SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, SEPTEMBER 16, 1965

NUMBER 37

Point Rows

Did you ever have one of those weeks when you should have stayed in bed all week? We did, last week. One of those characters in the Pogo comic strip is currently upset because this week is the week of Friday the 13th, which comes on Monday this month, but we beat him to it—last week was Friday the 13th all week for us.

To start with, there was Monday. Nothing particularly bad happened on Monday, but just being Monday is bad enough. Then on Tuesday, we were to go to San Angelo, where we were to lecture on beagles to the San Angelo Kennel Club. On the way home, we had the unbelievable luck of having two blowouts in the space of five miles, which left us more than somewhat stranded. We called the office, and Wayne Greer, our nocturnal Linotype operator, came to our rescue. The car we left at Zettner's Steak House, a few miles west of Ballinger, Wednesday, the day on which we print this newspaper, we had to go to Coleman on an errand. Not having had time to recover our car yet, we borrowed Kin Minyard's Jeep station wagon. About halfway to our neighboring city, this vehicle began emitting smoke in an alarming manner, and came to a halt near the underpass, looking somewhat like a cross between a coalburning locomotive and a fogging machine. We caught a ride on Coleman, called Ken, and he came and towed us and the Jeep back to Santa Anna. Thursday, we started having trouble with some of the population explosion of beagle puppies we currently have in our kennels, one of the litters coming down with a staph infection, much like that which caused the deaths of a number of babies in hospital maternity wards a few years ago. We lost the entire litter, and spent most of the night doctoring the rest of the pups. Friday we had set aside to print the football programs for the home games, but a rash of mechanical and technical problems threw us so far behind schedule that we missed our deadline, even though we brought in special help to work on it. Saturday, we were planning to get ready for a dog show in Big Spring, but a last minute printing job, that just had to get out that day, came in, and we spent all day preparing it. Sunday we spent working on the kennels, and hoping that the upcoming week is not quite as bad as that just passed. If you happen to notice a few grey hairs in our head, you will know what caused them.

Pierre Rowe, who is becoming a major contributor to this column, since he has nothing better to do than sit around and drink coffee and think up stories, told us this one:

A farmer had a couple of hounds who had reached the senior citizen status, and so spent most of their time lounging around the livingroom of the farmhouse watching television. They were watching one day when the Hullabaloo program came on, which if you are not familiar with it, concerns rock and roll and other such Beatle-type music along with the various dances (?) that are now the rage.

After watching these proceedings for a while, one old hound turned to the other and said, "You know, if I had acted like that when I was a pup, they would have wormed me!"

And you know, that just might be the answer.

The little boy was reporting to his friends, "We got a new baby sister at my house, and it cost one hundred dollars!"

"Gee, that sure is a lot of money," said one of the friends.

"Yeah," the new brother replied, "But they last a long time."

Which reminds us of the story about the visitor who asked the little boy if his baby sister was spoiled, and he replied, "No, she always smells like that."

A tiger in the tank is okay, remarks the old philosopher, but what really causes trouble is the monkey at the wheel.

Be sure to get your entries in for the District 9A football contest, sponsored by this newspaper and three leading local businesses. Entry forms for next week's competition are in this issue, forms for this week's contest in last week's paper and available at the sponsoring merchants: Horner Premier Station, Phillips Drug Store, and the Steak House.

AFTER THE CRASH, the 1954 Pontiac belonging to Wilburn Cunningham, of Bangs, stands in the foreground, as volunteers help Deputy Sheriff Nick Buse push the 1960 Chevrolet belonging to Olive Baker, out of the intersection of Wallis Avenue and Third Street, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Baker was hospitalized following the accident. Also damaged was a car belonging to Larry Avants, which was struck by the Cunningham car.

Auto Accident Seriously Damages Two Cars Here Friday, One Driver Injured

A three car accident at the corner of Wallis Avenue and Third Street injured one person and caused heavy damage to two of the vehicles Friday afternoon.

A 1954 Pontiac, driven by Wilburn Cunningham, of Bangs, traveling west on Wallis Avenue, struck the side of a 1960 Chevrolet being driven north on Third Street by Mrs. Olive Baker. The Cunningham car then careened across the street and struck the Larry Avants, which was rear of an automobile belonging to the Mathew Motor Company building.

Mrs. Baker was taken to Santa Anna Hospital, where she was held overnight.

