SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, AUGUST 12, 1965

NUMBER 32

We seem to be one of those people, who no matter how simple a thing they set out to do, it always ends up as a major production.

For instance, we were planning to burn some trash Sunday. We also planned to burn off some dry weeds on the back of our lot, weeds that we felt were a fire hazard.

So we waited until the wind died down. As you remember, we had a thunderstorm front move through Sunday afternoon, and the wind was a little too gusty to burn the weeds safely. About dusk, the wind settled, so we moved out to the backlot with our waterhose and gasoline can. We soaked the ground with water all around the area we were planning to burn off, doused the trashpile with gasoline, stepped back to a safe distance, and tossed a match on the heap.

With a satisfying whoosh! the gasoline ignited, starting the trash and weeds. We watched until the dried weeds had burned out to the wetted-down circle and died out. The trashpile was burning nicely, minding its own business.

We turned to walk back to the house when we were suddenly surrounded by the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department which came roaring up, ready to battle the blaze, which was rather disconcerting, since we had gone to so much trouble to start it.

Seems some eager beaver had seen the flames and called in a report that the National Guard Armory, across the street from our house, was on fire. (If I were the architect who designed that armory, I would be upset to know that people couldn't tell the difference between it and a pile of trash.)

So here we set out to take care of a minor chore, burning some trash and weeds, and we end up with a four alarm call-out of the Fire Department.

Next time we plan to burn trash, we will lay in a supply of weiners and marshmallows. Then when the Volunteer Fire Department turns out, we can have a weiner roast. Makes you feel guilty to have them come out for nothing. They didn't even get to unwind their hoses.

Seriously, it is good to know that we have a Volunteer Fire Department in Santa Anna that can mobilize so quickly. Had this been a real fire, our firemen would have been in action quickly enough to have a good chance toward putting it out. Anyone who knows a little about fire-fighting can tell you that the key to controlling a fire with a minimum of damage is to get to it as quickly as possible, before it has a chance to get out of hand.

Our local firemen certainly showed lots of speed Sunday. Within five minutes after we had tossed the match on the trash, there were seven firemen, one deputy sheriff, one firetruck, three cars, two pickups, a dozen or so little kids, five dogs, three cats, and a couple of horned toads, in the street by our house. We don't think the horned toads were members of the Fire Department however.

We also learned something we didn't know in this regard (you might not know it either), and that is the fact that there is an ordinance against burning trash at night in Santa Anna. Although we know that "ignorance of the law is no excuse," we will have to plead ignorance.

Still on the fire subject, we are planning to publish an article, or maybe a series of articles, by Wib Gilbreath, who is Fire Marshall of the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department, and Jerry Clark, who is a member of that group, on some of the steps we all can take to prevent fires. The two firemen recently returned from the special school for rural firemen at Texas A&M University, and brought quite a few good ideas back with them.

Fire Marshall Gilbreath says that an instructor at the school said that three things cause fires, and asked if anyone in the class could name them. Class members were listing things like cigarette butts and faulty wiring and so on, when the instructor gave his answer: "Three causes of fire—men, women, and children."

Kind of hard to argue with that.

By the way, in case you haven't been by the office recently, we have a new bunch of giveaway photos in the window, including some of those taken at Operation Headstart recently. Stop by and see if there are any you would like, then come in and get 'em.

Ranger Park Inn Holds Open House

Approximately 200 persons attended the open house in the second wing on Ranger Park Inn, Santa Anna's modern nursing home.

Touring the 40 bed wing, visitors saw several innovations, including a large nurse's station, a washing room, featuring an automatic washing machine, dryer, and ironing board, a four bed wardtype room, and other features.

The new wing more than doubles the capacity of Ranger Park Inn, from 38 to 78 residents. Guests began moving into the new facilities on Monday, August 8, the day following the open house.

The new wing is the second stage of the proposed Santa Anna Medical Center, which when completed will contain a modern 30 bed hospital, a clinic with room for four medical doctors and a dentist, a convalescent hospital, and nursing training facilities. The Medical Center will more than double the present $100,000 payroll paid annually by Santa Anna Hospital and Clinic, providing jobs for a large number of local workers, and will bring a large amount of out of town money into the Santa Anna economy, a spokesman said.

