TWO SANTA ANNA VOTES COMING UP

School Board Saturday; City Council On Tuesday

Santa Anna area voters will go to the polls twice during the next few days to cast ballots in two elections, both of which are contested, and both of which have created a great deal of interest.

School Board Election

In the first election, residents of the Santa Anna Independent School District will elect two members of the Board of Trustees. Three candidates are listed on the ballot for this election. In addition, this election features the unusual situation of an incumbent running as a write-in candidate.

Floyd Gilbreath, Mrs. Allyn (Bess) Gill, and Jess Williams are the candidates whose names appear on the ballot. Due to a misunderstanding about deadline for filing, incumbent Board of Trustees member William Brown is running as a write-in candidate. Brown reports that his friends urged that he follow the write-in course in being a candidate for reelection, and he has agreed.

On the ballot, Mrs. Gill will be listed first, followed by Williams and Gilbreath.

Mrs. Gill is the wife of Coleman County Telephone Cooperative manager Allyn Gill. Williams is a farmer in the Shield community, was once a candidate for county commissioner. A resident of Santa Anna, Gilbreath is in the contract farming business.

The voting place for the school board election will be in the Santa Anna Lions Club Building, in downtown Santa Anna. The polls will open at 7:00 p.m. and remain open until 7:00 p.m., according to Superintendent of Schools Cullen Perry.

Roy Stockard will be election judge for the Board of Trustees election, with Mrs. Hardy Blue and Mrs. Frank Turner as his assistants.

Besides Brown, the other incumbent whose seat is up for grabs this year is Grady McIver, who is not a candidate for reelection.

In the school board election, all qualified voters residing in the boundaries of the Santa Anna Independent School District will be eligible to cast a ballot. This will be the first local election in which voters qualified under the emergency registration procedures provided by the Texas Legislature following the Federal court decision outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting will be able to participate. Those eligible will include all persons who hold valid poll tax receipts, those who are eligible for poll tax exemptions because

Mrs. Eva Hull had all her children and grandchildren for her anniversary celebration. The children brought the cake for the celebration.

The candidates will be listed on the ballot in the following order: O. A. Etheredge, Calvin F. Campbell, James Ford, Ben W. Yarborough, Kenneth M. Bowker, Jr., Luther McCrary.

Etheredge and McCrary operate service stations in Santa Anna, Campbell is in the petroleum products business and is a stock farmer, Ford operates a welding business and is minister of the Assembly of God Church in Santa Anna, Bowker is the a feed store operator in Coleman, and Yarborough is a rancher in the Santa Anna area.

Glen Copeland will be election judge for the city balloting, and will be assisted by Mrs. Hardy Blue, alternate election judge, and Mrs. Carmen Donham and Mrs. Helen Stepp, clerks.

Eligibility for voting in the city election is the same as for the school board balloting, with the exception that voters must reside within the city limits of Santa Anna, and must have done so for six months prior to the election.

Former Residents Honored By Army

A 1961 graduate of Santa Anna High School received his third Army promotion in less than one year on Wednesday, March 16, when he was promoted to the rank of Specialist 4.

Specialist 4 Tommy R. Pollock, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Pollock, of Santa Anna, entered the Army in December, 1964, and completed basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana. After basic training, Specialist Pollock was assigned to the 5th Missile Battalion (Herc), 517th Artillery, Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, as a Clerk typist. In July of 1965, Specialist Pollock attended the Army School of Journalism at Fort Slocum, New York.

After completion of the journalism school, Specialist Pollock was returned to the Abilene Missile Unit to take over the duties of the Noncommissioned Officer in charge of public and community relations. Specialist Pollock also edits a military newspaper and writes feature articles for a military newspaper covering the southwestern United States, and for two national military newspapers.

In a recent United States Army Air Defense Command (USADACOM) General's Inspection, the inspecting general rated Specialist Pollock's public and community relations program as "superior, and one of the best I have seen in my years of military service."

