THE

TEAR UP

By Rosalie M. Gordon
Editor, America's Future

Surprisingly little attention was paid to the first bilateral treaty negotiated by President Johnson with Red Russia and signed by the respective ambassadors of the United States and the U. S. S. R. early last month. It was the first treaty negotiated solely between us and the Soviet Union in the 31 years since FDR recognized the communist regime in Russia. President Johnson hailed it as a "step forward in developing understanding between our two countries." It may seem harmless enough - a plan for setting up consular offices in Russia and the United States other than the single embassies maintained in Washington and Moscow. The great advantage is supposed to be that American visitors to Russia who get in trouble with Red officials will have more consular officials in spots other than Moscow to intercede for them. But the treaty has left a sour taste in the mouths of those already gagging on the current babbling of "kindly peace-loving" Reds, for the following reasons:

THE ENEMY

1. You do not make treaties with an enemy. And no matter what masks the Reds don for present purposes, they are our avowed enemies.

2. Our Constitution says the President shall make treaties with the advice and consent of the Senate (the Senate still must approve this one). But contrary to usual practice — followed even in the partial test ban treaty — the new treaty was negotiated in tightest secrecy. The Senate had no chance to advise. Up to the time the ambassadors signed it — a number of days after it was announced with much fanfare by the President and after an unknown number of weeks of negotiation — reporters could not even get a copy of it; the actual text was kept secret.

STAY OUT

3. Americans could easily keep out of trouble in Russia by keeping out of Russia. Under the new treaty they are supposed to be unafraid, as the New York News put it, of "being tossed into Khrushchev's clinks without quick access to their cells by kindly U. S. consular officials." This dubious "advantage" will be heavily offset by the new Soviet consulates to be set up around America. They will give the Reds additional outlets to use, as much evidence shows they now use their Washington embassy and their New York UN headquarters, for spying and subversion.

4. In the past four decades the Russians have negotiated half a hundred major agreements with non-communist nations. They have broken 96 percent of them. Nothing indicates that the new treaty will be any different from the others — a scrap of paper to be torn up whenever it suits the Red conspirators.

Santa Anna News Is Leased to Bob Parker

The Santa Anna News has a new editor and publisher effective with this issue. Bob Parker, formerly editor of a national conservation magazine, has leased The News from John C. Gregg.

Necessitated by the recent appointment of Gregg as Acting Postmaster of the Santa Anna Post Office, the lease was dated July 1. Parker moved to Santa Anna last week.

A graduate in journalism from Southwestern University, Georgetown, Parker has been connected with weekly newspapers most of his life. During the past six years, however, he has been associated with several magazines in editorial capacities. Since 1960 he has served as managing editor and editor of Soil and Water Magazine, national monthly magazine covering the field of conservation, which is published in Waco.

In commenting in his move to Santa Anna, Parker said: "Magazine editing is an interesting field, but my first love has always been the weekly newspaper field. I am happy to get back into weekly publication, and I am very impressed with the people and the prospects of Santa Anna."

Gregg, has been editor of the paper since 1946 and The News has been in the Gregg family since 1920.

The present staff of the paper will continue, according to Parker, including Billie Gregg as advertising manager, Grady Steen as production supervisor, and Ruth Poldrack as compositor.

In discussing his plans for The News, Parker noted that he would need the cooperation of all the people of the town, and he urged everyone to get in all their society and personal items.

Coleman Rodeo In Progress, Playing To Enthusiastic Crowds

The 27th annual Coleman Rodeo got underway yesterday, July 8, with large crowds turning out for the parade, the first session of the rodeo, and the dance following in the National Guard Armory.

Size of the opening day crowds pointed to record attendance at this year's version of the popular four-day event.

With the rodeo being sanctioned by the RCA and the GRA, top professional performers are assured for all aspects of the event. The stock, furnished by the well-known Beutler and Son organization, was top notch for the opening night performance, and top performance competitors and stock may be expected for the remaining sessions.

Thursday afternoon, the parade will feature riding groups from various regional towns and cities. These clubs, riding horseback to Coleman, will be met as they approach the city by local riders. All local and visiting night following the rodeo performance. The Coleman Rodeo riding clubs will take part in the grand entry at the rodeo Thursday night, making that spectacular event even more spectacular.

Friday afternoon's parade will feature floats, with divisions for local and for out-of-town floats. Afternoon parades begin at 5:30, with rodeo performances beginning at 8:00. Dances are scheduled at the armory each

First Methodist To Climax Emphasis Program Sunday

The First Methodist Church is pointing to next Sunday as the grand climax to the current program of emphasis on attendance at the evening worship services. So far, the six weeks program to improve attendance at the evening worship services has met with considerable success, according to Rev. Bobby Weathers, minister.

The past Sunday saw 99 attending the evening worship service, and it is expected that the church will exceed its goal of 100 at the service next Sunday.

