Tower Defeats Carr In Senate Race

Santa Anna, Coleman County Voters Follow State Trend

Republican John Tower was re-elected to the U. S. Senate by Texas voters in Tuesday's general election by soundly defeating his Democratic opponent, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, according to unofficial tabulations. Unofficial reports from the 254 counties, with 116 complete, Wednesday morning showed Tower received 670,978 to Carr's 527,028. Coleman County followed the state trend, giving Tower 1313 votes to 1019 for Carr.

Voters in Santa Anna also went along with the trend, casting 227 for Tower and 164 for Carr.

The race was the hottest-contested battle in the state and sends Tower back to the Senate for six years. He was first elected to the post in a special election in 1961, defeating Democrat William Blakely, succeeding Lyndon Johnson who was elected vice president in 1960.

Mrs. Irick Wins JP
Mrs. Mary L. Irick was elected to the office of Justice of the Peace Precinct No. 7, in a write-in campaign.

Unofficial returns show Mrs. Irick received 264 votes to 133 for Mrs. Madora Gilmore, in the Santa Anna box. Trickham and Rockwood boxes boosted her total to 342 while Mrs. Gilmore received a total of 198.

Mrs. Irick is presently serving out the unexpired term of her late husband, Earl Irick Sr. Santa Anna strayed slightly from the state trend on the proposed amendments to the constitution. All amendments were favored except Nos. 4 and 13. Statewide voters favored all amendments except No. 4.

Total vote in the Santa Anna box was 423.

Peace Corps Test Slated Nov. 12 At Brownwood

Santa Anna area residents interested in putting their skills to use developing nations all around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a. m. on Saturday, November 12, at the Postoffice in Brownwood, Texas.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicate a limited-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive—an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the testor before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from the local post office or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half.

Postal Officials Giving Priority To Overseas Mail

Acting Postmaster John C. Gregg today announced that henceforth all first class mail, personal sound recordings (voice letters), and parcels weighing 5 pounds or less and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined, will be airlifted on a space available basis between the United States and all military post offices overseas.

Also, under Public Law 89-725 —The Dulski Military Mail Act —which was signed by president Johnson on November 2, 1966, second class publications such as newspapers and magazines published weekly or more often, and featuring current news of interest to the military, will be airlifted from San Francisco to the armed forces serving in Viet Nam.

Acting Postmaster Gregg explained that parcels weighing 5 pounds or less and not exceeding 60 inches in length and girth combined, paid at surface rates, will be moved by surface transportation within the United States from the points of mailing to the port of embarkation. To speed up separation and delivery of these smaller parcels falling within this category, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien directed that all parcels be clearly marked upon acceptance at the post office with the letters SAM (surface airlift mail).

This will eliminate the task of reweighing and measuring the parcels at the San Francisco Concentration Center prior to dispatch to Viet Nam or other overseas military post offices.

Gregg also reminded mailers that Christmas parcels weighing 5 pounds and under, though they are given airlift priority from San Francisco to Viet Nam on a space available basis, should be mailed no later than December 1. Airmail, he said, should be sent no later than December 10.

The deadline for Christmas packages weighing more than 5 pounds going to Viet Nam and other overseas military post offices by surface means is November 10.

Texas Farm Bureau Membership Tops 100,000 Mark

The Texas Farm Bureau passed the 100,000 mark in membership last week for the first time in its 33-year history.

Dairy Farmer Oswald Norman, 47, of Route 1, Wills Point, Van Zandt County, was the 100,000th member signed up this year.

TFB organization director Wayne Little said the official 1966 total would be several hundred over the 100,000-mark. Little said the new record high membership means that more than nine out of every ten farmers and ranchers in Texas belonging to a general farm organization are members of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Batts of Ballinger were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones.

Cotton Marketing Quota Referendum Set December 5-9

The upcoming referendum on marketing quotas for the 1967 crop of upland cotton will be conducted by mail during the period December 5 through 9, 1966. Rankin McIver, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced. This is the first time that growers have voted on marketing quotas by mail. It is hoped that this more convenient method will encourage a larger vote.

Growers eligible to cast ballots in the referendum are all those who engaged in the production of the 1966 crop of upland cotton. Ballots will be sent to all growers who are on record in the ASCS County office.

The quotas will become effective and the broad upland cotton diversion program will be available next year if at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas. This upland program would provide price-support and diversion payments as well as loans.

If more than a third of the growers who vote disapprove quotas, price support at 50 per cent of parity will be available to growers who keep their 1967-crop upland cotton acreage within their farm allotments.

CITY ENFORCING DOG ORDINANCE

City officials are cracking down on stray dogs within the city, according to announcement this week.

