SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1965

NUMBER 9

The state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce used a quote from a statement by Theodore Roosevelt the other night at the Charter Banquet of the local chapter of the Jaycees. It reminded us of one of our favorite quotes by Teddy Roosevelt, one that would make a good philosophy of life. We were so impressed by this statement when we ran across it while in college, that we typed it on a card and stuck it up on the wall of our room. It goes like this:

"Far better it is to dare mighty things, to win glorious triumphs even though checkered by failures, than to take rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy much nor suffer much, because they dwell in that gray twilight that knows not victory nor defeat."

One of the stories told by a speaker at the Jaycee banquet here last week was about an old fellow who bought a ranch hereabouts, paying $30,000 down, with the agreement that he would pay an additional $30,000 in five years. As the time the note came due, the banker and other concerned persons were sure, from the general appearance and actions of the rancher, that he was not going to be able to meet it. Feeling sorry for him, the banker called his directors together a couple of days before the due date of the note, told them that the old fellow had apparently been having a tough time of it, that his security was good, and recommended that the interest only be required and the note extended. The directors agreed, and on the day the note came due, the banker sent a car out to pick up the old rancher and his wife. "The old lady's gettin' dressed," the rancher told the driver, "and while we're waitin', I've got to get something down at the barn." He left and returned a few minutes later, carrying a battered old bucket with a lid on it. When they got to the bank, the old rancher pried the lid off the bucket and began counting out bills of large denominations while his wife and the banker watched. When all the bills had been counted, they totalled $29,900. The old rancher looked puzzled. "You know, I could swear that there was $30,000 in that bucket," he muttered. His wife looked closely at the bucket and then exclaimed, "You old fool, you got the wrong bucket."

Which goes to show that things (and people) are not always what they seem.

Latest possibility for Santa Anna is the selection of the city as the site for a new, three million dollar, four year university. The new college is to be built by the Seventh Day Adventist Conference, and Santa Anna is in a good position to obtain this new institution of higher learning.

This could be a tremendous asset to Santa Anna. To have a college located in their area is the dream of most of the towns in the country. Many cities in our part of the state have struggled long and hard, at great costs of time, effort and money, to obtain even a junior college. A university would bring huge sums of money into the local economy, through good financial years and bad. And it would have a beneficial effect on the whole community on a cultural level.

Maybe you have heard about the guy who was a switchman for the railroad during the last war. Since the railroads were strategically important, this switchman was given the choice of staying with his job or entering the armed forces. After thinking it over, he announced that he would rather switch than fight.

A few weeks ago, we had an item in this column about the longest word in the English language, pneumonono-something-or-the-other, the name of a disease. Since watching television for a while, we have decided that this is not right. The longest word in the English language is a word from the sponsor.

Deadline For City Alderman, Mayor Races Is Friday; Moore Not to Run

Deadline for filing candidates for the three spots on the Santa Anna City Council up for election this year is Friday, March 5. Prospective candidates may file with the City Secretary at the City Hall, not later than 5:00 p.m.

World Prayer Day Set Here Friday

A world Day of Prayer service has been set for Friday, March 5, with members of all churches invited to participate in this worldwide observance.

Scheduled for 10:30 a.m. at the Seventh Day Adventist Church, the program will be led by Rev. Bobby Weathers, of First Methodist Church, with leaders of other churches in the Santa Anna area participating.

Theme for the service will be "What Doth the Lord Require." Mrs. Charles Henner and Miss Elsie Harper will be in charge of music for the service.

The World Day of Prayer is a worldwide, nondenominational observance held each year on the first day of Lent.

A new plan of permanent GI insurance — called "modified life" — is being made available to all holders of National Service Life Insurance through the new law which re-opens NSLI for disabled veterans.

Six Candidates File for Three Seats On School Board; Election April 3

Six candidates have announced for the three positions available on the Board of Trustees of the Santa Anna Independent School District. Deadline for filing was Wednesday, March 3.

Fire Ladies To Hold Bake Sale Wednesday

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department will hold a bake sale at Piggly Wiggly on Wednesday, March 10. They decided to hold a bake sale on the second Wednesday of each month.

The Auxiliary and the Firemen will have a covered dish supper on Friday, March 12, at 7:00. Each family is to bring a meat and vegetable or a salad and dessert. 42 will be played.

Voters will be able to vote for three candidates on the ballot. The three candidates receiving the largest numbers of votes will fill the seats on the Council.

