

The aluminum manufacturers raised the prices on their product, which Lyndon Johnson did not like, so he ordered some of the stockpile of aluminum held by the Federal government to be sold at prices lower than those on the open market, forcing the aluminum companies to reduce their prices to the old level.

Then the copper companies, faced with rising costs, put a price increase on copper into effect. Lyndon didn't like this, either, so he ordered some of the Federal stockpile of this metal sold, at undercutting prices, forcing the copper people to rescind their price hike.

This is all well and good, we suppose, but it poses a problem for us. We have some beagle puppies that we had originally offered for sale at $25, but the pups are looking so good that we had decided to raise the price to $35. Now we are not so sure. We know that Lyndon raises beagles, too, and if he decides he doesn't like our price increase, he may order the market to be flooded with LBJ beagles, and heaven knows, the darn things are hard enough to get rid of as it is, without competing against the Federal government.

What we would really like to see Lyndon do is release the government's supply of dog food, and force the price of that commodity down.

We know the government has a supply of the stuff, because we remember lots of meals we ate in the Marine Corps that were bound to have been dog food.

We were surprised and gratified at the response to our column of last week. Apparently, readers of this paper want to be sure they continue to get news and opinion unbiased by official pressures. We think the incident we discussed herein last week was an unfortunate miscalculation on the part of some people who let their emotions run away with them, and we don't think it will happen again. In the words of the Psalmist: "Behold, how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!"

Mr. Howard Welch, who now resides in Fort Worth, dropped by the office when he was in town for homecoming, recently. Mr. Welch graduated from Santa Anna High School in 1916, and went to work in the office of The Santa Anna News, where he learned the printing business. He says he is a retired printer. This was very encouraging to us. We sometimes doubt if we will be allowed to live long enough to retire.

SANTA ANNA WINDOW SHOPPING: Phillips Drug has the display of Christmas wrappings, cards, decorations, and et cetera, all set up... At Riders Garage, a new sign proclaims that state auto inspections are now carried on there—not too long until new stickers will be required... Santa Anna Jaycees are thanking Bill Thate and the Piggly Wiggly staff for helping handle the turkeys that were an important part of the recent turkey shoot conducted by that organization... Local beauty shops seem to be doing a rush preholiday business. It was Shakespeare who wrote: "Vanity, thy name is Woman." Remember, Shakespeare said it, not us... In all the grocery store advertising in the paper the last two weeks, pushing specials for Thanksgiving, we didn't notice one special on bicarbonate of soda or Tums. Seems like someone is missing a good bet... the local stores are getting set to push their layaway plans. This is a good way to pay for Christmas with least possible pain on the old wallet... Herring Flowers and Gifts has just received a new line of Christmas tree decorations and ornaments. If you are looking for something unusual, stop by and take a look... We notice local merchants are already beginning to exhibit that rather rushed preChristmas look. Want a Christmas gift for the retail merchant who has everything? How about a large economy size bottle of tranquilizers?

Cassius Clay (excuse us, we mean Muhammad Ali) won the heavyweight title when Sonny Liston dislocated a shoulder and he whipped Floyd Patterson when the latter came up with a bad back. Clay-Ali's future opponents shouldn't train for the bout, they should just join Medicare.

You could only get such news in this paper: This is National Banana Month, and National Raisin Bread Month. So go have a banana sandwich on raisin bread.

THANKSGIVING, 1965

FACES IN THE CROWD at the first drawing held as part of the Santa Anna Christmas Program. About 200 people were on hand to see five lucky Santa Anna shoppers win $10 each.

Four Santa Anna Shoppers Win In First Christmas Drawing Saturday

The first drawings in the annual Christmas program sponsored by Santa Anna business firms as an expression of appreciation for their customers' patronage during the year, was held Saturday, November 20.

With a crowd of about 200 persons on hand for the first of the weekly drawings that will be held each Saturday right up to Christmas, five lucky Santa Anna shoppers each received ten dollars worth of gift money, spendable like cash at any of the 33 Santa Anna firms participating in the program.

Particularly lucky was Mrs. Robert Roach, who through the luck of the draw won two of the ten dollar prizes. One of Mrs. Roach's winning tickets was obtained at Piggly Wiggly Grocery, and the other at Williams Fruit Stand. The two winning tickets were picked by a blindfolded ticketpicker, from opposite ends of the big drum containing several hundred tickets.

