

State Capital NEWS

Austin — A mighty head of tension which had built up at the state capitol eased as the Houston federal court agreed to postpone effect of its congressional redistricting order until the next elections.

Top Democratic officials and members of the Legislature kept close watch on the news wires out of Houston as they sweated out the decision following four days of hearings and argument.

Their optimism had wilted in the last 24 hours before the ruling was announced. More than one legislator reportedly had his bag packed ready to return to Austin for a special session.

Gov. John Connally apparently had indicated he would call the session immediately if the court stuck by its original October 19 order for at-large (statewide) elections in all districts unless the Legislature adopted a redistricting bill.

As it is, although the court postponed effective date of its ruling, it kept the case on its docket and will take further action if a constitutional districting bill is not passed by August 1, 1965.

Major officials applauded the ruling.

Republicans, who brought the original suit, were disappointed that the equal-population-for-each-district order will not take effect until congress after next. But they took comfort in the fact that their principal goal was achieved.

Governor Connally said redistricting will be given "highest priority" in the 1965 Legislature and "every attempt will be made to have a thorough redistricting consistent with the opinions of the Supreme Court and (the Houston) federal court."

Frank C. Erwin Jr., State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman, said redistricting will be the main plank in the State Democratic platform this year.

An "entirely satisfactory" solution will be found by the Legislature next year, predicted Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

George Bush, Republican U.S. Senate candidate from Houston who filed the suit with four other GOPs, said the group would file no appeal since "further delays . . . would lead to turmoil."

Democratic Congressman-at-large candidate Bob Looney, an intervenor in the action, didn't agree and promised a new appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court for redistricting this year. He also called on Texans to petition Governor Connally for a special legislative session on the subject.

For all practical purposes, the judicial chapter on redistricting is closed for the year. Congressmen will run in their old districts one more time.

Major surgery must be performed on the districts next year. And while they are carving, state legislators in all probability will have to re-divide their own districts. Another suit is pending to force state legislative reapportionment. For lawmakers, that will be even more painful.

RECORD VOTER LIST

There are more Texas voters this year than ever. A record total of 2,888,183 have paid poll taxes or obtained exemption certificates, the State Comptroller reports.

That's 293,929 more than in 1960, the previous record year, and 533,024 more than in 1962. Even so, the report does not include the free registrations for federal elections or voters over 65 who do not have to get exemptions because they live in cities of less than 10,000 population. Addition of these two categories could swell the qualified voter list to more than 3,000,000.

Eighty-eight percent of the qualified voters cast ballots in the 1960 presidential election. If they turn out at the same rate in this year's presidential general election, more than 2,500,000 votes will be cast.

Texas Republicans, aiming at getting a larger share of those votes, say they will have at least one polling place in every county for the May 2 primary.

SALT WATER POLLUTION

Texas Railroad Commission is putting more teeth into its orders against unlined earthen surface pits for salt water disposal.

At least 30 oil leases in the Hubbard Creek watershed have been severed because operators failed to comply with the Commission's no-pit order which became effective for that area on March 1.

Commission says it will inspect every lease in the watershed. Oil cannot be moved by pipeline or truck while the leases are severed.

TEXAS SAVINGS BONDS

Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin has been named chairman of a payroll savings campaign for the purchase of U.S. savings bonds by state employees.

Governor Connally, honorary chairman of the Texas Savings Bonds Committee, named Martin to the post of coordinating efforts of state agencies to encourage their employees to buy savings bonds through payroll savings plans.

PARKS AND WILDLIFE

Texas game wardens and biologists are making a spring survey of wild turkeys in many parts of the state to get an idea of their population trend. They also have begun their spring squirrel census in counties where the squirrel is an important game species.

Two key regulations for state parks will (1) Permit camping and shelter occupancy for a 14-day limit during the regular park season between May 1 and September 13, and (2) Make radios, recorded music and musical instruments subject to a 10 p.m. curfew in picnic, camping, shelter and other overnight facility areas. However, they will be permitted in concession buildings and immediate areas until 11 p.m.

Sheldon Reservoir, a 1,200-acre lake 15 miles northeast of Houston, has been opened to boat and wade fishing.