Two aldermen and the mayor are elected on odd numbered years, with the other two aldermen being selected on alternate years.

Aldermen whose terms expire this year are L. M. Guthrie and Doug Moore. Mayor Ford Barnes also faces re-election this year.

Mayor Barnes and Aldermen Guthrie have both expressed an intention to be candidates for re-election. Alderman Moore, in a statement to The News, has stated that he does not intend to be a candidate this year. "I have served on the City Council for the past eight years," Moore told The News, "and I feel it is time for me to move on and let someone else serve."

At presstime, there have been no additional announcements for the vacant Council seat. Two or three candidates are expected to file for the seat before the Friday deadline.

County Business Status Told In Census Report

Coleman County's 179 Retail Establishments had $15.9 million in sales in 1963, an increase of 22 percent from 1958. The U.S. Bureau of the Census has just reported after tabulating data gathered from all firms in the 1963 census of business. The last previous business census conducted by the Census Bureau, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, was in 1958.

Retail trade in the County meant jobs (exclusive of proprietors) for 453 men and women and a yearly payroll of $1.3 million.

In volume of business the County's food stores had sales of $3.9 million an increase of 22 percent from 1958. In other retail business the County's eating and drinking places had sales of $482 Thousand and gasoline service stations had sales of $1.2 million.

For the state as a whole, the Census Bureau reported 96,406 retail establishments with sales of $12715.4 million, up 18 percent from 1958.

Census reports to be issued during the next few months will give state and county figures on wholesale and service trades, manufacturing and mineral industries.

Figures on number of establishments and sales volume for major types of retail establishments in each county are provided in the printed report: 1963 Census of Business, Retail Trade, Texas, available at $1.00 from Superintendent of Documents, Washington and at Department of Commerce Field Offices.

City Council To Meet Thursday To Canvass Friday Bond Election Vote

The City Council of the City of Santa Anna will meet in its regular monthly meeting Thursday, March 4, to canvass returns from the City bond election held last Friday, February 26.

Other routine business is scheduled for the Thursday meeting.

The election, one of the most hard-fought, political battles in the history of Santa Anna, resulted in the passage of the bond issue by six votes of a total of 326 cast. Proposition one, regarding issuance of $64,000 in water system improvement bonds, passed by the six vote margin, and proposition two, covering $200,000 in sewerage bonds, passed by nine votes.

Due to the financing arrangements, both propositions had to pass to make either effective. The discrepancy in the totals in the vote on the two propositions was due to two ballots, on one of which the voter voted against proposition one and for proposition two, and on the other the voter voted against proposition one and did not vote on proposition two.

Due to the closeness of the vote and the emotionalism displayed during the campaign on both sides, several reports have been circulated that a contest of the election was a possibility. However, a spokesman for the opponents of the bonds issue told The News that no contest is contemplated, and urged that any bitterness resulting from the election on either side be forgotten as all citizens join together for a unified city.

New Ranger Park Nursing Home To Hold Open House

Grand opening of the new Ranger Park Nursing Home, in old Ranger Park, has been set for Sunday, March 14.

The open house will be held from 1:30 p.m. through 6:00 p.m.

Fred Murray, administrator of Santa Anna Hospital, invited all interested persons to attend the open house.

Annexation To Be Topic Of Called City Council Meeting Monday Night

The Santa Anna City Council will hold a called meeting on Monday, March 15, for the purpose of holding a public hearing on the proposed annexations to the city limits of Santa Anna, and for the first reading of the annexation ordinance.

The areas to be annexed include an extension of the city limits east along highways 67-84, and an extension west along the same highways.

By state law, a city may annex an area equal to 10 percent of the present city area each year. No vote of the citizens of the present city or of persons residing in the area to be annexed is required.

Meeting time for the called session will be 7:00 p.m. and all persons interested in the proposed annexations are invited to attend, a spokesman for the City Council said.

Next week, The News will publish a map of the present city limits, showing the areas to be annexed, with the surveyor's description of these areas.

Two Stories On Coleman Rates; Says Mayor Miller

The Santa Anna News received a call from Foster Miller, Mayor of the city of Coleman, concerning Coleman utility rates published in this paper.

The Coleman Mayor stated that sewerage rates in Coleman were $2.00 per month rather than $4.00 as stated in this paper, and that garbage rates are $1.75 per month instead of the $3.00 listed. Mayor Miller asked that The News publish these rates.

The News obtained the higher rates published in last week's paper from local city officials, who in turn obtained them from the Coleman Water Superintendent.