Competition pitting the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department against the fire departments of Coleman and Bangs was a feature of the day on Volunteer Firemen's Day, in Santa Anna, Saturday, November 20.

In four types of contest, the local firemen came out on top in three. In the one man race, Santa Anna ranked first with a time of 14.8 seconds, with Coleman second (16.2 seconds), and Bangs third (18.2 seconds).

In the three man race, the local volunteers again won, in 11.5 seconds, followed in order by Bangs (13.8 seconds) and Coleman, which had no time.

The six man race again saw the team from the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department win, in 22.5 seconds, followed by Bangs (27.0 seconds), and with Coleman third (28.0 seconds).

The water polo competition was the only one not won by the Santa Anna firemen, as Coleman won, with Bangs second and Santa Anna third.

Breeder-Feeder Gals Vote Bylaw Changes

Several changes in the bylaws and constitution of the organization were approved by unanimous vote, including a change in the number of meetings, to three a year, in March, July, and November, with the July meeting being the annual meeting.

New officers elected include Mrs. Thea Griffith, president; Mrs. Bill Sneed, vice president; Mrs. Ray Sims, secretary; Mrs. Bill Brown, treasurer; and Mrs. Weldon Davis, reporter.

Committee assignments include: Construction Committee—Mrs. Hightower, Mrs. A. N. Bryson, and Mrs. David Parker; Membership and Telephone Committee—Mrs. Raymond McElrath; Entertainment Committee—Mrs. Lucien Love, Mrs. Ben Cox, and Mrs. Agee Edgerton.

Jane Horne Picked As Campus Beauty

Jane Horne, a senior at McMurry College, in Abilene, majoring in elementary education, is a nominee for the Totem Beauties for the 1965-1966 school year.

A 1961 graduate of Santa Anna High School, Miss Horne, along with 15 other beauties attending McMurry, was chosen from among 52 candidates, on the basis of poise, natural beauty, and manner of dress.

During a recent assembly, the students selected eight coeds from the 16 nominees as the 1965-1966 Totem Beauties. Those selected will be revealed at a later date.

Miss Horne, a member of the TIP social club at McMurry, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horne, of Santa Anna.

Santa Anna Band Gets 3 Rating At Regional Contest

The Santa Anna High School Band went to the Texas Interscholastic League regional competition, in Brady, Saturday, November 20, and came home with a rating of 3 in marching, and 2 in inspection. Several individual members of the Santa Anna aggregation earned the coveted rating of "1".

In this competition, entrants are judged against a standard, rather than competing directly against one another. Ratings can range from 1, the highest, through 5, the lowest.

In twirling competition, Sonja Neff and Barbara Jones received 1 ratings; Marguerite Horner, Carolyn Rowe, Boots Walker, and Billie Gaye Rutherford received ratings of 2; and Sherry Thompson and Nancy Baugh won ratings of 3. An ensemble of twirlers Walker, Jones, Baugh, and Rutherford; and another made up of twirlers Neff, Rowe, Horner, and Thompson, both were given ensemble ratings of 3.

Only two class A schools in the region received 1 rating, Cross Plains and Eastland. Two more won ratings of 2, Clyde and Eldorado. Five schools, in addition to Santa Anna, rated 3—Albany, Baird, Marble Falls, and Ranger. Three schools, Burnet, DeLeon, and Menard, rated 4. Glen Rose received a rating of 5.

The staff of the paper join in wishing a happy Thanksgiving to all our readers.

Singing Session Set For Sunday

The McCulloch County Singing Convention will meet at 2:00 p.m., Sunday, November 28, in the Central Baptist Church, of Brady.

Special guest singers will be the Bell Family Quartet, from Temple. An invitation has been extended to everyone.

Like so many before, Thanksgiving, 1965 finds Americans fighting against the forces of tyranny and oppression in foreign lands. Just as Thanksgiving is a uniquely American holiday, so it is unique in the American character to make sacrifices so that other peoples may have the opportunity to enjoy the freedoms we have in this nation.

The Pilgrims, who instituted our tradition of a day of Thanksgiving, came to the celebration with their muskets in their hands. Likewise, this year of 1965, Americans in Viet Nam will sit down to their Thanksgiving meal with their weapons close at hand. The type of weapon is different, but the tradition of a free people fighting for their rights is the same.