CANDIDATES POLLED

Texas State Teachers Association polled legislative candidates on their stand on education and reported they endorsed a $45 per month pay raise for school teachers and strongly favored five other measures which would benefit Texas schools.

Replies to the questionnaire, sent by TSTA's magazine "Outlook", came from 26 of the 35 Senate candidates and 269 of the 406 House candidates.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Governor Connally appointed four members of the board of regents of Midwestern University, Wichita Falls. They are R. Clay Underwood, Marvin Pierce and James Barnett of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Macon Boddy of Henrietta.

Connally named H. D. Fields of Saint Jo to the Red River Authority board of directors to fill the unexpired term of C. O. Glenn of Nocona, extending until 1967.

Sgt. Willard E. Hale of Houston is the new inspector of the Inspection and Planning Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

HIGHWAY PROJECTS

Texas Highway Department tentatively approved a $33,400,000 freeway, Interstate 20, through the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth delegations asked approval of highway projects costing $42,000,000.

A Rusk County delegation sought $16,000,000 worth of improvements and a Dawson County group asked the Highway Commission for $2,000,000 more in the Lamesa area.

INDUSTRY RESEARCH

Governor Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has taken a look at plans to use Texas industries as "great research centers" and to launch brand new types of graduate degree programs.

Committee studied these proposals and 14 others in a recent session as it continued to seek ways to achieve top ranking for the Texas college system by 1975.

Its final meeting, before writing a tentative report, is scheduled for April 18.

THEY'RE SMOKING AGAIN

Texans, who showed signs of slowing down on their smoking in February shortly after medical scare reports, are now at it again as heavy as ever.

Tax revenue from cigarette sales, which dropped sharply soon after the federal report on smoking dangers was released, jumped nearly $1,400,000 during March, according to State Treasurer Jesse James.

"It looks like they have gone back to smoking," shrugged James. "At least, there's not any big wholesale quitting."

Comptroller Robert Calvert said it worked out about the way he had figured — smokers would go back to their cigarettes after the first shock of the warnings faded.

Gasoline tax is 36¢ per gallon for Texas.

Contact Lens Valuable Aid To Some People

The eye was hit by a small dart, but a contact lens prevented any injury.

This was reported by Dr. Newton K. Wesley, president of the National Eye Research Foundation, in a recent article published in the American Journal of Optometry and Archives of American Academy of Optometry.

Although the dart actually cracked the contact lens, the thin plastic material prevented any physical damage or loss of vision.

Dr. Wesley also pointed out that contact lenses can help restore vision, in some cases, where no other devices or treatment was effective.

Reporting on a survey of 130 ophthalmologists and optometrists attending a recent National Contact Lens Congress, Dr. Wesley noted that the doctors knew of 238 eyes which were saved by contact lenses or could have been kept from injury if contact lenses had been worn.

He cited records in which eyelids were cut and the lenses scratched in automobile accidents without damage to vision.

The same 130 doctors reported that 10,700 eyes were helped by contact lenses in cases where they could not have been satisfactorily helped otherwise.

To the question: "Should the public be apprehensive about wearing contact lenses?" the doctors replied that barring pathologic difficulties they would recommend and prescribe properly fitted contact lenses.

Dr. Wesley also observed that contact lenses are becoming more widely used by baseball and football players who need visual correction and protection from impact injury.

Commenting that some 7 million Americans are now wearing contact lenses, Dr. Wesley noted that deleterious effects on the eye from methacrylic acid in the lens are practically impossible under modern manufacturing with properly controlled testing.

The plastic material used in contact lenses is chemically inert, Dr. Wesley added.

"Contact lenses properly fitted and with periodic check-ups minimize the problems that may arise when any prosthetic device is worn," he said.

He recommended regular eye examinations for all persons whether they wear contact lenses, spectacles or neither.

"Contact lenses have made us more aware of eye care," he concluded. "This in itself is an important contribution. More will be heard in terms of contact lenses and eye care in future years."

Teach Children To Dial Zero For Help In An Emergency

College Station — Small children should know and trust the telephone operator as much as they do the corner policeman, and should turn to the operator in the event of an emergency.

