Grain Harvest Peaks; Yield Is Good

Dear Kid:

Today you asked me for a job. From the look of your shoulders as you walked out, I suspect you've been turned down before, and maybe you believe by now that kids out of high school can't find work.

But, I hired a teenager today. You saw him. He was the one with polished shoes and a necktie. What was so special about him? Not experience, neither you had any. It was his attitude put him on the payroll instead of you. Attitude, son. A-T-T-I-T-U-D-E. He wanted that job badly enough to shuck the leather jacket, get a haircut, and look in the phone book to find out what this company makes. He did his best to impress me. That's where he edged you out.

You see, Kid, people who hire people aren't "with" alot of things. We know more about Bing than about Ringo, and we have some Stone-Age ideas about who owes whom a living. Maybe that makes us prehistoric, but there's nothing wrong with the checks we sign, and if you want one you'd better tune to our wave length.

Ever hear of "empathy"? It's the trick of seeing the other fellow's side of things. I couldn't have cared less that you're behind in your car payments. That's your problem, and President Johnson's. What I needed was someone who'd go out in the plant, keep his eyes open, and work for me like he'd work for himself. If you have even the vaguest idea of what I'm trying to say, let it show the next time you ask for a job. You'll be head and shoulders over the rest.

Look kid: The only time jobs grew on trees was while most of the manpower was wearing G. I.'s and pulling K. P. For all the rest of history you've had to get a job like you get a girl: "Case" the situation, wear a clean shirt, and try to appear reasonably willing.

Maybe jobs aren't as plentiful right now, but a lot of us can remember when master craftsmen walked the streets. By comparison you don't know the meaning of "scarce."

You may not believe it, but all around you employers are looking for young men smart enough to go after a job in the old-fashioned way. When they find one, they can't wait to unload some of their worries on him.

For both our sakes, get eager, will you?

COURT FAVORS COLEMAN COUNTY IN DISPUTED BOUNDARY CASE

Coleman County won its boundary dispute with Callahan and Taylor counties in a decision handed down by the 11th Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland.

The suit was brought last year after a discovery that the supposedly common boundaries of the three counties did not coincide.

Centering around 400-800 feet along the Coleman - Callahan line and slightly less than that between Coleman and Taylor County, the dispute may be appealed to the Texas Supreme Court.

Taylor County Atty. Jim Jeffrey and Callahan County Atty. James Paul Shanks are now considering an appeal.

Chief Justice Clyde Grissom wrote the Eastland decision affirming Coleman's version of the common boundary as the correct one.

Harvesting of wheat and oats in the local trade area hit its peak one day last week when about 10,000 bushels of grain was received at each of the two elevators here.

Pierre Rowe, manager of the Santa Anna Co-Op Elevator, stated that the peak was hit about the middle of last week, and up until Monday afternoon the firm had received approximately 56,000 bushels of wheat. This represents 3,375,000 pounds or 27 cars.

The firm has received a considerably less amount of oats, only about 5 to 6 cars. Rowe says the oats this year are very poor in quality as well as quantity, averaging only about 20 bushels per acre.

Wheat yields are greater than had been anticipated with a few crops making as high as 35 bushels, while the average is estimated at 15 over the area. Going price on wheat Monday was $1.68, and oats were bringing 65c.

Elevator managers estimate that the harvest in this area is about three-fourths over.

Rowe believes that more wheat has been shipped out of Santa Anna this year than any year in the past.

B. C. Smith, manager of Continental grain here, said his firm hit a peak last Saturday when 6,000 bushel of wheat and 4,000 bushel of oats were handled.

At noon Monday, Continental had received about 3,000,000 pounds of wheat, or 50,000 bushels. Oats received amounted to 27,000 bushels or 864,000 pounds.

Market price of wheat has been up and down, according to Rowe, opening at $1.65 and dropping to as much as 23 cents below the current price of $1.69.

Coleman Gas Co. Sold To Lone Star

Coleman Gas Company today announced the signing of a contract with Lone Star Gas Company for the sale of all gas producing, transmission and distribution properties of Coleman Gas Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Coleman Producing Company.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. York visited last Wednesday at Abilene with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Whitley attended funeral services in Coleman Sunday afternoon for her uncle, Mr. Oscar Watson. The Watson family lived near Trickham for a number of years. Our sympathy goes out to his children.

I for one am certainly glad Mr. Greggs is back in the News office. So many in my community dropped their subscription (can't say I blamed anyone though), but now let's all get in the groove if we want a local paper and help our editor out, and please remember us correspondents. We can't do anything without your help. I appreciate your news and would be glad to renew your paper.