The men of the church have been divided into two teams, East and West, competing to see which team can bring the greatest number of worshippers to the evening service. So far, the West team is leading, topping the East team by a 53-46 count last Sunday, to bring the two week score to 115 for the West team and 78 for the East team. The losing team will cook breakfast for the winners on Saturday, July 18.

Rev. Weathers has extended an invitation to anyone without a church home to make the First Methodist Church their spiritual headquarters.

'Old Timers' From Santa Anna To Play Bangs Team Tuesday

There will be a baseball game between a Santa Anna "old timers" team and a team from Bangs, Tuesday night, July 14, at the local ball park. Game time will be 7:30. Admission charge will be 50 cents.

Everyone is invited to come out and see these teams play.

DR. JOHN MURRELL SPEAKER AT ADVENTIST CHURCH SATURDAY

Speaker at the Seventh-day Adventist Church on Saturday morning, July 4, was Dr. John Murrell. His topic was "Cracked Liberty." Choosing the theme of our religious liberty and how this is being undermined, he reiterated a portion of the Constitution.

Santa Anna National Guard Unit Scheduled For Summer Camp

By S/Sgt. Robert R. Turner
Company A 1st Battalion, 142nd Infantry, 36th "Texas" Infantry Division, which is Coleman County's own National Guard unit, with armories in Coleman and Santa Anna, is preparing to depart for annual summer field training at North Fort Hood, near Gatesville, Texas.

A small advance detachment will depart Friday, July 10, with the unit's equipment, and set up house-keeping for the balance of the unit, which will join them at Fort Hood, Sunday, the 12th of July. The field training camp will last 15 days, with the unit returning home Sunday, July 26.

The unit will travel to Fort Hood, by military vehicle convoy. They will meet the balance of the First Battalion, 142nd Infantry, stationed in Brownwood, Abilene, Ballinger and Brady, at the old Camp Bowie area in Brownwood, and proceed to the field training site as a battalion convoy.

If you miss some of the familiar faces in, and around Santa Anna and Coleman between July 12 to 26, there's a good chance you could find them in the Fort Hood vicinity.

Santa Anna's local Army National Guard unit has been attached to the Coleman unit, and is now designated as a weapons platoon.

The Santa Anna unit has been attached to the Brownwood unit, until this recent change was announced.

The Santa Anna, Coleman unit is Company A 1st Battalion, 142nd Infantry, 36 Infantry Division.

The newly combined unit can now truly be called a "Coleman County Guard Unit."
This re-designation was effective June 22.

HAROLD D. WALKER

Harold Walker Completes Combat Training Course

Camp Pendleton, Calif. (FHT NC) — Marine Private First Class Harold D. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Walker of Wallace Street, Santa Anna, Tex., completed the four-week individual combat training course June 25 at the Second Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

"Boot" training, stressing rifle marksmanship and discipline, began in San Diego, where he learned the history and traditions of the Corps.

He learned teamwork in close order drill with his platoon under the watchful eye of the drill instructor.

Continuing the disciplinary emphasis at Camp Pendleton, the Corps turns to more advanced subjects of tactical problems and individual fighting skills. The Marine, now confident in his ability after this phase of training, takes his place in the small units — the four-man fire team and the 14-man squad.

Wes Wise Gets Medical Degree At Southwestern

Dr. Wise began his internship at the University Hospital in Little Rock, Arkansas Tuesday, July 7th.

New Cafe Opened By Alcorns On Highway Here Last Week

Cliff and Ruth Alcorn have opened a new eating place in Santa Anna, on the Brownwood highway. Known as Cliff and Ruth Grill, the new cafe features special lunches daily, with a complete line of a la carte orders.

The proprietors of the new Santa Anna restaurant have been in the cafe business for 29 years, spending most of that time in Arlington. They opened the Santa Anna establishment on June 23.

Features of the new eating place include curb service in the evening, unlimited refills of coffee or tea with meals, and orders to take out. Customers may call FT8-9150 to order meals to be ready when they come by to pick them up.

Business has been very good, according to Mrs. Ruth Alcorn. "We try to serve good food and plenty of it at good prices," she said.

Neff's Appaloosa Is Cutting Horse Champ In N. M.

The fine Texas Appaloosa bettered a total field of more than 40 to excel in the Senior Cutting Horse class. He was ridden by Bob Collins of San Saba, Texas.

It is possible to leave Wake Island on January 21 and arrive at Midway Island on January 20.

Tactical Air Command Flies Over Central Texas

(Dyess AFB, Texas) — A giant C-130 Hercules assault airlift aircraft rises from the Dyess runway, and soon, it is over the Santa Anna area. It, and many others like it, will make their presence felt during the next few months to many West Texas residents.

