THE AMERICAN WAY

To End The Nose-Twisting

By Rosalie M. Gordon
Editor, America's Future

With trouble spots popping up all over Latin America, the big government spenders, always looking for new places to squander the American taxpayers' money, tell us that the way to solve all our problems in Latin America is to make each of its 20 nations progressive and prosperous. These handout-experts never admit that no nation becomes progressive and prosperous except by the efforts of its own people.

Problems Before
That we are faced with serious problems in Latin America goes without saying. But no amount of shoring-up of socialist schemes, of roadbuilding, redevelopment and all the rest will solve these problems. In some cases, money is no solution at all; in others, only time, effort and experience on the part of all concerned will make a dent in the problems. It is well to remember that difficulties in our relations with Latin America are nothing new in our history; we have met them in the past sometimes wisely, sometimes unwisely.

Reason Today
But never before have we faced a situation in which every ambitious demagogue, every politician-on-the-make, every sinister or subversive group in Central and South America feels free to twist Uncle Sam's nose — and get away with it. It is too easy to blame the Latin Americans for all this when basically this problem, which overshadows all others in our Latin-American relations, arises from two of our own failures — or at least our leaders' failures. The first is to take a strong, definitive and consistent stand toward international communism. Against all facts and despite all past experience, our leaders continue to believe that they can appease, or accommodate, or make agreements with a conspiracy sworn to bury all free men. Smaller and weaker nations quickly lose respect for great and strong nations which mouth noble principles but refuse to act to uphold them.

Solution Possible
The second failure was and is our leaders' refusal to invoke the Monroe Doctrine at the very beginning, or at any point of crisis that has arisen since, to keep foreign hands out of the Western Hemisphere. Real authorities on Latin America believe that, before it is too late, if we once more become a nation that will implement our stated opposition to world communism and our devotion to the Monroe Doctrine, we will be surprised at how quickly the nose-twisting of Uncle Sam will die down in Latin America. As one observer put it, perhaps crudely but aptly, all our Latin American policy needs — or for that matter the rest of our foreign policy is good old American guts.

Preparing For Leadership Roles

Attorney General of Texas

Waggoner Carr
The nation and Texas are observing National Future Farmers of America Week from February 15 through February 22.

Having proven that our systems of agriculture can outproduce any other on earth, it is especially fitting this week that we should honor those who will be our farmers of tomorrow.

The Future Farmers of America constitutes the most effective program for young men to insure the continuing success of this important industry. The FFA creed "I believe in the future of farming" expresses well the hopes of all our citizens for the future of Texas and our nation. Only with an expanding agricultural program can our nation remain economically sound.

While the program of the Future Farmers of America is primarily aimed at developing better farming practices, of equal importance are the qualities of leadership and citizenship that the members learn and carry into practice. It is gratifying to note that the statewide membership of the Future Farmers of America in Texas is 40,000, a little over 10% of the entire national membership.

As long as our young people are interested and eager to practice the ideals and purposes of the FFA, all Texas should be confident of our future.

Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo has announced his candidacy for re-election as State Senator from the 25th District.

Senator Hardeman has been a member of the Senate since 1947 and has served as Chairman or member of all major Standing Committees of the Senate, as well as on many important special and interim committees. He is presently Chairman of the influential Jurisprudence Committee and a member of the Senate General Investigating Committee, of which he has served as Chairman, and is a member of the Legislative Budget Board, on which he has served for twelve years. Senator Hardeman is recognized as being one of the three most powerful members of the 58th Legislature, along with the Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant Governor, who presides in the Senate. Senator Hardeman was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate and served as acting Governor of the State on December 3, 1954, during the absence of then Governor, Allan Shivers, and Lieutenant Governor, Ben Ramsey.

Senator Hardeman is respected by his colleagues as an authority on constitutional law and Texas and American history. He often has been invited by his colleagues to address the Senate on Constitutional questions and historical subjects. He was accorded honorary life membership in the Texas State Historical Association for outstanding service rendered to Texas, which is the highest honor the Association bestows. Only five other persons currently hold this honor. Senator Hardeman also has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by the Texas Heritage Foundation in

Methodists To Observe 50th Anniversary of Building Sunday

Members of the First Methodist Church of Santa Anna will observe the 50th anniversary of the church building with special services Sunday morning. Rev. Bobby Weathers, pastor, will preach on "You and Your Church". A record attendance is expected.

The cornerstone of the present edifice was laid with Masonic ritual, February 14, 1914. Work on the structure continued until the building was completed. First service was held in the church May 10, 1914. Rev. J. B. Curry was pastor of the church at the time. The building committee was composed of S. J. Pieratt, T. Culverwell, J. F. Turner, H. W. Kingsbery, M. J. Norrell, Dr. M. M. Strozier, E. M. Raney, S. H. Phillips, Dr. T. R. Sealy and Grady Adams. Mr. Pieratt was chairman and Dr. Sealy secretary.

During the intervening years a number of improvements have been added to the church, but the outside appearance is about the same as it was when completed.

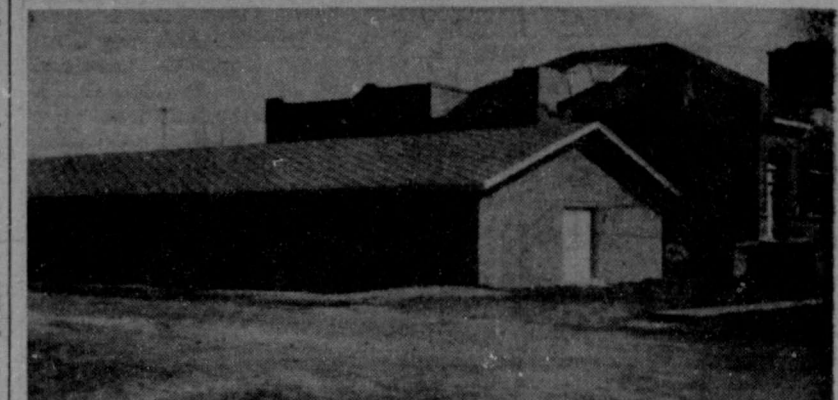

Present membership of the church is 230, with 207 of this number being resident members. Every member is expected to make a special effort to be present at the morning worship service. All former members of the church and all former pastors who have now retired, are invited to attend. Visitors are also invited to attend the service.