Specialist Pollock is married to the former Anita Ann Broadway, daughter of Mrs. L. Brusenhan, Jr., of Rockwood. Mrs. Pollock is a 1964 graduate of Scott and White School of Nursing, Temple, and is employed in the Hospital at Abilene State School.

number of persons employed by a large number.

In commenting on the report a spokesman for the city pointed out that economics experts know that a dollar earned in any community passes through six hands before leaving the community, increasing local buying power by a factor of six. This means, the spokesman said, that the Santa Anna Medical Center adds an average of $57,000 in buying power to in Santa Anna each month. The city spokesman also pointed to other figures revealed in the recent survey of employees at Santa Anna Medical Center in commenting on criticism that the medical unit hires persons predominantly who are members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, which sponsors Santa Anna Hospital. According to the results of the survey, only 18 of the employees at the Medical Center are members of that church, with the overwhelming majority, 40 of the 58, representing other churches.

Construction on the new Medical Center hospital and clinic buildings are presently delayed until construction can begin on the new sewer system to be built with bonds, the approval of which in a city election is being contested in the courts by a small group of Santa Anna residents. The state health department will not okay a new hospital if the sewer facilities of the community do not pass state approval. Santa Anna's present sewerage treatment facilities have been commended by state officials.

Coleman County Draft Quotas For April Announced; Only Two Called

State draft boards will be called upon to furnish 979 men for the armed forces in April, the lowest monthly quota since August, 1965, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday. This local board share of the 979 quota is 2 men. They have not yet received a call for Armed Forces Physical Examination for the month of April.

Monthly calls in the period from September through March ranged from a low of 1,068 to a high of 1,523.

Colonel Schwartz also announced that 3,005 men would be sent for draft mental and physical examinations in April, a reduction from 5,615 in March.

He also said state Selective Service had received a quota for 105 physicians to enter the Army, Navy, and Air Force in July, August, and September.

A call for 31 male nurses to enter the Army and Navy in April, May, June, and July arrived at the same time as the quota for physicians.

The state draft director pointed out that the number of men in the state's I-A pool was reduced from 100,000 at the end of August 1965 to 51,000 at the end of February 1966.

During the same period, he said, the number of men classified as students rose from 85,000 to 104,000. At the end of January 1966, there were 106,000 men classified in 2-S as students, the first material reduction in the pool since October 1964, when the number was 74,000.

"From October 1964," Colonel Schwartz said, "to January 1966, the student pool rose steadily from 74,000 to 106,000. Then, this pool was reduced by 2,000 in one month."

High School Band Set For San Antonio

On Saturday, April 23, the Santa Anna High School Mountain Band, now sporting 55 members, will journey to San Antonio. The band will represent the Mountain City on Saturday night in the famous Fiesta Flambeau Parade. This is one of the many parades of the annual Fiesta San Jacinto. It is the largest lighted parade in the world.

The band, along with chaperones, will leave Saturday, April 23rd, by chartered busses, to spend a day sightseeing in San Antonio. They will spend the night in San Antonio and journey home Sunday.

The band is holding its annual candy sales for the next two weeks in order to raise funds for chartered busses for this trip. "See any Band member for the best candies ever," said Band Director Fred Gray.

The Fiesta Flambeau Parade, lasting some four hours, is one of the most colorful events in the three day Fiesta celebration. It is estimated that 75,000 people watched the parade last year.

The Band Boosters organization is presently raising funds with which to replace the uniform hats. Anyone wishing to contribute to this fund may see any Band Booster.

Plans were made for senior 4H girls to meet twice a month for programs on grooming, clothing selection, wardrobe planning, posture, and care of clothing. Field trips after school is out will include a trip to Dallas to tour the Nieman-Marcus Store. Their first meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, April 5.

Figures On Employment Revealed In Survey At Santa Anna Medical Center

According to a report recently released by the Santa Anna Medical Center—the three units of the Center—clinic, hospital, and nursing home—now employ a total of 58 persons, with a payroll each month of $9,500.