Officials are warning owners of pets that a city ordinance requires all pets, especially dogs, to have a rabies vaccination. Pets must have a tag and collar verifying this vaccination.

According to reports, numerous stray dogs are bothering residents and officials are ordering these animals picked up and impounded when a complaint is made.

Gary Fleeman has been retained by the city to handle complaints and pick up the animals. He may be reached by calling 348-3429.

So, if you have a pet that does not have a vaccination tag and collar and is roaming city streets, better take care of the situation now before it is too late.

9-A Title Will Be Decided Friday Night When Mounties & Eagles Clash

The Santa Anna Mountaineers advanced to within one step of the throne room Friday night when they defeated the Cross Plains Buffaloes, 40-0, for their third district win of the season.

The real test for the Mounties will come this Friday night when they host the mighty Goldthwaite Eagles in a showdown battle for the district crown.

The Mounties now own an 8-1 season record while the Eagles sport a 7-2 record, with both owning identical 3-0 district records.

The Eagles, after dropping two early season games, have bounced back with power plus dropping their last seven opponents by lopsided scores.

Statistically figuring, the Eagles are favored to trip the Mounties and take the title.

The Eagles defeated Cross Plains 52-0, walloped Rising Star 49-0, and clipped Early 47-10; while the Mounties beat Cross Plains 40-0, tamed Rising Star 48-6, and corraled Early 33-0, all in district contests.

The Game

The Mountaineers, although stymied throughout the first quarter of play, finally started rolling and racked up 14 points in the second stanza, 14 in the third and 12 in the fourth frame to dominate action in the conference tilt. Fullback Eddie Jones and halfback Butch Makuta crossed the double stripe twice each, halfback Dale Herring and quarterback Roy Joe Harvey once each to round out the Mountie scoring. Tommy Blanton booted four of six extra point attempts, bringing his extra point attempts to 15 out of the last 18 tries.

Mounties got off to a shaky start when an alert Buffalo defender recovered a Mountie fumble on the Santa Anna 31 following the opening kick-off, and marched to the one-yard line where the Mountie defense

Fans Asked to Help Relieve Congestion At Football Game

With expectations of a large crowd and prevailing congested conditions at the football game here Friday night, Supt. Cullen Perry is asking the cooperation of local fans in relieving this situation.

Supt. Perry states that three entrances to the stadium will be available—the north drive-in gate, a drive-in gate at the south end of the football field and a walk-in gate just west of the agriculture building.

Local fans are asked to use the south entrance to relieve the heavy load on the north gate. To arrive at the south entrance, fans should drive down Jefferson, east of the elementary school, and turn right at the first street which will lead directly to the south gate and the usual parking area inside.

Spectators may also use the east end of the practice field, just west of the gym, for parking and enter the walk-in gate west of the ag building.

Perry feels that if local people will use these facilities the north gate will be open for visiting fans, thereby making entering and departing much easier and faster for everyone.

held and took over on downs. The balance of the first period was played on about even terms, with the Mounties in possession of the pigskin on the Buff 29-yard stripe as the first period ended.

Four plays deep in the second, with the assistance of a 15-yard penalty, Makuta carried around right end for 5 yards and the TD.

Fullback Jones added the second marker, just 40 seconds before the half, then he took a screen pass from quarterback Harvey and raced 32 yards for the TD.

Midway of the third Harvey sneaked one yard for a TD, capping a 79-yard drive in 12 plays.

In the waning seconds of the stanza, the Mounties capitalized on a recovered Buff fumble on the 3 yard stripe, with Makuta again circling right end to score.

Jones scored his second TD of the game on a 56-yard scamper up the middle, with 1:15 gone in the fourth.

With 1:40 remaining in the tilt Herring ripped off 16 yards for the Mounties' final marker of the night.

The Mounties were aided in their winning cause by heads-up playing of Steve Valdez and Korky Wise who recovered one Buffalo fumble each, and key pass interceptions by Larry Williams and Don Fitzpatrick.

The going was tough for the Buffs, who mounted only one serious scoring threat in the early minutes of the tussle.

2 1/4 MILLION 4-H'ers SCORE WITH 8 MILLION PROJECTS

MORE than 2 1/4 million 4-H boys and girls are expected to complete 8 million individual projects this year, an average of about four projects per member.

The statistics, supplied by the Cooperative Extension Service, represent a lot of ingenuity and initiative. All 4-H projects, meetings and events must be worked in among school, church, home chores and part-time jobs.

There are a possible 100 different projects or activities available to youngsters between 9 and 19 years old from coast to coast, depending on where they live, their needs, resources and interests. Most center around specific projects in foods, home improvement, safety, health, livestock, clothing, home and farm management, leadership and community service. Certain standards and goals have to be reached.