Extension Service specialists at Texas A&M University say that although pre-school youngsters can't be expected to memorize long telephone numbers, they can be taught one rule: If an accident happens, dial zero, tell the operator what is wrong, and she will help you. A child should be taught, however, that he is to dial zero only in emergencies, say Bobye Riney, Extension rural civil defense specialist, and Patsy Reynolds, family life education specialist.

One five-year-old's plaintive message to the operator was "My Mommie's asleep and won't wake up — and there's a fire in our house." After a little prodding, the operator learned the boy's name and address and called the fire department. Firemen rushed to the address, found the house on fire, and the mother knocked out by sleeping pills. Both survived, thanks to the child's action and the operator's help.

Another youngster whose mother fell through a floor and was trapped, went directly to the telephone and dialed zero. He couldn't remember his daddy's name or where he lived, but he rattled off the name and address of his grandparents. The operator called them, got the child's address and had a doctor on the way in minutes. Although operators are ingenious in tracing calls from small fry, such procedure is a waste of precious time. Encourage your child to memorize his name, his father's name and address, the specialists recommend.

THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read II Corinthians 5:17 through 6:2

If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (II Corinthians 5:17.)

In springtime we witness the miracles of freshness, fragrance, and newness. Hedgerows and flowers, fields and gardens are touched by the renewing power of God in nature.

Dr. James Reid tells of seeing a pond which was the scene of desolation. The water was stagnant, and the pond choked with mud and weeds and produced only ugliness and decay. But when he passed it sometime later, all was changed. It was the same pond, but the weeds were gone. In their place were lilies. It was newness of life. Some hand had been at work, cleaning the old, planting the new.

We have seen the miracle of newness happen in hearts and in lives. When a person becomes a Christian, his life is under new management. When a man is in Christ and under His control, that man walks in newness of life.

PRAYER:

O Christ, we thank Thee for coming to give new life to all who would receive it. We praise Thee for the evidence of Thy transforming power seen in the lives of those who have submitted themselves to Thy control. Visit us with Thy renewing grace. We ask in Thy spirit. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN.

Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis, once a great scourge in the United States, has been cut down to a small fraction of the cases of half a century ago through the use of new treatment methods. But it has by no means been eliminated and continues as a threat to life and health.

Tuberculosis is caused by a germ that can easily be spread from one person to another. A person with active tuberculosis sneezes or coughs and sends the germs into the air. The germs can infect anyone, at any age. Fortunately, the body's resistance usually is sufficient to overcome and bottle up the infection. But, now and then when bodily resistance is low, active tuberculosis flares up.

Tuberculosis has been with us since the dawn of history, and it is still one of the great killers in many parts of the world. It has been selected as the prime target of the World Health Organization in 1964.

"No truce for tuberculosis" is the World Health Day theme, with a supplemental slogan of "Nobody is safe from tuberculosis until everybody is safe." The disease knows no geographic or racial boundaries.

Some 50,000 new cases of TB are reported annually in the United States, and millions of Americans are infected with TB germs that are now dormant but have the potential of caus-

4-H Sheep Raisers Have New Scholarship Sponsor

Chicago — A new National 4-H Club Sheep Scholarship program will begin this year under the sponsorship of Wilson & Co., Inc., of Chicago, one of the nation's major meat packers.

Six college scholarships of $500 each will be presented to national winners in the program. Each state will submit the record of one outstanding 4-H sheep club member for judging.

Sheep projects have been undertaken by 4-H'ers for a long time, but never before have national awards been offered. There are about 60,000 boys and girls enrolled in a sheep program, according to the Cooperative Extension Service, and it is hoped that the scholarships will stimulate interest and increase participation.

While the sheep scholarship program is new this year, Wilson & Co. has been supporting 4-H work since 1922. It has one of the longest continuous records of 4-H sponsorship of any business firm in the nation.

The company has entertained delegates to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago at an evening meal ever since the first Club Congress.

Wilson also awards expense-paid trips to Club Congress to six state winners in other livestock projects.

Gordon McLendon Seeking Seat In U. S. Senate

Gordon McLendon gave special attention to civil rights and other domestic issues this week in his fast-moving campaign for the Democratic U. S. Senatorial nomination in the May 2 Primary.

The Dallas radio executive emphasized his support of equal voting and educational rights for all, but elaborated on his opposition to provisions of the pending civil rights bill which he contends would deprive members of all ethnic groups of the rights of trial by jury, private property and civil liberties.