The noon meal will be served in the church annex, which was completed just about a year ago. Committees working on arrangements expect between 200 and 300 people to be present, with the ladies of the church furnishing the meal.

During the past two months the Santa Anna and Bangs Methodist Churches have been engaged in an attendance contest, with the loser to entertain the winners at a special service to be held the first Sunday in March. The 50th anniversary observance will be a part of the final day of the contest. Points are awarded each church for the greatest number in attendance at each of the four Sunday services and for the church having the greatest percentage of members present. Each week during the past five Sundays record numbers have been present at both churches. This Sunday is expected to be the greatest day in the history of the Santa Anna church.

In the spring of 1885 one of history's immortal Methodist Circuit Riders, John C. S. Baird, came to Santa Anna and organized The Santa Anna Methodist Episcopal Church, South, with 49 charter members. The first church building was erected in 1888 and the first parsonage was built between 1890 and 1894.

METHODIST ANNEX

THE NOON LUNCHEON at the 50th Anniversary of the First Methodist Church will be served Sunday in the annex, where more than 200 persons are expected to be present. This building was completed last year and adds greatly to the educational training facilities of the church. The building contains numerous classrooms, kitchen facilities and dining area.

Mary Sue Phillips, who is registered as the seventh person to be baptized, was the first person to be married in the present building. Quite unique is the fact that her mother was the first bride to be married in the first church building.

In 1887 the name, "Santa Anna Circuit" first appears, the charge having been known previous to that time as the "Thrifty Mission." Seven appointments were on the charge. In 1889 two more appointments were added to the charge. At that time the church was in the Northwest Texas Conference. In 1895 the circuit was changed to include four churches. In 1905, under the pastorate of Rev. J. W. Patison, the church became a station with services each Sunday. With Sunday School attendance being 130 on some Sundays, Rev. Patison started the wheels turning toward the present building. Rev. Henry F. Brooks followed Rev. Patison, but a severe drought in his ministry blocked the efforts of the new building. Under Rev. Brooks' administration the church grew to more than 300 members. Rev. J. Frank Turner, who followed Rev. Brooks, said in his history of the church, "We found ourselves a flourishing church worshipping in a dilapidated one room church... but did nothing about it until three years later during the second year of Rev. Curry's pastorate, when it was voted to build a new church adequate to the needs of the congregation." Quick action by the committee got the building underway.

DE MOLAY SERVICE
A special service honoring members of the De Molays, will be held Sunday evening, Feb. 23. The "Flower" talk will be given, with a special guest from Austin, Texas, leading. The service will take about 15 minutes and will be a part of the evening worship. Rev. Weathers said it will be a beautiful service and all members will want to be a part of it.

YOUTH TO SING
The young children of the church will sing again this Sunday evening. The group has rendered special music the last few Sunday evenings.

The Youth Choir continues its wonderful progress, and will again share in the special music at the evening service.

CONTEST TO CLOSE
The Sunday evening service will close the present emphasis. However, the First Methodist is already pointing to greater marks in the days to come. The pastor said, "I have never experienced such loyalty and response from any people. These wonderful people are moving out in their work and witness. We pray that God might use us in a mighty way to extend His Kingdom here. To this end we dedicate ourselves, and for this purpose we exist as one of Christ's churches."

Rev. Weathers is out of town this week, holding a revival meeting at Byers, Texas. He plans to return home Friday night.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin — It used to be the dogwood blooms which set off politics in Texas. But the Legislature changed that when it moved primaries to May and June.

So, Texas candidates are losing no time in getting down to roughhouse campaigning.

Gov. John Connally and his rival for the Democratic nomination, Don Yarborough, spoke to the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, but neither asked for endorsement.

Labor made no endorsements in races for state offices. Instead, it centered its interest on Washington. It gave strong support to President Lyndon Johnson and Senator Ralph W. Yarborough and to the re-election of Texas Congressmen who support the Johnson program. It urged union members to help defeat Congressmen who do not support the LBJ administration.

Republican candidate for U. S. Senate George Bush complained that COPE failed to invite Republicans to its meeting.

John Van Cronkhite of Dallas announced his withdrawal from the Senate race after what he called "unbelievable pressure." But Gordon McLendon, conservative Democrat, said he was in the race "as solid as a grand piano set in concrete."

Former District Attorney Dan Sullivan of Andrews provided the upset of the session. COPE leader recommended that the group support former Sen. Robert W. Baker of Houston for the statewide Congressional seat now held by Rep. Joe Pool. Sullivan made a speech that sold many delegates, and when it came to a showdown, the roll call vote was 139-139. As a result, COPE endorsed no one for the place.

FETTERED POLITICIANS

A look at the roster of Democratic candidates for the legislature shows 404 contestants for 150 seats in the House of Representatives, with 13 of these women. And three women are among the 83 House candidates on the Republican side of the ledger.

Two of the 16 female candidates are incumbents — Miss Maud Isaacks of El Paso and Mrs. Myra Banfield of Rosenberg.

Texas also boasts a woman state senator, Mrs. Nevelle Colson of Navasota. She is a veteran with 24 years' service in the House and Senate. However, Senator Colson drew a four-year term last year and is not up for re-election.

History shows that women have had scant success in state elections. One notable exception is the late Miriam A. Ferguson, governor of the state from 1925 to 1927 and from 1933 to 1935.

