Well, it happened again. No sooner do we print something in this column than we are promptly informed that 'taint so. A few weeks ago, we listed some of the smaller cities in Texas, a couple of which boasted populations of only two. We said these were the smallest cities in Texas. We were promptly informed that, quite the contrary, we have a smaller city here in Coleman County, being the metropolis of Whon, which has only one fulltime resident. Obviously there can be no election contest suits in that city.

Now we have been rebuked again. Last week, we published in this space some information concerning Miss Lena Boyd, with the statement that she is the oldest living resident here who was born in Santa Anna. Now comes in Mr. A. A. Bertrand, who informs us that he was born here about three months before Miss Boyd on March 2, 1883, to be exact.

Bertrand tells of remembering life in a little log cabin in The Gap, as this community was then known, drawing water from the public well near their home. Our Mr. Bertrand's father took a position as cook for the company laying the Santa Fe Railroad tracks from Temple to Coleman. He operated a chow hall on wheels, in a railroad car. As the track was laid, the boarding train on which the workers lived would be towed to the end of the new track, at a rate of about three miles a day. The senior Mr. Bertrand took his wife and young son and daughter along on the train. When the track finally reached Coleman, which was to be the end of the line, the Bertrand's set up a boarding house in a big tent, to feed the workers constructing the new city. When the first hotel was completed, Mr. Bertrand senior moved there as cook, a position he held for many years.

The local Mr. Bertrand followed his father's steps into the restaurant business, operating a cafe here in Santa Anna, located just east of the present offices we now occupy, for many years, before moving to Cross Plains to operate an eatery there.

In fact, good food seems to run in the Bertrand family. The Santa Anna Mr. Bertrand's son now operates a restaurant in Houston, and another member of the family, Roy Bertrand, has a fine eating place in Waco. We know it is a fine cafe because it was our regular eating place when we lived in that city.

On Friday, June 11, 1965, the sun will rise in the east and set in the west. Now, let's see anyone come up with an argument for that. With our luck, someone will come in and prove we are wrong.

Have you heard about the lawyer in earlyday West, who was trying a case and lost. A little while later, he rushed back into the courtroom. "Judge, I demand a retrial," he said, "I've some new evidence!"

"Is that so?" replied the judge. "What new evidence have you found?"

Replied the lawyer, "I just discovered my client has $500 more than I didn't know about!"

From a column in the Abilene Reporter-News for last Sunday: Telling about the dangers to wildlife from indiscriminate use of pesticides, the article says that "Government scientists see no danger in men eating oysters, if done infrequently."

Well, we are no government scientist, but we can see plenty of danger in men eating oysters, no matter how infrequently they do it. We have heard of men eating tigers and men eating lions, but this is the first time we have heard of men eating oysters. That must be a pretty dang big oyster!

The same column says that "Reports that the underworld has moved into the get-rich-quick community antenna television market have reached the Federal Communications Commission . . ."

So, what do you have to say for yourself, Max?

Pierre Rowe, Santa Anna's chief coffee drinker, who operates the cooperative gin and elevator on the side, was mumbling into his glass of milk at Phillips Drug Store the other day (he drinks milk for his ulcer during the grain season): "Farmer fills up a truck with grain," he was saying, "leaves it out in the field uncovered all night, big rain comes during the night, he brings the grain in the next morning, says, 'Pierre, this grain might be a little damp.'"

Its a sad sight to see a grown man cry. Particularly into his glass of milk.

Equipment, Lost In Transit, Delays Television Cable Service In Santa Anna

Electronic signals travel with the speed of light, which is 187, 250 miles per second, but because freight transportation is considerably slower, Santa Annans who are anxious to try the electronic signals on new community cable facilities are facing a short delay.

According to Max Eubank, the Santa Anna Cable Television Company is marking time until two antennae, shipped May 27 from New York, arrive in Santa Anna. Apparently, the antennae have gone astray somewhere, and until they are located and arrive at their intended destination, progress on the system is at a standstill.

The antenna tower, 115 feet tall, when extended to full height has been constructed on the west half of Santa Anna Mountain, the trunk lines, carrying the signal from the antenna to the user, have been installed, and everything is awaiting installation of the two antennae to get underway. Eubank said that the needed parts are expected to arrive any day.