Drive to Erect New Building At West Texas Boys Ranch Begins

Joe Vander Stucken, President of West Texas Boys Ranch, has announced the appointment of Bill Neil as general chairman of the Ranch Building Fund Drive to build a new gymnasium to replace the recreational facilities destroyed by fire. Neil, President and General manager of KGKL radio, has set a goal of $58,750 by September 1st.

"Support will be sought in the entire area served by the Ranch," Neil said. "We hope to obtain co-chairmen for the El Paso, Lubbock and Midland-Odessa areas also." The goal is based on architectural estimates for a new building to house a gymnasium and maintenance shops plus a stage, athletic equipment storage space, and student council store. The proposed building, of fireproof steel and concrete construction, will be built on the site of the recently burned rec hall, Vander Stucken said.

"We are pleased that Mr. Neil has accepted this responsibility for the Ranch, and we are confident that with his enthusiasm and demonstrated leadership he will do a wonderful job for the boys."

Most of the donations received since the fire have already been used to replace the new dorm furniture, athletic equipment, and hand tools lost in the fire. Hand and power tools for the maintenance shop are also included in the building fund goal of $58,750. Vander Stucken continued. "It has been very gratifying to me the way San Angelo has gotten behind the Ranch in their time of need and I am confident that with their continued support and that of the 60 counties served by the Ranch we will be ready to build by September 1st," Neil concluded. The recreation hall and shop building burned to the ground the night of May 19th destroying all of the boys athletic equipment, the new dorm furniture, linen supplies, and all the hand and power maintenance tools of the Ranch.

Let all your views be directed to a solid, however moderate, independence; without it no man can be happy, nor even honest.—Junius.

Eugene E. White Returns From Duty In Viet Nam Area

Navy Ensign Edward E. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom White of 305 Ave. B, Santa Anna, has returned from Viet Nam waters to San Diego, California, aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga, ending seven months of combat operations as a unit of the Seventh Fleet in the South China Sea.

While on station off the coast of Viet Nam, attack aircraft from his ship flew over 10,000 combat missions in 115 days.

The 22-year-old 42,000-ton carrier emerged from yard overhaul in San Francisco prior to deploying to the Western Pacific to support American and South Vietnamese ground forces, and launch strike sorties against selected targets in North Viet Nam.

Tips About Health & Safety

(SUNSCREENS)
From Americal Medical Assn.
With the return of warm, sunny days, millions of Americans are once again toasting exposed skin at the beach, beside the pool, in the backyard, almost anywhere out of doors. Many of the sunbathers are using one of the sunscreen lotions and creams that are now readily available, in an effort to acquire a tan with a minimum of burning and discomfort.

Actually, your doctor will tell you that suntanning has little or no beneficial effect on your health. Excessive tanning can cause premature aging and wrinkling of the skin, and can be the trigger that brings about skin cancer. But, if you insist on tanning, you will be interested in some facts on sunscreen lotions and creams.

Sunscreen are chemicals which absorb various wave lengths of ultra violet rays to various degrees. They do not shut out all radiation, else you would never tan. Among the most effective sunscreens are some long, technical names — para-aminobenzolic acid and its derivatives, the salicylates, and a digalloyl trioleate compound. Read the label to be sure the product you select is a sunscreen.

Apply the sunscreen product at least every two hours, after each swim, and whenever the protecting film may have rubbed off. Give vulnerable areas such as neck, shoulders and nose a double dose.

Also available are artificial suntan lotions which produce a color change on the skin simulating a natural tan. It is important to realize that artificial suntan products do not provide protection against sunburn unless they also incorporate a sun-screening agent.

Lubricate the skin to help prevent excessive drying effects of the sun. Apply an emollient cream or lotion before retiring.

Even more important than use of lotions or creams is the exercise of common sense: Don't stay in the sun too long.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Vanderford were Josh Vanderford of Fort Worth, Mrs. Henry Stuart and Mrs. Mattie Stuart of Coleman, Mrs. Dale Bertram of Mendota, California, Mrs. Ray Gardner and her mother, Mrs. John Faught of Coleman.

State Historical Survey Committee Sees Tour of Early-day Outposts

Pursuant to the study which is being made by the Texas State Legislative Council on the possibility of restoring important forts and missions in Texas, the committee which has been assigned to supervise the study has called a three-day meeting for the purpose of examining the methods of procedure and the restoration possibilities.