"In its present form the so-called civil rights bill poses the greatest threat to our constitutional liberties since the Supreme Court overthrew an almost identical act in 1883," McLendon declared.

He asserted that increased job opportunities, a problem which figures in both the civil rights debate and the administration's "war on poverty," can be assured only by freeing business from bureaucratic restraints to promote business expansion.

McLendon said Texas has found a satisfactory solution to the problem of medical care for the aged by implementing the Kerr-Mills law and the Texas-65 program, both based on the principle of voluntary health insurance.

Reiterating his opposition to federal aid to and control over schools, McLendon advocated encouragement of a "realistic tax exemption for families supporting students in higher education." McLendon pointed out that his opponent, incumbent Senator Ralph Yarborough, helped defeat an amendment which would have written a $1200 college exemption into the new tax bill.

FROM IRS

The surest way to get special attention from the Internal Revenue Service is to file an "imperfect" return. However, this special attention has no benefits; just more delay and additional cost for everyone. This tax advice from Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue in Dallas is based on over 100 years of tax collecting experience by the agency.

He pointed out 6 common items that delay the processing of returns. They are: (1) failure to attach W-2 forms, (2) no signatures, (3) tax information not readable, (4) failure to list dependents and exemptions, (5) failure to total deductions, and (6) failure to list Social Security number.

What happens when the taxpayer forgets one of the above? Mr. Campbell said the return must be specially processed and any refund will be delayed. If the taxpayer calls or writes about his refund, this inquiry takes clerical help away from the processing of correctly prepared returns. Thus, all returns are slowed up.

Review your return very carefully when it is completed, Mr. Campbell advised. Put it aside overnight, then review it again the next day. After you are sure it is clear, complete, and correct, mail it to the District Director of Internal Revenue, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75201.

FOOD IN THE NEWS

College Station — Most news-worthy item on the food front this week is that beef supplies continue to be abundant. Generally, this means the appearance of frequent "specials" at meat counters.

Beef short ribs, stew meat and liver make for economical and nutritious dishes, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Ciyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Consider the various cuts for pot roasting, and check price tags on round steak as well as T-bone, porterhouse and sirloin steaks.

Poultry counters also offer a wide selection at low cost. Look for real buys in fryers, chicken hens and eggs. Heavy demand and somewhat limited supplies will keep prices up on many fresh vegetables for the next week or so. Variety and quality of the vegetables has improved. Items to consider are cabbage, carrots, celery and cooking greens. Other selections include head lettuce, asparagus, cauliflower, green beans, broccoli and tomatoes.

Apples from storage continue in good supply at moderate price levels. The supply and quality of fresh strawberries will depend largely on weather conditions. Other good selections are pineapples, lemons, avocados and oranges.

Thinking About Pruning

College Station — If you have been thinking about doing some pruning around the home, A. F. DeWerth, head of the Floriculture Section of the Soil and Crop Sciences Department of Texas A&M University, offers these suggestions.

The cardinal rule of pruning is, if you have no good reason for pruning a plant, put the tools away. The primary purpose of pruning is to remove unwanted growth, whether it be for the plant's health, appearance, safety reasons or for disease control.

In dealing with shade trees, corrective pruning is sometimes needed to prevent formation of weak V-shaped crotches and limbs in the future. On older trees, removal of many small branches is more desirable than removal of a few large ones. When large branches or portions of the tree need to be pruned, an expert should be contacted.

Trees may be pruned at any time, but spring is excellent for pruning because of the rapid healing of wounds which occurs at this time. Pruning ornamental shrubs and small flowering trees depends on growth habits and blooming characteristics of the plants. Most shrubs and small trees which bloom during the spring produce their flowers on growth made in the previous year, therefore, these plants should not be pruned until they have finished blooming.

Additional information on pruning may be obtained from the county agent. Ask for bulletin B-977, "Modern Pruning Methods."

Fast Cruisers To Aid State Game Wardens

Austin — Modernization of state game wardens' motor mounts is being expedited, according to J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department. He said new "Police Specials", powered by 230 horse-powered,

V-8 engines, are being assigned "where the need is greater." The fast patrol cars replace a slower six-cylinder model. Watson said the cruisers, standard for agencies held responsible for quick response to calls, "will help overcome a serious handicap to our warden force."