This week, The News received the following letter from a Santa Annan in Viet Nam. Read it and be thankful as you observe the holiday Thursday—thankful that as an American you can partake in such an observance, and thankful that there are men who will be observing the holiday far from home and family, to protect your right to give thanks as your conscience dictates.

Lions Club Talent Show Saturday

A crowd of approximately 300 saw the talent show in Santa Anna High School auditorium Saturday night, sponsored by the Santa Anna Lions Club.

With Fred Gray as master of ceremonies, the show featured singers—alone and in groups, magicians, dancers, twirlers, a rock and roll combo, and an exhibition of tumbling.

Winners were selected by judges from the Coleman Lions Club. Picked as the best in the show was the tumbling team from Southern Union College, at Keene, Texas.

Second place went to a pair of girls from Bangs, a vocal duo who accompanied themselves on guitars.

Third place went to a twirling team from Santa Anna, made up of Marguerite Horner and Sonja Neff.

Gail Allen directed the show. Jack Allen and Roy Mathews were in charge of the Lions Club committee that produced the event.

I am SP4 Roy J. Payne, RA18660015, serving with the 1st Cavalry Division here in Viet Nam and have been since 19 August 1965.

Since being here, I have seen many things to make me proud of my country. Recently I have heard of the demonstrations going on in the States. I can only hope that it is not going on in Santa Anna.

Today my company came under heavy mortar attack. All total, 12 rounds hit in our area. When the firing finally stopped, a very close friend of mine was no longer with us. He was a fine guy and had all the world to live for. He had a wife and seven children. He didn't exactly want to come here but he did so—that others may be able to sit home and watch TV without a worry in the world. The former soldier's name is Hoover Morris, a staff sergeant whose home is at 501 Dixon Street, Lufkin, Texas, which is pretty close to home.

I hope the people will finally wise up to the fact that this is not a game. I think a few words from our fine town would help a lot.

FAMILY

Ever thought about that word — its deep, stirring meaning? We start out as part of a family. And even though we know we are "little" it doesn't matter. We are part of the family—that's important. And what we will become—the family is looking out for that!

Then one day we are grownups. And again we are part of a family. But now we are "big." Oh so big! For what the rest of the family will become—that depends on us!

How important a part did the Church play in your transition from being little to being big? Well, in this free land, the chances are good that you grew up spiritually as well as physically.

But, even if you didn't—it's not too late! Not only can you see your children off to a free and fine education, but you can come with them to church . . . where the "little" and the "big" learn of GOD . . . where the truth of Christ's teaching guides the destiny of THE FAMILY.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

COLD WEATHER DRIVING EXPERT PREPARES FOR WINTER.

Why more motorists switch to the Tiger when it gets cold.

Many cars that ran just fine all summer get into trouble when ear-muff time rolls around — stalling at stoplights and coughing and chugging halfway into town. That's when a lot of people switch to the Tiger. Winter-formula Enco Extra gasoline is blended to match the weather conditions in your area — including a special additive to help guard against icing. Result: easier starting, faster warm-up and a lot less worry about stalling. You'll like the way new Enco Extra behaves on the open road, too. It's the High-energy gasoline with the: (1) cleaning power; (2) firing power; (3) octane power to help preserve the performance of new cars and restore lost power and mileage to many older cars. Switch to the Tiger and get that nice warm feeling. Happy Motoring!

The Rockwood 4-H Club met on Monday, November 23, in the Rockwood Community Center, with Nell Fitzpatrick in charge. Randal Lovelady led the 4-H motto and the pledge. The attendance report, given by Billie Gaye Rutherford, showed 11 members present, along with adult leaders Cecil Richardson, Jim Rutherford, and Curtis and Bettie Bryan. Also present were Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent Doris Froehling, and five guests.

Plans for the Christmas party were discussed during the business meeting, followed by a program on good table manners. Refreshments were served by Bettie Bryan, and the recreation was led by Leann Bryan.

CRIED ALICE'S QUEEN.

The King, the Queen and the executioner were present. Alice and the prisoners, too, of course, but these were all. No jury, no public, no publicity.

No newspaper reporters.

In Alice's Wonderland even applause was "immediately suppressed by the officers of the court."