Word from Col. Bill Richardson, Deputy Commander for Operations at the Dyess-based 516th Troop Carrier Wing, confirms what many local residents already know — that large four-engine cargo airplanes are flying low over the area almost daily. Colonel Richardson states that these flights, in the interest of national security, must go on, and that every effort is being made to minimize disturbances for the folks down below.

"We call our new technique 'Close Look'," says Richardson. "We have been flying these missions for about a year, but recently we've had to step our program up by a large amount." The Close Look maneuver causes C-130s to fly at 300 feet above the terrain along a regular pattern. Practice runs, to qualify Tactical Air Command crews from Dyess, are made along a route that overflies sparsely-settled areas near Stamford, Albany, Cisco, Stephenville, Hamilton, Lometa, Brady, Eden and Ballinger.

By flying so low, a TAC assault airlift plane with its load of Army paratroopers or heavy equipment could fly under enemy radar beams until just before the drop zone. Then, a swift climb brings the aircraft to the 1,000-foot drop altitude. The practice runs are to sharpen Dyess pilots' low-level skills.

Full clearance has been obtained from the FAA for the flights, which are made only under VFR (Visual Flight Rule) conditions. Pilots have been ordered to make deviations in their routes to avoid settlements and populated areas.

The C-130, which can carry a gross weight of over 75 tons, is powered by four turbo-prop engines — a turbo-jet engine with a propeller, which is run at a standard speed of 1020 rpm. The C-130 carries no armament. Although their speed of a little over 250 knots is well below sonic boom proportions, the droning propellers are able to startle even old Air Force hands, if they are unaware of an approaching low-level flight.

Col. Burl W. McLaughlin, 516th Wing Commander, told The News that he must qualify 76 crews in two of his three squadrons by late summer. This will require 5-6 flights per crew. After all crews are qualified, Tactical Air Command insists on at least three flights per calendar quarter to maintain proficiency in the Close Look technique.

During practice runs, the aircraft will normally fly an "In-trail" formation, which will space them about ten seconds apart for an observer on the ground below. Five aircraft in trail will not be an unusual sight — and sound.

McLaughlin could predict no set schedule for the flights. "Our crews must train in between frequent temporary duty assignments to other stations, both here and overseas," he stated. "It's a case of flying Close Look while they're home, which isn't often."

Normal C-130 crews have five persons, three officers and two enlisted men.

Both Dyess officers stressed that the flights are perfectly safe for both the aircrews and for Texans below. "We hope we cause no trouble along our routes," McLaughlin said, "and we hope we never have to do anything but practice on Close Look."

Grass Fires Are Serious Hazards Now

During the past several days the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department has been called out to extinguish numerous grass fires. Some of them have been pretty well out of control when the department was called. However, there has been very little damage as the result of the fires.

With the area around here as dry as it is, the hazard of grass fires gets worse each day. Roadways and the right of way on the railroad are fast becoming so dry that fires are likely to start along these routes at any time. Pastures and vacant lots are in the same condition. Lots of other places where the ground is not being watered regularly is rapidly becoming serious hazards.

Members of the fire department request that everyone be as careful as possible about burning trash or grass and not let it get out of control. You are urged to do your burning at a time when the wind is not blowing, and then have water handy to extinguish the flames.

And, if you think the flames are going to get out of control, call the fire department immediately. Members of the fire department will be glad to help you burn off vacant lots or other property when the time is available to them.

The present number to report a fire is FT8-3333, but this number will be changed when the new telephone directories come out. Everyone should be on the lookout for the new number when the change is made.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin, Tex. — Local governments in Texas may be the main benefactors if state government winds up the current fiscal period with an $80,000,000 surplus as Gov. John Connally predicts it might.

Should such surplus be reached, Connally told reporters, it is "fairly" certain he will recommend abolishing the ad valorem tax on property for state revenue purposes and leaving that source exclusively to local governments.

Connally said $20,000,000 of the expected surplus could be set aside in a special fund to retire college building bonds backed ad valorem tax contributions. In predicting that the surplus will not be less than $35,000,000 and probably will reach the $80,000,000 figure, the Governor joined those who have contended all along that the general revenue fund will be so far in the black by 1965 that new tax problems will be eased if not erased.

Connally also said he contemplates submitting to the Legislature in stages the recommendations of his Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

He still plans to call a conference on morals and ethics but said he has not picked a time. However, he declined to say whether he would recommend fair employment and public accommodations legislation in order to maintain some state jurisdiction over civil rights under the new federal law.

ILLITERACY FIGHT STEPPED UP

A quiet campaign is under way to mobilize South Texas community facilities to combat an illiteracy problem which results in wasted lives and a damaged economy.

Frausto Toscano, an assistant to Governor Connally, is in South Texas determining what can be done at the local level to help stamp out the blight of illiteracy.

