

It has been called to our attention that a number of items which originally appeared in this column have been picked up and reprinted in the San Angelo daily newspaper, such as the explanation of why we refrain from political predictions and the item about the lost lower plate found by Mrs. H. B. Monroe and the little brag we had in here about it raining on the day we announced that we had been appointed official rain measurers for Santa Anna.

This all just goes to show how desperate daily newspapers are for something to fill up their columns.

All seriousness aside, as a friend of ours used to say (and still does for all we know), we are complimented that the San Angelo paper saw fit to reprint out items. We are going to have to start reading a newspaper that shows such discernment and good taste.

The sidewalk superintendents overseeing the recent resurfacing job on US Highway 84 through Santa Anna got an extra kick out of their duties last week. One of the drivers of the gravel trucks was a young lady. Apparently the Teamsters Union will do anything to get new members.

Pierre Rowe, chief cotton baler at the Santa Anna Cooperative Gin, tells us that he expects this year's cotton crop to be about one-third the production of a normal year. Not so much lack of moisture, as lack of moisture at the critical time.

Miss Bettie Blue was kind enough to bring some old copies of The Santa Anna News by the office recently. They make pretty fascinating reading. The files in the office go back only to 1920. When J. J. Gregg, father of John C. Gregg, purchased the paper about that time, the former owner took all the old files out and burned them. One of these issues of The News is dated January 10, 1896, and another is the issue of June 15, 1917. Also included is a Houston Post for July 22, 1898, which contains accounts of the Spanish-American War then in progress. We will carry excerpts from these papers in an upcoming column. Watch for it, we think you will find it interesting.

Courtesy of the Encyclopedia Britannica News Service, whatever that is, we bring you the following bits of information about that great American institution, the political convention, samples of which we have just witnessed in San Francisco and Atlantic City. The latter was located in an appropriate spot. With all the suspense lacking, the Democratic convention turned into a bored walk for sure. Anyway, back to the Encyclopedia Britannica's compendium of fascinating facts about conventions, did you know that the first national nominating convention was held in 1831, by the Antimasonic Party? The word "caucus" is supposed to come from an Indian word "kaw-kaw-was" which meant "to talk" which is the understatement of all time. Chicago is the champion city for national political conventions, with 24, which is why it is called the windy city, followed by Baltimore, with 12. First national convention to allow women delegates was Teddy Roosevelt's Progressive, or Bull Moose, Party, in 1912. Eight Vice Presidents inherited the White House through death of the President, four in the 19th Century, and four in this century. All ran for re-nomination. The four 19th Century candidates failed to get the nomination (Tyler, Fillmore, Johnson—Andrew that is, and Arthur), and the four in the 20th Century were all nominated (Teddy Roosevelt, Coolidge, Truman, Lyndon Johnson). Two men were nominated by a national party three times without winning, Henry Clay and William Jennings Bryan, both noted as great orators, which may indicate the voters don't like candidates who talk too much. One other candidate received three nominations, Grover Cleveland, who won in 1884, lost in 1888, and won again in 1892.

Local Committee Meets To Develop Plans For Program

A committee of Santa Anna merchants laid plans for the city's 1964 Christmas program in a meeting Friday, August 28.

After considerable discussion, the seven persons present (of the 12 who were supposed to attend) decided on the outlines of the 1964 program. As worked out, all participating local merchants will give numbered tickets with all purchases of $1.00 or more made in their store. These tickets will be filled out by the recipient and placed in boxes. A mammoth drawing will be held on Christmas Eve, with first prize being a color television set. Other valuable prizes will also be awarded.

The regular Christmas parade, with Santa Claus, bands, floats and candy for the kids, is also in the works, scheduled for the first Friday in December, which is the 4th.

A competition for local civic organizations will be held. Organizations participating will be assigned windows in vacant buildings in downtown Santa Anna for decoration, with prizes of $5.00 for the best window, $3.00 for second place, and $2.00 for all others. Organizations wishing to decorate windows should contact Ford Barnes at the Chamber of Commerce office to reserve windows. Choice of windows will be on a first-come-first-served basis, according to Barnes.

Prize for the best float in the parade will be $50.00, with $25.00 going to the second place float, and $15.00 to third place. Fourth, fifth, and sixth place floats will receive $10.00 each.