Whether their luck will be better in legislative races in 1964 — a leap year — remains to be seen. It may be significant to note that as of January, 1964, the number of Texas women aged 21 and over was estimated to be a little more than 3,000,000, while their male counterparts were estimated to number less than 3,000,000.

FREE VOTER REGISTRATION CONTINUES
Registration of voters who want to qualify for free votes in federal elections will continue through March 7. County tax collectors are issuing the free receipts which may be obtained by direct personal or mail application.

Holders of the free registrations cannot vote in state or local races, in constitutional amendment or bond elections — only for president, vice president, U. S. senator, U. S. representative and congressman-at-large.

State attorneys emphasize that the free registration receipts are good for primary elections, the November general election and any special election involving federal offices during the coming year. In other words, those who have them can vote in their party primary for senators, congressmen and congressman-at-large or in any special election for these offices, as well as the general election.

Voters over 60 in cities of 10,000 or more population who did not get their poll tax exemptions before the January 31 deadline cannot qualify for special registration. Over-age voters in smaller cities need no certificate of any kind.

RECORD VOTE PREDICTED
Although the officials' compilation of poll tax payments and exemption certificates is not due from State Comptroller Robert Calvert until the first of April, many county tax assessor-collectors have stated they expect the number of qualified voters to exceed 1960's 2,594,000. This prediction does not take into account registrations of those voters who cast ballots in federal races only. Registration for federal certificates seems to be going slow, but poll-tax registration also ran slow until the last week in January.

A statement by Pat O'Keefe, executive director of the State Democratic Committee, indicated that interest in voter registration seems lightest in rural areas.

Republican party officials have not hazarded a guess on the score, but are hoping to get 300,000 Texans to cast ballots in their May 2 primary. Total of 1962 GOP primary participants was 135,000.

EMPLOYMENT
Statistics just released by the Texas Employment Commission show that the employment figure for December was a record high for non-farm employees... 3,305,600... an increase of 26,500 over November. This figure was 67,600 above the jobholder total for December, 1962.

POPULATION PICTURE
Although the State Health Department reported an "uninterrupted decline" in the Texas birth rate per 1,000 population between 1956 and 1962, the state's population continues to rise.

Births in 1962 totaled 244,069. New settlers moving in from other states accounted for a 200,000 increase, helping to make the population pass the 10 million mark last year. But at the same time the number of deaths for one year reached an all-time high of 81,118.

Heart disease was the leading cause of death, accounting for 33 percent; cancer was second with 15 percent; apoplexy, third with 12 percent of the deaths; and accidents of all kinds, fourth with seven percent.

APPOINTMENT BY POPULAR VOTE

Governor Connally, who must make some 850 appointments during his current two-year term of office, decided to let local voters make the decision for him on appointment of a judge for the 100th judicial district.

This district, which embraces Carson, Hall, Donley, Childress and Collingsworth counties, lost its judge with the death of Judge Luther Gribble.

Connally said he will appoint the winner of the Democratic primary election to serve out the remainder of the late Judge Gribble's term. He said, "Since the election is reasonably close at hand, it is my view that the voters should have the opportunity to select a judge of their choosing."

COURT SPEAKS

Supreme Court set arguments for March 18 on a Corpus Christi case testing whether the new Sabbath closing laws can be circumvented by "emergency" purchases.

Nueces County District Attorney Sam L. Jones Jr. pushed the appeal from a Fourth Court of Civil Appeals decision that Shoppers World, Inc. of Corpus Christi complied with the law banning sales of certain items on the Sabbath when it required purchasers to sign certifications of "emergency" before buying.

However, Jones maintains that the certifications amount to a subterfuge, when more than 200 so-called "emergencies" arise on an average Sunday.

SHELL SUIT THROWN OUT

Texas oyster fishermen cannot sustain a lawsuit to nullify the State Parks and Wildlife Commission order permitting shell dredging close to live oyster reefs in Trinity and Galveston Bays.

So ruled District Judge Jack Roberts in agreeing with the position taken by the attorney general's office that the oystermen have no vested interest in oysters belonging to the state. Therefore, they cannot appeal the commission order.

SHORT SNOTS

Texas Water Commission approved moving of the site of a proposed $10,200,000 dam on the salt form of Red River seven miles upstream.

Texas Animal Health Commission reported only one sample of screwworms for the entire period of December 29 through February 1.

State Highway Department authorized a bridge across the Trinity River in Polk County between Goodrich and Shepherd as part of the four-lane highway project (US 59) from Houston to Lufkin.

State Bar Association is conducting a secret poll on preferences for candidates for the State Supreme Court and Amalillo Court of Civil Appeals.

The Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools was designated by Governor Connally to administer a new state-federal planning program in the field of mental retardation.

The following counties are being tested for brucellosis eradication by Texas Animal Health Commission staffers: Bell, Bexar, Caldwell, Collingworth, Guadalupe, Hale, Hall, Live Oak, Lubbock, Palo Pinto, Randall, Uvalde, Wilson, Crockett, Reeves and Throckmorton.

Agriculture Commissioner John White said Rio Grande Valley citrus farmers are being "invaded" by sterilized fruit flies from Mexico, for a scientific study on their traveling habits.

Texas industrial production rose six percent during 1963, and outlook for continued expansion of the economy in 1964 is "generally promising," reports The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Lightning damages or destroys an average of about $18,000,000 worth of property each year.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

WTU is proud to be a part of your community

TOURISM ... its value to you

America is on the road... going places... seeing things. Texas had 9.6 million out-of-state visitors in 1963 who spent $471 million plus $25 million in direct state taxes. As an example in WTU territory, more than 100,000 last year visited Big Bend National Park (pictured above).