Toscano has visited seven South Texas counties attempting to establish local literacy centers to teach adults to read and write. He reports that in most counties in Southwest Texas illiteracy is far above the national average, and runs over 20 percent in some counties.

Texas Education Agency is engaged in the most intensive study of the problem ever undertaken in the state and the director of that study says the problem can be substantially solved in a few days by a concerted state-local effort.

CAPITOL HOSPITALITY

Texas Highway Department now has a team of travel information officers in the rotunda of the State Capitol. They are stationed in an illuminated tourism booth.

This information team has the task of acquainting the thousands of visitors to the Capitol with the State's other

NEW MANSION ASKED

Should Texas build a brand new $500,000 governor's mansion? That is a subject of debate in the capital city.

Building Commission Director H. R. Nieman Jr. has recommended a new structure to replace the 108-year-old mansion. Budget Director Bill Cobb also has testified in favor of the proposal.

Connally, a member of the Building Commission, supports the new mansion plan. But whether he will throw his full backing behind it depends on the state's financial condition when the Legislature convenes in January.

If a new mansion is constructed, Connally suggested the existing one be turned into a museum supported by nominal admission charges.

Other structures proposed in Nieman's $8,084,330 budget request included a $3,600,000 state finance building to house state fiscal agencies and a $2,600,000 office building for legislators and their related services. Both would be located in the capitol area.

GOOD NEIGHBOR TRIP PLANNED

An August trip to Mexico City and to the four Mexican states adjacent to Texas is planned by Governor Connally, who said that much of this state's economic future is tied to lands south of the Rio Grande.

Connally hopes to improve relations with Latin leaders before the 1968 Olympics are held in Mexico City. Also he would like to link the Olympics with San Antonio's Hemis Fair which is scheduled for the same year.

REPUBLICANS HEADING FOR GOLDEN GATE

Nearly 500 Texas Republicans, "irrevocably committed" to Barry Goldwater for the presidential nomination, will arrive in San Francisco this weekend for the GOP state convention starting Monday, according to state GOP headquarters here.

Texas has 56 voting delegates, but state Republican headquarters reports 112 delegates and alternates have been named; 300 Texas guest tickets have been issued; and six pages, six assistant sergeants-at-arms, six assistant doorkeepers and 68 honorary assistant sergeants-at-arms from Texas also have their credentials.

BUSINESS STRENGTH MAINTAINED

Texas' 40-month business upswing is the longest of the post-war era (except for the Korean War period), according to the UT Bureau of Business Research.

While the business activity index slipped two percent in May, average for the first five months of 1964 is seven percent above the same period in 1963.

"It now seems reasonable to expect that before any adjustment occurs, Texas business will surpass even the 45-month rise of business activity from October 1949 to July 1953," Bureau Director Dr. John R. Stockton predicted.

MENTAL HEALTH

County Judge C. L. Abernethy of Plainview heads a statewide committee which is taking a long, hard look at what Texans are doing about mental health problems.

The 112-member citizens committee expects to have its report ready by August. But comments at meetings have indicated strongly that the committee will tell Texans that mental health work should begin in the local community.

Judge Abernethy said the old concept of isolating mental patients far from home is far less effective than treatment in their home towns.

FISHERMAN'S HEAVEN

Parks and Wildlife Department spokesmen expect the out-sized Amistad Reservoir, now being fashioned from the Rio Grande, Pecos and Devils rivers, to be a heaven for fishermen.

Aquatic biologist Larry Campbell predicts that when the 6-million acre feet reservoir is completed in 1968 it will boast blue catfish from the Devil and Pecos; large-mouth bass from Lake Walk and Devils Lake, and flathead, blue and channel cat from the Rio Grande.

Underway are conversations leading toward a joint management program for the $100,000,000 reservoir project with the Mexican government.

SHORT SHORTS

Cigarette smokers are doing it again. Revenue from cigarette tax stamps increased $568,048 in June over June 1963 and more than $600,000 over May.

A gold-painted guard rail was installed along a $90,000,000 freeway section near Winnie in Jefferson County. Freeway connects downtown Houston with Beaumont. Highway Commission Chairman Herbert C. Petry Jr. predicted it will save 21 lives a year.

Cotton still is big in Texas. Lt. Gov. Smith told the International Oil Mill Superintendents Association. During the last 10 years the state has produced an average of 3,900,000 bales a year and more than 1,600,000 tons of cottonseed, with an average value of $715,000,000 a year.

State Hospital Board Executive Director Raymond Vowell has been appointed to two presidential advisory committees on mental retardation.

Governor Connally has named a planning committee of state Hand punches at the News officials to develop an administrative internship program in state government.

Republican candidates will attend a political school in Austin on August 20-22.

During the last week in June the State Securities Board okayed eight applications to sell $2,055,300 in securities in Texas. A total of $2,400,000 in additional applications were received the same week, but not processed.