Installation of the system proceeds in four segments. First part of the system to be completed was the tower, atop the Mountain north of Santa Anna Hospital. Then the trunk lines, the cables carrying the signal from the antenna into the city, were installed. These coaxial lines were strung on unused REA poles when possible, and the cable firm has an agreement with both the Coleman County Telephone Cooperative and West Texas Utilities Company to use their poles when necessary. Third step in the process will be installing the antennae themselves on the tower when they arrive. Then the final step will include installation of amplifiers at various locations on the cables throughout the city, and the connection of the individual subscribers to the system. Eubank estimated that within two weeks of the arrival of the straying antennae the system will be in operation.

According to the best information available to The News, Santa Anna will be the only city of its size to have its own independent television cable system. Connection fee for the local system will be $15.00, but new subscribers can trade in their old antenna in place of this fee, for a limited time. Monthly service charge to subscribers will be $6.00.

The signal obtained through the system will provide clear, interference-free television reception on three channels, including channel 8 (San Angelo), channel 9 (Abilene), and channel 12 (Sweetwater). The signal is suitable for both black and white and color reception.

Eubank said that anyone interested in subscribing to the new cable service, or wishing to obtain more information about it, may place their name and address on a Post Card and mail it to Post Office Box 162, Santa Anna, or call him at FT8-3413.

Labor Survey Results Announced

The Economic Base Report prepared for Coleman County by the Small Communities Team of the Texas Employment Commission will be presented at a luncheon, Monday, June 14, to be held at the auditorium of the livestock show grounds. The luncheon is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

James E. Ferguson, speaking for the Chamber of Commerce, has announced that the presentation will be made by John Bruce, TEC district director for the Waco District, of which Coleman County is a part.

The 116 page report is a comprehensive study of the labor supply and economic resources of Coleman County, which may be utilized in planning for future industrial development here.

A similar report, prepared in 1962 for McCulloch County, resulted in considerable improvement of the community and industrial facilities of Brady, and the reversal of a population and business loss trend which had been going on since the early 1950's.

Bruce will explain briefly the various sections of the study prepared by TEC labor market research analysts, which highlight some of the resources of Coleman County, and also point out some of the problems which might be standing in the way of an improved community environment.

The regular Second Sunday Singing will be held at the Assembly of God Church, in Santa Anna, from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., Sunday, June 13. A spokesman says that everyone is invited to attend this meeting.

Three Teachers Resign From Santa Anna High School Faculty This Week

Santa Anna High School will need three new teachers for the 1965-1966 school year, due to resignations which were presented to the Board of Trustees of the Santa Anna Independent School District, Thursday.

Santa Anna Needs Blood; Donors Asked For Here

Mrs. Bill Hunter of Santa Anna is in the John Sealy Hospital, in Galveston, undergoing an operation. Mrs. Hunter is very much in the need of twelve pints of blood. Anyone who would donate blood for Mrs. Hunter is asked, to please call FT8-3720, and speak to Mrs. Ray Lightfoot; or a person can donate at the Blood Bank in Abilene by going there and stating that they are giving for Mrs. Bill Hunter. All donations will be gratefully appreciated by this family.

A. D. (Cotton) Bowen, social studies teacher, head basketball coach, and assistant football coach, has resigned to accept a position in the Lubbock school system. Bowen will also begin work this summer on his masters degree at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Wanna Lou Lloyd, teacher of English and speech, has resigned to accept a position in the San Angelo School System, where Lloyd will attend Angelo State College.

Miss Virginia Sikes, commercial teacher and assistant in English, has resigned to accept other employment.

The Board of Trustees accepted these resignations with regret and instructed that plans go forward to obtain the best qualified teachers available for the Santa Anna schools. Plans are to require that one of the applicants have some preparation in library science. Application forms are available from the Superintendent of Schools.

Election Contest Decision Appeal Action This Week

Attorneys for the plaintiffs in the recent bond election contest, decided two weeks ago in favor of the city of Santa Anna, have requested statements of determination of fact and conclusions from 35th District Judge Joe Dibrell late last week, indicating that an appeal may be under consideration.