Following the meeting, Chamber of Commerce president L. A. Welch commented that the gathering had been effective in developing a promising Christmas program for Santa Anna, and that now the success of the program depends upon the cooperation and support of the local businessmen.

Fire Comes To Newsmen Monday

Newsmen are accustomed to going out to cover fires, but it is seldom they have one brought to them. This happened Monday afternoon when H. W. (Billy) Gray came into the offices of The News, asking if he could borrow a small container of water. Thinking he wanted a drink, an employee directed him to the water cooler, but Gray explained that he didn't want the water to drink but to put out a fire in his car. News production supervisor Grady Steen grabbed a fire extinguisher and rushed out to the car, parked in front of The News office, which was smoking heavily from a smoldering fire in the rear seat. Pumping carbon tetrachloride on the fire, Steen got it almost under control when the extinguisher ran out of juice. Bob Parker, editor of The News, trying to find something in which to carry water to the car, could only locate the shop's whistling teakettle, used to heat water for instant coffee making. Filling the teakettle with water, Parker carried it to the car, where it was used to douse the fire, and Gray drove off with the conflagration apparently under control.

After the excitement, the News staff congratulated themselves on being, without much doubt, the only newspaper crew to put out a fire in the rear seat of an automobile with a teakettle in Santa Anna this week.

FIRST P-TA MEETING
The Santa Anna Parent-Teacher Association will have the first meeting of the year next Tuesday, September 8, at the Elementary School Auditorium, beginning at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Curtis Bryan, president, urges all parents to attend the meeting Tuesday.

Stewardson Brings In First Santa Anna Cotton; Receives Top Prices, Prizes

George Stewardson won the honor of having the first bale of cotton ginned at the Santa Anna Cooperative Gin last week.

Stewardson raised the cotton, which was rated by gin manager Pierre Rowe as "middling-light spot," on his farm about 11 miles south of Santa Anna.

The DeKalb variety received no irrigation, and was planted about May 8. The bale was the yield of six acres, according to Stewardson.

Mayor Ford Barnes spearheaded the drive to raise a premium list to be awarded to the grower of Santa Anna's first bale, which he presented to the long-time Coleman County farmer at the gin Saturday morning.

The total received for the bale by Stewardson, including market price for the cotton and seed, totaled $357.85. Donors who gave merchandise prizes included the Ladies Shop ($5.00), White's Variety Store ($2.00), Phillips Drug ($5.00), G&E Hardware ($5.00), Hosch Brothers ($5.00), Harvey's Grocery ($5.00), Moore Mercantile ($5.00), Piggly Wiggly ($5.00), Goodgion Lumber Company ($2.00), Bailey Lumber Company ($5.00), Talley Sinclair Station (five gallons of gas), McCrary Premier Station (five gallons of gas), Burden Mobil Station (five gallons of gas), Etheridge Texaco Station (five gallons of gas), Horner Humble Station (five gallons of gas), Clover Grill (two complete lunches), McKee Cleaners (suit or dress cleaned and pressed), and The Santa Anna News (two year subscription).

Those donating cash prizes included West Texas Utilities Company ($5.00), B. A. Parker ($1.00), Santa Anna National Bank ($25.00), Coleman County Telephone Cooperative ($5.00), Santa Anna Tile Company ($5.00), L. A. Welch Garage ($1.00), Western Auto Associate Store ($2.50), Speck's Barber Shop ($2.50), Sam Collier Insurance Agency ($5.00), Matthews Motor Company ($2.00), Santa Anna Insurance Agency ($2.00), and M. L. (Rat) Guthrie ($5.00).

The Santa Anna Cooperative Gin handled the cotton at no cost to Stewardson. In com-

BAND BOOSTERS HOLD MEETING

The Santa Anna Band Booster Club met for a called meeting Monday night at the Band Hall. Mrs. A. D. Donham was elected president of the club, and other officers were installed. They are: Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick, vice president; Mrs. V. I. Dean, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Raymond Jones, parliamentarian.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Band Boosters will be held Thursday night, September 3, at the Band Hall. A reception for the new band director, Mr. Fred Gray, will precede the business session. Parents of all band students are urged to attend.

menting on the prizes, Stewardson said "These people are all my good friends, and I appreciate what they have done."

