Believe it or not the snow hanging from Mrs. T. E. Coke's front porch is two feet below the edge of the porch and has nothing under it to support it.

Woodrow Wilson, T.A. Rowland and Ronald Coleman helped rescue 30 people stranded in the heavy snow Saturday. Many thanks go out to these men and many more just like them who were out in the snow helping where help was needed.

30 Rescued

Seven cars with 30 passengers aboard had a harrowing experience last Saturday when they encountered heavily drifted snow at the Yoakum and Cochran County line on Highway #214, 15 miles north of Plains. George Bush, his wife, 4 year old daughter and 6 year old son were the first to become stranded when their car slid into the ditch as they encountered the deep snow at 2 P. M. Mr. Bush stated that several cars equipped with chains passed by and were able to travel onward but by 4 P. M., seven other cars had become stranded behind the Bush car. On receiving word of the predicament, the sheriff's department in Plains notified the sheriff's department in Morton who contacted State Highway Patrolmen T. A. Rowland and Ronald Coleman. The highway from Morton had been cleared earlier and the patrolmen were able to reach the scene without difficulty.

Woodrow Wilson of the Reynolds Hamilton Ford Motor Co. of Morton, who is a member of the Frontier Citizens Band Radio Club picked up the news on his radio equipment of the perilous condition and immediately proceeded to the sight in his Ford Bronco four-wheel drive roadster which was equipped with chains on all four wheels and has a winch.

With this equipment and the patrol car, the patrolmen and Mr. Wilson were able to slowly progress the stranded cars toward Plains until they were finally met by maintainers from Yoakum County Precinct # 3.

At this point, as darkness had fallen, the passengers were

C. of C. Meeting

Thursday night March 20th, is the regular meeting night for the Plains Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held in the dining room at Alma's Restaurant. A very fine record will be presented entitled, "Selling America". This Record deals with some of the problems of independent enterprise and should prove helpful in solving some of the local problems.

Another educational program is in store for those members who have a vital interest in the progress of Plains. At the regular meeting Thursday night April 3, a color film entitled, "Building Rural America", will be shown. These Programs are well worthwhile and deserve a large representation of the membership at these meetings. All members should plan to attend.

Athletic Banquet

Monday night, March 24, at 7:30 P.M. in the School Cafeteria will be the scene of the annual Appreciation Banquet honoring all boys and girls who represent our High School in all athletic programs. The members of the Booster Club request the presents of all parents of our athletes and all patrons interested in athletics to attend and enjoy this traditional symbol of support for our High School Athletes.

Tickets are available at all merchants or cafes or at the High School Principal's office. A good program has been planned along with a good meal. So let's have a good turn-out. Plains Booster Club.

Governor's Conference

Austin, Texas. Gov. Preston Smith has urged Texas Chamber of Commerce to nominate candidates for the Industrial Expansion Award he will present on May 7th at Austin's Municipal

Farmers Face Field Day Program Deadline

According to W.M. Overton, local ASCS Office Manager, 354 of the 413 cotton farms have been enrolled in the 1969 cotton program. Which means that these farmers will receive a price support payment of 14.73 cents per pound times their projected yield on 65 percent of their effective cotton allotment; if as much as 58.5 percent of the effective allotment is planted. The other 59 farms, to receive any payment, must sign the program documents not later than Friday, March 21.

The percentage of the feed grain and wheat farms signed up is approximately the same as the cotton and to participate in these programs the program documents must be signed by not later than the March 21st final sign up date.

Advance payments are being made at this time under the 1969 feed grain program, if requested, which amounts to one-half of the diverted acre payment; the same as under 1968 feed grain program.

In signing under any of the programs farmers must list all persons that will have any interest in the program crops that will be planted on the farms. This is very necessary since the price support payments are to be made to producers according to the way the shares are in the crop.

When notices of allotment and bases were mailed to operators a pamphlet on each program was enclosed which gave details to the programs. All farmers are urged to carefully read the pamphlet, especially the paragraph in regard to cross compliance.

If anyone needs more information in regard to any of the programs please contact the local ASCS office, Auditorium.

Smith will be featured speaker and present the awards at the second annual Governor's Conference on Industrial Expansion, expected to attract 1,000 to 1,500 industrialists.

