QUEEN CANDIDATE-PAULA BLOUNT

QUEEN CANDIDATE-JANALYN LAMBETH

The 16th Annual Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo will get underway today at 5:30 p. m. with the parade leaving Anderson Grain Company and proceeding through town to the Pic and Pay Grocery.

Rodeo fans will see the big show get underway at 8:30 p. m. at each night's performance.

It has been reported that the pens and arena are in good shape and ready. Stock for this year's show is being furnished by Red Whatley of Crosbyton.

Queen candidates are still selling tickets and the results will be tabulated Saturday after the Old Settler's Reunion and Barbecue in the park.

Seeking the 1969 queen's title are Pam McDonnell, Paula Blount, and Janalyn Lambeth. Miss Joetta Warren is the reigning queen. The public is urged to support their favorite candidate by buying tickets for the saddle to be given away Saturday night.

The books will be located at City Hall and will be moved to the arena each night during the rodeo performances.

The official 1969 saddle is on display at the local bank and the belt buckles are on display at Moore and Oden's Department Store.

The feature event of the show each year is the barbecue dinner held at the Stanford Park at which the old timers are privileged to be together and swap tales and experiences of the old days on the Plains. Everyone is invited to attend. Tickets for the meal will cost $1.00 for adults and $.50 for children and will entitle the purchaser free admission to the Saturday night performance.

Women are again reminded to bring potato salad or cobbler for the Saturday barbecue.

Other entertainment to be on hand at the big show includes the quadrille routines by the Plains Rough Riders. These youngsters have become well known in the area for their fine performances and have won several trophies.

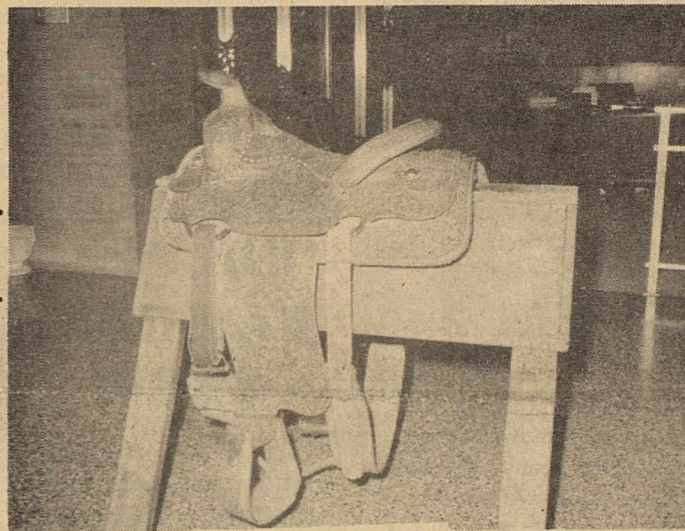

The Rodeo grounds have been improved again this year with the erection of a new judges stand, and buildings provided for concession stands on each side of the arena.

A dance will be held nightly on the dance platform located by the livestock barns. Music for this year's dance will be provided again by Smokey Haralson and his Drifting Playboys. Admission to the dance will be $1.50 per person per night.

Officials of the Rodeo Association extend an invitation to everyone to come out and enjoy the rodeo and barbecue.

Editorial
 2020 OR BUST

A strange Psychology has come to possess the minds of the American people of today. The word, "SPEND" has become so hypnotic that the mere mention of it causes people to dig in their pockets or search out some loan institution to find all they can just to SPEND before they ascertain what they are SPENDING for.

Such seems to be the case in regards to the proposed amendments which the voters of Texas are supposed to enthusiastically rush to the polls August 5th and not only over burden themselves but their children and the generations to come.

The nine amendments as they will appear on the ballot are so incomprehensible that it would be impossible for one with an average mind to understand without the interpretation of a lawyer, except for one peculiar characteristic - they all call for an added outlay of the taxpayers money. It appears that the amendments were so worded to conceal this fact. Not one portrays the actual amount of cost. They all demand "SPENDING", in the final analysis. And not one deserves passage in the form portrayed in the ballot form.

In speaking of the average mind, ask the next ten individuals you contact to explain these amendments, the meaning and their purpose. This experiment will be self explanatory and you will still find yourself searching for an explanation.

AMENDMENT NO. 2

In the event that Amendment #2 is defeated it is quite evident that the Texas Water Development Board will have to ask the State Legislature for more funds in order to operate next year. The vast amount of money that the Board has poured into their political promotion scheme to obtain the unheard of and unthinkable amount of $3,500,000,000.00 to be turned over to the Board, with virtually no restrictions or controls of how and for what these funds are to be spent for, is certain to greatly deplete the working capitol which was initially appropriated for water development.

The very fact that the Water Development Board has asked for this amendment at this premature time is evidence of a political boondoggling of the highest order.