Appeal from the decision of Judge Dibrell would be made to the 11th Court of Civil Appeals, in Eastland. If such an appeal is made, the information sent from 35th District Court, indicating a transcript of the court record, along with statements of the facts determined by Judge Dibrell and the conclusions arrived at from those facts, will be studied by one of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals justices, who may also hold a hearing for the purpose of receiving oral arguments from the opposing attorneys, and who will then decide on the validity of the appeal. He may uphold the decision; he may reverse and remand, which means he would send the case back to the 35th District Court for retrial; or he may reverse and render, which means he would find in favor of the appellants without retrying the case.

According to Coleman County Courthouse officials, the plaintiffs have a period of 20 days from the filing of the official judgement in the case, in which to file their appeal. The judgement in this case is dated May 24, which would allow until June 14 for such an appeal to be filed (the 20 day period would actually end on June 13, but since that is Sunday, the deadline would be extended one day).

At presstime, no appeal had been filed, according to the clerk of 11th Court of Civil Appeals.

The beaver uses its tail as a rudder when towing branches or logs, and also to strike the water to warn of danger.

Premier Station Changes Hands Here

M. R. (Bud) Simmons, who has been operating the new Premier Service Station at the corner of Wallis Avenue and Fourth Street, sold the station last week to Richard Horner, Santa Anna farmer and rancher, who was formerly owner of the Humble Service Station just across the street from the Premier station. Robert Smith now owns and operates the Humble station.

Simmons, former Coleman County deputy sheriff and Santa Anna constable, accepted a position with the Coleman Police Department. He expects to move his family to Coleman shortly.

New Adventist Minister Here Now

Elder H. B. Petry, a native of Hockley, Texas, has accepted the Seventh Day Adventist Church call to serve the Santa Anna as pastor, and has just moved here from Wichita Falls.

Elder Petry, after graduating from Waller High School, attended Southwestern Junior College at Keene, Texas, for two years. While there he met Miss Helen Wright of Portales, New Mexico. They were married in 1950, and went on to the Union College in Lincoln, Nebraska, where he received his BA degree in theology.

After graduation, he accepted a call to serve as associate pastor of the Abilene Church. From here he went to the mountains in New Mexico and taught school for two years, and then moved to the Ozarks in northern Missouri, where he served as teacher and later as pastor. After seven years in Missouri, he was called to pastor a church in Lake Charles, Louisiana. About two years ago the Petrys came back to Texas and have been serving in the Wichita Falls area.

He has now moved to Santa Anna and will serve as pastor of the Santa Anna Church and chaplain of Santa Anna Hospital. The Petrys have two daughters, Virginia, age 11, and JoAnn, age 9.

According to the rules planned for the competition, fishermen must purchase a ticket to the contest, available from any member of the Santa Anna Jaycee organization, and at the offices of The Santa Anna News, which will cost one dollar for the first person to enter from each family and 50 cents for each additional family entry. Any fish caught thereafter will be eligible for the competition.

The fish must be caught in fresh water anywhere in Texas, and must be brought to the offices of The News for official weighing. Photos of the current leaders, with the weights of their fish, will be published in the newspaper.

The fee for this one week course will be $18.50 for advanced students, and $9.50 for beginners.

Actual swimming will begin at 10:00 a.m. each day, with the children being back in Santa Anna by 11:30 a.m. Classes will be held each day, Monday through Friday, during the three week period.

On the first day of swimming classes, each participant will be given a paper for parents to sign, authorizing the child to take part in the program. This paper must be returned for the child to be eligible to continue in the swimming program.

Election Contest Decision Appeal Action This Week

Attorneys for the plaintiffs in the recent bond election contest, decided two weeks ago in favor of the city of Santa Anna, have requested statements of determination of fact and conclusions from 35th District Judge Joe Dibrell late last week, indicating that an appeal may be under consideration.