The automobiles, and other vehicles of the Department, will be identified by the new department decal. The official insignia basically gives the appearance of the State Seal with an aqua colored disc and "Texas Parks and Wildlife Department" lettered in white. The divisions, wildlife or parks, are lettered in crimson. In the center is a single high-lighted star, encircled by a green wreath, the right side of which is an olive branch — the left, an oak spray. The decals blend with color of the new "Specials" which are painted neutral gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Gail Taylor and family of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Pierce and Pat McCullough visited Mr. and Mrs. Amos Taylor on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were on their way to Missouri for a reunion, then will visit Beth Taylor Parsley in South Dakota.

Layettes Needed To Replenish Disaster Van

"Diddies, gown, bottles, pins and blankets." This is the present theme of the Health and Welfare Society of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Mrs. Viola Salisbury, Health and Welfare leader, made a call for five complete layettes to replenish the supply in the warehouse in Keene, Texas.

The Texas Conference of Seventh-day Adventists have a disaster van which is kept ready and waiting for any disaster in Texas and can be on the scene within a few hours, with new clothing, bedding, food, medicine, etc., made possible by the church members throughout Texas.

The latest disaster was that in Wichita Falls, where the Health and Welfare van of the Adventist church, was on the scene within a short time to help any and all with the supplies it contained.

The churches throughout Texas keep the warehouse supplied and from this the disaster van unit is kept filled.

The recent call of baby layettes will result in approximately 500 of such layettes costing on the average of $10.00 each.

Mrs. Salisbury adds, "If anyone has good used clothing they would like to give us so we may distribute it where it is needed, just bring it to the parsonage next door from the Adventist church, on Sunday afternoons at 2:00, where our Welfare group meets and we will thank you very much on behalf of those it will help."

Senior Play
To Be Presented
Friday, April 17

On April 17, 1964, the Senior class of Santa Anna High School will present the annual senior play, entitled "For Pop's Sake." Reserved seats, priced at 75c, can be purchased from any senior class member. General admission will be 25c for students, and 50c for adults. The play is built around the Stafford family.

Just imagine a riot and you've got some idea of the homelife of this family. Mr. Stafford is a widower, and the target of every old maid in town. His sister, Alice, takes charge of the household but would much rather rehearse the lectures on silence which she periodically inflicts upon the public. Teenage Larry is a bug on scientific experiments, letting himself be completely carried away by them — much to the discomfort of his family. His twin Lois enters every contest that comes along, sometimes winning prizes. (And what prizes!) Older sister Jill is busily messing up the kitchen under the impression that the way to her boy friend's heart is through his stomach. Brother Dave messes up the living room trying to learn to dance. It's a hectic, disordered life for everybody.

While Mr. Stafford is away on a business trip, the cook leaves for peace and quiet elsewhere and things really go to pieces. At that point Ingrid enters the picture. She gives the impression that she has been sent from an employment agency to take the cook's place. Ingrid soon has the house looking more like a home. She gives Lois the home permanent which she won in a contest, teaches Dave to dance, cooks a meal for Jill's boy friend, chases some of the old maids out of the house, and encourages Larry in his experiments. Alice, however, finds Ingrid's talents rather disturbing and finds that Ingrid is not from the employment agency. Alice becomes frantic. She's sure the new cook is head of a gang of thieves who plan to rob the house. Mr. Stafford is still away and she doesn't want to alarm the children. She calls the police who arrive with their suspicions in the midst of the party for Jill's boy friend and one of Larry's experiments. The police wish they'd stayed home! Alice is very embarrassed when she finds out that Ingrid really is . . . But that's a secret!

You'll scream with hilarious laughter over the electrical antics of Larry; listen with sympathetic understanding to Ingrid; be pleased as punch when Theodocia and Sybil get put in their places; and be very relieved when Jim finally arrives home and clears everything. It's crazy as a loon when you spend an evening with the Staffords.

The play is produced by the Art Craft Play Co., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

San Angelo — Desert bighorn sheep, trapped in Arizona a few years back and released in a holding pasture on the Black Gap Management Area in West Texas, added two new lambs to their ranks this month, according to Pierce Uzzell, wildlife supervisor at San Angelo.