The powers to be invested in the board are unreasonable. And to ask for funds of any amount above what are already provided by the State, before some definite agreement has been reached with the states whose territory must be traversed, is also unreasonable and premature.

The passing of this amendment is comparable to turning over all of the business and the despending of all of the funds of the state of Texas and every political subdivision and taxing agency within it to one board. It is hardly thinkable that any thinking mind in this state would give such an idea second consideration. Yet this is the equivalent of what the Texas Water Development Board is asking. It is also hardly thinkable that any one that had given time to an unbiased study to this amendment #2, could consider its passage feasible at this time.

The political material which is flooding the state and has been made available by the Governor's Committee of 500 has made inferences to the effect that anyone with less than a master degree and eligible to write Ph. D after his name is incapable of an opinion on the proposed amendment. Nevertheless, the passage of the amendment is dependent upon the vote of these incompetent individuals.

It would appear that it is time for the Average Mr. Citizen to evaluate the opinions of the Elite Educational group of the present society. It can often be found to be very impractical.

TEXAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

Although proponents of amendment #2 contend that the Water Development Bonds are essentially revenue bonds that will be amortized ultimately by water users, the bonds are actually general obligations of the state guaranteed by annual appropriations from the general revenue fund. Thus the taxpayers at large must pay that part of the annual principal and interest requirements on the bonds not actually covered by revenue from the water projects. This will require substantial general revenue financing during long periods of time when projects are under construction and are not income-producing.

THE IMPROVED LOOK

"THE IMPROVED LOOK" could become the slogan of the people of Plains. The County Commissioners have made a great contribution to the city with new pavement, retopping of some of the old and sealcoating and graveling of others. All this work has contributed greatly to the accessibility of the public facilities. The fine work the city has done in cleaning up of vacant lots and the great contribution the city has made by making soft water available to every citizen of Plains should arouse a spark of pride in people's hearts for their home town.

With a fine rodeo scheduled for this week and the Old Settler's Reunion Saturday, there will be great appreciation of the IMPROVED LOOK that can be seen in the County Seat this year.

COMMITTEE OF 1000 TO OPPOSE AMENDMENT
 NO 2

On August 5 the people of Texas will be called on to vote for or against a proposal to authorize 3.5 billions in bonds for water development. This almost equals the total present indebtedness of the state and every political subdivision and taxing agency within it--the counties, cities, school districts, and all the rest. Such an unprecedented increase in the public debt--nearly $1,000 for every person in the state above school age--is a matter of grave concern for every taxpayer. It is also, quite naturally, a subject of sharp disagreement.

Supporters say the vast outlay will assure Texans of an adequate water supply for 50 years; that all Texans will benefit; that much of the water will be imported from the Mississippi River, and that the cost eventually will be repaid by users of the water. Opponents say it is an ill-conceived boondoggle that would benefit some Texans at the expense of others; that there is no assurance of water from the Mississippi or any other source outside the state; that revenues can never match the costs, and that the debt will be a burden on Texans for generations to come. Without taking sides and without regard to the merit or lack of merit in any of these arguments, we hope every voter asks himself a few questions before casting his ballot.

First, are you sure what you are voting on? Are you voting on a Texas Water Plan, or are you voting on a bond issue that may be spent on any kind of a water plan that may be devised in the future? Have you read the proposed constitutional amendment? Does it require carrying out the proposed Texas Water Plan, or any other plan?

Does the Texas Water Plan include any assurance of water from the Mississippi River? Or any other source outside Texas? Has any state, or the Federal government, ever said Texas may take water from the Mississippi?

Does the plan include any assurance that any part of the estimated 10 to 13 billions total cost will be paid by the Federal government? Has any agency or official ever said any Federal money is available?

Does the plan include any assurance or guarantee that the bonded debt will--or can--be paid out of water revenue? Is there any provision to issue even more bonds to be paid from revenues, if enough revenue is received?

Does the plan include any facts that justify the cost, now estimated at more than 10 billions? Does it include any actual proof that Texas would ever run out of water if the state's own supply is conserved and used with prudence and wisdom?

These questions, and others like them, are the ones Texas voters should ask--and have answered--before they vote. The issue is too big and the proposals are far too costly to be taken lightly. We are not telling you how to vote. We ask only that you know the answers before you vote either way.

Buy the Texas Water Plan if you believe it is worth the price, but make sure you are getting what you pay for.

COTTON FASHION SHOW

Cottons for all occasions will be featured in a fashion show to be presented by The Yoakum County Cotton Promotion Club, Thursday, August 7th at 8:30 p.m. at the School Cafeteria, Plains, Texas.

The traveling collection of fashions, "Calvacade of Cottons," is a loan service made available by the National Cotton Council and McCall's Patterns. It is offered as a demonstration of the versatility in home sewing and as information on the latest trends in fabric and pattern styling.

