

Point Rows

Latest LBJ stories to come drifting in the window include the following:

Seems Lyndon and Lady Bird were paddling around in a rowboat on the Johnson private moat near the LBJ Ranch, otherwise known as the Pedernales River. Lyndon rowed over behind some tall bullrushes, looked around stealthily, and asked: "Reckon anyone can see us here, Lady Bird?"

"No, Lyndon, I don't think so," was the reply.

"Look around good," says Lyndon, "Be sure no one can see us."

"No one can see us, I'm sure," answers Mrs. Johnson, "Why in the world do you want to know?"

"Well," says Lyndon, putting his leg over the side of the boat, "I'm going to try walking on water just one more time!"

Later, after drying off, Lyndon is racing along a Texas highway in his chauffeur-driven limousine, doing about 90 miles per, when the car is stopped by a highway patrolman.

"I'm going to have to give you a ticket for speeding," announces the cop.

Lyndon leans forward and says: "Young man, do you know who I am?"

"No," replies the officer. "I'm Lyndon Johnson."

"My God!" exclaims the startled patrolman.

Replies Lyndon: "You're getting the idea, son, you're getting the idea!"

First LBJ took over Texas. Then he took over the whole country. Now one of his daughters has become a member of the Catholic Church. We don't know what Lyndon has in mind, but if we were the Pope, we would begin worrying.

A couple of local girls might be able to make a good deal. There are two young men hereabouts who are desperate to get married (and that is getting pretty desperate). Seems this is the only thing that can save them from the draft, and the induction notice is getting closer and closer.

Any interested applicants can contact this office and we will put you in touch with the would-be bridegrooms.

We wonder if these almost-soldiers aren't trying to jump out of the frying pan into matrimonial fire. Granted that a wife might (notice we said "might") not be as bad as a tough drill sergeant, still the army duty is for only two years, while the marriage bit is forever. At least, our friends who are married tell us it means like forever.

These young men have to make a choice between a future that is marital or one that is marital.

At least in the Army they will get hazardous duty while they are fighting. Never heard of anyone getting more money for fighting with their wife. In fact, this usually ends up costing the husband more.

From a frontpage story in last week's issue of the excellent newspaper from up north, the Cross Plains Review, telling of plans to locate a new manufacturing plant in Cross Plains: "Walker explained that he chose Cross Plains for site of the business because of his preference for a well-located small town, and because of the enthusiastic cooperation given him by local businessmen."

Santa Anna is a "well-located small town." Maybe if we had more "enthusiastic cooperation by local businessmen" we could get new industries too, improving the standard of living for all citizens, and helping keep our young people at home.

Red Barrington says that the grasshoppers out at his place have eaten everything else, and now they're starting on the steel fenceposts.

A gentleman stopped by the office Monday (to protect him from reprisals we won't mention his name), to tell us that he enjoyed our editorials, adding that he only had one suggestion: "That we make them stronger!"

Well, we're sorry, but we can't do that; the company with which we have our life insurance told us that they will cancel the policy if we make our editorials any stronger.

And there is nothing that a weekly newspaper editor needs more than good life insurance.

NUMBER 28

Grass Fires Pose Serious Hazard Now, Warn Volunteer Firemen

The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department spent about two hours Friday afternoon, July 9, bringing a grass fire along the Santa Fe Railroad right of way under control.

A spokesman for the local fire-fighters said that this points up the hazard from grass fires now present. Hot, dry weather following rainier weather produces large amounts of dry grass which burns rapidly and catches easily. Summertime winds can catch a small grass blaze and turn it into major proportions very quickly, he noted.

Local residents are urged to take great care in burning trash. All grass should be cleared away from around trash barrels in which burning is to be done, and trash burning should only be done in barrels or other receptacles that will prevent the blowing of burning paper. There should be an adequate amount of water on hand before the trash is set afire to put out any small blazes that may result in nearby grass.

The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department emphasizes that if a small grass blaze seems that it might be difficult to control, do not hesitate to call the Fire Department. They would rather help control a small blaze than have to battle a large one, a fire that could mean considerable damage to the property owner. Since grass fires do burn so rapidly this time of year, the firemen need all the warning they can get if one seems to be getting out of hand.