Not so in America.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right of a public trial, says Article the Sixth of the Bill of Rights of the Constitution of the United States.

So people may know, newspapers must report these trials.

This is not freedom of the press. This is responsibility of the press.

Newspapers have no extraordinary rights.

People do.

Men have the right to a public trial and the right to know what happens in courtrooms. These are rights written into the Constitution and affirmed by the Supreme Court in 1829 when Mr. Justice Bagley wrote: "It is one of the essential qualities of a court of justice that its proceedings should be public."

If people are to know the truth the newspaper must report the news.

EDITORIAL

The Big Rock Candy Mountain

It is one of the more constant attributes of human nature that man is always seeking for the easier way to do things. In some ways, this is good. and it has resulted in many advancements. But in the arena of man's struggle for freedom, there is no easy way. Those that have thought otherwise, down through history, have either lost that freedom, or they have been forced to face an even greater struggle than if they had faced up to reality in the first place.

The characters who are burning their draft cards or themselves in protest over the necessity of the United States' effort in Viet Nam, sincere and dedicated though they may be (often the more sincere and dedicated a man may be, the more damage he may do if he is wrong), are repeating an age-old error—that you cannot placate force with reason. Many of us learned this lesson on the school playground—we learned that you cannot satisfy the bully by giving in to him. Only by standing up for yourself can you protect yourself. On the vaster stage of world politics, we saw this same lesson spelled out in the efforts, prior to the Second World War, to placate Adolph Hitler, to appease him in hopes he would be satisfied with their bowing to one demand after another, each more unreasonable and immoral than the last, until it became necessary to fight a great and bloody war, a war that—ironically enough—was caused by the very men who substituted expedience for courage in trying to prevent war.

The "peace at any price" people seem to feel that if we would negotiate with the Communists, everything would be lovely, and the problem of Viet Nam would be solved. But they overlook another historical fact: Such negotiations have already been carried on, resulting in a divided Viet Nam, with the north under Communist control and the south free. The Communists solemnly agreed to abide by this treaty, and not to interfere in the affairs of South Viet Nam. Everyone can see how well the Communists have honored that treaty. There is no reason in the world to believe that they would honor another to any greater degree.

It would be nice if we could sit down with the Communists right now and negotiate a fair and lasting peace. It would also be nice if we could discover the Big Rock Candy Mountain. One is about as likely as the other, and no amount of wishful thinking otherwise will change the truth of that one iota.

In speaking of our American independence, Patrick Henry asked: "Is peace so dear, and life so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?" He was speaking of the American people, but we today should ask ourselves the same question in regard to other peoples of the world. Is peace so dear as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery for the people of Viet Nam?

"Any man's death diminishes me, for I am involved in mankind," wrote John Donne, 300 years ago. Just so, any man's slavery diminishes our own freedom. "No man is truly free, as long as one man is a slave," said Voltaire. We cannot insure freedom for ourselves and our children by abandoning another people to slavery.

Some people have called those members of our population who have been agitating against our country's position in Viet Nam, "traitors." A more accurate description would be "fools." For with all the weight of history staring them in face, proving the ridiculousness of their position, they go blithely on their way, ignoring reality and living in a pink cloud world that has little in common with the real world. They are more to be pitied than censured.

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

With the opening of another school year at hand, it's time to recall once again the dangers of bicycle riding.

Although exact figures are lacking, in recent years from 500 to 700 deaths and about 30,000 to 40,000 injuries a year have occurred in collisions between bicycles and motor vehicles, says Today's Health Guide, the American Medical Association's manual of health information and guidance for the American family.

By far the greater number of these deaths and injuries were suffered by children from five to 14 years of age.

Parents must assume the major responsibility for the safety of their children. Parents must see that their young riders are taught when and where bicycling is safe; they must help get the bicycles in safe condition; they must promote a friendly and cooperative attitude toward law enforcement officers; they must help the child develop an understanding of the purpose of traffic regulations.

It is important to help your child work out safe bike routes to and from school, the park, and other areas where he customarily rides. Bike riders using the roadways are subject to the same regulations, responsibilities and privileges as motor vehicle drivers.

The Bicycle Institute of America offers some safety rules: Observe all traffic regulations —red and green lights, one-way streets, stop signs.

Keep to the right and ride single file. Keep a safe distance behind all vehicles.