The wardrobe, made by seamstresses in Memphis, Tenn., includes casual clothes, tailored suits and coats, late-day dresses and children's wear.

Plans for the program are announced by Mrs. J.C. Chambless, show chairman. The show will be commented by Mrs. Wayne Davis, and models will include members of the Cotton Club. Door prizes of cotton articles will be given during the show. Also on view is a 100% Cotton Bazaar.

The Yoakum County Co-op Gin's annual meeting and dinner will precede the style show.

OIL IN YOUR LIFE

We are a nation almost wholly dependent on petroleum energy, yet we exhibit a cavalier indifference to whether the petroleum industry will be able to meet our future petroleum needs.

Although it is already heavily taxed, lawmakers and critics seem to think producing more taxes from the petroleum industry is more important than producing oil. The thesis is that as declining exploratory efforts fall short of meeting the country's petroleum requirements, we will turn on the spigot of foreign oil imports. This is a sure road to disaster.

An oil executive testifying before the U.S. House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee in support of the percentage depletion provision of the tax laws warns, "If we had to depend more and more on foreign oil, and then be faced with major conflicts or confrontations, American consumers by the millions would be cold and unable to get to and from work. All food and medicine could be kept flowing in quantities sufficient to maintain the health of our citizens. If this shut off of foreign petroleum supplies remaining to us probably would have to be allocated to the military and its support."

Somewhere in the United States each day, somebody or some group of people have to find an average of 15 million barrels of new oil to keep our cars, homes and businesses running and habitable -- that is 630 million gallons a day. So don't make the mistake of thinking that what happens to the oil industry is no concern of yours. It is your life, so let's have consideration for the oil companies and not try to tax them to death.

POVERTY, A RELATIVE TERM

Poverty is a relative term. What one person calls poverty, another would consider abundance. U.S. Representative Olin E. Teague of Texas calls attention to some interesting figures. A survey of one of the poorest regions of the U.S., where 8 out of 10 families live on less than $3,000 a year, showed that 37% had television sets.

Representative Teague points out that a major portion of the so-called poverty-stricken class of America enjoys fruits of abundance which the middle classes of Europe cannot afford -- not to mention the rest of the world. He believes, "The core of the poverty problem often is psychological, not physical. We should be fighting human attitudes that cause poverty... we should replace the ethics of slavery -- the brazen demands that 'somebody do something' and the slogans that 'the government owes it to us' -- with the ethics of self-reliance." Money alone will not teach people that a balanced diet is more important than a shiny new car.

CHDA Says...

In 2800 B.C. a Chinese emperor proclaimed the establishment of a ceremonial ordinance for the planting of rice.

Today some might support an ordinance for eating rice considering the many advantages it offers to the modern homemaker. It's easy to fix, goes great with just about everything, and is one of the world's most nourishing grains.

Most people probably think of rice as a grain that's served hot with a meal or in a casserole. This is not the case for when it's used in delightful, tasty desserts. Just to prove it try this recipe.

CREAMY RICE PUDDING
Mix 1/2 cup uncooked rice, 2 1/2 cups milk, 1/4 cup sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon salt in the top part of a double boiler. Cook covered, over boiling water one hour, until liquid is absorbed and rice is tender. Stir often. Blend in 1 teaspoon vanilla. Serve Creamy Rice Pudding directly from the cooking pan, if you like, or spoon into dessert dishes and chill before serving, Makes 6 servings.

Peach-Brittle Topping. This topping is to be used on cooled or chilled Creamy Rice Pudding. Whip 1/2 pint heavy cream, fold into whipped cream 1 cup finely crushed peanut brittle candy, 1 can 91 lb. 13 ozs.) sliced peaches, drained (reserve 8 slices), 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Spread topping over cooled or chilled pudding. Garnish with the reserved peach slices.

Some people like rice fluffy and dry, firm yet tender, with each grain standing out separately. Some like it more moist so that it packs together easily. Moist rice is best if you're going to make a ring mold or patties or croquettes--they hold their shape better with moist rice. The directions given below tell how to cook rice either way.

Prepared by these methods, 1 cup of uncooked rice makes about 3 cups cooked, enough for six servings.

Short Boil Method... For Firm, Tender Rice
1 cup uncooked rice
2 cups water
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. bland cooking fat or oil
Stir rice into rapidly boiling salted water. Add cooking oil or shortening to reduce foaming. Bring back to the boiling point, and lower heat until the water is just bubbling. Cover tightly and cook slowly 20 minutes. Turn off the flame or remove the pan from direct heat, and let stand 10 minutes, covered tightly, for the rice to finish cooking in its own steam.

For softer cooked rice, increase water to 2 1/4 cups and cook slowly for 25 minutes. Remove the pan from direct heat and let stand 10 minutes covered tightly. Serve hot.