A mere eight tourist cars a day that stop in a community is the equivalent of an added $100,000 annual payroll. Travel and tourism in Texas will grow even faster because of vastly increasing tourist promotion on both the state and local level. This makes tourism of value to every community in the WTU service area, and one of our major economic factors.

Many communities are benefiting from tourism as one of the important PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS. These communities are:

1. Developing tourist attractions (even a rodeo or county fair is a "tourist attraction").
2. Building facilities to care for tourists and other travelers no matter where they are headed (Alpine's Ponderosa Restaurant, pictured left, is one of many such facilities).
3. Creating facilities for the growing number of business and family non-vacationing travelers who fill the highways day after day.

That is why we suggest that you evaluate the importance of tourism to you, and consider seriously how your community can benefit from it.

Radioactive Fallout

Its Dangers & Effects

By T. G. Hollmig & Bobbie Riney Specialists, Rural Civil Defense Agricultural Extension Service College Station — A nuclear bomb is a fearful and devastating weapon. However, should our nation be attacked with this weapon, the greatest danger and our greatest need for protection, would be from radioactive fallout.

Protection from nuclear fallout entails three general principles. They are distance, time and shielding. The principle of distance is simply that the greater the distance from the source of radiation, the greater the protection. When this distance is doubled the intensity of the radiation is reduced to 1/4 and with three times the distance it is reduced to 1/9th.

Time is another important principle in protection from fallout. Radioactivity from a nuclear weapon begins to lose its energy soon after the explosion through the process known as radioactive decay. A formula, important in determining decay, is that with a seven-fold increase in time there is a ten-fold decrease in dose rate. For example, if one hour after a blast the radiation intensity measures 1,000 roentgens per hour, it will decay to 100 roentgens per hour in seven hours. In 49 hours it will decrease to 10 roentgens per hour, and in 343 hours, or about two weeks, it will decay to 1 roentgen. Thus it would be safe to leave shelter after two weeks.

Shielding is the third principle of protection from radiation. Dense, heavy material is needed to stop gamma radiation but any material placed between people and the radiation offers some protection. All these materials offer about the same amount of protection. Three feet of earth, 24 inches of concrete, 2 inches of lead, and 90 inches of wood, give excellent protection.

Shielding is really the only effective method of protection from radiation, and everyone should have some type of fallout shelter. These shelters will be discussed in future articles on civil defense.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN. Hemorrhoids

Hemorrhoids or piles, are one of the most common health problems encountered today. Hemorrhoids are enlarged veins inside or just outside the rectum, somewhat like varicose veins in the legs. A frequent cause is constipation that results in straining, but there can be other causes as well. Anything that interferes with flow of blood through the rectal veins can cause hemorrhoids.

Hemorrhoids themselves seldom are dangerous to life, but the condition that causes them can be serious and should be corrected. They also can cause considerable discomfort, and even pain. Hemorrhoids do not turn into cancer, but rectal symptoms that appear to be hemorrhoids may actually be caused by cancer.

Many cases of hemorrhoids can be relieved by medical treatment. Some require surgery, but the operation usually is not a serious one.

If your hemorrhoids are caused by constipation, they can be made worse by self-treatment, especially if you use laxatives regularly.

If you have the symptoms of hemorrhoids — aching discomfort, pain, itching, bleeding, protruding veins — see your doctor or go to a hospital clinic. Continued bleeding often causes anemia. If a blood clot forms in a protruding vein, piles can be extremely painful. If untreated, they can break and hemorrhage.

Hemorrhoids are common among women during pregnancy. Every expectant mother should see her doctor early in pregnancy. Prevention of hemorrhoids is one of the things he will discuss with her.

Even though you have no apparent symptoms of piles, your doctor will usually make a rectal examination each time you report for a physical check-up. Only in this way can beginning cases of medical problems of the rectum be discovered early.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Luke 23:33-34 Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. (Luke 23:34)

She was a woman in her middle thirties. Her husband, a brilliant, talented man but an alcoholic, had not been home for days — for her, days of agony and dread.

I said to her, "You know, really, for your sake as well as for the children's, you would be justified in leaving him."

Her reply was, "But I can't do that; you see, I love him still."

Is not the essence of love to give and to forgive and to go on forgiving, waiting for the day when a response in love might be given?

The cross of Calvary is the eternal backdrop for the love of God shown in behalf of unworthy man. The cross says to us, "Love never faileth." Here was love which cried out in the hour of crucifixion, "Father, forgive them."

The followers of Jesus Christ are in the army of the forgiven and the forgiving!

PRAYER: O God, who by way of the cross hast redeemed us, teach us to be forgiving toward those who sin against Thee and their fellowmen. Forgive us, as we forgive. In the name of our Redeemer, Jesus Christ. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The Christian is not only a forgiven sinner; he is also a forgiving saint.

James O. Cade's Book "Communism vs. Christianity" To Be Released Soon

James O. Cade, graduate of Daniel Baker College in Brownwood announced that his book COMMUNISM VS. CHRISTIANITY is soon to be released.

A twentieth century Christian manifesto, the book concerns itself with the insidious evils of communism, particularly in this country. The author carefully proves the communist blueprint for world domination and enters a plea to the American public to realize just what is happening in our own republic. Published by the Naylor Company of San Antonio, COMMUNISM VS. CHRISTIANITY is based on a series of lectures to Sunday School classes taught by Mr. Cade at the First Presbyterian Church in Lubbock.

Mr. Cade had been practicing civil law for many years and is a partner in the firm of Cade and Bowlin. A firm believer that Christianity is the weapon with which to fight communism, he devotes a great deal of his time to church work and is an active member of the Kiwanis Club and the American Legion. He received his B. S. degree at Daniel Baker College in Brownwood and his LLB at National University, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Cade refers to himself as an old-fashioned Jeffersonian Democrat who believes in the Bible and in the American Constitution. In that order.