Bats And Time Of Year Lessen Encephalitis Danger In Santa Anna

To have bats in your belfry is not considered good, as a general rule, but the bats in buildings in Santa Anna may protect the city from an encephalitis epidemic such as is troubling several Texas cities.

This is the opinion of Dr. John Murrell, who points out that the bats keep the mosquito population down (bats feed on mosquitoes and other small flying insects) and mosquitoes are the means of spreading the virus disease.

The "St. Louis" type of virus encephalitis, the strain that is causing the trouble in Houston and other Texas cities, is normally thought to be carried by birds, and transferred from the Old Photo Blows In Storm — Who Is It?

According to the old saying, it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. The windstorm in Santa Anna on August 21 may not have blown J. Cal Fuller good, but it did blow him a picture, and he would like to find out whose it is.

An old photo, of two very dignified-looking gents in striped trousers, high shoes, and long beards, was blown against the Fuller house, in the south part of town, by the wind. Fuller has tried to find out who the photo belongs to, without success.

The date 1892 is written on the photo below the picture, with the words "Anderson, 40 Main St., Houston, Texas." On the frame around the photo are the words "Moore's Studio, Coleman, Texas."

The two gentlemen in the photo are sitting on some sort of settee and each has a ribbon or tag of sort type on his lapel.

It is doubtful that this photo has been blowing around since 1892, so it is very likely a valued possession of someone. The picture is at the News office, and may be claimed there by the owner.

Co-op Gin Members Meet Saturday

The annual stockholders meeting of the Santa Anna Cooperative Gin took place Saturday night, August 29, with 135 persons present.

Dick Baugh and William Brown were re-elected to the board of directors of the co-op, rejoining Emzy Brown, C. H. Wise, R. A. Milligan, Grady McIver, and James Eubanks.

The directors will meet the second Saturday of the month, September 12, to elect officers for the coming year, according to Pierre Rowe, gin manager.

Labor Day Junior Rodeo To Benefit Library Fund

The first rodeo in Santa Anna in some time will take place Labor Day, Monday, September 7, at Buddy Neff Arena, about four miles north of the city.

The Junior Rodeo, sponsored by the Santa Anna Library Board to raise funds for renovation of the city library, will begin at 1:00 p. m. and will feature some 20 different events.

What the contestants may lack in skill, they will more than make up for in enthusiasm and determination.

The events scheduled include a grand entry; calf riding for entrants eight years old and less; steer riding for the nine to 12 age group; barrel race for those 12 years old and less; barrel race for the oldtimers in the 13 to 19 age bracket; team cow milking, open to two boy-one girl teams; stump race, which is a double barrel race, for those 12 and under; stump race for the 13 to 19 group; cow riding, age 19 and under; calf scramble, with teams made up of one boy and one girl; rescue race for the 12 and under set; rescue race for the 13 to 19's; boot scramble for the younger, 12 and less; entrants, boot scramble for the 13-19 group; bull riding 12 and under; teacher-preacher goat sacking race, age limit 90; and three adult events, cutting, calf roping, and team tying.

There is no entry fee for all events except the bull riding ($5.00) and the adult events ($6.00 for calf roping, $12.00 for team tying).

Application are being accepted through Saturday, September 5, at the rodeo office, in the Santa Anna Insurance Agency, 615 Wallis Avenue. The office will be open Saturday to receive entries. Entry forms are available at the rodeo office and at the office of The Santa Anna News.

Refreshments and concessions will be available at the rodeo grounds.

A rodeo queen will be selected during the course of the afternoon, according to Mrs. Elgear Harris, and girls 13 to 19 who are interested in competing should contact Mrs. Harris.

The Santa Anna Library Board is made up of representatives of several local organizations and institutions, including the City of Santa Anna, P-TA, Epsilon Sigma Sorority, Self Culture Club, Garden Club, Lions Club, and the Santa Anna Independent School District.

Admission to the Santa Anna Library Fund Junior Rodeo will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

"It has been many years since Santa Anna has had a rodeo, and it is hoped that all local and area people will plan to attend the one on Labor Day," a library spokesman said.

1964 Enrollment Below Expected Figure Says Perry

An enrollment 23 less than the number of students enrolled by October 11 last year, and 48 less than the estimated total for this year, was marked up Monday by the Santa Anna Independent School District.