"We don't mind at all making a run to put out a small grass fire," the Fire Department spokesman said, "And we sure hope anyone who has a small grass fire will call us before it becomes a large one."

County Men In Bank Charter Try

Application for a charter for a new bank in Brownwood, to be known as the Southwest State Bank, has been filed with the State Banking Department.

Among those listed as filing the application are Hal Woodward and J. T. Saunders, both of Coleman. Woodward is an attorney and Saunders was formerly employed with Coleman County State Bank.

Proposed capital of the new bank will be $200,000, with $200,000 surplus and $100,000 reserves. Saunders would serve as president of the proposed bank, with Charles Trigg, of Brownwood, as chairman of the board. Directors listed in the application, in addition to Woodward, are Silas R. Byrd, Stuart Coleman, Henry Colyer, and Charles Stewart, all of Brownwood.

John Hensley Takes Lead With First Catfish Entry In Jaycee Fishing Rodeo

First entry in the 1965 Santa Anna Junior Chamber of Commerce Fishing Rodeo has gone on the scales. An eight pound yellow cat snagged by John Hensley has moved into first place in the yearlong competition, mainly because it is the only entry to date.

Hensley, with the help of Raymond Cupps, caught the fine catfish in the Colorado River, on a trotline, using crawfish for bait.

The Jaycee Fishing Rodeo will continue through the end of this year, with divisions for bass and for catfish. Entry tickets are available at $1.00 each from any member of the Santa Anna Jaycees and at the offices of The Santa Anna News and several other businesses.

As many entries as desired may be made on one entry ticket, in both the bass and catfish divisions. For instance, if Hensley catches a 10 pound catfish, he can enter it too without buying another ticket. He might even win two of the three prizes offered in each division if he did so. First prize in each classification is a fine spinning reel. Second place fish in both categories receive a new rod, with a tackle box going to the two fishermen who wind up with the third largest bass and catfish.

Entry tickets must be purchased before the fish to be entered is caught.

All entries must be officially weighed at The Santa Anna News office. If a fish needs to be weighed at times other than during normal office hours, the fisherman can contact Bob Parker, at FT 8-3545, or Kenneth Minyard, at FT 8-3453, who will be happy to come down and weigh the fish. Date, variety of fish, weight, and the initials of the weigher will be listed on the back of the entry ticket, giving the fisherman a permanent record of his entry.

Get out those fishing poles, dig some worms or catch some grasshoppers (plenty of them around), and get in the contest, but don't forget to buy your entry ticket first.

NEW SCHOOL TAX VALUATIONS ANNOUNCED HERE THIS WEEK

The Board of Equalization that is resetting real property values for the Santa Anna Independent School District has completed its work, and notices of changes in tax valuations for property owners in the District are being sent out this week.

In the past, the school taxes have assessed on the same valuations as those used by the County, but rising school costs have required the local District to set up its own valuation system. Property values in the District have not been updated since early in the 1930's.

Explaining the need for the reevaluation program, Superintendent of Schools Cullen Perry pointed out that while the old evaluations are still adequate to provide revenue for County operations make the updating of property valuations a necessity to provide adequate funds to allow a fullscale program for the local schools.

Even with the increase in valuations, local school taxes will be considerably less than those charged in either the Coleman or Brownwood districts.

A letter is being sent to all property owners whose tax valuations are being increased. Text of this letter follows: "Due to the continued decline of oil and related values and increased cost of operating the schools, it has become impossible to maintain our present school standards by basing school taxes on state and county assessed valuations.

"Due to the school finance problems being caused by modern educational demands and the changing basis of the local school tax structure we were asked by the Board of Trustees to act as a Board of Equalization to determine fair and equitable taxable values of each and every parcel of real property within this school district. We have diligently and thoroughly screened this property, and we have placed a value on your property which we are sure can be compared equitably to adjoining property and other property of like market value.

"Generally values have been established on land ranging from a minimum of $7.50 acre to $12.50 maximum per acre. City property has been valued based on approximately 25 percent of estimated real value.

