THE AMERICAN WAY

LET'S REPEAL THE LAW OF GRAVITY

By Harry Browne

Editor, Freedom Magazine

"Friends, as your candidate for Congress, I must alert you to a serious situation. Over 100,000 people died in falls from high places last year.

"It has been proven conclusively that these deaths were caused by the law of gravity. This so-called law declares that human beings fall at high speed causing death or injury when the fall is from a high place.

"My friends, an enlightened society can no longer tolerate such an anti-social law. There are human values involved. I promise you that, if elected, I will work to pass a bill calling for the repeal of the law of gravity!"

If you haven't heard a political candidate make such a promise yet this year, don't give up hope. For politicians have tried for years to overrule the laws of nature by passing futile man-made laws.

By passing economic laws and regulations, they have tried to change the very nature of human beings.

Look at the farm program, for example. In this area, the natural economic laws were working to increase food production, making it possible for more food to be produced by less farmers.

This was nature's way of saying that our standard of living was going up. Increased food production freed many farmers to leave their farms to work in industry, producing products and services for our benefit.

But this alarmed the politicians. They spoke of "human values" — and appeared shocked that less efficient farmers were being forced by competition to leave the farms. So they decided to overrule nature by offering to buy up the unsold produce of the less efficient farmers (with our money, of course).

This didn't work. Farmers naturally produced more in order to get more subsidies. As the cost of subsidies went up, the politicians had to invoke strict controls on the amount that could be produced. As the subsidies and controls skyrocketed, the cost of the program reached a point where each American family now pays over $100 every year to support the program.

But the laws of nature continue to reign supreme. All the politician has accomplished by tampering with them is to deprive you and me of our hard-earned money — and to deprive us of the products and services those less-efficient farmers would have been producing in industry. "Human values" are taking a beating.

This is only one of thousands of examples. And yet it is still impossible to overrule nature. Man progresses by understanding nature better and using its laws to his advantage. But he can't overrule those laws — no matter how much of a "majority" he may have on his side.

In a free society, nature's laws are left untouched — and men voluntarily work in accordance with human nature. They compete to render services to each other in order to reap the profits involved. This is nature's way — and the more we are aligned with it, the higher our standard of living.

But don't be surprised if, someday soon, some politician gets elected on a "repeal the law of gravity" platform. Practically every other anti-nature gimmick has been tried.

A fitting tribute to this politician would be to give him the privilege of being the first to jump off the Empire State Building, secure in the knowledge that he has repealed the law of gravity.

Then maybe he'll know how the farmer felt when nature's laws were repealed on his behalf.

New Building For West Texas Boys Ranch

On June 7th, the West Texas Boys Ranch dedicated a new vocational building. Funds for the building were donated by Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Carr of San Angelo. This building is a long-time dream for the Ranch. For years the Ranch has placed emphasis on introductory vocational training and job placement. It has needed a place where the younger boys and older boys could develop more skill in working with machinery, etc. The Carr Building has a shop for the younger boys and one for the older boys, a classroom and a library.

In the vocational building the boys will be taught basic skills and given an opportunity to make projects which they can use. One program planned is the upholstering and remodeling of furniture. As a result of the training the boys receive at the Ranch, many of them go on to further a life time trade which was started at the Ranch.

The West Texas Boys Ranch has 66 boys in residence and 16 to 20 in placement away from the Ranch. The boys are given an opportunity to work away from the Ranch during the summer on such jobs as ranching, garages, etc. This has been very beneficial as it gives the older boys an opportunity to develop more skill, self-respect, and also an opportunity to earn extra money.

The Ranch began its operation in 1947 with one boy, Jimmy Johnson, who graduated with honors from San Angelo High School and Texas A & M. He went on to serve in the Army, got married, became the father of twins, and was killed about two years ago in an automobile accident.

The basic purpose and goal of the Ranch remains as it was in 1947, to provide a home with a Ranch type institutional setting whereby homeless, dependent, neglected boys can be given the opportunity to become productive citizens.

"Hard-luck" is a term coined at the Ranch to define a boy who is not a delinquent, but who if allowed to remain in the environment he was in before being sent to the Ranch would surely have gotten in trouble.

In the early days of the Ranch, food, clothing and shelter, were the primary concerns. However, through the years the Ranch has come to develop a program centered around the social, emotional and spiritual needs of the boys. The Ranch has its full-time chaplain and the boys accept the major responsibility in carrying out the church program. Each boy gives one dime to the church each week out of his allowance.