Damage to the Cunningham Pontiac was estimated at $600, with $500 damage being estimated to the Baker Chevrolet. Avants' car suffered an estimated $85 damage.

Cunningham was issued a traffic summons charging speeding.

The accident was investigated by Deputy Sheriff Nick Buse, assisted by the Highway Patrol.

Two Wildcat Wells Staked South Of Town

Two wildcat oil well locations have been staked near Santa Anna this week. The deeper of the two, scheduled for 2,000 feet, will be located about four miles southwest of Santa Anna, on the C. T. Pendleton Survey, block 102. To be known as the Number 1 C. L. Daniel, the exploratory well will be drilled by Loren Angle, of Lubbock.

The second Santa Anna area wildcat, slated for a depth of 1,500 feet, will be spotted approximately four miles northwest of Rockwood, on the J. S. Martin Survey 217. It will be drilled by the LaLinda Oil & Gas Corporation, of Coleman.

All members are urged to attend this meeting, according to Jaycee President Max Eubank. Any young man between the ages of 18 and 35 who are interested in becoming members of the local Jaycee organization, or in learning more about it, are invited to attend also, Eubank said.

Weekend visitors in the C. D. Bruce home were their daughters and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robin and children, of Houston, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kingsbery and children, of Crystal City. Also Mr. and Mrs. Grady Banister, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilder, of Houston.

Beginning Monday, September 27, the Santa Anna High School Band will be selling subscriptions to all national magazines, as a fundraising project. Anyone who plans to subscribe to any magazine is urged to wait and buy the subscription from a Band member, so that the Band may receive the commission from the sale, according to Fred Gray, Band Director.

State Senator Dorsey Hardeman from San Angelo, will be the principal speaker at a ceremony Monday marking the presentation to Santa Anna schools of a Freedom Shrine, containing replicas of the great documents from the history of the United States.

The Freedom Shrine, which has a monetary value of more than $300, is being given to the local schools by the Exchange Club, of Coleman, in cooperation with the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department.

The display consists of actual photoreproductions of famous historical documents ranging from the Declaration of Independence to the Instrument of Surrender that ended World War II in the Pacific, from the Bill of Rights to General McAuliffe's famous Christmas message, who, when surrounded and cut off by overwhelming numbers of German troops during World War II, replied to a demand for the surrender of his unit with one word: "Nuts."

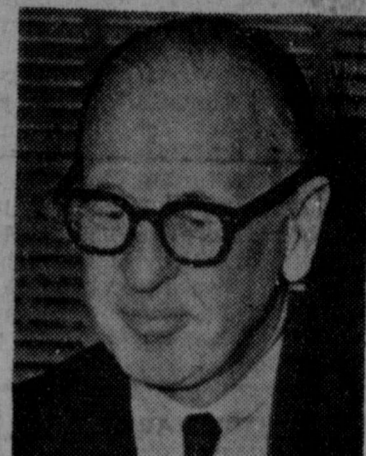

To mark the presentation of the Freedom Shrine, which will be on permanent display at Santa Anna High School, a program has been planned, beginning at 7:45 p.m. on Monday, September 20, in Mountaineer Stadium. Following a 15 minute concert by the Santa Anna High School Band, the program will be opened with an invocation by Rev. Raymond Gary, of Northside Baptist Church. After the Pledge of Allegiance, the Band will play the Star Spangled Banner. Weldon Boldt, representing the Coleman Exchange Club, will give the welcome and make the presentation. Roy Mathews, Principal of Santa Anna High School, will recognize guests and visitors, and Boldt will then introduce Senator Hardeman, who will deliver the address. The Band will play the Texas state song, Our Texas, and the program will be closed with the benediction by Rev. Bobby Weathers, of First Methodist Church.

The program has been planned to last between 45 minutes and one hour.

Everyone from this area is invited to attend this ceremony, to view the Freedom Shrine and hear Senator Hardeman, according to Cullen Perry, Superintendent of Schools.

The Freedom Shrine itself consists of the actual replicas of 28 historical documents from the nation's history, laminated in clear plastic and mounted on large plaques. "I was amazed at the extent of this thing," Perry said after examining the Freedom Shrine to be presented to local schools.