After the first day of classes, Monday, August 31, there was a total of 383 students enrolled. Of this total, 129 enrolled in the four top grades, with 254 in the elementary grades.

Breakdown by grades: Forty enrolled in first grade, 26 in second, 26 in third, 39 in fourth, 33 in fifth, 29 in sixth, 32 in seventh, 29 in eighth, 37 in ninth, 35 in tenth, 36 in eleventh, and 21 in twelfth grade.

According to Superintendent Cullen Perry, additional registrations may be forthcoming, but probably not enough to make up the deficit. Perry noted that attendance at the present enrollment level will result in Santa Anna losing two teachers next year under the ratio established by the state.

Dentist Plans Move Here In October

Santa Anna will have a dentist if present plans are fulfilled. Dr. Stanley E. Rudisalle, who has just recently been discharged from the service, plans to open an office in the old telephone building, on Second Street, about October 15.

Dr. Rudisalle's home is being completed, and it is hoped it will be ready for him to move in about October 1.

AFTER-GAME FELLOWSHIP

Again this year the First Baptist Church of Santa Anna will sponsor a fellowship after each home football game. Sandwiches and cold drinks will be served, and students of both high schools participating in the game are invited.

bird host to man by means of mosquitoes.

Dr. Charles Henner noted that Santa Anna residents probably have little to worry about because the mosquito season is nearing an end. "If this outbreak had started early in the summer, some cases might have worked their way to our part of the state by now," he said. "But this late in the season we have little cause for worry here."

Encephalitis is a virus inflammation of the nervous system, typified by fever, chills, muscular pain, and stupor—much the same early symptoms as flu. Both doctors pointed out that anyone exhibiting such symptoms should contact his doctor.

Prognosis for encephalitis patients is generally good, with recovery usually being made with no after-effects. Treatment consists of rest, aspirin to relieve discomfort and fever, fluids, and antibiotic treatment to prevent secondary bacterial infection.

There is no vaccine or immunization known for the disease, and Dr. Murrell pointed out that the best preventive is to eliminate mosquito breeding areas, and to take other steps to avoid contact with mosquitoes, such as spraying the house with insecticide, and sleeping under mosquito netting.

And the next time you see a bat flying out of one of the buildings in Santa Anna, be grateful for all the mosquitos he has eaten.

Rabies Shots Due In Santa Anna

Dr. J. Ray Martin, Coleman County veterinarian, will be in Santa Anna on Tuesday, September 8, to give rabies shots to local dogs and cats.

Dr. Martin will be administering the shots in the Vo-ag Building at Santa Anna High School, from 2:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Effective rabies control can only be accomplished by inoculation of all dogs and cats and the immunity must be renewed annually. All Santa Anna pet owners are urged to bring their animals for vaccination, according to A. D. Pettit, Santa Anna vocational agriculture teacher. Cost of the shot is $2.50.

FRIDAY PEP RALLIES

Pep rallies will be held each Friday during the football season in the Santa Anna High School gymnasium. The rallies will begin at 3:40 p. m., and will last for about 30 minutes.

Let's Have A Safe Labor Day

Labor Day is a youthful institution, as national holidays go. But its place in the national life is secure and honored. It provides a formal and well-earned salute to all working people, within and without the unions. And this is a tribute that goes beyond the changing problems and controversies that have to do with labor legislation and labor's rights and privileges.

Too, Labor Day has another special characteristic. It gives most of us a three-day holiday in this age of the five-day work week. And millions of people take advantage of it to journey in search of new sights and scenes, or to go again to favored vacation spots. Labor Day has become a day of fun, relaxation and sports.

Unhappily, however, that bright prospect is often not realized for an appallingly large number of us. They are the victims of Labor Day's toll of deaths and injuries. The mishandled automobile becomes a killer of almost warlike dimension. The toll of drownings steadily mounts and ignorance or disregard of the rules and precautions that are essential to safe boating are big factors in this.

The tragic part of it all is that the vast majority of these and other accidents are totally unnecessary. They don't just happen — carelessly, thoughtless and uninformed human beings make them happen. If all of us this coming Labor Day period would use just rudimentary caution wherever we go and whatever we do, the expected accident toll would be reduced spectacularly. How about it?