The Ranch sponsors its own citizenship program which is essentially self-governing by the boys. The Ranch also has its own rodeo arena, its own air strip, and about three miles of spring creek. The boys fish on a community basis. Everything caught is put in the deep freeze and saved until there is enough for a fish fry.

At various times, the boys have cattle, goat, sheep and pigs and raise their own garden. They also operate their own store which is managed by one of the boys. The boys borrowed enough money to go into business and have paid it back. At the present time they are trying to set up their own credit union. This is excellent training for the boys as most of them have never had this type of training prior to coming to West Texas Boys Ranch.

Throughout the years, since it was founded, the Ranch has continued to operate solely on donations. More than 600 boys have lived at the Ranch. The Ranch accepts boys from ages 8-14 and since January have received over 80 applications, and have only been able to take care of twelve. At the present time, the Ranch is trying to make arrangements to accept ten boys who definitely need to be at the Ranch.

A boy is kept at the Ranch until he has progressed to the point that he can go into society on his own. This depends on the boy and the community.

Boys are generally referred to the Ranch by churches, interested citizens or professional juvenile workers. Some of the

Head Coach Employed For Santa Anna School

James R. Cohern, 26-year-old athlete who has been head coach of the Comstock High School for the past four years, was employed this week as the head coach for the Santa Anna High School. In connection with his coaching duties, he will also teach Algebra.

Cohern is a native of San Saba, Texas, and comes here well recommended by citizens of both San Saba and Comstock.

He will replace Coach R. C. Smith, who has resigned to accept a coaching position in another school.

Coach and Mrs. Cohern and their two children plan to move to Santa Anna about the middle of July. They are members of the Church of Christ.

He graduated from San Saba High School in 1954 and attended Tarleton State College in Stephenville. He received his degree from Sul Ross in 1960 with a major in Physical Education, and a minor in math.

The outlook for football in Santa Anna will not be very bright this year, as most of the boys with experience were graduated last year. However, there appears to be some good material coming up and the coach will have a building program to begin with.

Cullen N. Perry, Supt., said he was in need of two other teachers to fill the faculty for the coming year. Dan Tindol, who has been head of the Science Department for the past three years, has resigned to accept another teaching position. A High School Science teacher will be needed to replace him.

A Junior High School Coach is needed, who can also teach Seventh and Eighth Grade Science. Mr. Perry said he would be happy to have all applications for these positions right away.

Methodists To Elect Successor To Wm. C. Martin

Two major items of business will be before the 8-state South Central Jurisdiction of The Methodist Church when it meets June 29 in Dallas at the First Methodist Church and the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel.

The conference will elect a bishop to fill the vacancy to be created by the retirement of Bishop Wm. C. Martin who has served the North and Central Texas Conferences of The Methodist Church for 16 years. Bishop Martin also headed the Northwest Texas Conference for 12 years.

Also before the conference will be the General Conference Recommendations for integration of the geographical or "white" jurisdiction with the Central or "Negro" jurisdiction. The knotty problem before the delegates will center around the degree of integration to be recommended to the annual conferences.

School Dropout Percentage Highest In Grades 9 & 10

College Station — Sixty-four percent of all school dropouts occur in grades 9 and 10, says Patsy Reynolds, Extension Service family life education specialist at Texas A&M University.

Another 34 percent of school dropouts take place in grades 11 and 12, she says. This is the age when young people want to be free of authority and earn their own support.

Dropouts aren't necessarily less intelligent than their schoolmates. Many factors enter into their leaving school. A major one is parents who place little value on education.

"The dropout usually doesn't achieve in the classroom, is irregular in attendance, gets along poorly with his teacher, resents school authority and may be 2 years behind his age group in the classroom.

What happens when the dropout looks for a job? The unemployment rate for those 16 to 19 years of age is 24 percent, compared to 16 percent for all age groups. When he surveys his friends who did graduate, he finds that nearly twice as many in his age bracket had jobs in 1962.

Employment in the professional and technical jobs which require advance education increased 47 percent in the last 10 years, while employment in the laboring jobs requiring less education decreased 10 percent in the same period. The future does not look bright for the school dropout and his family, the specialist said.

Second Livestock & Meat Marketing Institute Set

College Station — The beef import problem is one of the topics slated for discussion at the two-day Livestock and Meat Marketing Institute to be held this fall at Texas A&M University.