Appellant Lawyers Ask More Time On Election Appeal

Attorneys for the appellants in the contest suit filed against the City of Santa Anna by five dissident citizens following the approval by the voters of a $264,000 bond issue to provide needed sewer and water facility improvements, have filed a request with the 11th court of Civil Appeals, in Eastland, for more time in which to prepare a statement of fact. The request was granted, according to the office of the clerk of the court, and the appellants were given until September 20 to make this filing. Attorneys for the City of Santa Anna then have 25 days in which to file an answering brief. A time will then be set for oral arguments, after which the court will make its decision.

The appeal grows out of a suit seeking to block the results of an election in which the voters of Santa Anna approved issuance of the bonds to provide modern sewer treatment facilities, as required by the state, and to extend sewer service to all residents not now on sewer lines but who wish to receive this service. Also included in the bond issue will be funds to build another water filtration unit to give the city protection against water shortage or rationing in case of an extended dry spell, and to guarantee adequate water for future growth.

The upcoming school year will consist of 176 class days, according to the projected schedule, with four holiday periods planned.

Program for the local schools gets underway on Wednesday, August 26, with teacher meetings and a workshop for the teachers. Classes start on Monday, August 30.

The students will get a quick break from classwork, with the Labor Day weekend providing the excuse for a holiday on Monday, September 6. Then it will be back to the books.

The first six week period will end on Friday, October 8, and the second six weeks on Friday, November 19.

Thanksgiving holidays are set for November 25 and 26, making a long, four day weekend.

Christmas holidays are next on the agenda, beginning on Tuesday, December 21, and continuing until Monday, January 3. Ten class days later, on Friday, January 14, the third six week period comes to an end.

Friday, February 25, marks the end of the fourth six weeks.

On Friday, March 11, the District XI, Texas State Teachers Association will be held in San Angelo.

Friday, April 8 marks both the end of the fifth six weeks and the Easter holiday. Monday, April 11 will be a holiday if no makeup days are needed to compensate for days lost due to bad weather during the winter.

Local Jaycees To Handle Season Ticket Sales Here

The Santa Anna Junior Chamber of Commerce will handle football season ticket sales for Santa Anna High School, it was announced this week by Cullen Perry, Superintendent, and Max Eubank, president of the local Jaycees.

The Santa Anna High School athletic fund is in the red, and an effort will be made to sell all or most of the season tickets to help ease this situation. The Jaycees voted to take on the project in their meeting Thursday, August 5.

HOLDERS of season tickets last year can reserve the same tickets this year by contacting the high school office or by leaving their reservation in the office of The Santa Anna News, Perry said. These tickets may be reserved through Monday, August 16, at which time all unsold tickets will be placed on open sale by the Jaycees.

Eubank urged all local residents to purchase season tickets to help support the school athletic program. He said that any Jaycee can take reservation for these tickets.

Ever thought about that word — its deep, stirring meaning? We start out as part of a family. And even though we know we are "little" it doesn't matter. We are part of the family—that's important. And what we will become—the family is looking out for that!

Then one day we are grownups. And again we are part of a family. But now we are "big." Oh so big! For what the rest of the family will become—that depends on us!

How important a part did the Church play in your transition from being little to being big? Well, in this free land, the chances are good that you grew up spiritually as well as physically.

But, even if you didn't—it's not too late! Not only can you see your children off to a free and fine education, but you can come with them to church . . . where the "little" and the "big" learn of GOD . . . where the truth of Christ's teaching guides the destiny of THE FAMILY.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

This Amendment shall be self-enacting. It shall become operative or effective upon its adoption so as to supersede and repeal the former provisions of this Section; provided further, that nothing herein shall be construed as impairing the obligation incurred by any outstanding notes or bonds heretofore issued by any state institution of higher learning under this Section prior to the adoption of this Amendment but such notes or bonds shall be paid, both as to principal and interest, from the fund as allocated to any such institution.

