrow of Sisera. We enjoy the lovely songs of David, the wonderful chorus the shepherds heard over the fields of Bethlehem, and the grand hallelujah in the Book of Revelation.

But the most joyous of all songs is the one the angels sing when you and I come to the cross and have our sins forgiven. As Jesus tells us, "There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." No mortal ear has heard this song; but someday, by the gift of His grace, we shall join in it. It is one of many blessings that God has prepared for them that love Him.

PRAYER We thank Thee, O God, for the joy we find in Thy Word. We come to Thee to help us so to live this life that we shall be able to join the triumphant chorus of the redeemed around Thy throne in glory. We ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY The more we live with the scriptures, the more joy we find in life.

Farmers Use More Credit

The use of credit by farmers and ranchers will probably continue to increase for several years, says John McHaney, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. His prediction is based on trends toward continued consolidation and enlargement of farms, further increases in capital investments, and higher prices for farm real estate and many items of production. He points out that farm mortgages recorded during 1962 amounted to $3.5 billion, or 16 percent more than the preceding year. Also the number of farm mortgages recorded was two percent higher and loans averaged 13 percent larger than in 1961.

New technology and the price-cost squeeze are major factors which have increased the need for more credit, says McHaney. Funds are generally wanted for more land, livestock, or equipment; shifts from crop to livestock production; increased use of fertilizer and for control of insects and weeds; and for the modernization of facilities for efficient agricultural production.

Another reason for increased borrowing may be the reduced farm income and depleted financial reserves caused by inefficient farm operation, says McHaney.

For the next few years the price-cost squeeze, the trend toward larger farms, and the need for greater investment per farm will probably continue to create heavy demand for credit, predicts the economist. In addition, more and more small operators will seek off farm employment to supplement their farm incomes.

However, one bright spot for borrowers is that land values have increased along with the farm debt, resulting in increased aggregate equities for farm operators. The value of farm real estate, which accounts for about two-thirds of farmer's and rancher's total assets, was at a record level in mid-1962 and is expected to continue its climb through 1963, say McHaney.

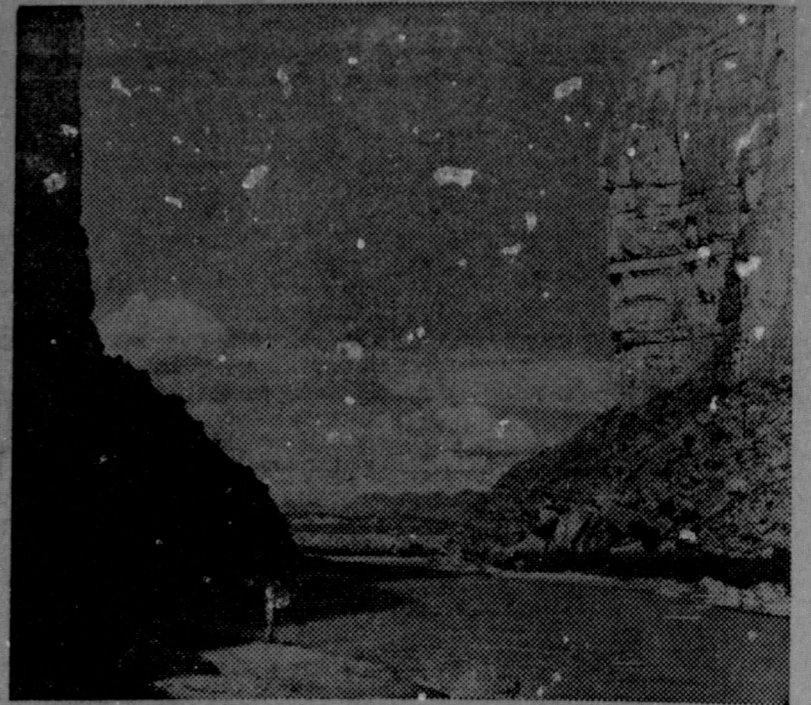

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN.

Beat The Heat

Whether it's the heat or the humidity or both, it's hot in most of the United States in July. In some places it's hotter than others, but it's still hot.

After a month or so of sweating and steaming, it's not uncommon to find the heat is beginning to wear you down.

There's nothing you can do about the outside temperature. Unless you're fortunate enough to have air conditioning in your office or shop, home and auto, there's nothing much you can do about it inside either.

But there are some things you can do to be more comfortable — things that can help you beat the heat.

Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest. Wear light, loose clothing, the less the better. The ladies have an edge over the men in this respect. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on your physician's advice, particularly if you have liver or kidney trouble or a heart condition.

Take a shower or a dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts, and salads, unless you like them anyway.

Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden. Or work at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day.

You need exercise in the summer as well as in the winter, but don't overdo it, especially on extra hot days. Don't overdo physical exertion, whether at work or play.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense, and you can beat the heat — at least somewhat.