Hospital Gets Go-Ahead As Bond Vote Result

SKETCH STUDY OF A PROPOSED MEDICAL CENTER

A go-ahead has been given to the construction of the $300,000 hospital and clinic in old Ranger Park this week, as a result of the passage of the sewerage and water bond issues Friday. Insurance companies providing the financing for the new medical facility were waiting the outcome of the election before committing funds to the construction of the new hospital and clinic. With the passage of the issue, these companies have okayed the construction of the building, a spokesman for the Santa Anna Medical Center said Tuesday. The hospital and clinic will provide Santa Anna with one surrounding area.

12 EQUAL PAYMENTS

NEW FROM WTU

 EQUAL PAYMENT PLAN
 For WTU residential customers

... is the new approach to a time-tried method of bill paying. Each month you pay one-twelfth of your annual electric service charge. West Texas Utilities Co. makes an estimate of your total electric use for one year, based on your past record, or, with new accounts, records of similar requirements. They divide the total into 12 equal, even-dollar payments. Monthly and yearly review of your account keeps the estimate as close to the actual metered usage as possible. If this review shows a material change in your use of electric service...up or down, due to unusual weather or the addition of some major appliance...you will be notified that a change of estimate is in order. Your 12th payment will be adjusted to balance your account for the Equal Payment Plan Year.

Equalize your monthly payments for electric service now. Visit your WTU office for the complete details.

Self Culture Club Holds Meeting On Conservation; Mrs. Bruce Named Officer

A program on conservation was given when the Self Culture Club met Friday February 26, in the home of Mrs. Charles Evans.

Roll call was answered with quotes on some phase of conservation. Mrs. C. D. Bruce was appointed club secretary for the remainder of the year, replacing Mrs. J. F. Goen, who is ill. Mrs. Henry Newman was appointed chairman of a fund raising committee for the club, with Mrs. Ford Barnes and Mrs. Joe Mathews.

The renaming of the City Library to include recognition of its service to the community as a club room was discussed, and Mrs. Newman moved to approve a resolution to the City Library Board that they consider calling the building the Santa Anna Woman's Club and Library, which motion was approved.

Following the business session, Mrs. Bruce reviewed the book of conservation, "Whose Woods These Are," by Michael Frome.

Twelve members were present.

4-H Clubs Plan Varied Activities

A program to enlarge the scope of projects available to 4-H members is being developed by the National 4-H Club Foundation in cooperation with Science Material Center, Incorporated, a subsidiary of Allis-Chalmers. Project work by young people, often limited mainly to agriculture and home economics "how-to-do-it" will be broadened to include such topics as magnetism and electricity, mapmaking, paleontology (study of fossils), and astronomy. Additional areas are planned for future development.

Studies are under way at a number of state land-grant colleges and universities for development of suitable science projects and training manuals for 4-H leaders. This program will reach the 2,190,000 young people enrolled in 4-H Clubs and will be administered by 300,000 adult volunteer club leaders in almost every one of the 3,000 counties in the nation.

An important stimulus to the program will be provided by distribution of Book-Lab sets prepared for 4-H by Science Materials Center.

According to Grant A. Shrum, director of the National 4-H Club Foundation, "This program is expected to play a fundamental role in raising the science potential of our nation through development of initiative and individual work experience for young people. Our initial emphasis is on the age group 9-12 where we believe the need for such training is greatest. It is at this age that fundamental habits and attitudes are formed by young people that determine the direction of their future development. This project follows our previous pioneering work to improve science education in 4-H.

"We also expect this program to play a vital part in the campaign against poverty. Those science activities will be emphasized that can also be performed by children in city areas.

Screwworm Plan To Stop Threat

Eradication workers are plotting their strategy for combating screwworms this winter which they hope will eliminate the threat of reinestation of the United States by the livestock pest in 1965.

Their plan is to release all available sterile screwworm flies up to 200 miles or more below the international border along both east and west coasts of Mexico where large numbers of native screwworms live throughout the winter. Sterile males mate with native females and prevent reproduction. This action is expected to weaken Mexican screwworm colonies which form the principal threat to the Southwest and slow the northward migration of the insects next spring.

Eradicators' ability to carry out this plan hinges on whether the number of screwworm cases in Texas can first be brought to an absolute minimum. If screwworm persist in Texas, it will require diverting sterile flies, airplanes and manpower from the task of strengthening the barrier zone in Mexico to fighting small, but costly, outbreaks in Texas.