In announcing plans for the institute, Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M, said one of the highlights of the event will be a two-hour panel discussion on the meat import and export situation.

Members of the panel will include a meat broker, a processor, a cattle exporter, a cow and bull packer, a national packer, a government official and a livestock producer, he said.

The Institute will be the second of its kind held on the Texas A&M campus. It is designed to give livestock producers and meat processors and market men an opportunity to meet and discuss mutual problems of the industry, Uvacek said.

The broad audience and coverage of the institute is an example of the changing services offered by land grant colleges, he said.

"Today's agriculture involves many problems away from the farm and ranch. These problems increase as the livestock and meat industry becomes more specialized," Uvacek said.

The economist said the upcoming Institute can provide a common ground where livestock producers can learn the problems of the processors and sellers of meat and meat products.

Other topics to be covered at the Institute include meat demands and specification buying, using outlook for profits, and cattle and lamb feeding in Texas.

The Institute will be held Sept. 24-25. Persons interested in the production, processing or marketing of livestock and meat are invited to attend, Uvacek said.

Regular Exercise Can Provide Both Physical and Mental Tonic, says AMA

Stretcher (4 to 10 times). Reach high, rise on toes. High-stepper (10 to 20 steps). Run in place, pumping knees and arms. Side Bender (6 to 15 times). Raise first one arm then the other straight over head.

Push-up (6 to 15 times). Men on hands and toes; women on hands and knees. Starting in raised position, with trunk and neck straight, lower trunk to two inches from floor and return. Curl (6 to 15 times). Starting on back with knees bent, hands behind head, tuck chin and "curl" as far forward as possible, aiming elbow to opposite knee. Stride Squat (6 to 15 times). Hands behind head, stride forward deeply with right leg. Keep left toe in place, left knee off floor. Return and exercise opposite.

Compressor (6 to 15 times). Lie spread-eagled on back. Roll onto hip and with leg and arm straight touch toe to opposite hand. Return and exercise opposite. Twister (6 to 15 times). Sit with legs and arms extended straight. Touch fingers to opposite toe. Return and exercise opposite. ISOMETRIC EXERCISES — The following exercises do not involve movement, but rather muscular contractions. One of their advantages is that many can be done at times and places where normal exercise would be impossible, such as in the office. Hold each contraction forcefully for six seconds. Repeating is not necessary.

There's more to physical fitness than mere muscles, but you can't be truly healthy and a bundle of flab at the same time.

To be physically fit you must be both medically fit and dynamically fit. The two don't necessarily go hand in hand, points out Raymond L. White, M.D., director of Environmental Medicine and Medical Services for the American Medical Association.

"Medical fitness means body soundness. This can be determined only by a medical examination. Dynamic fitness or 'action capacity' is a measurement of strength, agility and endurance," he said.

"A person who shuns activity may get a 'clean bill of health' from his doctor but if he can't endure even slight exertion, he's hardly physically fit. On the other hand, neither is the athlete with a chronic or undetected health problem."

In a sense it seems silly to be concerned about strength and endurance in a push-button age.

But the fact is, the human body was not designed for push buttons but for work, said Dr. White. "The absence of dynamic fitness through lack of physical exertion is a detriment to health. Furthermore, muscle tone, or lack of it, can be a factor in your whole outlook on life."

Strength and endurance, developed through regular exercise, leads to skill and agility and adds to poise and grace. Not only do daily tasks become easier, you also look better and so feel more at ease in social situations.

Even more evident, however, are the benefits to physical health, Dr. White pointed out.

Since exercise is a factor in weight control, it indirectly aids in preventing degenerative diseases, such as diabetes and arthritis, which are more prevalent in the obese.

Evidence indicates that exercise also may help prevent heart and blood vessel diseases. Active people have fewer heart attacks and a better recovery rate when such attacks do occur.

The best exercise is enjoyable exercise. Activities such as hiking, swimming, skiing, tennis or gardening along with their physical benefits can provide relief from tension, thus serving as a safe, natural tranquilizer.

When there is no opportunity for taking exercise in such form, however, a daily walk and series of calisthenics can provide much the same tonic.

Above are a few examples of scientifically sound exercises, taken from the AMA pamphlet, "Physical Fitness." Used daily, they will help to increase muscular strength, body suppleness and motor reaction, and to improve circulation and other body functions.

