THE AMERICAN WAY

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE FOR FREEDOM LATELY?

By Harry Browne

Editor, Freedom Magazine (formerly American Progress)

What have you done for freedom lately? Have you cherished your liberty enough to want to do something to expand it?

Have you spent some time with your Constitution lately — studying and understanding it? Or is that something that only high school students need to do?

Have you written to your Congressman this month — praising him for the votes he cast for more freedom, and requesting an explanation of those he cast for more government? Or are you even familiar with the votes he's cast?

Did you write a letter to the editor of this newspaper this week? Or is it just a waste of time to help others to understand what freedom means?

Responsibility

Are you speaking out in your community against the taking of federal grants — and the resulting decrease in local responsibility? Or do you feel that since every other town is accepting it, yours should have its share?

Have you resisted the temptation to accept some kind of federal subsidy for yourself — perhaps in the form of an FHA or VA loan? Or do you feel that, after all, you're the guy that's paying for it, why shouldn't you get some of it?

Do you speak up in public for what you know is right — at the PTA, your service club, or where you work? Or is that sort of thing bad for business?

Education

Have you spent some time with your children lately — explaining how the free enterprise system works, demonstrating the benefits of individual freedom? Or do you rely on the schools — which the government generously provides "free" — to teach your child the importance of freedom from government?

Have you expressed encouragement to someone working hard for the cause of freedom? Or have you been too busy wondering why no one has encouraged you?

Has the American flag flown in front of your house recently? And if it has and a neighbor asked why, did you point out that the flag is an expression of that great system in which the individual seeks his own destiny without the help or interference of government? Or did you just say "It's the thing to do," and let it go at that?

Be Positive

Do you remember to spend more time being for freedom? Do you speak out regularly for what you know is needed — such as the Liberty Amendment? Or do you prefer to just criticize the things that are wrong?

Freedom is a precious commodity — it is not ours by divine guarantee. In 6,000 years of history, only five generations have enjoyed it. And ours is fast losing its blessed inheritance.

It can not be secured by collective action — for it is the very opposite of collectivism. Only you can be responsible for it, for it is your freedom that is at stake.

What have you done for freedom lately? And, more important, what are you going to do today?

Chester James Rites In New Mexico

Funeral services for Chester James, 52, were held at Albuquerque, New Mexico Saturday afternoon. He died in the hospital here Thursday night after suffering a heart attack about three weeks previous.

He is survived by his wife, and three sons, all of Albuquerque, his father, C. B. James of Santa Anna, one brother, H. B. James of Santa Anna, two sisters, Mrs. Ray Owen of Santa Anna and Mrs. Inez Johnson of Fort Worth. He was a brother of Chelo T. James, who passed away a little over a year ago at Trickham.

Compulsory Attendance Law Changed

County School Superintendent D. E. Loveless announces a change in the compulsory school attendance law.

Supt. Loveless said House Bill 331 of the last Legislature amended the compulsory attendance statutes to require that every child in the State of Texas who is seven (7) years of age and not more than sixteen (16) and who is not a high school graduate, or exempt from public school attendance as provided in Article 2893, shall be required to attend the public school in the district of its residence or in some other district to which it may be transferred for a minimum of 165 days of the regular school term.

The previous requirement was 120 days.

Dogs To Be Vaccinated On Thursday

Dr. J. Ray Martin, County Veterinarian, will be in Santa Anna Thursday afternoon, Aug. 22, for the purpose of vaccinating dogs against rabies. He will be at the Agriculture Building near the high school, from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.

All dogs must be vaccinated for rabies and the vaccination receipt presented to the City Secretary before a City License may be purchased for the dog. In order for a dog to be allowed to run free within the City Limits, a dog is supposed to have a City License.

Shortly after the vaccination period, dogs that are roaming the streets will be picked up, and after a reasonable length of time, disposed of unless their owner claims them. They must then be vaccinated and licensed before the owner can claim the dog.

The City of Santa Anna requests your cooperation in getting the dogs vaccinated and licensed. They also request your cooperation in reporting unlicensed dogs to the City Hall, where someone will be sent to pick the stray dogs up.