Among the documents included are Jefferson's rough draft of the Declaration of Independence and the final, embossed copy; the Bill of Rights; Benjamin Franklin's epitaph, in his own hand; Patrick Henry's instructions to George Rogers Clark; John Paul Jones' letter to Governor Morris; Washington's last official letter; Deposition of Deborah Gannett, a woman soldier during the Revolutionary War; the Treaty of Paris, 1783;

Protection From The Press

The question of pretrial publicity in criminal proceedings has been receiving a great deal of attention recently. Violent opinions have been offered on both sides of the argument. Those advocating no additional limitations on freedom of the press point to the fourth amendment of the Constitution, which guarantees the right of the people to know and the right of the news media to inform them. Those in favor of tighter controls on information released to the press concerning trials hold up the first amendment, which guarantees the right to a fair and impartial trial, and these advocates maintain that so-called "trial by publicity" limits the possibility of the accused of having a free and impartial hearing.

Both of these positions have much to commend them, and both deal with basic rights that are inherent in our American way of life. But there is one aspect of the question that has been largely overlooked in all the publicity, and that is the fact that open coverage of trial proceedings, rather than limiting the possibility of the accused obtain a fair trial, actually guarantees it.

The amendment concerning freedom of the press was inserted in the Bill of Rights by a people who well remembered the infamous "star chamber" trials of the British. In such a trial, all proceedings were held in secret, the accused had no right to trial by a jury of his peers, nor to call witnesses or utilize the other rights he should have enjoyed in a free society. The sentences were arbitrarily announced, and there was no appeal from them. Since no publicity was allowed, the press was barred from covering these proceedings, there was no way for the newspapers of the time to point out the corruption and injustices that were so prevalent a part of the whole picture.

So our forefathers, knowing that the strongest weapon against injustice is exposure to public opinion in a free society, wrote the guarantee of the free press as one of the first principles incorporated into the Bill of Rights.

Care must be taken that the current movement to limit trial coverage by news media is not a step back to the old star chamber trials, with all their abuses of justice.

Accident Corner

A story and photograph on the front page of this issue of The Santa Anna News tells about an incident involving two automobiles at the intersection of Wallis Avenue and Third Street, in downtown Santa Anna.

This is the second such accident to occur at this intersection within the last month or so. Luckily, no one has been seriously injured in these accidents, but the property damage has been considerable.

The News wonders if it would not be in the best interest of the City, its motorists, and drivers passing through on US Highways 87-84, to have a traffic control light erected at that corner, either a stop-and-go type of signal, such as is presently located at the corner of Wallis Avenue and Second Street, or a blinking warning light, like that at the corner of Wallis Avenue and the Brady highway.

This is something the persons responsible for such things should take into consideration, and see if more accidents at that intersection might be avoided.

Vocational Nursing Opens New Opportunities In Health Field

By Gerald F. Geyer, Member Council on Public Education Texas Hospital Association, Administrator Achilree General Hospital, Perryton.

Early in 1947, the first efforts were made to establish recognized schools devoted to teaching the art of vocational nursing to interested women. The response to the initial endeavors of a few have mushroomed into a national organization better known in the vocational nursing world as the National Association for Practical Nurse Education and Service. Practically all states now provide a licensed training program for men and women who are interested in becoming vocational nurses.

Remarkable progress has been made in this field because of the interest and efforts of many farsighted registered nurses who have realized the service that can be rendered by the licensed vocational nurse. The rapid growth of the licensed vocational nurse group may be attributed, in part, to the shortage of professional registered nurses over the state and even more so to the new found quality of service that the licensed vocational nurse now qualifies to offer.

The men and women of Texas interested in nursing careers are offered an opportunity to enroll in any of the 145 licensed schools working in conjunction with community hospitals located throughout the state. Entrance examinations call for two years of high school (or equivalent), passing grades on pre-entrance examinations, good physical and mental health, moral integrity, ability to get along with others, and within the age limits of 18 through 50 years.

After considerable testing and screening, acceptable candidates are given 12 months of formal training and practice in nursing principles and procedures, body structure, personal hygiene, treatment of diseases, nutrition, emergency nursing and first aid, maternity and infant care, well baby care, home and hospital housekeeping, community health and recreational activities.