Appeal from the decision of Judge Dibrell would be made to the 11th Court of Civil Appeals, in Eastland. If such an appeal is made, the information sent from 35th District Court, indicating a transcript of the court record, along with statements of the facts determined by Judge Dibrell and the conclusions arrived at from those facts, will be studied by one of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals justices, who may also hold a hearing for the purpose of receiving oral arguments from the opposing attorneys, and who will then decide on the validity of the appeal. He may uphold the decision; he may reverse and remand, which means he would send the case back to the 35th District Court for retrial; or he may reverse and render, which means he would find in favor of the appellants without retrying the case.

According to Coleman County Courthouse officials, the plaintiffs have a period of 20 days from the filing of the official judgment in the case, in which to file their appeal. The judgment in this case is dated May 24, which would allow until June 14 for such an appeal to be filed (the 20 day period would actually end on June 13, but since that is Sunday, the deadline would be extended one day).

At presstime, no appeal had been filed, according to the clerk of 11th Court of Civil Appeals.

The Santa Anna Junior Chamber of Commerce is planning to sponsor a yearlong fishing contest, to begin July 1 and last until December 31, 1965.

Chairman of the Jaycee fishing tournament will be Rufus Cobern.

According to the rules planned for the competition, fishermen must purchase a ticket to the contest, available from any member of the Santa Anna Jaycee organization, and at the offices of The Santa Anna News, which will cost one dollar for the first person to enter from each family and 50 cents for each additional family entry. Any fish caught thereafter will be eligible for the competition.

The fish must be caught in fresh water anywhere in Texas, and must be brought to the offices of The News for official weighing. Photos of the current leaders, with the weights of their fish, will be published in the

Twirling School To Be Held Here

Shirley Hagan of Austin, will be at the Santa Anna Band Hall, starting Monday June 14, at 8:45 a.m., to begin twirling classes. The classes will last one week, and all persons that are interested are asked to meet at that time. A contest will be held at the end of the week, in which medals will be presented to the winners. The fee for this one week course will be $18.50 for advanced students, and $9.50 for beginners.

Coaches from the Coleman school system will serve as instructors for the three week program. There will be four classes, each taught by a different instructor, ranging from beginner through advanced.

To be eligible for the program, children must have had at least one year of school, minimum age of 6 years. Students through high school age are eligible to participate in the program, according to Mrs. Day.

Actual swimming will begin at 10:00 a.m. each day, with the children being back in Santa Anna by 11:30 a.m. Classes will be held each day, Monday through Friday, during the three week period.

On the first day of swimming classes, each participant will be given a paper for parents to sign, authorizing the child to take part in the program. This paper must be returned for the child to be eligible to continue in the swimming program.

Cost of the swimming classes will be 15 cents per child per day.

Also planned this summer will be the use of the wading pool in Santa Anna, on Street near United Presbyterian Church. The wading pool is now undergoing repairs, and is expected to be in operation in two or three weeks, according to Mrs. Day.

Mrs. Vernon Herring has been chosen to direct the wading pool program. Volunteers to help with this portion of the summer program are needed, and may contact Mrs. Herring at FT8-3461. A new rule adopted this year states that "each parent will be responsible for their children while at the wading pool."

Anyone wishing more information concerning the summer program may contact Mrs. Cammack, Mrs. Day, or Mrs. Herring.

A number of persons from out of town were guests during the weekend in the George England home, in Santa Anna, including Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Warren, of Abilene; G. T. England, Louise Newman, and Orales, of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. James England and family, of Kerrville; and Mrs. Hale, of Fort Worth.

Punch was served from a crystal service and coffee from a silver service, from a table laid with white cloth centered with an arrangement of gold and white mums held by two gold cherubs flanked by tapers in golden holders. The anniversary cake, a six tiered colonade, was topped with a gold "50", and sugar leaves and flowers, surrounded by a decorated circle.

Other decorations consisted of gold gladiola chains, bows, and bells. An easel displayed family photographs taken over the 50 year period.

Postmaster John Gregg Invites Local Folks Going To World's Fair To PO Show

Postmaster John C. Gregg today suggested residents of Santa Anna visit the special Post Office and exhibit if they attend the New York World's Fair.

Highlight of the display is the nation's most famous postal error, the 1918 24 cent airmail stamp with the upside down mail plane, the Postmaster said.