Each infestation in Texas costs approximately $750 to threat with sterile flies, field inspection and spray. For the same amount of money, one million sterile flies could be dispersed in Mexico where they would help protect against re-invasion from the south in 1965.

A mild winter, which would allow screwworms to survive and build up in numbers in much of the southern part of the state, would be particularly harmful to the program, authorities said. They fear stockmen may stop looking for screwworms because of the low number of cases experienced this year and the prospects of cold weather ahead.

Success of their strategy, therefore, will depend on farmers and ranchers detecting and reporting screwworm infestations before they can multiply, so that emergency treatment can be provided. Treatment of animal wounds with smears is also called for to ward off screwworm attack.

Civil Service Seeks College Students For Washington Jobs

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced it is receiving applications from college students for jobs in Washington, DC, in connection with cooperative work-study programs. Under these programs, academic study is combined with practical work experience and training on the job as students alternate attendance at college with periods of employment.

The Federal agencies which participate in cooperative programs have positions in the fields of mathematics, engineering, and physical sciences at grades GS-3 and GS-4 ($3,800 and $4,215 a year). No written test is required but applicants must have completed one full academic year (for GS-3) or two and one-half academic years of study (for GS-4) in a cooperative curriculum in an accredited college leading to a bachelor's degree in mathematics, engineering, or the physical sciences.

Applications will be accepted until December 1, 1964 by the Aftermath

When the sun came up Saturday morning, it was obvious that Santa Anna was still here. The results of the election the day before had not caused the city to collapse as many seemed to fear. No matter which side of the question the individual voter chose, the citizens of Santa Anna are to be commended for the sense of public responsibility that prompted so many to go to the polls. Only when the majority of the citizens take the trouble to vote will democracy operate efficiently.

It is the opinion of The Santa Anna News that most of the people who sincerely voted against the measure will come to realize that the bond issue is in the best interest of all the people of Santa Anna. A great deal of misinformation has unfortunately been circulated about the costs to individual users resulting from the rate increases necessitated by the bonds. There was no reason for fear from this standpoint. The City Council went out of its way to insure that the new program would pose no hardship to the persons living on a limited income. They required that the new rates would contain no rise in minimum rates, and that these rates would apply to amounts of water adequate to cover the usage of the average couple or small family. They limited the increase in sewer rates to the smallest amount possible. They waived the tie-in fee for persons connecting to the sewer for the first time if they notify the city of their intentions at the time the line is laid past their property. All in all, the city government took great pains to make the increases as painless as possible for the small user.

All progress has its cost, but sometimes a little increase now can prevent a large one later. Many local residents can remember when water had to be sold in Santa Anna by the barrel to supplement local supplies, which were exhausted. This was very, very expensive. This could easily happen again if the capacity of the water treatment facilities are not increased. The state was preparing to issue and order forcing the city to replace its existing sewerage treatment facilities, and if this happened, with the need to construct new facilities under pressures of time, the cost to the user would be much higher than will be the case under the plan approved by the voters Friday.

So actually, the persons who voted for the bond issue voted for lower rates, and those who voted against it voted for higher rates. We think most of our citizens will come to realize this and will join in supporting the efforts of the City Council to give Santa Anna the best possible facilities at the lowest possible cost.

THE MORAL IS, TO BE SURE YOU KNOW WHO YOU ARE DEALING WITH, AND BE SURE YOU KNOW WHAT YOUR QUENCES.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

TOO LATE TO CHANGE YOUR MIND

What if some glib salesman signs you up for an encyclopedia or a set of pots and pans. Next day you change your mind. Can you cancel the order? Chances are you can't.

The typical pattern runs thus: the salesman fast-talks poor Joyce Jones into signing an order for a set of cooking ware, silver, or what-have-you. She pays a nominal amount down, the balance to be over a long term. The price is high enough, plus a big carrying charge, but the installments run for a long time and at first look reasonable. When the shipment arrives, Joyce decides she doesn't want it, and can't afford it anyhow, so she refuses to accept it and tells the company she is cancelling the order.

But poor Joyce is out of luck. The company promptly tells her that they "sold" her installment contract to a bank or financial institution, and she must now deal with them, not the company. The company thus got its sale price in full, the salesman his commission, and the new owner of the contract expects his money in full. Sorry, but it is too late to cancel the order. This is not at all like buying from a local store, where you can usually return the goods if they are unsatisfactory or if you change your mind. If Joyce ships the merchandise back, the company will most likely refuse to accept it.