Have a headlight on front and a danger light on the rear of your bicycle for night riding. Wear white or light colored clothing at night.

Have a bell or horn to warn of approach. Always ride at a safe speed.

Give pedestrians the right of way. Avoid sidewalks, if possible; use extra care when riding on walks.

Look out for cars pulling out into traffic. Keep a sharp lookout for sudden opening of car doors.

Be sure your brakes work properly and keep your bicycle in perfect running condition.

Never carry other riders—carry no packages that obstruct vision or prevent proper control of your bicycle.

Never hitch on other vehicles, "stunt", or race in traffic. Never ride two on a bike.

If your child plans to ride to and from school on a bicycle this fall, make certain that there is a parking area at the school relatively safe from thieves. A short length of chain and a padlock will usually stop the bicycle thief.

Ride in a straight line. Do not weave in or out of traffic or swerve from side to side.

Always use proper hand signals for turning and stopping. Park your bike in a safe place.

COTTON REPORT

Sample receipts at the Cotton classing Office, in Abilene, steadily gained last week, and the Friday receipts, about 6,500 samples, were the heaviest for the season. Eleven classes processed 28,000 samples for the week ending November 19, 1965, which brought the season total to 143,000. Eight micronaire operators were able to keep current with incoming cotton. About 7,000 miked but unclassified samples were on hand Friday night.

Receipts from District 2, which includes Coleman County, totaled 15,455. The quality of the cotton was about the same as for the preceding week. Eighteen percent of the samples were classed white, 80 percent light spotted, and two percent spotted. The amount of cotton reduced in grade because of grass, bark, or stems, was two percent of the total classed.

The 29/32 and 15/16 inch staple lengths made up 90 percent of the total.

In the miked readings, 98 percent of the samples ranked in the 3.3 through 5.1 range.

Pressley readings were steady with 98 percent of the measurements going 75,000 pounds per square inch and higher, which is fair to very strong.

Prices for Middling Light Spotted cotton continued to decline, and producers received gross prices ranging from even with Commodity Credit Corporation Loan rates to 50 points above, or about $2.50 per bale more than CCC loan rates. Some of the Middling Light Spotted cotton as well as most higher grade cotton went into the government loan program. Demand and prices for Strict Low Middling Light Spotted and lower qualities remained the same, and grossed 50 to 100 points above loan rates.

State Capital NEWS

Texas' first major state government program for widespread coordination of public service activities is being put into operation.

Governor John Connally soon will reveal his initial plans for the project that will "range across the entire spectrum" of governmental services.

The Planning Agency Council for Texas (PACT) was authorized by the 1965 Legislature—primarily to implement the statewide water program. However, Connally wants to broaden its scope into many other areas.

Legislation authorizing a central state planning agency cited the need to coordinate state efforts in the fields of water supply, recreation, transportation, highways, and other programs financed with Federal, state, and local funds.

Eight major agencies—health, highway, parks and wildlife, industrial, soil conservation, employment, railroad commission, and water—were designated by the Legislature as members of the initial PACT.

Connally's office was named administrative head of the planning agency, and placed in charge of coordinating its activities.

Growth of government and an increasing number of Federal programs requiring attention at state and local levels call for a "monumental endeavor" by public officials, Connally noted.

PRESS CONFERENCE

At a recent press conference, Governor Connally said:

He may ask the 1967 Legislature to again submit to the voters a proposed state constitutional amendment calling for four year terms for certain elected public officials holding statewide offices. But this time not at a special election.

He would call an early special session of the Legislature if Federal court orders require legal action in Congressional and legislative reapportionment case, or in the suit to repeal the poll tax.

He felt called on to make a statewide pitch for Texas as the site for the $340,000,000 atom smasher, because of the competition among Austin, Dallas and Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston, Amarillo, Lubbock, and Odessa for this key scientific facility. He assured site-seekers from the Atomic Energy Commission that all of the state's resources would be available to support whatever Texas site might be chosen.

MORE ON REDISTRICTING

Next year, Texans will be able to elect House members under the new redistricting law.

Attorney General Waggoner Carr will urge a Federal court at Houston to let voters elect the members, even though the court may believe that the districts are not Constitutional.

If the court will allow such action, the 1967 Legislature could pass a redistricting law without flitorial districts.

This year's redistricting law includes 11 flitorial districts, resulting in a situation where small counties and large cities share representatives.