Faculty Completed With Employment Of W. R. Gould

Cullen N. Perry, Superintendent, said the Santa Anna School system faculty was completed last week with the employment of Mr. W. R. Gould of Abilene, to head the English Department. Mr. Gould was employed Thursday night of last week.

Mr. Gould is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. He has 36 semester hours in English, which is 12 semester hours beyond major preparation in this field. He worked his way through H-SU as a substitute mail clerk in the Abilene Post Office.

He is married and has three children ages 12, 8 and 3 years. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gould are natives of Missouri and both attended schools at Gandy, Mo. While in military service, Mr. Gould taught college level accounting in a night school in Japan. This will be his first teacher assignment in a regular public school.

The family plans to move to Santa Anna during the last week of August. They need a three bedroom house. Anyone having this type house available is invited to contact Mr. Perry, so he can send Mr. Gould by to see it.

The Goulds own their home in Abilene and would consider the purchase of a home here, if he can sell his property in Abilene.

L. A. Welch, operator of the only official inspection station in Santa Anna, said there had been some changes made in the inspection law. Some of them that will affect owners is as follows:

If a vehicle was sold new after January 1, 1948, then the vehicle must have headlight beam indicator for lights and the same must be working;

Windshield wipers as originally equipped. If vehicle had one wiper, then only one wiper must work. If the vehicle had two wipers as original equipment, then both wipers must work;

Road tests will be permitted with due care when it is raining or when braking surfaces are wet;

No duplicate stickers can be issued. If a sticker is lost, stolen or mutilated, the vehicle must be submitted for another inspection, and the fee therefor shall be $1.00;

Every pickup, panel, bus, truck, trailer, school bus, or any other type vehicle must have a working stop light, regardless of year or model of vehicle.

Welch said there might be other laws pertaining to your vehicle. All the laws are available at any inspection station. He said it might be to your advantage to check them over. It could save you money.

State Capital NEWS

Austin — Some 700 state employees scattered throughout Texas are getting a new set of bosses. Reason is the creation of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission on August 23.

James M. Dellinger, Corpus Christi contractor; A. W. Moursund, Johnson City rancher-attorney; and Chairman Will Odum, Austin geologist and engineer, make up the new three-man Parks and Wildlife Commission. They replace nine commissioners on the old Game and Fish Commission and six on the old Parks Board.

Many state employees, who wondered whom Gov. John Connally would select to head the infant agency, now are worrying whether they themselves will remain on the payroll.

About 72 of the employees are in the Parks Department; some are managers of the state's 50-plus parks system. Another 625 or so are in the field of game and fish. About 100 of these are in the Austin office — the rest out in the field.

Connally says the consolidation will eliminate some duplication of services and effort.

On thing the state is sure to save on is per deims and expenses for the commissioners. The $25 per deim plus travel, hotel and meals allotted the three new men should come to about one-fifth the amount spent in past years on 15 commissioners.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN NEEDED

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., head of the Department of Public Safety, is looking for 100 additional highway patrolmen.

He asks applicants, aged 21 to 35, to contact him no later than September 14. Recruits will start to school November 19. Pay is $412 a month while in training, $453 on graduation.

Department will endeavor to assign the men to stations within 100 miles of their present homes.

HOPE TO CUT TRAFFIC DEATHS

Col. Garrison cast a gloomy eye at his crystal ball, and predicted a possible 31 traffic deaths in Texas over the three-day Labor Day weekend. But he hopes he is wrong!

"There is always a chance that the estimate can be proved too high," Garrison said, "if motorists will put forth a concerted effort to hold the line by driving within safe and legal limits, and remaining especially alert to the added dangers of holiday travel."

DPS has enlisted the aid of the Texas Safety Association, Texas Association of Broadcasters, junior chamber of commerce, Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association for a Labor Day "Operation Motorcade" — a concerted campaign to call attention to highway dangers.

SCHOOL LAND BOARD MEMBER NAMED

A Taylor attorney — William H. Fox — has been appointed by Attorney General Waggoner Carr to take Carr's place on the School Land Board. Law specifying the change was passed at the attorney general's request.