He calls himself a country lawyer, as was his father, and feels that in this capacity he may be able to contribute something to awaken the American people to dangers which are obvious to him, as a country lawyer.

Mr. Cade has a deep interest in political trends as they affect our way of life, although he has no political ambitions himself.

COMMUNISM VS. CHRISTIANITY clearly shows the author's deep conviction that Americans need to wake up to the danger that surrounds them. The book has been endorsed by Senator Strom Thurmond who says, in part, "... all Christians must oppose Communism at every turn. Just as there can be no peaceful co-existence between Communism and Christianity. I commend this book to the public." The Naylor Company plans to release the book in the early spring.

In beginning, I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of the citizens of Coleman County for the patronage you have given me since I have been in business in Coleman. The people of this county have been wonderful to me and my family and I feel a deep debt of gratitude.

I believe that one way to repay a portion of this debt would be to place myself in a position to where, if you so desired, I could become one of your elected officials.

I am interested in all the phases of our Government but I believe that I am best qualified to serve you as county sheriff.

I have lived in Coleman County for nine years and most of that time I have been in business.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the specifications must be paid on this project, and that the contractor will be required to perform with his own forces the construction branches of structural concrete and carpentry, and that preference, in so far as practicable, should be given by the contractor in hiring of workers for the project to qualified local labor.

Hardeman—

School and upon graduation received a commission in the Judge Advocate General's Department and was assigned to the 2nd Air Force. He later was aide to Major-General U. G. Ent and was honorably discharged with the rank of Captain in February, 1946.

Senator Hardeman is a native of Tennessee and came to San Angelo in 1932, where he has since resided. He is a Democrat and holds membership in the Sons of the American Revolution, Sons of the Republic of Texas, Sons of the Confederate Veterans and the American Legion.

In his announcement, Senator Hardeman said: "As a candidate for re-election to the office of State Senator, I respectfully solicit the support and votes of all the people of the twenty counties comprising the 25th Senatorial District. I shall try to see as many, personally, as I am able during the campaign.

"My record in office has been made on the basis of my deep and abiding respect for the principles of our Constitution and for conservative and economical government. This is not a 'single-issue' office. It involves numerous matters of vital importance to Texas and to the 25th District.

"Many controversial issues have arisen during my tenure which have been met with courage and due deliberation and with the best interests of my State, and this District, ever in mind."

"Legislation of local interest to the various counties of the district has been handled with dispatch, as is well known by the Representatives and the people of those several counties.

"My experience and the seniority I have attained will enable me to continue effective representation of the District, and the State.

"On such record, I submit my bid for re-election with the pledge to continue my support of constructive, progressive and Constitutional measures."

Wise 62-Year-Olds Use Earnings Rules Of Social Security

In the first 7 weeks of 1964, more than 663 persons in its 14 county district made application for retirement benefits through the Abilene social security office, according to R. R. Tuley, Jr., district manager. "But this doesn't mean," he explained, "that all these persons have stopped working. Many are continuing to work in regular jobs, in part-time jobs, or in new jobs."

"It's possible," Tuley said, "to work and receive social security benefits at the same time — it depends on the person's age and earnings. Many folks earn over the familiar $1200 in a year and still get some social security checks."

One example of this, he explained, is the worker who is 72 years old. At that age social security payments are made regardless of earnings. But the individual must still file an application — benefits are not paid automatically.

This is one of the reasons the social security people have been promoting the idea of "Inquire Before You Retire." In fact, Tuley pointed out, social security has prepared a free booklet to explain the details of retirement and social security. The name of the booklet is, "If You Work While You Get Social Security Payments." It tells how social security works, why you don't have to retire completely to get payments, the earnings limits, the age limits, and other pertinent factors.

The Abilene office has a supply of these booklets, and anyone may get one by writing or calling the office and asking for Booklet 23. There's no charge for this valuable booklet, by the way.

Brazoria Was Birthplace
Brazoria County, located on the Gulf Coast in Central South Texas, is termed as "Birthplace of the Texas Republic."

It was here, in 1836, that the first Texas Capitol was constructed alongside some of the giant oak trees that abound in West Columbia. The first Texas Congress was held in this building.

Back of the capitol building was the home of judge G. B. McKinstry. This was where Stephen F. Austin lived.

Austin died in 1836, the same year the capitol was built.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

The worst mistake that taxpayers make in filing their tax returns are 1) failing to attach forms W-2; 2) failing to put their Social Security number on the tax return; 3) not writing plainly; and 4) mistakes in arithmetic.

Look your tax return over and correct the errors before you send it to Internal Revenue, instead of after Internal Revenue writes you about it.

Assisting were Mrs. Fox Johnson, Mrs. M. A. Richardson, Mrs. Marcus Johnson and Mrs. Ed Colver. A social meeting is planned for Saturday, February 22 at 2:00 p. m. at the Community Center. Nitia Daniell Circle Meeting

Mrs. Lucille Dean and Mrs. Catherine Markland were hostesses for a recent meeting of the Nitia Daniell Circle of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Mae Watson called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Nadene Harris gave the devotional, followed by the program, "The Methodist Family." Mrs. Lawana Weathers, Mrs. Sharon Davis, Mrs. Lillian Herndon and Mrs. Modora Gilmore had parts on the program.

Mrs. Mary Jackson was a new member of the circle. The hostesses served refreshments to 20 members and two visitors.

SONG BIRDS PROTECTED

Austin — Each winter many kinds of song birds invade cities and towns throughout Texas. Both city police and Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Game Wardens receive numerous complaints about youngsters killing these birds.

Most towns have an ordinance prohibiting the use of guns, air rifles or sling shots within city limits. These weapons can be dangerous and can cause personal and property damage when used carelessly in heavily populated areas.