To group overall accomplishments into one recognition program, the Extension Service developed the national 4-H Achievement program. In this program, one boy and girl from each state is selected annually for having the most outstanding 4-H record.

Fifty winners of the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago the first week of December. Twelve will receive national $500 scholarships, and nearly 10,000 are expected to earn county achievement medals.

Sponsor of the achievement awards for the last 15 years is the Ford Motor Company Fund. During the 4-H Congress, Ford will host a luncheon and entertainment for the entire delegation of 2,300 delegates and guests.

Highlights of two 1965 winners' accomplishments are examples of what can be expected from the top 1966 records.

An 18-year-old Alabama girl excelled in more than a dozen projects including food preservation, sewing, cooking, home improvement, dairy animals, demonstrations and exhibits. She is now a sophomore at the University of Alabama. Her future goal is a medical career.

A Colorado college student joined 4-H when he was 9. His first project was rabbits. By 1965 he had 15 steers in the feed lot, won top state honors in the field crops program and reserve champion beef showmanship award at the Intermountain Stock show.

Working with livestock influenced his desire to become a veterinarian.

Rules For Keeping Gun Handling Safe

Guns can be safe. And, the Texas Safety Association reports statistics prove this. During the past 10 years, the death rate from firearms accidents has decreased 25 per cent.

Safety programs of the National Rifle Association in cooperation with the National Safety Council and other organizations, such as TSA, have been responsible for this commendable safety record.

But, cautions TSA, there is no "good enough" when it comes to accident prevention. The Association reminds hunters that safe gun handling comes only with knowledge and experience.

J. O. Musick, TSA General Manager, suggests these fundamental rules that every person should know and practice to keep hunting and other gun sports safe:

* Treat every gun as though it were loaded. Never take anyone's word that a gun is not loaded. Check for yourself.

* Always point the gun in a safe direction. Never point a gun at anyone, including yourself. Remember that bullets can penetrate floors, ceilings and walls and will ricochet from flat surfaces, including water.

* Be sure of your target. A loaded gun, ready for a quick shot at fast-moving game, presents a danger of injury, property damage or even death. So, before you even touch the trigger, identify your target and know where your bullet will go, even if it passes under, over or through the target.

The four precious stones are the diamond, emerald, sapphire, and ruby.

P&W Restricts Deer Calls To Horn Rattling

A piece in the papers about somebody ingeniously converting a 7armin call into a deer call prompted the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to pinpoint restricting use of such a device.

The act states: "Any person who at any time of the year in hunting deer uses a deer-call, whistle, decoy, call pipe, reed or other device, mechanical or natural, for the purpose of calling or attracting deer, except by rattling deer horns, shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in jail not less than twenty nor more than ninety days, or both."

From field reports describing dense foliage and abundant natural food, it may influence the thorough hunter to avail himself of the legal calling method.

That is, the department suggests the time is here for the novice caller to get those horns down off the wall and begin practicing. Because, when handled right, horn rattling is a dependable way of luring a buck out of the brush. Of course, the deception centers around imitating a buck fight over a doe. Thus the horn rattling tricks the listening male into believing he should appear on the scene posthaste.

The old pros agree a clear, frosty morning following a few cold northers is the ideal time but that sometimes good rattling is available throughout a cold, cloudy day.

In any event, the department,

Antlerless Bonus Tags Restricted

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department cautioned sportsmen that the third deer tag, or bonus tag on this year's hunting license is only for use on an antlerless deer.

The usual two tags, attached by perforated paper to the right end of the license, are intended for buck deer but also bear a notation on the back validating their use for antlerless deer.

The department makes no restriction as to how the two regular tags are used, when attached to legally taken game.

But the third tag, attached to the left side of the license, is designed exclusively for a bonus antlerless deer. It is so labeled and may not be used for a buck deer.

The department advised hunters in any event, whether the regular license tags are used or the bonus tag is used for an antlerless deer, the antlerless deer can be legally taken only by permit.

That is, persons using a tag on an antlerless deer, bonus tag or the regular tag, must have a signed permit on their person authorizing the harvesting of an antlerless deer.

The caution was considered vital since Texas is earmarking a record number of antlerless deer for harvesting as a means of cutting range overpopulation.

seeking maximum reduction of a mammoth deer surplus, advises the neophyte rattlers to practice long and hard under expert supervision. Otherwise, their futile banging of the horns probably will spook the deer.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

When Money Won't Do

By winning his lodge's annual golf tournament, Roger became entitled to the traditional silver loving cup. But to his chagrin, the previous winner refused to part with it. When Roger filed suit, the other man told the court:

"This cup can be duplicated for about $95. If I am wrong in keeping it, suppose I just pay him the $95 and we will call it square."