Five such awards will be presented to industries showing significant expansion during 1968. Winners will be selected on the basis of the manufacturers' con-

County Agent Leo White reports that the 60th Annual Field Day and Open House at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center located five miles North of Lubbock will be held this year on September 9th.

As in past years, the date is the second Tuesday in September. Dr. J. D. Bilbro, Research Agronomist and Dr. I. W. Kirk, Agricultural Engineer, are co-chairmen of this year's field day. These men have added a new feature to the event this year. In addition to the regular afternoon tour, exhibits and displays a number of special "classes" will be conducted during the morning on selected subjects considered to be of vital interest to High Plains farmers.

According to the chairman, this added feature will be designed to give farmers "in-depth" information which is otherwise not possible during the general field tour.

New Developments in agriculture research will be discussed during the field day and open house. More than forty highly trained research scientists and Extension subject matter specialists will be on hand to discuss all phases of agriculture vital to the High Plains.

Tentative plans call for the field day to begin at 10:00 A.M. and conclude at 4:00 P.M., with a dutch lunch to be served at noon.

THE YOAKUM COUNTY LIVESTOCK ASSOCIATION WILL HOLD IT ANNUAL MEETING ON MARCH 20 AT 8:00 P.M. IN THE DISTRICT COURTROOM.

EVERYONE WHO BOUGHT A MEMBERSHIP DURING THE SHOW ARE INTITLED TO ATTEND.

Editorial

No one loves a skeptic and especially when it becomes a continuous skepticism. But when we recall the many vigorous campaign promises of last fall and watch the procedures and decisions of the new Administration we can hardly blame folks for asking questions and wondering why.

We are asked to wait and give the boys a chance to assess matters. Well, it took only two weeks to assess the "Sur Tax". Last fall we were promised the it was one item that would go.

We were promised that Gov't spending would be cut. Within two weeks every congressman was given a healthy salary raise and the President's salary doubled. When an official has a doubling of salary every salary from the top secretary to the janitor must receive some sort of a raise.

Though some Gov't programs have been curtailed by the many expensive investigating committees, the appropriations continue just like there was a gold reserve of 13 billions of dollars in the till. The same attitude towards spending of public funds appears to prevail in every branch of government where public funds are involved. No one seems to think it possible for the source of supply to ever run dry.

At the present time there seems to be but very little deviation from the program of the previous administration. The new look promised last fall appears to be a new crew looking at the same old methods. Even the out look in Vietnam--well we will wait on time for a true assessment of the situation. But in the meantime it will be difficult to avoid a bit of skepticism.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

As was announce in the last week Review there was a special called meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. A fine program was enjoyed by those attending.

Harry G. West of the National federation of Independent Business Inc. spoke on the needs of the independent businessman of the Nation and their need of representation at state legislatures as well as in Congress. Mr. West later showed a film which portrayed the manner in which the National Federation was representing the independent Businesses. Also were shown some of the results from having the Federation to lobby for independent business.

The program was interesting and very enlightening and it is regrettable that all members were not present to enjoy and profit by it.

THANKS

The friendly and helpful nature of the Plains people in time of need is very commendable. It was remarkable the many folks that volunteered their time and equipment to assist those that were unable to travel during the recent snow storm.

The editor was very pleasantly surprized Saturday morning when Mr. and Mrs. K.O. Hendricks appeared in the yard aboard their big International tractor and asked if we needed to get out. The offer

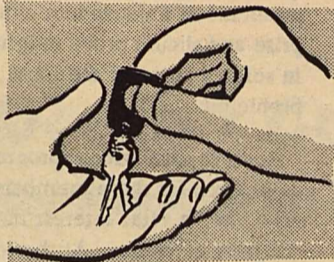

Lending Your Car

It is common courtesy, when you lend your car to a friend, to fill it up first with gas. But what about checking the brakes or inspecting the tires? If the car is defective and there is an accident, are you legally liable for the consequences?

You may be indeed. Take this case:

A man allowed the woman next door—an inexperienced driver—to borrow his car. Although he knew it had a "grabby" clutch, he didn't tell her so. During the ride she lost control of the car, crashed into a tree, and suffered painful injuries.

She later sued him for damages, and the court decided he must pay for his negligence. The judge said that, under the circumstances, this was the kind of accident he could reasonably have foreseen and prevented.

What if there is an injury not to the borrower but to some third party whom you don't even know? Even then, you might incur liability.