Most birds seen in large numbers at this time of year are beginning their spring trip to northern nesting areas. Chickadees, wrens, cedar waxwings, thrushes, bluebirds, vireos, warblers, orioles, larks and several kinds of native sparrows are among the beautiful and interesting birds that visit us.

Robins are especially noticeable since they feed on worms and insects in lawns, parks and vacant lots. Most of these migrants are protected by state and federal game laws.

Most birds are beneficial to man. They serve as a natural control on many kinds of insects and weeds which would otherwise make our lives much less pleasant.

Youngsters have a natural urge to hunt. While this inborn inclination should not be stopped, parents should recognize their responsibility to the child and the community. Take the boy hunting, but get him out in the country and teach him to shoot. Teach him the rules of gun safety and the values of Wildlife. His interest in nature and love of hunting will develop constructively only through his knowledge gained from good, early supervision.

Bid Let On Two Dam Projects

Ford Allen of Sonora, Texas was apparent low bidder on construction of Site 4 on Home Creek, located on the property of Mrs. Willie Stobaugh, and Site 31 on Jim Ned Creek, located on the property of H. F. Fenton Jr., at a bid opening in Temple recently, according to E. J. Hughes, Area Conservationist at Brownwood. The low bid of $83,212.75 edged out six other bidders and was $4,941.65 below the next low bid.

Easements for construction of the two floodwater retarding structures have been granted to the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District who has assumed responsibility for operation of the works of improvement after constructed by the Soil Conservation Service. Maintenance of the flood prevention structures will be performed by the Coleman County Commissioners Court through a cooperative agreement with the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service, according to Thomas G. Rockenbaugh, Work Unit Conservationist at Coleman. Rockenbaugh has further stated that assistance of the Coleman Work Unit staff is being directed to landowners operating farm and ranch land above these two structures for planning and applying needed conservation measures to protect the structures from accelerating sedimentation.

Work is due to begin within 20 days on the two floodwater retarding structures with Site 4 Home Creek being located approximately six miles southwest of Coleman and Site 31 Jim Ned being some seven miles north of Santa Anna. The contract for building these structures is scheduled for completion within 162 calendar days.

Longhorn Bull Given To State

Austin — Gift of a yearling longhorn bull for the State's prized herd at Fort Griffin State Park near Albany, was announced today by J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Park and Wildlife Department.

He said the "fine specimen" was donated by Charles Schreiner, III, of Kerrville, owner of the famed Y. O. Ranch at Mountain Home.

Watson said the young bull already had been delivered to Joe Shelton, park keeper at Fort Griffin and long time custodian of the longhorn herd.

The young male is the only bull in the herd. The old bull was sold at public auction last year when 42 head of surplus longhorns were disposed of.

With the addition of the roan and white spotted male, the Fort Griffin herd now numbers 19.

"The longhorns occupy a 503-acre pasture and are easily accessible for viewing by park visitors," said Watson.

Ruins of the old fort are just across the road from the corral and the old blockhouse which long ago was converted into living quarters for the park staff.

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones. And they also should be aware it's necessary to slide open the glass door before walking briskly through it to the patio.

An estimated 40 thousand persons each year try to walk through glass doors, glasswalls and picture windows. There are many more actually, but at least this number is injured so severely that they show up in accident records. Almost six thousand wind up in the hospital and some even die from severe cuts and loss of blood.

The problem of glass door accidents has become so widespread in this era of extensively used glass in new buildings and homes that many localities have adopted building codes requiring that safety glass be used.

Interestingly enough, over two-thirds of the glass door injuries occur to males. And children 5 to 14 years account for one-third of all injuries.

Analysis of glass door injuries show that over three-fourths of the injuries occur in the home — about three-fourths when the victim is passing from inside to outside.

Hurrying is the major cause, much more so than slipping, crowding or horseplay. This doesn't mean that you should promptly brick up your sliding glass patio doors and picture windows. It does mean that some precautions are in order to avoid injury to yourself, your family or a guest.

Many newer homes have safety glass panels, and these won't shatter. Safety glass can raise a bump, but it won't shatter and cut.

Check your glass doors, and if you don't have safety glass, the first step is to call a family conference, with everyone present. The head of the household can brief the family on the dangers of severe injury from shattered glass.

Another safeguard is to attach decals or bright tape to the glass at eye level — eye levels for both small children and adults. For added safety, you might install a safety bar or two.

Glass door injuries are almost entirely preventable, except in the rare instances of a stumbling fall. If you do live in an at least a partially glass house, take the simple safety precautions to protect your family from severe, and perhaps fatal, injury.

1964 Maco Guns Annual Now on Most Newsstands

All American-made guns in every style and action, plus select imports, are part of Larry Koller's new GUN ANNUAL (Maco Magazine Corporation, New York, 75 cents), a newstand best-seller. Koller, one of America's foremost firearms experts, has pictured every gun with complete information and specifications — well over 300 rifles, pistols and shotguns of every type.

To make it easy to find each specific model, the guns are grouped according to their action types — single-shots, bolt-actions, pump-actions, lever-actions and auto, in the rifle category, for example. In addition, illustrated feature stories appear with each section to explain how each type of gun, and each action, works.

A complete test of hunting jackets and gun cases under field conditions is a special photo and text feature in Maco's new GUNS ANNUAL. Jacket and gun cases are of utmost importance to shooters, and this GUNS ANNUAL report gives readers an opportunity to determine good buys before spending their money. Another special feature is a complete listing of the names and addresses of all U. S. firearms manufacturers and many importers of foreign guns.

Mourning Dove Population Low

The 1963 breeding population of mourning doves is the lowest in the past 10 years, according to Wallace Klusmann, Extension specialist in wildlife management. He quotes a survey made by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service that shows the breeding population in Texas is more than 11 percent below the 1960 figure and about 4 percent below that of last year.