Of the total of 58 employees, 30 are employed in Santa Anna Hospital and Clinic, with the remaining 28 workers at Ranger Park Inn nursing home. "When we are able to complete the modern units for the new hospital and clinic," said a spokesman for Santa Anna Medical Center, "we will increase the Richard Horner, who sells Premier gasoline to anyone who will buy some, had a problem the other day. Seems one of the cow critters out at his farm had gotten itself bogged down in a pond, and Richard had to go out and get it loose. Richard used to be the Enco dealer, but instead of having a tiger in his tank anymore, now he has a cow in his tank.

Our little four year old niece went with her folks for a visit with her great uncle, who has a truck farm at Bowie. She was intrigued with the large cellar where the vegetables are stored until they are ready for market.

She was reporting on her trip to her grandfather, following her return home. "Uncle Charlie," she said, "has a grocery store under the ground on his farm!"

The political season has struck in full force hereabouts. We heard of one local lady who got into quite a heated argument with two male advocates of the other side. She finally got in the last word, as the ladies usually do: "I may not be able to lick you," she said angrily, "but I bet I can lick your wives!"

In other days, it was small boys who would say "My dad can lick your dad." Now maybe the wives are getting into the act.

A pair of beatnik types were sitting on a dock in the Everglades area of Florida, with their feet in the water.

"Hey, man," said one of the cool ones, "an alligator just bit off one of my feet."

"Is that right?" said the other, "Which one?"

"Who knows, man," was the reply, "when you've seen one alligator, you've seen 'em all."

We understand the "wets" over in Coleman have a new motto: "If at first you don't succeed, dry, dry again."

March, in this part of the country, isn't following the script. It came in like a lion, and it's going out like a lion too.

Which is a heck of a note in sheep country.

An Indian chief left his reservation in Nevada to try his luck in Las Vegas. Things didn't go too well, and he soon found himself short of money. So he went up to a high hill outside town and sent a smoke signal back to the reservation for more cash.

The Indians weren't too happy about the chief squandering the tribal funds on roulette, so they signalled back to ask what the money was to be used for. About that time, an atomic bomb test was set off at the testing area near Las Vegas, with its huge mushroom cloud. Came the answer back from the reservation: "Okay, okay, you don't have to shout!"

Pierre Rowe says he will hate to see the political season end. He'll have to start buying his own coffee again.

Pierre was telling the other day about the time he found a skunk between the radiator and grill of his car one morning. He couldn't dislodge the animal, so he drove the car to the gin, to let the braintrust there ponder the problem. Don Pritchard solved the dilemma. He grabbed one of the gin's carbon dioxide fire extinguishers. The carbon dioxide coming out of one of these contraptions is very cold, so he stuck the nozzle down near the trespassing skunk and turned on the valve. Before long he had a quickfrozen skunk, which he safely lifted out.

We wonder if the engineer that designed that apparatus would have guessed that his invention would end up frosting a skunk?

We've heard of cool cats, but this was the first cool polecat to come to our attention.

What Is The Committee For Truth and Common Sense

The Committee For Truth And Common Sense is a group of Santa Anna people who have joined together to support the campaign for reelection to the Santa Anna City Council of Calvin Campbell, O. A. Etheredge, and Ben Yarborough, because they feel that the future of our city will be determined by the results of next Tuesday's vote. They are giving of their time, effort, and money—not because the three candidates asked them to, they didn't; not because they hope to gain from the election personally, they won't; but because they believe that the future of Santa Anna depends on the election of men who can lead the city, of men who have no personal axes to grind.

They want the best for their city. Will you join them by voting for Calvin Campbell, O. A. Etheredge, and Ben Yarborough on Tuesday, April 5?

Beyond the Blossoms

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When the buds burst into fragile flower, and their breath is everywhere, and a warming breeze caresses the cold, damp earth . . . this is more than Spring. This is the time of Promise.

For these same festive branches shall lift a precious burden of fruit when the red-gold mantle of harvest falls across the land.

When human souls awaken to the reveille of faith, and hymns and prayers fill the arches of heaven, and the warmth of an ageless hope reaches from heart to heart . . . this is more than Lent.