Pocket Boroughs In The United States?

The English have a system for electing party hacks to the House of Commons. Each party has certain boroughs, or voting subdivisions, that are sure things due to strong local political bosses. These "pocket boroughs" as they are called are used to electing anyone to Commons that the party wishes elected, since there is no requirement that a borough's representative must reside in that borough. Often, the members of Commons representing such a borough has never seen the place or people he represents, knows little or nothing of their local problems and needs. This has long been considered a weak point in the English system of representative government.

But now it turns out that we will have the "pocket borough" philosophy in the United States. Bobby Kennedy has announced that he will be candidate for US Senator from New York, although he has never lived in New York. It was bad enough that Pierre Salinger could receive the nomination to the Senate from California after residing in Virginia, but there was some justification in that case, since Salinger was a native Californian and had lived there. But the move by Bobby Kennedy is purely a political power play.

One of the basic strengths of our system has been the fact that the legislator is a member of the community he represents, familiar with its people and problems.

Bobby Kennedy may or may not have the qualities of a good Senator, that is beside the point here. The precedent he is trying to establish could cause serious damage to the structure of our form of government if the voters allow it to take place.

The Lions Club finally got around to having their soap sale, according to The News for September 4, 1959, after postponing it due to nonarrival of the soap. A fascinating filler in this week's paper states that "One quintillion is written 1,000,000,000,000,000." Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cheaney and family, of Shreveport Louisiana, will arrive Saturday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Cheaney.

School days are almost here again for millions of American youngsters.

The reopening of school is an exciting occasion for all pupils, but it is a particularly big experience for the 5 and 6-year olds who are entering kindergarten or primary school for the first time.

The American Medical Association recommends a thorough medical examination for the child who is starting to school for the first time. Your doctor will know what to do. His examination will cover all aspects of your child's health, and will encompass hearing (to make certain he can hear the teacher) and vision (to make sure he can see the blackboard). It is better if this examination can be made, and booster immunizations given, a few weeks before school starts.

Some school boards require a medical exam for beginning students. Many schools also require certain immunizations against infectious disease. Your doctor will know of the regulations in your neighborhood.

Physicians recommend physical checkups for school children. Most doctors feel that four or five thorough examinations during the school years are sufficient. These usually are spaced at the start of the first school year, about the fourth grade, about the seventh grade, at the ninth or tenth grade and upon graduation. And, of course, if any untoward symptoms arise at any time, a visit to the doctor is in order. A thorough examination also is important if your child is participating in school athletics.

In the excitement of the first few days of school, the very small child may forget all of the safety warnings you've been teaching him. Each parent should be sure the child knows how to cross intersections and streets enroute to and from school. He should know that crossing guards are there for his protection, and obey them. He should know about proper deportment on the school bus. He should know the rules of bicycle safety.

Give careful thought to your child's entire schedule during the school year. Does he have plenty of time to play? That is, play at things he selects, and not something that you or a teacher select for him. Does he have time to just sit and dream, if he wants to?

Or, are you lining up a fall and winter that includes almost daily rounds of music lessons, dancing classes, after-school athletics, social affairs, family affairs in which the child must participate whether he wishes or not?

Much has been written about the many pressures that are placed on even very small children in many neighborhoods today. Much of it is true. Doctors know that many times their small patients are fatigued, deeply tired out from the physical and emotional tensions of doing too much.

If you're a teacher, try to remember that yours is not the child's only class, and try not to overload him with too much homework and outside assignments. Remember that other teachers also are giving assignments, and that there are limits to how much young minds and bodies can absorb.

Agriculture Still Big Business

Although the number of people on Texas farms and ranches is still declining, many of those leaving the country are not leaving the agricultural industry, says John G. McHaney, extension economist, Texas A&M University.

Today nearly 40 percent of all Texans derive their income wholly or in part from farming and ranching or connected businesses, reports the economist. These businesses supply the production needs of farmers and process and distribute agricultural products.

Many agricultural processes once handled on the farm are now performed by these businesses and much labor once needed on the farm is used by them, McHaney points out. For example, farmers today purchase most of their power in the form of gasoline and machinery instead of raising animals and feeding them.