Start out slowly, Dr. White warned, and gradually work up to the point where you can do all of these exercises quickly without stopping.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

THE SUPREME COURT'S recent ruling that a Virginia County (which had previously closed down all public schools to avoid integration) must reopen its public schools and levy taxes to support them, has set loose many imponderables of just how much power the Supreme Court has under our form of government.

School children are taught that our check-and-balance system is composed of three separate branches — the legislative, the executive and the judicial — the one to make laws, another to execute them, and the third to interpret them.

Yet now, for the first time in American history, the judicial branch has ordered a legislative act — that is, the levy of taxes and the collection of them. This despite the fact that the Constitution says it shall be the duty of the legislative branch to levy and of the executive to collect taxes.

The wisdom of the Virginia County's action in closing its schools to avoid integration may be open to question. The concern relates to the precedent established in the Supreme Court ruling, of the power of that court to usurp the powers lodged by the Constitution in the legislative branch. The court intimated that if need be it may proceed to levy and bring about the collection of the taxes to support the schools!

Just where is the line to be drawn? This decision appears to be usurpation of power, at its worst. Guided by this precedent, just what may the court do next?

IS THOMAS JEFFERSON out of date? Generally regarded as the father of the Democratic party, the author of the Declaration of Independence has been toasted through the years in class rooms, at Jefferson Day dinners and at 4th of July celebrations. But Jefferson, joined by George Washington, was a staunch defender of the rights of the states, as opposed to the powerful central government concept, which Hamilton espoused.

Clearly the Jefferson concept has for years been a source of embarrassment to the modern day liberal who favors big government in Washington. They scorn the idea that the states retained all powers not expressly delegated to the central government by the Constitution.

Not long ago Jefferson's ideas about states' rights were attacked by Prof. Arthur Schlesinger Jr., well-known Harvard-ADA liberal and one of the late President Kennedy's White House advisers.

"Jefferson is today remote and irrelevant," said Schlesinger, "a figure not of present concern but of historical curiosity." Had the U. S. remained faithful to Jefferson, said the professor, "we would be today a feeble and impotent nation."

It is just such tommyrot as this that causes people to wonder what the future may hold in store for our great country.

The nutritional needs of older persons are much like those of any other age group.

High Milk Production No Accident

"High milk production isn't an accident. It doesn't just happen. A dairyman has to earn it. He must follow rigid culling, intelligent feeding and planned breeding programs, says A. M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist, Texas A&M University.

Meekma believes that record keeping is essential for high production. As he puts it, "There is no substitute for intelligent use of records and research findings."

The first step, here, in herd improvement, is production testing. The weigh-a-day-a-month, the owner-sampler, or the dairy herd improvement association plans will each aid the dairyman in developing a high-producing, more profitable dairy herd. The county agricultural agent will be glad to explain these production testing plans and will help each dairyman determine which plan meets his needs best, says Meekma.

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Psalm 19:7-10; II Timothy 3:14-17.

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. (Psalm 119:105.)

Thoughts come into my mind of my childhood, when the seed of the gospel was beginning to take root in our home following my mother's accepting Christ as her Savior. From that time I began to thumb through the pages of the Bible. To my great surprise, as well as to that of my family, in a miraculous manner I learned to read. Thus the Bible was the first book that I read in my life.

Reading the Bible has become increasingly valuable to me, for it has revealed to me what I am and what I should be. What is more, through it I have found the abundant life.

Through experience I have become sure that the Word of God gives light and understanding to the ignorant. Our wisdom becomes deeper and purer when we seek help daily in the Bible.

The Bible makes us more prudent, humble and careful in our thinking and in our acts.

PRAYER:

Lord God, our Father, we thank Thee for Thy Word. We ask Thee to help us to understand that it is the infallible guide of our lives. Help us to understand it and to obey it. In the name of Jesus Christ we ask these things while we pray: "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Through the grace of God, I will be faithful to the vision which I have found in the Bible. —Nicolas Obispo Perez, Student (Dominican Republic)

Fish License Spares 'Heat'

Austin — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reminds fishermen to please get their fishing license before making their summer vacation fishing trip. The fishing license, for residents and non-residents alike, costs only $2.15. If caught without one, a fisherman can expect to pay fines ten times or more the cost of the license.

A fishing license is required of everyone who fishes in the state with only these three exceptions: persons less than 17 or over 65 years old; persons fishing on property on which they reside or own; and persons fishing in the county of their residence and not using a winding device (reel).