Gov. Connally and Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler will remain on the three-member board, which does a big, and complicated, business, leasing many thousands of acres of state-owned land each year.

Fox is a former district attorney and state representative for Burnet and Williamson counties.

HAWAII CALLS

Many Texas state officials now are in Hawaii attending the National Legislative Conference in Honolulu.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock heads the list. Others attending are House Speaker Byron Tunnell of Tyler, Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler, Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, Rep. Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge and Rep. Dick Slack of Pecos.

Also in the group are Bob Johnson, former representative from Dallas and now executive director of the Legislative Council, and his assistant, John T. Potter of Austin.

POPULATION VS. ORGANIZATION

Theory that a large population produces a greater volume of business activity than a small population is not 100 percent true.

This is revealed by the University of Texas' Population Research Center. It surveyed 30 Texas cities for the 20 year period — 1940 to 1960.

Cities surveyed were Alpine, Angleton, Aspermont, Boerne, Borger, Bracketville, Burnett, Cotulla, Del Rio, Denton, Eastland, Grapevine, Hillsboro, Humble, Italy, Killeen, McKinney, Menard, Merkel, Olney, Paris, Port Lavaca, Runge, Rusk, San Diego, seagraves, Seymour, Somerville, Van Alstyne and Winnsboro.

Nine of these — Bracketville, Eastland, Hillsboro, Italy, Menard, Rusk, Seagraves, Somerville and Van Alstyne — had a population decline.

Runge, Italy and McKinney all saw a decrease in the number of business organizations. Bracketville and Hillsboro were the only ones that had a decrease in the number of governmental organizations.

Only city that had a decrease in the number of organizations, but grew in population, was Runge.

San Diego was the only place that failed to produce additional volunteer associations.

In general, the survey proved that business and other organizations multiply even when population growth does not occur. Smaller cities usually support a greater number of organizations per 1,000 population than do the big cities.

HIGH SCHOOL DROPOUT

The growing problem of high school dropouts will be the topic of the annual meeting of the Texas State Committee on Public Education in Austin on Sept. 22.

President of the committee, Mrs. Helen J. Bechtel of Corpus Christi, is inviting all interested persons to attend the one-day session. No registration fee will be charged.

Governor Connally has estimated the state rate of dropouts for the next five years at 325,000.

OIL ALLOWABLE CUT

Producing ability of Texas oil wells was cut by some 28,617 barrels a day when the Railroad Commission reduced the daily oil allowable from 28.5 percent in August to 28 percent for September.

Most of the major oil companies wanted more of a cut. But the independent producers succeeded in getting the commission to hold production near the August allowable.

Commissioner Ernest Thompson of Amarillo returned to his office after a long illness and attended the hearing.

U-H REGENTS NAMED

Governor Connally named three University of Houston graduates to the nine-member board of regents for the U. of H., which will join the state college and university system in September.

Alumni-regents are Jack Valenti and A. J. Farfel, both of Houston, and George S. Hawn of Corpus Christi.

Other appointees include James T. Duke of Johnson City and Edward Daniel Manion of Beaumont. Also Col. William B. Bates, James A. Elkins Jr., Corbin J. Robertson and Mrs. Gue Wortham, all of Houston.

SHORT SNORTHS

Governor Connally reappointed Dr. John Stockton of Austin, John McKee of Dallas and Hugo H. Loewenstern of Amarillo to the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy.

Former secretary of state P. Frank Lake has been appointed legal counsel for the State Board of Insurance.

It's Time For...
EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
AMBLYOPIA

Amblyopia—"lazy eyes"—means dimness of vision. If 20/20 is considered normal, the amblyope sees much less. The eye doctor usually takes 20/40 as the maximum vision for amblyopia. This means the patient is barely able to read the third line above the 20/20 line on the chart after correction.

Wesley

The cause of amblyopia is not always known. It can be due to a lack of correction, lack of use of the eye, disease, or the patient may have been born with it. After diagnosis, one of the first things the doctor looks for is the cause. If it is a matter of correction, spectacles or contact lenses, are prescribed. If it definitely is a "lazy eye," a patch or frosted lens is worn over the good eye to force the lazy one to function.