Workers that supply these production needs perform a service for the farmer and are Agriculture and business are becoming more and more interdependent, says McHaney. Some reasons for this interdependence are that farming and ranching require a large capital investment, more cash is spent for living expenses and crop production today, and farmers are more dependent on the market place.

State Capitol NEWS

Initial post-convention plans and strategy mapped by President Johnson for the November general election campaign will bear a "made in Texas" label. "Made in Austin, Texas" would be more specific, for much of it will originate here.

The President, his nomination as the Democratic Party's standard bearer secured, hurried home to his ranch to rest up and do some thinking.

His visit attracted greater interest than any since his first as President, during the Christmas-New Year season.

With Vice Presidential Nominee Hubert Humphrey as his guest at the ranch, private talks inevitably turned to the battles ahead.

Gillespie County Democrats welcomed the President back to his home county with a hill country-style birthday celebration and barbecue two days after his 56th birthday.

OPERATION MOTORCIDE

Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., Head of the State Department of Public Safety, announced that "Operation Motorcide," the grim tabulation of Labor Day weekend traffic deaths as they occur, will go into effect Saturday (Sept. 5) at 12:01 a. m.

Garrison said his department estimates 36 persons will be killed on streets and highways during the 72 hours from the beginning of "Operation Motorcide" to 11:59 p. m. Monday.

But he said the prediction won't come true if ALL drivers make certain both themselves and their vehicles are in excellent condition, and if they use "caution, courtesy and good sense" at all times while at the wheel.

EDUCATION REPORT BEATS DEADLINE

Governor John Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has completed its report and recommendations for excellence in Texas colleges and universities.

The 64 page report, recommending doubling of higher education expenditures within the decade and placing of all institutions under a strong coordinating board, has been delivered to the governor.

DROP-OUTS CRITICAL

Measuring the cost to the nation's economy of some 900,000 school drop-outs each year by the dollar, Col. S. Perry Brown, chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, said it adds up to millions of dollars each year.

Then he warned, "If effective action is not taken, I submit that we will pay ten-fold in retraining, as well as unemployment insurance, welfare costs, and other forms of dependency. Yet the greatest loss both economically and socially will be in wasted human resources."

NEWSPAPERS MUST WAIT

Attorney General Waggoner Carr has ruled that the State Treasurer can put cost of publishing names of persons having money coming to them through insurance policies or annuities "on the cuff" and pay the newspapers later, as money accrues to a special state trust fund.

Advertising costs under the insurance escheat provision cannot be paid from the treasurer's own general appropriation, the opinion continued.

REDISTRICTING HEARINGS TO WIND UP

Congressional redistricting hearings conducted by a Texas Legislative Council committee will wind up here next month.

Meetings already have been held in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Lubbock and Tyler.

Committee chairman, Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, said the group has "many suggestions" for redistricting.

Its big job now is to mold them together and come up with a reasonable plan or set of plans for legislative consideration, thus carving the state into 23 congressional districts as nearly as possible equal in population.

WATER NEWS

Latest word on construction of the $64,000,000 Amistad Dam on the Rio Grande and the Devil's River is that bids will be opened by US and Mexican authorities working jointly on the project on November 6.

Both countries have been busy re-routing roads and railroad lines in the vicinity of the proposed dam to make way for construction.

Texas Water Commission will hold a hearing on the Colorado River Municipal Water Authority's application to build a dam at Robert Lee on the Colorado River on October 19 at 10 a. m.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
 © THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Luke 4:14-22.

"You will know the truth, and the truth will make you free." (John 8:32-RSV).

I visited a lawyer who told me he did not have any religion because religion made a slave of man. I answered, "Sir, I know that it is possible for some religions to enslave men, but this is not true of Christianity." I cited the verse of Scripture given above and other. The lawyer, however, would not accept Christ. So I lent him a copy of the New Testament and asked him to read it before my next visit three months away.

When I next visited him, even before I could bring up the subject, he said to me: "Look pastor, I was an atheist, but reading the New Testament converted me. I know now that I was a slave to sin and that now I am free, really free."

The lawyer became one of my best helpers in that city. He witnessed everywhere: "Now I am free. I do this and don't do that because I want to, and not because I am obligated to. I try to do all the good I can for the love of my generous Savior."