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Inevitable Result

The words from the song, Oh What A Beautiful Morning, from the musical "Oklahoma," inspired this picture taken at Six Flags Over Texas. At Fort St. Louis in the French section of the famous family fun land midway between Fort Worth and Dallas, corn and vegetables are grown just as were cultivated in the early days to feed the inhabitants. Now the corn—not the stalks—is as high as an elephant's eye, but baby elephant Sis Flagg and Hostess Mona Freeman are somewhat skeptical as to whether the Texas corn will "climb clear up to the sky," as it does in the famous song from the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein show, "Oklahoma."

Regular Meeting of Eastern Star

The Santa Anna Eastern Star Chapter met in the Masonic Hall Monday night for a regular stated meeting. Mrs. Joyce Mobley, Worthy Matron, opened the meeting in short form with 14 officers filling their stations. Mr. H. W. Gray, Worthy Patron, led the group in repeating the Pledge of Allegiance. Minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved.

The chapter voted to honor the Junior Past Matron and Patron, Mr. and Mrs. Montie Guthrie, with a picnic in the Coleman City Park at 7:00 p. m. Saturday, August 10. Mr. Milton House announced he and Mrs. House and son would be moving to Ballinger August 1, where he is being transferred by West Texas Utilities Co.

The chapter closed with the retiring march. The group assembled in the Fellowship Hall, where Mrs. Viona West, Mrs. Zuda Henderson and Mrs. Edith Golston served refreshments of punch and cookies to 20 members and Mrs. Grady Quarles of Lovington, N. M. Chapter No. 35, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Ward, Mrs. Bessie Bowen and Miss Jewell Copelan of the Coleman Chapter No. 360.

The Hall was decorated with red, pink and white roses, flowers of the star point colors, summer pinks and sultanna.

WHITE-COLLAR ERA

A round-up story in the Wall Street Journal recently assembled data describing what amounts to a boom in white-collar jobs. This information might justify some new ways of looking at the employment picture. Our time may soon be referred to as the "age of the white collar." In a period when unemployment is so much emphasized, with blue-collar and farm jobs having declined by some 2.6 million since 1947, it is interesting to note that 10 million more white-collar workers are on the job now than were then at work.

This white-collar multitude now comprises about 30 million. It outnumbers the farm plus blue-collar category by nearly a million. Just the increase of 10 million since the war, says the Journal, equals the population of Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, and Detroit. (Service workers, not included in these figures, also have increased 50 per cent.) It is possible that some new viewpoints may arise toward national issues and problems, because of the weighty balance favoring the white-collar crowd. At least, this comprises a new description of a work force produced by our post-war economy that has created four new white-collar jobs for each blue-collar and farm job lost through technology.

Jobs to Spare

With labor such a scarce commodity in the more highly specialized fields, many such jobs are going begging. The rapid increases in salaries also reflect the demand for skilled white-collar workers. Just since 1955, average salaries for general nurses have gone up 40 per cent, public school teachers 45 per cent, and clerical workers 35 per cent. Unfortunately, not many unemployed coal miners and steel workers can fit into such jobs, nor can retraining make white-collar men out of them.

It is notable that in industries employing large numbers of blue-collar workers, the ratio of white to blue is now favoring the white. In chemicals and petroleum, for example, which in 1947 had fewer than 25 per cent white-collar personnel, the proportion now is 40 per cent. Rubber companies are now hiring one white-collar for each three blue-collar, and so does the transportation equipment industry, including automobiles. Their 1947 rate was less than one in five.

Jobs and Automation

Apparently we are not yet approaching the period when automation will give, if it ever does, extended if not permanent vacations to all of us. Other reports indicate that many jobs involving automation and computers are almost everywhere available. These jobs may not increase in every industry quite as rapidly once automation is achieved. But right now the dull, monotonous jobs are being eliminated by the computers. As this is done, there will be continual up-grading of personnel and clerical workers who have superior ability.

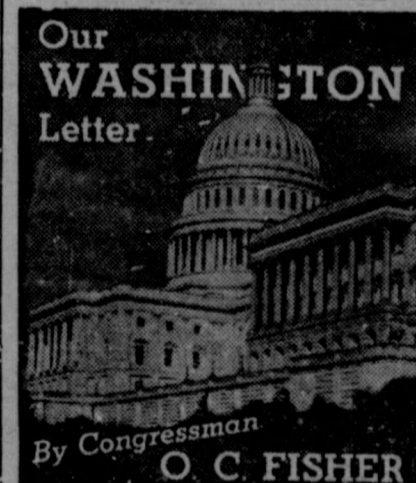

At present, many employers say they are hiring more people because of automation. This has been reported by Aetna Life Insurance as well as Bell Telephone System. The latter, although it has 6,000 fewer operators than it had after the war, has increased its total work force by more than 250,000. One of the major automobile makers reports that its white-collar ranks have increased despite extensive use being made of computers.