This is the third successive year that a decrease has occurred in breeding population of doves in Texas and the Central United States, Klusmann says. This is the population of birds that will have to supply the doves for the 1964 season. Even though many doves migrate into Texas each year, many birds remain to raise their young in Texas. For this reason, Klusmann suggests that interested landowners follow practices designed to increase food and water so the area can hold more birds. Among those he suggests are: broadcasting shattering sesame, sunflower or grain sorghum over areas to be diced; or leaving a few rows of grain sorghum unharvested along fence rows and field borders.

Extra Features In State Parks Being Reviewed

Austin — Fisheries biologists and information-education officers of the Parks and Wildlife Department are currently engaged in a program of reviewing state park facilities and operations to determine how the areas may better serve the public.

The fisheries section is reviewing the status of park waters to determine if the fish supply in waters within a park is adequate to supply the demand from anglers.

Information officers are reviewing the kinds of wildlife species that may be found within the limits of all parks. Nature study groups are using the state park installations for their classroom and recreational work.

Later this year a new brochure on facilities of state parks is expected to be available for public information upon request.

VALUE OF SOIL TEST

College Station — More and more farmers and ranchers throughout Texas are recognizing the importance of adequate fertilization of crops and improved pastures, says Charles D. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A&M University. This is reflected in numerous reports which show that proper fertilization and liming mean more profit. For example, Elmo

The News, Santa Anna, Texas, February 20, 1964

Cook, Travis County, agricultural agent, recently reported that an investment of $5.40 gave Milford Olson of Eroy a net return of $14.97 per acre on grain sorghum in 1963. The fertilizer increased the yield 784 lbs., valued at $1.91 per bushel.

Welch points out that proper fertilization has been shown to increase the capacity of a crop the highest returns from fertilization have been realized under conditions of below normal rainfall.

A soil test can provide valuable information about the lime status and fertility level of your soil and serve as a guide for adequate fertilization and liming. Your county agricultural agent can provide additional information about soil testing.

INFORMATION FOR VETERANS Questions & Answers

Q. I have read that the terminal date for the GI loan program is July 25, 1967. Does that apply to all veterans?
 A. No, only veterans of World War II, Korean Conflict veterans should add ten years to the date of their discharge from active wartime service and then add one year for each three months of such service. The date reached by this formula is their personal deadline date for GI loans. However, it cannot be later than January 31, 1975, which is the final date for all Korean Conflict eligibility. World War II veterans have a similar formula but their terminal date is the earlier July 25, 1967.

 Q. My term insurance is getting too expensive and will be worse as time goes on. At this time I cannot afford to convert all of it to a permanent insurance plan. Can I convert part now and the rest later?
 A. Yes. You may convert as little as $1,000 or more in multiples of $500 after the first thousand.
 Q. Is any Korean veteran with a service-connected disability eligible for vocational rehabilitation training?
 A. No. The veteran must be found in need of vocational training to overcome the handicap of his disability in order to receive the training.

The Importance of Farm Mechanics

FFA Week is a fitting time to recognize the importance of farm mechanics instruction in vocational agriculture as a means of "Learning to Do and Doing to Learn."
 To illustrate the increasing importance of farm mechanization, during the past 20 years the number of farms reporting farm tractors has almost doubled and the total number of tractors on farms has almost tripled. This same trend has been operating in all aspects of mechanized agriculture.
 To meet the needs which have emerged as a result of mechanization on the 226,000 farms in Texas instructional programs in farm mechanics have been increasing in scope and depth in approximately 1,000 vocational agriculture departments.
 Farm mechanics in vocational agriculture has developed around the skills needed by successful farm operators. Many of these skills, when taken off the farm become useful in industrial occupations.
 Some of the major areas of instruction in a modern farm mechanics program in vocational agriculture include some or all of the following: farm machinery; welding; electricity; woodwork; drawing and sketching; masonry and concrete; painting; plumbing; and metal work.
 Experiences gained by Future Farmers through farm mechanics instruction in vocational agriculture plays a major role in preparing them for life in a mechanical age.

Tansy Mustard Can Cut Dryland Wheat Yields

Recent studies at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station indicate that a single tansy mustard plant per square foot in dryland wheat fields reduced yields by about 10 percent.
 Agronomist A. F. Wiese and Assistant Economist J. S. Wehrly of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station staff conducted the studies and developed a guide farmers can use to determine whether control of tansy mustard will be profitable. Tansy mustard is the most common weed over much of the Texas dryland wheat producing area.
 It has been known for some time that the weed did not compete with wheat for moisture when controlled with 2, 4-D ester. The recent studies thus pinpointed the damage caused by the weed in dryland wheat.
 The scientists suggest that farmers watch their wheat fields in February or March, count the weeds — on a square foot basis — and make an estimate of potential wheat yield. Then by taking the 10 percent damage for a single weed per square foot and varying it up or down depending on weeds counted and using an assumed value of $1.75 per bushel for the potential yield and figuring the cost of applying a half-pound of chemical per acre at $1.50 (custom rate), farmers can determine whether control of the weed would be profitable, Wiese and Wehrly explain.

Hunters Bag Texas Elk

San Angelo — The only elk herd in Texas provided hunting thrills for a handful of hunters this year in the ruggedly beautiful Guadalupe Mountains of West Texas, reports J. Weldon Watson, executive director for the Parks and Wildlife Department.
 In 1927, the late Judge J. C. Hunter of Van Horn transported 44 elk from the Black Hills of North Dakota and released them in the Guadalupe Mountains. Since that time a small but stable herd of elk has lived undisturbed except for a short period each year when 12 to 15 elk are harvested by sportsmen. In 1963, 7 bulls and 3 cows were killed with the largest bull weighting 900 pounds and having 13 points.
 The Guadalupe Mountain Ranch elk herd is in good condition but chances are slim that the elk will ever become an important Texas game animal because suitable range is limited to a small area high in the Guadalupe Mountains.