PRAYER:

Almighty God, grant that all mankind may learn that there is real freedom only in Jesus Christ, and that only in Him can each of us find joy unspendable. We ask in His name and for His sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Christian action is not of ourselves; it is the spirit of Christ operating in our lives.

Mountaineers Picked Fourth In District 9A Race This Year; Eagles Tops

With two teams rebuilding, and with two rated as powerhouses, the 1964 District 9A picture looks like the fight between the haves and the have-nots.

Defending District champions Goldthwaite looks like the pick of the league again this year, with a baker's dozen lettermen returning from last year's team that was undefeated in regular season play, including a full backfield. The Eagles will also field a fairly heavy team this season. Head Coach Jack Williams considers lack of experience in the line to be his squad's major weakness.

The Mustangs from Marble Falls also welcomes back 13 lettermen from the 1963 team that posted a 5-4-1 season record. Coach Joel Edwards will not have a particularly weighty team this year, but an experienced backfield is expected to make up for lack of poundage in the line. The Mustangs will probably give Goldthwaite its strongest challenge for District honors.

Burnet hopes to improve considerably on the 1963 record of three wins, six losses, and one tie. Only nine returning lettermen (out of 17 who lettered last year) will limit the experience of the Bulldog squad, but a heavy line will help coach Jimmy Jermstad's charges on the defensive side of the picture. Burnet could possibly challenge Marble Falls for the second slot, and might even cause Goldthwaite some worry, but will probably wind up in third place in the final standings.

Santa Anna's Mountaineers, one of the two teams in the District facing a tough rebuilding situation, will have to depend on a few experienced interior linemen and a couple of letterman backs to carry a light and inexperienced squad. Coach Rufus Cobern expects to have his footballers using variations on the run-pass option, which can be an effective maneuver in high school football if performed properly. In quarterback Eddie Jones, the Mountaineers seem to have a scrambling field general, and he will need to scramble quite a bit if the out-weighted and underexperienced line fails to perform.

Early, the other rebuilding team in the league, will share Santa Anna's problem about weight, and also plans to use the airways in their offensive program. Coach Marlin Dodd's team has 11 lettermen back from a 1963 squad that won two while losing seven and tying one.

This is the way The News predicts the coming season in District 9-A: First place, Goldthwaite; second, Marble Falls; third, Burnet; fourth, Santa Anna; fifth, Early. The final night of District competition, November 13, which matches Goldthwaite and Marble Falls, could be the deciding factor in who takes the cake in District 9A.

Rising Star Tops Scoring In Tilt Here Saturday

In a scrimmage interrupted by rain, the Santa Anna Mountaineers tallied only once, by touchback, while allowing Rising Star two touchdowns in a practice session at Mountaineer Field Saturday night.

The local eleven contained the Rising Star offense well on interior line plunges, but often had difficulty controlling the visiting team's breakaway runners around end and off tackle.

Little passing was done by either team, due in part to the wet conditions, and what was done was ineffective. The Mountaineers had trouble shaking potential receivers loose. A bright spot was the ability of quarterback Eddie Jones to avoid oncoming tacklers until he could get the ball away.

Both Rising Star tallies came on long sideline runs, and the visitors rolled up several other long gainers on such plays.

The Mountaineers defense threw the opposing quarterback for large losses on several occasions, scoring the only points gained by the local team on one such play.

The Santa Anna footballers host the team from Baird Friday, September 4.

Picks of the Week

This is the way The News picks the games involving District 9A teams for the first night of competition, September 4:

Llano at Burnet: This game will pit a Class A team against an AA team, and we will have to go with the lower-ranked team. Burnet by about two touchdowns.

Early at Cross Plains: Although Cross Plains didn't win a game last year, they have 15 lettermen back. Experience proves an important factor. We pick Cross Plains.

San Saba at Goldthwaite: Good AA defense, in San Saba, meets good A offense, in Goldthwaite. A close one, the home field should help in this kickoff game. Goldthwaite by not more than 10 points.

Rockdale at Marble Falls: This will be an offensive battle, with the AA Rockdale squad depending on all-district halfback-turned-quarterback Cople Perry. This one could go either way, we pick Rockdale.

Baird at Santa Anna: A very heavy Baird squad will prove too much in size and experience for the Mountaineers. We pick Baird by about three touchdowns and hope we are wrong.