"The Board of Equalization will be in session at Santa Anna High School, rooms 101 and 102, from 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. on July 29 and July 30; you are invited to appear at this time to present evidence you may have regarding the reasonable taxable value of your property, otherwise we shall proceed to place a final value which we feel is fair and equitable.

"This value will affect your SCHOOL TAX ONLY, and it will not in any way affect your county and state taxes or values. This notice is sent only to taxpayers whose assessed values have been changed from those established under county assessments.

"This tax will be collected by the County Tax Collector as in the past beginning October 1, 1965.

"(signed) Board of Equalization, Santa Anna Independent School District; A. L. King, chairman; J. L. Boggus, secretary; Edgar Shelton; W. L. Vaughan; R. W. Cupps; J. W. McClellan."

Each letter will contain information concerning the new valuations on the individual owner's property. A few valuations have been lowered, Perry reported, and some were found to be equitable with the present valuations and have not been changed. Those property owners whose property values have not been changed will receive no notification.

The new taxes will be effective for the 1965 tax year, the current year, and will be payable after October 1, 1965.

Santa Anna Bank Deposits Increase

Both deposits and total assets in Santa Anna National Bank rose during the three months since the last bank call, according to figures released this week.

Total deposits in the local bank rose from $1,767,589.67 as of April 26 of this year, to $1,866,041.62 as of June 30. Deposits of individuals, partnerships and corporations rose from $1,696,268.22 three months ago, to $1,794,799.36. Other deposits making up the total deposits include those of the United States government, and those of the state and political subdivisions within the state.

Total assets of Santa Anna National Bank moved up from a figure of $2,041,033.98 three months ago, to $2,148,343.43 on June 30.

Although deposits are up over the figures of three months ago, they reflect a downward trend from the same figures one year ago. At that time, total deposits were $2,005,138.38, and assets were $2,277,193.79.

Countywide, deposits in Coleman County banks totaled $15,924,526.03 at the time of the present bank call, compared with $15,458,434.76 as of the April 26 call, and $15,622,708.00 one year ago.

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith Visits Office Of THE NEWS Friday

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith stopped by The News office last Thursday, July 8, on his way to Brownwood to fill a speaking engagement. He was coming from a meeting in Coleman.

The state's number two man covered a number of topics in a short interview with a reporter for The News. Among his observations:

The Proposed 39 Member State Senate: The Lieutenant Governor made the point that when the amendment to the state constitution concerning the increase of the membership in the state senate from the present 31 to the proposed 39, if voters in the less populated portions of the state fail to vote in favor of the change it will only be because they fail to understand it. Smith said that the increase in state senators was planned to offset the changes required under the "one man, one vote" ruling by the Supreme Court, allowing the less populated areas of the state, and the smaller communities to retain representation in the state government.

Opponent For Senator John Tower: Smith named Jim Wright, US Representative from Fort Worth; Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr; and former US Representative Joe Kilgore as top prospects to carry the Democratic nomination against Republican US Senator John Tower next year. Newsweek Magazine stated some weeks ago that Kilgore had already been chosen by state Democratic bigwigs to run against Senator Tower, but Smith declined any knowledge that such a decision had been made.

Political Plans Of Preston Smith: Frank in stating his interest in the governor's office, Smith says that if for some reason Governor John Connally

THE WORLD

Strange sight? Not really! We're getting used to seeing pictures of our own earth. We're getting used to the concept of a universe instead of a world. We can believe that the moon's soon to become a landing place.

Does this familiarity with space — does our thrust into the physical unknown — make the basic facts of life and death any simpler to us? Certainly not! Man is in a peculiar position, today. The more he explores, the more vast he finds what lies ahead of him. The more he learns, the more he discovers how infinitely much there is to know.