In addition to original die proofs of the "mistake" and other philatelic rarities, connected with the airmail invert, the post office features an exhibit on the development of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Stamp, and a special branch of the Post Office Department's Philatelic Sales Agency, offering a complete stock of all commemorative issues now available.

Visitors to the modern postal installation will receive a free commemorative cachet envelope picturing the post office.

The most up-to-date equipment in use, and several experimental models, are installed in the World's Fair Post Office. One mechanism mechanically places letters on their long end, spots the stamp and, if necessary, flips the envelopes so that they every area of the world line the entrance walk.

National Guard Goes To Fort Hood For Annual Summer Training This Week

North Fort Hood, June —Convoys from throughout the state carrying 6,500 members of the World War II-famed 36th Infantry Division of the Texas National Guard merged on North Fort Hood Sunday as the 18th annual summer encampment of the T-Patch division officially opened.

Pausing only overnight after the road marches to this Central Texas Army post, units of the division started moving into field bivouacs early Monday for the start of annual field training. Among the first major units to move into the field were Division Artillery and battalions of the 2nd Brigade.

Major General Selden Simpson, Amarillo attorney who commands the Texas division, set the theme for this year's training as he told commanders Monday that the primary mission is to complete the Army Training Tests for platoons and batteries. He noted that attendance is excellent and commented on the high morale of officers and enlisted men and the success of the movement to camp.

For the third consecutive year, all personnel of the division were moved to North Fort Hood via military vehicles. The movement, in itself, is an important phase of military training, the commanding general noted.

The division's two assistant commanders, Brigadier General Max H. Specht of New Braunfels and Brigadier General Ralph M.

Krieger of Abilene, will be much in evidence to division units throughout the 15-day training period. General Specht will work closely with artillery units and the support elements of the 36th while General Krieger will spend a majority of his days with the maneuver elements—Infantry, Armor and Cavalry.

T-Patchers have a reputation for being "field soldiers" during the annual summer encampment and indications are they'll live up to that reputation again at all times and the units will all spend well over a week on the ranges or in outlying training areas over this vast post.

Living firing exercises will be conducted during the training tests of divisional units and realism is being stressed throughout the training program. General Simpson has stressed the need for realism in training to the fullest extent possible consistent with necessary safety precautions.

"We have arrived in good condition and I am quite pleased with our movement to camp," the general told his commanders and staff at his initial commander's conference. "The military courtesy is very good and I am confident it will be even better during the remainder of our training period." He also noted that individual members of the division looked military in appearance.

Intensive training on the ranges and over the test courses will keep the division busy through Friday of this week. Units will then return to the cantonment area to prepare for Saturday's annual Governor's Parade and Review. Governor John Connally has been invited to review the all-Texas division.

'When Do I Get My Tax Refund?'

"When will I get my refund?" is the big question at Internal Revenue nowadays. They generally tell you to be patient and don't write unless you don't get your check before July 1. Of course, if you have moved it pays to send along your new address. If internal Revenue selects your return for a preresult audit you won't get your refund until the audit is finished. They will advise you if this takes place. You can be sure that the good tax folks are working hard on getting your refund to you, but since there are quite a few thousand refunds to get out, it takes a little while. Your best bet is to be patient.

Summer And Safety

Summertime is upon us, the kids are out of school, looking for things to do—and things to avoid doing—and the many activities that this time of year brings are getting underway.

So it is not untimely to sound a word of caution. The many opportunities that summer brings also brings dangers. Summertime is the time for water sports—swimming, boating, fishing, water skiing, skindiving. And water always presents a protect themselves against water dangers, or that an adult who hazard. Let's be sure that the kids either are competent to is a good swimmer is along and watching.

A special word should be said about skindiving. This is a fine activity, but children—and that includes anyone of school age—should never be allowed to skindive without preliminary, step by step instruction from someone experienced in the sport. A very small factor, such as holding the breath while the diver is coming up, can result in death (in this case, the lessening of pressure as the diver rises causes air in the lungs to expand, damaging the lungs, usually to a fatal extent). No skindiver should ever dive alone, and this should be impressed on the kids.