To clarify the age limits, if you have reached your 17th birthday but not your 65th birthday, you are in the age bracket in which the license is required. Licenses are available at many fishing tackle and bait dealers, filling stations, grocery stores and at Parks and Wildlife Department Offices.

Please get one now if you intend to fish. Then you and the Game Warden can both smile when he says: "May I see your license, please?"

TRAVEL TEXAS AND SEE

Are you thrilled by Texas history? If so, you will enjoy visiting some of the scores of historic spots that mark the challenging episodes of our frontier land.

The battle cry that spurred the Texans on at San Jacinto was "Remember the Alamo; Remember Goliad," and it is quite fitting that the state, many years ago, established a state park at Goliad in southeast Texas. It was here that Colonel Fannin and his men were massacred on Palm Sunday, March 27, 1836.

Goliad is situated on U. S. Highways 59, 183, and alternate 77; and can also be reached on State Highway 239 from the west.

In Goliad State Park there is a small museum of early Texas relics and the Mission Espiritu Santo de Zuniga. In 1749, this

Coin-Operated Machines Up Food Sales

College Station — Food sales through coin-operated vending machines have increased greatly during the past 15 years, reports Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

It is estimated that by next year, total dollar sales will be up to $4 billion, compared with $2.5 billion in 1960, she said. Soft drinks make up about a third of the automatically vended products. Candy, gum, cookies and crackers account for another quarter of the sales. Milk and ice cream have been popular items for years, and coffee, soup and sandwiches have increased in importance.

Dollar sales of hot canned foods, of which soups made up 60 percent of the total, increased by more than one-third from 1959 to 1960.

Vending machines appearing in new location and handling many new food items are being adapted to new uses. One of the most promising is frozen, precooked foods that are reheated in special ovens at the time and place of consumption.

Automatic cafeterias have been installed in a number of in-plant feeding operations. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported in 1959 that 90 percent of all in-plant food service operations feeding 250 or more persons dispensed some items by automatic vending machines.

Besides hot platter vending machines, there are hot and cold sandwiches, soup, desserts, pastry, candy, ice cream, milk, soda and fresh coffee vendors. Automatic bill changers that accept $1 and $5 are other additions.

mission was moved to Goliad by the Franciscan padres to Christianize the Indians and civilize the frontier. It is open to the public.

Nearby is the Presidio La Bahia where the Goliad Declaration of Independence was drawn in 1835. Sunday mass is still celebrated there. Near La Bahia stands a monument to Colonel Fannin and his men.

Goliad became the county seat of Goliad County in 1837. On the courthouse grounds you will find the famous "Hanging Tree."

City Park has a monument to the men who lost their lives at Goliad, erected in April, 1885, surmounted by two cannons found on the streets of the town after the Texas Revolution.

Twenty-five miles northeast of Goliad on U. S. 59 is Victoria, one of the first three towns of the Republic. Here you will find a number of beautiful ante-bellum homes, still in good condition, as well as the famed Dutch Windmill in Memorial Square.

If you'd like a bit of fishing to finish off your trip, drive on another 27 miles on U. S. 87 to Port Lavaca, where redfish and speckled trout abound.

Baskets of gladiola and candleabra decorated the church. Soloist was Buddy Winfield of McCamey, who sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the McCamey Park Building. The table featured an arrangement of white gladiola, along with the tiered cake, decorated by Mrs. Joan Alexander of McCamey. Appointments were of silver and crystal. Serving at the reception were Miss Carolyn Geer of Dallas and Mrs. Morris Straughan, of Beaumont, sister-in-law of the bride.

The rehearsal buffet was given in the home of the groom's parents, on Friday, following the rehearsal.

HOSCH GROCERY

IT TAKES MORE THAN ONE

... achieve

In Russia there are no 4-H Clubs to teach boys and girls a better way of life and work; no agricultural extension service to show better methods for raising crops and livestock; no specialists to help improve homemaking skills; no business men to support this "massive, informal, educational program" which includes 4-H.

However, Premier Khrushchev did learn something about the Cooperative Extension Service during his visit to the U.S. In a Pravda article, Khrushchev revealed a "secret" to the Russian people. He admitted that certain extension practices were "borrowed" when the Soviet agricultural system was overhauled recently.

Explains Service

"I have in mind," he said, the introduction of scientific achievements. In the United States of America a farmer's service exists under the universities and colleges. The agents meet with the farmers and persuade them to introduce this or that method, help them in organization of production and furnish them with plans."