More than ever before, man realizes how great the hand of God has been in fashioning this world, this universe, we live in. That's why people everywhere — including scientists, astronauts, space pioneers — are men of religious conviction. Go to church this Sunday, and see for yourself.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Coleman County Residents Named To New Miss Wool Contest Committee

A new Miss Wool of Texas Committee has been formed to give better planning to the Miss Wool program in the Lone Star State. Gaylord Hankins, of Rocksprings, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, announced appointment of three men: Howard Derrick, of Eldorado, chairman; Joe York, Jr., of Brackettville; and Hershel Wilson, of Coleman. Mrs. Ralph Jones, of Ozona; Mrs. Mark Griffin, of Coleman; and Mrs. Sayers Farmer, of Junction, representing the Woman's Auxiliary of the TS&GRA, were named to the Committee by Mrs. Joe Dobson, president.

The Committee will act as liaison between Association officers and Womack-Snelson Advertising, Inc., the agency with direct responsibility for the state's Miss Wool program.

"We feel that when a young woman is named Miss Wool of Texas she is receiving one of the top honors of the nation," said Hankins. "She is a contestant for Miss Wool of America, royal ambassador for the wool industry. Her program deserves the best in planning. This will add dignity and fashion to our program."

The new Miss Wool of Texas, Janice Archer, of Austin, made her first official appearance at the Attorneys General National Conference, in San Antonio, late in June. During the coming year she will appear in all the state's major fashion marketing areas, Hankins said.

Jessie Fay Nixon To Host Israeli Girl For Coleman Rodeo, Parade This Week

Jessie Fay Nixon, of Santa Anna, will have as her guest for the Coleman Rodeo this week, Miss Nabiba Khoury, from Israel. Miss Khoury, who graduated this spring from Howard Payne College, in Brownwood, with a bachelor of science degree cum laude, plans to study medicine. While waiting for acceptance in medical school, she is working as an aide in a Brownwood hospital.

Miss Khoury made three attempts before she was successful in coming to this country to prepare for a medical career. A native of Acre, in Israel, she completed her high school education in Nazareth.

Miss Nixon noted that Miss Khoury is anxious to view the real Texas rodeo, and is particularly interested in the parades. "She has no idea what a parade float is," Miss Nixon said.

Miss Khoury will arrive in Santa Anna on Thursday, and stay through the weekend with her hostess here, getting to see lots of Texas rodeo action ("They do not have anything at all like rodeos in Israel," she says), and finding out just what a float in a parade is.

Second Wing Of Ranger Park Inn Open Next Week

Ranger Park Inn, Santa Anna's nursing home in Ranger Park, will complete the second wing during the next week, adding 40 more beds to the total available. Plans are for residents in the new wing to begin moving in the next week during the middle of next week, according to Mrs. Charles Henner.

The new wing, a duplicate in many respects of the first unit, has reservations for all vacancies with the exception of one bed for a male guest, and one private room.

The new wing brings the total capacity of Ranger Park Inn to 78, making it one of the largest such nursing homes in a city the size of Santa Anna anywhere in the state of Texas.

An open house is being planned, and date and time will be announced in next week's issue of the newspaper, Mrs. Henner said.

It is planned to increase the staff of Ranger Park Inn to meet the additional number of guests moving in with opening of the new wing. The nursing home is first unit in the proposed Santa Anna Medical Center, to be located in Ranger Park, that will make Santa Anna a medical center for the state, provide jobs for many more people in Santa Anna, and bring in large amounts of increased business to local firms.

Rural Communities In State Contest

The rural communities of Texas are working to make the 1965-1966 year the best in history of the Texas Community Improvement Program, said Reagan Brown, Extension sociologist, Texas A&M University.

"It definitely looks as if we are going to surpass the 254 entries that participated last year," he added.

Brown cited the success of the program, sponsored by electric utility companies operating in Texas, by pointing out the amount of national and statewide publicity that followed announcement of 1964-1965 winners.

A congratulatory telegram from Lady Bird Johnson to residents of the Woodlawn community was used as an example. Woodlawn was winner of the 1964-1965 state first prize award for community improvement.

"Any unincorporated community or incorporated community with less than 500 population that desires to compete for one of the 86 cash prizes has until January 31, 1966, to make their entry," Brown explained.

The program, which directs its emphasis toward rural areas, is divided into four divisions: Increasing and managing family income; improving health conditions and services; improving the home and farm; and encouraging social participation.