It is well to follow the advice of your eye doctor if you have amblyopia. If disease is present he, if he isn't an ophthalmologist, will refer you to one.

Often amblyopia is associated with crossed eyes. If the person is cross eyed one eye is used more and amblyopia of the weaker eye may result. Here, again, the patch is used, alternately on the good eye, then the bad.

Only a competent eye examination can tell you if you are an amblyope and if this affliction is discovered early enough, vision can be preserved.

The National Eye Research Foundation advises an eye examination every six months.

response to the questionnaires was tremendous.

President Kennedy's record on foreign affairs is rated 16.9% "good", 71.3% "poor". In domestic affairs, 8 out of 10 people in the 21st District rate the President's record as "poor" while only 10% give Kennedy a "good" rating, with 9.6% having no opinion.

Nearly 80% of our people want a balanced budget before there is a tax cut; 91% call for a reduction in foreign aid; and 74% are opposed to Kennedy's medicare proposal.

On the Cuban issue, 8 out of every 10 approve my proposal that ships which trade in Cuban ports be thereafter barred from entering U. S. ports.

The Domestic Peace Corps, (which passed the Senate last week by a three-vote margin) is unpopular among our people. Only 17% approve, while 64.7% disapprove.

The Youth Conservation Corps (CCC) is liked by only 14.2% of our people, while 73.8% are against it.

90% favor my proposal that secret ballots be required before a strike can be called.

Senator Barry Goldwater is the overwhelming favorite for President. If a preferential election were held right now, 57.3% of the voters in the 21st District would vote for Goldwater. Only 11.5% would vote for President Kennedy. Governor Romney would run third with 8.9%, and Rockefeller would come in fourth with 3.1%. A total of 19.2% indicated no preference at this time.

Lists September Plentiful Foods

Abundance of turkeys, tuna, grapes, late-summer vegetables and frying-size chickens should provide many opportunities for varying late summer and early fall menu, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

These items on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's September list of plentiful foods will be in large supply which often results in special prices and a wider selection.

Consumer-size turkeys, from 6 to 16 pounds, will be abundant during September and this year's market price is expected to be similar to that of a year ago. Fryers are always a favorite, and provide an economical and delicious meat for either home meals or picnics.

Housewives may find tuna ideal for salads, sandwiches, casseroles, and other easy-to-prepare dishes, and tuna inventory stocks remain huge.

A record California grape crop, forecasted at 3.25 million tons, will result in a large supply of Thompson Seedless and Flame Tokays.

Late-summer fresh vegetables, such as tomatoes, lima beans, snap beans, cabbage, onions, and beets should be available to add a final touch to September meal planning, but supplies will vary from market to market.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Aldridge Jr. and sons of Jal, N. M., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Aldridge Sr. They will visit her parents in San Angelo and return home Sunday.

Health

Commissioner of Health

Austin — About this time each year, thousands of Texas mothers suddenly realize that only a few more weeks remain until school begins.

For those mothers who have six-year-olds beginning school for the first time this September the excitement is beginning to rise — and for mothers with no older children, a little bewilderment accompanies the excitement.

Smart mothers have already had their child fully examined by a physician, as well as a dentist. Also the beginning-school child should have his hearing and eyes checked for any abnormality so that correction or glasses can be accomplished well in advance of school time.

Also, for children just starting school, there is the problem of clothes, adjusting to new friends, discipline and surroundings. A thousand-and-one details crowd in on the parents.

One detail often overlooked until the last minute is the need for a birth certificate for first-time students. Most school districts require proof-of-age for beginning students.

Smart mothers send for their certificate copies early to avoid the rush of late August request which pour into county clerks' offices as well as the State Health Department's Records and Statistics Section.

Certified copies may usually be obtained from local county clerks and local registrars for a slight fee.

If unable to obtain a copy locally, a request should be made to the State Health Department as early as possible. The State fee, established by law, is one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50).