Another summertime hazard is the snakebite danger. In our part of the state, we have only one of the four lethal snakes found in the US, in any great number, this being the rattlesnake. Snakebite should not be fatal, if proper care is taken. The fatality rate for the bite of the four US poisonous snakes is about one percent, about one person of one hundred bitten would die if all received adequate care. With medical care close by, and automobiles available, the best step in case of snakebite is to rush the patient to the hospital, keeping him calm and inactive on the way. It behooves all parents to learn just what to do in the case of snakebite, however.

Heat exhaustion and sunstroke are other summer hazards. Parents and those responsible for smaller children should limit physical activity in the sun and during the hottest parts of the day. These maladies can result in conditions ranging in seriousness from mild nausea to brain damage and death.

And fourth hazard of summertime is the automobile. Children are out of school, they are involved in their playtime activities, and they are in a situation wherein they are exposed to the dangers of the street more often than during the school months. Parents should teach small children the basic rules of safety in regards to playing in the street, and all motorists, remembering that the children are out of school, should drive with additional caution.

Let's all use a little extra care to see to it that summertime is not marred by tragedy.

STRONG MAGNET

"PATENT PENDING"

Vaudeville comedians used to have a lot of fun with "that famous old Irishman, Pat Pending." And even today, of course, it is a name that we all encounter often.

What does it mean?

Far less, legally, than you might suppose. It does mean that a patent on the marked product has been applied for. But it does not mean that the patent will necessarily be granted (only about one half of all applications are successful). Nor does it mean that the product cannot be copied freely in the meantime.

Nevertheless, as a practical matter, such a notice may have considerable "scare" effect. It warns the would be copier that the inventor might get a patent at any moment. And if that happens, the copier may be left high and dry—with his dies cast, his advertising printed, and his merchandise ready to go.

Once a valid patent is issued, the inventor may stop anyone else from making, using, or selling the invention. Unless his patent is upset in court, he retains that exclusive power for 17 years (less for design patents).

So exclusive is this power that, generally speaking, no one can make the product even for private, personal use. Not until 17 years have passed does the invention become free for all, part of the public domain.

Needless to say, such a monopoly is unusual in an economy of free private enterprise. But it is granted in the belief that to encourage invention is to benefit society.

It was this belief that led the Constitutional Convention—by unanimous vote—to write a patent provision into the Constitution itself. Since that time, patents have been granted on more than 3,000,000 inventions. For, in the words of Abraham Lincoln:

"The Patent System added the fuel of interest to the fire of genius."

You Can Help Save Starving Peoples Around The World Through Your Church's Program

A series of startling photographs arrived here recently from Peru. Those who viewed the pictures say it will be a long time before they will be forgotten. The photos were of two Peruvian infants, taken by a medical team doing nutrition research in that part of the world. There are two photos of each child, sort of a "before and after" bit. The two photos taken simultaneously about two months ago, show a pair of chubby, happy tots positively glowing with health. The other set was taken ten months before, and shows two hardly breathing skeletons at the point of death.

When one views both the "before" and "after" shots of each tot, one is prompted to say there is fakery here, these cannot be the same infants. But there is no fakery. They are the same. The medical researchers selected the two children from among thousands of starving children in the southern hemisphere. There is no fakery, as we have said, but there is sort of magic involved. And what it that magic? The simple daily use of a half-ounce of protein in the diet of these starving children wrought the magic and transformed them from dying things of skin and bone, to buoyant, happy and healthy little tots.

More than half of the world's population lacks protein in its diet. Our three great religions, the Catholics, Protestants and Jews are moving steadily to bring this precious protein to the starved areas of the world. Each year they conduct the Spring Religious Overseas Aid Program. With the Protestants, it's One Great Hour of Sharing; The Catholics call it the Bishops Relief Fund. For the Jews, it's the United Jewish Appeal. You can support them through your faith and your place of worship.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:
 The Texas Forest Service operates nine pine seed orchards. These orchards are made up of trees selected genetically for outstanding characteristics. Superior seed produced by the trees will be sold to forest landowners for direct seeding and used in the state forest tree nursery to produce quality seedlings for sale to landowners.