For the faith which blossoms today will bear its own precious fruit. Love! Joy! Peace! The harvest of souls like yours and mine is beginning anew to grow.

How Important Is TRUTH?

Do You Want Elected Officials You Cannot Believe?

For Their Own Selfish Purposes, A Group Here In Santa Anna Are Trying To Convince Voters That They Should Switch From The Experienced Councilmen Now In Office To A Group Of Three Candidates With Little Or No Experience In City Government. In Their Campaign, They Have Found It Necessary To Use Lies, Mistruths, And Half Truths, A Few Of Which Are Listed Below. Is This The Type Of Councilman You Want Representing You?

Mistruth Number 1: $4,000 For City Taxes?

One of the leaders of the movements to unseat the three incumbent Councilmen told a prospective voter that if the three incumbents stayed in office, her city taxes, on her dwelling, would be from "$3.00 to $4.00." No taxpayers in the city, including businesses, pay this much tax, and it is more than the value of the property concerned. Actually, the bond issue will have no effect on taxes, according to state law. Don't be fooled!

Mistruth Number 2: Health Or Conscience?

One of the stories being circulated says that the reason Mr. Joe Baker is not serving as election judge is because he was asked to condone crooked election practices. Mr. Baker's comment on this story: "Hogwash!" As many people know, Mr. Baker is recuperating from a serious illness, is not taking part on doctor's orders. Even a sick man is not immune to the lie machine.

Mistruth Number 3: Sale Or Donation?

The opposition group is spreading the story that the site of Ranger Park Inn was 'given away' by the City. They could have learned the truth by checking the files in the County Clerk's office. But they don't seem much interested in the truth.

Mistruth Number 4: This Is Economy?

Those trying to get onto the City Council state that they are interested in civic economy, yet their group has cost the people of Santa Anna thousands of dollars in legal fees by the foolish fight against the results of the bond election.

Mistruth Number 5: Tax And Revenue Differ

Those opposing the present city government keep on telling people that the bond issue will raise their taxes. They must not know much about city government if they confuse revenue bonds (like those to be issued by Santa Anna) which cannot, by law, be paid from taxes, with other types of bonds. Either they don't know, or they don't want to know, neither of which is very good in someone who wants to run the city affairs.

Mistruth Number 6: The Magic Trick

The group trying to take over City Hall promises all sorts of special programs, and at the same time, takes a stand for more economy in city government. Don't they know you can't get something for nothing, or do they think they can fool the voters with wild promises?

Mistruth Number 7: A Change Of Heart?

Younger men should run the city, say those trying to take over the City Council, yet they fail to mention that one of their candidates was elected to the City Council, and then resigned. Or that another was asked on two different occasions to serve, and refused, saying he was not qualified. The voters can judge for themselves the motives behind their current desires to be elected.

Mistruth Number 8: On Providing Jobs

The group that plans to take over your city talks about providing more jobs for Santa Anna people. Yet by blocking the start of the water and sewer projects, they have blocked jobs for more than 75 Santa Annans. Which speaks louder in this case, words or actions?

Mistruth Number 9: This Is Cooperation?

"We believe the citizens of Santa Anna can and will work and cooperate with one another," says the campaign material of those trying to take over the city. Yet their bitter opposition to progress, their refusal to reason and cooperate, has caused more dissension than anything in the history of our city. They are willing to cooperate, as long as they have their way.

Mistruth Number 10: The Solid Gold Sewer Line

Did you know that if the sewer project goes through, it will cost homeowners $300 per foot for their connecting lines? Stupid? Sure, but this is what the group that is trying to take over our city have been telling people, particularly elderly people on pensions. At prices like that, we should all become plumbers. Could you feel secure with representatives of this group running your city government, spending your tax money?