Desert bighorns, which normally have their young during the spring, are now being closely watched by Black Gap personnel. They hopefully expect additional lambs to be born to six other ewes in the next few weeks.

The closely protected Texas herd, which began from a nucleus of seven Arizona sheep, now totals 22 head.

Radioactive

Fallout

Its Dangers & Effects

By T. G. Hollmig & Bobye Riney
Specialists, Rural Civil Defense
Agricultural Extension Service

College Station — Decontamination is the surface removal of radioactive materials. These materials cannot be destroyed or neutralized and must be removed to lessen damage. Fresh fallout is dustlike and normally only results in surface contamination. However, the major problem is to prevent fallout from being mixed into food and water supplies. Any covering for food and water containers that prevents dust from coming in will give adequate protection.

If fallout particles do get into food or feeds, there are several methods of decontamination. Often radioactive dust can be removed in the same way as any other dust — by washing, vacuum cleaning or brushing. If uncovered supplies are contaminated, usually only the top portion is affected. This top portion could be removed and the underneath portions would be usable. Many food products could be stored long enough to allow for decay of radioactivity to a safe level. Cooking does not destroy radioactivity.

Contaminated potatoes and other root crops would be safe to use after washing and peeling. Peas and beans could be washed, shelled and used. Apples, head lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, sweet corn and other foods could be thoroughly washed to remove fallout dust;

Mr. Sherman Heilman.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Fitzpatrick visited Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Claud Box.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gardner of Coleman were Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. John Kemp. The occasion was Mr. Kemp's birthday.

Mrs. Fox Johnson was a patient in Brady hospital Friday night. She received a broken arm in a fall at her home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. A. L. King reports her brother-in-law, Hop Ashmore of Fort Stockton suffered a severe heart attack last Wednesday. Sunday, a grandson of Mr. Ashmore's in Houston died because of drinking weed poison.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Milligan visited Sunday afternoon. The Rev. and Mrs. Jan Daehner were Sunday guests in the King home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Harden and girls of Houston spent Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. King, enroute to the new home in Tulsa, Okla.

Brenda Blackwell of Coleman spent the week with her grandmother, Mrs. Era Blackwell. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blackwell, Dianne and Barbara spent Sunday.

then they should be peeled or the outside covering otherwise removed, making the food usable. In doing this work care should be taken that hands or utensils do not contaminate the parts to be eaten.

Fallout on unprotected meat presents a salvage problem since it is extremely difficult to remove the outer surface of meat without contaminating the other parts. Contaminated meat might be canned and stored until the radioactivity had decayed to a safe level. Only or sticky surfaces such as that of dried fruit cannot be satisfactorily decontaminated.

Decontamination of farmland presents different problems. It is likely that only a small percent of our croplands would receive severe fallout. Possibly those lands could be left unused until natural decay had reduced the radioactivity to safe levels.

If the land is needed for crop production, remedial measures would be necessary only if it had been seriously contaminated with Strontium 90. In heavy fallout areas, temporary land denials might be necessary until a Strontium 90 analysis of the soil could be made six months or a year later.

Decontamination by deep plowing would be aimed at turning under the radioactive soil to a depth of 18 inches or more — below the root zone of the plants to be grown. Decontamination by removal of ground cover is effective where the existing cover is thick enough. In field experiments, removal of heavy covers (5 tons of oat straw per acre) removed more than 80 percent of the contamination. The most effective method of decontamination by soil removal was scraping level, smooth harrowed soil with a road grader. This removed more than 90 percent of the radioactivity from the soil.

Animals can be brushed or washed to remove radioactive dust from hides, however, workers should wear protective clothing.

A. Students enrolled in the VA's War Orphans Education Assistance program may receive $110 a month for up to 36 months of schooling or vocational training.

Q. I have never asked the VA for anything but I am a war veteran. Can I get a free physical examination?

Q. Some years ago, the VA denied my claim for disability pension. I am becoming increasingly worse. What steps can I take to have my claim considered again?

A. Write or visit the VA office which previously studied your claim and enclose a statement from your doctor as to the nature of your disability and its increasing severity. The VA will then send you further instruction.