Members of the committee are Representatives Gene Hendryx, Chairman, Grant Jones, R. G. Pendleton, Richard C. Slack, and Senator J. P. Word. They will be joined by John Ben Sheppard of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee; Glenn Biggs, who will represent the Speaker; Will Odom, Chairman of the Parks and Wildlife Commission; members of the Texas Highway Commission; Richard West, research associate with the Texas Legislative Council; and two members of the press.

The group will be hosts to and recipients of the advice of Architect Charles Pope representing the United States Department of the Interior, Department of National Park Service. The Department of the Interior has pledged its cooperation and direct participation in this important project, having assigned Mr. Pope and Historian Don Rickey, Jr. as consultants to the committee and its research associate.

In calling this meeting Mr. Hendryx commented: "We are very fortunate to have this group of men assist us in this study and we feel that this meeting will affect vitally the course of action of the committee in its desire to accomplish the purposes of the men who envisioned this undertaking."

The itinerary of the committee and its guests from June 23 through June 25 will be:

Thursday, June 23
Arrive in Mexia and visit Fort Parker. Often called Parker's Fort it was built in 1834 to protect families from Comanche and Caddo Indian attacks. It was here in 1836 that Cynthia Ann Parker was kidnaped after Indians killed three members of the founding Parker family. A replica of Fort Parker was built in 1936 by the state.

Arrive in Mineral Wells and drive to Fort Richardson. This was the northern most fort built in the state after the Civil War to protect Texans from Indian raids. Interesting buildings include a guardhouse with a stone roof so constructed that no supports are necessary.

Arrive in Albany and see Fort Griffin and the Fort Griffin Fandangle. Fort Griffin was a vital link in the military chain along the Texas frontier. The last of the great cattle trails, The Western, was at times called the Fort Griffin-Dodge City Trail because of the importance of the post. Across the highway Fort Griffin State Park is the home of many of Texas' long-horn cattle.

The Fandangle is a western theater spectacle written, directed and presented by Albany citizens that attempts to portray different phases of pioneer life. The Fandangle is history set to music using raucous cowboy ballads and tender love songs to express frontier life.

Friday, June 24
Arrive at Fort Chabourne and see the fort remains. This U.S. military post was built in 1852 and guarded an important Butterfield Overland Mail Station until being turned over to Texas at the beginning of the Civil War. U.S. troops reoccupied the fort from 1865-1867 when it was finally abandoned.

Arrive at San Angelo and visit Fort Concho. This fort was the center of a line of posts from El Paso to Northeast Texas and part of the southern chain to the mouth of the Rio Grande. Among its important duties was scouting, picketing the mail road and escorting mail coaches. Many of its stone buildings still stand and others have been restored through the cooperative efforts of civic organizations.

Arrive in Menard and visit Fort McKavett and Presidio San Saba. Fort McKavett, a one-time center for operations against the Indians, was built

Miss Orabeth Henderson, Bride-elect Of Terry McIver, Honored at Tea

A bridal tea honoring Miss Orabeth Henderson, bride-elect of Terry McIver, was held from 4 to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 11, in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church with the Woman's Society of Christian Service as hostess.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Tom Mills, aunt of the bride-elect.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Hardy Blue, grandmother of the honoree; Orabeth Henderson, bride-elect; Mrs. Oran Henderson, mother of bride-elect; and Mrs. Grady McIver, mother of the groom-to-be.

Mrs. Edna Henderson of Comanche, honoree's grandmother, Mrs. S. L. Cannon, in 1852 in a deep amphitheater on the west side of the San Saba River. In the mid-1870's six companies of troops, four of them Negro, were stationed to guard the frontier. Today, Fort McKavett has 17 buildings that aren't rubble, more than any other fort.

Presidio San Saba was built in April, 1757, to protect San Saba de las Cruz Mission. In 1759 the Presidio's 400 residents withstood a withering attack by Comanches which finally forced the residents to move the mission south of the Rio Grande.

Saturday, June 25
Arrive in San Antonio Friday night and Saturday morning visit San Juan Capistrano. The Spanish missions were the first civilizing influences reaching the Indians and thus became Texas' first industrial and agricultural schools. Construction began in 1731 on San Juan and the building exemplifies simplicity with its three plain arches highlighting the main chapel.