Beef and Pork In Good Supply

Liberal supplies of both beef and pork offer continued good buys at meat counters this week, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist.
 Smoked pork cuts are featured at many stores, and ham is a good choice. Prices of smoked ham do not fluctuate as much as prices of fresh pork cuts, so compare before buying, the specialist says.
 Ham offered in most retail stores today are the fully-cooked type and the cook-before-eating hams. The cooked hams can be served cold or may be reheated. Canned hams are cooked and may be reheated or served cold according to taste preference.
 Plentiful vegetable choices this week also include carrots, cauliflower, celery, acorn squash, sweet potatoes, and red potatoes. Supplies of canned corn remain at record levels, and canned tomato products also are plentiful. It's a good time to stock the pantry shelves with these two items.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

THE CONSTITUTION got some shaggy treatment last week in the House. By a Republican-liberal coalition, a so-called civil rights bill was approved by a lopsided majority of 290 to 130. 80% of the Republicans voted for it, 20% of them against it. Liberal Democrats mustered 61% for, with the conservative Democrats accounting for the 39% in opposition.
 Seventeen Texans voted "No"; four (Henry Gonzales of San Antonio, Albert Thomas of Houston, Jake Pickle of Austin, and Jack Brooks of Beaumont) voted for it.
 Riding the wave of a massive emotional drive, spearheaded by NAACP, CIO's COPE, and the left-wing ADA, the liberal-radical element in the House formed a solid alliance with the Republicans to ram the bill through.
 Although no one can foresee what the Supreme Court as presently constituted will hold, the best lawyers in the country firmly believe that at last four of the nine provisions in the bill are contrary to the Constitution. But it was not merit that ruled; politics and emotionalism had a field day. Had the issue been decided by secret vote, it was estimated by seasoned observers the bill would not have received 50 votes.
 The Senate is almost certain to either block the bill or water it down. Many of the House supporters are hoping so.
 Proponents insist that only compulsion and jails will help promote job opportunities and better race relations for the Negroes. They scorn the approach of good will and understanding.
 The bill even restricts the right of local police to quell disturbances. It would enable the federal government to prosecute a local policeman for arresting a Negro who sits down (or perhaps even lies down) in a private business and refuses to move! No jury trial would be allowed — the Republican-liberal coalition having defeated an amendment to permit a jury trial. Adam Clayton Powell claims he wrote most of the bill.
 The bill permits a Negro to choose any particular motel he desires for lodging, giving the Negro the choice; but the same bill denies the motel keeper the same right — that is, to decide who he may choose for his guests.
 If an alleged act of "discrimination" is committed by a local policeman, school, contractor,

New Map Shows Artificial Reefs In Galveston Bay

Austin — A new map showing the locations of fifteen artificial fishing reefs in Trinity and Galveston Bays is now available from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department offices. Under supervision of the department, these reefs have been built to grow oysters and serve as easily found fishing spots for sports fishermen. The reefs vary in size from six to thirty-three acres and each is marked with a tripod of creosoted poles. A sign giving the name of the reef and a platform carrying a navigation light is on each tripod.

Oyster reefs are well known to be good fishing places. Trout, drum, croakers and other sports fish tend to congregate on reefs to feed. Fishermen are invited to make full use of these free, public fishing grounds.

Egg Cookery In The Spotlight

Texas' annual egg cooking and recipe contest is scheduled February 15-April 1 for non-professional cooks.

This word comes from T. A. Hensarling of Stephenville, executive secretary for the Texas Egg Council, a sponsor for the event in cooperation with the Poultry and Egg National Board of Chicago.

Homemakers may enter recipes for their favorite egg dishes. Entry forms and rules may be obtained by writing Hensarling at P. O. Box 251, Stephenville, or by contacting Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist, 401 Caroline, Room 501, Houston.

State judging will be in Houston in May. A senior division winner will be selected to represent Texas in the National Egg Cooking Contest in Chicago, September 14-15. In order to qualify for the senior division, a person must be 18 years of age or older by February 15.

"An important thing to remember is that the entry form must be attached to each recipe and mailed to the Poultry and Egg National Board before the deadline," Mrs. Clyatt says.

The Texas winner will receive an expense-paid trip to Chicago to compete in the national cook-off. Top award for the best national senior division cook will be a $1,000 Series E United States Saving Bond.

Judging at the national finals will be conducted by a panel of food experts. Winning recipes and entries will be selected for originality, flavor and appearance, completeness of steps, simplicity and awareness of basic principles of egg cookery.

Methodists Win Contest Over Bangs' Church

Santa Anna, with its greatest day in history, cinched the attendance contest with the Bangs church Sunday. The two churches will share in a joint evening worship service at the Bangs church Sunday, March 1. Following the service, the Bangs Church will be hosts to the Santa Anna Church in an hour of fellowship.

Santa Anna scored 7 1/2 points Sunday, leaving only 1/2 a point for Bangs. This brought the totals to 35 1/2 points for Santa Anna and 20 1/2 points for Bangs. Thus there is more than 8 points difference and only 8 points are awarded each Sunday. This Sunday is the last day of the contest.

Santa Anna took both points in the Church School, Morning Worship and Evening Worship and 1 1/2 points in the MYF, by tying the percentage of attendance, and having the largest number present.

CONVOY TO BANGS
 All members of the church planning to attend the joint service and fellowship at Bangs are requested to join a convoy that will form at the Methodist Church. It will leave from the church at 6:30 p. m. It is hoped that at least 125 persons will join that many or more in Bangs for the evening of worship and fellowship.

GREAT ATTENDANCE
 Rev. Bobby Weather, pastor, said, "The First Methodist Church is beginning to hit its stride in attendance. The concern and interest of the people will keep the attendance at a high peak. With the dedication of my people, it could be no other way."