ABRAHAM LINCOLN Said: "You can fool all of the people part of the time, and part of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." DON'T BE FOOLED—

On Switching Horses

Santa Anna area voters will be called upon to exercise the privilege of American citizenship by voting at least four times during the remainder of 1966. They will go to the polls this coming Saturday to choose two members of the Board of Trustees of the Santa Anna Independent School District. The following Tuesday, Santa Anna voters will cast ballots for the three men who will guide their civic affairs on the Santa Anna City Council. In May, the voters, at least those who are of the Democratic Party faith, will select their standardbearers in the party primary, and in the runoff primary, if needed. And the grand finale will come in November, with the general election, even though there is really only one important race on the November slate—the one that will match United States Senator John Tower against his Democratic Party opponent.

The voters will have a lot of decisions to make during the next several months. During the hotly contested 1960 Presidential campaign, between John Kennedy and Richard Nixon—probably one of the most widely publicized campaigns in history, a businessman in an East Texas county seat city was driving toward town after a trip into the countryside, when he noticed a farmer he knew walking to town. The businessman gave the farmer a lift, and to make conversation, since the election, which was only a few days off, was the principal subject on everyone's mind, asked his friend if he was planning to vote. Receiving an affirmative reply, he asked who the man favored for President. "Don't know," was the reply, "Who's running?" The businessman was amazed at this answer. "If you don't know who's running, how will you know who to vote for?" he asked. "Oh, I'll just ask some of the guys around the polling place on election day who's the best man," was the reply, "And that's who I'll vote for."

This is an extreme example, but it is the way many of us sometimes tend to choose the candidates for whom we vote. We forget, sometimes, that the right to vote is a sacred privilege, worthy of our best efforts to get the facts before we vote.

As a matter of policy, The Santa Anna News does not recommend individual candidates, unless the paper is convinced that the opponent of an endorsed candidate is basically dishonest, or unacceptable for some other moral reason. None of the persons running in the four elections listed earlier fits that category, so the paper will endorse no individual candidates.

There is one point that should be remembered by all voters, and that is the basic dangers of switching horses in midstream (or anywhere else, for that matter) without good and serious reason. If we hire someone, we prefer someone with experience. Likewise, you do not fire someone with experience just to give an inexperienced man a job.

So let's study the candidates well, and vote for those we honestly feel will do the best job of conducting the public's business—our business.

"I NEED YOUR HELP!"

LETTERS

Editor:

I recently read a paper put out by the Ford-McCrory-Bowker group in the city election, which stated 11 points on which, I suppose, they base their campaign for city council seats. Before I could answer that proclamation, they issued another 11 point program. I don't know if they plan to issue a new program every week between now and the election or not. In fact I wonder if they would change every so often if elected. I feel such changeability would bankrupt any city if those in charge of things had such varied programs.

The first point of the new program states that they, and their backers too, I assume, are for any and all businesses or institutions now in Santa Anna. Are these the same people that have fought every effort by a local doctor to build a medical center here? Didn't most of those that support this ticket vote against the recent bond election for water and sewer improvements? Aren't the majority of them still fighting this issue? A junior college probably would be here had it not been for the hassle over the bond issue. They fail to come out for the businesses and institutions, they simply aren't opposed to them.

Their actions nullify point two. I simply can't understand why they say they are for needed bond issues, when every citizen knows what has taken place so far. Point three is a repetition of the same.

Point four is invalid, since the city books clearly show the city to be in excellent shape financially.

In point five, they deplore that nothing has been done for our young people. What have they done as individuals to help them?

In point six, they propose to spend "a large amount of money" to try to get industry here. I thought they were thrifty a minute ago. What industry would move to a town where people fought any attempt by the city to furnish adequate water and sewer facilities?

In point seven they deplore some more. This time it is decreased population. Aren't they aware that nearly every small town in the USA has decreased in size? Some have completely vanished. Seventy percent of the population now lives in large urban complexes.

Point eight mentions vacant buildings downtown. I don't know of a city that doesn't have them.

Point nine states that, if elected, they will keep the people informed of their actions. The present council has done that all along. I honestly thought the challengers' supporters were for secretive type meetings.