Moreover, the companies buying such contracts are hard-bolled about collections. If Joyce doesn't pay, they will not hesitate to report her to a credit rating agency, or even sue.

PESTICIDE PROTESTED
 A cheap poison used against roaches and rats in many homes and in grain storage bins and warehouses can cause loss of hair and mental disturbances, physicians testified in a House committee hearing. In heavy doses, it can kill a person or leave him mentally incompetent, they said.

Doctors appeared at a public health committee hearing on a bill which would outlaw the sale, use or possession of poisons based on thallium compounds.

They said the poison can take effect upon even very brief exposures and that its systems are hard to diagnose. Some persons have been interned in mental hospitals before the real reason for their illness was discovered, they said. At present there is no known antidote to the poison except time.

MEDICAL AID PLANNED
 Strategy designed to quickly pass a medical assistance bill as soon as Congress passes its expected new legislation has been announced by Representative Charles Wilson, of Lufkin. He is sponsor of a House bill to extend Kerr-Mills payments to elderly persons not on old age pensions.

Wilson asked a House committee to report out his bill quickly so it could be passed on the floor and sent to the Senate. A Senate bill will not be considered until the federal legislation is enacted, he said. In this way, the Senate version can authorize participation in the new federal plans and the details can be worked out to the satisfaction of House members in a conference committee.

Old age pensioners already are eligible for help on their medical bills through the Federal-state program.

"SPENDING" RULE ROW FLARES
 Tightening of joint House-Senate rule banning consideration of single purpose spending measures ahead of the general appropriations bill may mean the difference in the type of pay teachers get this year.

Senators adopted 22-9 a "compromise" version making the provisions of a stricter House-passed Joint Rule 9-A effective only during the first 120 days of the session. The House is expected to agree.

Opponents say the rule still will prevent even a committee hearing of teacher pay bills until last 20 days of the session or until the budget is adopted and certified by the comptroller.

Teachers fear the delay will be used to gain support for Connally's longrange, graduated pay bill, which they claim gives them far less than their own $45 a month across-the-boards raise proposal.

State Capitol NEWS

Governor John Connally served notice on the US Labor Department he doesn't like its directives that unskilled high school students in the war on poverty program jobs must be paid more than some of their parents make.

Connally, needed by an unnamed Labor Department official, indignantly denied he is scuttling the new Neighborhood Youth Corps job project. But he made clear he won't approve applications of some 23 local school districts for participation in the program until he is sure they know what they are getting into.

NYC offers parttime jobs (10 15 hours a week) around schools and public agencies to youngsters 16-21 who are on the verge of becoming high school dropouts because of financial difficulties. Federal government pays 90 percent of the cost and local participating units 10 percent. But next year the cost will be shared 50-50.

Connally spoke out against the Labor Department rulling that students must be paid $1.25 per hour, the federal minimum wage.

The 23 districts, before ruling was announced, proposed to pay rates ranging from 60 cents to $1.20 an hour. Originally, Labor Department had notified the districts wages "should be a little below the prevailing entry rates for inexperienced workers in similar occupations."

The $1.25 order came out after applications were filed.

"This action," protested Connally, "would place local school districts in the awkward and unrealistic position of paying inexperienced school age students of underprivileged families a rate of pay for casual chores that in many cases would exceed that of adult employees working in the same facility, the average earnings of their own parents, and the wages he himself might reasonably expect to earn in the days immediately following school."

Furthermore, Connally noted, a directly parallel program for potential dropouts among college students administered by Department of Health, Education and Welfare pays 75 cents an hour upward.

House of Representatives applauded Connally's stand but specified it did not intend to criticize the President or his War on Poverty program.

LIQUOR, RACING BILL HEARINGS SET
 Horse racing and "small bottles" liquor bills are expected to turn out some of the biggest crowds at legislative hearings this month.

Bill by Representative Maurice Pipkin, of Brownsville, to legalize parimutuel betting on horse races will be heard by House State Affairs Committee on March 29.

Edinburg Senator Jim Bates' bill to permit sale of two ounce bottles of liquor by restaurants will get hearing before Senate jurisprudence committee on March 16.

San Antonio Representative V. E. (Red) Berry has introduced a proposed constitutional amendment of his own to legalize horse racing on a local option basis in Bexar, Cameron, Dallas, Hidalgo, Harris, Galveston, Midland, Tarrant, and Webb counties.