Arrive in Victoria and drive to Goliad and visit La Bahia Mission. Found in 1722 by the Aguayo Expedition on Matagorda Bay, the Mission served the Cocco, Cujane and Karankawa Indians in the area. Dissolution began in 1812 when many of the Indians deserted the mission and joined the Gutierrez-Magee Expedition. The mission was secularized in 1830 and is presently being restored.

great-grandmother of bride-elect, and Mrs. Keetie Haynes, grandmother of groom-to-be, attended and greeted guests.

Guests were directed to the tea table by Mrs. Doyne McIver; and Mrs. William C. Spencer of Abilene, cousin of the honoree, and Mrs. Jennie Ladd displayed the gifts.

Piano selections were rendered by Joyce Weathers and Jay Lynn Moseley.

Mrs. Roy Haynes presided at the registration table, which was laid with a white cut-work cloth and green and white arrangements.

Miss Barrett Markland and Mrs. Bobby Weathers ladeled punch. The table was laid with a white linen cut-work cloth and a carnation arrangement centered the table. Appointments were crystal and silver.

Members serving in the house party were Miss E. Lee Harper, Mrs. Tom Haynes, Mrs. O. L. Cheaney, Mrs. Dale Smith and Mrs. James L. Harris.

Mrs. Vanderford had lunch in Coleman Sunday with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rip Mayo, Chris and Cynthia. After luncheon guests were Mrs. Ruby Pritchard of Santa Anna and Rev. Robert Brandt and Miss Kitty Price of Fort Worth.

State Board of Insurance is disturbed over the "growing tendency" of some insurance companies to cancel out or refuse to renew auto coverage on certain classes of drivers.

At its mid-week (June 15) rate hearing, Board debated whether it should ask for new legislation or put into effect new administrative regulations to deal with the situation.

Board Chairman Wm. Hunter McLean said more and more drivers are being forced into higher-cost "assigned risk plan" coverage because of "unwillingness of companies to voluntarily issue insurance to young drivers, older drivers and drivers with poor driving records."

Another insurance rate boost is anticipated due to increasing accidents, injuries and traffic deaths, and higher repair and hospital costs. Rates were upped 13.4 percent in 1965.

McLean placed these among items for consideration at the mid-week meeting:

• Revival of a "penalty system" based on number of accidents and serious traffic violations in figuring rates. A version of the system was abandoned four years ago after a brief trial and strong public opposition.

• Alteration of the assigned risk plan to force all companies to take a proportionate share of "sub-standard" risk coverage.

• Action to curb mass cancellation due to class, age, territory or agency and individual cancellations of policies of those who have no record of accidents or moving traffic violations.

• Request for more uniform traffic regulations and enforcement procedures from county to county.

• Modifications in methods of classifying drivers.

Board wants to find a way to "avoid further 'drying up' of the insurance market," emphasized McLean.

Companies writing auto insurance in Texas lost $13,000,000 last year on the coverage. McLean calculated earned premiums at $417,200,000, net premiums at $388,000,000, losses at $233,200,000, loss settlement, adjustment and litigation expenses at $42,600,000 and company "expenses" at $125,000,000.

He termed "an all-out, effective traffic accident prevention program" the state's "single greatest need."

McLean said he would urge the insurance industry to take the lead in "bringing safety to our streets and highways."

NEW TAXES? — A state tax rate boost next year is inevitable, according to House Speaker Ben Barnes.

He predicted the 60th Legislature will "definitely face tax legislation."

Barnes declared that increasing cost of education alone will "require additional monies raised by taxes." Forty-eight percent of every dollar paid to the state goes to education, he noted.

In a brief preview of his own ideas for legislative action, Barnes said he will ask an increase in juvenile parole officers to help curb teenage crime. He noted a study committee is exploring possible need of legislation dealing with obscene and pornographic publications.

STATE PAY BOOST FAVOR-ED — Three state officials with most influence over the Legislature are united in pledging high priority backing for a "substantial" state employees' pay boost in 1967.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Barnes made strong public commitments to that effect last week. Gov. John Connally earlier had stated that a salary boost for the 44,000 state workers will be "one of (his) strongest recommendations to the next Legislature."

Texas Public Employees' Association has agreed generally on a revision plan which would cost about $70,000,000 overall for the next biennium — $21,000,000 from general revenue. This would mean something like eight percent more for lower bracket employees up to 25 percent more for higher echelons.

School teachers are pushing hard for a "national average" pay level, but Connally and Barnes indicate they think the state employees are in greater need.

higher. As an illustration, there are more than a million teenage baby sitters, according to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"Project Talent," a nationwide survey of youth's capabilities by the University of Pittsburgh, has made some interesting discoveries.