Thus, a man who loaned a car with faulty brakes, without giving fair warning to the borrower, was held responsible for the resulting death of a schoolboy. The fatal accident occurred when, at a crucial moment, the brakes gave way.

That does not mean you have to make a thorough examination of your car before lending it, to discover defects you would not ordinarily know about. Accordingly, a car owner was held not to blame when the steering gear—seemingly all right until then—suddenly jammed while a friend was using the car.

Nor must you warn a borrower about things he can and should see for himself. A man who loaned a car with a dirty windshield was held not responsible for a later collision. The court said he had a right to assume that the borrower would have enough sense to clean the windshield on his own.

All the law demands is that you show, along with your generosity in lending the car, a decent concern for the safety of other people.

Ridiculous Legislation

It is sad to note that after the voters of Texas have done their best to place intelligent and efficient men in the State legislature we still have bills proposed that represent the intelligence of a grade school pupil.

Such is the nature of bills recently presented which if passed would permit the use of the electronic media for publication of legal notices over the airways. Realizing that most folks drive or work or conduct their business in an atmosphere that is not conducive to TV watching or concentrated radio listening it was heartily accepted and soon we were out and able to travel.

With the aid of chains the little Datsun was soon plowing the drifts in search of news and a few unusual pictures, some of which are in the paper this week. From all appearances K.O. and his wife were having a great time helping those less fortunate.

We are happy to note that no serious accidents or illnesses were reported during the storm though some mighty inconvenient circumstances were encountered by many.

Happiness comes from so many different things in life. To most folks, the big news of the week was the beautiful 12" snow, but to me it was walking into the editor's office and seeing Mike Pippin sitting there. He is home for a month's leave after being in Viet Nam for a year. Mike is one of my favorite young men, and how he has changed! Even though he is thinner than usual, happiness glowed in his face and eyes. Just being home and seeing old friends work miracles for our boys from overseas. It also works miracles to anyone that sees such happiness and returns it.

A snow storm which started last Friday at 4 o'clock P.M., and continued through the weekend left highways clogged with snow and farm roads impassable. While both state and county highway departments worked strenuously and continuously to clear the roads, many people ventured out and became stuck in the deep snow. Plains Farm Supply, K.O. Hendricks, Roy Guetersloh, Dickie Green gave aid with their tractors; Hoss Newson worked most of the day with his jeep; Willis' Garage and Tom's Garage were out with their pickups assisting. These men are only a few who helped neighbors and friends.

The sheriff's office and the highway patrolmen were busy almost every minute. Latrell was on the phone and radio from early until hours past midnight. After all motels had been filled, the jury room at the courthouse was used.

Our local cafe's worked many hours overtime to feed the stranded, and the Longbranch had planned to stay open all Saturday night if necessary. Alma, of Alma's Resturant, worked hours by herself serving and cooking after all hired help had gone home. If all the facts were known, we would find many helpful and courageous acts of "love thy neighbor as thyself."

There is nothing more destructive than vicious gossip. An English lady, self-appointed supervisor of village morals, accused a workman of drunkenness because "with her own eyes" she had seen his wheelbarrow outside a public house.

The accused man made no verbal defense, but the same evening, he placed his wheelbarrow outside her door and left it there all night.

Oh, how complicated life can become at times. Mr. Bill Overton, our local ASC officer, found this to be true after moving from his small home to a larger one. Two friends, Jim Barron and Leroy Howell had come by around 10 o'clock at night to move him to his new home. By 12:30 everything had been moved and partly straightened, but Bill had forgotten to notice where all the light switches were and the exact location of the rooms.

He arose later that night to hunt a special room. He alternately opened three doors, felt around until he had located the light switch in each, but alas, each door opened into the wrong room. He finally located a fourth doorknob, and with high hopes that he had located the right room, he opened the door. A beautiful bright moon shone glowing upon him. Now who can be disheartened with the moon and stars glowing upon the head? With compunctious feelings about his former thoughts, and with the friendly moonbeams welcoming him, he walked out into his back yard. Bill said: "I have never seen such a bright moon nor sparkling stars. The man in the moon seemed to smile at me. After watching for awhile, I slowly felt my way back to the bedroom, and with the exhilarating memory of the crisp freeze and the dancing shadows that played upon the ground from trees and shrubs, I fell into a restful sleep."

is imponderable to consider it possible to hold the public in any wise responsible for not being informed by this source of legal notice.