Judges believe this discriminates against sparsely populated counties.

Court could declare the entire law unconstitutional, and a special session of the legislature would be needed to pass a new law.

AIRPORT AID

Texas Aeronautics Commission is urging cities on the lookout for airport equipment to let them do the looking as part of the government surplus property program that began 14 months ago.

Presently, the Aeronautics Commission locates the surplus at military air bases and effects the transfer. Then the equipment is given to cities and towns needing it, without charge.

So far, 41 Texas cities have received surplus property worth more than $120,000 for use in the development and maintenance of local airports.

Grants totalling $64,500 have been approved. This money went to Caldwell ($10,000), Comanche ($12,000), Hallettsville (10,000), Hearne ($2,000), Kountze (7,500), Lampasas ($8,000), and Pineland ($15,000).

Six other cities may get an additional $68,000 if they finalize acceptance during the next three months. They are Cameron ($10,000), Clarksville (12,000), Floydada ($12,000), Gatesville ($12,000), Jacksboro ($10,000), and Post ($12,000).

HIGHWAY PROGRAM APPROVED

Texas Highway Commission has approved a two year consolidated highway program, with a price tag of 350,000,000, that is termed the most important in the history of the state.

The 1967-1968 program includes work on 9,469 miles of roads under Department jurisdiction. Commission approved projects totalling $337,900,000, with $12,700,000 to be held in reserve. Many safety projects are included in the program.

OIL ALLOWABLE HIKED

Texas oil production may hit a six year high in 1965. This is thanks to a jump in the December allowable to 31.4 percent of potential.

December production maximum is 3,084,545 barrels daily. Railroad Commission increased the percentage factor from 30 percent in November. Firm markets and low inventories are given as the reasons for the increase.

ESTES BACK TO COURT

Billie Sol Estes' swindling case landed back in the Texas court of Criminal Appeals after the United States Supreme Court reversed the conviction. The state's highest criminal appeals court is expected to send the case back to Tyler for retrial, without television coverage. The US Supreme Court ruled that the television coverage of the original trial, protested by the defense, violated Estes' Constitutional rights.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Connally's new 15 member Committee on Public School Education, named to conduct a three year study of the needs of Texas schools, will be in operation by January 1.

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, named seven committees, composed of higher education faculty and administrators, to advise on Board policies.

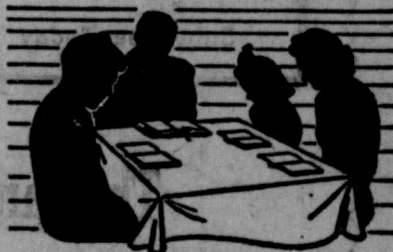

Veterans Land Board ordered a resolution drawn asking Attorney General Carr to require Irving millionaire C. D. Wyche to pay about $175,000 due on 1,117 acres of Dimmit County land contracted for in 1963.

Connally has designated December 15 as Bill of Rights Day, 174th anniversary of the adoption of that important document.

Only $30,000,000 of $78,000,000 available in Federal funds to Texas school districts, under a recent Federal aid to education act, has been applied for, so a lot of money will go back to the Federal government if more districts don't apply for their shares.

The Upper Room

Read Acts 4:13-20.

O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise unto the rock of our salvation. (Psalm 95:1)

The whole community, Christians and non-Christians, gathered at the school in a village in Korea. Partitions had been removed to make room for all to see and hear the Christmas program. Careful preparation had been made, and for two hours those standing and those seated listened with rapt attention.

The kindergarten, the church school, and the young men's group from the local church united to give honor to the Lord Jesus on His birthday. They wanted also to give their witness before those who did not yet know Him as their Savior.

The program concluded after the Christian youth, one by one, went to the platform, each singing his testimony as a birthday gift to his Savior. "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Nearer My God to Thee," "Jesus is All the World to Me," "I Am Thine, O Lord"—one after another they sang.

My heart sang with them then. And as often as I have recalled the experience, I have felt that truly the heart of the King was made glad by their gifts and witness that night.

PRAYER

Our Father, may we have a testimony to give, and may we give it wholeheartedly with courage, conviction, and joy. Use us to show forth Your love. For Jesus' sake and to Your glory. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

What does Jesus' coming mean to me—in faith, in witness, in works?