"AGAINST the Amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Section 17 thereof, providing a method of payment for the acquiring, constructing and equipping of buildings and other permanent improvements at certain state institutions of higher learning."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Howard Payne To Hold Teacher Tests

Howard Payne College has been designated as a test center for administering the National Teacher Examinations on October 2, 1965.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the National Teachers Examinations along with other credentials are eligible to take the tests. The examinations are prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey.

The designation of HPC as a test center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with candidates throughout the country who take the tests.

At the one day test session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Education and General Education, and one of the thirteen Teaching Area Examinations which are designed to evaluate his understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

Bulletins of information describing registration procedures and containing registration forms may be obtained from Mrs. Grace M. Elsey, Associate Dean of Students, Howard Payne College, Box 523, Brownwood; or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, New Jersey. Prospective teachers planning to take the tests should obtain their bulletins of information promptly, Mrs. Elsey advised.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 2, 1965. HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 11 proposing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas authorizing loans to students at institutions of higher education; creating the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund and making provisions relating thereto.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS, Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding a new Section to read as follows:

"Section 50b. STUDENT LOANS. (a) The Legislature may provide that the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, or its successor or successors, shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed Eighty-five Million Dollars ($85,000,000). The bonds authorized herein shall be called 'Texas College Student Loan Bonds,' shall be executed in such form, denominations and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall not bear more than four per cent (4%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as the Board finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purposes of this Section.

"(b) All moneys received from the sale of such bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created in the State Treasury to be known as the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund to be administered by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, or its successor or successors to make loans to students who have been admitted to attend any institution of higher education within the State of Texas, public or private, including Junior Colleges, which are recognized or accredited under terms and conditions prescribed by the Legislature, and to pay interest and principal on such bonds and provide a sinking fund therefor under such conditions as the Legislature may prescribe.

"(c) While any of the bonds, or interest on said bonds authorized by this Section is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

"(d) The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund, and the interest and sinking funds established for the payment of bonds issued by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, or its successor or successors. Income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature.

"(e) All bonds issued hereunder shall, after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under this Constitution.

"(f) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such acts shall not be void because of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1965, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for loans to students at institutions of higher education to be known as the Texas Opportunity Plan."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for loans to students at institutions of higher education to be known as the Texas Opportunity Plan."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Your feet must last a lifetime, and if you've been sightseeing, hiking or just walking a lot lately, you're probably quite conscious of this fact.

Just because your feet are the lowest extremity of your body, doesn't mean that they deserve to be mistreated. Far from it. If your feet are to last a lifetime and serve you well, they require good care.

If you can heed the findings and suggestions by researchers any physicians before you have difficulty with your feet, you'll be way ahead.

According to a recent study, three times as many boys as girls have mild to severe skin problems with their feet. The researchers related that fact to the girl's students' tendency to take off their shoes or slip their heels out of their shoes when sitting in classes or elsewhere. The girls also wore lighter and lower shoes than the boys. Both of these habits tend to minimize excessive perspiration of the feet.

Perspiring feet are moist feet, and moist feet provide an excellent environment for the growth and multiplication of the organisms which contribute to diseases of the feet.

Although the locker room has long been considered the culprit of foot infections, research shows that fungous disease of the feet is probably not spread by such exposure.

Instead, there are several points you can note and include in your foot care program.

Keep your feet clean by washing them frequently, always drying them thoroughly. If needed, use an antiseptic foot powder after drying.

As for footwear, use lightweight, light colored socks to minimize excessive perspiration. And change socks whenever they become damp.

The shoes, researchers found, normally contributing the most to good foot hygiene are those that cause the least perspiration. And as for youngsters, the researchers found that oxfords are preferable to boots, sneakers or tennis shoes for allday wear.

Remember, your feet must last a lifetime, so give them the best of care.

Although these formulas do try to be fair, all they can do as a practical matter is to follow the lines of kinship. What may have mattered most to the deceased—the ties of friendship, a sense of gratitude, the promptings of charity—cannot be weighed by a court after he is gone.

An added mockery is that the more remote the kinship, the more costly it may be to track down the heir and settle his rights.

Some states have tried to foff the laughing heir by cutting off all claims beyond a certain degree of kinship. That may help in a particular case, but then again it may not. For even a relative who is close in terms of kinship may be undeserving in every other way.