Most important aid for speedy service — aside from getting requests in early — is complete and correct information.

Parents should include the child's name, his place of birth, date of birth, and the parents' name — including the mother's maiden name.

A special corps of summer "searchers" who seek out the proper birth certificate from a special "school" index permits quick service even during the burden of late August requests. However, a week to 10 days should be allowed for mailing time and servicing.

When mother gets the certified copy of Johnny's birth record she will have nothing to do but get his clothes ready, have his teeth checked, see about his vaccination record, arrange car pools. . .

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN.
Immunizations

Get vaccinated!
Does this sound like something you've heard before? Many, many times?

Well, you have. And you'll hear it again and again.

Despite all the combined efforts of the medical profession, public health officials, school officials voluntary groups and many others, there still are countless millions of Americans who are facing unnecessary risk of disease, crippling and even death — simply because they have procrastinated about immunizations for themselves and their families.

There are vaccines against a number of communicable diseases now readily available.

There have been no cases of smallpox in the United States for several years, but there still is smallpox in much of the world, and each year or two this nation has a smallpox scare from an infected traveler returning from abroad. Revaccination for smallpox is recommended at three-to-five-year intervals. How long since you've renewed your protection?

There still are cases of tetanus, of lockjaw, every year. Almost every one is unnecessary. Tetanus toxoid offers excellent protection. Tetanus is a serious infection that often proves fatal. It's much too serious to take a chance.

Thanks to the vaccines, poliomyelitis is now down to a few hundred cases a year. But polio is still present in the United States, and is still a potential cripple or killer. Despite some eight years of steady campaigning for polio vaccinations, there still are millions of Americans unprotected. Have you had your polio vaccine? If so, have you had a booster lately?

Diphtheria is still dangerous and by no means wiped out, despite the fact that a vaccine has been available for years. Whooping cough is so common in childhood that most parents don't consider it serious. But whooping cough can be dangerous. It also can be prevented by vaccination.

Vaccines proved to be effective against measles have recently been developed. Ask your doctor about protection against measles for your children.

With the approach of the fall season and the time for schools to reopen, now is a good time to check up on your family's vaccination status. If anyone in the household is lacking any of the essential immunizations, see your doctor and bring your family's protection up to date.

Cancelled checks are one of the best proofs you can have for income tax deductions.

ELEPHANT EARS
Your editor is not very familiar with the plant known as elephant ears, but last week we were presented with one that could be considered very large. The leaf measured 32 inches across and 40 inches through. It was one large leaf, and according to some who viewed it while still in good shape, said it was the largest they had ever seen.

Mrs. Lora Rollins raised the plant at her home in the west part of town. Her sister, Mrs. Hallie Williams, brought the plant to The News office.

31 People May Be Killed In Labor Day Traffic

Austin—The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced today an estimated 31 person will be killed in traffic crashes in Texas over the three-day Labor Day weekend, and called for "an all-out effort to prove the statistics are wrong."

Col. Homer Garrison Jr. pointed out that the estimate by the DPS Statistical Services is based on past experience, but added:

"There is always a chance that it can be proved too high if motorists will put forth a concerted effort to hold the line by driving within safe and legal limits and remaining especially alert to the added dangers of holiday travel."

To emphasize these hazards, he said, "Operation Motorcade" will be placed in effect from 12:01 a. m. Saturday, August 31 through 11:59 p. m. Monday, September 2. During this period, all traffic fatalities on the streets and highways of the state will be tabulated and released three times daily to the public through the cooperation of the news media.

In addition, the Department of Public Safety will do everything possible with the limited manpower available to stop reckless and illegal driving on the highways, Garrison said. Officers from other DPS uniformed services will be assigned for the holiday period to Highway Patrol duty to add to the enforcement effort.

The DPS Director said Labor Day this year comes at a time when traffic tragedy for the year 1963 appears to be heading for an all-time high. He reported that more than 1,400 persons have been killed already this year for an increase of some eight percent, adding that if the trend continues the toll will exceed the high of 2,611 persons killed in 1956.