Eerie Sounds Stir Campers

Making something good from something bad may be accomplished by summertime outdoor living, observes an official of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

W. R. Long, information and education officer, notes that when a family camps out, many noises, sights and interruptions disrupt sleeping for the uninitiated. He suggests a little understanding of nature and the outdoors may enable campers to even enjoy the strange symphonic sounds.

The noise of the large grackle, a vociferous black bird, may spoil the afternoon nap, but a study of the birds will provide entertainment.

The camper should remember that Texas has no poisonous lizards, and that the creepy creatures may be enjoyed instead of feared. For example, the tiny chameleon that changes color often provides a sharp stage performance with enclosures.

Number Protected By Social Security Still On Steady Increase

Payments totalling some 1.5 billion dollars are now going each month to nearly 20 million people in the form of retirement, disability, and survivors payments under the Social Security Act.

These figures were given today in a statement by R. R. Tuley, Jr., social security district manager in Abilene.

At the beginning of 1964, some 92 million workers were insured, 68 million were permanently insured, and 54 million had worked long enough to qualify in case of disability. These figures have increased during 1964 and up to the present time.

The 58 million can expect to receive retirement payments whether or not they do additional work. The families of the 92 million can expect to receive monthly payments, a lump-sum amount, or both, in case of the worker's death. The 54 million and their families are protected in case of disability. The net effect is that some 90 percent of the working population has protection against one or more of these risks.

Since all of these hazards are universal, social security is a basic source of income at retirement, disability or death.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room - THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Luke 6:27-36. Grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen. (II Peter 3:18, RSV)

My husband and I were missionaries in China when Hual Yuan was a student in the mission high school. One Sunday in the Bible class he was challenged to yield himself to Christ in a new and complete way. This he did.

There was a man in the city who had wronged him and whom he hated. If Hual Yuan saw this man coming toward him, he would duck into a shop or an alley to avoid having to meet him.

The next Sunday, we asked Hual Yuan whether his stand for Christ the previous week had made any difference in his life. He answered, "You know, I met on the street the man whom I have disliked so much. Before I knew it - and to my utter surprise - I found I loved him."

Surely this experience of love and forgiveness brought a new degree of glory to this young Christian.

PRAYER: Our loving heavenly Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast provided for our continual growth in grace. We beseech Thee to fill us with the fullness of Thy life and may we grow into Thy likeness. Help us evermore to dwell in Thee and Thou in us. In the Savior's name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY When we commit ourselves to Christ, He changes us increasingly into His likeness.

-Frances Taft Pyke (Maryland)

It's a Conservation merry-go-round all right. Because nature goes round and round in the process of creating, destroying and rebuilding natural resources.

Throughout the state and nation, 4-H Club members are lining up to get on the conservation merry-go-round. They are eager to do their share of protecting and replacing the forests, wildlife, grasslands, water and soil that are either used up or destroyed. They deplore senseless misuse of nature's gifts.

A new 4-H Conservation program, recently announced by the National 4-H Service Committee, offers young people incentive awards. They are county conservation medals, a free trip for the state winner to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and $500 college scholarships to the six top members chosen from all state winners.

The sponsor is John Deere, a long-time backer of 4-H Club work. The program is carried out under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service, county extension agents and local club leaders.

Winners in all categories will be announced at the close of the 1964 club year.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN. LIVE LONGER

About 20 years ago the average American could expect to die when he reached the retirement age of 65.

Today seventeen and a half million Americans are over 65, and the generation that can expect to live an average of 100 years may well be the generation now being born.

But just living longer, isn't enough. Extra years mean little unless they're healthy, active years. You can enjoy all the added years modern medicine has given you - you can keep young in spirit, body and mind - by practicing a little moderation and following these seven simple steps:

1. See your family physician regularly for a physical check-up. Today he can diagnose and treat successfully almost any disease or ailment, if he finds it early enough. He can also prevent many of the illnesses that may otherwise come your way.

2. Watch your diet. As the years pass you usually need less food, and there is some shift in nutritional requirements. You will need more protein, vitamins, and fluids, but fewer fats and calories. No one can feel young and peppy when he's carrying extra weight. It's not only tiring, it's a threat to your health. If you need to lose weight, see your physician. He can establish a proper diet by which you'll lose weight without missing out on important nutrients.

3. Get adequate rest. Both mind and body need peace and quiet to recoup from the rigors of the day. Know your limitations and avoid over-exertion and strain, both physically and mentally. Excessive emotional tension can wear you down too, so take each job as it comes; not everything at once. Plenty of rest can help you see things in their proper perspective, and a sense of humor is your best antidote for tension.

4. Pursue physical exercise. The mark of an "old" person is creaking joints, aching backs, and a myriad of complaints. Keep all your body parts in good working order by using them. Frequent and planned exercise, mowing the lawn, a brisk walk to work, a round of golf, a refreshing swim, or even a game of croquet, will give you a zestful enjoyment of life.