The real answer is for the individual to express his wishes and his wisdom before he dies. If you don't like chuckling over your demise, you can prevent it simply by exercising your will power—your power to make a will.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"LAUGHING HEIRS"

The letter bore grim tidings: Old Uncle Harvey had passed away. But as George read it, not a flicker of sorrow crossed his countenance. On the contrary, his only reaction was a whoop of delight at the news that he was the sole heir to $20,000.

George was not heartless. But the fact of the matter was that he and Uncle Harvey—actually, just a distant relative—had always disliked each other intensely. They had not even been on speaking terms for years.

The only reason the $20,000 was coming to George was that he was, technically, the next of kin. Since Uncle Harvey had never bothered to make a will, the law automatically gave his money to the next of kin.

Are such ironies common? So common, alas, that lawyers have a special phrase to describe people like George: "laughing heirs."

Each year, property worth billions of dollars must necessarily change hands because of death. When there is no will, this wealth is transferred according to the rigid formulas of inheritance.

EDITORIAL

They Think You Are Dumb

Wednesday of last week, the US Senate defeated the proposed "Dirksen" amendment to the Constitution. The proposition actually received a majority of the votes cast, 57 to 39, but law requires that an amendment proposal must pass the Senate by a two thirds majority to become effective. It is then sent to the states, and if three fourths of the states ratify it, the measure then becomes effective and is added to the Constitution.

The proposal, by Senate minority leader Everett Dirksen, would have allowed the citizens of each state to decide how they want their state legislatures organized.

This might seem like an elementary question, and in fact, it would seem that on the face of it no Constitutional guarantee of such a right would be needed. But such is not the case. The US Supreme Court, in its "one man one vote" ruling held last year that the voters of the states do not have this right. The Court further decided that the system laid down in the Constitution—one house of the legislative branch made up of members elected on the basis of population, and the other made up of representatives elected on geographical basis—is unconstitutional, and that the states must apportion all of their representatives on a population basis.

This means that persons in large geographical divisions, such as West Texas, and from areas that add a much larger amount to the state revenues that more populous areas, such as East Texas, will no longer have equitable representation. It means that although the farmer and rancher add tremendously to the economic total of the state, they will no longer have an effective voice in how the state revenues will be spent.

The Dirksen amendment would have allowed each state to have one house of its legislature apportioned on a population basis, with the other to be apportioned on geographical or political (such as county) basis, if the people of the state approved this arrangement in a referendum vote.

By failing to pass this proposed amendment, those Senators who voted against it said, in effect, that the people of each state do not have the right to decide what type of state government they want.

This is about as blatant an insult to the intelligence of the individual voter as our elected representatives in Congress have come up with in quite some time.

The people of Texas are perfectly capable of deciding what form of government they want in Austin, and they resent the efforts of a small group of men in Washington to tell them that their government, patterned after the US Constitution, is unconstitutional, and that they, the voters, do not have the right or the intelligence to determine their own form of state government.

This is a strange form of democracy, and it is to be hoped that the US Senator from Texas who carries the party designation of "Democrat" will reverse himself and support future efforts to give Texas, and the other states, true democracy in determining their own form of local government.

EDITOR'S NOTE: There is quite a bit of controversy about the proposed cotton legislation now before Congress. To allow the cotton raiser to form his own opinion, The News publishing arguments on both sides of the question. Last week, the argument against the proposed program was published, and this week the points in favor of the proposed legislation are outlined.

The following letter has been sent out by local Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service Offices.

Dear Cotton Producer:
This letter is to furnish you information on the new farm bill.

The major provisions of the Farm Bill, HR 9811, as approved by the House Agriculture Committee are:

The cotton law would continue the one price approach that has increased the use of cotton in the United States this year and give cotton farmers greater freedom of choice.

The Feed Grain Program which has added $3 billion to farm income the past four years would be extended, and improved.

An improved wheat program would boost wheat farmers' incomes by $150 million a year while reducing government costs and providing more freedom in the marketing system.

A new cropland adjustment program would help farmers shift a part of their allotted acreage out of crops into conservation and recreation uses—if they wanted to—and be paid for it.