The training program includes more than 2,000 hours of classroom and supervised instruction by a qualified nurse instructor and school professors. The first four months usually consists of preclinical and hospital ward work which is conducted in classrooms especially equipped for nurse teaching and demonstration. Tests are regularly conducted to evaluate the students progress. The final eight months are devoted to hospital floor duty where the student puts into practice skills and knowledge gained in the classroom. Students are usually "capped" at formal or semiformal ceremonies after completion of the first four months of training. Each school has its distinctive cap; however, association members may now own and wear a new approved state LVN cap if desired.

Since these students must rotate through all the many complex departments that make up a hospital in order to learn the basic concept of each hospital service, classes are sometimes held in the morning and sometimes in the evening.

Usually a halfday is devoted to clinical study in the hospital. Most schools or hospitals provide a nominal wage for the student during the 12 months of school. Practically all graduates are retained by the hospital in which they are trained; however, many graduate licensed vocational nurses enter into private duty, clinics, laboratories, office nursing, home nursing, and into industrial nursing.

After graduating from an approved school, the licensed vocational nurse takes the state board examinations, and if successful, receives a state license to practice. Hospitals in Texas had hoped that licensed vocational nurses would graduate in such numbers as to ease the critical shortage existing in the hospital nursing field. This has not yet come to pass.

The licensed vocational nurse performs her duties under the supervision of a physician or registered nurse. Like her "big sister", the registered nurse, the licensed vocational nurse of today has earned her rightful place on the hospital health team and in the nursing world. Her occupation is a vitally important one.

It is not uncommon to find licensed vocational nurses in surgery, pediatrics, recovery room, medicine room, central supply, and in administering care to the patient in emergency room or ward.

State Capital NEWS

Texas voters, by decisively defeating a proposed state constitutional amendment to increase the number of state senate seats from 31 to 39, removed one possible reason for a special legislative session this year.

Federal courts control two other legal issues which could require lawmakers to come back to the capitol for another 1965 powwow. Since no state senatorial districting act had been passed at the regular session, adoption of the amendment would have meant a virtually automatic special session call to decide how the eight additional senate districts were to be divided.

Proponents of the defeated proposal promptly tagged its rejection a loss for rural areas. Eight metropolitan counties accounted for enough votes to block it in the light turnout, September 7, election. But some rural areas voted against it, too.

Thirteen incumbent state senators will be jammed together into six districts under court ordered senatorial districting. The amendment, if adopted, would have given all incumbents a chance to retain their jobs. Now, at least seven senate veterans are certain to be eliminated at the polls next year.

Suits challenging Congressional and House of Representatives redistricting by the 59th Legislature and attacking Constitutional validity of the poll tax still could require a special session.

Congressional redistricting case was heard by a special three judge Federal court at Houston last Thursday. Same court also conducted a pretrial hearing on the legislative reapportionment suit. A ruling that either act is unconstitutional conceivably could carry with it a mandate that lawmakers redo their work before the filing deadline for the 1966 election.

If the poll tax is outlawed, Texas will be left without a voter registration act. That is, unless the Federal court, which will hear the case here in mid November, decrees some sort of emergency plan for 1966 elections.

Attorney General Waggoner Carr, continuing his opposition to the Federal government's suit to ban the poll tax, last week fired off letters to all Congressmen asking them for evidence to support their findings (in 1965 Voting Rights Act) that the Texas levy violates Constitutional rights.

FEDERAL EDUCATION AID PLANNED

State Board of Education has accepted administrative ground rules for participating in new US elementary-secondary education act which will bring about $60,000,000 in Federal funds to public schools.

At the same time the board approved proposals to triple Texas' migrant school pilot program to reach 18,000 children in 40 districts. It also set up special programs for at least 3,000 adult migrants.

Children whose families follow the crops will get intensive, six months schooling. Adults participating will receive basic education and training in fundamental homemaking and occupational skills.

Board named Ben E. Howell, of El Paso, its vice chairman to replace Emerson Stone, of Jacksonville, who resigned. Successor to Stone, who represented Anderson, Cherokee, Grimes, Henderson, Houston, Madison, Montgomery, Nacogdoches, Polk, San Jacinto, Trinity, and Walker, Counties on the board, will be appointed at the agency's November meeting.

Forty five districts were warned of accreditation violations. Eagle Pass Independent School District was officially notified it will lose accreditation next July 1 unless substantial progress is made. Eagle Pass Superintendent J. I. James assured board the District already is hastening to correct shortcomings.