He got most of the extension picture, but apparently missed the role of extension for the last 50 years in developing the 4-H Club program.

In the early days of 4-H, the trained extension agents worked with the children of farm families. The plan provided the wedge that opened the door for the agents to reach the farmers and their wives.

No Free Enterprise

It has been suggested that Khrushchev might further improve farming under communism if he also had initiated a program for youth patterned after the 4-H Clubs. Seventy other foreign countries have. But Russia lacks the incentive and backing provided by private enterprise.

U.S. industry has backed 4-H work right from the beginning. It provides technical know-how, financial aid and recognition. More than 55 leading business firms cooperate with the extension service and the National 4-H Service Committee in sponsoring individual projects.

Today there are at least three dozen areas of 4-H Club work.

Some of the newer programs and their sponsors are: Photography, Eastman Kodak; Conservation, John Deere; Foods-Nutrition, General Foods; Alumni Recognition, Olin Mathieson; Dog Care and Training, Ralston-Purina.

Fifty years ago there were only a few projects: growing tomatoes and canning them; growing corn and raising pigs to eat the corn.

Long-Term Support

Sponsors that have supported 4-H for 20 or more years are:

Armour and Company; Santa Fe Railway; Burlington Railroad; Milwaukee Railroad; Chicago & North Western Railway; Coats & Clark; Conrad Hilton Hotel; Cudahy Packing Company; Firestone; Illinois Central Railroad; International Harvester; Kerr Glass; Livestock Conservation Incorporated; Montgomery Ward; Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Westinghouse Educational Foundation; Wilson & Co.; Standard Oil (Ohio); General Motors; American Oil Foundation.

Collectively they make the National 4-H Club Congress possible. One of the most coveted awards for a 4-H'er is the congress trip given to one boy or girl per state in a specific program. Altogether about 1,600 young people from 50 states travel to Chicago each fall to participate in this educational event.

Stampes, Senaldo Guerrero, Mary Gonzalez, Dora Rendon, Mary Bastardo, Stella Rosales and Mary Espitia.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Watson of Midland announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Nell, to Mr. Cecil Alphonso Mitchell.

Vows are scheduled to be exchanged Monday evening, July 6 at 7 o'clock at 705 South Benton Street, Midland. A reception will be held following the ceremony.

Miss Watson is a granddaughter of Mrs. Wallace Collins Sr., and is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Collins Jr., Mrs. Pearl Wilson, Mrs. Minnie Young and Mrs. Geraldine Lewis, all of Santa Anna.

Eastern Star Has Regular Meeting

Mrs. Rose Bass, Worthy Matron and Daniel Tindol Jr., Worthy Patron, presided at the first meeting of the new year, Monday, June 22, when the Santa Anna Chapter 247, Order of Eastern Star met for a stated meeting. Sixteen officers filled their stations. The flag was presented by Jack Bostick and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Daniel Tindol Jr.

Mrs. Joyce Mobley, Junior Past Matron's report was read and accepted. Also the secretary, treasurer and auditing committee's reports were accepted.

Mrs. Bass announced July 20 as Masonic Night.

Mrs. Bass chose, Mrs. Blanche Grantham to honor and Daniel Tindol Jr. selected Jack Bostick. Each was honored and presented a gift of appreciation.

The chapter closed with the retiring march and assembled in the Fellowship Hall for the social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mobley and Mrs. Louise Moore served ice cream, cake and punch to twenty members and three visitors.

The visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Slate and Cleburne Riley of the Coleman Chapter 360.

The halls were decorated with arrangements of gladiolas, carnations, cannas and ivy. The decorating was done by Mrs. Alice L. Walker and her committee.

Annually, Americans fall victim to $500 million worth of dietary nonsense in the form of "health" foods and food supplements they don't need. This is more than the American public spends on medical education each year.

Austin — U. S. Supreme Court's decision ordering both houses of state legislatures be selected on strict population basis will have a far-reaching effect on the Texas Legislature, particularly the Senate.

In the upper house, no county presently is entitled, by the Texas Constitution, to more than one senator. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith noted that under the new ruling five of the heaviest populated counties would be entitled to 12 of the 31 state senate seats, leaving 19 senators for the other 249 counties. This would create some senatorial districts 300 miles wide. Senate districts now vary from 147,454 to 1,200,000 population.