But the court ordered him to hand over not $95 but the cup itself. The judge said the trophy had, over and above its cash value, a unique sentimental value. Hence, mere money could not be a satisfactory substitute.

Whenever money damages would not be "just as good," the law may insist upon what it calls "specific performance"—that is, performance of the actual obligation rather than just damages for non-performance.

Specific performance is decreed most often in cases involving real estate. Suppose you make a contract to buy the lot on the southeast corner of Maple and Spring, and then the seller backs out.

You could probably get a court order commanding him to transfer that specific property to you. For there is no other piece of land in the entire world exactly like the one you bought. Money damages would not make you come out even.

Will a court always order specific performance, whenever money damages would be inadequate? No, because sometimes it is simply not practical. For example:

When an opera star broke his contract, the management asked a court to force him to sing. True enough, money damages were no substitute for an actual performance.

Yet, the court refused a decree. The judge said he would have no way of telling whether the star, if forced to sing, was singing as well as the management had a right to expect.

Besides being impractical at times, specific performance may also be unjust.

Say a girl's fiance breaks their engagement. Money damages, even if available to her, would not be the equivalent of a husband. But no court would literally make the man get married. As one judge explained:

"It is abhorrent to public policy to force a man or woman, under penalty of contempt of court, to enter into a marriage that is objectionable."

STORING DUCK DECOYS—Duck decoys are best preserved by careful storage.

To insure dryness and prevent molding and discoloration, string a strong wire or heavy twine wall to wall across your garage, boathouse, or some other dry room. Then use curtain hooks to hang each decoy to the line.

Suspend them from weight underneath each duck. Space them so as not to touch each other.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q—I am a service connected veteran injured during the time of the Berlin airlift. Can I borrow $2,000 under the new G. I. Bill to help start a shoe repair business?

A—No. Business loans are not included in the new G. I. Bill. But you are eligible for vocational rehabilitation training to help prepare you for a gainful occupation. See your nearest VA Regional Office.

Q—I am a veteran's child eligible for war orphan's educational benefits. If I am called into active duty immediately after my 18th birthday without having had an opportunity to take advantage of educational benefits, will my eligibility be extended?

A—Yes. Where an eligible person serves on duty with the Armed Forces after his 18th birthday, but before his 23rd birthday, his eligibility ends five years after his discharge, or release from such duty.

Q—If I attend school, under the new G. I. Bill less than half time, will I receive any benefits?

A—Yes. You will be paid the rate of established charges for tuition and fee, not to exceed $50 if more than one-fourth to one-half time; not to exceed $25, if one-fourth time or less.

Q—The new G. I. Home Loan interest rate is 6 per cent. But I understand there is some kind of insurance fee on top of that. What is it?

A—There is a fee on a Veterans Administration guaranteed or insured loan that amounts to one-half of one per cent. That is paid on the amount of the loan. It is paid only ONCE. Not every month.

Q—I'm in college under the G. I. Bill. I heard that I do not have to send in a certificate of attendance to get my first allowance check. What about the second, third, fourth, etc.?

A—The certificate of enrollment returned to VA by the college is sufficient for the mailing of the first check. Subsequent checks will be sent after you send in your monthly certificate of attendance.

TODAY'S Meditation

Read Colossians 3:12-17

Put on the new nature, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. (Ephesians 4:24, RSV)

Nowadays one often hears the use of the term "public image." Public relations departments are granted ever-increasing budgets to develop the proper image. Business is very much concerned. Even countries want to create a favorable impression overseas. It is a matter of constant effort.

Everyone, however, would agree that if a favorable public image is to last, there must be a direct relationship between the image and the quality of the product. For example, when the quality of a manufactured article declines, the public immediately registers a complaint and the sales drop.

As Christians, we are commissioned to be faithful ambassadors of Christ. When we within the church fail to live up to the demands of our faith, those outside the church soon realize that there is to little relation between us and the ideals we profess. Representing Christ is a challenge which demands that in thought, word, and deed, we portray His likeness. It demands that we constantly probe our conscience and measure ourselves by His teachings.

PRAYER: Help us, O God, to avoid hypocrisy as we dedicate ourselves to Thee and to Thy purpose for us. Give us the power to accomplish the task Thou hast assigned us. In the name of Christ. Amen.

EPITAH TO AN EAGLE
An Eagle is a noble bird,
With head held high,
And wings all furred,
But a Mountain man
Was heard to say
"I shot an Eagle
The other day."
So, on Friday night
When the whistle blows
And the crowd screams,
Then you will know
The Eagles are Dead.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
Now is a good time for you to look at your 1966 income tax situation. The good tax folks point out that some wage earners may still owe additional tax, especially those who have income other than their wages.
If you owe additional tax and have not filed an estimated tax return, it is not too late to have your employer take out additional withholding before the end of the year. It is better to look now than to be surprised on April 15.