Points 10 and 11 are beyond me. I fail to see any connection of these two remarks with the council race.

In conclusion, I would like to solicit a positive statement from the Ford-McCrory-Bowker slate as to how they stand in regard to the recent bond election, present city employees, and what they think of a few local citizens taking continued action in various courts that, to date, has cost the taxpayers of this city more than two thousand dollars of their money in defense of said action.

I sincerely wish that there were some way for all the people to discard the bitterness and animosity that has evolved during recent months, and work and live together in peace and harmony.

Sincerely,
Ben Garrett

Santa Anna has a fully accredited, fully integrated, twelve grade school system. Operation Headstart will be offered again this summer for pre-schoolers for eight weeks. The high school offers, in addition to English and history, six courses in math, four business courses, three years of agriculture, three years of home economics, four years of science, and two years of Spanish. The school participates in Class 1A sports, has a uniformed band, and participates in interscholastic literary events. Seven buses bring the area children to school and the lunchroom provides hot lunches and milk for students and teachers. The overall teacher-pupil load is in accordance with state regulations. There is a high school gym, shop room, and science laboratory. Three new government programs—Language Improvement, Library Improvement and Neighborhood Youth Corp Work—enable the school system to extend its services to the students in areas many locally tax-supported schools cannot afford. Without interfering in any way with the regular teaching program, the high school has been able to teach occasional post-graduates who need business courses or other subjects thereby extending education into the adult level.

State Capitol NEWS

Texas has 615,000 new voters as a result of the March 3 through March 17 free registration period.

Turnout was six times larger than state officials had predicted and could be an indicator of a dawning new era in Texas politics.

More than half the total came from four big counties—Harris with an estimated 100,000 Dallas with 96,017; Bexar with 88,100; and Tarrant with 50,662.

Gubernatorial candidate Stanley C. Woods and two members of the State Democratic Executive Committee are attempting to intervene in the Federal court action resulting from the poll tax suit and force reopening of the registration period. They are urging the court to allow registration up until 30 days before each election.

Attorney General Waggoner Carr is strongly opposing the motion—arguing that all Texans interested in voting this year had ample opportunity to sign up during the 15 day period provided by the legislature.

Federal judges have promised a decision—after they review evidence—on whether the period should be lengthened.

Carr has submitted a 7,500 page report (including 3,500 newspaper articles from 500 Texas newspapers) to support his claim that everybody who wants to vote got a chance to qualify.

APRIL ALLOWABLE RAISED

Texas Railroad Commission, at a time when oil demand usually lightens, has raised statewide oil allowable for April to 33.7 percent of potential.

Increase was the seventh straight monthly boost. Only once before in the last 20 years has April-allowable been higher than March.

New allowable permits maximum production of 3,199,550 barrels a day. March operation is under 33.2 percent of potential factor, permitting production of 3,170,316 barrels daily.

FEDERAL FUNDS

Texans hope to have eight new programs approved by the Federal government by April 1, to launch a venture to promote technical services for business and industry.

Under the State Technical Services Act of 1965, programs approved by the United States Department of Commerce would make available new scientific and technological discoveries to inquiring businesses, industries, and commercial enterprises.

Texas now is seeking $144,000 for the last quarter of this year to get the requested programs started at Texas Women's University, University of Texas, Texas A&M University and Southern Methodist University.

Federal funds fully support these planning programs.

These eight fields have been suggested in proposals submitted to the Commerce Department.

TEXAS A&M—Training formation specialists, chemical engineer workshop, electronic corporation managers, primary metal industry and petroleum industry workshops.

University of Texas—Continuing education for engineers.

Southern Methodist: Technical information services, north Texas.

Texas Women's University—Activation analysis workshop.

DRAFT QUOTA DOWN

Colonel Morris S. Shwartz, State Selective Service director, says 979 men will be called to fill the April draft quota. This is the lowest call since August, 1965.

Monthly calls in the period from September through March ranged from a low of 1,068 to a high of 1,523.