For example, fewer than one in 10 high school students depends entirely on an allowance for regular spending money. But one in four high school boys earns all his spending money with a regular job.

Many more earn money on a regular basis doing neighborhood and community chores, while most youngsters depend on some combination of the three — family help, chore money and job money — to meet their spending requirements.

Teenagers find a wide variety of jobs to do, ranging from camp counselors and lifeguards to waitresses, office helpers, and sales clerks. Most employers find them diligent and hard-working. In fact, many hold down the same job summer after summer.

The fact that teenagers are successful in their job-seeking is shown by these projections from employment officials: By 1970, teenagers are expected to earn $21 billion, an increase from $10 billion in 1960.

Teenagers Earn More Money Today

The American teenager has become unusually adept at finding paying jobs, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

The U.S. Labor Department says that one out of two young people between the ages of 16 and 21 are formally employed in the work force.

The number of informal work situations teenagers can find, however, raises this ratio much

INDUSTRIAL PROSPECTS

... a must in Economic Development

Obtaining leads on industries that might locate in a community is one of the hardest parts of any sound economic development program. The lack of an industrial prospecting program that produces several leads may cause serious mistakes by a community in financing or other endeavors to attract unsound or unattractive industry. A community needs a well balanced program, combining all the techniques and utilizing all of the sources that will give it increased effectiveness and chances for real success.

LOCAL PEOPLE AS A SOURCE OF INDUSTRIAL PROSPECTS — usually provide a sound reason or give the community a competitive advantage in attracting the industry.

— BUSINESSMEN — should ask the company representatives they buy from if the company needs additional manufacturing facilities to serve this market area, also, service stations, restaurants and motel people can ask their customers.

— CITIZENS — who know someone that works for an industry should inquire if that industry might be interested in locating a plant.

— EXISTING INDUSTRY — may need a companion industry to supply them with raw materials or services. Expansion of existing industry is sound economic development.

— LOCAL IDEAS — can provide leads for the local people to establish an industry of their own or attract a certain type industry.

— EX-CITIZENS — who have left the community and asking their help to obtain leads on any industry that could logically locate in the town.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTIVITY — should utilize such programs as direct mail, asking local citizens to call on industries when they are on a trip — watching all news media for possible leads or indications that a company might expand.

COOPERATION WITH OTHER AGENCIES — such as utilities, banks, railroads, regional and state development organizations can provide leads for new industry. Keep all of these organizations fully advised of the local programs, advantages, activities and community interest for attracting new industry for improved economy in your community.

ANY and ALL industrial — should be delegated this responsibility, usually by the local group that has been delegated this responsibility, usually the Chamber of Commerce.

Ask your WTU local office for more information and services available.

Now Is Time To Control Grasshoppers

Young grasshoppers are appearing in abundant numbers in several areas of the state as they did in 1955, say Texas A&M University Extension Entomologists, W. H. Newton, P. J. Hamman and J. G. Thomas.

Grasshoppers are relatively easy to control when they are young but become increasingly difficult to control as they near maturity, Newton said. They are best controlled in their hatching areas before they begin to migrate over larger areas. Frequently, spot treatment of the hatching areas will prevent later widespread damage.

Eggs are usually deposited in late summer and fall in the soil in grassy, uncultivated areas such as roadsides, fence rows, idle crop land and pastures, the entomologist said. The young nymphs, after hatching the following spring, feed in the vicinity for several days before beginning to disperse to fields, pastures and gardens. Applying control measures while the population is still fairly concentrated will reduce later damage to pastures and crops, Newton added.

Several insecticides give effective control of young grasshoppers. Producers should pay careful attention to the label precautions before applying any insecticide to pastures or crops and observe strictly the prescribed harvest, grazing or slaughter intervals, the entomologist said.

For control recommendations on grassland and specific field crops, a visit with the local county agent is suggested by the entomologists.

In World War II National Guard units participated in 11 separate campaigns and in 34 assault landings. Nine National Guard Divisions served in Europe and nine in the Pacific, in every major engagement.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
Selling a home has become a common thing. Many taxpayers own several homes during their life. You must report the sale of your home on your income tax return and pay taxes on any profit that you may have on the sale. When you buy a home you should keep a record of the cost. When you make improvements — including adding shrubs and trees or a new room, this adds to your cost (or basis). It pays to keep a permanent record to help you solve your tax problems when you sell.

The National Guard armory, besides being a training center for National Guardsmen, is often the community recreational center.