Entries are coming in from all sections of the state, and recordbooks are being sent to the entrants immediately after receipt of the enrollment cards, Brown concluded.

Put Your Money On A Winner!

This is good advice, whether you are interested in horseracing, or in reaching the greatest number of readers with your advertising message in the most effective way at the lowest cost.

By advertising in an award winning publication, you know that your sales message is being carried in a newspaper that has been recognized for outstanding quality, a newspaper that is read every week—and read thoroughly—which means that your advertising message gets the widest possible exposure.

Subscribers are proud when their local newspaper wins statewide recognition, and the feeling of quality they have about the newspaper carries over to the advertisements it contains.

The Santa Anna News was one of only five weekly newspapers of its size in Texas to receive Texas Press Association awards for outstanding journalistic accomplishment recently, and in addition it tied for the statewide General Excellence award. People like winners, so you can get the greatest possible benefit for the smallest possible cost by advertising in The News—read and enjoyed by more than 4,000 persons in this area each week (which means that it costs less than .015 of one cent per column inch per reader to advertise in the only Texas Press Association award winning newspaper in Coleman County—The Santa Anna News).

Of Time And Taxes

A frontpage story in this issue of The Santa Anna News tells of the work of the Board of Equalization set up by the Santa Anna Independent School District to bring property evaluations within the District up to an equitable level.

It would be nice if we could get something for nothing. It would be nice if we could even get something in 1965 for what we paid for it in 1935. The facts of economic life are such that neither is possible, however, and just as we pay more for an automobile today, so we must be ready to pay more for an adequate educational system.

The 1965 model automobile is a much more complex machine than the 1935 model, with many additional improvements and refinements. Few of us would be satisfied with a 1935 car today. Likewise, educational requirements today are much more complex than they were 30 years ago, and they therefore cost more, due both to the increase in overall costs and to the increase in complexity in the school system. It is unreasonable to expect our schools to provide a 1965 education while being operated on a 1935 budget, and few of us would be satisfied with the educational opportunities such a system would offer.

Yet this is what the Santa Anna Independent School District has been trying to do, since it has been operating on evaluations originally made in the 1930's.

In 1935, a high school education was more than ample to provide good employment opportunities for young people. Today, a high school education is barely adequate, and in fact a national magazine recently reported that a bachelors degree is not adequate to insure good employment potentials in many fields today.

So our schools must do a much more complete job in 1965 than they did only one generation ago. They must prepare those graduates who do not plan to go on for more education to be able to function in a much more competitive and complex society, particularly in regard to job opportunities, than the seniors of 1935 faced; and they must also prepare the high school graduates who plan to obtain higher education so that they can gain the fullest benefits from this additional training. One of the most common causes of failure among college freshmen is lack of proper academic preparation in high school.

If our young people are to embark on life, which is a rather hazardous undertaking at best, with the best possible opportunity for success and happiness, then they must be able to expect at least adequate preparation in our school system. And in education, as in most things, you get what you pay for and no more. If we are willing to doom our young people to a 1935 education, we can go on supporting our school system on a 1935 budget. If we expect to give them an educational opportunity that will prepare them for a 1965 world, we are going to have to pay 1965 prices.

"An informed populace is the cornerstone of democracy." This proposition is no less true today than it was when Thomas Jefferson advanced it almost two centuries ago. In fact, it is even more true today, with all the threats, from within and without, that are facing our nation and our way of life. Our best insurance for the future is to adequately educate our young people today.

Most of us will have to pay a few dollars more in school taxes now. But we will still be paying a lot less than folks in Coleman or Brownwood or other area communities. The people who operate the Santa Anna Independent School District have done an excellent job of getting the most for the least money. They will continue to do so. It is up to us to provide them with the funds to do an adequate job.

It is one of the best investments any of us will ever make.

Agriculture Is Still Big Business

The often sleepy atmosphere of the Texas countryside is an economic paradox. Behind this traditional rural facade is one of the state's largest industries, one which reaches from the remotest cotton patch to the city's fine cafes and fashion centers.

They call it agribusiness, and each year it pumps about $6.3 billion worth of prosperity into the economy. What's more, that figure is on the increase.