TEXAS TOPS IN SAFETY PROJECTS

Texas leads in projects and expenditures designed to promote safety on Federal aid highways. Office of Highway Safety, Bureau of Public Roads, announced the achievement through the vacation White House here. Twenty seven Texas safety improvement projects have been programmed totalling more than $15,400,000.

COTTON AGREEMENT

Agriculture Commissioner John White and Mexican agriculture officials—Undersecretary of Agriculture Richard Acosta and Benjamin Franklin, supervisor of the National Cotton Program of Mexico—agreed to come to an agreement on international pest control effecting cotton.

Officials conferred in Austin after White's earlier announcement that the Texas border would be closed to Mexican cotton on September 25. To close US order—which has since been rescinded—caused Mexican officials to promise immediate attention to plant insect and disease problems.

Further meetings will be held in Matamoros and Tamaulipas, Mexico, and in Brownsville, Texas, in October, White announced.

AIRPORT AID OKAYED

Texas Aeronautics Commission has committed itself on two thirds of the $200,000 in the Texas Airport Aid Program authorized by the 59th Legislature.

State grants to aid in construction or improvement of urgently needed airports were made to Cameron, for $10,000; Hearne, $2,000; Jacksboro, $10,000; Kountze, $7,500; Clarksville, $12,000; Floydada, $12,000; and Post, $12,000.

Last month the Commission authorized grants to Comanche, Gatesville, Hallettsville, Lampasas, Pineland, and Caldwell. Chairman Shelby Kritzer, of Amarillo, said more hearings will be held by the Commission when new applications are received. Deadline for community airport aid requests is October 31.

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Ephesians 2:13-22

You are . . . fellow-citizens with God's people, members of God's household. (Ephesians 2:19, NEB)

The Christian church stretches from shore to shore like a geological rock formation. I think of the local church as the visible portion of the underlying foundation rock; and that foundation, as Paul declares, is Jesus Christ Himself. Where Christ is, there is His church.

All Christians have experienced forgiveness of sins and fellowship with God. Because of their personal commitment and trust in Christ as Savior and Lord, they have the hope of heaven.

When Christ is "all in all", then, as Charles Wesley wrote in one of his hymns: "Names, and sects, and parties fall." It was his brother, John Wesley, who wrote: "We give the right hand of fellowship to every lover of God." So whoever we are and wherever we are, if we love the Lord we are brothers and sisters in Christ. That is also true for all who in this blessed faith have gone to heaven. "O blest communion, fellowship divine!"

PRAYER

Our father, we pray for the whole family of Your people. Grant us through Christ more and more of the family spirit of love and service in our relationship with our fellow Christians. May we live to bring the wanderers around us back home to You. For Christ's Sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Fellowship in Christ is for everyone and is everlasting.

Mountaineers' Win Streak Ends As Cross Plains Wins, 20-0

Midnight came early Friday night for Santa Anna's Cinderella football team, as they bowed to a heavier Cross Plains squad, 20-0.

Both teams came into Friday night's contest with one game winning streaks, both pulled off slight upsets to get their victory, but the second half was not very old until it became apparent that the superior weight in the Cross Plains line, and the hard driving power of the Buffaloes, would make the difference.

The Buffaloes' first score came, as a matter of fact, on the first series of plays in the second half. Taking the initial kickoff on their own 28 yard line, the Bisons from peanut country drove 72 yards in 15 plays, gaining boosts along the way from a penalty for five yards against Santa Anna, and a completed pass to score their first tally of the night. Jim Brown, the overpowering Buffalo fullback, bounced off three would-be Mountaineer tacklers, and bounced right into the end zone, for a 17 yard gain. The kick attempt failed, and the Mountaineers trailed 6-0.

That was all of the scoring until the fourth period, when the Buffaloes again got on the scoreboard. Recovering one of several Santa Anna fumbles, Cross Plains drove from its own 37 yard line all the way to paydirt, using up 14 plays and gaining four first downs in the process. The Mountaineers made a stalwart goalline stand, with the enemy only two yards from the double stripe with first down.

Three times they held, but on the fourth try, quarterback Joe Pierce, all-district squad last year, finally slipped across. Brown added the conversion via a shoeless kick, and the score stood at 13 for the Buffaloes, 0 for the Mountaineers.