Barber Discovers New Carp Bait

An Austin barber wrote an unsolicited letter to the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department announcing success at last.
His letter stated: "I have accidentally found dough bait for carp and buffalo. I thought you might want to pass it on to others."
"Take 40 per cent bran flakes and water till soaked. Then mash out all water that you can. Add one teaspoonful of peanut butter. Roll into balls and good luck. We have been very lucky with it. Caught from 20 to 50 carp at a time. Some small catfish."

"King Cotton" Could Be On Way Out Unless Remedial Action Is Taken

The attitude of Congress will be sharply affected, "for better or for worse," by the decision made in the dollar-a-bale referendum on research and promotion, Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Texas), ranking member of the House Agriculture Committee, emphasized in Waco this week.
"As things now stand -- under the emergency four-year program in effect -- the government has gone just about the last mile in making cotton competitive in price, in the domestic as well as the foreign market," he pointed out.
If farmers show by their votes that they are ready to give up on cotton, "I think the Congress will be ready to give up too," he said.

On the other hand, he continued, "if cotton farmers show they want and intend to compete -- by approving the assessment of $1 per bale for research and promotion -- I think the Congress will be inclined to go along with further substantial assistance after the present four-year program expires."
Representative Poage reminded cotton growers that in order to protect the farmer's income, meet price competition, and reduce the surplus, the government is making domestic allotment payments and diversion.
"For a typical farmer who has an allotment of 30 acres, who has average yields and who took the 35 per cent diversion, he explained, the total payment on his production this year would come to about $72.50 per bale.

lighted when cotton producers came to Congress with a self-help plan that would give farmers an opportunity to put up the dollar a bale for research and promotion programs they would operate themselves.
He, accordingly, helped bring about passage of the Cotton Research and Promotion Act which would make possible such a program provided it is approved in the referendum in early December.
"In this day and age," he reiterated, "the producers of any product have to put up big money to improve it and sell it through advertising and other techniques of promotion. Either they do this or go out of business."
"In essence, this is the decision farmers must make in the referendum on cotton research and promotion."

"It is worth this much to the country to try and save cotton?" he asked.
"In my judgment, Congress will feel that it is very much worthwhile -- if we can see genuine promise that there will be programs capable of putting cotton on its feet and making it self-sufficient within some reasonable period of time."
"If there is to be such an outlook, a greatly expanded program of research and promotion must be at the very heart of it."
Mr. Poage said he was de-

Cotton Farmers Urged Not To "Jump-the-Gun"

The big news this week, as we all know was a killing freeze. With a large cotton crop to be harvested it's going to be tempting to jump-the-gun and start harvesting too soon. This, according to B. B. Manly, Jr. in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene, can be costly in several ways.
The main cost could be grade. Green or damp cotton cannot gin as good as dry cotton. It causes trash to cling to fibers; consequently, trash stays in the lint, and the lint goes out with the trash and is lost. Unopened green balls will be lost or cause low grades. Cotton is generally miking too high this year. Green bales allowed to dry and open could lower the mike some; the extent no one knows. Ginning green or damp cotton may cause the grade to be reduced because of preparation. Preppy cotton has rolls or wads of twisted matted fibers. All these fibers will not straighten out when the cotton is made into cloth. It is either taken out as waste, or if left in may produce a bumpy, lower quality cloth. This is why prep cotton is penalized.
Grades on cotton received at the District two changed very little from the previous week. For the week ending November 4, 90 per cent was classed as light spotted, 7 per cent as spotted, and 3 per cent white. Predominant grades continued to be strict low middling light spotted at 52 per cent and middling light spotted at 31 per cent. About 14,000 bales were classed from District 2 last week.
Staple was about the same as last week. Forty-two percent was called 29-32 inches and 44 per cent 15-16 inches.
High mike readings continue to be a problem. Seventy per cent miked in the desirable 3.5 to 4.9 range. Twenty-seven per cent fell in the high mike penalty range. Twenty per cent miked 5.0 and 5.2 and 7 per cent 5.3 and above.

Do-It-Yourself Darling from Texas Is National March of Dimes Child

Donna Dill, a 5-year-old Texan who is most at home on her pony, has been named the March of Dimes National Poster Child for 1967.

Branded by friends as a do-it-yourself darling, pert and pretty Donna likes to be active and independent despite a severe birth defect.

Donna, who was born with an open spine (spina bifida), symbolizes the 250,000 American babies born with birth defects each year. The March of Dimes has helped her as part of its continuing fight against birth defects.