Preinduction physical and mental examinations will be given to 3,005 men during April. This also is a reduction from March when 5,515 were tested.

During the same period, he said men classified as students rose from 85,000 to 104,000. At the end of January, there were 106,000 men classified 2-S as students.

EDUCATION COMMISSIONER NAMED

Dr. Jack Kenney Williams, Clemson University dean and academic vice president, is Texas' new Commissioner of Higher Education, at a $40,000 a year salary.

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, unanimously selected Dr. Williams, offering him $15,000 more than the Governor makes. Some $17,500 of the total salary will come from private foundations or from members of the coordinating board itself. On August 1, Dr. Williams will assume his farranging duties—coordinating activities and planning of 22 state supported senior colleges and universities and 32 public junior colleges.

Board set hearings for April 4 on staff recommendations for new role and scope of state educational institutions to overhaul and strengthen the system. Final decision is due April 18. East Texas State University is protesting proposed loss of its doctoral programs and reduction to college classification. Texas Southern University wants to hang onto its law school which the Board staff feels should be eliminated.

After requesting an attorney general's opinion on its responsibilities to pass on college buildings financed by general revenue, Board approved $1,800,000 library addition for Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville, and endorsed purchase of Rosemont Apartments and land by Angelo State College, San Angelo, for $350,000. Apartments are being used for student housing.

IMPORTANT ADDITION

Securities Commissioner William M. King believes a recent decision by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals is an important addition to the sale of Securities.

Court held that misrepresentation of material facts in offering securities for sale is a crime under penal provision of the Texas Securities Act.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor John Connally has announced approval of Community Action Program grants for El Paso ($246,988), Dallas ($46,905), Waelder ($21,915), and Lockett ($649).

Texas Water Pollution Control Board will send a representative to the Rio Grande Valley to consult on cleaning up the Arroyo Colorado Watershed from the Harlingen area to the Gulf of Mexico.

Autos must have safety checks by April 15 inspection deadline and Department of Public Safety says more than 1,300,000 cars still are to be inspected.

Attorney General Carr has announced recovery of $4,830 in judgments from two defendants for allegedly operating slanted oil well in Upshur County.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports that February retail sales for the state were up three percent over February, 1965.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read John 6:63-69

We believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the Living God. (John 6:69)

Those who knew Colonel David Carnegie, a respected citizen of our land, considered him a man of sterling character. In a press report after David Carnegie's death, the general manager of the great business in which David was his deputy summed up the real secret of David's life. He said: "No one believed more firmly that this is God's world to be enjoyed to the utmost. David's belief in the Gospels and in the Hereafter was staunch and true."

In other words, David Carnegie was sustained by his unshakable faith in Christ and in the life eternal. These are the main beliefs of the Christian. We, who are God's creatures, cannot but believe in Him who gave His Son to die for us. That Christ should have suffered and died for our sins fills us with humble amazement.

The Christian gives first place to a firm belief in the redeeming power of Christ's sacrifice. Life becomes spiritually rewarding as he meditates daily on the wonderful love of Jesus, the Son of God.

PRAYER:

We thank Thee, dear Father, for believers who served Thee on earth and are now inheriting Thy promises. Grant to us also the joy and peace they experienced in believing. In His name we pray. Amen.

To The Voters Of Santa Anna

Leaders of the group trying to take over in Santa Anna have said that if they do not win in the election next Tuesday, they will immediately file an election contest suit! Is this what they mean when they say they are in favor of saving money for the taxpayers? The taxpayers of this city have lost thousands of dollars because of the foolish fight these people have made against the bond election. Is this what they mean when they say that the citizens of Santa Anna should "work and cooperate with one another"?

Think these things over. And remember, Santa Anna, along with all other smaller communities, is facing a time of crisis. It will either progress and grow, or it will die. Your vote next Tuesday, April 5, could be the one that will make the choice between progress of death for Santa Anna. This is an important responsibility. Don't take chances. Vote for men you know you can trust. Vote for Calvin Campbell, O. A. Etheredge, and Ben Yarberough.