Adjust Your Cotton Picker For Better Cotton

Cotton grade, machine life, and harvesting efficiency are affected by an improperly adjusted cotton picker, says B. G. Reeves, cotton ginning and mechanization specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A properly adjusted machine can harvest an extra $10 per bale, he adds.

The spindle is the heart of the cotton picker and must be properly adjusted to the moisture pad and the doffer, the specialist advises. This adjustment can easily make a full grade difference in the cotton you pick.

The purpose of the moistener pad is to clean the spindle thoroughly, says Reeves. If plant juices, bark and other foreign material, built up on the spindles picking efficiency and grades suffer. The moistener should touch the entire picking surface of the spindle to do a good job of cleaning it. However, Reeves warns water that the addition of more water than is needed to just clean the spindles will make the cotton more difficult to gin and can lower its grade.

Doffers should be adjusted to remove the cotton without touching the spindle while allowing about 1/64-inch clearance between them. The practice of adjusting doffers tightly against the spindles to overcome poor cleaning should be avoided, says the specialist.

You can harvest more cotton dollars if the doffers and moisteners are properly adjusted to the spindles, Reeves reminds.

VA To Establish Nursing Home Type Veteran Care

The President has authorized the Veterans administration to activate and operate facilities and beds to care for 2000 nursing home type veteran-patients. The authorization was reported today by John S. Gleason, Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs, according to Mr. Hague, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, Texas.

Mr. Hague said the 2000 nursing home beds would be operated in addition to the 125,000 hospital beds now authorized within the VA medical system. The Presidential action, Mr. Hague said, will greatly help in relieving the adverse effect on VA's acute medical programs by the influx of older veterans who now comprise one-third of all VA Hospital admissions, and who generally require long term care.

In his authorizing memorandum to the VA Administrator, the President said in part: "The changing characteristics of our veteran population, particularly those who served during the First World War, are resulting in an adverse effect on the acute medical programs administered by the Veterans Administration. Nearly 1,000,000 war veterans are aged 70 and over. The number will increase 50% by 1966.

"Older veterans account for 1/2 of your hospital admissions and they comprise the bulk of the long-term care patient load. Many have attained maximum benefits of hospitalization but attempts at community placement have been unsuccessful because of the lack of facilities, inadequate financial resources, absence of family ties, and other reasons. Retention of these patients in facilities designed for acute care is costly and places an undue strain on the 125,000 hospital bed limit under which you are now operating."

The President directed that existing buildings best suited for this purpose and appropriately located throughout the country should be utilized, Mr. Hague said. No construction, other than for necessary conversion of existing facilities, was authorized.

"This authorization is to enable the Veterans Administration to gain firsthand knowledge and experience in the operation of beds specifically designed for patients requiring attendant type services," the President's message said. "It will be possible to evaluate a full range of care from domiciliary through acute medical care, restoration centers and nursing home care where outplacement is not possible. . . . I am sure that you will continue to work toward the development and utilization of community and private resources in the best interest of the veteran and the nation."

Whitewing Season Closed For Sound Logical Reasons

Austin - Texas will not have a white-winged dove season this year. "And for very logical reasons," said Howard Dodgen, executive secretary for the Texas Game and Fish Commission, "the same reasons we closed the prong-horned antelope season many years back. For the same reasons, hunters couldn't take redheads and canvasback ducks last year.

"It's this department's responsibility to look after the game in this great State of ours. And, when our wildlife scientists conclude through research, observations, experience and concern that a species has been reduced to the danger point, it's our duty to protect this species, even if it means closing a season."

SCREWORM INCIDENCE STILL LOWER

Mission - The number of detected in the Southwest has dropped to the lowest levels since spring, screwworm eradication officials have announced.

Texas livestock producers, who have been reporting an average of 100 infestations each week during the summer, detected only 13 cases during each of the past two weeks. New Mexico has also experienced a decrease.

At the same time that the native fly population has been declining, sterile fly production at the Mission "fly factory" is reaching new highs. More than 132 million flies were reared, sexually sterilized and distributed by airplane in the Southwest last week. Eradication officials expect to bring production up to an average of 135 million flies per week.