Agribusiness is defined as the sum total of farming and ranching, manufacture and distribution of farm goods to farmers and ranchers, and the processing and distribution of agricultural commodities to consumers.

The business of raising raw products from farming and ranching amounts to about $2.4 billion per year and is the state's second largest industry. Only one product—oil at $3 billion a year—tops agriculture.

The picture is even more imposing on a national scale. Although the United States is becoming less and less a farming society, agribusiness is still the number one industry by a considerable margin.

R. B. Tootell, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, says the steadily declining number of farm workers has not hindered agricultural growth. Agribusiness still employs more people than, for example, the steel, automobile, transportation, and public utilities industries combined.

Back in Texas, statistics are proportionally similar to those of the entire nation. John G. McHaney, Extension Service economist at Texas A&M University, says about 40 percent of the state citizenry is engaged in some phase of agribusiness. A mere eight percent is in actual farming and ranching, but the commodities are being produced in larger quantities and of better quality than ever before.

He said that eight percent represents approximately 800,000 persons, compared to a farm and ranch population of 2.4 million in 1934.

"This migration from rural to urban areas in Texas has been made possible because of increased efficiency in farm and ranch production," McHaney emphasized. "For example, in 1930 one farm worker produced enough agricultural products for 10 people. Today, one farm worker produces enough of higher quality products for 31 people."

A result of this trend, he says, is that more labor has been released from farms and ranches to help provide the many other items of everyday living which help Texans enjoy one of the highest living levels in the world.

He added that although farmers and ranchmen have decreased in number, they buy and use larger amounts of equipment and services from the businessman on main street.

"These people are big spenders," McHaney said. "They annually release about $1.8 billion for goods used in raising agricultural products. This doesn't include money spent for consumer goods in family living."

The economist also explained that the annual value of total agricultural production in the state exceeds either the total manufacturing payroll, the total construction awards, or the total retail trade payroll.

"Any way you look at it, this is big business and means much to the economy of Texas. The agribusiness segment will continue to make vast contributions to economic growth in the state," McHaney said.

State Capital NEWS

Texas Research League warns that another fiscal "crisis" looms for state government in 1967, when new taxes of $40,000,000 a year may be necessary.

Simple arithmetic points to a "sizeable" money problem, says the League. It notes that while Texas' new fiscal period will begin September 2 with a general revenue surplus of some $97,800,000, it will end August 31, 1967, with little more than $1,000,000 in the fund. Governor John Connally's budget staff has estimated a balance of about $4,200,000.

Comparing the shrinking surplus with some nonrecurring revenue measures agreed on by the 59th Legislature, TRL researchers conclude lawmakers in 1967 may have to pass a $107,200,000 new tax bill.

League admits the figure may be higher or lower. Its staff acknowledges that sales tax revenues are running well ahead of official estimates this year and if it keeps up, the new tax requirement may be reduced to $80,000,000.

Actually, general sales tax collections this year are "much higher" than in 1964, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reports. Collections since the current fiscal year began last September 1 total $164,200,000, compared with $150,900,000 for the corresponding period a year ago.

TRL observes: "An $80 million tax bill is no small matter, but neither is it a really serious crisis for a state with the untapped tax resources and growth potential of Texas. This is, of course, an optimistic—as well as an unofficial—estimate and the tax required might well be higher if revenues do not come up to these expectations, or if expenditures substantially exceed them."

League suggests that the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy "look at many available revenue raising possibilities in the course of its studies."

SPECIAL SESSION REJECTED
Governor Connally has rejected requests for a special legislative session to deal with rising car insurance rates in Texas.

State Representatives Carl A. Parker and J. D. Weldon, both of Port Arthur, requested such a session to investigate the rate increases averaging 13.4 percent which were authorized by the State Board of Insurance to take effect August 1.

Connally said he doubts any practical benefits would be gained from a special session at this time, although he shares concern over the increases. The Governor made three principal points:

Texas' liability rates after August increases will still be lower than those of 34 states and the District of Columbia.

Two recent legislative inquiries already have been conducted on ratemaking methods and have determined no fault with the Insurance Board's formulae which are available for public scrutiny.