State Capitol NEWS

With the close of another session of the Legislature, Permanent state capitol inhabitants turned happily to one of their favorite indoor pastimes—speculating on the next elections.

Attorney General Waggoner Carr so far leads most lists of likely Democratic candidates to oppose present United States Senator John Tower next year, although Congressman Jim Wright, of Fort Worth, would like to be his party's choice for the race.

Carr, in the past, has denied any real interest in going to the Senate. He has concentrated his plans on a race for governor after John Connally vacates the office. However, he declines to close the door on a Washington career at this stage.

He cannot afford to, with odds favoring Connally's remaining in office for another term and another term could be four more years, if the state constitutional amendment passes to double the elective span of statewide officials.

If Carr runs for the Senate, apparently there will be a big field battling to succeed him in the attorney general's office. At least half a dozen state senators reportedly have their eyes on the job. Of the lot, Senator Franklin Spears, of San Antonio, has been busiest so far.

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith, who makes no secret of the fact that he wants to run for governor, most likely will run for reelection in 1966.

Congressional races are shaping up on the assumption that the new reappointment bill will stand up. If it does, State Senator Martin Dies, Jr., of Lufkin, or State Representative Charles Wilson, of Trinity, likely will take on Congressman John Dowdy, of Athens, in District 2.

New Congressional District 23, in South Texas (from southern Bexar County to the Mexican border), has drawn interest from State Senator Abraham Kazen, of Laredo, State Senator Walter Richte, of Gonzales; State Representative Glen Kothmann, of San Antonio; and State Representative Wayne Connally, of Floresville, brother of the Governor.

High sources regard Merrill Connally, Floresville rancher and campaign manager for his brother John, as another "distinct possibility" in the District 23 field of candidates. But there is no chance of Connally brothers opposing each other.

CONSTITUTION CHANGES?

Twenty five proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution were recommended by the 59th Legislature. Amendments will be voted on in three different elections during 1965 and 1966.

First election is September 7 on the proposal to increase the size of the state senate from 31 members to 39 members.

Ten amendments will be voted on November 2. They would:

- ★ Extend to four years the terms of the governor and other statewide elected officials now limited to two year terms.
- ★ Increase State Representatives' terms from two to four years.
- ★ Authorize the Legislature to set salaries of the lieutenant governor and the speaker.
- ★ Set up an $85,000,000 student loan fund.
- ★ Authorize $200,000,000 more in veteran land bonds.
- ★ Require district and appellate court judges to retire at 75, and set up a system for removal for misconduct.
- ★ Expand the investment authority of the public school retirement system.
- ★ Increase the state property tax from 42 to 47 cents, and allocate the extra five cents to college buildings.
- ★ Exempt from local property taxes those hospitals which spend as much as $1,500,000 a year on care of indigents.
- ★ Fourteen amendments on the 1966 general election ballot would:
 - ★ Add $200,000,000 more to the water development fund, and permit its use for conveyance and associated facilities, such as canals or pipelines.
 - ★ Expand the Court of Criminal Appeals from three to five members.
 - ★ Repeal the poll tax.
 - ★ Allow the state to hold private funds until receipt of Federal matching grants for private groups to use in rehabilitation services.
 - ★ Relax residence requirements for voting for President and Vice President.
 - ★ Authorize regional airport authorities.
 - ★ Abolish residence requirements for servicemen to vote.
 - ★ Set swearing in day for State Representatives on first day of a legislative session.
 - ★ Provide state aid to survivors of firemen and law enforcement officers killed on duty.

★ Set up a retirement system for state employees and officials.

★ Remove Arlington State College from the permanent university building fund.

★ Permit farm land to be assessed only at its agricultural value (despite proximity to big city real estate developments).

★ Extend terms of conservation and reclamation district directors from two to six years.

★ Provide that school district boundaries can be changed without invalidating tax bond issues.

LEGISLATIVE REFORMS URGED

House Speaker Ben Barnes believes power of legislative conference committees (which wrote at least two dozen of the bills passed in the last week of the Legislature's session) should be reduced. Rank and file lawmakers also should have more to say about how state money is spent, Barnes says.