5. Fill your days with productivity. The quickest way to "old age" is through boredom. So keep up your interest in your work and your surroundings. By doing a good job and taking pride in your work, your enthusiasm for living will belie your years.

6. Participate in community affairs. Some people pursue the luxury of fussing and fretting about themselves at home alone. But, if you want to be among the happiest people - the doers - share your time and talents with such things as raising funds for charity, getting out the vote and participating in programs for civic improvement.

7. Prepare for your future. Another shortcut to "old age" is worry - and worry, besides putting you in an unpleasant frame of mind, can sometimes lead to illness. Many worries about tomorrow can be avoided if you plan today and budget for your future financial needs with such things as insurance and savings programs.

America's first billionaire was John D. Rockefeller.

Rough Fish Devoured By Westex Reds

San Angelo - Baby saltwater redfish released last April in Imperial Reservoir on the Pecos River tripled in length in only 65 days, according to Fishery Biologist James Wilcox.

Fishery personnel stocked an additional 100 redfish fingerlings in Imperial Reservoir two months ago and recaptured a healthy specimen for examination. The redfish had increased in weight from 10 grams to 72 grams (three oz.) and grown from two to seven and one-half inches in length.

Although this particular redfish was still very small, his appetite was quite large. When the fish was examined, 12 freshwater minnows were in its stomach.

SUNDAY SINGING

The regular Second Sunday Singing will be held at the Assembly of God Church, Sunday, July 12. The program will begin at 2 p. m. and will continue until 4:00.

Everyone is invited.

Some Claims Are Denied By Social Security Offices

"More than once I have been asked, 'Does everyone who applies for social security benefits get paid?'" says R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene district manager for the Social Security Administration. "The answer, of course, is 'no', something difficult at times to say to someone who believes he is due payment."

"However, the Social Security Administration has an obligation to the public," Tuley went on, "particularly to the contributors to the social security trust funds, to make certain that benefits are paid only to persons entitled to them. The fact that a claim is denied reflects no discredit upon persons who file in good faith and make no attempt to deceive or mislead the Administration."

"We have other protective responsibilities," he added. "We must make sure that benefits paid to one person for the use of another are actually used to benefit the other person. This situation arises in several ways. A minor child, or an incompetent adult may not have a parent to act on his behalf. We are careful in selecting someone to act as payee in such cases. Once a person is selected, he is informed of his responsibility in properly expending funds for the use and benefit of the child or incompetent adult. We do not just start the payments and then forget the matter. Periodic checks are made to make sure the funds are handled properly and benefit the claimant."

"We sometimes receive telephone calls or letters from people asking if it is necessary to select a substitute payee when a beneficiary becomes physically unable to sign his or her own name because of injury, arthritis or similar impairment. As long as the person's mental condition does not prevent him from managing his or her funds, the check can be endorsed by mark and properly witnessed. Full instructions are on the back of each Federal check," Tuley reminded.

He added that the public is always invited to write the Social Security office in Abilene at any time a question needs answering.

Those attending were registered in a white leather bride's book and were served punch, cookies, mints and nuts. The serving table was laid with white lace over satin, centered with a footed container holding white gladiolas, chrysanthemums and ivy. All appointments were in milk glass. Assisting with the serving were Lynda Rutherford, Sharon Gilbreath and Nita Ann McClure.

Mrs. Kenneth Herring played piano selections during the party hours.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Glynn McClure, Mrs. Vernon Rowe, Mrs. Virgil Newman, Mrs. Tom Kingsbery and Mrs. Elgean Harris.

White - Beard Vows Exchanged

Miss Patricia Ann White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom White, became the bride of Harold Randall Beard, son of Mrs. James Avant and Harold Beard, in a double ring ceremony performed at the First Christian Church in Santa Anna Saturday, June 27 at 4:30 p. m. Rev. George Archer of Fort Worth, minister, read the ceremony.

Linda Campbell was maid of honor and Brenda Densman was the bridesmaid.

Billy Henderson of Coleman served as best man. Ushers were Gary Sudderth and Kenneth Raecha of Abilene, brother-in-law of the bride. Groomsman was Eugene White of Abilene, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown with a chapel train of silk organza over taffeta. The bodice, with pearl chantilly lace over taffeta, featured a scalloped neckline with long fitted lace sleeves. The skirt, featuring a side flounce held at the waist with a cabbage rose, adorned the bell shaped gown. The bride carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations on a white ribbon.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore identical dresses of yellow whipped cream. The bodice featured a scooped neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. White accessories accented the dresses. They carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies with yellow and white streamers.

The church was decorated in yellow daisies and white stock. Lawanda Horner, soloist, sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer." Sandra Davis accompanied her on the piano.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents following the wedding.