Such legislation could only add to the confusion by requiring every one to wear portable electronic devices and pay heavy fines for not listening constantly.

The printed media is available in the home, the office and various businesses and can await a convenient time for consideration. This type of bill should be killed at its first appearance.

Mesa District Winners

The Plains FFA Livestock Judging Team consisting of Mike Wilkins, Mike Hughes, John Robertson and Morris Rushing won the Mesa District Livestock Judging Contest held at Tahoka on March 11 with a team score of 1078.

Gail FFA placed second with a score of 1063. Wilson and Tahoka tied for third place and Lamesa came in fourth.

Mike Wilkins was high point individual in the contest. Billy Brawell of Lamesa was second and Mike Hughes was third.

The team judged Angus cows, Hereford steers, Hampshire ewes, market lambs, Poland China gilts, Duroc gilts, Poland China barrows, and Duroc barrows. The team will also grade cattle at the Sweetwater Contest on March 29 and the Texas Tech Contest on April 26, in addition to classes judged at the District level.

Livestock judging is important for several reasons. First of all it teaches a boy to make decisions based on sound reasons. His ability in the future as a stockman or in any other field, most likely will depend on his ability to make the right decision at the right time.

Judging also teaches the student to study both the strong and weak points of individual animals. In doing this, he forms a habit of seeing these same characteristics in other problems. There is no substitute for a mind trained to see all sides of a problem. The ability to determine the merit or faults of individual animals is of benefit when purchasing animals or when selecting breeding herd replacements. In addition, to be a good stockman a boy must be a good judge.

FHA

FOCUS ON POSITIVE ACTION is the theme of National FHA Week which will be observed by Plains FHA, Future Homemakers of America, March 23-29. They join 1550 chapters throughout Texas in carrying out special projects and activities during this week to give exposure to what youth is doing in a positive way to promote the principles of good citizenship.

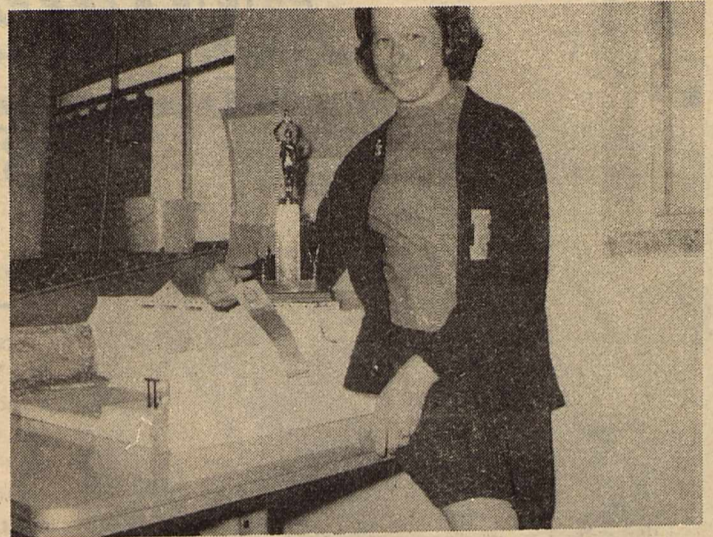

There are more than 600,000 members of this national organization for home economics students in over 12,000 junior and senior high school chapters throughout the country. These young people are preparing themselves for the responsibilities of leadership through such experiences as serving on committees, planning and presenting programs, planning and carrying out individual and group projects, presiding at meetings, and working with others in both school and community. Such participation helps prepare them to be responsible, contributing adult citizens and work toward good home and family life.

Miss Mildred Reel, National Adviser for FHA, summed up the purpose of the organization this way: "As an integral part of the home economics education program in the high school, Future Homemakers of America projects learning experiences beyond the classroom into the homes and lives of the individual members. Our aims are to help develop the teenagers' abilities through activities and projects that relate to the individual and the family. By so doing we are helping to develop leadership qualities in the individual and strengthening family life."