In addition, the Wool Program would be continued.

The proposed cotton legislation, if passed by the Congress, would not only extend the one-price idea that is in effect this year, it would help the Government to bring under control the high costs which otherwise could wreck the entire program. We have too much cotton for our markets—our 16 million acre allotment will produce from 3 to 4 million more bales than it produced when first established by law in 1959. Growers would have maximum freedom of choice in making use of the new program:

Farmers could plant within the farm domestic acreage allotment 65 percent of the regular allotment and receive a higher per pound income from cotton than they are getting this year. In 1966, this return would be made up of a 21 cent price support loan and payments to bring the total price to 35.65 (higher if market price above loan).

Other farmers might choose to plant in excess of their farm domestic allotments—either 75 percent or 85 percent of regular allotment—and be eligible for loans and smaller payments which would average 32.30 or 29.73 respectively for cotton produced (again, higher if market above loan). These rates are all in excess of the 1965 guarantees.

Or, if a farmer chose, he could plant all the cotton he wanted without having to pay penalties. He would simply do without price support loans and payments and would depend on a market price of 21 to 22 cents a pound.

If a farmer with an allotment wants to plant no cotton, he can receive a payment of approximately $15 to $20 per acre in Coleman County for 15 percent of his allotment. He could then release the remaining 85 percent or transfer it to another farmer by lease or sale.

The Release and Reapportionment Program would be continued. Farmers who have been relying on release and reapportionment would not be deprived of this allotted acreage. In fact, they could acquire additional acreage permanently by purchase or on a long-term lease. If the farm bill fails to pass, we would go back to the 1958 law on cotton, with price support at 65 to 90 percent of parity and continued overproduction. There would be no effective feed grains, wheat or wool programs. A continued rise in stocks of cotton would threaten the whole program, while the unfairness of the two price system would drive American textile mills into still greater use of manmade fibers. (The use of synthetic fibers on a cotton equivalent basis already exceeds the use of cotton.) The two price system could eventually eliminate a substantial portion of our domestic market.

Farmers have more at stake in this proposed program than does anyone else. The problem facing cotton farmers is more critical than it has been at any other time since programs started in 1933.

Remember this information is contained in the bill that passed the House Agriculture Committee. We can expect that numerous changes will occur before this bill becomes a law.

Yours very truly,

State Capitol NEWS

State offices are playing a game of musical chairs.

Better make note of these departmental moves that have just taken place, are now being mad or will be completed this month:

Teacher Retirement System of Texas has moved from the fourth floor of the Sam Houston State Office Building, formerly State Office Building number one, to the third floor of the Lowich Building.

Texas' new Coordinating Board of Higher Education soon will occupy the entire sixth floor of the Sam Houston State Office Building.

Parks Division of the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department moves out of the Sam Houston Building—into the newly acquired American Legion Building—to make room for the Board of Higher Education.

State Building Commission will move from the Reagan State Office Building (State Office Building number two) into the west wing of the Sam Houston Building.

Texas Tourist Development Agency, now in the Sam Houston Building, will move into offices in the Reagan Building vacated by the Building Commission.

State Water Commission will move from the American Legion Building into the East wing of the Sam Houston Building.

ANTI-POVERTY PROJECTS OKAYED

Three more Community Action programs and four additional Neighborhood Youth Corps applications have been approved by Governor Connally.

Community Action projects in Houston, San Antonio and Mercedes carry Federal grants totaling more than $2,000,000.

NYC grants of $155,040 will permit employment of 393 students in Luling, Anderson County, San Jacinto County and Trinity County.

CHEMICAL PLANT AT DIBOLL

Borden Chemical Company has purchased a 100 acre site at Diboll on which to construct a synthetic resins plant, Governor Connally announces.

An initial $1,000,000 expenditure is contemplated. Company reportedly will market resins in East Texas for such applications as plywood and particle board adhesives and foundry core binders.

Selection of Diboll for the new plant site attests to the growth of and prospects for the southern pine plywood industry in Texas, said Connally.

TRAIN LAKES

Changing times were reflected in three recent actions of the Texas Water Commission.

Actions amend West Texas Water permits at the request of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company.