There was a time when the independent little miss wanted to sleep in her braces so she could get up by herself in the morning. She helps around the house by picking up her toys, helping mother with the dishes and cookie-baking.

Donna frequently visits her grandparents' ranch near Corsicana, 40 miles from her home in Hillsboro, Tex., to ride her pet pony Popsy.

When she's on Popsy, Donna's blue eyes sparkle and her blonde pony tail bounces up and down. Riding gives her a feeling of freedom—Donna needs no crutches when she rides.

But she can't walk without crutches, and her partially paralyzed legs are supported by braces every waking hour.

Donna's open spine was treated when she was 18 months old, and she has had four operations since. Her general health is good, and her doctor thinks she may be able to discard her right leg brace someday.

Popsy is not Donna's only pet. In fact she is surrounded by animals. Her 3-year-old poodle, Fluffy, is a favorite, and she keeps goldfish in a bowl in her room. Donna also finds time to play with a neighbor's kitten.

"I just like all animals,"

THE EYES OF TEXAS and the nation will focus on Donna Dill, 5-year-old miss from the Lono Star State, who is the 1967 National March of Dimes Poster Child. She symbolizes 250,000 American children born each year with birth defects.

she told her mother recently, "even snakes."

Donna now attends Sunday school and plans to begin public school next fall. This young lady will enter the first grade an accomplished and experienced traveler.

As the National Poster Child, Donna may very well meet President Johnson. During the January March of Dimes campaign tour, this 5-year-old charmer will make public appearances in about 20 cities from coast to coast. There will be guest spots with the stars of television, motion pictures, and radio.

Along with Donna on this nationwide tour will be her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Dill, both native Texans.

Donna's father is quite at home on the range. As a student in high school and college he roped calves in rodeos. He is employed today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the Assistant County Supervisor for the Farmers' Home Administration.

The National Poster Child's mother, Jo Ford Dill, is secretary of the Hill County (Tex.) Chapter of the National Foundation-March of Dimes.

A former majorette in college, she is teaching Donna to use a baton, but Donna's ambition is elsewhere. A true Texan, she wants to be a cowgirl when she grows up. She privately confesses, however, that she would settle for being a mother or a nurse.

THERE ARE TWO Sides TO THIS STORY

This story is about newspaper advertising and how it serves TWO ways. It begins in the home where the lady-in-a-mood to buy starts her shopping by studying the ads in this newspaper to see where the best buys are.

The story continues in the advertiser's store where the lady comes to buy what she saw advertised.

Newspaper advertising helps the shopper to buy more wisely — helps the advertiser to sell more successfully. Yes, there are two sides to this story . . . and BOTH are good!

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN.

COLDS

This is the season of the year when the American Medical Association reminds once again that you can't cure a cold.

And if anyone tries to sell you on the latest version of a so-called "cold cure" you can save your money.

Many of the classic diseases of history have succumbed in the 20th century to new medical skills and modern drugs. But the cold virus still successfully resists the best efforts of the world's combined medical research talent.

As the years go by more and more is being learned about colds and their causes. A number of viruses produce the symptoms that most of us call a cold, possibly as many as a hundred. The true cold is an infection with one or more viruses. Bacteria are believed to be purely secondary infectors.

Current research seems to indicate that colds are harder to spread than has been thought. Fresh colds appear to be more contagious than older ones. Children's colds probably are more contagious than those of adults. There still is much discussion among experts as to the relationship of becoming chilled or exposure to dampness to "catching" a cold.

What can you do for a cold?

No specific treatment, so far available, is effective against the cold virus. Any treatment is directed toward relief of the discomfort of runny nose, watering eyes, sore throat, slight fever and the other symptoms of the cold. Penicillin does not stop the virus, but may be prescribed by your physician for secondary bacterial infections. Bed rest, or at least inactivity, is helpful. Your physician may suggest mild medication to help relieve the discomfort.

Cold vaccines have yet to be proved of much value. There is no evidence that any particular foods, vitamin supplements, special clothing or exposure to sunlight or fresh air have any effect on colds.

If a cold persists or seems unusually severe, see your doctor. Colds are great imitators and the early symptoms can mimic those of other more serious infections. Recurring colds may not be colds at all, but may be allergic attacks that require medical attention.

EAST TEXAS, 1930—This traffic jam on a country road led to the famous Daisy Bradford No. 3, the discovery well drilled by C. M. (Dad) Joiner which opened up this nation's largest oil field, the famous East Texas field, which has produced more than 3.7 billion barrels of oil.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin.—Addition of kindergartens to the public schools will be a major school proposal in the 1967 session of the Legislature.

State Board of Education has recommended it. Texas State Teachers Association feels it is vital to public education, and will support the board's position.