The action taken by livestockmen during the next few weeks could well determine whether they will experience the usual build-up of screwworms which follows the arrival of cool, wet weather in the fall, said Dr. S. C. Gartman, U. S. Department of Agriculture veterinarian.

Dr. Gartman, Federal co-director of the eradication program, pointed out that if producers prevent infestations from developing now while the native fly population is low, the danger of a fall build-up will be lessened.

He recommends that producers check their livestock at least twice a week and treat wounds with preventive smears and sprays. Samples should be collected from worm-infested wounds and sent to the Mission laboratory for positive identification. The wound should then be carefully treated to kill all remaining larvae, Dr. Gartman said.

Kenneth Haynes, a former Santa Anna boy, will transfer from Howard Payne College to the University of Texas this fall, where he will continue his work in Civil Engineering. He is now employed in the testing laboratory of the Texas Highway Department in Austin.

The chapter closed with the retiring march and assembled in the Fellowship Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bass and Mrs. Pauline Garrett served refreshments of decorated pastel cake squares, toasted nuts and punch. Their table was laid with white and blue linen cut work cloth, centered with a large arrangement of red carnations in gold containers. The centerpiece was surrounded with hurricane candles. The punch was served from a milk glass punch service.

Preservatives Add Life To Your Home

For an extra $2 or $3 a year you can build a home that will outlive the mortgage and require little care, says Bill Smith, forester with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

By the use of preservatives, wood can be treated to protect it from insects and decay for 40 years or more while keeping repair and maintenance costs to a minimum, says Smith. A variety of good preservatives are available and all exterior woodwork and floor sills, beams and joists should be pressure treated to fully protect the structure, he says.

Most of these preserving materials are intended for a specific purpose, Smith explains. For example, penta, with a water repellent additive, is a good preservative for exterior woodwork which will be exposed to heavy moisture. When penta is mixed with a light weight solvent like naphtha the surface can be painted, says the forester.

For sills and joists that will not be painted, creosote or penta can be mixed with oil, explains Smith. For wood that will not be exposed to large amounts of moisture, certain water-borne preservatives can be used to leave the wood clean, odorless, and paintable, he adds. Also, when replacing exterior wood or supporting members he advises using pressure-treated lumber.

The forester points out that wood can now be treated with a fire retardant, thus giving the home protection against fire as well as decay and insect damage.

Smith recommends using pressure preserved lumber where wood will be exposed to weather or near the ground. He says that most builders and lumberyards can obtain this lumber and the extra cost will be more than offset by the protection for the owner.

THE POWER POLITICS GAME

Those who favor a nuclear test-ban appear more and more ready to make U. S. concessions and to get what may look like a treaty with Russia. Many highly technical questions are involved, such as how far clandestine testing could be carried on without detection and how much inspection could detect what. Even more difficult, because security is involved, are the questions as to whether testing is needed for weaponry development, in anti-missile missiles, for example. Obviously, much information is not available to the public.

Senator Strom Thurmond, who serves on the Armed Services Committee of the U. S. Senate, has heard a great deal more testimony on this and related topics than he is at liberty to make public. However, in a recent report to his constituents, the Senator emphasized that the latest and best information strongly supports the idea that nuclear test are required of us if we are to maintain our defenses against Soviet ICBM attacks, satellite bombs, and other terror weapons with which they have threatened the free world. Our capability of penetrating Soviet defenses and our protection of second strike missiles also depends, he believes, on testing.

Fear and Misinformation
It is Senator Thurmond's belief that much of the present longing for a test-ban comes from unwarranted fear that has grown out of misinformation and lack of information. Altogether, the whole area has been clouded and the public confused. He commends conclusions presented by Washington reporter Earl H. Voss, in a book titled Nuclear Ambush: The Test Ban Trap, which he says can help clarify the issue by clearing away some of the misconceptions and misunderstandings.

Among the book's conclusions approved by the Senator are these: the dangers of radioactive fallout from tests have been greatly exaggerated; the techniques for avoiding detection have developed faster than methods for making detection possible; even many on-site inspections would not prevent the Soviet Union from testing secretly; and other nations, such as Red China and France, will very likely keep on testing. Fear of the unknown can be eliminated through information, and then one can view other considerations in perspective, the Senator says.