"The high court's laudable aim of equal representation for all citizens cannot be maintained in such circumstances," the lieutenant governor said. "Equality will be theoretical only. No senator could serve such a great area as adequately as three or four senators (or even one) can serve a single county."

Lt. Gov. Smith promised to ask other lieutenant governors to petition Congress for a review and "practical relief." A similar resolution may be brought before presiding officers of House of Representatives by Texas House Speaker Byron Tunnell. However, it is doubtful how Congress could intervene except by submitting a constitutional amendment spelling out authority for states to have real bicameral (two-house) legislatures if they want to.

A Texas legislative committee already is at work determining how best to comply with a prior Supreme Court decision ordering congressional districts be formed on the basis of population only. Its work may be expanded to include a look at legislative districts as well.

OIL PRODUCTION ROLLED BACK

July oil production will be cut back to the lowest level since March, 1963, by order of Texas Railroad Commission.

In response to purchasing forecasts by 13 major companies, the Commission set July maximum production at 27 percent potential, or 2,788,685 barrels daily, compared with the present 2,845,571 barrels.

Presidents of five Texas producers associations declared the decision, "regrettable," and said it would hamper attempts to get the U. S. Congress to effect a "very substantial reduction" in oil imports.

Commissioners also scheduled a July 16 hearing on the 1947 yardstick for fixing oil field allowances.

HIGHWAYS

Texas highways are now valued at $4,500,000,000, Chairman Herbert C. Petry Jr. of the Highway Commission announced.

Petry said every effort must be made to maintain a balanced system of highways, from the farm-to-market roads to the interstate highways, to serve all sorts of traffic.

TAX REVISION RECOMMENDED

Texas Research League proposes the state's unemployment compensation tax on employers be more closely related to benefits paid former employees.

Benefit payments to unemployed have exceeded revenue for five of the last six years, a League study for Texas Employment Commission shows. However, the Texas Trust Fund, from which payments are made, cannot go broke, because a surtax is imposed on all taxpayers any time the fund drops below $225,000,000 on October 1.

League recommends extending "experience rating" of employers to lessen the threat of having a flat rate surtax applied.

SECURITIES SALES HIT PEAK

Issuance of permits for sale of securities in Texas reached a high peak for 1964 during May, with $37,062,966 authorized to 58 corporations by the State Securities Board. This was the highest monthly total since November 1962, when $42,510,619 worth of permits were granted.

TOURIST RECORD SET

Large Texas cities attracted a majority of the record-breaking number of tourists who visited the state in 1963, Texas Highway Department reported.

Out-of-state visitors totaled 11,700,000, some 26 percent over the previous year. They spent $532,200,000 to show a 12.8 percent increase over 1962.

Dallas was the stated destination of some 15.8 percent, while 14.1 percent were heading for Houston-Pasadena; El Paso drew 9.8 percent and San Antonio 9.6 percent.

Highway Department recently released this information in a colorful 16-page brochure available to the public. The booklet described results of the annual survey on the Texas Tourist Industry, and the cover depicts scenes from the states outstanding recreational areas.

SCHOOL RULING

School boards have the right to make rules about students' clothing, State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar ruled in an appeal against an Andrews school board policy.

Mrs. Kenneth King of Andrews made the appeal which led to the ruling. Mrs. King contended that her third grade daughter, Vickie, should wear trousers to school to protect her health.

In upholding the school board, however, Edgar advised that the policy be clarified, and that clear provisions be adopted so the clothing regulation could be suspended for a student whose doctor prescribed trousers for medical reasons.

COMMISSION STUDIES PLAN TO BEEF-UP INDUSTRY

Texas Industrial Commission and the Agriculture Economics Department of Texas Tech have made a contract to study the feasibility of increasing the meat packing industry in Texas, with the hopes a solution can be found to alleviate beef import problems faced by Texas producers.

Findings will be available in the fall of 1965.

HARDIN COUNTY MAY HAVE KEY

Texas Water Commission, releasing a report on untapped ground-water resources in Hardin County, said use of that water may be a key to future industrial expansion, as it has been in the heavily-industrialized Houston area.

"Geology and Ground-Water Resources of Hardin County," a free publication, says the potential there for further development is "tremendous."

CIVIL SERVICE SCHOOLS

Austin Postmaster Oliver Bruck advised the public against paying fees to civil service schools. It costs nothing to compete in civil service examinations, he said.