Expanding the public school system to 13 grades is advocated by educators on the ground that children learn more quickly at age 5, and simply because more education is needed for this world. It would, of course, increase the cost of public schools by one-twelfth, at both state and local levels.

School teachers will press for a pay raise to lift Texas salary levels to the national average, but will let the Board of Education to carry the ball on the kindergarten proposal.

SCHOOL COST RECORD

Last year's price of $647,516-534 for the minimum operation of Texas public schools set a record, but State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgars says the "minimum foundation fund" will be even greater this year... $667,857,000.

The fund, which is distributed according to the needs of the school district and its average daily attendance, draws its resources from two state sources; the available school fund, including a fourth of all occupation taxes by the state, and other state revenues.

Of last year's total, $123,439,-

886 was furnished by the school districts themselves, and the rest by the state. Figures do not include federal aid.

EAST TEXAS OIL

Railroad Commission has been given proposals by five oil companies for changing the method of allocating oil allowables in the East Texas Field to eliminate what the companies said was discrimination.

Atlantic Richfield, Mobil, Sun, Cities Service and Superior oil companies all put forth widely different plans to eliminate both inequities within the field between marginal and prorable wells and inequities between the East Texas Field and other fields in the state.

The City of Kilgore, Kilgore Chamber of Commerce and other local governmental bodies oppose all changes.

HIGHWAY BEAUTIFICATION

"Texas faces the prospect of losing about $20,000,000 a year in federal highway funds," Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said, if it does not conform fully with the federal Highway Beautification Act of 1965.

Smith pointed out that, in writing the Act, the federal government included a 10 per cent penalty in federal aids to states that do not cooperate fully with the provisions of the new law.

The state must fulfill its part by seeing that billboards and other outdoor advertising are moved back from interstate and federal - state highways. Garbage dumps and junkpiles can be no closer than 1,000 feet. This would involve approximately 17,500 miles of Texas highways.

TOURIST DEVELOPMENT TALKS

"Imagination: Dare to Use It" will be the theme of the second annual Governor's Tourist Development Conference November 22 in Austin. Gov. John Connally will head the participants.

Experts in various fields of tourist development and tourist promotion will meet with delegates to the conference, along with administrators of Six Flags Over Texas and San Antonio's HemisFair '68.

SCREWORMS DECLINE

Screwworm epidemic in Texas appears headed for an end. Only 97 cases were confirmed to the Animal Health Commission during the week of October 22-28, compared to 197 three weeks before, at the height of the infestation.

Dr. S. B. Walker, executive director of the commission, said the geographic area of the epidemic seems to be narrowing, too. Most serious areas are in Dimmitt, Val Verde and Maverick Counties. At the crest of the infestation, the southwest one-third of the state was involved.

BUILDING PERMITS DECREASE

Estimated value of building permits issued in Texas during September showed a sizeable decrease from August's, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Declines both in residential and non-residential permits accounted for the fall of a seasonally adjusted 23 per cent from August and 11 per cent from September, 1965, the bureau said.

Of Texas' six largest cities, Fort Worth showed the most total, non-farm construction during September, $17,060,277, but Houston was right behind at $16,978,031. Dallas' figure was $15,151,973. Austin, El Paso and San Antonio were far behind.

EQUAL VALUES ASKED

State Board of Education will urge the Legislature to take action toward equalizing land values among all 254 Texas counties for property tax purposes.

Values now vary from five to 100 per cent of what the property actually sells for, according to Board member Paul Greenwood of Harlingen. Greenwood had unsuccessfully sought to substitute assessed valuations for the complex "economic index" used to figure local fund assignments of minimum foundation school program costs.

In separate action with implications for many districts, the board held that the Rio Hondo schools cannot withhold report cards and transcripts from students who do not pay special fees.

The Board ordered Texas Education Agency to make a study to find out just what fees districts are charging students for such things as locker services, towels and soap in physical training classes.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas will receive $724,557 in federal funds to assist in the improvement of Stephen F. Austin State Park in Austin County, Bastrop State Park in Bastrop County and Palo Duro State Park near Amarillo in Randall County.

The State Bar of Texas has proposed a bill for the 60th Legislature which will clarify and expand the rights of married women. Revisions are part of a project to change and codify all the family laws of Texas into an organized Family Code.

Turkey Industry Day Scheduled At A&M

Topics ranging from chigger control to breeder care will be discussed during Texas A&M University's annual Turkey Industry Day November 3.

Program chairman Ben Wormell said the session will be of interest to producers, processors, hatcherymen, suppliers, servicemen and others allied with the turkey business.