For a pleasing summer salad try:
Chicken-Avocado-Rice Salad
2 tbs. lemon juice
1 1/2 cups cubed avocado
1 cup cubed cooked chicken
1 cup cooked rice
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 tsp. finely chopped green onion
1 tsp. salt
2 tbs. sour cream
2 tbs. mayonnaise
Pour the lemon juice over avocado. Combine the remaining ingredients, add avocado mixture, and toss lightly. Chill. Serve on a crisp lettuce leaf. Six servings.

GOD HAS SPOKEN

J. LOYD RICE

"Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God; so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." Hebrews 11:3

"For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." Hebrews 4:12

"Sanctify them through thy truth, thy word is truth." John 17:17

"Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently: Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever.

For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away; But the word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you," Peter 1:22-25.

"Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and all envies, and all evil speakings, As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby;" 1 Peter 2:1-2

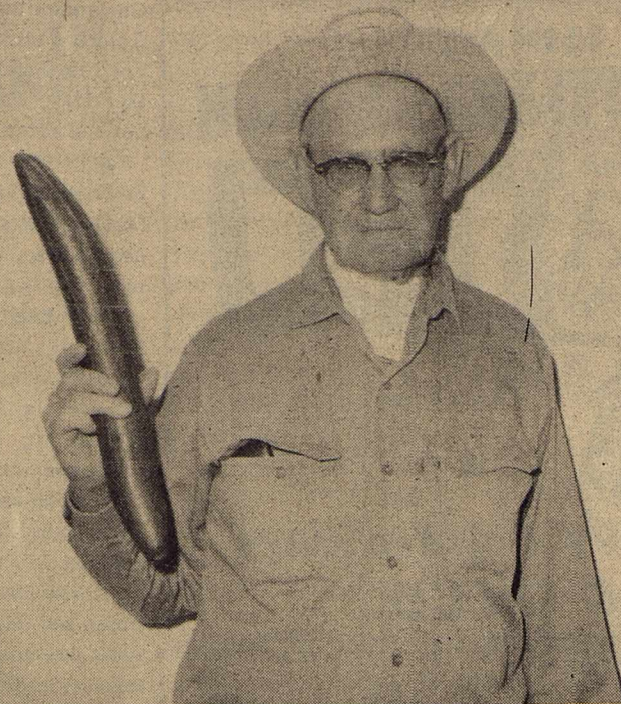

From these passages we see the mighty power of the Word of God. God spoke and the world was born, created from the spiritual forces that existed before there was any physical universe. IT IS BY THE POWER OF HIS WORD THAT WE ARE SAVED TODAY, AND WE BETTER LEARN ABOUT IT FIRST HAND.

FARM NEWS

Producers who take part in the wheat, feed grain and cotton programs this year should be sure to read and retain the Payment Computation State ments that will be provided together with sight drafts for program payments. This statement will form an important part of producers records, and should be kept with other farm records. The statement explains the program for which payment is made, amount of payment for entire farm and for individual producer, the planted acreage and diverted acreage if any and the projected yield.

With allotment crops acreages now being certified, producers with an interest in more than one farm should bear in mind the need for compliance on each farm. This means that if someone is participating in the wheat, feed grain or cotton program on his farm and has an interest in a second farm, he must stay within his allotment or base for each crop on that second farm, even if it is not signed up to participate in the program. If he does not, he will be out of compliance and lose program benefits on all allotment crops on his participating farm.

Producers are reminded that August 15th is the final date to certify crop acreage.

VISITORS IN McCONNELL HOME

After three days with their Ranger, the expedition will continue following mountain trails on the 214-square mile ranch under the iron leader adult leader, Silas E. Short, 1010 Camden Circle, Pstt.

CHILDREN HOME ON VISIT

The E. W. Craigs were thrilled to have their son and daughter and five grandchildren visit them this past weekend, and attend church with them at the Hillside Church of Christ Sunday morning, July 27, 1969. Weldon, their son, plans to spend most of his two weeks vacation visiting his parents in Plains. Their daughter, Mrs. John Phillips and her family returned to San Angelo Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Craig and their two children, Debbie, 11, and Scott, 9, came all the way from Casper, Wyoming. Weldon is a sales representative for Hopper Pulling Units used in oil field work. Mrs. E. W. Craig reports that the oil business is booming around Casper. Weldon has a very large territory, covering all the Rocky Mountain States including those in Canada. He does have salesmen under him. He has been with the company for about eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and their three children; Douglas, 12, Loann, 10, and Larnell, 8 are not so far away. They return more often, though their stay this time was short. Mr. Phillips is a distributor for Humble Oil Products in San Angelo. Known now as the Johnson Street congregation. The Rices have attended services at this location many times. In fact it was a former minister of the church that got Loyd and Beatrice hitched several years ago.