For their wedding trip, the bride chose a two-piece ensemble with white patent accessories.

The bride is a student in Santa Anna High School. The groom attended Coleman High School and is presently in the U. S. Navy, training as a radio man. He returned to San Diego, Calif. Saturday, where he will attend a service specialty school. The new Mrs. Beard will remain here for about a month, then will join her husband at the San Diego Naval Base.

School-Age Marriages May Continue To Increase

College Station — School-age marriages may not be wise, yet after one becomes a fact, adults working with the couple have a responsibility to help them succeed. Indications are that they will continue to increase in numbers.

So says Patsy Reynolds, Extension specialist in family life education at Texas A&M University.

Marriage is always a time of adjustment, she explains, regardless of the age of the couple. "Add to the normal problems of this period the disapproval and often bitter incriminations of parents and the load becomes almost impossible for the young couple to carry."

According to a study made by Dr. B. J. Fallon, Executive Secretary of the West Texas School Study Council, school-age marriages have a divorce rate two to four times greater than for those who marry at age 20 or older. Dr. Fallon directed the survey in 235 Texas schools in 1962.

Conclusions of the research indicate that schools should educate for a "balanced social perspective" if these school-age marriages are to be reduced or those which occur are to succeed, the specialist says.

The parents and community can give the young couple practical education for dealing with problems such as budgets, house cleaning and care and use of household equipment, and preparation for earning a livelihood.

In the event of a school-age marriage, the students should be encouraged to complete their education if at all possible. Human potential is rarely maximized without the benefit of formal education. Less than full realization of human potential constitutes a loss for the individual, the community, and society at large, the study concludes.

The Texas Bluebonnet is either Lupinus texensis or Lupinus subcarnosus, two very similar species.

Time And Temperature And Frozen Foods

College Station — Frozen foods are here to stay and with good reason. But the housewife should be aware of the importance of time and temperature as related to the food's quality, says Gordon R. Powell, fruit and vegetable marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

It is almost impossible to evaluate the quality as food is examined in retail stores. There are few really good guides for evaluating quality of frozen foods since the foods are often packaged so they cannot be seen. The food can be hard and cold, but this is not a guarantee that it has been kept cold enough, throughout its journey to the consumer.

Powell considers time and temperature to be a major cause of poor quality in frozen foods. At the very best, no form of processing improves quality, but if properly stored under the right temperature, the original quality may be maintained. However, this is impossible over a long period of time. Time affects quality but temperature affects it to a larger and more rapid extent.

If frozen foods are held at a temperature of 0 degree or lower, time quality losses are slow, but at a temperature above 0 degree, the quality loss is rapid even though the foods are still hard and cold. Several weeks above 0 degree can be as damaging as thawing and refreezing. Temperature damage cannot be repaired, it can only be avoided, the specialist adds. Time and temperature do the real damage but people let this happen. If precautions are taken in freezing, storage, transportation and in the retail stores to see that the proper temperature is maintained, a quality frozen food will be available to consumers.

When everyone involved in the total marketing process of frozen foods, guards against time and temperature shortcomings, explains Powell, the consumer will have a quality product and a more enjoyable and nutritious meal.

Snake Spurt Adds Hazard

An unusually high incidence of snakebites has occurred this year, reports the Parks and Wildlife Department, mostly from copperheads.

There's no apparent reason other than there are years with higher copperhead populations than other years. So campers and outdoorsmen stand cautioned when in the woods and on the lakes.

The Department advises that the copperhead bite is seldom as serious as that of the rattlesnake. Even so the venom causes much pain and swelling, requiring immediate medical attention.

Be careful, they advise, around brush piles, leafy areas, in weeds and around debris. A good clean-up around the yard will destroy the reptile's natural habitat, making things much safer for playing children. Campers should always have a snake-bite kit.

FOLLOW SIMPLE RULES IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Vacation time is here. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.

2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlight beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be valuable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information; Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess — be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver — and he must do the same.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury or death, or if the total damages exceed $25.00.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

INFORMATION FOR VETERANS

Questions & Answers

Q — Several years ago I received a widows' pension under the "old" law. Later, I started to work and my income exceeded the limitations allowed. I plan to retire soon and will reapply for benefits. Will I still be entitled to them under the "old" law?

A — If you were receiving the pension on or before July 1, 1960, and are otherwise eligible, you will resume payments under the "old" law automatically, unless you elect the current pension system.

Q — Is there a special provision on eligibility for VA hospitalization for mental illness?

A — For purposes of hospitalization, veterans with service during World War II or the Korean Conflict, who developed an active psychosis within two years from the date of their separation from such active service and before July 26, 1949, in the case of a veteran of World War II, or February 1, 1957, in the case of a veteran of the Korean Conflict, are deemed to have incurred this disability in active service and hence are admitted to VA hospitals under the first priority group.