The British have shown themselves ready to go all out to achieve a total ban of nuclear tests. The French have said they will go on testing, regardless of what the U. S. and Russia do. The enigma of Russian intent is open to some speculation, although it does seem certain that Russian purposes now lie in something else than achieving a test-ban with teeth in it. One can reasonably assume that the Soviets might have taken this course at Geneva, or some other, if it had desired anything other than U. S. unilateral disarmament.

There are those who envision a disarmed world, except for a United Nations peace force. Such disarmament proposals are being put forth by the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, but they are not about to be ratified by the Senate, even if they are received with warmth at the United Nations. Even Mr. Kennedy's highly speculative disarmament messages make unrealistic reading. These idealistic impulses apparently originate from persons who are not courageous

Feed Hogs Longer, Or Sell Now

College Station — At what weight should I sell my hogs? This question is one that confronts every producer at one time or another.

The answer varies according to conditions but a few things are basic in the decision, explains L-604, a new publication of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

You will need to know the amount of feed required to feed the hogs longer, the cost of this feed, the length of time that will be needed to put on the additional weight wanted, and an idea of the price you will get at selling time. The conclusion that must finally be drawn from considering these facts is whether the additional cost required to feed to a higher weight is more or less than the additional income.

It has been proven in research at Texas A&M College that as a hog gets heavier, more feed is required to put additional gain on them, says the publication. Feed accounts for about 80 percent of the cost of producing heavier weight hogs and therefore for each dollar invested in feed the hog must return $1.25 just to break even on the operation.

Estimating the price you will get when you sell the hogs is perhaps the hardest part of the decision. You need to carefully study reliable price outlook data for the period when you will market the animals and also know the price paid today for your grade and weight hogs.

The publication gives several tables which will help the producer determine if he can profitably feed hogs longer or if he should market them as they are. For a copy of L-604, "For Highest Hog Profit — Feed to Heavier Weights — or Sell Now?" see your county agricultural agent or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crew visited their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Driskell over the weekend.

Texas Packers Buy Texas Animals

In the sometimes unpredictable Texas livestock business, one promising fact is that more than 84 percent of the animals slaughtered in the state are purchased here, says Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M College.

This strong demand for Texas animals by Texas packers was found in all classes but was more prevalent in some than others, according to the 1959 survey, he says. Of the heifers and steers slaughtered in the state, 85 percent were Texas cattle. Most of the remainder of this class originated in New Mexico, Arizona, Kansas and Missouri, explains Uvacek.

Texas stockmen supplied 96 percent of the cows and bulls processed with small numbers coming from Oklahoma and Kansas. Calves and weaners were supplied at the rate of 96 percent by Texans and very few were shipped into the state for slaughter, says the specialist. Sheep and lambs purchased outside the state by packers came from Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and California but 84 percent were raised within the boundaries of Texas.

Although Texas is not an important swine producing state, 60 percent of the hogs killed were purchased locally, says Uvacek. Hogs shipped into Texas came from Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Kansas and Oklahoma, he adds.

Thus while other problems may plague the Texas livestock industry, the demand for their products by Texas packers is not one of their worries.

WHITE BASS

The white bass is commonly known as the sand bass but many anglers call them striped bass, barfish or sandy.

The world's record white bass tipped the scales at five pounds and two ounces and was caught just three years ago. However, the average will weigh one and two pounds.

Silvery to light green on the back, shading to very white on the sides, it generally has five or six distinct dusky stripes down each side and they are responsible for its name.

Natural foods include small fishes, especially shad, worms, insects, larvae, mollusks and crustaceans such as crayfish. They are easy to catch on gold or silver spoons and spinners or with minnows as bait.

Sand bass often run in schools and may be located by the hordes of shad that are driven to the top of the water by sandies in their search for a meal.

The flesh is firm and white and delicious when fried or roasted on a barbecue grill.

Pat Davis spent a 10-day vacation with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis at Las Cruces, N. M.