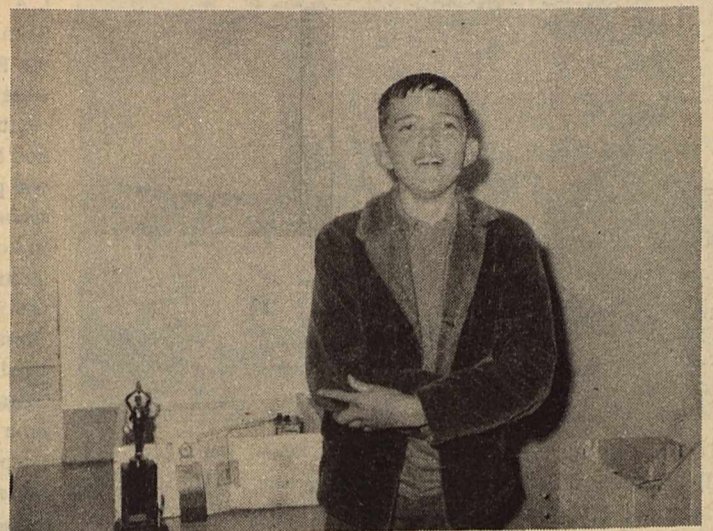

The FHA chapter at Plains has scheduled a number of activities in observance of National FHA Week. According to Terri Taylor the plans include:

- A thought of the day
- A teacher of the day
- Plant a rose bush
- Refreshments for teachers during their break
- Serve tea during the morning break
- Present each teacher with a rose.

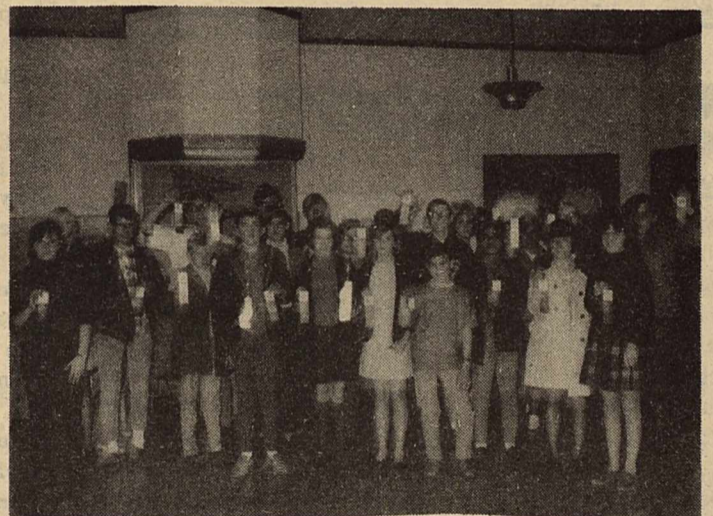

Future Homemakers of America is a non-profit, self-supporting organization, officially sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association. High School home economics teachers serve as advisers to the more than 12,000 FHA chapters. National Headquarters are located in Washington, D.C.

Decorating?

When you use paneling, select doors and wood trim to match. Many companies make a trim to match prefinished plywood. If a prefinished trim is not available, you will find a large range of color stains to choose from. With care, these can be mixed to develop a finish that will match any hardwood.

tributions to the community--the effect on local economy and extent of expansion.

"We seldom get a chance to honor this segment of our state, although it is a big part of our growing economy," Smith said in announcing the conference. "In fact, about 85 per cent of the industrial growth in Texas comes from expansion of existing industries each year."

Chester Wine, Chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission, said nominations should be made by March 20th by contacting the Texas Industrial Commission, Capitol Station, Box JJ, Austin, Texas, 78711.

The day-long conference will serve two purposes. It will allow Texas to honor industry, and provide information from national industrial leaders through a series of panel discussions.

"We plan to have the top executives of some of the larger industries in the nation as speakers at the Governor's Conference, Wine said. "There will be something of interest for all manufacturers and industrial developers."

Among the topics to be aired at the panel discussions are financing, industry, vocational-technical training, new techniques in marketing development and export marketing.

Speakers, in addition to Gov. Smith, will be announced later. Last year's speakers included James J. Ling, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Aluminum Company of America.

The expansion stories of each of the five winners will be told in a dramatic triple-screened slide and motion picture production, as Smith makes the presentation.

Last year's winners ranged from the small Kaspar Wire Works, Inc. at Shiner, population 1,800, to Ling-Temco-Vought at Dallas,

Easter Seal Society

A record 17,622 crippled children and adults were helped during 1968 by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, according to Mr. Gene Snyder, who serves as the Easter Seal Representative for Yoakum County.