Rely On Freedom

It is unfortunate that anyone should belong to the ranks of the jobless. And it is too bad that retraining will not make many electronics experts out of coal miners. But their children, as well as other youngsters with a flair for mathematics and some reasoning ability that leads to problem solving, will have many opportunities. Automation has not yet led to the brink of disaster. The forward looking are saying these developments will, in time, lead to entirely new challenges that are barely dreamed of today.

Does all this look like the American economy has failed, operating as it has been largely in the freedom of private hands? Hardly. We cannot cast aside the traditional patterns of freedom that have enjoyed such a large measure of success. We should not become a nation dedicated to socialist planning and ownership simply because readjustments of jobs to people and people to jobs look difficult. Government spending is hardly the proper route to permanent jobs and sound economy. Let's keep on trying freedom of enterprise, while we up-grade our skills!

ANOTHER QUESTIONNAIRE has been sent to voters in the 21st district. This one covers some of the more pressing issues of the day. The results should reflect a fairly accurate cross section of public opinion in our area.

This is the best way — and the only way — I know of for gauging the composite thinking of my constituents on the subjects covered. The success of the effort depends, of course, upon the extent of cooperation of the people who are willing to express themselves.

Polls like this are becoming increasingly popular in Congress. There have been about 50 samplings taken by Congressmen this year. This practice has attracted considerable attention, and is being recognized as a fairly accurate barometer of public opinion.

This sampling technique was initiated by me on Capitol Hill some ten years ago, and the idea has caught on. In the areas covered it is admittedly more accurate than the Gallup Poll. The results are known to be analyzed at the White House and by political partisans as a way of learning how the public is reacting to programs that are being advanced.

When returns are complete, they will be tabulated and the results published in the Congressional Record. Because so much interest is being shown these days in what is going on in Washington, this seems to be a particularly good time to invite all people to express themselves.

THE U. S. SUBMARINE fleet is steadily growing. Equipped with Polaris missiles that are fired from submerged positions, this technique is becoming a vital factor in our over-all defense build-up. It is becoming one of our most powerful deterrents.

In a letter to me, from "At Sea, Gulf of Mexico, 16 July, 1963", Adm. H. G. Rickover informs me the USS BARB, our 18th attack type submarine has just completed all tests.

"In addition to the 18 attack nuclear subs", the Admiral added, "we also have 13 Polaris type submarines in operation. When all nuclear submarines are completed, the U. S. will have 41 Polaris and 47 attack submarines."

Rev. and Mrs. Carl Gilkerson and their five children, of Salinas, Calif., visited in Santa Anna Wednesday afternoon of last week. He was formerly band director of the Santa Anna High School. They all seem to enjoy their work and living in California.

Mrs. L. O. Garrett returned home last week from an 8-week tour of the United States. She visited in the northeast. Then toured to California and back home. She reports a really wonderful time.

Smaller Flag For Use At Veteran's Burials

A smaller American Flag, more suitable for display, is now being prepared by the Veterans Administration for use at Veteran's burials.

Glyndon Hague, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said the flag now being issued to drape a casket is too large for any functional use by the family of deceased veterans.

These flags have been 5 feet by 9½ feet while the new ones will be 4½ feet by 7. Flags are customarily given to the next of kin after burial services.

Mr. Hague said about 100,000 of the older flags already on hand will be issued until the supply is exhausted. Since about 15,000 flags are being issued each month he estimated it will not be until October or November that the smaller flags will be used.

Mr. Hague said that during the past twelve years requests for flags have increased from 81,000 annually to more than 170,000. They may be obtained from VA field stations, post offices and embassies and consulates in foreign countries at the time of a veteran's death.

Use Screen Side

EITHER side of versatile Masonite hardboard may be used—the smooth face or the back, which has a mesh-like surface similar to canvas.

There are many applications in which exposing the screen side performs a non-skid function or furnishes a top-notch decor. For example:

Surfaces of lakeshore boat docks, floating rafts, diving boards and boat decks. To these apply the tempered Masonite hardboard with non-rusting screws through countersunk pre-drilled holes.

Treads of basement, attic or outbuilding stairways. With the exposed edges lightly beveled and the screen side exposed, the tempered board has considerable shoe-holding property, and it will even up worn treads. Fasten the hardboard with one-inch finishing nails. For additional safety, paint the steps a light color so they will show up well.

Interior walls. Here the reverse side of the hardboard gives the appearance of expensive canvas. A nice effect is gained by making a V-joint by means of a plane or beveling tool; otherwise cover the joints with narrow wood battens spaced eight or 16 inches apart. Primed and painted, such a wall furnishes a handsome accent area in any room.

Backgrounds. These might be a shadowbox, bookcase or tray bottom.

New Hook in Spring

WHEN A NEW hook is needed on the end of a coil spring, the simplest method is to place the spring on the corner of a vise or anvil and use a hammer. This procedure is far easier than using a pliers, according to Popular Mechanics.

Place the last coil of the spring over the corner and hammer it at right angles to the axis of the spring. While hammering, move the spring slightly to avoid cutting the wire on the edge of the vise jaw.