The last tally came on an unusual pass play. After intercepting a Santa Anna aerial and moving to the Mountaineer 10 yard line, the Buffaloes, rather than running out the seven seconds left on the scoreboard clock, elected to try to score again. One pass went incomplete, but the second counted, and the Cross Plainsers tallied again with no time at all left on the clock. The afterwards extra point try, a kick by Brown, was good, and the final score stood at 20-0, in favor of the Buffaloes.

Next week, the Mountaineers host another District 9A team, as the very strong Clyde Bulldogs come to town. The Mountaineers are now 1-1 against 9A competition, hope to move their percentage onto the winning side of 500. Game time will be 8:00 p.m. at Mountaineer Stadium.

Johnson City at Goldthwaite: Unless LBJ uses some of his famous "persuasion" in favor of his hometown boys, this should be a romp for Goldthwaite.

Lometa at Marble Falls: We pick Marble Falls.

Clyde at Santa Anna: If the Mountaineers learn to take advantage of the breaks which they failed to do last week, they may surprise in this one. We hope so, but have to go with a team that is picked as an outside choice in a strong district. Clyde by two touchdowns.

Here is the way the assistant prophets see the week's games:

Montie Guthrie: San Saba over Burnet, Bangs over Early, Goldthwaite over Johnson City, Marble Falls over Lometa, Santa Anna over Clyde.

Roy Horne: San Saba over Burnet, Bangs over Early, Goldthwaite over Johnson City, Marble Falls over Lometa, Clyde over Santa Anna.

Ken Minyard: Burnet over San Saba, Early over Bangs, Goldthwaite over Johnson City, Marble Falls over Lometa, Clyde over Santa Anna.

Consensus: Burnet at San Saba—three to one for San Saba. Bangs at Early—three to one for Bangs. Johnson City at Goldthwaite—four votes for Goldthwaite. Lometa at Marble Falls—another unanimous pick, for Marble Falls. Clyde at Santa Anna—three to one favoring Clyde.

Picks of the Week

The Prophet Corps did not have an outstanding record last week, with the Old Prophet and two of the assistants picking three out of five, and one assistant dropping below the .500 mark with two incorrect picks.

The company percentage dropped from last week's .700, down to .625 following Friday's games.

Last Week's Results: Burnet loses to Fredericksburg, picked correctly by the Old Prophet, Guthrie, and Horne. Early beats Jim Ned, picked correctly by Minyard. Goldthwaite beats DeLeon, picked correctly by the Old Prophet, Guthrie, and Minyard. Marble Falls beats Blanco, picked correctly by all four prophets. Santa Anna loses to Cross Plains, nobody got this one right.

Standings: Minyard .700, the Old Prophet .600, Guthrie .600, Horne .600.

District 9A teams won three, lost two last week, now have a season record of five wins and five losses. Here are this week's picks:

Burnet at San Saba: Although picked for second in District 9A by most preseason polls, the Bulldogs have yet to win their first game of the year. They won't get out of the cellar against the strong AA team from San Saba.

Bangs at Early: Bangs, without trouble.

Miss Kirkpatrick Honored By Club

The Self Culture Club of Santa Anna, the only federated women's club in Coleman County, opened the year's program with a tea, Friday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. in the Library Club Room.

The tea was given in honor of Miss Jettie Kirkpatrick, who had been chosen as "The Woman of The Year" by the Club.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Burl Sparkman, Mrs. C. D. Bruce, vice president, presided. Mrs. Ford Barnes introduced the honor guest. In her presentation, Mrs. Barnes spoke of Miss Kirkpatrick, as a sixth generation descendent of William Kirkpatrick, who came to America during the Colonial Period of the United States straight from Ireland. Miss Kirkpatrick has her family coat of arms and her genealogy papers to prove her lineage from William Kirkpatrick, who fought for American independence in the American Revolution. Her family of Kirkpatricks have fought in every war in which the United States has been involved.

Miss Jettie, as she is known in Santa Anna, is a true Coleman Countian. She was born only five miles from Santa Anna on the farm which still belongs to the Kirkpatrick family. The honoree began her teaching career at Trickham and has taught in the Santa Anna and Coleman school systems. She served as County Tax Collector for eight years and as City Secretary of Santa Anna, six years. She is a member of the Presbyterian Church, the OES, the Woodmen Circle, the Self Culture Club, the Needlecraft Club, the DAR, and has served in official capacity in all these organizations, having recently been president of the Self Culture Club.