O the total, 11,390 children and 6,232 adults received treatment and other rehabilitation services financed mainly by contributions made during the Easter Seal Appeal, he reported.

These contributions made possible medical diagnosis, physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, special education classes, and other services to rehabilitate handicapped children and adults. Wheelchairs, walkers, braces, and other special equipment were also provided.

The Easter Seal Society in Texas helps support 21 treatment facilities where children and adults are treated without regard to their ability to pay. Mr. Snyder added that the Easter Seal Society is continually seeking children and adults who can benefit from rehabilitation treatment and services offered by the society. As Easter Seal Representative, he is the person to contact for Easter Seal Services. He may be contacted at P.O. Box 1240, Denver City, Texas 79323.

The Easter Seal Society has provided treatments for children and adults suffering from Arthritis, Cerebral Palsy, Stroke, Multiple Sclerosis, Muscular Dystrophy, Polio, Speech Disorders, Hearing Conditions, Accidental Injuries and many other conditions.

Mr. Snyder also announced that the 1969 Easter Seal Appeal would open March 1 and run through Easter Sunday, April 6, 1969. Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes is campaign chairman for the State.

PRESBYTERY CENTENNIAL SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Organization of the United Presbyterian Church's Presbytery of Santa Fe in 1868 marked the first regional organization of Protestant Christianity in New Mexico.

The Presbytery of Santa Fe, when organized, included New Mexico, Arizona and parts of Nevada. Presently, it serves that area of New Mexico north of U.S. 66.

In the Presbyterian Church, a Presbytery is the regional governing body.

The Santa Fe Presbytery celebrated its centennial in 1968 with a distribution of a tree to each church and mission project in northern New Mexico. The young trees will serve as a symbol of the continued growth of the Christian cause in the state, a church official said.

FORGIVENESS

"Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. Romans 12:17"

The mind which condemns, understands not the truth of being, and the heart which would shut the door of its bosom to one who is mistaken, strangles its own life, closing its eyes to a greater vision.

Whatever the mistakes of yesterday may have been, today is a new creation. Turning from the errors of the past, and no longer carrying with us the sorrows and mistakes of yesterday, today we may enter into a new experience. But it is only when we forgive everyone that we may feel certain that the weight of condemnation is lifted from our consciousness.

were transferred to the Roadster and the patrol car and three cars that were towed, and all passengers were taken to Alma's cafe in Plains. They were fed and warmed until lodging for all had been found at the local motels and the Jury room at the county courthouse.

No suffering other than anxiety was reported as all cars had sufficient gas and heaters. Heavy snow falling consistently and whipped by a 20 mile gale, made the rescue work a trying and tedious task as each car had to be towed or winched several times. The only casualties reported were the front bumpers removed from three of the cars. It was a very tired and worn group of people that arrived at Alma's at 9:30 P. M.

Luck O' The Irish

The luck o' the Irish is with ye this March.

For potatoes of the Irish variety are plentiful.

Actually, potatoes stand out in Irish history during a time when the Irish weren't so lucky.

The severe famine that hit Ireland in 1870's was caused by the failure of the potato crop. Potatoes were the mainstay of Ireland's food supply.

But St. Patrick's Day 1969 was in full bloom for the wearing o' the green--and eating lots of potatoes. Potatoes are important because of its contribution to health. R. H. Dana describes this in his book "Two Years Before the Mast." There was an outbreak of scurvy on ship. The men were unable to walk or eat. Then they met a ship loaded with potatoes and onions. The men ate these raw and became well. Since they could not chew at first because their gums were so swollen and sore, the juice was extracted from the potatoe and poured into their mouths.

This shows how important potatoes are in Vitamin C. Some other nutrients found in the potato are Vitamin A, Calcium, Protein, and Iron.

The value of the potato is in the cooking and cooking in the skin saves more nutrients. Research shows that if the potato is cooked in the skin in a pressure saucepan or by the waterless cooking method, the skin can be peeled away easily leaving most of the nutrients. Baking is also effective if the skin is eaten. Most of the nutrients are found near the skin.

What could be more appropriate for March menus than a bit o' Irish Stew--including an ample portion of Irish Potatoes, of course.