"There were riders in the last appropriations bill I didn't know were there myself," Barnes admitted. "If you take the rider provision away from conference committees, that would accomplish a lot. The public suffers more from riders than from dollars and cents changes in conference committee."

Barnes made the comments while refuting the criticisms by U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough and John Tower of the Legislature's efforts at congressional reapportionment.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Connally named Joe F. Ramsey Jr. of Houston and Charles C. Ford of Longview to Texas Veterans Affairs Commission for terms to June 1971.

Land Commissioner Sadler says $17,600,000 from the second oil and gas lease sale of 1965 will increase permanent free public school fund to over $636,135,704.

Governor has approved 116 applications for grants from Office of Economic Opportunity to establish summer programs for underprivileged Texas preschool children, which calls for $344,301 to be raised locally and $2,059,500 in federal grants.

Dr. Jenny Lind Porter of Seguin will continue as Texas poet laureate for another year, Legislature decided, with Mrs. Bessie Maas Rowe of Port Arthur to succeed her and Miss Grace Marie Scott of Abilene as alternate.

Application for new First State Bank in Keller-Tarrant County, has been filed.

 from
The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
 THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read John 20: 19-29

Christ breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost. John 20: 22

Thomas was not with the other ten disciples when Jesus appeared among them the first night following His resurrection. Therefore, when the disciples later told Thomas that Jesus was alive, he did not have the faith to believe without first seeing and touching the risen Lord.

The next Sunday, the disciples were again gathered together, and this time Thomas was with them. Jesus appeared as before, and confronted Thomas. Upon seeing the living Lord, Thomas cried out, "My Lord and my God."

This disciple has often been referred to as "doubting Thomas." However, he displayed no less faith than any person who falls to submit his life to the ruling presence of the Holy Spirit. This divine power which God sends to aid His children enables us to dispel fear and unbelief. When we are acquainted with the immeasurable grace and mercy of Christ, we humbly cry, "My Lord and my God, how great is thy love!"

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy loving and tender care and provision for our lives. We thank thee for the Holy Spirit sent to guide and direct us. Bless us in all that we do. May we do it for Thy glory and for the Master's sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The counsel of the Holy Spirit is the beacon light for our lives.

It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches:

Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you? TIME and GOD.

Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind...

But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His limitless Love. And, never deigning to leave us behind, God beckons us on — even beyond the circle of time.

A parable then: the clock in the steeple!

Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time. Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

Another Santa Anna Men's Baseball Team Organized; Several Player Spots

Due to the organization of another semipro baseball team in Santa Anna, giving the city two ball teams for men, several vacancies for baseball players are open on each.

Any ballplayer, aged 16 or over, who would like to play with the team being sponsored by The Santa Anna News, are invited to contact Bob Parker, at the offices of The News, or call him at FI8-3545. Parker said that a couple of spots are still open on the News team.

Parker said that games have been scheduled with Brady and Brownwood within the next week, the Brownwood game being a rematch. The News baseballers topped the Brownwood squad by a 15-17 score last week.

The local team will be a member of a semipro league now being formed, Parker said. Prospective entries in the league include Brownwood, Comanche, Brady, Baird, and Winters, in addition to Santa Anna.

Governor Connally Lauds Legislature

In an unusual closing address to the 59th Legislature, Governor Connally lauded it as "the most productive of any in this century."

The Governor specifically cited work in the areas of education, public health, finance, water development, and Congressional and legislative redistricting. He recalled that last January, the 59th was faced with "a greater and more varied assortment of problems than any Legislature in modern times" and educated predictions were that Lawmakers could not solve all of them without one or more special sessions.

Connally disagreed with critics who insist the redistricting bills will be knocked out by Federal courts. He thinks the bills will meet the courts' test.

The session closed out calmly, in contrast to most of those of the past. After congressional redistricting was disposed of two days before the quitting deadline, there wasn't much left to wrangle about.

In an effort to make motoring safer, Texas Highway Department is installing on some highways signs that crack in the middle and arc harmlessly away when struck.