Only teacher pay raises attract more mail to lawmakers than parimutuel wagering and liquor-by-the-drink legislation. This year, there's strong support on, as well as opposition to, both propositions.

SHORT SNORTS
 Top bill to oil and gas industry forced lease pooling already has approval of both houses and is on the Governor's desk.

A bill assuring Lower Rio Grande Valley users that they will continue to receive water under a present court order until a pending suit is finally decided was enacted.

Bills to create a navigation district which would open the Sabine to barge traffic from Longview to the deep water port at Orange got a friendly reception in committee.

Governor Connally has proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month.

The Governor, as chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, will testify before the Secretary of Interior on March 10 and 11 on the entire oil imports situation.

COORDINATING BOARD APPROVED
 Governor Connally's number one project of the session creation of a powerful 18 member coordinating board to supervise all aspects of higher education in Texas swept through both houses of the Legislature with the speed of a blue norther.

Legislators who opposed it and there were only a few had as much chance of stopping it as they would of forestalling a gathering storm.

After being guided through the House by Representative Dick Cory, of Victoria, the bill was picked up by Senator Bill Moore, of Bryan, in the Senate, where it went through without an amendment and was passed on to the Governor for signing.

Connally has until September 1 to choose the 18 members of the board. They will replace the Texas Commission on Higher Education and will take on the task of directing all higher education institutions from junior colleges through the university systems.

Board will decide what courses are to be offered by each institution. It was given the most farreaching authority granted by the Legislature since the Railroad Commission was authorized to grant railroad permits. Present college boards of regents will continue to serve. But they will be responsible to new overall coordinating board.

Another of the Governor's education plans, to replace 12 separate boards of regents which govern the 22 state colleges and universities with three boards of university systems, had not yet been introduced when the coordinating board plan was adopted.

Some legislators feel that the system board plan may have served to lessen the opposition to the coordinating board particularly among representatives from the colleges whose board would be abolished.

READ Galatians 6:1-10.
 But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. (II Corinthians 9: 6.)

Reaping in ratio to that which is sown, as well as reaping in kind according to what is sown, is one of the certain laws of God for His World. Another way of expressing this is that we get out of anything what we put into it.

The above is true of business, pleasure, the church and of any other activity in which we may engage.

No doubt the reason that so many of us get so little strength and help from the church is that we put so little into it. Our time, our money and our enthusiasm for the church are often given in too limited amounts.

How can full and satisfying stewardship come to the Christian? It will come to him only when wholehearted, joyous and abundant sowing of all that he is and has is "plowed back" into the vineyard of God and thoroughly cultivated.

PRAYER
 Our Father, grant that we may out of grateful hearts joyously, generously, and unreservedly put our lives and resources to work for good in Thy kingdom. We pray in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in Heaven . . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 We reap the abundant life by sowing what we are and have for God's glory and man's helpfulness.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

There's a one to five chance your youngster needs a major teeth straightening job, since an estimated one fifth of the nation's children suffer from "malocclusion" or improper alignment of teeth.

A generation ago, parents of young children with teeth which did not meet properly were usually advised to "let them alone and nature will correct the situation."

Today we know better. Malocclusion is a condition to be corrected by a dental specialist known as an "orthodontist." Nature by herself is a very poor straightener of crooked teeth.

Although the public is just now becoming aware of the health significance of malocclusion, experience has taught dentists that crooked teeth contribute to decay, faulty speech and malnutrition. One of the worst results of malocclusion is the psychological stress borne by a child singled out for ridicule by his friends because of "buck teeth."

A child with facial deformities such as those caused by misshapen teeth may develop traits of indecision and begin to doubt his ability to cope with problems in his environment, psychologists say.

What causes teeth to erupt irregularly? Dentists agree that heredity is probably one important cause. Another is persistent thumbsucking and abnormal pressures against the jaw. Living bone, contrary to popular thought, is not always hard and unyielding. The entire jaw structure can be molded by gentle, persistent pressure.

In the case of thumbsucking, dentist believe that if the habit can be broken before age five, there is a good chance the teeth may return to normal position without harmful effects.

Another cause of malocclusion is prolonged retention of baby teeth. Permanent teeth which follow are then prevented from arranging themselves properly.

On the other hand, when primary teeth are lost too early, adjoining teeth may tend to tip and "migrate," crowding into spaces where permanent teeth should erupt.

There are different methods of bringing teeth into proper alignment. Sometimes it may be necessary to extract teeth to make room.