- 1/3 cup flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/8 teaspoon of pepper
- 1 1/2 pounds boneless lean lamb, cut in 1-inch cubes
- 2 tablespoons fat or oil
- 3 cups water
- 3 medium-size onions, sliced
- 4 medium-size potatoes, cut in 1-inch cubes, unpeeled
- 5 medium-size carrots, quartered
- 1 turnip, diced
- 1 1/2 cups frozen peas
- 1/4 cup water

Combine flour, salt and pepper; coat meat with seasoned flour. Save remaining flour. Brown meat in hot fat in a 4-quart saucepan. Add water and cover tightly. Simmer until meat is tender, about 1 1/2 hours.

What a lovely sight our park was, covered in lots of beautiful wet snow.

Add onion, potatoes, turnip and carrots. Cover simmer 15 minutes. Add peas. Cover and simmer until all vegetables are tender. Blend 1/4 cup water with remaining flour. Add to stew, stirring gently. Cook until thickened. Makes six servings.

National FHA Week

FOCUS ON POSITIVE ACTION is the theme of National Future Homemakers of America Week, March 23-29, 1969. During this week more than 600,000 members in over 12,000 local FHA chapters throughout the United States and Puerto Rico will carry out projects and activities to give exposure to what youth is doing in a positive way to promote the principles of good citizenship.

National President, Estelle Hunter, a high school senior at Sunbury, Ohio, had this to say about National FHA Week: "The overall objective of Future Homemakers of America is to help individuals improve personal, family and community living. With this objective in mind we have chosen FOCUS ON POSITIVE ACTION as the theme for our National FHA Week. During this week FHA members across the country will stress constructive activities which show that we are dedicated to improving life in America as we move toward new horizons in the future."

This national organization of home economics students in junior and senior high schools provides opportunities for developing individual and group initiative in planning and carrying out activities related to the home and opportunity to develop leadership, express creativeness, and become aware of approaching responsibilities as adult citizens.

High school home economics teachers, members of the state home economics education staff, and leading home economists serve as advisers to chapter, state, and national youth officers, giving guidance and counseling to the program.

In its twenty-four years of existence Future Homemakers of America has served more than twelve million high school youth. One measure of FHA's success is the effect the program has had on individuals. A former FHA National Officer explains the organization this way:

"FHA is a way of life and a way of thinking about life. It is an organization in which girls and boys become young adults and in which common interests in home economics are shared, values are realized, friends are made, and family bonds are strengthened. It is a testing ground for the requisites of effective living; patience, determination, endurance, self-discipline, work, confidence, love and faith."

National headquarters of Future Homemakers of America are lo-

the community. As an integral part of home economics education in the secondary school system, the Future Homemakers of America program is focused on the family, and the effect of the family unit on the community.

FHA members are identified by the red and white octagonal emblem showing a house supported by two hands suggesting that the future homes of America are in the hands of youth. Rays extending to and from the house indicate the influences of the home and community on each other. The emblem bears the FHA motto TOWARD NEW HORIZONS.

The young men and women who are members of Future Homemakers of America believe that the homes of the future are in the hands of youth. Through their concerns for better homes for a better America and through their activities and projects they translate into meaningful perspective the concepts they learn in many phases of their educational experiences. Leadership and citizenship responsibilities take on new dimensions, and as they proceed toward their new horizons they are proving that youth does know, youth does care, and youth can do in a positive and constructive way.

Throughout the country members contribute to the community by working as volunteers. They assist in local Head Start programs or with the mentally retarded and handicapped through county health and welfare departments. They organize reading classes and tutorial programs for migrant or underprivileged children. They visit and assist the elderly or work with other groups on community service projects such as anti-litter, March of Dimes, or UNICEF.

They serve as hospital candy strippers, hold career seminars, survey for job opportunities for youth, conduct sessions on preparation for marriage, hold morals and manners discussions, and carry out many other projects which give practical application to their classroom learning.

Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945 as an incorporated, non-profit organization supported by membership dues. Nationwide in membership and effort it is co-sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association and was developed for the purpose of providing experiences that broaden the home economics education program in the high school.