Company built three lakes years ago—in Nolan, Lampasas, and Mills Counties—so that their steam engines would have water supplies.

Permission to use the lakes for recreational purposes now has been granted, since today nearly all engines are diesel and don't need water.

Nolan County's lake also will provide irrigation water for the Sweetwater Country Club.

AG OPINIONS

Attorney General Waggoner Carr reached these conclusions in official rulings:

City employees installing rest room facilities in municipal parks must be paid the prevailing plumbing wage rate.

Board of Pardons and Paroles has no authority to recommend, and the governor no power to grant, a posthumous full pardon to a deceased convicted felon on application of a relative or other interested party.

An act authorizing Grayson County Commissioners Court to appoint a juvenile officer and assistant is unconstitutional as a "local and special" law.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Railroad Commission has ordered its staff to devise tests for oil fields over the state similar to those used in East Texas.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will send hunting and fishing licenses to 2,500 dealers earlier this year to avoid the usual last minute scramble.

Detailed hunting and fishing regulations for key areas now are available from the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Texas Railroad Commission is hearing opponents of an application to approve lower interstate rates on mixed shipments of interstate and intrastate products. Truck lines oppose the practice long followed by railroads.

Cigarette tax receipts increased $280,118 in July over the same month in 1964, but liquor stamp sales dropped off $108,182 and wine stamp receipts declined $53,458, according to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Charles H. Huff, of Austin, is the new executive secretary of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

State Auditor reports that as of August 31 last year the University of Texas system held investments worth nearly $463,000,000.

Fourteen Texas cities have filed applications to participate in the Texas Aid Airport Program, which will have $200,000 to spend during the coming fiscal year. They include Brownwood, Caldwell, Clarksville, Comanche, El Campo, Floydada, Gatesville, Hallettsville, Hearne, Jacksboro, Lampasas, Paducah, Pinedale, and Post.

Attorney General Waggoner Carr says his office will sponsor a series of 14 regional seminars over the state to acquaint law officers with the new Texas Code of Criminal Procedure and recent US Supreme Court decisions pertaining to criminal laws.

Governor Connally tentatively is planning to go to Japan on October 20 with a group of Governors participating in an exchange program sponsored by the Japanese government and the US State Department. A Viet Nam side trip still is uncertain.

Texas League of Women Voters has issued the first of two guides that will be published relative to this year's Constitutional Amendments.

Indications are that more than the initially predicted 1,600 youths will participate in the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime to be held in Austin on August 19-22.

Texas draft boards will be inducting a "considerable number" of 19 year olds by fall, if draft calls remain high, according to Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director. Amended September quota for Texas is 1,459 men; estimated October call, 1,780. This compares with recent monthly quotas of 700 to 900. Schwartz said that mostly 21 year olds will be called in August.

Business outlook is bright for the last half of 1965, according to UT's Bureau of Business Research. On the basis of reports from 20 cities, the Bureau found business activity 13 percent better for the first six months this year than January-June, 1964, and saw "nothing to dim prospects of continued prosperity" for the rest of 1965.

Read Philippians 4:4-9

Whatever things are true . . . honest . . . just . . . pure . . . lovely . . . ; if there be any virtue . . . think on these things. (Philippians 4:8)

A young lieutenant, ready to go to the battlefield, was told by his officer: "You will be in situations which now I cannot warn you of, nor can I tell you how you should act under these circumstances. At the critical moment you will probably be able to act more wisely than now we could possibly foresee."

God's battles against sin and ignorance depend on the creative acts of those who love Him. He has promised us that the Holy Spirit will be our guide. When we ask Him, He guides us in what is best for us.

Today, the spreading of the gospel will be slow and partial if we do not count on poet and dramatist, composer and musician, painter and sculptor, as well as minister, evangelist, and prophet.

The Bible does not underline the virtues of all possible vocations, but it assures us that God approves those which do not violate the teachings of Jesus Christ. Persons dedicated to God, whatever their vocations, strengthen the spirit of all who are working to spread the gospel.

PRAYER

O God, we are your creatures, possessed of talents You have given us. Grant us abundant guidance in their development and use. We ask in the name of the regenerating Christ. Amen.