Wormell is the lead-off speaker with a talk on the Texas turkey situation. He is followed by Manning Price of the A&M Entomology Department with a discussion on chigger control, and by Donald Farris of the A&M Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department, who will report on the National Commission on Food Marketing.

Only 37 Mailing Days Between Now And Christmas

Acting Postmaster John C. Gregg reminded Santa Anna area residents today that there are only 37 mailing days before Christmas.

"While that may seem like a long time to most people, it is frighteningly short to those of us in the Postal Service," he said. "Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has predicted that well over eight billion pieces of mail must be delivered between now and Christmas Eve, a new record.

"We are asking everyone to start thinking about their Christmas shopping and mailing now. If all the holiday mail were to hit the postal system at one time, it is obvious that we'd have difficulty delivering every piece of mail on time."

The Santa Anna post office expects to handle about 75,000 pieces of mail during the holiday rush, the Postmaster said.

Mailing early and spreading the mail flow out along the entire pre-Christmas season is the key to better mail service at this time of the year.

Last year the public cooperation was "tremendous," according to Mr. Gregg. Virtually every piece of holiday mail was delivered before Christmas Day. This year with increased volume because of the continuing

Launch First Section Of Longest Transit Tube

A giant binocular-shaped section of steel tunnel went sliding down the ways in San Francisco this month, the first of 57 such segments that will make up the world's longest underwater transit tube.

Fabricated largely of high-strength steel plate, the tube will be part of the billion-dollar Bay Area Rapid Transit system and is designed to withstand tremors of greater seismic magnitude than the 1906 San Francisco earthquake. The 313-foot-long section will be floated to position near Oakland and sunk to the floor of San Francisco Bay, starting a four-mile-long underwater link in the 75-mile transit system. Measuring 48 by 24 feet in outside diameter, the tube will carry two transit tracks separated by an air exhaust duct and utility passage. When completed in 1969, the underwater link and its approach tunnels will connect subways being built in San Francisco and Oakland, cutting inter-city travel time to 8 minutes.

Uniform Change Helps Disperse Fright

Some small children associate the white uniform worn by doctors and nurses with pain — and fear of the pain often changes to fear of the uniform.

Mrs. Patsy R. Yates, Texas A&M University Extension specialist in family life education, explains that research studies have borne out this fear theory. Two enterprising Florida nurses, however, have found an effective solution to the problem.

They switched to pastel Cotton dresses when they had to care for very small sick children.

The same toddlers who were frightened of nurses wearing starched, antiseptic-looking uniforms wanted to be picked up when the nurses wore house dresses in soft colors.

Children between 18 and 33-months-old were especially responsive to the change.

The success of the nurses' venture into pastel colored dresses and uniforms has prompted several other hospitals to decorate a children's ward with cotton sheets in colorful printed patterns.

Wool Garment Contest Slated Dec. 3 At ASC

The 1966 Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool contest for 12 Central and Southwest Texas counties will be held Dec. 3 at Angelo State College.

Competition will be held in four divisions — sub-deb, junior, senior and adult. Awards will include a tuition scholarship to Angelo State, American loomed wool yardage, sewing equipment, cash, and an expenses-paid trip to the state contest in Denton Jan. 14, 1967.

The home economics department at ASC will direct the district contest with Mrs. Percy J. Pace, department chairman, in charge. A style show planned and directed by ASC fashion students will set the stage for announcement of the district winners.

The District IV contest will include entries from Upton, Irion, Concho, Runnels, Sterling, Coke, Glasscock, Brown, Coleman, Comanche and Tom Green counties.

Deadline for entering the competition is Dec. 1. Girls 10 to 13 years of age may enter the sub-deb division, those 14 to 16 the junior division, 17 to 21 the senior division, and persons over 21 the adult division.

Sub-debs may enter jumpers or skirts. Juniors, seniors and adults may make dresses, coats or suits, Mrs. Pace said.

Mrs. Pace also said the garment entered must be constructed and be modeled by the contestant. More than one garment may be entered by each contestant.

Judging at all levels will be based on construction and fit, beauty of design, coordination of design and fabric with the individual, and general fashion appearance.

Entry forms may be secured from county home demonstration agents and high school home economics instructors.

Co-sponsors of the annual competition are the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers Association and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Mrs. J. M. Jones Jr. of Del Rio is state president and Mrs. S. M. Harvick of Ozona is the state contest chairman.

District winners will be eligible to compete in the state contest where awards will include a $300 scholarship, $50 savings bond, wool yardage, sewing equipment and an expenses-paid trip to the national competition in Las Vegas, Nev., Jan. 16.

Garments entered at each level must be made of 100 percent wool or of fibers accepted as wool, such as mohair, camel, cashmere, alpaca and vicuna. The materials must have been loomed, knitted or felted in America.