Activities at all levels-national, state, and local-are youth directed. Twelve national youth officers elected yearly help develop and promote the national program of work and plan and preside over the annual national meetings. The FHA members themselves decide on their goals and purposes, and plan their own activities and projects. This provides an opp-

Patrolman Opportunity

An invitation has been issued to any high caliber young men of this area who feel they can compete for the position of patrolman with the Department of Public Safety. "The opportunity exists for several men to meet the challenge of the rigid qualifications for patrolmen in the four field services--Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Drivers License, and Motor Vehicle Inspection," Major Luther Moore said today.

The DPS Commander stated, "If you are good enough, we can use you; however, we do not want anything but the best. If you cannot meet our standards there is no need of applying for the positions."

"Assignment to one of the above services will be made on the basis of aptitude, interest and ability at the conclusion of a period of intense basic training. Then specialized training in the assigned service will be given to those that qualify after which a home station will be designated," Moore said.

Applicant must be between 20 and 35 years old, at least 68 inches tall, weight not less than two pounds or more than 3 1/2 pounds per inch of height, and be in sound physical condition. They must have a high school education or the equivalent and their record must be able to stand rigid examination pertaining to character and citizenship. Selection procedures will include written and oral examinations.

"The law enforcement field is a challenge to young men who are seeking a career, and the Texas DPS is rated among the top law enforcement agencies in the world," Major Moore said

Local Family Almost Meets Death

Mrs. Scott Maddox and children of 408 S Daniel St. Tatum almost asphyxiated Sunday morning.

Low Cost Dishes

By: Sudie M. Thompson, CHDA

Good meals that go easy on the budget don't just happen. They result from careful planning, buying, storing, and cooking by the homemakers. Meals that meet the nutritional needs of each family member and also are satisfying, colorful, tasteful, and economical are goals of every homemaker.

What could make a delicious meal taste even better?

May be the fact that the tasty meal has been prepared at a most economical cost. As you've probably discovered, cost doesn't always determine how good something looks or tastes.

You may want to add some of the following dishes to your menu plans. They are simple to prepare, low in cost and nutritious. Meat and Scalloped Potatoes is an excellent choice for March menus.

- 2 Tablespoons fat
- 2 Tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 3/4 cup cheese
- 1 onion, thinly sliced
- 4 potatoes, thinly sliced
- 2 1/2 cups luncheon meat
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Melt fat in a saucepan. Add flour and salt and stir. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly until sauce begins to bubble. Lower heat, cook until mixture thickens about 3 minutes. Add cheese to pan and stir over low heat until cheese melts.

Combine onion, potatoes and luncheon meat in a greased baking dish. Pour sauce into dish, cover and bake one hour in a 350-degree oven. Remove cover and bake 15 minutes more. Makes six servings of about 1 cup each.

Hot Bean Salad is a tasty accompaniment for baked ham.

- 1/4 cup salt pork or 2 bacon strips, cut up
- 1/2 onion
- 1/2 green pepper
- 1 stalk celery
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 3 cups cooked dry beans
- 1/2 teaspoon mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Brown bacon or salt pork in large fry pan. Add chopped onion, chopped green pepper and chopped celery. Add remaining ingredients. Cook very slowly until mixture is hot. Stir to keep from sticking. Makes six servings.

STAUBACH STARS
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)
— Roger Staubach, who won the 1963 Heisman trophy as Navy's quarterback, is still in there pitching. Roger threw four touchdown passes as the Pensacola Navy team beat Youngstown State University 58-38.

Reports are that Staubach will join the Dallas Cowboys for the 1969 football season.

From Sam H. Harrell, Knoxville, Tennessee: I remember in the early and middle eighties how my father kept his sons busy keeping rails split and fences in repair on our Georgia farm.

Pigs were easy to come by in those days. You could buy a four week old pig for one dollar. If you didn't have a dollar, you could split a couple of hundred rails, which a man could do in one day. Cotton sold for four cents a pound and the seed from a bale of cotton sold for maybe four or five dollars. If we couldn't find a sale for the seed, we used them for cow feed or fertilizer for our corn.

I remember the shoes we wore. Believe it or not, they were made straight and wide toed, either shoe to be worn on either foot and we were expected to change from one foot to the other daily. We had no worn-over or one-sided shoes in those days. I don't think as many corns or bunions, either. Boys and girls wore the same type shoes until they were ten or twelve years old. Boys then got brogans; girls sometimes did, too. Brogans were heavier shoes made of coarse, heavy leather. Rubber heel shoes were not known at that time.