The Legislature is willing to give "little support" to stronger laws to curb rising auto accidents which bear directly on insurance rates.

TEXAS ECONOMY PROBED

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research turns up these interesting facts and figures in a new study of the Texas economy over the past decade:

Personal income, per capita, rose from $1,585 to $2,175; real purchasing power increased some 18.8 percent compared with 24.7 percent for the nation; Texas per capita income dropped from just under 90 percent of the national figure in 1954 to just over 85 percent of 1964.

More than 65 percent of all Texas personal income remains in the form of wages and salaries. Manufacturing supplies 13.18 percent of personal income; petroleum and natural gas producers pay 3.20 percent; wholesale and retail trade provide 13.01 percent; and government wage and salary payments, 14.05 percent.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

David L. Greenberg was named by Governor Connally as judge of the new County Court No. 1 of Galveston county. He is a law partner of Galveston state Senator A. R. Schwartz.

Connally appointed Senator Walter Richter, of Gonzales, to the board of control of the Southern Regional Education Board; and Representative Don Cavness, of Austin, to SREB's Legislative Advisory Council.

Truett Latimer, former member of the state Legislature from Abilene, is new executive director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. He succeeds George Hill, of Austin.

COURT SPEAKS

State Supreme Court agreed to review the case involving the state's right to tax coin operated vending machines on military reservations. Third Court of Civil Appeals, overturning Austin District Court, earlier held that the state had the power to collect the tax on Fort Hood machines.

High court backed Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals in ruling that Moore County District Court must hear the suit challenging boundaries of county commissioner's precincts.

DESEGREGATION PLANS APPROVED

US Department of Health, Education and Welfare reports that 625 of Texas' 1,370 school districts have submitted statements of compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act which received Federal approval.

Another 87 Texas districts have submitted acceptable voluntary desegregation plans and 13 more have court-ordered plans.

Deadline for integration of schools receiving Federal aid is September 1, 1967.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room - THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Galatians 6:1-10.

But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. (II Corinthians 9: 6.)

Reaping in ratio to that which is sown, as well as reaping in kind according to what is sown, is one of the certain laws of God for His world. Another way of expressing this is that we get out of anything what we put into it.

The above is true of business, pleasure, the church and of any other activity in which we may engage.

No doubt the reason that so many of us get so little strength and help from the church is that we put so little into it. Our time, our money and our enthusiasm in too limited amounts.

How can full and satisfying stewardship come to the Christian? It will come to him only when wholehearted, joyous and abundant sowing of all that he is and has is "plowed back" into the vineyard of God and thoroughly cultivated.

PRAYER

Our father, grant that we may out of grateful hearts joyously, generously, and unreservedly put our lives and resources to work for good in Thy kingdom. We pray in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

We reap the abundant life by sowing what we are and have for God's glory and man's helpfulness.

City Council Asks Cooperation On Parking Problem

The Santa Anna City Council has issued a plea for drivers in Santa Anna to observe the city parking ordinances, particularly in front of the Post Office during rush hours.

Many motorists doublepark in front of the Post Office while picking up their mail or mailing letters, and others fail to parallel park correctly, angling their cars into the curb rather than parking even with it. Due to the fact that Wallis Avenue is a heavily travelled US highway, with many drivers passing through who are not aware of local parking customs, a serious accident is going to result sooner or later from these illegal parking habits, the Council said.

In addition, present parking practices in front of the Post Office create a bottleneck for traffic. If such a situation continues, or becomes worse, the state highway authorities may decide to bypass Santa Anna with the highway, as has been done with many towns of this size in Texas, a move which would be a deathblow to the city, the Council observed.

The Council said that it does not want to enforce present parking regulations by having officers issue traffic tickets to offenders, and instead are asking local drivers to cooperate by voluntarily observing these laws. If such voluntary observance is not possible, it will be necessary to begin issuing tickets to offenders.

The Council pointed out that both Third Street and Second Street on either side of Wallis Avenue offer plenty of angled parking spaces only one half block from the Post Office, and requests that motorists use these locations if spaces in front of the Post Office are full, or if they are unable to parallel park properly.