There is no school operated in connection with civil service by the Federal government, and no school is given advance information which is not available to the public without cost, Bruck stressed.

SHORT SNORTS

Gov. John Connally appointed Dr. Buford M. Sanders of Tyler and Dr. Joseph R. Ordle of Fort Worth to six terms on the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

Texas is working on a plan to increase park acreage seven times in 35 years, according to W. M. Gosdin, assistant parks director.

Texas Water Commission, reported water conservation storage in Texas reservoirs was 63 percent of capacity at the end of May and only Abilene and Wichita Falls had normal rainfall during the month.

Nursing Home construction in Texas is increasing, State Department of Health reported. A total of 186 homes went under construction in 1963. By June 1 this year, 94 more were underway. Department spokesman said the needs for plush nursing home facilities have been saturated, and urged people considering construction of a nursing home to contact health authorities for guidance.

Texas Constitution Party representatives held a closed door meeting with the executive secretary of Alabama Gov. George Wallace, giving rise to some speculation the party may support Wallace for presidential nomination.

U. S. Bureau of Reclamation's regional director reportedly will recommend a pipeline to San Antonio from a proposed reservoir at Cuero.

The State Board of Education voted to extend to one year the State's six-month program to combat school dropouts.

Twenty-one of the 2,500 elderly persons who have signed up for "Texas 65" health insurance coverage so far this month are over age 90.

Texas Good Roads Association announced David D. Ford of Austin is its new manager. He succeeds Callan Graham, who was TGRA executive vice president.

Clint C. Small Jr. of Austin is the newly-elected president-elect of the State Bar Association. Vice President will be W. O. Shafer of Odessa.

A voter in a party primary is ineligible to sign the application of an independent candidate for an office for which nominations are made in the primary, Atty. Gen. Carr held in an opinion.

Measles cases are four times more numerous than last year, State Health Department reported.

A 25-member Texas AFL-CIO Committee on Job Safety, Compensation and Liability has held its first meeting. The committee will conduct a series of sessions to recommend changes in the state workmen's compensation and job safety laws.

Eastex Isle Lures Birds

Many vacationing wildlife enthusiasts are including an island noted for bird-watching in their summer itinerary. Langley Island, nestling in the middle of 2,500-acre Lake Tyler in Smith County, offers a variety of feathered friends to interested visitors.

The Tyler Audubon Society was instrumental in closing the island to camping and hunting in 1950, and has improved the area with more than two miles of trails for nature study, extensive vegetative plantings, and many nesting structures for birds. More than 150 bird species have been cataloged on the island.

Petroleum Measured In Big Figures

Dallas — It takes a lot of millions, billions and trillions to measure the Texas petroleum industry, according to Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, which this week published its annual "64 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas."

The annual leaflet, which rounds up frequently-used statistics about the state's oil and gas operations, included these among the 64 selected this year: Texas has produced 26.7 billion barrels of oil, or 36.3% of U. S. total.

Texas produced 973,097,000 barrels of crude oil in 1963; 35.4 percent of U. S.

The value of Texas crude oil, natural gas and gas liquids in 1963 was $4.1 billion.

Texas has 18.6 billion barrels of oil reserves — 14.6 billion in crude oil; 4.0 billion from natural gas liquids.

Texas drilling in 1963 totaled about 63 million feet of hole.

Texas royalty owners received $456 million from oil and gas production in 1963.

Texas operators spent $714 million drilling in 1963; $262 million lost to dry holes.

Texas had 118 trillion cubic feet of natural gas reserves at end of 1963 (42.7% of U. S.).

Texas petroleum industry employs some 216,023 persons (about 1 out of every 17 Texas workers) with wages of $1.3 billion annually.

Texas petroleum industry's 1963 tax payments to STATE government were $223 million.

Grease-Spattered Stoves Dangerous Fire Hazard

Every year thousands of fires start in homes because kitchen stoves are not kept clean and in proper repair.

To prevent this type of fire, the National Board of Fire Underwriters recommends that ovens, broilers and top-of-stove burners be kept free of fatty grease and that grease containers be stored away from stoves.

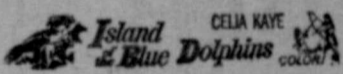

If a grease fire should start while you are cooking, turn off the heat immediately, the NBFU says. Then cover the pan with a large, flat cover using a long handled fork to set it in place. An alternate method would be to shower the fire with baking soda or salt.