Q — Can a veteran be paid an additional amount of compensation for a dependent parent?

A — Yes. If service-incurred disabilities are rated at 50 percent or more. There is no additional allowance payable by reason of a dependent parent if the veteran is receiving pension for disability not the result of service.

Q — Has World War II entitlement expired for GI home loans?

A — Not for all World War II veterans. Entitlement may be used for ten years after discharge plus one additional year for each 90 days of active wartime duty. However, all World War II entitlement does expire on July 25, 1967.

Q — I am receiving pension from the VA, and must report my income each year. In March I sold some property. Should I keep the figures on this sale to report at the end of the year?

A — No, this should be reported at once to the VA Regional Office that has your records. Any increase in income from that estimated at the beginning of the year should be promptly reported to avoid possible overpayment.

Q — Since the Civil War is now 100 years ago and all the veterans on both sides are dead, how come more than 1,000 widows are still alive to collect pensions?

A — Many of these old veterans married women many years their junior.

Q — Are veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict entitled to the same pensions as World War I veterans?

A — Yes, the basic requirements for payment of pensions apply equally to all veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean Conflict.

Q — Can I allow my annual GI insurance dividend to remain on deposit to meet future premium?

A — Yes, you may. You should notify the Insurance Service of the Veterans Administration Office where you pay your premiums to hold future dividends to your credit, at interest, to meet premiums if you should fail to pay when due.

Q — I served less than a year in the Army between 1942 and 1943 and was honorably discharged at my own request to accept employment in essential industry. Will I be entitled to a pension when I become 65 years old?

A — Pension may be granted at any age if a veteran has the requisite honorable service and is unable to follow substantially gainful employment due to disability.

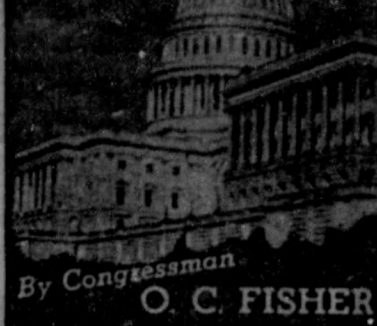

Q — I had service during both World War II and the Korean Conflict but I have heard that the later period would be used in determining my deadline for a GI loan. Is this true?

A — Ordinarily yes. However, if the computed time based on a long period of service during World War II would establish a later deadline than a short period of service during the Korean Conflict, the World War II period may be used.

Q — I receive a widow's pension. I was not working when I began receiving the pension, but I have now secured employment. Is it necessary to report this to VA, or may I wait until I receive an income questionnaire at the end of the year?

A — You should inform the VA at once so that your continued entitlement may be checked. This could prevent the creation of an overpayment, which would later have to be repaid to the VA.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

The fact that Washington is becoming the "City Hall of America" was proven beyond question last week when the House, by a 212 to 189 margin, passed a Senate-approved Mass Transportation Bill.

Ultimate cost of this new venture in federal spending is estimated to approximate $15 billion. It includes loans and outright grants, mostly to a dozen of the big metropolitan centers. And it invades an area of spending which is essentially local and which has always been treated that way.

In this wild spending spree this Congress has apparently abandoned any interest in ever achieving a balanced budget in this country. Faced with an $8.8 billion deficit this year, and probably a bigger one next year, this project commits Uncle Sam to a new type of spending which will get bigger and bigger each year.

Fourteen Texans voted against this new spending program; seven voted for it, and two of the members did not vote.

THE ANTI-POVERTY program is next. It is due to sail through the House and will add, ultimately, another $15 billion of new spending to the federal welfare program, if its goals are achieved. All such projects start out more modestly usually on the order of an initial outlay of a half billion or a billion dollars the first year. Then each year they get bigger and bigger, and the federal deficit does likewise.

Only last week the House approved a bill to raise the debt limit to $324 billion in order that Uncle Sam can pay for these accumulated commitments. Interest on the deficit now amounts to about $12 billion annually.

Observers believe this may prove to be the wildest spending Congress in modern history.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

A Community Survey can chart the road to community development

Community development is one of the fastest growing activities in America today. Many communities, both large and small, are attacking the problems with new vigor and vitality.

While there is no easy road to success, no simple formula to follow, one thing is certain... a community must start with a thoughtfully planned and soundly developed Community Survey. It assesses and evaluates both favorable and unfavorable economic and civic factors which affect community growth, and discloses factors which can be used to solicit new business and industry.

To be fully effective it must be a continuing study, since conditions change as economic handicaps are eliminated and economic advantages multiply. The survey has the added value of helping to clarify a community's aims and objectives in the field of improvement, growth and development.

Such a community survey then becomes the PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

WTU's area development representatives will assist growth-conscious communities in planning a continuing community survey for economic development. This service is available on request through your WTU local manager.
